TEACHERS' COLLEGE BILL FAVORED, MAY HOLD HOUSE DELAY

Said to Have Clear Field in

A public hearing before the house committee on the bill last week, gave representatives of the normal schools opportunity to say why the bill was needed. The representatives of these institutions in Winona, Hastings and Rochester, were all in favor of the bill. After a number of questions, counsel was permitted to address the committee and, by a vote of 14, the bill was ordered for the second reading. However, it must be noted that the bill was referred to the education committee and the danger that conditions prevailing will prevent the coming of a final vote. Representative Walthall has taken a special interest in the bill and has been requested by the normal school superintendents to take the main responsibility for it.

K. G. Girls To Hold Annual Apeon Ball

On Friday At Four

The Kindergarten Girls will have an inaugural dance at 4:30 in the Kindergarten rooms on the second floor Friday, April 1. The time is to be on or before the hour to get full benefit of the evening. There are so many kinds of lights and artificial light effects to be had today that it is easy to see why. The supplanter of the oldfashioned electric lamps will be the new electric lamp as it is so much brighter and cooler. There are various kinds of lights to be had for a cost of only a few cents per hour. If you remember the other arrangements and the way you want them to work, you won't want to be hurried.

Senior Play This Year

Given byFormerChosen

The Little Wonder, a burlesque, chosen by the seniors for their annual play, was given by a large company of students, with much success. It will be a real treat for those who will have the pleasure of seeing this play. If you remember the other arrangements and the way you want them to work, you won't want to be hurried.

Farm Bureau Department

Farm Bureau News from the Headquarters of The American Farmers Federation

NORTHERN FARM

The County Agent Calls

The wheat and oats are starting to ripen, and the county agent is again making his rounds, checking on the growth of the crops. He is also keeping an eye on the weather, as it can have a big impact on the harvest.

The agent reminds farmers to keep an eye on the crop conditions and to be prepared for any changes that might come. He also encourages farmers to take advantage of the resources available to them, such as the Extension Service and other government programs.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

The county agent also checks on the fruit and vegetable crops. He notes that the apple trees are blooming and that the blueberry bushes are starting to produce berries. He reminds farmers to keep an eye on the pests and to use natural methods to control them.

The agent also reminds farmers to plant cover crops to improve soil health and to reduce erosion. He notes that cover crops can also be a source of income for farmers.

LIVESTOCK

The agent also checks on the livestock. He notes that the cattle are gaining weight and that the sheep and goats are looking healthy. He reminds farmers to keep an eye on the market prices and to plan accordingly.

The agent also encourages farmers to diversify their crops and to use sustainable farming practices. He notes that this can help to reduce the risk of disease and to increase productivity.

FARM MANAGEMENT

The county agent also checks on the farm management. He notes that the farms are looking good and that the farmers are doing a good job. He reminds farmers to keep an eye on the costs and to plan for the future.

The agent also notes that the farmers are successfully using new technologies, such as GPS and drone technology, to improve their operations.

The agent also encourages farmers to network with other farmers and to share their knowledge and experiences. He notes that this can help to improve the overall productivity of the region.
