Great Bull Market Rebounds Vigorously From Selling Wave

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—The great bull market in stocks was pounded down savagely this week in its first real test, and it rebounded vigorously from the hard selling blows.

On the final day of the week, the stock market retraced 40 per cent of the average loss of the two previous days of swiftly breaking prices. It now stands right around the levels of two weeks ago.

For nearly 16 months, the stock market has been advancing steadily. Occasionally it paused for consolidation, but not for long. Since the election last November, the market has been rising with almost unprecedented speed to around the highest peaks in its history.

Wall Street brokers and others were frankly worried about the swiftness of the rise and the explosive manner in which prices bounded ahead. There also was worry in Washington.

On Tuesday after the stock markets on the East and West Coasts had closed, the Federal Reserve Board in Washington raised margin requirements to 60 per cent from 50 per cent.

There is relatively little trading on margin in stocks today, although the total has been expanding in recent months. Furthermore, the order applied only to new purchases, not to stocks already held on margin.

It meant that you now have to put up a minimum of 60 per cent of your own money when you buy stocks on margin.

Meaning of Margin Boost
The real meaning of the margin boost, however, was quite plain in Wall Street—the Federal Reserve Board was concerned over the husky bull market behavior. The move was a yellow caution light.

The next day the stock market cracked wide open. Selling poured in from all sections of the country. It looked as though everyone wanted to sell at once. Actually, they didn't. The great bulk of investors stood pat. Volume was 4,640,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $3.40, the most for one session since the outbreak of the Korean War. Selling continued Thursday on an even greater scale with volume at 5,300,000 shares, greatest in more than 15 years. The average, however, was down only $1.60.

Drop in Quoted Value
If you want to generalize and apply that average to the total quoted value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange, you can say that the quoted value declined an estimated five billion dollars on Wednesday and Thursday.

One extremely interesting observation came out of the break—there was little actual money lost. Many of those who sold their stocks, brokers said, had bought them days or weeks or months before and had substantial paper profits because of the long and steep 16-month rise of the market. When they sold, most probably missed peak prices, but they turned handsome paper profits into handsome paper dollars.

In looking back over the week, it is seen that the break retraced something like one-fourth of the post-election boom. That is minimum for a normal correction. Some analysts figure a maximum normal retracement at two-thirds of the previous gain.

Decline Arrested
Brokers aren't saying that the decline has ended. They say it has been arrested. There is a distinct possibility that market will do what is called testing the lows.

And what if it keeps on going down? As one broker remarked, then you have a new bull game.

However, the dip in the market was a technical affair, inasmuch as there has been no fundamental change in the nation's economy. Corporations whose shares are traded in the stock market are still looking forward by and large to their best year. Furthermore, the long-term bull market that has been with us since 1942 and has been going strong since 1949 is still around—only a shade under the highest peaks ever recorded.

There is no gloom in brokerage offices. They are paid a commission for buying and selling shares for you. The total volume of trading this week on the New York Stock Exchange was 22,945,618 shares, greatest for any one week since the middle of 1953.

Business has been so great there are reports in Wall Street that the Stock Exchange may close its doors for a brief specified period in order to let hard pressed clerks catch up with their paper work.

McCarthy Plans New Probe of Peress Dispute

Claims He's Still Head of Senate Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) prepared today for a new probe into the Army's honorable discharge of Maj. Irving Peress in the wake of a comprehensive Army chronology of its actions in the case.

McCarthy called a meeting of the Senate Investigations subcommittee for Monday, and said he will demand that subpoenas be issued, possibly for Tuesday, for some of the Army officials concerned. McCarthy said he is still acting as chairman of the subcommittee until it is reorganized under Democratic control.

The Army, in a 10,000-word document issued last night, said it went ahead with plans for Peress' discharge in the face of opposition from McCarthy because a review indicated "there existed no basis for reconsideration of the case."

It said that final decision was made by Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, a deputy Army chief of staff, and Army Counselor John G. Adams. Their decision, after receipt of a protesting letter from McCarthy, permitted carrying out an earlier finding, the Army said, that since there was no evidence that Peress had engaged in subversion on active duty, the discharge was the best and quickest way to remove him.

And it said Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, then commander of Camp Kilmer, N.J., where Peress was stationed, had urged several times that Peress be discharged because his retention was "clearly not consistent with the interests of national security."

Ice Skating Stars Wed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ice skating stars Gloria Nord of Santa Monica, Calif., and Eddie Delbridge of New York City were married last night in Shatto Chapel of the First Congregational Church, Dr. James W. Field Jr., officiating.

Each is 29 years old and this was the first marriage for each.

Warm Met Welcome For Marian Anderson

NEW YORK (AP)—Amid applause and cheers—and a few tears—American contralto Marian Anderson became last night the first of her race to sing with the Metropolitan Opera.

