Death Toll Up To 217 in Salerno Disaster

Devastating Flash
Floods Wipe Out
Small Villages

SALERNO, Italy (AP)—Rescue workers dug frantically through the mud-covered rubble of homes along the Gulf of Salerno today, seeking more victims of Tuesday's violent cloudbursts, landslides and floods.

At least 217 persons were known dead and unofficial reports put the toll as high as 270. Officials declined to even guess at the total damage figure, but said it would run into millions of dollars.

Devastating flash floods triggered by cloudbursts struck a 10-mile coastal area between Amalfi and Salerno during the early morning darkness yesterday. Entire villages were destroyed. Hundreds of homes crumbled, their occupants trapped without warning. Hundreds of persons were injured and thousands were homeless.

Police said the bodies of 217 persons had been recovered in Salerno, Vietri and smaller towns along the Bay of Salerno. They listed an additional 52 persons as missing and feared dead but unofficial sources estimated at least 170 persons were missing.

While soldiers, firemen and volunteers searched the debris for victims and trapped survivors, thousands of other workers began the task of restoring some form of normalcy to the ravaged communities. Communications, roads, water, gas, electricity and sewer systems were demolished.

Violent early morning winds and rain swept in from the Tyrrhenian Sea to hamper their work.

Some communities reported all food supplies and water gone. Other villages sent urgent pleas for medicine.

In this city of 70,000 where American troops stormed ashore 11 years ago during World War II, the verified death toll reached 87. More than 100 persons were injured and 5,000 were homeless.

Appeals Board Cuts Mine Tax

ST. PAUL (AP)—The State Board of Tax Appeals today reversed Tax Commissioner G. Howard Spaeth and ordered a reduction of $150,000 in the tax assessed against the Oliver Iron Mining Co., Duluth, for ore mined in 1948.

If the case is appealed and the Supreme Court affirms the Board of Tax Appeals' decision, Commissioner Spaeth's method of arriving at the tax for all subsequent years must be abandoned and the tax recomputed.

The tax commissioner set the tax at $5,000,000, but the mining company contended it should be $4,900,964.53.

Reward Fund Started for Boy

WILLISTON, N.D. (AP)—Williston residents took action Tuesday to start a "reward fund" for information concerning whereabouts of LaVern Enget, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Enget, who disappeared from his farm home near Powers Lake ten days ago.

The fund goal is $2,500. Anyone wishing to contribute is asked to send checks to radio station KGXX in Williston, made payable to the "Reward Fund."

Harry R. Witscher, local merchant, donated $100 to start the fund.

LE CENTER, Minn. (AP)—George Maxa, 65, charged with attempted murder following the wounding of his brother, was still undergoing mental tests today at University Hospitals in Minneapolis.

LeSueur County authorities said they did not know how much longer the test would take.

Maxa had admitted shooting his brother, Fred, 68, last Sept. 25 after a dispute over management of their farm. The brother is recovering.

Texas Courthouse Damaged in Blast

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—A terrific explosion at 10:20 a.m. today wrecked the second floor of Hidalgo County's new courthouse here and the center of the Edinburg business district.

First unconfirmed reports said that one man was killed and two women were cut by flying glass but in the confusion that followed the explosion, nothing could be confirmed.

The first story to come out of the blast said an elevator girl took a man carrying a box to the second floor of the new five-story building, and a few moments after he left the elevator and she started back to the first floor, the explosion occurred.

U.S. Welcomes Adenauer To Washington

German Premier
Will Confer on Future of Republic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany arrived in Washington today to talk publicly of how Germany will use her almost-attained sovereignty and arms—and privately of how she hopes to scale the last obstacles to obtaining them.

Adenauer and his hosts, President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, have plenty to talk about in the less than three days allotted for his Washington visit.

1. The need to have the agreements reached in Paris only four days ago approved by the Western parliaments, notably the French and German.

2. What Russia may do as an ultimate blow at the thing she has fought hardest in Europe—re-creation of a strong, armed, pro-West Germany.

Apathy Puzzles President, Newsmen Told

Flying Trip to Four Cities Might Include Minneapolis

By JACK DELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he is puzzled by the apparent apathy among voters and hopes to do a little stirring up personally—if he can squeeze a one-day flying trip into his tight schedule.

In his first news conference since Aug. 17 Eisenhower said he certainly hopes the American people are going to elect a Republican Congress but that he was not going to predict the outcome of next Tuesday's balloting.

Alluding to reports of an apparent lack of interest among voters, Eisenhower said he would like to dramatize his desire to see everybody vote.

He said he is considering a flying trip Friday which might include stops at airfields in four cities.

He didn't name the four cities but there have been reports that GOP leaders want him to visit Detroit, Louisville, Minneapolis, Boston, Wilmington, Del., and Waterloo, Iowa.

Eisenhower said his schedule is so tight that he could not possibly leave Washington except for one day of campaigning and would not know until later whether it would be possible for him to go even then.

When Eisenhower said he was puzzled by the apathy which seemed to prevail among the people, a reporter asked whether this might reflect dissatisfaction among the voters with his administration's accomplishments.

One of the reasons he had been given, he said, was that the United States had got what it wanted from his administration and the voters are satisfied. This indicated, he said, that it might not be discontent at all but too much satisfaction that was making the voters apathetic.

Answering a wide range of other questions, Eisenhower said the United States now has better reason to hope for world peace than it has had in recent years.

He said too that the country has made the transition from a war to peace economy without a real depression.

On this particular point, the President said, a recent report on a decline in unemployment was interpreted by his advisers not merely as a seasonal upturn but the result of an upturn in the entire economy of the nation.

On another subject which has come into the political campaign, the President said he is getting constant reports from officials of the Defense Department on possible economies in administrative and logistic fields which could be made without hurting the nation's defenses.

Some Democrats have complained that budget cuts have reduced the country's defenses.

Eisenhower defended a recent White House memorandum outlining ways in which Republican senators, House members and other party officials should be consulted about applicants for federal positions.

The object of the order, Eisenhower added, was to get the best kind of people possible in these government jobs and get the White House out of the channel of filling them.

It is his standing rule, the President said, that the Civil Service should never pay any attention to the party affiliations of an applicant in filling jobs.

The memorandum was brought to light Tuesday night by a story in the Washington Post and Times-Herald which described it as a White House drive to get federal jobs and promotions for Republican faithful.

Defends Dixon-Yates
The President also defended the Dixon-Yates contract for supplying private power for the Tennessee Valley Authority to replace TVA power used by atomic energy plants.

Democrats have made this contract a campaign issue in some areas, calling it a giveaway.

The President said that although he has not read the contract in detail the Federal Power Commission has found it proper and fair, the TVA is perfectly satisfied with the contract.

Russians Hold Wives of Two U.S. Officials

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today returned a U.S. note protesting against what the United States called the forcible detention of the wives of two American Embassy officials.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow takes an extremely grave view of the incident, feeling that it strikes at the basic issue of the personal safety of American diplomatic personnel in Russia.

(In Washington, the State Department said the women were held by Russian secret police for approximately an hour and a half Monday "in violation of generally accepted diplomatic practice that prohibits the arrest or detention of persons having recognized diplomatic status.")

(U.S. officials said the Soviet government countered the U.S. protest by accusing one of the wives, Mrs. Earl E. Sommerlatte, of "hooliganism"—a Soviet term for rowdy behavior—and demanding her recall by the United States.)

Mrs. Sommerlatte is the wife of the embassy's second secretary.

(The other woman involved in the incident was identified as the wife of Marine Lt. Col. Houston Stiff, assistant naval attaché at the embassy.)

(Washington officials said the women became alarmed during their detention and a scuffle ensued. One of the women slapped one of the policemen. This apparently was the basis of the hooliganism charge against Mrs. Sommerlatte.)

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen heard about the incident Monday when he returned from lunch. He immediately notified the State Department in Washington and sent Frank Siscoe, first secretary of the embassy, to the Soviet Foreign Office to make an oral protest to the acting head of the American section.

After receiving authority from Washington, Bohlen sent a first-person note to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Both women involved are in a highly nervous state and have stayed close to their apartments.

"Both these girls behaved admirably," Bohlen said.

Mrs. Sommerlatte is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. McCormack of Wilmington, Del. Mrs. Stiff is from La Jolla, Calif. Her husband is a native of Waco, Tex.

Marion Davis Files Suit for Divorce

Brown could not be reached for comment.

Charges Against Inmate 'Who Took Walk' Considered

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP)—Warden Edwin Swenson was conferring with William T. Johnson, Washington County attorney, today on whether charges will be filed against a prisoner who walked away from the Stillwater Prison farm last Saturday.

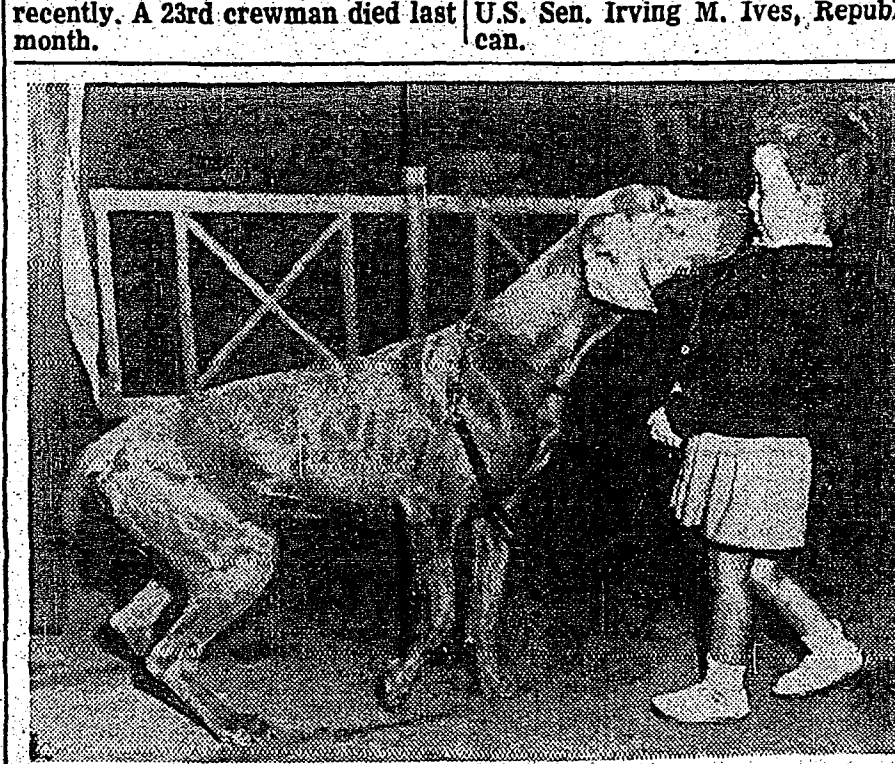

Frank Pastuszak, 34, Golden Valley, said he fled the farm because he "wanted to tell his story" about being mistreated. Pastuszak surrendered Monday night at the political headquarters of Miles Lord, DFL candidate for Minnesota attorney general.

Swenson denied that Pastuszak, serving a two-year sentence for burglary, had been mistreated at the institution.

22 of 'Radioactive' Crew to Leave Hospital

TOKYO (AP)—The newspaper Asahi said today about half the 22 crewmembers of the Lucky Dragon, the Japanese fishing boat showered by radioactive particles in the Pacific, may be released from hospital soon and the rest by the end of the year.

Asahi said doctors treating the 22 survivors report nearly all have been able to take light exercise recently. A 23rd crewman died last month.

Wouldn't Be 'Rubber Stamp,' Ryan Claims

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Frank P. Ryan, Independent Liberal candidate for the U.S. Senate, said today, if elected, he would "not be a rubber stamp for either the Republican President or the leftwing, Socialist ADA crowd which Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) leads."

"If I am elected, I will weigh the issues in the interests of the people and vote my convictions on the issues," Ryan said in one of his very few statements thus far in the campaign. "If you want a rubber stamp senator, vote for (Val) Bjornson or Humphrey, not for me."

"I will not be for Mr. Eisenhower. I will stand on my own two feet and would oppose him on many policies," Ryan said he had been a "regular Democrat," one who supported Al Smith, Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

A committee of physicians, headed by Dr. R. F. Hedin, Red Wing, today urged re-election of Humphrey because of his outstanding record in support of medical research and hospital construction.

The group included five Rochester physicians—Drs. Russell M. Wilder, Samuel Amberg, E. C. Clark, Norman M. Keith, and C. H. Millikan; Drs. E. A. Olson, Pine Island, J. J. McGrouarty, Easton, R. E. Molensar, Cannon Falls, together with others from the Twin Cities.

Bjornson said Tuesday night in Minneapolis that "the facts destroy the notion Humphrey is trying to sell that the Eisenhower Administration got most of its support from the Democrats."

"If the President had depended on Democrats for success of his program, he still would be trying to get it through Congress," Bjornson said at Mayflower Congregational Church.

"On key issues, figures show Senate Republicans supported the president 72 per cent of the time, Democrats 41 per cent. In the House, Republican Congressmen went along with the administration 72 per cent, Democrats 48 per cent."

Officers and winter carnival committee chairmen of the Winona Activity Group launched plans for the 1955 snow frolic at a dinner party at the Oaks Tuesday night where they were guests of Chef Walter Kelly. The carnival will be held Jan. 21-23 and the kickoff event will be the annual dinner at the Oaks Nov. 22, open to the public, when the identity of Jack Frost IV will be revealed. At last night's affair Roy Evett, president of the Winona Motor Co., who was Jack Frost III, was given a rising ovation for the promotional work carried on throughout the Winona area during the past year and for all of his activities as dean of the Winter Carnival royalty. Evett, in turn, thanked his assistants, the Frosties, for their help. They are Ted Maier and Dr. W. O. Finkelburg, who thanked the Activity Group "for the opportunity to help promote Winona."

