Red Chinese Torpedo Boats Sink Nationalist Destroyer

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Red China used torpedo boats for the first time in battle yesterday to sink the 1,800-ton Nationalist destroyer escort Taiping.

This development in the long civil war was viewed generally by the Nationalists as a stark warning of stronger Red measures to come. The destroyer, with 180 men aboard, was conveying a motorized junk from the Tachen Islands, 30 miles off the coast of Chekiang province and 215 miles north of Formosa, to nearby Yushan Is. land. The first torpedo missed, but

Two Mankato Taverns Burn, Loss $250,000

Firemen Overcome Fighting Blaze, Other Places Damaged

MANKATO, Minn. — Two taverns on Mankato's main business street were destroyed in a $250,000 early morning fire Sunday and two other business establishments suffered heavy smoke and water damage.

Five firemen were overcome by the smoke and two were injured but returned to service. The fire was one of the worst in Mankato's history although it attracted little attention because it broke out about 4:30 a. m. and was under control about an hour and a half later.

The two bars, adjoining, were the Rathskeller and the Rex, located on Front street in downtown Mankato. The Martin & Hoerr jewelry store and the Morris furniture store each were damaged an estimated $25,000.

The remainder of the $200,000 damage was done to the buildings and the equipment of the two bars, including a billiard room in the Rex.

Firemen continued to fight it throughout the day and were still "picking up" at the scene Sunday night.

The four firemen who were seriously overcome by smoke are:

Kenneth Cammack, 42, who is in St. Joseph's Hospital here.

Capt. Donald Peterson and Firemen Harlan Anderson and Robert McGuire, all about 40, who were treated at the scene and then taken home.

Lt. Dallas Laird was temporarily overcome but returned to duty. Fireman Leo Schneider suffered facial cuts from flying glass and Fireman William Orcutt was blinded temporarily when debris flew into his eyes. Both of them returned to service after being treated.

Fire department officials said the blaze developed from wire trouble in the false ceiling of the Rathskeller.

Freeman Confers With King, Others at Capitol

ST. PAUL (AP)—Gov.-elect Orville Freeman and other newly-elected Democratic-Farmer-Labor officials moved into high gear today, after establishing temporary offices at the state Capitol.

The new administration will not "take over" for seven weeks, just before the 1955 Legislature convenes.

One of the first acts of Freeman today was to ask for a conference with State Auditor Stafford King, the only Republican state official to survive the DFL sweep in the recent election.

King conferred privately with Freeman.

Next in line to discuss matters with the incoming governor was Art Hansen, Ulen farmer, new state treasurer. Hansen defeated Duane Lund, Staples, for the office now held by Val Bjornson, defeated Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

In another part of the Capitol, Atty. Gen.-elect Miles Lord had a conference with Atty. Gen. Burnquist.

Lord asked Burnquist to assign a lawyer in the State Department of Agriculture to investigate the law preliminary to starting a court action to "break the barricade" against sending Minnesota milk into eastern cities.

"It is my intention, after proper investigation has been made," Lord said, "to institute court proceedings to break the barricade set up by the eastern cities in their sanitary regulations against Minnesota dairy products."

Mendes-France Stops in Quebec

QUEBEC (AP)—Dynamic fast-moving French Premier Pierre Mendes-France plowed into a crowded round of calls on French Canada's leaders today.

The 47-year-old French statesman, en route to Washington and paying his first visit to Canada, planned visits to leaders of Quebec province and its capital city and an appearance at North America's oldest French-language university, Laval.

He and his beautiful, Egyptian-born wife Liliane planned to board a plane afterwards for the brief hop to Montreal. After visits to two universities there and an address at a reception in his honor, the French Premier flies to Ottawa and on Wednesday to Washington.

The strains of "La Marseillaise," a 100-man guard of honor and a crowd of 500 greeted the French party yesterday when their transatlantic Air France Constellation deposited them at the Quebec airport after the flight from Paris.

Watkins and McCarthy Spar On Who Discharged Peress

Small Senate Hearing Room Crowded

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy accused Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) today of being "derelict in his duty" in saying he didn't know if anyone was at fault in the Peress case. Watkins fired back: "I don't believe you can ever be satisfied unless you can find somebody who could be shot or hung."

The two big figures in the McCarthy censure row confronted one another at a suddenly called hearing of McCarthy's investigations subcommittee.

McCarthy said he scheduled it to find out whether Watkins could throw any light on who was responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress, an Army dentist who had refused to say whether he had Communist connections.

Watkins told the Wisconsin senator the way to fix the responsibility was to question 30 Army officers whose names were submitted to the McCarthy subcommittee last June by Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Watkins said Stevens had advised that the list included all officers involved in the Peress case.

Sharp Words

In a hearing splattered with sharp words and caustic phrases, Watkins refused to be budged from his position that perhaps no one was "criminally culpable" for the Peress matter.

Watkins said the Senate Internal Security subcommittee of which he is a member could undertake to nail down those "responsible" for the honorable discharge.

But if it did, he said, "I never could find out to satisfy you unless you could find some one who could be shot or hung."

McCarthy snapped back that "many young men will die" because of traitors. He said traitors should be "shot and hung."

McCarthy said it was "no laughing matter" when "secret masters in the military" cover up for Communists.

Watkins said: "I was not laughing and the record and the picture will show."

He should perhaps be censured for what I am about to say," McCarthy told Watkins in stern, lecturing tones. "But a senator who represents the great state of Utah who comes here and says he does not know if some one ought to be blamed for promoting a man ... who owes allegiance to a foreign country, a traitor to his country ... such a senator certainly is derelict in his duty and that is putting it very mildly."

Watkins said repeatedly that only a "jury of his peers" could convict a spy. Accusations, he said, could not convict.

He said the Peress matter "could have happened purely as a matter of mistake" and criticized what he called "a lot of charges" without the proof.

Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, ranking Democrat on the Investigations subcommittee, asked Watkins if he would put a motion before the Internal Security subcommittee.

4 of 5 From Ditched Navy Plane Safe

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. (AP)—Four crewmen of a Navy patrol plane with five aboard that ditched Sunday night were found safe in a life raft today in Pamlico Sound about 75 miles south of here.

A spokesman for the 5th Naval District said the fifth crewman went down with the plane, a PV2 Harpoon.

The spokesman added there was no word on a Marine Corps jet with two aboard that disappeared Sunday night while searching for the Navy plane.

A Coast Guard patrol plane which could land on the water spotted the four survivors in Pamlico Sound and brought them to the Coast Guard Air Station here. The Air Station Hospital said all were too ill to talk about their ordeal.

Five crewmen were on the Navy craft which reported it was going down at 6:30 p.m. while en route from Miami to its home base at the Anacostia Naval Air Station near Washington. Two were aboard the Cherry Point-based F3D Skyknight jet, last heard from at 9 p.m. after it was diverted from a routine tactical mission to hunt for the ditched patrol plane.

10 Million Signatures Sought for McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten million signatures are being sought on a petition that supports Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and urges the Senate to reject censure charges against him.

The petition is being circulated throughout the nation by a newly formed organization called "Ten Million Americans Mobilizing for Justice" and headed by retired Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer of the Air Force.

The organization announced yesterday it would try to reach a goal of 10 million within the next 10 days.

A copy of the petition, addressed to the Senate, reads in part:

"We declare that it is your duty to reject the recommendations of the Watkins committee as an affront to the dignity of the Senate, as contrary to its rules and as a serious threat to the power and prerogatives of the United States Senate."

"Sen. McCarthy is really not the issue. He is a symbol of your constitutional right to inquire into the acts of the executive branch, without which you could not get dishonest and disloyal employees out of government."

"A vote to censure one of your own members for doing his sworn duty would establish a dangerous precedent that could only lead to the destruction of constitutional government—the very objective sought by the enemies of the United States."

Stratemeyer said the organization is nonpartisan and nonpolitical and the petition urges senators to ignore "political partisanship or political expedience" in making a decision on the censure charges.

Liberals Claim One-Vote Majority in State House

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The apparent liberal control of the Minnesota House of Representatives was given enthusiastic welcome Saturday night by Governor-elect Orville Freeman and other DFL figures on their return from Florida.

At a caucus Saturday in St. Paul, the liberals mustered 66 votes which would give them a one-vote majority.

Rep. A. I. Johnson of Benson was chosen the group's candidate for speaker and Rep. Fred Cina of Aurora for majority leader. Both are veteran legislators. A new office of assistant majority leader would be created with Rep. D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul in the post.

Freeman returned to the Twin Cities with Lt. Gov.-elect Karl Rolvaag and the new attorney general, Miles Lord.

The conservative caucus Friday named as its choice John A. Hartle of Owatonna for speaker. He had the position for the last three sessions of the Legislature.

The conservative majority leader since 1939, Rep. Roy E. Dunn of Pelican Rapids, said he had commitments from at least three others in the wing and he predicted that before the session starts Jan. 4, he may be able to have a majority to organize the House through switches.

Man Crossing Road Hit by Winona Auto

Bernard Jumbeck, 80, Dies at Hospital Hour After Mishap

MARSHLAND, Wis. — Bernard Jumbeck, 80, Fountain City Rt. 2, died at the Winona General Hospital Sunday night, slightly more than an hour after he was struck by a car while he was walking across Highway 35 en route to his home near here.

Jumbeck, who suffered head and internal injuries in the accident, was the seventh person to die as a result of traffic accidents in Buffalo County this year.

It was the first traffic fatality in the county since Aug. 29.

Buffalo County Traffic Officer Henry Zeichert, Buffalo City, said that the accident occurred at about 8:45 p.m. while Jumbeck was walking to his home some 300 yards south of the Hillside Tavern.

Winona Man Driver

The driver of the car which figured in the mishap, Henry Suchla, 51, 219 E. 3rd St., Winona, said that he was traveling north on Highway 35 when he suddenly saw Jumbeck walking in the center of the highway.

Suchla said that he was unable to avoid hitting the pedestrian although he applied his brakes and turned to the left.

Jumbeck was struck by the right front portion of the car and was thrown to the north edge of the pavement.

An ambulance was summoned to take the accident victim to the hospital where he died at 10:05 p.m.

Consider Inquest

Zeichert said today that he had conferred with District Attorney Gary Schlosstein, Alma, and that there was a possibility that an inquest might be held in the death.

Zeichert said that he, Sheriff Glenn Davis and Schlosstein expected to talk with Suchla later today regarding the circumstances of the mishap and that the decision on an inquest would be made after this conversation.

Suchla said that he and a passenger in his car, Max Waldera 167 Olmstead St., Winona, had been visiting relatives in Arcadia during the day.

"We were driving back toward Winona," Suchla explained, "and I'd say that we were driving not more than 40 miles an hour at the most."

"All of a sudden Max yelled 'There's Barney,'" Suchla said, "and for just that split second I could see him walking there in the center of the road."

Waldera said that he was well acquainted with Jumbeck and recognized him as soon as he saw him on the highway.

Were Dark Clothing

Suchla said that at the moment he first saw the pedestrian, who was wearing dark clothing, he turned away to the left but could not drive around the pedestrian.

The right front headlight of the car was shattered and it was apparently in this general area that Jumbeck was struck.

The broken glass from the headlight was lying near the center line of the pavement.

"I did everything I could to get around him," Jumbeck stated, "but in the dark and with his dark clothes you couldn't see him until you were right on him."

Jumbeck was thrown to the right side of the pavement and was lying unconscious, his head on the edge of the highway and his body on the shoulder.

The two Winona men went to the nearby café and called for an ambulance.

Gen. Naguib Ousted By Egyptian Army

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib was in the political ascendant today after his ouster as Egypt's president by the ruling military junta. Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, taking over as acting president yesterday, held undisputed power.

Naguib, popular hero of the 1952 revolution against ex-King Farouk, was charged with being implicated in a recent unsuccessful plot by the fanatic Moslem Brotherhood to assassinate Nasser.

A long rivalry between the two soldier-politicians had flared into an open struggle for power last spring. Nasser emerged then as the nation's strong-man ruler. Naguib became a figurehead president.

He was unseated yesterday and placed under arrest in a government house outside Cairo without any major outbreak of violence.

The capital remained still calm today, but the atmosphere was tense.

Two civilians were killed and two policemen seriously wounded in a clash early yesterday, before Naguib's ouster, in suburban Helwan. A government spokesman said the fighting occurred when police closed in on Youssef Talaat, fugitive leader of the Moslem Brotherhood's secret order, and his guards tried to clear the way for his escape, using machine guns and hand grenades.

There is a small band of senators—estimated between 12 and 20 who will stick with McCarthy come what may. These men are variously motivated—by admiration for McCarthy's demagogic ability, by fear, and, of course, by cold political calculation.

There are also, it should be said, at least a handful who genuinely like McCarthy and enjoy his company. Prominent among these are Jenner of Indiana, and Welker of Idaho, McCarthy's self-appointed floor manager in the present fight.

Then there is another group, somewhat larger, of senators who detest not only what McCarthy stands for but the man himself. This group would include, among the Democrats, men like Fulbright of Arkansas, Lehman of New York, Douglas of Illinois, and tradition-minded men like Duff of Pennsylvania and Cooper of Kentucky among the Republicans. According to those who know him well, there is reason to put the powerful and intensely conservative Millikin of Colorado in this group—although he has never spoken out publicly against McCarthy.

Finally, there is—or was until recently—a very much larger group of men who have tried for a long time to pretend that McCarthy does not exist. Among Republicans (Continued on Page 4, Column 4) ALSOPS

15 Entombed by Mine Explosion

By CHARLES STAFFORD

FARMINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Beaten by deadly gas in their attempts to rescue 15 miners, or recover their bodies, mining men last night completed their grim task of walling up entrances of Mine No. 8.

One man was dead. Fifteen were missing and presumed dead. The Jamison Coal Co. pit was rocked by a violent explosion Saturday. A second Saturday night sent flames roaring from the ventilation shaft.

A third, a sort of puff, shook the tiny mining valley yesterday evening.

The job of sealing No. 9, in an effort to cut off the flow of air and smother a fire burning deep underground, was completed late last night. It will not be reopened until tests show the air inside is safe enough for rescue teams to enter. That might take days or months.

Ten Years
Mrs. Francis McNellan, Plainview, and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Pine Island.

Dallace Schwartz, Elgin Eagles; Muriel Schultz, Bear Valley Cubs, and Harlan Siewert, Hydepark Highlights, won the Minnesota Key award. Muriel and Dallace were given $5 awards for junior leadership achievement. Bany and Siewert were awarded checks for their outstanding work.

Robes of A Domestic Prelate were placed upon the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Alois E. Wermerskirchen, left, Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Caledonia, where he is pastor. Ceremonies were conducted by his bishop, the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, second from right. Two sons of the parish, flanking the bishop, served in the investiture. The Rev. Syxtus Burg, Minnesota Lake, between Msgr. Wermerskirchen and Bishop Fitzgerald, served as deacon and the Rev. John P. Gengler, Litomysl, far right, was sub-deacon. The service was followed by a dinner and public reception. (Daily News photo)

Caledonia Priest Receives Robes Of Monsignor

CALEDONIA, Minn. — A parish priest who has served this area of southern Minnesota for more than 40 years, honored with the title of domestic prelate of the Papal Household in early September, was invested with the robe and cap of a monsignor at services here Sunday afternoon.

He is the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Alois E. Wermerskirchen, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church, dean of the Houston Deanery and priest at Hokah and Caledonia since 1913. The Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald placed the garments on the priest and preached to a large audience consisting of 10 monsignors, 17 priests, 21 nuns, parishioners and friends.

The bishop outlined the reign of five popes since the boyhood of Msgr. Wermerskirchen—Leo XIII, Pius X, Benedict XV, Pius XI and the present pontiff, Pius XII. "The holy father has honored you by naming you priest a domestic prelate," Bishop Fitzgerald said. He challenged parishioners to greater devotion to their priest and the pope. The bishop was assisted at the altar by the Very Rev. Msgr. Frank Klein, chancellor of the Diocese of Winona; the Rev. Syxtus Burg, Minnesota Lake, and the Rev. John P. Gengler, Litomysl. The latter two are sons of the parish and served as deacon and sub-deacon respectively. The service ended with a procession through the church.

A private dinner for members of the monsignor's immediate family and visiting clergy was held in St. Peter's School Hall following the investiture and a public reception was held in the city auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Watershed Meeting Set at Caledonia

CALEDONIA, Minn. — First meeting of the Beaver Creek Watershed Association will be held in the city hall basement at 8 p.m. Friday, according to Harlie Larson, county agent for soils.

The 34,000-acre watershed extends from Caledonia beyond Spring Grove, along the railroad tracks to the underpass between Spring Grove and Mabel. Following the divide the line continues to the north toward the Black Hammer Store. The east slope of Twin Ridge is included, the north boundary being in the neighborhood of Harold Eginton in Sheldon Valley. East side boundary of the watershed is the crest of Houge Ridge,

Winona Driver Fined On Drunken Charge

LaVerne Hornberg, 20, 572 E. Sanborn St., was fined $100 in municipal court this morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving.

He was arrested by police on Market street at 12:56 a.m. Sunday.

continuing on back to Caledonia.

Twin Cities Men To Tour Winona Plants This Week

Fifteen Twin Cities manufacturers will tour Winona industries Wednesday and Thursday as part of the 2-day idea-interchange motor tour sponsored by the Small Business Administration.

The program is designed to provide small manufacturers with the opportunity to view first hand the industries and learn from key officials how the business originated and grew.

The first group will tour the Pelee's Chain Co., Northwest Glove Co., Vulcan Manufacturing Co., Winona Tool & Manufacturing Co., Lake Center Switch Co., Boland Manufacturing Co., Winona Knitting Mills and McConnon & Co.

Both groups will leave the Minneapolis Regional SBA office at 7:45 a.m. Wednesday, touring the first four industries that day and conclude the tour Thursday.