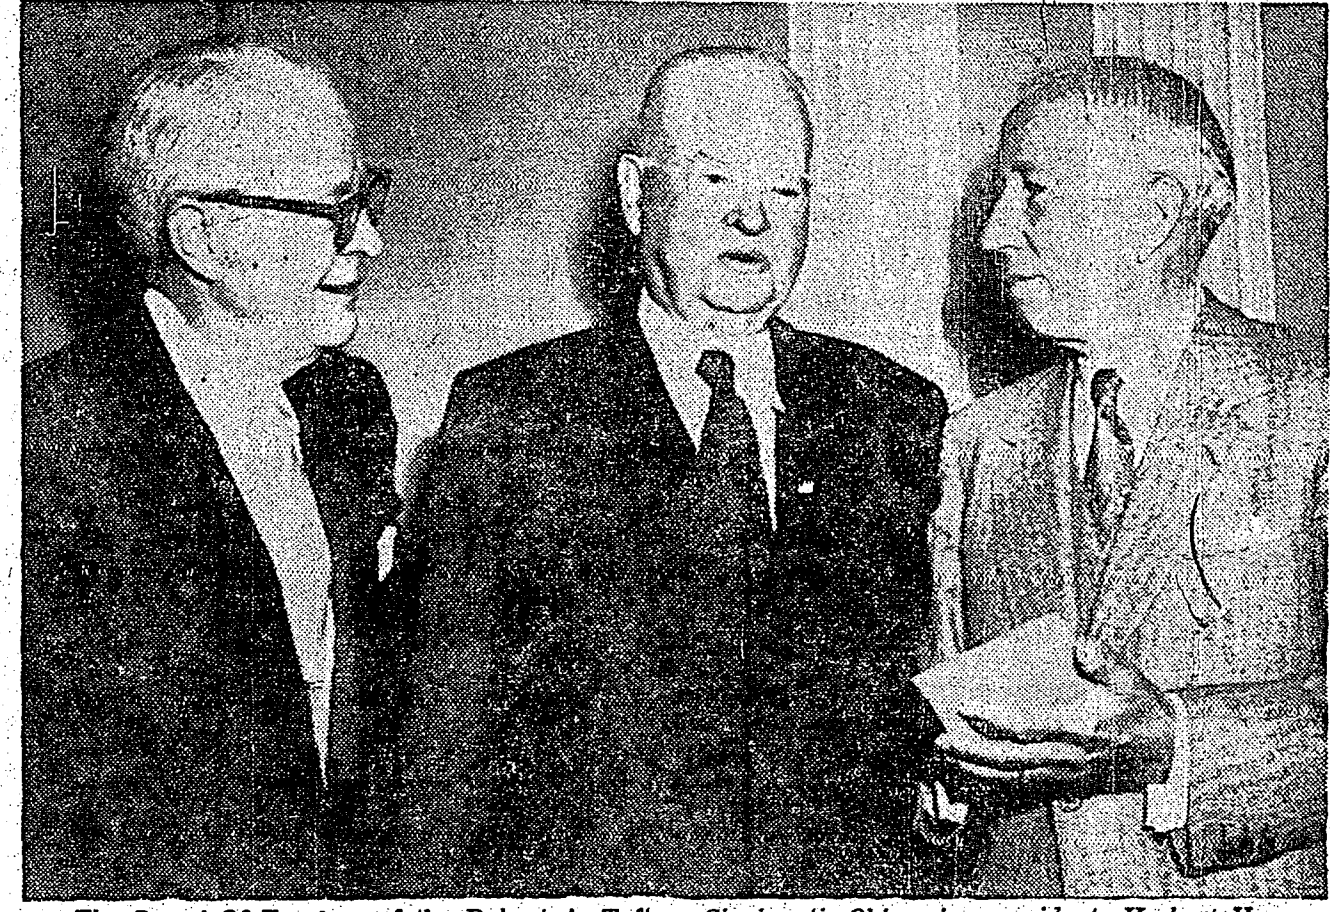

And the warm welcome given the first Negro singer in the Met's 70-year history proved but the prelude to an artistic success by the famed concert performer.

Critics were unanimous in praise of her rich and moving voice, heard in the second scene of Act I of Verdi's "Un Ballo In Maschera."

As the curtain rose on the second scene there was Miss Anderson as Ulicia, stirring her witch's cauldron.

The audience broke into a tremendous ovation. Many men and women in the audience—white as well as Negro patrons—dabbled at their eyes in the emotion of the moment. Orchestra Conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos stopped the playing until the demonstration was over.

Then Miss Anderson, a grim, taut figure as her role called for, started to sing her first aria,

Bjornson Asks State GOP Housecleaning

ST. PAUL (AP)—Val Bjornson, who just stepped down as state treasurer, is calling for a "top to bottom" housecleaning of Minnesota's Republican party.

In a letter to party officers, Bjornson suggested that they all be replaced at a GOP meeting before departing on a two weeks federal mission to Iceland.

Bjornson made an unsuccessful campaign against Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) last fall and since has won prominent mention as a candidate for governor in the 1956 election.

"We cannot afford to exhibit any factional quarrels above what should be an all-embracing concern for rebuilding and revitalizing the party," Bjornson wrote. "We must combine all segments into as harmonious unit as possible."

"We want to move together in this big building job, that confronts us," Bjornson said he expected to return to this country in time to attend the late January meeting.

ST. PAUL (AP)—An increase in the state income tax to meet the bill for a boost in school aids is being asked by the Coordinating Committee for Education.

"Every citizen has a responsibility for support of the schools and the state income tax is the fairest possible method of meeting that responsibility," said William A. Wettergren, St. Peter, chairman of the committee, in a statement Friday.

