Edancers From 7 Colleges to Attend Conference at WSTC

The first area Student Personnel Conference for the purpose of implementing student personnel guidance services will be held on this campus on February 9th. Educators from seven area colleges, all members of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, will take part in the one day conference. The following schools will be represented: Wisconsin State Colleges at La Crosse, Superior, Eau Claire, Stevens Point, and River Falls and the Stout Institute and Manitowoc State Teachers College.

Co-chairmen of the event are Mr. Maurice Mariner, Dean of Men and Miss Marguerite Steffenberg, Dean of Women. Other faculty and student personnel who will assist with arrangements include: Miss Mildred Barchef, Dr. E. L. Ragas, Miss Mary Ellen Christopher, Miss Georgianne Warren, and Robert Fenwick.

The conference will open with registration and a coffee hour in the Social Room. The opening address will be delivered by Mr. G. Gilbert Wrenn, chairman of the student personnel committee at the University of Minnesota.

The morning's first session will be devoted to a discussion of the progressive retention of students in teacher education with Dr. M. O. Griff, director of personnel at Wisconsin State College at La Crosse, leading the discussion. In an interview Mr. Griff said, "The purpose of the session is to determine whether or not certain students should be encouraged toward teaching or whether or not they might be alternate goals in their educational pursuits.

Miss Stella Pederson, former dean of women at Teachers College, and present dean of women at Wisconsin State College at Eau Claire will lead the discussion on "Housing Units as Counseling Centers." Miss Steffenberg, in an interview, said, "Housing units create opportunities for developing social skills." The T.C. Conference

T.C. Accepted As AAUW Member

News which will be of special interest to the women alumni and students of T.C. has just been received by Dr. Neil Minnich. At the assembly on January 27, Dr. Minnich announced that Winona State Teachers College has been placed on the approved list by the American Association of University Women. This means that women graduates of the college can now join their local chapter of A.A.U.W. which they could not before because of the absence of the college on the list.

This makes Winona State T.C. one of the first teachers colleges in Minnesota to be placed on the approved list.

The first negotiations for this honor started some ten or twelve years ago when T.C. put its application in. Although most other teachers colleges, didn't meet the standards of the

Student of the Month

Don't Look Now, But You're Being Watched

Have you ever watched, not just looked at but closely observed, people who are studying? As a psychology major and a future psychoanalyst, I have spent much of my time in the library pondering over the doormat of an observer of academicians, and I have discovered that 10 out of 9 people are not studying. If they are not studying, what are they doing? Well, let’s look at five people and see what they’re doing.

1. The beauty queen while studying twirls one lock of hair around her finger and peeps around corners of her book to see if any of the male species has noticed her presence.

2. The pencil pounding student is undoubtedly a frustrated musician who should have been a drummer.

3. A very depressing sight is a man who is holding a grudge against you and is kicking the floor while unconsciously he imagines that he is killing you.

4. A very depressing sight is the student who, for his personal safety, must be subdued, use brute force if necessary.

5. A very depressing sight is the student who has noticed her presence.

Listen, kid! If you want to be real swell, then chew gum, use your eyebrows and borrow all the fresh new" found in the 1921 handbook. Oh yes, and there are more!

On the subject of dates:

"Ask the Dean of Women before accepting a dance invitation. He may be on the "black list.""

Horrors, the thought of it happening to you! Remember to make full use of this "hint" for the Valentine’s Prom.

"Resent anyone’s trying to scrape an acquaintance. He knows how to get an introduction."

"How very vulgur — the idea of scraping an acquaintance. I hope you all have better manners!"

Remember girls, the best way to get a date is to make an appearance count. "Wear your hat while shopping. Be an outdoors girl, but be careful to get rosy cheeks. That all."

After school hours, the "helpful hints" come even more helpful. Especially for after dark.

"Do not go automobile after dark without a chaperone. It is part of the wisdom to learn to follow the conventions here at Winona."

Boys, you’d better pick your chaperone early for Saturday night — they probably be in great demand.

