Norman N. Kahler, blind Sioux Falls insurance man, is pictured leaving his home to take his two youngsters downtown to see the Christmas windows in Sioux Falls, S. D. Needing one hand to hold the leash of his guide dog and the other to grasp the hand of his 3-year-old daughter, Normandie, Kahler devised a papoose-style pack rack on which his son, Nicky, 3, could ride. More Toughness Asked in U.S. Foreign Stand

Rep. Judd of
Minnesota Backs
Ike's Program

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (U)—Democrats in the new Congress who consider Eisenhower administration foreign policy ineffective are setting up a cry for more toughness and bipartisanship, less "loose talk" and "bluster." A few Democrats say that policy is improving.

In overwhelming proportions, congressional Republicans term the policy effective. Yet some of those who approve the program in general fling a few brickbats at portions of it.

Results of an Associated Press poll show that the lawmakers participating line up 65-27, largely according to party, in saluting the administration's handling of foreign relations as effective.

But 35 of them, including some Republicans, had some advice to offer. And others jotted down comments on their questionnaires ranging from criticism to occasional high praise.

The poll brought replies from 128 senators and representatives from 41 states. There is a total of 551 members in the House and Senate.

Changes in Order
Democrats who thought some changes were in order hit at such things as "vacillation and confusion," "too much indecision," "diplomacy by slogans," "loose talk," "bluff and bluster." They urged "more firmness," a "positive policy," "more forthrightness," more emphasis on "a bipartisan approach."

Only those who criticized administration foreign policy as ineffective were asked what they thought should be done about it. A few others volunteered their ideas.

Rep. Judd (R-Minn.), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, gave Eisenhower policy a vote of confidence and wrote: "Guatemala, Egypt, Iran, SEATO, Trieste, Atlantic Alliance—finest series of diplomatic victories the United States has won this century."

In contrast, Rep. Lanham (D-Ga.), another member of the committee, said this should be done: "Vacillation and confusion... ended, and a definite, firm attitude toward Chinese aggressors adopted. Strengthened Point Four program and modified Marshall

Girl Thanks Goodfellows For Clothes

The Goodfellows received a letter of thanks today from a little girl who was given some warm winter clothing. She also asked for an old piano on which to take lessons from her mother. Her letter follows:

Dear Goodfellows:
I want to thank all of you for the clothes and shoes you gave us. I am 11 years old. I would like to know if anyone has an old piano. I would like to learn to play. My mother knows how and will teach me.

Thanks a lot for everything.

What a Christmas it would be for this girl if someone would give her a piano!

You still have two days to become a Goodfellow.

Two Ships Feared Lost In North Sea Hurricane

Severe Storm Lashing North Coast Areas

LONDON (U)—Two ships with 39 men aboard were feared lost today as hurricanes lashed the North Sea and the English Channel. The gale-driven seas breached dikes in the Netherlands and West Germany but so far there was no repetition of last year's disastrous floods.

Four breaks in the seawalls were reported from Texel Island, just off the northwest Dutch coast. Mindful of the February 1953 floods in which almost 1,400 lives were lost in the Netherlands, workers rushed to bolster the crumbling dike. Officials began the evacuation of persons, cattle and supplies from part of the island.

Breaks in dikes at Pernis, near Rotterdam, and at Wilhelmshaven, in Germany, also were reported but these were not considered serious. The dikes in the Dutch province of Zeeland, worst hit area in 1953, were holding despite the abnormal tides.

Scottish coast guardsmen said they "feared the worst" for the 1,352-ton Belgian freighter Henri Deweerdt and her crew of 18. The ship radioed she was sinking off the Dutch island of Terschelling and could not launch her lifeboats in the mountainous seas.

The 1,371-ton Swedish steamer Petra, with 21 men aboard, radioed before dawn that she had broken down off Terschelling and was "taking in water." Swedish coast guard stations said they feared the ship had gone down.

Numerous other ships were in trouble and the British Air Ministry predicted the high winds would continue.

Winds up to 112 miles an hour were recorded off the Swedish coast. Coast guardsmen along the North Sea said the storm looked worse than the great blow in which 100 seamen were lost at the end of November and the beginning of December.

French Ferryboat Reaches Calais

CALAIS, France (U)—The French ferryboat Cote d'Azur, which left the English port of Folkestone Monday night for the one-hour crossing of the channel, finally docked here this afternoon after 41 hours of trouble. All the 91 persons aboard, including 23 American passengers, were in good shape.

The vessel had drifted or wallowed at anchor for two nights in heavy seas less than a mile from Calais.

Today two tugs towed it to the pier and the passengers for the unexpectedly long voyage were disembarked, none of them any the worse for their adventure.

The Cote d'Azur backed into the same pier near her journey's end Monday night, damaging and disabling her propellers and poking a hole in her hull. The wind pushed her out to sea and repeated efforts of tugs to pull her back were frustrated by snapping cables and high seas.

Most of the American passengers were women school teachers en route to Switzerland on an organized tour. There were eight British passengers. The crew totaled 60.

A jury Tuesday dashed the hopes of Dr. Sam Sheppard, above, by convicting him of the bludgeoning of his 31-year-old wife. The 30-year-old osteopath was sentenced to a life term in prison. (AP Wirephoto)

Mississippi Votes School Segregation

JACKSON, Miss. (U)—Mississippi gave its Legislature life-or-death power over its public schools yesterday, voting 2-1 for a constitutional amendment to permit legislators to abolish state-supported schools if necessary to retain racial segregation.

Gov. Hugh White, one of the amendment's strongest backers, said he expected to call today for a special legislative session Jan. 11 to provide funds for bringing separate Negro schools up to the level of white schools.

State officials believe Negroes would rather have good segregated schools than no schools at all.

Returns from 1,140 of the state's 1,825 precincts showed 81,940 votes for the amendment and 38,008 against it. The turnout was light.

Gov. White said public schools would be abolished only as a last resort. The amendment would permit the Legislature to turn school facilities over to private groups and to subsidize private schools.

State Rep. Joel Blass, who led opposition although favoring segregation, challenged White's statement that the measure would be used only as a last resort.

"I think an attempt will be made to use it in January of next year on the local level," he said. "I expect to see the (school fund) appropriation in a contingent upon the Legislature allowing abolition of schools on a local level."

"Then I expect within less than a year's time there will be certain counties or districts in which the schools will be abolished."

- Under the abolition amendment:
1. The state may provide, support and maintain public schools.
 2. The Legislature by a two-thirds vote could abolish schools statewide.
 3. The Legislature by a majority vote could set up a plan for counties or local school districts to abolish their schools.
 4. Public school buildings and facilities could be sold, rented or leased to private corporations or individuals.
 5. The state could provide tuition money for students in private schools.

Lawyers Set To Fight for Another Trial

Jury Reaches Verdict After 102 Hours

By BELMAN MORIN
CLEVELAND (U)—Sam Sheppard, his brother said, was always "very special."

He was popular, handsome, a successful brain surgeon, married to an attractive woman, and the father of a 7-year-old boy he adored. But today, Dr. Samuel Sheppard faces the shadow of a life in prison.

A jury found him guilty of killing his wife, Marilyn, but returned a verdict of second-degree murder, which does not carry the death penalty. Before life sentence was pronounced, Sheppard said in a firm, clear voice, "I am not guilty."

Seek New Trial
His lawyers announced they will appeal for a new trial. If it is denied, or goes against him a second time, he will be in prison at least 10 years. Then he would be eligible to apply for parole.

His 31st birthday comes one week from today.

The Sheppard murder was a strange case.

Last July 4, in the dark early morning hours, Marilyn Sheppard was beaten to death as she lay in bed. She was four months pregnant. Sheppard told police, when daylight came, that a powerfully built marauder committed the crime and knocked him out when he ran into the bedroom.

A detective, that same morning, told him, "I think you did it."

It took nine weeks, thereafter, to try the case.

The state said Sheppard was involved with other women. One of them, Susan Hayes, came from California to testify as a prosecution witness. She is 24, slim, auburn-haired and attractive. She admitted intimate relations with the doctor. He denied them, at first, but also admitted later that what she said was true.

The prosecution asked two key questions during the trial:

1. If there was a maniacal killer standing by Marilyn Sheppard's bed when her husband ran into the bedroom, why didn't he strike down, and possibly murder, Sheppard as well?

2. Who arranged the downstairs rooms to give the appearance that a burglary had been committed, although nothing of value was missing? If Sheppard didn't do this, who did?

In reply, the defense repeatedly challenged the state's attorneys to show a motive. What reason, they asked, could Sheppard have had to murder his wife? Susan Hayes had testified that he told her he "loved his wife very dearly, but not as a wife."

California Quake Kills Eureka Man

By HAROLD V. STREETER
EUREKA, Calif. (U)—The 40,000 people of this redwood logging country waited today in fear of expected aftershocks from yesterday's teeth-rattling earthquake which killed one man, injured 50 and caused an estimated two million dollars property damage.

A geology professor, H. D. MacGinitie of Humboldt State College, predicted the aftershocks but said they should be less violent than yesterday's rolling quake which twisted foundations and cracked walls across a 35-mile coastal area centering on Eureka.

One slight aftershock came at 8:58 p.m. last night but did no damage.

Lasts 2 Minutes

The big quake hit at 11:57 a.m. yesterday and lasted two minutes. During this time, from Blue Lake, 15 miles to the north, to Ferndale, 20 miles to the south, chimneys toppled or cracked, the earth cracked open in small fissures and movable objects in houses were jumbled. Injuries, however, were minor.

Specifically, the quake pitched Carl Wilkerson 42, to his death in a lumber mill pond. He struck his head on a log and drowned.

Hurled a woman across the hospital delivery room on an operating table.

Groceries Clog The Aisle of a supermarket in Eureka, Calif., after a heaving earthquake struck this quiet coastal city Tuesday, killing one person, injuring at least 25 and causing damage in excess of a million dollars. At least 50 stores were forced to close and police warned that aftershocks could shake down one or more structures already weakened by the quake. (UP Telephoto)

Minnesotans' Taxes Above Average, Claim

ST. PAUL (U) — Citizens of Minnesota bear an above average tax burden in relation to their income but the state income tax places "a very light" on the low income group, the Minnesota tax study commission reported today.

The commission said that property taxes are above average for this region, sales taxes (gasoline, liquor, and tobacco) are below average and the state income tax is "very high."

The report cited a recent study showing that state and local taxes take a relatively greater proportion of the average individual's income in Minnesota than in 43 other states.

In 1953 Minnesota collected sales taxes averaging $24.08 per capita. The national average was $38.47. Iowa collected $39.99, North Dakota $46.74, South Dakota $45.28, and Wisconsin $18.90. All but Wisconsin and Minnesota levy a general sales tax.

In the same year, according to figures cited by the commission, Minnesota collected $15.60 per capita in income taxes, ranking fifth among the states. The national median of income taxes was $6.25. Iowa collected $6.83, North Dakota $5.83, Wisconsin $18.90, and South Dakota levied no income tax.

The report said Minnesota collects a below-average proportion of its governmental revenues by primary imposts on the individual and more of it by direct taxes on business.

Discussing Minnesota income taxes, the report said persons with incomes under $5,000 a year represent about 70 per cent of the total and collectively pay about 30 per cent of the tax.

In the $1,000-$1,999 income group, said the report, the state income tax payment amounts to 1.88 per cent of the federal income tax payment. This percentage rises to 15 for the $10,000 income tax group. "If this ratio of 15 per cent of the federal tax had been maintained at all income levels," said the report, "the Minnesota income tax on the $1,000-$1,999 group would have been $18.90 instead of $2.34."

In another section of its report the commission said Minnesota farmers pay the second highest real estate taxes per $100 of value among 12 Midwest states. Five of the states have a higher tax per acre.

Minnesota's 1953 tax per $100 of value amounted to $1.59. Others included Wisconsin, $1.82; South Dakota, $1.28; Iowa, $1.23, and Illinois, $1.22. Minnesota's tax per acre averaged $1.56. Others included Illinois, $2.61; Iowa, $2.27; Wisconsin, $1.81, and Indiana, $1.57.

In an earlier section of its report the commission said that farm lands generally are assessed at a higher proportion of their true value than lake shore property and real estate in smaller cities and towns which tends to put a higher tax burden on the farms.

Milwaukeean Held For Bank Robbery

KANSAS CITY (U) — Jordan Davis Jr., 34, of Milwaukee, has been arrested in connection with the burglary of the Central Bank of Kansas City Sunday, the FBI said Tuesday night.

The bank was entered during the early morning hours and explosives were used in an unsuccessful attempt to get into the night depository safe.

William Simon, special agent in charge of the FBI's Kansas City office, said charges of violating the federal bank burglary statute will be filed against Davis today.

Declares Self Citizen To Vote for Stevenson

CHICAGO (U) — Sen. Sal Hip testified he filed an affidavit in 1952 falsely declaring himself a citizen because "I wanted to vote for Adlai Stevenson for prosperity and everybody to go to work." Federal Judge Win Knoch, a Republican, joined in the courtroom laughter and then sentenced Hip to a year's probation.

U.S. POWs Reported Slave Laborers

TAIPEI, Formosa (U) — The official Nationalist news agency Tatro reported today about 120 American prisoners of war were working as slave laborers on a farm near Mukden, Manchuria.

There was no confirmation of the report, nor any prospects of getting it verified.

The agency's account, attributed to underground sources in Mukden, described the prisoners as thin and pale, their hair long and their bodies poorly clad.

Christmas Rites

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special) — St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church will present its annual Christmas program, sponsored by the Sunday School, Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Younger students of the Sunday School will first tell the story of Christ's birth in a series of recitations. Second portion of the program will include a pageant, "The Pageant of Light," presented by the young people of the church.

Leo Karsten will narrate the story of the first Christmas while various tableaux are presented on stage.

Vernon Zander, Sunday School superintendent, will direct dramatic presentations, while the church organist, Mrs. Gordon Jacobson, will direct music.

ARKANSAW, Wis. (Special) — Sunday School students of the Methodist Church will present their annual Christmas program Thursday at 8 p.m. at the church.

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Sunday School children and members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of German Valley, Wisconsin Synod, will present the congregation's annual Christmas service Thursday at 8 p.m. at the church.

Children participating in the program are: Phyllis, Ardell, Robert, Paulette, Larry and Richard Schroeder, Nordahl Hermann, George and Katherine Sletten, Gary Peterson, David, Mary and John Lee, LaVonne Olson, Grady, Gary and David Herman, Ronald and Rosamund, Robert and Elaine Guss, Vernon Nelson, Gertrud, Sandra and Renee Schaefer and Karen and Teddy van Oth.

Services at the church Sunday will be at 10:30 a.m., with announcement for the Communion service Jan. 2 to be made immediately following.

Blond, Blue-Eyed Christmas Present Family Favorite

MILWAUKEE (U) — The Oscar Reuter family flew into town Tuesday night with a Christmas present from Germany—a blond, blue-eyed girl they have adopted.

Reuter, his wife Mary, and their other three adopted children, Polly Lou, 7, and the twin brothers, Philip and Paul, 6, had gone to New York to meet little Patty, 2½.

Patty was acquired in Germany through the efforts of Mrs. Reuter's sister, wife of an American soldier there. The Reuters, who moved here from Chicago last September, said they wanted a sister for Polly.

"The twin boys are so close," Mrs. Reuter said.

Patty's blue eyes were still wide open after the air trip from New York. In the air terminal the children clustered around their new sister.

A disembarking passenger commented on the adoption: "That's a wonderful thing to happen at Christmas time, isn't it?"

'Merry Christmas' Is a Tasty Lunch

FLINT, Mich. (U) — Mrs. Dennis Sullivan got writer's cramp, and boarders at the city hog farm got 110 Christmas cards mixed in with their garbage.

What Mr. Sullivan got only Mrs. Sullivan can say.

Sullivan, Flint's deputy fire marshal, left for work the other day with a paper bag containing 110 Christmas cards which his wife had addressed the day before.

Since it was garbage-collection day, he picked up the garbage can and took it out to the street curb.

Then he absentmindedly dumped the bag of cards into the garbage can.

Sullivan did not discover his blunder until he returned home for lunch. By that time the cards were on their way to the hog farm and Mrs. Sullivan had no choice but to buy 110 more cards and start in on addresses again.

Guilt Clearly Written In Black and White

COLUMBIA, S. C. (U) — Police followed a trail of black and white footprints and picked up Keith Lannigan, Portland, Maine, who was held on a charge of housebreaking. They said a man who broke into a service station fled through a window and on the way out landed with one foot in a bucket of black paint and the other in a bucket of white.

The Coming Of Christ—The Prophet

Selected by the Department of Worship and the Arts, National Council of Churches.

Picture: A Prophet, sculpture in limestone, French (School of Chartres), 12th Century. Courtesy of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

Scripture: "I will raise up for them a prophet from among their brethren; and I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them all that I command him. And whoever will not give heed to my words which he shall speak in my name, I myself will require it of him." (Deuteronomy 18:18f.)

