Vishinsky's Body On View at U.N.

By PAUL S. UNDERWOOD

NEW YORK (AP)—The body of the old Communist, Andrei Vishinsky, encased in a coffin for a millionaire, goes back to Moscow tonight. Meantime Jacob Malik will be crossing the Atlantic in the opposite direction to take up temporarily the duties of representing the Soviet Union at the United Nations.

After Vishinsky died Monday a spokesman for the Russian delegation announced the body would lie in state today so the public could view it at the delegation's Park Avenue headquarters. But today police announced the public had been barred, and only members of other U.N. delegations, government officials and such would be permitted to enter the building.

TODAY Testing of New Bomb Debated

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON—A grave debate—the gravest since the debate on whether to make the hydrogen bomb—is now going on behind closed doors in the highest government circles.

Primarily, this debate is concerned with whether the "Super-Super"—a hydrogen bomb expected to develop several times the monstrous power of the great bomb exploded at Eniwetok last spring—should be tested. In a more general sense, the debate is also concerned with whether this country is right to rely on the hydrogen bomb as its principal offensive weapon.

Both issues are related directly to the danger to human life inherent in the radiological side-effects of the new type of hydrogen bomb. There is nothing properly secret about this radiological danger. Anything known in this country on the subject is certainly known in Russia, where the new type of hydrogen bomb, with its heavy, noxious radiological side-effects, was first tested.

Indeed, the real trouble is that no one, in Russia, in this country, or anywhere else, really knows enough about this subject. The most distinguished experts hotly disagree about the nature and the extent of the danger.

These reporters have recently been in voluminous correspondence with physicists, geneticists, and other experts on this matter of the radiological hazard, and have yet to find two who wholly agree. On the official level, also, there is a wide variation between the estimates of the danger made by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department. The AEC's conclusions are less frightening than the Pentagon's—although the AEC in its secret (Continued on Page 7, Column 3) ALSOP

9 State Traffic Deaths Predicted For Thanksgiving

270 Others Will Be Injured, Safety Council Estimates

ST. PAUL (AP)—If averages for the past five years hold this week, it won't be Thanksgiving in the true spirit of the day for 279 Minnesotans.

For, by the Sunday night finale of the long holiday weekend, nine persons will have been killed in traffic accidents and the other 270 will undergo the physical agony of injuries.

This was the prediction today of Arthur V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council. On the basis of past statistics, he said the holiday period would bring a total of 816 accidents on Minnesota highways.

"Virtually every one of these can be avoided," Rohweder said, "if every motorist will only realize that it is his responsibility to prevent mishaps. In only a very few instances can another motorist or pedestrian help you to avoid an accident. For safety is every driver's responsibility."

He hopes that Minnesota drivers join for a period of Thanksgiving safe driving that will make his predictions look preposterous. A second warning came from Earl Larimer, state highway safety director. He urged drivers to maintain safe distances between their and other moving vehicles.

"Records show that 4,100 of last year's 50,831 accidents came because cars were too closely following the one ahead," Larimer reported. "For safety's sake, make sure your car is a car length behind the preceding one for each 10 miles of speed. Such a distance will give you a chance to stop in case of emergency."

The tart-tongued deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union died Monday of a heart attack. He was 70.

Moscow radio announced early today that the Soviet government and Communist party had appointed a commission to take charge of the funeral. Among its members are Deputy Premier M. O. Fomukhin and Andrei Gromyko, another deputy foreign minister who once held Vishinsky's job as chief Soviet delegate to the U.N.

There was no immediate indication who would be named to succeed him. Prominent among those mentioned by Western sources were Gromyko; Jacob Malik, Soviet ambassador to London who also has served at the U.N.; and Georgi Zarubin, Russian ambassador to Washington.

No. 2 Man
Meanwhile, Arkady Sobolev, No. 2 man in the Russian delegation to the U.N., became acting head of the group.

Vishinsky, 70, died while preparing a statement to the U.N. outlining Russia's position on President Eisenhower's plan for a peaceful international atomic energy pool. The debate was immediately suspended until today.

Representatives of 59 of the 60 nations represented in the U.N. paid tribute to their dead colleague's skill at a special meeting yesterday, even though many of them had bitterly opposed the ideas for which he fought. Nationalist China, whose U.N. seat the Soviets had long sought for the Chinese Communists, was the only U.N. member not represented.

There was no comment from the White House, but Secretary of State Dulles offered his condolences to Vishinsky's family and said the Soviet delegate was "an able and vigorous advocate of his country's policies."

Baby Dies in Duluth Fire

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Kermit, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lovejoy, died Monday in a fire which swept the family home in the brief absence of his parents at a hospital.

Lovejoy had taken his wife there to be treated for a fainting spell. The fire was caused by an overheated incinerator pipe, the coroner said, and there will be no inquest.

Frank Zelen, a fireman, was treated for burns about the face and neck after bringing out the child, asphyxiated by fumes from the blaze.

Langer Opens Investigation of Youngdahl Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials of the Justice Department were called before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee today to explain an effort to induce U.S. Dist. Judge Luther Youngdahl to withdraw from the Owen Lattimore perjury case.

Chairman Langer (R-ND), of the full Judiciary Committee, who heads the subcommittee too, set up the hearing at the request of Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), a subcommittee member, who said in a statement last night he wants the group to "get to the bottom" of the matter.

Hennings first called for an investigation after Leo A. Rover, U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia, filed an affidavit accusing Youngdahl of a "fixed, personal bias and prejudice" in favor of Lattimore, far Eastern affairs specialist.

Youngdahl rejected the affidavit as "scandalous" and rejected Rover's request that he disqualify himself from trial of the case.

Boy, 15, Shoots Michigan Hunter 'Deliberately'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fifteen-year-old Mike Stevens was arraigned today at Cadillac, Mich., on a murder charge in the gunfire death of a 68-year-old Carsonville deer hunter.

State police said Stevens, a Cadillac youth and former inmate of the Boys Vocational School at Lansing, admitted Monday he deliberately shot Hugh Flake, a retired farmer, last Tuesday.

Wexford County Prosecutor William Peterson said Stevens told him he shot Flake "but I don't know why; I just did." Police said Stevens showed no remorse.

Six hunters have been killed in the first seven days of Michigan's buck season and seven died of heart attacks. Several persons have been wounded.

Peterson said the degree of the murder charge against Stevens will be determined by the court. The youth told officers he shot Flake from a stump five feet behind him and then shot him twice after he fell. The youth had been squirrel hunting with a stolen rifle. Two men reported lost Sunday while hunting in different areas were found safe.

Wadena Man Admits Ulen Bank Robbery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Just four days after the Northwestern State Bank was robbed at Ulen, Minn., Leland Cameron Thomson was captured at Ashtabula, Ohio, and federal agents said he admitted the $2,005 holdup.

Thomson, 34, was arrested Monday at the Ohio home of the mother of a girl friend who agents said he met in Fargo, N. D. Pockets of Thomson's clothing yielded $1,200 of the bank loot, the FBI reported. The woman was not held.

Arrested before a U.S. commissioner here, Thomson said he wanted to plead guilty. He was ordered held in $25,000 bond pending action by George Mackinnon, U.S. district attorney for Minnesota, who wants him returned there.

Agents said Thomson, a native of Wadena in the Ulen area, apparently had left Moorhead by train after abandoning his stolen getaway car at nearby Dilworth. The car was stolen at Lake Park, Minn., the day before the holdup.

Thomson was traced through the purchase of the pistol used in the bank holdup from a hardware store at Hewitt, Minn. The proprietor recognized Thomson's description as tallying with that of the gun buyer and notified officers on Saturday. Thomson gave his own name when buying the weapon.

Agents quoted Thomson that he pulled the holdup because he needed money to pay some bills. A railroad man, he said he had been out of work since September.

Arthur Anderson Jr., cashier of the Ulen bank, handed over the loot in $5, $10 and $20 bills when the gunman pulled out a pistol with the demand, "Gimme $5,000."

Anderson Pays Berg Tribute for 'Devoted Service'

ST. PAUL (AP)—Gov. Anderson today paid high tribute to Earl L. Berg, state commissioner of administration, for his "devoted period of public service," in accepting his resignation effective next Monday.

The governor, at the request of Gov.-elect Orville Freeman, Wednesday will appoint Arthur Naftalin, associate professor of political science at the University of Minnesota, as Berg's successor.

Asserting that the public "might overlook what you have done in the rapid developments incident to transition between administrations," Gov. Anderson said:

"In my estimation you have made a personal sacrifice worthy of public recognition; for, by your willingness to step aside before the expiration of your term, you have done a service which, I believe, is unprecedented in state history."

Reds Intend To Dominate All, He Says

Cautions America Must Remain Alert, Strong

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the greatest mistake America could make would be to lose sight of Russia's quest for world revolution and domination.

This statement at a news conference was in reply to a question as to whether there is any real indication that the Soviet Union's talk of peaceful coexistence means a basic change in attitude.

Eisenhower said Russia lately has been talking in a somewhat different tone—apparently meaning less belligerently.

But everything he has ever read about the Communists makes it clear that their ultimate objective is world revolution and domination of a centrally controlled state, the President added.

Comments on Report
Eisenhower's discussion of the international situation was touched off by a request for comment on fears expressed by Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, that Russia is promoting a policy of peaceful coexistence as a Trojan horse to lure the United States into a false sense of security.

Eisenhower said you have to distinguish between peaceful coexistence and just coexistence.

And, he said, he wanted to emphasize that there is no tendency on the part of the United States to take anything for granted in connection with relations with Russia.

Will Remain Strong
He said this country will remain alert, vigilant and strong.

A reporter asked Eisenhower for comment on "the propriety" of Knowland's publicly questioning administration foreign policy.

The President laughed and told the newsmen he must have spent most of the morning thinking that one up.

Then he said that under the constitution the President is charged with the conduct of foreign affairs, and the secretary of state is his chief aide in that field.

Eisenhower also dealt with these other matters:
Red China Debate—Differing with the superintendents at West Point and Annapolis, Eisenhower said he would be inclined to trust the judgment of the cadets and midshipmen and let them publicly debate—to their hearts' content—the question whether the United States should recognize Red China. The superintendents ruled out debate of that question which had been posed as one for college debaters to tackle this year.

Big Four Meeting—The President said he would not favor a Big Three meeting with Russia until: (1) The London and Paris agreements have been ratified; (2) there is promise that such a conference would have real fruitfulness; and (3) adequate preparations had been made for such a meeting. He made those remarks in commenting on the proposal by French Premier Mendes-France that a Big Four conference be held next May—after ratification of the London and Paris agreements.

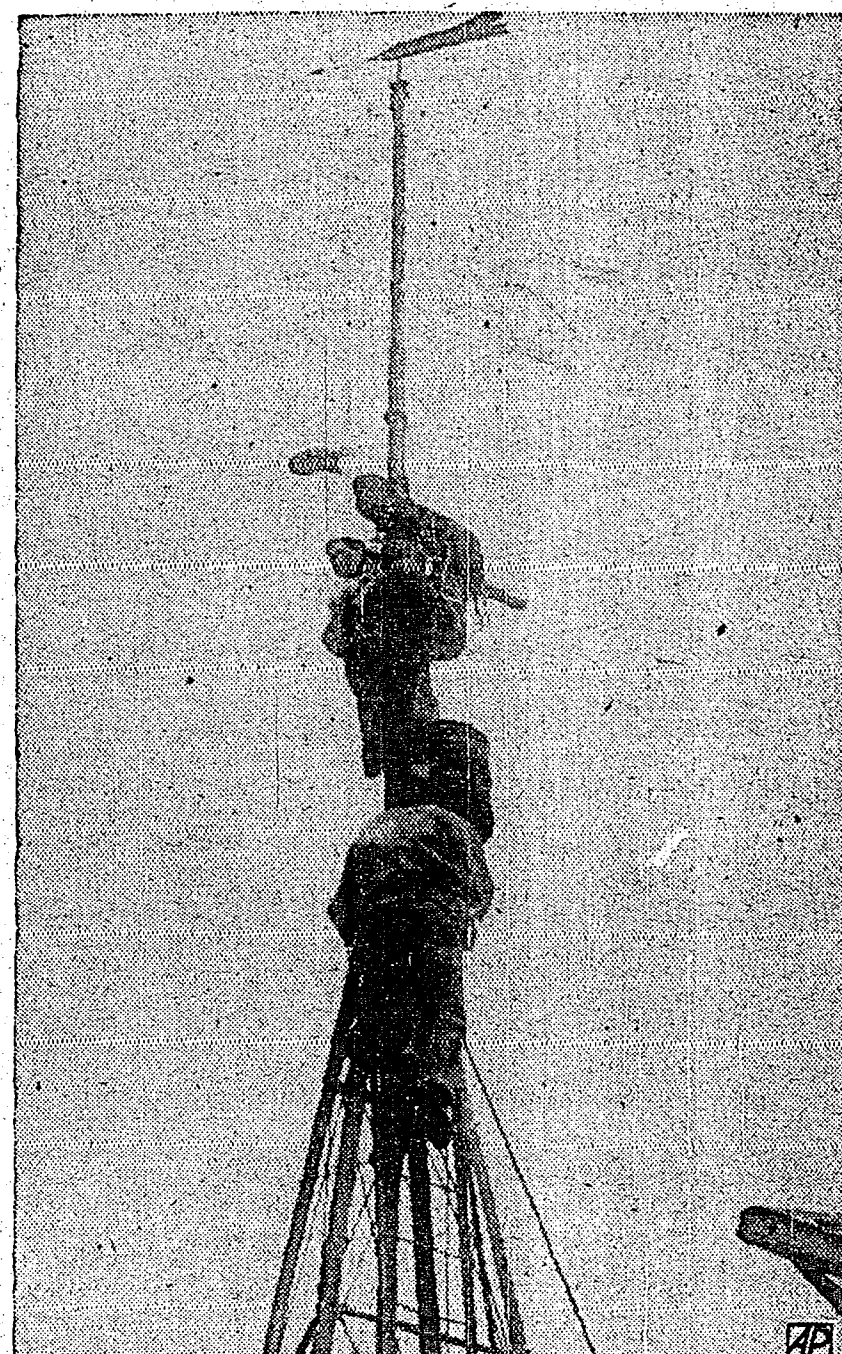

The President said emphatically, however, he wanted to repeat that whenever the United States has any real reason to believe any (Continued on Page 3, Column 6) IKE

Mendes-France Has High Hopes For United Europe

NEW YORK (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France said today that under provisions of the Paris agreements "a united Europe may become a living reality sooner than many people think."

The new agreements were greatly facilitated by the candid discussion . . . of the problem of Franco-German relations, which is the central problem of Europe," the premier said in a speech prepared for a luncheon of the Foreign Policy Assn.

He continued:
"Let no one mistake our intentions. When we speak about Franco-German understanding and cooperation, we are not thinking of setting up an exclusive bilateral club at which the other countries of the Western European Union could take justifiable offense. On the contrary, we are firmly resolved to bring our continental partners into the closest possible association, in insuring the harmonious development of the relations between France and Germany."

Fingerprints Described in Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—The prosecution, with most of its major witnesses out of the way, moved today into the "crime laboratory" stage of its case against Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Assistant County Prosecutor John J. Mahon called on Detective Michael S. Grabowski to tell of fingerprint and photographic work he did at the Sheppard home on the morning of last July 4.

Dr. Sheppard, a handsome, 30-year-old osteopath, is accused of slaying his pregnant wife Marilyn in the bedroom of their suburban Bay Village home on that date.

