Senate Drops Charge on Zwicker

Serious Setback in Pope's Condition

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII has had a serious collapse but is conscious and for the moment his condition is not alarming, his physician reported tonight.

Goodfellows Only Medium To Help Many

EXTENSIVE relief work is carried on weekly by both the Winona County Welfare Board and the Winona County Poor Relief Department.

The city Poor Department provides for emergency assistance—shelter, fuel, food and medical and hospital care, but the department is unable to provide clothing for the needy, except to pass on used articles it receives.

Many of the children must have Goodfellows aid in the cold winter ahead. They are from families termed "borderline" cases. In these homes, the father's paycheck cannot stretch beyond buying fuel and food and paying the rent.

The Winona County Welfare Board's relief programs extend aid to children derived from parental support, but it does not aid these "borderline" cases. If the father is working, the family does not meet the requirements for county aid as set forth by law. Thus, it's up to the Goodfellows.

One of the principal causes of family hardship is sickness. The family gets along until the father gets ill and can't work. Or some other member of the family is ill and doctor bills eat up all their money. Here, again, it is the Goodfellows who must aid these needy children of Winona. Mail or bring your contribution to the Goodfellows in care of The Daily News. It will be spent wisely and will be greatly appreciated.

CHICAGO (AP)—The grand champion steer of the 55th International Live Stock Exposition today was sold at auction for $15 a pound, second highest price ever paid at the show.

The Aberdeen - Angus steer, "Shorty," weighed 1,110 pounds after the sale. That meant its owner, 16-year-old Janice Hullinger of Manly, Iowa, receives $16,650 in sale money in addition to the cash the steer won in competition.

"Shorty" gained 30 pounds since winning the show's top award Tuesday.

Senators Hail New Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NH) today hailed the new security pact between the United States and Nationalist China as a "warning to the Chinese Communists" that the United States "means business."

Smith and some other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said too that the newly announced pact would lessen, not increase, any chance for hostilities with Red China—either as a result of the Communist action against offshore islands near Formosa or because of the imprisonment of Americans on spying charges.

He said the Pope was "fully lucid." The head of the Roman Catholic Church, beset by a recurrence of the hiccupping and a digestive ailment that weakened him gravely last winter, took a sudden turn for the worse today.

A Vatican source said he was in a state of "acute depression." Then the spokesman for the Vatican press office announced the "serious collapse."

Physicians were at his bedside. The Pope's private physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, who looked worn and tired this morning after a night-long vigil in the papal apartment, returned to the bedside.

The atmosphere here was one of alarm. All Vatican dignitaries were in the Pontiff's apartment and waiting anxiously for news outside his bedchamber. The Pope's family also was on hand.

The Vatican spokesman quoted a cardinal as saying earlier today: "If the Pope suffers collapse, that could mean the end."

The reference to "acute depression," according to Italian usage, could indicate both a mental and physical setback.

The collapse was reported to have come at 4 p.m. (9 a.m. CST). Unable to take food by mouth since Saturday, the Pope was extremely weak.

The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church has been confined to his bed here since his return from Castel Gandolfo Saturday.

The news of his sudden turn for the worse came from the Vatican. The Pontiff has been suffering from a stomach ailment and hiccupping that have made it difficult for him to sleep.

He has not been able to take any food by mouth since Saturday. Such nourishment as the Pontiff has been able to take he has received indirectly.

Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi has spent every night this week at his bedside or in a room adjoining the Pope's chamber.

New Evidence

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP)—City Prosecutor Edward C. Kalkowski recommended to the judge that a speeding charge against Werner Bacharach be dropped. Judge Harry Ginsburg agreed. The prosecutor had explained that Bacharach was speeding home because he was anxious to get his first look at his just-born twin sons.

President Eisenhower gets an ovation before beginning an address to the Conference of Mayors in Washington today. The President told the gathering of mayors and city managers that modern weapons which "appall the imagination" now make cities a front-line target. Mayors Warned 100 Big Cities Can Be Bombed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's mayors were told by the Continental Air Defense commander today that the outbreak of a global war could mean "100 pinpointed minutes of atomic hell on earth" for a hundred big American cities.

Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw posed this frightening possibility, saying it is the United States which stands "the most likely chance of aerial blow" before Russia strikes anywhere else in starting a full scale war.

Chidlaw's remarks were prepared for the more than 200 mayors and city managers from the 48 states and territories gathered for briefings on the nation's foreign and defense policies.

President Eisenhower, who issued the invitations for the two-day series of meetings, arranged to greet the group with an informal speech.

His talk was scheduled for 9:50 a.m. EST.

Aside from the President's talk, the sessions were scheduled to take place behind closed doors, although some speeches such as Chidlaw's are being made public. After each speech the meeting was to switch to questions and discussion.

The Mayors' Conference is the second of its kind. Last year's conference developed a sharp dispute among the mayors and government leaders over the role the federal government should play in civil defense in an atomic emergency. Eisenhower told that meeting that the cities should shoulder the main burden.

Meanwhile, the National Security Council, which last year's conference asked to review the civil defense subject, and the Federal Civil Defense Administration have made what FCDA officials describe as "much progress" in working out plans. The FCDA is now stressing evacuation measures.

Dulles said if the Senate wanted such extensions made subject to ratification, that could be worked out.

China Told Formosa Must Not Be Attacked

Mutual Security Pact Between U.S., Chiang Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—Red China had blunt warning today that the United States would probably attack the Chinese mainland if the Reds attempted to conquer Formosa.

Secretary of State Dulles made this statement yesterday in announcing that a mutual security pact will be signed with the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa in the next few days.

He said the treaty means U.S. retaliation against any Red invasion of Formosa. Although saying a counterattack on the mainland was probable in such an event, he declined to discuss in detail the scope of any retaliation.

In another statement at his press conference yesterday, adding up to a "tough" policy on Communist China, Dulles said that the United States may yet consider a naval blockade for the China coast if American rights are not respected. That is, if the 13 Americans recently sentenced as spies are not released.

The new pact, if ratified by the Senate as expected, will assure American protection for many years to Formosa and the Pescadores Islands, thus forging the last link in a chain of military alliances designed to block Red Chinese expansion in the Pacific.

The islands have been shielded by the U.S. 7th Fleet since the beginning of the Korean War in June 1950. Under the treaty the shielding may go on for years more.

The treaty is expected to go to the Senate early next year for ratification. Several members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated today a favorable reaction to the pact.

South Korea, Japan, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and parts of Southeast Asia already are covered by similar treaties.

The Eisenhower administration, while taking a strong policy line in the Far East, is reported hoping that gradually a modus vivendi—a way of getting along—will be found without warlike actions. The treaty with Chiang Kai-shek, Dulles made clear, is supposed to contribute to that purpose.

As for Chiang's freedom to attack the mainland, Dulles said he expects an arrangement to be worked out under which Chiang would consult with this country on such action. This could be considered a sort of Washington-held rein on Chiang.

In London, the British Foreign Office said the Churchill government had not been consulted on the new pact but had been assured it "is purely defensive."

The guarantee of American protection does not cover the numerous Nationalist-held islands close to the Chinese Communist coast which range from 90 to 200 miles distant from Formosa.

Dulles said there is a clause in the new treaty which provides for extending protection to other areas by agreement.

An agreement could be made, for example, to include some of the offshore islands if that seemed necessary. Or the treaty could be extended by agreement to cover some of the Chinese mainland if Chiang regained control over some of it.

Lost Eastern Plane Found, 5 Survivors

MILAN, N. H. (AP)—The wreckage of a Northeast Airlines plane missing for two days was found atop Mt. Success today. Two of its seven occupants were dead and the others injured or suffering from intense cold.

NEA officials identified the dead as: Co-pilot George D. McCormick, 37, of Kingston, N. Y., and John McNulty, 39, of Boston, flight superintendent.

A helicopter flew to the wreckage in the wilderness atop the 3,700-foot mountain about eight miles south of here, and began removing the injured.

The tragedy ended Northeast's almost unique record of having no passenger fatality in its 21 years in business.

First reports said two persons waved from the cabin. Later a third person was seen near the wreckage. After a helicopter was flown in, two others were reported alive.

The wrecked plane was discovered by A. M. Bountis of Manchester, N. H., a pilot for Trans-Ocean Airlines who was among the searchers. Bountis said two persons were seen waving from the cabin.

Korean Vet Kills Self Over Dancer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The burlesque show at the New Follies Theater went on as scheduled last night.

Red-haired 'toe dancer' Loretta Miller wore a black ribbon in her hair as she appeared. That was the last request of Roger Wing Whitaker, 26, a Korean War veteran from Gold Beach, Ore.

Whitaker had fulfilled his final pledge—to get her lots of publicity. He was killed at the theater by two bullets, one from his own gun, the other from police, who returned fire, they said, after he first shot once at them.

The man died on stage at dawn clutching photos of Miss Miller. Written on one showing her in ballet costume were the words: "Angel Face: All I can do is worship you. Goodbye, Roger."

The shapely Miss Miller, 25, said she had never met the man but had received two letters and bouquets of roses from him.

The strange drama began shortly after 5 a.m. yesterday when a man telephoned The Associated Press.

"I broke into the New Follies burlesque a couple hours ago," he told me. "I'm in love with a dancer there, Loretta Miller."

"I want to get her publicity. I want to get her picture in every paper in the country."

"Call the police and come over here. But you be careful. I'm armed."

Directed Acquittal Denied Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP)—The judge in the Sheppard murder trial overruled today defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal.

"This is not a case that can be disposed of by the court," Judge Edward Blythin said as the session opened.

Therefore, he said, the various motions made Wednesday by the defense to dismiss the murder charges against Dr. Samuel Sheppard would be overruled.

Judge Blythin said his decision did not mean that he has any opinion "or even right to have an opinion" as to the guilt or innocence of the accused osteopath.

Sheppard, 31, is charged with first degree murder in the bludgeoning of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, also 31, in her bed at their lake-front home last July 4.

The effect of the judge's ruling was to leave the question of the handsome defendant's guilt or innocence for the jury of seven men and five women to decide.

The defense then proceeded with its case, calling as its first witness Dr. Stephen Sheppard, older brother of the defendant. Dr. Steve is one of three osteopath brothers who practice with their father. The trial is nearing the end of its seventh week.

The state concluded its case Wednesday morning, calling as its 30th and final witness pretty Susan Hayes. She told of sharing a bed with Dr. Sam, and receiving a ring.

ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota's finances and conservation policies today held the active attention of Orville Freeman, who moves into the governor's chair the first of the year.

Freeman said a group he named already is at work helping to prepare a revenue program for submission to the Legislature. It is seeking answers to these two questions:

How much will the state need to operate during the next two years, and where is the money coming from?

Members of the study group include Arthur Naftalin, newly-named state commissioner of administration; Leo Belfor, assistant state budget supervisor; G. Howard Spaeth, state tax commissioner; Rep. D. D. Wozniak, St. Paul, and three University of Minnesota economic specialists—Profs. Walter Heller, Arthur Borak, and Francis Boddy.

Main problem being considered is how to raise additional revenue that may be needed in the ensuing biennium. Discussions have included the outright withdrawal or strict limitation of federal tax payments as deductions from state income taxes and some kind of withholding system, similar to the federal one, for state income taxes.

In the conservation field, Freeman reported Charles W. Stickney, Clear Lake farmer and former state production and marketing administrator, would hold a series of meetings with both farmers and sportsmen to discuss game and fish needs of the state. Stickney was named an adviser to Freeman Wednesday.

The appointment raised speculation that Stickney may be the replacement for Chester S. Wilson whose term as state conservation commissioner expires March 1.

Cold Snap Chills U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An early December cold snap chilled wide areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast today.

Snow had diminished over most northern Midwest areas, with flurries reported from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward across the northern Appalachians. The leading edge of the cold air mass moved into the eastern states.

The coldest weather extended from Wyoming and eastern Montana eastward into the upper Mississippi Valley. Temperatures generally were in the teens but there were some zero and below zero readings. It was -3 in Helena, Mont.

Sen. McCarthy Condemned on 1st Count 67-20

Third Count Still Awaiting Action Of Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today tabbed the second censure count against Sen. McCarthy for the disregard. This is the charge that McCarthy "intemperately abused" Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker.

So much opposition developed that Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) announced he would reluctantly agree "as a practical matter" to accept an amendment substituting the pending third count for the Zwicker charge.

This third count would censure McCarthy for his attacks on the Watkins committee after it filed its report with the Senate. It is sponsored by Sen. Bennett (R-Utah).

The pending business before the Senate was a motion by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) to table—and thus kill outright—the Zwicker charge. After Watkins made his announcement, the Bridges motion was defeated 55-33.

Ordinarily, such a motion is not even debatable. However, Vice President Nixon ruled that in this case an hour's debate was allowed since the unanimous agreement under which the Senate is operating provides for an hour's debate on all motions.

There have been plain indications all along that the Zwicker count lacked the top-heavy support given to the first charge.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), a supporter of McCarthy, launched an attack on the Zwicker count of the general censure resolution by offering an amendment to strike out part of the language.

An hour's debate was allotted on Jenner's move.

The second count specifically charges that McCarthy "intemperately abused" Zwicker when the Army officer was a witness before McCarthy last February.

Among other things, McCarthy told Zwicker, a much-decorated war hero, that he wasn't fit to wear the uniform of a general.

Jenner proposed to eliminate language in the censure resolution saying that McCarthy's actions toward Zwicker tended "to destroy the good faith which must be maintained between the executive and legislative branches in our system of government."

But, after making a speech, Jenner withdrew his amendment. Offering an amendment and then withdrawing it is a common maneuver when the Senate has limited debate. It permits the senator to obtain time for a speech.

Jenner devoted much of his speech to talk about the dangers of the Communist conspiracy, commenting "just look how the Communists have disrupted the work" of the Senate.

The result of this disruption, he said, had been to tie up completely the work of the Investigations Subcommittee headed by McCarthy and to let many "Fifth Amendment Communists" continue in jobs they hold.

Jenner said that "for at least seven years someone or somebody" has been able to hamper "the official work (of Congress) to help the Communists."

This started in 1947 with former President Truman's loyalty order which hamstringing the Republican-controlled 80th Congress to some extent, Jenner said.

McCarthy was not in the Senate chamber as Jenner spoke. He spent little time on the floor Wednesday and was not there when the Senate voted 67-20 Wednesday night to approve the first count of the censure resolution—that McCarthy had been contemptuous of a 1951-52 elections subcommittee and abusive to its members.

It was the first official rebuke of its kind handed out by the Senate in 26 years, but McCarthy was outwardly unsurprised and undismayed.

Calling the Senate proceedings "a foul job," he said that as soon as the smoke clears he will "continue to expose Communists roughly in the same way."

Car Skids on Ice, Hits Tree, Auto

A car driven by Donald Ebert, 933 E. 5th St., was damaged extensively when it skidded on an icy street and struck a tree and a parked car Wednesday evening.

The accident occurred at 6:20 p.m. while Ebert was driving east on East 5th street near the Steuben street intersection.

The car began to skid near the Wall street railroad tracks, went over the curb, hit the tree and then struck a parked car owned by Louis Woycheck, 928 E. 5th St.

Ebert reported $200 damage to his car.

At 6:15 p.m. Wednesday a Winona Cab Co. cab driven by John O'Brien, St. Mary's College, skidded on ice on West Broadway near Olmstead street and struck a parked car owned by Paul O'Brien, 515 W. Broadway.

Damage to the cab was estimated at $75.

Billingsley Girl, Husband Return

NEWARK, N. J. (U. P.) — Barbara Billingsley, daughter of the owner of the Star Club in New York City, landed here last night with her husband, but had little to say about their elopement to a small Georgia town.

The pretty 18-year-old bride hedged when asked about her father Sherman's attitude concerning the marriage. Her husband, John Rogers Christoffers, a 28-year-old commercial photographer, stood on the sidelines at Newark Airport as newsmen descended on Barbara.

She wouldn't comment on whether she and her husband, who uses the name John Rogers professionally, would meet her father soon.

Barbara and the World War II veteran were wed Monday in Folkston, Ga., and had a short honeymoon in Daytona Beach, Fla. She had joined Rogers Saturday night at the home of his brother in Rahway, N.J.

After returning here last night, the couple went to the brother's home and planned to leave today for Rogers' Park Avenue apartment in New York.

Veteran Photographer

After 61 Years, He's Not Sure Brother Was Right

By TOM BERGHS
Daily News Staff Writer

"You want to know the reason why I got into this doggone business in the first place? It was because my old brother said it'd be a whole lot easier than carpentry, that's why—and brother was he mixed up!"

That's the candid opinion of one of Winona's grandest old men—Jasper Isaac Van Vranken, who's been in the photography business since the photography business was in diapers—a time when Van Vranken himself wasn't too far removed from that mode of dress.

"Just call me Van," he twinkles, "if you called me Jasper, nobody'd know who in the sam hill you were talking about."

Here's a guy who's been clicking shutters for 61 of his 78 years and, mister, that's two years longer than Eastman Kodak—the oldest name in commercial photography.

A Brother's Advice
Van was just a strapping youngster of 17, working for his contractor-builder father at Janesville, Wis., when his brother—10 years his senior—handed him a bit of destiny-shaping advice.

"Look Van," he said, "Why don't you have 'Frenchy' show you something about this photography gimmick everybody's talking about these days? It looks like quick money and it's sure a helluva lot easier than carpentry."

"Frenchy" gave him the then-generous sum of $20. He was so excited he blustered sidewalks all the way to Smith's Pharmacy in downtown Janesville. There he bought a $40 box camera, submitting the down payment with his mother's cash.

It was a rugged-looking 5 by 8 rig, with the emulsion taking place on a dry glass plate inside.

During the next seven years, Van set up shops in Whitewater, Watertown and Baraboo, Wis., before landing in Winona in 1900.

Expense and Income
Van located first on 3rd street, over the building where Stevenson's, Inc., now stands and paid $8 a month rent and furnished his own heat.

"I'll tell you though, mister," he said, "that six bucks was plenty in those days, though I'd hate to think what that spot rents for now. You want to know what my first week's gross earnings were? It was $13.25, so you can see what a dent that $8 would make!"

