Student Senate

The Student Senate, during its Monday meeting, discussed the Minneapolis Public Relations Group (MPPRG) meeting held here last Tuesday and also the proceedings of the representatives from each of the student organizations who attended. The decision was made that this meeting would be held in executive session and more meetings were planned.

The Minnesota Public Interest Research Group (MPIRG) came up for discussion and a resolution was passed indicating that the Student Senate will not initiate further action supporting MPIRG nor will it attempt to prohibit MPIRG activities on campus. A minority of the students are in favor of the current form of the organization.

In other business, an agenda for the forthcoming joint faculty senate and student senate meeting was outlined. This agenda includes: discussing a college newspaper, developing a grievance board, initiation of formal departmental participation by students, and exploring the role the student senate can play in the college's growth.

New other business included approving the minutes of the involved Students for Action Committee (USAC), an organization that is preparing a research and compile information to help in locating the membership of the college community.

Student Senate meetings are held at 4 p.m. every Monday in Dilling Room B of the College Union.

President interviewed on campus issues and WSC future growth

Friday, two members of the Winona staff interviewed President DuFresne in regard to some of his statements made at the recent Faculty Senate meeting. We found the president an accommodating host and was willing to discuss campus issues.

He said he "would encourage" students to pursue their education if the students wanted something of this nature, but it would have to be something strictly between the students and the community. If there were such an evaluation, "any valid results would be examined from a subjective standpoint." The greatest obstacle to student evaluation, he added, would be faculty reluctance.

Dr. Mihut, Chancellor of the State College Board, has been rescheduled for a Dec. 9 visit to the campus to discuss his "directions" concept in state higher education. His previously scheduled visit was cancelled because of weather conditions at the Minneapolis airport.

Professor Allen Hamilton is currently in the title role of the Minneapolis Theatre Companys presentation of "A Fun Afternoon in Geology." Ms. Hamilton takes a new approach will be solicited at the meeting.

Hamlin has title role in great Greek tragedy

Tonight and tomorrow night will be the last opportunities to attend the Winona State Players production of the great Greek classic, "The Persians." The play begins at 8:15 p.m. in the Dorothy B. Magnus Open Stage Theatre in the Performing Arts Center.

Professional actor Allen Hamlin, in the title role of Agamemnon, is a native of Winona. Mr. Hamilton was educated at Winona State University.

A longtime member of the Actors Equity Association, his credits on Broadway include "The House of Atreus (Chorus) directed by Sir Tyrone Guthrie, and Ar- chontes (Iph etter) directed by Ed Call. In repertory, Mr. Hamilton spent eight seasons with the Front Street Theatre in Memphis to Star in Named New Bus. Admin. takes new job approach

A meeting of all 1972 graduates who will be seeking employment after graduation, and are majors in Business Administration, Accounting and Economics are urged to attend a special meeting with the Business and Economics faculty this Sunday evening, Nov. 14, at 6 p.m. in Kyslico Com- munity. The purpose of the meeting is to inform students of a new approach, based on faculty research, to establish contacts with potential employers through informal settings on those contacts. Student sugges- tions for initiating this new approach will be solicited at the meeting. This is an action orient- ated meeting.

Student candidates present at issues and answers session with other hopefuls

Approximately 88 people attended a League of Women Voters political forum Nov. 3 at Wino- na Senior High School. Six candidates for local offices presented brief introductory statements to the condition of the city. He also cited the need for a sufficient rate of growth for the city. He said that city government would continue to show sincere interest in the voters of his city.

Regarding the second ward candidates' statements, he said that he had labor support in his bid for the mayor's office and called for the establishment of new industries that would employ more blue-collar workers.

Fletcher said it was up to the voters to decide what form they wanted, and that he would be satisfied with what form of government the voters choose. Wagner stated his opposition to a city-manager system, and charged that the mayor and city council represent the interests of the Winona Chamber of Commerce rather than the interests of the average citizen.

The mayor said that he would make no personal attacks during the election and that he served no special interest. He agreed with Mr. Wagner on the need for a railroad overpass, but Indall said he didn't know where the funds for such a project would come from.

Steve Allibee pointed out that the tracks could be re-routed and that much of the land now occupied by the tracks could be used for new housing and/or industry. He also cited the need for a sustained rate of growth for the city. Wagner said that he had labor support in his bid for the mayor's office and called for the establishment of new industries that would employ more blue-collar workers.

Regarding the second ward council race, Fox stated that he would continue to show sincere interest in the voters of his ward. He said that city government costs are currently lower than in 1968 and attributed this to the efficiency of city-manager government.

Mr. Craspedakis said there was a need for improved communication between the city council and the voters. He called for reduced speed limits around schools and said more off-street parking is needed in the city.
Henry Hull speaks on politics

TO THE EDITORS:
The local elections will be over on November 9, and there are some rather pertinent things that the new voters, as well as the older ones, can think about. I repeat that these certain people can think about, and those who vote in the same election. You really believe in this point as to those voting for the first time.