Housing Project Occupancy May Hit 130 Shortly

Leases have been signed for 119 out of the 160 apartments of the Arthur C. Thurlay Homes and Executive Director Arthur A. Gallien said he expects to have 130 families residing at the low-rent housing site by the end of the week.

Gallien said he is almost certain that the development will be occupied fully by the end of November, and urged interested families to register immediately.

Mrs. John J. Fuller, 227 Mark St., is assisting Gallien in processing families for admission to the Thurlay Homes. Her duties will continue until all apartments are occupied but not later than Dec. 31.

And the park-recreation department has announced plans to erect a children's skating rink at the Thurlay playground as part of its winter activities season. There are 288 children living at the site.

Additional families who have signed leases, listing the number of children in parentheses and indicating veterans preference (which provides that a family need not come from substandard housing) with an asterisk, are: Frank Jaszewski (1), 701 E. Sanborn St.; Peter E. Fort (3), 853 E. Broadway; Mrs. June R. Conn (2), 418 Wilson St.; David Palmer, 406 E. 4th St.; Richard Meyerhoff (4), Winona Rt. 1; Lester Harris, 50 E. ## Defense Heard In $60,000 Case

One of the defendants in two personal injury actions being tried before a jury in District Court here was called to the witness stand shortly before noon today as the trial of the two suits for damages totaling $60,000 moved through its third day.

On the stand when a noon recess was taken was Carlos Meyer, Prairie du Chien, Wis., who with James Fernet, also of Prairie du Chien, is named as a defendant in the cases brought by Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. McMillen, 1104 Gilmore Ave., as a result of a two-car collision on Highway 61 between La Moille and Dakota last April 6.

Meyer, who has entered a counterclaim for damages against McMillen, was the owner of the car driven by Fernet—which was involved in the collision with the McMillen automobile.

Injuries Claimed
Both Mr. and Mrs. McMillen claim to have suffered permanent and disabling injuries when their car rolled over on the highway shoulder after the collision.

The McMillens are represented by C. Stanley McMahon and Robert W. Bremer of the firm of George, Bremer & McMahon and the defendants by Tom Skemp, La Crosse, and S. A. Sawyer of the Winona firm of Sawyer, Sawyer & Darby. Judge Karl Finkelburg is presiding at the trial.

In his opening testimony this morning Meyer told that he had taken Fernet with him on a trip to Minneapolis so that the latter could drive the car back to Prairie du Chien. Meyer said that he was driving his truck and Fernet was following in the car as they approached the accident site.

Recalls Drive
During the trip from Winona to where the accident occurred, Meyer said, he looked back frequently and noted that Fernet was driving in his own lane of traffic at all times. He said that both vehicles were traveling from 40 to 45 miles an hour.

Meyer was the first witness called by Skemp after he had completed his opening statement to the jury.

led his opening statement to the jury.

The defendants began their testimony after attorneys for the McMillens had rested their cases at 11:15 a.m. today.

The final witness for the defendants was Dr. Roger F. Hartwich, a Winona physician and surgeon who had attended Mrs. McMillen at the Winona General Hospital after the accident and prescribed treatment for her husband who was not hospitalized.

Returns to Stand
Dr. Hartwich was called as a witness by McMahon at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and remained on the stand for the remainder of Tuesday afternoon's session. He was called this morning and testified for almost an hour, most of it cross-examination by Skemp.

Dr. Hartwich described the injuries suffered by Mrs. McMillen, including a fractured pelvis, back injury and arm laceration.

He said that the pelvic fracture and the arm injury had healed but testified that he believed that Mrs. McMillen would continue to suffer pain and partial disability from the back injury.

Tuesday Testimony
Dr. Hartwich described the results of examinations made of each of his accident victims and showed X-ray pictures taken of both after the mishap.

He outlined procedures used in the treatment of Mrs. McMillen during her 9-week confinement in the hospital and explained the construction of special devices used to assist in her recovery from back and neck injuries.

In direct examination by McMahon, Dr. Hartwich concluded that both probably would continue to suffer some permanent disability and pain as a result of the accident.

Cross-Examination
Skemp began his cross-examination by referring to records of the Winona Clinic which he said indicated a notation that McMillen had visited the clinic in 1947 and complained of pains in the region of his right shoulder and neck that sometimes kept him awake at night, continuous soreness on the right side of his neck, marked restriction of motion of his neck and pain when he attempted normal motion.

Skemp said that a diagnosis of arthritis of the spine was made at that time.

Dr. Hartwich was then asked by the La Crosse attorney whether, "assuming that he made complaints of that character seven years ago would that change your opinion that the accident in 1954 was the cause of the present condition?"

"He had a severe injury," Dr. Hartwich replied, "and I think that he had pain from that. I think the injury would make the condition a lot worse."

"But the complaints of 1947 are very similar to those he makes now," Skemp continued and Dr. Hartwich replied, "That is true."

Skemp then referred to a later clinic record which stated that in 1951 McMillen complained of severe abdominal pains, low back pains and that he was receiving 40 per cent disability on that basis.

"Knowing that in 1951 he again complained of back pains," Skemp said, "would you change your conclusion that the condition he now has is due to the accident or to the condition he had in 1951?"

"I think that an injury to an arthritic spine is much more painful than to a normal spine," Dr. Hartwich replied.

"You still say that his condition is due to the accident in 1954," Skemp continued.

"I think that I'd have to say yes," Dr. Hartwich answered.

Blair Burglar Really Leaves Tracks Behind

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—A burglar, who left his footprints in fresh paint on the floor of the Kolbe Chevrolet Co., stole $85 from five Blair businesses early today.

He took $30 from Archie Kocum's Tavern, $25 from Alvin Thompson's Service Station, $15 from Alden Elland's Service Station, $15 from Blair Oil Co. and $10 from Kolbe Trempealeau County Sheriff Ernest Anness believes the burglar was the work of one man, who was "definitely not an amateur."

It is believed the thefts took place after 3 a.m. when Lief Peterson, city marshal went off duty.

Entrance was gained into Kocum's and the Oil Co. by breaking glass on the front door and turning the doorknob from the inside. Doors were forced with a "jimmy" bar at the other three places. Attempts also were made to enter the Coast to Coast Store and the Blair Bowl. Alloys where marks made by a similar prying bar were noticed this morning.

Footprints made by a size 8 or 9 cowboy boot, according to Anness, were in fresh paint at the Kolbe agency. There was no evidence of more than one person being responsible.

"These robberies are similar to other breakins in the state in recent months," Anness said this morning. Most of the money taken was small change. Pennies were stolen at every establishment. No merchandise was missing.

Sentencing on Dog Counting Delayed Week

Joe Blank, 820 E. Sanborn St., this morning pleaded guilty in municipal court to a charge of permitting a dog to run at large on East Sanborn street.

P. S. Johnson, who appeared as counsel for Blank, told the court that the complaint had been filed by a mailman who said that the dog had run at him near the Blank house.

Johnson said that another mailman previously had become friendly with the dog and apparently the dog ran out thinking that this was the other mailman.

Judge E. D. Libera said that he wished to obtain additional information regarding the incident from the complaining witness and continued sentencing for one week.

Dr. Hartwich replied, "Absolutely."

Skemp asked whether the doctor had found that McMillen had suffered from an anxiety neurosis and when Dr. Hartwich replied that he had, Skemp asked, "Could the anticipation of a lawsuit cause this?"

Dr. Hartwich answered that "any stress could."

Douglas Bordeaux, office manager of the Winona General Hospital who presented hospital records on Mrs. McMillen and several friends and acquaintances of the McMillens were among the other witnesses called by McMahon Tuesday afternoon.

Earl Grant, Homer road, testified that he visited at the McMillen home before and after the accident and said that while both Mr. and Mrs. McMillen had been healthy and active before the accident he noticed that Mrs. McMillen moved with difficulty after the mishap and that McMillen was not as active as he had been.

Mrs. L. F. Johnston, 688 W. Wabasha St., said that she had seen both Mr. and Mrs. McMillen frequently before the accident and went to the hospital on the evening Mrs. McMillen was taken there for treatment of her injuries.

She said that before the accident Mrs. McMillen had no difficulty in movement but that both she and her husband moved more slowly since the accident.

She said that Mrs. McMillen seemed to be in pain when she was confined in the hospital.

The other two witnesses were M. F. Wakeman, 1067 W. King St., and Mrs. Erna Reese, both of whom said that the McMillens seemed to have marked difficulty in walking since the accident.

Neco Ordnance Switching to Civilian Goods

Plant on Stand-By Basis for Defense; Some Being Hired

Neco Ordnance Corp., with 3 1/2 million dollars of Naval defense contracts under its belt in the three years the corporation has been in Winona, announced this week that beginning this month it is starting production of civilian metal goods.

The plant, a subsidiary of Northern Engraving Inc., La Crosse, was established in Winona in September of 1951 for the specific purpose of manufacturing 20-millimeter shell casings for the U. S. Navy.

Its plant and offices at 580 E. Front St., hit their employment peak early in 1953, when over 200 persons were employed in Naval contract manufacture.

90 Laid Off
When the Navy contracts were completed in September of this year, 90 persons—mostly women—were laid off and employment dropped to 40, including both plant and office help.

The firm has now been placed on a "stand-by" basis, according to plant manager Al H. Brietzke, and will go back into defense production only in case of national emergency or if the Navy needs more shell casings of the type manufactured here.

When the company first moved into Winona in 1951, it built a new plant, complete with business offices and 25,000 square feet of floor space. That entire building, with the exception of offices, is now standing idle.

Now entering the civilian field, the plant will manufacture stove trim parts, television parts and equipment and decorative metal pieces. They're also "looking into" the field of metal wrap-around cabinets, said Brietzke.

Other Building Used
All work now is being done in the firm's other building, formerly owned by the Badger Machine Corp. and immediately adjacent to the office building, where almost 13,000 square feet of space are available for commercial metal manufacture.

Since hitting September's employment low of 40, the company has been calling back "three or four" persons a week and now employ 62 in the office and plant. Whether or not increased production will result in further call-backs is unknown at the present time.

Other officers of the firm are: C. D. Gelatt, president, who also is president of Northern Engraving, and M. L. Crouse, treasurer.

Deposit Forfeited On Traffic Count

A $25 deposit was forfeited by Alvin Dickman, 60, Plainview, when he failed to appear in municipal court this morning to answer a charge of failing to stop and identify himself at the scene of an accident in which he was involved.

The arrest was made after cars driven by John Pehler, Fountain City, Wis., Rt. 2, and Dickman collided at West 4th and Huff streets at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Dickman, driving west on 4th street, reported $60 damage to his car and damage to the southbound Pehler car was estimated at $50.

At 4 p.m. Tuesday cars driven by William A. Adams, 702 W. King St., and Robert Bergsrud, Lake boulevard, collided on Johnson street.

Bergsrud reported $100 damage to his car.

New Mineral Springs Proposal May Close Wabasha Sanatorium

By TOM BERGHS
Daily News Staff Writer

Winona County's Board of Commissioners heard a new proposal from representatives of Mineral Springs Sanatorium at Cannon Falls Tuesday evening, which may result in closing of the Winona-Wabasha County Buena Vista Sanatorium at Wabasha after Dec. 31.

The new proposal, pending final approval by Winona County commissioners and commissioners in eight counties in the Mineral Springs district is briefly this: Winona County has one of two alternatives—(1) send patients to Mineral Springs on a nonresident basis at a per diem cost of approximately $7.60, or (2) buy into the sanatorium on a part-ownership basis for $50,000, thereby owning 11.79 per cent of the corporation and saving—Cannon Falls officials estimate—somewhere in the neighborhood of $8,000 per year below what it now costs to send Winona County patients to Buena Vista.

$83,000 Earlier
Representatives of Mineral Springs approached county commissioners in May of this year and offered the same proprietary ownership package for a figure just over $83,000.

Today, speaking about last night's meeting, Frank Wachs, Wabasha, president of Buena Vista's five-man sanatorium commission, told The Daily News that "that meeting down there comes as a complete surprise to me—I had no idea such a thing was going on. However, and I can say this positively, if Winona County pulls out on us, we're all done."

"Yes," continued Wachs, "we have seriously been considering shutting down Buena Vista anyway; but no definite decision has been made—we're trying to work the problem out from all angles before making a move. I don't want to say at this time just what we're going to do."

Closing, One Says
Another Wabasha County official today maintained that Buena Vista was "definitely closing Jan. 1 because there aren't enough patients right now to keep operating. That was all decided at a meeting of the sanatorium commission Oct. 13. Yes, our patients will go to Mineral Springs—on a per diem basis."

Henry Langenberg, Winona, a member of the sanatorium commission, said today that the commission has made no definite decision.

Representing Mineral Springs at Tuesday evening's meeting at Hotel Winona were: Roland H. Peterson, business manager; Dr. Royal V. Sherman, Red Wing, vice president of the board of directors; E. L. Peters, Cannon Falls, president of the board of directors; and Dr. Ezra V. Bridge, medical director and superintendent of the sanatorium.

Winona County representatives were: Ray Kohner, chairman of the county board; commissioners Peter Merklewicz and Adolph Spitzer; Richard Schoonover, county auditor, and Langenberg.

