129th Commencement

Saturday, May 27, 1989
Memorial Hall—McCown Gymnasium
A graduation ceremony is a significant as well as symbolic event. It represents the attainment of a goal, the reward of sacrifice. It represents the sacrifice of energy, time, and dollars in order to achieve that which is worthwhile. It also represents the culmination of an important and exciting time of your life.

May you look back to your college days at Winona State University with great affection and may you always view your college days as the best of times.

Two terms are used almost interchangeably to identify the ceremony we celebrate today: graduation and commencement. Graduation means to complete something, and commencement means to begin something. We call the ceremony commencement because it is more of a beginning than an end. Today represents the beginning of a new and exciting chapter in your life.

I know I speak for the entire faculty and staff of Winona State University in offering you heartiest congratulations on your graduation and commencement, and wish you the best for the future.

Dr. John (Jack) Kane
Interim President
Winona State University's history reaches back to 1858 when the first Minnesota State Legislature passed a bill authorizing the establishment of normal schools “to prepare teachers for teaching in the common schools of the State.” A Board was established by the Legislature to secure locations for three normal schools to be opened at five-year intervals.

In 1859, the Board agreed to establish the first Normal School at Winona, making it the first tax-supported school west of the Mississippi dedicated to training teachers for the new frontier. The citizens of Winona acted quickly to support the school and donated over $7,000 in money and land to secure the school for the city.

In 1860, classes began in a building provided by agreement with the City of Winona.

The first class of students to graduate had to endure three days of final exams, written and oral, which were open to the public. These were part of the formal commencement exercises and served as a showcase to inform the public of the work and value of normal school study.

That first “commencement” was in June 1861 and was the culmination of the mission of the institution — the preparation of teachers.

Since that first commencement, the school has continually grown and updated its goals to meet new educational needs. In 1921, the State Normal School became Winona State Teachers College and was authorized to grant the bachelor’s degree. Another name change, to Winona State College in 1957, reflected a increased mission that included the addition of the bachelor of arts, master of science in education and associate in arts degrees. In 1975, the school received full university status.

Today, Winona State University is structured into five colleges: Liberal Arts, Science and Technology, Nursing and Health Sciences, Business, and Education. It is one of the seven universities in the Minnesota State University System. Full-time enrollment on the Winona campus and WSU’s Rochester Center totals approximately 6,000. An additional 2,700 residents of southeastern Minnesota are served through the university’s Adult Education Extension programs.

The undergraduate program at WSU offers studies in over 80 academic areas. Fourteen graduate programs are also offered.

During its 129th academic year, a sense of renewed excitement for the future is evident. New courses and programs will emphasize WSU’s commitment to teaching, especially in the expansion of computer science offerings, a master’s degree in nursing, and a proposed undergraduate program in advanced composite materials science which will be the first of its kind in the nation. WSU supports faculty and graduate research, as well as research and development services for local business and industry. The commitment to service at WSU is also evident in the ongoing activities of interaction with the community and the region at large through many outreach programs including cultural events, workshops, extended education, and advising.

As the decade of the 1980s draws to a close, Winona State University will begin its 129th year of providing quality education to the citizens of southeastern Minnesota. New courses and programs will emphasize WSU’s commitment to teaching, especially in the expansion of computer science offerings, the master’s degree in nursing, and the undergraduate program in advanced composite materials science which is the first of its kind in the nation. WSU supports research through its faculty and graduate programs, as well as through laboratory services such as the new center for testing composite materials which supports local industry as well as provides hands-on experience for students. The commitment to serve at WSU is evident in the ongoing activities of interaction with the community and the region at large through many outreach programs including cultural events, workshops, extended education, and advising.

Teaching -- research -- service: The focal points of Winona State University’s mission to the citizens of southeastern Minnesota.

ALMA MATER

"Hail! Winona"
(audience standing)
by Charlotte Chorpenning

HAIL! WINONA

Lo, in Mississippi's waters,
Blue the eternal sky;
In our hearts, O Alma Mater,
Clear thy spirit high!

Chorus

Noble hills watch o'er the valley
Where thy dwelling lies;
Steadfast hearts, O Alma Mater,
Guard thy destinies.
(Repeat Chorus)

Lift the chorus
Send it ringing
Far o'er hill and vale!
Hail to thee, O Alma Mater!
Hail, Winona, hail!

Ever shall tomorrow better
What today hath won;
Lead thy children, Alma Mater,
On, forever on!
(Repeat Chorus)

RECESSIONAL

"Proud Heritage",
William Latham

RECEPTION IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE CEREMONY

WSU Alumni Society for providing lapel pins to the graduates
Dave Durenberger was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1978 to fill the remaining four years of the term to which Hubert Humphrey had been elected in 1976. He was re-elected in 1982 and in 1988 becoming the first Republican U.S. Senator from Minnesota to be elected to a third term since 1912. He now ranks 38 in seniority among his colleagues and 17 in seniority among the Senate Republicans.

During his terms in the Senate, he has consistently ranked as Minnesota's most popular statewide elected official and has emerged as a leader in the Senate on health care and environmental protection. He has earned the reputation among his colleagues as a thoughtful and effective legislator.

Durenberger was born and raised on the campus of St. John's University in rural Stearns County where his father was the long-time athletic director. He earned his bachelor's degree from St. John's in 1955 and served as intelligence officer in the U.S. Army. In 1959 he received a law degree from the University of Minnesota and was a practicing attorney for seven years.