The other idea-interchange group will stop at Plasti Industries, Miller Waste Mills, Thruway Manufacturing Co., Hossfeld Manufacturing Co., J. R. Watkins Co., Badger Foundry and the Thern Machine Co.

Local arrangements are being completed by A. J. Anderson, secretary-manager of the Winona Association of Commerce.

Caledonia Farm Woman Injured By Oil Truck

Mrs. Adolph Kliniski Walked Into Side of Vehicle, Check Shows

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—A 45-year-old Houston County farm woman, mother of four children, is in "just fair" condition at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, today, after she was struck by an oil truck seven miles north of here on Highway 76.

Receiving fractures of both arms and "deep lacerations of the face and head" was Mrs. Adolph Kliniski, who walked directly into an oil truck driven by Kenneth H. Esch, 25, an employee of the Nielsen Motor Co. here, Friday at 2:45 p.m.

Mrs. Kliniski, whose farm home is located just off the east side of Highway 76, had gone out to round up some cows on the west side of the highway.

She had stopped to visit with the driver of a southbound dump truck, Merle Steel, about 22, of Caledonia, before starting across the highway for home.

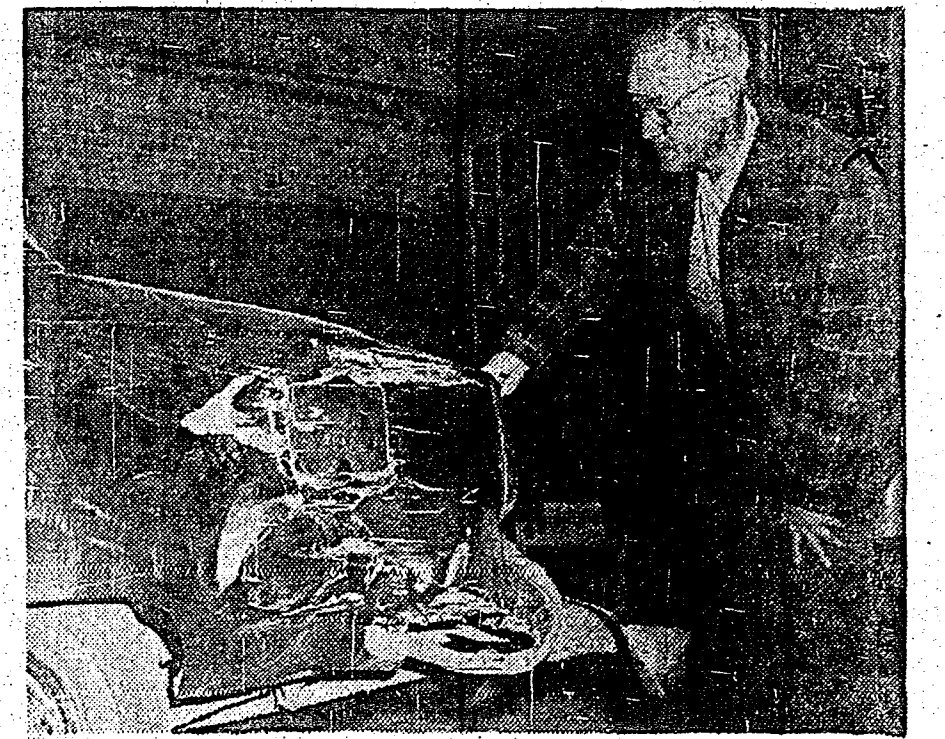

Just as the dump truck was pulling away, Mrs. Kliniski stepped around the rear of the vehicle and walked directly into the northbound oil truck. She was struck flush in the right side of her face by an overhanging rack on the left side of the truck.

Neither truck driver heard any scream, but Esch said he brought his vehicle to a halt "when I felt a thud."

Houston County Sheriff Beryl Kerrigan, who investigated, said that Mrs. Kliniski apparently was not thrown any distance by the force of impact, but was instead hurled flat on the highway by the blow.

A hospital official said today that most of the flesh on the right side of her face had been sheared away by the truck rack and that the arm fractures were probably caused by the impact when her body struck the highway.

Esch flagged a passerby, who notified a Houston, Minn., physician and Kerrigan. Mrs. Kliniski was rushed to Caledonia Community Hospital for emergency treatment and later taken to St. Mary's.

Patrolman W. H. Wogan inspects the side of a police squad car which he used to stop two youths traveling through Winona in a stolen car. The youths, who had driven into Winona at a speed of nearly 100 miles an hour, were arrested after their car ran into the squad car as Wogan established a roadblock at Main and West Sarnia streets Sunday afternoon. Roadblock Crash Ends Wild Ride Of 2 Escapees

A roadblock established by a Winona patrolman Sunday afternoon led to the arrest of two runaway teen-agers who moments earlier had raced along traffic-glutted East Sarnia street at speeds near 100 miles an hour.

Escapees from the Glen Lake School for Boys north of Minneapolis, the two youths were taken into custody at 1:55 p.m. after their car—stolen a few minutes earlier from its owner at Dakota—rammed into a police squad car driven by Patrolman W. H. Wogan at West Sarnia and Main streets.

The younger of the two boys—13-year-old Ronald Kanatzer—was thrown out of the car in the crash but after examinations at the Winona General Hospital revealed he had suffered no serious injuries he joined his companion, Robert Olson, 17, in the juvenile detention room of the county jail.

Stole Four Cars

Wogan's roadblock brought to a dramatic end a hectic 18-hour period of freedom for the youths who have admitted stealing four cars during their flight from the state school shortly before 7 p.m. Saturday.

Olson, who was driving at the time the pair was taken into custody, told authorities that he raced along Highway 61 at a speed of 115 miles an hour en route to Winona after taking the car at Dakota.

Sheriff George Fort, who sought to intercept the pair as they entered the city, said that when he gave chase along the Mankato avenue dike he at one time was driving 95 miles an hour and was unable to overtake the other car.

The fast moving series of events began at 1:45 p.m. when Ulysses Uehling, Dakota, called the sheriff's office and said that he had just seen two youths enter his parked car and drive away.

Sheriff Fort relayed a description of the stolen car to Winona police and then drove out on Highway 61 to see if he could locate the automobile.

Wogan, meanwhile, was cruising in his squad car in the downtown district but drove to West Sarnia and Main streets when he received the radio transmission that the youths might be traveling to Winona.

At East City Limits

At 1:50 p.m. Sheriff Fort was near the east city limits, traveling south, when the stolen car passed him at high speed going west.

When Wogan received word that the stolen car had entered the city he drove his squad car into the West Sarnia-Main street intersection to set up a roadblock.

"I wanted to get traffic stopped on the street," Wogan said, "because I was sure that if those boys came through at a high speed with all of the cars on the street at the time, somebody was going to get hurt."

Wogan said that he first saw the stolen car when it was at about Franklin street.

"I saw this car racing along,"

Wogan recalled, "and at one time the driver applied his brakes but then he started rolling again. It was like sitting there on the railroad tracks and seeing a passenger train bear down on you."

Wogan said that when he saw that the car was continuing at a high speed he began to move across the intersection.

Comes Across Street

Near Main street Olson again applied his brakes and the car began to veer to the left. It continued to travel diagonally across the street until it struck the left rear portion of the squad car which was then at the southwest corner of the intersection.

The stolen car was spun around, ran broadside against the curb and struck a highway sign on the boulevard.

Kanatzer was thrown out of the car and his leg struck the sign. Sheriff Fort, who was about 150 feet behind the youths when the collision occurred, took the older boy out of the stolen car and radioed for an ambulance to take the injured youth to the hospital.

Sheriff Fort said today that he is conferring with County Attorney W. Kenneth Nissen and charges of auto theft probably will be filed against the two boys in municipal court Tuesday morning.

In Another Accident

Another near accident occurred while the boys were speeding toward Winona from Dakota. James Hovre said that he was driving north on the highway when the stolen car passed him at high speed. He said that in passing the other car nudged his automobile.

Sheriff Fort said that he nearly stopped the youths near Hamilton street when Olson suddenly slowed down.

The sheriff said that, with oncoming traffic from the west, he pulled along the right side of the car and leveled his revolver at the boys.

Kanatzer shouted, "Get going, it's the cops," and Olson speeded away.

During questioning following their arrest the boys were quoted as saying that they left the Glen Lake school Saturday night, went to a nearby hospital where they stole a car and drove this to St. Paul.

There the car ran out of gasoline and they stole a second automobile which they drove until it, too, ran out of gas.

Hitchhike to Lot

After the second car ran out of gas the boys hitchhiked to a suburban St. Paul used car lot where they picked up a third car.

This they drove to Eyota where they parked in a cornfield, left the motor running to obtain heat and slept for several hours.

Sunday morning they drove this car to near Dakota where it, too, ran out of gas.

The youths said that they walked a mile and one-half to Dakota, spent some time searching the streets for a car to take and finally stole the Uehling car.

Houston County Sheriff Asks For Recount

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Houston County Sheriff Beryl Kerrigan Friday filed a request for a recount of votes cast in the Nov. 2 general election.

Kerrigan lost to Clarence C. Vetsch, La Crescent, by a 3,294 to 3,371 count, a 77-vote margin.

According to County Clerk of Court Maurice McCauley, the recount must be made within 30 days of the filing of the request. The order for the recount must be signed by the District Court judge.

McCauley said Saturday that the official election canvassing board check revealed no error in the tabulations.

Standpipe Razing Firm Refused Extra Payment

After consulting the city attorney and the city engineer, and reviewing the specifications issued last December for razing of the 218-foot standpipe near the Johnson street pumping station, the Board of Municipal Works has decided against allowing additional compensation to Earl E. Snyder, Durand, Wis., wrecking contractor.

The city attorney had informed the board that they were not actually doing business with Snyder since the original $4,420 contract was let to the Steighauf Construction Co., Faribault. It was later sublet to Snyder.

The matter was concluded during a special meeting of the board this morning when payment of the final estimate for the project—$1,258—was approved.

Wanted $1,200 Snyder had informed the board that he estimated his loss at $1,972.46 but asked $1,200.

Specifically, the contractor said the mortar was unbelievably hard and tough and in excellent condition; that the thickness of the walls varied but in general averaged much thicker than the specifications stated and that he was not allowed to use explosives.

A paragraph in the general section of the specifications, prepared by City Engineer W. O. Cribbs, stated that "The contractor must satisfy himself by a personal examination of the site as to all local conditions affecting the performance of the contract. The contractor is deemed to accept such conditions as the same are eventually found to exist and to waive all claims for extra compensation arising from the encountering of unforeseen difficulties except as the same are expressly provided either in the plans, specifications or the contract."

Explosives Discussed "Profession of ignorance regarding the requirements of the work will in no way serve to modify the provisions of this contract or specifications."

In connection with Snyder's reference to the use of explosives,

Bank Debits Here Gain 3 Per Cent

October bank debits in Winona were 3 per cent higher than for the same month a year ago while the 10-month total this year is 2 per cent above the same 1953 period, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Composite figures from reporting centers throughout Minnesota show that dollar volume of bank debits during October was down 1 per cent compared with October 1953 and that year-to-date totals are 3 per cent higher than in 1953.

Bank debit figures represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts.

In the tabulation for 137 cities included in the report, October 1954 debits were 1 per cent below the month a year ago, while for 10 months they're 2 per cent higher. There was one less business day in October 1954.

Winona's debits in October 1953 were $19,030,000 compared with $19,574,000 last month. The 10-month totals are: 1953—$184,760,000 and 1954—$187,958,000.

Western Motor Agency for Buick

Buick division of General Motors has designated Western Motor Sales as its Winona agency, Jack N. and Donald Walz, owners of Western, announced today.

The agency designation was effective last Wednesday, and the day following Western Motor terminated its contract with Chrysler Corp., for which it had been agency for the sale of Chrysler and Plymouth cars.

As a consequence, there is no Winona Chrysler dealer at present, although two other firms are authorized agencies for Plymouth cars.

Until last week's change, Holz Buick Co., 51 Johnson St., had been the Winona agency for Buick. The Western Motor owners said that the change in agency designation does not involve the purchase of any Winona property. Western Motor will continue to operate at 101 Main St.

They emphasize that they will continue to service all makes of cars.

Western Motor has been Chrysler dealer since Chrysler went into production in 1924. N. J. Walz, father of the present owners, purchased the business in 1931. He retired in 1952.

Council of Agencies To Meet Tuesday; Groups to Report

The fall meeting of the Winona Council of Social Agencies will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the directors' room of the YMCA.

Mrs. Katherine Lambert, city relief administrator, will present this year's plans for the council's Christmas bureau, a cooperative organization with the purpose of eliminating duplication of holiday welfare work and making certain that needy families are not overlooked.

Five-minute talks also will be given by six representatives of member organizations to fully acquaint members of the council with the type of welfare work being done by the various groups.

Mrs. Thomas Lightfoot will speak for the Goodfellows; Dr. O. C. Featherstone for the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Henry J. Epstein, Elks Club; Mrs. Marie Fejstlad, Soroptimists; William F. White, Rotary, and Harold B. Law, Kiwanis.

All representatives of member organizations of the council are asked to attend.

Two Youths Escape Serious Injury in Accident Near Alma

ALMA, Wis.—Two youths apparently escaped serious injury when the car in which they were riding rolled over more than five times after running off Highway 35, three miles north of here Saturday night.

Sheriff Glenn Davis said that the accident occurred at 10:05 p.m. and involved a car driven by Richard Buchholz, 21, Fountain City.

The sheriff said that the car was wrecked after traveling 210 feet when the driver lost control. Sheriff Davis said that Buchholz told him that he believed he might have fallen asleep momentarily before the accident.

Buchholz and a passenger in the car, Duane Herold, 16, Wauwaupee, each suffered only cuts and bruises.

The sheriff said that Buchholz will be arraigned later this week on a careless driving charge.

Durand Crash Causes Injuries to Woman

DURAND, Wis.—Mrs. William Heike, Town of Canton, suffered head cuts and bruises when the car in which she was riding was involved in a collision six miles southeast of here Sunday night.

She was injured when the car driven by her husband and an automobile driven by Byron Gunderson, Town of Canton, collided near the Heike home.

Buffalo County Traffic Officer Palmer Peterson, Nelson, investigated the mishap. Damage to the Heike car was estimated at $200 and damage to the Gunderson automobile amounted to $150.

Caledonian Hurt Critically as Auto Rolls Over

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Donald Hellickson, 36, Caledonia contractor, is in critical condition in Caledonia Hospital today with head injuries suffered late Saturday when his car went off Highway 44 five miles north of here.

He has been unconscious since the accident. Hellickson is the father of six children and was alone when his auto went off the right side of the road as he approached a curve near the Wilhelm farm about 9:30 p.m. It apparently rolled several times, according to Sheriff Beryl Kerrigan, who investigated.

A couple from Mabel reported the accident to Dr. N. T. Norris, Houston County coroner-elect. Hellickson was driving toward La Crosse and apparently lost control of the car. It is badly damaged.

Essay Recording Set for Thursday

The Winona Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today that all school winners in the Jaycee Voice of Democracy contest are to record their essays on "I Speak for Democracy" Thursday at 7 p.m. at Station KWNO.

The contest is open to all high school students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades in Winona and the area, with school winners slated to be picked by faculty members at the respective schools.

Each school winner will receive a fountain pen, with grand prize for the area winner to be a deluxe 3-way Philco portable radio. Cash prizes will be awarded to 2nd and 3rd place area winners.

Jaycee co-chairmen for the annual contest are James D. Mohan and Kenneth Gausch.

Station KWNO will transcribe the area winner's script and this recording will be entered in the state eliminations, scheduled for December.

The four co-equal national winners will be announced Feb. 7. Local judges will be Dr. Neils Minne, president of Winona State Teachers College; E. R. Lewandowski, director of public relations at St. Mary's College; Charles Williams, head announcer at station KWNO, and Donald Blake, president of the Winona Jaycee chapter.

Mrs. McMillen Hurt In Oklahoma Crash

Mrs. Harry L. McMillen, 1104 Gilmore Ave., was injured in an automobile accident near Vinita, Okla., last week.

Her right arm and right leg were injured but there were no fractures. She was not hospitalized.

A Missouri driver tried to avoid a collision with an Oklahoma car. He swerved across the road toward a ditch but en route he hit McMillen's car. The Winona man had almost skidded to a stop when the collision occurred. His car was described as a total loss. One man was hospitalized.

McCarthy Speech In Milwaukee Raps 'Appeasement'

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sen. McCarthy was back in Washington today for resumption of a Senate session considering a recommendation to censure him after telling a home state audience over the weekend "we are in the midst of a movement of massive appeasement."

McCarthy spoke at a testimonial dinner here Saturday night and told 1,500 cheering supporters "it is a movement of people who are not loyal to our country."

McCarthy said "I know you are behind me now. I was in Constitutional Hall in Washington the other night where there were mothers of sons missing in action in the Korean War. Then I realized how serious it was that we were wasting time in the Senate instead of digging out what happened to American boys."

In concluding his short address McCarthy said "I want to state that regardless of what is done in this circus, whether I am censured, or am no longer chairman of my committee, I shall continue to do this job till I die."

McCarthy spoke after he had been presented a scroll by Francis Summitt, president of the Young Republican Club of Outagamie County, the senator's home county. Summitt said the scroll contained the names of 600 McCarthy backers.

Frequent applause and shouts of "we want Joe," interrupted the senator's talk.

The main speaker was Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) who praised McCarthy as a "great American who seeks the truth." He urged that Republicans and Democrats get together as a team for the good of the nation.

Robert Voelger, American businessman imprisoned by the Hungarian Communists, was another speaker. He urged Americans to be on the alert to guard against Communist infiltration in government.

At the speakers table with McCarthy, his wife and Sen. Goldwater, were Henry Ringling of Baraboo, national committee chairman; Mrs. Yvonne Town of Waukesha, national committeewoman; Warren Smith, state treasurer; and George Smith, lieutenant governor defeated in the September primary by Warren Knowles of New Richmond.

