12 Colleges Participate In State-wide Playday Here

"Wenonah Pow-wow" was the theme for the state-wide playday day, which was sponsored by the Winona State Teachers College. Nearly 200 girls from 12 Minnesota Colleges participated in the event from 6:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Saturday, April 26. The day's schedule included game activities, a picnic lunch and a banquet in the evening.

The purpose of state play days is to provide a substitute for interscholastic competition for girls. Girls do not play school against school but rather they are placed on teams with girls from other schools. They participate in volleyball, softball, cageball, relays, activities in folk and square dancing and other team organizations.

Schools participating were Moorhead T.C., Bemidji T.C., Duluth branch of the U. of Minnesota, College of St. Teresa, College of St. Catherinae, Hamline University, St. Olaf, Gustavus Adolphus, University of Minnesota and College of St. Benedict. Miss Harriet Jorgenson and Loetita Rheingans were co-chairmen and Miss Beulah Greigero was the advisor. Other committees included:

T.C. Students Aid Flood Victims

During the recent record floods, where the old man river seemed to be doing his level best to drown Winona in H’O, no one on the campus of T.C. even got his feet wet. This was in marked contrast to scenes in other parts of town where boats and army amphibious "Duck's" were necessary and accepted mode of transportation. One of the reasons students in T.C. were able to walk on their way to Maxwell library was the fine work of the emergenc group of workers, among whom were numbered many T.C. fellows. These boys worked long and industriously to save the city.

Speech, Music Groups To Present Program

The departments of music and speech will present a program in Somsen auditorium on May 24, at 8:15 p.m., which will be the first of the commencement week events. The program will follow the annual alumni banquet which is scheduled for 5:45 p.m. at Morey Hall and will be open to the public. "Americana," the title of the program, has as its central theme patriotism in nature. Each department will present a group of numbers planned and directed by the faculty members responsible for the departments.

T.C. Chorus Presents Annual Concert May 2

The college chorus will appear as the final group of the concert and they will present "Vend Omni amore" by Handel, "EIGHTH-bit," by Williams and "Era Of Peace" by Williams.

Take It Easy

Don't let go now — there is only one month left of school. We know how busy you have been, and are going to be. Soon it will all be over with. We can breathe a sigh of relief — at least until next fall.

There are those of you who will be going to summer school. You need to be the most careful, for you will have at least another six weeks before you can relax. Of course some, if not all, will be working this summer. When fall comes, though, we will be happy enough to get back to school and the old grind.

Those who are graduating this spring will have a new experience to look forward to — teaching. You'll need all the presence of mind you can muster next fall.

Don't try to do too much at once, you can't take it. Choose only five million of the very essential projects for which you must work, not all that are thrown at you.

If you try to do too much you may go crazy; it may get on your nerves and lead you, from a nervous breakdown.

You know... I've got a cousin with six toes!

Perpetual Spring

It Is The Work of God

By Wally Dohman

Spring is the most vaunted of the four seasons. It makes the biologists analyze it; young people are set alight by it, and old people watch its renewal with deepening wonder. For though it is the beginning of all things, through it we look hopefully into the future, a future made possible because it begins by dealing with just a few birds returned, and a few precocious flowers braving the treachery of April, we still understand less about it than we need.

Young people often think the ancient craft is a secret that is handed down from tree to tree, and with the coming of every spring, they grow more precocious, more detached.

Ten thousand years ago the Egyptians beside the Nile were listening to the spring choir of frogs, and ages back the Chinese artists were painting white plum blossoms against the blue of the sky. And thousands of years after we are gone and forgotten, others will see again the mallards Cynthia womanhood will never know the nature of that ancient art. It was nearly two months following the flood when a young woman found a hickory leaf expand from a locker room, and windflowers appear against the blue background of the sky.

The dikes held back all the waters of the flood just as they have held back the waters of the Nile for nearly two weeks. As the water rose, it left trees, buildings, and railroad embankments behind. As the water well enough so that all that are thrown at you.