Shortly after, plans were in the mill for construction of the 2nd National Bank on the spot where Van had his shop, the president of the bank showed up on Van's doorstep one morning and asked him to move out.

"I'll tell you what," said Van, "you give me one month's rent for a little vacation and I'll get out without any trouble." And he did.

He moved across to the building where Coast to Coast is now located and rented the upstairs for $14 a month.

"They furnished us with steam heat," he said, "but we always kept a big old monkey wrench on the radiator. When it got so cold we couldn't stand it, I'd slam the radiator with that old wrench and swish, swoosh, up it'd come."

Van likes to tell about the time when Earl Simpson came up to see him, telling him that his father, Thomas Simpson, was waiting downstairs to see him.

"You tell that old buck that he can get up these stairs just as fast as I can get down them," said Van. Earl told him his father had a broken shoulder and that it'd be to his advantage if he came down.

Thomas Simpson, sitting majestically below in an old high-top carriage (cars were unknown in these parts at that time), offered to build Van an entire building, just for his photography business.

Another Winona old-timer, O. C. Tucker, put up the money, Van drew the plans and Nov. 15, 1904, he moved into the building at 57 W. 4th St., the structure that has housed his firm for 30 consecutive years.

6 Hours to 1 Second
Van has watched photography grow from the time when it took six hours to get a print of a picture to contemporary methods, where a picture can be produced in as little as one second.

In 1940, he authored a paper on the history of photography which received acclaim throughout the country for its clearness, explicitness and incisiveness of thought. In it, Van forecast the day when "we may expect to see moving pictures of ourselves in the very near future, thrown upon the screen, instead of in our friends' Kodak book." Those were home movies he was talking about—look at it today.

Not One Accident
Sitting neatly in Van's top drawer in his tiny cubicle of an office is his own obituary. He wrote it 10 years ago and his wife Gertrude typed it for him. He wants people to have the facts straight when he passes on, but will be more than satisfied if it isn't used for a long time yet.

Van made his way through the Winona area in a horse and buggy outfit he rented from a local livery stable during his early days here. Finally, he up and bought a one-cylinder Knox car when automobiles arrived in this territory.

"I should have stuck to my horse and buggy though," he recalls, "that damn old car always stalled." Van stayed with the horseless carriages, however, and through the years has owned 22 cars—he says he's never had an accident and knocks on his hardwood desk top while saying it.

Among his several accomplishments, Van is the oldest individual customer of the First National Bank, owned the first radio in Winona and was the only person ever to have a front-page advertisement in the old Winona Independent, in the days when Frank Rucker and Horace G. White ran the paper.

Van was the Republican-Herald's staff photographer in the early 1900's, when Scott Laird was editor. Speaking of that first radio, Van remembers the time when he was given permission by the City Council to set up a loudspeaker in the second floor window of his building.

He was going to provide the music, via station KDKA in Pittsburgh, Pa., for a big public street dance. The street was roped off and hundreds of people showed up in front of Van's building for the novelty.

"I know," he says, "I turned that ol' radio on and all we could get was solid squawk. Some darn fool down the street was monkeying with an electric coil and fouled up the whole works. Did I ever get the ha-ha on that one!"

Asked why he never kept a collection of his old photographic appliances, Van said, "Well, son, it's like this—never figured I'd stay in business or live long enough to make it worth anything. I guess I'm sorry now I didn't."

SHEPPARD

and a watch from him, and she said he told her he loved her and was "thinking of divorce."

Defense lawyers in arguing that Dr. Sheppard be freed on grounds the state had failed to establish a motive or link him closely with the murder, gave several hints as to the nature of their side of the case.

A startling suggestion already has appeared in this connection: That whoever attacked Mrs. Sheppard intended not to kill her but to disfigure her. And the defense keeps implying that a woman may be involved in the savage beating.

This thesis emerged in points emphasized by defense lawyers as they called for a directed verdict of innocence. They insisted—

1. That the state must explain a fleck of fingernail polish.

It was found in microscopic examination of scrapings from under Marilyn Sheppard's fingernails. She was not wearing any polish on her fingers the night of the murder.

2. That she died from blood in her lungs, not from the blows on her head.

Attorney William J. Corrigan, his voice rising with emphasis, said the vital areas of her skull were not fractured. He contended, "This seems to indicate a disfigurement was intended."

3. That she may have been struck only a few times, even though 35 wounds were counted on her head and face.

An attorney said, "there wouldn't have been time for someone to bludgeon Mrs. Sheppard 35 times before her husband, coming from the living room below, would have reached her. Moreover, he said, the wounds were 'equidistant,' evenly spaced about an inch apart. The uniformity of this pattern by accident he said, 'strains the bounds of possibility.' He concluded that a 'multipronged instrument' would account for the even spacing, and that Mrs. Sheppard actually may have been struck 'only two, three or four times.' The defense has indicated it believes a garden rake may have been the instrument.

Attorney Arthur E. Petersilge argued that the state's case against Sheppard is based "entirely on circumstantial evidence." He rid-

Woman, 90, Seriously Hurt On Highway 35

En Route to Hospital When Car Skids Near Bluff Siding

A 90-year-old Edgar, Wis., woman suffered serious head injuries this morning when a car driven by her son skidded off icy Highway 35 near Bluff Siding, Wis., crashed into a telephone pole and overturned in a shallow ditch.

She is Mrs. Abigail Emmons who was en route to a Rochester hospital for treatment of a hip ailment when the accident occurred at about 9:45 a.m.

A third occupant of the automobile, Mrs. Emmons' daughter, Miss Martha Hutchins, 67, also was admitted to the Winona General Hospital with her mother and was being examined for possible injuries.

No report on the nature and extent of the injuries of the two women was available early this afternoon.

The driver of the car was S. E. Hutchins, Mrs. Emmons' son and a lumber company manager at Edgar, about 20 miles southwest of Wausau in Marathon County.

Straight and Level
Hutchins, who is about 65, said that he and his sister left Edgar this morning to take their mother to a hospital in Rochester where she was to be treated for hip and mouth ailments.

The car had traveled west down a hill, about three miles east of Winona Junction, and was entering a straight, level stretch of pavement when it skidded on the hard-packed snow and ice.

Buffalo County Sheriff Glenn Davis, Alma, and Traffic Officer Palmer Peterson, Nelson, who investigated the mishap, said that the car apparently traveled diagonally across the highway and into the eastbound lane of traffic.

Tire tracks left at the accident site indicated that the car began to slide somewhat sideways in the south lane and then went off on the shoulder of the road.

Pole Broken Off
The car traveled an estimated 40 feet on the shoulder and then dropped into a shallow ditch. It ran up an embankment of about 4 feet, snapped off a telephone pole at the top of the bank and then dropped back into the ditch where it came to rest on its right side facing east.

Among the first persons at the accident site was H. C. Potthast, a Wisconsin state REA job training and safety supervisor from Menomonie.

He was joined moments later by Paul Sallman, 1114 W. Broadway, and the two men found that the three occupants of the car were lying inside the wreckage.

At the time of the crash, Mrs. Emmons was seated next to the driver in the front seat and Miss Hutchins in the back seat.

Window Shattered
When the car rolled over Mrs. Emmons apparently was thrown against the window of the right front door which was shattered.

The windshield was knocked out and was lying at the top of the embankment near where the car had struck the telephone post.

Potthast and Peterson righted the automobile by pushing it back on its wheels and then Potthast went to a nearby telephone to summon a Stevens Service ambulance from Winona and Buffalo County authorities.

All three occupants of the car were taken to the hospital in the ambulance although Hutchins apparently was not injured and Miss Hutchins did not appear to be seriously injured.

South Koreans Entering Japan Illegally, Report

TOKYO (U. P.)—Justice Minister Naochi Ohara today urged immigration officials throughout Japan to make an intensive effort to prevent illegal entry into Japan of South Koreans.

Ohara said the number of South Koreans sneaking into Japan had increased alarmingly since July. He said there were indications Koreans are attempting a "mass illegal entry into Japan."

culed the contention that the handsome, dark-haired osteopath wanted to divorce his wife because of Susan Hayes.

"He certainly didn't have to kill her," Mr. Sheppard told to get Susan Hayes," the lawyer said. "He had her whenever he wanted her."

Petersilge concluded: "The facts, as brought out by the state, show the crime could just as well have been committed by someone else."

Assistant County Prosecutor John J. Mahon countered that Sheppard would have drowned if he had been stretched unconscious on the shore of Lake Erie that night, as he claimed to have been after a fight with the killer. Mahon said the waves were running too high for that.

And he recalled the green bag, in which Sheppard's watch, ring and keychain were found in the shrubbery outside the house. It contained no bloodstains, he noted, although blood was found on Sheppard's watch. "Did the killer wait until it was dry before putting it in the bag?" Mahon asked. "And why did he need a bag at all for a few articles you could hold in the palm of your hand? Then, having put them in the bag, why did he throw it in the weeds, 20 feet from the house?"

Mahon said all this was to simulate a robbery that never took place.

This Car Skidded Off Highway 35 near Bluff Siding, Wis., this morning and overturned in the ditch, seriously injuring a 90-year-old Edgar, Wis., woman. H. C. Potthast, left, Menomonie, Wis., and Paul Sallman, 1114 W. Broadway, were among the first persons to reach the accident scene and righted the car so that the three occupants could be removed from the wreckage. (Daily News photo)

Assessors Want Date Changed To January 1

Southeastern Minnesota assessment officials meeting Wednesday at Red Wing, proposed to a group of state legislators that the state-wide assessment date for property taxes be changed from May 1 to Jan. 1.

Edward J. Marxhausen, Winona County supervisor of assessments, who attended the session, said today that Southeastern Minnesota assessors will urge the State Legislature to adopt the program when it reconvenes Jan. 4.

"We have several reasons for wanting that rule changed," said Marxhausen. "(1) The early part of May is the worst time for rural persons to spend the necessary time with the assessors as that's their busy season; (2) all local merchants take an annual inventory around Jan. 1 and we could use that for assessment, instead of making them 'take another one in May, and (3) it would give us more time to check our figures and books before the local boards of equalization start meeting in June and July."

The legislative program of the assessor's group was presented by Herbert Schwanz, Wabasha, county supervisor of assessments for Wabasha County and head of the state organization's legislative committee.

A second law change advocated by the assessors Wednesday, would allow local assessors to be appointed by village councils and town boards, instead of election by the voters.

Winona County legislators attending the meeting were Sen. J. R. Keller and Donald McLeod, rural representative.

Trial Stated on Nonsupport Count

Field's Daughter Moved to 'Better' Red Labor Camp

LONDON (U)—A friend of the last missing member of the Field family, Noel Field's foster daughter, reported today that the Soviets have transferred the 31-year-old German-born woman to a "much better" labor camp.

Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach disappeared in Berlin in August 1950 while seeking information of her foster father, Noel Field, his wife Herta and his brother Hermann were released recently after five years in Communist prisons in Hungary and Poland on spy charges.

The Communists, in freeing the Fields, said the spy charges against them were unsubstantiated but made no mention of Mrs. Wallach. Several days ago a former Soviet prisoner reported to a Hamburg newspaper that she was serving a 15-year sentence in the notorious Siberian labor camp at Vorkuta.

Erika's friend, American-born Mrs. Leah Manning, of Essex, wrote in an open letter today to the News Chronicle: "Through International Red Cross contacts that now have been established, Erika has been removed to a much better camp and has received and sent letters to her mother, Mrs. Glaser." Mrs. Manning said Mrs. Glaser is living in England.

Appealing to the British government to seek Mrs. Wallach's release, Mrs. Manning added: "Erika is stateless and neither British nor American authorities are willing to receive her or make representations to the Russians on her behalf. . . . Dr. Glaser (Erika's father), now dead, and Mrs. Glaser have lived here since 1939. Her brother Kurt, who was my ward, lived here nearly all his life and died in the service of England. He was killed returning from a dawn patrol on the last day of the war."

Mrs. Wallach lost her original German citizenship when Field adopted her, and has never acquired any other. She is the wife of an American and the mother of two young children. Mrs. Manning said she had been lured to Berlin in 1950 "on the promise that she would see the Fields."

Refugees Look To U.S. Churches

BOSTON (U)—The National Council of Churches was told today that 100,000 refugees in other lands are looking to U.S. churches for help in making new homes here.

Before the churches now is the problem of how to render that assistance.

The resettlement question was placed before 2,500 delegates representing 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations at the biennial general assembly of the National Council.

Awaiting action was a resolution calling on "our constituent churches to give full and prompt support to their denominational agencies and to the Department of Church World Service by providing all possible resettlement opportunities for the homeless and oppressed who look to our Christian churches for assistance."

Roland Elliott, of Marlboro, N.H., director of immigration for the Church World Service, the council's relief and resettlement division, told delegates yesterday: "U.S. churches made a promise two years ago to the homeless of other countries, offering them new life in America. Now the time has come when the churches can fulfill their promise."

Under the new Refugee Resettlement Act, the Church World Service hopes to resettle 65,000 refugees through its cooperating communities, he said. Lutheran Resettlement Service plans to bring in an additional 35,000, he said.

But before the refugees can be brought into the country, the churches and their members must assure them jobs and homes, he said.

Needy Children Are Counting on You

The Christmas season is here and there is a festive air throughout the Christian world. Most of us are looking ahead joyfully to spending Christmas with our families and opening gifts under the tree.

Most of us are shopping for gifts... toys and clothes for the kids, a new appliance for Mom, a fishing outfit for Dad. And the newly-fallen snow adds to the spirit of the season... for what is Christmas without a fresh blanket of snow to add to the beauty of this wonderful area.

But there are some families in Winona which do not look forward to Christmas with the same anticipation. In many homes the Christmas season means only the arrival of cold weather. It means that a way must be found to clothe the children against the rigors of another Minnesota winter. In these homes, families again face four months of struggling to keep warm.

These are the homes of Winona's 800 needy children where the father is unemployed, illness has eaten into the family budget, the father's meager salary is too small to adequately clothe his large family, or the parents squander their money foolishly.

Who really suffers in these cases? It's the children. They run around poorly clad, sleep in crowded quarters with as many as four in a bed and feel winter's cold most of the time except when they're in school. Some of these children have lived that way since they were born and know no better conditions. Others have seen better times. Many are ashamed of their clothes and homes. It's a pitiful situation, as Goodfellows workers know all too well. They have uncovered some unbelievable conditions which exist right in your own neighborhood.

It's not the fault of the children that these conditions exist. And often it's not the parents' fault. Illness and poverty strike the best of families. But a little five-year-old or a young teen-ager can't do much about it, and when the parents can't alleviate the situation, it is up to those in the community who can do something to help bring happiness at yuletide.

That's why the Goodfellows were organized way back in 1910. Their purpose was and is to help these needy children get sufficient clothing to keep them warm and dry during the winter months... to replace the tattered shoes and worn clothing. They supplement but DO NOT duplicate the work of other social agencies.

Who are the Goodfellows? They're all who contribute money each Christmas season to bring a physical and spiritual warmth to these unfortunate children.

How do the Goodfellows operate? Ten children from Washington-Kosciusko School, ranging in age from 6 to 11 for example, arrived at the Goodfellows office this morning. Five needed either overcoats or shoes while the others needed coats, snowsuits or underclothing. One boy needed both shoes and overcoats but only the overcoats could be given now because Goodfellows contributions are lagging. Some of these children had only thin overall jackets to keep out the cold. Their feet were wet from lack of overcoats.

If each of you could have seen the glow on the faces of these children when they received the new items, you wouldn't hesitate to contribute to the Goodfellows. The situation is especially pathetic when you consider that these Goodfellows clothing items are probably the only Christmas gifts the children will receive. One little girl asked why Santa Claus wasn't there to give out the clothes.

Remember that first Christmas when Jesus was born. And remember some of His teachings: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Won't you help put some of the real meaning back into Christmas this year by contributing generously to the Goodfellows? The needy children of Winona are counting on you.

Paul Hoffman, Studebaker Corporation tycoon and host to President Eisenhower at Palm Springs last winter, was the guest of honor himself recently at a banquet tendered by a very exclusive men's club. Its toastmaster began his introduction of Mr. Hoffman with a great flourish. "What a thrill it gives me to present to you one of America's foremost citizens, a man whose record speaks for itself, a man who probably is the most important guest in this club's history. Gentlemen, I give you Mr. Hoffman."

There was an agonizing pause. Then the speaker leaned over to Mr. Hoffman, and was heard over the loud speaker imploring, "What the heck is your name, anyhow?"

The self-acknowledged "ladies' man" in Herb Shriner's home town told a visiting actress she set him on fire. "Buster," was her squelcher, "sit down and subside. You're too green to burn!"

Only Senate Can Hold Own Dignity

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — One of the arguments in the current senatorial debate is that the dignity of the Senate must be preserved. There can be no question about that. And only the Senate can preserve its own dignity.

For instance, when the Senate becomes a rubber stamp of the executive, a mere affirming body, it loses its dignity. This has often happened and whenever it has, the people have lost confidence in their delegates to the upper house of the national legislature. When, therefore, Sen. Frank Carlson speaks of the dignity of the Senate, he ought to review the relationship, according to the Constitution, of the three branches of our government, each of which is to be distinct and separate from the other.

THE SENATE LOSES more in dignity when it reduces itself to a body that passes legislation without reading it and without adequate debate, as it did when Mr. Roosevelt was president, than when a senator appears on the floor drunk and stupefied or when one calls the other an improper name. It is a matter of perspective and balance.

Again, I note that some hold that before Sen. William Knowland made his now celebrated speech on the foreign policy, he should have consulted the President or the Secretary of State. For what reason? The Senate is an independent body, separated from the president by constitutional arrangement. It has a definite authority in matters of foreign policy, a supervising authority which can be final. It has the authority to ratify treaties which cannot become part of our law without such ratification and it has the authority to confirm the appointments of all officials concerned in the formulation and conduct of the foreign policy except the president.

Therefore if a senator chooses to discuss the foreign policy on the floor of the Senate, it is his right as a senator and his duty as a citizen. The theory that senators must conform to official policy, stated or secret, overtly announced to the people or suppressed from their knowledge, is untenable in the American theory of government and dangerous from the standpoint of the interest of the people. Imposed conformity could be more harmful to a free society than an erroneous statement. Conformity allies debate and scrutiny.