Beginning at the time of the wandering in the wilderness God raised up from time to time prophets to declare His Word to His people. It was expected that the Christ would be just such a prophet, even the greatest of the prophets. But when Christ came he was recognized to be more than a prophet—in Him was the very fulfillment of prophecy. The authority of the words which He spoke and the mighty acts He wrought was seen to be that of God himself. The awe-struck multitude who viewed the miracle of the Feeding of the Five Thousand said of Him, "This is indeed the prophet who is to come into the world." (John 6:14)

H. H. Corey New Board Chairman Of Hormel Co.

AUSTIN, Minn. (U) — H. H. Corey, president of George A. Hormel & Co., meat packing firm, was elected chairman of the board of directors Tuesday night succeeding the late Jay C. Hormel who died last August.

George W. Ryan, secretary and assistant treasurer, was elected a new member of the board of directors filling the vacancy created by Hormel's death.

Corey, who has been president since 1946, was elected at a directors meeting. Ryan was named at the company's annual meeting attended by about 600 stockholders.

Suspect Killed Trying to Escape Police Roadblock

WAUSEON, Ohio (U) — State police said a 19-year-old Lansing, Mich., youth was shot and killed today when he attempted to shoot it out with officers who stopped him at a roadblock near here. Officers were searching for the slayer of a Michigan policeman.

The Ohio state patrol said papers on the youth identified him as Elmer Eugene Anderson, used car lot employee at Lansing, Michigan police said Anderson was wanted for questioning in the slaying last night of police officer Ivan Wilson, shot when he stopped a car for speeding in Allen, Mich.

Found in the youth's car was a bag of money and a policeman's .38-caliber revolver, officers here said. The amount of money found was not immediately made known.

Everybody Wants 'Hunk of Heaven'

By JAMES SPOTSWOOD

SVLACAUGA, Ala. (U) — Twenty-two days ago Mrs. Huld Hodges, a plump, pleasant-faced matron of 31, lay down to take a little nap.

In the back of her mind was a jumble of plans—visiting friends, getting ready for Christmas, household duties. But they could wait. She had a cold and needed rest. She dozed.

Then there was a thunderous crash. She felt a violent blow on her left arm and hip. Sunlight shone through a hole in the ceiling. A rough-edged black "rock" lay near her.

She had been struck by a fragment of a shooting star which had hurtled to the earth from outer space. Scientists said she was the first person in recorded history known to be hit by a meteorite.

She still has to spend part of each day in bed because of the severe bruises she suffered. She has nightmares in which "it seems like I hear the sound."

She and her husband moved out of their comfortable frame residence to a smaller house after her landlady, Mrs. Birdie Guy, filed suit for the meteorite, for which more than $5,000 has been offered.

Mrs. Guy's lawyer said the Supreme Court has held that a meteorite belongs to the owner of the property on which it falls.

He spoke of the meteorite as personal property," argues Atty. Huel M. Love for Mrs. Hodges. "It didn't come to rest on Mrs. Guy's property—it came to rest on Mrs. Hodges and on her studio couch."

Both the Smithsonian Institution and Alabama State Museum at the University of Alabama want the fragment, but the Smithsonian says the meteorite itself isn't worth $500.

"Suing is the only way she'll ever get it," said Mrs. Hodges of Mrs. Guy's suit. "I feel like the meteorite is mine. I think God intended it for me. After all, it hit me."

The meteorite is in care of her lawyer now.

RIDING RADAR FENCE

Fliers Out Daily To Check Defenses

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (U) — Like cowboys riding fence, a team of fliers here goes out almost daily to check the invisible radar fence that helps guard the United States against air attack. The mission of the 467th Radar Evaluation Flight was disclosed in Washington Tuesday by the Air Force. The unit has been stationed at Hill AFB, near Ogden, for about a year.

There are only two others like it in the country—one at Hamilton AFB, Calif., and one at Griffis AFB, N. Y.

Maj. James A. Gerwick, a big, ruddy-cheeked man, is the Hill unit's commander.

Describing his job, he searches for precise terms. "I think the best way to express it," he said, "is that we try to determine radar coverage. We need to know just how much territory our radar network takes in."

To do this job, Gerwick has nine airplanes in his flight—seven B29s, one B25 and one C47.

His men "ride fence" for the Central Air Defense Area, which includes 28 states in the middle of the country and stretches from Mexico to Canada.

The radar testers fly around the clock, winter and summer, going out beyond the border and then swinging back through the network.

Ordinarily the pilot doesn't know whether he has been spotted by

Beloit Apartment Building Burns

BELOIT, Wis. (U) — The only family at home Tuesday when fire destroyed an apartment building walked to safety from its third floor quarters.

Fire Chief Glen Davis, who put the damage to the three-story structure at around $15,000, said the blaze began in the attic and spread to the lower floors. The cause was not determined.

Three other families occupying the building were not at home when the fire broke out about 4:30 p.m.

80-Pound Weight Loss Wins Husband Divorce

BALTIMORE (U) — Edward R. Miller won a divorce here yesterday after testifying he lost 80 pounds during 13 months of married life. The 26-year-old warehouseman attributed the weight loss to his wife's failure to cook his meals and to his having to walk the streets at night while a girl friend of his wife occupied his half of the bed.

He said he's down to 150 pounds.

Bible-Balloons to Float Scriptures Past Iron Curtain

TULSA, Okla. (U) — Radio evangelist Billy James Hargis said the 1955 Bible-balloon project, an operation floating the Scriptures into Iron Curtain countries, will be the largest in its three-year history.

The Rev. Mr. Hargis, director of the project sponsored by the International Council of Christian churches, said yesterday a campaign to raise $100,000 to finance the Bible-balloons will get underway in the United States Jan. 1. An equal amount will be sought from foreign nations, he added.

He said 30,000 balloons carrying 163,000 portions of the Bible already have been floated into Russia, Poland, Hungary, Eastern Germany and Czechoslovakia from secret fields in Western Germany.

Boy Flags Down Train, Saves Auto on Tracks

SHARON, Mass. (U) — William Kingsley, 15, was doing his homework last night when he spotted an auto skid off an icy road and stall on New Haven Railroad tracks. He snatched a light from his bicycle and ran to the tracks.

He stood on the tracks waving the light back and forth in time to halt an oncoming train. The train proceeded after the car, owned by Dr. Vincent F. Ryan, was pushed from the tracks.

Wykoff Methodists Presenting Actors, Choir at Tableau

WYKOFF, Minn. (Special)—An unusual nativity scene is being presented by the Wykoff Methodist Church during the two weeks preceding Christmas.

Its characters are youth and adults of the congregation; its stage effects include live animals and a manger built of 60 bales of straw. The 25-voice church choir sings background Christmas carols from a new addition behind the nativity scene while the birth of Christ in Bethlehem is portrayed.

Final presentations will be given Tuesday and Friday nights. The scene is being presented by the Wykoff Methodist Church. Its setting is a straw stage in front of a new addition on the church. The congregation's choir sings Christmas carols while the nativity scene is portrayed by two shifts of actors.

Six Retiring Fillmore County Officials Cited

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Extended service to Fillmore County was honored Tuesday afternoon as six retiring public officials were honored at the annual courthouse Christmas party.

Their public service totals 129 years, headed by the 48 years served by Perlam Nelson, 70, register of deeds, and by Miss Louise Langford's 33 years as deputy clerk of court.

Others honored were: Julius Siles, Harmony, commissioner from Fillmore County's fourth district for 20 years; Mrs. Amy Broderick, welfare department and WPA sewing project employee the last 16 years; George Frognier, Harmony, county attorney 8 years, and Clair Dotzenrod, county superintendent of schools, 4 years.

Charles Michener, county auditor, made gift presentations in the courtroom where the party was held.

Nelson started his public service in 1907 as deputy treasurer under E. A. Highum and deputy auditor under J. F. Jones. The county board appointed him register of deeds Feb. 1, 1910, replacing T. I. Garratt who resigned to join a local bank. He has been returned to office 11 times by Fillmore County voters. Nelson did not choose to run this fall. Orval Amdahl, Lanesboro, will take office in January in his stead.

Miss Langford entered county service in 1921 under A. D. Gray, then clerk of court. Siles, who was chairman of the county board of commissioners for 14 of his 20 years of service, was defeated by Elwyn Cummings, Carleton Township, Nov. 2.

Mrs. Broderick will be succeeded by Mrs. Phoebe Virgin, Spring Valley, Jan. 3. Her immediate plans call for three months' vacation in Florida.

Frognier did not run in November after serving two terms. J. F. Herrick, Lanesboro, will replace him. Dotzenrod was defeated for county sheriff by incumbent Donald Cook after serving as county superintendent of schools one term. He will farm southwest of here.

Pope Urges Chinese Catholics to Resist Red Influence

VATICAN CITY (U)—Pope Pius XII has urged Chinese Catholics to resist what he called the increasing insidiousness of Communism in their homeland.

In a letter, the Pontiff expressed sorrow at the fact that even some Catholics have adhered to movements aimed against religion. But, he said, the masses of Chinese Catholics have remained faithful.

Mistake Strands Sister-in-Law

BEMIDJI, Minn. (U)—If he hasn't already discovered the error, there's a surprise in store for a brother-in-law driving somewhere between Bemidji and Toronto, Can.

The surprise is that the sister-in-law he thinks is riding with friends in a second car on a trip from Vancouver to Toronto, was left stranded in Bagley, Minn.

Mrs. Bridget Hoffner, wife of a Toronto truck driver, told police she left the car of her brother-in-law, Anthony Hickox, at a Bagley filling station to visit a doctor.

When she returned Hickox and car were gone. So was Hickox's 3-year-old son. Mrs. Hoffner was making the trip to care for the boy. Hickox wife was unable to travel because of illness.

Tentative plans were, Mrs. Hoffner said, to meet friends in a second car in the Bagley area and continue the trip with them while Anthony drove on alone. No contact was made with the second car.

Mrs. Hoffner was continuing the trip today via truck. Police found a transcontinental truck bound for Toronto and Mrs. Hoffner climbed aboard.

7 Honored For Historical Contributions

Four honorary and three distinguished memberships have been awarded by the board of directors of the Winona County Historical Society, it was announced today.

Dr. Lewis I. Younger, president, said that both types of memberships represent an innovation for the society.

Receiving the honorary memberships by unanimous vote of the board were: Mrs. George Little, Edgebrook; Mrs. Agnes H. Berum, 150 E. 4th St.; M. H. White, 370 W. Sauborn St.; and Mrs. E. L. King Sr., 209 E. 5th St.

Dr. Younger said that the board had determined that these individuals "have made an outstanding contribution to the objectives of our society." Objectives are "the rediscovery, preservation and dissemination of knowledge about the history of Winona County and the state of Minnesota."

Receiving the distinguished memberships are Orrin Smith, posthumously, the second white child born in the city of Winona and a collector of historical data during his lifetime; William Codman, who recently moved out of the city, the society's first president and the author of numerous historical articles; and Mrs. Mabel (E. W.) Miller, author of a Winona County history as yet unpublished and author of a history of the First Congregational Church.

Smith's daughter, Mrs. Catherine Smith Anderson, St. Paul, will accept the distinguished membership.

The honorary membership is designed for those who make outstanding contributions and the distinguished membership for those who perform in historical research and writing.

Evidence Found Miller Plane Engine Failed

MILWAUKEE (U)—Civil Aeronautics Board experts reported today they had found positive evidence of engine failure in the private plane which crashed Friday killing Frederick C. Miller, Milwaukee industrialist; his son and two pilots.

The CAA experts, working on the two engines of the shattered Lockheed Ventura owned by the Miller Brewing Co., said they found the cylinders of the left engine jammed. They said the engine could not have been jammed in the crash or in the fire which burned much of the plane after the crash near Gen. Billy Mitchell Field.

The CAB men said they found no evidence that the plane's propellers were not operating correctly. But they determined that there was what they described as "definite power failure in the rear power section of the left engine" while the plane was taking off.

George Evans Elected By Masons at Alma

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—George Evans was elected worshipful master of Alma Lodge 184, AF & AM Tuesday night.

He replaces Melvin Accola who served in that office the past two years.

Other officers elected are: Senior warden, Richard Dierauer; junior warden, Raymond Beseler; treasurer, Harvey Haigh; secretary, Ray Accola; senior deacon, Lester Joy; junior deacon, Gary Schlossstein; senior steward, Richard Fahrner; junior steward, Soren Peterson; tiler, Melvin Accola and trustee for three years, Walter Dierauer.

Joint installation with the Order of Eastern Star will be held Monday evening with a potluck lunch following.

RUSHFORD CAR STOLEN Authorities here have been notified of the theft of a car from its owner at Rushford Tuesday night. Sought is a 1950 blue Studebaker coupe with California license plate 2Y532L.

Parked Car Hit On West Broadway, 2 Hurt Slightly

Two persons were injured in an accident involving a parked car on West Broadway Tuesday.

Treated by a physician after the accident were Mrs. Ray E. Gorsuch, 567 Francis St., who suffered neck, chest and back injuries, and James Werner, 642 Clark's Lane, who had facial cuts.

The accident occurred at 10:15 a. m. when a car driven by Werner ran into the back of the parked car in which Mrs. Gorsuch was sitting.

The Gorsuch car was parked at 824 W. Broadway, at the time. Werner reported $400 damage to his car and damage to the Gorsuch automobile amounted to $375.

D. C. Bambenek, 266 W. 5th St., reported $75 damage to his car after it was struck by another automobile at East King and Mankato avenue at 5 p. m. Monday.

The driver of the other car, listed at James Cichanowski, has not completed the accident report at police headquarters.

Greenspun Charges McCarthy With Plot to Jail Him

WASHINGTON (U)—Herman M. (Hank) Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, contends Attorney General Brownell, Postmaster General Summerfield and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) are in a conspiracy to put him in prison.

Greenspun told a news conference Tuesday he will stress the contention in a defense against a federal indictment accusing him of publishing an article which, the indictment says, tended to "incite murder or assassination" of McCarthy.

Greenspun said he had arranged an early arraignment on the charge before U. S. District Judge John R. Ross in Nevada.

A Justice Department spokesman said Brownell had no comment "while the matter is pending before the courts." Summerfield said "this is in the hands of the Justice Department" and he preferred not to discuss it. McCarthy could not be reached.

Greenspun said he will try to subpoena all three to testify at his trial. He said he is convinced the indictment originally was aimed at him in an effort by the Eisenhower administration "to appease McCarthy." He said he is not clear why the case was not dropped after McCarthy's recent criticism of President Eisenhower.

He said "irregularities" marked the grand jury proceedings against him, and that he has evidence the grand jurors "were told they had to return an indictment, and they did it."

Owl Motor Co. Host to Employees At Holiday Party

More than 80 attended the 26th annual Christmas party given by the Owl Motor Co. for its employees and their guests at the New Oaks Tuesday evening.

Dinner was followed by dancing at the party, arrangements for which were made by F. G. Jackson, vice president and manager of the company. Bonus checks were presented to the employees prior to the party.

School Named After Five Duffy Sisters

TUCSON, Ariz. (U)—A new elementary school here was named for five Duffy sisters who have a combined teaching time of 140 years.

Mrs. Alice Duffy Murphy is principal of Duffy School. Honored with her were Mrs. Harriet Duffy Murphy, Mrs. Mary Duffy Collins, Mrs. Catherine Duffy Foy and Miss Ida Myrtle Duffy, all teachers.

3 Accidents At Highway 43 Intersection

Woman Thrown Out Of Car in Third Mishap of Series

The icy junction of Highway 43 and State Aid Road 2, 12 miles west of here, this morning was the site of three traffic accidents—two of them within a half-hour period shortly after midnight and the third during mid-morning.

Sheriff George Fort said that the first occurred at 12:30 a. m. when an oil transport truck driven by Richard Kvan, 31, Harmony, skidded on the ice at the intersection, plunged into the ditch on the south side of Highway 43 and overturned.

Kvam told Deputy Sheriff Helmer Wehmann that he was entering Highway 53 from the state aid road when the truck began to slide.

A short time later a car driven by Donald Christopherson, 21, Homer, traveling south on the state aid road skidded on the same patch of ice, slid across Highway 43 and overturned in the ditch where it came to rest against the overturned oil truck.

Then, at 10 a. m. cars driven by Robert Lemke, Rochester, and William Connelly, Lanesboro, collided a few feet from the site of the two previous mishaps.

Lemke was turning onto Highway 43 from the state aid road when the eastbound car driven by Connelly approached the intersection.

Connelly turned to the left to avoid a collision but the bumper of the Lemke car caught the right rear door of the second car. Wehmann said.

A passenger in the Connelly car, Mrs. Ted Bell, Lanesboro, was thrown out of the car and suffered head and hip bruises when she struck the road.

Connelly estimated his damage at $150 and damage to the other car amounted to about $30.

Ike Lacking In Leadership, Kefauver Says

FRIENDSHIP AIRPORT, Md. (U)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said Tuesday night that President Eisenhower has furnished the country "practically no leadership."

Kefauver, who predicted "for the next two years we will have better government with a Republican president and Democratic Congress" attacked the President and GOP leaders personally, while Michael DiSalle, Ohio lawyer and former price stabilizer, lambasted the Republicans in general.

Kefauver was the principal speaker at a dinner attended by about 250 Anne Arundel County Democrats honoring Ralph Lowman, recently re-elected president of the board of county commissioners. DiSalle, former director of the Office of Price Stabilization, came along as the Tennessee senator's guest.