"The income tax already is dedicated to the public schools and it is logical to increase it to support the increased need of the schools. This tax touches most of the people in the state and is based on ability to pay."

The committee is backing a boost in state aid from $80 to $92 per year, a recommendation backed by Gov. Freeman in his inaugural address.

In other suggestions to the Legislature, the committee is asking: That increased emphasis be put on school reorganization, with possible withholding of aids from districts with fewer than 10 pupils.

Abolition of 1,500 districts which operate no schools and the attachment of these to neighboring districts so that residents pay their fair share of school supports.

Malenkov 53 Today

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Georgi Malenkov turned 53 today.

Soviet newspapers took no notice of the event. This is not unusual, since it is the custom of the press here to make a big thing of birthdays of Soviet leaders only on such round-number occasions as 50, 60, 70 and so on.

Judge Throws Out Ballots At La Crescent

No Lawful Election Board Existed in Village, He Says

By EARL GILBERT
Daily News Area Editor

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Beryl Kerrigan was declared winner of the Houston County sheriff election today by a ruling of the District Court.

Judge Karl Finkelnburg, stating there was no lawful election board in the La Crescent village precinct, named the incumbent sheriff winner of the Nov. 2 general election 3,124 votes to 2,900.

Clarence Vetsch, La Crescent, who won the balloting 3,371 to 3,294 before the La Crescent

Kerrigan precinct was thrown out, will meet with his attorney Milton Kludt in La Crescent this afternoon to study the findings and consider an appeal.

One La Crescent resident said after learning of the verdict, "The town won't stand for this!"

Irregularities Listed

"Public policy forbids recognition of such vote," the judge said, referring to the La Crescent precinct. He listed several irregularities connected with balloting there. Among them were improper taking of oaths; more than one member of a family serving on the board; persons serving on the board without taking oaths; lack of care in initialing and caring for ballots; not picking up the ballots personally at the auditor's office; incorrect number of ballots returned at the conclusion of the election. About 60 ballots supposedly received by the precinct

Another Office?

The validity of another Houston County election may be raised by District Judge Karl Finkelnburg's decision to throw out the La Crescent ballots.

B. A. Quilty, Caledonia, was declared re-elected as register of deeds over Leonard C. Tollesrud, Spring Grove, by the canvassing board. The unofficial count, as reported by county officials to The Daily News Nov. 3, was Quilty, 3,316; Tollesrud, 3,262.

The unofficial La Crescent vote was Quilty, 470; Tollesrud, 146. The official county vote without La Crescent: Tollesrud, 3,116; Quilty, 2,946.

from the auditor are unaccounted for according to testimony at the trial in late December.

At the time members of the La Crescent board testified to being replaced by substitutes unduly sworn in during the early morning hours. Irregularities in most of the precincts of the county Nov. 2 were "regrettable," the judge stated, "but in my opinion do not make these elections invalid."

In heading his memorandum, Judge Finkelnburg declared that sound public policy is the basis of judgment. He continued that a proper election board is part of this sound policy and that the La Crescent precinct was, in his opinion, not an election board at all.

Certificate Jan. 22

Kerrigan can obtain the certificate of election from the County Auditor, Miss Dolores Hauge, 14 days from today, or Jan. 22, according to the ruling. He has retained the post by agreement during the court proceedings.

Kerrigan called for a recount of the election Nov. 12 as he had a more than 200-vote lead in the election until the La Crescent vote came into Caledonia about noon Nov. 3. A three-man recount board—William Strand, Caledonia, for Vetsch, O. J. Strand, Caledonia, neutral, and Lyle Briggs, Houston, for Kerrigan together with Mrs. Ruth Corcoran, then county auditor—met for the first time Dec. 3. A study of their findings by Kerrigan, through his attorneys C. Stanley McMahon, Winona, and Thomas Flynn, Houston, brought the matter to District Court Dec. 30.

Judge Finkelnburg presided and asked for briefs which were filed by Thursday. His findings

WEEK IN THE LEGISLATURE

Both Houses Set For Busy Session

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of weekly legislative summaries to be carried each Saturday during this session of the Legislature.)

ST. PAUL (AP)—History was made during the first week of the 1955 Minnesota Legislature.

A Democratic-Farmer-Labor governor—the first in the history of the state—was inaugurated.

Liberals gained control of the House for the first time since 1937—and by the narrowest margin ever recorded. Two days later the liberals suffered their first defeat.

The Senate organized speedily. Sen. Val I. Mann, Mankato, was elected president pro tempore. And 16 bills were introduced—more than half of them of major character.

Gov. Freeman became the first DFL chief executive since the combined party was formed in 1944. His inaugural outlined a broad program for development of the states human and economic resources. He also told the legislators they would have to find 28 million dollars in new revenue to maintain present services.

Legislators praised the message but worried about paying the bills. Liberals gained control of the House by electing Rep. A. L. Johnson, Benson, speaker by a 66 to 65 vote over Rep. John Hartle, Owatonna, conservative majority leader two years ago.