A further point is made that Sen. Knowland, being the senate leader of his party, which is also the party of the president, owes it to party loyalty to conform to the wishes of the president. In theory, at any rate, the floor leaders of the majority and the minority in the Senate are chosen by the senators and not by the executive who is precluded from interference with the affairs of the Senate by the Constitution. Only the Senate can determine whether Sen. Knowland has transgressed propriety by speaking freely as a senator chosen by the people of California.

FURTHERMORE, whatever may be a senator's duties arising from party affiliations and appointments, his first and, in fact, only fixed obligation is to the people of the state which sent him to Congress. No senator is a member of the administration of government and is forbidden from becoming such by the Constitution, to wit:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office."

It is, of course, different in Great Britain or France, where cabinet officers are members of their legislative bodies. Our system of separate powers precludes that. No senator need ever ask the executive branch of government for advice or for consent about anything. On the other hand, the executive branch, in certain specific matters, is required by the Constitution to have the advice and consent of the Congress.

Sen. Knowland, therefore, was wholly within his rights to make a speech on the foreign policy without the advice and consent of President Eisenhower or Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. If, as a matter of personal choice, he desires to ask their advice, he would not transgress propriety; it is altogether wrong to ask their consent; that is, if the Constitution still obtains in his country.

ONE AMERICAN FLIER IS RELEASED!

Washington Merry-Go-Round

State Dept. Knew About Jailed Fliers Long Ago

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Sec. of State Dulles had known about the 13 U.S. fliers held by China ever since the Korean truce. They had been mentioned frequently in Peiping radio broadcasts, so anyone listening in also knew about them... Nothing was done to secure their liberation... Prediction: Look for Moscow to intervene with Red China to free the 13 Americans as part of the current coexistence overtures.

Ike is not going to be able to squeeze Sen. Knowland out of the Senate GOP leadership no matter how often Knowland punctures and pillories the Eisenhower foreign policy. Ike has been pretty peeved at Knowland's speeches, but when his errand boy, Vice President Nixon, talked to GOP Senate solons they wouldn't stand for bouncing Knowland... incidentally, they didn't know whether "McNixon" was speaking for himself or the President, because Dick would like nothing better than to get his fellow Californian, Sen. Knowland, demoted. Sen. Herman Welker of Idaho mistook the new senator from Nebraska, Roman Hruska, for a Senate aide and started ordering him around. Hruska promptly told Welker to get his own glass of water. Friends of Colorado's Gene Millikin, one of the most respected members of the Senate, would like to work a deal whereby he would resign to let Gov. Dan Thornton take his place prior to January 1. Thornton would step down from the governorship to be succeeded by Lieut. Gov. Allott, who becomes senator in January. Allott would then appoint Thornton to the Senate. If this triple play is too long delayed, big Ed Johnson, Democrat, will step into the governor's mansion and the deal won't work.

Dixon-Yates Dickers The Dixon-Yates combine has been dicker with the famed Steve Hannegan public relations firm to improve its relations. They need it. (Only trouble is that one of Ike's closest golfing partners, William E. Robinson, is head of the Hannegan firm.) When Cong. Charley Howell, Democrat, who ran for the Senate in New Jersey, got a letter from the Democratic National Committee asking for $100 to pay for the recount of Senate votes in Ohio, he wrote a caustic note that if the Democrats really wanted to pick up another Senate seat they could spend their money recounting ballots in New Jersey. There, he pointed out, Clifford Case, Republican, has a margin of some 3,000 votes, while in Ohio, George Bender, Republican, has a 6,000-margin over Sen. Burke, Democrat... Democrats say they are so tired of having Republicans count them out in Hamilton County, Ohio (Cincinnati), that it's worth $75,000 (cost of the recount) to teach the Republicans a lesson. Astute Venezuelan security chief, Pedro Estrada was in Washington to confer with J. Edgar Hoover. He reports that Venezuela, whose oil areas could be a tinder box in case of war, is safe from saboteurs... The Food and Drug Administration has given a clean bill of health to use of boric acid in baby powders. After a careful examination, FDA found boric acid beneficial.

Congratulations Congratulations to Douglass, Kans., on its 75th birthday last week. My grandfather, one of its earliest settlers, lived there before it was incorporated. He traveled to Kansas in a prairie schooner from Litchfield, Ill., where he was town constable. The Santa Fe RR had just been built, but he couldn't afford to travel that way and take his family... Douglass, a neat and tidy little city compared with the dirt thoroughfares of older days, now boasts one of the most up-and-coming libraries in Kansas, the Copeland Memorial Library, a gift of Clarence Copeland... Also congratulations to the West Side Jewish Community Center in Los Angeles for dedicating a special library on press freedom. Among the first books to go in are "you can't print that" by Morris Ernst, famed New York libel lawyer; also the first Washington merry-go-round book by Bob Allen and yours truly. It was written anonymously because we were afraid we'd be fired if we signed our names. We were fired anyway... Speaking of press freedom, the Federal Communications Commission is preparing a ruling which will kill off many struggling TV stations. The plan is to let big stations in big cities increase their power and coverage so they can blanket out the little fellows; also preclude them from carrying network programs... the big networks habitually give these little stations the cold shoulder.

Merry Go Round Republican leaders are wire-pulling the White House to get John Lodge of Connecticut made ambassador to Portugal. He speaks a lot of languages; should make a good envoy... When Joe McCarthy complained to the Carroll Arms Hotel about housing the committee for an effective Congress, the committee was booted out. Later Joe gave the hotel a plug on the Senate floor... Joe plus his henchmen, spends so much time at the hotel that a McCarthy table is reserved permanently... Gen. Buck Lanham, former aide to Ike and the first general to lead American troops into Anheim across the German border is exiting from the Army to join the market relations network in New York. He once performed the Army's most important human relations by integrating Negroes in the army's forces. Now he'll do public relations for Schenley, United Artists, Penn-Texas... The White House didn't bother to call either Cong. Taber of New York or Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, chairmen of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees about the appointment of Joe Campbell as comptroller general. It illustrates the way Ike gets his congressional relations snarled; for the comptroller general must work intimately with the appropriations committees. He's now been named to Congress, not to the White House... Attention draftees: The Defense Department will ask Congress to let 100,000 draftees each year take a sample of universal military training instead of being drafted. If Congress approves, these draftees will be given their choice of the regular two-year draftee training, plus six years in the reserves; or a tough, intensified six months of UMT training, followed by nine and a half years in the reserves... Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis Strauss has been trying to label Pres. Eisenhower's plan for establishing an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes as strictly an American program. Sec. of State Dulles and our chief United Nations delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, are opposed. They insist on making it a United Nations program; otherwise, other nations won't participate.

Water used in the United States is variously estimated to have increased four to six times since the turn of the century and the rate of increase is increasing far faster than the population.

Advice on Health

Ignore Tot's Tantrum and He'll Stop

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

There's a perfect cure for temper tantrums. Just ignore them. It may be difficult to disregard a youngster who is lying on the floor kicking and wailing bitterly because he did not get his own way. But that is the best way to handle such a situation.

Don't scold him or whip him, and above all, don't give in to him. A tantrum just isn't any fun or use to the child throwing it if no one pays any attention.

The same advice usually holds true for other tricks tried by children to enforce their demands.

For example, many a child has thrown a tantrum when he is told what he wants by holding his breath. Even babies try it.

If your youngster uses this method, you don't have to snap him out of it by tossing cold water in his face or by agreeing to his demands. He'll begin breathing again, don't worry about that.

Occasionally, youngsters have strong antagonistic feelings towards their parents. When you child screams "I hate you!" he actually means just that, although, fortunately, his bitterness usually lasts but a moment.

Now, it is far better for your child to express his feelings this way than to bottle them up inside. If he is afraid of giving vent to his anger because of being punished, he may harbor resentments that eventually can lead to real and lasting hatred.

Again, the best thing to do in such a case is to ignore the outburst as much as possible. Try, if you can, to divert his attention quickly, or make light of the situation which caused his wrath. If these efforts fail, just walk away and leave him by himself until his temper cools.

Probably the most popular way youngsters have of gaining parental sympathy is by merely crying. It's not as hectic as a tantrum, and not as exciting as breath-holding, but it's a lot easier and, in the end, usually more effective. It should not be, of course.

If you are convinced that what your child wanted was wrong, let him cry. And once you have decided to let him cry it out, don't change your mind. If you give in once, you'll give in again.

And then, Dad, he's got you!

"Sure," said the defendant. "She drank the whisky and passed out." Court was recessed pending an investigation.

THE WORLD TODAY

Democrats May Not Be Easy on McCarthy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since Sen. McCarthy says he isn't going to change his ways, he probably will be in the news plenty before his current term ends in 1958.

He will have to stay in the news if he hopes to keep what political influence he has, perhaps reach for more, and remain a rallying point for at least part of the population.

He has created an image of himself as a fierce fighter against Communism—he's the symbol of that fight, he says of himself—and it kept him on front pages for four years. If he now becomes meek, mild and inactive and landed on the inside pages that image might fade.

McCarthy got into the greatest trouble of his career during an administration run by his own Republican party and in a year when Republicans controlled Congress. For the next two years, as a result of the November elections, the Democrats will run Congress. And they have no reason to love him. He called them the party of treason. They may show less patience with him than have the Republicans.

To show his hurry to pick up where he left off, McCarthy announced he will hold hearings Tuesday to look for Communists in defense plants. But he is about to lose his position of power as chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee and its investigations subcommittee. The picture changes in January when the Democrats take over.

As chairman, helped by a large staff paid by the government, he could begin investigations all over the government and call officials to answer his questions. But in January he loses the chairmanship to a Democrat and becomes just another committee member.

This won't necessarily stop him. For two years—1950-52—he had no chairmanship, but he climbed to fame with his charges about Communists in government. He could do the same again. That he has plans for tearing into the Eisenhower administration next year may have been indicated by what he said yesterday.

He said the censure vote will "make the investigation of Communists in the government much more difficult." He didn't have to use the word "government" if he didn't mean just that.

Groundwork Starts For Antarctic Trip

BOSTON (AP) — The 6,500-ton Navy icebreaker Atka headed southward today carrying civilian and government specialists towards the antarctic.

The 269-foot vessel commanded by Cmdr. Glen Jacobson, of Seattle, Wash., left Boston yesterday on a five-month expedition.

Chief purpose of the voyage, first U.S. expedition toward Little America in seven years, is to make preliminary scientific surveys in preparation for a larger expedition planned for the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, in which 38 nations will participate.

Graves, who heads one of the world's largest cosmetics firms, has 60,000 sales agents, mostly women, from girls of 18 to one woman, now 85.

"They come from all walks of life," he said. "Many are former schoolteachers or widows. Many minister's wives take up this work—but three of our representatives are the wives of small town bankers."

Great Turnover "And one of our best agents is a southern minister." He does a tremendous business.

The turnover in the industry is the turnover in sales agents, which averages more than 50 per cent a year.

"The reason for the turnover is the fact that many people take up direct selling for a single purpose," explained Graves. "They want to make enough money to buy new furniture, a TV set or a new car. When they've done that, they often drop out."

"But there is plenty of incentive for those who want to make it a life job."

Block-printed playing cards were used all over Europe half a century before books were printed there.

Darkhouse Sparing Season Given OK

ST. PAUL (AP)—Atty. Gen. Burquist late Wednesday ruled valid a conservation department order setting the darkhouse sparing season from Dec. 11 to Feb. 15. Taking of whitefish, rough fish and northern pike will be permitted between those dates. The ruling was asked after the Itasca County Darkhouse Sparing Assn. at Grand Rapids had questioned the department's authority to limit the taking of rough fish.

Bottle Bout Makes Russ Actor a Flop

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow's Stanislavsky Theater has been rocked by a scandal. A leading male star of the company was fired for drunkenness and lack of theatrical discipline. "There is no room among Soviet artists for drunkards, rowdies, violators of trade discipline, or Bohemian geniuses," declared Soviet Culture, reporting the downfall of youthful star Eugene Vesnik. The newspaper tells how a theater in Saratov had scheduled its first performance of Emil Zola's drama "The Inheritors."

Everything was ready. The property man had set the stage; the electrician was at his post; the assistant stage manager was giving the last call. But where was the star? Vesnik stood in the wings, tearing his collar and yelling, while tears poured down his cheeks: "I don't want to play! I will not play!"

Finally the cast got him on stage and seated in a big armchair where he was to be discovered as the curtain rose. Vesnik seemed to be playing two roles—the one Zola wrote, and a vain attempt to appear sober. Moreover, critics noted, Vesnik lost patience with Zola's text and "added rough gags to the script." Harvard University held its first commencement in 1642.

Presbyterian Likely Choice to Head U.S. Church Council

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
BOSTON (AP)—A genial and scholarly Presbyterian, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, today was expected to be named president of America's largest religious organization, the National Council of Churches.

Private sources said a nominating committee at the council's biennial assembly here will propose Dr. Blake as the new president. As a highly respected figure in church circles, he seemed very likely to be elected.

A tall, handsome man of 48, Dr. Blake, of Philadelphia, is the top administrative officer of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. He is considered one of the denomination's keenest theologians and ablest diplomats.

"Christians have now reached the place," he said in an interview, "where they can differ deeply about issues without dividing, but rather learning from each other in the process and arriving at a consensus that carries them forward."

With 2½ million members, Dr. Blake's church is one of the nation's larger Protestant bodies. The outgoing president is Bishop William C. Martin, of Dallas, a leader of the nine-million-member Methodist Church.

The National Council embraces 20 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 35½ million members.

The council's job, as Dr. Blake sees it, is to lead the way toward creation of a "Christian community"—a great alliance united in common faith in Jesus Christ, but which also includes differences of varying Christian traditions.

"The tent should be spread as broad as possible," he said. Dr. Blake for 10 years was pas-

Fanfare for Beauty Gives Judge Headache

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Miss America of 1955 came to town yesterday and Judge T. Linus Hoban complained about all the noise. The wailing of police sirens during a parade for Miss Lee Ann Meriweather disturbed Judge Hoban, hearing testimony in a criminal case. He ordered the district attorney to telephone Mayor James T. Hanlon and ask him to stop the noise.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing sirens sound while court is in session," he said.

Modern Highways Cited as Answer To Accident Rate

Highways engineered for today's traffic volume is one way to reduce accidents.

That is the experience of some metropolitan centers. Sam Whitlock, field engineer of the Portland Cement Association, told the Rotary Club at the Hotel Winona Wednesday.

A motion picture showing expressways of New York, Detroit, Chicago and West Coast cities was shown. The accident rate on these parkways, expressways and modernized divided-lane highways, such as is planned for Highway 61 between Winona and La Crosse, is less than one-tenth of the number on standard highways, he said.

Whitlock urged Winona to adopt a long-term program of modernizing its streets. He suggested that a certain number of blocks be modernized each year so that the program can be financed without a bond issue.

Way Cleared for UNESCO Director To Fire Employees

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—The UNESCO Administrative Commission has authorized Director General Luther H. Evans to dismiss staff members "lacking the highest standards of integrity." The action cleared one obstacle to Evans' firing of three American employees who refused to answer U.S. loyalty board questions.

The commission last night approved a series of amendments to staff regulations, which Evans, an American citizen, had proposed as a result of a running argument with Washington officials over the trio.

UNESCO sources said the director general is now expected to dismiss all three if a special advisory board concurs. Evans had claimed he lacked authority to fire them.

Corporal Given Life for Killing Minnesota Soldier

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—An Army court has sentenced Cpl. Manuel Chavez to life imprisonment for killing a Minnesota soldier during an argument at a service club here, the public information office said Wednesday.

Chavez was convicted of second degree murder in the fatal shooting last Oct. 30 of Pfc. Sidney R. Rice, 21, Walker, Minn.

At the trial Tuesday, witnesses testified Chavez shot Rice six times with a .25 caliber pistol after Rice struck Mrs. Chavez during the argument.

The sentence is subject to review through Army channels and finally by a civilian court of appeals.

Both men were members of the 11th Airborne Division. Chavez' age and hometown were not available.

CIO Radiomen Walk Off Jobs, Tie Up Shipping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—CIO radiomen, angered by what they called an abrupt cancellation of their contract, walked off their jobs at 12:01 a.m. today, tying up West Coast shipping.

Philip O'Rourke, vice president of the CIO American Radio Assn., estimated the strike will affect 200 merchant ships operated by members of the Pacific Maritime Assn. He said approximately 170 of those vessels are at sea and will not be affected until they reach port. The rest are in West Coast ports and won't move until the dispute is settled, he said.

He said the union is planning court action against the PMA with breaking the contract, which he said was negotiated and ratified last June.

William Steinberg, ARA president, said the strike was called yesterday after the owners notified him they will not honor the contract.

Intercoastal ships operating under East Coast contracts, tankers and steam schooners are not involved.

FMA's position was that the contract was not valid because it never has been ratified by its member companies, according to J. Paul St. Sure, PMA president. St. Sure said the issue was over an overtime clause. Steinberg said it was over a pension plan which was to be discussed under the tentative contract.

All local maritime unions affected have given pledges to the ARA that their members would not cross its picket lines.

'Executive Reserve' Being Planned for Wartime Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-three industry and labor officials conferred with mobilization officials here yesterday preliminary to the forming of a voluntary "executive reserve" of men who could be called to government service in wartime.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming told the group, mostly corporation executives with wartime experience here, that each "reservist" will be attached to the Office of Defense Mobilization as an unpaid consultant.

In event of full mobilization, each will be prepared to step into an executive post in a specified phase of emergency activity, such as price control, wage stabilization, rationing or allocations.

Factory Worker Held for Theft

BALTIMORE (AP)—Emile P. Gow, 55, a factory worker, was arrested here last night and charged with stealing $3. Winona police searched him before locking him up for the night, they found.

Wads of bills in every pocket—total cash, $495, five bank books showing deposits of $10,000, an uncashed $42 check and six $25 savings bonds.