The 41-year-old fingerprint expert, a policeman for nine years, took 13 photographs in and around the Sheppard house, including two of the victim's bloody corpse.

He also took fingerprint impressions in the bedroom, living room and den. Particular attention was paid to two desks—in the living room and den—whose drawers and contents were found pulled out.

The defense says a prowler killed Mrs. Sheppard and also ransacked the desks. The prosecution contends Dr. Sheppard committed the murder and made a clumsy effort to simulate a robbery.

Police have never said just what, if anything, the fingerprints taken by slender, dark-haired Grabowski have disclosed.

The state said Miss Susan Hayes, a 24-year-old hospital technician, probably would be one of its last witnesses. A trim, pretty woman, Miss Hayes admitted intimacies with Dr. Sheppard in California.

The testimony yesterday of 42-year-old Dr. Lester Hoversten, of Glendale, Calif., failed to live up to what had been expected in many quarters. The defense let the witness go after only five minutes of cross-examination.

Assistant County Prosecutor Saul Danaceau denied reports the state had any trouble with the witness. "Dr. Hoversten testified to all matters that he knew anything about," Danaceau declared.

Dr. Hoversten said Dr. Sheppard, an old school chum, mentioned twice that he had considered divorcing his wife.

MRS. J. A. CHARNET, Los Angeles, Calif., says: "My doctor prescribes St. Joseph Aspirin for Children. I always look for the name. It has my complete trust."

Woman Convicted For Shooting of Fourth Husband

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Ida Pontery, a graying, matronly woman of 57, was convicted early today of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of her fourth husband.

A jury of eight men and four women deliberated more than 11 hours. Mrs. Pontery, who sobbed when the panel announced its decision, faces a maximum sentence of 10 years.

Her son and daughter, who testified against her during the 10-day trial, showed no sign of emotion when they heard the verdict. Mrs. Pontery had been charged with fatally shooting her estranged husband Dr. Herbert Pontery, 59, of Jersey City, in their summer cottage at Budd Lake last Aug. 7.

The prosecution claimed the shooting was premeditated and asked for a first-degree murder verdict but not the death penalty. Mrs. Pontery insisted that her husband was shot accidentally when he tried to grab a gun from her hand.

Baer Appears To Be Winner In Recount

Leads by 4 Votes Following Check Of Ballots Cast

It appeared virtually certain this morning that Paul A. Baer, 49-year-old Fremont Township farmer, will be Winona County's 4th District county commissioner despite a recount of ballots cast in the Nov. 2 general election at the courthouse Monday.

With all seven precincts completely re-tabulated by late Monday afternoon, a discrepancy of four votes was found by the inspection board in the totals recorded by the official county canvassing board which met earlier this month.

As a result of mistakes in original tabulations in three precincts, incumbent Walter Schubert trails candidate Baer by 4 votes.

Were Deadlocked
The two, after the canvassing board checked precinct totals, were deadlocked in a tie for the post with 665 votes apiece. Shortly after, lots were drawn and Baer was declared the winner of the race. Subsequently Schubert filed a petition in District Court challenging the canvassing board's report.

The totals released today find Baer with 667 votes to Schubert's 663.

A breakdown of findings shows:
• In Lewistown village, the canvassing board had reported 132 votes for Baer and 248 for Schubert. Monday's inspection showed 133 for Baer and 247 for Schubert.

• In Utica Township, first totals were 91 for Baer, 125 for Schubert and five blank ballots. Official findings show 91 for Baer, 124 for Schubert and six blanks.

• In Fremont Township, the canvassing board reported 164 for Baer and 17 for Schubert. Official findings give Baer 165 and Schubert 17.

Final tabulations show Baer with two more votes than originally reported and Schubert with two less.

Some Challenged
An official today said, "other than the actual vote-count discrepancies, several ballots were 'challenged.' As to the validity of the 'challenged' ballots—if proceedings are to be conducted, it will be done in District Court."

Of the votes cast for Schubert, Baer has challenged 45; of the votes cast for Baer, Schubert has challenged 37.

Members of Monday's inspection board included: A. N. Eusternmann, Lewistown, court-appointed counter; Hale A. Stow, Winona, Schubert's counter; Leo O'Meara, Fremont Township, Baer's counter, and Richard Schoonover, county auditor.

Baer was represented legally by Alton E. Bergh, St. Charles, while Leo Murphy Jr. of the Winona law firm of Streat & Murphy was attorney for Schubert.

2 Assault Cases Heard by Court

Two assault cases were heard in municipal court here this morning.

In one, Bernard Ellringer, 28, Elba, pleaded not guilty to a charge brought by his neighbor, Lester Todd.

Todd complained that Ellringer struck him during an argument at Elba Saturday.

Trial of the case was set for next Tuesday morning.

Edward Meyers, 46, 407 E. Mark St., pleaded guilty to a charge brought in a complaint signed by Mrs. Cora Block, 302 W. 4th St.

Meyers, who paid a $15 fine, was charged with striking Mrs. Block at a West 2nd street bar Friday night.

Brownsville Men To District Court On 'Shining' Count

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Three Brownsville, Minn., men were bound over for trial during the next general term of Houston County District Court during a preliminary hearing in the justice court of M. M. Sullivan here this morning.

The men, Lloyd Lampert, 22; Arthur Augedahl, 29, and Cletus Link, 30, were arrested earlier this month on charges of deer shining in the Reno Mississippi River bottoms. The three appeared in court this morning with their attorney, L. L. Duxbury Jr.

Justice Sullivan, after hearing the testimony of Al Breza, Houston County game warden; Ronald Shager, Winona County; Willis Kruger, Wabasha County, and Kenneth La Bonne, Hastings, found probable cause and bound the cases over to District Court. The next general term convenes in May. The men were released on their personal recognizance.

Breza and the other three wardens concealed themselves in clover adjoining the marsh and made the arrests when the hunters allegedly were driving around to locate feeding deer with the headlights of the car and a spotlight. Three set-up guns, two deer rifles and a shotgun loaded with a slug shell, were found in the car the wardens said. The men had no deer in possession.

In centigrade thermometers zero is the freezing point of water (32 degrees Fahrenheit) and the boiling point of water is 100 degrees.

Other unbeaten squads, among the 51 schools entered in the meet, were Greenville College of Illinois and Northern Illinois College.

Major universities competing in the tourney included Notre Dame, Bradley and St. Louis.

Individual excellence ratings went to Burke in discussion and extemporaneous speaking and to Don Trauscht, senior from Chicago, in folk tale telling. Brother I. Pius, F.S.C., is debate coach at the college.

Three Indianans—a man and woman, 23, and a 20-year-old youth—have been released by Winona police following questioning on the next general term of Houston County District Court during a preliminary hearing in the justice court of M. M. Sullivan here this morning.

The men, Lloyd Lampert, 22; Arthur Augedahl, 29, and Cletus Link, 30, were arrested earlier this month on charges of deer shining in the Reno Mississippi River bottoms. The three appeared in court this morning with their attorney, L. L. Duxbury Jr.

The next general term convenes in May. The men were released on their personal recognizance.

Breza and the other three wardens concealed themselves in clover adjoining the marsh and made the arrests when the hunters allegedly were driving around to locate feeding deer with the headlights of the car and a spotlight. Three set-up guns, two deer rifles and a shotgun loaded with a slug shell, were found in the car the wardens said. The men had no deer in possession.

Car Hits Mailbox Posts At Highway Intersection

Helmer Thompson, Winona Rt. 3, reported $200 damage to his car as a result of an accident here Sunday night.

Thompson said that he was driving north on Highway 61 when another car drove out from Highway 43.

To avoid a collision with the other car, Thompson said, he turned to the right and his car struck two mailbox posts.

Snow Flurries, Reading of 28 Expected Tonight

Ol' Man Winter may have made a slight mistake Monday night but it won't be repeated tonight according to the Winona and area weather forecast.

He apparently pulled the wrong lever late Monday. Rain came instead of snow. It took him quite a time to realize the error, too, as the rainfall totaled .21 of an inch by noon.

The temperature, too, was on the upswing, from a 7.30 a.m. reading of 38 degrees to 45 at noon.

Tonight, however, the mercury is expected to dip to about 28 degrees, accompanied by snow flurries. The cloudy, windy and rather cold weather is expected to continue Wednesday. A high of 35 degrees is forecast for Wednesday afternoon, with more snow flurries.

General Motor's 50 Millionth Car Built at Flint

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—General Motors made industrial history today as it assembled its 50 millionth automobile.

The car, a gold-plated and gold-painted Chevrolet Bel Air sport coupe, was assembled in the Chevrolet Flint assembly plant 46 years after GM built its first car.

Production of the car was the signal for the start of a nationwide celebration. In 125 plants and training centers in 65 cities throughout the United States GM held open house and was host at luncheons for civic and business leaders.

In Flint, schools were closed. A parade with five of the nation's top college bands was scheduled. The 50 millionth car, riding on a float, was given a place at the end of the procession.

It took General Motors a little more than 10 years to build its first million vehicles. Between 1918 and 1929 it built nine million more. The 25 millionth vehicle was assembled in January 1940.

Farmer Pays High Price for 40 Winks

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—Raymond F. Smith, a 33-year-old Stevens Point, Wis., farmer took a nap that cost him $353.

He delivered a load of potatoes to a Dubuque merchant Saturday and after collecting the money for the freight and produce charges took a snooze in the cab of his truck before starting the trip home.

Frostman told police when he woke up the $353 was gone from his pocket.

Local Plan to Meet Teacher Need Mapped

A community program to meet an increasing need for teachers in Minnesota, particularly in the elementary field, was outlined here Monday evening by the secretary of the Minnesota Commission on Elementary Teacher Supply.

Harry Reynolds of Winona, the secretary, said that the 821 local units of the PTA will be asked to complete a questionnaire which inquires as to the present status of community preparation and whether changes are desired.

To provide speakers for dissemination of information about the teacher shortage and how it can be solved.

Concluding, Reynolds declared that the commission, which is operating without state funds, ends its present tenure next June and hopes that it then can see local teacher encouragement programs under way all over the state.

He noted that the commission chairman says that there always will be a teacher in every classroom, but that the public has a stake in making that teacher a good one.

Miss Hillier Presides
Presiding at the dinner was Miss Helen Hillier, who announced that Iowa chapter is raising funds for a cash award to a student interested in preparing to be a teacher.

The Delta Kappa Gamma national program for 1954-55 "calls for selective recruitment first, but in full it involves: 1. Recruitment; 2. professional growth; 3. legislation; 4. teacher welfare; and 5. uniting women educators of the world in a spiritual fellowship.

A recent bulletin of the national organization comments, "It may be necessary for Delta Kappa Gamma women to concentrate initial efforts on redirecting what may have become a negative attitude within our own profession about the problems confronting us."

Program chairman at the meeting was Miss Gertrude Finch.

'Spike' Graham Gets Jack Frost Crown

By ROBERT EGGLESON
Daily News Staff Writer

Later this week, George (Spike) Graham will be measured for the uniform that will identify him as the ruler of Winona's 1955 Winter Carnival.

His selection as Jack Frost V was a closely guarded secret until the climax of the Winona Activity Group's announcement banquet Monday night at the Oaks.

Delay in fitting him with the Jack Frost uniform was one of the many measures taken to keep the secret secure.

Toastmaster Harold Libera read a series of clues to the new Jack Frost's identity as Jack Frost IV (Roy Evett) roamed through the audience of nearly 400 persons before arriving at Graham's table.

As he did, Libera gave the final clue, "He isn't quite as big as his two Frosties" and Evett pulled Graham to his feet.

Frosties Identified
Earlier in the program, Evett's Frosties, Dr. W. O. Finkelnburg and Ted Maier, had followed a similar procedure in "picking" Lloyd Ozmun and Roger Schneider as their successors.

Ozmun is a commercial trucker and resides in Sugar Loaf while Schneider, 505 E. 5th St., is an employee of the H. Behrens Manufacturing Co.

Graham has been a resident of Winona for 31 years and is owner of the Midwest Motors. He resides with his wife at 804 W. Mark St.

A native of Rochester, he attended school there before entering the Navy in 1920. He was discharged after two years of duty and came to Winona the following year to accept a position with the J. R. Watkins Co. In 1928, Graham became an insurance salesman and employed by a finance company for 11 years ending in 1945.

A year later he went to work at Midwest Motors.

Graham became a partner in the business in 1948 and took over sole ownership last year.

Enthusiastic Sportsman
An enthusiastic sportsman, he enjoys hunting and fishing and has attended the grand national trap shooting contest for the last 15 years.

Active in civic affairs, Graham is a member of the Arlington Club, the Red Men, Elks, Odd Fellows, Athletic Club, Sportsmen's Club, Rod and Gun Club, Boat Club, West End Commercial Club, Association of Commerce, Coast Guard Auxiliary and the Masonic bodies.

Activity Group President Leonard Dernek, who will serve as general chairman of the 19th annual Winter Carnival, summed up the purpose of the Jack Frost dinner by telling the crowd, "We're on our way." Actually, preliminary preparations have been under way for a number of months, but the dinner Monday night signaled the official Winter Carnival kickoff.

Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer reviewed the progress of the Winona Activity Group since its founding 19 years ago and paid particular tribute to M. J. Bambenek, one of the original members of the group.

Royalty Introduced
Miss Jeanne Reince, a former Winter Carnival Snow Flake and more recently Miss Minnesota, was introduced as were past Jack Frosties, C. A. Choate, Roy T. Patze and Carlus Walker; Walter's Frosties, Lambert Kowalewski and Edward Hostettler, and Miss Nancy Gynild, a 1953 Snow Flake attendant, Miss Sandra Munson, Miss Steamboat Days of 1954, also appeared before Miss Jeanne Wunderlich (Miss Snow Flake of 1954) and her attendants, Misses Gloria Ronnenberg and Charlotte Schaffner, were introduced.

Evett, in relinquishing the responsibilities of Jack Frost, said, "All good things must come to an end. The past year has been indeed a busy one, but one that has been very enjoyable."

Graham accepted the duties as an "honorary and a pleasure to be chosen to represent Winona and the Winona Activity Group as Jack Frost V."

After the formal program, Miss Joan Sieracki presented several organ selections; Miss Betty Ersig, a baton twirling exhibition, and Miss Reelle Borja, a native of Guam who is a student at Winona State Teachers College, presented several vocal selections.

More Window Damage Reported to Police

Two reports of window breakings have been filed at police headquarters.

The management of the Northern Field Seed Co. said that 21 windows were broken in the firm's elevator at 113 E. Mark street sometime last weekend.

Two other windows were broken, also during the weekend, on the west side of the Central Elementary School.

country wants to talk earnestly about peace, the talks will be held.

Security—Eisenhower said Secretary of State Dulles gave much prayerful study to the John Paton Davies case before deciding to fire the career diplomat for lack of judgment.

As for whether the Davies case indicates any need for overhauling the administration's security program, the President said he is studying the matter all the time but is not certain what kind of a move he should make with respect to any re-examination of the program. He added that nothing will stand in the way of revision of the program if he finds such action is warranted.

Nominations—The President expressed the hope that nominations he has sent to the current special session of the Senate would be confirmed in the best interests of the country. Action on one major nomination—that of John Marshall Harlan to the Supreme Court—has already been put off until the new 84th Congress convenes in January.

The President said the business of government must go on, but that he can understand some delay when there are legitimate reasons for controversy. He added, however, that where the controversy is not real or deep, the best interests of the government and the country can be served by Senate confirmation as soon as possible.

