Man, 92, Killed by Car Near Kellogg

Remember Winona Flood in 1932—The murky waters of the Ohio River today obliterated the football stadium, surrounding fields and streets of Bellaire, Ohio. The mighty Ohio spilled over its banks during the weekend as the result of heavy rains in the wake of Hurricane Hazel. The scene recalls the flooding of the Winona waterfront in the mighty flood of 1932 when the river reached an all time high of 17.33 feet. (AP Wirephoto)

Ohio Flood Moving Down On Pomeroy

POMEROY, Ohio (AP)—This village of 4,000, as accustomed to high water as the next one, waited without any apparent excitement today as the Ohio River's latest eruption moved downstream.

It was hardly a flood—just high water. The Ohio's Sunday punch was spent, and nearly all the force that brought death and destruction upstream appeared to be gone.

The cold, muddy waters which had taken four lives Sunday in Pittsburgh were expected to invade only a few bottom lands in these parts.

Autumn rains tore the river from its banks Sunday in Pittsburgh and 400 families evacuated at Wheeling, W. Va. The crest at Wheeling was 44.7 feet, nearly 9 feet above flood stage.

Its flood force apparently spent, the river leaked into some lowlands downstream, where altered farmers had hastily picked their late corn. Occupants of lowland areas had cleared some basements but feared no first-floor damage.

At Belpre in Washington County, Ohio, Police Chief Earl W. Walker reported the crest at 37.5 feet, about 1.5 feet above flood stage.

At Wheeling, city officials challenged a large damage estimate. One official said reports of the damage were "exaggerated."

The Wheeling News-Register said the flood caused "no very serious property damage." The paper made its reply to an estimate by the Army Corps of Engineers, which set flood damage at $6,700,000 for the Wheeling area.

Unemployment Worries Ike, Sec. Humphrey Tells Bankers

Boy, 8, Saves Crippled Woman In N.J. Fire

Roald Eggleston

WEST ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—An 8-year-old immigrant lad was a hero today in the eyes of a 61-year-old crippled woman he saved from serious injury after her clothing caught fire.

Roald Eggleston, who came to this country from Norway two months ago and is unable to speak English, was alone in his parents' apartment yesterday when he heard screams from the apartment below.

Running downstairs, he found Mrs. Ruth Davis with her clothing ablaze. He beat out the flames and dragged the woman, who gets around on crutches, to a telephone so she could summon aid in the language he has not yet learned.

Mrs. Davis, who suffered first-degree burns of the hand and face, told police her clothing caught fire from a kitchen range as she was preparing lunch.

Train Strikes Car

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (AP)—Christian Leonhardt, 56, of Fond du Lac, was killed Monday when his car was struck by a Soo Line railroad switch engine at a crossing here. His wife, Elsie, 55, was critically injured.

Speech Believed Answer to Wilson Criticism

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey said today "unemployment is a matter of the greatest concern to everyone" in the Eisenhower administration.

"We are working and planning in every way to reach the day when every man looking for work can find a job," he said. "We have shaped our entire economic program in the way best calculated to bring that happy day at the earliest possible time."

Humphrey's speech—prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the American Bankers Assn.—appeared to be an administration answer to the storm of criticism kicked up by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's recent bird dog-kennel dog remarks while discussing unemployment.

The Treasury head did not mention Wilson or the dog episode, however.

Humphrey, in his talk here, said: "Industrial activity and total employment have held remarkably well throughout recent months. The fourth quarter of this year is already even brighter both industrially and commercially."

"The number of unemployed is currently decreasing. We have had more people working during this year than in any other year in the nation's peacetime history."

B47 Stratojet Crashes Making Practice Landing

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A B47 Stratojet bomber crashed and burned while making a practice landing at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base last night, burning one crewman fatally and the other two severely.

Identity of the dead man was withheld.

The base said the injured were Capt. George C. Berger, aircraft commander, who received first-degree burns, and M. Sgt. W. A. Nye, who had mild lacerations.

The base identified Berger's mother as Mrs. Mary P. Berger, Thomasville, Ga. Nye's mother is Mrs. Emma Smith Nye, Higgins, Pa.

Cause of the crash was not known.

NWA Settles 30 Death Claims in 1948 Plane Crash

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Northwest Airlines (NWA) attorney Monday announced settlement for $240,000 of 30 death claims filed after 33 passengers and three crew members were killed Aug. 29, 1948, in a plane crash near Winona, Minn.

Craig Spangenberg, the lawyer, said the awards ranged from about $4,000 to $12,500. The 30 claims involve 27 of the deaths.

Russia Softens On Issues Which Deadlocked U.N.

Western Diplomats Fear New Move By Communists

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Western diplomats are trying to fathom the motive beneath Russia's apparent softening on issues that have deadlocked U.N. councils for years.

These diplomats, who have learned from experience that the Kremlin rarely gives ground on one point without trying to regain it on another, are lending a wary ear to conciliatory statements by Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky and his aides.

These overtures—which pointedly exclude the United States—appear aimed at splitting America from her allies and winning friends for Russia.

With the current assembly session still in the opening stage, the Soviets already have made cooperative gestures on disarmament, Trieste and other issues on which they had long been adamant.

First sign of a shift in Soviet tactics came two weeks ago when Vishinsky offered a disarmament plan based largely on the British-French proposals which the Russians had bitterly rejected only four months earlier.

Pressed by Britain and France for concrete evidence as to just how far Russia was willing to go in agreement with the West, Vishinsky offered in general terms to:

1. Withdraw Russia's long-standing demand for an immediate ban on atomic weapons and agree to start instead with step-by-step reduction of conventional arms.

2. Agree to an international disarmament parity if the other powers concur.

3. Agree to inspection of Russia's arsenals "to the point necessary to insure the implementation of the disarmament plan."

But Vishinsky refused to answer directly when Britain's Selwyn Lloyd asked him whether Russia would agree to establishment of a control organ empowered to enforce the nations concerned to see whether they were carrying out provisions of the disarmament plan.

The climax came when Russia made a conditional offer to co-sponsor a Western proposal for further negotiations on disarmament and atomic control.

Canada—originator of the resolution to set up a five-power subcommittee to continue arms talks—has been sounding out the Russians to see how far they would tone down their proposed amendments.

Vishinsky uncorked another surprise last week when he gave an approving nod to the West-sponsored Trieste agreement between Italy and Yugoslavia instead of blasting it as expected. In the past the Russians have demanded a full say in any disposition of the Trieste case.

Father Arraigned For Child's Murder

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Patrick J. Haverly, 25, today faced arraignment on a first degree murder indictment returned late Monday by the Hennepin County Grand Jury.

Haverly was accused of shooting to death his 2-month-old daughter, Kathleen Ann, when the baby refused her bottle and began to cry in the family's home here Oct. 10. Haverly has been in jail since police said he admitted firing a rifle at the child.

Strike Spreads To Southampton

LONDON (AP)—The main Atlantic liner port of Southampton was threatened with a shutdown today by a Communist-backed waterfront strike aimed at every major shipping center in the British Isles.

The 16-day stoppage already has closed the vast London dock area and sharply curtailed work at Liverpool, the nation's second biggest ocean cargo port. Nearly 35,000 of Britain's 76,000 dockers are off their jobs and 193 ships lie idle at their moorings.

In Southampton, leaders of the wildcat strike competed with union officials, who are opposing the walkouts, for the backing of 2,052 stevedores. Whether the Southampton workers would remain on the job was in doubt.

Anxious owners of the liner Queen Elizabeth brought the 83,000-ton ship in stern first yesterday so she will face the channel and can leave without tugs if necessary. The liner is scheduled to sail tomorrow evening, carrying Queen Mother Elizabeth on the first stage of her visit to the United States.

Amid the mounting tension on the waterfronts, a second big strike by more than 20,000 of London's 45,000 bus drivers and conductors collapsed in a back-to-work movement.

'Miss Egypt' Becomes '54 'Miss World'

LONDON (AP)—Miss Egypt became Miss World last night, winning the title over a bunch of beauties from 15 other countries.

Antigone Constanta, of Alexandria, took top honors over Karin Hultman, a model from Rochester, N.Y. First prize was worth 500 pounds ($1,400).

Miss Egypt, who packs 132 well-placed pounds on a 5-foot-5 frame, drew delighted whistles from the Lyceum Theater audience when she appeared first in a low-cut, clinging gown and later in a bathing suit.

Said Miss United States: "Gosh, I'm always second."

Then she gave Miss Egypt a congratulatory kiss.

Miss Hultman placed second in a Miss U.S.A. contest in California earlier this year.

Selected to run was 62-year-old Dr. Henry Aldous Dixon, president of Utah State Agricultural College in Logan, and considered to be the only strong GOP possibility in the populous, northern Utah areas of the district. The first includes all of Utah except Salt Lake City and its surrounding metropolitan area.

Stringfellow appeared at the committee meeting last night moments after the group voted to accept the withdrawal he had proffered only a few hours before. He received a standing ovation. Then, in a voice sometimes shaken by suppressed sobs, he said:

"You could have made no other decision... God bless you for your courage and forthright action. In your presence I'd like to apologize."

He said he had not confessed the bogus nature of his story of wartime heroism because "I just did not have the courage. I never found the way."

Stringfellow, a first-term representative in the 83rd Congress, precipitated the pre-election crisis Saturday night when he dramatically announced via radio and television that he had been living a lie as a war hero for years.

The disabled veteran, 32, married and the father of two, confessed that his story of a behind-the-lifelines mission into World War II Germany—a story that had helped win him national prominence—was a hoax.

In Dixon, Republican leaders felt they had the strongest possible replacement for Stringfellow to oppose the Democratic candidate, former Congressman Walter K. Granger of Cedar City.

Carl Hielscher Steps Into Path Of Auto on 61

Carpenter and Farmer in Kellogg Area for Years

KELLOGG, Minn. (Special)—Carl Hielscher, 92, died in a Wabasha Hospital Monday evening of injuries suffered five hours earlier when he was struck by a car on Highway 61, one mile south of here.

Hielscher was walking toward Kellogg from his home near here when he stepped into the path of a car driven by Leslie L. Oldham, Minneapolis.

Suffering from a skull fracture, leg and ankle fractures and other injuries, the elderly pedestrian was taken in an ambulance to the hospital where he died at 8:20 p.m.

Minnesota Highway Patrolman Ted Well investigated the accident and found that Oldham was driving north on Highway 61, en route to Minneapolis, when the accident occurred at about 3:15 p.m.

Walking Toward Kellogg
Oldham said that Hielscher was walking toward Kellogg near the edge of the pavement when the car approached and suddenly began to cross the highway almost directly in front of the automobile.

The driver said that he sounded his horn and applied his brakes in an unsuccessful effort to avoid striking the pedestrian.

Oldham said that Hielscher appeared to become confused moments before he was struck by the automobile.

Hielscher fell face down on the pavement after he was struck by the car and was unconscious when the first persons arrived at the scene.

The longtime Kellogg area resident had been living with a grandson, Robert Hielscher Jr., south of Kellogg, and despite his advanced age walked frequently to and from town.

No Inquest
Authorities said that no inquest will be called and the driver of the car was not held.

Born in Germany April 28, 1892, Hielscher came to America when he was 24.

He was a carpenter and later operated a farm near Theilman. He had been living with his grandson for the past two years.

He is survived by two sons, Carl, Red Wing, and Robert, Kellogg; a daughter, Mrs. George (Ann) Koenig, Lake City; 14 grandchildren; 29 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Felix Catholic Church, Wabasha, the Rev. John Bartholomew officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body will be at the J. C. Schierts Funeral Home at Wabasha until the time of the services and a Rosary will be said at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Judge to Decide Ending to Story of Boy and His Dog

MONROE, La. (AP)—Judge Howell Heard was scheduled to announce Wednesday what will be done with 10-year-old Joe Cooper, the boy who aimed a shotgun at his school principal to save a pet dog.

Joe is in Louisiana Training Institute, where the judge committed him on the day of the incident.

"I'll forget all that's happened some day," Joe said in an interview with the Monroe News-Star and Morning World, "but it'll take a long time."

He added tearfully, "If I hadn't gone and got that gun I wouldn't be here, and a lot of people must think I'm bad after reading what I read."

"Honest," he said, "mama was gone and that's all I knew to do. I'm not bad."

"When I get out, I want my dog, Tippiie, and go back to school. I'm going to study real hard and make real good grades."

The youngster is the son of a widow, whose only income is a $55 state aid check each month.

Tippiie, the boy's dog, followed Joe to school early this month and school authorities took the dog away to be vaccinated. Thinking the dog would be killed, Joe used a loaded shotgun in his demands for Tippiie's release.

Tippiie later was vaccinated and returned home.

France and Germany Tackle Issue of Saar

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
PARIS (U-P) West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived here today for a series of conferences aimed at bringing a re-armed West Germany into the Western defense system. The first hurdle he faced was the thorny Saar question.

Adenauer flew in from Bonn less than five hours before the scheduled start of talks on the Saar with French Premier Pierre Mendès-France. The French leader has said a settlement of this question must be reached before the French National Assembly will approve the Allied program for bolstering

Western defenses with German manpower. "I have come to Paris with a great deal of hope that these next few days will bring great advantages for peace of our peoples, for Europe and for the world," Adenauer said.

The two leaders also were to discuss plans for ending Allied occupation of Germany, restoring German sovereignty and West Germany's role in the Western defense setup.

Their conference was a curtain raiser on other talks designed to complete agreements reached at the recent London conference. Foreign ministers of United States, Great Britain, France and West Germany hope to agree tomorrow on amendments to the two-year-old Bonn Treaty restoring sovereignty to West Germany and ending the occupation. The Bonn Treaty originally was pegged to the ill-fated European Defense Community and must be altered now that EDC is dead.

Thursday the four foreign ministers, plus five others from Canada, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy, plan to draft details of a revised Brussels Treaty. Under this plan West Germany and Italy will be added to the five charter members—Britain, France and the Benelux countries —to form a seven-power pact. On Friday the North Atlantic Treaty Organization foreign ministers are expected to vote West Germany into the Allied defense system.

All these expected actions are subject to parliamentary ratification in the nations concerned.

The Saar, a small industrial area between France and Germany long has been a source of friction. It now has its own regime, linked to France in an economic union which the French seek to maintain. The Germans consider the Saar a part of Germany. Its inhabitants are German in culture and language.

Nehru Begins Peiping Talks

NEW DELHI, India (U-P)—Prime Minister Nehru arrived in Peiping by plane today to begin a 10-day state visit to Communist China, according to reports received from the Red capital. He was given an ovation at the airport by a vast crowd of spectators.

The Indian leader flew to China from Hanoi, the North Indochina capital which the Communist-led Vietminh won under the Geneva agreement ending the Indochina war.

While in Hanoi, Nehru won a promise from Vietminh chief Ho Chi Minh to respect the sovereignty of the small Indochinese states of Laos and Cambodia.

9,000,000 Women And Children to Get Salk Vaccine

NEW YORK (U-P)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, taking a "calculated financial risk," has contracted to purchase enough Salk polio vaccine to treat nine million children and pregnant women next year.

Foundation President Basil O'Connor announced the contracts yesterday. "The National Foundation," he said, "is taking a calculated financial risk in purchasing vaccine before it has been found to be effective." He said the injections will be made available free. Authorizing the purchases at this time, he explained, will make supplies available so that the vaccine can be given as soon as the results of tests of its effectiveness are known next spring. The foundation thereby will not have to wait

70 days to get the vaccine produced. Scientific evaluation is now being made to determine whether the Salk vaccine is effective in protecting against paralytic polio. The study is being carried out at the University of Michigan.

It is 21,600 nautical miles around the earth at the equator.

City Treasurer Makes Report, Cites Increases

Meter Fund
Up $3,394
Over Year Ago

City Treasurer Oke Hultkrantz, in office 365 days, appeared before the City Council Monday night to report on the functions of the handling of the city's money. The report is required in the city's charter.

The report pointed to a number of improvements that have been effected in the past year.

Of major interest were the increases in receipts due to inauguration of different methods. Among them was an increase of 122 sign licenses, increasing income by some $284 per year. This resulted from a revision of license records and a survey conducted through the assistance of the city engineer.

