She has been a graduate assistant and instructor during the past year in the audio-visual center. She has had experience as a teacher, copywriter, and in television. Her home is Gatesville, Wis.

Dr. Robert G. DuFresne, Winona State College president, addressed new students at the annual President’s Convocation Friday, Sept. 18, in Somsen Auditorium.

"Don’t get too sophisticated too soon," and “don’t be too eager to adopt new bad habits,” stated Dr. DuFresne. He fell against tobacco, drugs, and alcohol, if not previously used, was wise and urged students to study, listen and visit the library.

He also encouraged “responsible student involvement particularly in the battle against pollution.”

"We will be able to solve some of our problems. If our society, without yielding to the extreme left or the repressiveness of the extreme right? Was the question posed at the convocation by Dr. Curtis Siemers, vice president for student affairs. He also urged students to join in various activities, not only social but those opportunities benefiting fellow student and fellow man.

Explaining the academic offerings of the college was Henry Hall, Associate Professor of History.

A note from Tom Dunlap, student senator president, was read. Dunlap stressed participation and involvement in that governmental body. According to Mary Lund, coordinator for Club Night, the program is twofold, to acquaint new and returning students with the various organizations on campus and to involve students in the campus activities.

Evacuation Rules

Given for WSC

A bomb threat caused the evacuation of all college buildings Tuesday, Sept. 15. At 12:00 p.m. a call was received at the college switchboard informing the operator that a bomb had been placed in the college. No specific location was given. After the thorough search was conducted by the maintenance staff.

In case of emergency, the evacuation procedure for the residence halls is outlined in the Residence Hall Guidebook. Procedures for classroom buildings are as follows: Everyone in Memorial Hall, Somsen, Phelps and Pasteur should go to the Library until dismissed. Persons in Watkins or Gilmeister should go to the College Union. If the threat occurs in the library, persons should go to the College Union.

These procedures are temperamental. According to Dr. Donald Warner, academic vice-president, revisions will be made in cooperation with city officials.

Make a mistake during registration? On Sept. 25 you may right your wrongs by making changes in your class enrollment. Changes in the Fall Quarter program must be done between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. tomorrow.

To drop a class, pick up a drop slip from the Registrar’s Office in Somsen 210. The change of enrollment in this case will be handled at that office.

To add a class, go to the same office and pick up a drop slip. Next, go to the department head to see if the desired class is still open. If the card is available and applies to the student’s program, the form change is completed in pen. Student name, date, department and course number are written on the card. Then, proceed to Somsen 215 to pay fees if applicable.

This is also a $1 fee for this service.

Wenonah Players

Tryouts Sept. 27

Tryouts for membership in Wenonah Players will be held Sunday, Sept. 7, at 7 p.m. in Somson Auditorium.

Any student interested in joining should attend this meeting. Those interested in membership as an actor should prepare a three minute oral presentation. Those interested in membership as a technician will be asked to sign up.

The first meeting of the Wenonah Players will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 30, in Somson 200 at 6:15 p.m. All past and new members are required to attend.

Dr. Robert Dufresne commented on the lighter side of college during the President’s Convocation, Friday, Sept. 18.

Drop-Add Day is Friday, Sept. 25

For further processing and to turn in the card. If applicable, he will proceed to Somson 215 to pay for the additional tuition plus the $1 fee to change. Students must keep the pink slip for their personal record.

To drop-add the student begins the same process and goes to the department teaching the course he wishes to add. If the faculty member approves the change, and the card is accepted, the student is enrolled.

To add a class, go to the same office and pick up a drop slip. Next, go to the department head to see if the desired class is still open. If the card is available and applies to the student’s program, the change form is completed in pen. Student name, date, department and course number are written on the card. Then, proceed to Somsen 215 to pay fees if applicable. This is also a $1 fee for this service.

UPC Sponsors Club Nite September 25

The Union Program Council will sponsor Club Nite tonight in the College Union from 7 to 10:30 p.m. Approximately 20 clubs and organizations will be represented.

According to Mary Lund, coordinator for Club Nite, the purpose of Club Nite is twofold, to acquaint new and returning students with the various organizations on campus and to involve students in the campus activities.
Our governmental system is sick. It seems to have lost its get up and go. Its internal organs aren’t working together. Its conscience is being blunted. Its self-healing powers are slow. Red tape bandages its cuts. It lacks imagination. The whole network is pain of lack of sunshine.

The conference was like going to Ft. Collins, Colo. Several conventions, workshops, sessions, according to Mr. Mariner, were held at Ft. Collins, Colo. It had been shortened by one day it would have been better. That orientation week was fine but it was too long. Many said that if it had been held at the same time as the general election, an application must be obtained by writing to the clerk of the municipality.

Federal and State Drug Laws listed by Durrence

(Winona State College President Du Fresne requested that the following be included in the next issue of THE WINONAN)

COLLEGE POLICIES specify that persons who violate regulations may be suspended or expelled under disciplinary policies and procedures established by the college and the Minnesota State Board of Regents. In an interview with the Winonan most freshmen seem to feel that orientation week was fine but it was too long. Many said that if it had been shortened by one day it would have been better.

It was also called to our attention in our interviews with the freshmen there were not pleased with the manner in which candidates for the Freshman Queen and King were nominated.

The way a girl waited, according to many, was the most important factor in her nomination. This definitely shows a college sense of values and respect.