They suffered their first defeat in an argument over rules. Rep. Fred Cina, Aurora, liberal majority leader, proposed a leaving it up to the speaker to decide whether all money bills should go to the appropriations committee and all proposals having to do with the state's administration should go to

Efficiency, Sound Marketing Farm Key, Benson Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson declared Friday that efficiency and sound marketing methods will do more to help make farmers prosperous than any program aid which could be "devised by mortal man."

"The great gains in agriculture in the past," he added, "have come about largely through the approach of research, education and improved marketing and so, I am confident, will those of the future."

In a speech prepared for the annual convention of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, Benson said the GOP administration is putting great emphasis upon programs aimed at helping farmers reduce production costs. "Greater efficiency, broader use of the better feeds, seeds and breeds, the adoption of improved cultural practices and employment of sound marketing methods—all taken together—will do more to help farmers meet the cost-price squeeze than any program of government aid which could be devised by mortal man," he said.

The secretary reiterated his opposition to programs designed to support farm prices at levels which would help inefficient producers.

Pioneer La Crosse Grocer Dead at 87

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Anton J. Bruha, believed to be the oldest operating grocer in Wisconsin, died Friday. He was 87.

Bruha had owned and operated a corner grocery here for the past 70 years. In 1928 he organized the Sellrite grocery chain, an organization of independent local groceries, and was its president until a few weeks ago.

He is survived by his widow and four sons, two of whom are in the grocery business with him.

Thye Offers Great Lakes Channel Dredging Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thye (R-Minn.) Thursday introduced a bill to authorize dredging of 27-foot channels in the connecting links of the upper Great Lakes.

Such dredging would be necessary to open up ports on Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior to large ocean-going vessels after completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The seaway, authorized by Congress last year, will provide a 27-foot channel in the St. Lawrence from the Atlantic to Lake Erie.

Number of Civilians In U.S. Jobs Rises

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civilian employment in the executive branch of the government was reported by a Senate-House committee to have climbed again in November—largely because of temporary hiring by the Census Bureau. Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), as chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, said the payroll in November reached 2,343,707, as compared with 2,322,997 in October. The November figure still was 23,623 less than the total for November 1952, Byrd added.

The report listed 1,204,230 employed by civilian agencies, up 22,204 over October, and 1,139,477 civilians in military agencies, 1,494 fewer than in October.

All plants may be raised from seed although some may be propagated more easily in other ways.

Treasure Hunt Clues to Start Monday Evening

$100 Prize Awaits Finder in First Event of Carnival

Get your map of the city and a dictionary handy, they'll be invaluable tools in this year's Winter Carnival treasure hunt.

Sponsored by The Winona Daily News, the treasure hunt will consist of a $100 certificate, redeemable after the contest ends. The certificate, which is being held by the city, has been hidden, but not buried, on public property, within the city limits.

First of the 10 clues will be published Monday. They will progressively lead to the treasure location. You must get each clue in sequence in order to arrive at the proper destination. And you won't have to leave your arm chair until you've ascertained the actual treasure location. There will be no markers or indicators other than the clues included in the treasure hunt.

City and area residents, regardless of age, are eligible to participate, but they must have purchased a Winter Carnival button.

The person who finds the treasure chest is asked to contact The Winona Daily News or radio station KWNW immediately.

Although the first clue won't be published until Monday, we can tell you that there is a suitable map of the city in every telephone book.

Winona Payrolls Climb Over 10,000 Again

Winona employment during December pushed over the 10,000 mark for the first time in three months, snapping a previous year's high set in September and closing 1934 with 10,226 employed in the city.

But December's total still was 76 below a 5-year high established in 1933, when 10,302 were employed during the year's final month. The December total is 337 more than were employed in November, though, and 29 higher than the previous high of the year—September's 10,197.

This information was released today by the Winona office of the Minnesota State Employment Service.

Stanley S. Hammer, manager, said that "Winona employment in December reached the year's high. With the exception of 1933, the 1934 December level was 1,337 more than the year-end figure of the past seven years—only 76 under that of 1933."

Heavy hiring in retail trade and addition of extras in the post office for holiday work accounted for most of the rise.

Except for the temporary retail and governmental gains, over-all employment in the other industrial categories decreased slightly. The service and construction industrial groups showed the biggest declines for the month.

Hammer, however, forecast a "substantial employment decline within the next several months."

2 Detergent Burn Cases Scheduled for Trial In District Court Here

By GORDON HOLTE
Daily News Staff Writer

Two women who complain that they suffered detergent burns from using a washing compound and a Winona County farmer whose chickens stopped laying eggs are among the principals in the 35 civil cases listed for trial during the winter term of District Court which opens here Monday morning.

Fifteen divorce suits, six automobile accident actions and two delinquent personal property tax matters are on the January term calendar released today by Clerk of Court Joseph C. Page.

Court will convene at 11 a.m. with Judge Karl Finkelnburg presiding for an informal call of the calendar and the designation of court cases for trial during the first week of the term.

Defendants in criminal matters will be arraigned at 2 p.m., followed by hearings on motions and default cases.

The remainder of the first week of the term will be devoted to the trial of court cases, hearing of motions and default matters.

The jury will not report for duty until 1:30 p.m. Jan. 17 when the trial of jury cases will begin.