Once some of the ingredients of success are not measured by intelligence. The test of a man is how he affects the situation he is in. He can be a mule?

Other students think the ancient craft is a secret that is handed down from tree to tree, and the coming of every spring, they grow more precocious, more detached.

All we know is that spring, which seems to us as new as a book, each year is incredibly ancient by our first-born standards of time. There is no thought you can have when you see the first green mist of budding flowers run through the elm tops, so feeling that can surge up in you as it did in the ancient art. Kappa Delta Pi Elects Officers

Officers for the coming year were chosen in a special business meeting held recently by the Kappa Delta Pi organization.

Robert Fenwick was elected president; Adrian Vondracek, vice president; Luetta Reitges, secretary; Vina Nayansmith, treasurer, and Mary Ellen Christian, historian-recorder. These officers will be installed officially at the May meeting of the club.

A committee composed of Mary Edgers and Vina Nayansmith were appointed to work with the counselor to select those members who have done outstanding work in the interest of the organization for the past year and who will be chosen to those chosen on Award Day in May.

Civic Chorus Concert May 6, 7

The Wenonah Civic Chorus will give their annual spring concert in Somsen Auditorium on the evenings of May 6 and 7 at 8:15 p.m. The fifty voice chorus is composed of people from Wenonah and directed by Mr. Allan Mikelson, the music director at Central High School, LaCrosse, Wisconsin. The group is accompanied by Mrs. Donald T. Burt of Winona.

The program for the concert includes various types of songs including a concerted form of "My Dream Is An Island Place" by Youmans and Alcott.

Job Placement Remains High

The recently established job placement service in room 146 has been doing a rather brisk business in view of the fact that it is one of the college’s new services. Much of the preliminary work of setting up the office has now been completed and the job placement is becoming well known.

In order to improve services to the student and make it more convenient to them the office hours have been changed so that the second hour in the morning can be made available for interviews, appointments and other business.

This move, it is hoped, will result in even more students taking advantage of the facilities in the placement office.

At the present time the office is aiding graduating seniors to register with the State Employment office and is aiding graduating seniors to register with the State Employment office and is aiding graduating seniors to register with the State Employment office.

The selection of careers includes various types of careers in the field. What we students are doing is to make it more widely known.

The Monday morning assembly audience on April 21 had an opportunity to hear the college band and give their spring concert.

The audience applauded heartily the half-hour program presented by the band under the direction of Mr. Fred Heyer. The selection of varied containing marches, overtures, and popular pieces with incidental solos by Myrtle Bernhardt, Earl Schmenke, Betty Pechuman, and Darlene Griebenow.

The program included the following selections: "E. Flatbo's Unum March" by Jewell, "The Student Prince Overture" by Romberg, Hall's "Trinity Regiment March," "The Golden Heritage Overture" by Searlamar, "The Pilgrim's Chorus" from Tavernauser by Wagner, "Invarcargill March" by Litgaw, Selections from Carmen and Souss's "Semper Fidelis March."

Souvenir Readied For Fall Sale

Plans are nearing completion for the commemorative plate soon to be offered to each brother. Reports may be ready for sale next fall.

The plate has the standard edged design around the outer edge, with a picture of Session Hall in the center. The picture will be drawn by hand on a brass plate, and will be the best possible reproduction of the venture. Since the college is a small concern and its purchase will not be as large as other companies, Mr. Capron says we will have to wait our turn. The whole is being done in England.

The size, 10 inches, and beautiful pattern of the plate will make it the prize possession of any alumni who wish something tangible to remember his Alma Mater by.

WARNING—This May Be You

With the Spring prom coming up I recall the experience of a TC co-ed whose actions were scarcely Emily Postish. One week before the Homecoming Elizabeth (which is NOT the girl's name) invited Freddie, the Current Favorite. A phone call from Northfield came two days later. Freddie's voice was desperate, but it was final. If he'd only known sooner.

Liz did some fast mental gymnastics that ended in two letters, sent to eligible friends at two nearby colleges. Her reasoning being that certainly of two, one would be able to come.