Advantages Cited
At the dinner meeting, Peters opened the discussion saying, "We at Mineral Springs again want Winona County in our setup. We explained what Mineral Springs felt were the advantages obtained in such a setup and said 'besides, we know that Buena Vista is closing down.'"

"Well," said Kohner, "it was that big $83,000 figure that stopped us before—we don't want to slap that kind of a bill on our taxpayers just for part-ownership."

Sanatorium officials assured the commissioners that the $83,000 was just a "talking point—one that certainly can be satisfactorily adjusted to please everyone concerned."

"I want to make it clear," said Dr. Sherman, "that although we prefer proprietary ownership, we're not closing the door on a per diem arrangement. However, with our part-ownership program, we offer a control program and other benefits that you don't get under a straight per diem arrangement."

"Just what does that include?" asked Merklewicz.

"Chest clinics, Mantoux clinics and most important of all, we offer research and case clinics under our control program," said Sherman.

Present Program
Langenberg entered the conversation at that point and said, "Well, sure, but we already have a control program here with our X-ray machine at City Hall."

"That's no damn good," muttered one commissioner.

"I'm positive," said Board President Peters, "that the four patients you have at Buena Vista right now, don't represent a true picture of tuberculosis in Winona County—I'll bet there's several more wandering around your city right now undetected." (He declined to say just how many.)

Dr. Bridge offered as an example two other counties in their ownership set-up who found that situation to be true. "In Steele County, when they bought in, there were four TB cases reported in the county—under our control program we found 14. In Washington County, the total jumped from six to 16—it's been that way in every one of our member counties and I'm positive we'd find the same thing in Winona County."

Bridge pointed out representation on the sanatorium's board of directors as another advantage of proprietary ownership.

Rates Compared
"Let's have some comparative figures on per diem rates under the nonresident program and per diem rates under the part-ownership program," said Commissioner Merklewicz.

Business Manager Peterson showed that the per diem cost for nonresidents was $8.66, less $1.07 state aid, leaving the cost assessed per day to a nonresident county, for each patient, at $7.59. Under the part-ownership program it would amount to "right around $5 per day," he said.

Dr. Bridge pointed out that the per diem rate at Cannon Falls "is lower than that at all larger institutions and still provides the same essential services." Per diem costs at other state sanatoriums were: Walker, $9.93; Nopemning, $12; and Glen Lake, $14.

Mineral Springs representatives then said "Winona County's total cost for all services, should they buy in now, would be $17,685 for the year 1955. That figure is based on the proposed budget for 1955. Tuberculosis care cost Winona County 'right around $25,000 in 1954. The 1955 total is of course not yet available," said Schoonover.

That total was broken down to include: Buena Vista, $18,000; child TB care, $5,000; and patients already at the state sanatorium and Mineral Springs, about $2,000. Mineral Springs is already equipped to handle child TB cases, which would also be included in the $17,685 cost.

Alternatives Weighed
"Now," said Peterson, "let's look at it this way. If you had six patients at Mineral Springs, the per diem cost per year would be just the same as the part-ownership cost, so there would be no advantage either way until you went over six patients." (Winona County has four reported TB cases at Buena Vista at the present time.)

"However," he continued, "once you get over that six-patient number, it's far more economical for you to be there under the proprietary ownership plan."

Drs. Sherman and Bridge reiterated the "very likely possibility" that more TB cases would be found in Winona County under their control program.

Under part-ownership," said Bridge, "it would make no difference if you had six or 16 patients there, your cost would still not go over the $17,685 figure."

Winona County commissioners seemed inclined to agree that the part-ownership program would be the most beneficial, money-wise, to the county, in that more TB cases would crop up in coming years under a research program offered by the sanatorium.

$50,000 Suggested
Commissioners asked if $50,000 would be a "satisfactory" buying-in price and Mineral Springs representatives said that they would ask commissioners in their other eight counties and let the local board know at the time of the December meeting. Winona County's contract at Buena Vista is up Dec. 31. The building is owned by Wabasha County.

Commissioners will discuss the matter again at the November County Board meeting, convening Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Counties already in the Mineral Springs part-ownership program are: Goodhue, Dakota, Rice, Olmsted, Mower, Freeborn, Washington and Steele.

Sheriff Wants Man Hiding in Theilman Woods

Assault Complaint Filed Against Leonard Mitchell

THEILMAN, Minn.—Police were continuing a 2-week vigil here today for a Wabasha man charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, who is believed to be hiding in the rugged hill country surrounding Theilman.

His abandoned car was found in a gravel pit near here Tuesday. The complaint against Leonard Mitchell, who threatened the life of a Theilman woman Oct. 14, has been filed in Wabasha by Sheriff John Jacobs. He and his deputies have been attempting to apprehend Mitchell. The man is armed with a .410 gauge shotgun and is familiar with Wabasha County forests as he is a lumberman employed by a Kellogg lumber firm.

Mitchell is reported to have been in Theilman several times since the incident to get food. Authorities report that townspeople are "jumpy." Since his car was taken by the sheriff yesterday, it is presumed that he is on foot somewhere in the hills.

The fugitive forced the woman into his car at the threat of her life but returned her unharmed within an hour, authorities said. He has been hiding out ever since.

Mario Does Everything on Big Scale

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, (U)—What kind of a man is Mario Lanza?
He is a person of lusty appetites, and not just for food. He works hard, plays hard and sings each song as though it might be his last. His conversation is as forceful as his singing, full of broad Italian gestures and punctuated across with earthy expressions.
In his capacity for enjoyment of human pleasures, he is much like Enrico Caruso, who has been his idol for most of his 33 years.
Having been reared in poverty, Mario enjoys the luxuries that his brilliant voice has provided. He lives in a West Los Angeles mansion that rambles almost endlessly down terrace after terrace. There are seven TV sets, a pond with hundreds of goldfish, a swimming pool that would float a cabin cruiser, a formal garden and a tennis court. He rents the place for a reported $2,500 a month from silent film star Norman Kerry.
Royalties from phonograph records, which reach astronomical heights, allow the nonworking Lanza to live so lavishly.
On the court is a regulation sparring ring, and it is Mario's pride and joy. When he showed me around, he hopped up on the canvas and peppered the punching bag with the skill of a pro. He spoke glowingly of his new friend, Rocky Marciano, who has promised to train in the Lanza ring when he returns here. When Mario goes to Palm Springs, he has the ring collapsed and sent to join him at the desert resort.
Mario is intensely loyal. He will recognize someone who gave him a helping hand a decade ago, even though he hadn't seen the person since.

Four Men Dead in Texas Hotel Fire

COLORADO CITY, Tex. (U)—Four men were believed dead today in the fire-ravaged Alamo Hotel after lightning struck the old West Texas landmark about midnight.
Mrs. Eva Bebout, owner and operator of the 35-room, 70-year-old hotel, said she was "almost positive" firemen would find the men's bodies in the charred wreckage.

How to Marry a Guy; Just Walk Out on Him

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—Our town's full of kissable girls in their early thirties who are trying to lasso men into marriage.
Deciding to be Lovelorn Editor for a day, I sought advice from young Humorist Max Shulman.
He's helped write a witty play on the subject ("The Tender Trap"). What would he tell these man-huntin' females who call up guys for dates, who go to dances alone, hoping to meet a man—and who are still "nice girls," merely lonely?
"They," replied the Minnesota-born humorist, who's 35 and the father of 4, "should walk out on the guy."
"But suppose they haven't caught one yet?"
"They'll catch one, and then they should walk tall and proud. Walk out on him, and he'll follow," he said, confidently.
"I was in Hollywood writing for MGM," Shulman continued. "One day I phoned the stenographers' pool—the 'bullpen'—for a stenographer.
"The girl assigned to me came in crying.
"They'd been talking about their trouble getting husbands, and this one complained.
"The other girls said 'Shut up! We'd settle for what you had!'
"She'd been married. It had ended—but she'd had her chance."
Shulman and Robert Paul Smith, who'd been brooding about this, worked for a year on the play. They concluded that in New York you can be a guy with two left feet, the awkward kind that falls out of trees, and yet beautiful damsels (Janet Riley, Julia Meade and Kim Hunter in the play) will pursue you, bring you candy, flowers and even themselves, because they're lonely.
"All you have to be in New York is not married," says Shulman.
"Us guys from the Corn Country notice it more than New Yorkers," Shulman claims.
In the play, Robert Preston, "from Indianapolis," is amazed when Ronnie Graham, a bachelor, seems to have nothing but chorus girls ringing at his door and bringing him gifts.
"The girl must fill him with guilt," Shulman says. "When he feels he's a heel, he'll marry her. It's a calculated risk... but the girl should take it."
"This is pretty strong advice you're giving," I said to Shulman.
"Suppose a lot of girls follow it? They may walk out—and the guy they're hoping to marry will never miss them?"
"It's better," said Shulman, "than for the girl to be present—and the guy not to know she's there!"

Advice on Health

Nerves May Cause Pain In Shoulder

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
The most common form of pain in the shoulder is that which is due to a strain of the muscles of the shoulder. Each of these types of pain can come from many different causes, and it requires thorough investigation to find the cause before adequate treatment can be carried out.
This is especially true of pain in the shoulder.
Sometimes, the pain may not be due to any condition in the shoulder itself but to some disorder arising elsewhere in the body. One of these causes is irritation of the cervical nerves. These are the nerves that come from the spinal cord in the upper part of the neck. The irritation to these nerves may either be due to inflammation, or it may be purely mechanical.
In the latter instances, the patient may have had a fall on his head, or what is known as a whiplash injury in an automobile. This occurs when a car is hit from behind and the head is thrust forward and then suddenly jerked backward.
Following such injuries, there may be attacks of stiffness in the neck, or what is commonly known as "crick" of the neck. There may also be pain in the muscles over the shoulder blades, and the pain may pass downward into the arm and hand.
Physical examination in these cases does not reveal anything abnormal. The pain in the neck and shoulders may occur when the head is either bent forward or backward. Pressure on the top of the head, when turned either to right or left, may also cause the pain. Sometimes, an X-ray of the upper part of the spine will show where the difficulty lies. Arthritis affecting the joints in the upper part of the spine may often be present. This is but one of the common causes for pain in the shoulders, and one which requires com-

Do Houswork? Shocking Thought Sends 'Bride' Home

LOS ANGELES (U)—Saying she was "rather shocked" to find the average American wife does her own housework, an Italian woman who came here to wed has decided to go home instead.
Vanna Scussel, 28, came here from Milan a month ago after an 18-month letter correspondence with contractor Elmer W. Brass, 58. They planned to marry.
But Monday Vanna declared: "There'll be no marriage. I'm going back home early next year. We don't agree about things."
She said she has been accustomed to servants in her home.
"And it was rather shocking to me to find out the average American housewife has to keep up her own house, even does the cooking," Brass showed no deep regret because their months-long friendship didn't lead to the altar. "I've had a lot of fun seeing her reaction to this country," he said.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J.C.: What would a pulling sensation in the cords of the neck indicate?
Answer: This might be due to a disturbance in the upper part of the spine, from inflammation of the muscles in the neck, or even to some disturbance in the body.

For your leaders you have chosen men of Action!

★ For 16 years you have chosen for your leaders men of action. Men who have worked to bring progress and prosperity to you and your state.
★ You chose these four great leaders because they were typical Minnesotans—typical Americans.
★ Each was born into a hard-working family of modest means.
★ Each helped to earn his own way through school.
★ Each in his own community showed qualities of great leadership.
★ Each was a man whose honesty had never been questioned—a man of vision—of sound moral principles—of unselfish devotion of firm convictions and the courage to stand up and fight for them.
★ To these men you have entrusted your government—your tax money—your future. They have been faithful to that trust.
★ As your governor, each in turn made you this pledge:
★ "We will treat every citizen alike."
★ "We will spend your money as carefully as we do our own."
★ "We will root out any dishonesty that may sneak into our state government."
★ Each has kept that pledge.

Three of these great Minnesotans have already been called to wider service. Through former Governors Stassen, Thye and Youngdahl you and your state today take part in the great councils of your country and of the world. The fourth member of the 16 year quartet, Governor Anderson, in his quiet, efficient way, is still helping to build a greater, more prosperous Minnesota.
For 16 years these men have served your state and your country. They have been subjected to the bitter criticism that all public men have to take. Yet no one has ever questioned their personal honesty.
Today more than ever before your state and your country need men of integrity—men of vision—men of convictions—men of moral courage—men of unselfish devotion to their state and nation—MEN OF ACTION.
For 16 years you have chosen such men as your leaders. In 1954 the Republican party again offers you such men. For your own sake—for Minnesota's sake—for your country's sake—

Moscow Seems to Have Something There

It may be that Moscow has something which the western world, or at least the United States, could use. It's a good, stiff driver's test which cannot be passed except by people who drive well and who know the rules of the road. It goes pretty far and, it's suspected, is aimed mainly at western diplomats. Yet it has its points.

The test involves four visits to a polyclinic for medical checks, including an X-ray and a neurological examination. The aspiring driver is given a 90-minute oral test on rules of the road, and is expected to know the entire contents of a 110-page book on the highway code. After a try-out with model cars, the applicant is taken on a 45-minute drive around Moscow to make sure he knows all road signs.

Until recently, the Moscow test included a technical examination on the mechanics of a Soviet passenger car. It was this phase that knocked out most western diplomats, since most use American or British cars and know nothing about Soviet makes. This was eliminated recently for western diplomats.

Whether or not this exam was given only to westerners to make sure they were obliged to hire a chauffeur who could keep tabs on their movements, it still has its merits. At least it insures that all licensed drivers know road rules.

