Nation Has Plenty To Be Thankful for

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U-P)—You can find plenty to be thankful for tomorrow. Whether you're a businessman or an employee, and no matter what your personal and individual problems may be, collectively this is a happier Thanksgiving than last.

Count up your blessings and see if some of the following couldn't be added when you gather at the feast:

TODAY
H-Bomb Hazard Terrific

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON—It is now possible to build a hydrogen bomb so monstrously powerful that it will pass "the limit of blow-out." Such a bomb, if it is ever built, will be the true ultimate weapon—a weapon so powerful that no more powerful weapon can be built.

For the limit of blow-out is that point beyond which any increase in the power of the bomb is dissipated in the upper atmosphere. Beyond this point, because of air resistance to lateral blast, there is no increase whatsoever in lateral destruction. The physicists estimate the limit of blow-out at around 50 megatons, meaning a bomb with about 25,000 times the power of the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima.

Debate Super-Super
There is now, in the inner circles of the government, continuing and anxious debate about whether the "super-super," as the bomb capable of passing the limit of blow-out is known, ought to be built and tested. For the plain fact is that no one can be really certain what such a terrible weapon might do.

President Eisenhower has said that the scientists responsible were "surprised and astonished" by the results of the great bomb tested at Eniwetok last spring. The scientists were surprised and astonished above all by the radiological side-effect of that bomb. Since that experience, they are cautious. They fear that the "super-super," with several times the power of the Eniwetok bomb, might have unpredictably far-reaching radiological side-effects.

Efforts for Release of Men Will Be Pressed

BULLETIN
LONDON (U-P)—Red China claimed today it has caught 230 American and Chiang Kai-Shek agents in China since 1951, and said 106 of them were killed.

A government communique broadcast by Peiping radio did not say how many American subjects were included in this total, or if any Americans were killed.

By DONALD SANDERS
WASHINGTON (U-P)—The United States announced last night it will lodge "the strongest possible protest" against Chinese Communist prison sentences given to 13 Americans who dropped out of sight during the Korean War.

"Utterly false," the department said of spying charges which Peiping gave as the basis for prison terms ranging from four years to life.

"The U. S. government will continue to make every effort to effect the release of these men who have been unjustly 'sentenced' to further periods of imprisonment," the department said.

The sentences by a Red Chinese military court, announced by the Peiping radio yesterday, were labeled by the State Department as "further proof of the Chinese Communist regime's disregard for accepted practices of international conduct."

Bad Faith
In a separate statement, the Defense Department said the action "illustrates again the bad faith, insincerity and amorality which have characterized" Red China's conduct of its international relations.

It said, "The Chinese Communists... are holding the American servicemen as political prisoners in violation of international law, the rules of war and the Korean armistice agreement."

The State Department said the U. S. consul general at Geneva, Franklin C. Gowen, "is being instructed to emphatically protest... the continued wrongful detention of these American citizens." Geneva is the United States' only official contact with Red China, which it does not recognize.

Judged on the basis of past experience with Peiping, it appeared problematical what would come of the protest.

Urges Use of Force
Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) termed the Red action "outrageous" and urged an investigation by the United Nations. Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) proposed that this country use "force." Sen. George (D-Ga.) said if such incidents continue the United States might have to take "drastic action."

Eleven of the men involved were crew members of a U. S. B29 shot down Jan. 12, 1953. The United States announced Aug. 19 that 51 American airmen missing in the Korean War were known to be alive. It contended they were being held by the Reds as political prisoners.

The government said these 15 were among a total of 526 Americans missing and demanded a Peiping accounting and their return, dead or alive.

The downed B29 had been commanded by Col. John Knowlton Jr., of Silver Spring, Md., said by Peiping to have drawn a sentence of 10 years. His second in command, Maj. William H. Baumer, Lewisburg, Pa., drew eight years.

Peiping said three members of the B29's crew died when it crashed, and that the nine other members were given sentences ranging from four to six years. Even heavier sentences were announced for two young New Englanders the Red Chinese said were captured Nov. 29, 1952, while dropping supplies to "American espionage agents in northeast China."

Four Persons Suffer Injuries, Records Lost

Northern Minnesota Landmark Goes Up Like Tarpaper Shack

BOVEY, Minn. (U-P)—Flames flashed through the old Whitmas Hotel here early today, taking the lives of four men and injuring four others.

By mid-morning, local officials said all of the guests in the hotel when the fire broke out had been accounted for.

Four others were hospitalized with injuries.

Mayor John Risse said the hotel records were missing and it was impossible to determine immediately how many were in the three-story stucco building when the fire broke out.

Dick Sturk, manager of the municipal liquor store, identified the dead as:

John Whitmas, about 38, owner of the hotel.

Isaac Dimich, about 62, Bovey.

Benny Dixon, about 84, Bovey.

Loren Barber, 34, believed to be from North Dakota.

Bovey is a small community seven miles east of Grand Rapids. Risse said the old landmark "went up just like tarpaper" once the flames gained headway.

Fire departments from Grand Rapids, Coleraine, Taconite and Marble helped local firemen.

The hotel had about 42 rooms in addition to a private apartment. There were two cafes on the first floor.

Jumps From Window
Sturk said "Some of the people crawled down on ropes from their windows. One fellow jumped from a second story window but wasn't hurt much."

"Some of them had to leave in night clothes. Some of them didn't even have night clothes."

The fire, which apparently started about 2 a. m., was still burning at 8:10 a. m.

The mayor said the body of the hotel owner was found in a first floor hall near his room.

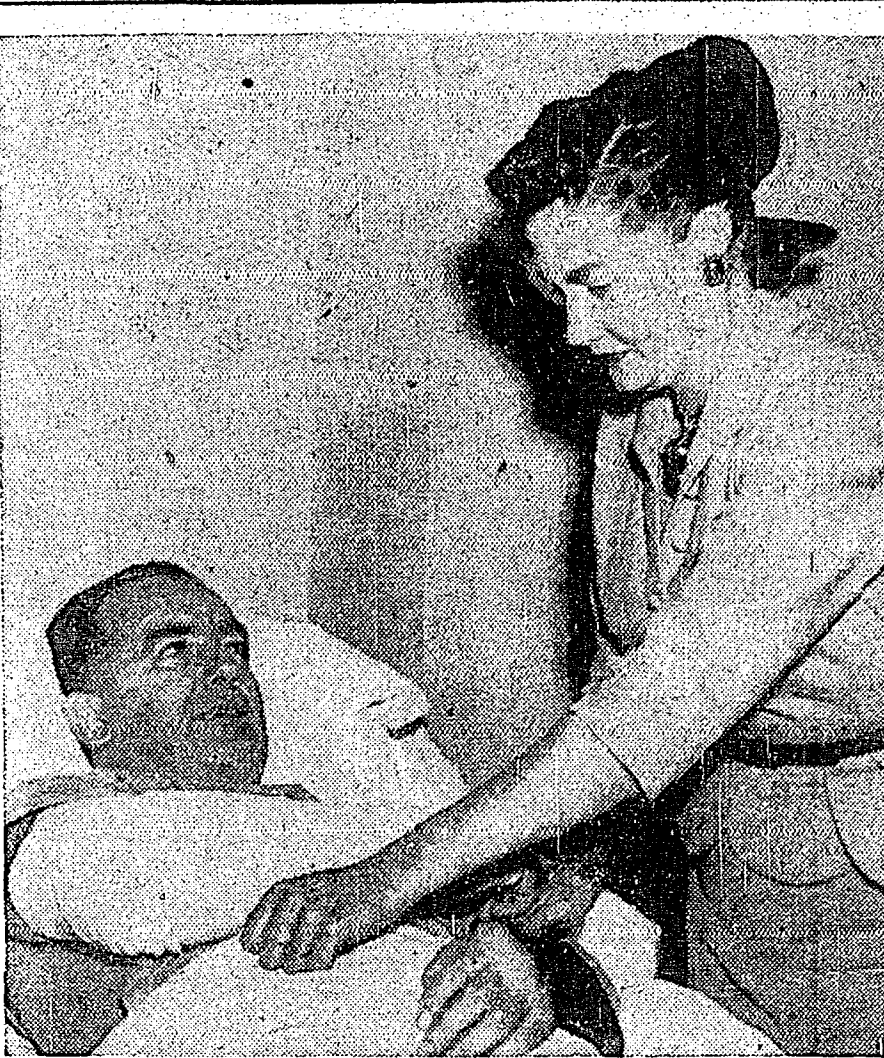

Hospitalized at Grand Rapids and reported in fair condition were four permanent roomers at the hotel—Arthur Lerohl, Frank MacMillan, Stoi McGrew and Robert Kavanagh.

Lt. Col. John Arnold Knox Jr., Silver Spring, Md., has been sentenced to serve a ten-year term by the Chinese Communist government. He is named with four other American airmen among 22 alleged by the Chinese to have been spies, and who were sentenced to terms of eight years to life imprisonment on conviction of "a crime seriously jeopardizing the security of China." Col. Knox has been missing since his aircraft was shot down in North Korea.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) holds up his injured right arm while his wife, Jean, straightens the sheet on his bed at Bethesda Naval Hospital near Washington. McCarthy, the object of censure charges in the Senate, injured his elbow in a handshaking accident at Milwaukee. Action on the censure move was delayed until Nov. 29 because of the injury. (AP Wirephoto)

Sen. Young Won't Censure McCarthy

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Young (R-ND) announced today he will not vote to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) on the charges brought by the special committee which recommended an official rebuke.

Young, hitherto uncommitted publicly, made known his views in a news letter.

He said he was influenced by the need for preserving the right of free speech and McCarthy's "effective work" in "exposing the Communist influence in the federal government and other institutions."

McCarthy has said he expects to get about 25 votes against censure out of a full membership of 96, but he has not listed those he counts on his side.

Meanwhile, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), an ally of McCarthy in the fight against censure, said he expects debate on the issue to resume next Monday as scheduled. Debate was broken off last Thursday after McCarthy entered a hospital with an injured elbow.

"I'm ready to go ahead right where we left off," Dirksen said in an interview. He plans to offer a substitute for the censure resolution drafted by the special committee, headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah). Dirksen has not disclosed its terms.

Republican Leader Knowland of California said in a separate interview he too was going on the assumption the debate would resume Monday. He said he expected to learn more Friday or Saturday on McCarthy's condition.

The Navy hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md., said yesterday McCarthy was continuing to improve.

Young wrote in his letter that McCarthy's criticism of the Watkins committee in a statement put in the Congressional Record was "unwarranted and unreasonable."

He added that "in no sense... could the committee be rightly termed 'handmaidens of the Communist party,'" as McCarthy has called its members.

But he said McCarthy "broke no standing rule of the Senate" in his criticisms.

Lost Pilot Halts Flight Operations At Chicago Airport

CHICAGO (U-P)—All flight operations at Chicago's big Midway Airport were halted for 30 minutes yesterday after a private pilot became lost in dense clouds, snow and rain over the metropolitan area.

The pilot, Frank Stewart, 32, a Danville, Ill., theater owner, after battling the weather over Lake Michigan for nearly two hours, finally landed safely at Fort Sheridan, 35 miles north of Chicago. Stewart was bound for Urbana, Ill., in a rented Piper Pacer plane. After he lost contact with ground communications stations, Midway Field was closed for 30 minutes in accordance with federal airway regulations.

Highway 93 Slippery as Cars Collide

Lewis W. Hanson Killed Instantly; Four Hospitalized

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special)—Lewis Wesley Hanson, 59, was killed instantly at 7:10 a. m. today when his car collided with another driven by Laddy Krava, 55, La Crosse, at the easternmost bridge over the Black River bottoms on Highway 93 about five miles from here.

With Hanson were Mrs. Jack Bemis Jr., 24, Mrs. Eugene Rheim, 27, and Miss Kathleen Keefe, 18, all of Trempealeau. They and Krava are in St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse.

La Crosse County highway police said Krava was headed west on a duck hunting trip when his car skidded sideways on the highway which was slippery from light rain and snow. The Hanson car smashed into it as the Trempealeau quartet were headed to La Crosse for work and school.

Others Injured
Mrs. Rheim, wife of the bandmaster at Trempealeau High School, was in front with Hanson. She received cuts on the face and a broken jaw. Several teeth were knocked out. Apparently she is the least injured of the four.

Mrs. Bemis, whose father-in-law, Jack Bemis, Trempealeau County deputy sheriff assisted with the investigation, was in the back seat with Miss Keefe.

She suffered fractures of the left leg, hip and pelvis. Miss Keefe, who is a student at La Crosse State College, has fractures of the right hip and left ankle, facial cuts and a back injury.

Krava has a crushed chest and internal injuries.

A post-mortem examination is scheduled at the Smith Mortuary, where Hanson's body was taken.

No charges have been made by La Crosse County police pending further investigation. None of the survivors were able to make official statements this morning.

Native of La Crosse
Hanson was born July 14, 1895, in La Crosse and served with the 312th Infantry in Germany during World War I. He was a pipe fitter for the Northern States Power Co., La Crosse.

His survivors include his wife and five children. A son and two daughters are married, a young son is home and a daughter, Patricia, works in La Crosse. Funeral arrangements are not complete.

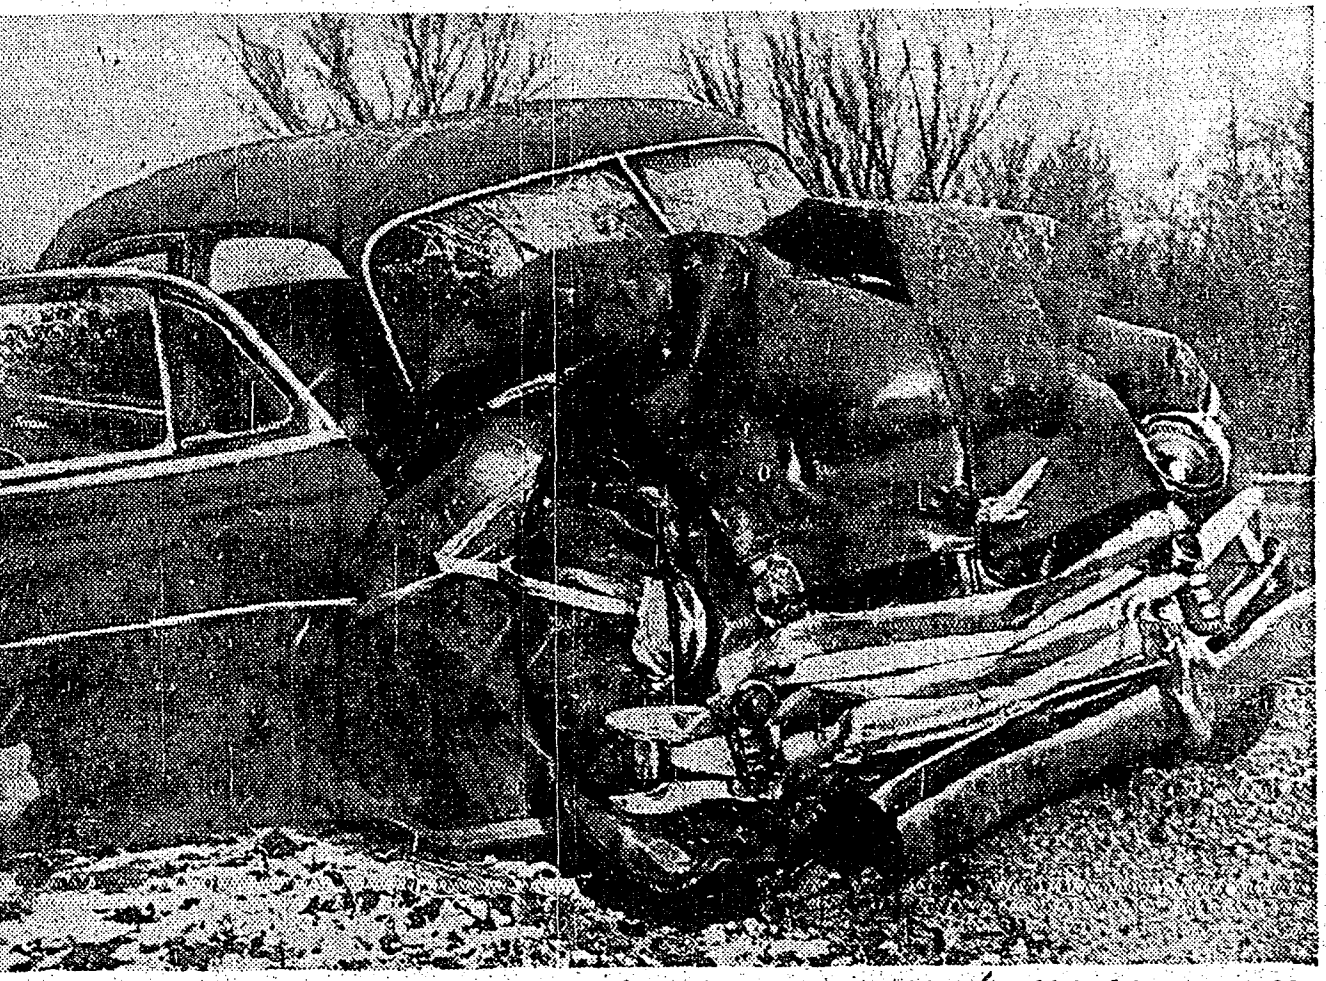

Other Accidents
In other Wisconsin accidents three members of one family were killed and three persons injured in a collision between an auto and a truck on Highway 13-73, just east of Pittsville.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hennen, both 73, and Hennen's sister, Miss Susie Hennen, 88, all of Jefferson.

5-Year Extension Of U.S. Trade Program Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development, a private research organization of business leaders, Tuesday urged a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program and "gradual and selective tariff reduction."

The CED policy statement, although in the main supporting President Eisenhower's tariff program, went farther than the President in some respects.

Eisenhower asked the last Congress to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act for three years and give him power to cut tariffs as much as 5 per cent a year during that period. In the rush of last-minute business, Congress simply extended the old tariff program for a year. Eisenhower asked action on the new program in 1955.