Here’s another: "Never cross the bridge into Wisconsin unless accompanied by a chaperoned group. Do not walk over the Huff Street bridge or along the bluffs after dark."

Rules were especially strict on these points. Hmmm — seems as if the serene campus has been completely disregarded today.

"Don’t visit refreshment parlors after dances or the theatre."

You lose the reputation of your alma mater when you are seen in such places after midnight.

Here’s another:

"What can anyone think of educating themselves when the war is on?" The answer of this group is that the present Selective Service System of draft regulations makes the enlistment of college students impossible, and the present deferment plan is temporary. They extend only to the end of the academic year. After this time, the college student completes his academic year or receives his college degree he is subject to the draft just as any other male citizen.

The answer comes from a source that could change the entire course of events?

"You didn’t, and you deserved to lose."

Remember, you had a chance to help your team Saturday night.

As a college student, president of the student body, and editor of a college publication I feel myself wanting to defend college men who have chosen to further their education.

I might say at the start that these critics with more inquiry could easily have found that college deferments are, at the most, very temporary. They extend only to the end of the academic year. After this time, the college student completes his academic year or receives his college degree he is subject to the draft just as any other male citizen.

But why? Because I asked myself, and I want you to ask yourself, can this game indicative of the spirit of the American people? Do they all sit back and let the others do the work, or do they take part?

Remember, you had a chance to help your team Saturday night.

You didn’t, and you deserved to lose.

Sincerely,
Shirley Balsam
Bethel Royals Edge Warriors

A guy named "Parson Pete" Unruh spelled defeat for T.C. Wednesday, January 21. Three threes helped the Bethel Royals to snatch their second victory from the Warriors this season. This was T.C.'s twelfth loss in 14 starts.

The Royals grabbed an 18-9 first period lead, but Winona made a beautiful comeback by scoring eight straight points to bring the tally to 18-17. During the second quarter Jerry Grebin and Ron Richter put the Peds ahead of Bethel, 25-25. But, however, the Royals had gained a lead of 28-27.

After the half the Royals grabbed the lead for keeps, and the final score was 56-54.

Kowles was high point man for Winona with 16 points followed by Richter with eleven while Lingenfelter and Grebin tallied eight points each.

Unruh was high scorer for Bethel with 20 points followed by Pierce with nine points.

Kato Rollies in Second Half to Defeat Warriors

The Mankato Indians served coach Lyle Arnn's small, but aggressive hoopers their third conference loss of the season. The highly rated Indians did not have an easy night of it however. The hard fighting Warrior five pulled from behind twice in the first half to knot the score at 21-21 and at 25-25. At half-time the Warriors were leading by 29-27.

In the second half the height of the Mankato team began to be effective under the baskets and the Indians moved to a 44-41 lead at the end of the third quarter. In the fourth quarter the Indians held the Warriors to seven points and won the game with a 13 point bulge. The final score was 82-49.

Dick Kowles was high for Winona with 12 points followed by Ron Richter who tallied 9. Kowles also had his usual limit of fouls.

Peds at Moorhead, Bemidji

On Annual Northern Jaunt

Today the Warriors embarked on their annual northern jaunt. Tonight they will meet Bemidji and on the 31st they will again meet the Moorhead Dragons. By the time this paper comes out the Warriors will have already had a game with Bemidji, and you fans will be able to have a little better idea about what the boys will have to face up north. As for the Dragons, the Peds have already suffered a setback to them in a nip and tuck battle. Since then the Warriors have suffered several blows to the team. Several players have been lost, but the Peds still seem to have a lot of spirit and hustle left.

The T.C.'ers will really be up against it when they meet the Beavers, who are defending conference champs and so far leading the conference this year. Another factor which will enter the picture is that the Beavers are even harder to beat on their own floor. The Warriors will have to concentrate on such stars as Hub Hovland who is in his fourth year on the varsity and Irv St. John who was an all-conference selection last year. The Beavers will be without the services of three of last year's starting five. Gone are such stars as all-conference players Dick Lawrence and Keith Mooney, and starting forwards Bob Johnson. This could be a tough one for the Peds, but since basketball is as unpredictable as any other sport there can be no real favorite.