The average American road test is generally so casual that it fails to uncover people who shouldn't be allowed to drive. In view of the appallingly high accident rate in this country, it may be that we could benefit by adopting some points of the Soviet driving test. It might be a supreme irony, but also it might save lives.

Our Nation Needs a Fair And Workable Reserve System

Congressmen running for another term this fall have enough problems with the farm issue, taxes, and the like without borrowing embarrassing questions to debate.

But the men and women elected Nov. 2 to the 84th Congress will be asked next winter to face up to a long-delayed question loaded with political dynamite: That of military manpower.

This is the $64 question for sure, touching as it does on the fears and hopes of every parent, on the future plans of every high school graduate, on the prospects of every young man about to marry, to buy a business, or to sign a house mortgage.

Two men—neither of them running for office this year—broached the subject recently. Dr. John Hannah, just before quitting as assistant secretary of defense to return to Michigan State College, reported a new manpower plan based on a six-month study he'd made for President Eisenhower. The President, talking to the American Legion convention last month, said bluntly that we have "failed miserably" to provide adequate reserve power.

"Wishful thinking and political timidity must no longer bar a program so absolutely essential to our defense," he declared.

What both men were saying is that while we have the men and weapons for a top-notch first team, there's little depth in our defense system.

Except for the National Guard, which is inadequate in number, and the reserve officer cadres, we have practically no forces backing up the units on active duty (and even the active forces have a strong percentage of recruits in the early stages of training).

The present law, due to expire next June, sets up a military "obligation" of eight years, for every able-bodied young man. The draftee or volunteer who puts in two years on active duty is pledged to the nearest reserve group for another six; three years of active duty means five years in the active reserve, and so on.

But there's no compulsion, as the law stands now. A majority of the enlisted men, and a fair share of the officers, virtually thumb their noses at the reserve when they come home.

Training on which the services spent thousands of dollars is quickly forgotten—and training in these days of rapid technical advances is a never-ending job. Reserve ground units have had the poorest success in catching the returning veteran.

Mr. Eisenhower has not spelled out the new manpower program he will ask of Congress next year.

Dr. Hannah's outline came close to universal military training, which Congress has rejected several times. It also would abolish the Army and Air Force reserves, and assign returning servicemen to Guard units for compulsory reserve training.

Another feature of the plan would remove Guard units from state control, which probably would doom its passage.

All these are tough proposals. But what the lawmakers and citizen alike—dazzled by super-bombs, guided missiles, and multi-billion-dollar defense budgets—have forgotten is that we now have no trained pool of reserve manpower to back up the regular services in case of sudden, massive attack.

The Defense Department is thinking in terms of roughly three million men in the regular military forces; a ready reserve of

These Days

Communists Try To Split America

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
NEW YORK—From the earliest days, Lenin held that it was one of the functions of the Bolsheviks to support all national liberation movements. When the Communists seized the power in Russia in 1917, Stalin was appointed Commissar of Nationalities, his office being in charge of the many nationalities and linguistic groups within the Russian state. Karl Radek devoted himself to the problem of minorities in other countries. He was particularly interested in the Asiatic problem and directed much of the work of Michael Borodin, the Chicago Lawyer, who for a short period directed the revolution under both Sun Yat-Sen and Chiang Kai-shek.

In the United States, no reference will be found to the use of the term "minorities," as referring to a whole community within our nation prior to the 1930's. It has been part of the Communist program to fragment our people. Thus, Negroes, Jews and Roman Catholics have come to be referred to as minorities, when, in fact, neither by law nor by custom is such a term tolerable in the United States. Even if such minority treatment is accorded some groups in particular areas, it is not of the nature of a European minority, which is a legal entity. In recent decisions, the Supreme Court has, to an extent, liquidated some of the conditions which made it possible for Communist propaganda to establish such a term in our language.

Lenin held that the Russian proletariat must win over national liberation movements. In 1924-25, Soviet Russia established in Shanghai a propaganda center to work among the various peoples of Asia, stimulating national liberation movements. This effort has been continuous since the Baku Congress of Nations of the Orient which met in 1920 for this purpose. Every national liberation movement has been in contact with the Communist International and has been supported by it. This explains in a measure the relationship of Sun Yat-Sen to Lenin after 1919; the closeness of Nehru's India to Soviet Russia, the pro-Communist sentiment in Indonesia, etc.

The right of a people to the use of their own language—also emphasized by Woodrow Wilson—was always uppermost in Lenin's mind and has been practiced in Soviet Russia during the whole of the Communist regime, newspapers, magazines and books being published in the multitude of tongues which are used in that country. In the United States, where a foreign language press is free to exist and where many languages are spoken freely, it is difficult to understand that language would play a political role. Yet to an Uzbek, linguistic freedom is more significant than economic freedom; the former feeds his pride; the latter, he has never known.

This attitude of the Communists has been invaluable to them in their propaganda among the colonial and semi-colonial peoples whose concern is over questions of nationalism, language, local customs, the right to be part of an ancestral tradition without apology. As long as the Communists continue along this line, they do not antagonize these peoples. The Indians, who will shrink from the possibility of a restoration of some form of Anglo-Saxon control, regard the Russian attitude a favorable to them, even though it may lead to ultimate conquest, which they do not believe. It is a curious political phenomenon that although the Soviet Universal State has absorbed a large number of countries, the Asiatic nations, on the verge of conquest, indicate no fear.

The Communists have been able in many countries, including the United States, to infiltrate organs of the people through national liberation movements. In the United States many such movements come into existence, particularly in war years. The Americans who support them usually limit their activities to contributing money, petitioning Congress and sending delegations to the State Department. The infiltrating Communists seek to work inside the organizations, which mostly start out as one-purpose temporary committees. By capturing the organizational work and often the office force, they strive to make such a committee a permanent organization, staffed by Communists and fellow-travelers.

Politicians Busy Shaking Communist Skeleton Again

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—The nation will soon get the answer to a highly interesting question of psychology. The question is: Will the old political trick of bringing the Communist skeleton out of the Democratic closet work once again?

Ever since Vice President Nixon went out to Denver and warned the President and his party that they were way behind in the polls, the skeleton has been rattled until some of the bones are in danger of dropping off.

So it will be highly interesting to students of psychology, as well as historians, to say nothing of the American people, to see whether the strategy works once again. As of today, here is a play-by-play account of how the strategy is progressing:

Strategy No. 1.—In Montana, Sen. Jim Murray, Democrat, a staunch Irish Catholic one who is no more pro-Russian or pro-Communist than the church at which he worships, has suddenly found 160,000 pieces of literature in the post-office boxes of every Montana voter depicting him as a rabid rustler for the Soviet Union. The allegation is based upon the fact that during the war, when we were allies of Russia, Jim's name appeared on a committee for Soviet-American friendship, of which a good many other distinguished Americans at that time were also members.

Strategy No. 2.—In Wyoming, Joseph O'Mahoney, another good Irish Catholic and a Democrat, is also being smeared as a fellow traveler. Because he had the courage to defend Owen Lattimore, now the object of prosecution, if not persecution, by the Justice Department.

Ignoring the fact that in a free America every defendant has the right of a lawyer, a wealthy New Yorker recently moved to Wyoming, Martin Littleton, took several thousand dollars worth of radio time to blast Joe O'Mahoney.

Since some people who throw stones made the mistake of living in glass houses, it might be interesting to see who's throwing the stones at O'Mahoney. Stone-thrower Littleton spent most of his life in New York, happens to have had an interesting law client of his own—a kingpin gambler Frankie Costello.

And since Littleton doesn't seem to think Joe O'Mahoney has a right to defend Owen Lattimore, it is only fair to examine the Littleton law firm clients and associates. His operations were probed by the Kefauver crime committee and therefore are a matter of official record. The record shows that Littleton and his partner, George Morton Levy, helped to organize the Roosevelt raceway which has figured in recent New York trotting scandals. Furthermore, Littleton was present at a meeting when Costello was hired to protect the raceway from bookmakers.

Stone-thrower Littleton, who now doesn't like Joe O'Mahoney's law clients, had another interesting client himself—none other than Harry Sinclair of the Teapot Dome oil scandal.

Strategy No. 3.—A so-called "pink sheet" is now being circulated in Colorado against another Irish Catholic and a Democrat, ex-Cong. John Carroll, now running for the Senate. Carroll has been in public life, for years. Everyone knows that he has fought Communism. But because he has been friendly to labor and knew some left-wingers in the past, the old Communist skeleton is being hauled out of the closet.

Strategy No. 4.—In Idaho, ex-Sen. Glen Taylor, who looks as if he is going to stage a comeback, is being smeared as the result of a secret Senate hearing held in Washington, D. C., which neither he, nor the press, nor the public knew anything about until last week.

THE WORLD TODAY

'Mr. Germany' in Washington Today

By ED CREAM
(For James Marlow)
WASHINGTON (AP)—"Mr. Germany" comes to town today. Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, might reject that title. And a great many of his fellow Germans might have misgivings. The idea of wrapping up a whole nation, or even half a nation, in the person of one man seems to have perished there with Adolf Hitler.

Still, Adenauer is a symbol of the new Germany to most other Western countries. Since the deaths of Ernest Reuter and Kurt Schumacher, he is about the only West German political figure whose name is widely known in the United States.

He occupies a dominant position too in the eyes of Western political leaders who deal with Germany. It is a respected position. Secretary of State Dulles went out of his way, in addressing Monday night's televised Cabinet meeting, to praise Adenauer as a "great statesman."

Many of these political figures can't figure out who the Germans have to fill Adenauer's shoes when, inevitably, the time comes for someone else to become chancellor. And Adenauer will be 79 next January. Only Winston Churchill, among the West's political leaders, is older. Churchill will be 80 Nov. 30.

In a real sense Adenauer can be called the "father" of the new West Germany. He directed the drawing up of the basic law which set up the Bonn Republic. Actually, this law is a constitution but Adenauer prefers not to use that word until such time as it can apply to a united Germany.

Just when East and West Germany can be brought together under such a constitution, nobody in a responsible post cares to predict. But Adenauer, like Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and most others who were involved—say that day may well have been brought nearer by the agreements reached in the past few weeks at London and Paris.

By means of these agreements Germany changes from an occupied country to a practically sovereign member of the Western defense system.

That means 12 German divisions, some 500,000 men, along the Iron Curtain by the spring of 1957, if all goes according to plan.

Argentine Plane Crashes, Ten Crewmen Killed

MERCEDES, Argentina (AP)—An Argentine air force plane from the Villa Reynolds base in this central Argentine province crashed yesterday and all 10 of its crewmen were reported killed.

New Lanesboro Truck Makes First Fire Run

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—The new fire truck made its first run Monday at 3:45 p.m., when firemen were called to a tractor fire at the Robert Thompson farm, six miles south.

Faulty wiring is believed to have caused the blaze that resulted in extensive damage to the tractor. Both front wheels and one rear wheel were damaged. Arlen Kiehne was driving the tractor owned by his father, L. J. Kiehne.

LEGION AT PLAINVIEW

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—When the American Legion met in its clubrooms Thursday evening, Vice Commander Donald Pille presided in the absence of Commander John Schad. Local membership now is 125. Voted was manpower for the Ground Observer Corps.

Letters to the Editor

Fair discussion of matters of general interest is welcomed. Articles must be temperate and not over 400 words long, the right being reserved to condense any too long or to eliminate matter unsuitable for publication. No religious, medical, or personal controversies, or articles supporting candidates for office are acceptable. The Winona Daily News does not publish original verse.

The writer's name and address must accompany each article and if publication of the name is not desired a plain name should be given. Unsigned letters receive no consideration. Where fairness to the public demands, publication of the writer's name will be required, but he will be given opportunity to decide whether he wishes the article published over his signature or withheld.

Form Wife Discouraged Over Price of Eggs

To the Editor: Again, on Saturday, we sold eggs in Winona. Returns in money made us inclined to do as so many, many farmers are doing; to use all the chickens we have for eating, pack them in freezers, and let eggs be a past product.

In April we purchased baby chick pullets, at 32 cents apiece. We provided housing, heat, feed and all work entailed, for 3 1/2 months, without any return. Time has changed the method and feed of baby chickens (same as for our children) in the last several years. A sack of balanced feed for baby chicks costs us from $6 to $7, a 100-pound sack and a sack of feed doesn't last long for 150-200 chicks.

Since the start of pullet egg season, the pullet egg market has been 10 cents a dozen here, and between next two grades there is a difference of 21-24 cents paid us. It seems that in the egg grading system the dealers use, a pullet has to lay eggs for at least two months before the eggs are classified in next grade size. It takes 110 dozen, (a day's work for 1,320 pullets, feed, housing and labor not included) to buy a 100 pound sack of best sugar and one pound of coffee. Wonder what those producers or farmers get for the eggs, for that 100 pounds sugar, or coffee beans for that pound of coffee?

Is the government encouraging our youth to invest large sums of money for expensive machinery and livestock to provide food for the millions? Not as I see it around this farming area by the number becoming engaged in farming.

Maybe the government officials will investigate this decline in prices, like they did the raise in coffee prices, after some of their friends have become millionaires.

Mrs. Wm. Gellesen, Lamotte, Minn.

Democrats Stronger In Middle West

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

CHICAGO (U)—Farm belt people—not all, but a significant number—apparently are going to let their pocketbooks vote for them next Tuesday.

Many farmers have lower incomes without lower expenses. Unemployment and short shifts have hit some cities.

Voters are inclined to blame the Republicans.

Unless current omens turn out to be as changeable as autumn leaves, something of a Democratic resurgence seems to be under way in nine Midwestern states.