The toastmaster was Carl Taylor, Waukesha banker.

Ettrick Rebuilding Road to New Height

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—The new road on top of the dike at the pond area adjoining the village property, running behind the Invald Jorgenson shop on Mill street, the lumber yard and the Carlyle Johnson Feed Store, is being rebuilt higher than ever before by the village.

The dike-road was completely washed out in the floods of the past summer. Elmer Thomas, Alma Center, with a bulldozer, is digging dirt from the dry pond bed. The Ettrick dam, dynamited once during the floods, and then destroyed a second time, is not yet rebuilt.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

THE other day the Bob Steins took me to Onalaska with them to see the great stable of quarter horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Dale. Perhaps you know what a quarter horse is but I didn't. They are a stocky, strongly built, rather small breed of horse developed in the west especially for long distance riding, speedy roping and cutting out of cattle. They have deep, broad chests and powerfully muscled hindquarters. They have great speed, strength and endurance, can pivot swiftly on a dime.

In addition they're extremely good tempered and gentle, easy to handle and very smooth riding. They have been used in ranch country for years but only recently within the past ten years has their general excellence and practicality been recognized in the east.

There aren't nearly enough good quarter horses to meet the growing demand, so they are quite expensive. Mr. Dale, who has several manufacturing plants and farms around Onalaska, has enthusiastically taken up the raising of good quarter horses as a hobby, and shows them at the big shows all over the country. The Dales have some of the top quarter horses in the country and want to breed good ones and get them started in this area.

When we arrived, the Dales' top trainer Jack Brainerd had just finished cutting out some cattle and was in a corral putting a handsome, powerful young buckskin quarter horse through some intricate maneuvers under the watchful eye of the greatest western horseman in the country, Monty Foreman. Monty who is visiting the Dales this week has trained practically all the great cowboys in the west, writes regularly for the leading horsemanship magazines, draws horse illustrations for magazine articles, gives lectures and demonstrations of horsemanship all over the U.S.

In addition he has developed the sensationally successful new "balanced ride saddle"—if you order one you'll have to wait about a year before they can fill your order. Last year the great King ranch in Texas hired him to train all their top cowboys. Trainer Jack Brainerd, a dark, handsome 22-year-old boy with Nebraska and Texas background, is a graduate of Iowa State College and specialized in animal husbandry and veterinary medicine. He is a wizard with animals as well as a sensational rider. He has an attractive young wife and two-year-old son, both fine riders. On that very day little Zane celebrated his second birthday, and his main present was a magnificent hand-tooled saddle of his own, made for him in Wyoming.

We watched Jack put the buckskin horse through flashing bursts of speed, sudden pivots, intricate circling maneuvers, breathtaking stops. It was a brilliant performance. Monty Foreman on his black and white horse made a suggestion about changing the lead of the back legs, then watched the performance quietly. At the finish he cried, "Hot dawg! That's about perfect!" and leaned over to tell Mr. Dale, "The kid's about as good as I've ever seen."

Monty Foreman is about 30, lean and tall with blue eyes with sun wrinkles, a brown face and a slow smile. A Texan, he has a relaxed drawl, and he rides with negligent grace.

This coming Thursday evening, Nov. 18, Monty Foreman will give a lecture-movie-riding demonstration in the big indoor arena of the Vern Dale stables in Onalaska (which are immaculate and sprayed with pine oil). He will show movies of the greatest western riding and roping champions, pointing out what makes them good. He himself will demonstrate the fine points of trick riding, put quarter horses through their paces and explain their points, tell how to break horses, etc.

Many of Winona's Valley Riders and others interested in horses are planning to drive to Onalaska for the performance, as well as many horse lovers from Eau Claire, La Crosse and other parts of Wisconsin. The performance, held in the Vern Dale arena, begins at 7:30 and is open to the public at a small fee.

School Responsibility Discussed at Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—A forum-panel of eight men and two high school students discussed a general theme of "Good Schools Are Your Responsibility" at a special American Education Week program at the high school here Friday evening.

Discussing various group responsibilities to a better educational setup were: School board, Donald Harrington; PTA, Herbert Feldman; governor's committee, Arthur Olin; Farm Bureau, Kenneth Steffen; Commercial Club, Robert Dunlap; American Legion, Fred Nettikoven; church, the Rev. Mr. Brown; lawyers, Fred Gerber, and students, Mary Leonard and Wayne Herman.

Others on the program were the high school band and the junior chorus. Following the program, parents and guests toured the school building, visiting classrooms and visiting with individual teachers. A lunch was served.

cans in this category the three Republicans on the censure committee—Watkins of Utah, Case of South Dakota, and Carlson of Kansas—are entirely typical.

Hard Core

But the hard core of this group is found among the conservative southern Democrats, especially the respected older men like George and Russell of Georgia. It is necessary to understand the attitude of these men.

To the true southern conservatives, the Senate is a body of immense distinction. They are apt to call it, not simply "the Senate," but "The Senate of the United States," and a man can hardly aspire higher than to be a "United States senator."

But to these men, the Senate is not only for heroes and statesmen. It is also a club for old friends, made all the more agreeable by reason of the special Senate atmosphere—the snuff boxes, the black leather easy chairs in the Members' Lobby, the meaningless, traditional phrases like "My distinguished colleague."

Joe McCarthy, obviously, does not fit easily into this atmosphere. Indeed, he does not fit into it at all. But for a very long time the southerners succeeded simply in disregarding McCarthy—there was nothing, after all, that could be done about him, so the next best thing was to pretend that he did not exist.

In the last few months, however, certain things have happened to shatter this attitude. Partly, of course, this is the doing of McCarthy himself. It is hard to disregard a senator who calls a fellow senator "a living miracle without brains or guts," and under any circumstances it has become harder and harder to pretend that McCarthy does not exist.

Dislike for North But that is not all. Much as they may dislike their northern colleagues, the southern conservatives have a real feeling about the Democratic party. McCarthy called the Democratic party the "party of treason." Thomas E. Dewey came rather close to saying the same thing. And the line which Vice President Nixon took toward the close of the campaign, in which he portrayed the Democratic party as the party of war and of "softness on Communism," really put the cap on it, as far as the southerners were concerned.

Nixon has been, of course, a leader in the effort to find some "compromise" on the McCarthy issue. To have a chance of success, any compromise plan must have some Democratic votes, to make up for the Republicans who will vote for nothing less than censure. The place to look for these Democratic votes was, obviously, among the southerners and the conservatives.

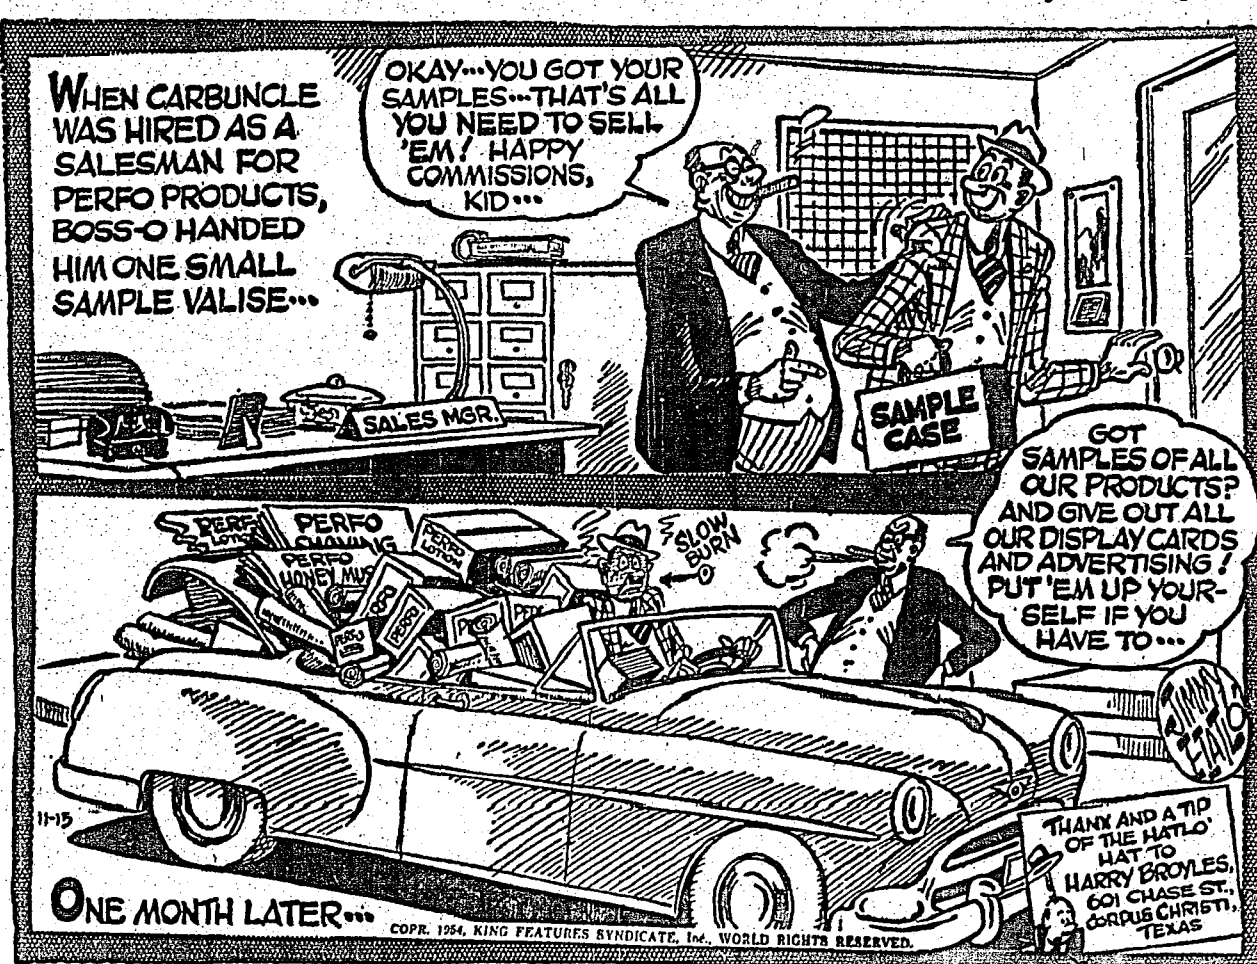

The southerners have now, in effect, flatly told Nixon and the other compromisers "no deal." They said "no deal" in the form of the eloquent speech by Sen. Stennis of Mississippi, calling strongly for censure on the grounds of "political morality."

Stennis, himself a respected younger member of the southern group, certainly discussed what he was going to say with the southern leaders, and with Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson as well.

It is conceivable, but only just conceivable, that the Democratic lines will break. But if the Democratic lines hold on McCarthy, they may well hold on other issues as well. And this in turn suggests how much harm McCarthy, the darling of many conservatives, may have done to the old conservative coalition which has ruled the Senate ever since the war.

Dr. Sheppard is accused of beating his pregnant wife Marilyn to death last July 4 after a quarrel over his affairs with Miss Hayes and other women. He insists his wife was killed by a prowler who knocked him out when he tried to help her.

Miss Hayes, an auburn-haired beauty with a cute spray of freckles across her nose, popped into the public eye last summer when police named her as a paramour of Dr. Sheppard and brought her here from Los Angeles to testify.

Since then, she has avoided reporters as much as possible staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hayes, in suburban Rocky River.

She once was a laboratory technician in Bay View Hospital, an osteopathic institution in Bay Village, where Dr. Sheppard practiced.

The state says Miss Hayes has admitted she was intimate with Dr. Sheppard "more than once" while he was in Los Angeles last March, attending an osteopathic school.

Oldest of Civil War Veterans 112

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Walter W. Williams, oldest of four surviving Civil War Veterans, celebrated his 112th birthday yesterday and said he looks forward to more years in spite of failing eyesight and hearing.

The wizened little man who once foraged for Hood's Texas Brigade of the Confederate Army smiled and said he was glad to be starting his 113th year.

"My grandfather—in Mississippi—lived to be 119," he said. "And I might go on and top him."

Two birthday cakes, one topped with a Confederate flag, flanked the wheel chair to which he is confined. His 12 living children and others of his four generations of descendants were on hand.

Williams lives quietly with his 80-year-old wife Ella and son Gene on his 20-acre farm near here.

It's fun surprising relatives with how long he lives, Williams said. "They come by every few days to see me dead," he joked. "But I don't die."

Saint Teresa Holds Meeting On Student Government

"The Intellectual Formation of the Student" was the theme of the student government workshop held at the College of Saint Teresa Saturday.

Keynote speaker was Mrs. M. H. Fitzgerald, Janesville, Wis., an alumna of the college, who discussed the role of student government in the intellectual formation of the student.

The morning session of the workshop featured a panel discussion by the various commissioners on campus who discussed the organization of student government at the college. Panelists were: The Misses Gwendolyn Bastyr, Jordan, junior, commissioner of co-curricular activities; Anne Stoddard, Washburn, Mich., sophomore, spiritual life commissioner; Nancy Siemon, McHenry, Ill., senior, social commissioner; Audrey Rauech, Bismarck, N. D., senior, student council president; Jane Ritter, Minneapolis, senior, senior delegate of the National Federation of Catholic College Students; and Janet Kelly, Waseca, senior, scholastic commissioner. Chairman of the panel was Miss Jacqueline Allen, Chicago, senior.

The afternoon panel discussed "The Student Movement." Participants were the Misses Suzanne Quinlin, Chicago, junior, junior class president; Nancy Marks, Oak Park, Ill., junior, student council secretary; Elizabeth Connelly, Lanesboro, junior, NFCCS junior delegate; Dorothy Capodice, Chicago, junior, regional secretary of the NFCCS; and Rita Prochaska, East Dubuque, Ill., senior, senior class president.

Publicity chairman was Miss Doris Suprenant, Currie, senior. General chairman of the workshop was Miss Suzanne Kerris, Chicago, senior, regional student government commissioner of the NFCCS.

Le Cerele Jeanne d'Arc held a French dinner meeting Saturday in the recreation room of Lourdes Hall. Mrs. George Huter, a French Belgian, is preparing the dinner. Mrs. Huter is an expert in the art of French cuisine and the menu included many of her original recipes.

Guests of honor at the dinner were Jacques Lavaurs and Françoise Guichard, students from France. Jacques is attending the college and Françoise attends Winona Senior High School.

"Good Schools are Your Responsibility" permeated the displays in the lobby of Saint Teresa Hall in honor of American Education Week. Based on the various levels of education, the displays featured elements of good school environment. Students in charge of the exhibits were: Primary level, Joan Angsten, Crystal Lake, Ill., junior; intermediate level, Joann Nielson, Simpson, Minn., junior; and Shirley Ellis, Austin, junior; junior high school level, Joan Vondrashek, Winona, junior; senior high school level, Anita Banas, Chicago, junior; college level, Arlyn Reinhart, New Ulm, junior, and Jean Seykora, Owatonna, junior.

Sister M. Romana, head of the education department, attended the meeting of the state advisory committee on teacher education Friday at St. Paul. This year the committee will consider general education in a program of teacher education. Dr. Russell Cooper of the University of Minnesota and Dr. O. W. Snarr of Moorhead presented the problem.

Sister M. Lorraine, secretary and director of admissions, attended a meeting of the Association of Minnesota Colleges on public relations and publicity Saturday at Augsburg College, St. Paul.

tended the North Central Association on new phases of the work of the commission on colleges and universities at Macalester College Thursday and Friday. Sister Bernella, of the English department, also attended the conference Friday.

The annual meeting of the Association of Minnesota Colleges was held at Augsburg College Saturday. Sister M. Camille, president of the association, presided.

Fenton Moran, executive secretary of the William J. Kerby Foundation, will give an address at the college Thursday at 1:30 p.m. His subject will be "Looking at Europe Today."

The lecturer was educated at Georgetown University, College of Arts and Sciences, University of Grenoble, France and Georgetown University, School of Foreign Service. He spent eleven years as attaché of the legation of the Republic of Liberia in Paris and delegate for Liberia at the Assembly of the League of Nations. Following this he spent three years with the U.S. Army Counter-Intelligence Corps, serving in the Middle East and Europe and participating in the Normandy landing and campaign through France and Belgium into Germany.

Moran has lectured throughout the U. S. and Canada and has reviewed and written articles for various magazines including the Sign, Columbia, the Catholic Digest, and the Presbyterian Review and the Catholic Educator. He has also contributed series of talks on the spiritual bases of American democracy of America.

Miss Madeline Cheng, senior at the college will address the Future Teachers of Winona State Teachers College today. Miss Cheng will discuss educational opportunities in her country.

"A choral program" by students of the department of voice under the direction of Sister Mary Sixtus, faculty member of the department of music, will be featured on the Terean Hour Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. over Station KWNO. The program includes: "Rain and the River," Fox; "Bendemeer's Stream," Irish folk song; "Ay, Ay, Ay," Creole song; "On Canaan Shore," Negro spiritual, and "I Would Weave a Song for You." O'Hara-MacLean. Accompanist will be Miss Mary K. Fridgen.

AT LABORATORIES

Harlan K. Hatfield, Winona, who is with the Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., is one of 25 hatcherymen, druggists, produce and feed dealers who completed a four-day poultry short course in poultry diseases and management at Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories, Charles City, Iowa.

Sister M. Romana, head of the education department, attended the meeting of the state advisory committee on teacher education Friday at St. Paul. This year the committee will consider general education in a program of teacher education. Dr. Russell Cooper of the University of Minnesota and Dr. O. W. Snarr of Moorhead presented the problem.

Don't Plan Picnic for Memorial Day or July 4th
Don't plan a picnic for next Memorial Day or July 4.
That's the advice of the two most reliable weather forecasters available to the general public, the Farmers' Almanac and the Old Farmer's Almanac, both of which forecast rain for those dates in 1955.

