1919 FOOTBALL SEASON
PASSES INTO THE DIM
AND FORGOTTEN PAST

Team of Raw Recruits Ends Season of Hard Battles with College Teams Claiming Three Victories.

By B. Floyd Stalcup

The following is a list of the games played by the football team during the season. The scores are also given:

Sept. 27 W. N. S. 0 Wabasha High 0
Oct. 5 W. N. S. 21 Cotter High 0
Oct. 12 W. N. S. 0 Eau Claire Normal 57
Oct. 18 W. N. S. 0 Luther College 26
Oct. 26 W. N. S. 0 St. Cloud Normal 0
Oct. 31 W. N. S. 0 Shattuck 48
Nov. 4 W. N. S. 0 La Crosse Normal 13
Nov. 15 W. N. S. 2 Gustavus Adolphus 12
Nov. 22 W. N. S. 0 St. Mary's 0
Nov. 28 W. N. S. 0 Winona High 0

A glance at the games played shows that the team won three and made a most commendable showing against some of the strong teams of the state.

Last year the school had no team. This year with fifty men enrolled, twenty-four came out for practice. Some of these boys had played football in high school, but others of them had not worn a suit. Every one in the school, from the president down to the youngest student, got behind coach Dillon and the team.

With only two hours per day for two and one-half months, coach Dillon trained these raw recruits into a team that surprised all the supporters of football in Winona, as they witnessed the games with St. Mary's and the local High School.

Four Normal Men
On Champ Team

Wilkins, Gerecke, Triggs and Cassidy were given high honors last week when they were picked by expert football critics of Winona, to fill positions on the all-city football team of this city. Capt. Morrison and Kreger were also honored, by receiving berths on the second team, as right tackle and left guard, respectively, picked by the same authorities.

These boys deserve a great deal of credit not only for the honor they have received, but for the honor they have given to the school. To have four positions out of eleven on such a team filled by Normal boys is a great thing. When we realize that this team is picked from nearly fifty players, we can see that our boys certainly deserved all that is coming to them.

Men on Thanksgiving

Four Normal Men
On Champ Team

Winona High School football team 6-0, Thanksgiving day. The only touchdown being made by Cassidy, who after intercepting a high School forward pass, galloped fifty yards for a six point counter. The bad condition of the field hindered both teams from playing to the best of their ability. At the end of the game the ball was found to be covered with a thin coating of ice.

It was a happy group of Normal supporters, who after standing for several hours stamping their feet, and swinging their arms to keep warm, saw their team win the last football game of the season from the Winona High School. At times they became frightened, and even nervous, fearing that at any minute an orange and black player might pick up one of the numerous fumbles and run for a touchdown. But the old Normal spirit prevailed and our boys held their opponents continuously.

Our interest and enthusiasm should now be shown in basketball.

DANCE DIRECTIONS MAY SAVE TROUBLE OF CHAPEL TALK

Perhaps these directions will save Miss Richards from a chapel address.

The following directions are the new code for dance halls as printed in the St. Paul Dispatch.
1. General requirements of dance halls are soft music, no wriggle and distance between.
2. Music must not be too loud or too noisy, because it has a tendency to make the dancers act in a similar manner.
3. There must be no hip or shoulder movement by the dancers.
4. There must be at least six inches between dancing partners.
5. Face to face dancing is prohibited.
6. In dancing, the man's right hand should be on his partner's back at the waist line, while the girl's left hand should be on the man's shoulder. The other hand being held together away from their bodies.
7. Dance halls shall close at midnight.
8. All dances of public nature should be reported to police station beforehand.
9. Managers are responsible for the enforcements of the above mentioned rules.

STUDENTS FUND FOR FRENCH LAD GIVES HIM BETTER CARE

Forty dollars was sent to Jean Marie Cadero, the little French lad, by the Normal School, last week. As a result of the present living conditions, and political unrest, this amount will make 388 francs, whereas at normal times it would total near 200.

Several days ago, a letter was received from the little lad in which he said many interesting things about the conditions in his home land. He is living with his mother in Cambirch, and attending school. The letter in part follows:

Dear Benefactor:—

It is always with eager pleasure that I receive the check of 45 francs that you have been so kind as to send me. I thank you very sincerely for it.

Here it is good weather, but very dry and the dryness is destroying the harvest of grains and of vegetable except the grapes; they are ripening well, but that will not prevent the wine being dear, because there are not many apples for cider. In general everything will be dear, and will be rationed. Life becomes harder and harder; living is dearer than during the war. We shall have to work to produce or otherwise we shall never get out of this difficult situation.