Winona's dog license receipts have also increased, but the largest gain was in parking meter receipts compared on the basis of receipts from Oct. 1, 1932 to Oct. 1, 1933 and from the latter date to the first of this month. The increase amounts to $3,394.61, with the Oct. 1, 1932 to Oct. 1, 1933 total at $34,172 and the figures from Oct. 1, 1933 to Oct. 1, 1934 at $37,566.61. The new system in this respect will also permit a spot check of collections in any of a number of areas in the city.

Hultkrantz also pointed out that bank deposits have been equalized at the three city banks and that the funds are no longer pooled into one account at any bank.

"A more efficient system of registering checks has also been installed," the treasurer said, using a ledger to illustrate his point. It involved a new method of recording checks and he said a new filing system for canceled checks has also been adopted.

Advice given to the Board of Municipal Works resulted in an income of $1,000 per year rather than a loss that had been anticipated in the investment of funds in government bonds, he added.

In related parts of the report, Hultkrantz informed the aldermen he has established a petty cash fund for the treasurer's office; revised the invoice record method relating to airport funds and now keeps the payroll record of the Winona Board of Education.

Another fund, that is not directly related to city financial matters, has proved more beneficial through investment. He was referring to the Police Relief Association, where methods of handling receipts and disbursements was revised and investment of funds enabled the association to increase the amount paid annually in pensions a total of slightly more than $1,000 per year at an increased outlay of only slightly over $100 per year.

The council also heard from a representative of the journeymen plumbers local concerning the possibility of issuing licenses or badges to the journeymen. They are required to be licensed by the state. The aldermen decided to ask George Jensen, city plumbing inspector, to attend the next meeting to clarify the purpose of such a program.

Whitehall Legion Donates Two Beds

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—With a gift of two additional hospital beds from the Whitehall post last week, the county nurse's office here now has nine beds to loan to persons in need of them. The new beds turned over to the county nurse were called for immediately.

The Legion post here has now donated four hospital beds for use of any person in Trempealeau County, the now-disbanded VFW post two beds and the county unit of the Wisconsin Association for the Disabled, three beds.

Result of Tests On Body Awaited

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special)—State Attorney General Vernon Thompson has reported to District Attorney Louis Drecktrah that the person making the microscopic tests on the body tissue of Joseph McAllen has been called out of town and has not yet returned. This accounts for the delay in obtaining the autopsy Drecktrah requested Oct. 5, when McAllen died at Wisconsin General Hospital, Madison.

County officials had hoped for an immediate autopsy report in order to determine if an inquest would be called.

S. A. BOYD, Secretary

Jefferson PTA Asks Flashing Light at 5th, Orrin Streets

The Jefferson PTA voted unanimously Monday night to urge the City Council "to install a flashing traffic light system at Fifth and Orrin streets to help solve a treacherous and possibly tragic school pedestrian traffic problem."

Action was taken by the membership following a report on a month-long study conducted by a special Highway 61 committee appointed by Mrs. S. J. Kryzsko, president of the association.

Presenting the report was Mrs. John Eifelalt, chairman of the committee. Other members were R. K. Ellings, Harold Briesath and Mrs. John Ollom.

Mrs. Eifelalt reviewed school census figures and returns from a questionnaire showing that 239 public and parochial school children have to cross Highway 61 to go to school. Of this number, she said, 140 public school and 44 parochial school children are in the Fifth and Orrin streets school area. Fifty-five more are from the Clark's Lane and Johnston Addition area.

The committee's report recommended: 1. Painting of crosswalks on Highway 61 and the erection of school crossing signs immediately and 2. Prompt action seeking to persuade the city council to install a hand-operated signal to be operated by a police department patrolman during specified school hours.

Featured in the Highway 61 school traffic discussion was a presentation by Winona police sergeant Edward Hittner of results of traffic counts he conducted at the Fifth and Orrin crossing Sept. 16 and 20. Hittner also discussed practical considerations he said should be taken into account before the association acted on the committee's report.

Vehicle Every 8 Seconds

Hittner said his traffic counts demonstrated that an average of one vehicle passed the Fifth and Orrin intersection every eight seconds during the time school children were using the crossing. Counts were made between 8:20 and 8:50 a.m. Sept. 16 and between 8:12 and 8:35 a.m. Sept. 20, Hittner said.

On Sept. 16, the police sergeant revealed, 97 cars and 38 trucks passed the intersection going east and 55 cars and 33 trucks passed it in a westerly direction during the 30-minute period.

The Sept. 20 figures during a 23-minute period were 81 cars and 21 trucks eastbound and 45 cars and 32 trucks westbound.

Hittner told the association that he sat in his squad car and watched "three small children" wait 6 1/2 minutes before they dared cross Highway 61 on their way to school. Both counts, the sergeant said, happened to be taken on rainy days when school pedestrian traffic was low.

The association's resolution to the city council recommended "that forthright action be taken at once to protect the lives of school children having to cross Highway 61 in the city's West End by the installation of automatically-operated flashing signals at such a point and in such a fashion as will solve a treacherous and possibly tragic school pedestrian traffic problem."

Also discussed during consideration of the Highway 61 problem was snow removal on Highway 61. Several members expressed the belief a long stretch of the highway is hazardous during winter months owing to lack of cleared off-highway walking areas.

Walter Haeussinger, vice president of the Jefferson PTA, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Kryzsko. Presenting secretary was Mrs. Donald Berg and Mrs. E. Bernice McCourt. Mrs. C. K. Millam is the historian.

Sherman A. Mitchell, principal of Jefferson School, described proposed Amendment 1 upon which Minnesota voters will be asked to act Nov. 2. The amendment would recognize probate court procedures, improving the handling of juvenile problems, Mitchell said.

Dave Morrissey spoke briefly on insurance, explaining a plan which has been endorsed by the city's

Council Gives O.K. to New Parking Lot

Votes to Install
Mercury Vapor Lights
On W. 5th Street

The City Council Monday night rejected all bids for construction of 92,531 square feet of sidewalk and 2,681 lineal feet of curb and gutter when it found that the firm awarded the contract Aug. 31 has been unable to produce a performance bond.

Approved, however, was a contract for the construction of a 62-space parking lot adjacent to the Winona County Courthouse and installation of mercury vapor lights along part of West 5th street.

Completion of the sidewalk project will be delayed several months, due to the late season. Re-advertisement will probably come in February.

However, the city attorney and city engineer emphasized that rejection of the bids does not terminate contracts between property owners and the city. Persons who have made applications to have the work done cannot withdraw without City Council approval.

The Council acceptance had been of the Squires Construction Co. bid of $33,950.62. However, the Council decided against accepting the next lowest bid on the basis that it was too high. That was the $45,045.35 bid submitted by the Keller Construction Co., Winona. City Engineer W. O. Cribbs had estimated cost of the project at $38,399. Another contract has also been planned for property owners ordered by the city to install new sidewalks. They were to request inclusion in the next contract or complete the work themselves within 90 days.

Ralph A. Scharrer, 626 Sioux St., was low bidder for the parking lot construction project with a bid of $6,883.87. The specifications state that all concrete work is to be completed by Nov. 20, and all additional work by Dec. 15 except sodding and final grading of crushed rock base materials next May 1. The only other bid was submitted by P. Earl Schwab, 168 W. 2nd St. for $7,263.77.

The unmetered lot will be surfaced with 5-inches of crushed rock and an inch of bituminous pavement with floodlights mounted on the Winona Theater and Hotel Winona.

West 5th Street Lights
In another lighting matter, the Council decided to authorize the Mississippi Valley Public Service Co. to install fourteen 20,000 lumen mercury vapor lights on West 5th street between Mechanic and Villa streets. At present, the nine lights there range from 2,500 to 6,000 lumens. The new installation is subject to approval by the city engineer.

Cost at present, per light per year, is about $65.60 and the new light average cost is $69.50. Even with the addition of five lights, the cost to the city will be increased only $718 per year. About $712 had been included in the budget for such use. The present system costs $255 per year while the new lights will cost $973 a year. Installation will be on existing facilities, so that the city will pay only the actual light. The Council indicated it intends to improve lighting facilities in other areas of the city in the future.

On another lighting matter, the aldermen approved the assessment for the $32,587 "White Way" in the business district. The city will pay half the cost ($16,293.75) while the remainder is assessed against the property owners in the affected areas. A hearing will be held Nov. 1 for property owners involved.

Final estimates for the J. F. Edwards Co., Geneseo, Ill., for the installation of new down street lights amounting to $1,629.98 and to the E. J. Dunn Blacktopping Co., for seal coating of runways and taxiways at the Winona Municipal Airport at $7,223.35 were approved.

Fillmore County Sends 6 Inductees

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Six youths, all volunteers, left here today for induction into the armed forces, filling the October quota for selective service.

Those leaving were Everett Kumm, Milton H. Rosenberg and Harold E. Nelson, all of Spring Valley; Darrell W. Vine, Mabel; Wallace T. Vogen, Rushford; and Raymond L. Hilden, Whalan.

Seven others left Preston today for pre-induction physical examinations. The November call for the selective service office here is 12 for pre-induction physicals and six for induction.

public school system for additional protection of children "to, at and from school." Members voted to join other schools in the city in making the plan available to Jefferson School.

Featured speaker on the program following the meeting was Harry M. Reynolds, past city and state president and general chairman of the state PTA convention scheduled next Monday through Wednesday in St. Paul. Reynolds spoke on "PTA Aims and Activities."

He said state membership in PTA now totals 200,376. "Every 17th person in Minnesota is a member," he declared, Minnesota has 918 associations, he said, pointing out that new associations are appearing "every week."

The speaker described the operation of the state association, emphasizing that the strength of the state group derives from local associations.

"The greatest resource in Minnesota," Reynolds declared, "is our children going to school. This is to be their world in another 20 to 30 years. Teach them to be good drivers."

Presenting a skit urging members to purchase annual subscriptions to the official PTA magazine were Mrs. Frances Hadler and Mrs. Gladys B. Christie.

Lunch followed the meeting, served by mothers of children in the kindergarten room. The next meeting is scheduled Nov. 15 when open house will be held at the school.

Problems in Transfer of Golf Course Aired by City Council

Importance of
Course Inside
Community Cited

The problems involved in the proposed transfer of the public golf course at Westfield to a site on the east end of Lake Winona and projected improvement of the baseball field at Gateway Park were discussed Monday night by the City Council.

Charles A. Choate, Westfield president, told the aldermen that certain questions must be answered before any further plans can be made concerning the proposal to relocate the course.

He said he had contacted Robert B. Harris, a Chicago golf architect, but had been told a study of the area would be necessary to determine if the site is satisfactory for golf purposes. "The question before us now," Choate observed, "must be answered by an expert."

He had cited the importance of a public course within the city limits, in that it benefits the working people of the city by its proximity and also serves as a tourist attraction. Choate said more than 30,000 rounds were played at Westfield last summer and that the golfers included individuals from practically every state in the union, Mexico and Canada.

Council Shown Drawing
In this connection, he emphasized that the proposed site near Lake Winona would be particularly desirable, with the Hot Fish Shop, the proposed motel of the Winona Hotels, Inc., and new Highway 61 nearby, in addition to the recreational facilities in other areas adjacent to the lake.

Choate showed the Council a drawing of the proposed course and pointed out that the area could be designed to include a water hole. The proposal included the possibility that the present west end residential site could be sold as a Westfield development and thus added to the tax rolls. The Park Recreation Board, owner of the land where the proposed new course would be located, has advised unsuccessfully to sell an area along Mainkato avenue for development of a commercial shopping center. Park areas are slated for the remainder of the land there.

Choate said that one of the major problems concerning any building in the lake area would be the cost of piling, which he said would be about $1,000 per lot.

"But we aren't absolutely sure the site would even be satisfactory for a golf course," Choate commented in explaining the desire to secure the advice of a golf architect. First Ward Ald. R. K. Ellings observed "If we can't build a golf course there I don't see how we can expect to put buildings on it."

Choate said Harris' fee is $100 a day plus expenses but that in a telephone conversation, the architect had said he thought he could complete the study in a day.

Choate suggested that a committee be appointed to make necessary arrangements with an architect and also to present the financial possibilities involved in sale of the Westfield land as a residential development.

President William P. Theurer appointed Ald. William S. L. Christensen to be the Council's representative on the group that will also include a member of the Park Recreation Board, a representative of the Association of Commerce and Choate as the Westfield representative. He'll be chairman of the group.

Next to appear before the committee of the whole session were four representatives of the Winona Baseball Association led by President Don Gostomski as spokesman.

Rental Discussed
They asked that the rental paid to the Park Recreation Board be held at $50 per game and that consideration be given the financial of providing a grass infield.

In previous years, the rent matter has first been taken to the board and then to the Council which has approved appropriations to make up the difference between the rent and the actual operating cost.

The sodding of the infield would involve expenditure of about $1,000, Gostomski said, estimating the cost of a three-inch layer of black dirt over the area around the pitcher's mound at $114 with sodding at 10 cents a square foot amounting to roughly $950.

"All the other teams in the Southern Minny baseball league have the grass infields," he said. He said the Winona Activity Group, which sponsors a Winter Carnival ice show in the winter, has indicated it would not object to the plan and would find a different site for the show if necessary.

Gostomski said they had been a bit hesitant about approaching the P-R board in view of the budget cut enacted by the Council. Here President Theurer reiterated that it was not a budget cut, but rather a recommendation to shift funds from a surplus fund into active budget use.

The Council decided to ask the Park Recreation Board to attend the next Council session for discussion of the rent and grass infield matters. Also appearing in behalf of the WBA were Directors Robert Krick and Stanley Wiczorek and Secretary H. G. Hymes.

Rayburn Predicts Democrats Will Control House

WASHINGTON (U)—House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas said today he expects President Eisenhower to consult Democratic leaders regularly if the Democrats wrest control of Congress from the Republicans in the elections two weeks from today.

Rayburn, who likely would resign his old post as speaker of the House if his party wins in November, predicted to newsmen the Democrats would control the next House by from 20 to 40 votes. In the present House, they have 215 seats to 219 for the Republicans and one seat occupied by an independent.

Rayburn said the Democrats, if in control of the next Congress, would work out "a good program" and push it to enactment.

Barry Nelson, 677 E. Mark St., forfeited a $25 deposit when he failed to appear for trial on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Tyrone Power, Linda Christian Breaking Up

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The marriage of Tyrone Power and Linda Christian, solemnized five years ago in Santa Francisco Catholic Church in Rome, has broken up. The two movie stars blame the split on "incompatibility over careers" but say there are no immediate plans for divorce.

The shapely Miss Christian will stay in Hollywood and pursue her film career. Power is leaving for New York as soon as he finishes his current movie, "Untamed," to start rehearsals for "The Dark Is Light Enough," in which he will co-star on the stage with Katharine Cornell.

Before the marriage, Power told reporters Miss Christian would give up her acting career "because two actors in one family wouldn't work."

Their was a year-long international romance in Italy, Mexico, Spain and Hollywood. The church sanctioned the marriage because it had not recognized the civil ceremony which united Power with Annabella, French actress.

The couple's joint announcement of their split said their two daughters, Romina Francesca, 3, and Taryn, 2, will remain in the custody of Miss Christian.

Navy Closer to Atomic-Engined Aircraft Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has moved a long step toward its hope for an atomic-engined aircraft carrier with announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and Defense Department of two projects looking to development of nuclear propulsion "for large naval vessels."

After preliminary coolness by Secretary of Defense Wilson to going ahead with an atomic carrier program, the Navy subsequently received a general endorsement by the Defense Department.

The first indication that this broad approval is being translated into an actual project came Friday when the AEC and Defense Department jointly said:

1. Development work on a reactor suitable for big ships has been assigned to Westinghouse Electric Corp. and $1,250,000 is being set aside in funds of the present fiscal year for a start on the project.

2. Design studies for a nuclear-engined ship have been started by the Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. and the Bethlehem Steel Co. shipbuilding plant at Quincy, Mass.

The Navy now has two atomic powered submarines under construction — the Nautilus and Sea Wolf — with two more approved for building.

Navy officials have said their eventual goal is to convert much of the fleet to atomic power.

Bus Rider Makes Stab at Getting Off

WELLS, Nev. (AP)—A Salt Lake City bus driver brought his Greyhound bus safely into Wells last night although bleeding from a knife wound in the side.

The driver, D. H. Stump, told authorities he was stabbed by an elderly passenger who apparently went berserk when he told the man he couldn't leave the bus on lonely Pequot Summit, 20 miles east of Wells on U.S. Highway 40.