Also inside his money belt was a jar of jam and some crackers, tooth brush, shaving gear, a bottle of iodine, adhesive bandages and cotton.

August Hoffman told police he had cashed a check in a supermarket when he dropped the $5 on the floor. He said Gow picked up the bill, but instead of returning it, he stuck it into his pocket and headed for the street. Gow denied the theft charge.

Barrymore Leaves Estate to Nurse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lionel Barrymore's $25,000 estate will go to 49-year-old Miss Florence Rozella Wheeler, who was his nurse for many years.

The veteran actor, who died Nov. 15 at the age of 76, named Miss Wheeler as his sole beneficiary. His will, filed for probate yesterday, specified that anyone succeeding in establishing claim to the estate should receive no more than $1.

Barrymore had lived at the home of Miss Wheeler for the last 18 years. She also nursed his wife, actress Irene Fenwick, in her final illness.

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Affidavits of prejudice have been filed against Justice of the Peace Alex Foster, Arcadia, by two Arcadia brothers.

Anthony Thomas entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunken driving before Foster Nov. 22 and Anthony and his brother, Ernest, were subsequently charged with assault as the result of an incident involving Traffic Officer Maurice Scow as they were leaving the courthouse.

Trial of all three of the cases has been tentatively set for Dec. 15 before Justice Roman Skroch, Independence, Roman Feltes, Arcadia, is the defendants' attorney.

Dresser Drawer Murderer Gets Life Sentence

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Victor H. Lively was convicted and immediately sentenced to life imprisonment early today for first-degree murder in the slaying of 16-year-old Dorothy Foote.

A Marion County Criminal Court jury reached a verdict in the dresser drawer murder case after deliberating nine hours.

Lively, 25-year-old Texan, sobbed on the shoulder of his attorney after Judge Saul Rabb passed sentence.

The state had charged Lively violated the Clinton, Ind., girl's body after her death in the Claypool hotel room.

Lively had testified that the girl was a 25-year-old and had stripped off part of her clothing. He told the jury that he had blacked out and couldn't remember what happened after she removed part of his clothing and said: "Let's see what kind of a man you are."

The girl's 5-foot-8 body was found July 18, crammed into a four-foot dresser drawer of Lively's hotel room. It was partially decomposed after two days of sweltering temperatures.

Lively was picked up by police a week later at Clayton, Mo.

In two statements to police he admitted choking the girl when she resisted his advances.

Inter-American Conference Ends On Friendly Note

QUITANDINHA, Brazil (AP)—The first Inter-American Economic Conference headed for adjournment today on a friendly note. The United States pledged financial help to Latin America but kept a firm hold on its purse strings.

The only formal U.S. commitment was a maximum of 1½ million dollars for the technical assistance program of the organization of American States, plus unspecified millions in loans from the Export-Import Bank, World Bank and the new International Finance Corp. Washington has said it will establish.

The Latin Americans generally expressed satisfaction with results of the party. Some said they felt they did not get all they wanted, but they admitted the United States had been sympathetic and cooperatively inclined toward their problems.

A number of study groups created by the conference and scheduled to report within the next six months could lay the groundwork for even closer cooperation between the United States and Latin America.

Passenger's Talk Shortens His Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A motorist driving near the sheriff's honor farm picked up a ride-thumper yesterday.

The passenger told the driver: "You're taking a chance—picking me up. I'm running away from this place."

The driver, Deputy Sheriff Walter Doughty, said nothing but drove right to the honor farm office and turned in his passenger. He was identified as Frank Joseph Nemcek, 29, who since last March 8 had been serving one year as part of five years' probation on a robbery charge.

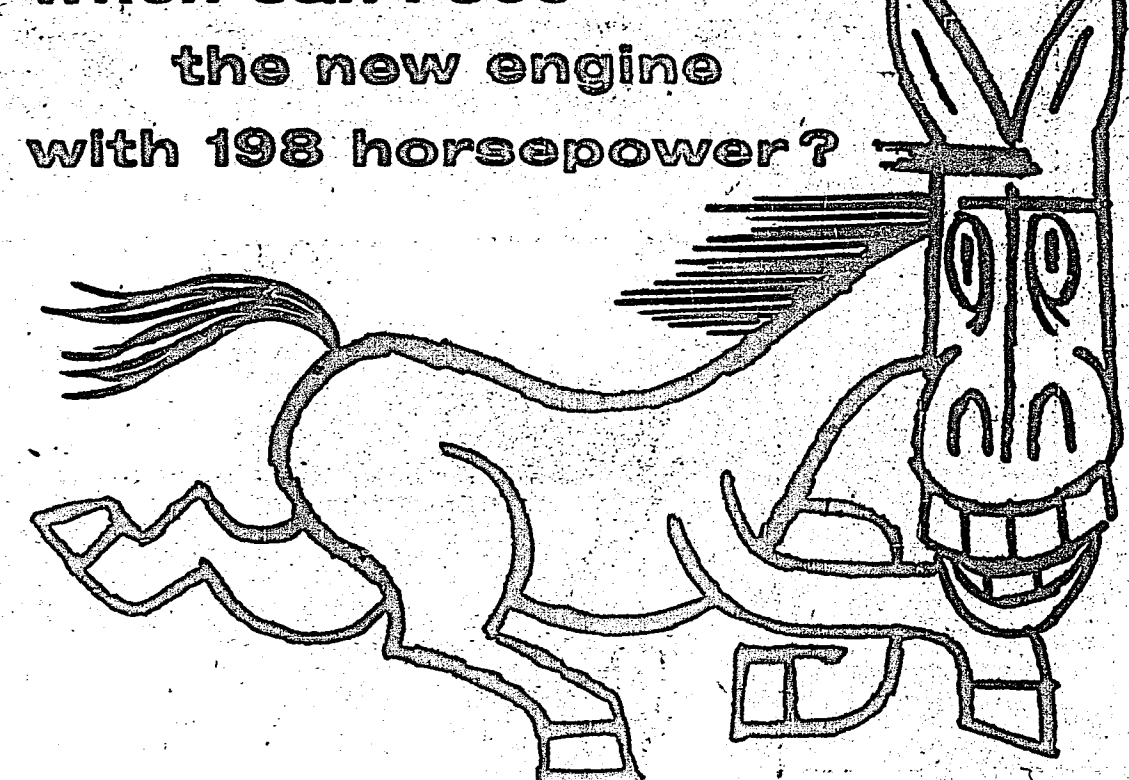

Nemcek, who said his home was in Portland, Ore., was booked anew on an escape charge.

CAA Taking Interest In Winona Experiment

(Editor's Note: The following article taken from the Nov. 30 issue of the Wall Street Journal is based on "The Winona Experiment" started here by Mr. A. Conrad. The local project is still under way, although lagging because of Conrad's frequent absence from the city. Conrad, however, plans to see the experiment here completed and has been working constantly on having the idea adopted on a national scale.)

WASHINGTON — Civil Aeronautics Administration officials, alarmed by a "continuous reduction" in the number of student pilot approvals, flight instructor ratings and mechanics, are reviving a program to awaken youngsters' interest in aviation.

An advanced part of the scheme would be a make-it-yourself airplane kit, designed to yield a main-carrying plane. Other ideas include glamorizing aviation, and setting up aviation labs in grade schools and high schools.

It's all part of operation "Aviation Incentive" and already CAA officials are asking air industry leaders, along with some well-known educators and other industrialists, to join a non-governmental committee. Its main aim will be to awaken youngsters' interest in aviation. The committee of industrialists is currently about 50% complete.

What will it mean to the aircraft industry? In the future it would mean a pool of trained men and women who can be used to fill the need of the industry, say CAA people. For the present, it's designed to interest the public in buying small planes and other products of the aviation industry.

Behind the aviation incentive movement is Wiley R. Wright, director of the CAA's general aviation staff, and his deputy, Carl W. Clifford.

Mr. Wright's department is contacting key industrial figures and educators to serve on the 25-member national committee. Its main function will be to sell youth on all aspects of aviation. But the committee members also are expected to contact friends and associates willing to write checks to back this promotion program for "breeding" airmen.

CAA officials think there will be a big market for the make-it-yourself plane, if manufacturers can make a cheap enough kit. Arrangements have been made by CAA to inspect and certify glider and airplane kit assemblies as they are completed, according to Mr. Wright. Amateur kits may be certified and flown under CAA liberalized regulations, he said.

Right now, a Riverside, Calif., firm called Stits Aircraft Co. is putting out a power kit. Other firms planning to manufacture kit planes, according to Mr. Wright, include:

Benson Aircraft, Raleigh, N. C., a glider kit; Corben Aircraft, Milwaukee, a power kit; and Art Whitaker, a Portland, Ore., Piper distributor, plans to put out a Piper "Vagabond" in kit form. Mr. Wright added. He said the Experimental Aircraft Association of Milwaukee is canvassing the country to see how big the market is for kits.

Stits' Prototype
Stits Aircraft built a prototype of its sport plane, the Stits Playboy, two years ago and has since been selling blueprints and supervising construction, and will soon market kits. About 150 of the low-wing planes, one and two-place craft, are now under construction from plans sold by Stits. The first kit is being assembled and is about 70% complete, says Ray Stits, head of the firm. Blueprints sell for $25; complete kits for the single-place model will sell for $995 and the two-place plane kit, $1,295. These prices do not include the engine. The Playboy is 18 feet long, with 22-foot wingspan, cruising speed of 140 miles an hour and top speed of 160.

Along with the drop in the number of student pilot approvals, statistics completed by the CAA also show a steady decline in trained aeronautical engineers, aerodynamicists, physicists and other technical people.

To combat this lethargic attitude among youth toward aviation, Mr. Wright thinks the U. S. must publicize aviation's non-military role and publicly honor top-flight scientists, designers, pilots and other contributors to aviation advancement.

The CAA officials figure they can get the aviation industry excited enough about the program to make an investment in it. Funds contributed would be administered by the national committee now being formed.

Cash for the "aviation incentive plan" would go for such projects as setting up the aviation laboratories in schools. The labs would be equipped with interest-catching mechanical and electronic devices, working models and demonstration materials. Field work would include construction of models and full-scale gliders and planes from the kits, with arrangements for flight experience and instruction for those who want it.

The national committee also would prepare brochures designed to show how to organize local sponsor groups, develop programs for instruction and organize national competitions.

Starvation Diet Always Produces Wrong Results

By IDA JEAN KAIN

There is a wise saying that we should be careful to get out of an experience only the wisdom that is in it.

That certainly applies to diet. When faced with the solid fact that you really should take off some weight, you painfully recall the time you tried dieting. You felt simply wretched . . . nervous, cross, weak . . . not like yourself at all. Finally your husband put his foot down and insisted you go back to sensible eating and stop all that nonsense.

That brief brush with diet convinced you that reducing is unhealthy . . . and that dieting is not for you. Like as not, you surprised your husband that night with apple pan dowdy, whipped cream and all.

Alas, you jumped to the wrong conclusion. What you should have gotten out of that experience is that a semi-starvation diet is not for you, or for anyone else. The result is always the same, weakness, lethargy, fatigue . . . and a quick return to fattening desserts. Make no mistake, if you are toting excess pounds you would feel better at normal weight. But you can never become healthily slim by the starvation plan. What do you want out of a diet? Less weight, to be sure, but more than that . . . you want better health and increased strength instead of weakness. Then analyze what kind of diet would do that for you and follow it. You get out of the three meals exactly what you put into them.

If you've never tried eating to slim down, there's a pleasant surprise in store. You can lose two pounds a week and have more energy, not less. Regardless of what you are trying to do about your weight, the backbone of every menu should be protein. So the start is to build each meal around a complete protein food . . . eggs, cheese, milk, lean meat or fish or fowl. These foods provide repair material needed to make good the daily wear and tear. The regulating minerals and vitamins are also essential in the daily menus. These are furnished by dairy products, vegetables, fruits and whole grains. These protective foods add up to health and strength.

Luckily for overweights, all the essentials can be included within reducing calorie limits, which makes reducing safe. Here is a sample energy diet for reducing.

Breakfast:	Calories
Citrus fruit or juice (½ glass)	75
As egg—soft-boiled, poached, baked or scrambled in top of double boiler	75
Toast (1 thin slice)	50
Butter (¼ pat)	25
Coffee, clear	50
Lunch:
Soup (1 cup)	100
Open-faced sandwich	200
Tangerine	50
4 p.m. Pick-up:
Hot tea with 1 lump of sugar	25
Dinner:

Raw vegetables, liberal serving	25
Butter (½ pat)	100
Fruit: Fresh, frozen or canned	100
Total calories for day	1,075

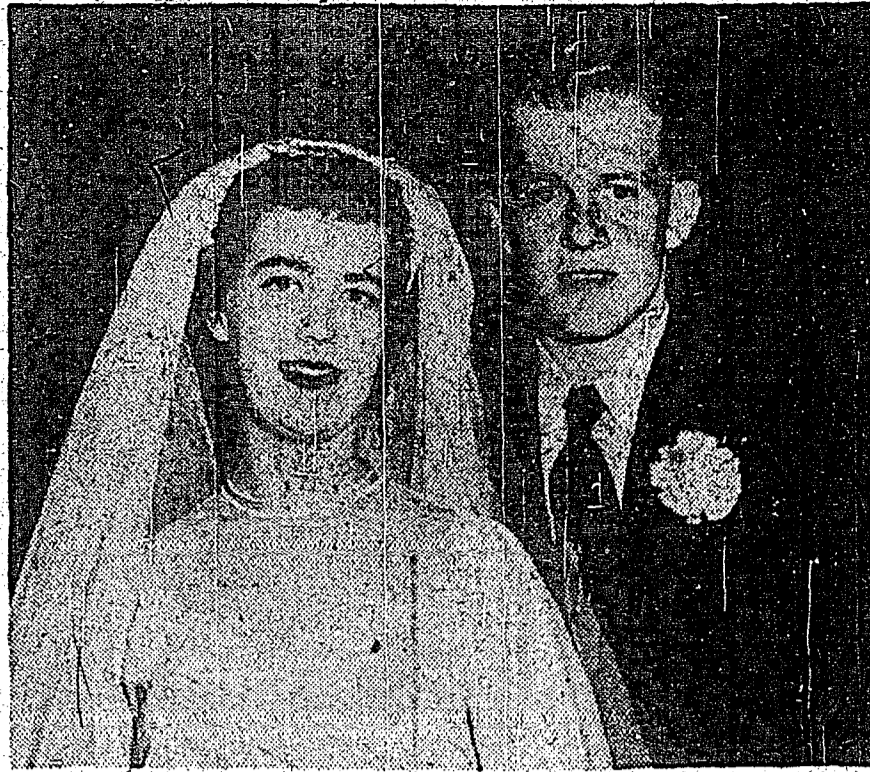

*Note: Soup should be made with a cup of skim milk, plus vegetable—tomato, celery, asparagus, spinach.

*Open-faced sandwich can be with lean meat, cheese or hard-cooked egg or scrambled egg. A grilled sandwich is most satisfying.

If you wish other menus, send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for Scientific Wonder Diet. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Winona Daily News. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Episcopal Women Told of Swedish Work Camp

Experiences in a work camp sponsored in Sweden by the World Council of Churches, were related by Miss Marjorie Maxwell who participated in the camp the past summer, at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in the Parish House Wednesday afternoon.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Edward Jacobsen. Mrs. Myles Petersen presided in the absence of the president and introduced Miss Maxwell who stated that the work camps were started in 1927 by the American Episcopal Church so that young people could help rebuild Europe after the war.

"In 1927," she continued, "the World Council of Churches took over the work camps and they became Ecumenical. At this time there are 1,200 campers and 34 camps throughout Europe and including Asia.

"Projects included the rebuilding of flooded areas in Holland, rebuilding a water main in Italy and reconstruction in Germany and Korea."

Miss Maxwell expressed the opinion that the problem in Sweden is more spiritual. The people in the area where she was located have been "trying to build a church for 20 years, and the church services have been held in an abandoned school house. In 1923, the first work camp was held in Sweden and the bell tower for the church was built before permission was granted to build the church."

The group of workers of which Miss Maxwell was one, built the choir loft and the sanctuary for the church and waterproofed the bell tower. They also moved rocks and dug stumps from the grounds around the building. It is hoped that the church will be ready for Easter services.

She stated that their day began at 6 a. m. with breakfast and they began work at 7 a. m. The day ended with a service of prayer on the church grounds. For recreation they bicycled and swam.

Miss Maxwell concluded her talk by showing slides taken at the site of the work camp as well as some taken at places she had visited in Sweden.

At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. H. O. Shackell reported on the recent United Thank Offering ingathering and Mrs. Leach asked for magazines and children's books for the Church Periodical Club.

Mrs. W. W. Tolleson, bazaar chairman, asked that articles for the bazaar be brought to the parish house early the day of the bazaar. Mrs. A. G. Davis requested that the articles for the sewing booth be brought to the parish house Monday or Tuesday with the Names of the contributors on the articles.

Mrs. Myles Petersen also asked that volunteers to decorate be at the parish house Monday and Tuesday. Tickets for the dinner may

Eileen Forestell, Bernard Miller Exchange Vows

LEWISTON, Minn.—White chrysanthemums made a background in St. Rose of Lima Church for the wedding of Miss Eileen T. Forestell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Forestell, Lewiston, Minn., and Bernard G. Miller, son of Albert G. Miller, St. Peter, Minn., Nov. 27 at 10:30 a.m. The Rev. J. Alan McShane performed the ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a mauve lace street-length frock with pearl and sequin hat, and carried a cascade bouquet on a white prayerbook. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Vernon Flint, St. Charles, wore an iridescent plum-colored frock with a matching hand bouquet. Charles Miller, Mankato, was best man and John Forestell, Winona, and Robert Miller, St. Peter, ushers.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. John Daley, Lewiston, organist, and Mrs. Lewis Handy, Austin, sister of the bride sang. Musical numbers were "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria Stella" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy." A wedding breakfast was served at the St. Rose of Lima Hall where white and yellow chrysanthemums were decorations. Guests were from St. Peter, Rochester, Le Sueur, St. Paul, Austin, St. Charles, Aledonia, Winona, Mankato, Cold Spring, Minneapolis and Geneva, Minn.; Bismarck, N.D.; Superior, Wis.; and Washington, D.C. be purchased from the parish office, members of the auxiliary or from Philip Baumann.