The seeming trend is an intangible, elusive sort of thing blended from many factors. It can't be translated ahead of time into so many votes or so many victories for either party.

It may bring about no shifts at all in seven Senate and seven gubernatorial seats. Republicans now hold all the governorships and four of the Senate seats.

See House Gains

Both parties expect to gain and lose some House members. But Democrats have buoyant hopes of turning up with a net of six to nine gains—enough from the Midwest alone to assure control of the House. They look for even more if the customary trend toward the party out of power runs really strong in this non-residential election year.

These nine Midwestern states—Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and the two Dakotas—have 77 House seats, with 54 held by Republicans, 23 by Democrats.

President Eisenhower still is vastly popular in this area. Republican orators, using a 1954 twist to a 1916 Democratic slogan, get a big hand with their dinning cry that "he got us out of war." And the GOP unquestionably would have few farm belt worries if all the people friendly to the President would turn out and vote Republican.

Don't Blame Ike

Yet there is a tendency to disassociate Eisenhower from his party and its program. Many people who still "like Ike" apparently will vote Democratic. A substantial proportion of them don't like Secretary of Agriculture Benson and the administration farm program.

Some voters, even some Democrats, are heeding the GOP plea to give the President a Republican Congress. But in general, swings seem to be preponderantly toward the Democrats.

In this region, often credited with swinging the 1948 presidential election to Harry S. Truman, there are signs that independents now are inclined to veer toward the Democrats once more. The independents usually hold the balance of power.

In states where there was strong support for the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, there are some Republicans who say Eisenhower is too "New Dealish." They probably won't vote Democratic but some may stay home.

Evidently a lot of other persons will too. Public interest in the election is low.

Communism at home and Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) aren't major issues, even in McCarthy's home state.

What does seem to count this year is an intermingling of the political and economic facts of life.

Dairy farmers are cashing smaller milk checks. Many farmers' wives don't get enough for eggs to pay for chicken feed. The hog market here hit a 20-months low on Oct. 12. Drought has taken a toll of crops.

A packing plant at Sioux City, Iowa, is closing. Farm implement plants have laid off workers. Southern Illinois coal mines are closing. Some workers are on parttime instead of overtime.

Consequently, political orators are giving the full treatment to farm and economic problems.

With last-minute reversals of

There may be considerable split-ticket voting that will let the Republicans re-elect Gov. Walter Kohler. Sen. McCarthy has made no campaign appearances in his home state.

ILLINOIS

The consensus of political experts, professional and nonprofessional, is that Paul H. Douglas, New Deal, "Fair Deal" Democrat, has the edge for another Senate term. The Republican nominee is Joseph T. Meek, former spokesman and lobbyist for Illinois merchants.

The present division of 25 House seats is 16 Republicans, 9 Democrats. Democrats say they may drop three of them, but hope to pick up four others for a gain of one. There is no gubernatorial race.

IOWA

Democratic Sen. Guy M. Gillette may win again in a state normally 3-2 Republican. Republicans vote for him when they won't for any other Democrat. The Republican nominee is Rep. Thomas E. Martin. The farm issue is the big one.

Democrats are campaigning hard, but it is questionable whether they can capture the Statehouse or oust any of the all-GOP lineup of eight House members.

MISSOURI

Democrats are confident of taking a House seat in former President Truman's district and perhaps one other. The present party division is seven Democrats, four Republicans.

In general, Democrats are campaigning against the administration farm policy. Republicans for a GOP Congress to support Eisenhower.

The state has no Senate or gubernatorial contest.

KANSAS

Eisenhower's home state evidently will give him a vote of confidence by again electing Republican Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel, a Republican governor, and all six Republican House candidates. That means the Democrats would lose a 1st District House seat they won in 1952 on a local issue involving a flood control dam.

NEBRASKA

The Cornhuskers have a triple-header Senate election because of the deaths of their two GOP senators. One is for a short term in the present Congress, lasting only until January. Republicans are favored in all three, although Democrat James F. Green, a good speaker with many American Legion friends, is putting up a stiff battle for a four-year term.

Republicans expect to keep the Statehouse. But the Democrats may have a good chance of wresting one of the four U.S. House seats from the GOP. They are eyeing one other.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Sen. Mundt and the state's two GOP representatives all voted against the administration's flexible farm plan. Their Democratic challengers are against it too. So it's hard to find an issue. The Republicans are expected to win as usual, but by smaller margins.

Joe Foss, Marine flying hero, is the GOP candidate for governor and probably will have no trouble winning.

NORTH DAKOTA

This state is firmly Republican and there seems to be no question that it will stay that way. There's no senatorial contest, but there are three statewide races, for governor and for seats of two House members who serve the state at large. Republican Gov. Norman Brundage and Republican Representatives Usher L. Burdick and Otto Krueger look like shoe-ins for additional terms.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at the Paint Depot, 163 Center St.

Russia Agrees With U.S. on Disarmament

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U.S.) — Russia reportedly has agreed with France, Britain, the United States and Canada to seek to have India's call for a standstill on atomic and hydrogen bomb production transferred to the U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Word of the decision came as the five powers met behind the scenes in advance of the vote by the General Assembly's Political Committee on their joint resolution asking that the disarmament question be turned over to them as a subcommittee.

Israeli representatives, meanwhile, planned to ask the Security Council for another urgent meeting on their nation's complaint against the Egyptian seizure of the Israeli freighter Bat Galim at the Suez Canal. They said the Israeli-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission in Jerusalem has been unable to agree on the handling of the issue.

The reported decision on the Indian resolution was second agreement within a week between the Soviet Union and the west on disarmament questions. Russian delegates earlier agreed to join in sponsoring the resolution asking for secret subcommittee talks.

Little Girl Buried As Cave Collapses

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (U.S.) — When 8-year-old Joseph del Puente went to play in the cave the neighborhood boys had dug, he took his 4-year-old sister along yesterday as a special favor. She wanted to see it.

The cave roof collapsed and Mary Lou was buried alive. Joseph dug frantically and finally pulled his sister out. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Korimo del Puente, carried her home, but a fire department rescue squad could not revive her.

Woman's Judgment Foils Holdup Try

ST. LOUIS (U.S.) — Joe Johnson, 28-year-old service station attendant, reported this incident to deputy sheriffs last night.

An old car drove up to his station. A man pointed a shotgun at him and demanded the receipts be given to his woman accomplice. Johnson handed over $30.

The woman hesitated momentarily and then suddenly shoved the money back to Johnson.

"This isn't right, honey," she said to the handoff. Before the car sped away, she said: "He's been out of work since January."

Refugees From Red Poland Flown to U.S.

TAIPEH, Formosa (U.S.) — Twenty-two Polish seamen, including a ship's captain, left Formosa today in a U.S. Navy Skymaster for the United States. All had turned their backs on Communism but in so doing about half of them also had to turn their backs on wives and families.

Speaker Finds GOP Capable of Action

PITTSBURGH (U.S.) — H. D. Hirsch told a Republican rally here last night that the GOP isn't dead — "but merely hibernating."

At that precise moment a big picture of President Eisenhower fell from a wall and hit him on the head.

As the crowd roared, Hirsch paused a moment, touched his head and declared: "I don't know who I'd rather be hit on the head by than President Eisenhower."

Egypt Rounds Up Moslem Leaders After Shooting

By ROBERT B. HEWETT
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (U)—A widespread roundup of leaders of the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood was reported under way today on the heels of an apparent assassination attempt against Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Eight deliberately spaced pistol shots rang out last night while Nasser addressed a big rally celebrating the signing of the British-Egyptian agreement on the Suez Canal Zone. Nasser was not hurt. He shouted to the startled crowd that the shots were a "criminal's attempt against my life."

Four men arrested as suspects in the shooting were identified as members of the brotherhood, which has been conducting an underground campaign against the Egyptian government, which they charge does not clear the British completely out of Egypt.

The 35-year-old Nasser continued his speech and two hours later the Egyptian state broadcasting system rebroadcast the address. Listeners could hear the shots and Nasser's emotion-packed shouts to the crowd.

"Let them kill me," he cried. "I have already established freedom, dignity and pride in Egypt. My blood is for you. My life is for you. After the criminal's attempt against my life, I assure you that my life is yours and will be spent for you... I am from you and for you."

Health officials estimate there are about 2 1/2 million cases of tuberculosis in India.

Health of Few Can Affect All

PHILADELPHIA (U)—The president of the United Nations Security Council said last night that the emotional and physical health of a few individuals can determine the survival or extinction of today's civilization.

Ambassador William Borberg of Denmark, serving as council president this month, told the first foundation dinner of the Valley Forge Heart Research Institute that the world needs "more science in statecraft and more statecraft in science if we are to play effectively for a productive world at peace."

He said, "We must recognize, to begin with, that the only true realities in the world are individual human beings." Governments, nations and powers, he said, "are images, not realities." "Consider the question: Do the individual members of any 'nation' want war?" Borberg continued. "The answer surely is no scientifically and realistically speaking, a 'nation' as such cannot be said to 'want' anything, one way or another."

"What 'governments' or 'powers' are said to want is, more often than not, what the elected or appointed policy leaders, or policy makers, want—or think they want. And these leaders are, themselves, individual human beings, whose thinking and wanting and acting are influenced by their conditions, physical ailments and emotional impacts, past and present."

The cubit, a measurement used by ancient peoples, was supposed to represent the distance from a man's elbow to the tip of his middle finger.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Crossless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into core areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

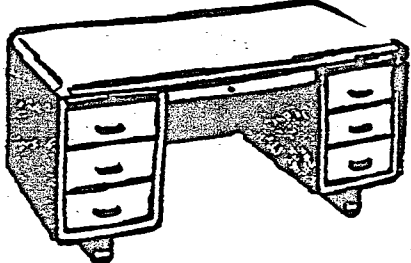

New York, N. Y. (Sp. dial)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually warms. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the core areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinics in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB. The price of InfraRUB is only $34 for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

Crow Wing Attorney To Decide Action On Golling Charges

ST. PAUL (U)—Arthur Sullivan, Crow Wing county attorney, today told The Associated Press that he would meet with members of the Riverton School Board to discuss a report by Public Examiner Richard A. Golling alleging the board made unauthorized expenditures.

Golling's audit, covering a six-year period of operations of Independent School District 45, was issued Aug. 16. It cites cases where pop, ice cream, Christmas candies and nuts, and prizes for PTA gatherings, were purchased but listed as "wall paint," "promotion of health salaries," or "janitor's supplies."

The report quotes S. J. Grutner, superintendent, as stating he knew the payments from district funds were not authorized and that he thought it was best to so classify them.

The public examiner also criticized payments to Charles Christianson, chairman, and George Tindell, board director, for collecting payments for "loss of time" while attending a school board convention in Minneapolis. Christianson put in an expense account for $35.04 for 24 hours lost time at $1.46 an hour, and $54 for 18 hours at $3 an hour. Tindell received payments of $31.44 and $45.12 for "loss of time" at the rate of $1.51 and $1.88 an hour.

Sullivan said he will decide after the conference whether he will take any further action. Golling sent copies of the report at the time it was issued to the county attorney, county auditor and school board.

Nixon Heads For California

PORTLAND, Ore. (U)—Vice President Richard Nixon headed for California by plane last night after telling Oregon voters he was confident of a Republican victory in next week's congressional elections.

Nixon, who has scheduled a talk at Long Beach, Calif., today, was greeted by the largest audience of his current campaign tour at Corvallis yesterday. He told 9,000 at Oregon State College that "the Democrats have run out of gas. Our campaign is on the upgrade and steadily climbing since two weeks ago."

In an address at Portland last night, he said, "A vote for an anti-Eisenhower Congress will be a vote to return to the Truman-Acheson policy which did terrible damage to America in the seven years after World War II."

He urged re-election of Sen. Guy Cordon (R-Ore), who is opposed by Democrat Richard L. Neuberger, a state senator and author.

Neuberger was referred to as an "extremely vocal advocate of a leftwing Socialist viewpoint." "A Democratic Congress," these congressional elections will mean a sharp turn to the left—back down the road to socialism and the Truman policies," Nixon said.

Fast Talking Gets Pigs Past Customs

SWEETGRASS, Mont. (U)—Amos Thompson, of Helena, Mont., had to do some fast talking to get his load of Canadian pigs past customs officials here.

Thompson bought three pigs at a Calgary, Alta., show and sale and proceeded to log the purchase on necessary customs forms.

But as he traveled southward, one sow decided to farrow. She had a family of nine.

Customs officials heard Thompson's story and decided to let him through — even if he had 12 pigs instead of three, as the papers indicated.

Zumbrota Airman Killed in Texas

SAN ANGELO, Texas (U)—Lt. Charles Raasch, Zumbrota, Minn., an aviation instructor, was killed Monday when a training plane from Goodfellow Air Base crashed and burned 50 miles west of here. A West Virginia cadet in the ship also perished.

Sen. Thye to Seek Continuance of Small Business Aid

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) announced today he would offer legislation next year to continue in existence the Small Business Administration (SBA).

The SBA, set up by Congress in July, 1953, at the time the lawmakers decided to let the Reconstruction Finance Corp. expire, is slated to die next June 30 unless extended.

Thye, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, said in a statement SBA has made a "splendid record" in its 15 months of existence.

He said it has made 900 loans totaling about 50 million dollars, aided in reserving 300 million dollars worth of government contracts for small firms, and assisted small companies in obtaining more than 2,000 contracts totaling 145 million dollars with the Defense Department.

