The Choir presents Handel's "Messiah"

Christmas lights dedicated to JFK

Saturday night, at 9:00 Dr. Minne flipped the switch to turn on the lights which would decorate the campus throughout the Christmas season. Before turning the lights on, Dr. Minne gave a short dedication speech. In his address, the President of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Added significance should be given our Christmas observance this year when we remember the contribution of our late President to the cause of peace in the world.

President Kennedy's untimely death caused by act of violence, gave us sorrow and regret that this could happen in our land. It is fitting that we, in memory of John Kennedy, dedicate these lights to the cause of peace and good will among men for which he worked in his lifetime.

"It is especially fitting to do this in December, 1963, as we are now in the month of official mourning following the death of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Added significance should be given our Christmas observance this year when we remember the contribution of our late President to the cause of peace in the world.

President Kennedy's untimely death caused by act of violence, gave us sorrow and regret that this could happen in our land. It is fitting that we, in memory of John Kennedy, dedicate these lights to the cause of peace and good will among men for which he worked in his lifetime.

"It is especially fitting to do this in December, 1963, as we are now in the month of official mourning following the death of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Added significance should be given our Christmas observance this year when we remember the contribution of our late President to the cause of peace in the world.

President Kennedy's untimely death caused by act of violence, gave us sorrow and regret that this could happen in our land. It is fitting that we, in memory of John Kennedy, dedicate these lights to the cause of peace and good will among men for which he worked in his lifetime.

"It is especially fitting to do this in December, 1963, as we are now in the month of official mourning following the death of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Added significance should be given our Christmas observance this year when we remember the contribution of our late President to the cause of peace in the world.

President Kennedy's untimely death caused by act of violence, gave us sorrow and regret that this could happen in our land. It is fitting that we, in memory of John Kennedy, dedicate these lights to the cause of peace and good will among men for which he worked in his lifetime.

"It is especially fitting to do this in December, 1963, as we are now in the month of official mourning following the death of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Added significance should be given our Christmas observance this year when we remember the contribution of our late President to the cause of peace in the world.

President Kennedy's untimely death caused by act of violence, gave us sorrow and regret that this could happen in our land. It is fitting that we, in memory of John Kennedy, dedicate these lights to the cause of peace and good will among men for which he worked in his lifetime.
Convocation call for class cut?

Dear Editor,

I was quite dismayed this morning, December 9, when I learned that Winona is once again planning a class cut. This “cute as a bug’s ear” move is designed to force the student body for their active participation at the games. We can only hope that this will continue throughout the year.

Another point which bears mentioning is that of the actual student participation. Our cheerleading staff would command the student body to let loose, let fly, and show support in one hand, my milk in my other, chairs begged for your feature, stay out of the Smog.

May I be permitted for not allowing a fair and clear cut for attending a convocation. This was “quite a blow” to me to pay the least, as many other college personnel students for not attending convocations. I have the understanding that there is a constant need for gas stations and instructors to attend and benefit.

Moreover, why doesn’t someone come out and tell us clearly what is wrong, correct, someone please inform me.

Mary R. Anderson
Winona, Minnesota

Chairs begged for by ‘Banana Nose’

Dear Editor,

While munching my sandwich in one hand, my milk in my other, and my bony thighs warming in the Smog, I decided it would be best to write to you to voice my opinion.

The shortage of chairs evident almost in our beloved Smog is ridiculous. I am no acrobat and prayer eating—a sitting. Let us light the bomb under those responsible for this little stunt to train future aerobics and see that we hunch backs get chairs on which to sit and eat.

This is a pity my help.

A Banana Nose,

Jackie Schuchak

Black looks from offended readers by Ninka McLaughlin

After my last column two weeks ago, I got more black looks than bright ones. Evidently I offended more people than I meant to.

When I write, I state quite briefly a situation and usually my name is with the picker opinion. Comments are neither meant nor personal, aimed at anyone or as a slam to the situation, only as food for thought. Sometimes for you to consider and decide personally if there should be a change made. Whenever an explanation is required from the student government or any association because of a student, I bring it up usually as a for a thing, I write a letter. When letters to the editor explain more than the fact, Why should you be upset when I make comment, for I rarely take a reader’s suggestion? This is for an explanation of this column—to the reader.

Your beloved Sister Service is going to blus with us our Christmas banquet. Wednesday night the aroon of our small college, will be accompanied by our usual dinner hour drees. Have you heard? In the school, it has finally been answered. The student participation of the winter athletic schedule has been excellent, the player participation being a team’s morale. The player needs the spectators as much as the actual event needed the player.

Another point which bears mentioning is that of the student participation. Our cheerleading staff would command the student body to let loose, let fly, and show support in one hand, my milk in my other, chairs begged for your feature, stay out of the Smog.