Stump said the passenger slashed an unidentified passenger on the hand who attempted to intervene, and then stabbed Stump in the side. In the turmoil that followed, Stump said, the man escaped.

Neither Stump nor the unidentified passenger was said to be hurt seriously.

They'll Do It Every Time

It Happened Last Night

Columnist Wanted To Be a Preacher

NEW YORK—Whatever happened to the old-fashioned country preacher—the minister—"the parson?" When I was a kid, I wanted to be "a Reverend."

They only preached Thursdays ("Prayer Meeting Night") and Sundays (two shifts, morning sermon and evening preachin'). They got invited to chicken dinners. They got their rent paid. And when they stood up in the pulpit, they could tell jokes—and everybody practically had to laugh.

I goofed, and never made it, although I studied Bible a lot at little Heidelberg College before I went wrong and became a night club gossip.

But now there's a young ordained minister in Findlay, Ohio, making with the jokes like I wanted to. "I was raised in a parsonage," the Rev. Dr. Tennyson Guyer tells me.

"We lived in a house where we were too poor to paint and too proud to whitewash. Dad said he had to eat beef tongue and drink ox-tail soup to make ends meet."

If Johnnie Ray and Jane Russell go into the pulpit and become the Billy Grams and Billy Sundays of tomorrow, I hope they try the laugh approach of the Rev. Dr. Guyer, who tells older married couples to take the mud road home once in a while and do a little "chicken"—it'd do 'em good.

"I married the doctor's daughter from Ohio City because I thought she was well off. She tells me now that she was—but she didn't know it," the Reverend says.

"Now about juvenile delinquency—I heard a woman say she wouldn't mind being a little delinquent if she could be a little more juvenile. I asked a grandmother in Michigan about the girls of her day."

"She told me, 'Girls today do things I wouldn't think of doing. That's why I didn't do 'em. I didn't think of it.'"

"Then there's the high cost of living. A West Virginia fellow told me, 'It costs me $9 a day to get the necessities of life and then when you do get it, it isn't fit to drink.'"

The Rev. Dr. Guyer—who was State Overseer of Churches of God in Ohio before turning lecturer—is not the kind of man to forget the Bible and its prophecies in his talks.

"The biggest funeral I ever witnessed—more than 70,000 pallbearers—was foretold in the Bible," he says.

"You remember the funeral—when Undertaker Durocher buried the Cleveland Indians. If you just read Numbers 13:33, you'll see the prophecy: 'And there we saw the Giants, and we were grasshoppers in their sight.'"

I asked what happened to the old-fashioned preachers. I'm sure they're modern now, hard-working, and still underpaid. God help them.

Kohler Orders Probe of Racine Jail Scandal

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Kohler has ordered a legal aide to Racine to investigate a complaint that county officials "have not acted with a desire to get to the bottom" of a jail scandal there.

Kohler Monday directed Edwin Wilkie, his executive counsel, to proceed with the investigation. Wilkie, the governor's pardon officer, said he probably would be in Racine today.

The complaint prompting the check was made by R. O. Flansberg, former Racine alderman, who is now a commentator for a Racine radio station.

Flansberg said he had investigated personally the stories of alleged sex crimes committed in the jail last summer involving a 17-year-old girl and two deputy sheriffs.

Easier Money Powering New Housing Boom

NEW YORK (AP)—A new phase of the housing boom is under way. It is powered by easy money.

Mortgage investors say today they apparently have the blessing of Washington, judging both by the new Federal Housing Act and the Treasury's policy toward the Federal Reserve Bank.

Washington, judging both by the new Federal Housing Act and the Treasury's policy toward the Federal Reserve Bank.

The rush to borrow to build may push the mortgage loan total for the year near 22 billion dollars, the Home Loan Bank board believes. Last year 194 billion dollars worth were written.

Home building in September was at a record level, the Commerce and Labor departments report. F. W. Dodge says, "construction news and market specialists, say residential building contracts in the states east of the Rockies were 53 per cent higher in September than for the same month a year ago."

The men who finance the mortgages say that if the Treasury took a new tack on the federal debt under the next big refinancing comes up in December and started tightening money again, the resultant withdrawal of idle money from the home mortgage market would quickly choke off the building boom, which is the big prop to prosperity right now.

"The new housing law has given renewed impetus to the speculative operations of enterprising single-family home builders," says George W. Warnecke, president of the mortgage investment firm bearing his name.

In his opinion the new law, plus the Treasury's easy money policy (in deciding against long-term bonds last month) has made clear the government's "determination to keep construction at an even pace of one million or more homes a year."

He says interest rates have eased in recent months and may ease further.

Death Cancels Speeding Ticket

NEW YORK (AP)—Saul J. Allen, head of the Traffic Summons Control Bureau, has learned that a New Jersey driver who received a ticket for speeding last Thursday won't be able to answer it.

Joseph John Orlick, of North Bergen, N. J., received a summons for speeding on the Bronx River Parkway Thursday.

Police reported he let his companion, John Brown, of New York City, take over the driving after the ticket was issued.

Two hours later, Brown crashed into a concrete wall, killing both men.

Price of Hogs Big Factor in Iowa Election

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
DES MOINES (AP)—The price of ham and eggs—ham on the hoof, that is—is shaping into an important election day factor in Iowa.

In the nation's greatest hog-producing state, the farmer is getting less for hogs while his costs stay up. His wife frequently can't break even on the eggs she carts to market for pin and household money.

Most eggs are bringing 16 to 18 cents a dozen and that's far less than the prices of a year ago.

Even though they aren't grumbling loudly or saying much about politics or political reprisals, neither farmers nor farm wives are exactly happy about this.

As a result, the Democrats expect to profit at the polls and GOP brows are poked with lines of worry.

Besides, there are signs that some sort of a Democratic trend may be under way in this part of the farm belt.

It might do no more than cut down some of the usual Republican margins of victory. A tide of unforeseen volume and some real political upsets would be needed for the Democrats to shake any Republicans out of Iowa's eight House seats—all held by the GOP—and the gubernatorial mansion.

Yet some Democrats do profess a glimmering hope for electing a governor for the first time since 1936 and a congressman for the first time since 1940.

Trend or no trend, they expect to keep Democrat Guy M. Gillette in the Senate. Gillette has proved a can win in Iowa when no other Democrat can come close. It takes Republican votes for him to do it, and the senator pulls them in.

The GOP is challenging this formidable opponent with Thomas E. Martin, a House member for 16 years. And it keeps pounding hard on the idea that President Eisenhower needs a Republican congress.

Democrat Clyde E. Herring is battling it with Republican Leo A. Hoegh for the job of U.S. Senator. Hoegh is a vacillating after three terms. Herring is the son of a former governor and U.S. senator; Hoegh is the state's attorney general.

And for the first time in years Democrats are putting up a fight all down the line for state and county offices they used to let go by default. These very offices give the GOP a solid core of support in any election.

Six different polls have attempted to test the Iowa political winds. Gillette is leading in three, Martin in three, while Hoegh is in front in five and Herring in one.

Gillette says he expects to win on the general issue that there is a "feeling of instability for the future and of double crosses in the past."

"There is general uncertainty everywhere, on the farms and in the cities," he said in an interview.

Martin claims the one big issue is the need for placing Republicans in Congress to support Eisenhower. Gillette, he says, cancels the votes of the other Iowa senator, Republican Bourke B. Hickend.

Gillette is 75, Martin 61, and some Republicans are whispering a bit about the senator's age. He "pleads guilty" to being a Democrat and to having been "born without any intervention on my part 75 years ago." But he says he doesn't own a wheel chair and does not need one.

Army Determined To Pay Civilian Crews in Korea

SEOUL (AP)—A U.S. Army pledge to pay its Korean employees this month, even if it means selling army oil to raise the funds, drew bitter objections today from South Korean government officials.

The U.S. move was designed to obtain Korean currency to pay the Army's 100,000 Korean employees. The Army said it would pay the workers in dollars if it can't obtain Korean hwan.

The stumbling block arose Oct. 1 when the South Korean government halted all currency advances in a dispute with the United States over the exchange rates for the hwan. The United States feels the official rate of 180 to $1 is too low.

President Syngman Rhee summoned top economic advisers to his mansion to prepare for a possible showdown with Gen. John E. Hill, United Nations Far East Commander, due here by plane tomorrow.

Army Forms New Ground Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Army command being set up to handle the ground defenses of the United States.

The Army, announcing the move Saturday night, said the command would be headed by Gen. John E. Dahlquist, chief of Army field forces.

While the Army announcement made no reference to the matter, the ground command appears to be related to the Defense Department action last summer in creating a joint Air-Army-Navy command for the country's defense against air attack or invasion.

CAR TIPS By Al Speltz

(Editor's note: This is another in the series of articles to be published every Tuesday as a service to readers of The Winona Daily News who are interested in automotive maintenance. The author is a certified engine mechanic and contributor to technical magazines.)

SHOULD YOU STORE YOUR CAR?

"An elderly lady has driven this black beauty 10,000 miles in five years. Had it on blocks every winter! Just like new," the salesman assures you.

Is it? It undoubtedly LOOKS like new. Five winters of "dead storage" may, however, have "killed" the engine.

Taking the weight off the tires (typifies the sentimental approach to automotive maintenance. I remember one owner who carried sentiment to the point of treating his tires to fresh air twice a year.

The engine and the cooling and heating system should be the chief concern. It is very difficult to drain completely the cooling and heating systems. Consequently, enough water sometimes remains in low spots to cause serious freezing damage.

Even if all the water does drain out, oxidizer of the exposed inner surfaces remains a problem.

Some engines must be run every few weeks to prevent seizing of pistons, bearings, or valves. Even the short run-ups necessary to prevent seizing would be unsafe with an empty cooling system. Besides, unless an engine is run long enough to warm up the crankcase oil, condensation and dilution become added complications.

In short, therefore, avoid putting your car into "dead storage." Some of you, of course, cannot avoid it. My next article is intended to help you minimize storage damage.

7 New Members Take British Cabinet Posts

LONDON (AP)—A wholesale reshuffle of the British Conservative government brought seven new members into Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet Monday.

A total of 17 other ministerial posts changed hands in a big shakeup read by most political observers as a sign Churchill's retirement is not in the cards at this time although he will be 80 Nov. 30.

The most significance in this connection was attached to the appointment of Housing Minister Harold MacMillan to succeed retiring Earl Alexander as minister of defense.

MacMillan, a 60-year-old book publisher, has been considered a likely successor to Anthony Eden in the post of foreign secretary if and when the heir apparent to the aged Churchill steps into the premiership. But, as the independent, usually well-informed London Times commented:

"It is unthinkable that Sir Winston Churchill would have moved him to such a key post as the minister of defense if within a short time he were going to be moved out again."

It generally is conceded that Churchill will continue to head the government indefinitely in quest of what he has described as "this last great prize I seek to win"—lasting peace between the Western world and the Soviet Union.

In addition to MacMillan, other new Cabinet members are: Minister of housing and local government—Duncan Sandys, 46, Churchill's 60th-birthday.

Minister of education—Sir David Eccles, 50, formerly minister of works. He managed arrangements for Queen Elizabeth's coronation.

Lord Chancellor—Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, 53. He will preside over the House of Lords and serve as the nation's highest judicial officer.

Minister of food and agriculture—Derick Heathcoat-Amory, 54.

Home secretary and minister of state for Welsh affairs—Gwilym Lloyd-George, 59.

Robert Feare, 57, minister of pensions and national insurance. He already held the post, but the shakeup gives him Cabinet rank.

Four ministers who desired to return to private life resigned. They were:

Alexander, 62-year-old wartime field marshal, who quit the defense post; Lord Simonds, 72, lord chancellor; Sir Lionel Heald, 57, attorney general; Miss Florence Horsbrough, 63, minister of education.

Dulles Leaves Today for Paris Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles leaves for Paris today to join Western European diplomats in working out detailed arrangements for bringing West Germany into the anti-Communist defensive alliance.

The United States, its military partners and Germany recently reached broad agreement on restoration of West German sovereignty and German rearmament. The task now is to reduce that broad agreement to specific terms.

Among the problems to be solved is the extent of control to be exercised by a broadened European military treaty group over armaments and arms manufacture.

There have been indications France may seek stricter controls than Germany and possibly some other nations might accept.

The U.S. delegation includes representatives of the Defense Department, the U.S. NATO staff and the State Department.

37 Injured as Trains Collide Near St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Thirty-seven persons were injured yesterday in the collision of a crack Wabash passenger train and a west-bound freight train moving at slow speeds, on the St. Louis approach to a Mississippi River bridge.

Most of the injured were treated for cuts, bruises and shock and released from area hospitals. Twelve were kept for further observation, but none was reported in serious condition.

Boy, 9, Burns Down His Neighbor's Home

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Arson investigators say a 9-year-old boy has admitted burning down his neighbor's $10,000 home.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Young was burned last Saturday while they and their children were absent.

The youth was held in the Van Nuys juvenile ward pending the filing of a petition in Juvenile Court.

Cancer Not Hereditary, Report States

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP)—The fear that cancer runs in families is not borne out in a study reported today at the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society.

This analysis finds little evidence that you inherit much chance of getting cancer.

The study was made by Dr. Douglas P. Murphy and associates under auspices of the Gynecologic Research, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, aided by grants from the Commonwealth Fund.

They studied nearly 10,000 female relatives of women who had cancer and other relatives who did not. The cancer patients had either cancer of the breast or uterus, the two most common sites of female cancer.

They did not find that cancer, in any sites in general, occurred with any unusual frequency in relatives of women who had cancer of the breast or uterus.

The relatives of women who had breast cancer didn't have more breast cancer than relatives of women free of that kind of cancer.

They did find some statistical evidence, not strong, that cancer of the uterus might be more common among relatives of women with uterine cancer.

Summing up the study, Murphy said, "It hereditarily play any role in influencing the frequency of cancer in blood relatives it would seem to be a very small one."

Today's Festival of Mammoth Hangover

TOKYO (AP)—This was the day of the mammoth hangover in the mountain community of Yamato, which has just concluded its 1,047th observance of "Moonshine Moonshine Festival."

The festival, north of Tokyo, opens each year with "sacrificing" a bottle of new-made moonshine. Afterward, it is traditional that all participants get thoroughly soused.

Tax collectors turn their backs during the festival, but promptly show up to tax the unconsumed sake—rice beer with a wine taste which accounts for the splitting heads and jangled nerves. There isn't much sake left.

Thousands Pay Last Respects To Boss Crump

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U) — Boss Crump was buried Monday. He died Saturday at the age of 80.

The last of the nation's old-time, big city political bosses, E. H. Crump had controlled Memphis for nearly 50 years.

Thousands visited the Crump home Sunday to pause a moment in front of the bronze casket, set in a blaze of flowers.

The body lay in state until the hour of the funeral at the home, a spacious, two-story brick structure on a pleasant but not particularly fashionable residential street.

During the day, a special police detail, with muted whistle and solemn gesture, kept traffic moving. Crump kept a tight grip on the Memphis-Shelby County Democratic "machine" he created.

The organization, until 1934, had controlled state politics 20 years. But in the '48 primary, Crump's candidates lost to Estes Kefauver in the Senate race and Gordon Browning in the governor's scramble.

Negro Students Question Back In Court Again

WILMINGTON, Del. (U) — The question of whether 10 Negro students may attend the previously all-white Milford (Del.) High School returned to the Court of Chancery today.

Vice Chancellor William Marvel has already ruled that Negroes have the right to attend the Milford school.

The question before him today was should he grant an injunction, requested by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, to restrain the Milford School Board from keeping the Negroes out of the high school.

The 10 Negro students were integrated at the beginning of the present school term, under provisions of a U. S. Supreme Court ruling. Boycotts, inspired in part by the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, cut attendance drastically and resulted in the resignation of the original Milford School Board.

Searchlight on, Tug Skipper Tells Inquiry in Sinking

MILWAUKEE (U) — A Great Lakes tug skipper has told a Coast Guard inquiry that he personally flashed a warning to the Frins Willem V before the Dutch cargo hauler and a barge pulled by his tug collided and the freighter went to the bottom of Lake Michigan.

John C. Basetich, captain of the tug Chicago, testified Monday as a Coast Guard Marine Board of Investigation began its probe of the sinking three miles off the Milwaukee Harbor last Thursday night. "I can't figure out how he didn't see my searchlight," Basetich told the board.