Son Fights Rat, Gives Returning Family a Scare

MINNEAPOLIS (U) — Mr. and Mrs. Cleo McClain returned to their suburban Plymouth Township home Tuesday night to find the walls of a bedroom spattered with blood and their oldest son, Duane, 17, missing.

They summoned help and four Hennepin County deputies responded — about the same time that Duane reappeared.

He had been over to a neighbor's to borrow a gun to kill a rat that got into the McClain home. The bloodstains came from his early efforts to quell the animal with a broom.

The officers found the stunned rat in the bedroom, finished it off with a pistol shot. The intruder had entered while the McClains were at a Cub Scout meeting with their other son, Dennis, 10.

Hormel Case Set For Nov. 3 Hearing

LOS ANGELES (U) — George A. Hormel II, meat-packing heir and jazz piano player, has been ordered to plead Nov. 3 to a charge of marijuana possession.

Free on $1,500 bond, he was arraigned yesterday in Superior Court. Officers said they found marijuana cigarettes in his car when he was arrested Sept. 18.

State's 117 Lake Improvement Jobs Set Record, Claim

ST. PAUL (U) — The 117 lake improvement projects completed in the two years ended June 30 were a record, the Minnesota Division of Game and Fish reported today.

Hjalmar Swenson, fisheries supervisor in charge of the program, said it included 29 channel betterments, 22 repair jobs, 19 miscellaneous projects, 18 trout stream improvements, and 30 dams and weirs for both water and carp control.

Swenson said also that nearly six million fish of all species were transferred from over-populated waters and winter-kill lakes and that rough fish removed amounted to more than 19 million pounds, mostly carp.

The bureau also planted in Minnesota lakes nearly two million fish received from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Badger Dairymen Assail Benson

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wisconsin dairymen, meeting in conventions that may spread their shadows over next week's elections, voted Tuesday on resolutions demanding the resignation of Agriculture Secretary Benson.

The Wisconsin Pure Milk Products Cooperative, ordinarily a supporter of GOP policies, met at Fond du Lac and flatly told Benson to change his attitude toward the dairy farmer or resign; but on the counsel of its president, it amended its resolution to eliminate the demand for his resignation. The cooperative carries the weight of the nation's largest organization of milk shippers.

The Wisconsin Farmers' Union, in a separate convention at Madison, without a dissenting vote gave approval to a resolution calling for Benson's resignation. The union, a league of state farmers, has long been critical of the administration farm and dairy program in particular. The 300 delegates, without a word of defense for the program, declared "The actions of the secretary through his experience have been contrary to the best interest of agriculture and the nation's."

The vast hall seating the 1,500 delegates to the cooperative convention was silent as Ira Ohlhafer of West Bend, presented his "or resign" resolution. It was read to the delegates, who representing 18,000 milk shippers in the state, adopted the resolution in a near unanimous vote asking "that either the secretary of agriculture change his attitude toward the dairy farmer and give them the help other branches of agriculture get or else resign."

Cooperative president William Groves of Lodi was absent when the resolution was approved. After his return, following the vote, he requested the convention reconsider its action. Elmer Dixon of Fond du Lac proposed an amendment which would eliminate the phrase "or resign."

It was approved, and Ohlhafer said, "Perhaps I was a little too hasty."

Sabu Denies Part In Burning Home

LOS ANGELES (U) — The movie's former elephant boy Sabu denied in court yesterday that he set his suburban Northridge home afire in 1950. Two insurance companies are suing him for $23,081 they paid as damage claims.

Sabu told a Superior Court jury, "I was in Malibu at the time of the fire." The 29-year-old Indian-born actor also denied ever talking to an ex-convict about an arson plot.

Andro Perez, 23, who served two years in San Quentin for arson, has admitted setting the fire and stealing jewelry and gold dinner plates from Sabu's home.

Mergers Come Under Scrutiny Of Government

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U)—Mergers which spotlighted business this year and captured the attention of stock traders are coming under close government scrutiny. The aim of the study is to see whether the public gains or loses by them.

Leaders of big business argue that the public is the gainer. They say that competition between large corporations is keener because they have the brawn with which to fight harder and must fight hard or else fall of their own weight. They contend that making a bigger corporation out of two or more small, weaker ones results in more competition and that the public gains thereby.

The argument on the other side is that when a few big corporations dominate an industry, the little fellows die off one by one, and the public has very little choice when it goes out to buy products or services.

Since World War II, more than 7,000 mergers or other forms of one company acquiring another's business have been recorded. This year has seen a spate of big ones. The Federal Trade Commission says it is studying 209 of these business realignments, chiefly in the field of autos, metals, chemicals, baking, dairy, paper and textiles.

Miner Rescued After 2 Cave-ins

BRANCH DALE, Pa. (U)—Carl Herman, 67-year-old independent miner, was trapped 40 feet below the surface yesterday by two cave-ins.

He escaped with a simple fracture of the left leg.

The hardy miner, who operates his diggings with a partner near this eastern Pennsylvania community, was nearly freed from timber and rock which had him wedged inside the shaft when a second cave-in forced a crew of 35 friends and fellow miners to start rescue operations all over again.

'Big Brother' Plan Discussed by Jaycees

Members of the Winona Junior Chamber of Commerce, meeting Tuesday evening in the Marine Room at Swede's Bar-Cafe, heard two members of the Minneapolis Jaycees explain the advantages of a "Big Brother" movement in a city of Winona's size.

Movies, demonstrating "Big Brother" activities, were shown to the group and were followed by a discussion of the problems involved in starting such a movement here.

Jaycees voted to donate $50 to the Winona Community Chest.

Higher Education Higher

The board yesterday agreed to pay 27 cents each for diplomas for the graduates — 2 cents more than this year's.

Playwright Has 'Itch' For Money

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (U)—"I have a morbid interest in money," confessed George Axelrod, a young man who wrote in 60 hours a Broadway play he says will earn him a million dollars.

For the actual time he spent at the typewriter in turning out the "Seven Year Itch"—now being filmed as a vehicle for Marilyn Monroe—this comes to $16,666.66 an hour.

Axelrod, who is 32, wears a crew cut, and looks like a fugitive Princeton freshman, thinks this is a fair rate of pay for a writer—it he got to keep the money.

But, of course, he doesn't. Today it may take more time to figure out the income tax on a hit play than it does to write it.

"You work for years and starve," said George wryly, "and then when you hit the big loot they take it all away."

"Money is no longer enough. A writer needs some new kind of payment that can't be taken away, such as a guarantee your gold score will improve. Or they might promise to add two years to your life—or in my case—agree to find a way to make my front teeth come together."

Best Substitute
But until something better does come along Axelrod has decided money is about the best all-around substitute.

"Writing doesn't count unless you get paid for it," he said. "I can't even write a letter to my son now unless he promises to send me a buck for it."

"Art is a byproduct of writing for money. Shakespeare wrote because he needed dough. You always write better when you're hungry."

"It's much harder to write unless you have to do it to meet bills. This is still no problem to me. I always manage to have a few bills that need paying."

"But if you get good money, you've got to do a good job to earn it. I hate the guys who go to Hollywood with the loot-and-scoot idea, who grab all the big dough they can, do nothing, and then leave town complaining it's impossible to do creative work in the Hollywood atmosphere."

"I loved Hollywood. I had myself a real ball out there."

At 18, "after being thrown out of most of the good schools in the East," George became a bit actor on Broadway, confined to lines such as "Madam, dinner is served."

"I was a horrible actor, but I wanted to learn stage techniques," he said. "I knew that at 18 I couldn't write anything that people would pay $4.40 to see."

Radio Show Script
At 20 George watched the rehearsal of a radio show, then went home and turned out a script for

Without Napping Backache
Napping backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, impedes this important function to slow down, the result is napping backache—fatigue, irritability. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

one himself and sold it for $150. "Since then I've turned out between 500 and 600 radio and TV shows," he said, "written two novels, and turned out gags and comedy sketches for Martin and Lewis, Peter Lind Hayes, Robert Q. Lewis, and many other big comedians."

"I was an Army private for three years, digging holes for telephone poles for the Signal Corps in Europe. When I got out I had two really lean years before things turned better."

It was at his wife's insistence that Axelrod wrote "The Seven Year Itch" in 1952. He did it in 15 four-hour sessions at the typewriter.

"After four hours I just pooh out," he said.

Today George gets $75,000 for a movie script, double that amount if he furnishes the plot, too. He is currently polishing up a new musical, "The Rogers and Hart Songbook," and hopes to write "five or six of the greatest plays in the history of the world," then become a producer.

Ardys Schaffner, Charles Keilholtz Exchange Vows

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. — Miss Ardys Ann Schaffner, daughter of Allen Schaffner, Fountain City, and Charles C. Keilholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Keilholtz, Fountain City, were married by the Rev. Herbert Nommensen at St. Michael's Evangelical Lutheran Church here in a candlelight ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 10.

"The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Fred Reuter III, Alma, Wis. Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and lighted candles decorated the church.

The bride wore a brocaded satin and tulle floor-length gown trimmed with seed pearls. Her veil was caught to a headress trimmed with pearls from her mother's bridal gown. She wore a garnet necklace, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of Talsman roses, pompons and stephanotis.

Her maid of honor, Miss Margaret Wittmer, Fountain City, wore royal blue velvet and the junior bridesmaid, Kathleen Keilholtz, sister of the bridegroom, wore a similar dress. They carried yellow pompons and spider chrysanthemums.

Henry Sygulla, Whitehall, Wis., was best man. Ushers were Charles Prussing, Fountain City, cousin of the bride, and Robert Hartman, Alma, Wis., cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Alex Prussing served the cake and Mrs. Raymond Dougherty and Mrs. Allen Funke poured.

ASIDES - By the Society Editor

Halloween suggestions have showered my desk for a number of weeks and now that All-Saints Eve is just around the corner, I have skimmed off some of the more novel ideas (not too gruesome) so that those with children on hand for that evening or just party planning may have some additional new ideas. One company suggests a "Weeny Witch" party, the witch being a skinned frankfurter wearing a crepe paper cape fastened a head's length down on the skinned frankfurter, a cardboard topping the end, and cloves stuck in for eyes and the pointed end of a carrot for a nose. Crepe-paper wrapped wire makes arms and wire mounts the witch on top of a mound of frankfurters served with barbecue sauce, carrot sticks and canned shoestring potatoes for the warm lunch which follows a "treats or tricks" expedition.

Another firm is offering together with an assortment of wrapped hard candies for the householder visited by members of the expedition, a sturdy "tricks or treat" bag with Halloween decorations and rope handles for the small fry to carry on their annual trek from door to door.

If a party is the idea for the evening, whisper a number in the ear of each guest as he or she arrives, warning them to remember it. A gong or frying pan sounds off at intervals during the evening, and whoever hears his number pealed off, must lie prone on the floor until he hears the gong strike a single note again, or be penalized. Across the room at a height just above the head stretch black yarn with pieces of wet sewing thread dangling at various lengths where they will brush across a person's face, a more realistic cobweb than the actual one.

Black yarn also plays a part in a spiderweb dance. Guests line up on each side of the room while a ghost gives them lengths of black yarn stretching from a person on one side to a person on the opposite side, tangle the yarn in several other lengths before giving an end to the second person. Each person must untangle his yarn to find his correct partner.

A contest to determine the best jack o'lantern designer requires large apples, paring knives, raisins, marshmallows, prunes, toothpicks and candles. The contestant carves the "jack o'lantern" from the apple, and puts in features made from the other items. A novel jack o'lantern for a decorative center at the party may be a traditional pumpkin one but with leaves of lettuce for hair, half green peppers for ears, a red radish for nose and a carrot in the mouth for a cigar, all attached with toothpicks.

A box of old garments, hats and shoes is needed for "dressing the scarecrow." Divide the group into two, giving each member of each team the name of some famous person of history — Napoleon, Lucrezia Borgia. As the director calls out a name, the person with that name selects an article of clothing from the box and puts it on the scarecrow, one member from each team not having received a name, acting as the scarecrow for his team. The first scarecrow dressed by all members of his team wins for his team.

Richly Satisfying Concert Given by Conrad Thibault

By MAY MURRAY
Women's Activities Editor

A gracious evening filled with song—operatic, familiar favorites, folksongs, hymns and modern compositions—was given to the audience at the first concert of the Winona Community Concert Association's 1954-55 season Tuesday evening at Winona Senior High School.

Artist of the evening was Conrad Thibault whose rich baritone was joined to diction which was a marvel of perfection, to a love of music, understanding of both music and text and to the ability to project the meaning of the text from the stage to the audience.

Possibly no one number more beautifully illustrated his ability to search out the true thought of the words being sung and to convey that thought, than the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," one of the encores.

Songs From Overseas
Songs from overseas were offered in the first group which was climaxed with "O du mein holder Abendstern" from "Tannhauser," its beauty building to hold the audience in stillness.

Noticeable throughout the concert was Mr. Thibault's possession of the audience, held in silence until the last note. Two Schubert songs with contrasting moods were delightful to hear followed by the songs of two French composers, again sharp contrasts in themes. A translation of Brahms "Von Ewig Liebe" followed.

The concert stage became a sanctuary for the greatness of "Lord God of Abraham" from "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, the ever-present beauty of the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria" and "The Lord Is God." Many of the other offerings also were imbued with the thought of God including "To the Children" by Rachmaninoff.

Remembers Old Times
Melodic loveliness in the modeling of tone and phrase marked such compositions as "Dreams" by Malotte, "With These Hands," "September," and "Simple Gifts" by Copland sung by Mr. Thibault. "Sylvia," "Amie Laurie," "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair" and "Maple Candy" were among the encores.