If you're skeptical about the accuracy of these two popular (one has a circulation in excess of 900,000) prognosticators, take a look at the weather we are now enjoying and remember that the almanac forecast was for Indian summer Nov. 5-15.

The Old Farmer's Almanac forecast for the remainder of November promises blizzards at the end of the month with considerable snow for Thanksgiving.

Aside from the forecasts, there's been little change in the almanacs, and the Farmers' Almanac is now in its 137th year of continuous publication. They contain the astronomical calculations, planting and frost dates along with jokes, riddles, household and garden hints mixed in with the poetry and items of general family interest.

Both publishers, however, retain the secret of weather forecasting, but the results are available at little or no cost. The Farmers' Almanac is distributed free by various types of business firms and the Old Farmer's Almanac, at a small fee, is available at most bookshops and news stands.

The Farmers' Almanac has come out with a new term this year to designate the mathematical expression of just how comfortable the weather is.

The humidity (humidity-temperature) Editor Ray Geiger writes, is obtained simply by adding the degrees temperature and the humidity percentage and dividing the sum by two. If the answer comes to above 70, the weather is uncomfortable or "close." Below 70, however, conditions are considered to be satisfactory.

Main differences between the two well known almanacs are the advertisements in the Old Farmer's edition (the Farmers' Almanac carries no advertising other than the name of the firm distributing the books) and some of the weather we may expect in January and February.

The Farmers' Almanac sees below normal precipitation and warmer temperatures than usual, while the Old Farmer's volume predicts a "full storm" during the first two weeks followed by "cruel cold" and then another storm.

Normal weather may be expected in February, according to the optimistic Farmers' Almanac, but the Old Farmer believes another big blizzard will precede a pre-March windy period.

Early March will include cold temperatures and some sort of precipitation (rain or snow) according to both almanacs and the Old Farmer's edition sees floods at the end of the month.

Despite these variations, both are firm in the contention that Memorial Day and the Fourth of July will be rainy and that Thanksgiving 1955 will be cold.

Only time will tell which is right.

A Winona Bird-Man

Hats off to Max Conrad, the man from Winona, who recently duplicated Lindbergh's epoch-making solo flight from New York to Paris. Max made it non-stop in 22 hours and 33 minutes. Lindy negotiated the distance in 33 hours and 29 minutes.

The Winonan has made quite a name for himself as an aviator. This was his fifth solo flight across the Atlantic, but on previous trips he had stopped off at Labrador, Greenland, and Iceland, on his transatlantic hops. It is noteworthy that Conrad made his latest trip merely to deliver the plaque to a prospective customer. It goes to show that long distance travel by air is becoming pretty commonplace these days. — Red Wing Daily Republican Eagle.

Try and Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

An intrepid British sportsman invaded the African jungle in search of big game, but ran afoul of a blazing native insurrection. Whipping out his service revolver, he emptied all barrels point-blank at the enemy, returned to his base to report happily, "I guess I've just shot the last of the red hot Maumaus!"

History records that in 1916, a young lieutenant just graduated from West Point, was summoned from his post at Fort Sam Houston to coach the football team of a nearby school. The coach, one Dwight D. Eisenhower, found the spirit there willing, but the material sparse. Desperately seeking reinforcements for the skimpy squad, he suddenly spotted a husky specimen crossing the campus. "Look here, young fellow," he called sharply. "Why

These Days
Satellites Still Remember Hitler

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
NEW YORK—It has been suggested that NATO form divisions of Czech, Polish, Hungarian and White Russian troops, men available in Europe and in this country, dedicated to opposition to Soviet Russia. The argument is that in the satellite countries of the Soviet Universal State, the people still fear the Germans who will prevail in the new European army. They still remember Hitler. Therefore if a balance could be made by employing an army of men who by race and nationality are the same as those in the border countries, it would mean, first of all, good fighters and secondly, it might inspire continued underground guerrilla activities.

It is a good idea because these refugee people will never compromise in their hatred for Soviet Russia. Were it otherwise, they would be inside the Iron Curtain, not outside it. They might even be as successful as Vishinsky who started as an opponent of the Bolsheviks and ended as Stalin's purger and private insurer. They might have become Soviet bureaucrats instead of headwaiters and hotel managers. Their sincerity cannot be questioned because they have made sacrifices for their faith.

ON THE OTHER HAND, their timing is very bad. We are now moving into the period of co-existence. It is to live and let live, so that the Soviet Universal State might have time to consolidate its recent gains and prepare for further gains by military or other less conventional means. Therefore, it would be astonishing if the British and French and even our own country would agree to do anything which would outrage the sensibilities of the Russians at this time.

In fact, there is a possibility that some steps will be taken to find a compromise on the admission of Red China into the United Nations while keeping the Republic of Formosa (a state which does not exist anywhere on this earth) in the same United Nations. Thus China would have double representation, if that is a compromise.

One might ask what can be achieved by such tricky business. One of the advantages would be that the Republicans would go into the 1956 campaign with the truthful boast that the United States had enjoyed four years, more or less, without Americans being killed in war. That would be an excellent argument for winning an election no matter what else is at stake.

The Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and White Russians who want to be mobilized in the European army are not altogether without the possibility of solving their problem. They might find a way of being incorporated in the German division. Some of them could call themselves ex-Germans, as their countries had been conquered by Germany before they were conquered by Russia. This may sound facetious, but the man who wants to fight will find a way to fight, particularly if he has hatred for a conqueror in his heart and love for his own country. This is surely true of the Poles, who, no matter what mistakes of their own made Poland a conquered and partitioned country, always somehow reunite for a short historic period of freedom and self-government.

IT OUGHT TO BE POPULAR in the United States if a formula were made available to use Poles, Czechs, Hungarians and White Russians instead of Americans to defend Europe. However, when the new treaty creating the European army comes up for ratification, we shall probably discover that we have pledged more than we now know and that Americans will be stationed in Europe for a prolonged period to guarantee the French that the Germans will not gobble them up.

It is a pity that we are not ready to utilize these various peoples, who want to be fighting soldiers, instead of using conscripted troops who do not want to be soldiers at all. The mercenary is no longer popular, although in the long history of war, he proved himself to be a fairly good soldier. The French Foreign Legion, an army of contracted soldiers who fight for pay and to forget, has done extraordinarily well, even displaying heroism in the Indochina war. Many of these legionnaires were Germans and of other nationalities but they fought for France courageously until they were betrayed at the Geneva Conference. NATO could well use them if it would not prove too displeasing to the enemy.

Commercial Concessions Threaten National Forests

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—Secretary of the Interior "generous" Doug McKay isn't the only member of Ike's cabinet who seems interested in granting commercial concessions in our national forests.

Another is Ezra Benson. As secretary of agriculture, Benson is head of the Forest Service; and, if he followed tradition, he wouldn't interfere with decisions of career national foresters. But he has broken the time-honored practice of his office and refused to accept a Forest Service veto of an application to strip mines in the Cumberland national forest in Kentucky. Benson has been warned that not only would lovely forestland be made barren if he overrules the Forest Service and allows strip mining, but the unpolluted watersheds would be filled with poisonous by-products of the surface coal. Also, Benson has been told, the land will be disfigured and made worthless by erosion if the trees are cut down.

Benson hasn't made his final decision yet. Says he wants to appoint a committee to decide whether to submit to the wishes of Stearns Coal and Lumber Co. of Stearns, Ky. This makes him the first secretary of agriculture in history to refuse to back up the Forest Service.

New Supreme Court Judge
If Judge John Marshall Harlan is anything like his grandfather, President Eisenhower has picked an A-1 new justice for the Supreme Court.
His grandfather, appointed to the Supreme Court in 1877, was a julep-drinking Kentuckian, who owned slaves himself, but battled for the cause of the Negro both as a member of the Union army and on the Supreme Court.

It was Justice Harlan who wrote the ringing dissent in the first segregation case to come before the court after the Civil War, a case which marked the death of the Fourteenth Amendment as far as Negroes were concerned—until just recently.

The case, U. S. vs. Harris—was decided in 1883. Congress had passed an act authorizing by Sen. Sumner of Massachusetts giving equal privileges to Negroes in "inns, public conveyances and theaters." But a majority of the court, though then dominated by Northerners, held the act unconstitutional. It buried the Fourteenth Amendment for 70 years, and a Northern, Justice Bradley of New Jersey, wrote the majority opinion.

And it was a former slave owner, Justice Harlan of Kentucky, who wrote a burning dissent against his Northern colleagues who had fought a war to free the Negroes and then withdrew that freedom.

"Constitutional provisions," wrote Justice Harlan, "adopted in the interest of liberty, and for the purpose of securing liberty . . . have been so construed as to defeat the ends the people desired to accomplish, and which they supposed they had accomplished by changes in their fundamental law."

"It is for Congress, not the judiciary, to say what legislation is appropriate . . . The judiciary may not, with safety to our institutions, enter the domain of legislative discretion and dictate the means which Congress shall employ in the exercise of its granted power."

"The right of a colored person to use an improved highway upon the terms accorded to free men of other races, is as fundamental in the state of freedom established in this country, as are the rights which my brethren concede to be so far fundamental as to be deemed the essence of civil liberty."

Despite that dissent, Justice Harlan's brethren continued to make a mockery of the original

Heart Attack Not Death Sentence

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
You're not necessarily doomed to an early death just because you have heart disease. In most cases you're not even sentenced to a life as an invalid. In fact, there's a good chance you'll outlive many who right now think they are in perfect health.

True, heart disease is still the nation's number one killer—800,000 deaths this year, and about 850,000 estimated for next year. But even though you may be among the more than 4,500,000 Americans who already have organic heart disease, you needn't be one of the fatalities. The guy next door who believes he is in danger, it's the person who thinks he's healthy but is not, and who ignores danger signals, whose life really is in jeopardy.

If you know you've got heart disease, and there are several kinds, you know you've got to live a bit differently than someone who hasn't.

And here's how to do it: With the official beginning of winter only a month or so away, probably the most timely advice I can give you is to be careful of snow and cold weather.

As for the snow, don't try to shovel it. Bending and lifting are bad for you. If someone else can't shovel for you, don't worry; the snow will melt anyway.

Don't try wading through deep snow, either. Walking against a cold wind might bring on an attack, too. You've got to remember to keep from straining at anything. And always quit anything you're doing before you get tired.

Avoid extreme cold as much as possible. If you must go out, bundle up well. But be sure you take off your heavy outer clothing whenever you step inside a heated room. That's important, even if you're only going to stay for a moment.

Walking into zero weather from a room where the temperature is, say, 72 degrees, taxes anyone's heart. It creates more strain if you are warmed even more by heavy clothing.

Victims of heart disease must watch themselves all the year round, not only in winter. There are do's and don'ts to follow, no matter what the season. I'll discuss more of them tomorrow.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. C.: For several years, small bruises keep appearing on different parts of my body. I have been advised this is a condition called "fragility of the capillaries." What causes this trouble?

Answer: The exact cause of this trouble is not known. It is possibly due to a vitamin deficiency. Various preparations containing vitamin P, as well as vitamin B, are often prescribed for it.

You should consult your doctor who will advise whether such treatment would be helpful in your case.

Carpenters Want Wood for Pounding

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP)—When a new employee, Paul Wood, told his fellow carpenters on a home-building project that his wife had died in a hospital, they passed the hat and gave him $55 cash.

He asked some of the men to serve as pallbearers, saying he was a stranger here.

Today he really is a stranger. The other carpenters called the funeral parlor he mentioned to get his wife's first name for a floral wreath. They were told no funeral was scheduled for anyone by that name. A check at the hospital disclosed that no Mrs. Wood had died there.

Wood is wanted by the carpenters.

Like Having Clinic's Special Prescription FOR YOUR PILES

Of course, when you get an ointment for shrinking piles, you'd like a special prescription, from a clinic, for your case. That's virtually what you get in Thornton Minor Clinic's ointment. All the experience of not one doctor but a full medical as well as surgical staff is behind it; it results from study of more than 75,000 cases seen in the clinic. So, it is not just a "modified skin salve" but a specialized pile prescription designed to deal with specific problems of itching, bleeding, swelling, pain. If you want an aid to reduce piles the non-surgical way, use a clinically approved prescription—Thornton Minor Ointment or suppository form.

Jap Relations With S. Korea Dip to New Low

SEOUL (AP) — Relations between Japan and South Korea — bitter rivals although two of America's principal allies in the Far East — are at low ebb.

South Korea has indicated no intention of settling its long-standing feud with Japan, even at the risk of losing American aid.

Dr. Karl Hong Ki, Korean government spokesman, said recently, "Japan is rapidly becoming a willing tool of the Communists." He also accused the Japanese of helping smuggle Communist agents into Korea and of flooding the country with narcotics.

Even though the Japanese ignore such statements, it is feared they have hurt the possibility of forming a northeast Asia defense alliance, long a rumored but never acknowledged project in U. S. foreign policy plans.

The most recent Japanese-Korean talks broke up in November 1953 after a Japanese delegate said he believed the Koreans actually benefited under the 40-year Japanese occupation which ended in 1945. The Koreans have refused to meet again until the Japanese apologize for that remark.

Koreans want Japan to withdraw all property claims on Korea. They also want the controversial "Rhee Line" recognized before meetings are resumed. And they want back their national art treasures which they claim Japan took during the occupation.

The Rhee Line, extending 60 miles out from the Korean coast, is one of the most critical issues. It originally was established by Gen. Douglas MacArthur at the outset of the Korean War in 1950 to clarify areas of military commands.

President Syngman Rhee of South Korea in 1952 directed that the line be considered the boundary of Korean territorial waters. His ships have seized and confiscated 63 Japanese fishing boats and their 690 crewmen within those waters since September 1953.

The fishermen were returned but Korea kept the boats.

Two other smoldering issues are little Tokto (Takeshima) Island and the need for an increase in Japanese-Korean trade.

The Koreans have occupied Tokto, a bleak stack of rocks midway between the two countries. Both countries claim it.

Thingvold Opens Accounting Office

Norman Thingvold

Opening of a public accounting office at 32 Morgan Block was announced today by Norman Thingvold, 850 40th Ave., Goodview.

Thingvold was comptroller at H. Choate & Co. from March 1953 until his recent resignation.

A native of Minneapolis, he attended the University of Minnesota for 3½ years and was commissioned as an officer in the Navy in 1943 while attending the university under the Naval ROTC program. Following a year of active duty, he returned to Minneapolis and was employed in the Harold E. Sandahl accounting firm for 7½ years. For a year beginning in 1952, he was chief accountant and assistant comptroller at Cook & Sons, Minneapolis.

While he was in Minneapolis he attended the university part time.

Thingvold is married, has three children — two of whom attend Phelps Laboratory School — and is a member of the YMCA, Elks, and Central Lutheran Church. He has been serving on the board of directors of the Credit Bureau of Winona.

18-Year-Old Steals Plane For Fast Trip

GLADSTONE, Mich. (AP)—An 18-year-old Gladstone boy who had "foolled around planes some" yesterday flew a sleek stolen plane from Grand Rapids to Gladstone, giving several Air Force jets the bird en route.

After landing the single-engine, $26,000 Beechcraft Bonanza at a small airstrip near this Upper Peninsula town, Darryl Spaulding calmly said:

"I just wanted to get to Gladstone in a hurry."

State police, who arrested him on investigation of at least three charges, including grand larceny, said he told them he intended to fly home for a visit and then pilot the craft to Detroit, where he was scheduled to be inducted into the Army today.

The youth's rush trip of 300 miles weaving along the coastline of Lake Michigan had the Air Force, Civil Aeronautics Authority, state police and civilian pilots dizzy in an air and ground search for several hours.

The plane was owned by Lear Inc., a Grand Rapids aircraft instrument company.

A Lear mechanic at Kent County Airport said he heard the plane's engine start but figured Edward F. Conklin, chief pilot for Lear, was in it until it weaved erratically while taxiing for takeoff.

Air Force jets intercepted the light plane but Spaulding, with his lower air speed, was able to outmaneuver them, the Air Force said. The jets were forced to turn back because of low fuel supplies. The plane finally was spotted by Fred Sensie, a private pilot.

Spaulding was arrested at his grandmother's house near Gladstone.

Police said he readily admitted the unauthorized flight. They quoted him as saying he had no formal pilot training. He was removed to the Delta County Jail at Escanaba.

Now performance never before possible with regular grade gasoline

New Shell Gasoline—regular grade—contains TCP, Shell-developed additive that stops the greatest cause of power waste

Now motorists who use regular grade fuels can enjoy performance never possible before.

