Inflation: whose fault?

Pretending is a game for children to create illusions of fun, happiness, excitement, and amusement. Obviously, some of the persons who are considered the voting public aren't over their childhood yet.

Responsible taxpaying voters should have put aside some of their learning from grade school, especially during election week. It is evident, however, that some did not. Let's face it Americans, inflation is derived through the devaluation of our currency by politicians, not labor or business.

It is not only politicians who have the power to alter the value of the dollar. Every time we go to buy something and re-enter the store later to buy the same thing for more money, we are part of the silent thief, made responsible by certain politicians in their search for votes. If this thief is allowed to continue, it is faced with the repudiation of all debts. The owners of bonds, insurance, savings accounts and all debt instruments will be fleeced by repudiation.

If you do not promise "good 'ole apple pie in the sky," they will use your dough. It's time we little lambs stop being tried for last spring's riots.

The Winonan

This weekend at WSC... This weekend at Winona State features the opening night of The Bystander by Dorothy B. Magnus, head of The Somesn 229. We suggest you attend. On opening night the audience is a show in itself.

It was a very typical student meeting. Everyone trying to get his own point across, with out even the thought of compromise. If there is one thing we can say about our WSC student senate, it is that it is no more than an assembly of individuals. Individuals who seem to give little thought to such things as cooperation and most of the time no thought at all to courtesy. It appears each senator is trying to show off, and not to do anything for the benefit of the students who voted for them. In fact, they may not have given a thought to it for their own glory, and it'll be damned if anyone else is going to get any say. Truthfully, I have never seen any group work so hard to get their own point across, but to all people who want something that is more than money when it comes to get his own point across, with out even the thought of compromise. Truthfully, I have never seen any group work so hard to get their own point across, but to all people who want something that is more than money when it comes to get his own point across, with out even the thought of compromise.

Even after working within and with the senate for over three years, I still do not profess to know the solutions to the problems which face student government. But I have learned a few guidelines of behavior that apply not only to the student senate but to all people who want to live with the rest of the beings. I believe that a part of the problem is courtesy. Courtesy and respect for your fellow man will get more accomplished than years of argument.

I tend to spend more and more time looking back and adding the question, 'What have I really learned?'

Probably some of the most valuable things I have learned are stated in the above paragraphs. For college has taught me so much that I don't know how to think, but HOW to think. And as I look back I note that those instructions have been especially generous with me, and I have more of it than I would recommend these three gentlemen to anyone else. If I were Joseph P. Emanuel, and Mr. Rakestraw, Rakestraw, I don't have class with anyone of them, so I cannot be accused of not having enough "disciplinary propositions." I can only say that these have been the instructors that, in my opinion, are the best instructors should be. Selfless, dedicated to their students, and generous with their time and wisdom.

Student discount cards to be offered by Iowa firm

Campus Alliance Incorporated of Ames, Iowa, announced Monday that it is offering a student discount system to the students of Winona State. Steve Thede, a student at Winona State and an executive of the firm, outlined the plans of the system to the student remote who received them favorably.

The student purchases a card from a Campus Alliance representative at the rate of $4.00 per year. The card is then valid from September, when the student will purchase another card at the same rate. In return for the purchase fee, Campus Alliance Incorporated will furnish the laminated card along with a directory which will inform the card holder where he can obtain his discount and what the discount rate will be from that merchant. Only the merchants listed in the directory will honor the card.

Mr. Thede hopes that students will receive the card favorably since he feels that the students will benefit from this system greatly. Students may purchase their cards from the following sources: Jim Dybevik, Lux, or any student who would like to know more about the club may call 452-9174.

The club advisor is Jim Reynolds, sociologist instructor at Winona State. The club safety officer is James T. Wilbert from Winona State.