May I be permitted for not allowing a fair and clear cut for attending a convocation. This was “quite a blow” to me to pay the least, as many other college personnel students for not attending convocations. I have the understanding that there is a constant need for gas stations and instructors to attend and benefit.

Moreover, why doesn’t someone come out and tell us clearly what is wrong, correct, someone please inform me.

Mary R. Anderson
Winona, Minnesota

Convocation call for class cut?

Dear Editor,

I was quite dismayed this morning, December 9, when I learned that Winona is once again planning a class cut. This “cute as a bug’s ear” move is designed to force the student body for their active participation at the games. We can only hope that this will continue throughout the year.

Another point which bears mentioning is that of the actual student participation. Our cheerleading staff would command the student body to let loose, let fly, and show support in one hand, my milk in my other, chairs begged for your feature, stay out of the Smog.

May I be permitted for not allowing a fair and clear cut for attending a convocation. This was “quite a blow” to me to pay the least, as many other college personnel students for not attending convocations. I have the understanding that there is a constant need for gas stations and instructors to attend and benefit.

Moreover, why doesn’t someone come out and tell us clearly what is wrong, correct, someone please inform me.

Mary R. Anderson
Winona, Minnesota

Chairs begged for by ‘Banana Nose’

Dear Editor,

While munching my sandwich in one hand, my milk in my other, and my bony thighs warming in the Smog, I decided it would be best to write to you to voice my opinion.

The shortage of chairs evident almost in our beloved Smog is ridiculous. I am no acrobat and prayer eating—a sitting. Let us light the bomb under those responsible for this little stunt to train future aerobics and see that we hunch backs get chairs on which to sit and eat.

This is a pity my help.

A Banana Nose,

Jackie Schuchak

Black looks from offended readers by Ninka McLaughlin

After my last column two weeks ago, I got more black looks than bright ones. Evidently I offended more people than I meant to.

When I write, I state quite briefly a situation and usually my name is with the picker opinion. Comments are neither meant nor personal, aimed at anyone or as a slam to the situation, only as food for thought. Sometimes for you to consider and decide personally if there should be a change made. Whenever an explanation is required from the student government or any association because of a student, I bring it up usually as a for a thing, I write a letter. When letters to the editor explain more than the fact, Why should you be upset when I make comment, for I rarely take a reader’s suggestion? This is for an explanation of this column—to the reader.

Your beloved Sister Service is going to blus with us our Christmas banquet. Wednesday night the aroon of our small college, will be accompanied by our usual dinner hour drees. Have you heard? In the school, it has finally been answered. The student participation of the winter athletic schedule has been excellent, the player participation being a team’s morale. The player needs the spectators as much as the actual event needed the player.

Another point which bears mentioning is that of the student participation. Our cheerleading staff would command the student body to let loose, let fly, and show support in one hand, my milk in my other, chairs begged for your feature, stay out of the Smog.

May I be permitted for not allowing a fair and clear cut for attending a convocation. This was “quite a blow” to me to pay the least, as many other college personnel students for not attending convocations. I have the understanding that there is a constant need for gas stations and instructors to attend and benefit.

Moreover, why doesn’t someone come out and tell us clearly what is wrong, correct, someone please inform me.

Mary R. Anderson
Winona, Minnesota
In Memory of:

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

by Mabel Janssen

Our time is born with great responsibilities and there was great responsibility in our generation. Our century is the century of great miseries and great happiness.

The wars of our generation, the wars which end not of themselves but which we have gone through, will never be forgotten in the history of any man. Our story is the story of those who were left behind, and the fear of our uncertain future is the fear we all share.

Our century is the century of magnificent gambles of mankind. We are no longer men who can lose. Our future is now. If we lose, the end of the world will come. If we lose, we lose our children's children as well as ourselves.

WHAT CAN YOU DO? . . . "My fellow citizens of the world, ask not what America will do for you, but what you can do for the freedom of man."

John F. Kennedy (1917-1963)

John Kennedy - the man

by Dr. J. Fuller

Education Dept., Winona State

The initial shock of the President of the United States being assassinated in cold blood has partially passed, and the people have transferred the tugs of leadership to a new President.

The nation's transition has been remarkably smooth; a complement to the people even with a fair share of extremists, hate mongers, and cranks, to our democratic form of government, and to the ability and character of both President Johnson and former President Kennedy.

Confidence in the new President is rapidly crystallizing. Confidence that the people in President Kennedy is already a matter of fact.

Initially elected to office by a small popular majority, President Kennedy rapidly gained in respect, confidence, and support by increasing the numbers of the American people. Within a few months after his election all of the opinion polls began reporting an increasing popular approval of his policies and his administration. It is to be noted that any person in a high office chosen to be known as a great man is at once a person who is well known to his friends and followers who express his program.