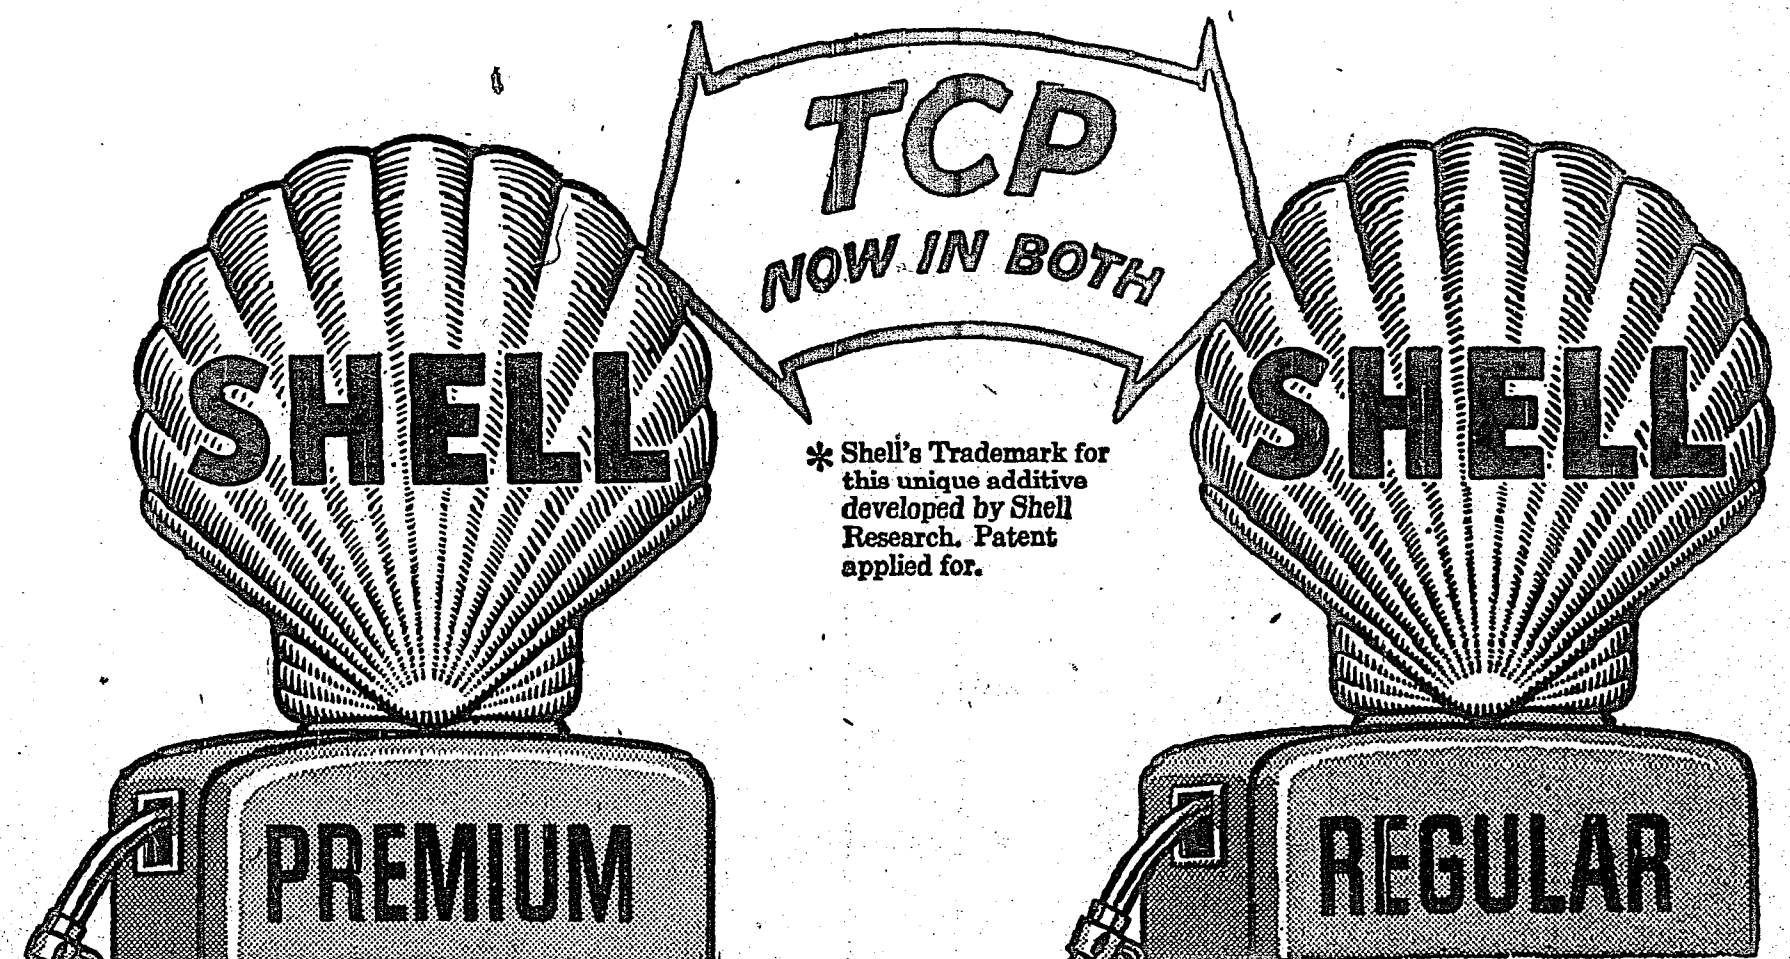

TCP*, first introduced in Shell Premium Gasoline exclusively, has now been blended into Shell Gasoline (regular grade).

As a result, engines designed to operate on regular gasoline can benefit two ways. First, TCP additive "fireproofs" combustion chamber deposits, effectively controlling pre-ignition. Second, by changing the deposits on the spark plugs to nonconductors of electricity, TCP additive stops misfiring. Each spark plug fires as it should, preventing waste of fuel.

By correcting these engine troubles, Shell Gasoline with TCP gives an increase in acceleration, in smoothness of engine operation and in mileage.

Since engine deposits form constantly, continued use of Shell Gasoline, regular grade, with TCP additive is essential to retain its benefits. Now at all Shell Dealers.

Concrete ends wet-road JITTERS

Driving on a dark, slick pavement in a rain gives you a bad case of wet-road jitters in no time. "Slippery when wet" warnings keep you on edge. You grip the wheel tightly and strain to see—hoping you can stop without skidding if trouble comes. The longer you drive the more jangled your nerves become.

There's less such tension on concrete. You can relax because you know you can stop quick in emergencies. Wet or dry, concrete's gritty texture provides uniformly high skid resistance. This built-in safety feature has prevented thousands of accidents. It may save your life too!

You also can relax on concrete because there's no high-crown handicap. Roads are crowned, or sloped down from the center, to facilitate drainage. Surfaces that develop irregularities easily need high crowns to avoid water pockets. The durable, even surface of concrete has an almost imperceptible crown. No need to tug at the wheel to stay on the road. Skid resistance and low crown—two reasons why concrete ends wet-road jitters.

Margery Cole, Lt. Strommer Exchange Vows

Standards of yellow and white chrysanthemums and pompons at either side of the altar trail and bouquets of white pompons on the altar made the background for the wedding of Miss Margery Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cole, 714 Washington St., and Lt. Ralph L. Strommer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Strommer, 821 W. Broadway, at Central Methodist Church Saturday.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Truman Potter at 3 p.m. Miss Agnes Bard played a prelude of organ music and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Paul Reksstad sang "Through the Years" and "At Dawning."

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Margaret McQueen. The bride's gown was of white nylon tulle over satin, ankle length, and was made with a bodice of lace. Her veil of white tulle was held in place by a cap of satin flowers. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and pompons.

The maid of honor wore an ankle-length gown of green antique shantung, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, pompons and roses. Her headdress was a band matching her gown with two yellow pompons at the side.

Ally, E. Johnson, cousin of the bride, was best man. Leon Perszyk, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and James R. Cole, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception followed in the church social room where large baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums served as decorations. Miss Mary McQueen had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Connie Phillips cut the wedding cake. Miss Karllyn Pfeiffer served punch and Mrs. Leon Perszyk poured. A buffet supper was served for relatives and out-of-town guests at the bride's parents' home.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans the couple will be at home at Harlingen, Texas. For travel the bride wore a red knit suit with black accessories. She attended Hamline University, St. Paul, and was graduated from Winona State Teachers College last June. The bridegroom who attended Winona State Teachers College, will be an Air Force instructor at the Harlingen Air Force Base.

A bridal party was given by the bridegroom's parents at their home following the wedding rehearsal Friday evening. Parties for the bride-elect were given by Mrs. Ralph Legried, Mrs. Kenneth McQueen and Mrs. Earl Johnson, and a dinner party by Mr. and Mrs. James D. Cole.

Premiere of 'The Silver Chalice' Offered in Christmas Seal Contest

Winona or some other Minnesota town may be the scene of a Hollywood type world premier complete with seven stars and fanfare—if its county people can show the nation the greatest mail sale of Christmas Seals in proportion to population during the first three days of the campaign which opens Nov. 22.

If during the three days of Nov. 22, 23 and 24, the town sells the greatest number of seals through its mail sale, in proportion to its population of any town in the United States, it will have the world premiere of "The Silver Chalice" as a special Christmas award for the quick and generous response of its citizenry to the annual appeal for funds to fight tuberculosis, according to a release from the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Any town, big or small, that has a cinema theater, is eligible to compete.

The film produced by Warner Brothers, is based on Thomas Costain's best-selling novel about early Christians and the historical period, in which Christianity had its beginning. Particularly fitting for the Yuletide season, "The Silver Chalice" will have its first showing Dec. 17 somewhere in the nation.

Every Minnesota family can help to bring the premiere to this state and to his own county by hosts.

responding to the Christmas Seal appeal as soon as its letter is received in the mail.

(This state has a good chance in the nation-wide competition, the Christmas Seal organization points out, for last year Minnesota was second in the nation in per capita Christmas Seal returns. Delaware was first but several Minnesota counties topped the Delaware per capita figure.)

The special contest offering "The Silver Chalice" world premiere to any town or city in the United States for best per capita Christmas Seal response, is sponsored by Art Linkletter, radio and television star, Warner Brothers, and the National Tuberculosis Association. Linkletter will be on hand to serve as host during the premiere.

In order to compete, a county's Christmas Seal workers must tabulate their mail sales and telegraph county returns to the National Tuberculosis Association before midnight Nov. 24.

DORCAS CLUB
PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—The Dorcas Club was entertained by Mrs. Herbert Feldman at her home Thursday afternoon. An organ recital will be sponsored in the local Lutheran church, the date to be selected soon. During the social hour a lunch was served by the state and to his own county by hosts.

WHEN COLDS MAKE HIM CRY—
Give Your Baby Relief that DOES MORE THAN WORK ON CHEST!
When a chest cold makes your child miserable, he needs a medication that does more than just work on his chest. He needs Vicks VapoRub — because it acts two ways at once.
1. VapoRub relieves muscular soreness and tightness, stimulates chest surfaces.
2. At the same time, VapoRub's special medicated vapors also bring relief with every breath. You can't see these vapors, but your child can feel them... feel them as they travel deep into the nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. The congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Soon he enjoys wonderful, warming relief that lasts for hours.
So when colds strike, use the best-known home remedy to relieve such suffering — Vicks VapoRub.

Children's Book Week Brings New Selections to Local Library Shelves

Children's Book Week, Nov. 14 to 20, will be celebrated in the Winona Free Public Library Children's Room with a display of more than 300 new books. The selection this year is particularly good. Many authors of favorite books have new ones published this fall, and some promising new authors have appeared.

The Children's Room will be decorated on a Starlight Theater theme. "Stars of 1954" will feature a number of the choice books of the season. A large "Magic Carpet to the Stars" cut-out will preside over the adventure books. Glittering stars will attract the reader to the "Galaxy of New Stars" books.

Biographies will be gathered on a special table of "Star Performers." Junior High girls will have a section of "Star Dust" books and Junior High boys will have "Stars to Steer By."

The display case will feature a picture "The heavens declare the glory of God," from the Book "Small Rain" illustrated by Elizabeth Orton Jones. Another display will contain jingles and rhymes about stars.

The Book Week poster this year was designed by Lynd Ward, winner of the Caldecott Award in 1953, for the best illustrated children's book of that year.

Adults as well as children are invited by the staff to visit the Children's Room during Book Week to see the fine work that is being done in the field of children's literature.

A brief sampling of some of the new books follows:
Picture Books and Easy Books

"Betsy And The Circus," Carolyn Haywood. Another of the "Betsy" books by an author who writes the most satisfying of stories for those children in the advanced primer stage who want a "fat" book with chapters.

"Hurry, Skurry, and Flurry," Mary and Conrad Buff. The beautifully written and illustrated story of three little squirrels. These authors are comparable to Donald Culross Peattie on the adult level.

"William's Shadow," Margot Austin. Funny story about the little animals who try to keep William, the groundhog, from going out to find food on Groundhog's Day because they know that he will see his shadow.

"Book of Nursery and Mother Goose Rhymes," selected and illustrated by Marguerite DeAngeli. A truly lovely new Mother Goose edition.

"The Happy Lion," Louise Fatio. About a lion who lived in a French zoo where everyone stopped to say "Bon Jour" each day. Teen-Age Books

"Henry and Ribsy," Beverly Cleary. A sure-fire favorite by an author who writes genuinely funny books.

Madison PTA Fun Frolic Attended by 1,000

As the theme for the 1954 Fun Frolic sponsored by the Madison PTA at the school Friday, was the "Little Red School House," the school house was the center of the gymnasium floor.

The walls of the gymnasium were decorated with pot-bellied stoves, paper chains, stick men and slates bearing old copy-book maxims — "A stitch in time saves nine," "A rolling stone gathers no moss" and others.

More than a thousand children and adults trooped into the school from 7 to 9 p. m. to fish in the fish ponds, buy used comic and pocket books, patronize the Girl Scout candy booth, the delicatessen booth and the pop and popcorn booths.

Gaily colored balloons floated from many hands. A long line of children wound their way through the "Mystery Cave," earning paper leis for their efforts. Nancy Schultz received a teddy bear as her cave award.

The cake walk was well patronized by children and adults and game tables offered prizes. At 8 p. m. movies for the children were shown, including animated cartoons in one room and an Abbot and Costello film in the other. From 8 p. m. to the close of the evening lunch was served and door prizes were presented from 9:30 p. m. on.

A new feature of this year's Fun Frolic, "wishing wells" at strategic spots eased the job of the clean-up committee. The wells said "Make a wish for something swell. Throw your papers in the well."

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Sievers, general chairman, list the following committee members who contributed to the evening's success: Door prizes, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goldberg, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kane and Mrs. B. F. Perkins; ticket sales, room and individual prizes, Miss Marilyn Neitzke and Verdi Elies; comics, Dr. and Mrs. James Kahl, chairman, and Mrs. Louise Hough; decorations, Mrs. E. M. Allen, chairman; Mrs. T. H. Underdahl, Mrs. Frederick Bauer, Mrs. Harold Streeter, Mrs. C. R. Kollowski and Miss Fern Kinzie and her kindergarten children.

Ike Asks Senate To Approve West German Treaties

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower asked the Senate today to approve treaties freeing and re-arming West Germany on the side of the Western Powers. He said the treaties "are founded upon the profound yearning for peace" shared by peoples of the free world.

He sent the treaty documents, signed in London and Paris, to the Senate with a letter saying they represented years of work to bring independence to Germany and integration of that divided country into the Western defense.

The measures would restore sovereignty to West Germany, ending the U.S.-British-French occupation. Germany also would become a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and with Italy join the 1948 Brussels pact.

These steps, Eisenhower told the Senate, could be accomplished under the agreements "in a manner which will insure freedom and equality for the people of Germany and at the same time will avoid the danger of a revival of German militarism."

Mill City Woman Hurt at Mondovi

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — A Minneapolis woman was released from a hospital here today after receiving treatment for cuts and bruises suffered when her car and a truck collided on Highway 10, 4 1/2 miles east of here, at 4:30 p. m. Sunday.

Buffalo County Sheriff Glenn Davis said that the exact cause of the mishap has not been determined as yet.

Miss Delores Winters, 26, Minneapolis, was driving west on the highway when her car and an east-bound truck driven by James Bauer, 21, Mondovi, collided.

The truck, loaded with eight tons of lime, lost its rear wheels as a result of the crash but the truck continued to slide along the highway for a distance of 225 feet before it overturned and came to rest on its top in the ditch.

The accident occurred at a bridge on the highway and the truck driver was not injured.

STATE SAND STOLEN

Reports that sand used for state highway department winter maintenance work has been stolen from near St. Charles have been received by Sheriff George Fort. The sheriff said that state highway department crews told him that the sand has been taken from stockpiles left on Highway 14, about one-half mile east of St. Charles.

Minneapolis Woman Killed in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — Mrs. Adeline Daines, of 3639 Van Buren, Minneapolis, Minn., was killed today when her automobile was crushed by an electric train at a crossing near her Tokyo residence, Kyodo News Service reported.

Mrs. Daines, 42, was the wife of B. W. Daines of Northwest Airlines here. Kyodo said the automobile was hit and dragged 80 yards by one train and then crushed by another train running on the opposite track.

Cyanide Kills Fish In Mississippi River

Des Moines, Iowa (AP) — The State Health Department says it has determined that cyanide caused the deaths of thousands of fish in the Mississippi River below Davenport a week ago.

Paul J. Houser, director of the department's public health engineering division, said the cyanide apparently came from the Illinois side of the river—possibly from the Rock Island Arsenal or some industrial plant.

The Illinois water board has been notified of the department's findings, he said.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Sales Tax Gets Support From Farm Bureau

The Winona County Farm Bureau went on record in favor of a state sales tax at its annual meeting Saturday, providing a fair share of the tax is returned to local treasuries.

This was approved "since the present personal property tax does not distribute the tax burden equally," according to the resolution. It further asks that food, feed and fertilizer be exempted from a sales tax.

Officers were re-elected: Halvor Lacher, Rushford, president; Lawrence Schneider, St. Charles, vice president; and Charles Radatz, Lewiston, secretary-treasurer. Ewald Gaedy, Ridgeway, was named to the board of directors to replace Schneider who accepted the vice presidency following the resignation of Donald McLeod. Henry Siebenaler, Minneka, replaces Clinton Dabelstein on the board. Approval was given of the home and community chairman selection to be made by the women later this year.

Military Training
In other action Saturday, the bureau asks that eggs be graded, bought and sold by the pound and favors a selective service training plan whereby a draftee could serve six months basic training and get the remainder of his training with a National Guard unit in his home community.

Other resolutions approved were:

- In order to assure the consumer of a good grade of butter, all butter sold in Minnesota should be retailed in cartons bearing the grade of cutter and the date of churning.
- To assure the dairy farmer a fair price for his product, the Farm Bureau should expand its dairy promotion program.

A new congressional investigation should be made of the spread between the farmer and consumer prices.