The Willem, bound up lake from Milwaukee, and the incoming barge smashed together about 7 p.m., and the Dutchman was on the bottom of the lake in 80 feet of water an hour and 15 minutes later.

The 29 man crew of the Willem fled the stricken vessel in her lifeboats and were picked up and taken ashore by Coast Guard rescue craft. None was hurt seriously.

Students as the eight weeks term progresses. The course is "Reducing by Diet."

Anderson Reply Evades Charge, Lord Insists

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miles Lord today laid down a new barrage in his verbal tilt with Gov. Anderson over the state's rental and eventual purchase of what is known as the State Office Building Annex in St. Paul.

Lord, DFL candidate for attorney general, said the Republican chief executive's answer to his original charges was unsatisfactory and evasive. Lord said earlier that prominent Republicans may have made as much as a half million dollars profit on sale of the building at 117 University Avenue to the state.

Anderson replied the charges were part of the "DFL smear mill, operating in desperate attempt to capture headlines in a crusade to discredit."

Lord countered with a list of questions he said the governor should answer. "In the public interest," he asked for disclosure of:

Whether revenue stamps on the deed for the building didn't show it was purchased for $76,000; when the state leased the building and at what yearly rental; who paid for maintenance costs, the state or the Cladimir Corp.; why the lease was never filed with the register of deeds, and what it cost the state for improvements to the structure.

Open Public Record

"Answers to these specific questions will entail opening the public record previously ignored by the governor," Lord said. "As far as the public is concerned, there was a profit of $400,000 or thereabouts paid by the state to this corporation."

Any further information on the matter from the governor was expected to come upon his return from Virginia, where he was making a noon address.

In an address prepared for delivery at a Kiwanis Club luncheon in Virginia, the governor said that if he is re-elected he will recommend that the 1935 Legislature create an atomic energy commission.

Use of atomic energy in private industry, together with coming of ocean-going vessels on Lake Superior through the St. Lawrence Seaway would open great, new industrial vistas for the state, especially the northern area, the governor said.

The "GOP Flyer," a helicopter being used over the state, was touring the Seventh Congressional District with Rep. H. Carl Anderson, seeking re-election, and Bernard LeVander, attorney general candidate, a board. Stops were scheduled at Alexandria, Morris, Benson, Willmar, Montevideo and Redwood Falls, where the ship will berth overnight.

Humphrey Speech

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) in a speech prepared for delivery at Gonvick, urged dairy producers to unite in a concerted drive on the new Congress for "a dairy program to meet needs of the Midwest." He said this should include boosting support levels to 85 per cent of parity until increased consumption offsets the need for such economic protection.

Val Bjornson, Republican campaigning for Humphrey's seat, said that the Senate incumbent was PUSAN, Korea (U) — More than 3,000 persons were made homeless here last night when two fires destroyed 481 homes.

One fire which started in a Korean home leveled 361 homes, making 2,400 persons homeless.

Another fire started from a kerosene lamp in a refugee-crowded sector and destroyed 120 homes. It left 800 Koreans homeless. No casualties were reported. Police estimated the loss at $78,000.

Opinion Difference On China Called No Disadvantage

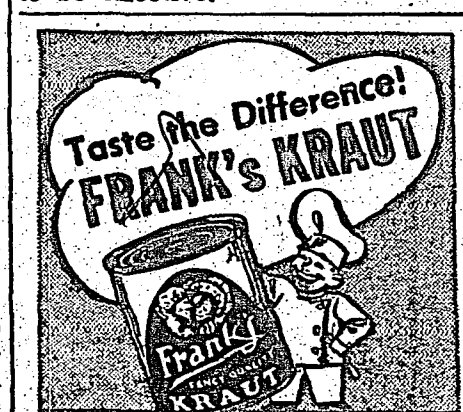

CARLISLE, Pa. (U) — Sir Percy Spender, Australian ambassador to the United States, says that differences on recognition of the Communist Chinese regime do not greatly weaken the alliance of the United States and the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Spender, speaking yesterday before the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, said "an honest difference of opinion exists here and its exercise—whose right is the lifeblood of democracy... does not put us at a disadvantage."

"trying to stampede Minnesotans with a distorted picture of the GOP tax program. In a talk prepared for an afternoon television broadcast, Bjornson said "Humphrey presents a tax dollar pie sliced according to the type of audience he is addressing. If he can charge us with any type of favoritism, it might be defined as favoritism for individual taxpayers."

Speaking at a students for Humphrey rally at University of Minnesota, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said the very destructiveness of atomic weapons made war unlikely between this country and Russia. He said the atomic and hydrogen bomb probably would keep the two nations in a state of "uneasy truce."

Mansfield said also there was likelihood India and Red China might come to grips in Asia and that the recently-drawn Southeast Asia defense pact was a good thing but not strong enough as yet to be effective.

It Is a Risk The West Must Take

Although the French Assembly has given Premier Mendes-France the green light on the London nine-power agreements there is still considerable suspicion of the idea of rearming the Germans. More than the idea of rearming Germans the French fear a revival of the old German general staff.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government has tried to reassure the French with a statement that there was little likelihood of such a revival. Direct and immediate control of the German army will rest with German officers. But for purposes of training, equipment, strategic and tactical planning, the German officers will function within a framework of an integrated national command.

The French fears are understandable and may be shared to a degree by other European nations who suffered from the past aggressions which have been blamed in considerable measure on the old German general staff. But, if adequate safeguards are set up there is no reason why past evils of the general staff system should be repeated.

The rearmament of West Germany, despite the progress made toward democracy by leaders like Chancellor Adenauer, is still a calculated risk. Nevertheless, in the face of present danger from Communism, it is a risk the West must take.

No Easing of Load On U. S. Highway 61

In this day and age which has seen a great increase in the amount of traffic using public highways, especially in the rapidly growing freighting business carried on by trucks between the larger centers of population, the super-highway financed by tolls has come into its own. Such highways have the advantage of speeding up traffic through the elimination of grade crossings and side access roads and shortening up the distances between terminal points. In the eastern states, several of these highways financed as projects quite apart from the regular road system, are operating successfully. The Merritt highway between New York and New Haven, Conn., the Jersey turnpike, hooking up New York with Philadelphia and Wilmington, and the Pennsylvania turnpike, between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, are three of these creations which have won acclaim.

When the idea of building such a super-highway between the Twin Cities and Chicago was advanced, ready support for such a project appeared. Many people saw the need for an artery that would divert heavy traffic off the present Wisconsin and Minnesota road net that is now burdened down with the weight of travel. Fortunately, however, the matter of whether such a turnpike should be built was not left to conjecture. Gov. Kohler of Wisconsin appointed a commission of able citizens to investigate the possibilities of a successful turnpike operation with terminals at or near Hudson and in the vicinity of Genoa City, on the Illinois line, southeast of Madison. The commission has made a thorough study of the traffic which might be expected to use this thoroughfare (which would roughly parallel U.S. 12) as well as the cost of acquiring property for a right-of-way, building bridges over waterways, and constructing overpasses and overpasses to eliminate road crossings. The commission issued a preliminary report last week stating that their investigation showed that the cost of such a super-highway over the suggested route would not be justified in the light of the revenue which might be expected from its users.

Their findings do not preclude the possibility that at a later date, the building of a Wisconsin toll road to carry through Twin City-Chicago traffic might not be a good paying proposition and worth a whirl. If road traffic keeps on increasing at the present rate this may well be the case. However, the toll road has been ruled out for a period of several years at least.

This decision of the Wisconsin Turnpike Commission affects Red Wing and other cities and towns along the Minnesota banks of the Mississippi. Had our neighbors to the east gone ahead on the construction of a toll road, the chances are that a good deal of the traffic on U.S. 61 which highballs through our city would have chosen to use the super-highway on the Wisconsin side. Now, with that prospect ruled out, we may expect a continually growing number of vehicles of all kinds using our scenic route along the river. It is more important than ever that U.S. 61 be modernized all the way from St. Paul to La Crosse and that projects which enhance the usefulness of this route by allowing traffic to move readily on and off it from important north-south routes be pressed. A new high bridge at Red Wing comes under this category. The need for it becomes more apparent with the passing of each day.—Red Wing Republican Eagle.

The driver who imbibes too freely may find himself listed in the papers as a man of extinction.

These Days

College Operated On New York Funds

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK—During the days of the Okies and Arkies and similar formations of social disorder, a curious institution appeared in Louisiana and then in Arkansas. It was called, "Commonwealth College" which has since been placed upon the attorney general's list of subversive organizations. On Feb. 16, 1935, a joint committee of the Arkansas legislature made an investigation of this college, which had been founded principally by Dr. W. E. Zeuch. Dr. Zeuch went to work for Harold Ickes in the Department of the Interior and Lucien Koch took over the directorship.

The money to set up this institution came from the Garland Fund, the Carnegie Fund (foundation?) and Mrs. Leonard Elmhorst. In a word, the original money came from New York. The students did not need to have any academic qualifications to enter this college.

LUCIEN KOCH's attitude may be judged by the following testimony before the joint committee:

"Q. Do you believe in God?
"A. No.
"Q. To get a further background, may I ask do you believe in the Constitution of the United States?

"A. I am convinced that I believe in it more thoroughly than the planters of the eastern part of Arkansas.

"Q. Do you believe in the Constitution of the United States?

"A. I answered that question.

"Q. Do you respect the American flag?

"A. I refuse to answer because I consider it as having no bearing on the investigation. I refuse to answer without advice of counsel.

"Q. Do you believe in capitalism?

"A. I do not believe in capitalism, as it is now operated.

"Q. Do you own any property individually, and do you believe in the individual ownership of property?

"A. I own very little property individually. I believe that the time has come when there must be more collective ownership of property for our civilization to be preserved and future developed.

"Q. And who would be the collective individuals owning the property?

"A. The people."

I think I have given enough quotations to indicate the intellectual and spiritual qualities of the director of Commonwealth College at Mena, Ark. The subjects taught at this college were few and some of them dubious such as current events and orientation courses, Fascism and social revolution, creative writing. Among the teachers was Mildred Price, who took the Fifth Amendment in the Institute of Pacific Relations investigation under the McCarran Committee.

At Commonwealth the teachers were not paid salaries. They got room, board, laundry and, as Mildred Price testified, about $1.50 a month for miscellaneous.

THE REASON FOR BRINGING UP Commonwealth College at this time is that Orval Faubus is running for governor of Arkansas on the Democratic ticket. Faubus stands a good chance of being elected. Orval Faubus was a student at Commonwealth College about the time that the joint committee of the Arkansas legislature was making its investigation.

The Commonwealth College Fortnightly, in its issue for May Day, 1935, under the title, "United Front in Student Elections," reports that Orval Faubus was elected president of the student body and member of the disciplinary committee. Faubus then was a prominent student at Commonwealth College about three months after the legislative investigation started.

It is reported in the same Commonwealth College Fortnightly for June 1, 1935, that three students and one teacher were sent to Chattanooga, Tenn., to attend the All-Southern Conference for Civil and Trade Union Rights, a Communist front. One of them was Faubus.

This throw back to Orval Faubus' early career is apparently creating a political situation in Arkansas.

Morgenthau Diary Fails To Help in Campaign

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here is more on the probe of Henry Morgenthau's secret diary, faithfully kept during the long years when he was Secretary of the Treasury, and now the object of scrutiny by the Senate Internal Security Committee headed by Sen. William Jenner of Indiana.

What Jenner's "G-men" are probing for is any subversive links between members of the Roosevelt administration and Harry Dexter White, whom Atty. Gen. Brownell has charged with being a Russian spy. White worked in the Treasury Department under Morgenthau.

To that end, Jenner has had two men, Jonathan Mitchell, former Washington correspondent of the New Republic, and James Cardillo, regular staff investigator, working at the Roosevelt library in Hyde Park where the many volumes of the Morgenthau diary are kept.

The operation is supposed to be super hush-hush. However, this writer has obtained copies of some of the advance reports.

So far the diary has never been scrutinized by outsiders. Morgenthau, however, has given permission to Jenner to let his agents examine every scrap of paper collected when the secretary of the Treasury held that office longer than any other man in history.

One thing that Jenner probes have found is that Harry Dexter White proposed a $10,000,000 loan to Russia toward the end of the war and that Morgenthau pushed this loan idea in talks with President Roosevelt.

Senate probes have not considered this pay dirt, however, because it was well known at the time that Morgenthau urged a loan to Russia. He was quite open and emphatic in urging that the United States work closely with Russia for peacekeeping, reconstruction.

The Jenner committee has hoped to make headlines with parts of the Morgenthau diary during the closing days of the election campaign.

Husband of Feminist
Just how the committee happened to pick Jonathan Mitchell to probe the Morgenthau diary is a mystery which members of the committee flatly refused to discuss. They admitted Mitchell had been assigned the job, that was all.

Mitchell is a former New Deal writer and Roosevelt admirer married to Doris Stevens, one of the leading American feminists who boasts in her book "Tallied for Freedom" that she was sentenced to 60 days in prison for presenting a woman's suffrage petition to Woodrow Wilson in 1917. She also boasts that she was arrested in France for presenting an equal rights treaty at a meeting of the Pact of Paris.

Miss Stevens is a high officer in the Lucy Stone League of Women who use their maiden names, and lives with her present husband, Mr. Mitchell, not far from Henry Morgenthau on the Hudson River.

Mr. Mitchell, when questioned about his work for the Jenner committee, acted like a witness before the McCarthy committee. He refused to say almost anything except to admit his name and the fact that he was working on the Morgenthau diaries. However, here is the full text, word for word, of one of his reports to the Jenner committee:

Yalta Talks
"The diaries examined last week show that White, through Morgenthau, made strenuous efforts to have Roosevelt open the Yalta conference with an offer of a $10 billion postwar loan to Stalin."

White was insistent that the offer be without conditions. Only by doing so, White argued, would Stalin be convinced of America's good faith.

Is La Rosa New Star Or Meteor?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—In the 365 days since Arthur Godfrey fired Julius La Rosa publicly on a television program, his prodigious protegee has earned almost $1,000 a day.

The big-shouldered, curly-haired, young singer's income topped that of President Eisenhower. During the year he made $360,000.

He now is among the top ten regular performers in the night club, theater and TV guest star circuit, but will he endure?

He went up like a rocket, and there are those who predict he will come down the same way. Others feel that Julie, now only 24, will still be in the big time after Godfrey is retired and growing roses on his Virginia estate.

Tom Rockwell, president of General Artists Corporation, signed La Rosa to a contract guaranteeing him $100,000 a year for three years shortly before Godfrey discharged the singer. The contract was said at the time to have annoyed Godfrey, who felt the boy was "getting too big for his britches."

Better Risk Today

"La Rosa is a better risk today than he was then," says Rockwell. "He'll be up there for a long time. Our only problem now is to get him another hit record."

His associates feel they may have this in "Mobile." La Rosa's sixth recording. One record "Eh Campari," sold 1,100,000 copies, earned him $35,000 on a nickel-and-record royalty.

La Rosa has lost much of his brashness but admits he hasn't achieved "humility" yet and doubts that few people ever really do.

"When I was in the Navy, I got $225 a month and thought I knew what a buck was," he recalled.

"Then when I got on the Godfrey program and began making several hundred dollars a week, well—maybe it went to my head a little. I never kept a stable of four Cadillacs or anything like that. But I did all the things a kid dreams of doing with money."

"But now I've lost the feeling of wanting to get rid of my money. I've grown up some."

"In the last year I think I've learned a lot. I've learned to say 'Thank you' when somebody does something for me or says something nice to me. I always did appreciate those things, but in the past maybe I took them too much for granted."

Ike's Mind Made Up; He Won't Run in '56

By ED CREAM
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (U)—One reporter's opinion: President Eisenhower will not run for a second term.

This is climbing out on a long limb. What the voters do Nov. 2—whether they give the Republicans another two years in control of Congress—could have a lot to do with making up the President's mind. Unless, that is, he already has made it up. This reporter's impression is that he has.

Mind you, this is only an impression—an educated hunch at best. The only man who can say with certainty what's in the President's mind is the President himself. And, following well-established practice, he's keeping his thoughts on this question very much to himself.