The CED proposed that under a four-fold enlargement of the President's tariff-cutting authority:

1. Rates could be reduced by not more than 5 per cent a year for the duration of the extension. Unused authority should not expire, but carry over to later years.
2. Authority should be given to reduce to 50 per cent of the value of an import any tariff rate now above that level.
3. The tariff could be suspended on any product not produced in the United States in substantial quantities.
4. The President should be permitted to exchange tariff cuts for trade concessions other than foreign duty reductions. "American exports are frequently more limited by other countries' import quotas than by their tariffs," CED said.

CED went beyond the President in urging modification of the "ceiling" and "escape" clause provisions of the law so these devices could be used against tariff cuts only in case of "serious" hardship to a U.S. industry. These two clauses permit withholding of tariff cuts in certain cases where hardship would result.

The CED said such withholding "should ordinarily be temporary, not permanent."

Winonan Receives Automotive Plaque For Regional Work

Roy J. Evett, Winona Chevrolet dealer who Sunday celebrated his 30th anniversary in the automobile business, was this week the recipient of a national award, given to him as chairman of the Chevrolet Dealer planning committee for the Great Lakes region.

The citation, in the form of a large bronze plaque, came from William Fish, general sales manager for General Motors, representing the Chevrolet Motor division and is the first such national award to be given to a dealer in this area.

On the committee for the past year, Evett has represented 1,580 Chevrolet dealers from Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana in Detroit automobile industry meetings.

The chairman of the dealer group meets in Detroit, Mich., with General Motors officials and executives to plan various fields of promotional ideas and advertising and to create plans for mutual benefits between dealer and factory. The group, said Evett, discusses what the public wants and demands in today's car and truck market.

Evett began working as a retail auto salesman for a Chicago Chevrolet dealer in 1924. In the years following, he worked as a used car manager, service manager and as a sales manager for the Chevrolet division of General Motors.

He came to Winona and entered the Chevrolet business for himself in 1949 and is now president and general manager of the Winona Motor Co.

La Crosse Man Drowns in River At La Crescent

Galesville Resident Dived Into Water In Rescue Attempt

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special)—A La Crosse carpenter drowned in the main channel of the Mississippi River near here at 1:25 p.m. Tuesday after falling from the Milwaukee Road bridge.

Reuben Goodrum, 45, the drowning victim, was employed by the Wolfes & Jensen Construction Co., Chicago, which has a contract to repair the trestle from North La Crosse to La Crescent. He was walking about 15 feet beyond the swinging span on the Minnesota side when he slipped and fell into the channel, a distance of about 15 feet.

The river is 25 feet deep at this point and Goodrum came up to the surface once and then disappeared. A fellow workman, Francis Boardman, Galesville, dived into the water in a rescue attempt which failed. Drugging operations were conducted until 6 p.m. by the La Crosse fire department and private citizens and was resumed this morning.

Goodrum was married and has son, 19, a daughter who is a senior at Logan High School and a daughter, 5. He also was survived by his mother, Mrs. Chris Goodrum, Porter, Minn.; five brothers, Paul, Winona; Egon, Adams, Wis.; Hugo, Canby, Minn.; Julius, Morton, Minn.; and Wiggo, Sharon, N.D.; and four sisters, Mrs. George Graf, La Crosse; Mrs. W. L. Osborn, Battle Creek, Mich.; Mrs. Iver Wolium, Porter, and Mrs. Jerry Hayes, Detroit Lakes.

Five Boys Admit Shoplifting Spree In St. Charles

Five 14- and 15-year-old boys arrested earlier this week have admitted extensive shoplifting in St. Charles, Sheriff George Fort reported today.

The youngsters, who will be referred to juvenile authorities here, are the first of a number of persons who will be questioned regarding shoplifting in St. Charles, the sheriff said.

"We've had complaints of merchandise being taken from stores at St. Charles," Sheriff Fort explained, "and we have good reason to believe that a number of adults are involved in this. We're continuing our investigations and more arrests will be made."

The teen-agers arrested this week by the sheriff are reported to have admitted taking a number of articles from several stores at St. Charles.

One of the boys was quoted by the sheriff as saying that he had taken three books, two pens, a watch and cigarette case from one store, a pen, pencil and cigarette lighter from another.

A companion has admitted the theft of a pen, a third youth took three books, a cigarette case, three pens, a shirt, cigarettes and several boxes of .22 caliber cartridges, and a fourth has admitted taking a pen and cigarettes.

The fifth boy took a cigarette lighter, two pencils, cigarettes, a hunting knife and .22 caliber cartridges.

Sheriff Fort said that the boys made a practice of having one of the group walk into the store and engage the owner in conversation at the rear of the shop while the other youths took merchandise from the front of the store.

Forester Scheduled For Lewiston Friday

LEWISTON, Minn. —Dale Pfankuch, Preston, project forester for this district of Minnesota, will be in the Winona County extension office here from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday to aid farmers with woodlot problems.

He will give advice on woodlot management, tree planting, tree varieties and tree diseases. Farmers are invited.

Near Ridgeway, in Winona County, they set a big family table for Thanksgiving. Each year everybody in the Whitlock School District sits down to a dinner. That's nearly 90 persons, and Tuesday night was the occasion for their 20th observance of this Thanksgiving custom. It's a planned cooperative dinner. This year the committee in charge included Mrs. John Liebsch, Mrs. John Schroeder and Mrs. Howard Stedman. There was music, too, by Elroy Gacy and Roland and Esther Braatz, and County Superintendent of Schools Jesse Justus showed movies. Mrs. Malcolm Hobbs is teacher. (Daily News photo)

Storm Hits Northern Roads; Snow Flurries to End Here

Highway Office Warns of Area Slippery Patches

Warnings to holiday motorists traveling into the northern sections of Minnesota and Wisconsin were issued today by the Weather Bureau and highway officials as the result of a storm center that centered around Lake Superior and caused widespread rain and snow in the Great Lakes region.

The state highway department at Rochester reported that at 11 a.m. storm conditions prevailed in the Duluth and Virginia areas in northern Minnesota, with roads becoming very slippery as the result of a wet, packed snow.

Visibility also was generally poor as high winds whipped the falling snow across highways.

Highways north of Eau Claire, Wis., were reportedly icy after heavy snowfall in the areas nearest the Great Lakes. Green Bay, on the eastern side of the state, had a 3-inch fall this morning.

Patches in This Area

The Southeastern Minnesota district office said that only scattered reports of paper-thin ice patches had been reported in this area, mainly on lesser traveled roads. But the department warned motorists to be on the lookout for the small but tricky spots.

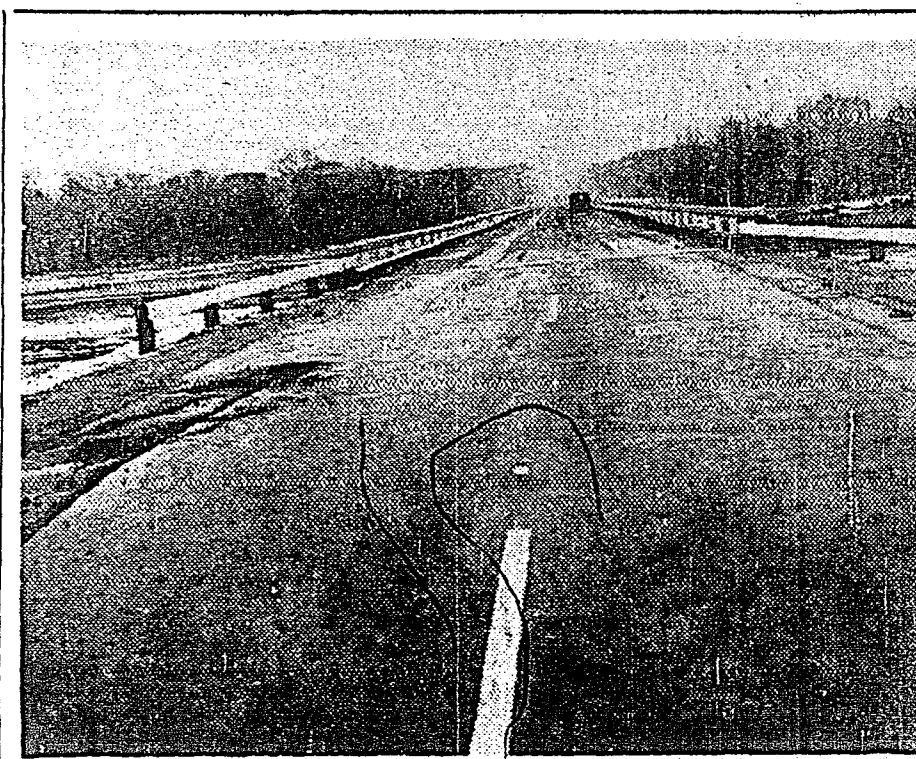

Winona, meanwhile, could expect to see the end of snow flurries early tonight. At noon the mixture of rain and snow had totaled only 18 of an inch, but a wind of 19 miles per hour with gusts to 30 was reported by the Winona Municipal Airport this noon.

The temperature remained at 35 degrees at the airport throughout the morning, slightly warmer than the downtown reading.

Tonight, the temperature probably will drop to 26 degrees and a high of 36 is expected Thursday afternoon. Diminishing winds also are forecast.

The temperature is expected to rise again Friday, accompanied by generally fair weather.

For most Winonans, Thursday will be a holiday, and the last this year with the exception of Christmas Day. Bank, state, county and some city employees will have to wait until next year for the parade of holidays that begins with New Year's Day and continues through

Death stalked this stretch of Highway 93 near Trempealeau, Wis., this morning. A Trempealeau man was killed and four persons were injured in a two-car collision at this bridge. La Crosse Council Decides to Rebuild Black River Dock

LA CROSSE, Wis. —The Common Council's committee of the whole appeared to have resolved the long and stormy controversy over rebuilding the municipal dock on the Black River when it voted 12 to 3 Monday night to include $35,000 in the 1955 budget for that purpose.

The amount will add a little more than four-tenths of one mill to the tax rate, according to Sherman Stelplug, assistant to the director of finance and purchase.

The $35,000 was added to the budget for grounds and buildings, which had already been increased from $12,348 to $42,598 during the evening to bring that department budget to $78,598.

One hundred and fifty-four members of the La Crosse police and fire departments won a $10 per month across the board wage increase for 1955.

The decision to add $18,480 for wage increases for the two departments came after a lengthy debate by the council committee of the whole and was approved by an overwhelming majority of council members present.

The vote carried 14 to 1. One councilman abstained from voting.

In addition, 57 members of the police force will obtain a $40 per year clothing allowance, effective Jan. 1, 1955.

Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday, Good Friday, Memorial Day, July 4, Labor Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day.

State Forecasts

The Minnesota forecast predicts more snow flurries in the north-east tonight and Thursday with a low of 15 to 20 degrees tonight and a high of 27 to 34 Thursday. Temperatures in southern Minnesota will range from 20 to 42 degrees.

In Wisconsin additional snow and wind may be expected in the north and east tonight and Thursday, diminishing later Thanksgiving Day. Low readings in the mid-20s and highs near the 40-degree mark are anticipated.

The storm was not limited to the northern Midwest area, however, as most of the eastern half of the nation felt the effects of the Lake Superior storm center,

Arcadian Charged With Assault

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Two Arcadia brothers face charges of assault as the result of a scuffle with Traffic Officer Maurice Scow after one of the men had entered a plea of not guilty to a drunken driving charge before Justice A. C. Foster here.

Ernest, attacked Scow as they were leaving the courthouse here Monday, authorities said. They were arrested by Sheriff Ernest Axness on the assault charge and to appear before Foster in Arcadia this morning. However, Attorney Roman Feltes, Arcadia, asked postponement. The request was granted but no date has been set.

Anthony Thomas was arrested by Scow Sunday in the Town of Arcadia on the drunken driving charge.

After his plea of not guilty, the preliminary hearing was set for Dec. 1.

The men are free on personal recognizance.

One Incumbent Fails To File at La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special)—As filings for municipal offices closed late Tuesday, all but one incumbent had entered the race. There's only one contest.

Carl Wittenberg, incumbent trustee, did not file for re-election. Present officeholders who did file include James Farrell, constable; George Kelly, assessor; William Lathrop, clerk, and Charles Leske, justice of the peace. Dallas Ames opposes Farrell. John Blashaski will run unopposed for the trusteeship.

Also on the ballot are two referendums, one to increase city councilmen's salaries from $50 to $150 annually; the other to hire a full-time village marshal.

Group of Foreign Educators Coming To Mondovi Dec. 2

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special)—A group of educators representing 15 foreign countries will begin a 3-day visit here Dec. 2.

The educators came to this country under the auspices of the U. S. Department of State to study the American educational system and are at the University of Wisconsin.

Mayor George Britton is in charge of arrangements for the Dec. 2 banquet at the K. of P. Hall at 6 p.m. The event will be sponsored jointly by the Buffalo Club and the Chamber of Commerce. The Rev. James Savides will arrange housing and transportation. His brother, Harold Savides, a member of the university's school of education staff, will accompany the group.

Mondovi was selected for inclusion in the group's 4-month study as a typical example of a small American city dependent upon agriculture for economic livelihood.

The educators represent Pakistan, Ceylon, Belgium, Indonesia, Netherlands, Nigeria, Egypt, India, Germany, Brazil, Mexico, Japan, Italy, Finland and Burma.

Firemen Called Out To Meyerhoff Car

Firemen were called at 2:45 a.m. to put out a fire in a car owned by Richard Meyerhoff, who lives at the Arthur C. Thurlay Homes, when it was on East 4th street between Walnut and Lafayette streets.

Meyerhoff and his family have been living here since another fire destroyed their home on Stockton Hill earlier this fall.

Most animals which can hear also produce sounds, although there are some exceptions to the rule.

Fire Alarm Alternatives To Be Aired

Meeting Planned With Underwriters On 'Phone Proposal

Members of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners will meet with representatives of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, probably sometime next month, to discuss the possibility of replacing the city's fire alarm box system with telephone installations.

For several months now the commissioners have been considering a proposal that the present alarm pull boxes be replaced:

With an equal number of telephone reporting installations at locations where the alarm boxes now are in use.

With a lesser number of telephone units placed at certain designated locations.

With a new system by which no outside alarm boxes or telephones would be used and fires would be reported entirely from private telephones.

The underwriters were to have met with the board on the question Tuesday night but a letter from the national board explained that representatives, unable to attend last night's meeting because of other commitments, would arrange to be in Winona at a later date.

The letter indicated, however, that the underwriters expressed concern over any change in the present system other than a complete, unit-for-unit replacement of alarm boxes with telephones.

W. E. Freitag, an engineer for the underwriters' inspection division, said that it would be almost impossible to make any final evaluation of the effect of the three proposals without further detailed study but expressed confidence that the use of a complete telephone alarm system of good design would result in little change in the city's grading for fire insurance purposes.

He added that the other two proposals would be considered progressively inferior and said, "Inasmuch as the 1951 survey of your facilities indicated that a Class 4 classification was not warranted it would be regrettable if some of the improvements made by you since that time should be offset through provision of fire alarm facilities more inadequate than those now in use."

The board agreed to defer further consideration of the matter until the meeting with the underwriters can be held.

Bills for the fire department of $1,432.35 and for the police department of $1,954.25 were approved for payment.

Businessmen Study Minnesota Taxes

ROCHESTER, Minn. —Five Winona men participated in a discussion of Minnesota tax sources during the second in a series of Chamber of Commerce legislative study committee sessions here Tuesday. Representatives of the Red Wing, South St. Paul, Minneapolis and Rochester chambers also attended.

The next session, scheduled here for Jan. 12, will be devoted to consideration of the expenditures by the state government.

The committee is acting as an information gathering group and will make information available to businessmen and the general public.

It does not plan to present a report or recommendations and will not establish a lobby for the next legislative session.

Discussed at some length Tuesday were receipts from income, iron ore, liquor, gasoline, motor vehicle registration and cigarette taxes.

It was noted that while expenditures in the state during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1953, totaled $312,000,000, income from all sources including taxes, other revenue and federal aids was only $299,151,000.

The committee also observed that many of the 13 tax sources in the state are limited in the method of expenditure of receipts. An example would be income taxes, which are devoted primarily to school purposes.

A related problem, that of the depletion of surplus funds that have been used to make up deficits in other budgets, was also aired.

Attending from Winona were: Philip A. Baumann and S. J. Kryzsko, co-chairmen of the A. of C. governmental affairs committee; A. J. Anderson, secretary-manager of the A. of C.; J. M. George and E. J. Slevers, K. A. McQueen, another member of the Winona group, was unable to attend Tuesday's meeting.

Under a normal pension plan, a fund which would provide $100 a month at age 65 would provide only $70 a month at age 60 but would give $148 at age 70.

Firemen to Solicit Friday, Saturday

The Thanksgiving holiday will give Winona residents an opportunity to prepare their contributions for the national muscular dystrophy fund-raising campaign that will be conducted here Friday and Saturday by Winona firemen.

Members of the firemen's auxiliary also will assist in the city-wide house-to-house canvass.

Every resident has received in the mail information on the need for contributions, an envelope and a sticker, which is to be attached to the mail box or window to indicate to the collector that the contribution is ready.

Firemen and auxiliary members of AFL Local 575 hope to complete the canvass in two days, but will require the cooperation of all city residents.

Muscular dystrophy is a chronic, progressive disease that attacks and gradually destroys muscles. There are 20,000 active cases in the United States. An estimated two-thirds of these are children. There is no known cure.

3 Traffic Crashes Reported to Police

Marion Kline, Eau Claire, reported $118 damage to his car as a result of a collision at East Broadway and Mankato avenue at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The driver of the other car has not completed the accident report at police headquarters.

At 3:45 p.m. Tuesday a parked car owned by Stanley Brown, 407 Mankato Ave., was damaged when it was struck by a car driven by Lyle Pearson, Alma, Wis.

Brown estimated his damage at $100 but the other driver has not filed a damage estimate at police headquarters.