- Ask the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation and the state government to investigate why eastern markets have been barred to Minnesota dairy products.
- There should be a closer tie between FB and the Farm Bureau Service Co.
- A chartered bus should be hired for the trip to the state convention late this month.
- A state study of toll roads should be made instead of increasing gas tax for highway funds.
- Every rural mail patron should have a mail delivery within at least one-half mile of his home.

State, federal and local FB officers should be rotated.

- The state brucellosis program should be accepted with some amendments to present laws.

Schneider gave an account of the 1953 national Farm Bureau convention which he attended. He was most impressed, he said, with the democratic processes at the party.

Mrs. William Gelleren, Ridgeway, chairman of the county Farm Bureau membership drive now in progress, stated that the campaign is coming along satisfactorily and that it will continue until Nov. 20. The bureau has set a goal of 500 members.

Lacher, in his challenge for the future, listed the following as possible Farm Bureau activities: Develop a farm youth program, develop a public relations program, develop a year-round dairy promotion program and organize a membership information service including a county publication.

The meeting was held at the Winona YMCA. Home and community chairmen served lunch. Door prizes presented by Winona businesses were won by Mrs. Henry Lacher, Norman Heim, St. Charles; William Michaelis, Silo; Henry Siebenaler; Edwin Greethurst, Witoka, and Leon Henderson, Houston.

Goodhue Woman, Minneapolis Man Accident Victims

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A Goodhue, Minn., woman, Mrs. John McNamara, 53, was killed Saturday night when the car she was driving collided with another on a rural road intersection near Goodhue.

The death and others over the weekend brought Minnesota's 1954 traffic toll to 548, compared with 561 during the same period last year.

In other weekend accidents: Earl H. Hewitt, 78, Minneapolis, was killed in Minneapolis Saturday when he apparently walked in front of a car driven by Ronald Brambila, 22, Minneapolis.

Wisconsin Fatalities
Accidents in Wisconsin over the weekend took the lives of five persons including that of an 11-year-old boy who was killed in a gun accident.

Vernard Crapps, of rural Highland, was killed Saturday when he picked up a friend's shotgun by the barrel and the weapon discharged with the charge striking him in the chest.

The boy made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Myron Schwittis. Iowa County Coroner Dr. W. D. Martin said Vernard and two neighbor boys — Virgil and Norman Thomas, 13 and 12 respectively, took the gun along when they went out to bring the cows home. Martin related that Virgil told him he put the shotgun down when he tried to pull his dog from a hole into which it had chased a rabbit. When Vernard picked up the gun by the barrel, Virgil said, the weapon struck a rock and discharged.

Two teen-agers were killed and four injured in a two-car auto crash Saturday night on a highway near Lake Geneva.

Mishap Victims
Victims of the mishap were Nancy Rae Hein, 19, Rt. 3, Delevan and Prudence Keogh, 16, Highland Park, Ill. They died in the crash.

Joseph Hudson, 20, Darlington, died early Sunday of injuries sustained earlier in the night when the car in which he was a passenger left Highway 23 near Darlington and overturned.

Sid Davison went to high school - by phone!

Sid Davison's senior year at Howard High School was busy and exciting—until rheumatic fever struck. After three critical weeks in the hospital, he was finally allowed to return home, but still confined to bed. Then A. J. Welk, manager of the telephone company in Howard, South Dakota, heard the story.

Calling on Sid's father, he suggested a solution to the problem — a private home-to-school telephone system, installed as easily as the average phone.

The next day installers went to work. A small but powerful two-way speaker set was placed in Sid's bedroom. At school there was a similar set that could be plugged into any of his classrooms. Soon Sid was attending classes from his bedside, chatting with friends between sessions—even listening to the class play in which he had been scheduled to appear.

His spirits boosted by the feeling of being back in on things, he buckled down to his studies. At the end of May, Sid Davison was graduated with his class!

Although this true story describes an unusual situation, it illustrates the value of everyday telephone service, too. You, fortunately, may always be healthy and active, but how else could you run so many errands, make so many personal "trips" far and near—except by telephone? And how else could you do it so easily, and at so little cost?

New Congress May Seek Block On Dixon-Yates

WASHINGTON (AP)—New predictions were made Sunday by opponents of the Dixon-Yates contract that the new Democratic Congress will seek to block the controversial plan to feed private power into lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, on a straight 10-8 party line vote, granted on Saturday an Eisenhower administration request for waiver of a 30-day waiting period on the contract. Democratic members of the committee voted solidly against the waiver.

The contract, ordered by President Eisenhower, was signed last Thursday. It calls for a 25-year, 500-million-dollar government contract with a private power group known as Dixon-Yates to furnish power to TVA. The power would replace electricity which TVA now supplies to plants of the Atomic Energy Commission, government party to the contract.

Sen. Anderson (D-N), in line to become chairman of the Atomic Energy Committee when the Democrats take control of Congress in January, declined to say whether he plans a new series of hearings. But he told newsmen "the next round" in the fight "probably will start when Congress gets back."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he would support any move by the Senate Antimonopoly Committee to continue its investigation of the Dixon-Yates group. Under Sen. Langer (R-ND), like Kefauver an opponent of the contract, the group has held a number of hearings on the matter.

"This will continue to be a running sore," Kefauver said.

Chaplains of State Institutions to Meet

ST. PAUL (AP)—William State Hospital will be host to chaplains from Minnesota state institutions next Thursday.

The meeting was called by Ray Laapegaard, personnel director, at the request of the Chaplaincy Advisory Committee.

Development of a policy statement governing the practice of chaplains within state institutions and consideration of chaplaincy reports and evaluations are two major items to be discussed.

Dr. Nelson J. Bradley, superintendent of the Winona hospital, will talk on "Alcoholism."

Winona Deaths

William O. Miller

William Oakley Miller, 76, department musician for the state United Spanish War Veterans and a past commander of Clarence Miller Camp 5, USWV, died at 3 a.m. Sunday at his home, 403 W. Broadway, after an illness of a year with leukemia.

He was a retired U. S. postal clerk, having worked at the local post office for 21 years. Previously he had been employed by the North Western Railway.

Miller was born here Nov. 25, 1877, the son of Alfred and Mary Henderson Miller, and had lived in the city and county all his life. He served with Company C, 12th Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, during the Spanish-American war, and the local USWV post was named for his brother, Clarence, who was killed in the Philippines during that war. He served in the Minnesota National Guard for 15 years.

Miller was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers for 55 years and a member of the Winona County Old Settlers Association.

He was well known in musical circles in Winona, having played the violin since he was 15. He was a member of the Winona Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Carl Ruggles many years ago, and played with the Little Symphony Group which met at Dr. W. H. Leu's office weekly to play for their own amusement.

Survivors are: His wife; two sons, William S. Miller, Sturgis, Minn., and Clyde Alfred Miller, San Francisco, Calif.; four grandchildren, Patricia Kay, Marilyn Jean, Michael Allen and Vickie Lynne Miller, Sturgis; one sister, Mrs. Evangeline Pooler, Denver, Colo., and one brother, Victor Miller, Winona. A son, Robert Oakley Miller, died in 1948, and a daughter, Patricia Ann, at birth, Aug. 28, 1935.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Breilow Funeral Home, the Rev. Webster H. Clement of Faith Lutheran Church officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery where the VFW will have charge of the services. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Salesman Iowa's First Fatality In '54 Hunting

SHELDON, Iowa (AP)—A Sioux City salesman was shot to death over the weekend in Iowa's first fatal hunting accident of 1954.

O'Brien County Coroner J. A. Vander Ploeg said the salesman, Floyd C. Anderson, 23, was hunting Saturday with his brother, Amos, of Dunlap, and Eugene Sweum, Sioux City.

The coroner said Anderson was walking ahead of the other two when Sweum apparently stumbled. His 12 gauge shotgun discharged, the charge striking Anderson in the back of the head.

Vander Ploeg said the death was accidental and no inquest will be held.

mittie to call all the 30-odd officers listed in the Army report. Watkins said he would, and McClellan said he would be glad to second that motion.

McCarthy kept repeating he was "sorry" that Watkins had "wasted our time" by testifying.

Watkins replied he had given the committee the best answer he could.

The hearing was called, McCarthy said, because the report of the censure committee, headed by Watkins, had said that Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker was not responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge of Peress and his invok- ing the Fifth Amendment last January when asked by McCarthy about alleged Communist activities.

One count on which the Watkins committee recommended that McCarthy be censured was for alleged abuse of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker during questioning about the Peress discharge last Feb. 18 two weeks after Peress got his discharge.

The hearing pushed the subcommittee session to within an hour of the meeting of the Senate itself. There Watkins planned to reply to McCarthy's charge that Watkins' six-man bipartisan committee served as the "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party in handling the censure charges.

McCarthy has said previously that the list covered those who pressed the papers in the Peress case, but did not disclose who actually was responsible for the promotion and honorable discharge.

The Army has said some of the officers involved have been reprimanded and that its procedures have been changed to avoid future similar cases as far as possible.

Peress, now a New York City dentist, was promoted to major and given an honorable discharge despite his refusal to fill out an Army security form and his invoking the Fifth Amendment last January when asked by McCarthy about alleged Communist activities.

Watkins said Secretary of the Army Stevens supplied a list of 30 names of Army officers involved in the Peress case to Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) of the McCarthy subcommittee last June 23.

Watkins said he had talked to Stevens since he got the summons Saturday from McCarthy for today's hearing.

Watkins said the secretary showed him the letter sent to Mundt on June 23, and offered to give him in confidence the list of 30 names. But Watkins testified he refused to accept the list and told Stevens that if the McCarthy subcommittee had it, that was all that was necessary because that group was handling the matter.

Stevens believed the list should be confidential, Watkins said, because making it public would subject "the officers and their families to unfavorable publicity completely out of proportion to the facts."

It also would have harmed the procedures of the inspector general's office which made the detailed investigation of the case, Watkins quoted Stevens as saying.

Stevens assured him, Watkins said, he would "do his level best" to produce all of the 30 officers before the McCarthy subcommittee if they were called.

"You can go into executive session and call them in," Watkins testified, adding that this should produce the answer to the question McCarthy long has propounded—who promoted Peress and who gave him an honorable discharge.

McCarthy's immediate response to Watkins' testimony was to comment "I don't want to waste my time or that of the other senators here."

City Issues 42nd House Permit of '55

The 42nd permit for new home construction in Winona this year was issued last week at the city engineer's office.

Total construction cost of new dwellings is estimated at $325,085 compared with $230,400 for 26 permits issued at this time a year ago.

The house permit was drawn by Leo M. Ochymowicz, 574 Mankato Ave., who will build a new 28- by 30-foot 1-story home on an existing basement at a cost of $6,000. The Copp Manufacturing Co., Minneapolis, is the contractor.

A permit was issued to the Knights of Columbus Club, 64 E. 5th St., to install asbestos shingles on outside walls, dismantle a porch and build a stoop. The project will cost about $1,500. John Czaplewski is contractor.

Permits were also drawn by: Philip Newman, 307 Sioux St., $200, to remove a partition; C. E. Einhorn, 508 Dakota St., $150, to enclose a porch; Dominic Galewski, 534 W. 5th St., $25, to move windows, dismantle two porches and construct a stoop.

Use of Metal Increasing In Construction of Homes

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Many new tricks are being performed with metal in home building. Complete houses are now being built with welders' torches instead of carpenters' hammers. The same thin curtain-wall panels that have made it possible to enclose a skyscraper in less than a day are now adapted to houses. And new wrinkles in metal rolling have brought us a step nearer to solar heating—the dream of using the sun's rays instead of a furnace.

Skyscraper style houses have been built in various locations. Lewis Berry has one at Hanover, N. J. It was put together entirely by welders. Thomas A. Kindre, who watched the job, made this report about it in Steelways, trade publication of the American Iron & Steel Institute:

"This erector set house hasn't a nail in it and the only wood that hungry termites will find is in its doors. But even more significant is the fact that the steel frame-work is not just a one-time stunt. You can buy it, prefabricated to size."

"Home builders in some parts of the country are already using steel roof trusses, so light that two men can carry them, yet strong enough to span an entire house so no interior walls need to be load bearing. Others are using lightweight steel floor joists in the same way to eliminate cellar columns and floor beams — and also to cut costs. A major steel company has in the works a new all-steel house, which will hit the market within a year."

Lightweight steel floor joists are now designed along the lines of a cantilever bridge. Taking the place of heavy timbers, they are lifted into place by one man. H. R. Davidson used them in his new house in Zanesville, Ohio.

"Better check the power line to your home workshop, advises Kindre, "and lay in a supply of metal working tools. The day may come when the wrench and the welding torch will be as familiar on the home repair scene as the carpenter's hammer is today."

Curtain walls have been one of the smartest developments in skyscraper construction. For the home builder they are of interest not only for speed of erection, but also because a 4-inch wall built with these metal curtains shows better insulating qualities than 12 inches of masonry.

Such walls were used to add more office space to Pittsburgh's huge Gateway Center. In porcelain enameled form they sheathe Dallas' new Statler Hotel as well as towers in Los Angeles and Denver. Norman Tishman used them to set a record by enclosing

No Such Thing As Dream Home

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There is no such thing as a dream home. Every house has a problem it seems, and even the most contented homemaker can find a flaw in her beautiful castle.

"What shall I do about it?" becomes a daily question when she looks at drab walls or a cigarette burn in the sofa or dull floors. Here are some queries from readers. Perhaps the answers will help you solve a problem here or there.

Q. I am putting new appliances in my kitchen. Should I choose the new colored ones or stick to plain white?

A. If you are the type who becomes bored easily with color or who likes to change your home around from time to time, colored appliances will not please you. Since a big investment is required it is best to choose appliances in white which will go with everything, and to plan paint, floor covering, curtains and other accessories in your favorite colors. When you tire of the colors you have selected for walls or accessories you can always change them at small cost.

Q. I have a painted primitive type chest and I'd like to remove the paint to discover what wood is in the article. There are layers and layers of paint and design to be taken off.

A. Before you remove the paint, perhaps it would be well to discover whether you could integrate the piece into your home. These chests are much sought after right now. If you prefer a modern looking chest, you could even sell your chest as it stands now and buy the type you like.

Q. How many colors may be used in one room?

A. The general rule is three. Solids are combined usually with stripes and figured materials to permit combinations of the solid colors for unusual effects.

Q. Will a paint roller do the entire job of coating my walls or will I need a brush to smooth it in?

A. A brush is not needed except at corners and at ceiling where an unpainted area will be left when the roller goes as far as it can.

Q. I wax my floors frequently but they never seem to retain their shine.

A. Perhaps you use a polish containing water which will dull wood floors.

ELECTRIC TOOL DOs-DON'Ts

By Andrew C. Long

DO . . . not neglect the use of the telescoping lower blade guard if you have a saw attachment with that feature.

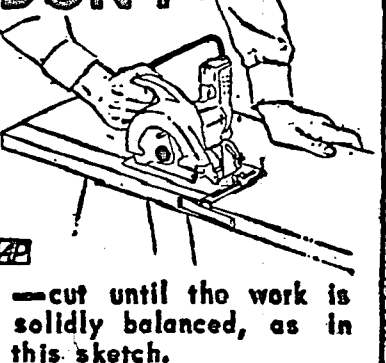

DO . . . fix the depth adjustment so that no more than one full tooth of the blade, where possible, is on the lower side of the material being cut.

DO . . . permit the blade to attain its maximum speed before entering the material to be cut.

DO . . . make a trial cut through a scrap piece of wood when you want an especially accurate bevel cut.

DO . . . use a sharp saw blade at all times unless you want the quality of the cut to be poor.

DON'T -

—cut until the work is solidly balanced, as in this sketch.

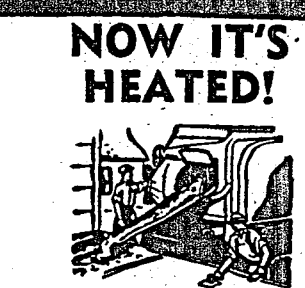

DON'T . . . risk damage to the motor by forcing the saw into the work.

DON'T . . . ever set the saw on a table or bench while it is still running.

DON'T . . . attempt to change saw blades while the tool is connected to the power source, even though the motor is off.

DON'T . . . do the cutting until you are certain the work is solidly balanced.

A New Idea in Split Level construction makes it possible to pack a maximum of floor space in a comparatively small amount of cubic space. Here a high-ceiling dining and living room with a balcony landing and a second living room suitable for an emergency guest room are among features of a distinctive design. Including two-car garage, basement and covered porch, this house comprises a total of 29,691 cubic feet. There are two bathrooms and a powder room-lavatory. This is plan 9433-3 by Rudolph A. Win Over Iowa Climaxes Minnesota Comeback

Warmath Praises McNamara's Play

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota floated out of its day-after-reverie today and into a football season's final week that will be anti-climax no matter what happens at Wisconsin Saturday.

The Gophers last Saturday put the rich frosting to a remarkable 1954 comeback under Murray Warmath with a 22-20 victory over Iowa which, with the frenzy now whipped away, still stands as one of the greatest in a decade at Memorial Stadium.

There is some significance in the wrap-up struggle with Wisconsin Saturday. By winning, the Gophers can crown their most successful season since the national championship year of 1941. And a Michigan defeat against Ohio State would push Minnesota to its highest Big Ten finish, second place, since the same season.

It will be the valedictory for 18 Minnesota seniors and their chance to move Warmath squarely into the running for coach of the year laurels. It has the added thrill of a duel between Gopher Bob McNamara and Wisconsin's Al performance against Iowa was the greatest I have ever seen as a player or a coach."

For three quarters the Gopher halfback-fullback traded long runs and hair-raising plays with Iowa's backfield tandem, Eddie Vincent and Earl Smith.

But in the end it was Minnesota's fierce will to win all down the line that stood off an Iowa team which was obviously stronger in the fourth quarter.