Kefauver said Eisenhower has been harassed by a divided Republican party with which he has had to have bi-partisan negotiations before he could "seek bi-partisan agreements with us Democrats."

"The facts of life are that for the past two years this nation has had practically no leadership," Kefauver said. "The President has taken a bold stand one day, such as his recommendations for enlightened and expanded trade agreements, only to quietly fold his tent and surrender before the onslaughts of his own party the next day."

Widow of Policeman Crushed by Trucks Awarded $15,575

SPARTA, Wis. (U)—A Circuit Court jury early today awarded damages of $15,575 to the widow of a Tomaholic policeman who was crushed between two trucks nearly three years ago.

The jury awarded the amount to Mrs. Darlene D. Williams whose husband, Charles, 31, suffered fatal injuries Jan. 14, 1952, at the scene of a traffic accident. The verdict was returned shortly after midnight following 7½ hours of deliberation.

In its findings, the jury held that Carl Scheller of Sparta, driver of a Monroe County truck, was negligent in operation of his vehicle. The truck slid into a ditch, pinning Williams against a semi-trailer which had stalled.

The case was heard by Judge Russell E. Hanson of Fond du Lac.

His Memory Fails, But City'll Remember

NORFOLK, Va. (U)—The man told police he had had a few drinks and couldn't remember just what happened.

Police could. They said he stole a white fire department car, drove over the city with the siren going, charged gasoline to the city at a filling station and wrecked the car when they attempted to arrest him.

Harry Bernatz, J. R. Watkins Co. distributor at Atlanta, Ga., sometimes has suggested jokingly that they should have the band out for him when he makes his annual Christmas visit to his home town of Winona. To his and Mrs. Bernatz' astonishment, they did exactly that Friday afternoon.

More than that, the mayor was there. As they stepped off the Milwaukee Road train, Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer handed Bernatz the key to the city and the band, directed by C. C. Currier, Watkins general city sales manager, played. On the other side of the detaining point, John Fedders, assistant general city sales manager, and J. M. Henry, credit manager, held up a large "welcome" banner. Awaiting was a chauffeur (company copilot C. E. Hebbler). Impresario for the affair welcoming one of the top 10 distributors in the U. S. and Canada was Jack Ollom, company pilot.

What Happened? West Enders Ask

Several hundred West End residents late Tuesday afternoon began to wonder whether a former Michigan college instructor's prediction that the end of the world was slated for Dec. 21 was proving correct.

At 5:25 p. m. scores of homeowners reported that their houses were jarred by a succession of shocks while a crashing sound reverberated through the area.

The cause of the disturbance, investigation revealed, was the sudden stopping of a long freight train whose engine brushed a woman walking across the tracks at the 5th street crossing of the Milwaukee Road.

The pedestrian, who apparently escaped serious injury in the mishap, was Miss Alice Witt, 1059 W. 5th St.

Misjudges Time Miss Witt told police that she noticed the engine while she was crossing the tracks but thought at first that it was a switch engine and that she would have sufficient time to cross.

When she was on the tracks, however, she heard the train whistle and determined that it was a freight that was bearing down on her.

Miss Witt sought to jump out of the way of the oncoming train but the front of the engine struck her back and hurled her to the ground beside the tracks.

The woman was able to get up and walked to the nearby home of a sister.

The train's engineer believed that the woman had been struck with much greater force by the engine and brought the train to a grinding stop.

As the 158 cars of the freight jarred together the loud series of crashes could be heard throughout a wide area.

Windows Rattled A number of persons living near the tracks said that their windows rattled under the impact and reports were prevalent that a train wreck or a serious explosion had occurred.

In one house near the tracks a family was having dinner when the incident occurred. One of the children was reported to have been holding a gravy bowl which was knocked from his hands when the shock waves struck the house.

In other houses pictures hanging on walls were reported to have been knocked askew.

On the other hand, persons in some homes closest to the tracks said that they heard no sound whatsoever.

Mondovi Youths Admit Breakins

MONDOVI, Wis. — Confessions of two Mondovi home burglaries were given by a pair of Mondovi High School students while being questioned recently about another theft here.

The youths, one 14 and the other 15, told of taking $34 and $12 from two homes Dec. 11. Neither burglary had been reported as the money had not been missed by the homeowners.

Knowledge of the housebreaking came while Buffalo County Sheriff Glen Davis was questioning the pair about Dec. 12 burglary at the Mondovi Equity Co., where $5 was taken from the oil station. The thieves are still being sought.

Juvenile Judge G. L. Pattison will hear the cases in the near future. Several Mondovi youths were questioned in connection with the Equity burglary. Blood at the scene indicated that one of the burglars had been cut while breaking a window.

Architect Interviews Slated by Plainview School Directors

PLAINVIEW, Minn.—After touring several new schools of South-eastern Minnesota, the Plainview School Board and a citizens advisory committee from the consolidated district will interview six representatives of architectural firms in January.

The moves are preliminary to planning added school facilities here, a need which was understood when 15 rural districts united with the Plainview district Feb. 9. Since then six more districts of Wabasha and Winona counties have joined the consolidation.

Nearly 700 elementary and high school students are housed in the two-story Plainview school which was constructed in 1924 with facilities for a maximum of 400. A recent school census revealed that the influx will continue for several years.

Firms which will send representatives here next month are Hubert H. Swanson, Lang & Raugland, Magney, Tusler & Setter, Minneapolis; Haastick & Lundgren & Associates, E. D. Corwin & Associates, St. Paul, and Pass & Rokey, Mankato.

Nine out of 10 fur coats sold in the United States are made in a five-block New York City area.

Elementary Music Supervisor Starting Here January 3

Miss Margaret Wilcox, Hudson, Wis., will begin her duties as coordinator of elementary music in the public schools Jan. 3.

Appointed to the position by the Board of Education earlier this month, she will succeed Miss Marie Tosterud who has resigned.

Miss Wilcox is a graduate of Hamline University and has been working on her master's degree at the University of Minnesota.

Woman Confesses Cashing 22 Bad Checks in Crookston

CROOKSTON, Minn. (U)—The cashing of 22 bad checks here on one day has been confessed by Mrs. James C. Marek, formerly of Duluth and now in the penitentiary at Sioux Falls, S.D.

The statement was obtained by a Minnesota crime bureau agent who interviewed Mrs. Marek, alias Betty Houle, there, Police Chief Gale Reagan said today.

Mrs. Marek and her husband are serving 18 months together for forgery. The crime bureau is checking their description with merchants of other Minnesota communities.

Totalling more than $450, the checks were cashed here April 24 at a time when the banks were closed.

Southern Wisconsin Highways Clear

MADISON (U)—Most major highways in southern Wisconsin were clear of ice and snow today and afforded good driving conditions, the state motor vehicle department reported.

Roads in the northern half of the state were slippery in some sections and required careful driving. Roads along the lake shore were good except for being slippery in spots in the Manitowish and Sheboygan regions.

Transportation Group Elects

A new slate of officers was elected by the Winona Transportation Club at the VFW Club Tuesday night.

Don Whiting, sales representative of the Murphy Motor Freight Lines, was named president, succeeding R. J. McDonough, Green Bay & Western Railway; A. J. Gessell, rate clerk of the Chicago & North Western Railway System, replaces R. T. Perey, Bay State Milling Co., as vice president.

Other changes include Carl Genz, manager of the Winona Traffic Bureau, secretary, replacing A. A. Silsbee, Armour Fertilizer Works; P. B. Gooderum, traffic manager, Bay State, and Harry Smith, shipping supervisor, J. R. Watkins Co., directors, in place of L. H. Stevens, Gateway Transportation Co., and A. H. Boll, Peerless Chain Co. A. J. Wetzel, operating department supervisor at Watkins, was re-elected treasurer.

Charles Biesanz entertained with his banjo and singing. Lunch was served by the Chicago Great Western and the Winona Sand & Gravel Co. Thirty-four were present.

Whiting Nelson Approves School Addition

NELSON, Wis.—A $72,000 addition to the Nelson High School was approved 284-107 by voters of Union Free District 1 Tuesday.

The vote represents about two-thirds of the eligible electors in the district, a turnout considered very good for this time of year. Plans also call for remodeling the present structure at a cost of approximately $18,000.

Included in the new addition, which will be built soon after the first of the year, will be agriculture and home economics laboratories, a band room, athletic dressing rooms and a gymnasium-auditorium. A threatened loss of some state aids prompted the move for additional space.

Present gym-auditorium space will be renovated into English and science departments. Hot lunches will probably be served in a corridor of the new building to eliminate nonroute trips away from school now made by students.

The vote was held in the school yesterday as provided by a district meeting Nov. 22 when 201 adults voted for the referendum and 43 against holding it.

As outlined by an architect, the new cement block addition will be attached to the east end of the present building. Members of the school board in charge of the vote were Chris Castleberg, Kenneth Reinhardt and Merle Fellom, clerk.

Sonneman Receives Past Officer's Pin

A past finance officer's pin was presented to Elgin O. Sonneman at the monthly meeting of Leon J. Wetzel Post 9, American Legion, Tuesday evening.

Sonneman, now serving in that capacity, has been the finance officer since 1946. He received the pin from Commander John T. Curtis.

Announcement was made at the meeting of the 1st District convention at Spring Valley next June 10-12, and Wayne Kirkham said that a wrestling card will be held at the Red Men's Wigwam Jan. 10. Dr. E. G. Callahan reported on gifts for draffees, and Commander Curtis on baby-sitting night. The 1954 membership is 777. The attendance prize was won by Henry Aune.

University of Minnesota football highlight movies were shown.

Clark Starting Probe, Wants Chat With McCarthy

WASHINGTON (U)—Gen. Mark Clark, getting started with a study of government intelligence operations, was reported Tuesday to be planning an early talk with Sen. McCarthy.

McCarthy, who could not be reached for comment on the report, has said on several occasions he was "disturbed beyond words" by what he termed success of Communists in infiltrating the Central Intelligence Agency.

The CIA's director, Allen Dulles, has denounced the senator's accusation as false and said he has sought, without success, to get McCarthy to turn over any information he may have on subversives in the CIA.

Clark, retired four star general who now is president of The Citadel, a military college, heads a six-man group assigned by the Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization to study all government intelligence operations, including CIA.

Informed sources said Tuesday Clark plans to seek an interview with McCarthy shortly after the first of the year. Last July McCarthy offered to turn over to Clark information to support his statement that Reds infest the CIA, but it was reported he has not done so.

Clark was said to be planning to confer not only with McCarthy but with a number of other persons who have volunteered to help the project.

New Secretary Sought by Fair

ST. CHARLES, Minn.—A search for a new secretary of the Winona County Fair Association continued here today as some difficulty has been encountered in lining up candidates for the post which pays a starting salary of $300 annually.

The vacancy was created when Roger Anderson, St. Charles, resigned in late November after four years of service. He was receiving $500 per year when he stepped down. Anderson was later elected to the board of directors replacing Harold Gronert, LeRoy, formerly of St. Charles.

Choice of a new secretary will be the main item of business at a regular board meeting Dec. 28 at the Lewiston city hall at 8 p. m. Residents of the county interested in the post may contact members of the board prior to the session.

Other business will center around instruction of delegates to the annual county fair convention in Minneapolis Jan. 10-12.

Wisconsin Set For Changes In Legislature

MADISON, Wis.—A number of changes in the rules governing operations of the state Legislature that will have considerable external political interest are likely to be approved when the Wisconsin Senate and Assembly convene Jan. 12.

Hundreds of rules controlling the operation of the two houses are contained in printed rule books with interpretations and decisions and precedents stretching back more than a century.

There is considerable support for rules that would make bills and resolutions more easily and quickly understood by members and outsiders, by making bill titles more explicit and descriptive.

One amendment would require all bills relating to state finance to state clearly in their titles that they are appropriation measures.

Another proposal will show the sensitivity of legislators on the issue of rule making by state administrative agencies. Most of such rule making powers of departments have been granted by the Legislature through statutes. But some legislators believe there should be a transfer of such powers to the executive branch.

One proposed change in Senate rules would trim the political prerogatives of the Senate president who is the lieutenant governor. Under the traditional rule, when points of order or other parliamentary queries were raised in the Senate the lieutenant governor could

Thus, occasionally, a presiding officer could delay or kill a bill by the simple expedient of failing to bring in this ruling on the parliamentary point raised. There is growing support for a time restriction, such as 10 days or two weeks, or some other period, for such decisions.

Minority party members in the new Senate would be entitled to about a fourth of the committee seats in the upper house, and about one fourth in the assembly.

The Republican majority is not expected to consent to such an arrangement.

Mexican Papa Can't Get Used To Santa Claus

By JACK RUTLEDGE
MEXICO CITY (U)—"It will be our best Christmas," said Pedro with satisfaction, counting the money he and Adelita had saved during the year in a tin can and a clay piggy bank. "Almost 540 pesos ($43.20)."
"Five hundred—why, that's almost a month's salary," said his wife. "We can give a posada (Christmas party) such as we've never given before."
"And think of the things Santa Claus can bring little Jose," said Pedro.
"Santa Claus!" snorted his father, hurling a smug cigarette out the window of the three-room apartment. "That Gringo invader. In my day we went to midnight Mass Christmas eve, had a posada afterwards. The house was decorated with a beautiful manger, with Jesus and Mary and the Three Wise Men. Gifts we have Jan. 6. The Magi brought them. Don't you remember your trainings?"
"But of course," said Pedro. "We also will go to Mass. We also will have our manger, our posada. We also will have our gifts from the Magi. But first, on Christmas Day, Santa!"
"Santa Claus! Christmas trees! Bah!" snapped the old man.
"Jose expects them," explained Pedro patiently. "Times change, Papa. The stores are full of Santa Claus. They are everywhere, ringing bells, promising presents. One neon sign three stories high is of Santa Claus."
"Sacriligious," said the old man. "Commercial, forcing Mexico to give presents Christmas and Jan. 6 also."
"It has increased business," Pedro agreed. "But is that bad? The merchants this year are doing a booming trade. It has been a good year for Mexico, although devaluation of the currency—has made prices very high—much higher than last year."
"Maybe your Santa Claus can bring us revaluation," said the old man.

Lily Pons Says Rumors Of Divorce Not True

EL PASO, Tex. (U)—Opera star Lily Pons left El Paso by train last night for Palm Springs, Calif., ridiculing reports she was here for a divorce at neighboring Juarez, Mexico.
With a smile, she told newsmen as she left that the rumors were a "dream of a New York newspaper man. Rumors of divorce simply aren't true."
There were reports while she was here that a divorce from her orchestra-conductor husband Andre Kostelanetz was in the offing.
Nylon was the first synthetic which showed promise as a textile fiber.

Santa's Reindeer Hauling Donkeys

ATLANTA (U)—That bray you hear Christmas morning may be a present.
R. G. West, general agent of the Railway Express Agency in Atlanta, reported today he had six Mexican burros waiting to be delivered as Christmas presents.
He said they were en route from Western states to points in Georgia and other Atlantic Coast states and that others already had been delivered.
Several carried messages on tags, such as:
"Here's that jackass I promised you, Merry Christmas."

Rabbits' Habits May Have Been Their Downfall

PARIS (U)—Prof. Paul Armand-Deille forgot about the habits of rabbits when he started his experiment. The result was a success on such a scale that he's been in trouble ever since.
Armand-Deille was annoyed by rabbits' munching on the flowers and vegetables in his garden. A man of science, he imported some myxomatosis virus from Australia, where it had been used to reduce the rabbit population. Myxomatosis kills rabbits with up to 99 per cent certainty in 10 to 12 days.
The professor's garden promptly was freed of rabbits. But once started, there was no way to limit the spread of the disease among the sociable rodents. It spread and spread until rabbits were dying all over France. They died in Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Germany and finally in Britain.
Hunters and manufacturers of hunting equipment cried murder. People who make at least part of their living from wild rabbits—hunters, hunting clubs, shotgun and shell manufacturers, fursellers, gamekeepers, etc.—claimed that the professor had done 60 billion francs ($171,428,500) worth of damage.
It has been two years since the professor set out to purge his garden of rabbits, but the end is not in sight.
The Superior Council for Hunting, which has a special man to study the myxomatosis situation, says France is spotted with islands where wild rabbit life is extinct.
There's not much that can be done to save wild rabbits. Tame rabbits can be inoculated.
The hunting people seem about the only ones who are worried. The Ministry of Agriculture scarcely conceals its pleasure. It says wild rabbits are harmful animals because they eat young plants, destroy the boundary marks between fields, and chew up tree sprouts in the forests.
Armand-Deille has been sued by a woman who claims her domestic rabbits were wiped out by the disease. An association of hunters

Independence Newest Fad Among Actors

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U)—There is a new breed of actors in the movies and the studios are somewhat worried.
It used to be that most every young actor would almost break his neck to get signed up for a seven-year stretch by a studio. Some still feel that way. But rising to prominence is another kind of actor—the independent sort.
Marlon Brando is a prime example. Since the beginning of his film career, he has refused to sign with a studio for more than one picture at a time. Montgomery Clift is another. If a script is good, he'll do the film, but he doesn't mind staying off the screen for a year or two.
The latest to join this group is John Kerr, a good-looking 24-year-old who scored a hit in "Tea and Sympathy" on Broadway. He has scant regard for the glamor routine that film stars are subjected to.
Kerr (he pronounces it Car) is here to do his first film role, in "The Cobweb." He admitted he had numerous offers to sign studio term contracts, but has turned them all down.
"I grew up in the East," he said. "All my roots are there, and I like living in New York. I see no reason to change."
But wouldn't he like the security of a studio contract?
"Who can ever achieve security in this business?" he replied quizzically.
John was born into the theater, being the son of actor Geoffrey Kerr and the long-time Broadway star June Walker. He did some summer theater work, debuting with Ruth Chatterton at the Cape Playhouse in 1940. He did a couple of roles with Gertrude Lawrence in stock in 1950, then went to Broadway in "Bernardine." "Tea and Sympathy" followed, and he was hailed as one of the bright new acting finds.
He turned down Hollywood offers and returned to Broadway to star with his mother in "All Summer Long." The show lasted only 8½ weeks and he came here for "The Cobweb."

