Wenonah Players Present "Foxes" Arena Style

For the third and final public performance, Wenonah Players staged their production of Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes" April 12 for a capacity audience in Somsen Arena.

The play, which was also presented for Winona State students and faculty April 9 and 10, evolved around a money-mad family of the South.

In enhancing character roles were Rose Marie Warner, Pat Olson, Deanna Harders and Norbert Millin.

Staff for the production included Assistant Director, Pat Kelm; Stage Manager, Gilbert Bergsland; Business Manager, Willa Christianson; and Production Manager, Elaine Telsleffon.

Other Wenonah Players members working on the play were Publicity, Mary Trip, Rose Marie Warner, and Charlene Bittel; Box Office, Roman Clausassen, Kappy Hammegren, and Muriel Sutlee; Ushers, Helen Corrigan, Doris Peterson, Beverly Lewis, Judy Johnson, Betty Theios, Nancy Tubb, and Mary Ann Marchand.

North Central Accredits Winona Graduate School

Announcement of the accreditation of Winona State on the Master's degree level was made here on April 6. The college received this recognition following the annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

In approving this institution as a Master's degree-granting college, the examiners cited that factors at contributing to this decision were: the size and character of the student body on the faculty, the high level of expenditures for library books and services, the holdings in the library, the guidance and personal attention given graduate students, the high standards in the graduate program, and the long-range plans for increasing college facilities.

Aspects on which this college was rated included: purposes, faculty, curriculum, instruction, library, student-personnel services, administration, finance, physical plant, institutional study, and athletics.

Persons most interested in this accreditation will be the college's alumni, students, and members of the public.

Winona State's authority to grant Master's degrees was instituted by the State Legislature in 1956 in order to provide teachers with a fifth year of professional preparation. Winona's program is attended mostly by people working in public schools.

This spring Winona has 340 graduate students enrolled in afternoon and evening classes. 290 persons have been registered to take work toward this degree 24 degrees have been awarded to graduate students, thus far.

Winona was accredited as a Normal School in 1913 and its Bachelor degree program was accredited by the North Central Association in 1949. The North Central Association accredits colleges, universities, and high schools in 20 midwest states. In 1956, 21 colleges were accredited in Minnesota, six of these being approved Masters granting institutions. Winona will be added to this list.

Guest Editorial: ‘Search’ Goes on — for Some

"Search Within" — That was the theme of religious emphasis week, the first one to be observed on our campus. Does such activity violate the freedom of the student? Is it just one more step through the mental, physical, and spiritual problems that many students are experiencing? Does any one of these factors offer an adequate reason for having a production in the Smog? While speaking of the Players, it might be well to mention that many students who have trouble finding a time and date when some other equally strong interest might do well to question their relationship to the co-curricular life currently found on campus. The groups interested in these activities are obviously interested in really participating in the programs sponsored by the National Catholic, Protestant and Service is — a student self-help program that provides counseling and study skills to students. It can be used no longer as the north end of the Student Lounge, which is not the place for sundry articles belonging to the Wenonah Players. These rooms could be used for their intended purpose of dressing and makeup, thereby lessening the congestion in the Student Lounge, which is not the place for actor preparation.

The aforementioned congestion problem is one of the main reasons for the inadequacy of the Smog as a place to present plays, as well as for Sundy's problems with storage space for sundry articles belonging to the Wenonah Players. These rooms could be used for their intended purpose of dressing and makeup, thereby lessening the congestion in the Student Lounge, which is not the place for actor preparation.

Swing Band Concert

With the coming of spring, we see an upsurge in musical activities around school. On the evening of May 15, for example, the Swing Band will present a concert. Featured along with the full group will be the "band within a band," a small aggregation of musicians from the band. The price will be reasonable, and a very swingy evening is in store. So turn out for the concert and you won't be disappointed.

School Groups Tour

In the next few weeks, two of Winona State's musical groups, the College Chorus, and the Swing Band, will travel to various area schools to present programs. These tours do a great deal towards building up the reputation of our school and attracting prospective students to it. The Chorus' tour is covered in detail elsewhere in this issue; the Swing Band will make several trips, visiting a high school each time.