The artist's wit and mimicry took him from the Irish of "The Bonnie Wee Mare" and the English folksong "My Old Nag Ned" to the Texas cowboy song, "All Day On the Prairie in My Saddle I Ride."

Accompanist Stanton Carter also offered wide variety in his portion of the program, re-emphasizing the versatility of technique and interpretation which marked his accompaniments. His solos were "Prelude in A minor by Foulene" by Rachmaninoff in which the composer's clear rippling keynote is whimsically interpolated with joltingly modern idiom, and his encore, "Spanish Rhumba" by Lecuona.

McCarthy Asks Stevens for Press Data

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), evidently as a part of his defense against censure charges, renewed today a request for information about the Peress case from an old adversary, Secretary of the Army Stevens.

One of the grounds cited by a special six-man committee in recommending that McCarthy be censured by the full Senate was an accusation that he abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker last February while questioning him about Maj. Irving Peress.

Peress is a New York dentist described by the Wisconsin senator as a "Fifth Amendment Communist" who, he says, was promoted and honorably discharged despite a refusal to answer questions about alleged Red ties. The Army has conceded the case was badly handled.

Zwicker, now stationed in Japan, was commanding officer at Camp Kilmer, N.J., when Peress was discharged from that post. The senator's questioning of Zwicker was one of the sparks which ignited McCarthy's row with Stevens and led to the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Soviet Encyclopedia Calls Minnesota 'Backward' State

MOSCOW (AP)—The new Great Soviet Encyclopedia says that "Minnesota's economy, compared to the regions lying to the east, is backward."

These are practically the same words which the volume uses to describe Missouri. This apparently indicates a dim view is taken here of Middle Western states, although Michigan is hailed as "one of the most highly developed."

The encyclopedia says Minnesota's main resources are "cattle breeding in the eastern part and cultivating of the soil in the west."

Minneapolis is described as "an important railway junction, the starting point for ships going down the Mississippi and the trading and financial center for large agricultural regions west of Lake Superior. Practically it is joined to the town of St. Paul."

"Owing to the ruin of certain farmers," the volume stated, "there has been a decrease in the number of farms from 203,000 in 1935 to 179,000 in 1950. In 1945, 86,000 farmers were tilling rented soil and 83,000 farms were mortgaged."

"To the west of Lake Superior lies the Mesabi iron ore region, which produces two thirds of the iron ore in the United States," the article added.

Wisconsin Coon
Oscar Norton, veteran Winona coon hunter, was in this morning, and told us about his coon dog getting half a dozen racoon in a single evening, and complaining about Minnesota's early opening this year. Apparently most coon hunters have been experiencing good hunting despite the heavy foliage.

All of which reminded us that the racoon season in Buffalo and Trempealeau counties opens this weekend. The lid goes off at 1 p.m. Saturday which means the first hunting will be Saturday night. Pegin and Jackson counties opened Oct. 2 with most hunters complaining the same as those in Minnesota about it being too early.

Wisconsin differs from Minnesota in that it has a season limit of 20. In Minnesota, there is no limit on the number of coon that can be taken in a night or season. Incidentally, Minnesota coon trapping season does not open until Nov. 6. Fur buyers will be interested in these late-taken racoons.

Through a planting system established a number of years ago, Wisconsin has developed a black racoon that has an added value on the fur market. The state raised this species at the game farm and released them in coon areas. The cross-breeding has improved most Wisconsin pelts.

A strange development this year has been the market for coon meat. Coon hunters have found that the dressed animal brings him more than the skin. Biggest buyers are clubs that put on "coon feeds" during the winter months. In Wisconsin, if the coon is legally taken its meat can be sold.

Next to bears, racoons are probably the most entertaining animals of the north climate. Its colorful markings make it conspicuous, and its playfulness has caused many of them

We have received more reports of hunters bagging a goose, or hunters getting almost close enough to get a shot. Most duck hunters are now carrying a few heavy loads for geese.

Four Winona hunters, including Don Gostonski, Ray Bublitz, Bob Duff and Herb Hasinger, got five out of a flock of about 40 Canada honkers that circled down over a section of the Weaver bottomlands Sunday. This should be a record in this area for local hunters.

College Coaches Promise Good Game Saturday Night

Gene Brodhagen, Winona State coach, and Chet Bulger, St. Mary's grid mentor, agreed on one thing at Tuesday night's Quarterback Club meeting.

Both predicted a rough, tough, rock-sock-em game Saturday night at Maxwell Field when their two squads collide in the 1934 renewal of the colorful city college football rivalry.

The Maxwell Field clash finds two teams with greatly different season records meeting. The St. Mary's Redmen are winless this season going into the game, while the Winona State Warriors have lost but one game, that a 6-0 defeat to St. Cloud Saturday in the State Teachers Conference championship decider.

Brodhagen, previewing the Warrior-Redmen clash, was quick to point out that previous records mean little in this game. "St. Mary's always is up for it—season scores or records don't mean a thing."

Hopeful that his Warriors would rebound from their loss at St. Cloud, Brodhagen added, "We usually come up for the St. Mary's game."

Bulger, after reviewing his team's 27-6 defeat by Duluth Branch Saturday night, pointed out some encouraging factors in that loss, and told the members at the YMCA meeting, "You come out and see the ball game Saturday night—I promise you that you'll see a pretty good game."

Talks by Johnny Nett of Cotter and Gordie Paschka of Winona High were preceded by a humorous bit of banter.

Bulger was re-introduced by emcee Chuck Williams and the St. Mary's coach said, "We have a very special guest here with us tonight."

"He has been voted by all of the coaches in Winona and sports writers in Winona County as the outstanding blocker of the year. And we would like to honor him at this time."

Bulger then called an astounded Merritt Kelly, Daily News photographer, to the head table. Kelly, who had been assigned to attend the meeting "for picture purposes," shuffled up to the head table with a sheepish grin on his face.

Bulger continued, "As the outstanding blocker in Winona, we have several things to present to you. The first is a 10-year scholarship to St. Mary's College!"

Then Bulger handed Kelly an authentic St. Mary's red-and-white athletic letter and draped a "Hero" emblazoned football sign around his neck. Modest as usual, Kelly's only remark, prompted by the appearance of Daily News staffer Earl Gilbert who took a picture, was, "I thought I smelled something fishy here."

The "honoring" of Kelly was arranged as a result of an occurrence in the recent St. Mary's-Macalester game. Kelly, who was on the sidelines taking pictures, was involved in a collision with some players attempting to run a ball carrier out of bounds.

Kelly suffered pulled knee ligaments on the play, but made speedy recovery as football injuries go.

Paschka, next speaker on the program, said of the 26-20 loss to Red Wing, "They had a little too much for us," referring to Red Wing's dangerous combined running-passing offense.

Referring to the Winhawks' chances at Northfield Friday night, Paschka said some of the boys on the squad "are still hungry, but some of them are just going through the motions."

Paschka has plenty of respect for Northfield. "They've only got two more chances to win a ball game and we're one of the chances. Two years ago we went over there and got beat 14-0 and if they fire up for us Friday night, while we play a so-so game, we'll probably get a shellacking."

Nett, speaking of the 7-6 victory Friday night by Cotter against St. Felix, revealed, "You don't sleep any better after a close game than if you had lost. St. Felix played good, tough football and they were in there trying all of the time. Our boys found that out."

Looking to Friday night's game at Rochester against Lourdes in what will decide the Southern Minnesota Catholic Conference championship, Nett said, "Lourdes is undefeated and was unscored on until the last two games. I expect that we'll have to play a real good game to win."

The game-by-game analysis of the coaches in their most recent outings included some of the following comments:

Paschka — "Red Wing had that 6-6 end, Deden, and when they passed to him they threw the ball high. Our boys had him covered but didn't have oxygen masks and couldn't go up that high."

He said the "most important series of downs in the game" as far as Winona was concerned, took place after the Hawks scored first and held a 7-0 lead with the ball in Red Wing territory.

"If we could have gone down and scored again we would have had them on the run. But we fumbled and Red Wing recovered on the 40-yard line."

Brodhagen — "After the St. Cloud game I was very much disappointed at first, but then I realized that our players gave everything they had and you couldn't ask for more."

"We had some opportunities and if some things had gone a little differently, we would have won. The fellows put out a great effort, despite the fact that they were outweighed 15 to 20 pounds a man in the line."

Bulger—"Our game with Duluth found us making some of the same mistakes we've been making all year. Two weeks ago we had 42 men on the squad and now we're down to 29. We've had 11 injuries in the last two weeks."

Nett—"Late in the game, with Cotter leading St. Felix 7-6, we were deep in our own territory with not too much time left. Our quarterback passed us out on the hole... it's a good play when it works!"

Movies of the 1933 professional football championship game between the Detroit Lions and Cleveland Browns concluded the meeting.

STAR WINGBACK... Colorado's football team will be counting heavily on wingback Frank Bernardi in its game Saturday with Oklahoma, undefeated in 42 Big Seven Conference games. Bernardi, a sophomore, has carried the ball 40 times this season for an 11.2 average per carry. (AP Wirephoto)

Badgers Set To Bounce Back Against Iowa

By JACK BURKE
MADISON, Wis. (U.S.)—Look out, Iowa!

That's the reaction one gets from talking with members of the University of Wisconsin football team, and from watching the Badgers drill for their game at Iowa Saturday.

Here are some random quotes from the players themselves:

"Somebody is going to get it—after what we had to take at Ohio State—and Iowa is the first in line."

"Watch us come back. We've lost for the last time this year."

"We can't have two in a row like that last one, and we got a lot to make up for."

Coches Ivy Williamson, in less forceful words, echoed the Badgers' feelings, nonetheless. He said: "We'll be all right. We'll be ready for Iowa."

Jinx or no jinx, the Badgers were bumped plenty last Saturday, losing to the Buckeyes, 31-14, and failing to come up with a victory again in the series between the schools. Williamson, at camp Randall since 1949, has seen his teams lose four times to Ohio State and manage to get as good as a tie only once.

On the other hand, Iowa has not licked a Wisconsin club since Williamson took charge here. The Badgers have won five in a row, including last year's narrow 10-6 squeak. The all-time series shows Wisconsin with 22 victories in 31 meetings.

Williamson expects the Badgers' passing attack to maintain the potency it displayed against Ohio State, when it clicked on 22 of 36 throws for 270 yards and one touchdown, expects his running offense to function more effectively and his team's depth to pay off against the Iowans.

He feels confident, too, that full-back Alan Ameche, held to a scant 42 yards by the Bucks, will have a much better day. Not since he was held to a net of 31 yards by UCLA in 1932 has "The Horse" made such an impotent showing.

The Wisconsin squad, after completing its preparations here with a light drill Friday, will fly to Cedar Rapids that afternoon and spend the night there, going to Iowa City by bus Saturday morning.

Victory-Starved Wildcats Hope to Upset Ohio State

EVANSTON, Ill. (U.S.)—The victory-starved Northwestern Wildcats could turn this dismal season into a real success with a triumph Saturday over Ohio State.

Coch Bob Voigts, flustered because his team has lost three of its last four games by one touchdown, realizes Ohio State is the No. 1 team in the nation.

"Ohio State is a very fine team," he said yesterday. "I think they're better defensively than we are. We've lost last year and they have a good forward wall. Both (Bobby) Watkins and (Hopalong) Cassidy are real good and that Cassidy can break up a ball game any time."

"But we're out to beat them, and we can do it, I think, if we play the type of ball we did against Michigan in the last half. Cassidy, of course, is our big problem."

Northwestern fell before Michigan 7-0, but the Wildcats held the Wolverines to a scant eight yards rushing in the second half and finished with a big advantage in the statistics.

Bothered with fumbles most of the season, Northwestern appears to have solved the problem. The Wildcats lost the ball only twice to Pitt last Saturday. However, the Panthers scored in the final seconds to win 14-7.

Fight Results

BOSTON — Jackie Blair, 134½, Dallas, and Lulu Perez, 131, Brooklyn, drew 10.

B Squads Tie 6-6

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—Junior varsity Houston and Lanesboro teams tied in a scrimmage here Monday night, 6-6.

Tom Dubbs of Houston scored in the first quarter with a 70-yard run and Jay Johnson made an end run for 40 yards for Lanesboro in the second quarter.

BEST BLOCKER... Chet Bulger, left, St. Mary's football coach, presents Daily News photographer Merritt Kelly with a letter after hanging a "Hero" badge on him. The gag was rigged up at Tuesday night's YMCA Quarterback Club meeting. Kelly, who collided with some players on the sidelines of the St. Mary's-Macalester game, was named "the best blocker of the year." (Daily News Sports photo)

Ameche Tabs Cassady as Star of Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin's Alan Ameche wasn't kidding last week when he tabbed Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, Ohio State half back, as an "underestimated back who should be All America."

Coaches and sports writers enthusiastically seconded that nomination today when they picked the 177-pound Ohio State junior as The Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance against Wisconsin last Saturday.

"Cassady was the difference," said Wisconsin Coach Ivy Williamson. "He's been the big guy every year against us. He does these things all the time — and just when they hurt most."

Where "Hoppy" really hurt the Badgers was by intercepting a pass and racing 88 yards for a touchdown that put Ohio State ahead 10-7 in the third quarter. After that, Wisconsin's defenses fell apart and Ohio moved to three touchdowns in six plays.

Cassady didn't expect to score when he grabbed Jim Miller's pass. "I just got it and thought I'd run as far as I could," he explained. "Somebody threw me a beautiful block and then when I got down on the sidelines near our bench, I thought maybe I could go if I cut back."