Duff Gives Formula For Ike Candidacy

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) says Republican congressmen must give President Eisenhower "more than lip service" if they want to re-elect him in 1956.
Duff, one of the Republicans urging Eisenhower to run again, said in an interview, "Most Republicans know there is a very strong sentiment in this country for the re-election of Eisenhower."
He joined in the suit. The professor was ordered to pay damages to the woman, but he has appealed the case.

Labor Secretary Calls for Hiring Of Older Workers

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says that unless employers hire more older workers half the nation's adult population may be unemployed by 1975.
Summarizing a year-long department study, Mitchell said last night the number of persons 45 years old and over is expected to increase nearly 40 per cent in the next 20 years.
"We have added many years to life expectancy but have not yet figured out what to do with the extra time," he said.

Proposed Reduction In Armed Forces Too Drastic, Says Rayburn

GREENVILLE, Tex. (U)—Sam Rayburn, who becomes speaker of the House when Congress convenes next month, calls the Republican administration's proposed reduction in the armed forces "much too drastic."
He also said last night that defense appropriations should be increased instead of cut.
His talk climaxed a Sam Rayburn day in Greenville.
The Texas Democrat told a banquet audience:
"There are things more important than balancing the budget. We have got to stay strong."
"As bad as I hate taxes, I would vote to levy more taxes to build defenses so that no international desperado would dare to attack us."

U.S. Fears Cut In Western Europe Armies

WASHINGTON (U)—Top American diplomatic officials were reported concerned today that Western European governments eventually may follow the United States' example and cut the size of their armies.
Any sizable European manpower reductions, it was felt, would upset North Atlantic Treaty defense plans for smashing possible Russian invasion of the West "at the threshold," as Secretary of State Dulles put it at his news conference yesterday.
Dulles said the United States has no present intentions of pulling out its six divisions now in Europe even though this country has plans to cut its armed manpower. And, he said, it would be inconsistent and unfortunate if European nations also reduced their armed forces.
He said that Western Europe, with its vast industries and skilled labor, is such a prize that an aggressor might gamble on a lightning grab of this area, risking a heavy retaliatory blow. That, he said, is why larger armed forces must be ready in Europe.
The defense of the Orient represents a different problem, he said. There the chief peril is from Red subversion and the military need is for fast-striking mobile forces rather than big-standing armies.
In a formal statement, Dulles said nuclear weapons will be induced gradually in North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense preparations. He said the 14-nation decision to lean heavily on nuclear power "shows for the first time the means of developing a forward strategy which could be relied on to protect Western Europe from invasion."

"As that capability is developed," he continued, "it will surely constitute the strongest deterrent against military aggression."

Someone Carts Off Building 'by Mistake'

Let's Get on With Highway Rebuilding Job

The only way to have key highways built up to modern requirements is to pay for them.

The road problem in Minnesota is a serious one and state highway officials estimate at least $25,000,000 is needed to build main routes to the point where they can handle present traffic requirements.

The legislative interim Highway Study Commission has spent more than a year on an intensive study of the problem and already has made two comprehensive reports. A third will be presented to the Legislature which meets in January. Right now the commission is discussing a division of highway funds between state trunk routes, counties, the larger cities and townships.

But the basic problem is simple. There just aren't enough funds to do the job, regardless of how they are divided. Needs are great throughout the state. In this particular area we are demanding an improved Highway 76 from Witoka to the Iowa state line through Houston and Caledonia and a four-lane road from La Crescent to the Twin Cities. Hundreds of similar examples can be cited all over Minnesota.

Highways are built from two sources of income. Those sources are gasoline taxes and the funds obtained from the sale of motor vehicle licenses.

State gasoline tax in Minnesota is five cents a gallon. (Twenty-two other states levy six to seven cents.)

Cost of motor vehicles licenses, under the present system, varies according to the age and weight of the car. For example, an automobile of 1953-55 vintage costs $28 for a state license. When it is three years old the fee drops one-fourth, or becomes $21. In another three years it drops another fourth, or down to $14. The minimum for a model six years old is $12.50 and for the nine-year-old is $10.

With Minnesota highways in the shape they're in, more funds are needed. It seems only logical to us that the user provide those funds. This newspaper believes three steps should be taken by the coming session of the Legislature so we can begin our road rebuilding program soonest. They are:

1. Raise the gasoline tax.
2. Keep motor vehicle license fees at a stable level.
3. Pass a bond issue.

These may seem like drastic recommendations, but we repeat, if our key highways are to be built up to modern requirements, we must pay for them.

Charles M. Babcock pulled Minnesota out of the mud with the help of a bond issue. We can now rebuild that system to meet present day needs with another bond issue. The idea should rate careful consideration at the state house in St. Paul in January.

Consultants must be hired and this takes time. Let's get on with the job.

Pete Has New Slant On 'Do It Yourself'

What was the vogue in "Do-It-Yourself" projects, Peter F. Loughrey of Winona has a novel suggestion.

Peter, a mere 79 years old and an active Boy Scout leader, wonders if maybe parents might like to know, "How to Raise a Juvenile Delinquent."

It's most simple, says Pete. All you do is:

1. Deny your child spiritual training. Keep him from Sunday School. There he might gain moral values and integrity.
2. Never praise or encourage your child. He might get conceited.
3. Don't let his friends in the house. They might track up the rug. Your child will lose interest in his home eventually.
4. Don't let him bother you with his troubles, plans, hopes or joys. He might develop affection or security and trust in you.
5. Never ask him what he's doing. Children should be able to take care of themselves in this day and age.
6. Spend little or none of your valuable time working or playing with your child. Doing so only kindles friendship and understanding between you and the child.
7. Be sure you set a poor example for your child. Drinking, bad driving and dishonesty give him something to shoot for.
8. Take no interest whatsoever in your community. Otherwise your child might find himself in a good church, school and civic environment.
9. Quarrel with your spouse in front of the children. This will keep loyalties divided and set an example for their future married life.
10. Adhere strictly to the above rules and you are bound to become the parent of a successful juvenile delinquent.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Republican Party Survives Attacks

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — For 20 years, more or less, I have been listening to various Republicans discuss ways and means for destroying the Republican Party. The theory has been that if the offensive name, Republican, could be removed, the South would flock en masse to the Republicans and thus an election could be won. The late Al Smith and the late Gov. Joseph Ely of Massachusetts and the late John J. Raskob had such thoughts and while they were Democrats, many Republicans in the bleak years of Franklin D. Roosevelt listened to the tune of the Lorelei.

The Liberty League was an emanation of this thought but it died more or less a-borning, although it must be said, with a golden spoon in its mouth manufactured by the Du Ponts. The Jeffersonian Democrats were another group that tried their hand at bipartisanship without the cursed word, Republican. In the distant past, Theodore Roosevelt organized the Progressive Party, popularly referred to as the Bull Moose, and the elder Robert La Follette kept the name but made nothing of it. The Communists eventually seized it and ran Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor for the presidency and vice presidency under it, much to their misfortune, as it eliminated both from American political life.

MANY MEN CHANGE their names in the hope of advantage; some even change their faces by plastic surgery. But generally such betrayals of a past and a patrimony bring little or nothing because there are always long memories and sad regrets. Political parties continue, as individuals do, within the margins of their traditions. Most Republicans and Democrats vote for their parties by tradition and habit rather than by premeditation and conviction. They just cannot vote otherwise without seeming to betray their mothers or to besmirch the family names. Conviction comes mostly to those who have no political habits and are forced either to make a decision or stay away from the polls. Throughout the bleak years of Roosevelt and Truman, the Republicans managed to keep a residue of more than 20,000,000 supporters.

Apparently some of Pres. Eisenhower's political advisers dislike or resent the name, Republican, because so many of them have only lightly been associated with that party or not at all. Were we to note the political allegiances of the President himself, who for 37 years of adult life was vocationally nonpolitical or of Paul Hoffman, Lucius Clay, John J. McCloy and Milton Eisenhower, it would be found that Republican tradition lay upon them much like confetti upon a wedding party. And so it is being propagandized that the term, "moderate progressives," be used. No one has yet said that the label, Republican, be dropped but we are slowly, gradually being led into something called "moderate progressives," a slight modification of Theodore Roosevelt's and Robert La Follette's Progressive Party. Some call it "progressive moderates," which is worse.

WHY THE ADJECTIVE, moderate, is included in the new designation is not so clear. A progressive is one who believes in progress which could include much of the human race, except such reactionaries, like myself, who see no particular virtue in moving hither and yon just to keep moving. It is like the man who must twiddle his thumbs or wiggle his toes because he just cannot sit still. Motion for motion's sake is psychologically characteristic of infants in cribs who must flex their muscles to grow; the mature mind occasionally retreats from motion to thought, from action to rumination, from hopping about to pensive introspection.

Furthermore, Democrats, socialists, Communists as well as Republicans regard themselves as progressives, so the name can denote a political catch-all without definition which was Franklin D. Roosevelt's brilliant use of the term New Deal. Who did not want a new deal in 1932, even without knowing what the new deal would be like.

But the adjective, moderate, still puzzles. What is a moderate progressive? Is it one who pretends to progress but really stands still? Is it a progressive who moves so slowly and uncertainly that it does not matter whether he moves at all? Or is it one who progresses backwards as well as forwards, to the right as well as to the left, or diagonally for a short-cut?

Whatever it is, it is not clear and it is not beautiful and it is perhaps fraudulent as though I were to change my name from George Sokolsky to Lowell Cabot Lodge.

'No Birthday Oratory' Would Suit Rayburn

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At his recent meeting with congressional chiefs President Eisenhower was trying to decide whether to deliver his State of the Union message to Congress on the 6th or 7th of January.

"Either day suits me okay, but I'll be glad to make it on the 6th if you want me to," Ike told the leaders.

"That sounds good to me," remarked speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas. "My birthday is January 6th. We can adjourn right after your message and the House will be spared the tributes usually accorded me by my colleagues."

"Okay, let's make it on the 6th," agreed outgoing speaker Joe Martin, amid chuckles. "But we're not going to let your birthday pass without some oratory, Sam. We'll give you the tributes on January 5th."

Note—Rayburn will be 73.

Kit Clardy's Swan Song
There's an interesting story behind the swan-song statement of Cong. Kit Clardy of Michigan that "a gigantic" network of Communists still operates in the State and Labor Departments.

In the first place, Kit Clardy was one of the three McCarthyite congressmen, all Republicans, to be defeated in the recent election. Second, he offered to work free for the committee on un-American activities if they would keep him on as a staff member. He wanted the prestige of witch-hunting with the committee, but they refused.

Third, the mysterious witness whom Clardy quotes, Spencer Miller Jr., of New Jersey, is one of the few officials fired by the Eisenhower administration. Here is the reason why:

Miller, a former Republican highway commissioner for New Jersey, was made one of Ike's first assistant secretaries of labor and was sent as American delegate to the international labor office in Geneva in the winter of 1953.

There, at a farewell dinner when no speeches were to be made, he rose and insisted on making a speech. The chairman, A. M. Malik, labor minister of Pakistan, reminded him that speeches were taboo.

"I merely want to read President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day proclamation," Miller announced.

The chairman relented. Miller then made a speech proclaiming that Eisenhower was the only leader of any importance in the United States, that his margin of victory was 14,000,000 votes (actually it was 6,500,000), that no one should pay any attention to Adlai Stevenson, plus more of the same.

The international group of labor leaders and experts from every free country in the world sat dumbfounded. No one had ever discussed American internal politics before and no one was supposed to discuss the domestic politics of any country. They were supposed to leave domestic problems at home.

After Miller sat down you could have heard a pin drop. Then up rose Phil Delaney of the AF of L.

"I propose a toast to Adlai Stevenson," he said.

Every delegate rose, paid tribute to Stevenson.

After that Miller was fired.

Mendes-France made his proposal during secret meetings of the Atlantic Pact Council which began last week, and as a result, Sec. of State Dulles is furious. For this is the same fantastic proposal made secretly to Dulles when he visited Washington recently.

Advice on Health

First Aid Limited in Burn Cases

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Burns are especially likely to occur during the busy holiday season when we are all in a hurry and inclined to be a little careless.

Unfortunately, there isn't much you can do to aid a severely burned person. Your best bet is to get him to a doctor or hospital as quickly as possible.

If someone in your home is burned extensively, wrap him in clean sheets before taking him to a physician or hospital. Don't try to remove fragments of clothing or clean the wounds. That is a job for an experienced medical man.

If the burns are over a limited area, wrap them loosely and lightly with sterile gauze. Don't apply unguents or salves as first aid measures. They are messy, and if carelessly applied may even increase the possibility of infection.

Infection and Shock
A doctor's first action will be to combat infection and shock. Antibiotic or sulfa drugs usually ward off infection. Shock must be treated by keeping the victim warm and giving him lots of fluids.

There are other measures he can take, too, such as administering pain-relieving drugs and giving blood transfusions.

If a person is burned superficially over a large area, he is usually in more danger than if he were burned severely in a limited area.

I would like to caution you right here that burns frequently may be more extensive and deeper than they first appear.

Some burns can, and should, be given first aid treatment at home. Chemical burns, for instance, can be washed with water and covered with a wet dressing until you reach your doctor. Again, don't smear greasy substances over the burned area.

Wash With Soapy Water
If your youngster should come crying to you after he has burned a hand or finger on a radiator, stove or hot iron, wash the injured area with soapy water. Then cover it with sterile gauze.

If you don't have this gauze—and every home should have it—you can use several freshly ironed handkerchiefs. Cover the burn sufficiently to prevent any blisters from breaking open.

For minor burns, there is something you can do, too, but its value is more psychological than medical. That is, spread baking soda over a wet bandage and place it on the burn. Keep the bandage moist.

While this might not speed healing, it won't do any harm, either, and your youngster will feel that you are doing something for him. That's important. It calms his fears and makes him feel much better. Then it won't be long before he forgets the burn.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. K.: Every month prior to my period, I have some soreness in the breasts. What would cause this trouble?

Answer: Pain in the breasts occurring just prior to the menstrual periods has been thought to be due to some disturbance in the glands of internal secretion, possibly due to a lack of ovarian secretion.

Ike Explains Cut In Armed Forces

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Why are the American armed forces being cut in numbers—with most of the reduction in ground troops—from the present strength of 3,218,000 to 2,815,000 by mid-1955?

President Eisenhower has already given one explanation. He'll probably be asked for another because two of his right-hand men—Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson—gave explanations which didn't sound the same.

When he was asked about the reduction at a news conference Dec. 15, Eisenhower said the cold war may last 50 years and this country, in order to stand the long pull, must save on defense every dollar it can afford to.

On Dec. 20 Wilson told a news conference, after announcing the exact size of the cut, that it is being made because the Eisenhower administration believes the threat of global war has diminished.

Yesterday, Dec. 21, Dulles was asked at his news conference whether the military cutback was made because of any feeling war is further away or because this country has developed such powerful new weapons.

Dulles replied: "The reductions are not due to the fact that we consider the threat has diminished but merely due to the fact that we think that we have other ways to cope with the danger."

Eisenhower's explanation was understandable as far as it went, because the administration has tried to cut defense costs where it could, but some newsmen thought they saw a conflict between the Dulles and Wilson explanations.

Dulles didn't say exactly he didn't think the danger of war had decreased but he put the reason for defense manpower cuts on new weapons while Wilson put it on less fear of war.

Had Dulles emphasized belief that war fears had decreased, this country's European allies might feel that if it was safe for the United States to cut its armed forces they could start cutting theirs.

As reassurance to the Europeans, Dulles stressed that this country has no intentions of reducing, or withdrawing, any of its troops in Europe.

Russians Fan War Spirit Among People

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The new belligerence of Moscow's policy, turning abruptly away from the peaceful coexistence theme, is accompanied by an internal campaign seemingly aimed at fanning war hysteria among the peoples of the Soviet Union.

The campaign has an ugly look, but it does not mean the U.S.S.R. is now ready to risk world war. It does suggest the beginnings of an all-out mobilization on the home front, a process which can occupy a long period.

Trud, the trade union newspaper, has been telling workers that danger threatens all Europe and a new arms race is in the making because of activities of the "enemies of peace." Implicit in this was the message that guns must come before butter. The campaign is keyed to the idea of more work to insure the country's security.

