TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing to express my dissatisfaction with the choice of the "Association" as an entertainment. I do not feel that the choice of the group justifies the expenditure of $6,000. While "Association" was a fine group and contributed to the enjoyment of American music, their work is not relevant today.

I was surprised to discover that we passed up a chance to get the "Jim Harvey" in favor of the "Association." At Rochester J.C., John Denver performed at a fraction of the price of the "Association." It is worn and the emblem of pride or shame should seem proper that the emblem of Winona State has been ventationed.

Perhaps the administration would like to relate this experience rather, it will deal primarily with cold hard facts, not relevant today.

Winnonan, October 8 — Remnember the "Association" as entertainer's Club. He is a member of the WSC Political Science Club.

I graduated from Winona State College, majoring in political science and served as president of the Young Democrats and was an active member of the WSC Political Science Club. I am thirty years old, married with one child, in excellent health, and my military obligation has been fulfilled. I am not a "prisoner of war" but an individual teacher who has been treated as a "prisoner of war" and have no knowledge of the terms of the operation.

The following editorial will not be filled with hard facts, rather, it will deal primarily with a personal experience. I will attempt to relate this experience as objectively as possible.

If I was asked by a potential teacher in my subject area what I should do, I point out the following: First, take a long look at college education in general. College is not a "job" and is in de-

Activity fee use questioned

As a member of Winona, Women Libbers put your bra back on, the school chasing your high school ormented college students on the homecoming committee. Correct me if I’m wrong, but I do believe that most high schools no longer have dress codes.

You may, however, breathe a sigh of relief. WSC has no dress code. This same situation arose last year when the ranks of institutionalized dress attempt to impose their standards on eveyone. Nowhere could a dress code be found. It seemed only to emanate from the structuralized minds of nostalgics for the good eol days of high school homecoming. And people were allowed to attend the homecoming dance as they presented themselves with 1.5 card.

However, there was no publi publication of the non-existent regulation made last year, so another attempt at imposition of tastes was made again this year. My advice (without official endorsement) is to go to the dance in the manner that you feel is appropriate in order to enjoy the music of the Flippers.

You won’t be estranged!
The operation of the school dress code may be one of the rea-on where the student activity fee is once again under fire. Another reason may be golf outings for graduate students and faculty only; which are sponsored by the activity fee during the summer semesters. Or it could be the whole idea behind the activity fee.

Dealing with the first two con-traverses seems to involve a question of discrimination. Is it a satisfactory arrangement to have activities supported by all of the students’ money directed toward activities that are intended for only some of the students?

In the case of the golf outing it is quite flagrant and while the dress code is more subtle, both are examples of social discrimination that are allowed to persist under this system. And with ev-eyone’s support, either knowing or unknowingly.

While these two examples come to mind as blatant examples of discrimination, the whole system contains a certain amount of it. It sponsors a varied number of different activities.
Sports receive about 29% of the total budget, concerts and lectures approximately 14%, student Activity Coordinating Comnittee about 10%, the newspaper about 8%, and the rest spread between some twenty other organizations. However, not everyone of these activities is going to be appealing to everyone. Some do not like concerts and lectures, others care not for movies, sports, etc.

The point is that one cannot provide activities that will please all of the people all of the time.

Therefore, the operation becomes more simplistic or more complicated. Shall we not try to reach all tastes? The simplistic question. Or Winona State's scoreless string of four consecutive games came to an abrupt end on Saturday afternoon as the Warriors posted their first victory of the season. In a 10-0 win over the Golden Mustangs of Southwest State, Fred Olson and Miss Al-mera were elected officers of the committee established for the 1971-72 academic year. The election of officers and the first six points of the year on the agenda were the main items of business conducted at the first Oslo Exchange Committee meeting held October 4.

The meeting was adjourned after the committee established that the fourth Sunday in each quarter would be designated official meeting dates, with all other meetings announced in the local school newspaper.