Asked specifically about delay on two nominations to the Atomic Energy Commission, Eisenhower said that would have to be worked out in the Senate. He said he did not know exactly why the nominations were being delayed.

Bipartisan Conferences—The President said he is looking forward to conferences with the Democrats, who will control the new session of Congress, but that he still does not know just what the mechanics will be and how frequently such meetings will be held. Eisenhower said he will seek opportunity to find out whether he and the Democratic leaders are in agreement on various matters, but that each case will have to be decided on its merits.

Servicemen's Families—In general, the President said, it is a good thing for servicemen to have their families with them on overseas assignments when there is no war. In the present state of cold war, Eisenhower said, this country wants to put its best foot forward and not give any impression that it is frightened to death of the possibility of enemy attacks.

Drawing on his own experience, he recalled that he took his wife with him to Europe in 1951, at a time when the situation there was very tense.

Farm—The President said that if samplings of opinion he made around the country during the summer are accurate, the farmers do not want a return to rigid price support programs, as proposed by some members of Congress. A new administration program of flexible supports, approved by the last Congress, is scheduled to go into effect next season.

New Frosties, Too, Were Named during the Jack Frost announcement dinner Monday night at the Oaks. Dr. W. O. Finkelnburg, left, and Ted Maier, second from right, searched the audience of about 400 and finally led Lloyd Ozmun and Roger Schneider to the platform. Ozmun and Schneider will participate in Winter Carnival activities with Jack Frost V (George Graham) and Miss Snow Flake and her two attendants who will be named Jan. 21. (Daily News photos)

Loane J. Randall, St. Paul, state chairman, said that the 1955 quota for the statewide campaign, which has been conducted since 1951 by the Minnesota Association of Life Underwriters as a service project, is $30,000. The area 3-C quota has been set at $4,340.

NATO Postpones Rearing Talks On West Germany

WASHINGTON (AP)—North Atlantic Treaty military leaders have decided to wait until next month before discussing rearmament of West Germany as a member of their anti-Communist alliance.

This was disclosed yesterday in a communiqué at the windup of an unexpectedly brief conference of the NATO Military Committee, composed of the top officers of the 14 member nations. The meeting had been scheduled to run for two days, but it ended in less than one.

The communiqué said consideration of West German rearmament had been postponed until the group's next meeting in Paris in mid-December, presumably to give NATO governments more time to ratify agreements covering West German participation.

Resuscitator Called For Youth at Pool

A 16-year-old Alma youth apparently suffered no ill effects from a swimming mishap at the YMCA pool here Monday night.

Duane Grotzahn was swimming with a group of teen-agers at 8 p.m. when he suddenly sank to the bottom of the pool.

He was taken from the water and a fire department rescue squad was called to the pool to administer aid with a resuscitator.

After about 10 minutes a physician who had been called to the YMCA pronounced that the boy apparently had recovered and, after he had rested for a short time, he was allowed to return home.

A bruise on the boy's chin indicated that he might have been bumped while playing in the water and this is believed to have caused him to go to the bottom of the pool.

Hibernation provides a more or less comatose state for animals which adopt it, some groups being intensely and continuously in a state of coma, others only feebly and intermittently so.

Studio Gambling $2 Million on Sermon Appeal

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U)—A film studio is gambling two million dollars on the hope that audiences will buy tickets to hear sermons and to see the life of a remarkable preacher.

Twentieth Century-Fox is making "A Man Called Peter," the biography of the late Peter Marshall, famed Presbyterian minister. This is a far cry from the studio's other Cinemascope offerings, which have specialized in sex and spectacle. Perhaps the studio feels, as many do, that it's time the big screen said something.

Producer Sam Engel spent more than a year working on the script, which was written by Eleanor Griffin, Academy Award winner for "Boy's Town." He insisted on keeping large hunks of the minister's sermons in the film.

"You wouldn't film 'The Jolson Story' without songs," he reasoned. "Nor would you make the life of a great preacher without using his sermons."

Darryl Zanuck okayed the script and approved a top budget. Filming began this fall in Atlanta, Ga.; Washington, D.C., and Annapolis, Md. The picture is now being completed here.

The sermons are designed to occupy 20 minutes in the entire film, and one lasts a full eight minutes. Just in case the public won't go for such big doses, the scenes have been designed so the sermons can be cut. But the studio hopes that won't be necessary.

I visited the set and met Richard Todd, the Dublin-born actor who is portraying Marshall. He had never known of the preacher before the film came up, but has since learned much of his life from friends and Marshall's widow Catherine, who wrote the best-selling book.

"He was a truly remarkable man," Todd said. "Apparently he had none of the sepulchral manifestations that many churchmen adopt. He was a vigorous man, to whom religion was a very real and living thing."

"To him, Jesus was a very strong personality. He described him as a man whose guests never lacked for wine, who could shoulder his way through a taunting mob."

New York Airport Sure an Old-Timer

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—I vividly remember it must be 14 or 15 years ago now—when a New York city editor assigned me to go out and cover "the modern miracle," La Guardia Field.

It was miraculous then, with planes taking off every 3 minutes. But now, crossing the country again for the first time in 3 months, I'm struck by how far behind our great city is with its old-fashioned airport.

The glistering new terminal in San Francisco, Chicago and Pittsburgh make us feel back in the horse-and-buggy age.

Yet, what's to be done? Is a city to be prepared to scrap its airport every decade and build a new one?

It seems strange for blase New Yorkers to be impressed by some other city's showplaces, but it actually happens. New Yorkers have positively been heard to exclaim: "You ought to see that airport in San Francisco!"

Seeing how this giant outgiant itself, I'm reminded of the tale of the Wright Brothers being chastised by their clergyman father, Bishop Wright, whose mind was on things ecclesiastical.

He chided his sons for their insane preoccupation with aviation. "Don't you think men will ever fly?" one of the brothers asked him.

"Yes—but not in Dayton!" he roared.

Actress Ruth Hampton heard this conversation in an L.A. restaurant.

"Why'd you come out here from Iowa?" "I came to get a job!" "Car-hop?" "Oh no, I came by train."

Ohio politicians, usually pretty sharp, figure out that Thomas E. Dewey will become Republican Nat'l. Chairman, that is, GOP boss.

Rudy Vallee has figured out how to beat the tipping problem. He tells friends to leave their hats in their cars.

Did you hear the story of the smalltown publisher trying to sell ads to a big merchant—and claiming he had 3,000 circulation?

"Is that all?" exclaimed the merchant, in a fatherly way. "I want to help you, so listen to me. Never tell anybody you have only 3,000 circulation—and multiply it by 10."

The little publisher exclaimed:

"What! Again?"

"The 'Medic' TV program is, after all, 'a modern Medicine Show'." San Francisco is on an Irish whiskey and coffee grog kick.

Omaha's bustling with pride now that it appears that it might get into the American Association. It likes to point out that some of the best folks in show business came from its neighborhood—why not baseball, too? Omaha likes to mention Marlon Brando who came from a ranch 100 miles out, and that famous, handsome, he-man star from Beatrice, Neb., Mr. Arlington Brugh (Robert Taylor to you).

What a life! The B.W. and I flew to San Francisco to see the world premiere of "Desiree," the Marlon Brando picture, but had to leave before the picture started.

And we missed the Broadway premiere of the same picture—because we were in the air flying back to New York. But I want to congratulate the Newspaper Guild boys and girls of San Francisco and Oakland for that glamorous premiere they had. Just like Hollywood—and the publishers and editors turned out to cooperate with their employees on the big project.

The Ritz Bros. are doing a Mae West take-off in Las Vegas, using six female wrestlers. Mr. John, the milliner, came to the "Desiree" premier dressed as Napoleon.

Are Martha Raye and spouse sparring? (At the Friars' testimonial to Martha, Ed Weiner said he'd talk about her "life and loves.") Jack E. Leonard yelled, "Oh, it's gonna be a long speech!"

He's Out of State, And Out $100 Too

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (U)—A former Cadott resident could not prove Monday he still lived in Wisconsin and was fined $100 on a charge of falsely obtaining a resident hunting license.

He's Andrew Hamilton, now of St. Paul, Minn., who appeared in Eau Claire County Court and pleaded no contest to the charge.

'Midget' Town Ruins Uncovered in Chile

ARICA, Chile (U)—Ruins of an old town apparently inhabited by midgets have been found near Guaycuta, a few miles inland from this port city.

The discoverer, Gov. Alfredo Raiter of Arica province, believes the inhabitants were descendants of Asiatic seafarers who arrived on this coast in the 15th century.

He said he found extremely small human remains and fragments of pottery with inscriptions that looked like Chinese or Japanese. Ruins of three houses were found, houses so small a person of normal height would not be able to get into them, Raiter said.

Pilings Knife Into Bus, Woman Killed

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (U)—Wharf pilings loaded on the rear end of a huge truck knifed into the right side of a bus loaded with industrial plant workers at Georgetown, Md., late yesterday killing one and injuring several others.

The dead woman was Mrs. Margaret Bastow, 64, of Chestertown, a survivor of the July 16 explosion at the Kent Manufacturing Co. plant here which took 11 lives.

Pakistan Moves To Consolidate Its Government

KARACHI, Pakistan (U)—Taking another step toward centralization of the country, Pakistan's federal government last night announced plans to integrate all provinces and states in West Pakistan into one administrative unit.

Prime Minister Mohammed Ali told the nation in a broadcast that otherwise this U.S. ally "could not be saved from disintegration."

Pakistan borders Iran, Afghanistan and China's Sinkiang province. It consists of four provinces and 10 states. The other part of the country, East Pakistan, has long been a single administrative unit. It is separated from West Pakistan by 1,000 miles of Indian territory.

The move carried on the process of consolidation the federal government began last May when Gov. Gen. Ghulam Mohammed ousted the East Pakistan provincial government and ordered Gen. Iskander Mirza to take control of the state under emergency powers. Gen. Mirza also is interior minister in the Karachi government.

The ouster came only a few months after the Communist-supported United Front had overwhelmingly defeated the Moslem League—which controls the federal government—in East Pakistan provincial elections.

The government last month declared a state of emergency after losing the support of two of West Pakistan's seven provinces—the Northwest Frontier province and the Punjab. Ghulam Mohammed dissolved the National Assembly and ordered Mohammed Ali to form a new cabinet.

Uncle Unable to Explain Why He Killed Niece

By ALLAN MERRITT
LEBANON, Mo. (U)—Thurman Priest, avowedly as baffled as everyone else over the reason, was locked up today with months ahead of him to figure out why he killed the niece he says he worshipped.

The strange little man with a convincing way of talking was transferred to the Webster County Jail on the third floor of the courthouse in nearby Marshfield last night.

There he will await trial next year in Circuit Court at Lebanon on a charge of first-degree murder in the pistol killing of 11-year-old Jeannette Earnest last Wednesday.

The 48-year-old Grand Prairie, Tex., auditor led searchers Sunday night to the body of the child he abducted last Tuesday, near her home in Fort Worth, Tex.

Again he insisted that his love for the child, who could pass for much older than her years, was similar to that of a father for a daughter. There was no sex factor, he said.

He seemed eager to talk to newsmen after his arraignment yesterday at Lebanon. With his brow creased in evident puzzlement, he said:

"I loved her better than anything, anybody. I don't know what they call loving something so much that you kill it. Just blame it on being crazy, I guess."

W. German Scientists Produce 'Atom Eye'

BONN, Germany (U)—West German scientists have produced a simple optical instrument for measuring radioactivity, the Interior Ministry announced today.

The instrument, estimated to cost less than $4 when mass-produced, is to be issued to German civil defense officials.

Named the "atom eye," it is like half a pair of field glasses and is held to the eye by a rubber headband. A sensitive lens inside reacts to radioactivity, showing on a scale the degree an area or object is affected. The scale also shows how long a person can remain in the area without danger.

Turkish Opposition Publisher Arrested

ISTANBUL, Turkey (U)—The government today arrested Bedii Fakir Akın, copublisher of the opposition Istanbul newspaper Dunya.

Although the charge was not announced, the paper has been strongly critical of Minister of State Mukerrem Sarol, whose duties include supervision of press matters.

About 20 opposition press journalists have been prosecuted in recent months under Turkey's strict press laws.

Never Before such performance with regular grade gasoline

New Shell Gasoline—regular grade—contains TCP, Shell-developed additive that stops the greatest cause of power waste

Now motorists who use regular grade fuels can enjoy performance never possible before.

TCP*, first introduced in Shell Premium Gasoline exclusively, has now been blended into Shell Gasoline (regular grade).

As a result, engines designed to operate on regular gasoline can benefit two ways. First, TCP additive "fireproofs" combustion chamber deposits, effectively controlling pre-ignition. Second, by changing the deposits on the spark plugs to non-conductors of electricity, TCP additive stops misfiring. Each plug fires as it should, preventing fuel waste.

By correcting these engine troubles, Shell Gasoline with TCP gives an increase in acceleration, in smoothness of engine operation and in mileage.

Since engine deposits form constantly, continued use of Shell Gasoline, regular grade, with TCP additive is essential to retain its benefits. Now at all Shell Dealers.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

New Era of Prosperity Ahead for Minnesota

A new era of prosperity for Minnesota lies ahead if its industry is free to compete on equal terms with the rest of the world, according to James Ramsey Jr., general traffic manager, American Steel & Wire Division, United States Steel Corp., Cleveland.

Comparing Minnesota's future to the days of the great land rush in Oklahoma in the 1880's, Mr. Ramsey said:

"These are the Cimarron days in the Arrowhead country. To the north lie lands of great agricultural import, as well as great deposits of basic raw materials, including oil, uranium and ores of several basic metals in combination with an abundance of water power. And, to the west lie the relatively untapped Williston Basin, as well as the great agricultural plains. At your very door lies the sleeping giant—taconite."

One of the projects that could trigger the movement to a new prosperity, he stated, is the St. Lawrence Seaway. "Present plans call for it to go into operation in about five years. That is a five-year period in which steps can be taken not only to foresee its great opportunities but also some of the problems that this vast undertaking will create. And then turn many of those very problems into advantages."

Citing instances of some of the problems to be faced in the future, Mr. Ramsey pointed out that foreign countries were underselling United States manufacturers. "You must find the most efficient and most economic way of producing that you possibly can," he continued, "for now while your doors are open to trade with all the countries of the world, you are in like manner exposed to the competition of their low cost production."

Manufacturers are not the only ones facing keen competition, Mr. Ramsey said. Every major city along the Great Lakes has rosy plans for the future as a result of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Many of them are well organized and they are packaging their wares most attractively.

Pointing out the handicaps under which the wire division's Duluth works must operate, he declared, "that for each $100 of product shipped from Duluth, there is a tax of $1 compared with a levy of 30 cents in Illinois and an average of 58 cents in all other states in which we have major plants."

"If we are to realize our huge potential it means that everyone has to re-examine his costs. It means," he continued, "that every government — municipal, county, state and federal — must carefully weigh the economic impact of every tax and every license fee, and every restriction in light of what it will do to the business of this Arrowhead country as it faces the competition of the world."

New Source of Highway Funds

The Minnesota Highway Study Commission has completed the first phase of its recommendations and, as usual, the bottleneck is a lack of necessary funds. Present revenue sources are inadequate for the required long-range planning.

One suggestion that merits consideration is to dispense with the present depreciation factor on motor vehicles, a plan which lowers the annual license fee as the vehicle becomes older.

Under the present system a motor vehicle of 1953-55 vintage, for example, costs $28 for the state license fee. When it is three years old the fee drops one-fourth, or becomes $21. In another three years it drops another fourth, or down to $14. Three years later it drops theoretically to $7, but that is not entirely true. The minimum for a model six years old is $12.50, and for one nine years old it is $10.