This drive is tied in with an attempt in Europe to stop ratification of the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany, and with the flood of Soviet threats and protests to Western governments. The massive peace offensive which began when Stalin died in March 1953 appears near its end in the usual Stalinist pattern of political retreat and attack. Threats now take the place of soft words.

Ohio State University investigators have found that African violets grown under 18-hours-a-day of fluorescent light produced more flowers and produced them sooner than those grown in natural light.

'Fir' Not if Tree Wilts, Sugar, Aspirin Will 'Spruce' It Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you find your Christmas tree wilting, fear not. Just give it a shot of sugar and aspirin.

This sweet advice came today from Dr. F. E. Hance, principal chemist for the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Assn. experiment station. He wrote up this prescription:

When tree arrives in home, cut off lower portion of trunk at angle and immerse cut end in water to which tablespoon of sugar has been added. Stir in two aspirin tablets.

The idea is to keep air from being drawn into the cellular structure of the trunk. It's the air, Dr. Hance said, that does most of the tree wilting.

Fast Growing Interest in Art Goes Modern

By W. C. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—"There's been a phenomenal widening of interest in art in the last quarter century," says Rene d'Harnoncourt.

The director of the Museum of Modern Art, looking back over the institution's first 25 years, explains: "The credit for this growth goes to the educational work done by museums, and to the monthly, weekly and daily journals which tell the public what art is, and show pictures of it."

D'Harnoncourt did not join the museum when it opened, but he remembers the early years:

"When you went out to speak about modern art in the town or small city, people didn't know what you were talking about. If you asked them to describe a work of modern art, they couldn't do it. But now they have all seen pictures, thanks to their mass circulation in the press, thanks to the enormous increase of modern art reproductions, as you find them for example in hotel rooms, and thanks even to the modern settings in which people live."

"In the modern house the modern painting feels at home."

"There is an unconscious recognition of the fact," the director of our most modern Modern Art museum continued, "that this is the art form of our time. There is more variety in modern art than there used to be in other centuries. It's democratic. A couple of hundred years ago, if you asked a cabinet maker for a desk, he would have made a Louis XV desk. That's the only kind there was. Now it could be long, short, round, square, this kind, that kind. The modern movement requires the greater exploration of more forms."

To celebrate its 25th birthday, the museum held a party with speeches, music and everything but a cake with candles. In further celebration, and in illustration of the director's words, there is a major exhibition of paintings acquired by the museum in its 25 years—young men like Manessier, herolds of the modern spirit like Cezanne and van Gogh, and a vast assortment of others: Rousseau, Rouault, Picasso, Leguer, Dufy, Feininger, Chagall, Klee, Tschallingher.

The show lasts through December. If you can't see it, you can still have a grand record of the quarter-century in the book, "Masters of Modern Art," with 356 plates, edited by Alfred H. Barr Jr., director of collections at the museum, and published this week.

But there's a lot of art besides modern art, and a lot of shows besides this Modern Art exhibit, in this city in this particularly busy and rewarding fall.

The Metropolitan Museum has a loan exhibition called "Dutch Painting: The Golden Age." Held under the patronage of the Queen of The Netherlands, it actually has had a queen among its visitors: England's Queen Mother Elizabeth. Rembrandt, Hals, van Ruysdael, Steen, Vermeer, de Hooch, van Ostade, van Goyen, Seghers, are among the artists generously represented in this outstanding show. Among lenders are Dutch, British, Italian, German and Swiss museums, and about 20 museums and individuals in this country. Due to stay here to Dec. 19, the show will then be seen in Toledo, Ohio, and Toronto, Canada.

Another important foreign loan show that New Yorkers have been enjoying is "Masterpieces of Drawing," from the Besancon, France, Museums. Among the artists represented by 55 papers in this distinguished show at the Knoedler Galleries are Poussin, Boucher, Fragonard, Robert, Mantegna and Titian. They are touring this country—to Manchester, N.H., Detroit, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

Other guests from abroad are contemporary masters at the Sidney Curt gallery: Henry Moore to Carl Valentin's; Chagall—to this week at the Nivens; a young American, freshly in from Italy, at the Barone.

The Barone Gallery is marking its opening with a show of some 30 oils by Brooklyn-born Beverly Pepper. One-time successful advertising director in New York, Mrs. Pepper paints mostly dramatic Italian scenes—and it was Italy that gave her one of its coveted government scholarships.

U.S. to Get Record Total of Iowa Corn

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa farmers will deliver a record total of 12½ million bushels of corn to the government by the close of the current price support settlement period, Dwight W. Meyer, chairman of the state ASC committee reported today.

This total consists mainly of 1953 crop corn on which loans and purchase agreements matured on July 31, but there also is some 1952 corn under loans which expired on the same date.

Heart Attack Kills Iowa Conservationist

ALTA, Iowa (AP)—Lawrence Garton, 54, northwest Iowa soil conservation leader, died Tuesday of a heart attack at his farm home near Alta.

Garton was a member of the State Soil Conservation Committee and was chairman of both the Little Sioux Flood Control Works Committee and the Buena Vista County Soil Conservation District Commission.

State Highway Study Commission Ready Report

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota Highway Study Commission met in the state capitol today to take final action on a report to the governor and Legislature on its two year study of the highway problem.

The report includes a proposed amendment to the constitution. Key section of the amendment deals with distribution of money collected by the state in highway user taxes. It proposes to give 62 per cent to the state trunk highway fund, 30 per cent to the counties and 8 per cent to municipalities.

Now about 80 per cent of these taxes go to the trunk highway fund and 20 per cent to the counties. No specific provision is made for municipalities.

City members of the commission indicated they plan to renew their efforts to change the proposed formula to give a greater share to the cities.

Deadline on Rail Dispute Report Extended to Feb. 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today extended to Feb. 1 the deadline for an emergency board's report on a wage dispute between virtually all of the nation's railroads and the Order of Railroad Conductor and Brakemen.

The original deadline for submission of the report to the President was today.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the time extension was granted at the request of both parties in the dispute.

The board has been holding meetings in Chicago and plans to resume sessions after the holidays, Hagerty said.

The panel is headed by Edward M. Sharpe, chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court.

Body of Missing Boy Found in River

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A 5-year-old handicapped boy, who disappeared three days ago from a Christmas party, was pulled lifeless from the Miami River today.

The body of Shapley Lalor, dressed in a red jacket and green trousers, was found by George Brown, a fish dealer. The child who couldn't talk, had been described by newspapers, radio and television during the three days he was missing.

He was one of five children entertained at a Shrine Christmas party Saturday. When attendants were unable to find him, police were called and the search began.

Oilman Loses Tie Clasp Decorations

DALLAS (AP)—Oilman David McCord reported to police yesterday that he lost seven gold nuggets and an uncut diamond downtown. He said the nuggets and half-carat diamond were hanging on a gold chain on his tie clasp.

Woman Knocks Down Amputee, Takes Wallet

DALLAS (AP)—A woman knocked down Ernest Johnson, an amputee, robbed him of his wallet and $29, and fled. He told police one of his artificial legs, made of wood and aluminum, was shattered when he was knocked to the ground beside his shoe shine stand.

Pope Has Poor Night

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Reliable Vatican sources said today that Pope Pius XII passed a poor night, sleeping neither well nor very much.

These sources said the ailing head of the Roman Catholic Church remains very weak. But they described his general condition as about the same as yesterday, when for the fourth consecutive day he took a brief automobile ride and walk, aided by his doctors, in the Vatican gardens.

The doctors planned to give the Pope a transfusion of plasma and whole blood during the day as part of the treatment they hope will increase his strength.

Picture Proves It's Been Warmer In Dakotas

VALLEY CITY, N.D. (AP)—So you think it's warm in the Dakotas today?

Shucks, the first day of winter 1954 is real nippy compared to the Christmas season back in 1885.

Just to prove that point, the Times-Record today published a picture taken by A. M. Sanders, pioneer Dakota Territory photographer on Dec. 26, that year.

Shirleevalley Valley Citizens are playing baseball, the village band is out in force, there's nary a buffalo coat in sight among the large group of spectators and not a snowflake on the ground.

Condition of Schmahl Somewhat Improved

ST. PAUL (AP)—The condition of Julius Schmahl, former Minnesota treasurer, has improved in the last two days.

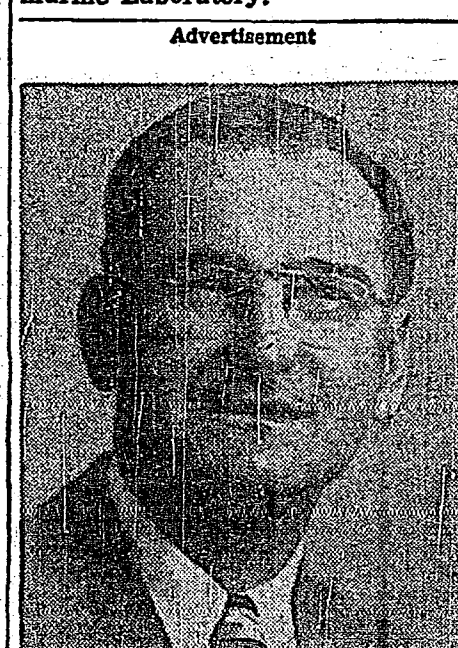

Miller Hospital reported this morning that Schmahl, 87, is in fair condition and "had a good night." Schmahl collapsed at his home Saturday, and was in serious condition until Tuesday.

Mexico Shivers as Temperature Drops

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico shivered today in the coldest weather it has felt in many years. The temperature dropped to 12 degrees in Mexico City.

Fish Noises Recorded To Assist Navy Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tape recordings of noises made by almost 200 species of fish have been gathered to assist Navy men who make underwater soundings in distinguishing such noises from the sounds created by vessels. The research was conducted by Dr. Marie Roland Fish, of the University of Rhode Island's Narragansett Marine Laboratory.

If you want a real "taste-treat," try cooking with wine. It brings out a flavor in meat and poultry that is incomparable. With Christmas this week and New Year's just ahead, this is a perfect time to surprise your family and holiday guests with flavorful wine cookery. Ask for our recipe book. Wine adds such a good touch before and after meals, too. We'll be glad to help you with your selection at "BILL'S" LIQUOR STORE, located at 119 Main Street. Our phone number is 4396.

Sheppard Reward May Go to Those Who Convicted Him

CLEVELAND (AP)—Money provided in part by osteopath Samuel B. Sheppard may be given the person or persons chiefly responsible for his arrest and conviction as a wife-killer.

Posted by the convicted osteopath, his two brothers and his father was $10,000 as a reward for supplying information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Marilyn Sheppard. The money was put up shortly after the July 4 bludgeoning.

CIO Board OKs Strike Fund for Big Ford Local

DETROIT (AP)—The executive board of the CIO United Auto Worker's big Ford local has announced its approval of a 25 million dollar strike fund proposed by the UAW's international executive board.

The UAW had proposed the fund be raised by an increase in union dues as a means of strengthening 1955 demands for a guaranteed annual wage.

Industry spokesmen contend a guaranteed annual wage is "unworkable."

UAW contracts with all major auto makers expire in mid-1955.

Pelican Rapids Man Indicted for Murder

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Donald Lee Fruhrman, 23, Pelican Rapids, Minn., was indicted for first degree murder here today by a 36-man grand jury which considered testimony for only 50 minutes.

Arraignment of Fruhrman was set for 4 p.m. today.

Fruhrman is being held in the fatal shooting and robbery of Rodney Gilberts, Pelican Rapids filling station operator Saturday night.

Mother's Gone and Daddy Won't Be Home for Christmas

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seven-year-old Chip Sheppard stood a few feet from the Christmas tree in his uncle's home when they told him: "Your daddy won't be home for Christmas."

The boy heard the news quietly. Then he walked upstairs to his room. There, in the awkward fashion of youngsters, he wrapped a gift for his father, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

The gift will be delivered to a cell in county jail where Dr. Sheppard has been confined since July 30.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, oldest brother of Dr. Sam, told how Chip received the news.

Dr. Richard said he wasn't sure what Chip had for his dad's Christmas gift but thought "it was something he made in school."

When he left Chip after the news, Dr. Richard said, the boy "was playing with the dog on the floor."

Quick butterscotch frosting: Empty a 15-ounce can of sweetened condensed milk into the top of a double boiler and add a third of a cup of firmly-packed brown sugar and a couple of tablespoons of butter or margarine. Cook and stir constantly over hot water until thick enough to spread. Cool and beat well. This will make enough frosting for the top and sides of two 8-inch layer cakes.

LAMPC Club Meets For Holiday Party

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — The LAMPC Club had its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. John F. Hager Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Alma Van Sickle as co-hostess.

Mrs. Sylvia Shiras and Mrs. Vernon Nehring who had charge of the program showed how to make Christmas decorations of felt, candy, spray, pine cones and boughs. Mrs. Shiras displayed several gift-wrapped packages and demonstrated how to make bows of ribbon. She also prepared and served a fruit cake called "Magic" and shared the recipe with the members.

Mrs. E. M. Deming showed two large centerpieces for table or mantle made by a friend.

Gifts were exchanged, each topped by a little flag and the name of the country it represented, and Mrs. Nehring read the Christmas customs carried out in each of these countries. In keeping with the season the hostesses served Yule bread, salad and assorted bakes.

The club will meet with Mrs. Richard Holtan Jan. 5 at 2:30 p.m.

Keep in Trim

Lift Your Weight Good Technique For Streamlining

By IBA JEAN KAIN

It's fun to be able to wear a high styled dress, particularly at this happy holiday season. The long torso line encourages perfect posture. You can't settle down. This demanding style can do wonders for your figure . . . for you are forced to get on the posture beam and give your figure a lift.

The streamlining trick is to lift your weight by pulling up firmly with the middle muscles, beginning with the lower girdle muscles, and at the same time contracting the big hip muscles. This centers the lift through the middle of the figure, puts you in perfect balance and presto — the fore and aft bulge disappears. The waist slims up too, for with the lift through the middle, the ribcage is elevated and the chest raised to normal high position.

The old posture correction rule to "throw back your shoulders and throw your chest out" did enormous harm. Shoulders were never meant to be carried behind you or forced rigidly back and pushing the chest out gets the whole line-up out of kilter. Shoulders should be relaxed and straight, not raised. It's easy to see there could be no benefit from lifting the shoulders . . . there are no figure lifting muscles attached there.

Another wrong emphasis given in the old time posture rules was to hold the stomach in — the emphasis should be to lift, pulling up with the girdle muscles, and the in-pull follows. It's uncomfortable to try to hold the stomach in, but not if you pull up and in. This results in a snug, secure feeling.

Try this, pulling up first. In fact, the single posture rule to keep in mind is up. But remember, the secret is to make the middle muscles take the action and literally lift your figure. It's surprising, the feeling of buoyancy and balance which follows. Not only does control give a figure a lift . . . it gives you a lift. It helps you feel poised and self-confident. Remember the instructions a wise teacher gave an actress . . . "Walk onto the stage as if you were a woman of three your beauty and you will be considered a beauty." That's true for you, too.

For this streamlining technique, send long stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated leaflet Get a Lift With Posture. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of the Winona Daily News. Post card requests cannot be answered.

ASIDES - By the Society Editor

Bells belong particularly to Christmas and New Year's, the chiming with their beauty heard in carols and hymns and the bells that herald the new year. Nothing could be more appropriate at this time of year than the article on the chiming in one of Winona's churches written by Mrs. H. Wallace Dunmore earlier this year. Mrs. Dunmore writes "Every morning I enjoy and welcome the rich pealing of the Angelus from the nearby Cathedral. This call to prayer is repeated three times during the day. The sound of Central Methodist's chiming has become so familiar through the year that we are apt to take them for granted, missing their message. Our lives can be influenced by the steeples of churches—with or without bells. Many a village greets one first from the church. — Many people, homeward bound at the close of a working day, are reminded of the house of God as they hear the pealing of hymns from the carillon of Central Church."

Some chiming are controlled manually as are Central Church's and others by an automatic device. The art of bell ringing by teams of skillful ringers is practiced in England particularly, she pointed out.

History of the chiming of Central Church was outlined by Mrs. Dunmore, who explained, "William H. Keith was a former member and trustee of the church who died in 1879. In his will, provision was made for the purchase of a bell and necessary hangings, for the use and benefit of the Methodist Episcopal Church then on Lafayette St. There was no tower, bell-fry or other place in which to install a bell. The trustees kept the sum of money provided in trust for 28 years, until the interest accumulations, supplemented by a gift from Matthew C. Norton, was added to the principal to provide for chiming instead of a bell.

"In 1907, the chiming were purchased. They were made by a company in New York. The dedication was held Sunday, Sept. 15, in that year. The dedicatory address was made by Dr. James M. Buckley. Dr. Frank Doran was minister and Herbert J. Jenny was organist and choir director. The choir consisted of Mrs. H. M. Lambertson, Miss Harriet Schnell, Paul Watkins and Albert E. Rau.