Mrs. Lloyd Belleville was named chairman of the Christmas decorating committee, and stated that work on the church decorations would begin Dec. 17 at 7 p. m. Congregational Women Observe Centennial

"The Work of Women in the Church and the History of the Woman's Union" was the topic of the program presented at the centennial meeting of the Woman's Union of the First Congregational Church in the church parlors Wednesday.

Each woman taking part gave a short summary of authentic minutes of meetings of the women from 1870 to the present time, each highlighting outstanding events of specific groups, and reading quotes of special interest. Some were quite humorous, some inspirational and all demonstrated the fine spirit of pioneers to do work in which they believed as a service to their church and to the community.

Members on the program wore costumes of the past including the long full skirts, basques, paisley shawls, plumes, pins made out of braided hair, handkerchief rings, muffs and bonnets. Each attempted to represent the period on which she was reporting.

Mrs. A. J. Kertzman reviewed the work of women from 1854 to 1870, on committees working with the men on finance, planning church music, furnishing the church and making district visitations.

"The first records were found," Mrs. Kertzman reported, "in an article called 'The Work of the Women' written by Mrs. Charlotte Prentiss Hayes in 1904, for the 50th anniversary of the church. The earliest record was a report in 1883, a meeting of the board of trustees who asked the women to help in soliciting $350 to move the church from 2nd street to 4th street."

"Early women," Mrs. Kertzman continued, "raised money through 'pay socials' to help pay church debts. In 1870, a committee called the district of visitation was organized to check up and make a record of families not having a church home, to assist in the care of the poor and to visit the sick. This committee was changed in 1880, to include members from all churches and did 'Christian service' to early Winona."

Organized in 1875 Mrs. Kertzman told of the organizing in 1875, of the "Ladies Benevolent Society" which raised money to help furnish the new church, and of the "Gleaners," a society for young women in 1877, which raised money for education and to help foreign students—much like scholarships today.

"The Winona Women's Missionary Society, Auxiliary to the Woman's Board of Missions for the Interior," reported Mrs. R. J. Tease, "was organized in 1871. It is difficult in a short time to tell all they did, but with so few in attendance, working so faithfully, their accomplishments were great. 'I wish all of you would read the records of these early years. Scholarships in the schools in Turkey—helping schools and teachers in China and India, contributions to the training school at Kobe, Japan, and supporting Miss Van Duzee, a missionary in Turkey, were but some of the ways in which 'The Cultivation of a Missionary Spirit' was indeed carried out."

Miss Leslie Gage continued with the minutes of this group from 1891 to 1899, stressing primarily the relationships of some of these early officers and church leaders with present families in the church.

"The Women's Foreign Missionary Society," Miss Gage told, "was composed of a wonderful group of women. In 1891, Mrs. F. S. Bell, aunt of Mrs. Ward Lucas, most carefully wrote the minutes. Mrs. Swain is often mentioned and Miss Charlotte Prentiss.

Mrs. Charlotte Prentiss Hayes, another aunt of Mrs. Lucas, was secretary or secretary pro-tem during most of these years. Mrs. Franklin Staples was an energetic worker. Mrs. Dyer had charge of the 'Question Box'."

Miss Gage told of the "chocolate teas" which were popular in early days as a means to raise money and of Mrs. F. A. Rising who was outstanding in her leadership and popularity and noted among other things for her beautiful antiques.

Mrs. Herbert Streich highlighted the work of the "Women's Board of Home Missions" from 1883 to 1899. Article II in its constitution ably summed up the work: "The object shall be to diffuse home missionary intelligence, to increase prayer for home missionary work and to raise funds for carrying it forward."

"Much of the study of this group centered about problems of the

Ballet Russe Attracts Capacity Crowd

By MAY MURRAY
Woman's Activities Editor

An evening of ballet which ranged from the pure classicism of the second act of "Swan Lake" to "Gaité Parisienne" which is on the borderline, introduced the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo to Winona. The program, the first appearance of a major ballet company in Winona, was presented before a capacity crowd and memberships for the evening were at a premium.

An ethereal aloofness pervaded Maria Tallchief's Swan Queen, stirred to earthly emotions momentarily, its poignant quality was pure in line and sensitive.

The beautiful, slow movements of the dance d'ecole were accentuated by penche arabesques. Supported arabesques called on the unobtrusive skill of Victor Moreno as the Prince and Fernando Schaffenburg as Benno his friend.

Cygnettes Meredith Baylis, Dorothy Daniels, Christine Hennessy and Irene Minor, were adored by the audience in their pas de quatre marked by entrechats quatre, embolites and birdlike turnings of the head, all with a precision which had popular appeal.

In the amusing "Cirque de Deux," the ballerina, Gertrude Tyven and danseur, Alan Howard, found teasing competition in their respective pages, Christine Hennessy and Joseph Bustine.

A happy sense of mockery of circus stars, aerialist, wire artist and animal trainer carried from principals to pages. Assurance of beauty and stardom blended in Miss Tyven's Christy Queen and harsh flouting of skill was embodied in the star of the trapeze as danced by Mr. Howard.

One of two new offerings of the Ballet was "The Mikado," with Victor Moreno as dazling, self-important Ko-Ko brought down to size by be-painted, domineering Katisha, a caricature in dance sweeping the stage in the person of Alan Howard.

The famed Gilbert and Sullivan ridicule of pomposity was subtly felt in Nanki-Poo with Joseph Savino's wooing of Yum-Yum danced by Irina Borovska. The fluttering grace of the 1-ter typified the charm of the Japanese mood which also wove through the pas de trois of the three little maids, Yum-Yum, Pitti Sing, Gertrude Tyven, and Peep-Bo, Yvonne Chouteau. Even a flutter of fans touched the imagination in the corps de ballet work of the six school friends.

The armor of the Oriental warrior and the dance figures associated with them added to the color heightened with the entrance of the Mikado.

As a gala conclusion to the evening, "Gaité Parisienne" brought a whirl of color, zest, fun, lulling romance and the music of Offenbach. Not only Leonide Massine's choreography was used but Moreno as the Peruvian introduced faithfully Massine's interpretation, his high-leaping, immense virility in footwork and elevation and his exuberant-entreechats quatre touched with exaggerated, wry humor and by-play.

Nina Novak was personified dazle as the glove-seller, taking not only the baron; the officer and the Peruvian by storm but also the audience. The delicious charm of the flower girl, Yvonne Chouteau, was airy and offered with light accent. Alan Howard was a clean thrust of gallantry as the baron and Fernando Schaffenburg the essence of military uniform appeal as the officer.

Even this Friday in Red, danced by Leonora Lovering, succumbed to the wild hilarity of the can-can number in which Nancy Benson led the Toulouse-Lautrec costumed corps de ballet. Bewildered but undaunted was the clean-cut dignity of the Baron Duke with Miguel Terekhov dancing.

Limitations of the local stage cut the number of sets and drops available for the presentation, a lake setting, an Oriental drop in spray and a suggestion of French cafe providing the backgrounds for the original costumes.

An orchestra directed by Ivan Boutnikoff played the specially arranged scores from the music of Gounod, Tchaikovsky and Offenbach as well as the Gilbert and Sullivan excerpts and was paid tribute by the audience.

Margaret Maas Chooses Marian Bridal Theme

St. Mary's Catholic Church was the scene of an attractive wedding at which the theme of the Marian Year of the Blessed Virgin Mary was accented, when Miss Margaret M. Maas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Maas, 1023 Gilmore Ave., became the bride of Lyle R. Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jacobson, Lanesboro, Minn., Nov. 20 at 10 a.m.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, who entered to the music of "Festival March," by Read, played by Sr. M. Michon, organist, wore a gown of Chantilly lace over a tulle bodice with long sleeves and full skirt of net with inset of lace that came to a point in the middle of the back and again in front, and extended into a long train.

Her veil of nylon tulle was caught to a crown of seed pearls in the shape of small hearts. Her only jewelry was a tiny gold crown which she had worn at her baptism, and which was given to her by her godmother, Mrs. Joseph Watkowski, and was also worn by her at her first holy communion, confirmation and graduation. She carried a white linen handkerchief with wide crocheted double-wedding ring lace made for her by her grandmother, Mrs. Anthony Bambenek and an arm bouquet of pale blue chrysanthemums tied with blue satin ribbon.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Robert E. Jennings before the altar which was flanked at either side with tall standards filled with white chrysanthemums.

The bridal attendants, all wearing pale blue, traditional color of Mary, were Miss Cathy Maus, Rochester, maid of honor; Mrs. Milo Haugen, Lanesboro, and Mrs. Donald Jacobson, Rochester, bridesmaids; Mary Anne Maas, junior bridesmaid. Their floor-length dresses were worn with matching boleros and matching halo-effect headresses of blue net. They carried colonial bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with white satin.

Lloyd Maas Jr., S.K.3, U. S. Navy, served as best man and Donald Beeman, and Donald Jacobson, Rochester, were groomsmen.

Kathy Beeman, daughter of Mrs. Doris Beeman, and Robert Beeman, was flower girl, wearing a floor-length frock of white organza over blue tulle. She carried a miniature colonial bouquet of blue chrysanthemums tied with blue satin. Thomas Maas, brother of the bride was ringbearer. Ushers were George King and James Stanislawski. Mass servers were Bernard Maas and Tony Des Rosier.

The bride's mother wore gold tweed with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums; the bridegroom's mother, navy with white chrysanthemums; the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. Bambenek, mulberry with a white corsage and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. O. Maas, navy with a white corsage.

During the Mass, the St. Mary's School choir, under the direction of Sr. Michon sang, "O God of Love," "Jesus, Come to Me," and "Jesus, Come to Me." Following the Mass, the bride accompanied by the bridegroom, placed a bouquet of blue chrysanthemums at the altar of the Blessed Virgin. The choir sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

"Marche Romaine" by Gounod was played as the recessional. A wedding breakfast was served in the Huntman's Room for the bridal party, the immediate families, Msgr. Jennings, and the Rev. Harry Jewison. The Marian Year theme was carried out in the centerpiece, a statue of the Blessed Virgin in a crystal bowl surrounded by white pompons, and blue tapers.

A reception was held from 2 to 6 p.m. at the VFW Hall, where a buffet supper was served to 200 by Mrs. Charles Kochta, Mrs. Chester Chuchma, Mrs. Stanley Newman, Mrs. S. F. Altob, Mrs. William Hargeseimer and Miss Teresa Wicka. Miss Querie Lukashewski was in charge of the guest book. The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Frank Bambenek, assisted by Miss Ruth Jordan.

The couple after a brief wedding trip to Chicago and Milwaukee, are now at home at 3925 4th St., Goodview. The bride is a graduate of Cotter High School, and the bridegroom who served three years in the U. S. Army, 22 months of this time in Korea, is employed by Armour & Co.

Iowa Woman Pays Son to Kill Husband

WATERLOO, Iowa (A)—A mother and her son were held here today for allegedly conspiring to kill her husband for his $6,500 life insurance. Sheriff H. T. Wagner said.

Mrs. Henry Ehrlert, 50, admitted Wednesday she paid her son, Donald Shindley, $500 to kill his stepfather, Henry Ehrlert, 65, Tuesday night, the sheriff said.

Mrs. Ehrlert and her 22-year-old son by a previous marriage were held for further questioning in the alleged threat. No charges had been filed.

Ehrlert, a restaurant operator in suburban Evansdale, reported to police Tuesday night that a mysterious assailant shot at his car in times but that he was not wounded.

The sheriff quoted Donald as saying he told his stepfather of the plan to kill him and that they shot the car full of holes to convince his mother that he tried to carry out the threat.

Wagner said Mrs. Ehrlert also admitted paying Donald $500 to burn down the family home about two weeks ago to collect $4,000 insurance.

Ehrlert carried two life insurance policies, one for $4,000 and the other for $2,500, the sheriff said.

Mrs. Ehrlert was quoted by the sheriff as saying she conspired to burn the house and kill her husband because she was "tired of Don harping for money all the time." She said she thought that was the only way to get it.

Donald is married and the father of a 10-month-old girl. Ehrlert and his wife were married in 1948. Both had been previously married and divorced.

3 Indicted in Prison Slaying Of Remington

SCRANTON, Pa. (A)—A federal grand jury has indicted three prisoners at Lewisburg (Pa.) Penitentiary on a general charge of murder in the slaying of former government economist William W. Remington.

No date has been set for trial of the three—Lewis Cagle Jr., 37, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Robert Carl Parker, 24, Washington; and George Junior McCoy, 34, Grundy, Va.

Remington, 37, a prisoner at the penitentiary, was assaulted with a half-brick stuffed in a stocking Nov. 22. He was serving a sentence for perjury in denying he passed government secrets to a Communist spy ring. He died Nov. 24.

Cagle was quoted by prison officials as saying the motive was robbery.

He Got an Eyeful Of Arm of the Law

CROYDON, England (A)—Thomas Iles has sent the police a bill for one pair of spectacles. He reported Wednesday he was walking past an automobile traffic cop when the man in blue thrust out an arm in a stop signal, breaking Iles' glasses and blacking his eye.

Give Flexible Props Chance, Minnesota Farm Bureau Asks

MINNEAPOLIS (A)—With spokesmen urging, "Give it a chance to work," the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation today was on record for all-out backing of the present farm program and its flexible price support system.

Also endorsed by the group's 38th annual meeting at its finale Wednesday night was the social security plan for farmers which was enacted by the last Congress.

The stand on price supports was in direct opposition to that of the Minnesota Farmers Union which voted an all-out campaign for return of rigid market props at its annual convention last month.

Bureau delegates also approved more than 40 resolutions, including those calling for expanded foreign trade in farm products, maintaining state aids to schools at present levels until money other than that from state trust funds is available for an increase, a boost in the domestic sugar production quota, and opposition to any state sales tax.

Rochester Hosting State Hotel Meet

ROCHESTER, Minn. (A)—About 200 hotel men and women from throughout Minnesota and some from other Midwestern states are expected here today through Sunday for the 38th annual convention of the Minnesota Hotel Assn.

The convention will mark the official opening of the new 257-room addition to the Kahler Hotel, which now has the largest number of transient rooms of any hotel in Minnesota.

Police Cancel Trip On Worthless Checks

FARGO, N. D. (A)—A cross-country tour financed by worthless checks was ended for two Canadian youths late Wednesday when police here took them into custody.

Officers said Edward B. Hawes, 20, and Walter A. Girling, 18, both of Vancouver, B.C., admitted passing 15 fraudulent vouchers since entering the United States Oct. 28 and hitchhiking through 20 states. Police at Owatonna and Mankato, Minn., reported several of the checks showed up in those localities.

Turkey Expects To Overcome Its Shortages

ESKISEHIR, Turkey (A)—Prime Minister Adnan Menderes says Turkey will overcome current shortages and become a land of plenty in two or three years.

Four sugar refineries have been built in the last two years and four more are under construction. Menderes reported, with the result recent sugar shortages should not happen again. He believes Turkey will be a sugar exporter by 1938.

The Prime Minister cited these other developments:

Seven of Turkey's ports are being reconstructed.

Seven great dams are being built and various power plants are being erected. Irrigation works are also being advanced and soon "no village or district will lack water or electricity."

New processing plants for meat, fish, wheat, macaroni and canned goods are being constructed.

Cement production has jumped from 300,000 tons annually in 1930 to one million today. By 1935 capacity will be 2½ million tons.

The textile industry will have a million spindles in 1935, compared to 250,000 in 1930.

Prisoner Free After Wrongfully Jailed 4 Years

STILLWATER, Minn. (A)—Up for sentencing on a charge of escaping from Stillwater prison, Arnold Skogen, 53, won his complete freedom late Wednesday when it was determined he had been imprisoned wrongfully for four years.

William T. Johnson, Washington County attorney, told Judge Rollin Johnson in district court that Skogen could not possibly be guilty of fleeing from the prison farm because he shouldn't even have been there in the first place.

Johnson explained that Skogen had been sentenced to the four-year term originally from Roseau for writing three spurious $10 checks. The maximum sentence for this offense should have been a year in the county jail or a $1,000 fine, he said.

Instead, Skogen was given the lengthier term for second degree grand larceny. He was accused with having left the prison farm, where he was a trustee, and visiting bars in Stillwater. Skogen already had pleaded guilty to the escape charge.

But Judge Johnson ordered the plea withdrawn and gave Skogen his freedom immediately. James Douville, Skogen's attorney, said he was considering asking damages for the false imprisonment.

Wishes Come True With Duck for Luck

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (A)—Duck may well become the regular Thanksgiving fowl at the home of Mrs. Lena Twetten, a 65-year-old grandmother, because of what a duck wishbone can do.

Mrs. Twetten made not one but two wishes on a duck wishbone Thanksgiving Day. The first was for a letter from a certain relative. The bone worked its magic and she received the long awaited message.

The other wish was to win the $500 given away by Albert Lea merchants at a weekly Bank Day project.

She was in a local store with her daughter when her name was called.

Mrs. Twetten's only income, excluding proceeds from wishbones, is a social security check and whatever she can make baby sitting.

Expressway Brings Out Speed Instinct

DETROIT (A)—Dr. Murlidhar Sahomo, an intern from India, told Traffic Judge John D. Watts yesterday he was so "intrigued" by a Detroit expressway he "just had to speed."

He was arrested for driving 85 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone on the John C. Lodge Expressway.

"I was not going 85 but I will admit to 70," said Dr. Sahomo. "The open feeling on the expressway intrigued me. We do not have roads like these in India. They are beautiful, almost unbelievable."

Judge Watts fined him $25 for reckless driving.

Hunt Fails for Missing Yacht With 4 Aboard

TOKYO (AP)—An extensive search off the coast of Japan has failed to turn up the yacht Phoenix with an American family of four aboard, Coast Guard authorities said today.

The 30-ton, 35-foot two-master sailed from Hiroshima on a world cruise Nov. 15. It made two Japanese ports but has not been heard from for more than a month.