Detergent Burns
Plaintiffs in the two detergent cases are Mrs. Bessie Baumann, 1005 W. Mark St. and Mrs. Bruce K. Miller, Beach, N.D.

Both women charge that they required hospitalization for treatment of burns sustained as a result of using Procter & Gamble products and are seeking to recover damages totaling $50,000 and $50,000, respectively.

Actually, there are two separate suits filed in the case of Mrs. Miller. One is brought by her in her own behalf and the other by her husband the latter for expenses allegedly incurred by him during the period of his wife's treatment and the two total $60,000.

Named as defendant in both cases is the Procter & Gamble Distributing Co., represented by the firm of Freeman, Larson & Peterson, Minneapolis, and Ernest A. Rich, also of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Baumann and the Millers are represented by Goldberg & Torgerson, Winona, and Murnane & Murnane, St. Paul.

Mrs. Baumann says that she first noticed a rash on her wrist in the spring of 1933 and that despite treatment it ultimately spread to other portions of her body. She said that early in 1934 she was hospitalized at La Crosse and by summer the rash had subsided somewhat.

Mrs. Miller said that she experienced an eruption of small blisters on her left hand and later had a somewhat lesser rash on her right hand.

Hospitalized at La Crosse, she was told, Mrs. Miller said that she was suffering from a detergent burn.

Both women said that before the rashes appeared they had been using Procter & Gamble products for washing dishes and laundry.

Chicken Case
Claiming that his chickens stopped laying eggs after they were chased by a dog, Francis Lappier, a Lewiston farmer, is suing the dog's owner for damages amounting to $549.

Lappier alleges that Allyn Peterson, who also lives southeast of Lewiston, owns a dog which Peterson knew to be "of a mischievous disposition and accustomed to chasing domestic animals and fowl."

In his complaint, Lappier says that Peterson on Dec. 21, 1933, brought the dog to the former's farm.

On the farm, the complaint continues, the dog "attacked, chased and worried" a flock of 400 leghorn hens owned by Lappier and as a result of the incident the chickens "were injured and ceased to lay eggs."

Lappier is represented by Alton E. Bergh, St. Charles, and Peterson by Moonan, Moonan, Friedel & Senn, Waseca.

Buffalo Co. Crash
Two suits for damages totaling $23,000 are being brought as a result of a fatal automobile accident in Buffalo County last summer.

The defendant in both cases is Duwayne Michael, 19, National Hotel, the driver of a car which ran off Highway 88, four miles south of Cream, Wis., July 25. A Winona youth, Lyle Robertson, was killed in the crash.

The two suits have been started by one of the passengers in the car, Judy Ramm, and her father, Virgil Ramm, 826 E. 5th St.

Miss Ramm asks damages of $20,000 for head and chest injuries she claims were suffered by her when she was thrown out of the car when it rolled down a roadside embankment. She says that the injuries are permanent and disabling.

Her father, meanwhile, is suing for $3,000 for expenses he says were incurred by him while his daughter was being treated for her injuries.

The Ramms are represented by Lauris G. Petersen, and Michael by James H. Geraghty, St. Paul.

Pellowski Suit
John J. Pellowski, 518 Olmstead St., is the plaintiff in a $65,000 action against David Lorenzen, Grand Meadow, his mother, Mrs. Frank Lorenzen, and Francis Pellowski, 523 E. Wabasha St.

One of the cases carried over from a previous calendar, the suit involves John Pellowski's claim that he suffered permanent and disabling injuries when the car in which he was riding, driven by Francis Pellowski, was involved in a collision with a car driven by Lorenzen—then a student at the Winona State Teachers College—

No Criminal Matters Listed For New Term

No criminal cases have been listed as yet on the calendar for the winter term of District Court here.

The call of the criminal calendar is scheduled for Monday afternoon on the opening day of the term and there is a possibility that at least one case may be added at that time, however.

Divorce matters and cases carried over from a previous calendar constitute more than half of the suits slated for trial during the term.

Carried Over
Cases carried over from a previous calendar include actions by:

The state of Minnesota, represented by County Attorney S. A. Sawyer, against Florshoph, Inc., for delinquent personal property taxes.

Paul Fritz and Gertrude Fritz, represented by F. J. O'Brien, Rochester, against William Fritz and others, represented by Sawyer, Sawyer & Darby, an estate matter.

Ralph and Edward Dionysius, represented by Donald T. Winder, against Sheriff George L. Fort and represented by Lambertson Law Offices' and the Rollingstone Mutual Farmers Fire Insurance Co., for settlement of an insurance claim.

State of Minnesota, represented by County Attorney S. A. Sawyer, against Interstate Elevator Corp., represented by Donald T. Winder, for delinquent personal property taxes.

Walter Gunderlock, represented by Donald T. Winder, against Elmer Volkman, represented by Goldberg & Torgerson, a dispute over a contract.

Tom Manning, represented by H. M. Bierce, against Minnesota Butane & Equipment Co., represented by Alton E. Bergh.