"The program of hymns and other numbers played that Sunday evening included 'Old Hundred,' 'Sweet Hour of Prayer,' 'I Love to Tell the Story,' 'My Faith Looks Up to Thee,' 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus,' 'He Leadeth Me,' 'Almost Persuaded' and 'Abide With Me.' The chiming consist of 11 bells with a wide range of playing capacity. In fact, the number of compositions that can be played upon this set of bells is practically unlimited as there are thousands of melodies within its range. The total net weight of the bells alone is more than 11,000 pounds, and the bells with the frame, mountings and complete mechanism total nearly 16,000 pounds."

The inscription on the bells, Mrs. Dunmore continues, was noted in a special bulletin on Mother's Day, May 14, 1922, when Dr. S. L. Parish was minister and Arthur T. Thompson, organist, and Miss Florence Withrow now Mrs. Leo Wunderlich, Mrs. A. W. Hodges, Harry Busch and Blake McVine were in the church vocal quartet with Mrs. Hodges as director.

Inscriptions on the bells she listed as follows: First bell: "In memory of William H. Keith, donor. O Come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation." Second bell: "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound; they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of Thy countenance." Third bell: "Oh sing unto the Lord a new song for He hath done marvelous things; His right hand and His holy name hath gotten Him the victory." Fourth bell: "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving; and into

USWV Auxiliary Elects Mrs. Scheer To Presidency

Mrs. George Scheer was elected president of Clarence Miller Auxiliary 2, USWV, at the meeting of the auxiliary and Camp 5, USWV, which followed a potluck supper at the Red Men's Wigwam Monday evening.

Other officers elected and appointed were Mrs. Helen Lilla, secretary; Mrs. John Wiczorek, treasurer; Mrs. Victor Miller, senior vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, junior vice president; Mrs. Joseph Grajczyk, patriotic instructor; Mrs. William O. Miller, historian; Mrs. John Fromm, conductress; Mrs. Peter Loughrey, assistant conductress; Mrs. Katherine Lewica, guard; and Miss Bertha Miller, assistant guard.

The musician and colors will be appointed later.

A joint installation with the camp will be held Jan. 17 followed by a potluck supper.

Mrs. Miller reported on the Christmas party given for residents at the Minnesota Soldier's Home at Minneapolis Dec. 11 and stated that there was a need for men's pajamas, scarfs and lap robes. Anyone wishing to donate material for the pajamas should contact Miss Bertha Miller who has volunteered to make them.

Mrs. Miller also reported on the past department president's Christmas party held at the home of Mrs. Sara Edwards, department secretary at Minneapolis. She thanked the auxiliary for the check given in memory of her husband William O. Miller who died Nov. 14, and also for the many cards received.

Mrs. Grajczyk, Mrs. Fromm and Mrs. Brown were appointed to the committee to distribute the "widow's baskets" for Christmas.

Mrs. Scheer, Mrs. Victor Miller and Mrs. Brown were named to a committee to decide if meetings in the future are to be held at the American Legion Memorial Club or the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club.

The attendance prize furnished by Mrs. Scheer went to Mrs. Miller. A Christmas party and exchange of gifts followed.

Mrs. Loughrey served as acting president in the absence of the president, Mrs. Bertha Boentges.

Mary A. Borgen Wed in Christmas Setting at Church

MAIDEN ROCK, Wis. (Special)—Red and white pompons and carnations and palms flanked the altar in the candlelight interior of the United Lutheran Church Friday night for the marriage of Miss Mary Anne Borgen and Charles B. Julian. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Borgen, Red Wing, Minn., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Walter Julian, Chatfield, and the late Mr. Julian.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized at 8 p.m. by the Rev. R. A. Dahlquist of the Baptist church, assisted by the Rev. Orville K. Wold of the United Lutheran church. A medley of nuptial organ music was played by Mrs. Roy Carpenter and she also accompanied the soloist, Jerry Price.

White satin was used for the bride's gown fashioned with a wide neckline trimmed with lace petals, long sleeves and fitted bodice. Her veil, an heirloom belonging to a great-aunt, Mrs. A. Y. Peterson, Duluth, was of handmade Brussels rosepoint lace. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a double-strand pearl necklace and she carried red and white roses in a cascade.

Miss Clarine Olson, Red Wing, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Louis Much and Darlene Post, Red Wing. They were gown-dressed alike in red velvet styled with sweetheart necklines and long sleeves. Red velvet trimmed with pearls formed the bandeaus for their hair and they carried matching velvet muffs accented with gardenias. The flower girl, Jeri Walsingham, Maiden Rock, wore a floor-length gown of white corded taffeta. She also carried a red velvet muf with a gardenia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Borgen was attired in a princess-styled dress of mauve-colored tulle. Her accessories were pink and black and she wore a corsage of pink camellias. The bridegroom's mother selected a deep wine crepe two-piece frock accented with brown accessories. Yellow and bronze roses formed her corsage.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Gene Lappin, La Crosse. The ushers were Jerry Borgen, Red Wing; Harvey Fredrick, Pepin, and LeRoy Walsingham, Maiden Rock.

A reception attended by 275 guests was held in the church parlors. The evening was graced with a wedding cake, bouquets of red and white carnations and pompons and lighted tapers.

Serving as reception hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Forsline, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Borgen and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bothun. Mrs. Margaret Olson, Mrs. Carl Borgen, Mrs. Ralph White and Mrs. Ralph Anderson presided at the coffee table while Mrs. Paul Levenson served the wedding cake.

Miss Jane Nelson Hopkins, cousin of the bride, attended the guest book and the gifts were cared for by Mrs. Robert Olson and Mrs. Jerry Borgen. Also assisting at the reception were the Misses Sandra Burns, Gwen Eldred, Patricia Damann, Phyllis Carlson, Mary Ann Jenkins, Jeanette Lundberg, Marcy Post and Joan Schreder.

The couple left on a trip to Florida, the bride wore a pink wool dress with gray accessories and an orchid corsage. After Jan. 1, they will be at home in Maiden Rock. Eden Calls for Steady Buildup Of Atlantic Pact

LONDON (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden warned today that Russia's threat to the West is as strong as ever and called for a steady military buildup of the Atlantic Alliance.

Eden told the House of Commons: "The massive military power of the Soviet Union is still growing rapidly. Soviet policy is still aimed at confusing, dividing and weakening the West."

But he predicted that in "the next few years" the growing Atlantic pact armies—equipped with new atomic weapons—will be able to hurl back any Soviet attack on continental Western Europe.

The foreign secretary, making his first appearance in the House after a three-day bout with flu, made his declaration in a report on last week's meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council.

There has been a steady increase in the efficiency of NATO forces this year, Eden said, but he added: "There is yet much to do before we can be satisfied with the deterrent effects of the Alliance."

Clerk Convicted Of Spying on British Defenses

LONDON (AP)—A 27-year-old clerk was convicted today of spying on Britain's antiaircraft defenses and collecting information "calculated to be useful to an enemy."

The clerk, John Clarence, was sentenced to five years in prison. "I am innocent of this charge," Clarence told the court, "and I will maintain my innocence to my dying day."

The prosecution said Clarence left behind a briefcase at a coffee shop on Sept. 25, 1954. A woman took the briefcase to the police.

Police found the document containing the secret code word and descriptions of military installations. Clarence worked at the headquarters of an antiaircraft regiment four months during 1953 and had access to secret information, police said.

Clarence told the police he collected the material to write territorial army magazine articles. He said he dropped that idea when he learned some of the information was secret.

Air Force Says Personnel Didn't Give Spy Secrets

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—U. S. Air Force headquarters in Europe said today that "exhaustive investigation" indicates none of its personnel gave Berlin spy girl Irmsgard Schmidt any classified information.

But an investigation is continuing to determine whether there was any impropriety of conduct "which would form the basis for disciplinary or administrative action," the Air Force statement added.

Miss Schmidt, 24, was sentenced to five years in prison by a high commission court in Berlin Tuesday when she pleaded guilty to spying for the Russians.

Ike in Favor Of 'Exporting Brain Power'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured today as much interested in the idea of "exporting brain power" technical know-how to underdeveloped nations under an American private enterprise program.

The President's views were outlined to White House newsmen by James D. Zellerbach, chairman of the National Manpower Council and president of the Crown Zellerbach Corp., of San Francisco.

Zellerbach said Eisenhower suggested "a new idea" to the Council. "He said he hoped we could get enough brain power here so perhaps we can start exporting American brain power," Zellerbach reported. He added that Eisenhower made it clear he was talking about providing technical know-how under a private enterprise program, rather than the existing government program of technical assistance.

He asserted the Communist members of the four-nation teams use their agency for espionage purposes.

Korea Hints Move to Oust Czech, Polish Armistice Members

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's pro-vost marshal implied strongly today the Republic of Korea government soon would take direct action toward ousting the Czech and Polish members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission which polices the armistice.

Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk demanded in a statement that representatives of the Communist satellite nations be removed, and added: "The insistence for positive action comes from the Korean people."

He asserted the Communist members of the four-nation teams use their agency for espionage purposes.

CHRISTMAS is a time for many things—for hinsel, evergreens, lights and mistletoe; for carols, sleighbells and little boys and girls; for carols and candles, Hal-lujahs and Merry Christmases; for fruit cake, hard candy, nuts, apples and Grandma's cooking, stuffing and pumpkin pie and all good things to eat, and "Well, just a little more";

For gaily wrapped packages, hidden in the closet; for St. Nick, Santa Claus and something named Blitz;

For "The Messiah," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "White Christmas" and "I Can't say that I'm glad Uncle Joe gave Jimmy drums for Christmas";

For tired clerks (God bless 'em); for tired postmen (God bless 'em);

For trains and dolls and bicy-cles, tricycles and icicles; silent night, church bells, white, white snow; for a time to give, for peace on earth and for a very Merry Christmas to all.

Christmas is A Time for children, but when mother wants to go shopping, sometimes it's better without them. Leon J. Wetzel Post, American Legion, was "baby-sitter" Monday night to scores of children while their parents were busy with last-minute shopping. Popcorn, soft drinks and movies were on the program. (Daily News photo)

A Fair Turnout Of Winona and area persons gathered in front of the Nativity scene on the lawn of the Winona National & Savings Bank, 4th and Main streets, Friday evening to hear a special outdoor program of Christmas music and devotions sponsored by the Winona Junior Chamber of Commerce. Standing with hat removed, listening to one of two featured Winona children's choirs, is the Rev. Webster Clement, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, who gave the benediction. At the far left are Don Blake, Jaycee president; the Rev. Harold Dittman, who pronounced the invocation, and Dr. Max L. DeBolt, Jaycee chairman of the project. (Daily News photo)

Choir Concerts and Candlelight services are a Christmas feature of the churches. This was the scene at St. Martin's Lutheran Church as its choirs presented a candlelight service Sunday afternoon. Emmanuel Arndt directs the senior choir. Elmer Becker directs the juniors. The Rev. W. G. Hoffman, associate pastor, spoke. (Daily News photo)

Santa Claus is Everywhere. Last Sunday when Winona Lodge 327, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, entertained children of its members, Santa divided their attention with the Daily News photographer (it was a mustache against a full beard).

I Heard the Bells

I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar Carols play,
And wild and sweet the words repeat
Of peace on earth good will to men.

I thought how, as the day had come,
The belfries of all Christendom
Had rolled along the unbroken song
Of peace on earth good will to men.

And in despair I bowed my head:
"There is no peace on earth," I said,
"For hate is strong and mocks the song
Of peace on earth good will to men."
Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead, nor doth he sleep;
The wrong shall fail, the right prevail,
With peace on earth good will to men."

Sporting Goods Dealer Held as Bank Bandit

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A federal warrant charging bank robbery has been issued against a 38-year-old sporting goods dealer, a police prisoner at County General Hospital with a bullet hole in his back.

Frank Casimir Mackiewicz, operator of a South Side sports supply store, was accused of taking $3,775 in the nighttime holdup of the suburban Elm Grove branch of the Wauwatosa State Bank. The bank manager was stabbed in the robbery.

Mackiewicz, arrested after he sought private medical attention, denied he was the bandit who held up and stabbed the manager, Cy E. Braunstein, 43. Braunstein told of firing one shot at the intruder as he walked out the door but didn't think he had hit him.

The FBI said none of the money had been recovered.

Four witnesses, according to Det. Lt. Charles Nowakowski, identified Mackiewicz as the hold-up man.

'Mr. Goodfellow' Dishing Dinners In Albert Lea

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (AP) — For the 26th consecutive year, an unknown "Mr. Goodfellow" is playing host this year to local residents who might not otherwise have bountiful Christmas dinners.

Working through the police department, the unidentified benefactor issues tickets for turkey and all the trimmings at a local cafe. In case a ticket holder, for physical reasons, is unable to visit the restaurant, the complete dinner is packed up and delivered to him or her.

Police Capt. Charles Heilman, in charge of the program, wasn't even on the police department when this good will gesture was begun. The only thing he will disclose about "Mr. Goodfellow" is that he does not live in Albert Lea.

For smaller residents without funds for normal Yuletide shopping, the Albert Lea Junior Chamber of Commerce is filling a gap.

The chamber is taking 14 youngsters between 7 and 12 on a tour of the stores to buy presents for families and friends. Each boy and girl is given $3 to spend as he or she pleases — but with the proviso that it be made to go as far as possible.

Before starting shopping tours, the Jaycees provide the youngsters with a snack of hamburgers and hot chocolate.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Silver Lamprey

Lambert Bronk, 705 E. 5th St., thought he had quite a sunfish on his line when he started to lift the 11-inch lamprey and its prey from below the ice in the Onalaska backwaters Monday. The silver lamprey, rather common in the Upper Mississippi, had attached itself to a seven-inch sunfish which had taken Lambert's worm.

Fisheries men and commercial fishermen tell us it is rather unusual for this fresh water lamprey to be found on small fish like sunfish. They normally prey on larger fish. This lamprey, one of two species found in the upper river, is related to the sea lamprey, the pest of the Great Lakes. The brook lamprey found in trout streams does not attach itself to fish.

In fact, it does not feed at all as an adult, but simply reproduces and dies. The chestnut lamprey, the other river species, is not common. It is considered a rare river fish.

Lampreys, zoologists tell us, are the most primitive of living animals with backbones. They are eel-shaped, jawless, and scaleless. To feed they attach themselves to other fish, as shown in the above drawing, with their unusual sucking mouth. They rasp a hole in the victim and suck out its blood — often killing the fish.

The invasion of the sea lampreys into the Great Lakes through the Welland canal has been very destructive to fish life. The sea lamprey is the major fisheries problem of these lakes today.

No sea lamprey has yet been found in the Upper Mississippi River, according to Bill Green of the Wildlife Refuge. At least, he says he has heard of none, although there have been reports of such fish being found in the Guttenberg area. They don't get up this far from the Gulf.

River species of fish, wall-eyes, northern bass, and the late Captain C. F. Culler, noted fisheries man, used to relate, had the ability to rid themselves of this pest. The fish would jump out of the water, and the lamprey would let go when exposed to the air.

It will take, he contended, many generations of Great Lakes fish to learn this trick acquired in the distant past by river fish. The Fish and Wildlife Service should, he added, transplant some river fish to the Great Lakes as teachers for the other fish.

Door Herd

Southeastern Minnesota deer herds are beginning to yard up, according to a report given us today by two Elgin sportsmen, Arnold Schugard and William Krefczyk.

The other evening, driving to Kellogg near the top of the Kellogg hill on Highway 42, they noticed two deer lying in the brush, just off the highway. Stopping the car they got out, and the two deer got up and walked rather slowly down into the ravine where they were joined by five more deer.

Making a racket, the Elgin men were able to frighten the animals which showed their white tails and moved out of range. Rising up as they ran were more deer from various points of concealment. In all, they counted 31 deer in the herd.

At this time of year when the bucks have shed their antlers, it is hard to tell at a distance the sex of the animals. However, this experience does show that there is quite a deer herd in that section of Wabasha County.

Crash Injures Woman En Route to St. Paul

CLARION, Iowa (AP) — Mrs. Harrison Williams, 22, was injured and her husband, an Air Force lieutenant, escaped injury Tuesday in an auto accident while en route to their parents' homes at St. Paul for Christmas.

The car overturned into a ditch after hitting an icy spot on highway 69 near here. Mrs. Williams was taken to a Clarion hospital.

Valley Riders Rename Officers

Donald Douglas has been re-elected president of the Valley Riders Saddle Club.

He and other officers were named at the annual Christmas party at the City Hall Community Room Saturday night. About 65 attended, and attendance prizes were awarded to 13.

The William Markle trophy for best senior member was awarded to Junior Krage, Minnesota City. Jo Anne Lewis, Cochrane, received the Otto Klotzke award for best junior member.

Other officers re-elected were: Robert Stein, vice president; Mrs. Willard Wolf, treasurer, and Mrs. Junior Krage, secretary.

A potluck lunch was served.

Claus Family Names Their Son 'Santa'

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — There's a 7-year-old boy here named Santa Claus. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Claus, and his middle name is Michael.

His sister Wanda Lou, now 23, suggested the name Santa because there had never been anyone in the family with that name. Young Santa says he likes it all right but most people don't believe him so he just tells them his name is Mike.

He was born in Kilgore, Tex.