The Phoenix was to have called at Choshi, north of Tokyo, in late October, but has not been seen since Oct. 28, the Coast Guard said.

Aboard the yacht are Dr. Earl Reynolds, 44, his wife Barbara, 39, and their children, Ted, 16, and Jessica, 10. Dr. Reynolds worked for more than three years at the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission at Hiroshima.

He is a graduate of the University of Chicago, where he earned bachelor and masters degrees, and the University of Wisconsin, where he received a doctor's degree. His wife is a Madison, Wis., native.

A second son, Timothy, is studying at a university in the United States, a spokesman for the ABCC said. The spokesman did not know which university.

The boat makes about four knots under power and is equipped with radio.

The spokesman said: "Dr. Reynolds had dreamed of this world cruise for more than two years. But it took much longer than he expected for the boat to be finished so he had less than a month to make trial runs. He did not get a chance to make very many trials."

Dr. Reynolds joined the ABCC in June 1931. His last address was the Fels Research Institute, Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Heat needed to melt ice would be sufficient to raise the temperature of the resulting water nearly 80 degrees centigrade.

Serving in The Armed Forces

The families of servicemen from Winona, Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin are invited to send news about them—assignments, addresses, promotions, transfers, leaves, etc.—for use in this column. Pictures will be returned, if requested. Address: Servicemen's editor, The Winona Daily News.

Rep. Lester Johnson (9th District, Wisconsin) announced today that the Civil Service Commission will hold a preliminary, screening examination for young men desiring appointment to the U. S. Military Academy and the Air Force Academy at Eau Claire, Hudson and Rice Lake Jan. 17.

An unexpected vacancy has occurred for entrance to West Point in July 1935 due to the withdrawal of one of the men attending the academy. For this vacancy, one principal and three alternates will be named. The 9th District of Wisconsin has no vacancies for appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy for July 1935 entrance.

The new Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. will officially open in July 1935. While Congressmen can make no definite appointments to this academy, each congressman may list up to 10 candidates for consideration. Final appointments will be made by the Air Force Academy appointment branch. Each state is allowed a proportionate number of students and the quota for the entire state of Wisconsin is six, with a maximum of 100 candidates to be recommended by the 10 Wisconsin Congressmen.

Johnson plans to select first from the list of boys taking the Civil Service examination, the principal appointment for West Point. The three alternates for West Point appointment, together with the balance of the list of boys up to the number of 10, will be recommended to the Air Force Academy appointment branch, if their grades on the Civil Service examination are high enough and if other qualifications, such as character, age, and physical fitness are met.

Candidates should notify Rep. Johnson of their desire to take the examination as soon as possible and before Dec. 17. His address is: Room 349, Old House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Russian Plans To Move More People to Farms

MOSCOW (AP)—Another massive effort for 1955, to move more people to Soviet farms to raise enough food for the growing population, is forecast in the Moscow press.

This is to be the second big push. And this time, it is indicated, a real effort will be made to weed out surplus employees in over-stuffed government ministries, not only in Moscow but in all the republic (provincial) capitals. They will be sent out to their bit on the virgin lands, state farms and machine tractor stations.

The Ministry of Health is the first big government agency to announce that it is going to streamline.

The problem in the Soviet Union is: How you gonna get 'em down on the farm in Siberia after they've loll'd behind a desk in Moscow?

That is the job of Nikita S. Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party and the man in charge of boosting agricultural production.

Khrushchev kicked off the first of his multiple farm drives in September 1953. Volunteers were recruited and the country was able to report a slight increase in grain production but still fell short of the goals in livestock raising.

Now the leaders want to open more acreage, with more people. The Soviets need more grain not only for their own people but for trading purposes.

The Ministry of Health announced that those it dismissed would be guaranteed new jobs. The announcement said the best opportunities seem to be on the virgin lands of Siberia and Central Asia. It repeated all the inducements given to prospective farmers: cash bonuses, tax exemptions, free railway tickets, loans for building cottages, etc.

Actress Serving Hit-Run Sentence

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Blonde actress Lynne Baggett is in county jail today, serving a 60-day sentence for hit-run driving in an accident in which Joel Watnick, 9, was killed.

Miss Baggett, 27, previously convicted on this charge but acquitted of manslaughter, was sentenced yesterday. She also was placed on three years' probation and her driver's license was revoked for one year. She was taken to jail immediately.

The actress, estranged wife of film producer Sam Spiegel, claimed she "blacked out" after the July 7 collision. Superior Judge Mildred Lillie commented: "I cannot accept her story of a 'black-out' and the jury couldn't believe it either. She was extremely rational soon after the accident and from then until she was arrested two days later she used every resource at her command to get her car repaired and to conceal her identity."

Punctual Employee Almost Misses Party

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For 72 years William P. Schlosser commuted daily from his North Hollywood home to the hardware store that employed him, and not once was he late.

Yesterday it happened. His bus was late. But Schlosser, 94, was in time for the retirement party his buddies threw for him on his final day of employment.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

When Bounce the Bob cat went slinking up Christmas Tree Hill to catch Uncle Wiggly, that bad chap did not know that he was being followed. He thought he would be all alone by himself on the hill to catch the rabbit gentleman.

But someone was following Bounce. And I don't mean Mr. Whitewash the Polar bear. Of course, Mr. Whitewash was following Bounce. Mr. Whitewash wanted to meet Uncle Wiggly who had gone to the hill to pick out a Christmas tree. When the rabbit gentleman had picked out the tree he wanted, he would tie a red ribbon on it.

"Then, when Whittie comes to visit me, as he always does near Christmas time," said Uncle Wiggly to himself, "he will see the red ribbon and know what tree to cut down."

So Uncle Wiggly looked at one tree after another. Some were too large. Some were too small. He wanted one just the right size.

When Bounce started up Christmas Tree Hill to catch Uncle Wiggly, the bad chap did not know that he was being followed. But he was, by two surprises. There are to be several surprises in this story. But the biggest surprise of all will be for Bounce the Bob cat. That bad chap had hidden himself behind an evergreen tree. He was watching Uncle Wiggly who was a short distance away, looking at different Christmas trees, trying to make up his mind on which one to tie the red ribbon.

Suddenly Bounce was surprised at hearing a noise behind him. "Who is there," snarled the bad chap, looking around quickly.

"I am!" answered a yapping voice. There, behind another evergreen tree, was Dixie the small fox boy.

"What are you doing here?" yapped Bounce sort of angry like.

"I came here to help you!" said Dixie, smiling.

"Help me?" explained Bounce. "Help me do what?" he snarled. "Help you catch Uncle Wiggly," answered the small fox boy. "I see him up ahead there, hopping in and between the Christmas trees. I came here to help you."

"I don't need any help to catch that rabbit!" mewed Bounce. "Who sent you? How did you get here?"

All this talk was in whispers. Uncle Wiggly, trying to make up his mind on which tree to tie the red ribbon, didn't hear a word.

"How did you get here, Dixie?" snarled the Bob cat.

"I walked," was the answer. "Well, I didn't think you came in an auto," said Bounce, sort of sarcastic like, and not very polite.

"But who sent you?" "No one," replied the fox boy. "I saw you sneaking up the hill. I thought maybe you were after Uncle Wiggly, so I followed you. I want to help you!"

"I don't need help!" mewed Bounce. "I can catch Uncle Wiggly all by myself. Go back home!" "Please may I stay and watch you catch the rabbit?" asked Dixie.

"Well, all right. You may stay if you keep very quiet!" replied Bounce. "Don't make a sound!"

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Estranged for six years, handleader Fred Waring and Mrs. Evelyn Nair Waring were divorced yesterday.

A financial settlement and other terms of the divorce were sealed. No grounds for the divorce other than the long separation was contained in the complaint.

She was awarded custody of their three children, Dixie Lyn, 20; Frederick Monroe, 18; and William Griffith, 16.

8 Red Nations Call for Joint Military Force

MOSCOW (AP)—The eight Communist nations represented in the Soviet-sponsored European security conference called today for integration of their armed forces and establishment of a joint command if the West ratifies the Paris accords to rearm West Germany.

The conference, snubbed by the Western powers, ended its work by adoption of a declaration to this effect. The great Kremlin Palace was the stage for the formal signing today by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and the chiefs of the visiting delegations.

Red China's observer, Chang Wen-Tien, said his country threw its full support behind the eight-nation declaration.

"If the Paris agreements are ratified the peace loving countries will be obliged to undertake the

U.S. Ahead of Russ In Armament Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, says the United States is ahead of Russia in the armament race and its best chance for peace is "to stay there."

He told an American Ordnance Assn. dinner last night:

"Only if we give them (the Soviets) reason to believe that the freedom which was fought for at Valley Forge, at Verdun, at Tarsawa and at Teegu is no longer worth the cost of battle—only then will they feel free to attack."

new measures envisaged in the declaration," Chang said.

"The Chinese People's Republic warmly welcomes the acceptance by the Moscow conference of the declaration and the Chinese People's Republic resolutely approves and warmly supports it."

The eight European Communist-ruled nations involved in this plan for an eastern NATO are:

The Soviet Union, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

A Russian marshal is expected to be named supreme commander.

Frazee Father Helps Son Fight Murder Charge

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A Frazee, Minn., man today pledged to "back all the way" his sailor son who has pleaded innocent to a murder charge.

Eugene D. Haas, 26, a petty officer first class at the Memphis Naval Air Station, is accused in the slaying of his wife. The woman's head was found in a field by two hunters last Sunday.

Ervin J. Haas, father of the prisoner, arrived Wednesday from Frazee where he operates a dairy farm. "I will back my boy all the way," he told newsmen.

Mrs. Haas, 30, was reported missing by her husband Oct. 26. Haas entered his plea Wednesday, standing rigidly and fighting to control his emotions at a preliminary hearing.

Medical Society Votes to Accept Acquitted Doctor

EXETER, N.H. (AP)—The Rockingham County Medical Society last night unanimously voted to accept Dr. Hermann N. Sander, acquitted in 1950 in the death of a cancer patient, as a member.

This makes Dr. Sander eligible to apply to any hospital in the state for staff privileges, a right he lost when he was dropped as a member of the Hillsborough County Medical Society after his trial.

The 45-year-old Candia, N.H., physician was acquitted on a charge of murder after the state had accused him of causing the death of Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto, incurably ill of cancer, by injecting air into her veins.

NEW YORK (AP)—An aircraft mechanic at Idlewild Airport was fined $5 yesterday for violating a state law that prohibits work on Sundays which is "not of a necessary, emergency or charitable nature" or beneficial to public welfare. The mechanic, Alex Leclerc, of Clifton N.J., had been repairing aircraft engines.

Racine-Made 'Sweets' Treat Peptic Ulcers

MIAMI, Fla. (U.S.)—An all-day-sucker treatment for peptic ulcers was described Wednesday to the American Medical Association.

The treatment is sweet-tasting pills, made at Racine, Wis., which are popped into the mouth, and allowed to dissolve slowly between the cheek and gums. Each pill contains four anti-acids, which flow steadily to the stomach to neutralize stomach acids which are blamed for causing ulcers and ulcer pains. One pill lasts about 45 minutes.

The pills, called Nulacin, are produced by the Horlick Corp., Racine.

In a 15-month test, the treatment relieved pain and helped healing in 33 out of 35 persons with ulcers of the stomach and duodenum, the first part of the intestine. Dr. Frederick Steigmann and Edwin Goldberg of Cook County Hospital and Cook County Graduate School of Medicine, Chicago, reported in a scientific exhibit.

Besides anti-acids, the pills contain milk solids useful for food value and for a buffering action in the stomach. Patients start by taking a dozen or so of the pills daily, decreasing the number as the ulcer gets better.

Truck Driver Jailed For Slugging Girl With Jack Handle

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis. (U.S.)—Duane H. Obey, 25-year-old Wausau truck driver, who pleaded guilty to slugging a 14-year-old girl with a steel jack handle, has been sentenced to the state reformatory at Green Bay for a 1-5 year term.

Obey, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, appeared before Circuit Judge Clarence Rinehard Wednesday.

Obey was arrested last August when he took Alice Holbrook of Jim Falls, from her bicycle, forced her into his truck and beat her. Nineteen stitches were required to close the wounds she suffered.

A wounded Korean War veteran, Obey said he had "blacked out."

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

SEASON FRINGS FORTH SPAGHETTI MEATBALLS. Brown Tailor of Bramwell, West Virginia, sends us Caesar's Spaghetti and Meatballs—and this is a good season for it. This is one of those beautiful things that takes a bit of doing, but your time will not be wasted. Start with:

1 cup finely sliced onions.
2 tablespoons bacon fat.
1 pound double ground beef.
Sauté onion in a large kettle or Dutch oven until tender, then add beef and continue cooking until meat loses its red color. Then add:

1 cup water.
1½ teaspoon salt.
½ teaspoon pepper.
1 teaspoon powdered sage.
½ teaspoon powdered thyme.
1 teaspoon rosemary.
1 bay leaf, powdered.
¾ teaspoon monosodium glutamate powder.
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato paste.

Run the following through the meat grinder and add to the above:

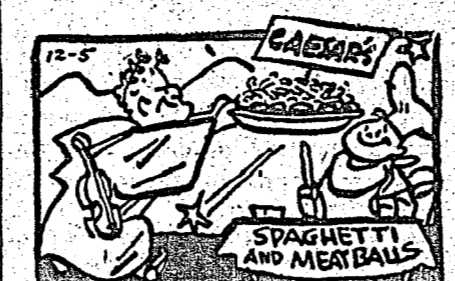

1 peeled clove garlic.
1 large seeded green pepper.
1 can (8 ounces) mushrooms and liquid.
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes.

Let simmer for 1½ hours, or until sauce is thick enough for your taste, stirring to avoid sticking and burning. Meanwhile, prepare the following:

1½ pounds double-ground beef.
¾ cup sifted, dried bread crumbs.
¾ teaspoon corn starch.
¾ cup cream.
¾ teaspoon salt.

Form into balls about 1½ inches in diameter. Heat two tablespoons pure olive oil in a large skillet, and turn the balls in it until they are browned on all sides. When well browned, add the balls to the kettle containing the sauce, and let simmer in the sauce for at least one hour.

When the meatballs have about 20 minutes more to cook, prepare one pound of spaghetti in boiling, salted water as instructed on the package, drain and place on a large platter, surround with the meatballs and cover with the sauce.

Serve with grated Roman or Parmesan cheese, a vegetable salad, a chilled bottle of Chianti, ripe olives, and coffee afterwards.

We like to end an affair of this sort with any of the better Italian cheeses, served with assorted fruit such as pears and apples. Not bad, not bad at all!

Supervision of Steel Scrap Exports Tightened
WASHINGTON (U)—The Commerce Department has announced it is tightening supervision of iron and steel scrap exports "to guard against undue strain on supplies for domestic consumption."

Coal for domestic heating usually occupies about 35 cubic feet per ton.

Unions Expected to Check Fund Abuses
WASHINGTON (U)—Chairman McConnell (R-Pa.) said today he is hopeful labor unions will act to "clean up" their welfare fund operations as a result of hearings held this week by his House Labor subcommittee.

It is possible, he said, that the investigation will lead to corrective legislation unless the unions themselves take action to cure abuses in welfare funds handling and try to "safeguard" benefits for rank-and-file members.

Juelich Changes His Mind, Won't Appeal Sentence

MOBILE, Ala. (U)—Herbert E. Juelich of St. Paul, Minn., says he has changed his mind about appealing a life sentence imposed for slaying a U.S. deputy marshal near Adairville, Ga., in 1953.

A pencil letter from Juelich, now in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, to federal court clerk William J. O'Connor Wednesday said in part:

"I hereby do serve notice that I will not file further an appeal of Nov. 17, 1954. I at this time wish to drop same appeal."

The 25-year-old Juelich was convicted at Mobile Nov. 10 of first degree murder, "without capital punishment," making a life sentence mandatory. It was his second trial for killing Deputy Marshal Sam Vaughn of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

He was originally convicted of first degree murder and sentenced to death but the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans granted him a new trial.

The shooting occurred while Juelich and Lewis W. Larson of St. Paul were being transferred by Vaughn and a special guard from Nashville, Tenn., to the Atlanta penitentiary to serve five-year terms for automobile theft. Larson was sentenced to life imprisonment on his conviction of murder.

Reds' Jailing of Americans Called Try for Concessions

NEWARK, N.J. (U)—Dr. George Yeh, foreign minister of Nationalist China, says Red China jailed 13 Americans on spy charges "to exact concessions."

Yeh, Nationalist delegate to the U.N., told a Chamber of Commerce dinner last night:

"My personal feeling is that they are creating a situation for some neutralist country to step in and mediate and in the process of mediation they would present some counterproposal in order to exact concessions."

The other, proposed by Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) stemmed from McCarthy's assertion that the Watkins group had served as the "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party in bringing this and the election subcommittee charges against him.

Amendments were in order to these counts, but after yesterday's experiences — when the Senate overwhelmingly rejected attempts by Senators Dirksen (R-Ill.), Mundt (R-S.D.) and Bridges to wash out the censure charges — McCarthy's friends seemed discouraged about any further efforts of this kind.

The key vote yesterday came on a Dirksen move that would have thrown out the Watkins committee recommendations. That went down 68-21.

While the censure fight was reaching its climax inside the Senate chamber, 10 boxes of petitions protesting the censure move arrived on the Capitol grounds in an armored truck. The petitions — said to carry more than a million signatures with more to come — were sent down from New York by an organization known as "10 Million Americans Mobilizing for Justice."

McCarthy, his arm still in a

told, the Senate had censured only three members to this time. McCarthy faced two further accusations today — as the Senate, under agreement to limit debate, gathered to complete its work on the censure issue.

One, recommended by a special six-man committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), contended McCarthy had "abused" Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when Zwicker was a witness last Feb. 13 before McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee.

The other, proposed by Sen. Bennett (R-Utah) stemmed from McCarthy's assertion that the Watkins group had served as the "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party in bringing this and the election subcommittee charges against him.

McCarthy, his arm still in a sling, as a result of an elbow injury, attended the Senate proceedings intermittently. He said Democrats had proved they "loathed" him by their straight party-line voting against him.