The first reply was the answer to her prayers. A letter from Rochester JC: "LOOKS LIKE YOU'VE GOT ME ON YOUR HANDS. GIVE THE DETAILS. LOVE BIZZ." Life looked rosy. That night the dorm phone rang. It was long distance—calling her. "Hello," she breathed weakly, hoping it would be Mother. "What goes, Mom?" It was not Mother. There was no mistake as to the fact that it was Jerry, the thus far silent member of the duo she had invited and the least desirable. "Just thought I'd call and give you the thrill of a lifetime keen."

"Yeah," Liz answered in a tone loaded with sarcasm. "Oh, you lucky girl, I checked with your prom!"

"Oh," Liz said. This was the final blow. "It's a long trip," he chortled, "but I couldn't think of disappointing you!"

"Oh, Jerry, you don't need to feel that you must—I mean, I don't want you to go out of your way—I mean—"

"Nope. Anything for you, baby. Generosity is my motto. Now if you can give the little girl a good time, I say to move it!“ So Liz wrote her ex-love friend that she had broken her leg and was hospital-bound. And endured a night-march weekend with Jerry. Let it be a lesson to you!

Warrior Nine Returns With 2-4 Mark From Southern Swing

The Warrior baseball team came out long on experience if they did come out a little short in the won-loss column on their annual southern trip which was completed on April 11. Although they brought back only a 2 won 4 lost record for the six contests they brought back a trip which was completed on April 11. Although they brought back a little on their annual southern trip, which was completed on April 11.

Ped Cindermen at Mankato Saturday

Winona's thirclads second three meeting of the season will find them in Mankato on May 3, engaging in a triangular meet with the Indians and La Crosse.

La Crosse and Mankato have both in recent years boasted excellent track squads. La Crosse recently lost a dual meet to Luther College, while Mankato recently placed fourth in the Carleton Relays.

La Crosse is strictly a running team while the Ped莘s and distance runners pick up the majority of the points.

Mankato's strong events are the dashes, high jump, broad jump, shot put, and 440 relay. Springer and Dunn place well in the 100 yard dash. Allis and Casten recently tied for first place in the high jump at 6' in the Carleton Relays.

Winona's main hope of emerging victor in the triangular affair rests in the hands of Joe Miolen — 100 yard dash and broad jump, Bob Geminsky, and Kregier in the discus. If the other men on the track squad place, the Ped莘s should make an excellent showing.

Mankato and La Crosse are both members of the Big-State meet to be held in Winona on May 16.

Baseball Squad Faces Iowa State Here Friday

Winona T.C. continues its policy of taking on the best baseball teams they can schedule when Iowa State Teachers furnishes the opposition for the Warriors on May 21. The Panthers, members of the North Central Conference in Iowa, have long been recognized as one of the baseball powers in the tall corn state. Pitching appears to be their strong point and the hurler to start against the Warriors will be either Bob Garry or Ev. Steckel. The series with Iowa State T.C. which was started in 1950 now stands at one game apiece. Last year the Warriors handled the Cedar Falls nine a 6-0 set back. On the basis of comparisons, little can be learned.

One common opponent, Minnesota, mauled both the Panthers and Warriors by fairly large margins earlier this season. Minnesota's strong aggregations around are in the Big Nine schools which are supported some fine track squads. Today about the only track talk:

What's happened to the great sport of track and field in this area?

Big blows in the opener were a triple by Strand and doubles by Fox and Rentz. In the second game, with Arkansas State, the Warriors also out on top, this time by a narrow 4-3 margin as a two run rally in the 8th allowed the Warriors to break a two-all tie and gain the victory.

The Naval Air Base at Memphis, Tenn., handed the Warriors their first loss on April 6. The Sailor's pitching proved to be too strong for the locals to handle as well by a narrow 4-3 margin as freshman Lee Paul and Jerry Grebin inaugurated their college careers by combining for no hitter. Meanwhile the pednicks collected 8 hits themselves.

Errors hurt the Warriors in their series with the University of Arkansas. The Razorbabs, aided by Winona throws, had little trouble in sweeping the two game set with comparative ease.