Bank Corporation To Issue More Stock

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — First Bank Stock Corp. shareholders will vote at their annual meeting in February to issue another 10 million dollars worth of capital stock.

President Ellwood O. Jenkins said Tuesday night the proposal already has been approved in principle by the board of directors.

New shares would be offered to present stockholders on the basis of one for each eight shares they now own. The price would be determined at the time of sale.

10-Year Sentence For Iowa Burglaries

SGOURNEY, Iowa (AP) — Eugene M. Howe, 60, Flint, Mich., was under 10-year sentence in the state penitentiary today after he pleaded guilty to burglarizing three nearby Richland business places on Dec. 14.

The men, John Valiga, 30, and Edward Lied, 23, were listed in fair and critical condition at Elizabeth General Hospital.

Their clothes had become soaked with a turpentine derivative while they were removing paint from steel plates. Lied's clothing burst into flames when he went to an oil stove, and Valiga's clothes caught fire as he tried to help Lied. The plant was undamaged.

Freighter Burns, Sinks

MARSEILLE (AP) — A freighter loaded with inflammable chemicals caught fire at a dock and sank last night. The crew escaped.

Human Torches Snuffed Out by Holiday Shoppers

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — Screaming wildly, two men with clothing afire rushed out of the Army Steel Construction Co. plant into shopping crowds last night. Police and pedestrians grabbed them and snuffed out the flames with coats and a rug.

The men, John Valiga, 30, and Edward Lied, 23, were listed in fair and critical condition at Elizabeth General Hospital.

Jobless Claims Climb in County On Seasonal Basis

Unemployment claims in Winona County have leveled off at a December total that is just six more than one year ago, but Stanley S. Hammer, manager of the Winona office of the Minnesota State Employment Service, estimated today that the figure is going to follow last year's December-to-January jump.

Hammer's estimate is correct, it means that well over 200 additional Winona County workers may be out of jobs by next month. Present unemployment in Winona County is 367, an average of 93 over last month.

One year ago, 361 were unemployed; but the total jumped to 604 the following month.

"The reason for this is the same every year though," said Hammer. "Seasonal employment is over, with construction companies and the gravel pits shut down until spring."

He added, however, that he expects the unemployment claim load to drop faster between January and May of 1955 than it did this year.

"We had three large local firms that laid off workers the early part of this year, nullifying an expected drop in the claim load as seasonal workers began to go back to work," said Hammer. Local employers don't expect any large-scale layoffs after the first of the year this time, said Hammer.

During the past month, Houston County's unemployment claim load more than doubled while Wabasha County showed a slight increase, but it still remains lower than the total in December of 1953. Sixteen are now unemployed in Wabasha County—four more than last month, but 12 less than last year's 28 count.

"The reason the Houston County total has shot up in the last month," said Hammer, "is because of the itinerant office we established last month at Caledonia." That service had previously been discontinued as the claim load dropped, but was re-established in November in view of anticipated seasonal layoffs.

Only Individuals Pay Taxes in Long Run

ST. PAUL (AP) — "One of the fundamental principles of taxation is that only individuals pay taxes," the Minnesota Tax Study Commission said today.

"Any taxes imposed on business enterprise are added to the cost of doing business insofar as possible, and are passed on to the ultimate consumer in the price he pays for his goods and services — usually at a profit to the business concerns. They are in effect hidden sales taxes and hence the real burden rests on the individual."

der an arrangement different from high school basketball due to the representation of prep teams competing in the ice sport.

Therefore, Coach Sanford Tyler expects to get a good look at his charges. Wayzata will provide formidable opening-game opposition.

Returning lettermen on the Hawk sextet are wings Roger Benson, Roger Munson, Dick Smith and Doug Trainor, defensemen Wayne Noeske and Don Boeman and goalie Jimmy Larson.

Graduation took centers Fred Strommer and Bob Michalski, defensemen Mel Plomier and Keith Inman and goalie Bud Lauer from last year's squad.

Sanford plans to move Benson to the center position to team with Smith and Munson on the first line. First team defensemen will be Noeske and Boeman with Larson in the nets.

"We can be reasonably certain of one strong line," Tyler stated. "Our reserve strength will be the big question mark."

Reserves Dave Tyler, Modjeski Dick Fulwiler, Wayne Luhmann and Lance Carroll are being counted on to develop as the season progresses.

Other squad members are Jim Bambenek, Jerry Brown, new boys who look good: Jim Drwall, Gary Hagen, Bruce Krings, Roger Lee, and Chuck Leiby.

Melby shows promise but will be ineligible for games until near the end of the season, due to State High School League regulations concerning change of residence.

The first practice was held Monday on the Athletic Park ice. Prior to that time the Hawk ices practiced on Lake Winona.

Teams in Region Six include Beardsley Detroit Lakes, Edina, Morningside, Hopkins, Minnetonka, Richfield, Robbinsdale, Rochester, St. Cloud, St. Louis Park, Wayzata and Winona.

Winona's schedule has games booked in addition to the opener at Wayzata Monday, with St. Louis Park, North St. Paul, Rochester, and St. Paul Park.

"They're all tough," Tyler said. "Hockey is improving each year on the high school level with the addition of new teams in the sport."

"I look for our boys to reach their peak near the tail-end of the season. Our goal is no different this year than before—win the regional and get into the state tournament."

"We've got 11 other teams there with the same idea," Tyler concluded. "We'll see if our boys want it worse than they do." Tyler has a hunch they do.

The Winona State basketball team will travel by air to its northern swing Feb. 4 to Bemidji and Moorhead for State Teachers Conference games. It was announced today by Athletic Director Luther McCown.

The J. R. Watkins Co. will supply the school with its executive-type DC3, to transport the team to these games. Jack Olom, Watkins airplane pilot, will pilot the plane.

Airfields at Bemidji, Minn., and Fargo, N.D., will be used for landing because of the facilities for instrument landings and takeoffs.

The trip will mark the first time a Winona State athletic team has made a trip by air.

The traveling squad for the trip has not been named. The squad will leave Winona Friday afternoon, Feb. 4, play in Bemidji Friday night, Moorhead Saturday night and return to Winona Sunday.

Kentucky Dumps Utah, 70 to 65

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

Adolph Rupp's University of Kentucky Wildcats, safely over one big hurdle in their scramble for a top place among the nation's college basketball bigwigs, have another toughie tonight against LaSalle in the Kentucky Invitational Tournament finals.

Kentucky overcame Utah last night in the final minutes to pull out a 70-65 thriller at Lexington, Ky.

There were some other terrific games, with such powers as Illinois, LaSalle, North Carolina State, Dayton and George Washington hanging up victories. However, Kentucky and Utah went into their game rated as the No. 1 and 2 teams in the country in the latest AP poll, and the Wildcats stacked up their 29th consecutive victory in impressive fashion. Furthermore, it was Coach Rupp's 500th victory at Kentucky, and the 127th straight for the Wildcats on their home floor, where they haven't lost in 12 years.

Fourth-ranked LaSalle, trailing by as much as 11 points in the first half, rallied for a 49-33 victory over Southern California in the other semifinal of the Kentucky tournament. All America Tom Gola led the second-half assault against the Trojans and finished the night with 24 points.

Utah, which had upset LaSalle in New York Saturday 79-63, also came from behind in the second half and seemed due for another stunner until Kentucky's Bob Burrow came to the rescue. Utah led 55-56 when Burrow connected for three field goals, then added a fourth after Utah's Gary Bergen made two free throws.

Linville Puckett of Kentucky hit a free throw to tie it at 65-65, and with 1:20 to go Billy Evans converted a pair of foul tosses to put the Wildcats in front for keeps.

Other teams in this week's top 10 came through as expected, but North Carolina State (No. 5) had a close call before edging St. John's of Brooklyn 76-75 in overtime. Illinois (No. 3) polished off Rice 86-54, Dayton (No. 6) downed Oregon 71-55, and George Washington (No. 8) beat down a late Tulsa surge to win 66-61 and gain the finals of the 19th All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. GW meets San Francisco, a 75-51 winner over Oklahoma City, in tonight's final.

Wyoming beat Oklahoma A&M 52-50 and Wichita defeated Houston 51-37 to gain the consolation finals. Ohio State, ranked No. 11, was knocked off by California 74-65, while UCLA overcame a 10-point deficit in the second half to edge Colorado 65-62.

Female Athletic Award of Year Goes to Zaharias

TAMPA, Fla. (U) — "It really should go to God and my doctors."

Fast-talking Babe Zaharias slowed down when she came to those words after being told that for the sixth time she had won the Female Athlete of Year award in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Babe was proud of her athletic achievements during 1954 but she's prouder still that she was able to win five major golf tournaments while still shaking off the effects of a serious operation for cancer 20 months ago.

"It sort of proves that if you have the desire to come back you can do it," she meant this not for athletes but for fellow sufferers with cancer.

Then in typical Babe fashion she quipped: "I'm real proud. I guess I really have a lot of friends among sports writers."

When she was reminded that sympathy played no part in selection of the top woman athlete, she said: "This is a real honor—an honor not to be sneezed at. It's the greatest thrill since winning the Serbin Open at Miami Beach and will top the Serbin in my book."

"You know, it was in the Serbin that I proved to myself I could play golf again and win."

SIMONOVICH, GARMAKER, MENCEL

Trio Paces 'U' Cagers Over SMU

MINNEAPOLIS (U) — Fears that Bill Simonovich would be stamped off the court by the first big man he met were vanishing today.

The 6-11 Minnesota giant ran into a rival man mountain for the first time as a regular Tuesday night and responded with a husky 18 points and 16 rebounds that eased the Gophers past Southern Methodist, 89-72.

Simonovich's backboard performance

keynoted a terrific Minnesota rebounding show which snapped a taut first half battle and made it a romp in the second half.

The Gophers outrebounded SMU 62-30 and turned in their finest overall offensive display of the season, although their output had been higher in both games against DePaul.

Lubinski Nears Season's High With 590 Set

235 Included In Series, Hit 574 Night Before

Leona Lubinski, who only Monday night rolled a 574 series, followed up Tuesday night with a 590 honor count, one of the highest of the year in Winona women's bowling circles.

Leona recorded her set in the Ladies City League at Hal-Rod Bowling on the Springdale Dairy team, she opened with a 180 single, followed with 235 and closed with 175, missing a 600 by blowing the ninth and 10th frames.

The 590 series is three pins short of the season high for women—a 593 recorded early in the season by Ruth Baran. Leona's 235 single ties her with two others for the year's single game high.

Leona ended the second game with five consecutive strikes. Two others had honors in the Ladies City circuit. Irene Gostowski fired a 531 series and Betty Schoonover bowled 505.

The only other league action reported Tuesday night was the 4-City League at Hal-Rod where Don Williams with a 228 single for Owl Motor and John Thilmany with 577, for Nick's Tavern, were leaders.

Caledonia Wins Benefit Game

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Caledonia High's Cyclones swept both A and B-squad games here Tuesday night against Caledonia Loretto in a benefit cage performance.

The Cyclones doubled Loretto's score in a 54-27 varsity victory after winning a 29-22 preliminary game. The only players in the main event scoring in double figures were Caledonia's Walt Gensmer with 16 and Bob Bunge with 11.

Caledonia outscored Loretto in field goals, 23-9.

Nelson Tops Maiden Rock

NELSON, Wis. — Nelson's Big County eagles scored a 71-60 victory over Maiden Rock Tuesday night in a non-conference basketball game.

The score was tied 32-32 at halftime and both teams scored 16 points in the final quarter, but the issue was resolved in the third period when Nelson outscored Maiden Rock 23-12.

Nelson's "B-squad," Paul Breutman, Richard Butch and Glen Brommer, totaled 23, 23 and 12 points, respectively. Anders made 20, Thompson 16 and Cederblade 14.

Eddie Mathews' To Have Little Tax Exemption

MILWAUKEE — The Eddie Mathews', to coin a coy cliché, "will be three" in August.

That was the word today from a neighbor of the Milwaukee Braves' young slugger. Morgan Jackson, who lived in the same apartment building with Mathews last summer, said he had received a letter from the couple now wintering in Santa Barbara, Calif.

The Mathews were married last September, immediately after the close of the baseball season, in a civil ceremony at the Milwaukee County courthouse.

Two More Braves Agree to Terms

MILWAUKEE — A pair of pitchers, Lefty Charlie Gorin and big Glenn Thompson, signed their 1955 contracts Tuesday with the Milwaukee Braves. Gorin, the pint-sized southpaw, spent part of last season with the varsity but wound up at Toledo in the American Association. Thompson, a righthander, started with Toledo but completed the season at Atlanta.

A rookie outfielder and two pitchers also signed their Braves' contracts Tuesday.

Chuck Tanner, a left-handed hitter who boasted a .323 mark at Atlanta last summer, arrived at General Manager John Quinn's office and agreed to terms quickly.

Earlier, the Braves announced that ex-bonus baby Joey Jay and rookie first baseman Frank Torre had signed their contracts.

Bemidji Teachers Tumble Emporia

BEMIDJI, Minn. — Luckless Emporia State of Kansas headed out of Minnesota today leaving a four-game trail of defeat that ended here with a 63-48 loss to Bemidji Teachers.

Bemidji earned its victory margin from the foul line, where it connected 28 times for a 72 percent efficiency. Emporia matched Bemidji's 17 field goals but missed 11 of 25 foul shots.

Red Caswell, playing his first game for Bemidji after recovering from a football injury, hit 11 points to prop up an offense headed by Bill Wirtanen's 18 markers.

Bemidji led 26-22 at halftime, lagged 39-38 at one point in the second half but turned the tide on Wirtanen's three straight field goals on the fast break.

Austin's Haldorson Hits 28 Against UCLA

LOS ANGELES — UCLA overcame a 10-point deficit in the second half and nudged the University of Colorado's Buffaloes, 63-62, in a basketball game in the Bruins' gym. Colorado's 6 ft. 7 in. center, Burdette Haldorson, scored 28 points.

At the end of the first quarter UCLA had a 20-14 buge, but Colorado began to find the range and the Bruins had to come with a rush to get a 33-29 halftime lead.

Haldorson, who comes from Austin, Minn., scored several of his baskets with soft, sweeping southpaw hook shots. William Nauels, assigned the job of covering the Colorado giant, drew four fouls after 11 minutes, and Coach John Wooden yanked him and turned over the task to Johnny Moore.

Ronnie Beagle, Navy's All-American end, caught 19 passes for 243 yards and three touchdowns in 1954.

Perrault Will Fight Rossie

MINNEAPOLIS — Jimmy Perrault, who won a decision in Detroit Tuesday, will go eight rounds in the 150-lb. category with Bob Rossie Dec. 30 at the Minneapolis Auditorium.

Perrault is from Duluth, Rossie from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The same night will feature Minneapolis' Mickey Zielke and former world lightweight champion Lauro Salas.

On the Side

Coast to Coast Non-Stop

By E. V. DURLING

NEW YORK — In commemoration of my 20th anniversary as a coast to coast airline passenger, I took a flying machine transcontinental trip on the same line on which I made my bow as a long distance plane traveler. Went on the non-stop night flight. It was a beautiful night, the moon was beautiful, the plane stewardesses were beautiful, the trip was beautiful; only the food was vile. You would think when so many people bring their own food along on an airplane trip that the companies would take the hint. One feminine passenger on this particular trip bought a couple of sandwiches at the airport lunch counter to eat on the way.

Speed Am not especially enthusiastic about non-stop flights to the coast. I am seldom in a hurry. I liked it better when the cross country planes stopped at Pittsburgh, Kansas City, Wichita and Albuquerque on the way west. I enjoyed getting out to stretch my legs and breathe in a bit of fresh air. Broke the monotony of the trip. Believe my first transcontinental in 1934 took around 19 hours. The latest one, non-stop, took nine hours.

Horses & Women The most efficient feminine workers are registered nurses, airline stewardesses and executive secretaries. In the order named. At one time only registered nurses were employed as airline stewardesses. The air queens are all bachelorettes. There is no better school for brides than the airlines. That is as far as domestic efficiency and understanding of men is concerned. I have heard that while airline hostesses become brilliant home managers, they are a little difficult to handle as wives. Takes a man of strong character possessed of much patience and tact to break an airline hostess into matrimonial harness.

Smokers Cigar smokers are finally getting a few breaks. You can now smoke a cigar on some planes. That is, in the lounge. Cigarette smoking has always been permissible and in your seat. Exclusion of cigars has nothing to do with fire prevention. It is because some feminine passengers object to cigar smoking. Even some females who are chain smokers of cigarettes have the nerve to squawk about cigar smoking. By the way, young fellow, if you are a cigar smoker and you have a girl friend who objects to cigars, you better hesitate and think things over before you accept her proposal of marriage. She may make a difficult life partner. Keep in mind Kipling's immortal observation: "A woman is only a woman but a good cigar is a smoke."

Taxi Drivers The cab we called to take us from midtown Manhattan to the International Airport was certainly a rattlesnake vehicle. I don't

Price Weaknesses In Some Lines

NEW YORK — Prices of finished goods and raw materials are caught in a tug-of-war today—with consumers getting a break here and there.

Price weakness in some lines, going counter to the usual upward pull of advancing business activity, is being watched closely by businessmen planning next year's schedules.

