The Winonan

Winona State Teachers' College
Commemoration Day Programs are the modern equivalents of the Founder's Day programs, says the March JOURNAL OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, editorially, as it announces the observance of the 130th of the Covered Wagon Centennial in honor of the first covered wagon train that threaded its way along the Old Oregon Trail. "May we not expect for the best essays about a system of airways that will unite the earth as our highways and railroads now unite America? The future of America is in the children, and the children of our schools, continues the editorial.

COMMENORATION DAY PROGRAMS

The Commemoration Day program will be held in many schools on April 10, a hundred years from the day when the first covered wagon train left St. Louis for the Rockies. Through its study, the pupils will find special opportunity to study the significance of the great trek toward the West, the Old Oregon Trail. The work of American pathfinders, which has been carried into geography and history by the struggles of the pioneers, great hunters, and heroes of the West, will be an additional foundation for pupil interest. The graves of these honored dead; an occasion. In his address Mr. Snodgrass will announce the diplomas to those graduates who have completed their diplomas are:

- John Mathes
- Robert Griffith
- William Moyer

PURPOSE OF EDUCATION TO FIT YOUTH FOR LIFE, SAYS ROSS L. FINNEY
"What education needs in the pretermination of the school year is to locate the ultimate values of human life", says Professor Ross L. Finney, the education in the social sciences, human nature is the first step in determining this problem. "Upon the doorstep of the sociologists the psychologists have laid the human nature problem in the development problem can be solved only by approach the individual problems on the standpoint of social evolution."

Psychologists have looked for the subject matter of the best American and Canadian, Dr. John K. Macdonald. It is the subject of education, and the object of education is to achieve the growth and development of the whole life.

The W.A.A. spring program includes a large number of activities in its program. These are individual activities, and there are highly organized activities. Class instruction is being given in golf, football, baseball, beginning tennis, swiming, basketball, and such architec-turn construction by Miss Talbot, Miss McKinley, and Mr. Stoldt. Anyone may enroll and receive along with enjoyable and healthful activity, valuable instruction and training for the different activities in archery under the direction of Miss Talbot; thus one may enroll in these classes and archery practice will be held every Tuesday. Mr. Sandt will direct the work in the making of archery equipment in the work shop at four o'clock on Wednesday.
Also on Wednesday Miss McKinley will conduct classes in golf at three o'clock and four o'clock.
This physical education majors will continue their work in swimming and life saving classes.

city Y.W.C.A. pool, the intramural volleyball tournament will be organized and the games will be played during the week of March 31.
This year intramural volleyball is eligible for team membership. Baseball teams for team membership and volleyball tournament will be organized during the week when weather becomes suitable for out-door work.

This inclusive program not only carnes on the activities of the student body, but provision for activity along similar lines outside the school. They enjoy the activities of the ideals of the school. All students have the direction of Miss Talbot; thus showing the carry over values of activities that may be learned during during one's college days.

Besides this program of class work, activities such as tennis, golf, hiking, swimming, horse showe, and roller skating may be participated in for great benefit and enjoyment by the individual or group.
These activities may be earned in all of these sports this quarter and the best of any one sport will be given however.

Sport leaders in these sports have been selected from the present W.A.A. members to act as leaders carrying on the interest and activity in the sports.

different activities are: Gladys Lundin, Audra Williams, Cylia Elliot, Jolee Witzki, tennis; Cylia Elliot, golf;

The W.A.A. has had very successful Fall and Winter quarters.
The enthusiasm shown by the girls in participating in the different sports that have been offered is responsible for this football and volcess. W.A.A. points have been scored for 11th girls so far this year. Each girl must attend a meet-end of this quarter every girl in school has earned some W.A.A.

INSTRUCTION IN READING AND GUIDANCE

NEEDS OF INDIVIDUAL PUPILS

"Individualization is treating each pupil as the being of his own life's story," says Miss Annette Jones in an article showing how the modern school attempts to treat each individual pupil according to his needs, in spite of the large numbers with which each teacher is charged.

"Individualization means a correct diagnosis. These are made of children's school and home history must be studied. When the child's needs are discovered, he is grouped with those of similar needs and abilities. The teacher then instructs groups within the regular school classes, and further modifies the reading of individuals whose needs vary from their group.

Two young women received a crushing blow to their recently acquired sense of the dignity befitting a teacher. They were standing at the office door one afternoon waiting for it to be opened for business. Mr. Simmers saw them as he was going to the Junior High School grounds, so he stopped and walked over to them, "What are you waiting over here for?" he asked sternly. One girl looked at the other in amazement and then said meekly, "We are just waiting for the office to be opened." Mr. Simmers looked searchingly at the girls again and then said apologetically, "Oh, pardon me, I thought you were two Junior High School girls."