The Warriors played their best ball game of the trip against the Fort Leonard Wood Hilltoppers but were still handed their fourth straight set back by 4-0. The professionally packed Hilltoppers, who featured Preston Ward, late of the Chicago Cubs, on first base, who featured. Preston Ward, late of the Chicago Cubs, on first base, who featured.

OUR WORTHY OPPONENTS:

Switching to the baseball scene we find that the Mankato Indians received a shot in the arm when Arnie Giebel, manager of the Owatonna Aces in the fast Southern Minny League, enrolled in school. He will handle the catching duties for the Indians this spring and makes a constant threat at the plate. Giebel "kicked around" in the New York Yankee system for a number of years before joining the Aces in 1950.

Up at St. Cloud coach Kasper was greeted with a turnout of forty men including ten lettermen. His prospects are fairly bright because there are several outstanding transfer students among the new men and he will have a good nucleus around which to build.

Ross Wood puts out as he readys himself for the first spring match.

Wood and Bob Fraser will lead the golfers this spring.

Errors again were the deciding factor in the series with the Gophers. In the opening game Winona combated 10 hits off Giebel, the Minnesota starter, in the first eight innings and actually outhit the University 10 to 9, but Warrior miscues allowed the Gophers to win 14-3 while dropping the Iowa game 10-6 and 14-3.

Magnus Contributes To Players Magazine

For the second time in five months Miss Dorothy B. Magnus has had a review published in Players Magazine, the national monthly devoted to the academic theater. The play reviewed in the April issue is a new mystery comedy in three acts entitled, “Was This Murder?” by Bert Stoner and published by Samuel French, New York. An earlier review of a new publication called “Mixed Party Dialogue” was published in the November issue of Players Magazine.

Also in this month’s issue of the Central States Speech Journal, official publication of the Central States Speech Association, Miss Magnus has reviewed a new book published by Harper and Brothers, entitled, “Creative Dramatics in Home, School, and Community,” written by Ruth Lease and Geraldine B. Biks. The book was written to supplement such standard works in creative dramatics as Ward’s “Playmaking With Children.” The review was written by Miss Magnus on invitation of the book review editor of the Central Speech Journal, Dr. H. Albert Gully, University of Illinois.

Pre-Prom Dance Fun For All

By Rosalie Willis

The spring setting for the Pre-Prom Dance held in Somsen gym, April 22, deserves all the compliments which came from the women’s student dancers. The well planned arrangement and finishing touches were the work of Betty Pechuman, freshman delegate on the Social Committee. To her the contented crowd owe their thanks and appreciation for doing such a swell job in making such a pleasant atmosphere for the long-looked-forward-to dance. The gym was transformed into a cool and enjoyable spring garden with Johnny Robert’s orchestra surrounded by a low white trellis and spring flowers. While enjoying the refreshments, which were taken care of by the Social Committee, we relaxed in easy chairs placed there just for those in-between-dance rests. Helping Miss Pechuman in preparing for the dance were Mary Lynch, Ellyce Johnson, Margaret Lynch, and Mitzi Kles. Dorothy Tuka, senior delegate for the Social Committee was in charge of the refreshments.

If the Pre-Prom has any significance to the turn out and enjoyment of the prom coming May 16th, everyone is sure to have just as much pleasure dancing once again to the dreamy music of Johnny Robert’s Orchestra.

So You Think It’s A Snap!!

You, dear friend, are reading the Winonan, but you know it is not taken out of boxes all ready for you. No indeed, it must first be written, matter of fact, there’s more to it than just writing. The business starts when the editor (bless him) hands over assignments. These always come as close as possible to the deadline and you should see the various reporters and page editors scurry around trying to get things done in time. Really, it is a mess.

After the various assignments have been turned in, the editor of the college and the college get hauled off to the printer. A few days later it is ready for you! Read the informational box on page two in order to find out whom to blame — or praise if you think credit is due. (By the way, this is written by our ranking reporter. Name withheld by request.)