So any forecast that is more than idle crystal gazing must be based on (1) what the President's attitude seems to be, as well as newsmen covering his activities can determine it, and (2) what the people around him think he will do.

It is from these sources that this reporter, who sometimes covers the White House, has formed the impression Eisenhower will not run again—always barring some unforeseen factor.

James B. Reston wrote in the New York Times recently, that in his opinion it is doubtful the President will agree to run. Reston quoted an unnamed close associate of the President as telling him: "The one thing that really makes his eyes light up is talk of his farm in Gettysburg."

Others have told this reporter much the same thing. And I've been able to watch the President inspect the almost completed remodeling job on his Pennsylvania farmhouse.

It was hard to avoid the impression that here was a man lovingly planning a home—his first real home in many a year—that he meant to live in, and not just retire to on weekends.

Another strong impression is that, while Eisenhower is determined to do a good job as president, he still doesn't like the job and still less does he like the party politics—and some of the politicians—that go with it.

There is fairly general agreement among those in daily contact with the President that, if his personal wishes were all that counted, he'd be delighted to say farewell to the White House in January 1957.

Advice on Health

Restricted Diet Fights Kidney Ill

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

It is a well known fact that no object can be made unless the proper raw materials are present. This kind of manufacturing process goes on in the human body, but, unfortunately, sometimes the results are the formation of substances which the body could well be rid of.

For example, stones sometimes form in the kidneys.

These stones may be made up of various chemicals. Thus, some of them contain what are known as oxalates; others contain phosphates or carbonates; still another group is made up of uric acid. It is unfortunate, also, that even after removal of such stones, there is a tendency for them to re-form.

In a study made of every five patients who had stones removed, two had recurrences. One of the important things in preventing recurrence is to be sure that all of the stones are removed when an operation is performed.

Perhaps the most important factor in causing the stones to re-form is infection in the kidneys. Hence, both before and after operation, every effort must be made to eliminate such infections by the use of the antibiotic preparations or the sulfonamide drugs, or both.

Patients who have had a kidney stone removed should be re-examined at least twice a year. They should drink plenty of water, and it is suggested that for the first year after operation, distilled water be used. It is also advised by many doctors that, in every case, a high dosage of vitamin A be administered.

Exactly what the diet should be depends on the chemical makeup of the stones that have been removed. If the stones were made up of uric acid, in addition to this high vitamin A intake, the diet should be alkaline-ash forming, which would be plenty of vegetables and fruits, with lesser amounts of protein foods, such as milk, meat and eggs. If necessary, it may be advisable to give some alkaline mixture, such as

The Farmer is the Forgotten Man

To the Editor:
I would like to say a few words about one of the most important segments of our economy—agriculture. It seems that the farmer is the forgotten man. He has his fixed costs to meet and they are steadily going higher but what he has to sell brings less on the market.

Labor is getting the highest wages in history and yet they are not satisfied. I wonder how they would like to put in 16 hours a day on a farm in any and all kinds of weather, plant crops and trust to the elements on what you are going to get? It takes gasoline, labor and machinery to plant a crop, plus the tax on the land, not figuring on any interest on your investment. If you figured it as any other business, you would be out money.

I am not saying that labor should not have their fair share of the nation's economy. But there is just too big a difference in what they receive and what the farmer receives.

We will take just one item—milk. We receive about six cents a quart for it at the receiving plant and the consumer pays about 20 cents a quart. That is just too big a difference. Beef is selling at before-the-war prices and yet has not come down to the consumer accordingly. There is just too big a difference in what the producer receives and what the consumer pays; evidently someone is filling his pockets somewhere along the line.

I believe in self incentive as much as anyone, but how can a farmer exist when he has to pay a fixed price for what he buys and has to take what he is offered for his products? It is easy to say produce less but there is one thing which enters the picture which those who say that did not think of and that is fixed costs. We have to meet these whether we produce or not.

I am not condemning labor. I was a union man once myself. A union is a good thing but there is such a thing as carrying it too far. I know that labor and farmers are dependent on each other but if we were to receive the return for our labor that they do, butter would be about $1.50 a pound, hogs about $35 a hundred, wheat about $4 a bushel and so on down the line.

There is no question but the average family farm is on the way out unless something is done. I believe that Pres. Eisenhower, if I remember correctly, promised the farmers 100 per cent of parity in his Plowville address at Kasson a couple of years ago. He has failed us. We have had 21 months of a Republican Administration with steadily declining prices. What will it be in four years?

I have always been a Republican and am yet but this thing can't go on as it is. I only hope that the people will vote right this year and vote for candidates who are for the farmer and the little fellow. There is too much money in power now to be good for the nation's economy.

Majority of Truck Firms Settle Strike

NEW YORK (U)—A group of 450 truck companies plan to continue holding out against a driver's strike for higher pay but admit they are weakened by other employers agreeing to union terms.

During the strike's third day yesterday the AFL Teamsters Union claimed employer resistance was "collapsing on all sides." It reported an "avalanche" of individual settlements, mostly with small firms.

The holdout firms voted at a strategy meeting last night to continue to fight union demands. However, before the meeting the employers' chief negotiator, Joseph M. Adelizi, said their position was weakened by defections in employer ranks.

He added that "the next two days" will tell whether they can continue to hold the line.

Originally some 3,500 firms were involved in the strike. It affects general freight carriers in an area stretching from the tip of Long Island through New York City then south as far as Trenton, N. J., and north to Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

There was no indication exactly how many firms had signed union agreements, but they apparently were not deterred by a 10-million-dollar damage suit filed against the teamsters and seven firms that earlier agreed to union terms.

Nine truckers, the majority of the holdout group, filed the suit in State Supreme Court, charging that the union and signing companies had conspired to "seize and steal" business from firms that refused to settle.

The suit also charged that the seven defendant companies had violated a purported agreement to keep up a solid employers' front and not sign with the union individually.

Scouters Plan Weekend Session

Winona's Sugar Loaf District Boy Scout leaders will not meet in their weekly training session Wednesday, but will attend a fellowship and training session at Rochester's Camp Kahler Saturday and Sunday.

Scout executives and trainees will initiate the weekend's events with a self-cooked meal Saturday evening and follow up with a session on scouting fundamentals. Breakfast will be served at the camp Sunday morning, following worship services.

The group will spend Sunday working on scout skills and crafts and wind up the affair with a noon meal. Total cost to Winona scout leaders will be $2.

John Tarsie, chairman of the leadership training committee for Sugar Loaf district, will be in charge of the local unit.

Gamehaven Council's board will hold its October meeting at Owatonna tonight at 8:30 p. m., when a dinner will precede meetings of each council operating committee.

Forty-six sweet corn canning plants participated in the safety contest sponsored by the association. Plants were rated on the ratio of lost time accidents to man-hours of exposure. On this basis the Blair plant ranked 16th in the state.

Relief Operations Speeded in Ontario

TORONTO (U)—Relief operations moved ahead swiftly today in storm-riddled Ontario while the grim search for bodies went on in the hard-hit suburbs of western Toronto.

The death toll from the final strike of Hurricane Hazel stood at 78 in Canada. Six persons were listed as missing and presumed drowned and nine were classified as missing.

A fund to aid those stricken in Friday night's storm neared the million-dollar mark yesterday, its first day. A goal of 10 million dollars was set.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durfey, who leave Chatfield Nov. 1, take a look at their newest government assignment spot—Cairo, Egypt—on a map of the world. The two, married this spring in Paris, have a total of 16 years of government service behind them. (Charles Hale photo)

Chatfield Couple Slated for Post In Cairo, Egypt

CHATFIELD, Minn. (Special)—A young, newly-wedded Chatfield couple, with 16 years of governmental diplomatic service between them, will leave here Nov. 1 for a three-year stint at Cairo, Egypt.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durfey, who were married in the best of Hollywood tradition at Paris in the spring of this year, after a two-year separation via the government cloak-and-dagger branch.

Durfey is a member of the foreign diplomatic courier service for the U. S. government with a portfolio of roll reading Central and South America, Honolulu, the Pacific, Europe and the Iron Curtain. As one of 60 such persons in governmental employ he has traveled more than 700,000 miles, most of them by air—during his five years in the corps.

Courier Service
He carries secret documents between all diplomatically-recognized capitals of the world—each of them with a non-censorable department seal, which remains unbroken until delivery. Government couriers, said Durfey, always travel alone, except when they are mission-bound to a destination behind the Iron Curtain—then they go in pairs.

Radiating outward from central offices located all over the world, couriers may work eight or ten days before getting a day off, at a spot which may be 2,000 miles from the home station.

A graduate of Chatfield High School, Durfey attended Rochester Junior College and after World War II, he received his bachelor's degree from Western Michigan in 1946.

He entered governmental service in 1949 and met Ruth Mills, formerly of Los Angeles, Calif., in Melbourne, Australia, in 1950. Frank left shortly after for Paris and two years later Ruth was transferred to the Paris office, too, where they met again and were married in May of this year.

Mrs. Durfey has worked as a government secretary for 11 years in posts in the Pacific, Far East, Tokyo, Shanghai, Saigon, Australia and Paris.

Americans Eat More Cheese, U.S. Buys Less

NEW YORK (U)—Americans are eating more cheese—and the government is buying less of it—since retail prices came down in mid-summer.

"We've noted a definite pickup, particularly since the middle of August," says Charles Eckburg, vice president in charge of cheese operations for the Borden Co. "The improvement is continuing."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture expects cheese consumption to show a rise for the full year. It's estimating that Americans will eat 7.4 pounds per capita compared with 7.1 last year. The record of 7.5 pounds per capita was set in 1952.

ALBANO, Italy (U)—Husband Mel Ferrer has to leave for work at 7 a.m. but it's still a honeymoon idyl for him and Audrey Hepburn. Since Sept. 29, the newly wed film stars have been living in a secluded villa here in the Alban Hills some 20 miles south of Rome.

They have a guard at the gate to discourage visitors but you can't keep secrets in the Italian countryside.

The countryfolk will tell you that after Ferrer leaves in the morning, his bride usually dozes in bed until nearly noon, then goes to the kitchen and helps the cook prepare a light lunch.

Edith Hurlburt Wed in Ceremony At Durand

DURAND, Wis. (Special)—Miss Edith M. Hurlburt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hurlburt, Durand, became the bride of Francis F. Prissel, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Prissel Sr., Durand, at a 9 a.m. nuptial high mass celebrated by the Rev. M. J. Molinaro, Oct. 12. Fall flowers and lighted candles decorated the church altars for the wedding. The double-ring ceremony was used.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a chapel-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin with fitted bodice long sleeves, sweet heart neckline and full skirt in redingote style with pleated nylon tulle insert, worn over a hoop. Her veil of Chantilly lace was held by a bonnet trimmed with pearls. She carried a pearl prayer-book, a gift of the bridegroom, with an orchid and streamers entwined with Stephanotis.

Miss Edith Gasteyer, maid of honor, and Miss Dorothy Ann Fedie, bridesmaid, wore nylon tulle gowns of bird green and shrimp respectively, with strapless bodice of lace over taffeta, matching lace jackets, small collars and the skirts with lace panels, front and back. They wore feather half hats which matched their gowns, and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Barbara Caturia, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and wore a dress identical to that of the bride. She carried a small basket filled with flowers. Douglas Hurlburt, nephew of the bride, carried the rings.

August Prissel Jr., Durand, was best man for his brother and Arnold Fedie, Durand, was groomsmen. Perry Hurlburt and Arnold Weisenbeck, Durand, ushered.

The mothers of the couple wore dark suits and pink rose corsages. A dinner was served to the immediate families at Clara's Cafe and a reception followed in the afternoon at the Durand Rod and Gun Club. Fall flowers decorated the club. A wedding cake centered the bridal table.

The bride is a graduate of Durand High School, and has been employed at the Security National Bank as teller. The bridegroom graduated from St. Mary's, Durand, and is a partner in the Prissel Auto & Implement Co., Durand.

After the couple's return from a wedding trip, they will live at 609 C. West Madison St., Durand.

In Exercise It's Action Not Words

By IDA JEAN KAIN

In exercise, action is more effective than words. Trying to make sure the exercise directions are worded for action, I often act them out first. Then, dusting myself off as I get up from the floor, I type the instructions, reflecting optimistically "This can't miss." Along comes a letter which proves I did miss—by a mile. One puzzled reader writes:

"In a column entitled 'Goal of Slimming Exercise Half Inch at a Time,' I can't figure out how one stands on her knees and sits back on her feet and holds arms out at sides shoulder level. Could you make this a little clearer?"

My apologies—let's try again. Position: Kneel on both knees, keeping legs together. Then from this kneeling position, sit back, so that buttocks rests on heels. Stretch arms out at sides at the level of the shoulders.

Action: The exercise action is to bend sideways to the right, and try to touch fingers of right hand to floor on right side. The reason for sitting back on heels is to give more control through the middle measurement. An important part of the streamlining action is to first pull up-and-in snugly with the girdle muscles, and it is easy to get a grip on these middle muscles when sitting back on heels.

This side bending movement, taken from the above position, is really effective. It helps to slim the waist, pulls out waist-to-wish-bone bulges and tones the girdle muscles. After you get the knack of sitting back on heels and bending smoothly sideways aiming to touch fingers to floor on the side toward which you are bending, try reaching up high with the fingers of opposite arm. But let's act this part out...

Kneel on knees, sit back on heels. Have arms stretched out at sides. The action is to bend sideways to the right, reaching down with right hand, trying to touch fingers to floor on that side. Now, as you reach down with right fingers, try reaching up with fingers of left hand. That's a real s-t-r-e-t-c-h.

Repeat the exercise six times, bending first to the right side, then come to position of sitting back on heels, and bend sideways toward the left, reaching down with fingers toward left side, and up with fingers of right hand—s-t-r-e-t-c-h. It isn't easy to picture the action from the printed word. The best way is to follow through and act out each movement—and that's beautifully slimming.

For illustrated exercises, send long stamped, self-addressed envelope for Wake Up and Stretch. Address request to Ida Jean Kain care of The Winona Daily News.

Central PTA Initiates Year At Open House

Parent and teachers contacts predominated at the meeting of the Central Elementary School PTA at the school Monday night. The major portion of the meeting was devoted to parents visiting the rooms and teachers of their children.

A brief business meeting followed and the social hour concluded the evening.

The president, Arnold Stenehjem, opened the business session with a word of welcome followed by introduction of the vice president, Mrs. K. L. Gunderson; the treasurer, Miss Fern Ellison; and the secretary, Mrs. Roger Busdicker.

Verdi Ellies, principal of the school, introduced the teachers: Kindergarten, Miss Harriet Regan; first grade, Miss Marguerite Riley; afternoon first grade assistant, Mrs. Louise Hough; second grades, Miss Verlie Sather who also serves as assistant principal, and Miss Corrine Peterson; third grade, Miss Elsie Sater; fourth grade, Miss Fern Ellison; fifth grade, Miss Elfreda Wachas; sixth grades, Miss Arvilla Ludwizke, and Miss Ann Stevens.

Dave Morrissey spoke to the members on a new type of group insurance, which the membership voted to accept, making it possible for any Central Elementary School child's parent to accept the advantage of this group insurance for one or more of his children. The plan does not conflict with the group insurance which is now in force.

It was announced that the City PTA Council is sponsoring the show, "King Richard and the Crusaders," which will appear at the State Theater Oct. 26 through 30. Room prizes were awarded to Miss Sather's second grade, first and Miss Ludwizke's sixth grade, second.

Mr. Ellies devoted a few minutes to a review of the PTA Magazine to which he urged parents to subscribe because the magazine is devoted to children and "it should be of aid to many parents with problems."

The next meeting of the Central Elementary School PTA will be Nov. 15.

Miss Ludwizke's sixth grade had charge of table decorations with the parents in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Ray Holubar acted as chairman of the kitchen committee assisted by Mrs. Irwin Anderson, Mrs. Fred Stuchow, Mrs. Franklin Will and Mrs. Merlye Nyseth.

Committees appointed for the year are membership, Miss Regan, Mrs. Fred Sherman, Mrs. George Poljak, Mrs. Stanley Boyum, Mrs. Arnold Stenehjem and Mrs. Lillian Sunde; publicity, Mrs. R. H. Watkins, and kitchen, Mrs. Paul Griesel Jr., chairman, and Mrs. Frank Murtinger, assistant chairman.