The crowd of 65,429, second highest in Minnesota history, had seen the teams drain almost all imaginable drama out of the first three quarters but there was time for an 11th hour Iowa drive which missed winning in the last two minutes only on a fumble and an interception.

Two things won it for Minnesota, Warmath said, McNamara and terrific Gopher spirit. Iowa had more impressive weapons in Smith and Vincent, Jerry Reichow and a line which seemed to grow stronger.

Yet it was the pitchout play that almost stampeded Minnesota in the first half which cost Iowa a tie. Vincent fumbled Reichow's high pitchout in the end zone late in the third quarter for the safety that was the margin.

Before that, McNamara had broken away for one touchdown run of 36 yards and another off a kickoff for 52 yards in the sensational run of the day. Iowa matched those but fell behind when Swanson passed 26 yards to Dick McNamara. Iowa tied again in the third quarter, but Phil McElroy and Dick McNamara blocked the key conversion try.

Minnesota gradually learned to stop the Iowa pitchout series and thereafter it was a finish fight between the lines. Minnesota standouts there were Mike Falls, Chuck Stamschror, Dean Maas, Bob Hober and Bob Hagemeister.

The victory hogged Minnesota's season mark to 7-1.

Lions Safely on Way to Title

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

The Detroit Lions, leading the Western Conference by two games, are safely on the way to their third straight National Football title.

The Lions avenged their only defeat of the season yesterday when they whipped the San Francisco 49ers 47-7 for their sixth victory. They have five games remaining — two with the Green Bay Packers and one each against the Philadelphia Eagles, Chicago Bears and the Cleveland Browns. And only the Browns, pressing the Giants for the Eastern Conference lead, figure to cause the champions any serious trouble.

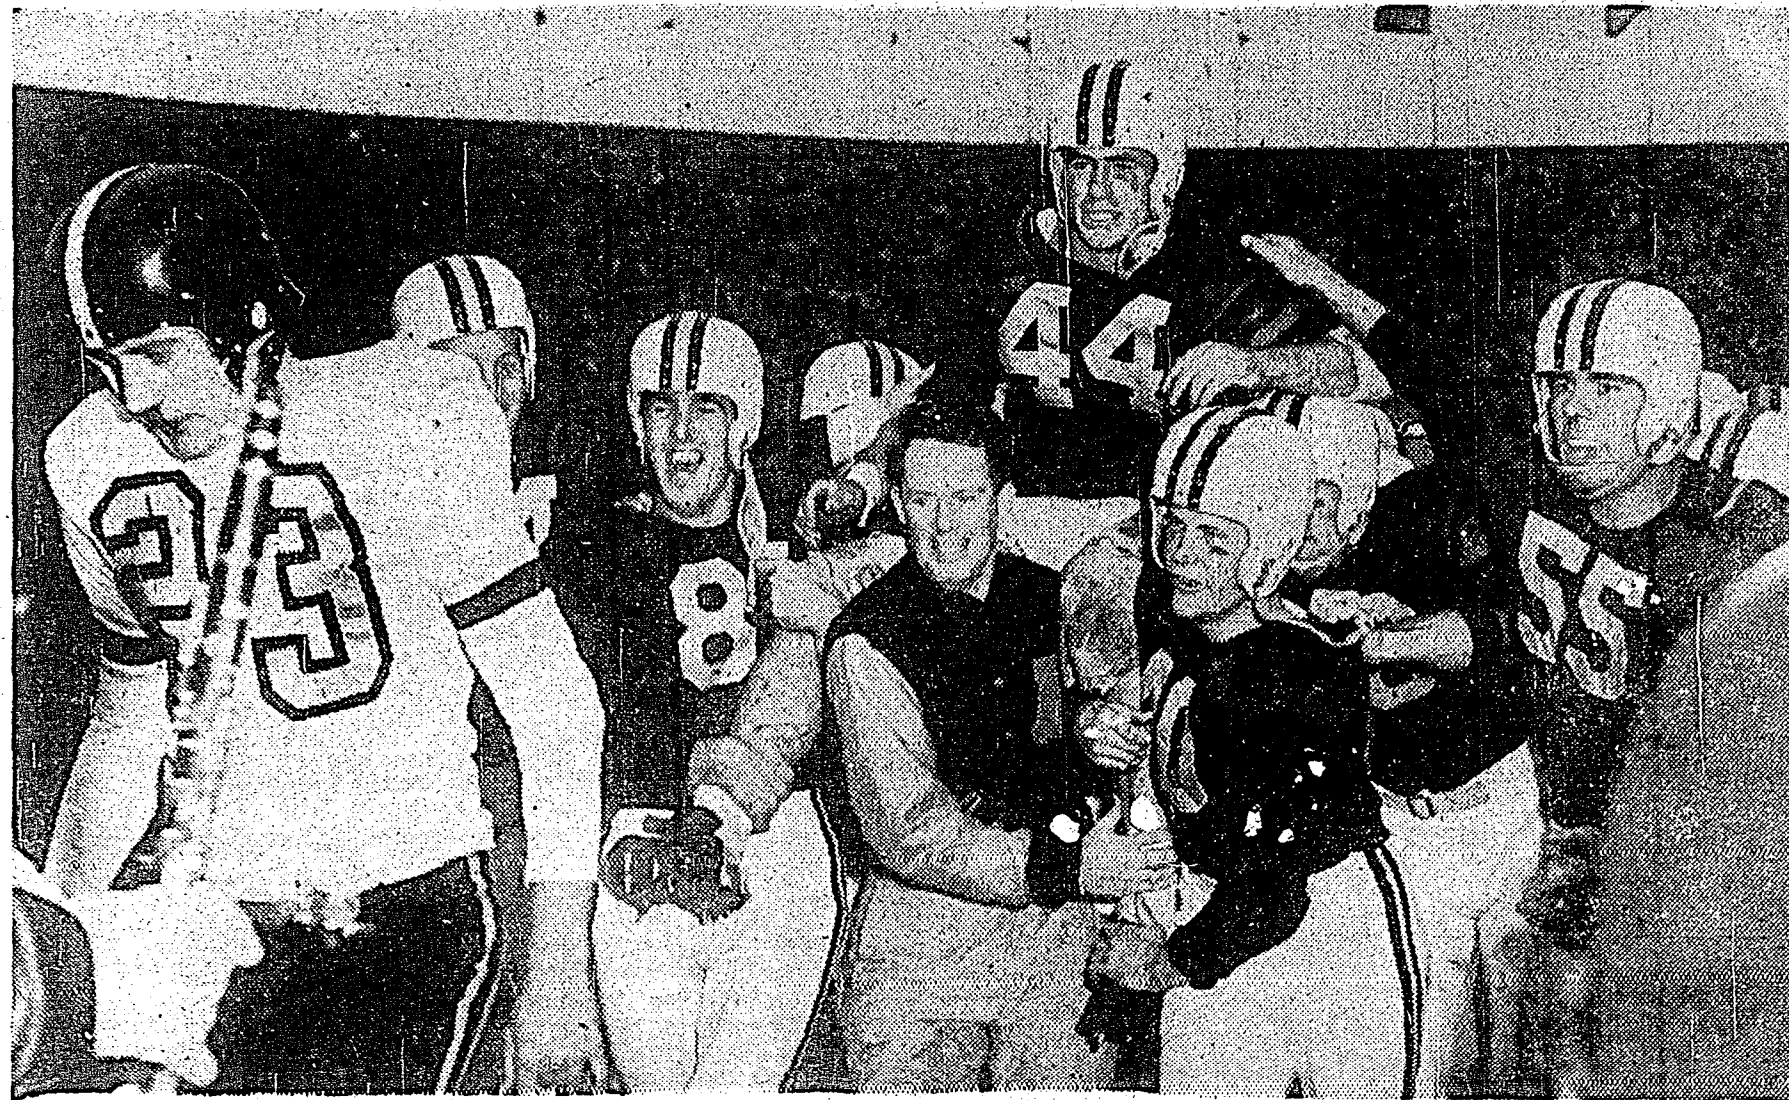

Meantime, the Giants, who took sole possession of their division yesterday by downing the Eagles 27-14, must face the always dangerous Los Angeles Rams Sunday and then take on the Browns in the game that could well decide the title. They also play Pittsburgh and Philadelphia again.

The Browns, who hold a 5-2 record compared to Philadelphia's 6-2 after walloping the Bears 39-10 yesterday, tangle with the Eagles Sunday, followed by the Giants whom they defeated earlier in the season, Washington, Pittsburgh and Detroit.

The 49ers' defeat yesterday coupled with Los Angeles' 28-17 conquest of the Chicago Cardinals tied the Rams with San Francisco for second place back of the Lions. Pittsburgh's title hopes faded still more with a 17-14 defeat by Washington. On Saturday night, Green Bay defeated Baltimore 27-13.

There was a whimsical suggestion today that McNamara might even be persuaded to try quarterback. He's done almost everything else.

From Warmath, who has watched some great ones, there was a final tribute: "McNamara's

JUBILATION AND DEJECTION . . . Deliriously happy Minnesota teammates of Bob McNamara (44) are shown carrying him off the field on their shoulders Saturday at Memorial Stadium, Minneapolis, after the McNamara-sparked Gophers scored a stunning 22-20 victory over Iowa. Badgers Start Preparations For Minnesota

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Wisconsin played only one quarter of Badger football in defeating Illinois and now must get ready for the season finale with Minnesota.

The Badgers were on the short end of a 14-7 count Saturday until they got down to action in the final period, scored three times, and handed Illinois its fifth Big Ten loss, 27-14. And along the way Wisconsin called on its halfbacks for its charge because record holding fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche didn't carry the ball the entire afternoon. Crippled with an ankle injury, Ameche saw action only in the first few minutes of the game. But even when he was in somebody else did the running. It was the first time in Ameche's four-year college career that he didn't get his hands on the ball.

The scoring was taken over by halfbacks Bob Gingrass who went over for three touchdowns and Clarence Bratt who sparked the scoring drives and collected one touchdown.

A packed-house crowd of 71,119 cheered as the underdog Illini held on to its lead for three periods. Amazeement set in when the Badgers caught fire.

Neither team scored in the first period but Illinois started off the second quarter by going 54 yards in 11 plays for the first points. Abe Woodson went over for the touchdown from the eight and Bob Wiman converted.

Wisconsin tied it up at 7-7 by going 62 yards in nine plays, one of them a 31 yard pass from Jim Haluska to end Dave Howard. Gingrass cut back from four yards out for six points and Glen Wilson added the point.

With less than a minute left in the half, J. C. Caroline, who with quarterback Em Lindebeck led the Illinois charge, ran over from the four. Wiman got another extra point.

The half ended and Wisconsin was behind 14-7.

The third period was scoreless and much like the first with each team failing to score after getting position on a bobble by the other. Quarterback Jim Miller stole a Lindebeck pass and ran it back 34 yards to the Illini 26 but Wisconsin failed to get a score.

The fourth period saw the Badgers turn on the pressure, score three touchdowns and carry home its fourth victory in six conference starts.

The Wisconsin explosion came when an Illinois man partly blocked a punt by Pat Levenhagen. But when the ball came down Mickey Bates touched it and let it get away and saw Bratt pounce on it for recovery. The Badgers moved the ball 61 yards in a drive that ended when Gingrass drove over from the two, for his second score. Wilson came through with the point after touchdown and the score was tied 14-14.

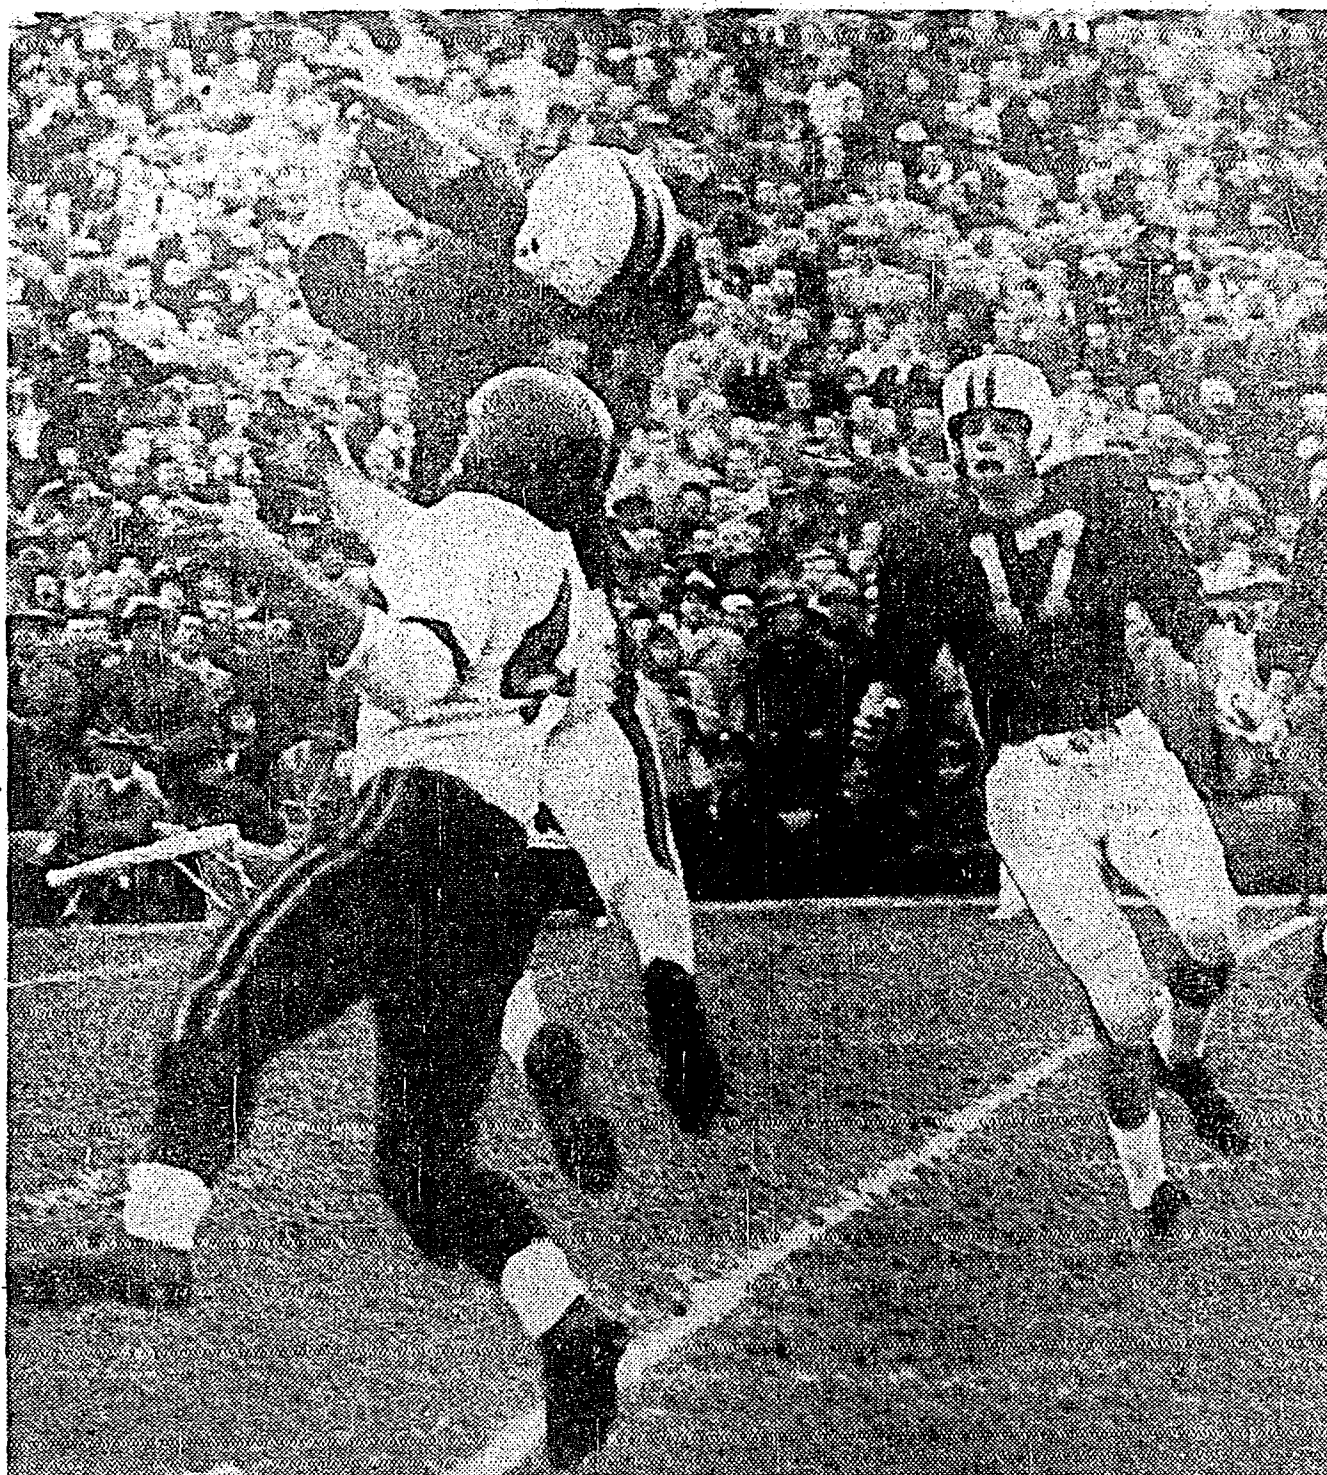

With the fourth period three minutes and after a 49-yard drive Gingrass went over for his third touchdown and also added the extra point. Wisconsin led 21-14.

Lineman Wells Gray started the Badgers on the way to their fourth touchdown when he recovered a fumble by Harry Jefferson on the Illinois 31. The Badgers rolled toward the goal and in six plays had their fourth touchdown with Bratt carrying over from four.

Illinois SCORING: Touchdowns, 2, Gingrass 3, Bratt. Conversions, Wilson 2.