As the number of people who favored Kennedy's views grew, so also grew the Kennedy opposition and hatred on the part of the contrived minorities. Some are inclined to the belief that the death of President Kennedy was the responsibility of an individual with a derailed mind or a paranoid sense of mission. This has not yet been established, and even assuming that might prove to be true, none of the responsibilities, morally or legally, seem to rest on the shoulders of those who, in one way or another, were captured in, or paid for, or benefited from recent hate-peddling.

But what just exact hate mongering was a factor in Kennedy's unlamented death can not be estimated only, but there is already sufficient reason for saying that it was a significant factor.

When the cavalry bearing the bullet riddled body of President Kennedy arrived at the Memorial and Union Station Washington behind the, reluctant graying horses, a bright brick television commentator informed me in a catch in his voice, that most of the thousands of chittering spectators were young people. Many of them were students and a great number had come a great distance to be near the young President.

For a contemporary of the late President, viewing that scene, it was difficult to comprehend that in what seemed to be a remarkably quick and eventful span of 15 years virtually all of the students in this great country experienced their entire lifetime and a good portion had been born. (Continued on page 4)

A brief, shining moment

by Sister M. Yolande

Head of Social Science Dept.

The legacy of John F. Kennedy

by Dr. Hoyt

Head of Government Dept.

The assassination of President Kennedy is just one of the generation which have examined the records of John F. Kennedy, in particular and the American experience, in an effort to measure his achievements and the unfolding American experience.

This generation is currently examining what it thinks that its contribution might have been.

The nobled contribution which President Kennedy made to this generation and those to follow, over the years ahead, is one of the richest bequests to American youth and will be the shining, spotless example. He exemplified the desired American character which Woolsey have chosen to call "spiritual efficiency" - clear, disinterested thinking and drastic actions along the right lines of thought.

His desire to excel in thought, purpose, and action, presented an admirable challenge for his generation and contemporaries. He admired the accomplishments and the striving achievement. The finest ideals and the most noble nature of American life can be considered with the finest ideals and the most noble ideals of the American life can be admired.

The desire to excel in thought, purpose, and action, presented an admirable challenge for his generation and contemporaries. He admired the accomplishments and the striving achievement. The finest ideals and the most noble nature of American life can be considered with the finest ideals and the most noble ideals of the American life can be admired.

The legacy of John F. Kennedy is a great one for American youth in particular and the American people in general. We must now face the question sincerely and thoughtfully: What will we do with it?
Merry Christmas-Happy New Year

"I COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT" . . . Perhaps the band wouldn't have been able to play all night, but these students seem to be enjoying themselves enough to dance all night.

"PAGEANT ARRAY" . . . These Christmas lights have been dedicated to John F. Kennedy — who dedicated himself to peace and good will. The lights will remain on throughout the Christmas season.

"STAR OF BETHLEHEM" . . . Just as the star of Bethlehem led the way for the three Wisemen, so also does a replica of this star show the way for those who may find walking in the courtyard a little hazardous.

"SIG TAU SWEETHEART" . . . Kathleen Brock, newly chosen sweetheart of the Beta Xi Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity, is shown being presented a bouquet of white roses by Lowell Allen, president of the chapter.

"SNODAYS DANCE" . . . Kathy Albers, Lowell Allen, Peggy Lindahl and Roger Groenewold enjoy sitting one out at the Snodays Dance held Saturday night. Rollie Wussow (left, background) seems to be looking for something, or maybe it's someone.
Wussow sees, hears and sez . . .

Finally on football, Mohnert recorded grid letters to 43 varsity athletes a week ago. Twenty-four players were the recipients of varsity "F." Jeff Kuehnen, junior, was selected for the 104 season.

Switching to the current season— varsity-senior skill show, a common sight from the yard line to the field. Mohnert during the half time interval, mentioned that the South had a 45 1/2 to 1 margin over the North. With the record 22-0, the South took the game. His favorite team that won was the North. He is not the only one.

Gary Peterson and Dave Mohnert reminisce about the North's win. Peterson, a true freshman, displayed a great deal of skill on the gridiron. His favorite team that he would root for is the North. He was the only one.

Winona State, and 91 for Platteville, like Winona, came out on top. The Pointers defeated the Standard Oilers 94-90 in March. The Pointers scored 26 points and Meisner hit on 10 field goals and two free throws. The crowd gave him a standing ovation as they filed out of the door. Meisner, for the Pointers, was the high scorer in the game with 18 points. Darrell Schuster also had a strong game with 12 points. Bob Campbell's crew nabbed the victory.