In the hope of a more comfortable life, I assure you of my gratitude for your generosity to me.

Your pupil who embraces you from afar.

Jean Marie Cadero.

His home is in Cambirch in Sene, Morbihan, France. His father was killed on the battlefields, and he is living with his mother. Cambirch is in the northwest corner of France, in the section that juts out into the Atlantic ocean. On the southern coast of this peninsula is the department of Morbihan (a department is a political division of France that corresponds roughly to a state in this country, but is only about the size of a county). This department was formed from a part of the old province of Brittany and the name Morbihan is a Breton word meaning little gulf. The boy's given name, Jean Marie, marks him as a Breton of that section. Boys are usually named Jean Marie, Jean Baptiste, etc. Morbihan is just east and a little south of Finistere, the department in which the city of Brest is situated. It is that part of France, in which there has been more distress than any other place.

Y. W. C. A. TREASURY RICHER

The Y. W. C. A. is very much pleased over the results, financially of the student directories. The cost charged here at school does not nearly pay the cost of manufacture, and it is due to the co-operation of the advertisers that the Y. W. treasury is over fifty-five dollars richer. Let us show those business firms who helped in the publication of the directories that "it pays to advertise," by giving them our own hearty support.
FIVE MEN REPORT FOR FIRST BASEBALL PRACTICE

Five men reported to coach Dillon at the model school gymnasium for the first basketball practice of the season last Thursday. It is far too early to predict results, but if the spirit of the first practice is any indication as to the outcome of the season, we can feel safe in predicting a very satisfactory year.

The schedule has not as yet been completed, although several games have been arranged. Among our opponents is St. Mary's College of Winona, Gustavus Adolphus College of St. Peter, the Mankato Commercial College, Winona High School, and possibly the local Y.M.C.A. quint.

It can readily be seen that we have many hard games ahead of us, so the students must begin to prepare themselves to back up the team at every game they attend.

MOREY HALL NEWS

Miss Leona Johnson spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Miss Alta Johnson.

Owing to the departure of some of the girls who graduated at Thanksgiving, several girls have now moved into Morey Hall to fill the vacancies left there.

Misses Grace Norgard and Willa Oockwood, both members of the class of 1919, were recent visitors at Morey Hall.

Many students will be interested in knowing that Miss Gladys Cummins left Thursday for Lansing, Iowa, where she expects shortly to be married. Our best wishes go with her.

PETER LOUGHRHEY ‘OO VISITS SCHOOL

Did you wonder who the strange man was on the platform Thursday? We did also, so we busied ourselves to find out. He was Peter Loughrey, and was graduated in 1900. He entered the Normal in 1895.

After chapel, he introduced himself to several of the men students, and soon was relating stories of his old school days to a small but interested group. Mr. Loughrey was a member of one of the strongest football teams the Normal has ever turned out, playing right tackle. He is at present a sales manager for eleven states for a large cutlery firm, with headquarters in Chicago, but has more recently been asked to become vice president of the reorganized company.

PRIZE OFFERED FOR BEST STORY

For the best Christmas story written by any child in the model school, the Pow-Wow will give a prize of fifty cents, and publish the same in the Christmas number. For the second best story the Pow-Wow will give honorable mention and publish it also. The writer’s age, name and grade, should accompany the stories.

Another delightful Sunlight Dance was held in the model school gym last Friday afternoon, these dances show their popularity by the attendance.

SCHOOL NOTES

During chapel hour on Friday morning, a Hearst Pictorial Weekly was shown. It was keenly enjoyed by the students as was indicated by their applause.

The engineers and janitors of the school went upon an eight hour schedule on December 1, in accordance with a new law which affects all state employees, beginning January 1. Daniel Crossley, first class engineer, was added to the force on December 1.

The school provided a program for the Pickwick Farmers' Club for Saturday night, December 6. Mr. Stalcup, Miss Roberta Cooper, and others took part.

President Maxwell attended a conference in St. Paul on Monday, December 8, where at the various teacher training and teacher certificating authorities of the state took counsel in the effort to simplify the license system.

The Monday morning assembly talk was given by Dr. O. M. Dickerson, his subject being “The Strike Situation.”

Last week Mrs. Maxwell gave the Men’s Club a treat of some very good “home made” candy, which everyone enjoyed immensely.

At Thanksgiving dinner, consisting of a large turkey and everything that goes with it, Mr. and Mrs. Dillon entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. Stalcup and two young ladies from out of town.