Bob Davis Again

Some of our regular readers — that's you, Mother — may recall that a few issues back, I mentioned the Bob Davis Quartet in glowing terms, and called your attention to their Zephyr LP, Jazz from the North Coast. Since then, I've purchased, lived with, and formed a deep attachment to said record. Musically, it's a gas, the kind I never tire of; and the cover alone is worth the price of the record. Now I'm waiting with open charge accounts for the group's newest, with Herbie Mann sitting in on flute.

New Book

I'm very happy to report that our Eliot, that large brick building across from Phelps-Hall Bowl, has secured a copy of James Joyce's Ulysses, the Finnegans Wake, and the Castle Revisited, by the French critic Andre Hodier. So far — mainly because I haven't had a chance to get involved in it — I've only been able to give you a cursory examination of the basis of that, however, and the highly favorable reviews it received in Dean Rev. I feel that the book will prove a most valuable and certainly a most welcome addition to the library's collection of works on jazz.

On the Lighter Side

If you happen to fall at the Prom this evening, here are three ways to avoid embarrassment when you fall on the dance floor:

1. Just lie there, they'll think you fainted.
2. Get up gracefully.
3. Start moping the floor with your hairbrush, they'll think you work there.

A danca, a data,
Perchance out late,
A clasa, a quizza,
None of us whizza.

An egotist to his love:
"Life gave me many blessings"
I'm sure you'll agree;
I have wit, charm, and appearance.
And you — well, you have me.

Winonan Mailmen

Essential Link

In Paper Process

by Jan Steichen

Did you know that while you are reading this article someone in faraway Guatemala may be reading it too?

Our school paper is sent to seven foreign countries which include Venezuela, Alaska, Hawaii, Philippines, Canada, and Puerto Rico. Thirty-seven of the forty-eight states receive copies of the Winonan also.

Behind the scenes is Elaine Tolleson, the manager of the circulation staff. Once a month Elaine and her assistants, Rita Brenna, Gil Bergund, Evelyne Buhler, and Darlene Radiek lose themselves among the hundreds of copies of the school paper.

In addition to folding, addressing, weighing and tying the copies of the Winonan to be sent out, the members of the circulation staff also place in each resident student's mailbox and also the faculty and all school employees a most vital link.

Although they are inconspicuous members of the Winonan staff, the circulation department essentials provide a most essential link in the process of publication — handing twenty-one hundred papers from the editors to the readers.

Opinions

... people who remain in their seats, but it is very disappointing if the bulk of one's audience disappears in the direction of the restroom.

Finally, while it is true that there are usually enough band members available to form a pep band, it is difficult to do so because at this time there is no regulation for band membership, and no way of enforcing participation in band activities. Would we feel that the editorial reference to "instrument operators" who are "so busy . . . that they can't give a day or two a week to play for our school games" casts an unjustified reflection upon those band members who depend very greatly on income they receive from their work with local dance bands. It must be remembered that most games fall on weekends, which are usually the only nights these bands work. Many of the men in these bands contribute to their families' support. It would be too much to ask them to sacrifice this money, especially as there is no other compensation for their time and efforts in playing at games.

Warriors 'Snowed;' Host Redmen Tomorrow

Warrior Trackmen to Meet KSC; Practice Hampered by Weather

Coach Bob Jones' bustling Warrior track squad leaves tomorrow for its first venture into the land of the Mason-Dixon Line for a meet with powerful Kentucky State College of Morehead, Kentucky.

Today and tomorrow the Warriors will be competing with the best college track teams in Minnesota and Wisconsin, at the annual college relays at Carleton College in Northfield, and at La Crosse where they will oppose powerful River Falls and La Crosse State.

Immediately after the triangular meet at La Crosse, the men will leave for Morehead where the Jones Boys will meet KSC Saturday in what is expected to be an interesting as well as an exciting encounter with the Kentucky powers.

Jones expects trouble with KS in every event as the Blue-grassers, who boast a student enrollment of 2500 plus, have shown top-notch material in every running event. If the track squad is as well accounted for as their basketball team has been in the past few years, an exciting meet is in the making.

Trouble with sore muscles and weather in the worst possible form has plagued early workouts, and conditioning has been coming along slowly. Also the loss of Del Tschumper and Harry Reed from the squad has sorely hurt the squad's chances of a better showing.