Cars driven by Elmer Hannon, 514 Johnson St., and Leo Schneider, Winona Rt. 3, collided at 4 p.m. Monday on Franklin street near East 3rd street.

Hannon estimated his damage at $40.

Patrolman Resigns After 27 Years On Police Force

The resignation of Felix Prondzinski, a 27-year veteran of the Winona police department, was submitted to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners Tuesday night.

Prondzinski, who has been serving as jailer at the city jail for the past six years, said that he wished to retire because of ill health and asked that the resignation become effective Jan. 1.

He joined the police department Dec. 1, 1927, and was a beat patrolman and in a squad car until his appointment as jailer.

He is married and the father of two children. Mr. and Mrs. Prondzinski live at 812 E. 5th St. He is 61.

After accepting the resignation the board ordered that arrangements be made for an examination for applications for appointment to the police department. The board ruled that only high school graduates be eligible for appointment.

The commissioners also received a report from Traffic Sgt. Edward L. Hittner on a survey made of traffic conditions at West 5th and Orrin street where a patrolman recently was stationed to supervise children using the crossing going to and from school.

Hittner said that from Nov. 1 to Nov. 20 a total of 2,694 children were escorted across the street.

He noted that the average pedestrian traffic was 180 children a day, averaging 65 during the 7-45-8-40 a.m. period during which the crossing is patrolled, 25 from 11 a.m. to 12-40 p.m., and 90 from 2-50 to 4 p.m.

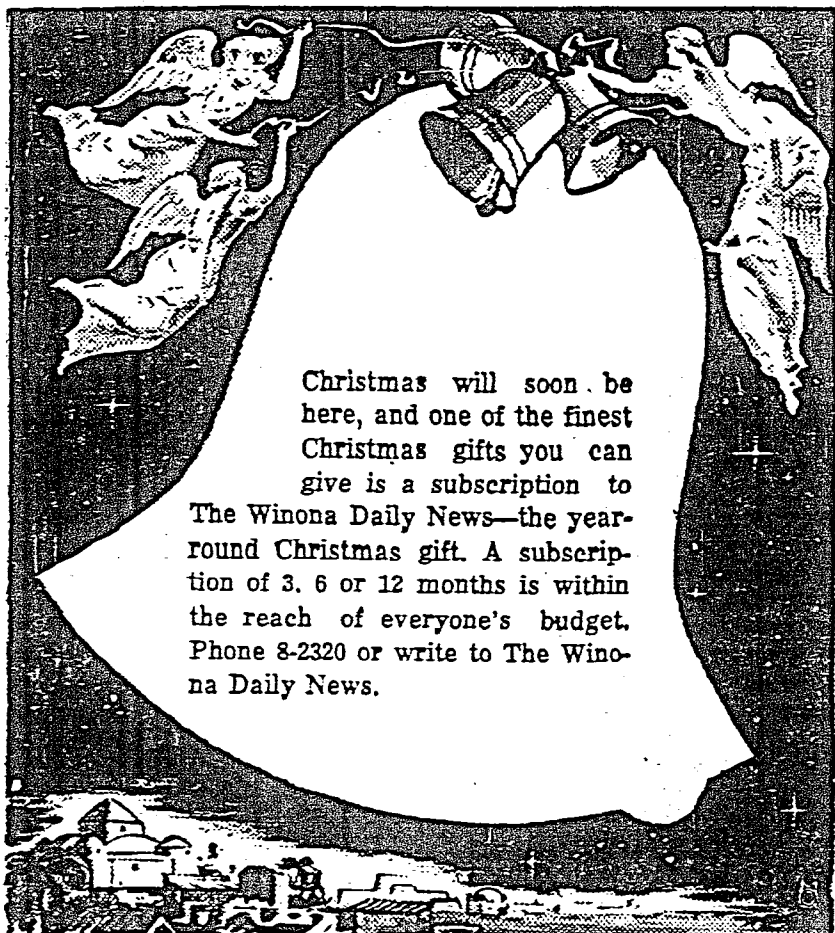

There were a total of 23,985 vehicles counted at the crossing during the period of the survey.

On an average day basis vehicular traffic was found to count 485 in the morning, 709 at noon and 405 in the afternoon.

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Laverne Klinski, who operates Club 16, one and one-half miles west of here, pleaded guilty Tuesday afternoon to a charge of permitting juveniles to loiter where beer was being served, before Justice of the Peace A. H. Langum.

He was fined $100, half of which was suspended. Charges were filed Sunday night after an investigation by Lambert Sutherland, Winona, state liquor control agent, and Donald Cook, Fillmore County sheriff. They were accompanied by Rushford police.

Defense Pact With Nationalist China Ready

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Negotiations for a mutual defense pact between the United States and Nationalist China are in their final stages and official quarters here appear confident it will be signed by year's end.

Nationalist China considers the projected pact to be of immense importance because, officials say: 1. It will give permanence to the U.S. commitment to defend Formosa against Communist invasion.

2. It more or less rules out any prospect the United States might recognize Red China or be a party to any big power deal affecting Formosa's future, such as the imposition of a trusteeship.

3. It will probably result in a substantial increase of U.S. military aid to strengthen Chiang Kai-shek's armed forces.

4. It will tend to bolster the Nationalist intention of regaining the lost mainland.

5. It will establish a strong "They shall not pass" line against Communism, and thus greatly encourage those Asiatics outside the Bamboo Curtain.

Formosa has been under the protection of the U.S. 7th Fleet since June 27, 1950—right after the outbreak of the Korean War. But, without a mutual defense pact, the United States could, at any time chooses, withdraw that protection and leave the Nationalists to their own devices.

Sources familiar with the negotiations say the United States has insisted that the scope of the pact be limited to Formosa and the strategic Pescadore, off the west central coast of Formosa.

Although many old people have settled in California and Florida in recent years, New England has a higher proportion of old people than any other section of the country.

Phoney Maharajah Fake French Count

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—New York's phony royalty has now been outphoned.

The Brooklyn-born "Maharajah of Barata" who faked his way into "The Egyptian" premiere weeks ago just did it again Wednesday.

... as "Count Henri Louis Bonaparte, descendant of Napoleon."

Albert Carlo, 44, night club designer, who has a regal-looking Van Dyke, got into the premiere of "Desiree"—was interviewed on TV, given a special VIP sticker for his car, ushered through police lines, and photographed for the papers along with Merle Oberon and Prince Christian of Hanover.

"I did it because they said they were going to keep phoning out of premieres after I did it at 'The Egyptian,'" Carlo says.

Telling the French Tourist Bureau he was on a scavenger hunt, he got stationary, faked a letter to 20th Century-Fox, was sent free tickets, and arrived with Mrs. Elsa Martin and daughter who speak fluent French.

Fearing his own lingo'd give him away, he wore a hearing aid and asked that his "wife" speak for him.

"My 'usband does not hear well," she said.

Under the caption "Royalty," a picture of "The Count" appeared in one paper. Tex McCrary interviewed him for radio ... not entirely unspectacularly.

"He looked like he had makeup on, but the earphone threw me," McCrary said.

Carlo, who said it was a "protest against the pomp of premieres," plans another stunt at another premiere, but won't hint what it is. In fact, he was non-committal to us commoners who asked him about it.

"That's the way it is with us royalty," he said.

Just a line to say "Happy Birthday" to my Gorgeous Mother-in-Law the former Rosella Lyons of East St. Louis, who's 70. She's still hale and hearty—and never huffy ... Comedian Joe E. Lewis, who was on the operating table for 5 hours, said afterward, "That's the most sleep I've had in 30 years."

Bejeweled Zsa Zsa Gabor was with her sister Eva's boy friend, textillionaire Dennis Slater, at the Myron Cohen - Kean Sisters' big Copacabana opening, acting mighty, mighty chummy. "I haf not steal him," Zsa Zsa said. "My sister ees in California, so I am keeping her boy friend away from some other girl."

Jeanne, recently fired from "Kismet," says she hasn't any idea who sent it, except: "I'm quite sure of one thing—it was a man."

Romantic Montgomery Clift kept holding Elizabeth Taylor by the neck at the premiere of "The Last Time I Saw Paris" — and Van Johnson, very nervous, wore red socks again with his dinner jacket. Special police protected Liz, who's expecting soon.

"Due to the stampede for new metals out west, shouldn't our national motto be changed to 'E Pluribus Uranium?'" — Ave Crane, Freeport, L.I. ... From Hong Kong: "No news except the ship's navigating officer took a sight on the bridge. Married her two weeks later." — Ted Chinell.

A Boston playgoer, seen walking out with his hat and coat after the first act, was asked why he was leaving.

"Well," he answered, as Joe Harrington tells it, "I've just seen the first act, and I'm sure that the author who wrote that, also wrote the second act."

Arrest Made in Dynamiting of Mine Firm Bridge

ELKINS, W.Va. (AP)—State police report that Scott Shoulders, 38, of Valley Head, W. Va., was arrested yesterday and charged with dynamiting a highway bridge at Slatyfork Sept. 26.

Defense Pact With Nationalist China Ready

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Negotiations for a mutual defense pact between the United States and Nationalist China are in their final stages and official quarters here appear confident it will be signed by year's end.

Nationalist China considers the projected pact to be of immense importance because, officials say: 1. It will give permanence to the U.S. commitment to defend Formosa against Communist invasion.

2. It more or less rules out any prospect the United States might recognize Red China or be a party to any big power deal affecting Formosa's future, such as the imposition of a trusteeship.

3. It will probably result in a substantial increase of U.S. military aid to strengthen Chiang Kai-shek's armed forces.

4. It will tend to bolster the Nationalist intention of regaining the lost mainland.

5. It will establish a strong "They shall not pass" line against Communism, and thus greatly encourage those Asiatics outside the Bamboo Curtain.

Formosa has been under the protection of the U.S. 7th Fleet since June 27, 1950—right after the outbreak of the Korean War. But, without a mutual defense pact, the United States could, at any time chooses, withdraw that protection and leave the Nationalists to their own devices.

Sources familiar with the negotiations say the United States has insisted that the scope of the pact be limited to Formosa and the strategic Pescadore, off the west central coast of Formosa.

Although many old people have settled in California and Florida in recent years, New England has a higher proportion of old people than any other section of the country.

Phoney Maharajah Fake French Count

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—New York's phony royalty has now been outphoned.

The Brooklyn-born "Maharajah of Barata" who faked his way into "The Egyptian" premiere weeks ago just did it again Wednesday.

... as "Count Henri Louis Bonaparte, descendant of Napoleon."

Albert Carlo, 44, night club designer, who has a regal-looking Van Dyke, got into the premiere of "Desiree"—was interviewed on TV, given a special VIP sticker for his car, ushered through police lines, and photographed for the papers along with Merle Oberon and Prince Christian of Hanover.

"I did it because they said they were going to keep phoning out of premieres after I did it at 'The Egyptian,'" Carlo says.

Telling the French Tourist Bureau he was on a scavenger hunt, he got stationary, faked a letter to 20th Century-Fox, was sent free tickets, and arrived with Mrs. Elsa Martin and daughter who speak fluent French.

Fearing his own lingo'd give him away, he wore a hearing aid and asked that his "wife" speak for him.

"My 'usband does not hear well," she said.

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: The testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. Ps. 19:7 KJV.

When We Are Full Let Us Remember the Lord

"When thou shalt have eaten and be full; Then beware lest thou forget the Lord." Deut. 6:11,12.

President Eisenhower has stated that America is great because she is good and that when she ceases to be good she will cease to be great. To this might well be added the warning penned by Moses—when she ceases to be thankful, beware!

For of all the nations now prominent, none has known the super abundance granted America. Sharing it makes us humble. When we heard it we will decline. When we look upon it as the fruit of our own might, we are told to beware!

Thus far in our history the Lord has dealt kindly toward us. Nothing has halted America's progress. Nothing has crushed her on the field of battle. Men from every land have been welcome here to share in the wealth of the land. Untold sums have gone into aids for foreign nations. We have fought on the side of the downtrodden and even yet risk our national security for the rights of free men everywhere.

Too, our first truly national holiday was a day of thanksgiving and this has been kept by Americans until the present. It has become a heritage which signifies the humility of a great nation before a sovereign God. Because it is such a sacred heritage for our children and their children it cannot be taken lightly nor dwelt on too strongly. For it is the source of our strength.

The threat of atheistic Communism which has usurped one-sixth of the earth's surface and engulfed one billion of its inhabitants makes it imperative that we rely for strength upon an eternal power. Our productive capacity is still superior to that of our adversary, but the true source of our might is in the Lord. When we forget that, beware!

This time of national thanksgiving should be one of humbling ourselves and praising the one who has given us this precious land and way of life. No one should feel exempt, for it is only as we as individuals remember the Lord that America is made spiritually strong. One of the fine things of the post-war period in the United States has been the resurgence of religion and church-going. We shall need this spiritual strength for a bulwark as the cold war waxed hotter and Communism makes its bid for world domination.

A nation whose strength cometh from the Lord need have no fear of the forces of evil. "If God be for us who can stand against us?" Therefore, at this time of national thanksgiving, when we have literally and figuratively eaten and are full, let us remember the Lord!

Old Rule of Seniority Again Will Prevail

Because Democrats will occupy a majority of the seats in the Senate and the House there will be a reorganization of both houses when Congress reconvenes. Committee chairmanships held at the last session by Republicans will be filled by Democrats.

It is too much to hope that any change will be made in the manner of picking chairmen. The old rule of seniority will prevail. This means that senators and representatives who have the longest service will sit in key posts whether or not they are the best qualified members of the majority party available.

A case can be made for the seniority rule. A man who has been serving for several terms is more likely to be experienced in the manner in which Congress does its work. By extended service on a particular committee he may have perspective and a sense of continuity.

But to take the position that a man's seniority automatically fits him for leadership is illogical. The seniority system can work against efficiency by keeping the ablest men in subordinate positions and it makes leadership a reward for the ability to survive. The system penalizes states that change their political minds by keeping their elected representatives from the most influential positions.

Political leaders of both parties are aware of the faults and inequities of the seniority system. Yet both parties in Congress are extremely reluctant to make any change in the system.

How Reds Got Into Government

By GOERGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK—The slogan "Who promoted Peres?" is not to be ignored. For a long time the question of who let the Communists into our government has been asked but never answered.

In one of the Jenner Committee reports, Part 18 of the "Interlocking Subversion in Government Departments" series, appear the minutes of a Navy Department meeting held May 19, 1942. Present were: The Secretary, Mr. Frank Knox; the Assistant Secretary, Mr. Ralph A. Bard; Vice Chief of Naval Operations, Vice Adm. F. J. Horne; Rear Adm. T. S. Wilkinson; Rear Adm. S. C. Hooper; Rear Adm. Adolphus Stator; Capt. J. B. W. Waller; Lt. Comdr. F. C. B. Jorand; Lt. Comdr. F. G. Caskey; Lt. K. Baarslag.

The problem under discussion was the employment of Communists as radio operators and as members of Defense Communications Board committees. The minutes report the following:

"ADM. HOOPER THEN STRESSED the danger of Communist Party cells in the transportation and communications industries and in the armed services, and how the Communist Party was striving with all its power to establish such cells. He said it was an obvious and primary military principle that these cells should not be allowed to exist for a minute in military or naval units; that the commercial communications systems were an important and integral part of the military and naval communications networks; and that it, therefore, became a duty of those officers in the Navy Department that were charged with the security of naval communications to bring the gravity of the situation to the attention of the secretary."

The secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, was a Republican member of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet. He effectively vetoed Adm. Hooper's objections to employing Communists and what he said must be applied to all departments of government. This is from the official minutes of this meeting which occurred on May 19, 1942.

"The secretary then spoke and said that he held no brief for the activities of the Communist Party, but that the President had stated that, considering the fact that the United States and Russia were allies at this time and that the Communist Party and the United States efforts were now bent toward our winning the war, the United States was found to not oppose the activities of the Communist Party, and specifically, to not disapprove the employment of any radio operator for the sole reason that he was a member of the Communist Party or that he was active in Communist Party affairs. The secretary further stated that this was an order and must be obeyed without mental reservation."

Further in the minutes this is stated: "THE SECRETARY repeated the order from the President and reiterated that it must be obeyed by all officers without mental reservation. Rear Admiral Hooper answered by saying that in the Navy an order from a superior officer was always obeyed without mental reservation and that he certainly had none. However, upon receipt of the order, which he had considered ill-advised, had felt it his duty to state and to bring out the facts."

In a word, the order to admit Communists into the government came directly from the president of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This testimony does not come from a senator or an anti-Communist agitator; it is from a formal naval document duly signed and approved. Admiral Stator testified that the minutes accorded with his recollection of the meeting. The following colloquy is historically important:

"Mr. Grimes: Admiral, before I ask you about that (meeting), I would like to ask you whether or not, to your knowledge, anyone saw a written memorandum from the White House?"

"Admiral Stator: Yes, sir, I did. I had it in my hand but I couldn't keep it."

There is considerable further testimony which is of historic value as pointing to how the Communists got into the government, but it is not necessary to give it here as it all corroborates the fact that it was done by order of the president of the United States.

Rayburn Blames Red Infiltration on GOP

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower went out of his way to refer to speaker-to-be Sam Rayburn as "Mr. Sam" during the recent harmony conference, it may be that he had heard of "Mr. Sam's" irate feelings. Certainly Sam has taken no trouble to conceal them. For, though Sam Rayburn means it when he told the President that House Democrats would support him 100 per cent on foreign policy and national defense, he also meant it when he told friends that he was going to show up the falsity of the "McNixon" charges of Democratic treason.

Rayburn is a man who has served his country more than 40 years in the House of Representatives and he is just as proud of that record as Gen. Eisenhower is of his 40 years in the U.S. Army.

Rayburn began as a young congressman in Woodrow Wilson's day and he has lived through the two world wars which Vice President Nixon implies the Democrats took the nation into in order to maintain prosperity.

Sam resents that and he resents it deeply; because he helped make that history and knows the facts. He feels that he knows them far better than a Johnny-come-lately vice president whose war service consisted largely of renegotiating naval contracts in the Pentagon and then borrowing money from one of the contractors with whom he was negotiating.