Divorce Cases
Among the divorce cases on the January calendar—several of them are carried over from a previous term—are those brought by:

Mrs. Beverly L. Kaehler, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Frederick M. Kaehler, represented by Streeter & Murphy; Mrs. Lila Bellier, represented by William A. Lindquist, against John F. Douglas, represented by Martin A. Beatty; Mrs. Violet Masepohl, represented by Martin A. Beatty, against Elroy George Masepohl; Mrs. Blanche Rose, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Oscar Rose; Mrs. Olga Jane Melby, represented by H. M. Lambertson Jr., against Gordon B. Melby; Lucille H. Schmidt, represented by H. M. Lambertson Jr., against Victor T. Schmidt.

Mrs. Frances E. Meier, represented by the Lambertson Law Offices, against Gabriel E. Meier, represented by Lauris G. Petersen; Mrs. Beverly Ann Farrington, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Johnny E. Farrington Jr., represented by Lauris G. Petersen; Mrs. Lorraine Ciemiński, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Richard Ciemiński; Mrs. Dorothy Meuli, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Andrew H. Meuli.

Erwin S. Becker, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Mrs. Ruth M. Becker; Mrs. Joan Jorpeland, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Gordon D. Jorpeland; Mrs. Joan S. Strain, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Donald A. Strain; Mrs. Audrey P. Fenske, represented by P. S. Johnson, against Marvin R. Fenske, and Mrs. Donna M. Finmerud, represented by P. S. Johnson, and Orvin A. Finmerud.

On Jury Panel
Members of the jury panel for the winter term B. W. Ahrens, 316 W. Bellevue St.; Jerry E. Berthe, 529 Olmstead St.; Mrs. Elmer Blashka, Lewiston; Mrs. Elmer Blashka, 766 W. Mark St.; Mrs. Felix Cichowski, 653 E. Wabasha St.; John Ciemiński, 865 E. 5th St.; Julius L. F. Delke, 417 Olmstead St.; Leonard W. Dernek, 119 Kansas St.; Mrs. James Dulek, Homer; Ernest Ellinghuysen, Stockton; William English, 1451 Gilmore Ave.

Samuel Grupa, 178 Mankato Ave.; Alfred Halvorson, Houston; Rodney Heyer, Dakota; Mrs. Richard Jankowski, 468 E. 5th St.; Matthew Langowski, 679 E. 5th St.; Herman Kempe, St. Charles; Jane Kohler, Altura; Mrs. Leo Kobus, 470 Chaffield St.

Broadway; Lloyd Moldenhauer, La Crosse; Fred Russell, Altura; Mrs. Mabel Peterson, 720 W. 5th St.; Mrs. James Preston, Minnesota City; Fred Schroeder, Dakota; H. F. Schumacher, 722 W. Wabasha St.

A Plainview firm is suing a Minnekahta farm couple for $712, the purchase price of a corn picker it delivered the defendants.

Bringing the suit is the People's Cooperative Association, Inc., which alleges that it delivered a corn picker to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lemmer near Minnekahta and has not been paid for the machine.

The Lemmers, meanwhile, reply that they understood the machine was brought to their farm on an approval basis, that they did not want to keep the picker and believed that it would be picked up by the company.

The Lemmers say that at all times the corn picker has been available for repossession and they are willing to pay a reasonable rental on it for the time it was used by them but they do not want to buy the machine.

The Plainview firm is represented by Warren D. Chamberlain and the Lemmers by Sawyer, Sawyer & Darby.

Czarnowski Files For City Council At-Large Office

Louis Czarnowski

Louis Czarnowski, member of the Board of Education with two years remaining of his four-year term, today filed for the position of alderman-at-large in the April 4 city election.

Asked, if elected as an alderman he would resign his school board directorship, Czarnowski said he had no intention of so doing unless he had to and he knew of no law or city ordinance prohibiting him from holding both offices.

"I have felt for a long time," he said, "that there should be more correlation between the school board and the City Council. What could be better than having a school board member on the Council?"

Czarnowski represents the 4th Ward on the school board. He previously served a 4-year term as 4th Ward alderman from 1939 to 1943 when he entered the U. S. Marine Corps during World War II. During his term on the Council he was on the building committee when the new City Hall was constructed, served on the finance committee and was one of the leaders in securing the appointment of M. J. Bambenek as city recreation director.

In filing for alderman-at-large he made the following statement: "I am opposed to the proposed golf course around the east end of Lake Winona and I favor installation of the new city wells on the present Westfield Golf Course site and continuance of the Westfield course at its present location. I would use the area around the lake as residential sites."

"I have some information about city employees receiving gifts of hams and liquor from firms and people who had received contracts from the city and I intend to give the public a full report at an early date."

"I propose to bring back to public servant status those employees of the city who seem to have forgotten that the taxpayer is providing them with a living. I intend to be a people's representative at all times."

"I thing Latsch beach should be used for industrial sites—possibly as the location of tank farms. The Latsch beach should be transferred to Lake Winona or an outdoor swimming pool constructed."

Czarnowski, 42, is married and the father of two children. He owns his home at 762 E. Howard St. and has been a resident of Winona all his life. He is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Winona Athletic Club, St. Joseph's Society, Holy Name Society and the U. S. Naval Reserve. He is employed at the Peerless Chain Co.

Only other candidate for the office to date is Gordon L. Weishorn, incumbent, who is completing his first term.