First of all, looking over the list of candidates, where do you vote? Are you voting for the one that you really believe in? This point is often overlooked by the voters.

Rebuttals to the editorial of Nov. 4 by the Black Student Union

We, the black men and women of the BSU, have a right to have our voices heard. We feel that the Winona State administration tends to turn a deaf ear to our concerns. We believe that the Winona State administration has a duty to listen to our concerns.

The editorial in question is dated November 4, 1971. It states that the Black Student Union has no right to speak out on issues of concern to the black community. We believe that this is an incorrect statement.

Winona State is an educational institution that exists to provide a quality education to all students, regardless of race, gender, or sexual orientation. As such, it is our belief that the administration should listen to the concerns of all students, and that this includes the concerns of black students.

BSU takes issue with Winona editorial

We, the Black Student Union, take issue with the Winona editorial of November 4, 1971. The editorial states that the Black Student Union has no right to speak out on issues of concern to the black community. We believe that this is an incorrect statement.

Winona State is an educational institution that exists to provide a quality education to all students, regardless of race, gender, or sexual orientation. As such, it is our belief that the administration should listen to the concerns of all students, and that this includes the concerns of black students.

We believe that the Winona editorial of November 4, 1971 is an attempt to silence the voices of black students on campus. We believe that this is a violation of our rights as students, and that it is a violation of the principles upon which Winona State was founded.

Therefore, we, the Black Student Union, take issue with the Winona editorial of November 4, 1971. We demand that the administration of Winona State listen to the concerns of black students, and that it provide a quality education to all students, regardless of race, gender, or sexual orientation.
Concert Band presents first fall production with horns of "Jericho"

On Sunday, November 14, at 8:00 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center, the Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. Richard Lindner, will present its first concert of the year.

The performance will include music from the traditional style, Grieg's The Last Spring, to the contemporary such as Fanfare, Choral, and Fugue by Giovanni Fresne. The concert will also include Charles Ives' Variations on American Indian which contains five variations on "My Country 'Tis of Thee," and Aaron Copland's Variations On a Shaker Melody from his composition "Appalachian Spring.

The concert will be held in the lobby of the Center for the Performing Arts immediately following the performance.

Reader scores recent editorial

TO THE EDITOR:

It is appalling to read in a student publication such inflammatory, racist, pseudo-scientific bogwash as was expounded in last week's editorial by Jim Johnson. At a time when racial polarization and disharmony present a major problem to the human community, it is regrettable that adherence is given to such divisive and pernicious theories as those promoted by Prof. H. J. Ryensch.

We need to open more channels of communication and not add to the existing barriers which block solutions to our social problems.

Mitu talks to MSCSA

The Minnesota State College Student Association (MSCSA) held its meeting at WSC this past weekend. Present at the meeting on Friday evening was Chancellor G. Theodore Mitai, Dr. Gary Hayes, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, and Robert Du Fresne, WSC president.

In speaking to the group, Chancellor Mitai described the role of MSCSA as "very important" and "essential to move ahead."

He said the colleges need a strong, hard-working student organization and student senate. The two need each other and the members of the Administrative Council.

Chancellor Mitai allowed a brief question and answer session. These questions dealt with his role as Coordinator, racist, pseudo-scientific hogwash.

Pigskin people gnawed down by Bemidji Beaver ballers Saturday

Winona State's Warriors bowed to the Bemidji State Beavers in chilly nineteen degree weather last Saturday by a score of 41-0. The defeat brought their NIC record to 1-8, and their overall season record to 1-4.

Winona had an opportunity to score first very early in the game, but failed. Paul Severson faked a punt and passed to Dan Samp who drove to the Beaver five-yard line before being run out of bounds. Two plays later, a Warrior fumble ended the drive.

The Beavers then marched 79 yards in nine plays to score the first touchdown of the afternoon. Tom Kugler, junior halfback for the Beavers, also kicked the extra point to give the Beavers a 7-0 lead. Kugler then intercepted a Rick Ernst pass for the second touchdown of the afternoon. He ended up with a total of 129 yards for the game.

Gary Dahlberg, Beaver quarterback, then hit his receivers for passes of 17 and 81 yards that led to two more touchdowns. Dahlberg also set a NIC record for the most touchdown passes on a single season, nine.

In the last half, John Backes added a final touchdown to give the Beavers a 30-0 lead. Backes then intercepted a Rick Ernst pass for the second touchdown of the afternoon. He ended up with a total of 129 yards for the game.

Gary Dahlberg, Beaver quarterback, was hurt while running back the opening kickoff. His concussion was just another in a series of injuries for the Warriors.

The final score of 41-0.

On Wednesday, November 3, the Winona Intercollegiate Volleyball team traveled to Eau Claire where they were once again victorious. Scores of the games were: 15-4, with Winona losing its first game, but taking the next three: 15-10, 15-10, and 15-13. This Saturday, Nov. 13, both the volleyball and swim teams will be traveling to Gus-