So Rayburn proposes to show that the Communists first infiltrated the United States under the Republican regime of Herbert Hoover, and he has the previous probes of Congress to prove it. He can also show that Hoover completely ignored congressional warnings of Red spies.

Second, he proposes to turn the Civil Service Commission upside down to get the truth regarding the security risks which the Republicans say they have purged from the government. He expects to prove that about one-half of these so-called security risks the Republicans say they fired, actually were hired by the Republicans.

Some Democrats point out that if Eisenhower really wanted Democratic co-operation for a bipartisan foreign policy he would do to Nixon what he did to Gen. George Patton when the latter was made to stand up before 10,000 troops and apologize for slapping a sick soldier. But they don't expect any apology from either Ike or "McNixon," so they intend to go ahead with their investigations.

President Eisenhower dropped a humorous hint about his retirement plans as he was being presented with a Thanksgiving turkey. He did not, however, name the date of retirement.

The turkey presentation also included some cranberries and pretzels for a stuffing additive, though the President munched on the pretzels all during his meeting with officials of the National Turkey Federation.

The President said that the turkey, a 42-pound bronze tom, was one of the biggest and handsomest he had ever received, but remarked that his family probably would make short work of it. The bird was raised on the biggest turkey farm in the world, operated by NTF chief Perry Browning near Winchester, Ky.

"We choose this one especially for you out of 100,000 birds on my farm," reported Browning. The Kentuckyian also presented Eisenhower with a booklet on how to manage a turkey farm. Ike promised to "study" the booklet.

"This may come in handy after I leave the White House," he said. "After I retire, I'm going to raise some turkeys myself on my farm in Pennsylvania."

Democratic Sen. James Murray, just re-elected in Montana, told an ADA meeting how a pamphlet smearing him as a Red almost

Advice on Health

Thanksgiving Apt to Bring Indigestion

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

With your Thanksgiving table loaded with turkey and all the trimmings, you are apt to overeat. Sample all those rich, spicy foods you wish for this one day. But do not eat too much. Unless you practice moderation, you will be likely to walk away from the table with an extremely bad case of indigestion.

That probably means from one to three hours of discomfort, and is likely to ruin your whole Thanksgiving Day.

There are several things you can do to relieve the distress.

Lying down probably will help. If you can belch, so much the better.

Maybe you can settle your stomach by taking sodium bicarbonate. Put one teaspoonful in half a glass of warm water and stir it well. Then drink it slowly.

If you are really in a bad way, hot applications on the abdomen with a heating pad or hot water bottle usually help relieve the discomfort, too, though I hesitate to recommend a laxative. A laxative might do untold harm if that "indigestion" eventually turned out to be a case of appendicitis.

Don't let me scare you; overeating won't cause appendicitis. It might, however, make you pretty uncomfortable and that's something to keep in mind.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Answer: There is no harmful effect in drinking the cocoa. You have been misinformed in this matter.

Woman Who Wrote Nursery Rhyme Also Aided Thanksgiving

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (U)—It's generally known that Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the annual Thanksgiving Day observance back in 1863.

Likewise, the words and verses to "Mary Had a Little Lamb" are pretty familiar to most Americans. But how many know that much of the credit for the observance of Thanksgiving is due to the same woman who wrote the famous nursery rhyme?

Well, it is, according to a Wittenberg College professor who believes Sara Josepha Hale, author of "Mary," was the one who spurred President Lincoln into making the holiday proclamation. Dr. Paul S. Bloomhardt, head of the department of biography at Wittenberg, spoke on the history of Thanksgiving today at a school assembly.

Observance of the holiday had been sporadic and localized until Lincoln's term. It wasn't until Mrs. Hale proposed in 1861 "to have the day of our annual Thanksgiving made a national and fixed Union festival" that the event was proclaimed a national holiday, according to Dr. Bloomhardt.

U.S. Ambassador to Russia Back for Talks

WASHINGTON (U)—Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen arrived here yesterday from his post at Moscow and said talks he will hold with State Department officials are "regular routine—very normal procedure."

THE WORLD TODAY

Use of H-Bomb Too Dangerous

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (U)—The United States and Russia may be reaching that point in developing their hydrogen bombs where neither will want to get into a war which might mean the annihilation of both. But a military stalemate between the West and Russia doesn't mean either will stand still. Neither can afford to. The undeveloped areas of the earth are huge. The people living in them can be numbered in the hundreds of millions.

Neither the West nor Russia can sit idle while the other tries to win over those millions of people with their vast land and resources.

No doubt the Communists—as they showed in Korea—will try to take over by invasion where they think the West will let them get away with it. Where the Communists can't use direct military means, other weapons are handy.

They can use internal subversion and propaganda—based on promises, appeals to nationalism, and the wretched lives and living conditions of the people in the backward areas—to win with intrigue and words what they can't take by arms.

As an example: Suppose you were a Southeast Asian living in poverty, just as your fathers before you, and poverty was all you could see in store for your children.

Medical care for you was practically nonexistent. Your life expectancy, and the life expectancy of your children, was far less than that of an American or West European.

You had no education. There was small chance of it for your children. Freedom? Western men prized it but they had held you as a colonial until recently. Democracy? You had heard of it. But it had never been part of your heritage.

Then suppose the Communists—men of your own country—promised you and your children a better life, medical care, education, jobs with good pay, old age security. And the cost to you? Just supporting the Communists.

That you were surrendering to a dictatorship which might leave you in the end more wretched economically than before perhaps would not mean much to you if you never had a fair chance to understand and enjoy freedom and practice democracy.

What might seem the only important thing to you was the promise of a better life. To a wretched man a promise of less wretchedness would be better than no promise.

The Communists have a fertile field to plow in the poverty, ignorance and insecurity of the backward peoples.

The Communists, dedicated to taking over the world, can't stand still. And the West can't stand still while they try to take over, country by country, until half the world is gone.

Justice Broadfoot Seeks Re-election

MADISON, Wis.—Grover L. Broadfoot of Mondovi, third ranking justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court after six years as one of its members, will announce his candidacy for a full ten year term within a few days, it was learned here.

Judge Broadfoot will be a candidate in the elections next April.

No other candidate or prospective candidate has yet been reported, and legal circles agree that the judge will be returned to the bench with little or with nominal opposition.

Two years ago, running for a short term, he was given spirited competition by Circuit Judge Arnold F. Murphy of Marinette.

Now 61, Judge Broadfoot will be running for his final term on the state court, under the terms of the state retirement act which provides pensions for judges at their option if they agree to retire at the age of 70 years.

The justice was named to the high court by former Gov. Oscar Rennebohm in 1948.

He is a Republican, and served several terms in the state legislature and as a member of the state board of tax appeals in earlier years.

City Received Federal Funds for Flood Relief

To the Editor: Carol Syverson's Letter to the Editor published by your paper Nov. 17 gives the impression that the federal government paid no monies to Winona in the recent floods.

I wish to acquaint Mr. Syverson with the facts and I quote from the pamphlet of the Minnesota Disaster Relief Commission as follows:

"Federal and state financial emergency aid and assistance for public property repairs and restoration to distressed governmental subdivisions in major flood disasters."

"1. Whenever a governmental subdivision of the state of Minnesota suffers extreme and heavy damages to public property as a result of flood waters and the area embracing such governmental subdivision is declared a disaster area by the President of the United States and is recognized as a calamity by the Executive Council of Minnesota, a limited amount of federal and state funds may be made available to such subdivision to aid and assist in making necessary emergency repairs and restoration, provided.

"A. Local funds will be provided to the limit of the governmental subdivision's resources.

"B. The resources of the governmental subdivision are determined to be insufficient to meet the necessary emergency expenses.

"2. Under the conditions above indicated, federal disaster funds are made available to the governmental subdivision through the Minnesota Disaster Relief Commission to handle the details of inspection, allocation, the certification of claims and the overall general administration of the program."

U. S. Public Law No. 875 81st Congress, provides that federal monies shall be expended through state agencies in cases of floods or calamities.

The Minnesota Disaster Relief Commission paid the city of Winona $129,000. Of this amount $35,944 was federal funds. Our good senator did his part in seeing that Winona received the federal funds. William A. Galewski

Mother Who Killed Child With Rat Poison Committed

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Eileen Bell, 28, who is charged with murder in connection with the rat poisoning death of her 2½-year-old daughter, Ruth Ann, was ordered taken to Torrance State Hospital today.

State police say Mrs. Bell, the mother of five children, admitted putting rat poison on a piece of bread Nov. 10, then having another child give the bread to Ruth Ann because she was hungry and dried.

Judges Ivan McKenrick and George W. Griffith ordered the woman committed to the mental institution for 90 days after two physicians examined her.

Mrs. Bell was a "low type moron who tortured her children . . ." the physicians reported.

If Mrs. Bell responds to psychiatric treatment her case will be presented to the Cambria County grand jury.

William Bell, Mrs. Bell's 26-year-old husband, is charged with assault and battery with intent to kill and is being held under $10,000 bail.

His case is scheduled to be presented to the grand jury next month. State police said he beat his 3-year-old son Robert while the boy was hanging from a door in a tuffel bag and put the boy's feet in scalding water.

Cartoonist's Widow Granted Allowance

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The widow of the late cartoonist George McManus was granted a $2,500 monthly allowance from his estate in a court order signed yesterday.

The court approved a petition filed by guardians appointed for Mrs. Florence McManus. They said expenses for the household staff are $1,150 a month, plus $150 monthly medical care; $700 for food, household supplies and car upkeep, and $500 a month for incidentals.

McManus died Oct. 22. His estate will exceed one million dollars.

Woman Rescued After Lawn Falls Into Old Mine

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP) — A 65-year-old woman was pulled to safety yesterday after her front lawn collapsed and she was plunged 75 feet into a mine breach.

Mrs. Catherine Murphy of nearby Shaft, Pa., was injured critically when her front yard virtually disappeared in the cave-in. Alden Hertz, member of the William Penn Fire Co., was lowered into the yawning hole and pulled the woman to safety.

She was taken to Locust Mountain Hospital here and was reported suffering from internal injuries, a fractured nose, possible fracture of the left hip and other injuries.

An old mine barrier, beneath the surface, was blamed for the collapse.

Grand Jury Indicts Missouri Convicts For Riot Crimes

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A grand jury indicted 22 convicts last night for crimes they allegedly committed during the bloody riot at the Missouri Penitentiary Sept. 22.

Seven were charged with murder of convict Walter Lee Donnell, 22, who was dragged from his cell at the height of the riot and slain brutally. Donnell was accused by some convicts of being an informer.

The other men were indicted for assault with intent to kill, first degree robbery, arson and property destruction.

Four convicts were killed and more than 30 injured during the riot. Fires set by prisoners caused several million dollars of property damage.

Trempealeau Co. Sets Deer Tagging Stations

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Fred Gardner, Whitehall, Trempealeau County conservation warden, has reminded that it's necessary to register legal deer bucks with a special registration tag furnished free of charge by a tagging agent.

In Trempealeau County a tagging station is in operation at the sheriff's office at Whitehall daily from 1 to 9 p.m. Field personnel also will tag deer in the field.

The hunter has three days following the close of the season to have his deer tagged.

A tagging station will be set up at ends lifting, lugging heavy blankets!

My clothes dryer saves 3 hours of work a week...

Get a dryer for Christmas! Over 61,000 other N.W. women—just in the area served by Northern States Power Company—are drying their clothes this easy, modern way. They've put a STOP to lifting, lugging heavy baskets! Wouldn't a dryer for Christmas do the same for you?

Drying's easy—even with big family washes! As easy as using an automatic washer! Perfect for drying those in-between washes, too. Just put in the clothes, set a dial. The dryer does the rest! (And as Mrs. Lester Berge of Dell Rapids, S. D., says: "No more burden of carrying clothes!")

No stair climbing with heavy loads! Tired of lifting, lifting, LIFTING—up to 3 tons of wet clothes per year? Maybe your doctor has even advised you against such work. (In Montevideo, Minn., Mrs. Alvin C. Peterson got her dryer to "save climbing stairs, hanging clothes outside in winter.")

No hanging clothes in a musty basement! No musty mildew, no "basement odor." There's no sweeter way to the freshest clothes in town! And, with a dryer, that means any time, every time. (As Mrs. John R. Weed, Fargo, N. D., says: "Wash and dry clothes any time, day or night.")

Linens, baby clothes dry softer, fluffier! And cleaner, too. Dryer-dried clothes are never exposed to outdoor dirt and grime. (Mrs. W. B. Metz, Augusta, Wis., says: "diapers come out 'smoother than when hung outside.'") Have you talked to your husband about a dryer—lately? Try it and see!

Why lug clothes? Get a dryer for Christmas!

Ceylon Guard Sees Birth of Baby Elephant

COLOMBO, Ceylon (U-A)—A Ceylon forest guard has witnessed what few humans have seen in this island's jungles—the ritualistic birth of a baby elephant.

Guard W. L. A. Andiris watched from a vantage point within a cluster of high rocks in the Yala game sanctuary. Writing in the official records of the Ceylon Department of Wild Life, Andiris says the mother elephant was attended by eight "midwives."

The mother elephant lay on her side in a well-hidden jungle clearing. The eight attendants surrounded her, caressing her gently with their trunks.

As time for the birth approached, the mother became more and more nervous, shifting her position in the clearing by taking a few steps this way and that, lying down after each movement. Seven of the attendant elephants withdrew into the jungles, leaving one with the expectant mother. From time to time as the mother rested or moved around, members of the "midwife" group came from the jungle in pairs to check her with their trunks.

Actual birth of the baby was accomplished without any apparent strain or sound from the mother. The mother left the baby and talked about 10 paces away. She then trumpeted and the other elephants emerged from the jungle, also trumpeting, and seemed to caress the mother again with their trunks.

"Then all eight turned in unison to the child," Andiris reported. "One raised it about four feet from the ground, then gently lowered it on its feet. Then in turn each one of the eight moved past the newborn baby and blew sand on it with their trunks, drying its hide."

Fifteen minutes later the mother, ending its postnatal rest on the ground, stood up, trumpeted loudly, lifted the calf with her trunk and took it aside.

"Then as the calf attempted to suckle the mother the big female elephant gently lowered herself to her knees and permitted her child to have its first meal."

"This important event finished, the mother again trumpeted, picked up her calf in her trunk, raised it high over her head, and disappeared into the jungles, escorted on either side by her 'maternity' staff."

"This was exclusively a female affair. The male elephants gave this spot a wide berth."

Heart Death Rate Among Men Increases

NEW YORK (U)—The risk of death from heart and blood vessel diseases among middle-aged men has increased almost 25 per cent during the past generation while it has decreased by almost as much among women in the same age group.

These findings were reported yesterday by the American Heart Assn., which said that in 1933 deaths due to cardiovascular diseases accounted for more than half of all deaths, or 794,000.

The United States grows enough apples in a year to provide 80 for every man, woman and child in the country.

'54 Christmas Seal Painted by Dane; 2 Colors Featured

"Dancing children holding hands and some day encircling a peaceful world in which all children will be safe," is the thought expressed by Jorgen G. Hansen, Danish artist who painted the Danish holiday scene used for the 1954 Christmas seal, now on sale.

In honor of the 50th anniversary of the TB movement in this country, Hansen painted a row of children holding hands around a brightly lighted Christmas tree, bringing to life a Christmas eve in Denmark where the whole family joins hands and gathers around the tree to sing songs.

For the first time, there are two co-ordinated Christmas seals, one with a red and the other a green background, giving an alternating red and green Christmas effect. It is suggested that two seals be used on every letter and Christmas card.

Hansen, the Christmas seal artist, was born and educated in Copenhagen, Denmark, and received his degree in architecture from the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in 1941. A release from the state Christmas Seal organization reveals. He came to the U. S. in 1947 and did free-lance work for furniture magazines and catalogs. In 1950, he settled in New York and formed a partnership with another Danish designer.

The national tuberculosis association, with its 3,000 affiliates, sponsors the annual Christmas seal sale, which began Nov. 22 in the county and all through the nation.

Funds raised in the sale of Christmas seals will help finance tuberculosis tests and chest X-rays to find early, unknown cases of tuberculosis. Christmas seal funds also aid in financing research, to discover more effective ways of treating the disease, and health education, to inform all people on best ways to guard themselves and their families against tuberculosis.

State Funeral Designated For Vishinsky

MOSCOW (AP)—The body of Andrei Vishinsky was flown home today as the Soviet government announced it would give a state funeral in Red Square to the late deputy foreign minister and chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations.

Informal sources said the announcement of the state funeral meant Vishinsky, who died in New York Monday after a heart attack, would be buried alongside other Communist notables in the Kremlin wall, behind the Lenin-Stalin Tomb in Red Square.

A chartered four-engine Stratocruiser left New York for Paris last night with the massive copper casket.

Accompanying the body home were Vishinsky's widow Kapiulina; the couple's daughter Zinaida; Georgi Zarubin, Soviet ambassador to the United States; and six other members of the Soviet

Boyle's Column

'Security Is In Oneself,' His Motto

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"You must find security within yourself," said Sarkis Tarzian. "Trying to find it outside yourself is like chasing the rainbow."

Tarzian, who came here from Turkish Armenia at the age of 6, long ago conquered his own self-doubts. His first night in this country he slept in an alley in Philadelphia. Today, at 54, he operates a television, radio and manufacturing empire in Bloomington, Ind., that grosses $23,000,000 a year.

He will be glad to make and sell you a TV station, complete from cameras to antenna, for $120,000 on up.

"All you need is the key," he said.

The success saga of this amazing Armenian is based on his philosophy that "there is nothing in life that can give you more pleasure than taking a new idea—and making it work."

Success Saga

He decided in grammar school he wanted to be an engineer, and in high school won a scholarship that put him through the University of Pennsylvania. During summers he worked at 40 cents an hour as a factory laborer to earn his spending money, "so I wouldn't be a burden on my parents."

When he was graduated in 1924, he looked around for a new field and found it in radio. In the next 20 years he became a top design engineer for first Atwater Kent, then RCA.