The scale was set up based on the weight and year of the vehicle, and the fee is a combination of a highway use tax and a personal property levy. The thinking behind this situation is that a motor vehicle depreciates in value with its age and thus should be taxed less.

What the statute fails to take into consideration, however, is that a 1945 automobile occupies just as much space on the streets and highways as a 1955 vehicle and, as a matter of record, often becomes more of a hazard, too.

The statute also fails to take account of the fact that the principle of depreciation is not applied to other tax properties, such as real estate, at least not in any fixed depreciation scales.

Were all motor vehicles to be licensed at the same rate, regardless of their age, ten million dollars would be added each year to the highway funds.

We don't believe this is a solution to the whole problem. Perhaps it is not a solution at all. But as we said, we think the idea has enough merit to rate careful consideration. —St. Cloud Daily Times.

Man at 47 Has Time Getting Job

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — A man accosted me as I was walking my dog, Joe. He seemed to be an upstanding, intelligent, well-groomed person. He asked:

"You're Sokolsky, aren't you?"

I admitted to the misdemeanor. I suspected that perhaps he wanted to discuss the latest variation in the McCarthy saga. In our neighborhood, it is possible to get into an argument on any street corner, particularly when I am with Joe who is more popular than his master. But this time, I was wrong. What this man wanted to know was what a man does at 47 who finds himself, for one reason or another, out of work.

"I'm a college graduate and a specialist. Generally speaking, I have been successful. In my field, I am well-known. So when I go to a firm, I am greeted heartily. I am invited to lunch. I listen to discussions of current problems in our profession."

"Then I talk about a job. A chill comes over my friends and former associates. 'You're too old,' they say. 'Too old at 47?' I asked. 'What kind of a world is this? Does my experience count for nothing? You admit that I know this profession; you admit that I am skilled. So, why am I too old?'"

"THE ANSWER IS QUICK: 'The pension policy. Above 40, it costs too much. On account of the pension policy, it pays us better to bring in young people and train them. Of course, if you were a great outstanding scientist, who won a prize or two, it might pay us for the publicity and maybe for inventiveness. But let us be honest about it: You are a first-class run-of-the-mill executive. If the insurance rate for your pension were low, we would be glad to hire you, but at 47, you foul up our policy.'"

"All right," I said. "I'll waive the pension."

"The trouble with that is that it gums up the system. Some have pensions, some do not have pensions — it never works. It complicates the bookkeeping. It means additional factors on the IBM cards. The accountants prefer a uniform system and the directors like a firm policy. That is how we keep away from headaches."

"So what does a man do at 47?"

This is a very serious problem. This man happens to be in an over-crowded profession. But what he says has been true for years for men of 30 and over. I had not known that it was striking at men in their 40's. Frankly, I have not yet gone into the question of when is a man too old under 50.

The absurdity of it is that, on the one hand, we prolong life so that a man of 65 need not be regarded as old; yet industry adopts policies which make a man old at 50, or, as my new friend said, at 47.

I WAS RECENTLY IN LOUISVILLE, Kentucky, attending the convention of the Kentucky Bankers Association. Among those whom I met was Max Namm, a sprightly gentleman who ate a steak with the youngest of us, engaged in conversation until a reasonably late hour, and was up and out for a walk in the early morning. He goes to his office very day, travels the world, is interested in new movements, keenly follows current news. Someone told me that he was 83; he admitted to 90.

How old is old? Maybe somebody in the Senate who represents a senator being called senile will get up a committee to investigate the problems of being too old to get work at 47 or 50 or any age in this country. It does not make sense to throw away experience, wisdom, mellowed perspective as so many businesses do at 62 or 65.

Perhaps the real trouble is that too many men work for corporations or the government instead of for themselves. The man who builds his own business, whether it is a store or a suit factory, can decide for himself how long he wants to work. He can retire to Florida and sit on a bench watching the Gulf of Mexico, which is always in the same place, or he can work until he drops dead from a heart-attack. It would seem that the latter is the better way. Idleness is a miserable end for any man.

Milton Eisenhower Objects To Latin American Policy

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Here is the inside reason why Milton Eisenhower, brother of the President, refused to go to South America as a member of the American delegation to the big Pan American economic conference which opened in Rio De Janeiro yesterday.

Milton, it can be revealed, vigorously objects to Sec. of the Treasury Humphrey's tightfisted policy toward loans to Latin American governments. And rather than alibi for a shortsighted policy which he believes imperils the good-neighbor policy, Milton just announced he would stay home.

He had previously disagreed with Humphrey when the Secretary of the Treasury wanted to combine the Export-Import Bank with the World Bank. Milton, just returned from a trip through Latin America, argued to the contrary and won. However, Sec. Humphrey is the chief delegate at the Rio economic conference and the President's brother just didn't want to be in the position of bucking him.

This makes the third important change in the American delegation to the Pan American economic conference. First, Sec. of State John Foster Dulles dropped out, though he had previously stated at the Caracas conference that he would be present and that he considered this conference one of the most important of the year. Second, Merwin Bohan, special U. S. ambassador in charge of preparing for the Rio conference, resigned. He, too, opposed the no-government-loan policy of Sec. Humphrey, argued that the best way to stop Communism in Latin America was to help in the economic development of that area.

On top of this, Milton Eisenhower dropped out. No wonder Latin American delegates are skeptical, and that Chile has proposed a special inter-Latin American bank which would raise all its money in Latin America with not a single dollar from the U. S. A. Nothing could please the Kremlin more.

Co-existence

Here is one of many reasons why Eisenhower sticks to a co-existence policy with Russia, despite pressure from Sen. Knowland and some from the Pentagon.

The American embassy has reported that a major split appears to be developing between Premier Malenkov and Foreign Minister Molotov.

Malenkov apparently wants to follow a softer line in dealing with the United States. But Molotov, the fiery old Bolshevik, violently disagrees, even wants to step up the pace of the cold war.

At the October revolution reception, for instance, where Malenkov talked so reasonably with U. S. Ambassador Bohlen, Molotov stood by glowering and shaking his head, obviously burned up about the whole business. Despite this, Malenkov went right ahead talking with Bohlen, gave his personal promise that the door to the Kremlin would always be open to settle any incident threatening Russian-American relations. The conversation occurred just before Eisenhower took his turn-the-other-cheek attitude at the press conference following the U. S. bomber incident in Hokkaido.

The so-called assassination plot against Premier Nasser actually is a big phony. The whole thing was engineered by Nasser's followers as a means of getting rid of President Neguib.

American agents have now learned that the so-called assassin was hired secretly and given instructions to make sure he missed when he fired his revolver at Nasser. He was promised he could go free afterward. This explains why the assassin fired eight shots at Nasser from a distance of only 20 feet and missed each time.

Irony is that the assassin now

New Serum Found to Aid Rabies Fight

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Science can do a lot to help save your life if you are bitten by a mad dog.

The Pasteur and Semple vaccine treatments probably have saved countless lives. But they are not 100 per cent guarantees against death.

There is a new anti-rabies hyperimmune serum, however, that now gives promise of preventing the disease, even when a victim has been bitten severely on the face or head. That is the most dangerous area for bites.

Virus Reaches Brain

As I explained yesterday, the rabies virus reaches the brain through the nerves. Consequently, the closer the bite to the brain, the quicker rabies might develop, with death certain to follow. Sometimes, if a person is bitten on the face or head, the disease may reach the brain before the vaccine gets a chance to go to work.

The hyperimmune serum seems to help the vaccine knock out the rabies virus. To be effective, however, the serum must be given the victim within 72 hours after he is bitten. It is then followed by the regular vaccine injections.

Prompt Action Necessary

Preferably, the serum should be administered within 24 hours. If delayed beyond that, double or triple dosage is usually required. Serum and Semple injections were given to 250 persons, many of whom had been bitten badly. Not one came down with rabies. The serum now has been made available to the United States Public Health Service.

It is derived from the blood of horses which have been hyper-immunized by repeated injections of fixed rabies virus. Experiments have been under way since 1939. Now, at last, it looks as though we have really got something.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

F. G.: What is the cause of red spots under the skin on the legs and is there any means of removing them?

Answer: Such reddening of the skin could come from many causes. Irritation due to contact with some substance to which you are sensitive may be responsible. It could also be due to some circulatory disturbance.

Mendes-France Makes Good Impression in U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France made a good impression on official Washington by saying what the United States wanted to hear: He was for European unity, he was for re-arming Germany; and he stiff-armed Russia.

The Russians, who handled the French Premier gently while there seemed a chance he might steer a middle course between Moscow and Washington, reacted to his statements here by blasting him yesterday before he started home.

He came here to discuss problems between this country and France. If he also came to win American goodwill and good publicity to strengthen his hand at home, he was successful.

Mendes-France became premier in June. The history of French premiers since the war looks like the accident chart in a hospital receiving room: One after the other fell. They went down under the moribund factionalism of France's many political parties.

To survive long enough to give France a sense of direction and a firm grip on life, he will need all the strength he can find. He is far from firmly in the saddle yet. His tests in the French Assembly lie ahead.

Once he gets a solid hold on his job, if he gets it, he may be a tough man for the United States to do business with: Not because of any antagonism to this country but for other reasons.

He's already shown that he's a tough bargainer, that he doesn't waste energy on emotion, and that he is a French nationalist determined to exact the last concession for France.

He has also demonstrated he is a man of action by the speed with which he (1) made an armistice with the Communists in Indochina; (2) agreed on rearming West Germany after the French Assembly killed the European Defense Community; (3) proposed political reforms in Tunisia to quiet the demands of France's North African colonials; and (4) proposed economic reforms in France.

He still has to demonstrate both his wisdom and his ability and — or — willingness to turn his plans into deeds.

The truce he signed on Indochina gave the Communists half of Viet Nam. It may let the Communists get all Viet Nam unless the French work with the Indochinese in their area to prevent it. At this moment dispatches from Southern Indochina report growing chaos.

Mendes-France, perhaps because of his preoccupation with the problems of Europe, apparently hasn't spent much thought on the southeast corner of Asia, whose loss to Communism would be a dismal blow to the West.

His plans for political reforms in Tunisia, giving the North Africans there almost complete local autonomy while France continued to handle their foreign affairs, are still in the talking stage.

Prison Gates Open For Hiss Saturday

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Alger Hiss will leave North East Federal Penitentiary about 9 a.m. Saturday.

Warden Fred Wilkinson said he will be met at the main gate by members of his family in an automobile, probably to drive him to New York.

Wilkinson said it will be up to Hiss to determine whether he will submit to photographs and interviews at the gate.

Hiss, former State Department official convicted of perjury in connection with answers he gave before a congressional committee on Communist activity, served 3 1/2 years of a five-year sentence. He was given time off for "meritorious good behavior."

Inter-American Conference Sees More U.S. Aid

By BEN F. MEYER

QUITANDINHA, Brazil (U)—Delegates to the Inter-American Economic Conference here reported today they see indications that the United States has decided on a broader program of economic co-operation with Latin America.

These reports whetted interest in the outline of U.S. policy to be given to the conference today by U.S. Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey.

Some Latin-American delegates credited Humphrey with pushing the reported new program of broader U.S. cooperation with the Southern neighbors. He was pictured as siding recently with Henry Holland, assistant U.S. secretary of state for inter-American affairs, who long has advocated such a policy.

One spokesman for the United States contended that far from being neglected by Washington, Latin America occupied a preferred position by virtue of the Eisenhower administration's promise of consideration for every sound project on which aid was requested.

This source explained that the United States had given this assurance through the policies adopted by the Export-Import Bank. Other delegates said the new U.S. plans actually were much broader than the bank's announced policy. One source described the development as something of a "revolution" in U.S. economic policy.

From Washington, President Eisenhower sent the conference a message through Humphrey expressing confidence that the sessions would "advance still further the unique relationships which have developed among the peoples in nations of this hemisphere."

Jeweler Booked For Gem Theft

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Jeweler Joseph A. Lipton, 52, was booked last night on suspicion of grand theft in the disappearance of $100,000 in diamonds and other gems belonging to his customers.

Lipton had been arrested in a San Francisco apartment where he was living with his wife and two children, ages 13 and 9. He was returned here last night.

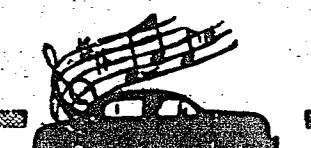

Detectives H. T. Weil and A. E. Urzik said he had victimized at least 35 to 40 persons.

Lipton had left a note on the door of his jewelry shop last August. It read: "Closed because of illness. Will return after Labor Day."

The officers said none of the missing jewels had been recovered, adding that Lipton declined to discuss what had happened to them.

SPARK PLUG AND VALVE FAILURES

The fact that the "weakest" spark plugs are regularly found in cylinders with sticking or burned exhaust valves emphasizes the casual relationship between spark plug and valve failures. This relationship is even more striking in the case of the modern, high compression engine.

The spark plug failure evidently precedes and causes the valve failure. There are, of course, other causes of valve failure, such as a lean carburetor mixture, an air leak in the induction system, an obstructed cooling jacket, faulty timing, and the like.

Granted, however, that the spark plugs, valves, and other components of the newer engine are at least as good as those of the older ones, we must look further for the trouble.

Let's consider the effects of a higher compression ratio. The fact that it increases the power output does not concern us here. That it also increases the expansion ratio does concern us—for two reasons: The higher the expansion ratio (during the power stroke), the higher the percentage of heat energy converted into pushing the piston; the higher the expansion ratio, the lower (relatively) the temperature when the exhaust valve opens. Other things being equal, a high compression ratio improves not only the efficiency but also the durability of an engine.

The spark plug's job, on the other hand, is made "tougher" by the increased compression ratio. It must fire through a more solidly packed charge. It must fire across the wider electrode gap required for satisfactory idling operation. It must "fight off" the deposits left on it by the heavily "doped" fuels required by high compression engines. You see why its useful life is so short.

If your car's engine is coupled through an automatic transmission, you will not be able to detect partial spark plug failures of the type likely to cause valve damage. Hence, you will need to rely almost entirely on periodic spark plug and compression tests to anticipate valve failures.

Reminder to weight-watchers: Eggs are relatively low in calories—only 77 in one medium-sized egg.

ALSOPS

studies is by no means as reassuring as its official statements on this subject.

The radiological hazard falls into three parts—local fall-out, distant fall-out, and general radioactivity. The phenomenon of local fall-out, which transforms the hydrogen bomb from a city-destroying to a state-paralyzing weapon by blanketing an area of 4,000 square miles with radioactive dust, has already been described in this space.

Distant Fall-Out

Distant fall-out is caused by the lighter particles radio-activated in the explosion. These particles enter the upper atmosphere and they then fall out conspicuously anywhere on earth. Wherever this fall-out occurs there is a temporary, local increase in the level of radioactivity. After the Eniwetok tests, there were a number of such distant fall-outs at scattered points in the United States, notably in the Middle West, in Florida, and in the area of Washington, D. C.

Most experts believe that distant fall-out causes no immediate danger to living persons, since, on its voyage round the earth on the high winds the radio active material loses much of its power. Some experts, however, like Dr. A. H. Strickland of California, do believe that local increases in the radiation levels may lead to "an increase in the probability of malignant growths."

Distant fall-out may also present a danger to the human fetus—also here again the experts disagree. In this case, the "bad actor" is radioactive strontium, produced in massive quantities in the fireball of the new type of hydrogen bomb. Strontium has the characteristic of settling in the bone structure—once it enters the body, radio strontium therefore becomes a permanent part of the body, and constantly irradiates the body cells.