However, Mr. Jones has Don Schierholt (100-220), Duane Krejncik (100-220), Rolly Olson (100-220), Jack Strommer (1-2 mile), Pat Marris (low-high hurdles), Nykol Tolzman (440-880), Jerry Tedrow (440-880), Arnie Satter (hurdles), Larry Gunther (short), Rick Hubbard (3rd), in the infield, was staunchly backed up by Dale Timm, Dick Beber, and Bill Hosteltter in the outfield, but this unit, mainly due to a lack of good weather which would otherwise be conducive to good team workouts, couldn't cope readily enough with the slants of Loras lefty Art Huinker, who held the Warriors scoreless until the seventh inning when the visitors blasted each of their four runs across on doubles by Dick Zack and Jim Miner.

The Warriors were out to avenge two losses at the hands of the Duhawks from last year by the scores of 5-2 and 6-2, but, as was true of the meetings last year, couldn’t break the magic mound spell cast on the bats by Huinker. Don Segersmark, who pitched catchers, as well as plays the outfield on different occasions for the Warriors, started on the hill for Molinari, but was relieved after four innings by righthander Darrel Wohler. Darrel lasted until the ninth inning when reliever Don Beacons came in to put an end to the festivities, and wrap up the contest, 11-4.

The Redmen boast a perennially powerful team, and have to be seriously reckoned with. They are also a top contender in the strong MIACC each season, and this year is no exception.

The next home game of the season for the Warriors is slated for April 27, when they host Benidjii's Beavers in a double-header. The final contest of the home-and-home series with the Redmen will take place May 10, at the Terrace Height's expanses.

Golfers, Tennis Prepare Openings

Golf and tennis share the limelight with baseball and track once again as the schedules for each of the spring sports call for competition starting April 25 for both teams.

Attractive schedules have been set up for each sport, with special emphasis on the golf schedule.

The ten men who have been trying to work out as regularly as possible at the Westfield golf course, have been doing so in the most adverse of conditions, ranging from wind, to rain, and snow.

The unit, made up of Fred Weeman, Dennis Syverson, Doug Page, Jim Jacobs, Earl Buswell, Ralph Ryan, and Bruce Bergin are expected to carry the load for Coach Owen as they open their season the 25th here with a triangular against La Crosse and Eau Claire.

Elimination rounds are slated to determine the team members and positions, but as yet, no important or favorable scores of rounds have been turned in to the coach.

With such an attractive schedule, and so much promising talent on the squad, a successful season is in the making.

Mankato will be the team to watch once again in the conference meet May 23, as they are potentially strong in the greens game. The conference meet is slated for the St. Cloud course.

Swarling the big bats this season for the Warrior Nine will be Frank Jaszewski, Rick Hubbard, Don Segersmark, Jim Miner, and Dick Zack. All are returning lettermen but Zack who is out for the first time.
WRA Combines Music, Water, To Form a “Swim Fantasy”

by Sonya Hansen

Pink and green gingham and cardboard girls in various swim positions set the stage for the WRA Swim Club’s water show “Swim Fantasy,” which was presented on March 29.

A capacity crowd viewed twelve numbers, including duets, solos and group numbers. Three spotlights played on the water, casting reflections as the cardboard swimmers swam between acts.

After the members of the group were introduced, they swam to the music of “Tales from the Vienna Woods,” “The Waltz You Saved For Me” was the second number on the program, followed by a solo by Barbara Peterson entitled “Mystery Street.” “Beautiful Ohio” “Tea for Two,” and “Italian Theme” rounded out the first portion of the program.

After the intermission, the audience viewed more intricate routines which had been worked out by the girls. “Poor People of Paris,” “Off Shore,” “Autumn Leaves,” “Midnight Blues,” “Blue Violins” were given. The finale, “If You Truly” completed the program.

WRA Plans Program of Spring Sports, Trip

There is plenty of activity to keep the WRA members busy now. Spring sports, including softball, basketball and tennis are in full swing.

Also on May 3, the state playday will be held at Duluth, University of Minnesota. The theme for this year’s event is “Land of Sky Blue Waters.” A hundred of twenty-five girls will be going from TC.