On the actual vote, the Republicans split 23-20 against him. However, three of his publicly committed supporters and he himself were absent when the roll was called. The other Republican absentee was his Wisconsin colleague Sen. Wiley, who said he would have voted "present" if he had been on hand.

No Distinction
Although the Senate only "condemned" McCarthy in the count approved yesterday, he would be "censured" by adoption of either of the two remaining counts. The words are synonymous and senators made no distinction between them.

In yesterday's debate McCarthy charged that the Watkins committee had "suppressed evidence."

He demanded to know who had ordered a "cover" placed on his mail in 1952, contending that the signature of Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa), then chairman of the elections subcommittee, had been forged on the order. Gillette said he himself hadn't ordered it.

Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.) said the names of persons who had sent mail to McCarthy were checked in an effort to learn the name of McCarthy's broker. This was the first public acknowledgment that such a mail "cover" took place.

Hayden said this was part of an effort to investigate charges that McCarthy might have diverted to speculative purposes funds contributed for fighting Communism. He said the results were sent to the Internal Revenue Service, which has not reported on them yet.

McCarthy said this "mail cover" justified his criticism of the elections subcommittee.

Knowland said he was indignant at reports that anybody had been "tampering with" senators' mail. He won agreement to name Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and George (D-Ga.) as a committee to report to the Senate, today if possible, on what they can learn about the incident and any others like it.

Knowland said that while he held the highest regard for members of the Watkins committee and deplored McCarthy's attacks on them, he could not vote for censure.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said that one of the things that influenced him to vote for censure was McCarthy's attack on the Watkins committee in words Johnson said "would be more fittingly inscribed on the wall of a men's room."

Watkins, who had been called "cowardly" by McCarthy, said he wasn't asking for personal vindication. But he said that if the Senate failed to censure McCarthy, "What is there to restrain anybody in the future?"

Dirksen described McCarthy as "something of an alley fighter" but defended him as a determined foe of Communism. He said with Christmas nearing, the Senate ought to show some "compassion."

Sen. Purtell (R-Conn.) said that he would like to change some of McCarthy's ways, but he would not vote to censure any senator who hadn't violated a specific rule because he feared it would circumscribe freedom of speech.

Mundt shouted that there are some people in this country who will never be satisfied until the head of Sen. McCarthy is delivered to them.

An Agent Reports

Our Minnesota man broke through the shroud of silence surrounding him this fall and honored us with a special bulletin. . . This column-writing business is easy when you've got an agent planted who's as perspicacious as our Minnesota man. He writes as follows:

"Dear Ratsy:
I've been meaning to drop you a line for sometime now, but you know how college life goes. . .
It's snowing up here now and I suppose we'll be snowed in by tomorrow morning. I've got my car up here this week, but plan to leave it home from now on. It's more bother than it's worth. . .
Well, it was quite a football season, wasn't it? The Gophers, I would say, did much better than expected. I see your friend Dick Brown occasionally.
We're going over to Williams Arena tonight to see the basketball intrasquad game. I can't see them having too much besides Garmaker and Mennel, but you never know (How about Svenningsson, agent — get with it!).
Cowles says Simonovich is coming along nicely. I'll have to see it to believe it.
When I was down at Notre Dame over Thanksgiving vacation, I watched their basketball team practice. They looked good, too good for the Gophers. ND plays Minnesota here Dec. 23.
"Boy, Ralph, that spirit down at Notre Dame is terrific. Everyone's heard about it, but you have to see it to believe it.
We went to the pep rally in the field house Friday night. Two players—Paul Reynolds and Don Schaefer—spoke. Before they could say a word, each of them received five or six minutes of applause and cheering.
"Frequently during the rally the students start yelling 'Go, go, go, go, etc.' for a minute or so at a time. You can't go into one of those things without getting into the spirit of things.
"Then, Saturday afternoon, I sat in the student section and it was more of the same. Whenever the Irish kick off, the students yell 'Here comes Shannon, here comes Shannon, here comes Shannon, etc.'
"Whenever Joe Heap comes through with a good run, they chant 'Heap, Heap, Heap, Heap, Heap, etc.' The students are on their feet most of the time.
"During the game I saw (Southern Cal) they were up and down frequently during the Michigan State game a few weeks ago they never sat down.
"The regular price for tickets is $4.50. Scalpers, including the football players, were getting up to $15 apiece early Saturday. By game time, the price had gone back to the regular stipend.
The game itself started out slowly, but turned into a real good battle later. The punting is poor. Minnesota had two or three punters that were better than anything USC or ND showed. Of course Paul Hornung didn't get in, and he reportedly is Notre Dame's best kicker.
Well, that's about enough for tonight. Drop me a line if you get time. Until then I remain

Random Ramblings

The Winona High Winhawks boosted their stock with Tuesday night's victory over Lake City, rated a strong contender for District Three tourney honors.
A nice feature was that Earl Buswell and Jack Nankivil broke through for high-point honors to provide the Hawks a balanced scoring attack.

Coach Don Snyder's "Aitch (H) Boys" — Bill Heise and Bill Hostetler, have previously demonstrated good scoring potential. On a night when the Hawks were clicking as they were the first three periods against Lake City, they'll be tough. Chuck Wally is a good rebounder.

At the same time, Lake City can be expected for good things in the games ahead. . . Coach Walt Williams' Tigers must have been hitting to beat St. Felix 87-59.

The St. Felix Yellowjackets, coached by Ken Kalbrenner, sank over 60 per cent of their shots the first half. Kalbrenner said, "It was the best game by my kids in the past four years."

Plainview businessmen again have banded together to furnish transportation home after basketball practice for boys who live in rural areas. . . Bill Cashen, veteran Arcadia coach, recently praised Blair's 6-4 junior pivot-man Paul Halverson. . . "Best high school center I've ever seen in this area," was Cashen's opinion.

Wisconsin area gridgers named honorable mention on the Associated Press' All-State team include backs Dave Mills, Black River Falls; Jerry Schubert and Tom Larkin, La Crosse Aquinas, and Andy Gunderson and Russ Yarnell, Osseo. . .

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—Ettrick baseball fans honored their baseball club—winners of the Trempealeau County League series for the third consecutive season at a dinner at St. Bridget's Church sponsored by the Lions Club. Judge Lincoln Neprud, Viroqua was toastmaster and guest speaker.
Dave Kosio, Milwaukee Braves relief pitcher, scheduled speaker, was unable to come from La Crosse due to icy road conditions.
Others on the program included G. M. Wiley, Galesville; Walter Wall, Smith Bierne, Robert Wall,

Gustavus Bows, Hamline Downs North Dakota

Bethel Bombed By Platteville In 122-88 Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Records crumbled, Hamline needed half the game to get off the ground, Gustavus Adolphus ran into a prolific Johnny Horan and Carleton almost ran out of gas after building a 16-point lead.

Those were the disjointed pieces in a mildly madcap round of basketball Wednesday night involving most of the big shots among Minnesota colleges.

Gustavus took its expected spanking from Dayton, 82-63 in the start of its road jaunt as Horan, the former St. Thomas academy star, whipped in 33 points.

Gustavus lagged only 32-31 at the half before Horan starting his rampage that netted 23 points in the second half. Until he did, Gustie height made it interesting. Jim Springer, the 6-8 Gustavus center, hit 17 points but couldn't do much with Horan.

Hamline had serious trouble with North Dakota before the effects of Dave Tschimperle's scoring, rebounding and fine defensive play wore down the Dakotans at St. Paul, 72-61. Tschimperle scored 20 points, 13 in the first half, but Hamline trailed 18-18 midway in the first half before mounting a 32-27 intermission margin. Dick Donlin helped Tschimperle carry the scoring load in the second half. His six straight points cracked North Dakota resistance late in the game.

Jack Anderson, clicked for 18 points for North Dakota and Donlin had 16.

Duluth Branch got off winging with a 95-76 victory over American University at Washington, D. C. Bob McDonald led the fast traveling Bulldogs with 26 points and Tommy Richardson had 21.

Carleton pushed off to a 12-0 lead against Macalester, was in command 40-24 at halftime but was hanging on at the finish to win 58-55.

But Macalester's Jerry Dreyer, who scored 22 points, helped cut the lead down to the point where Carleton nursed a 56-55 edge with seconds left. Laurie Slocum and Howie Rosenblum clinched it with free throws. Slocum scored 20 points.

Winona Teachers set a school scoring record by shelling Stevens Point, 98-78. Pete Polus scored 24 points and Dave Smith had 21.

Guard Dick Matchinsky collected three vital free throws late in the game to bring St. John's a 56-54 victory over St. Olaf. The Johnnies third in a row. Matchinsky bagged 21 points.

At Menominee, Wis., St. Mary's also notched its third straight victory by belting Stout, 79-58 as Bill Skemp scored 19 points, Ken Jansen 18, Gene Biewen 17 and Fred Sheridan 10.

Bethel of St. Paul lost to Platteville, Wis., State in an horrendous 122-88 game and contributed to 20 records. The score was a school high for Platteville and the 210 total set a new gym mark.

In games tonight, Gustavus is at Western Kentucky, Duluth at Quantico Marines and St. Thomas at Loras.

MINNEAPOLIS (U)—Illness of Minnesota wrestling coach Wally Johnson today forced cancellation of the invitational high school wrestling meet scheduled for Saturday.

Johnson had been coordinating plans for the meet. Doctors said he will be bed-ridden for some time.

Fight Results
CLEVELAND—Charlie Norcross, 192½, Port Washington, N. Y., outpointed Roy Land LaStarza, 190, New York, 10. Rocky Cushman, 159, Cleveland, stopped Moses Ward, 160, Detroit, 8.

HONOLULU—Stan Harrington, 143½, Honolulu, knocked out Chuck Curleton, 146½, Los Angeles, 7.

Warriors Rip Stevens Point Polus, Smith Pace 98-Point Record

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

Coach Lyle Arns' Winona State Warriors held shooting practice Wednesday night at Memorial Hall, opening their 1954-55 season with a 98-78 romp past visiting Stevens Point Teachers.

The Warriors matched the Pointers in height and beef on the boards and held a considerable advantage in shooting and playmaking ability.

The Winona Peds sank a cool 50 per cent of their shots—34 field goals in 68 attempts and added 30 free throws in 46 tries. The Winonans breezed to a 30-14 lead midway in the first half and they coasted in the rest of the way.

Veteran Pete Polus, poised and sharp as ever, hooped eight field goals and a like number of free throws for individual scoring honors with 24 points.

Hard-driving Dave Smith, Alma's contribution to Winona State basketball, added 21 points.

He included nine gift shots in ten attempts, and some beautiful layups on drives in from his guard position.

Thirteen men played for Winona and ten figured in the scoring column. Also in double figures was 6-4 sophomore center Gil Regnier, who meshed 15 and looked greatly improved over his yearling season.

Jerry Grebin counted 13, many of them climaxing fast breaks down the floor. Others who scored included Roger Agre, member of last year's Renville state tourney team; Dick Fredrickson, Jim Kern and Bill Christopherson and Lee Paul.

Stevens Point center Orv Koepke topped his team's scorers with 16 points, followed by Ken Roloff with 14.

Roloff, guarded by Polus most of the way, got only one field goal in the first half. He led Stevens Point in scoring last year.

The 98 points scored by the Warriors is a new Winona State record. Ninety-four was the previous single game high. Last year the Warriors hit 88 points twice, but never broke into the 90s.

After Winona's early big lead, it was only a question of how high the score would mount. Most of the game's excitement was reserved for the final moments of play when the Warriors were pushing for the century total.

The Winona State junior varsity topped Harry Sheff's Wykoff cagers in a 47-39 preliminary game. Wykoff trailed most of the way but forged into a 37-35 lead in the second half. The Warrior jayvees closed with a surge, however, to take the decision.

Ken Nash netted 16 for Wykoff, leading both teams in scoring. It was the first game for Sheff's District One title aspirants.

The Warriors continue their home stand with a Saturday night date at Memorial Hall against Platteville Teachers, preceded by a 9:30 preliminary game.

CHICAGO (U)—A high-scoring Big Ten basketball season is in prospect judging from opening victories run up Wednesday night by Iowa, Ohio State and Michigan State.

Michigan State, playing a fast break, run-and-shoot style installed by new coach Forry Anderson, trounced Marquette 91-72. It was a new scoring mark for the Spartans, whose style of play resembled that of Bradley, coached by Anderson to the NCAA finals last season.

Julius McCoy netted 31 points to lead the Spartans and Al Ferrari contributed 25.

Individual scoring honors went to Ohio State's Robin Freeman who banged in 16 field goals and 10 free throws for 42 points against Pittsburgh. The Buckeyes won 99-87, hitting on 34 of 72 floor shots.

Freeman tangled in a great scoring duel with Pitt's Joe Pavlich, who set a school record with 40 points.

Iowa, a prime Big Ten title threat, opened with an easy 80-61 triumph over Washington of St. Louis. Coach Bucky O'Connor of the Hawkeyes used 18 players, with Carl Sugar Cain hitting 14 points and Bill Logan 13 in their limited action.

It was Iowa's 63rd straight non-conference victory at home. Illinois will open its campaign Thursday night against Butte at Champaign, Ill. Playing for the first time for the young, inexperienced team will be George Bon-Salle, 6-7½ center from Chicago's Loyola Academy and Bill Altenberger, 6-1 guard from East St. Louis, Ill.

They will be joined on the starting five by Bill Ridley, junior guard, and two returning regulars, Paul Judson and Bruce Roberts. Also making its start will be DePaul, host to Kalamazoo.

Lift Must Be Natural — A common fault one finds in teaching is an abrupt, hurried arm lift. The pupil is too anxious to apply hook spin to the ball. Gives his wrist a twist. So that the ball loses its line. Either rides high on the head pin or crosses over to the Brooklyn (left) side of the set-up.

Let me emphasize again that bowling is easy physically — if you'll permit it to be. Simply push the ball away to begin with, get it into swing, thinking of a weight attached to the end of the arm, like a stone on a string. Let it swing unrestrained. Don't help it; don't retard it. Don't try to develop extra speed. It's swing alone that brings skill and ease and pleasure. My free pamphlet, "Three Essentials of Bowling," is available if you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper. I am confident it will help you.

Meanwhile, in practice, remember to delay the elbow break. Concentrate on keeping the arm straight through its downward, forward arc, as the sketch shows. Allow the ball to swing freely all the way, so that the arm lift comes naturally.

Wake Forest Tips Washington Five

By BEN OLAN

The Associated Press

College basketball slipped in on the sports scene last night with a smattering of upsets and several record-shattering performances.

One conference champion — George Washington — was knocked off. Yale was beaten by little Amherst College. Three Big Ten conference teams—Ohio State, Michigan State and Iowa—won non-league games as expected. La Salle, the defending NCAA titleholder, also captured its season's opener.

George Washington, last year's Southern Conference kings, bowed to a powerful Wake Forest team, which set a school

Southern Minny Officials Talk On Fairmont Bid

Waseca Merger With Owatonna Would Make Room

OWATONNA, Minn.—Representatives of the Southern Minny League informally discussed a bid by Fairmont for admittance to the Southern Minny league but the meeting here Wednesday night was "purely discussion all the way."

No action could be taken since no league officers were present and none were invited. However, it is understood Len Pitonik, Fairmont, S.M.L. president, will be requested to call an official league meeting to formally decide the Fairmont bid.

Southern Minny cities not represented were Austin, Rochester and Waseca. Emil Scheidt, manager of the Winona Chiefs, represented that Mississippi River community at the discussion.

It was revealed that those attending the meeting "appeared interested" in Fairmont's request for admittance. It was noted, however, that league rules require unanimous vote to admit a new team to the league.

One source revealed there is increasing talk of a merger of the Owatonna and Waseca league entries.

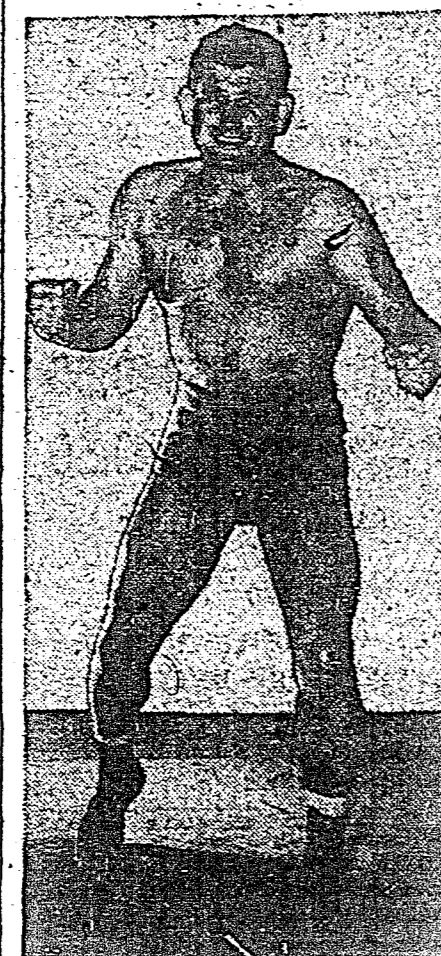

That is still regarded as only a remote possibility. But should it happen, it would leave room for another team.

Fairmont has filed a formal application for admittance with the Southern Minny secretary, L. R. Ringhofer of Owatonna.

Haggerty Signs For Monday Card

Hard Boiled Haggerty, a tough egg who's a hard nut to crack, will headline a Monday night wrestling card at the Red Men's Club, matching holds with rough Jack Pesek of Lincoln, Neb., in the main event.

The card under the sponsorship of the American Legion which turns profits to the Legion Junior baseball program, also includes two other matches.

Frank Hickey, 248-pound Los Angeles grappler, tangles in the opening bout with Firpo Zbyszko, 285, New York. The opener is set for one fall with a 30-minute time limit.

Matched in the special event are Big Bill MacMurray, 265, Buffalo, N. Y., and Nick Roberts, 250, Tampa, Fla.

Pesek is one of several famous wrestling brothers who preceded their mat careers by bulldozing steers on Nebraska prairie ranches.