Carol Kiehne, Walter Ward Jr. Wed at Harmony

HARMONY, Minn.—An altar banked with candles in candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli formed the background for the marriage of Miss Carol Kiehne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kiehne, Harmony, and Walter Ward Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward Sr., Burr Oak, Iowa.

The Rev. Knut Monson performed the double-ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m. Oct. 10 at Greenfield Lutheran Church, Harmony. Mrs. Carl Peterson played the nuptial music and Blake Johnson, cousin of the bridegroom, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina-length gown of white nylon net over satin with Chantilly lace bodice and jacket. Her veil fell from a satin and net cap trimmed with seed pearls. She carried white roses.

School Board Ponders Course In Electronics

The possibility of adding a course in electronics to the public schools vocational education program was discussed by members of the Board of Education and various vocational advisory committees at a special meeting in the Senior High School Monday night.

The advisability of going into an electronics program had been considered by the vocational group previously but Monday night's meeting was the most serious discussion of the topic thus far.

At the end of the session advisory committee members agreed that they would study the community needs for such a program, the needs of day and evening school classes and the available space and cost factors involved for a report at a later board meeting.

The school directors and advisory committees agreed that a meeting such as Monday night's should be held at least annually to afford the two groups a better understanding of vocational education needs and consideration was given to the possibility of another meeting, possibly in January.

Attending the meeting were Board Members Carrol Syverson, Dr. Philip V.R. Heise, Clarence P. Hartner, Harold Schultz, William A. Lindquist, George Richman, and Louis Czarnowski; Advisory Committee Members George M. Robertson, A. S. Anderson, Robert Clayton, Miss Patricia Leary and Robert Harkner; Superintendent of Schools Harvey D. Jensen; Senior High School Principal R. J. Williams; Director of Vocational Education John Fuhlbruegge and Glenn Anderson, and Harry Pearce, members of the vocational agriculture education staff.

Topics discussed at the meeting included measures that might be undertaken by the agriculture advisory committee to stimulate interest in adult and young farmer evening classes, and what other committees can do to promote interest and help develop subject material in other vocational classes.

Science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

Do you like sweets, candy, cake, butter, gravy potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but now, right now, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise, in fact you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why...

counters hunger

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL the recognized proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water thereby helping give the feeling of a full, contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes fast

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow thin, more beautiful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

Crash Injuries Described for Jury in Court

Five Personal Injury Cases Stem From 3-Car Collision

Medical testimony was heard this morning on the second day of the District Court trial of five personal injury cases stemming from a three-car collision near the Whitman Dam last Christmas Eve.

A description of injuries suffered by Mrs. Joseph Homola, Farmington, Minn., whose husband was killed in the crash—and her two children, Sandra and Sheila, was given by Dr. Roger F. Hartwich, a Winona physician who treated the accident victims at the Winona General Hospital.

The Homolas are plaintiffs in four of the five cases which involve damages totaling more than $100,000. Judge Karl Pinkelburg is presiding at the trial of the cases which is being heard by a 12-member jury.

E. Frederick Bailey, Big Fork, Minn., the driver of a station wagon on which figured in the collision, and Mrs. Frank Fivco, Prairie du Chien, Wis., whose husband was driving the third vehicle in the collision, are the defendants in the suits brought by the Homolas.

In one, Mrs. Homola is suing for damages in the death of her husband, in another for her own personal injuries, and the other two are brought by the two children through their mother for injuries they allegedly suffered in the accident.

Counterclaim Entered
Mrs. Fivco is the plaintiff in the fifth case against Mrs. Homola and Bailey, while Bailey has entered a counterclaim for damages. Originally Fivco was listed as a party in the five court matters but he has died—of causes not related to the accident—since the actions were begun.

The Homolas are represented by Clark McGregor, Minneapolis, and William F. Hull, Winona; Bailey by H. M. Lamberton Jr., Winona; Joseph Mooney and Joseph Friel, Waseca, and Mrs. Fivco by Francis G. Thompson, Winona.

Dr. Hartwich was called by McGregor to the witness stand soon after this morning's court session got under way and told of treating the Homolas when they were taken to the hospital at about 7 p.m. Christmas Eve.

He described injuries suffered by Mrs. Homola, including multiple fractures of the left leg, heel and ankle, hand fractures, skull fracture and severe facial lacerations. Dr. Hartwich said that it was his opinion that accident injuries have resulted in a one-inch shortening of Mrs. Homola's left leg and that she will experience permanent limitation of motion in the left knee and leg.

Permanent Scar
He said that he also believed that a scar from the facial lacerations will be permanent.

The surgeon testified that while the leg injury is healing he believed that it would be necessary in the future to perform surgery for the removal of a metal plate that had been placed in the bone to help reduce the fracture.

After describing the general nature of injuries suffered by Mrs. Homola and the children, Dr. Hartwich introduced a series of X-ray pictures taken of Mrs. Homola's injuries.

Mrs. Homola was the first witness called to the stand by McGregor when the trial opened Monday afternoon.

In direct examination by her attorney Mrs. Homola told of her husband meeting her after she had finished work at about 2:30 p.m. Dec. 24. She said that they stopped at three places, in each of which they had a glass of beer, before leaving for Farmington.

Mrs. Homola said that she was driving when they left Winona, that visibility on the highway was good and that she was driving between 40 and 50 miles an hour when they approached the Whitman Dam.

She said that she could not determine how far away the Bailey station wagon was when she first noticed it but did remember that Bailey's lights were on high beam.

"All of a sudden as the car was almost up to me it turned toward me," Mrs. Homola related, "and in a matter of two or three seconds there was a tremendous crash."

She added, "The lights were bright and glaring, I couldn't see."

2 Park Rapids Farmers Hurt in Corn Picker Mishaps

PARK RAPIDS, Minn. (AP)—One rural Park Rapids farmer lost his left hand and another lost four fingers of his right hand Monday in separate corn picker accidents. Both were reported in satisfactory condition.

Adam Schwengler, 38, had his left hand mangled while working about half a mile from his home. He unhitched the picker and drove the tractor to the house. His wife brought him to a hospital here. "I knew better, but I just didn't stop to think," Schwengler said.

C. W. Kruff, 48, pulled his right hand out of the machine and walked to the home of a neighbor, who brought him to the hospital.

Tulane Boys Storm Dorms In Panty Raid

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Five hundred Tulane male students swarmed into girls' dormitories last night and took part in a raid which touched off a riot call, a fire alarm and wild confusion.

Police, who rushed every available car to the campus, were met by a barrage of rocks. The arrest of four students for disturbing the peace and the threat of tear gas ensued before peace was declared.

About 10 pieces of firefighting equipment sped to the scene after a call that one of the dormitories was on fire. It turned out to be a false alarm.

The girls offered little resistance. All of a sudden they came right at me."

"After the crash," Mrs. Homola continued, "I looked for Joe. He was sitting on the seat, half hanging out of the car. I reached over and put my hand on his chest, but couldn't feel him breathing. I got scared and passed out."

Mrs. Homola said that when she regained consciousness she found that she was pinned in the car and that she was all alone in the automobile.

Apparently it was during the period that she was unconscious that the Fivco car crashed into the Homola automobile but Mrs. Homola said that she was not aware then of another car having become involved in the accident.

"Did you speak to anyone at the accident scene about how the accident happened?" McGregor asked.

"I did not," Mrs. Homola answered. "I spoke to people there but only about what had happened to my husband."

She testified that examinations at the hospital revealed that she had suffered multiple fractures of the left leg and ankle, a skull fracture, severe facial lacerations and other injuries.

On Crutches 5 Months
Still using one crutch, Mrs. Homola said that she was confined in the hospital from the night of the accident until March 28 and that she used two crutches for a period of about five months.

In cross-examination Lamberton asked whether Mrs. Homola had noticed any ice on the highway at the accident scene and she replied that she had not.

"You say that there wasn't any ice on the highway?" Lamberton inquired and the witness said, "I didn't see any."

"Do you remember making a statement to Mrs. Bailey to the effect that you were to blame for the accident; that you looked over to wake up your husband and when you looked back the car was coming at you?" Lamberton asked.

Mrs. Homola said that she recalled talking to Mrs. Bailey at the hospital but that at that time no details of the mishap were discussed.

"Did you talk to your brother-in-law about it?" Mrs. Homola asked. She answered that she did not recall her brother-in-law visiting her at the hospital.

Lamberton then asked if she had made any statements to an occupant of the Fivco car regarding the crash and Mrs. Homola said that she had not discussed the details of the crash with anyone at the crash site.

The next witness was Earl Hagberg, superintendent of the Winona General Hospital presented hospital records for Mrs. Homola, Sandra and Sheila.

Sheriff on Stand
Sheriff George Fort, who was on the witness stand when court was adjourned at 5 p.m., testified that he was called at 6 p.m. Dec. 24 and went to Whitman with Deputy Sheriff Clarence McElmury.

The sheriff described the position of the cars when he reached the scene and of finding Homola's body beside his car and Mrs. Homola pinned inside the wreckage.

The sheriff said that he did not discuss details of the accident with Mrs. Homola at that time.

Two American Destroyers Given to Japan

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—Two American destroyers which once helped to destroy Japan's sea power join her budding new navy today.

Officials of the two governments, once bitter enemies become allies in the strange postwar years, assembled at the big U. S. Navy base here for ceremonies turning the ships over to Japan on a loan basis.

They will become the biggest combat vessels of Japan's still tiny new navy.

The USS Ellyson and Macomb, with fresh paint blotting out the symbols of battle victories in engagements with Japan almost a decade ago, were sleek and ready for delivery to Japanese crews.

The loan of the two ships to Japan is in accord with the 1951 peace treaty between the two nations which expressed expectation that Japan would "increasingly assume responsibility for its own defense."

Until today, the Japanese fleet has been made up of only 18 small patrol frigates and about 50 landing craft.

Home, led by the Holy Name Society and the Catholic Order of Foresters. Friends may call at the mortuary this evening until time of service.

Negligence Top Cause of State Traffic Mishaps

ST. PAUL (AP)—More than 80 per cent of traffic accidents now occurring on Minnesota's streets and highways are caused by persons never before involved in any mishap, Earl Larimer, highway safety director, said today.

Momentary inattention, carelessness and thoughtless driving draw the chief blame for such accidents, Larimer said. He reported that 256 drivers lost their licenses during September because they had been adjudged as negligent.

Admitting that license suspension is a severe penalty for "just one accident," Larimer said he felt the Legislature meant the penalty to be heavy to encourage drivers to be constantly on the alert.

"Motorists must learn that if they contribute to accidents that cause severe personal injuries, death or property damage of more than $100 by violating traffic regulations, their driving privileges will be abrogated," Larimer said.

"The one and only way to avoid this is to drive carefully every second of the time a person is at the wheel of a car or truck."

Inquiry Hears Evidence British Planes 'Burst'

LONDON (AP)—A public court of inquiry heard today that two British crashed Comet jet airliners broke open under pressure with the passengers probably being hurled into space within the twinkling of an eye.

Sir Lionel Heald, appearing for the crown said British aviation experts ruled out sabotage as a cause of the two crashes in the Mediterranean sea this year.

He said the investigations pointed to a sudden disruption of the pressure cabin in the planes that most likely occurred when the aircraft reached maximum height imposing the greatest stresses on the cabin pressure system.

He said the jet engines were given a "clean bill of health" and were found to have had "no part whatever in the accident."

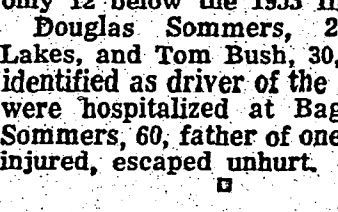

One Comet crashed in the sea off Elba Jan. 10 with the loss of 23 passengers and a crew of 6. A second went into the sea off Naples April 8 with the loss of 14 passengers and a crew of 7. Both aircraft had taken off from Rome shortly before the accidents.

MAHONOMET, Minn. (AP)—Donald Hodgkins, 28, Lengby, Minn., was killed late Monday when a car overturned on a highway near Roy Lake, 20 miles east of here. His death carried the state toll to 499, only 12 below the 1953 figure.

Douglas Sommers, 24, Twin Lakes, and Tom Bush, 30, Bagley, identified as driver of the machine, were hospitalized at Bagley. Joe Sommers, 60, father of one of those injured, escaped unhurt.

Masked Bandit Robs Nebraska Bank of $50,000

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—A masked bandit armed with a sawed off shotgun and a pistol and speaking with a drawl robbed the First State Bank of Scottsbluff of $50,000 this morning.

The man was waiting when employees came to work this morning. Deputy Sheriff Marvin Nelson said the employees were forced to tie on the floor. Then when cashier Dale Adams arrived, he was ordered at gunpoint to open the vault.

The bandit took the money in small bills and fled in a car belonging to one of the bank employees.

17 Insurance Firms Accused

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today accused 17 companies in the health, hospital and accident insurance business of "false and misleading advertising."

Together, the 17 firms—including the four largest in the field—represent annual premium payments of more than 300 million dollars, or about 1/3 of the total health and accident policies written on individuals in the country.

Among those named in the FTC complaints—which grew out of a 10-month nationwide investigation—were the Bankers Life and Casualty Co. of Chicago (The White Cross), Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Assn. of Omaha (Mutual of Omaha), Reserve Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, and United Insurance Co. of Chicago.

Each firm was charged with from three to five allegedly deceptive practices. Each was allowed 20 days to file a reply. Individual hearings are to be held in December.

If, after these hearings, the FTC finds there is basis for the charges it may issue orders forbidding these practices in the future.

FTC Chairman Edward F. Howard said the action is aimed at false or deceptive advertising claims concerning the extent of insurance protection and benefits payable.

One firm—The Life Insurance Co. of America, and its officers—are charged with falsely representing that it is an old, established, reliable life insurance company and a pioneer in the accident and health field. The corporation is less than two years old, FTC said, and its volume of life insurance is "insignificant."

Proxmire Admits Error in Truck Speed Statement

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Democratic candidate for governor, William Proxmire, withdrew Monday a statement he made about Gov. Kohler and a bill concerning truck highway speed limits, saying he had made a mistake.

In an address at La Crosse Proxmire said he had erred earlier in saying Kohler signed a bill boosting the speed limits. Proxmire corrected himself by saying that Kohler—and Proxmire commended the governor for it—actually had vetoed the bill.

Proxmire said "Trucking interests pushed two bills through the 1953 legislature adversely affecting highway safety and spent over $2,000 in the process."

One of the bills would have increased truck speed limits from 45 to 50 m.p.h. Proxmire said to the governor's credit, Kohler vetoed it. The other measure, Proxmire added, would have extended the over-all length of trucks from 45 to 50 feet. "That did get past the governor," Proxmire said, and "it is not to his credit."

Ex-Ukrainian Relates Massacre By Red Troops

CHICAGO (U)—A congressional committee which is scheduled to hold hearings in Milwaukee heard a former Ukrainian relate Monday that Red troops killed 700 of his countrymen in a 1941 massacre.

Dr. Paul Turla, 45, now a Chicago chemist, gave the account to a House subcommittee which is investigating Communist aggression tactics. The group, headed by Rep. Busbey (R-Ill.) will go to Milwaukee after another session here today.

Dr. Turla said 700 men, women and children of the small town of Uman were shot to death in a hole behind the German prison as advancing German troops pressed the Reds.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Fox Not Squirrels

The two feet in the above picture don't belong to the man who shot these two red fox at 200 feet with a .22 rifle. The feet were imposed in the picture by a Daily News photographer to show the size of the fox.

John Carson, veteran Dressbach hunter, out after squirrels Sunday afternoon stepped out of small grove into an adjoining meadow to find three playful fox almost at his feet. John thought faster than the fox and he got two of them with his .22 rifle before they got out of range.

Incidentally, trappers and fox hunters have, according to bounties being paid at the courthouse, had a rather tough season so far this fall. "Pete" Peterson, 529 Mankato Ave., where fox are certified and checked for bounty payments, has punched the ears of only about half as many fox as a year ago, up to this date.

Trappers blame the wet season, flooded marsh areas, and probably abundance of food, while hunters blame the heavy foliage still on the trees. Pete, by the way, does not get paid for this service he gives hunters and trappers. It is a co-operation with game wardens. His help allows them to be more active in other fields.