Price cutting by some of the big stores to meet the competition of the discount houses is giving many a Christmas shopper a break. But it's a headache to manufacturers who are trying to maintain a uniform price on their branded products.

Gasoline price wars, a recurring item in some states, is on the official carpet in New Jersey, where 12 major oil companies are accused of violating state laws by offering rebates and discounts. Retail prices of regular gasoline in that state range from 20 to 26 cents a gallon.

Prices of the new automobile models are pretty well leveled this time. At the manufacturing level, interest centers on recent price weakness in some raw materials—at a time when rising industrial production schedules would seem to pull prices in the opposite direction.

The price of steel scrap, for example, has been taking the low road of late, although steel mills are increasing output and scrap prices usually rise at such a time. Some mills explain they laid in good supplies of scrap last fall. Others report they have been putting more pig iron and less scrap in their mix.

Copper scrap prices have been weak of late too, although the strike-caused shortage in refined copper still continues. But rising costs of labor and of some metals, like zinc, which it uses along with copper, are given by Chase Brass & Copper as the reasons for raising prices on some of its products.

Prices of titanium metal sponge, whose end product is used in the high-speed aircraft manufacturing industry, are being cut by Du Pont. Increased production gets the credit.

Synthetic rubber producers will also be getting the benefit of a price cut in monomer styrene by Dow Chemical and Koppers. The tug-of-war team pulling at the other end of the price rope includes the rise in industrial production and operation of "fair trade" laws and other business practices. But even more important perhaps are government price supports and stockpiling programs which keep a free market from operating.

think it would bring more than $15 at any used car lot. Was one of a chain cab organization, too. At the Los Angeles end we drew a woman driver. She turned out to be a cab driving genius. She took us to our destination in 15 minutes under any similar trip we ever made. She knew the short cuts and conscientiously took them. It was evident her admirable aim was to give service and satisfaction to the customer. More power to her. Get it right.

Note it said that Geraldine Farrar created the role of Carmen. That's wrong, Minnie Hauk, a native New Yorker, created Carmen. She was Biget's ideal Carmen. Incidentally, my claim that the great Adelina Patti was a New Yorker has been questioned. Adelina was brought to this country by her parents at the age of seven. She lived on East 10th street, Manhattan. At the peak of her career, Adelina's concert fee was $5,000 a night, cash in advance. At that time there was no income tax to pay and the dollar had four times the buying power it has today!

Sen. Hazel Abel First Nebraska Woman Elected

By ODELL HANSON
LINCOLN, Neb. — Sen. Hazel Abel, 66, first Nebraska woman ever elected to Congress, is a grandmother, business woman and civic leader.

She was chosen to represent her state during a two-month stop-gap Senate term resulting from the death in office in April this year of Sen. Dwight Griswold (R-Neb.). She is the first woman to succeed another woman as a U. S. senator. She follows Mrs. Eve Bowring, who was appointed to fill the Griswold vacancy from April until the election.

Sen. Abel's title might have been largely honorary had not the Senate been called into session to consider censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Friends describe her as one of those efficiently energetic women who combine lots of talent with a variety of interests.

Politically, she's a staunch Eisenhower supporter, she says, and a Republican.

She's thrifty, a trait she may have learned while teaching school at $65 a month. On a recent campaign trip she discovered a town where eggs were selling for 22 cents a dozen and promptly stocked up with several dozen.

Son, Hazel Abel But with her thrift she combines a generosity — of money, time and talent. The organizations with which she has been identified in a prominent way read like a catalogue of civic, church, educational, youth and political endeavors.

Born Hazel Hempel, she enrolled at the University of Nebraska at the age of 15, majoring in mathematics. She taught school until her marriage to George P. Abel. The death of her husband in 1937, when her four daughters and one son ranged in age from 10 to 17, thrust new responsibilities upon her and she took over her husband's business interests.

She served as secretary and president of the Abel Construction Co. until 1951 and still is chairman of the board of the Abel Investment Co.

Her spacious Lincoln home reflects her flair for management and interior decoration. She doesn't own a television set — had to rent one in fact to keep up with some campaign programs — but there's a radio in every room.

And it's apparent in her home that she loves flowers. One fall she planted 5,000 tulip bulbs herself.

House Wrecked As Dump Truck Drops in for Visit

POULTNEY, Vt. — It seemed just like another family visit when Robert Woodward, 38, and his sister Mrs. Viola Wetherby, 35, started out Tuesday for the home of their invalid mother.

But as the dump truck in which they were riding with Paul Robbins approached the Woodward cottage it went out of control, struck a tree, bounded across the road and smashed into the house, lifting it from its foundation.

Inside the cottage, Mrs. Alice Woodward, 70, bedridden for the past two years, was hurled from her bed, knocking down another son, Ronald.

The elderly woman was taken to Summer Nursing Home, where Dr. John Prederngast said she was suffering from shock and a knee injury but was in good condition.

The others escaped with minor bruises and a shaking up. The truck and one room of the two-room cottage were demolished.

Dear Deer

CHEBOYGAN, Mich. — John Pritchard, 35, of Dearborn recently bagged more than his limit of deer in Michigan. And he isn't happy about it.

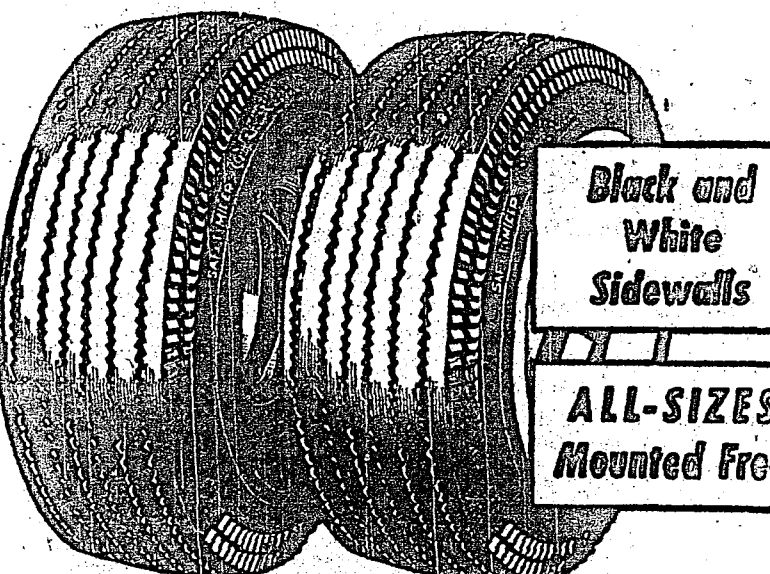

Pritchard told State Police two deer ran into his car on a highway near Cheboygan. But state conservation officers took the deer carcasses and distributed the venison to state institutions. All Pritchard had to show for his feat was a bill for $300 for repairs to his automobile.

Dirty snow melts faster than clean snow in sunshiny weather because the white snow reflects the sun's rays while the darker dirt diffuses the rays into the surrounding snow.

"He got tired!"

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.S.

1. DOES THE "BABY BOOM" MEAN WE ARE GOING BACK TO LARGE FAMILIES? YES ☐ NO ☐

2. CAN COMMUNISM EVER ENABLE MEN TO MAKE THE MOST OF THEMSELVES? YES ☐ NO ☐

3. HOW COULD RECORD PLAYERS BE USED TO PREVENT TRAFFIC DEATHS? YOUR OPINION.

Answer to Question No. 1

Sociologist Kingsley Davis says in New York Times magazine: "Small families are still the fashion. People are merely marrying younger and more are having one, two, or three children, and fewer are childless. Women, now 45 to 49 average 2.2 children, women 30 to 34 will likely average 2.5 slightly above replacement." Probably a healthy trend.

Answer to Question No. 2

No. In his notable book, "Free and Unequal," biologist Roger Williams asserts that men can only be happy and productive when each can follow his individual inborn urges, abilities, and drives. This is the world conflict today between freedom under laws made by the people and slavery under tyrants. Men must be free and unequal.

Answer to Question No. 3

My fellow Santa Monica Rotarians, the Rev. John Donnat and auto salesman Bill Cummings suggest that somebody invent a record player for autos that will automatically sound the following warnings: At 45 m.p.h., "Highways Are Happy Ways"; 55, "I'm But A Stranger Here, Heaven Is My Home"; 65, "Nearer My God To Thee"; 75, "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder, I'll Be There"; 85, "Lord, I'm Coming Home." Inventors, there's good in them that suggestion.

THE ANSWER, QUICK

1. Who was born first, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart or Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy?

2. Who was Harry Lloyd Hopkins?

3. Of what is parchment made?

4. What is primogeniture?

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. Mozart 1756; Mendelssohn, 1808.

2. Federal Relief administrator and secretary of commerce in President Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration.

3. Skin, especially of sheep and goats.

4. The right of the eldest son to inherit property, title, etc., to the exclusion of all other children.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

It's a fact, I guess, that birds of a feather flock together. Even though the feathers may be of varying degrees of moult and unlikelihood.

Old football memories may bind men together for life. It may be Irish descent, politics, or rheumatism which forms the bond of shared experience.

Personally, I belong to the "pivot tooth" set, and no stronger alliance exists. We are different from our fellows, and not to be confused with the "gold inlay" crowd who, comparatively speaking don't know what trouble is. Those possessed of pivot teeth are set apart, particularly at a fried chicken dinner when the hostess glibly cries, "Now everybody eat with their fingers—we don't stand on ceremony!" Even at picnics we are reduced to knife and fork lest the favored tooth fall out.

A "pivot tooth," for those fortunate not to know, is a store-bought fang residing squarely in the most conspicuous front line of defense. It hangs precariously on a pin fastened with questionable security upon the remaining part of the incisor. The originals have usually been lost in combat or accident. One slip on the edge of a swimming pool will do it. Brief encounter with baseball bat, door or other weapon will knock out the very tooth most prized and well-placed.

Then comes the pivot. Since few enjoy pointing out their own deficiencies, those in our club suffer silently for the most part, except in the dentist's office. Eventually we all recognize each other by our one-sided smiles, muffled speech or other inept attempts at concealment. For these bountiful teeth do not perform as gently as advertised. They fall out. With horrible accuracy a pivotweaver can predict the hour when disaster will strike. It is usually just before your niece's wedding, at which smiles are obligatory. Or, if you are fool enough to have agreed to speak at the bingo club's annual dinner, that is the morning when the pivot loosens, falls in the sink and goes sweeping into the drain.

Our most trying moments are in the presence of others who have all their own molars. These thoughtless folk are wont to grab a handful of hard caramels, chomping away in unholy abandon while we sit by, glum and keenly aware that one false move toward the candy would send the pivot into fatal cabochos with the peanut brittle.

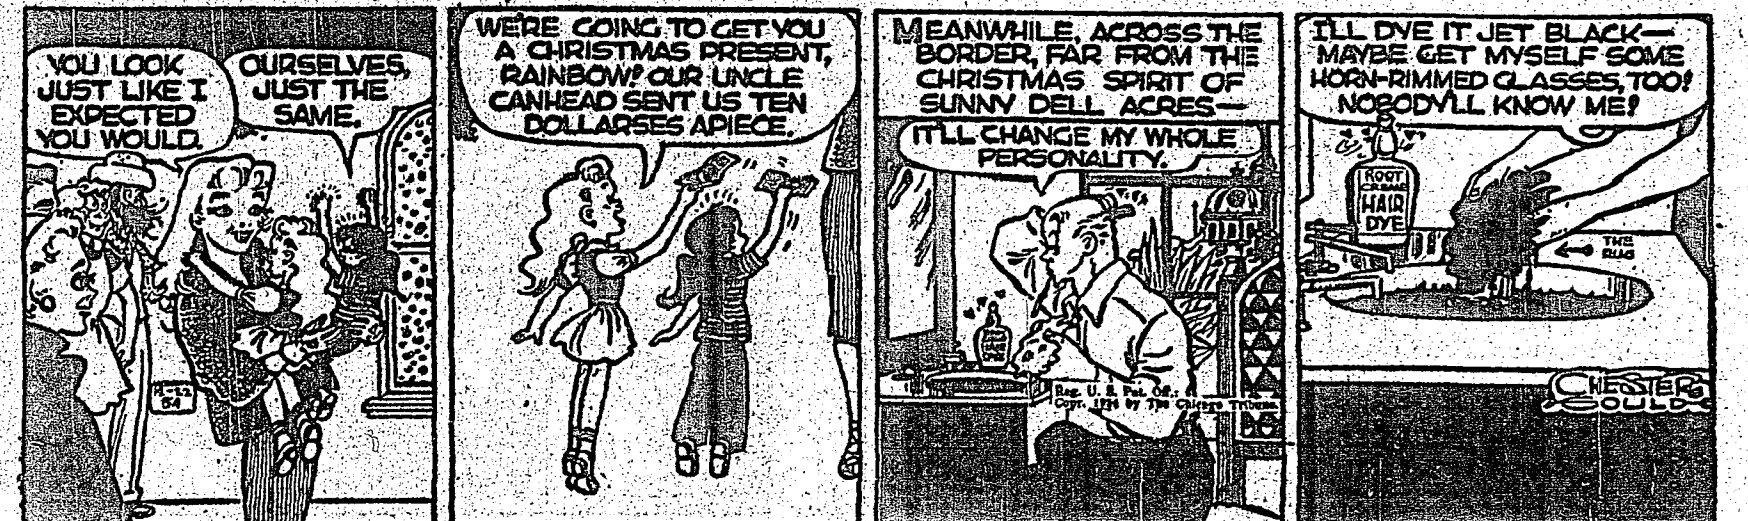

Well, that is life, as we say in our club.

Wife-Seeker Gets Too Much Woman

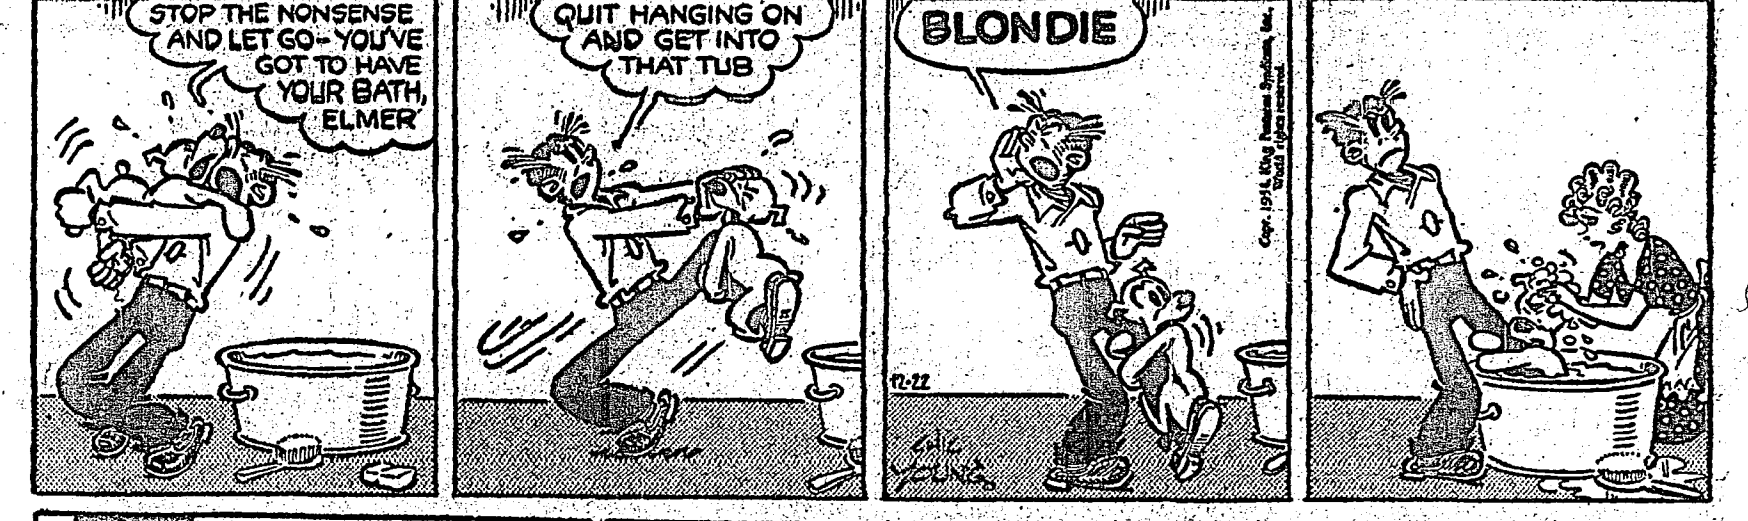

BALTIMORE (AP)—The youthful-looking lonely hearts club photograph advertised the husband-seeker as 5-feet-4 and 118 pounds. But when he met the woman, 62-year-old Herbert Jackson testified before a Circuit Court examiner yesterday, "She was about 450 pounds and is over six feet tall." Jackson was awarded an absolute divorce from Bonnie Jackson, 54, after telling how his wife shot at him, scalded him and said he "didn't appreciate a fat woman." The local steel worker said he knew he "was stuck bad," but he went through with the wedding. "She was too much for me," he added.

Women are eligible by law to serve on juries in 44 states, the District of Columbia and all territories.