Cinema presents historical flick

The Winona Theater Company has announced that the landmark film, THE BIRTH OF A NATION, will be appearing at the Cinema Theater beginning Nov. 11. THE BIRTH OF A NATION was made in 1914, and was the first feature length production made in the United States. At the request of President Wilson it was the first motion picture to be honored by a showing at the White House.

Based on Thomas Dixon's novel, THE CLANSMAN, THE BIRTH OF A NATION tells the story of two friendly families who fight on opposite sides during the American Civil War. In the aftermath of Reconstruction they unite to eject the carpetbaggers from the South.

The scope of its drama covers such historical events as Lee's surrender, Lincoln's assassination, the siege of Atlanta, the dreaded Ku Klux Klan, and Sherman's march to the Sea.

The film premiered at the Liberty Theatre in New York on March 3, 1915. Now in its first release since the 1930's, the original silent classic is complete with sound effects and the authentic musical score.

The battle scenes, with literally "a cast of thousands" are staged on such a scale as to rival even some of today's colossal epics. The cast includes Lillian Gish, Henry Walthall, Mae Marsh, Ramon Novarro, Raoul Walsh.

Blue Devils burn WSC
gridmen 14-0

A pair of Dairyland Conference allamb, Nick Morsch and Ron Berg, combined for 217 yards rushing to spark Stout State University to a 14-0 triumph over Winona State on the muddy turf at Kaukauna Field Saturday afternoon.

Morsch shook the Warriors with a pair of breakaway scoring bursts in the first and third quarters as the Blue Devils' workhorse, picking up 136 yards in 26 carries. Morsch is a graduate of Blair, Wis., High School, and Berg is a sophomore from Whitehall.

It was the sixth setback in several outings for Winona State, and it marked the fifth game in which the Warriors were unable to avert a shutout. Winona has failed to score a point since the first quarter of the Southwestern State contest four weeks ago. Stout now owns two straight wins, both of which are by a score of 14-0. Winona's loss marked the fifth game in which the Warriors were unable to avert a shutout.

First quarter: Nick Morsch shocked the Warriors with a 34-yard run into the end zone for the two points. Berig an, Stout's quarterback, converted twice and Fedie once. With 1:41 remaining in the third quarter, Morsch ran through the middle of the Winona defense on a trap play and rammed 66 yards to paydirt. This time the extraordinary Blue Devil runner spotted daylight and simply outran the entire Warrior secondary.

Capt. King discusses drugs at luncheon

Captain William King, Winona City Police Dept., explained search warrants to more than 30 students Monday as part of a series of luncheons sponsored by the Student Affairs Office.

The topic for discussion was drugs. King told students he felt education is a good prevention of drug abuse. He also told them that the November issue of Play es-ket contains drug laws of all the states.

For the police to obtain a search warrant they must be able to show probable cause. The warrant must be signed by a judge. The warrant is then good for ten days.

Any illegal items found during a legal search can be taken and used. When searching a dorm room with two or more occupants the whole room is searched unless probable cause is shown.

day's game against St. Cloud State. Winona won the game 15-5.

Learning Center offers study aid

by Connie Currier

With mid-term examinations almost at a close, students may have noticed that they could have used some assistance with study skills and reading efficiency. For such students WSC has provided the Learning Center at 503 Winona.

The Learning Center is an eventing service offered by the college through which students may learn such things as how to listen, to take notes, to review leads, to research and write term papers and to develop good study habits. Speed reading is not offered but reading may be improved so that it is more efficient, effective and motivating.

Dr. Leland A. McMillen of the education department is the director of the center. Eight graduate students and various other personnel assist him.

Monday through Thursday evenings are provided for private tutoring. Beginning time depends on the number of students being tutored but is usually at 6:30 p.m. Other times can be arranged if a student's schedule does not permit evening classes.

All materials and equipment are furnished by the college.

Interested students can make arrangements by stopping at the center or calling 457-3191. Arrangements may also be made through the student counseling office in Gilmorestein or by contacting Mary Dirk at 457-2577.