Squirrel hunting was slow for most hunters over the weekend, according to Ronald Shager, local warden, who makes a tour of the county each day. There were a lot of hunters out, especially in heavy squirrel population areas like Cedar Valley, but most of them only had one or two squirrels. He did not check a single limit on either day.

Hunters complained, he contended, of not seeing as many squirrels as they had expected, and of the heavy foliage still clinging to the trees. A real heavy frost is still needed to clear the trees. Squirrels have been able to hide quite successfully.

Raccoon hunters are having the same experience. Their hounds bark tree, and when they get there they are unable to see the coon in the heavy foliage. It is too early for good raccoon hunting, practically every hunter tells us. We still don't know why the state opened the season a month early. The Conservation Department certainly did not make any friends among trappers, hunters or fur buyers by such action.

Fishing Ban Case
The circuit court of Western Wisconsin will get the case of the five fishermen who entered pleas of not guilty to the charge of fishing within the 300-foot area of the Alma Dam, it was decided Monday afternoon after it was found difficult to get a jury to try the case in justice court.

Attorneys for the five defendants and the Buffalo County district attorney agreed to certify the case to the circuit court without trial as an original action. It will come before the May term of circuit court at Alma.

Since it is a test case of the Wisconsin regulation which prohibits fishing within 300 feet of dams in boundary waters between Wisconsin and Minnesota, the attorneys concluded that little would be gained by trying it in justice court as an appeal would have been entered anyway.

The action originated when Stanley Apel, Buffalo County warden, arrested five fishermen for fishing within the prohibited area. The fishing party, when arraigned in justice court, entered through their attorney a not guilty plea. They are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cryer, Aurora, Ill., Alfred McFadden and Isadore Morten, Waterloo, Iowa, and Earl Douglas, Alma boat livery operator.

The action will now come before Judge Kenneth F. White in circuit court at Alma which is scheduled to open on the second Monday of May next year. Present bail will be continued.

Actor's Son Fined On Drunk Charge

LOS ANGELES (U)—Edward G. Robinson Jr. was fined $100 and placed on probation for a year after he pleaded guilty yesterday to a drunk charge.

The actor's son is to be tried Nov. 16 in Santa Monica Superior Court on two charges of armed robbery involving holdups of two taxicab drivers. He is at liberty on $10,000 bond in that case.

The average length of life of U. S. industrial workers has increased from 34 years in 1879-1889 to 68.9 years in 1953, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statistics indicate.

Wage Earners Get Break on New Tax Forms

WASHINGTON (U)—Wage earners getting less than $5,000 a year may use a simple 15-line tax form for 1954—a possible step towards doing away with their filing of returns altogether.

Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, in announcing the new form form Saturday, estimated that 35 million of the 60-million-plus U.S. taxpayers will be eligible to use it. But he said many will choose the longer Form 1040 instead.

The 15-line form is a streamlined version of the old 1040A, and Andrews said it could be a preliminary to offering a no-return alternative for the under $5,000 service. In the event, the revenue service would bill the taxpayer on the basis of information supplied by his employer.

Andrews said the four other main types of individual returns have been redesigned to make them more attractive and easier to understand.

The forms will be mailed out starting Dec. 26. The new deadline for 1954 returns is next April 15, a month later than in previous years.

Long Sheppard Trial Indicated

CLEVELAND (U)—The Sheppard murder trial today headed into its second day at a pace indicating it would be a long one.

Only one juror had been selected at the end of the first day of the trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, 30-year-old osteopath accused of first-degree murder in the bludgeoning last July 4 of his pregnant wife Marilyn, 31. Attorneys estimated it would require a week or 10 days to seat a jury.

Sheppard's attorneys lost three skirmishes the first day.

William J. Corrigan, chief defense attorney, objected to the seating of the first juror, Howard Barrish, because Barrish said he might give greater weight to the testimony of a policeman than to that of a layman.

Judge Edward Blythin ruled, however, that Barrish was entitled to consider the training of a witness in evaluating testimony.

Earlier, the judge denied a defense plea to delay the trial and held in abeyance a separate plea to move the trial to another county. He held that a postponement would not divert public attention from the case. Any action on the plea to transfer the trial outside of Cuyahoga County must wait until and unless it is apparent a fair and impartial jury cannot be picked here, Judge Blythin said.

Oatmeal Credited For Long Life

BUTLER, Pa. (U)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris held a double celebration yesterday.

It was not only Mr. Morris' 100th birthday anniversary but the 60th anniversary of his wedding. His wife, who is 82, gave this reason for her husband's longevity: "It's because he eats oatmeal for breakfast every morning."

West German Navy Set to Take to Seas

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
BREMERHAVEN, Germany (U)—A West German navy will be able to take to the seas 24 hours after final ratification of the London rearmament agreement—thanks to the U. S. Navy.

It won't be much of a fleet at first, only some mine sweepers, tenders, oilers, and small patrol craft. Nevertheless it will be a navy.

Under the London agreement, rearmament Germany would be limited to 20,000 naval personnel. Warships must be 3,000 tons or less.

There is no 3,000-ton vessel for the new navy available. But a fleet of rebuilt German mine sweepers now waits for ratification's X-day. These ships have been operating with German crews but under the American flag for two years.

Readiness of West Germany to stop into its own sea role has been made possible by a quiet program instituted in 1952 by the U. S. Navy and a handful of its officers.

Two 10-boat squadrons of R-boats, each with a tender, regularly sweep the Baltic Sea to clear World War II mines from sea lanes. The R-boats are 167 tons, have a top speed of 18 knots, carry no armament at present, but are equipped with radar.

Their task is to widen present lanes and cut new ones for the safety of merchant shipping.

It is common knowledge that not many mines have been located for a long time. But every day the squadrons go to sea, young Germans get additional naval training.

Officially designated as mine sweeping readiness unit, there are now 918 Germans, including 85 officers, in the American-supervised program. They have a total of 42 craft. Both officers and men belong to the U. S. Navy's German Labor Service Unit B at Bremerhaven.

Ninety per cent of the officers and 40 per cent of the men are veterans of the old German navy. But the percentage of young recruits is rising. Ranks are the same as in the American Navy, although the highest ranking officer at present is a commander.

2 Minnesotans To Broadcast for Radio Free Europe

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—Two Minnesotans are among the 71 Americans who will leave New York by plane Wednesday to watch Radio Free Europe (RFE) in action.

They are Edwin L. Haistlet, co-chairman of the state's Crusade for Freedom campaign, and Benjamin Berger, Minneapolis businessman. After a briefing at RFE headquarters in Munich, the two will broadcast a message across the iron curtain on behalf of the people of Minnesota.

Haistlet is director of alumni relations for University of Minnesota. Berger is president both of the Allied Independent Theater Owners in Minnesota and the Minneapolis Lakers, and vice chairman of the governor's committee on penal reform.

MASS SEARCH On for Missing N. Dakota Tot

POWERS LAKE, N.D. (U)—An Air Force helicopter, Air National Guard planes and Canadian bloodhounds today paced a mass ground search for 4-year-old LaVern Enget missing from his parents' farm since Sunday.

Practically every able-bodied person in this small prairie town has taken part in the hunt for the lad. He wandered into a pasture while seeking his father, who was out rounding up cattle.

While thousands look for a trace of the lad on the ground, a sizable air search is going forward under the direction of Air Force Major Harold Haskamp of Fargo, N.D., officer for the Air Guard.

Bloodhounds were pressed into service Monday after they were flown in from Regina, Sask. A National Guard ground unit from Minot was hurriedly mobilized Monday afternoon and sent here to join the search.

The copier, based at Denver, was flown here today from Rapid City, S.D., where it landed Monday on its first leg of the flight.

Russia Demands U.N. Action on Blow at U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U)—Russia framed a double-barreled demand today for U.N. action on her charges of American aggression against Communist China. But the United States stood firm against any move to include Red China in such a debate.

The Soviet Union goes before the U.N.'s 15-nation Steering Committee to seek an airing of two complaints:

1. Russia's charges that Nationalist China—with U.S. connivance—has made piratical attacks on shipping bound for the Communist Chinese mainland.

2. Russian claims that the United States is guilty of aggression in the vicinity of Formosa and the China mainland.

Russia's Andrei Vishinsky brought the second, more direct accusation against the United States last Friday, barely 24 hours after the U.N. Secretariat had circulated a similar charge by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

The Russian charge drew a prompt retort from Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who branded it a "plain lie."

Mondovi Grid Star Linked in Ticket Scalping

Roommate Gets $12 on Ticket For Dave Howard

MADISON (U)—A University of Wisconsin student said in Superior Court today that the practice of University of Wisconsin football players of selling tickets they get for games was "widespread."

The student, Robert Halloran, New Bedford, Mass., told Acting Superior Judge Donald Kaatz that he sold a ticket to the Wisconsin-Purdue game Friday night for $12 for his roommate, David Howard, Mondovi, sophomore end on the Badger squad.

Halloran told the judge that the practice of players selling tickets was widespread and he did not figure he was doing anything wrong. "They all sell tickets," he added. Halloran said that he sold the ticket for Howard and did not profit from the proceeds of the sale himself. Howard was with Halloran in court but did not testify.

Halloran, who was one of four men arrested on ticket scalping charges by Madison police, was fined $10 by Judge Kaatz.

"I think there is a sufficient amount of this going on among football players and around the state," Kaatz said in imposing the fines, "and in your case, I think there were mitigating circumstances."

Guy Sundt, University of Wisconsin athletic director, said university football players get from two to six tickets each for games but that the department was unaware of what they do with them. "We assume they are for relatives and friends," Sundt said. He added that sophomore members of the team get two complimentary tickets, juniors, four and seniors, six.

Charges against Robert Hinds, a member of the university boxing team, who was one of the four arrested, were withdrawn Saturday after John Walsh, the boxing coach and an attorney, conferred with Police Chief Bruce Weatherly. The chief said that the charges against Hinds were dropped because he sold an athletic department sideline pass on which there was no monetary value.

Sale of A's Ends Era of Mack Family

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (U)—A baseball era died when the Philadelphia Athletics passed from control of the Mack family. The name of Mack meant as much to many baseball fans—young and old—as it did that of any star of the game.

Cornelius McGillicuddy, known the world over as Connie Mack, started the Athletics as an American League team in 1901, and for 50 years, until he stepped down as team manager, the tall, straight-backed son of a bootmaker brought life into his beloved club.

From the time the grand old man gave up his managerial duties, the club rapidly went down hill financially. He remained as president, turning over the business operations to his three sons—Roy, Earle and Connie Jr. Then young Connie stepped out, leaving Roy and Earle.

Today only Roy remains and he holds only a one-third interest following the reorganization in which a syndicate of eight Philadelphia businessmen took control in an effort to keep the A's in the Quaker City.

The story of the Philadelphia Athletics necessarily is the story of one man, Connie Mack. He was a builder of champions, and a destroyer of them. He ruled almost single handedly over the rise, and finally the decline, of the Athletics.

His energy as a young man enabled him to help win a place in major league baseball for the fledgling American League at the turn of the century. His genius as a baseball leader produced some of the greatest teams of all time. Yet, by the same token, his failure to recognize new trends led to the destruction of the thing he loved best all his life—the Athletics.

There was almost no middle ground with the Mack-led Athletics. For the better part of their 54-year history they have been either champion or doormat. Philadelphia won nine American League pennants and five world championships. On the other hand, the A's finished in the second division 31 times, 18 in last place.

It's Winona High Homecoming Tilt

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

A football game that could well be a big factor in deciding the Big Nine Conference football championship is in the cards Wednesday night at Jefferson Field.

The occasion is the bumping of heads between the Winona High and Red Wing grid squads. More than a meeting between two football teams, however, the game has also been designated as Winona High homecoming and "Parents Night."

Red Wing holds a 5-1 record in the conference, good enough for a first place tie with Rochester. The Winhawks are 3-1-1 and still an important commodity to reckon with as far as championships are concerned.

Coach Gordio Paschka is happy the game is scheduled Wednesday night. "I'm glad we don't have to wait until Friday," he said.

Paschka continued, "We're about due to play a good game. Our best will match anybody else's best. The team that beat Albert Lea (47-13) will beat Red Wing, but anything less than that won't be enough."

Red Wing favored
The importance of the game was stressed by Paschka. "It's just as much a title game as any other." The fact that Red Wing is rated a favorite by as much as two touchdowns in some quarters was something Paschka wasn't willing to buy.

"If we get up for it, we could play a pretty tough game. But it's something the kids have got to do themselves."

Winona High's starting lineup will be altered slightly. End Bill Heisey suffered a bruised hip Friday night and is a "very doubtful" prospect for Wednesday night's game.

The starting Winhawks will probably include Dick Wiczek and Nick Deones at ends, Don Beeman and Allen Lingenfelter at tackles, Dick Hakeck and Wayne Noeske at guards, Bill Hostetler at center and Roger Benson, Fred Nies, Jim Blake and Art Sagen in the backfield.

Dangerous Backfield
Russ Fechter, Red Wing coach, rates the backfield of the 1954 squad the best ball-carrying unit he's had since he's been there.

"This is a better-balanced backfield than the one on our 1952 squad," he said. "Every kid is a threat—every one of them can go all of the way."

He said that recent foes have concentrated on stopping 200-pound fullback Willis Fjorstad, with the result that halfbacks Darrell Maxwell and Bruce Fox have been gaining well. Maxwell and Fox are a pair of 155-pounders with speed to burn.

Rounding out the backfield is 185-pound quarterback Wayne Peterson, a passer "who throws very well," according to Fechter.

Red Wing's line will line up as follows Wednesday night:

Passing Threat
Red Wing uses a straight T-formation with Fjorstad through the middle. Fox and Maxwell on the outside distinct running threats, and Peterson's passes to Deden an additional worry for defenses.

Fechter wasn't certain what the mental attitude of his players was. "I'll tell you more after Wednesday night," he said.

Fechter added, however, that the boys took their defeat by Rochester pretty hard, and said they took a physical beating as well. "We're definitely in the race," he added, "and we've got plenty of incentive for winning."

Howard Glock, 200-pound Army star from Pittsburgh, made six solo tackles, recovered a fumble on his 15-yard line and tossed a key block as Michigan bowed Army 26-7.

Penalties Don't Worry Warmath

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—Minnesota Coach Murray Warmath today brushed off a season-long wave of penalties against his team as a sign of seeking football.

"When you put a big stress on downfield blocking, you're bound to take some of those penalties that we've been getting," Warmath said. "Certainly we'd like to eliminate them. We've been stalled a couple of times when we had good drives going or had got off a long gainer."

The Gopher coach, preparing his team for a clutch game against Michigan Saturday, was asked waggishly at a downtown quarter-back meeting whether a barber convention hadn't invaded Minneapolis Saturday, what with all the clipping.

Warmath said a hard-hitting football team usually runs up quite a few yards in penalties. "We certainly aren't doing it intentionally, and there'll be no complaint from me as long as the boys keep smashing."

Parents Night

Wednesday night's homecoming game for Winona High against Red Wing has also been designated "Parents Night" for parents of A and B squad players, it was announced today by athletic director Vic Gislason.

Parents of boys out for A and B squads have been sent identification passes to wear to the game which will admit them to a seat in the adult reserved section.

83,400 to See Badgers Play At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—The odds-fellows are having a tough time picking a favorite for Saturday's Wisconsin-Ohio State grid game.

Only one thing is certain about the contest, which shapes us as one of the year's dandiest duels. The certainty is that at least 83,400 fans will fill the big Buckeye horseshoe for the torrid tussle.

Both the Badgers and Bucks are unbeaten. Both are in the top 5 nationally. Both are in the Big Ten. Both want to go to the Rose Bowl.

As they go against each other, here's how they've fared, with the Ohio figure first:

First downs 72-71, rushing yardage 1,006-881, passing yardage 504, total net gains 1,354-1,385, passes attempted 43-66, passes completed 24-38, passes intercepted by 5-6, fumbles lost 4-7, yards penalized 22-122.

Ohio has outscored four opponents 109 to 34, Wisconsin 91 to 27. The Bucks will rely on two fleet-footed halfbacks, Bobby Watkins and red-haired "Hopalong" Cassidy. The big gun for Wisconsin will be fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche. Each of the three has scored five touchdowns in four starts.

Ohio's touchdown twins have 275 yards rushing in 104 tries, Watkins going 346 in 54 and Cassidy 229 in 50. Ameche, the Wisconsin workhorse, has 387 in 74 plunges, and quarterback Jim Miller has romped 196 yards in 40 tries. That gives the two Badger threat 583 yards in 114 jaunts.