Pesek will have a tough critic in his hands in the Hard Boiled pier six brawler from New York. As recent as Tuesday night Haggerty battled world's champion Lou Thesz tooth-and-nail before being disqualified by foul for using illegal tactics.

Haggerty is no stranger to Winona since he has headlined numerous cards here. Each appearance brings additional fans who boo him and cheer his opponent to the echo.

A tough Irishman whose college football career was short-lived since he played too rough, he's one of wrestling's most notorious villains.

The first match on the card starts at 8:20 p.m. Monday night. The special event is ticketed for one fall and 30-minute time limit.

Rozek's 277 Ties Season Single Mark

Jerry Rozek Wednesday night tied the mark for the highest single game of the season in Winona league bowling. A member of the Winona Heaters team, his 277 equals the same score rolled previously by Jack Stachowitz.

Rozek missed an honor count by a single pin in the Class D League at the Athletic Club. He had a 539 series. Errorless was Rich Leik of Jerry's Plumbers with 534.

The highest series recorded Wednesday night was Wally Dubbs' 238-617 for Wally's Bar in the Merchants League at the Keglers Klub. Wally's team won first half honors with a 28-14 mark.

Lenore Klagge had the top performance in women's action, firing 211-526 for Foot's Tavern in the Uplown Ladies League at K.K. Other honors in that circuit included Ruth Novomy's 520 and a 505 by Wilma Hunn.

Don Knapiak fired 596 and Don Bicker 218 for Winona Boxcraft in the Class A League and the Red Men's Club, while in the Retail League at Hal-Rod, Ed Duke of Western Motor Sales rolled 227 and Adolph Schreiber of Fountain Brew 584.

Bowling 218-571 for Winona Rug Club in the Commercial League at Hal-Rod was Allen Howard, while Art Best of Breitlow Funeral had a 204 single and also the high series in the Wednesday League at St. Martin's.

Toppers in Swift's League keeling at the Red Men's Club was Dick Kahoun of Silverleafs with 235 and Ray Eichman of Sunbrites with 521.

Redmen Tip Stout 79-58, 3rd Win

MENOMONIE, Wis.—The St. Mary's Redmen chalked up their third victory of the season by coming from behind to defeat Stout Institute's basketball team, 79-58 here Wednesday night.

Redmen mentor Ken Wiltgen, encouraged by St. Mary's continued balanced scoring attack, nevertheless indicated he felt his charges were capable of playing much better ball than they showed in the non-conference game.

Stout held a 28-27 lead shortly before the end of the first half. But the Redmen poured through five quick points to take a 33-28 intermission margin and won going away.

Three players scored 17 or more points. Forward Bill Skemp had 19.

The Loras Duhawks lost four regular season last year's squad which posted a 15-8 record and bowed '93-84 to St. Mary's. But Coach Vince Doras, starting his 14th season as Loras cage mentor, has 6-3 Ed Lang back.

Lang was Loras' second high scorer last year with 323 points in 23 games for a 14.1 average. Lang is a senior and the other four probable starters are sophomores with none over 6-3.

Tallest squad member is a 6-7 freshman, LaVerne Theodore.

Another member of the Loras squad is six-foot John Prinzing, a sophomore, who played on a Rushford District One title team several seasons back.

The Knickerbockers have won two in a row after four straight setbacks and although they tied for third place with Boston, they're only two games behind the front running Syracuse Nationals.

Wednesday night, the New Yorkers snapped the Nats' seven-game winning streak, 88-86, holding off a Syracuse rally in the fourth quarter.

In other league games, the Fort Wayne Pistons defeated the Rochester Royals, 101-96, in overtime, the Minneapolis Lakers downed the Philadelphia Warriors, 91-88, and the Boston Celtics whipped the Milwaukee Hawks, 101-90.

Minneapolis had to come on strong in the last two minutes to nip Philadelphia. Paul Arizin of the Warriors collected 23 points to top both clubs. Dick Schnitker had 18 for the winners.

A crowd of 5,599 saw Minneapolis break loose from an 84-84 tie in the closing minutes of the nightcap. The Lakers scored five straight points to grab a 89-84 margin and then held off a desperate Philadelphia rally.

Minneapolis had built a 28-20 lead at the end of the first quarter but six straight points by Philadelphia's Arizin pulled the Warriors to within two points.

By halftime Philadelphia had knotted the count at 46-46 and after three periods the Warriors held a 66-64 lead. Philadelphia eventually moved in front 74-68 but the shooting of Schnitker and Vern Mikkelsen enabled the Lakers to tie it at 84 from where the pro champs made their final move.

Interpretation Meeting Tonight

A basketball rules interpretation meeting will be held tonight in Room 104, Winona Senior High, it was announced today by Athletic Director Vic Gislason.

The meeting is under the sponsorship of the Minnesota State High School League. Winona and area officials, and coaches are urged to attend.

The meeting will be conducted by Kermit Anderson, of the MSHSL office. It starts at 8 p.m.

Peerless Sweeper Concludes Sunday

The Peerless Chain Ladies Handicap Sweepstakes will conclude this weekend with bowling Saturday and Sunday at the Keglers Klub, according to tournament manager Vern Mahaffey.

He is participating a good entry list if inclement weather doesn't hold down participation by out of town bowlers. The tournament includes four games across eight alleys.

Chuck Mencil and Dave Noack are comparative outsiders. Mencil is an Eau Claire, Wis., native and Noack is from Arlington, Minn.

Cowles is convinced Mencil is back on the rails once more after having an erratic junior year in which the Gopher coach says he was "forcing" his shots.

"Chuck is showing a lot of improvement," Cowles observes, "and he's just as important to the team as Dick Garmaker. He won't score as often but he's the boy who'll be directing things in a team test."

The Gophers get a stern test in their opener Saturday against De Paul in Chicago. Cowles' main problems are lack of depth and height, especially if Simonovich falls to make the grade.

Cotter, Winhawk Cagers Travel; Swim, Mat Set

Winona's two prep basketball teams and Winona High swimmers and wrestlers will be in action Friday to top the slate of local sports activities.

Both cage teams will journey out of town for opposition. The Winona High Winhawks travel to Northfield in a bid for their fourth straight victory of the season and first in Big Nine Conference play.

Northfield opened its season with a 38-35 victory over Owatonna. Cotter High plays at La Crosse Logan in what is a major non-conference test for the local Southern Minnesota Catholic Conference entry. Logan has lost two of three games, the most recent 71-47 to Tomah, a state tournament team in Wisconsin last year.

Before that the Winona High quint handed Logan a 49-47 overtime defeat. Cotter, unbeaten in two starts, will be playing away from home for the first time this season.

Winona High's wrestlers host Northfield in A and B squad matches in the Senior High Auditorium. It will be the first conference meet for both teams. B squad matches start at 6:45 with A star grapplers booked for 8 p.m.

Coach Lloyd Luke sends his Winona High swimmers into competition for the first time this year. They meet Shattuck at 4 p.m. in the Senior High pool. The match may start earlier to allow Shattuck to get an early start home.

Four of the swimmers to see action are defending state champion Wilton Berger, Roland Kratz, Bill Hauser and Jerry Miller. The match will test Winona's strength and the potential of inexperienced prospects.

HOUSTON (AP)—Leo Durocher refused to predict another pennant today but declared the New York Giants might be stronger in 1955 and hinted that Brooklyn and Milwaukee would have to be better if they are to prevent his world champions from repeating.

Relaxing in his plush hotel suite while attending the minor league convention here, the dapper Giant manager conceded his job "might be a bit tougher" if the Dodgers' Roy Campanella and the Braves' Bobby Thomson return to top physical form.

"I don't know whether we can win or not," he said frankly. "I do know we have a good ball team. It may be even better than last year's. But it might be harder to win. It all depends on how much the Dodgers and Braves help themselves from now until the start of the season. You've also got to remember that every club shoots at the champ. That's the way it should be."

Durocher also conceded he could use another starting pitcher but added quickly his team was set and that he had made no attempt to make a deal here.

Calling Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez his "Mr. Left and Mr. Right," who would pitch every four days regardless of the opposition, he said he was counting on Sal Maglie, 37-year-old clutch pitcher, as a one-a-week starter.

He said he was counting heavily on Monte Irvin making a comeback, but predicted his left fielder would climb back into the .300 class again next year.

Among the smaller institutions, Norwich in Vermont is in the market for a coach after the resignation of George (Duke) Benz.

Young, who also was athletic director at Furman, was the only one of the five to as much as break even this season. Taylor had a 1-8-0 record at Oregon State, Wituchi 0-11-0 at Tulsa and Benz 3-5-0 at Norwich. Pittsburgh lost three straight under Dawson before Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took charge. Young's Purple Hurricane broke even in 10 games.

Danowski's resignation caught Furman officials completely by surprise. Although the Rams had won one and tied one of their nine games this fall, the former Fordham and New York Giants' great had given no indication that he was planning on stepping out.

Although Danowski's wife said he hoped to remain in the coaching profession.

He took over at Fordham in 1946 and in nine years his teams won 29 games, lost 44 and tied 3. The most successful year was an 8-1 record in 1950.

Meantime, the Knoxville Journal said Robinson and his entire staff at Tennessee will be dismissed when contracts expire Dec. 31. It said the chief reasons were defeats by Vanderbilt and Kentucky, both ancient foes of the Vols.

Five Major Colleges Seek New Coaches

The last of the 1954 football gear has not yet been hung up but already five major colleges and at least one minor school are looking for a new head coach.

The unexpected resignation of Ed Danowski at Fordham University yesterday left the fifth major vacancy and there were reports that Harvey Robinson was on his way at Tennessee.

Major college coaches who have been fired or resigned within the last few days include Phil Taylor of Oregon State, Bill Young of Furman and Bernie Wituchi of Tulsa. Red Dawson stepped out at Pittsburgh in midseason because of ill health.

Two members of the 1954 St. Mary's Redmen football team were named honorable mention on a Catholic All-American football team announced by officials at Marquette University.

The players are back Benny Palmerente and guard Jerry Schutz. Palmerente and Schutz were recently elected 1955 Redmen grid co-captains.

Indiana Rule May Be at End

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Indiana's two-year reign as kingpins of Western Conference basketball should come to an end this season.

Unless all signs fail, Iowa's oncoming sophomore team of last year should be ready to prevent the Hoosiers from taking their third straight title, Minnesota, with the talented and veteran pair of Dick Garmaker and Chuck Mencil, also has a fighting chance for the Big Ten championship.

The Hoosiers must be reckoned with but they've lost Bob Leonard, star guard, and Dick Farley and Charlie Krak, forwards. Leonard was one of the greatest players in Indiana history. The Hoosiers still have Don Schlundt and as long as the big fellow is in the pivot, Indiana will be tough to down.

Eight of Iowa's 10 players on last year's squad were sophomores and all are back. The only absentee is Chuck Jaragins, but Coach Buckley O'Connor has such proven players at his disposal as Carl Cain, Bill Logan, Milt Scheurman, Bill Seaberg and Deacon Davis. Logan led the team's scoring with 315 and each of those others tallied over 150 points.

Minnesota, which finished in a third place tie with Illinois, behind Indiana and Iowa, has lost three regulars but in Garmaker and Mencil they own two of the best in the Midwest.

Behind the big three come Northwestern's Wisconsin and Michigan State. Illinois, weakened by the loss of John Kerr, remains an uncertain quantity. Ohio State, Michigan and Purdue will have their own private fight to stay out of the cellar although the Buckeyes have the league's best outside shooter in Robin Freeman.

It was Castellani's 56th victory against six defeats and two draws. Ward has a 23-7 record.

In the eighth, Castellani set Ward up with a hard right smash to the jaw. A hard left hook toppled Ward for a count of eight. Then Castellani delivered a long left that sent him down again. Referee Tony La Branche decided to stop it at that.

Norkus Wallops La Starza in Cleveland Go

CLEVELAND (AP)—Free-swinging Charlie Norkus dealt a punishing blow to the comeback plans of Roland LaStarza of New York Wednesday night by winning a unanimous 10-round decision from the onetime top-ranked heavyweight contender.

The televised bout saw the willing slugger from Port Washington, N.Y., carry the battle to LaStarza most of the way in a slow-moving contest. He blimaxed his attack in the final round with a sizzling roundhouse left to the head that had LaStarza reeling in a clinch when the gong sounded.

In another featured bout on the Cleveland News 29th annual topshop fund boxing show, Cleveland's Rocky Castellani, the No. 3 middleweight contender, sent outclassed Moses Ward of Detroit crashing to the canvas four times before finally scoring a technical knock-out in 2:30 of the eighth round.

The heavy-weight victory was the 26th for Norkus, against 12 defeats. He had a 24-6 record with advantage on LaStarza who fought at 190.

While it was only LaStarza's sixth defeat against 53 victories, the loss hit hard at his future hopes. Stopped by champion Rocky Marciano in 11 rounds in a 1953 title fight, he had been out of action since he lost a close one to England's Don Cockell last March in London.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Changes in styles are responsible. When Matthew Vassar founded Vassar College in 1861, three nails were provided for each girl's clothing—one each for nightgown, day dress, and Sunday frock. Nowadays, when a girl unpacks her trunks at college, she has far more feminine contraptions than a family of ten daughters had 100 years ago, Poor Dad!

Answer to Question No. 2

2. In the fine book edited by Ashley Montagu, "The Meaning of Love," James Luther Adams writes (paraphrased), "Love of God is the sum of the devotions one lives by. The atheist really loves God if his atheism grows out of his love of life. Both the atheist and the deist believe something is sacred, sovereign, reliable—but these are the very qualities always associated with God. Only the nihilist to whom life is meaningless, does not love God."

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Far more. In 1919 in 320 Indiana high schools, 5,748 seniors were tested in ten subjects. Not long ago 2,609 Indianapolis seniors were given the same tests. Of a possible 190 points the 1919 girls scored 136 points; boys, 139. In the recent test girls averaged 151 points; boys, 153. A book could be filled with similar results.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A curious youngster wrote me a letter asking how a college education benefited the average boy. I always say so, he pointed out, but I don't exactly say how.

Facetiously, I suppose, he enclosed a newspaper clipping which announced the annual debate between Yale and Princeton universities.

"They will have women on their minds as usual," the item said. "The question 'Resolved that the Dior look falls flat.' Other subjects include 'That a lady should choose death before dishonor,' and 'Good women tire of their role,' and 'The Kinsey report is a compliment to the American girl.'"

"For that I need a college education?" queries the fellow.

I have talked so often about the abstract values of a college education that I am going to do it again. A college education is, of course, absolutely necessary for law, medicine, engineering, divinity and for those poor fellows who want to go into the rather unprofitable field of philosophy.

To all others I say this: If you have to ask whether a college education is going to do you any good, then don't go to college. Learning, knowledge, education, is not anything that should be forced on a person like castor oil. The boy and the girl who feels the urge to become an educated person will make up his or her own mind without my advice.

Those who want to go to college only in order to get a diploma or a husband should not go to college.

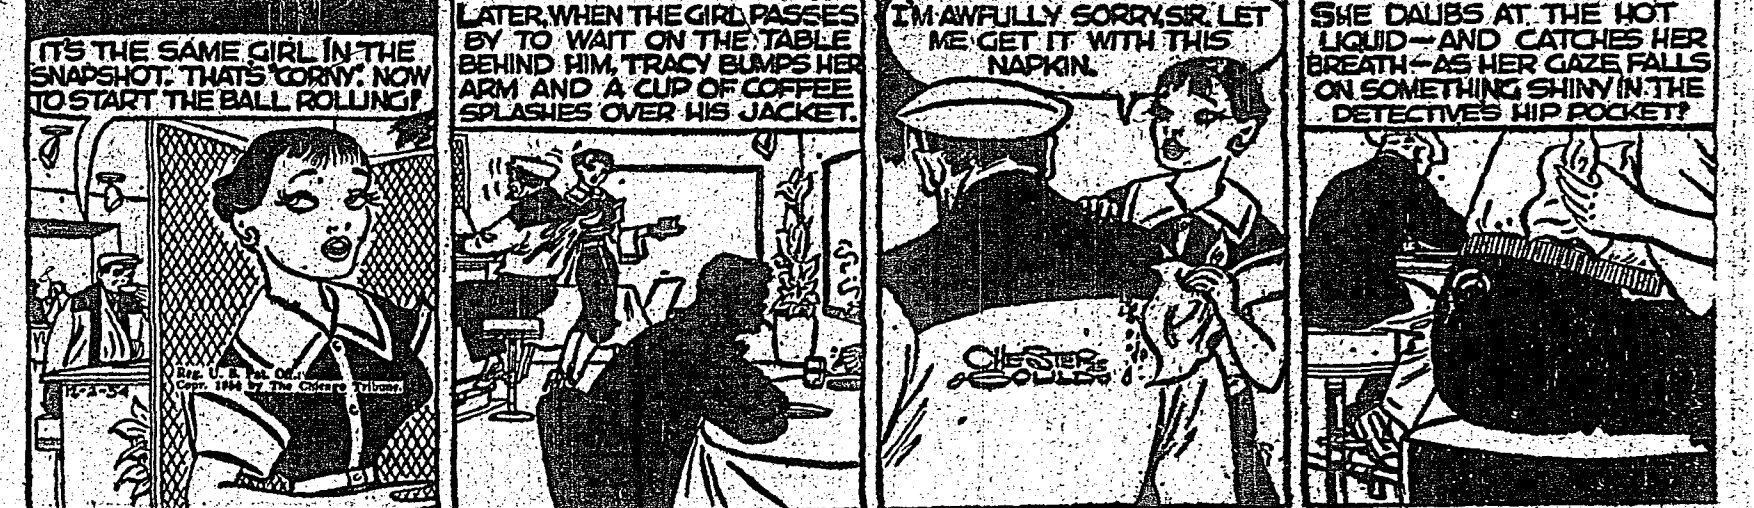

Talking about college, maybe you remember your Phidias, the great Greek sculptor, who lived from 500 to 432 B.C.

He was supposed to be one of the finest sculptors of all times, and every one of his works still in existence is a priceless treasure. Well, archeologists have just found one of his supposed statues, fighting.

The reports indicated the supplies are going to soldiers and civilians either released or escaped from Communist forces in the recent Indochina fighting.