The human fetus is peculiarly sensitive to radiation particularly before the 20th week, since its cells are increasing at a prodigious rate. A particularly heavy fall-out of strontium thus might reach and harm or destroy the fetus through a complicated cattle-milk-mother-fetus chain.

Danger Denied

Some experts, to be sure, hotly deny that there is any danger of increased incidence of cancer or stillbirths from distant fall-out. But there does seem to be general agreement that a long-term "biological hazards" exists, in that, at some point, increased levels of radio-activity will damage the genes. This in turn will increase the production of human mutations, or monsters, to use the word to which some geneticists object.

The danger here is not to living persons, but to future generations. Finally, there is the universal hazard—the danger that "repeated atomic explosions will lead to a degree of general radioactivity which no one can tolerate or escape." To use the words of the British Nobel Prize winner, Dr. Edgar Adrian. It is this danger, which will be examined further in another report, which has particularly obsessed British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, since he learned the facts about the Eniwetok tests.

All this is enough to suggest why there is a debate in progress in the inner circles of the government. No one can really be sure what radiological side-effects a testing of so terrible a weapon as the Super-Super might have. The AEC's radiation experts grossly underestimated the radiation hazard from the Eniwetok tests, and thus the Marshall Islanders and the Japanese crewmen of the "Fortunate Dragon" were endangered. The experts could be wrong again.

No one can really be sure, moreover, at just what "megatonnage level" (repeated explosions of the hydrogen bomb, our principal offensive weapon, might destroy, not only the enemy, but all life on earth. Indeed, this is the most terrifying fact about this terrifying weapon—that no one really knows what it will do.

Luciano Gets Job At Police Request

NAPLES, Italy, (U)—Naples police reported today that Charles (Lucky) Luciano has a job—at their orders.

Following a government hearing last week, the former king of New York vice was ordered to observe a nightly curfew, stay within the Naples area and to find some visible means of support for his luxurious way of living.

Officers said today they heard Luciano has a "supervisory" job with a construction company. The six-man admonition board said its decision "was based on the suspicion that Luciano lived out of crime, criminal actions, or the proceeds of criminal actions."

Allies Press For Action on Ike Atom Plan

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Western Allies pressed ahead today for unanimous U.N. support of President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan despite new Soviet attempts to clamp Security Council veto power on the program.

Western delegates did not expect the death of Andrei Vishinsky, chief Soviet spokesman, to delay Assembly action on the Eisenhower program.

Diplomats were still confident the Russians would go along with the broad outlines of the proposal once they placed their objections on record in the 60-nation Political Committee, India, also critical of the plan, disclosed yesterday she would not insist on putting her amendments to a vote as long as they are recorded.

One of Vishinsky's last official acts was a surprise switch Saturday, when he tossed in an amendment to place the proposed agency under the Security Council, in which the Soviets wield veto power. Vishinsky had indicated previously that he would agree to negotiate later on just how the proposed international atomic agency should be linked to the U.N.

The United States quickly rejected the amendment, insisting that the agency should not be hamstrung by the veto.

There appeared to be no softening of the latest Soviet position yesterday when Arkady Sobolev, No. 2 man on the Soviet permanent delegation, said in a pinch-hit appearance for Vishinsky that the Russians wanted:

1. The proposed agency to be responsible to the General Assembly—and the Security Council in cases provided for by the U.N. Charter.

2. The proposed international scientific conference to be open to any country desiring to take part. That would include Red China.

Bulgaria Urges Paris Treaties Be Rejected

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Bulgarian Parliament has appealed to all parliaments of Western Europe to refuse ratification of the Paris treaties on German rearmament, Radio Sofia announced today.

The broadcast said the Bulgarian Parliament urged the Western legislatures "to reject the treaties and to adopt the Soviet proposal for a collective security conference."

Mamie to Christen Ike's New Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—Using a bottle of Colorado water, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will christen the President's new, faster and bigger private plane, the Columbine III, tomorrow.

The new Columbine's first job will be to ferry the Eisenhowers and their guest, British Field Marshal Viscount Bernard Montgomery of Alamein to a Thanksgiving holiday at Augusta, Ga. Takeoff is scheduled for soon after the christening.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the Eisenhowers decided to name the new Super Constellation, like its predecessor, for the Colorado state flower after their grandchildren "voted unanimously" that it should be called Columbine III.

Badger Welfare Council Approves Adoption Charge

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin welfare council has turned down the recommendations of its legislative committee and approved a resolution asking a change in state law which would permit agencies to charge a fee for placing a child in adoption.

Pre-vote debate Monday brought forth such phrases as "sale of babies," and a "baby black market."

A resolution asking that present Wisconsin law which prohibits fees in adoption cases be retained was presented by the Rev. Joseph Springob, vice president of the council. He told the council the committee felt there might be discrimination against persons in lower income brackets if the law were changed.

Support for the committee's stand came from Werner Schaefer, public relations director for the state federation of labor, and John Werner, community services director for the state CIO. They said labor will fight to retain the present laws.

Margaret Winchell, executive director of the Children Service Society of Wisconsin, offered a motion that the present law be eliminated.

The council voted 22-14 to defeat the motion, which would have supported present laws. Miss Winchell's resolution was approved by a vote of 22-10.

Boy Baby Sitters Held for Murder

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two teenage boy baby sitters pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of murdering an 18-month-old baby.

Kenneth James Brewer, 16, and his half brother Benjamin West McGrew, 16, were ordered held without bond. The boys are accused of beating Thomas Harris to death because he couldn't stand up and walk.

Senate Recount Vote Begins in New Jersey

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A recount of the disputed U.S. Senate election in New Jersey gets under way today in six of the state's 21 counties, with the Democrats hoping to upset the apparent victory of Republican Clifford P. Case.

Both parties have agreed on the recount of the Nov. 2 election, in which Case won by a 3,369-vote margin over Democrat Charles R. Howell.

Totals will be rechecked today in Atlantic, Cape May, Morris, Ocean, Monmouth and Essex counties.

MASSSES AT ARCADIA

Atty. Gen. Lord Youngest DFL Officeholder

By ADOLPH JOHNSON

(This is the sixth in a series on Minnesota's new state officials.)

ST. PAUL (AP)—Back in 1939 Miles Lord was runnerup for the Northwest Golden Gloves middle-weight boxing title.

Now a heavyweight, he's prepared to fight Minnesota's legal battles as attorney general. At 35 he's the youngest of the seven Democratic-Farmer-Laborites who will move into top state offices Jan. 3.

Lord has some pretty definite ideas about his new job and how it should be run.

For Law Enforcement

"I am for law enforcement on a sound, fair and decent basis," he says. He plans to cooperate with other state offices and agencies to "work vigorously for a program of that kind."

Noting that "liquor interests" opposed his election, he has this to say on the subject of liquor law enforcement:

"Since liquor was authorized by the people as being a legitimate business, it should be conducted as a legitimate business and liquor people should be required to obey the law. However, I do not propose any crusades along this line."

He also plans to work with others in the new administration to install "modern bookkeeping practices" to handle the state's business. He asked to be recorded as "registering complete amazement at the lack of modern business procedures in the state government."

He does not plan any "purge" of the present staff in the attorney general's office, he says he hopes when it is possible to bring in "young blood with a liberal philosophy."

Born on a farm near Crosby-Ironton, Lord worked his way through Crosby-Ironton Junior College, where he headed the activities committee. He served two years as an aviation cadet during World War II and was graduated in 1948 from the University of Minnesota Law School.

For a year, before attending law school, he ran a restaurant in Crosby-Ironton. And while he was studying law, he worked as a welder, a construction foreman and a janitor.

From January, 1951, to November, 1952, he was an assistant U.S. district attorney. During that period he spearheaded an investigation into conditions in the St. Cloud reformatory and conducted

West, Soviet Bloc Unite to Adopt UNESCO Resolution

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—The West and the Soviet bloc united last night in securing adoption of a U.S.-backed resolution providing that members of UNESCO's powerful Executive Board should be representatives of their own national governments.

The vote in the eighth General Conference of the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization was 49-9, with 8 abstentions and 8 absent.

The amendment to UNESCO's constitution also enlarged the board's membership from 20 to 22. The new members will be elected at the end of the conference, early in December.

Board members previously have been chosen on an individual basis. The change makes them responsible to their own governments as well as to the international organization.

Mink Models Munch Horse Meat in Cages

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A fashion show opened in Salt Lake City yesterday — and everyone agreed the mink coats were authentic.

The also fit well. But while the audience admired the coats, the models were munching horse meat in their cages.

The show was the annual Utah International Fur Animal Show. It features about 800 mink from Western states and Canada.

Reformatory Term Given Hartley Case Extortionist

LA CROSSE, Wis.—Jack Duffin, 20, convicted of trying to collect $200 from the parents of Evelyn Hartley on the pretext of giving information about her whereabouts, was sentenced Monday to one-to-three years in the reformatory at Green Bay.

Meanwhile, Dane County sheriff's officers in Madison said questioning disproved the story of a girl who claimed Evelyn still was alive. The girl, held as a runaway, would give no details.

The sheriff's office said the questioning revealed the girl, a ward of the state, "only desired publicity." Evelyn Hartley disappeared from a babysitting job Oct. 24, 1953. No trace, except signs of a violent struggle at the neighbor's home where she was working, has been found of her since.

Duffin was returned Nov. 10 from Central State Hospital at Waupun, where he had been sent for observation after pleading innocent to a charge of failure of a felony in his extortion attempt.

Accused with him was a 13-year-old boy who was turned over to juvenile authorities.

'Show Me,' Says Tobacco Man of Smoke, Cancer Link

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. Clarence C. Little, chairman of the Tobacco Industry's Research Committee, says his group "must be shown" any possible relationship between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

Dr. Little told a meeting sponsored yesterday by trustees of the Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Bar Harbor, Me., that his group is "still from Missouri" on the alleged cigarette-cancer issue.

He said the Tobacco Research Committee is "doing perhaps the greatest thing that any industry has ever done about a health problem."

It has not yet been proven, he said, that there is any association between excessive cigarette smoking and cancer. "If there is some cause and effect relationship," he added, "we want to do whatever we can" to solve the problem.

The Jackson laboratory, which Dr. Little heads, raises mice for experimental purposes.

Large kitchen tongs are handy for removing baked potatoes from the oven, turning broiled chops or chicken and lifting bacon slices from a skillet.

Despite Little Sun, Germans Expecting Good Wine Harvest

BONN, Germany (AP)—Despite the worst summer for 50 years, German vintners expect this year's wine harvest to be good in both quantity and quality.

It will not be an outstanding vintage year such as 1947 and 1949, say experts of the Food Ministry. But they anticipate quality will be slightly above that of 1951.

Not since 1903 has there been so little sun in the summer on the terraced vineyards of the Rhine and Moselle. But the spring was warm and the mild and unusually sunny autumn days have helped dry out the water in the grapes.

The yield is estimated at 50 million gallons. Much of it will be spatelese, made from grapes picked in November. The later the grapes are harvested, the better the wine. But the vintner who harvests late runs the risk of disastrous frost damage.

More British Hospitality Than American GIs

LONDON (AP)—There just aren't enough American soldiers, airmen and sailors here to absorb all the Christmas hospitality the British are offering.

About 71,000 airmen compose the largest group of American servicemen who are in Britain on temporary assignments—which in some cases may be as long as three years. And every man-jack of them, so far as Air Force headquarters at South Ruislip knows, has a date for Christmas.

The appointment may be with a turkey, a girl friend, a British family, a session of ale, a church or even (for some) a duty assignment.

"We are grateful for the Christmas invitations flowing in, but we just can't cope with any more," says an officer at the U.S. air headquarters. "There aren't enough of us."

The announcement was regarded as necessary because it was feared an impression might get about that Americans didn't want to share Christmas with the British.

Zoning Violation Gets Approval Of City Council

A petition to violate a lot line was granted by the City Council Monday afternoon and a second was received.

The Council meeting of a week ago had been adjourned to yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock to act on the application of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Spencer Sr., Clark's lane, to build closer to the street line than is required by the zoning ordinance.

A neighbor had given written approval previously and since there was no further objection, the Spencers were authorized a permit to build a house on the small irregular lot which remains after property is taken for the new route of Highway 61.

The new permit came from J. M. George, who wants to build an attached garage 7 feet from the property line rather than 8 1/2 feet as is required by the zoning ordinance. The Gilmore avenue resident has the written approval of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Jackson.

In another action the aldermen authorized expenses for department heads and employees they designate to attend short courses which are scheduled at the University of Minnesota in January, February and March.

In accordance with previous agreement, an ordinance was passed setting up a bus zone at Mechanic and West 5th streets, on the south side.

All aldermen were present except the 1st Ward aldermen, R. K. Ellings and William F. Holden.

Mother, 3 Children Die as Home Burns

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 45-year-old mother and three children burned to death last night in a fire that destroyed their two-room home near here.

Three other children were hospitalized with severe burns. Their father, John Everett Dean Sr., 45, escaped with minor burns.

The fire apparently started from a kerosene stove.

Mrs. Pansy Dean and three sons, John Everett Jr., 17, Henry, 12, and James, 8, were overcome by smoke and flames as they apparently sought to reach a rear door.

George Briggs Officer Of New Trailer Pool

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—George Briggs, Eau Claire, son of H. D. Briggs, Whitehall, and president of the Briggs Transportation Co., has been named secretary of the new National Trailer Pool, Inc.

Called a revolutionary idea, the pool was designed and organized by 12 Midwest trucking companies to pool 1,500 trailers and add 500 new ones into one gigantic fleet from which they will be leased by the truck operators as they need them. The purpose of this multi-million-dollar project is to combat the ever increasing costs of trailer fleet maintenance and eliminate "deadheading" the empty trailers wherever possible.

Under the new setup trailers will be regularly serviced and repaired at key and centralized points. For the present the repair shops will be located at the Merchants repair garage in St. Paul.

The organization hopes that the project will develop into a nationwide undertaking, which would revolutionize the trucking industry.

Catholics Dedicate Baltimore Chapel

BALTIMORE (AP)—High-ranking clergymen of the Roman Catholic Church gathered at historic St. Mary's Seminary here today to dedicate a new chapel, built on a foundation laid 13 years ago.

Thirty bishops and more than 800 priests, many of them alumni of the seminary, were on hand for the ceremony at the one million dollar edifice.

St. Mary's Seminary was the first institution founded in this country for training regular diocesan Catholic priests. It was started 163 years ago in a tavern. There are now 76 throughout the country.

Britain Rushes Laws to Cover Fee Collecting

LONDON (AP)—The British government, lately exposed as a persistent lawbreaker, intends rushing through legislation to put itself in the clear with millions of radio and TV fans.

A test case in the courts revealed the post office has been collecting radio license fees for 50 years without apparent legal sanction.

Those fees total close on 400 million pounds ($1,122,000,000). Until retroactive legislation is passed, it seems the government has no right to the money.

The trouble came to light when an engineering firm sued for return of fees it had paid for radio receivers and transmitters used in its trucks.

The company won its case. The government attorneys admitted that, although fees were fixed by a 1904 act, no legal authority had ever been issued for collection.

A new wireless telegraphy act came into force this year and the post office now has the official authority to collect fees—1 pound ($2.80) a year for radio and 3 pounds ($8.40) for television. But additional legislation is needed to prevent persons claiming refunds of fees they paid before the new act started.