Coach Ivy Williamson of Wisconsin, in five cracks at Ohio State, has lost four and tied one.

Cowles, Hutton To Guide Stars Against Lakers

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—Coach Ozzie Cowles of Minnesota and Joe Hutton of Hamline will direct the college all-stars against the world champion Minneapolis Lakers in their appearance in St. Paul Thursday night.

A night earlier in Chicago the teams play the annual all-star game, matching such graduated seniors as Bob Pettit of LSU, Cliff Hagan of Kentucky and Frank Selvy of Furman against the best in professional basketball.

Ray Meyer of DePaul and George Ireland of Loyola will coach the stars in the Chicago game.

Other members of the all-star team are Dick Rosenthal of Notre Dame, Tom Palazzi of Holy Cross, Frank Ramsey of Kentucky, Gene Shue of Maryland and Tom Marshall of Western Kentucky.

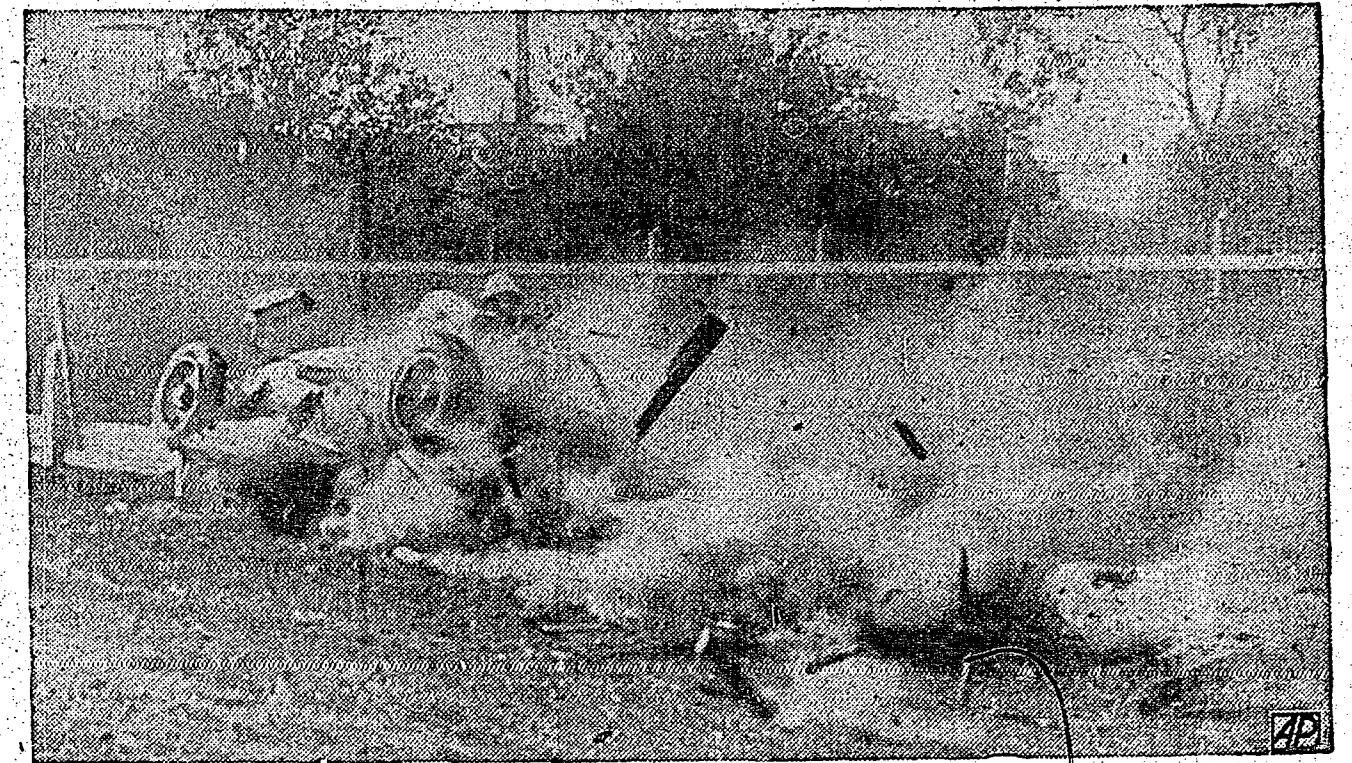

The penalties, however, have undoubtedly cost Minnesota two or three touchdowns this year and held the Gophers short of the 400 yard total offense goal Warmath has set for each game.

Now ranked eighth in the nation, Minnesota heads into the Michigan game once more in fairly good physical shape.

Guards Elden Dahl and Jerry Raul and Ron Smith and halfback Ralph Goode, all of whom missed the Illinois game with injuries, worked out in full gear Monday and should be ready for Michigan.

Fullback Ken Yackel's sprained ankle should heal soundly by Saturday. But John Baumgartner will move cautiously through practices this week with a bruised hip and guard Harold Drescher is bothered by an injured knee.

Gopher coaches believe that a peak Gopher effort of the season, but only that, can beat Michigan Saturday at Ann Arbor, where they haven't won since 1941.

Wisconsin 2nd in Grid Poll, Minnesota Moves Up to 8th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma continued to ride out the storm of upsets and hold down its perch as the No. 1 college football team in the country today.

The mighty Sooners, who trampled Kansas 65-0 last week, polled 1,891 points in The Associated Press' weekly poll of sports writers and sportscasters. They captured 115 first-place votes of the 212 cast.

The next three teams — Wisconsin, UCLA and Ohio State — also stayed in the same positions as a week ago. They all polled more than 1,000 votes on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second and so on down the line.

Wisconsin had 42 firsts and 1,732 points; UCLA, 23 firsts and 1,590 points; and Ohio State, 8 firsts, good for 1,387 points. Wisconsin and Ohio State collide at Columbus this week.

The rest of the top 10, was well scrambled from a week ago. There are four new members—Arkansas, Minnesota, Army and West Virginia. All recorded upset victories, and now are Nos. 7, 8, 9 and 10, respectively.

Purdue, Duke, Penn State and Navy all dropped out of the top 10 on the basis of defeats. Duke took the longest slide, from No. 6 to No. 19, as a result of its 28-14 loss to Army. Conversely, the Cadets gained the most ground, going from No. 18 to No. 9.

Notre Dame, still striving for national honors, jumped from eighth to sixth after whipping Michigan State 20-19, and Mississippi advanced from seventh to fifth as a result of its 34-7 victory over Tulane.

Mays Leader In National Slugging

NEW YORK (U)—Willie (The Wallop) Mays, the New York Giants sensational outfielder, captured the National League slugging title for 1954 in a close competition with Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Cincinnati's Ted Kuszewski.

Slugging averages — based on total bases and times at bat — compiled by The Associated Press showed today that Mays produced 377 total bases in 565 at bats at a .667 mark. Willie cracked out 33 doubles, 13 triples and 41 homers among 195 hits.

Snider, last year's pace-setter, piled up 378 total bases, the most in the majors, in 584 tries for a .647 average. Kuszewski was third with .539 on 366 total bases in 573 at bats.

Included among Snider's 199 safeties were 39 doubles, 10 triples and 41 home runs. Kuszewski collected 187 hits while pacing the major leagues in homers with 49. Ted also had 26 doubles and 3 triples.

Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox took American League slugging honors with a .535 average. The speedy outfielder-third baseman compiled 304 total bases in 568 at bats. Minnie slammed 29 doubles, 18 triples and 19 circuit blows among 182 hits.

Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' switch-hitting outfielder, was runner-up to Minoso with a .523 mark. He had 163 hits and 16 doubles, 12 triples and 27 homers in his extra-base output.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals finished fourth in the National League with .507, resulting from 359 total bases in 591 tries. Stan had 41 doubles, 9 triples and 35 home runs.

Musial also boosted his lifetime slugging average two points to .584 — a National League record for 10-year men.

Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, who finished second a year ago, was fifth in '54 with a .601 mark. The hard-hitting third baseman slammed 20 doubles, 4 triples and 40 homers among 138 safeties for 286 total bases.

Al Rosen of Cleveland, the American League leader in 1953, wound up third this time at .506. Washington's Mickey Vernon was fourth with .492 followed by Yogi Berra of the Yankees with .486. Rosen piled up 236 total bases, Vernon 244 and Berra 284.

Larry Doby of Cleveland, the junior circuit's home run king with 52, was sixth in the slugging averages with .465.

Good Ground Game Winning Tilts for Pros

CHICAGO (U)—Professional football teams have become pass crazy in the last decade, but there is nothing like a balanced attack, says George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

Halas should know. He saw his Bears shackle San Francisco for 30 minutes Sunday only to fold under the 49ers' devastating ground game.

Are the pros returning to running?

"They never left it," said Halas in an interview. "Any team that has a good ground game will utilize it and San Francisco has a great running game."

"But remember, they've got some pretty good passing. We had them bottled up Sunday but they've got balance and it paid off."

The Bears stymied San Francisco's passing attack in the first half and walked off the field with a 17-14 lead. The 49ers, although outplayed, had scored once on an intercepted pass and again when Hugh McElhenny broke loose for a long touchdown run.

Other than those two plays, it was strictly Chicago's game. Y. A. Tittle's passes weren't clicking and it looked like a bad afternoon for the Californians.

Then San Francisco, with rookie Maurice Duncan leading, pounded the left side of the Bear line mercilessly and scored a quick 17 points in the third quarter to ice the contest. And they did it by running.

Couple Built Own House in Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hunt decided on a new home they didn't go around looking for a lot of advice. They are building it themselves—in spare time.

The project grew out of an addition Hunt made to his old home. It was so successful that he spent the next winter drawing plans for an entire new home. He thought it might take five years to build, but now hopes to make it in two since the Hunts are working on it at night to get more "spare time" for the project. In the day he works as maintenance engineer for the Bank of Virginia. Mrs. Hunt is an accountant for the city health department.

Lost Fleet Not Lost

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (AP)—Lord Cornwallis' fleet, scuttled or sunk in the Battle of Yorktown in 1781, isn't lost. Mike Moran says the ships are preserved in the mud at the bottom of the York River—and he knows the location of every ship. Chief Warrant Officer Eugene F. (Mike) Moran should know. He is chief of the diving section at Ft. Eustis and has spent more time under the waters of the York than most people have on the surface. He has been responsible for training the Army's divers for eight years.

The Lone Note

STANFORD, Mont. (AP)—The Lone Ranger is a pretty popular guy with the kids—but some grown-ups like him too. At least someone voted for him as sheriff in a Montana primary election.

Fast Learner

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—It didn't take a 17-year-old city boy from East Grand Rapids long to catch on to the tricks of livestock raising when he visited a farm for the first time this summer. A calf Roger Keeney raised at the Meno-Baker farm won first prize for a yearling jersey entry at the Kent County 4-H Club Fair at Lowell, Mich.

DENNIS THE MENACE

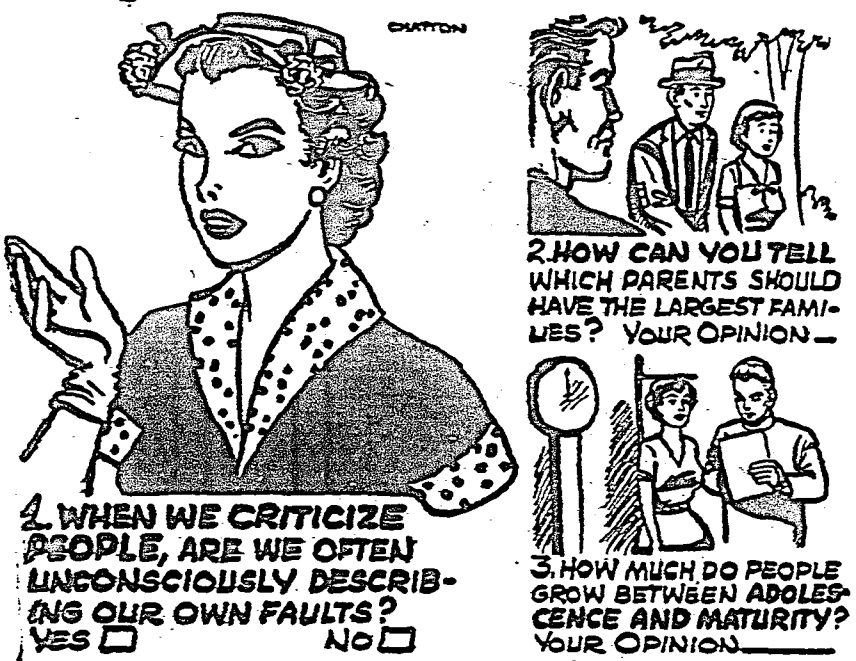

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. We turn up our noses at the rich to show "we are as good as they are." We accuse others of being gossips when we are chronic talebearers, and so on. This is called "projection"—objectifying what is primarily subjective. We are trying to feel superior when we really feel inferior. Chronic projection indicates a weak personality.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. As suggested by population expert Frederick Osborn: Normal, healthy people—whether rich or poor—who can build good homes (not fine houses) in which to rear good children, should have the largest families. Some rich people do not have really good homes—many poor people do. Encouraging normal, healthy people to have good-sized families is called "eugenics"—being "well-born." Answer to Question No. 3

3. Drs. Nicolson and Hanley find girls usually begin sex changes at 11 and reach full womanhood at 13.5. Boys usually began at 12 and reach full manhood at 15.2 years. Girls reach almost full height at 14.5 and usually grow less than an inch later. Boys reach this stage at about 16.5. Boys grow most rapidly around 13.8; girls at 11.5 years.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Priscilla, who was Bunty's runaway walking, talking doll, stood with Jennie, the chipmunk girl, in front of a large stone wall fence. It was Jennie who had teased Priscilla to run away from where the doll had been sitting under an apple tree. Jennie promised to find an adventure for Bunty's doll. Priscilla was very fond of adventures. "Did you say there was an adventure for me in this stone wall?" asked Priscilla of the little chipmunk girl. "That's what I said," Jennie answered. "I don't see how there can be an adventure inside a stone wall," said Priscilla. "Oh, you are going to have a jolly surprise!" promised Jennie. "If you look you will see, Priscilla, that this stone wall is not like any stone wall you ever saw before. Take a look."

Priscilla took a look. Then she said: "Yes, it is sort of different. But where is the adventure?" "Follow me," invited Jennie. Priscilla saw that the wall was not a solid stone wall, or even a solid wall made of concrete. The wall was made with loose flat and round stones; one on top of another. There were holes among the stones, which were piled loosely together, and not fastened with mortar or concrete. "Come on! Follow me!" invited Jennie again. "Follow you where?" asked Priscilla, who was wondering what was to happen next. "Where are you going, Jennie?" "Into this stone wall," replied the chipmunk girl. "I live here!" "Do you really live in this stone wall?" asked Priscilla in surprise. "Yes, I do, part of the time," answered the little chipmunk girl. "I am sometimes called a Ground Squirrel, and I spend much of my time, having fun, and getting nuts and other things to eat, off the ground. I can climb trees, but I do not live in a tree like my cousins, Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the gray squirrels." "It seems very surprising to find anyone who lives in a stone wall, Jennie," said Priscilla. "There is a lot of room inside the wall, among the loose stones," Jennie answered. "As I said, I don't live here all the while. In winter I go underground, in a burrow house. It is warmer than this stone wall. But I am going inside this stone wall now, and I wish you would come with me, Priscilla. You will have a surprising adventure. Come on!" Jennie darted into a small hole

Waukesha County Farmer Corn Picking Champ

JANESVILLE (AP)—A 41-year-old Waukesha County dairy farmer is the new national one-row corn picking champion. He is James Marks of Oconomowoc who took the championship on the Tracy Farms near here Saturday with a score of 94.64 of a possible 100 in his first national contest. Another Wisconsin farmer, Richard Kraus, 28, of Whitewater, came within a fraction of a point of taking the two-row championship. Kraus was just 265 points behind Elmo Redding, 41, of Flora, Ind., who won the two-row event with a score of 93.302. Marks, father of five children, operates a 240-acre dairy farm on which he had 60 acres of corn this year. Kraus rents 160 acres and helps his father on another 140 acres near Whitewater. He is married and has three children.
