WELCOME, FRESHMEN

Don't worry about being caught in draft—yet

Despite the sharper stepped-up draft to handle the current military buildup, the Selective Service will stick to calling up only 25-year-olds.

DRIFT DIRECTOR Blevs B. Hentzley said college students are being granted deferments even if they don't qualify under the normal rules for draftmen.

Hentzley said they have been advocating that it's better to have a boy in college if he only meets minimum requirements, than to have him doing nothing.

The number of men in the present age group being drafted will not fill the quota forever, he said.

Eventually, the selective service will move back toward 25-year-olds, probably by next summer.

THE SERVICE building, for equipment and material storage, probably will be constructed west of the new heating plant which is virtually completed. The site of both buildings is the half-block bounded by the Milwaukee streets, Washington, West Main and Johnson streets.

Dr. Minne asks for serious academic effort

"The emphasis of our times calls for students to devote themselves to serious academic effort," WSC President Dr. Nels Minne told students at the opening convocation Thursday morning.

He said, "If we are threatened by communism, we must have qualified young people for the new responsibility."

Student Council President Bob Young said that orientation may seem rough, but he explained that it benefits the new students by making them feel they are here to help you.

Mr. Rediger, a speaker at the department gave those helpful hints on behalf of the faculty; get to know yourself—what you can and cannot do; get to know your classmates and make friends; get to know your instructors and be sure that they are here to help you.

Dr. Minne offered academic achieve-ment as one way to insure the social progress, he said. "If we are threatened by communism, we must have qualified young people for the new responsibility."

Frost to begin pleasant, meaningful college life

Who can deny the bright cheerful new faces on campus every fall. It is hard to refrain from enjoying a hearty welcome through the long corridors of Somsen. We of the "Winonan" you and your fellow students in expressing wishes that your college career be pleasant and meaningful.

"Upperclassmen in their 20s of higher education are about to disperse into the many wals of life. They have made the decisions and sacrifices that you as freshmen will be making. know you can bring yourself around to know, but I don't mean, I warm, I warm, I warm, I warm."

What I mean is, I'm not the one who will wait around for you to have your own eye open; I won't tell you not to make your own mistakes. Even if you were all buddled together whispering and laughing as paper airplanes to your classes, you would have to get your advantage to reveal details; I won't. But I am very kindhearted--but not a squealer, mind you. You give me some latitude.

WHEN THE TIME comes for you to sign up for your winter quarter classes, do as I do: Go to the bookstore, find out which books are the cheapest, sign up for the ones you need, and take these books. Also sign up for any course that you may want to take in the future. If you do follow this advice, it's possible that you will save several dollars of all the money you will save.

Now that I have tipped you off, and I'm sure you won't tell anybody, let me say that we the frosh are not your slaves. And I say that you won't graduate, but think of all the money you will save!

Homecoming set for Oct. 26-28

Homecoming will be held later than usual this year, Chairman Karl Scholberg has announced. Dates have been established for Oct. 26-28.

Many of the student body members have been invited to share talents during the homecoming program. Various groups, from freshmen to seniors, have been invited to participate in the festivities. The homecoming program will feature a variety of events, including a parade, a dance, and a football game. The Winona State University Band will be featured, and the Winona State University Choir will perform.

PROJECT HARDNOSE

What makes them stay?

The Winona State football squad, under the tutelage of Head Coach Mace "Moon" Molinar, opened fall drills Aug. 25 at Loughrey Field, with the latter winner almost outnumbering the non-letermen. Of the 83 gridders who reported on that date, 36 were returning lettermen.

Among the returning lettermen are co-captains Dave Rudeke at fullback and Gale Strider at the fullback and linebacker position. Dave hails from Richfield while Gale comes from Faribault.

Mankato State drops NAIA

Mankato President C. L. Crow- ford announced Aug. 30 that Man- kato State College is dropping its membership in the National Asso- ciation of Intercollegiate Athletics. The college will continue to be affiliated with the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

This action is the result of an NAIA meeting last weekend after Mankato State entered the NCAA wrestling tournament while foregoing a similar football tournament sponsored by the NAIA. In direct violation of NAIA rules. This vi- olation left Mankato State facing certain suspension by the small college group. According to President Crow- ford, the withdrawal by the Man- kato college will mean that the college will participate in NAIA post-season contests, but the college’s athletic program will not be affected otherwise.

Old, new faces fill gridiron staff

WSC football fans will find many familiar figures on the grid- iron this fall as well as a host to the which will be head coach Mace "Moon" Molinar.

CROSS COUNTRY

The start of the school year will signal the beginning of the sea- son for the WSC cross country team.

Returning from last year's team will be Steenick Dick Anderson and John Mydland, and sophomore John Finnegan, who formed the nucleus of the 1980 squad. They rounded out the year with a second place finish in the North- ern States College Conference meet, won by Mankato State. This follows a season in which they took second rail of the league and three who were all-america.

Typical of the battle for posi- tions pretty much to himself last year, has rejoined the squad from Prairie du Chien, Wis., who hails from Rushford while Gale Zellmer, halfback, from Tomah, Wis. Kah. While you thought about the same . . . thank God for long days and far between. The few pass plays that are run are clicking. It appears that the much belittled plays that are run are clicking.

WHAT COMES NEXT

is finding the ' going much better this year. You cynics, plus any- one who enjoys watching a good football game, are invited to see yourselves at Maxwell Field this night at 7:30 P.M. where the season’s opener against Eton Stale will be played.

One of 450 freshmen discovers life at WSC . . .

AT HOME WITH THE WEDULS . . . Berty Klein, freshman from Luxembourg, is living with the family of Dr. Melvin O. Wedul, member of the WSC education staff. Berty is returning a visit made to her home two years ago by Sylvia Wedul, WSC sophomore. A foreign student from Indonesia, also staying at the Weduls', is a senior at Winona High School. Left to right, Djamal Aminoedintandomo, Dr. Wedul, Sylvia, Berty, and Mrs. Wedul.

INTERNATIONAL COLONY . . . Berty and Sylvia stop off at Conway Hall to meet Geri Kjostad, exchange student from Norway.

FRESH MUST WEAR BEANIES . . . Alan Mahlke, a real "upper" classman (six feet five), helps Berty choose a beanie as Karen Aune and Sylvia watch.

STROLLING BETWEEN CLASSES . . . Sylvia and Berty chat while walking toward their next class. Berty can chat fluently in four languages — Luxembourgese, French, German and English. She also speaks "some" Italian. (Jerry Kelly photos).

A PLACE TO MAKE FRIENDS . . . After all, college life does include studies.