2 Aboard Boat Barely Escape Asphyxiation

TWO RIVERS, Wis. (AP)—Two men were rescued unconscious from their carbon-monoxide-filled boat Friday by Coast Guardsmen who raced five miles along a lake shore highway, then drove into Lake Michigan in their amphibious "duck."

The two men, Bernard Schwarz, 25, of Manitowoc, and Peter Le Clair, 27, Two Rivers, were in satisfactory condition at Two Rivers Hospital early today. Their condition, however, was such that they were unable to tell the details of their near-asphyxiation.

The rescue operation started after the 35-foot boat, which had left for Chicago Friday morning, was spotted in the afternoon going north.

William Schwarz, father of Bernard, had appeared at the Coast Guard station here about 1:15 p.m. and asked for a check on the progress of the vessel. The boat, manufactured by Schwarz's firm here, was being delivered to a Chicago buyer.

Payoff in Nickels Lands Tenant in Jail

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Fred Lewis Davis, 21, gave his landlord 600 nickels to clear up a $30 rent bill. Police got wind of the transaction and arrested him.

Davis pleaded guilty yesterday in the theft of 4,000 nickels from a car at a parking lot where he worked. He was given a probated two-year term.

F. R. Adams Named

TC Registrar Resigning; State Official Named

F. R. Adams, present director of the teacher personnel division in the state Department of Education, St. Paul, has been appointed registrar and director of admissions at Winona State Teachers College to succeed Miss Helen Pritchard, who has resigned her position effective June 30.

Announcement of Miss Pritchard's resignation and of the new appointment was made today by President Nels Minne. Adams will begin his new duties on July 1.

Miss Pritchard, a native Winonan, joined the staff of the college in 1916 after graduation from Vassar College. She was away during 1918, studying for a second degree in business at Simmons College, Boston, but after graduation she returned in 1919 to resume her work at the college. She has been on the staff continuously since that time.

Registrar Since 1927
Miss Pritchard was appointed registrar in 1927 by State D. Guy E. Maxwell, then president of Winona State Teachers. She has served under four presidents and has watched the transition and growth of the institution from a state normal school, offering two years of teacher-training work, to a college, now offering the full four and five years of training leading to the bachelor of science (1921) and master of science (1933) degrees in teaching and to the bachelor of arts degree (1946).

She has seen the progressive steps in the college's academic recognition from state acceptance to national accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

In addition to her work as registrar, Miss Pritchard has served on the administrative council of the college since its inception in 1944 and as a member of the curriculum committee. She is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, a national honorary education fraternity; adviser to the exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, a member of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers, a member of the Upper Midwest Association of Collegiate Registrars and a member of the Winona Chapter, American Association of University Women.

Owatonna Native
Adams, who was graduated from Owatonna High School, holds a master of arts degree from the University of Minnesota and has had further post-graduate work there and at the Teachers College of Columbia University.

He has taught in the secondary schools of Fosston, Preston and Mantorville, and later held the position of superintendent of schools at Mantorville, Farmington and Marshall. Since 1938, he has served as director of teacher personnel in the state Department of Education, where his work has included teacher employment, teacher certification and teacher education.

Adams is past chairman of the committee on teacher education and professional standards of the Minnesota Education Association and is now vice chairman. He is also secretary of the state advisory committee on providing an adequate supply of teachers and chairman of the national teacher supply and demand committee. He has served as president of the southwest division of the Minnesota Education Association and as commander of the St. Anthony Park Post of the American Legion. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity.

Adams is known through the Northwest for his work in the state Department of Education and for his writing and speaking before professional groups. He is married, with three children and the family expects to move to Winona in June.

High School Student Beaten On West 4th

Police today were investigating an apparently unprovoked attack on a Senior High School student here Friday night.

The investigation was started after Tom Swearingen, 16, 558 W. King St., came to police headquarters at 10:05 p.m. and reported that he had been beaten by several youths who accosted him while he was walking on West 4th street near Johnson street.

The youth said that the incident developed after several youthful occupants of a car began shouting at him and moments later they got out of the car and stopped him on the sidewalk.

One, he said, asked him to take off his glasses; when he declined to do this another grabbed him from behind and he was struck on the nose and mouth. After several blows had been struck the youths drove away in their car. Swearingen suffered nose injuries and facial bruises and abrasions.

Shortly before the attack two companions had left him. Swearingen said, and police today were seeking information from persons who might have noticed the attack.

Several college students told police that they had been some distance away when the incident occurred but noticed the assailants drive away in the car.

The attack occurred shortly after the Winona Senior High-Austin basketball game.

Chief of Police A. J. Bingold today asked that anyone who might have seen the assault notify police so that additional details of the matter may be obtained.

Burned-Out Family To Be Assisted by Dance Near Decorah

MABEL, Minn. (Special)—Funds are being raised by the friends and neighbors of the Curtis Marlow family, whose home was destroyed by fire last Saturday near Burr Oak, Iowa.

A benefit dance will be held at the Decorah American Legion Club Thursday evening.

The 2-room house, three miles southwest of Burr Oak, and all its contents was destroyed by the fire. Cause of the blaze has not been determined. It is believed to have started between 9:30 and 10 p.m. The blaze was discovered by Howard Qandahl, a neighbor, who called the Decorah fire department. The fire had made such headway when they arrived that they were unable to save the building.