The following night the Warriors will move on to Moorhead to meet the Dragons in the second encounter of the year. Here the Peds will again have to keep their eyes on such scoring stars as Bob Royseland and John Torgerson. The Warriors will have their hands full with the fast breaking Dragons. The Moorhead boys should be a little more in shape and on their own floor will probably do a lot of running. The Warriors will be out to avenge a loss however, and with a little hot shooting should be able to overcome the Dragons and gain revenge.

Referee Rod Lingenfelter gets to toss the ball up on another round of intramural play. The action which is about to begin is between George Hansen's Rutgers Specials and Walt Lovik's Raiders.

Intramural Cagers Begin

Play; Braves, Rutgers Lead

The sound of referee's whistles and the thundering hard pounding down the hard court of Som­sen gym announces that the Intramural basketball schedule is again under way.

Things are still going strong in the league and the teams are fighting hard for positions at the top of the ladder. Currently leading are the Braves and the Rutgers Specials with identical records of 3 wins and no losses.

The Braves are captained by Evan Davies, who is also one of the leading scorers, and the Specials by George Hanson. Tied for second place are the Vaga-bonds, captained by Ev Steckel, and the Rolling Stones captioned by Lowell McMillen.

Action has been ragged, as usual, and, of course, there is the usual complaining about the refereeing. But, intramurals won't be intramurals without complaining, and that all helps to add to the color of the sport. However, the boys are really enjoying themselves and the fans enjoy the trouble and grief they give to the refs. A little more spirit and atmosphere could be added to the games if a few more fans would turn out. It is truly a different and interesting experience and is filled with laughs as well as good basketball.

Warrior Warbles

Waiting Till Next Fall

Chief topic around the locker room lately seems to be the NCAA rules change which scraps the two platoon system in football. The change was intended to help the small schools and it should do just that for T.C. Last fall the Warriors were "out benched" oftener than not by gridor mentor Gene Brodhagen breaks into a broad grin whenever the rules change is mentioned.

Those Spare Time Athletes

Hits off to the boys on the intramural board. Once again they have set up a program which provides spills, chills and thrills for the participants and good clean fun for all concerned. Without a doubt the men's intramural and Women's W.A.A. are two of the most enthusiastically received programs at T.C. and after one look at an evening's round of play it is easy to see why.

Musings

Over in Somsen Gym the Purple and White cagers have been having their troubles. The loss of 6'5" Brendan Lee and George O'Reilly has hurt more than a little and the "flu bug" plus the fact that Jim Klahr and Ed Kohner are no longer in school makes the situation difficult. It's a real shame that misfortune had to come along right now too, especially since the Warrior upset of St. Mary's caused most T.C. fans to reconsider their plans for the conference title. However its my personal hunch that we shouldn't count the Warriors out yet, after they get set again they may manage to pull a few more late season shockers.

Good basketball.

Women's Sports

— By Mohr

Winter quarter finds the W.A.A. girls taking part in a variety of activities. Basketball is taking the spotlight. Games are played every Tuesday afternoon. Due to the lack of interest among the women we have only two teams at present. One team of Morey Hall girls, the other of Shepard Hall girls make up the league. Soon we expect the town girls to have a team lined up.

Shepard Hall, captained by Mary Yerkes, has defeated Morey Hall in both regularly played games 46-26 and 42-26.

"Lewey" Rheingans is high scorer for Shepard with 36 points, 18 in each game. Shirley Rauch is the "dead eye" on the Morey team with 20 counters. Helen Ehlers is captain of the Morey Hall team.

The rivalry between the two halls makes for some exciting games every Tuesday afternoon when the girls get together in Somsen Gym. Action in the W.A.A. league is just as intense and thrilling as the boys intramural games on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Other winter activities for W.A.A. include clud and individual sports; ping-pong, badminton, swimming at the Y.W.C.A. and bowling.

Lois Pankow goes in for a close shot as the W.A.A. girls start play. Lois plays for the Shepard Hall five in the Women's league.