During most of these years his wife, Mary, herself a doctor of philosophy in international law, kept prodding him:

"Why do you work for these big companies? If you can do it for them, why not for yourself?"

Finally, in 1944, Tarzian did quit and recalls now with a grin the startled reaction of his wife: "But, why all of a sudden?" They had saved $40,000. What business should they go into?

"Again I wanted to try something new," said Tarzian, "and the answer seemed to be television."

He had pioneered in the development of radio tuners, and soon he was mass producing TV tuners for other manufacturers. Gradually he added other items which his skill as a practical engineer taught him he could turn out most efficiently. He expanded steadily, acquired a radio station, added a TV station and made it show a profit from the start.

Tarzian now has a payroll of 2,600 and is Bloomington's biggest single industrial employer. He is a strong booster of the advantages of living in smaller cities.

"I believe it is a good long-range plan for industry to decentralize and give people an opportunity to earn a livelihood in their own communities," he said.

"Life is really better in a small town, and you can get more out of life in one. Why should a boy have to leave his home town and go to a big city merely to earn a living? It shouldn't be necessary."

Tarzian, a practical idealist, is active in community affairs. He and his wife—they have two children—work as a team. She handles personnel problems, he supervises engineering production.

"We talk over any new venture together thoroughly," he said. "When we reach agreement on the fundamentals, we go ahead."

"But making money is merely incidental. Today business operates in such a way that you have to gamble a dollar to make half a cent profit. If money is all you're after, you're foolish to gamble at 200-to-1 odds. You'd do better to put your money in tax-free bonds."

"The only reason for taking risks is for the pleasure to trying to do something new—and getting it done. The money is the end, not the means."

In a world of neurotic fears, Tarzian, whose hobby is reading science and philosophy, sees no personal reason for being afraid.

"The only people who are afraid are those who know they aren't doing what is right," he said. "When you know you are doing what is right, you have your security inside you—and that's the only place you'll ever find it."

Shah of Iran, Queen Planning U.S. Visit

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi and Queen Soraya will pay a two-month visit to the United States beginning early in December. They will be guests of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at a White House luncheon Dec. 13.

A court announcement said yesterday that the Shah, on the advice of his physician, will get a medical checkup in New York.

Finally, in 1944, Tarzian did quit and recalls now with a grin the startled reaction of his wife: "But, why all of a sudden?" They had saved $40,000. What business should they go into?

"Again I wanted to try something new," said Tarzian, "and the answer seemed to be television."

He had pioneered in the development of radio tuners, and soon he was mass producing TV tuners for other manufacturers. Gradually he added other items which his skill as a practical engineer taught him he could turn out most efficiently. He expanded steadily, acquired a radio station, added a TV station and made it show a profit from the start.

Tarzian now has a payroll of 2,600 and is Bloomington's biggest single industrial employer. He is a strong booster of the advantages of living in smaller cities.

"I believe it is a good long-range plan for industry to decentralize and give people an opportunity to earn a livelihood in their own communities," he said.

"Life is really better in a small town, and you can get more out of life in one. Why should a boy have to leave his home town and go to a big city merely to earn a living? It shouldn't be necessary."

Tarzian, a practical idealist, is active in community affairs. He and his wife—they have two children—work as a team. She handles personnel problems, he supervises engineering production.

"We talk over any new venture together thoroughly," he said. "When we reach agreement on the fundamentals, we go ahead."

"But making money is merely incidental. Today business operates in such a way that you have to gamble a dollar to make half a cent profit. If money is all you're after, you're foolish to gamble at 200-to-1 odds. You'd do better to put your money in tax-free bonds."

Experts Nearing End of Testimony In Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND (U)—The state today nears an end to its expert testimony on fingerprints, blood stains and footprints in the sand—testimony it hopes will help convince a jury Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard bludgeoned his pregnant wife to death.

And as this expert testimony answers some questions, it raises new ones, perhaps equally puzzling. Yesterday, for instance, the jury heard:

That a left thumbprint found on the headboard of the bed where Marilyn Sheppard was beaten to death was made by her husband, the defendant. No one could say when or how it was made, for it was taken 19 days after the crime.

That a barefoot print was found in the sandy beach behind the Sheppard home. The jury spent the first 10 minutes of the afternoon session looking at photographs of the footprint. But no clue was given as to who made it, and two witnesses said there were no footprints on the beach several hours after the slaying.

That some articles in the Sheppard home bore marks which could have been "created with a cloth." But there was only one indication that a cloth could have been used to wipe away fingerprints.

The trial is in its sixth week, with the state contending that pretty Marilyn Sheppard, 31, was killed by her husband in a quarrel over his attentions to other women, especially Auburn-haired Susan Hayes, 24-year-old laboratory technician.

The defense argument is that an intruder killed Mrs. Sheppard and knocked her handsome osteopath husband senseless when he tried to defend her.

Jerome C. Poelking, 35, a Cleveland detective for 10 years, testified yesterday he found Dr. Sam's left thumbprint on the headboard of the bed where Marilyn Sheppard died, her head gashed by 27 blows.

That was the only legible print he found in examining the murder bedroom July 23, he said.

Sen. George Gives Democratic Support To Defense Buildup

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) today gave key Democratic support to President Eisenhower's assertion that the United States will not let Russian talk slacken this nation's defense buildup.

George said in an interview he believes the President charted "the right course" in telling his news conference yesterday America intends to keep its guard up and will talk peace only after the Communists have shown some evidence of real sincerity.

As the prospective chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the new Congress, George is the recognized spokesman for Senate Democrats on international issues.

"The President has correctly stated what I also believe our relationships with Russia and the Communist world should be," he said. "I agree with him that we must examine every faint ray of hope for peace."

"But there is no doubt in my mind that the Communist movement contemplates the domination of the world. Until Communist actions begin to square with their more peaceful words, we must follow the course laid out by the President."

31 Children Hurt as School Bus Hits Tree

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Thirty-one school children were injured, at least five seriously, when a school bus crashed into a tree here yesterday. The driver said the accident happened when he tried to prevent three musical instruments from sliding against the steering wheel. He was treated for shock.

Driver Harold C. Fetter, 33, was quoted by police as saying the bus went out of control when he reached for the instruments and swerved off the road. The bus was filled, carrying an estimated 60 youngsters.

The bus was returning students from Marion-Franklin High School, south of here, to their homes.

Machine Age Makes Theft Go Smoothly

WATSEKA, Ill. (U)—Sheriff's officials are quite sure that the thieves who stole 600 bushels of soybeans worth $1,600 from Roy Lubben's farm didn't work too hard. They figured the robbers brought along their own machinery, using a portable motor driven elevator to load the soybeans from a bin into a semi-trailer truck.

Students Demonstrate Against Korea Elections

SEOUL (U)—More than 10,000 high-school students today demonstrated against all-Korean elections to unify the peninsula.

Led by school bands, they blocked busy downtown traffic. Similar demonstrations have been staged in major South Korean cities since government leaders last week criticized a formula for all-Korea elections advanced by Britain and Canada.

perhaps endangering life in parts of this country as well as other countries, like Japan.

This is the simple reason why the wisdom of testing the super-supers is being so anxiously debated. But the debate is not, for obvious and logical reasons, limited to the super-supers.

Suicidal Backlash

For if the explosion of one hydrogen bomb half a world away might endanger this country, how about the explosion of 500 such bombs—or 5,000, all within a short space of time? This is what the strategy of "massive retaliation" involves. May we not, therefore, be placing too much reliance on a weapon with a suicidal backlash, a weapon which, used in quantity, might destroy ourselves as well as the enemy?

The seriousness with which this matter of the radiological hazard is being taken may be simply illustrated. In high level discussions, genuine concern has been expressed that the Soviets, without going to war, might explode large numbers of the type of hydrogen bomb in series, along the Siberian coast.

The prevailing winds, which are from west to east, would then carry the noxious radio-active by-product characteristic of these bombs over the United States. This may seem fanciful. But it is pointed out that these same prevailing winds gave the allies a decisive advantage when the Germans introduced poison gas in the first world war.

There is obviously nothing properly secret about this radiological hazard—the Russians, after all, were the first to explode the new type of bomb. Moreover, at least twice since the Eniwetok tests, British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill has more than hinted that hydrogen bombs may never be used in war, since an "undue number" would have "very serious effects" on the whole world. Dr. Edgar Adrian, a British Nobel Prize winner, recently said that "a long war between powers well armed with bombs would certainly produce an order of radioactive contamination which would involve us all, victors as well as vanquished." This, he added, might "end the human race."

There have been other such statements, from equally qualified sources. But the official policy here is still to put the radiological hazard under classification wraps—or else to imply blandly, as Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has done, that it does not exist.

One result of this secrecy policy can be seen in the Civil Defense problem. Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson has been one of a minority of officials urging a policy of telling the American people what is already known to the Russians. The reason is obvious. Unless the basic facts of radio-active fall-out are officially acknowledged, Civil Defense cannot even begin to make sense.

The fact is that the noxious radiological side-effects of the new type of hydrogen bomb have transformed the very nature of the weapon, and in so doing have transformed our own strategic situation. The phenomenon of local fall-out, for example, makes the bomb in effect an instrument of chemical warfare. Its other radiological side-effects—unless Churchill and others of almost equal authority are talking through their hats—may transform it from an instrument of offense of an instrument of race suicide.

This obviously raises the question which Churchill has already raised—whether this weapon, which the American people have been taught to regard as a central element in American power, can in fact be used in war by any nation.

Indeed, as will be shown in a final report on this unpleasant subject, the terrible nature of the weapon has already begun deeply to effect the thinking of President Eisenhower and the policy of the United States. But in this democracy, any policy must have the support of the people. And the people are not apt to give much support to a policy if the facts on which it is based, and which are well known to the Soviets, are hidden from them.

Churchill Long Distrustful of Russian Plans

WOODFORD, England (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill says that even as the Germans were surrendering in World War II, he made plans to rearm them if the Russians advanced further into Western Europe.

The veteran Prime Minister, 80 on Nov. 30, spoke anew of his long-time distrust of the Soviets at a birthday rally last night. He told the crowd:

"Even before the war ended, and while Germans were surrendering by hundreds of thousands, I telegraphed Lord Montgomery directing him to be careful in collecting German arms and to stack them so that they could easily be issued again to the German soldiers with whom we should have to work if the Soviet advance into Western Europe continued."

Stalin, he declared, was "carried away by the triumphs of victory and acting as if he thought he could secure for Russia and Communism the domination of the world."

Churchill said he believes he was "the first well-known person publicly to state the fact that we have to have Germany on our side against Russian Communist aggression."

The London-Paris agreements to rearm West Germany, he continued, resulted from a "vast reversal of British, American and of European opinion... brought about only by the policy of Soviet Russia itself and above all by Stalin, the dictator."

York Rite Degrees Conferred on Three

The Order of the Red Cross and the Order of Malta, two degrees in the Masonic York Rite, were conferred on three candidates at the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening.

The Order of the Temple, concluding degree of the rite, will be conferred at a later date.

The Red Cross degree was conferred under the direction of A. H. McDonald and George W. Engstrom and the Malta under the leadership of Adolph Loeken.

McDonald and Loeken are past commanders of Coeur de Lion Commandery, Knights Templar.

At the regular meeting before the degree work, it was announced that the regular Christmas observance of the commandery will begin at 10:30 a.m. on Dec. 25.

Quartet's Music Brings Complaints

DALLAS (AP)—A quartet of women complained about a quartet of coon dogs yesterday before Peace Justice Bill Richburg's court.

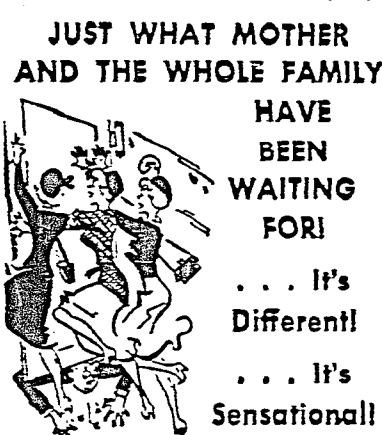

One woman told Richburg about a man who kept four bounties trained to hunt raccoons.

"One howls in a bass voice," she said. "Another howls in a tenor."

"And the two others don't howl at all—they just moan," said another woman.

Rejoined the owner: "They never disturb me."

Richburg asked him to move the dogs out of town. The owner said he would.

Driver's Foot Slips, Car Gets Dents, New Paint Job

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Lois Peterson's foot slipped while she was driving her car yesterday. She meant to apply the foot brake to stop but her foot slipped onto the gas pedal.

The car spurted forward, grazed a parked car, struck a telephone pole, bounded into a building, and then crashed against an eight-foot ladder holding Pert Parker, who was painting a window.

Parker and his paint can toppled from the ladder. The gray paint splashed over Mrs. Peterson's blue car. Parker, 42, complained of an injured back. Mrs. Peterson, 18, suffered a sprained right arm.

Farm Boy Killed In Freak Accident

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Seven-year-old William Dallas Dixon was fatally injured yesterday in a freak accident while helping on his father's farm.

William G. Dixon told police he and the boy were using a tractor with a power takeoff to run a corn elevator. The boy was sitting on the tractor and it was believed one of his pants legs caught in the whirling universal joint. He was twisted around several times, hitting his head repeatedly on the ground, before his father could shut off the tractor.

The child died in Frederick Memorial Hospital of a fractured skull.

Hormel Earnings Checks Distributed

AUSTIN, Minn. (AP)—A total of $379,565 was distributed to 8,629 employees in end of the year joint earnings checks today by Geo. A. Hormel & Co.

It is the 15th year the joint earnings plan has been in effect, and today's distribution brings the total extra wage payment under the plan to $14,255,652.

Each eligible employee today, upon authorization by the Hormel board of directors, received an additional pay-check which was .386 per cent of his basic wage check for a 40-hour week.

The highest total amount distributed before Thanksgiving in the past was $2,401,588 in 1948. The highest percentage of the weekly check was in 1944, a war year. Employees remember, for the end-of-the-year joint earnings check was 8.017 times the weekly 40-hour basic check.

"When the joint earnings plan was started in 1939," said H. H. Corey, president of the Hormel company, "there were 2,946 eligible employees. This year there were 8,629. Not only has the number of eligible employees doubled since 1939, but the hourly rate of pay has also more than doubled.

"It takes a very much larger total amount of money these days to make a larger individual check."

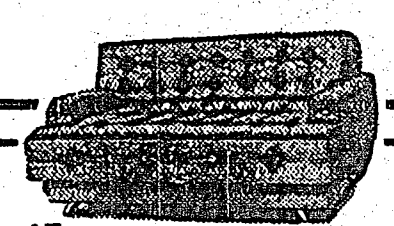

Nationalist Planes Hammer Red Base

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese warplanes returned to Tachen Island today and hammered Communist gun positions through a curtain of antiaircraft fire.

No Red planes challenged the Nationalists — as they did yesterday — and official reports said all planes returned safely after achieving "excellent" results.

Tachen is a Communist base which threatens the Nationalist outposts on the strategic Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

Understanding of Girl Stressed In Scout Talk

Miss Amanda Aarestad's talk on child growth and development entitled, "What Makes Them Tick," highlighted the November meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders Association Monday afternoon at the YWCA.

Miss Aarestad, an instructor in elementary education and psychology at Winona State Teachers College, told of the importance of understanding a girl from infancy on up through adolescence in order to be successful in working with Girl Scouts in the various age groups. She pointed out that each age group has special needs and interests and went on to discuss in detail what problems may arise in working with brownie, intermediate and senior scouts according to their ages.

Miss Aarestad said that a well liked, successful leader is one who makes every scout meeting an interesting one, and that careful, long range planning is essential in accomplishing this goal. "If you wish to improve as a Girl Scout leader," said Miss Aarestad, "after each meeting, evaluate what has happened—then capitalize on what you have done well and try to eliminate the mistakes."

Mrs. D. T. Burt, president of the Girl Scout Leaders Association, presented Miss Aarestad with a plant as a token of appreciation on behalf of the association. During the business meeting, Mrs. R. W. Lundberg made several announcements concerning the Girl Scout camp site at Trempealeau, and encouraged the leaders to make use of the camp for their winter scout activities. Mrs. Jack Squires reported on the portion of the Minneapolis Regional Conference devoted to the brownie scout program. Miss Leona Ebel, Girl Scout executive, talked on Girl Scout banking policies and a suggested troop budget.

Hostesses in charge of the dessert luncheon which preceded the meeting were Mrs. John Sikorski, Mrs. Frank Kouba, Mrs. Roy Bell and Mrs. Theodore Kryzer.

Still undecided about your Thanksgiving dinner first course? Above is one which encircled with pompons and a pair of Pilgrim figures, provides a zestful and light beginning for the holiday dinner—and best of all, the makings already are available in most kitchens. It needs only a pound can of jellied cranberry sauce, a lemon, an orange, two egg whites or ½ cup of whipped cream and white fruits. It's homemade pink cranberry sherbet topped a fruit cup. Suggested fruits — crisp chunks of peeled apple, tiny pale green grapes, diced bananas and a few canned pineapple chunks. Crush the cranberry sauce with a fork, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup orange juice, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind and 1 tablespoon grated orange rind. Pour into freezing tray of refrigerator and freeze with control at coldest setting until sherbet is mushy. Fold in two egg whites, beaten stiff, or ½ cup whipped cream, and continue freezing until stiff. Makes six servings.

Do you want a new stuffing? Try pineapple-raisin bread stuffing. Melt ¼ cup shortening in skillet. Add ¼ cup finely chopped onion and sauté until tender. Pour over two quarts soft raisin bread crumbs which have been mixed with ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper and drained crushed pineapple from one No. 2 can.

Your pumpkin pie is not what it was back in Plymouth Rock days. It is told that shortly after the Pilgrims arrived in the New World, failure of the grain crops resulted in a shortage of flour for pastry. However, their craving for bakery delicacies was satisfied because of the never-failing pumpkin crop which the Indians had taught them to raise. Pilgrim women used pumpkin flour to make pastry goods and the filling also was made from the pumpkin after it had been cooked and sweetened with sugar and honey. For many years before, a variety of gourd similar to the American pumpkin was cultivated and eaten throughout Europe. An early English recipe called for the "pompon" itself to be stuffed with apples. It was not until the sea trade on which the early colonists depended was free to bring in the spices of the West Indies and Orient, that the pumpkin pie began to taste anything like it does today. And it was the early Pennsylvania Dutch cooks who are credited with developing the flat pie as we know it now.