ILLINOIS SCORING: Touchdowns, Woodson, Caroline. Conversions, Wiman 2.

Johnny Mize hit 539 home runs in the major leagues playing for the Cardinals, Giants and Yankees.

CRUCIAL INTERCEPTION . . . This last-minute Iowa scoring threat, an 18-yard pass intended for halfback Ed Vincent (white jersey), was intercepted Saturday by quarterback Don Swanson of Minnesota (17) in the end zone. Swanson ran it back to the Minnesota six-yard line where the game ended moments later. Halfback Shorty Cochran is shown jumping for the ball, which bounced off him into Swanson's arms. Southern Cal to Host Rose Bowl Game Jan. 1

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The list of candidates for the four major New Year's Day bowl games was down to manageable proportions today but there still was only one team with its spot definitely nailed down.

No matter what happens in its final two games against UCLA and Notre Dame, Southern California will be the host in the Rose Bowl. If they stop UCLA, the No. 1 team in the country Saturday, they'll win the Pacific Coast Conference title. If they lose, UCLA will take the crown, but the Trojans, as runners-up, get the bid anyhow. UCLA played in the bowl last Jan. 1 and is therefore ineligible this year.

Otherwise, everything is up in the air.

Here's how they shape up:

Rose Bowl — Southern California's Big Ten opponent will be determined Saturday when Ohio State and Michigan meet. If the undefeated Buckeyes, second in the weekly Associated Press poll, win, they will get the bid.

However, if Michigan wins, both teams would have 6-1 league records. A vote would have to be taken. In that case, the Wolverines probably would be selected on the basis of having beaten Ohio State.

Cotton Bowl — The Southwest Conference winner, which usually is decided on the last day of the season, is the host team. Until last Saturday, Arkansas seemed to have it all sewed up. Southern Methodist beat the Razorbacks 21-14 and changed that.

Now if SMU whips Baylor and Texas Christian, its last two foes, it is in. One loss and Arkansas, which has completed its league season, plays in the bowl.

The visiting team probably will be the club that finishes second in the Southeastern Conference race.

Sugar Bowl — The Southeastern Conference champion makes the trip to New Orleans. Right now Mississippi is in front with a 4-1 record and the chances are the Rebels will go on and take it, barring an upset. They have to get by Mississippi State two weeks hence.

Should State win, the survivor of the Georgia-Georgia Tech game would emerge the champion.

Even if Mississippi loses to State, the Rebels would be the leading candidate for the Cotton Bowl.

The second team in the Sugar Bowl probably will be Arkansas or SMU, whichever fails to make the Cotton Bowl. West Virginia of the Southern Conference was the visiting team last year, but the 42-19 pasting the Mountaineers took from Georgia Tech reportedly has soured bowl officials.

Orange Bowl — The host in this one is the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, Maryland, last year's national champion, is striving to make a repeat appearance. The Terps lost to Oklahoma last year 7-0 and have finished their conference schedule with a 4-0-1 mark. Duke, currently sporting a 2-0 record, still may play South Carolina and North Carolina. If the Blue Devils win both, they'll show a 4-0 mark and will head for Miami.

The opposition is bound to be easier than last year. Oklahoma, the perennial Big Seven champion, is ineligible, having played in the game the past year. That leaves Nebraska and Kansas State still in contention.

Nebraska plays Oklahoma Saturday and State goes against Colorado. Should State win and Nebraska lose, a distinct possibility, the Wildcats would get the bid, although the two teams would show identical 4-2 records — because State beat the Cornhuskers earlier in the year.

Should State win, the survivor of the Georgia-Georgia Tech game would emerge the champion.

Even if Mississippi loses to State, the Rebels would be the leading candidate for the Cotton Bowl.

Basketball League Meeting Scheduled

A Men's City Basketball League meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA. The league is being promoted by the Park-Recreation Board and the YMCA.

All men wishing to play in this league are invited to attend. All games will be played in the new YMCA gym. Three teams already have entered.

The league will be limited to eight teams and an independent basketball tournament may be staged after the league schedule is completed.

La Crosse State Beats Mankato TC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The football season closed Saturday for Wisconsin's small colleges with the three teams in action getting two victories and one defeat in interstate games.

La Crosse State, the Wisconsin State College Conference champion, overcame a 6-0 halftime deficit to defeat Mankato of Minnesota, 19-6.

Superior State upset the Duluth Branch of the University of Minnesota, 13-7.

Mission House lost to Northern Michigan, 20-0.

La Crosse rolled up 400 yards on the ground and added 86 passing in winning its sixth victory against two losses and one defeat. Willie Berzinski scored twice and Jerry Tuskas once for the winners.

A nine-yard pass from Joe Bolin to John Lloyd gave the visitors their touchdown in the second period.

Midwest Loop Finishes Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Midwest Conference finished its first eight-game football round-robin Saturday with Lawrence's Vikings winding up in third place and Ripon tying for fifth.

Carleton, the conference champ with eight victories, sat back and watched the scramble for runner-up honors.

Lawrence defeated hapless Knox College, 27-6, to bid for second place, but St. Olaf shielded onto the No. 2 spot by playing to a 27-27 tie with fourth-place Coe. The Oles wound up with five victories, one loss and two defeats. Lawrence finished with six victories and two losses, while Coe had a final 4-3-1 record.

Ripon's 26-26 tie with Cornell gave the Redmen a final record of 2-4-2, the same as Grinnell, which edged Monmouth Saturday, 8-6.

Cornell wound up with a 2-5-1 record, followed by Monmouth 2-6 and Knox 1-7.

Cornell scored three touchdowns in the final quarter of its game at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, to tie Ripon, 26-26. Cornell tied the score with one minute remaining when Jack Genham kicked the conversion after Harry Johnson had scored from the five to cap a 60-yard drive.

St. Olaf scored two touchdowns in the last five minutes Saturday to earn its 27-27 tie with Coe at Northfield, Minn.

Unbeaten, Untied List Down to 26

NEW YORK (AP) — The ranks of collegiate football's unbeaten and untied teams listed 26 schools today as seven dropped from the select group over the weekend.

Only three major colleges — UCLA, Ohio State and Oklahoma — still boast unblemished records. Both Arkansas and Cincinnati tested defeat for the first time Saturday.

Other teams to tumble from the unbeaten-untied group were Michigan Normal, Montana State, Miami of Ohio, Carnegie Tech and Appalachian State.

The nine game winners are Luther Iowa and Omaha.

Eight game winners include UCLA, Carleton (Minn.), Ohio State and Oklahoma.

Pistons and Warriors Most Improved Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Fort Wayne Pistons and the Philadelphia Warriors over the weekend strengthened their claims as the two most improved clubs in the National Basketball Association this season.

The Pistons, western division leaders, scored two victories in weekend encounters to boost their record to 5-1. Fort Wayne tripped Rochester 103-98 Saturday night and edged Milwaukee 93-91 Sunday night.

The Warriors, who top the eastern section with a 2-0 slate, played only once this weekend and shaded the New York Knicks 87-86 Saturday night.

Mel Hutchins' basket with 13 seconds left snapped a 91-all tie and enabled the Pistons to eke out the decision over the Hawks Sunday night. Fort Wayne, which overcame a 10-point halftime deficit, was paced by Andy Phillip's 23 points. Chuck Cooper topped Milwaukee with 27.

The Knicks led the Bulls by 12 points going into the final period, but had to stave off a last-ditch Baltimore surge. Harry Gallatin of the New Yorkers led the scoring parade with 19 points as the Bulls dropped their eighth game as against but one triumph.

A last period rally gave Minneapolis a 98-92 victory over Syracuse Sunday night. Dick Schmitz and Jim Pollard steered the Lakers to their success.

The Nationals and Baltimore also tasted defeat Saturday. Syracuse bowed to Milwaukee 85-72 and the Bulls succumbed to Boston 118-112.

Bucks, Wolves Both Eye Roses

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (U)—An undisputed Big Ten title, a trip to the Rose Bowl, a perfect season and possibly the mythical national championship are at stake for the Buckeyes of Ohio State Saturday in their showdown clash with Michigan.

In an exhibition of sheer power, the Bucks ground out 401 yards rushing against Purdue Saturday to send the Boilermakers spinning to a 28-6 loss.

Michigan, always tough when the chips are on the line, shocked Michigan State with a resounding 33-7 victory. That's the same Michigan team that lost to Indiana, 13-9 after blasting Minnesota, 34-0.

The unpredictable Wolverines can share the conference title by whipping Ohio State and thereby become candidates for the Rose Bowl. In the event that Michigan wins, the Big Ten will vote to decide on a representative.

If that vote ends in a 5-5 tie, the team which last went to the bowl—in this case Michigan—would be eliminated.

Michigan fans are hopeful, however, that a victory over the Buckeyes will be reason enough for the voters to decide on the Wolverines for the trip to Pasadena where the opponent will be Southern Cal.

Southern Cal and UCLA meet Saturday to settle the Pacific Coast title. Even if UCLA wins it cannot get the bowl bid since the Uclans played last New Year's Day.

HOLD THAT LINE
Right Hip Clears — Do you find yourself finishing to the right of your desired spot at the foul line? Perhaps on the side of the foot — broadside? Then you'll find the correction in a proper get-away. Chances are 99 to 1 that you're a victim of that old, old flaw of stepping to the right at the very outset. Just a little zig does it.

That first step — the right foot in four step footwork — must be straight ahead. As sketch shows, the step should be "inward" — slightly to the left, as if to step over the left toe. This is especially important with women in order to keep the swing in line. When the first step is correct, the right hip clears out of the way in the backswing. The arm swings close to the body — in the groove. Tips on footwork are given in my free leaflet, "Three Essentials of Bowling," which you will receive by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper. One more bit of advice: Work on pushing the ball outward, away from the body, in perfect, easy timing with the first step.

233,682 Watch Six Pro Games

NEW YORK (U)—The National Football League had one of its biggest turn-outs of the season over the weekend with 233,682 fans watching the six games Saturday night and Sunday.

The biggest crowd was at Detroit where 58,431, largest football attendance in the history of Briggs Stadium, saw the Lions beat the San Francisco 49ers 48-7.

'Bud Hannigan' Dies at Duluth

DULUTH, Minn. (U)—Rodney M. Loveland, who fought as a middleweight and a light heavyweight under the name of Bud Hannigan, died at his home here Friday. He was 47.

SPORTS Sidelight
BY RALPH REEVE

What a Game!

Sixteen years is a long time between glimpses of the University of Minnesota football team. That was the case of the gentleman sitting next to me at Saturday's Minnesota-Iowa game.

He hadn't seen the Gophers play since 1938 when Minnesota played Nebraska.

As the huge crowd filed out of the stadium after Minnesota beat Iowa, he remarked, "Yes, it's been a long time... But the game I saw today was worth the wait."

The Minnesota-Iowa game of just a few days ago can compare with any Minnesota game in the past decade for sheer thrills and spectator appeal.

It was a sight to behold... the devastating play of brilliant Bob McNamara who in the space of three games at the position is now being hailed with the best of Minnesota's great fullbacks. "He's the best since Bill Daley!" was the cry of one fan after big Mac made a particularly great play.

Sitting on the other side of me was a middle-aged woman. When McNamara broke away on his first touchdown run the cheering Gopher rooters rose in a body and she murmured, "My, I wish the people would sit down—it would be so much easier to watch the game."

Then Iowa received the kickoff and provided some fireworks. The Hawks' Ed Vincent scampered 68 yards to Minnesota's 12-yard line on a pitchout and the mild-mannered woman on my left set up a great commotion of whooping and hollering and whacking yours truly on the back.

She was asked, "Could it be that you are from Iowa?" And she said that she was... the mystery was solved.

Talk about deuces wild—in the fourth quarter the clock was stopped and the scoreboard showed 22 minutes and 22 seconds left in the game, Minnesota leading 22-20 and Iowa in possession of the ball on second down with 12 yards to go for a first down.

Minnesota students in one section across the way flashed colored cards to accompany the band during halftime... They created a blue note on a white background when the band played "Birth of the Blues." Other illustrations were a perky Minnesota gopher and the outline of Minnesota's boundaries.

Showing gracious hospitality to Iowa, they spelled out, "Hi Corn State." Then they got a chuckle out of the crowd with, "Who Likes Corn?"

There were plenty of Iowa fans downtown after the game and some of the more loyal ones banded together to sing "Ioway, Ioway," but they sounded just a little wistful... a lot of blue notes.

A week ago on the way to Indiana I had the great thrill of hearing Dizzy Dean's complete rendition of "Wabash Cannonball." That was really something because Ol' Diz can render that song like nobody you ever heard.

Nothing against Diz, but watching Minnesota's victory over Iowa was even better.

The difference is, a guy can go out and buy Dizzy Dean's recording of "Wabash Cannonball" and hear it over and over again, but no one can sit in Memorial Stadium again on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 13, 1954 because what happened then is history.

And when something has happened it has happened, period, and you can't turn the clock back and make it happen again. Whew!

Berserk?
My pal, the Earl of Gilbert, is now questioning my sanity because of the letter I sent in last week from out Windom way with grid predictions.

Looking over the deathless prose which Earl reprinted word for word I must admit that in a couple of cases I got the hyperbole mixed up with the dangle and any English teacher would tell you that's no good.

All three of us came out with the same number of correct choices in the weekend's dozen games—nine right and three wrong apiece. The only unanimous stumbling block was Southern Methodist's 21-14 victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks. That game fooled all of the panel members.

Bob Eggleston and Earl both missed the boat on Michigan's 33-7 victory over Michigan State and Indiana's 14-13 triumph over Northwestern.

They had the foresight, however, to tab Minnesota over Iowa and Ohio State over Purdue, which is more than can be said for yours truly. I hope I've learned a lesson. No more gasoline purchasing in Oelwein, Iowa, for this cookie.

This weekend will find the season closing for many teams but although the end is in sight, there is no relief.

That is in reference to just two future games. Minnesota plays at Wisconsin Saturday and Army and Navy tangle in Philadelphia Nov. 27. Trying to guess the outcomes of those games will give us sleepless nights before the season closes.

Mitt Coach Seeks More Candidates

Winona Golden Glove boxing drills will be held every Tuesday and Thursday night and on Saturday afternoon, Coach Chuck Puterbaugh said today.

It was previously announced incorrectly that drills would all be in the afternoon. Tuesday and Thursday night sessions start at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday drills run from 2 to 4 p.m.

Highly encouraged over the showing of the Winonans in last week's card at Millville, Puterbaugh is currently seeking additional candidates for the team and urges all interested youths to report to 160 Franklin St., anytime when drills are scheduled or call him at 9172.

Winona boxers won five matches on the card at Millville and some scrappy battles between Winona and Rochester gloves assured the start of a colorful fistic rivalry between the two teams.

Puterbaugh stated he has bought considerable new equipment. He is also seeking a sponsor who would take out a franchise and if this is arranged, he would stage boxing shows periodically this winter before the regional tournament.

Teams in other cities are sponsored by Junior Chambers of Commerce, service clubs and veterans organizations.

Gopher Movies

Another in a weekly series of moving pictures of University of Minnesota football games will be shown at the American Legion Memorial Club Tuesday night.

The movies, to be shown at 8:30 p.m., will be of the Minnesota-Oregon State game.

The movies are shown here each week under the sponsorship of the Winona chapter of the University of Minnesota Alumni Association.

No admission is charged and the public is invited to attend.

TIP-OFF TIME

Bi-County Cagers Set

A full slate of games in the Bi-County Conference Tuesday night signals the start of the 1954-55 basketball season for prep teams in the Winona area.

In the next two weeks all of the nine leagues involving Winona area teams will be in action and King Basketball will occupy a major role on the winter sports calendar, climaxed by the tournaments next spring.

In addition to the Bi-County Conference, a small scattering of non-conference games are booked among the Wisconsin preps.

Scheduled for the first night of play in the Bi-County are Cochrane's defending champions who play at Alma, Fountain City at Pepin, Plum City at Nelson and Gilmanton at Arkansas.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

1. ARE MANY MARRIED WOMEN AFRAID TO GIVE THEMSELVES UNRESERVEDLY TO LOVE? YES NO

2. DO MODERN SUPERMARKETS HYPONOTIZE PEOPLE? YES NO

3. SCHOOLS ARE WORSE NOW THAN IN THE 'GOOD OLD DAYS' TRUE FALSE

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Dr. Spurgeon English says (paraphrased), "When society gives females a fear of the selfish male passion, their capacity for love is stunted. Relations between husband and wife should be healthy, wholesome, even holy." Our new booklet, "Facing the Facts of Married Life," will make many couples happier. Non-profit, 15c (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Market research consultant J. M. Vikary has taken hundreds of photographs of people in supermarkets. They show blank, meaningless stares like persons under light hypnosis. He finds the markets are purposely planned so people will grab things whether they need them or not. As a result, they buy 33 per cent more goods, on the average, than they intended to.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Herbert Brown Jr., Managing Editor of "Changing Times," thought schools worse today, but after careful comparison of "then and now," he concluded that pupils now average decidedly ahead in every subject, except slightly poorer spelling in some schools. Cleveland children scored higher on the same test given pupils 100 years ago, except in American history.

Putting Pistol Back, Boy, 12, Shoots Self

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy shot and killed himself near here yesterday when he accidentally discharged a pistol while trying to put it away on a shelf.

Richard J. Hurley died in his mother's arms before a doctor could arrive. State police said the boy had taken a loaded .22-caliber target pistol from a mantel. His older brother saw him and told him to put it back. As he was doing so, it went off. The bullet struck the boy in the stomach.

Jap Flower Arranging Gone to Pot, Claim

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan News complained today that the centuries-old Japanese art of flower arrangement has gone to pot. Describing a flower arrangement show, the News said, "Hardly any of the 53 exhibits featured live flowers but instead used such outlandish materials as rocks, steel (painted in glaring colors) and even glowing neon signs."