With all this in mind all we can say here at the Winonan is that it was apparently a typical Orientation Week at good "ole WSC."

Mariner represents WSC at Midwest Convention

Winona State was represented this summer for the first time at a convention of the American College Housing and University Housing Officers.

Mariner, dean of Women, was named to attend the convention at Ball State University, Muncie, Ind. He attended sessions on food services, training resident assistants, rights of women, and the drug situation.

The most immediately helpful observation, according to Mr. Mariner, were concerned with the students' view of campus housing and the way the dormitory staff handled the needs of the students. The latter will affect the remodeling of Richards Hall later this year.

The conference was like going to Ft. Collins, Colo. According to Mr. Mariner, though not implemented in specific programs, Mr. Mariner learned many things which will affect campus housing as a whole.

Next year the conference will be held at Allis College.

During the summer, Winona State housed a large variety of visitors including students of the American Legion baseball tournament, couples on their honeymoons, workshops, families during summer school, National Science Foundation course participants, and alumni during the reunion. The number of visitors increased as anticipated an additional member of the residence hall staff may be necessary to handle the needs of these groups, according to Mr. Mariner.

"Newman Center Welcomes Fr. Wera As New Chaplain"

Grinn George

To some of you more "ancient" students this column will be familiar. To others it will be a new experience, a pleasant one, I hope. In the past I have been able to express some of my ideas. For I never really wrote to please anyone — I have just written about things I am thinking. If you learn to love the media I like to think it is because I am forcing them to understand my ideas. I think I am a little wiser now than I was then, for it is only natural that as you think more, you will learn many things which will affect the remodeling of dent housing needs. The latter will be implemented in accordance with the Minnesota State Board of Regents.

THE WINONAN

Frosh Elect
King & Queen

Coronation of the Freshman King and Queen highlighted the four-day Winona State College Freshman Orientation Week.

Lynn Deutschman and Dave Lemmerman, last year's royalty, crowned Roscoe Young, Forest Park, Ill., and Loretta Peters, White Bear Lake, as the new king and queen.

Roscoe and Loretta both remarked that "shock" and "surprise" were their first reactions. The other girl candidates were: Karen Borgstrom, St. Paul Park; Judy Mueller, Hopkins; Pat Peters, White Bear Lake; Ann Petersen, Austin; Rilla Roodolf, Rushford; Cindy Scraabek, Harmony; and Gail Slepick, Minneapolis.

The other male candidates were: George Brady, Fallbrook, Calif.; Nick Brill, St. Paul; Jim Dannaker, West St. Paul; Larry Mende, Shakopee; Mike Norris, Bloomington; Gary O'Leary, Cottage Grove; Jim Smith, Caledonia; Roger Thome, St. Paul, and Joe Topleck, Shakopee.

This is the way it is. We're into it.

State Grid Men Tumble to LaCrosse in Undesirable Season Opener

Three La Crosse State interceptions and a blocked punt helped turn Winona State's football season opener into a humiliating fiasco, as the Warriors dropped a 40-0 decision in a Shrine Hospital Benefit game at La Crosse Sept. 12. Winona's sluggish offense mustered fewer than 50 total yards throughout the course of the contest. La Crosse, meanwhile, ripped up the turf for six touchdowns, no two by the same gridder.

A week earlier, the Warriors took on a team composed of Winona State alumni and came up with an 18-14 triumph. Against La Crosse State, though, the Warriors found themselves sorely outclassed. Although neither team managed to score in the first period, La Crosse's Indians put 20 points on the board in the second quarter. John De Merit returned a Winona punt to the Warrior 38 yard line, and the Indians needed only six plays more to record the game's first touchdown. Kurt Krueger did the honors, buling into the end zone from two yards away to give his La Crosse club a 6-0 advantage.

Winona State freshman quarterback Steve Castner had his first career pass intercepted by La Crosse's Dan Tork shortly thereafter. Tork took the pigskin all the way into the end zone. With only 31 seconds remaining to be played in the half, Indian Jim Regan plowed over from a yard away. Teammate De Merit had again set his La Crosse teammates deep in Winona territory by returning a Swanson punt to the Warrior 37, setting up the last TD.

Mike Foy and Dave Steffan teamed up to put La Crosse on the scoreboard again in the third quarter. Riding a 20-0 halftime advantage, Foy broke Winona's line to block a Swanson punt, and Steffan snatched up the ball and ran it into the end zone. De Merit was the next Indian to score. He intercepted a fourth quarter Don Wistrcill pass and returned it 45 yards to paydirt. Dave Jaeger scored the final touchdown with 3:51 left in the game.

In the Alumni game, the State varsity held a 12-7 halftime edge on touchdowns by Jim Dybevik and Ron Fuglestad. Dybevik intercepted a Don Rajtora pass, returning it for the touchdown, and Fuglestad scored on a three-yard run. The Alumni got their first half touchdown on a pass from Rajtora to Tom Von Feldt. Bob Welch drop-kicked the extra point. Varsity quarterback Wistrcill tossed a TD pass to Swanson for State's only second half score. In retaliation, the alumni's Kajtora scampered nine yards for a TD. Welch again drop-kicked the PAT.

The Warrior's next action will come Saturday when they take on Moorhead State.

Filing for freshmen candidates for Student Senate positions opens Thursday, Oct. 1 at the Student Senate office.