For those who Friday will be confronted with left-over turkey and a family satiated with roasted turkey, this column offers disguises for the fowl remaining in the refrigerator. If you like curried dishes, melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a heavy skillet or saucepan, add 1 cup diced apples and cook until tender, about 5 minutes. Cook 4 ounces medium noodles in boiling salted water until tender, about 5 minutes. Drain and rinse.

Sherbet Fruit Cup

While noodles are cooking, stir 2 tablespoons enriched flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper and ½ teaspoon curry powder into butter or margarine. Gradually add 1½ cups milk or broth, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add ½ cup mushrooms and 1 cup cooked turkey meat and fold in noodles. Pour into greased 1½-quart casserole and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot with chutney. Makes four servings.

Then there are turkey-cheese shortcakes. Melt 4 tablespoons butter or margarine and stir in 5 tablespoons flour; add 1 cup cream and ½ cup turkey or chicken stock; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add ½ cup California Sauterne or other white table wine, 1 tablespoon California Sherry, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon paprika, dash of nutmeg or mace and salt and pepper to taste. Stir in 2 cups coarsely diced cooked turkey. Heat gently but thoroughly before serving. Prepare one recipe of baking powder biscuit dough. Cut in ½ cup grated natural American Cheddar cheese along with the shortening. Roll out and cut into 6 three-inch rounds. Place 1 inch apart on ungreased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for 12 to 15 minutes. Split hot biscuits, spoon hot creamed turkey between halves and over top. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve at once. Makes six luncheon shortcakes or four dinner-sized shortcakes if cut in larger size. Use remaining dough for small biscuits to serve with the meal.

Diced turkey adds a tempting flavor to a spaghetti, corn and mushroom soup casserole or here's another way. Peel 4 medium onions, cover with water and cook until tender, about 25 minutes. Remove centers from onion, leaving a shell of 2 or 3 layers. Chop onion centers. While onions are cooking, cook 4 ounces elbow macaroni. Drain and rinse. Beat 1 egg and add 1 and ½ cups milk, ½ cup enriched bread crumbs, ¼ teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Stir in chopped onion, macaroni and 1 cup cooked turkey meat. Fill onion shells with mixture. Pour remaining mixture into an 8-inch square baking pan and arrange the filled onions on top. Sprinkle chopped crisp bacon over all and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 30 minutes. Serves four.

And one more—an easy-on-the-budget post-Thanksgiving dessert, using your left-over cranberries. Scald 3 and ¾ cups milk. Add ½ cup brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and 4 ounces fine noodles. Cook over boiling water 20 minutes. Beat the yolks of three eggs. Add to noodle mixture while stirring. Cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Beat the egg whites and fold gently into the noodle mixture. Pour into a greased square pan, 8 x 8 inches. Arrange four pineapple rings with ¼ cup cooked sweetened cranberries on top, and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 10 minutes. Cut with ½ pineapple slice per serving. Makes eight servings.—May Murray.

State Raises Record Crop of Walleyes

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Nature, with good weather and bountiful rainfall, helped Minnesota to a record production of walleye pike fingerlings this year, the State Conservation Department reported today.

Hjalmar O. Swenson, hatcheries supervisor, said 13,917,713 of the small pike were raised in rearing ponds and stocked in Minnesota lakes. That was about double the previous high marks set in 1949 and 1951, he claimed. The fingerlings weighed out at 89,416 pounds. The year also saw 2,082,835 trout fingerlings, weighing 79,891 pounds, raised and planted against 3,796,590 fry weighing 61,193 pounds out in 1953.

Swenson said improved techniques plus diet and disease control played major roles in the large numbers of fry produced. Also stocked in the state's lakes and streams were 833,760 walleyes and 361,602 trout received from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

New Court Clerk 'Oldtimer' in State Politics

By ADOLPH JOHNSON
(This is the last of a series on new Minnesota state officials.)

ST. PAUL — Frank Larkin was an old hand at politics before he could vote.

His long interest in politics and a thus-far frustrated ambition to become a lawyer are in the background of his election to the post of clerk of the Minnesota Supreme Court. He will take office in January.

"I used to go to meetings of the Minnetonka town board with my father, who was chairman, when I was 10 years old," he recalls. "I've been interested in and active in politics ever since."

While he was a student at Wayzata High School, Larkin, now 38, helped organize and was elected the first president of the student council. He also won a regional oratorical title with an oration in which he talked about men once considered radicals who later became heroes in the public mind.

As a youth he headed the Hennepin County chapter of the Junior Farmer-Labor Federation. He was elected to his first public office — treasurer of the Minnetonka town board, when he was 21. He also was elected secretary of the rural Hennepin Federation of Farmer-Labor clubs.

He took two years of pre-law work at the University of Minnesota before lack of money forced him to return to the family farm. Then, for a short time before he joined the Army in 1944 he was an assistant cashier in the state Department of Employment Security.

Currently he is operating a small farm in the Minnetonka area and doubling as a milkman while he builds a herd of beef cattle. He is a former secretary-manager of the Hennepin County Agricultural Society.

Larkin has not yet given up on his hope to become a lawyer. He plans to enroll in evening classes in January after he takes office.

He laid his plans to win his present post long before the DFL convention in Albert Lea in April.

"I got in touch with county chairmen and delegates throughout the state before the convention," he explains. "By convention time, all the ground work was laid, and I had no trouble winning the nomination." He did his actual campaigning during his vacation this summer.

Larkin was a candidate for the Legislature in 1948 and sought election as supervisor for Minnetonka township in 1952.

The Larkins have five children, Kathleen, 12, Connie, 11, Linda, 9, Patrick, 5, and Mary Jo, 18 months. He is a member of the VFW, the Eagles and the Milk Drivers Union.

Ex-Marine Found Guilty of Murder

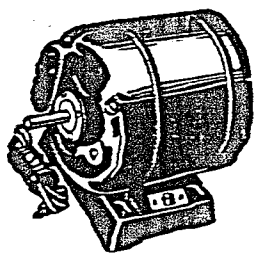

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Orville Waldron, 31-year-old former Marine, was found guilty of second degree murder in the July 8 shooting of Air Force Lt. Col. William Covington late Tuesday.

The 12-man jury deliberated 3 hours and 29 minutes. Sentencing was deferred by Circuit Judge E. E. Chillingworth.

Covington, 47, was slain as he slept beside his bride of three months, who admitted during the trial that she was Waldron's former "common law" wife.

Waldron, who faces a penalty of from 20 years to life, appeared unshaken by the verdict. He was allowed four days in which his counsel may file a motion for a new trial. He is a native of Milwaukee.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing
One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high luster, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at the Paint Depot, 183 Center St. in Winona or Pembroke St., Wabasha.

Public Power 'Federal Monopoly,' McKay Tells Diners

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay says public-owned power is a "federal monopoly."

In a speech before a Manufacturing Chemists Assn. dinner last night, McKay scoffed at public power and social security theories and said "I'm proud to stand up and say I'm a product of private enterprise."

He said that in his home state of Oregon "we don't want bureaucrats coming out and telling us how we're going to live—we'll tell them."

The country "is being handed a lot of socialist propaganda," he said. The theory of "security from the cradle to the grave" is "impossible" and "hogwash," he said. "If the nation ever reaches the point where (individual) security becomes a primary objective, we're headed for the rocks," he said.

VA Will Raise Dividend Scale On Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration (VA) announced Tuesday it will raise the dividend scale on national service life insurance term policies approximately 10 per cent through age 40.

Above 40 the increase will be slightly larger except for age 55, for which the rate will remain unchanged. Permanent plan policies will be about the same as in 1954.

For holders of permanent plan policies under the World War I insurance program, there will be nominal increases in dividends up to age 60, above which they will be larger.

Under both programs the size of the dividends will depend on the plan, age and year of issue and the amount of insurance carried. It is not based on the amount of premium paid for $1,000 of insurance. All together, dividends next year will total 226 million dollars. Payments will come shortly after the anniversary date of each policy.

The VA said dividends are not payable to non-participating post-Korea policies issued under the indemnity and insurance act of 1951, nor to the 900,000 policies of both wars for the months for which premiums were waived during the 1955 policy year under the same 1951 act. World War term policies also are excluded from the dividend program, as in the past.

New Fire Truck, 4th Police Car To Be Purchased

Advertisements for bids for the purchase of a new pump truck for the fire department and another squad car for the police department were authorized Tuesday night by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

The pump truck will be of 1,000-gallon capacity, somewhat similar to a unit purchased by the board about two years ago at a cost of $17,500, and will represent another step in the board's program to meet recommendations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters for bringing the city's fire fighting equipment up to standards.

Specifications for the pump truck were presented to the board Tuesday night by Fire Chief Frank P. Witt and bids will be opened at a special board meeting in mid-January.

After inspecting the specifications Commissioner John Kleist suggested that an alternate proposal on a unit with a smaller motor be solicited and the board agreed to ask for the alternate.

The board also will ask for bids on a new squad car to be used in the police department. This car will be purchased outright with no trade-in of any of the present cars in service.

Board President Clement Gotsdiner explained that he believed that an additional car would be practical, especially during those times when one of the other three cars are out of service for repairs.

Two squad cars now are in regular use for patrolling while the third is used for the most part by the detectives.

Chief of Police A. J. Bingold was asked to recommend two members of his department to attend a police traffic school at Northwestern University next spring.

Pay Boost for 2 Wisconsin Officials Uncertain

MADISON (AP)—The question of salaries for two state officials now holding down jobs which were given raises in pay was presented Tuesday to Atty. Gen. Thomson. The two involved are Lester Voight, acting director of the conservation department, and Henry Harder, head of the department of taxation.

Budget Director E. C. Giessel presented the question to Thomson who said he would have a decision before the raises approved by the state emergency board last week become effective next month. The board, acting under legislative approval, last week granted pay boosts to almost 40 job classifications in the state government.

Voight became acting director last spring but has continued to draw his $8,844 per year pay as an assistant director. The emergency board raised the director's pay from $9,000 to $11,000 and Thomson was asked to decide if Voight is eligible for the director's pay.

Polio Foundation Needs Outlined at Whitehall Meeting

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Norman Weaver, Wausau, northern Wisconsin fieldman for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, met with the Trempealeau County police chapter officers, executive committee and local chairmen at the courthouse Monday evening.

He showed the Helen Hayes film, "They Shall Not Wait," and said the national fund-raising goal for 1955 is $64,000,000.

The film will be shown at meetings in the county during January, according to Mrs. Rudolph Anderson, Blair, chapter president, and Rex Fuller, Osseo, fund-raising chairman.

Weaver said the results of the vaccination of 440,000 children in 44 of the 48 states last year are being evaluated and will be published by the first of April. He pointed out that this vaccine is for the prevention of paralytic polio.

Distribution of Funds

Of the national goal, $9,000,000 is planned for vaccine and $8,000,000 for gamma globulin, which is effective only as a temporary preventive and now is available on the open market. He predicted that the vaccine, if proven effective, also will be on the open market eventually.

In discussing fund raising plans, Weaver pointed out a number of reasons why the polio foundation decided not to accept money from community chests.

He said that experience has proved the drives aren't as successful through chests. He also pointed out that polio needs cannot be budgeted because there is no way of telling how much money will be needed in a future year. In addition, the foundation feels that people should not be pressured into giving for one disease through a community chest but should be asked in a separate drive to give as much as they can and as much as they wish to give.

Weaver said Trempealeau County has borrowed nearly $20,000 from the national foundation.

Gifts Compared

He said that the county's per capita giving to polio was 28 cents last year. The state average is 32 cents.

Marvin Olson, Whitehall, treasurer of the chapter, reported receipts of $1,992.75 in the emergency drive in August, of which $939.98 came from dime folders, $531.15 from special events, and $521.62 from clubs and organizations. Expenses were $260.62, leaving net receipts of $1,732.13. Of the net, one-third, or $577.37, was sent to the national foundation and half of the remaining $1,154.76 to the national headquarters, leaving $577.38 in the local chapter treasury.

With about $1,500 in bills yet unpaid, Olson was instructed to apply to the national foundation for another loan.

Another meeting of the chapter will be held Jan. 5.

12 Missionaries Die While Held As Red Prisoners

ROME (AP)—More than a dozen foreign missionaries died in Communist captivity in North Viet Nam during the Indochinese war, a Roman Catholic news agency reported today.

The Fides agency, which supplies news of Roman Catholic missions, also said that "it is not possible to guess how many Vietnamese priests died in prison."

Eight of these native priests were released after the Geneva armistice, but Fides estimated that about 100 Vietnamese priests still are in jail.

The agency said the foreign missionaries who died in prison included eight Frenchmen, two nuns and two Belgian priests.

The agency said about 100 priests, more than 80 of them Vietnamese, and 19 nuns are remaining in Communist-occupied Hanoi.

In another report from North Viet Nam, Fides said the 7,000 Catholics in the town of Ke Sat, near Haiphong, had taken their church bells and moved to South Viet Nam to found a new town near Bien Hoa. They were reported already building a church duplicating as closely as possible the building they left behind.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Dr. Mahmoud Azmi, head of the Egyptian delegation to the United Nations, was in the midst of making a speech in the Security Council denouncing Israel for its charges that his country had interfered illegally with shipping through the Suez Canal.

He reached for a glass of water, slumped forward suddenly and fell across his desk. Attendees carried the 65-year-old diplomat in his chair to a small conference room adjoining the Council chambers.

The first medical man to reach him was Dr. Moshe Tov, a member of the Israeli delegation, who rushed to his side. But it was too late. He soon came out of the conference room and said that his colleague had died from a heart attack.

Both Abdul Meguid Ramadan, second in command of the Egyptian delegation, and Abba Eban, chief Israeli delegate, expressed their sorrow and expressed their highest regard for him.

On the same day this happened, the English-Speaking Union gave a dinner in honor of Queen Mother Elizabeth. In her address to the large audience, the Queen Mother expressed her happiness over the splendid cooperation of the two nations, the United States and Britain.

"Without good will and understanding," she said, "there can be no harmony or true partnership. And without partnership there can be no peace, no security, no prosperity, no freedom in the world today."

And on the day before these two events took place I had gone to the funeral of my friend George McManus, the creator of Jiggs and Maggie.

I was one of the honorary pallbearers. As we marched up the aisle behind the casket, I saw two bitter enemies, both also honorary pallbearers who had not spoken to each other for years but had said many mean things about each other for the same number of years.

Here they were marching side by side; and after the funeral service I saw them chatting with each other in animated and apparently friendly conversation.

And, wonder of wonders, the two of them rode away together in the same taxicab!

At the dinner to the Queen, Chief Justice, Earl Warren was one of the speakers.

He spoke of the political hurricane that had swept the country the day before, and of all the nasty things the candidates had said about each other.

"But," he added, "you will find that the biennial political storm is over. The atmosphere will be calm and the explosive fulminations of recent weeks will be forgotten—until the next election."

"One hundred and sixty-five million Americans will calmly settle down to work on our problems. Winners and losers, and we are all one or the other, will rub elbows, put their shoulders to the wheel and make our democratic process work for our continued happiness and for the peace and security of the world."

As I was sitting in the church with the casket just before me, I was thinking the same thoughts Justice Warren expressed the following day. I was thinking too of the futility of all those "explosive fulminations" human beings use in their relations with each other.

I was thinking of the brief moment life is, and how foolish it is to waste even the smallest part of that moment in bickering and fighting.

Just then the priest was intoning the Kyrie eleison.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

I wish you could have visited Hollow Tree School when Uncle Wiggily, the Lady Mouse Teacher and all the pupils had a second Halloween celebration. But, as you cannot go, I can tell you a little about it.

As you may kindly remember, Jackie and Peetie Bow Wiggily had found some Halloween suits in a closet in the cellar of the school. The little puppy dog boys were drying out after they had broken through the ice on the pond. Jackie and Peetie put on two Halloween goblin suits and went into the classroom.

They surprised Miss Mouse. They surprised all the pupils. Then Uncle Wiggily exclaimed:

"Let's have some second Halloween fun!"

"That is just what we can do!" squeaked Miss Mouse. "Come, boys and girls! Go down cellar, if you please, and pick out your Halloween suits. Get ready for fun!"

"How did the Halloween suits get in that cellar closet, Miss Mouse?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he was helping the teacher down the cellar stairs.

"Some of the teachers from other schools had a Halloween celebration last month," explained Miss Mouse. "After the fun the teachers left their suits here in Hollow Tree School cellar closet. I had forgotten about them. But I am glad Jackie and Peetie found them. We can now have a second Halloween celebration instead of singing to end the day. What are you going to dress up like Uncle Wiggily?"

"Ah, that is a secret!" whispered Mr. Longears as he twinkled his pink nose. "What are you going to dress up like, Miss Mouse?"

"That, also, is a secret!" answered the teacher. "Ha! Ha!"

"Anyhow, I shall know you when you take off your false face, Miss Mouse," said the rabbit gentleman.

"And I shall know you, Uncle Wiggily! Hurry now, boys and girls!" squeaked the Lady Mouse Teacher. "Put on your Halloween suits and we shall have fun."

Well, as I said before, I wish you could have been there. Uncle Wiggily found the suit and false face of Bounce the Bob cat and when he was fully dressed, the rabbit gentleman was that bad chap.

Miss Mouse put on the suit and false face of Dixie, the little fox boy. Buster, the rabbit scout, found a suit and false face like Gippy the Ferret. And when Buster was all dressed in this Halloween outfit, he was, really, quite fierce looking.

But everyone knew there were no bad chaps in Hollow Tree School when the second Halloween celebration fun started.

Billie Wagtail, the goat, dressed up like Nurse Jane Fuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper. If Miss Fuzzy Wagtail had been at the Halloween party she would have laughed.