He cut and, as Coach Woody Hayes put it, "turned on all the jets."

In addition to that run, Cassidy gained 59 yards in 7 runs from scrimmage, caught 2 passes for 25 yards and did some great blocking.

Bettor Collects Bookie Instead of His Money

CRANSTON, R.I. (U.S.)—Anthony J. Morretti called a Cranston resident yesterday and placed a $10 bet on a horse running at Suffolk Downs, Mass.

The horse, Flying Tuck, won and paid $205.50 on Morretti's bet—but Morretti won't collect. He's a police inspector and he placed the bet merely to gain evidence against the bookie.

Wisconsin Favored Over Iowa, Gophers Expected to Lose

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (U.S.)—Purdue, Ohio State, Michigan and Pittsburgh mixed knockout drops in the Ol' Swam's tea leaves last week. He's trying to recover:

Ohio State 27, Northwestern 13 — The bustling Buckeyes have bounded into the No. 1 ranking of the AP poll off their 31-14 decision over Wisconsin... Northwestern, after eight successive conference losses dating back to 1932, could salvage the season with an upset. But the Wildcats, even if they weren't plagued by injuries this week, will have to spring the surprise on some one else.

Wisconsin 14, Iowa 7 — Here's a vote of confidence that the Badgers will forget that nightmare at Ohio State and continue to chase the Big Ten title... They certainly can't be counted out with only one defeat against them, but they could with another... Iowa downed Indiana last week and is gradually working back up the ladder after league setbacks to Michigan and Ohio State... And the Hawkeyes will have the home town cheering section behind them at Iowa City...

Michigan 20, Indiana 13 — The Wolverines may cool off after single-winging over Minnesota 34-0, but not enough to be upset by Indiana... Maybe the Hoosiers are ready to jell, like Michigan did against the Gophers 13-7.

Purdue 21, Illinois 13 — Len Dawson's passing and Bill Mura-kowski's bull-like rushes should keep the Illini working overtime... Illinois' line and blocking still looked pitiful in a ragged 34-6 triumph over Syracuse... J. C. Caroline may be more than a match for the Boilermakers, however... The Illini halfback has rushed for 380 yards in 70 trips so far this season compared to 734 in 98 at the same time last year... In his last three games he has made 28 unassisted tackles on defense... Look for more passes being thrown his way from now on.

Michigan State 19, Minnesota 13 — Figuring the Spartans' speed can knock out the Gophers' split-T machinery...

Notre Dame 21, Navy 14 — A big upset could be brewing here, for the inspired Middies have one of their better teams and will be shooting for their first victory over the Irish since a 32-13 conquest in 1944... However, the Irish have had two weeks to prepare for this — and they needed it...

Friday night—Detroit 14, Marquette 13—Cincinnati was able to pin only a 21-13 licking on Detroit, but smashed the Warriors 30-13.

Bowling Clinic

By Billy Sixty

WIDE VARIETY OF BALLS

Dots and Slots Legal — All bowling balls that do not exceed 16 pounds in weight, without metal contacts of any kind, are approved by the American Bowling Congress. There is good reason for this: The wide variety of legal balls makes it possible for every bowler, from women and beginners to top experts, to find a ball that fits the hand well. Dotted holes for index and small fingers (sketch) strengthen the grip and are especially helpful to women and small men. A slot for the third finger has been found helpful by some bowlers in lifting and spinning the ball easily. Even the five-fingered ball is in use, with good results. Holes may legally be curved or boxed, and they may be bored at any angle. It is only smart for the bowler to take advantage of equipment advances, and there is no excuse for any bowler — regardless of age, sex, or sex — to settle for anything less than a ball that fits his or her hand and is suited to any exceptional or unusual physical characteristics. Good bowling begins with the proper ball. "Proper" means the right one for you, regardless of how it might suit anyone else.

Gophers Rated Underdog for Homecoming

MINNEAPOLIS (U.S.)—The shoe is on the other foot this week for Minnesota's football team.

Playing at Ann Arbor last week before a strongly partisan Michigan homecoming crowd, the Wolverines slugged Minnesota, 34-0.

This Saturday it's the Gophers' homecoming, and they're rated one touchdown underdogs to Michigan State, as strong a team as ever dropped three conference games in four starts.

The peping up process was evident in Tuesday's practice. Operating against Michigan State's offense, as run by the freshmen, the Gopher defense showed to good advantage. The varsity had somewhat more difficulty running against a tough freshman defense.

Coch Murray Warmath appeared satisfied after the hour-long indoor scrimmage, something conspicuous by its absence last week. He's still looking for the backs to get away for some long gains.

Schoonover Bowls 517 Set

Two honor counts were reported from action in Winona bowling leagues following Tuesday night's league play.

Both were scored in the Ladies City League at Hal-Rod Lanes. Betty Schoonover of Weaver & Sons fired a 517 set and Lucille Shaale included a 205 single in a 502 honor count.

Otherwise, it was pretty much even-tempered as far as scores from the remaining leagues were concerned.

Fred Burmeister of Brandt's Food Market bowled a 220 single and 578 series in the Tuesday League at St. Martin's and Gordy Addington of Graham & McGuire in the Commercial League at the Keglers Klub fired 213-577.

Bob Thurlay of the Skelly Oilers in the 4-City League at Hal-Rod posted 220-570, while honors in the Elks League at the Keglers Klub went to Fritz Malawicki of Home Furniture who rolled a 217 single and Vic Pelowski of Bub's Beer with a 554 series.

IKE

He added that Congress has the last word and can go after it if it wants to.

Eisenhower said he does not believe basic foreign policy has been an issue in the political campaign. America's broad basic program of solidifying the free world must be nonpartisan and it has been, he said.

A reporter asked if the President would consider the election of a Democratic Congress as a vote of no confidence in him and his program.

No, the President replied, adding that the general effect of messages he had received was that the people wouldn't put him into the election. That was a general complaint from the Republican side, he said.

Among political strategists on both sides, it seems agreed that the President is making some headway for Republican candidates.

Democrats did not seriously dispute Republican claims that the President is making votes for his party's Senate and House candidates. But they did contend Eisenhower's late campaigning is not of sufficient weight to overcome what they call a general Democratic trend.

Charges News Blackout

Deputy National Chairman Clayton W. Fritchey said Democrats face a virtual news blackout in the closing days of the campaign.

Fritchey said in an interview the Republicans are using the President to "obtain domination of the newspapers, and the airways" and crowding the Democrats off the front pages. He said this is bound to have some effect, but that reports from individual races still indicate his party will win control of both houses of Congress.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell asked the national television and radio networks yesterday for free time to match that given to Eisenhower for what the White House called "nonpolitical" speeches.

Mitchell suggested coverage of a speech by Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) said in an interview he believes Eisenhower's talks have been helping Republican candidates, but not enough to change the results materially.

Sess Close Vote

"I think we Democrats will take the Senate by one vote—two, if you count Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) who says he will vote with us," Robertson said. "I think we will take the House with a 30-vote margin."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said the President is "impressing the people favorably—his campaigning can't but help the Republican party as well as the country."

Aiken said he believes the GOP will retain control of the Senate "with 50 or 49 seats." They now hold 49. He thought a few weeks ago the Republicans would lose the House, Aiken said, but now believes that contest is a "draw."

Some politicians were comparing the President's intensified campaigning with that of former President Truman in 1948, but Fritchey contended the situation is different now.

"In 1948 it was a national election, settled on national issues," he said. "This year we have an election that is going to be settled in many areas at least in part on local issues. All the state polls show there is a Democratic trend. If there weren't such a trend, some of these polls would show the Republicans ahead."

Fritchey said he thought the Democratic victory in the Maine governor election and newspaper polls showing Democrats running ahead in New York had prompted the Republicans to "galvanize the President into action."

Lake Citian Apprehends Escaper, 16

LAKE CITY, Minn. — Lake City Police Officer Charles Schmidt early Tuesday apprehended a 16-year-old escaper from the Red Wing State Training School who had kept ahead of Red Wing police in a 95-mile-an-hour chase.

The youth, Robert Anderson, Minneapolis, earlier in the evening stole a car at a Red Wing service station, took cash registers from two stations, poured gasoline into a gutter and set it afire and entered a grade school and took $5 cents.

He interrupted the theft spree to buy 12 gallons of gasoline at another service station.

By this time Red Wing police were following the trail, including the blazing gas in the gutter. They found him sitting in the stolen car not far from the training school, nonchalantly smoking a cigarette.

The youth took off for Lake City. Red Wing police drove 90 to 95 miles an hour in an unsuccessful effort to overtake Anderson. Near the Terrace Cafe, Schmidt came to the rescue.

Later back at the Red Wing jail, the escaper told police that he was planning to pick up another youth at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and start for Mexico.

St. Cloud Inmate's Suicide Leap Off Cellblock Stopped

ST. CLOUD, Minn. — Several guards today subdued an inmate who threatened to take his own life by jumping from the third tier of a cell block at the state reformatory here.

The inmate, who was not identified, broke from his place in line as the men marched to their cells after breakfast. Ellsworth Scott, assistant superintendent, said.

He raced up the steps to the third tier and threatened to jump if anyone approached. A rescue squad from the St. Cloud Fire Department stretched a net under the railing, as guards climbed up a ladder behind the man and subdued him. The inmate is serving a five-year term for assault.

The St. Cloud Fire Department paid a visit to the reformatory Tuesday when fire broke out in an equipment and tool shed, causing $400 damage. It was believed caused by an overheated stove.

Bowles, who led demonstrations which disrupted the integration of white and Negro pupils in the schools at Milford, Del., was arrested in Delaware Oct. 10 on a charge of conspiracy to interrupt the education of schoolchildren.

He operated a roofing company—now defunct—in Baltimore in 1932 and 1933.

DENNIS THE MENACE

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.S.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Slovenliness. In his study of over 700 couples, Professor L. M. Terman had husbands and wives check their complaints against each other. Calculations showed "slovenliness" was hubby's most "serious" grievance. "Inconsiderateness" was the wives' pet peeve. This and a similar study by Burgess and Cottrell is summed up in my booklet, "Your Success in Marriage." Nonprofit, 15c. (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Probably. Biologist Hunt and chemist Hoppert bred two strains of rats fed on food that produced caries. The doctors now have one strain that develops tooth decay in 30 to 60 days; the other, in 550 days. "Inheritance is a significant factor," says Dr. Hunt. Only years of research will tell whether this is true of human beings, but it looks probable.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. True. Marguerite Clark, medical writer, says in "After the Doctor Leaves" many families say, "He didn't tell us what to do if the fever rises or drops, or whether John should eat beans, bacon, or cabbage, etc." The poor, overworked doctor can't stop for a family visit if he is to make a living. Still, he might take a minute to tell you how to carry on.

THE GRAB BAG

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. Who said, "If I were an American, as I am an Englishman, while a foreign troop landed in my country I would never lay down my arms, never! never!"
  2. What French author of the Nineteenth century is considered master of short-story writing?
  3. Who were Hero and Leander?
  4. Who was the author of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table"?
  5. What European river flows through three national capitals?
- HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?
1. William Pitt, the elder, Earl of Chatham.
  2. Henri Guy de Maupassant—1850-1893.
  3. A pair of lovers who lived on opposite sides of the Hellespont. Leander swam the straits each night until he was drowned in a tempest.
  4. Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes.
  5. The Danube flows through Vienna, capital of Austria; Budapest, Hungary and Belgrade, Yugoslavia.
- Assam in southeast Asia averages 400 inches of rain a year.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

We are so busy beefing about what is wrong with this country and bawling its slow but sure degeneration that we don't realize that to millions of people America is still the land of their dreams, the wonderland, the land of unlimited opportunities.

Take the story of that 18-year-old German stowaway who survived 11 days without food or water in the sealed hold of a freighter, just hoping that after years and years of dreaming about this country he would make the grade.

Alfred Oestman, blond, blue-eyed, 6 foot 3, would have died if a seaman had not forgotten a rope and opened the hatch after the ship had docked in Brooklyn.

There he found the kid, emaciated, weak and in a state of collapse. He had lost many pounds during the trip and had to be taken to the infirmary where he was fed and restored.

Alfred does not speak a word of English. But through an interpreter he said that one day he would be back again. He would try to get a job in Germany and save his money and come back "the regular way."

He had a brief glimpse of this country and of the Statue of Liberty on his way from the hospital to the ship.

When he saw the Statue, all he could say was "Gee!" — which, I suppose is the same in German as in English.

Alfred Oestman is typical of the millions whose one hope it is to get to this country some day and be human beings again. The last time I was in Europe—and it is the same today as many returning correspondents tell me—the one thing they want to know is how easy or how difficult it is to come to America.

And mind you, those Europeans and Asians don't really envy us our material things so very much. Oh, yes, they admire the costly American clothes of our tourists and their diamond rings and their expensive luggage and shoes and bracelets.

But that is not what they want to come to America for. They look on America through spiritual eyes. They hunger—as hungry as they may be for decent food—for the very things about which we here have become so illous and which we take so much for granted.

I do wish we could stop our internal squabbling and our griping about so many unimportant things.

I do wish that we could transport ourselves back into the places of our ancestors who made this country what it is today and who paved the rough road for us so that we may travel on it the easy way.

Ceylon, U.S. Pact Reported in Making

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A reliable source said today Premier Sir John Kotelawala is asking his Cabinet to approve a friendship pact with the United States. The Ceylonese Foreign Ministry, however, denied any knowledge of such a treaty.