Be sure to clean and cook those used in gravy or sauce, or in a hearty soup.

You'll Never Get Fat on Chinese Food

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

One good way never to get fat is to eat Chinese food. Another is to eat Chinese food, says Florence Pike, a Bostonian who owns one of New York's most successful Chinese restaurants.

Mrs. Pike got into the restaurant business somewhat by accident. She started her business career as a house wrecker, helping her father Myron Darrish. Sleek, sophisticated Mrs. Pike now recalls:

"I used to be a regular Powerful Katinka, and the wrecking business was right up my alley. When I married Joel Pike we went into the business together, and liked it. Then we started traveling a lot, ate in a lot of Chinese restaurants all over the country and decided if we ever went broke we'd open a Chinese restaurant in New York."

About this time the Pikes met Ruby Foo, who ran a Cantonese restaurant in Boston.

Watching the popularity of the restaurant, Mrs. Pike made a proposition to Ruby Foo—to open a similar restaurant in New York on a partnership basis, using the same Cantonese recipes.

That was 20 years ago, and Florence Pike has been presiding over the exotic Oriental dishes served up in midtown New York ever since. As to the dietary values of Chinese food, she says:

"You seldom see a fat Chinese. One reason probably is that no bread or potatoes are served with Chinese meals, and in China they use no butter, milk, cream or cheese, because of the scarcity of dairy products. They use bean curd instead, and get the vitamins in their diet from other things, such as the soy sauce and the crisp green vegetables used in Chinese dishes. Sauces are thickened with rice flour, with the starch removed, so the food is remarkably low in starch and fat, high in protein and vitamins."

Mrs. Pike also has a word for those cynics who keep saying that chop suey is strictly an American dish, unknown in China. Says she: "In China chop suey is a sort of a leftover dish. The Chinese housewife saves her leftover vegetables and the next day makes a kind of vegetable hash out of them. 'Chop' means vegetables and

'suey' means water. So chop suey in vegetables cooked in water."

Books to Grow On Urged in Chautauqua Talk

"Give children books on which to grow" was the advice of Miss Jean G. Smith, Red Wing, in her talk on books for "the young and the very young" at the meeting of the Chautauqua Club at the Winona Free Public Library Monday afternoon.

Mrs. C. R. Kollofski, club president, welcomed members of the Portia Club, "our offspring club" who were guests for the afternoon. Mrs. Stanley Hardt, program chairman, introduced Miss Anita Saxine, librarian who had invited the Chautauqua Club to hold its meeting at the library, and she in turn introduced the speaker.

Miss Smith, children's librarian at the Red Wing library, was for many years, librarian at the University High School, and also taught courses on children's literature at the University of Minnesota.

The importance of stories within the child's realm of experience was stressed by the speaker and the battle over TV programs was contrasted with the common bond of books.

"The books we read together," she said, "are the ones which stand out in our memory."

Miss Smith displayed the delightful illustrations in some of the new books as well as modernized reprints of classics such as "Aesop's Fables."

"Reading a book without illustrations," she continued, "is as dismal as reading a recipe without tasting the food."

On being asked if she had ever written a book, she reluctantly admitted that once she wrote "a children's book in verse but something happened to it. A small relative confessed that she had looked through the book but there were no pictures in it so he tore it up. Miss Smith expressed the opinion that "garish illustrations should be outlawed."

Among books recommended by Miss Smith were the Golden Books, the Beatrix Potter books, the Doctor Seuss books, riddle books and "Yours Till Niagara Falls." The last named is a book of old photographs taken from the autograph books of many years ago.

Contrary to the teachings of a certain popular TV program, Miss Smith believes in the Mother Goose rhymes. "These delicious rhythms grew out of something which has roots in the distant past," she was the speaker's opinion.

She named and displayed many "learning" books which disproved the idea that learning must be dull. Religious books were among the popular ones and illustrated "tiny books" were shown. She continued with the comment that "boys love books about prehistoric animals and reported that 'Dennis the Menace' has ten calls to one for other books."

Christmas classics were displayed and she listed "Goodbye My Lady" by James Street as a book of which older boys would appreciate a copy, and recommended "The Long Winter" by Laura Ingalls Wilder or "Pray Love Remember" by Mary Stolt for older girls.

"Some books emphasize false values," she continued, "a poor family living next door to a stern rich man," the story continuing on about these principals to the ending "on the false note that to be happy and also worthwhile, one must have a wealthy benefactor or a reasonable facsimile thereof." The speaker felt that books should teach that people can be happy improving their circumstances through their own efforts.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the tea table where members and guests were served refreshments. Mrs. R. J. Williams and Mrs. Marion Bickford presided at the tea table. On the committee in charge were Mrs. Hardt, Mrs. T. W. Smeed and Mrs. Harold Nystrom.

Russell Loven, Bride on Wedding Trip

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—Following their marriage in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Black River Falls Evangelical Lutheran Church, Rev. and Mrs. Russell Loven left on a wedding trip. The couple's vows were received by the Rev. Raymond Huss. They are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loven, Waukon, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zeman, Shake Hollow, between Ettrick and Melrose.

For her wedding the bride, former Juanita Zeman, was gown in white silk. The floor-length skirt ended in a short train, and ruffles of nylon tulle beneath the scalloped hemline. The V-shaped neckline of the fitted bodice was outlined with embroidered Alencon lace, and the bride's veil fell from a pillbox hat having scalloped etched in seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.

Keep in Trim Tests Indicate U.S. Child Lacks Muscular Fitness

By IDA JEAN KAIN

In our country, where we have the best food in the world, it is taken for granted that American school children could pass minimum muscular fitness tests with flying colors. Actual tests indicate we have a muscular deficiency. American children are bigger, due to better nutrition, but they are muscularly weaker than European children.

Muscular fitness tests were conducted at George Washington University under the auspices of Dr. Hans Kraus, associate professor of Clinical Medicine and Rehabilitation, New York University, and Mrs. Ruth P. Hirschland, research assistant. Coordinator of the program was Helen B. Lawrence, professor of physical education at George Washington University. Invited to cover the story, I promptly enrolled for the two-day special clinic and participated in the testing of children from two schools in Alexandria, Virginia.

Of the 238 children tested, 43.2 per cent failed one or more of the tests. Their ages ranged from 8 to 13 years. On the Eastern Sea Board, where 4,500 children were given this test, 56.6 failed at least one test and 16.4 per cent failed two or more of the six tests. Now for comparison: Of 3,000 similar age groups in Italy, Austria and Switzerland, only 8 per cent failed one or more of the tests, and 0.3 per cent failed two or more.

The Kraus-Weber-Hirschland studies found one major difference between the two groups of children. European children, having no free use of cars, buses or mechanical aids, walk everywhere. Also they depend on active sports for recreation, rather than seeking their entertainment passively slumped around TV sets.

These muscular fitness tests were started because of the alarming amount of "lower back pain" which afflicts so many American adults. It has long been known that muscular deficiency can produce backache. The doctors, in an effort to determine the age at which muscular deficiency first becomes apparent, tested school children.

They found that first graders are already seriously deficient muscularly. Could this muscular weakness be caused by long hours in play pens, in strollers, or from inadequate play space? Can a share of the blame be due to the absence of sidewalks in many suburban areas, making it impossible for children to roller skate, ride a tricycle or roll a hoop? Admittedly, the answers are not yet known. But there is a strong indication that

Dramatize Your Accomplishments, Judd Tells GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans from President Eisenhower on down—should "dramatize their accomplishments," Rep. Judd (R-Minn.) said today.

Judd, just elected to a seventh two-year term, said he believes the Republicans do not drive home to the average voter the program put over by the party.

It was this, he commented, coupled with two other matters that led to Democratic gains. He said those were (1) the normal loss of congressional seats in an off-year election by the party in power and (2) the McCarthy issue.

"From the White House on down, we fail to dramatize what we accomplish," Judd said. "The accomplishments of the past Congress were good, but they were not dramatized."

"We must explain and sell it to the people."

Without taking any position with respect to any of the controversies involving Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), Judd said it is his belief that they cost the party many thousands of votes.

"Any time you have a family brawl in public, you lose support from the neighbors," Judd said. Judd said he believes the Republican party is in good shape to recapture control of Congress two years from now. But he said Republicans sometimes should go more slowly in shaping the party's program.

Nelson School Addition Favored

NELSON, Wis.—A vote Monday night favored construction of a $80,000 addition to the Nelson Union Free High School. The count was 201 in favor, 42 against.

According to school officials, the move was a preliminary step taken by the school board prior to placing the issue before voters of the school district in a referendum, possibly late this year. The 250 who took part in the meeting last night overflowed the school auditorium.

The proposal involves a 128' by 88-foot concrete block addition to the east side of the present school. It would include a gymnasium with shower and locker rooms, a hand room with space for housing instruments and dressing for stage performances, a farm shop, vocational agriculture classroom, home economics classroom and lunchroom.

P-R Employees Ask Board for 11 Holidays

A delegation of six maintenance employees appeared before the Park-Recreation Board Monday afternoon to request 11 paid holidays per year.

Spokesman for the group, Alvin F. Mullen, 509 W. 4th St., said the employees desire the same number of holidays as the street department employees. (At present, P-R maintenance men receive 6 1/2 paid holidays per year including New Year's Day, Good Friday afternoon, Memorial Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas Day.)

Earlier this month, several of the employees had appeared before the City Council seeking additional paid holidays, but the aldermen advised them that working conditions matters are under the jurisdiction of the Park-Recreation Board.

Schedule Compared
Members of the board Monday pointed out that the department regularly performs services on holidays, including civic events, whereas holiday work of other departments is only on an emergency basis.

In specific comparison of the duties of P-R employees and street department employees, the board noted that street department employees are on 24-hour emergency call, but said that work under the Park-Recreation department would seldom qualify as emergency duty.

The employees also suggested that provision could be made for 11 paid holidays per year under a system by which the number of holidays would be granted but that if work were required on certain holidays they could be allowed another day that would not interfere with P-R work.

During a brief discussion of the present P-R policy regarding holidays, Mullen said that there were questions in his mind as to the interpretation of the policy as posted for the employees.

Monthly Meetings
He said that misunderstandings such as this and other matters too, were causing some dissension among P-R employees. The board and the delegation then agreed that the best way to eliminate misunderstandings and effect harmonious relationships both among

School Children's Goats Are Missing

LOS ANGELES, (U)—A new menace confronts school authorities in their fight against vandalism — goat thieves.

They broke into the 79th Street Elementary School and made off with three goats penned there as part of a children's farm project. Someone also made off with a ram at Canoga Park High School. However, Robert Graham, security officer, says the thief is in trouble "because that ram weighs 250 pounds, every one of them mean."

The employees and between the maintenance men and board, would be to authorize monthly meetings of the 9-man maintenance crew with Park-Recreation Director M. J. Bambenek and Superintendent Bruce Reed.

These hour-long meetings would be held during working hours and give the employees the opportunity to discuss personnel matters and make their desires known to the board through Bambenek.

No decision was made concerning the request for 11 paid holidays, but the meeting apparently produced satisfaction for both employees and members of the board. There was only one brief exchange between a member of the delegation who had appeared before the City Council and President C. W. Siebrecht.

Ready for Reports
Monday's meeting also included reports by Bambenek that he had procured information requested by the City Council when members of the P-R board appeared before the aldermen Nov. 2.

Included are plans and specifications for a grass infield at Gabrych Park. He has received blueprints and expects to have a complete cost estimate ready for a report to the next Council session Dec. 6.

Also requested by the Council was an estimate of the cost involved in grassing and maintaining 40 acres of land formerly used as a public garden area along East Sarnia street, and Bambenek said he will have an estimate ready on that, too.

Another matter scheduled for consideration by the board and Council Nov. 2 may be brought up again. That was the Winona Baseball Association's request that the city purchase the home games during 1955.

Rink at Thurley Homes
Bambenek reported to the board that an ice rink area has been graded at the Arthur C. Thurley homes and that a pole with four reflectors has been erected for night skating. He noted that 260 adults and 325 children now reside at the housing project.

All dredged areas along East Sarnia and west of Huff street to the lake inlet have been disced and plowed, according to the report. It was part of the estimated total of 75 acres of P-R land that has been conditioned.

In the recreation division, Bambenek reported that 6-team Pee Wee and Midget and a 5-team Bantam basketball league will begin play in public school gymnasiums the first week in December, with 140 boys participating. A men's league also is being organized.

Winter Sports
The department also is making preparations for the winter sports season. Midget hockey teams will be organized in December and this league, in addition to the Winona Senior High and city teams, will utilize the hockey rink at Athletic Park. Six new benches have been constructed for the rinks.

Attendance at the East and West Recreation Centers during the month ending Nov. 22 totaled 3,852. Present for the meeting were President Siebrecht, Vice President Lambert Kowalewski, J. M. George, Andrew Gesell and Bambenek. Bills totaling $1,175.54 were approved.

Sen. McCarthy Refused Free Time on Radio

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (U)—Is Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) planning to strike out with fresh blows at his critics or is he ready with some sort of retraction designed to soften the charges pending against him in the Senate?

Senators puzzled over this question today even though McCarthy was refused the forum he sought—15 minutes free television time over the National Broadcasting Co. network on Thanksgiving Day. NBC late yesterday turned down, without explanation, the senator's request.

McCarthy himself wasn't answering calls placed to him by reporters although he posed for news pictures yesterday with his wife Jean at Bethesda (Md.) Naval Hospital, where he went last week for treatment of an injured elbow.

In his absence, the Senate is making time until next Monday, with a likelihood that debate on a censure resolution would be delayed beyond that date if he is not out of the hospital.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), an ally of McCarthy in the fight against the censure move, said today he has "no idea" whether McCarthy will be out of the hospital by then.

McCarthy was said to have undergone minor surgery yesterday, although there was some confusion over the question—perhaps because of different definitions of the word "operation."

A hospital spokesman, declining to elaborate, said "No operation was performed today."

However, McCarthy was quoted by Al Muto, photographer for International News Photos, as saying that "doctors operated on his injured right elbow...to remove fragments of glass" and might do so again today.

McCarthy said he incurred the injury when a well-wisher shaking hands with him jammed his elbow into a glass tabletop. McCarthy's attorney Edward Bennett Williams said he also understood McCarthy had undergone surgery yesterday and would do so again today. Other associates said surgeons were probing to see if bits of glass remained in the elbow.

Muto quoted McCarthy as saying he felt much relieved but didn't think he would leave the hospital until Monday. Muto was chosen by lot to make pictures of McCarthy which subsequently were distributed under a pool arrangement, by The Associated Press, United Press and International.

The pictures showed McCarthy's right arm heavily bandaged from the knuckles almost to the shoulder.

None of McCarthy's aides or close friends in the Senate professed to know what motivated the request to NBC for free air time, made yesterday by Mrs. McCarthy.

Two schools of thought developed as to what he had planned to say, and presumably will now say on some other occasion.

Dairyland Sells Power Equipment To Southern Firm

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—You can't keep a good power plant closed down.

The Dairyland Power Co-op has sold all the power generating equipment at its closed plant, five miles northwest of here, to the Henrietta Mills Corp., Spartansburg, S. C. Henrietta Mills, a textile concern originally from New England, will reassemble the machinery on a water site to supply power for one of their factories in South Carolina.

The J. H. Lewis Construction Co. of Lanesboro was given the contract to remove the generator and rotor wheel from the plant and load on flat cars for shipment. Since the plant is at the base of an almost perpendicular bluff, a road had to be bulldozed along the lower river side to make an easy and safe removal. It took a crew of five men two weeks to disassemble the 120,000 pounds of equipment and truck it to Lanesboro for loading.