So the fun in Hollow Tree School grew more and more funny. Even the blackboards had to laugh, and as for the chalk and erasers, they danced in glee to see how Uncle Wiggily, Miss Mouse and all the pupils were celebrating.

But, off in the woods, something else was happening. In the den of Fixie, the Fox, he, with Bounce the Bob cat and Gippy the Ferret were snarling, nailing and paring. "It was all Dixie's fault," they didn't get in Hollow Tree School and catch Uncle Wiggily!" snarled Bounce.

"It was not my fault!" yapped the fox boy. "I couldn't help it! But maybe we can catch Uncle Wiggily now!"

"What do you mean, Dixie?" asked the daddy fox.

"I just sneaked past the school," answered Dixie. "Some sort of play or fun is going on there. They are making so much noise that they will not hear us sneak in. Come on!"

"Let's go!" howled Bounce the Bob cat.

But when the four bad chaps tried to sneak in the school, they saw what they thought were themselves running about. The bad chaps did not know that what they saw were only Miss Mouse, Uncle Wiggily and the pupils dressed in Halloween suits! So the bad chaps ran away.

They didn't get Uncle Wiggily. And the rabbit gentleman said: "Tomorrow I shall have a very jolly Thanksgiving! I must tell Nurse Jane all about it!"

You shall hear more about Uncle Wiggily's Thanksgiving in the next story if the bottle of milk will freeze so the cup of coffee can go skating on it with the lump of sugar.

Refugees Threaten To Stone Diplomat

TRIESTE (AP)—Police saved a Bulgarian diplomat from a stoning yesterday when he visited a refugee camp in a vain effort to talk political refugees into returning to Communist-ruled Bulgaria.

At word of the visit by Jordan Ivanov, Bulgarian consul general in Milan, scores of the camp inmates at San Sabura, near Trieste, armed themselves with rocks and lined the highway outside the camp. Police forced them back into the camp. Three Bulgarians finally were chosen to represent the others in a talk with Ivanov, but the conference broke up when the spokesmen began calling the diplomat names.

STRIKES and SPARES

By MARGARET HITTNER

Many of the Winona girls who bowled in the State Tournament at St. Cloud Nov. 13-14 placed in the money, but until the end of the tournament there will be no definite standings. We will list winners when the prize list is announced.

The St. Cloud Woman's Bowling Association really rolled out the red carpet for the convention weekend.

During the breakfast we were entertained with a style show put on by the bowlers. Our own Catherine Lindley, 1st-of-arms of the state board, pinned corsages on the winning junior team. Duluth will have the tournament next year.

Several of the girls placed in the tournament held recently in La Crosse—Winnie Tanberg sixth—704—522; Florence Loeading eighth—749—517; Gertrude Suchomel tenth—738—513.50; Vera Hegg 27th—709—54.75; and Irene Gostomski 36th—695—54.50.

We visited with Gus Young, the dapper gentleman who represents the Brunswick Co. He told of his classes for beginner bowlers at the University of Minnesota 25 years ago. His first classes were at 8 a.m. and the girls didn't shoot at any wood for a couple of weeks.

He spent the first part of the lessons concentrating on their steps and delivery at the foul line.

His advice was to release the ball with our palm upward as if to slap the pins. Now if he could come back again and tell us where to put the ball down to clean up the splits some of our troubles would be solved.

This week Wally Wenzel receives congratulations for the 674 series he rolled last week in the Retail League at the Hal-Rod Lanes. Wally bowls with the MVPS team on Wednesday nights, and this year he is bowling only once a week. He put together 176-244-254 for his high series. He has been bowling about 12 years. Last year he rolled a 650 series. This year the scores are climbing faster than they did last season. Bill Gates with his 679 series last season, held the topers' spot until the last night of the season when Ted Mahike rolled his 713 series.

Some of the men are beginning to collect folding money for high games at the Hal-Rod Lanes. Vince Suchomel with his 258 game on 5-6 alleys and Lawrence Eskelson with his 256 on 7-8 alleys.

Several times while checking the score sheets we noticed that some secretaries use only the first initial of a bowler's name. We would like to give everyone credit. It will help if the first name is written in full.

SPLITS TO SPARE

Two almost-impossible splits were cleaned recently. John Grams converted the 7-10 split and Alfreda Fuglie cleaned the 4-6-7-10. Congratulations to both of you.

There have been a few other conversions that we know were just as important to the keggers who picked them up—Irene Tarras 5-10, Pat Smith 5-8-10, Betty Schneider 5-7, Florence Rivers 3-7, 6-7, Lou Morken 2-10, Helen Gora 6-7, 3-7, Maribeth Schaefer 5-7, Esther Kalm 5-7-10, Pat Foster 6-7, Dorothy Eichman 6-7, Marge Kasimor 4-7-10, Vida McLaughlin 4-7-9, Eleanor Loshek 5-7, and Janet Sill the 6-7. Is John Grams the only man who can clean up a split?

Turkey Day Games on Tap Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generous portions of college and professional sports will be available tomorrow for Thanksgiving Day fans who plan to take time out from their turkey.

Traditional football games dot the college football map, headed by the first meeting between Cornell and Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Two football television attractions are scheduled. Missouri and Maryland meet at College Park, Md.

At Detroit, the Lions hope to advance another notch toward a third straight National Football League title at the expense of the Green Bay Packers.

There is horse racing, plus a full schedule of National Hockey League games, and four games in the National Basketball Assn.

Cornell can share the Ivy League championship with Yale by defeating Penn, and the Big Red will be favored to do just that.

Other games with Thanksgiving tradition include Colgate at Brown; Virginia Tech and Virginia Military at Roanoke, Va.; and Utah State and Utah at Salt Lake City.

Texas A&M plays at Texas, Dayton at Chattanooga, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Colorado A&M at Denver, William and Mary at Richmond, Wichita at Tulsa, Newberry at Presbyterian, San Francisco State at Fresno State, West Texas State at Texas Western and Sul Ross State at East Texas State.

In other games, the New Orleans Fair Grounds opens for its 82nd season with the Thanksgiving Handicap. The horses also are running at Bowie, with the Endurance Gold Cup and at Golden Gate Fields in California and Rhode Island's Narragansett Park.

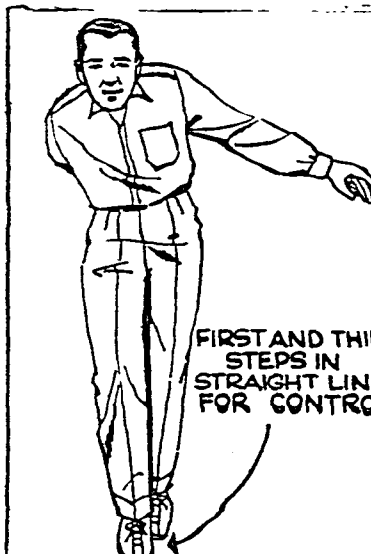

Two football bowl games bring together Appalachian (N.C.) and East Tennessee in the Burley Bowl at Johnson City, Tenn., and Hastings (Kan.) and College of Emporia (Kan.) in the Mineral Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

The four-day Boys Junior and Senior Indoor National Tennis Championships open at St. Louis.

In the NBA, Boston plays at Philadelphia, Milwaukee at Syracuse, Baltimore at Fort Wayne and Rochester at Minneapolis.

The NHL games are Montreal at Chicago, Toronto at Detroit and New York at Boston.

UNVARYING FOOTWORK

Shadow bowling, as I practiced it, wasn't fun. That I admit. Sliding to the foul line and delivering an imaginary ball was, in fact, kind of ludicrous to me. That was, however, because I, as an ambitious pupil, didn't realize the value of shadow work as given by former world match king Jimmy Smith. I did it for days, for weeks, until the old master finally handed me a ball and let me fire away. My slide finish at the line had become so accurate, so exact, that my left foot fitted perfectly into a chalk outline Smith drew, and I immediately had a free, easy delivery with good control.

There was one point Smith emphasized particularly: I had to stride in a straight line, so that my foot, on the third step, was dead center, as sketch shows. My footwork had to be unvarying. "Your bowling can be only as good as your footwork," Smith used to say. How true that is. Try shadow bowling. I know it will help a lot. For more tips on footwork, write to this newspaper for my free leaflet, "Three Essentials of Bowling." Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

One more thing. Note in the sketch that the left arm is fully extended. Develop this movement. It's the key to body balance.

Winhawks, Ramblers Win Thrillers From La Crosse Teams

Winona High Tops Logan in Overtime

By BOB ZIEBEL
Daily News Staff Writer

The Winona High Winhawks treated their fans to a real thriller in their home debut when they defeated La Crosse Logan 49-47 in overtime at the Senior High Auditorium Tuesday night. The regular game ended at 43-43.

The Winhawks led all the way, and were never headed until Howie Latschaw of Logan made it 42-41. After Chuck Horton made a free throw the pressure was on, but the Hawks were equal to the occasion and Jack Nankivil tied the score at 43-43 with only 10 seconds remaining.

Bill Heise started scoring for the Winhawks in the overtime period with two free throws, but Logan came back with a field goal to tie it up. Heise made another free throw and the score was 46-45 when Horton scored a fielder to give Logan the lead at 47-46.

Chuck Wally tied the game up with a free throw and the Winhawks stole the ball to take possession with a minute left.

They stalled, waiting for the last shot, and missed it, but the ball was knocked out of bounds by a Logan player.

The Winhawks set up an out-of-bounds play as Earl Buswell came around the left side and dropped the ball in for the winning score.

The Winhawks opened fast with a 16-9 first quarter lead. At one point in the period they were out in front 8-2, but that lead seemed to disappear as did most of the Hawk leads throughout the game. After Logan brought the score to 8-7, however, the Winonans again jumped ahead.

As close as Logan could come in the second quarter was a three point deficit at 20-17 score. The half with a 26-19 lead.

The Winhawks took a 10-point lead at the outset of the fourth quarter when Buswell, Heise, and Hostettler hit consecutive field goals to make the score 40-30.

Hostettler hit a free throw to make it 41-32 after Lubinsky's field goal but in a little over two minutes, the score stood at 41-40. Horton hit two field goals inside of ten seconds in that rally. Then Horton again scored, and Nankivil tied it up to put the game in overtime.

Coach Don Snyder expressed disappointment in the offense of the Winhawks.

"The improvement which should be noticed from game to game was not there."

He was pleased, however, with the defensive play of center Bill Heise who held high-scoring Howie Latschaw to only two field goals for the game. He ended by saying, "We'll shoot free throws all next week." The Winhawks made only 11 out of 26 attempts from the free line, while Logan was dumping in 23 out of 29.

Badgers Vote Alan Ameche Most Valuable

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — For the second straight year Alan (The Horse) Ameche is the choice of his football teammates as the University of Wisconsin most valuable player.

Selection of the Kenosha fullback, who bettered a pair of NCAA four-year rushing records this season by accumulating 3,212 yards in 673 carries, was announced at the annual UW football banquet Tuesday night.

Sharing the spotlight was Wells O. Gray, 216-pound tackle from Lorain, Ohio, named captain of the 1955 Badger squad. Gray, a junior varsity performer in 1953, won the right tackle spot early this year and held it throughout the season. He is 20 years old.

Singled out for special praise was Ameche who has ended a brilliant four-year career. He took his place at the banquet with other famous Wisconsin fullbacks, Ed Jankowski, Howie Weiss, George Packyan, Pat Harder and J. M. Hammond.

Badger Coach Ivy Williamson announced that 23 of his players had won major "W" awards this past season in which the Wisconsin eleven won five of seven Big Ten games to finish in a tie for second place.

The letter winners include the following: Ameche, Norm Anderson, Chicago; Marty Boeber, Strubers, Ohio; Gary Bratt, Milwaukee; John Dittich, Cudahy; Bob Ingrass, Iron Mountain, Mich.; Gray, Jim Haluska, Racine; Dave Howard, Mondovi; Bob Konovsky, Cicero, Ill.; Pat Levenhagen, West Allis; Ron Locklin, Appleton; Billy Lowe, Eau Claire; Bill McNamara, Rockford, Ill.; Capt. Gary Messner, Madison; Jim Miller, Eau Claire; Jim Reinke, Appleton; Paul Shwaiko, Kenosha; Gary Stensby, Elmwood Park, Ill.; Jim Temp, La Crosse; Charles Thomas, Evanston, Ill.; Don Ursin, Chicago, and Glen Wilson, Milwaukee.

In addition, Athletic Director Guy Sundt announced cross country major letter winners as follows: Jon Dalton, Manitowish; Larry Barrett, Waukegan, Ill.; Tom Monsford, Springfield, S.D.; Dean Sultze, Janesville, and Bruno Mauer, Wauwatosa.

Season of Upsets May See More

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP) — Saying farewell to the 1954 college football season without too much regret. It was a season of upsets. Perhaps the cock-eyed season can best be described by pointing out that four teams qualified for three different New Year's Day bowls last Saturday.

The quarter won only three games on the college Saturday and the bowlers scored 34 points while having 103 scored against them. Of the 43 games picked last week this corner was correct on 36 and wrong on 7. That's an average of .837. The season's figures are: 344-131 for .724.

The final merry-go-round. Army over Navy: This could be the best service game since the fabulous 21-21 tie of 1926. Both teams have competent players at all posts but Army appears to have the better quarterback in Pete Vann, and that could be the difference. It is your Saturday TV morsel.

Notre Dame over Southern California: The Irish, who seem to be getting better and better each week, are playing at home. Another Saturday attraction.

Baylor over Rice: The Baylor line will keep Dick Moegle in check and the Arkansas for the Southwest Conference title. It will be played Saturday.

Texas over Texas A&M: Texas has the more talent for this annual Thanksgiving Day feature.

Cornell over Pennsylvania: Thursday marks the close of Penn's first winless season since the days of Ben Franklin.

Nebraska over Hawaii: A Friday night contest in Honolulu. The others without comment: THURSDAY

Colgate over Brown, Denver over Colorado A&M, Maryland over Missouri, Richmond over William & Mary, Wichita over Tulsa, Utah over Utah State, Virginia Tech over Virginia Military.

SATURDAY
EAST: Boston College over Holy Cross, Fordham over Villanova.

SOUTH: Duke over North Carolina, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Auburn over Alabama, Clemson over the Citadel, Miami over Florida, Georgia Tech over Georgia, West Virginia over Virginia, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Tennessee over Vanderbilt, Louisiana State over Tulane.

SOUTHWEST: Oklahoma over Oklahoma A&M, Arkansas over Houston, Texas Tech over Hardin Simmons, Southern Methodist over Texas Christian.

FAR WEST: Wyoming over Arizona, San Jose over New Mexico.

Some Baseball Men Thankful

NEW YORK (AP) — Why baseball men are thankful this Thanksgiving:

Casey Stengel, Yankees' manager — For Baltimore acquisitions Bullet Bob Turley and Don Larsen, who along with Whitey Ford and Bob Grim, give him the nucleus of a fine pitching staff in which to try and regain the American League championship.

Willie Mays, New York Giants' — For the guy who told him to quit swinging for home runs and concentrate on winning the National League batting championship which he did with a .345 average.

Kansas City fans — For Arnold Johnson, whose perseverance and persistency paid off in moving the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City.

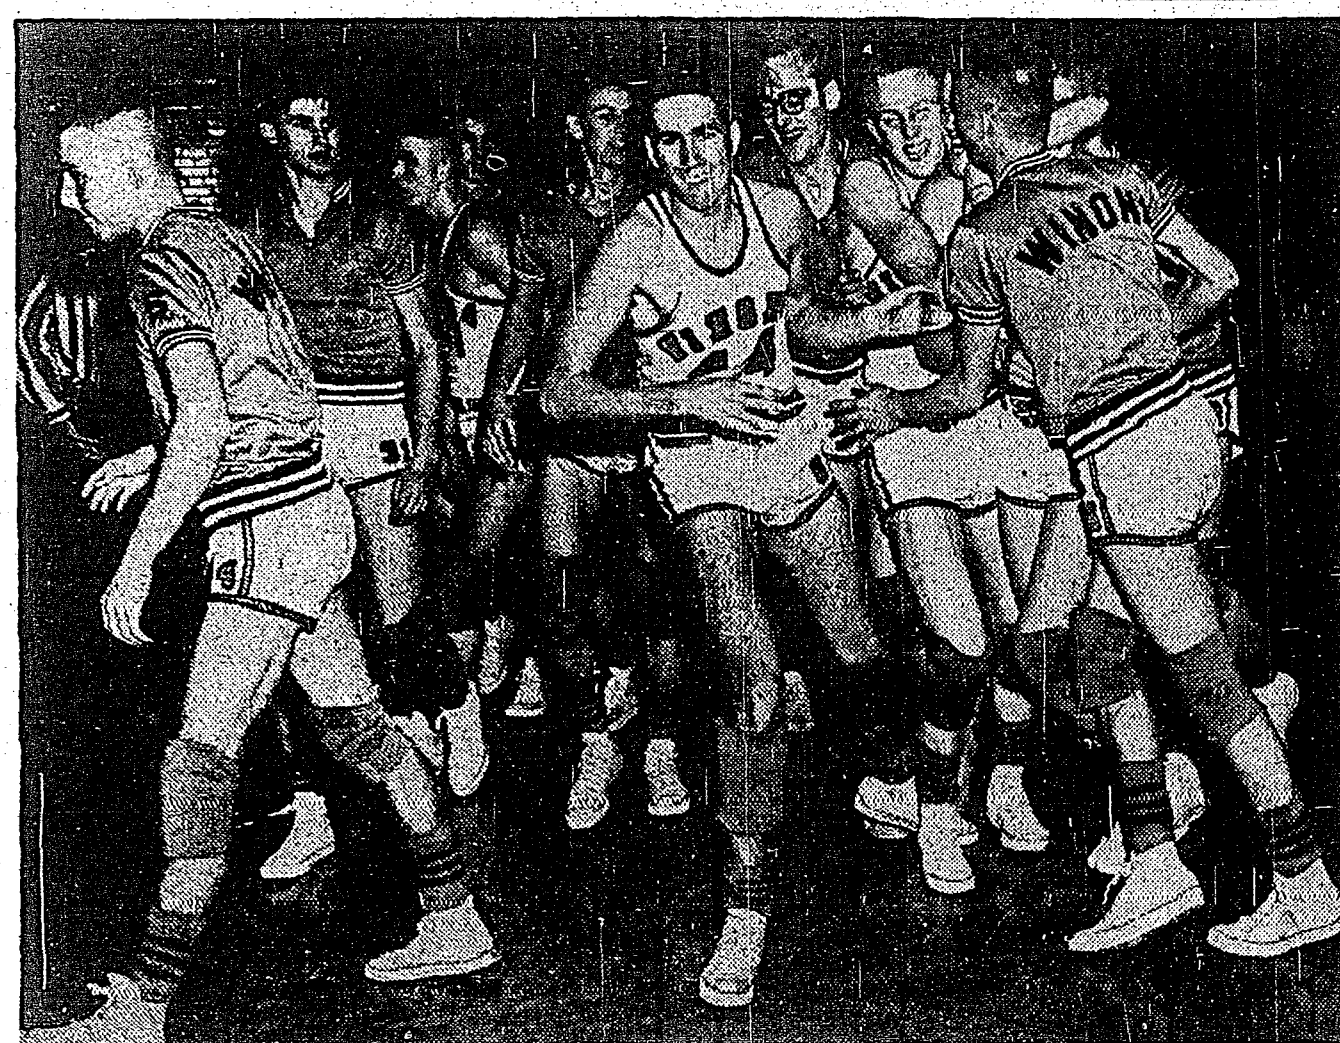

Eddie Joost, former A's manager — For getting rid of a headache.