Winter Sports Awards Presented

The coaches of the athletic department announced last week the names of all men receiving letters for active participation in the winter sports of basketball and wrestling. Dr. Owen listed the names of the basketball award winners, and Mr. Jones presented the list of “W” candidates from the wrestling squad.

accomplished, the names of 19 men were submitted for final verification by the athletic committee. Twelve of these names represented basketball, and seven wrestling, with three awards being handed out for service as assistant coach, and managers.

Warrior Warbles

by Jerry Tedrow

Thanks to the outstanding efforts of our new athletic commissioner Rick Hubbard, plans for an extended intramural athletic program are in the making, and are near completion for competition for next fall.

So far, the only and newest addition to the set-up is IM bowling, which will be rolled off at the Hal Red lanes. The league will run approximately from October to March, as it is set up now, however the finer points of the league have not been ironed out.

Sunday afternoon or evening has been designated as the day of the week for competition in the new sport, which should prove exciting and interesting as well as expectantly.

Tentative prices have been set with the use of shoes “thrown in” and for the top bowler of the week will go a week of free lines.

This writer feels that this new option has been very wise and fruitful so far, and are indicative of things to come in the way of improvements for next year.

As a good feeling to note our new commissioners, backed by the support of the student body, are working to put the TC event in the adversity of apathy and “...but we’ve never done it this way before...” - Jam.

Sports-A-Rama Draws 24 Area High Schools

One hundred twenty girls and their advisers from twenty-four area high schools attended the WPE-sponsored Sports-A-Rama held on campus March 30. Sporting events included basketball, volleyball, relays, and individual activities and sports.

Barbara Gates was general chairman for the event. The activities committee included co-chairs Beverley Krieger and Margaret Anderson, Shirley Vathing, Donna Ambrose, and Joan Feind.

Members of the officials and life guards committee were Thelma Ahrens, Jan Eischen, La Rue Swearinger, Olive Tovson, Barbara Peterson, Marilyn Hanson, Shirley Ryppka, Bonnie Tonsager, Helen Gatzke, Shirley Vathing, and Margaret Anderson.

Jeanne Stegen and Helen Gatzke headed the registration committee. Other members were Sandra Weber, Barbara Renele, Jaet Rompa, and Jane Snyder.

Kay Weseinen and Ovia Rice had charge of the food arrangements, and Charlotte Smoening and Sally Hallberg planned the entertainment.

The program was planned by Barbara Plourde and Betty Johnson. Carol Friday in charge of the decorations and Barbara Whitcomb was in charge of publicity.

Inexperience Hampered Netmen As Season Opens

A team of new faces will take the court for Winona’s tennis team when they open the season April 25, at Eau Claire.

A general lack of college experience players is plaguing the team in early workouts, but as soon as the weather clears up, and the snow comes out more than just long enough to melt the snow, the men will be able to work out favorably and gain practice experience before the first meet.

Russ Blankenfeld, Bob Tblدور, Gene Haakensen, Gary Evenson, Jim Schoenrock, Russ Lund, and George Yamamoto have been working out regularly under the watchful eye of our man winter, and a few broken strings have been the case.

A tentative schedule has been drawn up by Coach McCown, however, we have not yet seen the final slate of the season.

Winona State group, under Gregoire, grew out of the modern dance, and is now developing. We have walks, runs, jumps, etc., with the element of creativity. Relations with lines, circles, types, and strength in locomotor and dance is really considered an art form just as music, painting, and literature are.

Each share with the others the element of relationships of music to dance are developing. We have runs, jumps, steps, walks, and styles, and two-steps.

Spatial relationships are important. Dancers make use of spatial relationships with lines, circles, types, and strength in locomotor and dance.

Direction, level, focus, and style are very significant to the Orchesis dancers, too.

Orchesis (pronounced or-key-sis) is a noun which means the art of dancing, especially in the form of modern dance, which was presented on March 29.
Summer Tour Offers Vacation and Credits

What more could you ask for than to get credit for going on a vacation? Submitted Wilbert Mills, President of the Winona State Teachers College. WSTC students will be able to knock off eight history credits this summer a three-week tour.

To quote from the brochure, "There is no substitute for an on-the-spot study of our achievement in developing the gigantic cities you will visit on this tour. The open road extends to you a most hearty welcome and that open road goes right past the front door of Mr. and Mrs. America."

Whether he lives in an abode but on the desert or in a penthouse in some exclusive metropolitan area, we want to see what makes him tick. We want to learn how the other half lives.