In 1967 he became chief of staff to Governor Harold LeVander and in 1971 was counsel for legal and community affairs at H. B. Fuller Co. in St. Paul.

In the Senate he has served on the Select Committee on Intelligence, Finance Committee, Committee on Labor and Human Resources, Governmental Affairs Committee, and Special Senate Committee on Aging.

Durenberger is an accomplished public speaker, a published author, founder of national foundations, and has been recognized dozens of times by state and national organizations for outstanding service.
Academic Costume and Procession

The traditions of academic apparel and procession date back to as early as the 12th century when the first "modern" universities at Bologna and Paris were the centers of European learning. The usual garb of the time, for both churchmen and laymen, was a long gown — a necessity for warmth in the unheated buildings of that era. Scholars, generally members of church orders in those days, wore such robes as well as hoods to protect their shaved heads. Later skull caps were worn and the hood became a cape that could be pulled over the head in case of unpleasant weather.

Today there are three basic types of gowns and hoods. The bachelor's gown has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed at the front. The master's gown is designed with an oblong sleeve, open at the wrist, and with an arc cut away at the front of the sleeve. It may be worn either open or closed. The doctoral gown is of a full design with voluminous bell sleeves, and it also may be worn open or closed.

The hoods worn by those who hold a master's degree are lined with the official color of the institution awarding the degree. Thus, graduates of WSU receive a hood lined with purple and white. Hoods on the WSU faculty and administration show the colors of the institution where their degrees were obtained. The binding or edging of the hood is silk or velvet and the color indicates the subject area or discipline as listed above and below.

Caps retain the traditional color of black but the tassel colors each have meaning. The gold tassels indicate the degree of bachelor of science and white is for the bachelor of arts. The black tassel indicates the master's degree and specialist degrees. Doctoral tassels are usually of metallic gold.

The exceptions to this at Winona State University are the associate degrees (two-year) who wear blue gowns, caps, and tassels.

Some graduates of Winona State University also wear honor cords. These are worn over the shoulder and indicate a high academic standing or grade-point-average. Those graduating "cum laude" have accumulated a grade-point-average of 3.25 to 3.49 and wear purple honor cords. "Magna cum laude" graduates have accumulated a gpa of 3.50 to 3.74 and wear honor cords of silver. Gold honor cords indicate graduating "summa cum laude" which indicates a gpa of 3.75 to 4.0.

Customs of the commencement processional vary a great deal. At Winona State University, the first to enter the auditorium at the start of the ceremony is the stage party consisting of the President, guest speakers, deans of the five colleges of WSU, and others being honored such as retiring faculty who will be named faculty emeritus.

Next into the auditorium are the candidates for degrees — the graduates. The order of this procession is by colleges beginning with the College of Business and then the College of Education, College of Liberal Arts, College of Nursing and Health Sciences, and finally the College of Science and Technology. Each college of graduates is led in procession by a marshal who is academically the highest ranking junior. The marshals carry the banner depicting their respective colleges. The chevron of the banners indicates the disciplines or subject areas within the college and the main banner displays the purple and white colors for WSU.

Within the individual colleges, the graduates march in order of their degree beginning with the associate degrees, then bachelor's degrees, master's degrees and where appropriate sixth-year and specialist degrees. Winona State University does not confer doctorate degrees.

Following the graduates in the processional are the faculty and administration of Winona State University. They enter the auditorium in the order of their seniority at WSU. The retired faculty and administration are also invited to process and enter as a separate group in a place of honor.

Some of the colors of the master's and doctoral hoods indicate the following disciplines:

Winona State University was born more than 125 Years ago. . . .

The pioneer spirit that grew up in Minnesota kindled the flame of pursuing knowledge and is still burning brightly at Winona State University. From humble, yet sincere, beginnings as a normal school to train teachers in 1860, Winona State has grown into a regional complex of higher learning with comprehensive programming.

From 31 students in 1860 to over 5,500 in 1988, Winona State has serviced the educational needs of southeastern Minnesota and will continue to attend those of the future. From the dream of the first legislators and educators to the realities of Winona State's past, a new volume chronicles the most complete and up-to-date history of this first, state-supported school of its kind for advanced education in Minnesota.

Winona State University: A History of One Hundred Twenty-five Years was written by Dr. Robert A. DuFresne, Distinguished Service Professor and President of Winona State from 1967-1977. You won't want to miss any of this interesting chronicle whether you're an alumni, a student, a parent of an enrolled student or an interested friend. Winona State's history is now available in a softbound book for $6 or in an attractive hardbound edition for $11. Order one for yourself and one as a gift.

Mission Statement

Winona State University nestled in the bluffs of the Mississippi River is not only the first of Minnesota's state universities but the first state supported teacher training institution established west of the Mississippi River. It is a regional state university with a basic mission to serve the broad educational needs of the people of Southeastern Minnesota and to such nonresidents as are attracted to the complement of programs that the university offers. Integral to its mission is the maintenance of our heritage through the preserving, extending and disseminating of knowledge. It seeks to enhance a love of learning in an atmosphere that promotes intellectual excitement. It acknowledges the freedom of all ideas in an academic setting, thus encouraging respect for others and a sympathetic tolerance for opposing viewpoints.