Lou Perini, Braves' prey — For the enthusiastic Milwaukee fans, who, for the second straight season, broke the National League's attendance record.

Leo Durocher, Giants' manager — For Lou Perini and his associates, who so magnanimously sent pitcher Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle the way last winter.

Charlie Dressen, Senators — For Clark Griffith, who will give Chuck a chance to prove he's a better manager than a letter-writer.

The Baltimore club — For Vern

PLAINVIEW, EYOTA, 'STEW'S' TOUGH

Opposing Coaches Unanimously Label St. Charles Favorite in Whitewater

Opposing coaches pointed a unanimous finger at Jim Tews and his St. Charles Saints as the team to beat in the 1954-55 Whitewater Conference basketball race.

St. Charles isn't expected to fight it out alone for the crown, however, since Plainview received nearly as much support, while Stewartville and Eyota also were well-liked by several coaches. The six Whitewater Conference coaches and their views on the race:

Jerry Eckstein, Plainview—"The Whitewater Conference will be stronger this year with several teams having a chance for the championship."

"However, St. Charles, with a veteran ball club, must be rated as favorites. We lost our high scorer, Jerry Seeman, who is attending Winona State."

Marian Kirkoby, Lewiston—"Plainview and St. Charles look good in the conference on the basis of last year's performances."

Burt Eppen, Stewartville—"Strong in the conference this year is St. Charles' Darkhorse — Plainview."

Wallace Carlson, Eyota—"St. Charles . . . Plainview . . . Stewartville. All tough."

Arnie Schwiager, Wabasha—"I look for Plainview, St. Charles and Stewartville to fight it out for the conference championship."

Jim Tews, St. Charles coach who also directed that school to a share of the Whitewater football crown, deferred mentioning his team as a title favorite.

He writes: "We don't have the big boy, in fact our squad as a whole is fairly small. We do seem to have fair speed and ball handling."

"Opponents who the boys around here say will be tough are Eyota and Plainview. I wouldn't know as this is my first year here."

Eyota won the title last year with a 10 record and St. Charles, 7-3, was second. Following were Plainview 6-4, Wabasha 4-6, Lewiston 3-7, and Stewartville 0-10.

ALSTON TO PILOT Brooks in 1955

BROOKLYN (AP) — Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said today that Walter Alston will be retained as Dodger manager for 1955 under a one-year contract.

O'Malley did not divulge the terms but said "I'm sure the terms will be satisfactory."

It will be the second year as Dodger manager for Alston, who was brought up from Brooklyn's Montreal farm club last season as successor to Chuck Dressen.

Stephens, who led the team with a colossal total of eight homers, thereby tying the Orioles' all-time mark set by Jim Williams in 1902.

Eddie Yost, Senators—For being kept in the lineup late last season for one better following a head injury, thereby preserving his consecutive games played mark at 800-plus. All he has to do is play nine more full seasons to break Lou Gehrig's record of 2,130 games.

Al Lopez, Indians — For Herb Score, the American Association's strikeout sensation, who they claim will more than make up for the Yankees' snatching of Turley and Larsen.

Dusty Rhodes, Giants—For Bob Lemon, off whom he hit the climactic 10th inning home run in the first game of the World Series to start his phenomenal chain of timely pinch-hits.

San Francisco and Los Angeles—The identified and unidentified Major League moguls, who predict big league ball for the coast in '55 years.

Cotter Opens With Squeaker Over Aquinas

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

Coach Johnny Nett's Cotter High Ramblers, pressed to the ultimate by La Crosse Aquinas, opened their season with a 60-59 victory Tuesday night at the Catholic Rec.

The Ramblers sparked at times and gave every indication in their debut of having a fine team this season.

Cotter trailed through the first quarter but went ahead 21-20 early in the second frame and held varying advantages until the final whistle.

The Ramblers led by nine points on several different occasions, their last such spread being 53-44 midway through the final period.

Aquinas launched its rally, however, and pulled within two points at 58-56.

Cotter center, Ken Plein, then broke the length of the floor to make it 60-56 with a minute to go. Aquinas' Jim Schmidt hit a free throw and Dick Weisbecker scored from the side to close the gap to 60-59 but Cotter ran out the clock on a pair of jump balls to claim the victory.

The Ramblers committed some mechanical mistakes which was to be expected in the first game. But the aggressiveness of stringbean center Plein who tallied 21 points was encouraging.

Rebounding by both Jim Danielson and Plein was a big factor for Cotter, while the play of hard-driving guard Dave Skemp, who tallied 19 points and turned in a spectacular floor game, also helped.

Danielson with 10 points was the third Rambler to hit double figures. He and Plein worked well together under the boards and Danielson set the lanky pivot-man up for shots several times with nifty hook passes.

Cotter had a height advantage over Aquinas and made good use of it on the boards. Nett also had Jim Small and Dave Prodzinski up front at times and always kept two big men there. Rich Brown, a smaller front-lineer, made five of seven free throws and had seven points.

Aquinas' Schmidt paced his team with 17 points including seven in the last quarter. Forward Weisbecker and guard Tom Larkin both added 13.

The Rambler Bees lost the overtime prelin, 39-37.

Next game for the Ramblers is Monday night at the Catholic Rec against Campion Academy of Prairie du Chien, Wis.

Carroll Hardy Back of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Carroll Hardy, the battering tailback of the University of Colorado, probably would be greeted like the public hangerman if he put in an appearance at Manhattan, Kan., and as a result he was selected today as the Associated Press Back of the Week.

A real triple-threat, Hardy was the main instrument in knocking Kansas State from a chance to play in the Orange Bowl. His Buffaloes whipped K-State last Saturday 34-14 and Hardy did the following:

1. Scored three touchdowns.
2. Carried 10 times for 238 yards, better than his three-season average of 6.1.

3. Kicked one extra point.
4. Got off runs of 79 and 36 yards for two of his scores and 49 yards, which set up his third.

Had Kansas State turned back Colorado, the Wildcates would have tied with Nebraska for second place in the Big Seven behind Oklahoma. Since they beat the Cornhuskers earlier in the season, they would have gotten the Orange Bowl not because Oklahoma was ineligible, having played last Jan. 1.

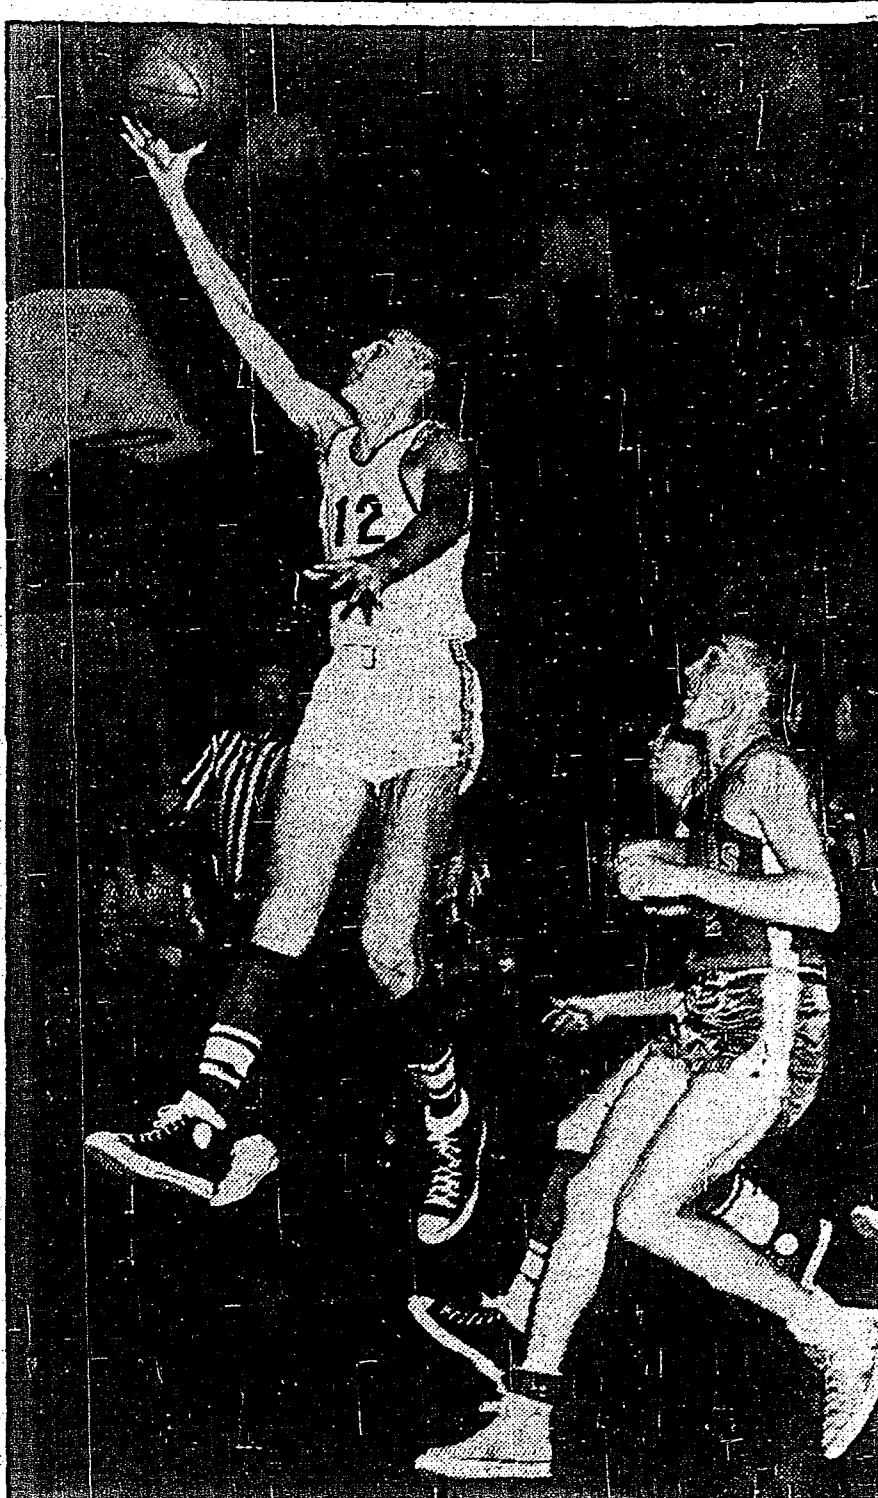

But Hardy gave his opposition something to remember him by in his final college game.

Jerry Barger of Duke and Del Shofner of Baylor ran Hardy a close second in the balloting.

Outscored 44 points to 30 from the field, the Teachers Conference co-champs plunked in 32 of 44 free throw attempts.

St. Thomas veterans Lou Shears, Ted Hall and Bill Rogan nursed four fouls in the second half and fifth. The Toms were charged with 24 fouls, Mankato 9.

Duane Mettler's 18 points topped a balanced Mankato offense which put five men in double figures. Rogan pitched in 17 and Jerry Conroy 15 for the Tommies. Mankato led 34-26 at halftime but had troubles down the stretch.

UP IN THE AIR . . . Cotter's Ken Plein (12) leaps high in the air on a layup for two points during the Cotter-Aquinas game Tuesday night at the Catholic Rec. Plein hit 21 points and scored the winning bucket as the Ramblers opened with a 60-59 victory. (Daily News Sports photo)

St. Paul Rejects Bloomington Site

ST. PAUL (AP) — St. Paul's stadium committee today rejected a Minneapolis invitation to join in construction of a proposed major league baseball park in the Minneapolis suburb of Bloomington.

In announcing its decision, the St. Paul committee made it clear that its own efforts to attract big league baseball to the Twin Cities would concentrate on building of a stadium on Snelling Ave. in St. Paul.

St. Paul's refusal to throw its support behind the Bloomington site came in a letter from Walter G. Seeger, chairman of the St. Paul committee, to Lyman E. Wakefield Jr., president of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce.

Wakefield last week invited St. Paul to nominate members to the metropolitan sports area commission, which would supervise the Bloomington stadium.

Seeger said the Snelling Ave. stadium, which would be financed by a bond issue already approved, would be intended initially for use by the St. Paul and possibly Minneapolis entry in the American Association.

But, he said, the park's 12,500 seating capacity could be quickly expanded to accommodate a major league team.

The two million dollar bond issue, he said, "cannot be spent in Bloomington, Minn." Seeger suggested to Wakefield that the revenue bond plan of financing the Bloomington venture would not work, adding:

"Based upon my personal experience in organized baseball and from conversations that we have had with major league baseball owners, it is our considered opinion that a revenue bond issue such as is being proposed by your group would be financially unsound."

"Professional major league baseball clubs will not pay the rental required to liquidate such a bond issue . . . Your revenue bond plan will not serve. Default on the bonds

DENNIS THE MENACE

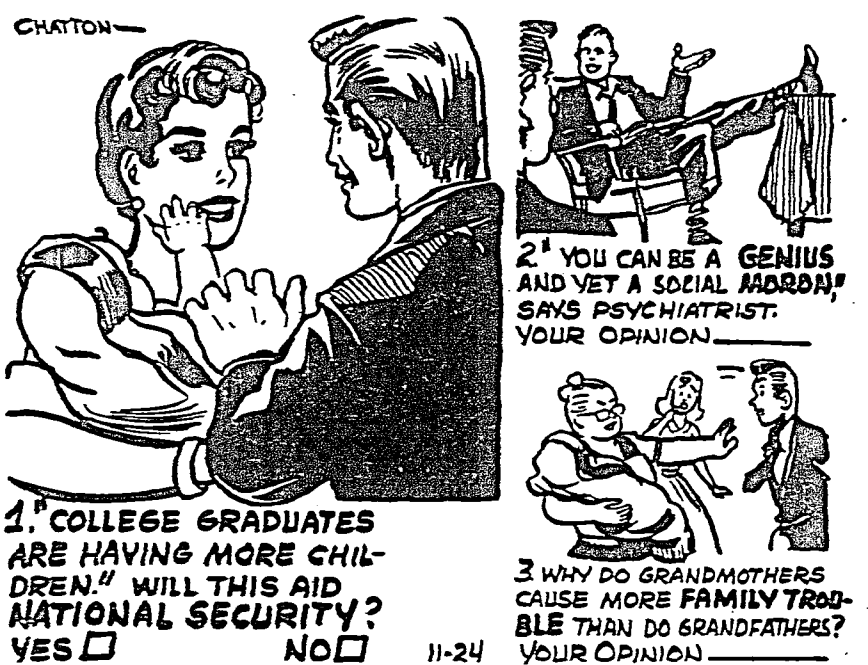

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.S.C.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Yes. Robert C. Cook, Director, Population Reference Bureau, shows that 1944 married graduates have already averaged more children than 1921 graduates averaged in 25 years after graduation. Since a high percentage of these children will be college graduates, and about 90 per cent of our leaders are college grads, it promises well for national security.

Answer to Question No. 2
1. Intelligence alone doesn't make you a grown-up, mature, socially adaptable person. This requires personality development. Our booklet, "How To Be an Emotional Grow-up," with test will quickly show you how poised and mature you are—or can be. Non-profit, 15¢ (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 3
1. W. Carlson Smith in his fine book, "The Stepchild," says grandmothers make trouble more often because they have reared their children and just can't help "itching" to "rescue" grandchildren from the "sad mis-management" of their parents. It also makes Grandma feel younger and more useful. Grandfather is glad to be let alone.

THE GRAB BAG

THE ANSWER, QUICK!
1. What two fictional characters were awakened from long sleeps by a lover's kiss?
2. What is the next line after, "That men may rise on stepping stones"? Who wrote them?
3. What famous Roman lived between 43 B.C. and 17 A.D., and wrote "The Art of Love"?
4. Who was the greatest athlete of Greek mythology?
5. Who was Franz Liszt's daughter?

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?
1. The Sleeping Beauty and Brunnhilde.
2. "Of their dead selves to higher things," by Alfred Lord Tennyson in "In Memoriam."
3. Ovid — Publius Ovidius Naso.
4. Hercules.
5. Cosima Wagner — Frau Richard Wagner.

Having the bridge-crowd for lunch? Then serve avocado halves filled with shrimp. To serve 12, you'll need six avocados and three pounds of shrimp. Marinate the cooked and cleaned shrimp in a tangy French dressing; just before serving drain lightly and arrange shrimp in the cavities of the avocado halves. Top with a little mayonnaise and garnish as desired. Sliced hard-cooked egg and capers make a pretty garnish; so do small radish roses.