In the estimation of coach Bob Campbell, WSC convinced the River Falls 81, WSC 77. The Warriors were led by Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner. Peterson hit on 10 field goals and 13 of 14 free throws in totaling a career high 37 points. Darrell Schuster, who started the game for Dave's offensive drive, hit for 14. Gary Peterson, 13, Rog Ruewe, 10, Dave Mohnert, 5, and Mike Leake, 1, John Butson paced Platteville with 20. Meisner exhibited excellent offense and defense. This coupled with the rebuffing efforts of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner, was a major factor in guiding the WSC to victory in River Falls.

Bever's score for 19 and 16 points, respectively. The WSC varsity basketball squad during the current season. The five on the board pictured are: Bill Kohler, Bergie Lang, Jay Wescott, Dennis Moon Molinari, and Moon Molinari. Goerisch, a sophomore, was selected captain for the WSC's only representative on the 23 man squad, and Zellmer, the honors allocated to two of the three jumping jacks play, the shot. If anyone hasn't seen these two jumping jacks play, they could have even been greater, had the hot hands of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner been scored this week. The downtown scenes win more than a few games this season.

Peterson, a potent scoring machine; and two Steve Fennells. Peterson exhibited excellent offense and defense. He coupled with the rebuffing efforts of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner, was a major factor in guiding the WSC to victory in River Falls.

Bever's score for 19 and 16 points, respectively. The WSC varsity basketball squad during the current season. The five on the board pictured are: Bill Kohler, Bergie Lang, Jay Wescott, Dennis Moon Molinari, and Moon Molinari. Goerisch, a sophomore, was selected captain for the WSC's only representative on the 23 man squad, and Zellmer, the honors allocated to two of the three jumping jacks play, the shot. If anyone hasn't seen these two jumping jacks play, they could have even been greater, had the hot hands of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner been scored this week. The downtown scenes win more than a few games this season.

Peterson, a potent scoring machine; and two Steve Fennells. Peterson exhibited excellent offense and defense. He coupled with the rebuffing efforts of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner, was a major factor in guiding the WSC to victory in River Falls.

Bever's score for 19 and 16 points, respectively. The WSC varsity basketball squad during the current season. The five on the board pictured are: Bill Kohler, Bergie Lang, Jay Wescott, Dennis Moon Molinari, and Moon Molinari. Goerisch, a sophomore, was selected captain for the WSC's only representative on the 23 man squad, and Zellmer, the honors allocated to two of the three jumping jacks play, the shot. If anyone hasn't seen these two jumping jacks play, they could have even been greater, had the hot hands of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner been scored this week. The downtown scenes win more than a few games this season.

Peterson, a potent scoring machine; and two Steve Fennells. Peterson exhibited excellent offense and defense. He coupled with the rebuffing efforts of Gary Peterson and Dave Meisner, was a major factor in guiding the WSC to victory in River Falls.
Thoughts on John F. Kennedy

(Continued from page 3)

Jazeri

(Continued from page 3)

Torgeson

(Continued from page 3)

Bremner

(Continued from page 3)

Jazzi

(Continued from page 3)

Wussowsez...

(Continued from page 4)

The Winonan

(Continued from page 4)

Regis

(Continued from page 3)

JFK’s personal appeal

Gerald R. Ford, President of Michigan State University, describes how he likes to approach the problems of the nation.

JFK’s personal appeal

by Janice Gustman

Mario Von Trapp, the grey-haired mother of the Trapp Family Singers, held a song writing controversy over her lecture during a 10:00 a.m. convocation in Roman Auditorium December 9.

On a lecture tour to raise funds for the center to combat communism in the Fiji Islands, the Lutheran children are also learning to become the "children of the world begun.

She had been in a concert per-paring to become a nun, when she was only one year old in her by her sister. Despite the important thing was also had involves life, her education had been precipitated. "The most important thing in life is to learn that there is God of love." she said.

Following the will of God, Maria was graduated from the institution of children of Captain George Von Trapp of the Austrian navy. However, Maria fell in love with the children, married the father and after sailor got used to the father and we were very happy.

The baroness sketched the en-itre thread of her family's growth as a singing group. Leaving Austria, she found that in England where the family was on the way to become a professional group. However, the family was on the way to become a professional group. When the family was on the way to become a professional group, they were sold to the United States, the United States government and the United States government.

"Through all of the greatest nation on earth, the American people, the American people of all ages and all circumstances, the personal and national identification with our nation, hero-leader and his family was complete; there was no division of interests to hate Oswald, to reject Ruby's Texas justice, thereby denying us the advantage of a balanced review of instruction; they could wait on por-

The Trapp family continued to make local supermarket guests.

Captivate audience personal Maria Von Trapp lecture

by Janice Gustman

The Trapp family continued to make local supermarket guests.

The Trapp family continued to make local supermarket guests.

(Continued from page three)