The old Root River Power Co. plant was built in 1915 and has been closed since last April as operations were not profitable.

Plans are underway to remove the gates of the main dam across the north branch of the Root River and also to seal up the entrance of the 1,600-foot tunnel which runs under the bluff to the old generating plant. The remaining property including 184 acres of land and a dwelling, will be sold on bids.

Official Business Halts as Iowans Mourn Governor

DES MOINES (AP)—Official state business came to a virtual standstill today as Iowans mourned the death of Gov. William S. Beardsley, killed in a traffic accident Sunday night.

The governor's body lies in state from 2 to 4 p.m. today, in the state Capitol office he had occupied for nearly six years.

Gov. Leo Elthon, sworn in Monday to serve out the remaining weeks of the term of his friend and Republican associate, ordered all state offices closed at noon today until Wednesday night.

Gov. Beardsley did not seek reelection in the general election earlier this month.

Funeral services for Gov. Beardsley—one of only three governors in Iowa's 108-year history to serve three consecutive terms—will be held Wednesday afternoon in the small Methodist Church at New Virginia, Beardsley's home.

He will be laid to rest in a cemetery of that tiny southern Iowa community, where he had an interest in a drug store and near which he operated a 900-acre stock farm.

There will be a brief service in the statehouse corridor this afternoon.

Eight graders from St. Aloysius School in Arcadia look at The Daily News Recordak which shows microfilm pictures of every page of the newspaper since 1855. The students toured the new plant with their teacher, Sister Chrysolaga, Monday afternoon. Everyone touring The Daily News is fascinated when they see the pages of old newspapers flashed on the screen of the Recordak. The Recordak is used to look up information on various happenings and residents of years ago. No newspapers are saved at The Daily News after 18 months. The only record is on microfilm. The newspapers were previously kept in bound volumes but soon took up too much space. They were given to the Winona County Historical Society when The Daily News moved to its new building. School groups desiring to visit The Daily News need only phone 3321 for an appointment. Others can stop in at the plant any Monday through Saturday between 2 and 4 p.m. Trained guides conduct the tours, and attendance prizes are still being given. (Daily News photo)

Pioneer Railroad Man, 93, Recalls Old Wood-Burners

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—One of Wisconsin's pioneer railroad men, who has been a Winona resident since 1900, will be reunited with the living members of his family Saturday on the occasion of his 93rd birthday.

He is Henry C. Wedde, now living with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Cardelli, Minnesota City, who was an engineer for the old Wisconsin Central railroad when it still used wood-burning engines and chain-and-link car couplers.

At that time Wedde lived at Fildes, Wis., in Price County and worked on the line between Prentice and Ashland. In 1894, when a blazing prairie fire threatened to destroy Fildes, Wedde was one of a group of volunteer workers who worked night and day to save the village.

Henry C. Wedde

The men rounded up all the available horses and plows in the county and dug a ditch around the entire town. They dug huge gaping holes in the earth and buried most of the town's personal property and what food they could gather. The prairie fire stopped at the plowed circle and the city was saved.

When the family moved to Wisona in 1900, Wedde started working for the Winona Lumber Co., driving a work team and caring for the firm's 30 horses. He remembers the days when he worked from 3:30 a.m. until 9 p.m., seven days a week, for a $9 weekly wage.

Wedde later worked for two companies—Billy Burke's Transfer and the Pat Mink Dray Line—that are now but pages in some history book.

He's still able to get around quite handily, smokes cigars by the box and spends a great deal of time keeping up with political trends via his radio.

With Wedde, celebrating his 93rd year Saturday, will be his son, Hugo, passenger agent for the Soo Line road at Superior, Wis.

Illinois Toll Road Program Cut Down To 191-Mile Total

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois road program is being cut down to a total of 191 miles instead of 468 miles, Gov. William C. Stratton said Monday.

The governor said "complete agreement" has been reached on the first series of expressway projects.

The Tri-State, running from the Indiana line around Chicago and to the Wisconsin line; Another from Chicago to near Rockford, Ill. and up to the Wisconsin line; and The East-West turnpike, which will run from the Tri-State as far as the eastern edge of Aurora, Ill., instead of continuing west to Rock Island as originally planned.

The governor made no mention Monday of when toll road bonds would be placed on sale or when construction might start.

Son Pays 'Deerly' for Ignoring Mom's Advice

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—When Mel Abel came home with a five-point, 200-pound buck Monday night his mother warned him to "keep your eye on it before somebody gets it."

Half an hour later, Mel went out to admire his trophy on his front fender.

Thieves had taken the deer.

Austin Grocery Bandit Captured

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (AP)—A bandit fled with about $80 from an Austin, Minn., grocery store Monday night and within 30 minutes police here arrested a 29-year-old Minneapolis man.

The red station wagon he was driving matched the description furnished Austin police by the holding victims. The suspect, who surrendered without resistance, was jailed on an open charge.

Officers said they found an Army carbine lying on the front seat of the station wagon, together with a clip containing 20 rounds of ammunition.

British to Consult With Six-Nation Coal, Steel Group

LUXEMBOURG (AP)—The European Coal and Steel Community's Council of Ministers has unanimously approved a plan to associate Britain's two basic industries with the six-nation organization.

Meeting in special session yesterday, the ministers okayed a British proposal to set up a joint board to consult on common policies in the marketing of coal and steel.

Since Britain's role will stop short of actual membership, the board's recommendations will not be binding on the seven governments. But there are hopes that the association can reduce trade barriers and improve industrial cooperation between Britain and the Continent.

The board's specific assignments would be to work toward reduction of custom duties, subsidies and import and export limitations affecting the coal and steel industries, formulate common rules for these industries and coordinate their development.

A compromise between the community's request that Britain become a full member and London's traditional policy of avoiding integration with the Continent.

The treaty now goes back to London for formal British approval.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDIS

A young fellow who lives on a dairy farm in our state asks me whether I think he ought to go to college or not.

He wants to know whether I think that a college education did me any good, besides being able to quote a lot of the classics and using some Latin and Greek phrases occasionally.

His mother thinks he ought to go. His father does not care particularly.

The boy encloses a newspaper clipping his dad cut out the other day. He gave it to his son and told him to make up his own mind.

Before I make any of my own comments, let me tell you what was in the news item he sent.

A National Conference on Rural Education was held recently and a Mr. G. Kerry Smith of the National Education Association presented some statistics.

He said that 67 per cent of the children of professional and semi-professional persons go to college but that only 24 per cent of farmers' children get a higher education. Farm children were at the bottom of the list with even the sons and daughters of factory and unskilled workers topping them by 2 per cent.

The chief factor of this showing, according to a panel discussion, was financial. Most farmers simply don't have the money to send their youngsters to college, it was said.

But there are other reasons why rural children don't go to college and here they are, as given at the conference. I give them to you because they apply to many others besides farmers.

1. College is too far from home.
2. Rural non-college tradition is strong. Friends don't go, so it is considered just a bit on the snobbish side to send a boy or girl to college.

3. Colleges don't offer the kind of education rural students need.
4. College representatives, in their talks to rural high school students, make college standards appear unattainable.

5. College promotional literature pictures college affairs such as proms, with boys wearing tuxedos and girls wearing evening gowns. This makes farm kids feel out of place.

But there was an even stronger reason. Many farm youths feel they are needed on the farm, and that they could spend four years to much better advantage to themselves, their parents and their community by getting started at work rather than in college.

Personally I think that no one should go to college unless he has the urge to probe into the many fields into which college initiates him.

To me college has been a wonderful experience, although I did not realize it until many years after I graduated.

I know that the vast majority of all Americans listed in "Who's Who in America" — many of whom have contributed enormously to our knowledge and progress — are college men.

On the other hand, there are many thousands of what is called "successful businessmen" (that is businessmen with big bank accounts) who never had more than a grammar or high school education.

If I had a boy, I would say to him: If you want to go to college just to show off a degree, my answer is no. If you want to know as much as possible about the world around you, by all means, yes.

Modest Texans Dedicate New Bank Building

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—They're going to dedicate a new bank building here next week in that modest Texas style.

Among other things, a full symphony orchestra will provide dinner music at a banquet for 4,500.

The Republic National Bank bills itself as the biggest in the Southwest and boasts its new 40-story, 25-million-dollar home as the biggest bank building in the South.

But even for Texas, the hoopla for the dedication of this new building is a bit breathtaking.

The main show starts Sunday with a "press preview," works up to that gigantic dinner Tuesday and then reaches a climax at the official dedication next Wednesday.

In between are assorted cocktail parties and luncheons, with guest lists starting at 1,000 and going on up.

The bank sent out 142,000 engraved invitations for folks to "come see us."

It expects a good majority to show up, including 6,000 to 9,000 stockholders at a special open house. At least 40,000 are expected for the official dedication and police are already trying to figure out what to do with the traffic that's going to be stacked up in the downtown area.

One reason for the expected large turnout at the dedication is the free entertainment that's going to precede it. Comedian Bob Hope heads the list of entertainers.

Volunteers Shoot Oil-Soaked Bird

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—Squads of shotgun-armed volunteers slaughtered more than a thousand ducks, gulls and other water birds on Victoria's beaches Sunday.

It's all an act of mercy. The birds' feathers are soaked with heavy fuel oil that spread over wide areas of water when the U. S. freighter North Beacon went aground last Tuesday. They are unable to fly. About 3,000 have been killed.

MABEL IMPROVEMENT
MABEL, Minn. (Special)—Arlin Falck, owner of the Mabel Improvement Co., is having the exterior of the building completely remodeled with asphalt shingle siding, new plate glass display windows and several glass block windows.

SPONGE FOR STAINING
For even application of oil or water stain, a cellulose sponge is better than a brush or a rag. The sponge holds a lot of stain with one dipping and the amount applied may be easily regulated. The square edges help in working the stain into corners or along the edges of a board.

MODULAR CONSTRUCTION
A better house at lower cost is being built through "modular coordination," says American Builder magazine. Measurements are based on a 4-inch module; that is, brick, windows, concrete, block, wallboard, sheathing, and other structural members are made in dimensions divisible by 4 inches. Modular materials are easily and precisely lined up, with no costly man-hours wasted in cutting materials to size. There's a minimum of waste.

Plainview Boy Hurt In Fall From Tree

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—Donald Goetz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Goetz, was injured Monday morning when he fell 20 feet from a tree and broke two bones in his leg.

He was treated by a local doctor and now is at his home where he will remain in bed for 10 days until the swelling goes down. Then the leg will have to be set in a hospital.

New Mortuary Opened In Home at Mabel

MABEL, Minn. (Special)—A new mortuary, the Mengis Funeral Home, has been opened here.

F. J. Mengis leased the large old home of the M. C. Christopher estate. The home has been redecorated and fitted with an office, family room, chapel and display room.

Mengis will live in an upstairs apartment. He has been a mortician for 27 years at Winnebago, Spring Valley and Harmony.

Sheboygan Man Again Badger C of C Head

MADISON (AP)—Re-election of M. W. Swenson, Sheboygan, as president of the Wisconsin state chamber of commerce was announced by the organization's board of directors Friday.

E. W. Seeger, Milwaukee, was re-elected vice president; Carl Forsberg, Madison, treasurer and the following district vice presidents: L. K. Pollard, Madison; Gilbert Klein, Milwaukee; Andrew Perry, Fond du Lac; Carl Nelson, Superior and M. H. Montross, Wausau. Swenson announced the appointment of Frank Hausheer, Madison, as acting secretary-general manager of the state's principal business organization, succeeding Edward H. Jacobi, Madison, who resigned.

MELROSE COUNTRY CLUB

MELROSE, Wis. (Special)—Melrose Country Club purchased last spring by Oliver O'Hearn and Harvey Rucker, is being remodeled and redecorated. The hall will continue to be used for dances and a recreational center. First dance in the newly renovated building will be a Thanksgiving dance.

Milwaukee Calls Up Lefthander

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves dipped into the American Association Monday in the opening session of the major league draft meeting and came up with a lefthander to be used in relief.

He's Roberto Vargas, 26, a Puerto Rican. General Manager John Quinn said he will be used in relief. Vargas was plucked from the ranks of the Indianapolis Indians, a farm club of the Cleveland Indians, the 1954 American League champions.

Vargas posted a record of 12 and 13 last season with Reading, Pa., of the Eastern League. He fanned 93 and walked 79 and finished with a 2.73 earned run average. Vargas broke into organized baseball in 1951 with Lakeland in the Florida International League.

Currently pitching in the Puerto Rican Winter League, Vargas boasts a 4-1 record.

Nine major league teams Monday picked 13 minor league players.

Holmen and Mindoro battling for contending positions.

Larson expects a "good or average" season but commented on "lack of height" on his squad.

Lost through graduation is Don Ostfahl, leading scorer for Larson's squad with 326 points last year. He's now attending Luther College.

Bill Kindisch, husky 6-2 center, is the only man over six feet tall on Gale-Whick's list of returning lettermen which also includes Hugh Kohlmeier, Conde Mack, Dan McBride, Gerald Modahl and Bill Trim.

Other seniors on the squad are Ron Benrud, Gordon Hoff and Gary Redsten, with juniors Dennis Jenks, Leslie Jordahl and Jack Kindisch and sophomores Carlos Alvarez, Lance Anderson, Gary Gunderson, Barton Lund, John Mack, Paul Twesme and Larry Zeak also mentioned.

Larson pointed out that Bangor, second last season, has a veteran team back and champion West Salem "has three good men back."

Larson has won five titles in eight years and tied for third place last season. His team had a 12-7 season record.

Horace Moran, West Salem coach, is optimistic.

He says, "We should have a good year. We will have good height and a fair number of replacements."

Not much speed but hope to develop balanced scoring. Bangor has all but one boy back including its scoring punch.

We lost two outstanding boys in Karl Haverly and Ken Carlson.

Back for West Salem will be 6-3 center Pat Moran, the coach's son who has already earned three basketball letters; 6-2 Bruce Furutani, 5-7 guard Richie Caulum, 5-11 guard Les Olson, Gene Drecksch, Ken Steiger and John Holt.

Last year West Salem won 21, lost 4, claimed a district title and advanced to the sectional finals before losing to Tomah.

No reports were received from Bangor, Melrose, Holmen or Mindoro, but Coach Stan Szazama of Trempealeau who is back at the helm of the Bears after two years in the Marines, states he'll have a "small team, with only fair to average height."

We'll probably be weak in rebounding."

Trempealeau will miss center Norm Whillcock and guard Don Lakey, but has an outstanding player in Dick Andriessen, six-foot senior center.

Other lettermen are Pete Schull, Ivan Whillcock and Jim Keefe at the guard posts and Jim Fernholz and Doug Winters, forwards.

Outstanding prospects include Dan Jessensky, Jim Bielefeld, Irvin Wagner, Rod Van Vleet and Ken Dragan.

Other non-conference games prior to today include Bangor's 75-53 decision of Sparta and a 90-55 triumph over LaFarge by the same team, Melrose's 52-46 conquest of Taylor, a 60-30 win by Mindoro over Norwalk, Holmen's 52-46 decision of Hixton and an 87-55 loss by Onalaska to Blair.

Onalaska has only one senior on its varsity with no one over 5-11.

A torrid start in the Coulee Conference race is expected tonight at Bangor where two of the three title favorites bump heads in loop debuts—West Salem and Bangor.

Oregon State Grid Coaching Staff Quits

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Oregon State football coach Laverne Kip Taylor whose team just completed one of the most disastrous seasons in the school's history, submitted his resignation Monday night.

His assistants, Leonard Younce, line coach; Ward Cuff, backfield coach; and Hal Moe, end coach, also announced they were quitting. The resignations are to take effect July 1.

Taylor's team won its opening game this season against Idaho and then suffered eight consecutive losses.

Taylor, 47, came to Oregon State in 1949 from Michigan State where he was assistant.

SCARE BY A HARE... A rabbit (circle), appeared as a 12th member of the Notre Dame defense Saturday against Iowa. The visitor wasn't listed on the program, but Mr. O'Rabbit—or O'Hare perhaps—came onto the field from the Notre Dame bench. His brief, but spectacular career was an end sweep to the nearest hole. By the way, the man with the ball is Iowa's Jerry Reichow. He got only one yard. Notre Dame, with four rabbit's feet for good luck, won the game 34-18. (AP Wirephoto)

Austin Favored, Red Wing Strong; Storm Warnings Up for Big 9 Foes

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

When Austin sports editor Tom Kocek covered his team's opening game this season, he wrote:

"Storm warnings fluttered in the Lake Conference Friday night when Ove Berven's Austin Packers sank the Minnetonka Skippers 62-34 to open the 1954-55 basketball season."

In previewing the Big Nine Conference basketball race, one could borrow a phrase from Kocek's book and say storm warnings have been fluttering in these parts ever since Berven began building his latest and probably greatest, cage powerhouse.

Austin this season is probably the closest thing to a team of ghosts the state of Minnesota has ever seen in prep basketball.

The Packers have no cagers who hit seven feet, but they have plenty that enrage up around the 6-5, 6-6 mark. So many in fact, that the average fan doesn't even know the names of all of them.

Teams at this writing which appear to have the best chance of overthrowing Austin are Red Wing and Mankato, with Winona, Albert Lea and Rochester rated next and Faribault, Northfield and Owatonna not far behind.

Red Wing has both size and experience and Mankato has smaller portions of both. Winona fans are optimistic with six lettermen back.

Without a big man, the Hawks have nice size distribution, but until several phases of their game get tested they cannot be rated in the same class as Austin and Red Wing.

Rochester lost a bulwark in husky Bob Schmidt. Coach Bob McNish hints changing from a control-type game to the running variety.

Albert Lea has finished second the past two years and therefore cannot be left out of final consideration.

Red Wing, with a 10-0 mark was 1952-53 champion and Austin, also 10-0, copped the title last year.

Red Wing and Austin both traveled to the state tournament last spring and there are many who expect them to repeat come tournament time this year.

Mankato, in Region Two, is also another Big Nine member figured strong in cage playdowns later.

Three seniors comprise Austin's crew of best big men. They are 6-6 Jerry Olson, 6-6 John Lightly and 6-5 John Root, a transfer student from Rose Creek following a tradition noted last year when 6-5 Hugh Hall moved in from Elkhart, Ind.

Other lettermen are Tony Maus, O'Dis Halverson, Terry Meyer and Dave Ploof, all seniors.

Backing up those gents are 6-5 juniors Wayne Gaughren and Dick Watt. Comprising the rest of the positions on Austin's first 15 are Jon Weber, Bill Dunlap, Gary Tate, Bob Mathias, Davis Ryke and Tom Golden. Maus, 6-1, 6-2 Halverson, 6-3 Weber and 6-0 Dunlap fall into Austin's small-midget category.

The Packers lost some good ball players from last year's squad, including All-State Hall, but it's hardly worth mentioning.

Red Wing's Pete Petrich has 6-6 Dick Deden back and two other front liners, both 6-2, are Wayne Peterson and Willis Fjerstad.

Deden, Fjerstad, Peterson and Derald Maxwell, a guard, were regulars last year. Fighting for the other guard spot for Red Wing's opener Friday night against visiting Hastings are Bruce Fox, Gary Carlson, Gary Kerg and Eugene Wilson.

Louie Todnem, starting his 33rd season as Mankato coach, calls the outlook for his squad "uncertain." Todnem stated, "Depends upon how unknown boys develop. In our conference everyone is tough. Red Wing and Austin probably the two toughest. A tossup there."

Mankato's captain is 6-0 senior forward Jerry Orness who has already won three Scarlet cage letters. Other lettermen are 6-3 center John Bush, 6-0 Jerry Flanagan, 6-4 John Bogard and 5-10 Howie Rice. Tallest of the reserves is 6-2 LeRoy Frenz, a junior.

Albert Lea opens at Forest City, Iowa, Friday and the only certain starter is team captain Buster Rahn, the lone returning regular.

Rahn, Jack Connors, Clay Lyon, Roger Nelson, Alan Madison and Gary Brabec give Albert Lea six lettermen.

Al Schmahel, Albert Lea sports editor writes, "Now I'm not going to say that Albert Lea will win the Big Nine title, but I'll wager the Tigers finish third or better."

"Somebody's going to be surprised, but good, if they figure they'll have a pushover against Albert Lea."

"This club looks just as good, if not better, than last year's team before the start of the season."

"Paul Wilke (Albert Lea coach) will probably shoot me for making such a statement, but I know Wilke's not thinking in terms of a second division finish. He's shooting for the top."

Ron Kothenebeutel and Tom Robbins shared pivot duties in Rochester's 57-33 win over Minneapolis Marshall and looked good enough to ease worries over the departure of Schmidt at that spot. Kothenebeutel is the tallest man on Rochester's team at 6-2.

Lettermen include co-captains Dave Healey and Joe Harding, Dick Bay, George Miller and Jim McDermott.

Rochester hit 47.6 per cent against Marshall, confirming part of McNish's pre-season beliefs: "Of course, we're going to miss having a big fellow in there, but we've got pretty fair speed and a real good shooting team."

Faribault, winner by 59-55 over expectedly-strong Minneapolis Patrick Henry, raised a few eyebrows around the conference.

Henry beat Hopkins and Minneapolis North in tournament play last year and is well regarded in the Mill City prep race.

Walt Olsen, Faribault coach, says, "We'll run if the opportunity presents itself, but we'll go along with our usual style, a more-or-less set pattern featuring inside screens."

Faribault lost remarkable Lynn Kravie, who a year ago scored 36 points when the Falcons beat Henry 67-58, one of Henry's three losses. Jim Drevitz, Jim Ebert and Gordy Hunt are returning regulars and they'll get help from lettermen Jim Winjum, Roger Bartlett and Bob Wolfe. Hunt scored 20 against Henry.

Northfield, with only one letterman back, Dave Robinson, beat Owatonna 36-33 in a warmup game for both schools.

Northfield Coach Thor Favog is high on Robinson, however, saying, "Team captain... averaged nine points per game... very versatile player... can play either forward, center or guard... three letters, 6-2, 175 pounds."

Outstanding Northfield prospects are 6-4 senior center Harold Jensen, along with Reiber Paulson, Jon Finger, Jim Axelsson, Don Juries and Roger Jensen.

Pessimistic is John Haigh, Owatonna Mentor. "We're small, inexperienced, defending District Four champions. Looks like a long season. Austin, 1, Red Wing, 2."

Jeff Schuster, 6-3 senior, is the only letterman over 5-11. Captain is Bill McGrann. Other award winners from last year's squad are Gene Logan, Vern Bennett, and Bob Haigh, the coach's son.

Rickey May Grab Rookie for $4,000

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball men were still talking today over the way Branch Rickey "put one over" on his former partner Walter O'Malley by grabbing off one of Brooklyn's prize farmhands for the paltry sum of only $4,000 at the annual major league draft meeting.

The player is Roberto Clemente, a 20-year-old speedy outfielder who, many report, is a sure-fire star of the future. Clemente was drafted by Rickey's Pittsburgh Pirates as the No. 1 draft choice among the 13 minor leaguers selected by nine big league clubs.

Clemente has only one year of professional experience but he was eligible for the draft because he was a "bonus" player who received more than $4,000 to sign with the Dodgers organization. The Puerto Rican, who reportedly received $20,000 to sign, batted only .257 at Montreal last season but big league scouts were attracted by his brilliant playing with the Santurce club this winter, where he is currently hitting .380.

"He was the No. 1 draft choice on at least four or five clubs," said the jubilant Branch Rickey Jr., Pittsburgh vice president. "He can run and throw. I think he will hit too." Other clubs who tabbed him No. 1 included Baltimore, Kansas City, Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants.

Ordinarily, any player drafted from a Triple A club such as Montreal would cost $10,000 but a bonus player brings only the $4,000 limit.

"I think the Brooklyn club outsmarted itself in the bid," said Frank Lane, general manager of the White Sox. "It never should have let him play winter ball. That's where he attracted all the attention. I doubt if a club would have taken him based on his .257 batting average at Montreal. I know if I had him, I would have paid him $2,500 or $3,000 not to play this winter."

Altogether the majors shelled out $122,500 for minor league hopefuls, including ex-big leaguers Mickey Grasso, Bennett Flowers and Cloyd Boyer.

Grasso, veteran catcher dropped by Cleveland after the World Series, comes back to the Giants, with whom he received his big league baptism in 1946. Flowers, a former Boston Red Sox relief pitcher, was plucked by Detroit from Louisville, where he had an 11-12 record. Boyer, released by the St. Louis Cardinals last year because of a sore arm, was obtained by Kansas City from Rochester.

Ohio State Still 1st in Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rose Bowl-bound Ohio State, only the second team in Big Ten history ever to win seven straight games in that tough circuit, received a thumping vote of confidence today from 250 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the semifinals Associated Press ranking poll.

The experts, who put Ohio's Buckeyes ahead of equally unbeaten UCLA a week ago by the extra-thin margin of seven points, moved them out nearly 100 points ahead of the Uclans today.

Ohio State, with 115 first-place votes, piled up a total of 2,259 points on the usual basis of 10 points for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. UCLA gathered 85 firsts and 2,162 points for second place, while Oklahoma's Sooners, holding firmly onto third place, polled 31 firsts and 1,953 points.

Those three unbeaten teams, each with nine victories, remained well in front as five changes were recorded in the top 10. Notre Dame and Army held the fourth and fifth spots, followed by Navy, Mississippi, pi, Wisconsin, Baylor and Maryland, in order.

These switches reflected last Saturday's results, with one exception. Navy, which had been a shade behind Mississippi and tied with Southern California for seventh place, advanced to sixth in a week when both teams were idle. Southern California, thumped 34-0 by UCLA, dropped to 17th place.

Arkansas and Minnesota fell from the last two places in the first 10 to deep in the second as they lost to Louisiana State and Wisconsin, respectively. Wisconsin, 27-0 winner over Minnesota; Baylor, which beat Southern Methodist 33-21, and Maryland, 48-6 winner over George Washington, came up to the vacant spots.

The leading teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

Navy, Baylor, Mississippi Eye Sugar Bowl Bid

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Navy, Baylor and Mississippi hold the inside track to the Sugar Bowl, but must defend their favored positions against traditional rivals Saturday.

The rivals—Army, Rice and Mississippi State—have the talent as well as the desire that could dash the trio's hopes.

Once-beaten Mississippi can wrap up the Southeastern Conference championship and the host's role in the Sugar Bowl by downing Mississippi State. Mississippi rules a two-touchdown favorite to win its first SEC title since 1947, but State knocked the Rebels out of a bowl bid last year with a 7-7 tie and has shown power at times this season.

Navy's name bobbed up yesterday when a Sugar Bowl official, who asked to remain unidentified, said the academy has expressed keen interest in an invitation. The official said, however, that the Middles must

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.S.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Yes, America's first psychiatric center for treatment of adolescents is being established at U.C.L.A. Director Dr. Norman Brill says (paraphrased), "Adolescence is the no man's land of psychiatry. Teenage patients have been handled as either children or adults, but the increase in delinquency and other teenage problems shows the need for special teenage care and treatment."
Answer to Question No. 2
2. Psychologists George Lehner and Paul Stern concluded from a survey that Freudian psychologists are tending more to the theory that neuroses are due as much to "spiritual undernourishment" as to "repressed sexuality" (as Freud taught). They say: "It's as dangerous to ignore man's spiritual needs as it is to ignore his hunger or sex drives." A healthy theory.
Answer to Question No. 3
3. Mostly true. One congressman's wife feared she wouldn't be popular in Washington. She decided to listen as though she thought what the other fellow was saying was immensely important. She soon became known as a "famous conversationalist." Keep your fool mouth shut—and become popular!

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Now that Jackie was no longer surprised by the Halloween goblin suit falling toward him on a broom handle, the little puppy dog boy was ready to listen to what his brother Peetie was going to bark. "Did you say something about having a second Halloween?" asked Jackie sort of wondering like. "That's what I said," answered Peetie. "You know that Halloween, this year, came on a Sunday, so some of us celebrated it on Saturday and some on Monday. That's no way to have fun on Halloween!" "That's right," agreed Jackie. "We didn't have much fun on account of some of the fellows coming out on Saturday night and some on Monday. But Halloween is past, even if it did come on Sunday, so what can we do about it?" "We can have a second Halloween celebration right now!" barked Peetie. "You mean here in Hollow Tree School?" "Sure," answered his brother, wagging his tail. "How?" barked Jackie. "There are a lot more Halloween suits here in this closet," went on Peetie. "I don't know how they got here but here they are. Besides goblin suits there are witch suits ther heard Uncle Wiggly say: "Don't you think, Miss Mouse, that those two little puppy dogs down cellar are warm and dry now, after falling through the ice into the pond?"

"I think they must be, Uncle Wiggly. I shall call them up." Jackie and Peetie could hear Miss Mouse walking across the classroom over their heads. Then she called down:

"Are you two little puppy dog boys warm and dry now?" "Yes'm, Miss Mouse," barked Jackie.

"Are your clothes dry?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Yes, thank you," answered Peetie.

"Then please put them on and come up here," said Miss Mouse. "We are going to have some singing and then school will be out for the day. Come up, Jackie and Peetie, please!"

"We're coming!" answered Jackie and Peetie together, just like twin puppy dogs which, indeed, they were.

"Quick now!" whispered Peetie to his brother. "You put on one goblin suit and I'll put on the other. We'll go up and surprise them!"

Wearing the Halloween goblin suits, Jackie and Peetie went up the cellar stairs. Miss Mouse looked and then she squealed in surprise:

"Oh, my goodness! It's Halloween again!"

"Then we must have some Halloween fun!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly.

You shall hear more about this in tomorrow's story if the snow shovel will come up from down cellar and play tag with the pancake turner.

Laundry hint: Bluing is fine to use to neutralize the yellow tint of white fabrics and make them appear white. But be sure to read the label on your bluing to see if it contains iron. If it does, your clothes must be thoroughly rinsed to remove the last traces of soap before bluing is added. Otherwise the soap and the iron in the bluing will combine to form rust spots on the clothes.

Peron Accused Of Hitler Tactics

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—President Juan Peron's crackdown on the Roman Catholic clergy has brought a charge from the pulpit that the government is using Hitler's tactics.

The accuser, the Rev. Rodolfo Carboni, was arrested Sunday on charges of creating a disturbance after his sermon in his Buenos Aires church touched off a melee in which three women were hurt slightly.

Father Carboni was the seventh priest arrested in Argentina since Peron, in a speech Nov. 10, charged that members of the Catholic clergy were interfering in politics, trying to infiltrate labor organizations and working against his regime.

In his sermon Carboni read words of Pope Pius XII denouncing Hitler and said they "are applicable to the present epoch through which our country is passing."

The women were hurt when a group of the priest's adherents tried to force his critics from the church.