The Marlows and their three children were not at home. Marlow does odd jobs to support his family in addition to operating the small farm.

W. W. Christensen Now Sales Manager At Kelly Furniture

Appointment of Walter Christensen as sales manager of the Kelly Furniture Store, 166 Main St., was announced this week by Paul Kelly, owner.

Christensen, who operated the now-closed United Furniture Store for the past 16 years, succeeds William Connors in the position. He assumed his duties at Kelly's this week.

Christensen has been in Winona since 1916 and was a part-owner and operator of United Furniture from 1938 until its closing Nov. 1934.

Snow Flurries, Cold Predicted

Occasional snow flurries and somewhat colder temperatures are in the weekend weather forecast for Winona.

The weatherman said partly cloudy skies and a low temperature of 22 are expected along with flurries tonight, while Sunday will be mostly cloudy and a little colder. The high Sunday afternoon probably will be around 34 degrees which was the reading at noon today.

Friday afternoon's 38-degree reading was the highest for the date since 1949, when the mercury rose to 40. On Jan. 8, 1949, the temperature was 47 and a day later it was 50.

Coldest temperatures during the Jan. 7-9 period during the past 10 years were recorded in 1951 at 22 below, 15 below and 2 above zero respectively.

Car and Tractor In Highway Crash

A car was damaged when it was involved in a collision with a farm tractor on Highway 61, two miles north of Minnesota City, Sheriff George Fort reported today.

The accident occurred at 10 a.m. Thursday while Paul Lippold, Mankato, was driving north on the highway.

Lippold said that he noticed two tractors parked on the left side of the highway and as he approached one began towing the other onto the highway.

The driver said that he slowed down but could not avoid a collision with the first tractor driven by Dean Singer, Minnesota City, Rt. 1.

Damage to the car was estimated at $150.

Ike Works on New Messages To Congress

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower called time out today from preparation of legislative messages to Congress and relaxed with his grandchildren at his Catocin Mountain lodge here.

The President's favorite weekend retreat reportedly was noisier than usual because of the presence of the children, but he always looks forward to having them around.

Barbara Anne, 5, and Susan, 3, accompanied him from Washington yesterday on the 65-mile drive to Camp David.

Also along are the President's wife, the children's mother, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, and the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Barbara Anne, 5, and Susan, 3, accompanied him from Washington yesterday on the 65-mile drive to Camp David.

The President planned to go to Gettysburg today.

This was the first time the chief executive's two granddaughters have visited the camp without their six-year-old brother, David, for whom the presidential retreat is named.

David entered the first grade at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., last September and had to pass up this trip East because of school. He remained in Kansas with his father, Maj. John Eisenhower, stationed at Ft. Leavenworth.

Shortly before leaving Washington, the President completed work on a foreign trade message he will send to Congress Monday. Awaiting final touches when he returns to the White House are two other messages which will go to the Capitol next week.

One of them, to be submitted Tuesday, will call for pay raises for civil service and postal workers, and for a hike in postal rates.

The other message, going to the lawmakers Thursday, will set forth the administration's new manpower-reserve program and recommend selective pay increases for members of the armed forces.

Raise Big Families, Say Reds in Search Of More Laborers

MOSCOW (AP)—Kicking off a government drive to send thousands of youths to fill virgin lands in Siberia, Nikita Khrushchev told Soviet young people last night to settle down and raise families for the good of the country.

The Russian Communist party boss told a youthful audience in Moscow's Bolshoi Theater that the Soviet Union has a population of 200 million but "if you add 100 million more to it it still would not be enough."

Ty Cobb's Second Wife Seeks Divorce

RENO (AP)—The second wife of baseball immortal Ty Cobb yesterday asked equitable division of community property and "suitable" alimony in filing for divorce from the 66-year-old "Georgia Peach."

Mrs. Frances C. Cobb, 45, who married the millionaire ex-baseball star in 1949, charges cruelty. They have no children.

They were married two years after Cobb divorced his first wife in Reno after 33 years of marriage and five children.

Hackett Biggest New Comedian on Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—Buddy Hackett, a fat Brooklyn night club comedian, was downing some gin one night in Miami Beach, and planning to make this his life work.

"How'd you like to be in a Broadway show?" Playwright Sidney Kingsley asked him.

"You mean show up every night, and no booze? Nah!" shrugged Hackett.

"That's March '53, about two yizz ago," says Hackett now. Now he's the biggest new Broadway comedian of the year, playing "Kewpie," a vice-peddler, in "Lunatics and Lovers," with Hollywood calling, though Hollywood tossed him out once not so long ago.

"I took it," says Buddy, "when I saw a description of the guy he wanted me to play."

"It says 'A round fat face with beady brown eyes, wearing pink polka dot shorts, eatin' breakfast toward evening.' That's me. I live this way. How could I miss?"

As a night club comic working Florida, the Catskills and California, he had usually slept all day, and he still does—furthermore, just playing himself doesn't seem like work.

"Except rehearsing," he says. "To rehearse for Kingsley, it's easier to get mugged."

"Rehearsing is with me just like marriage. I don't believe in it."

"I gave Kingsley my word I'd be completely cooperative till after we opened. Then I wouldn't be cooperative no more."

"Rehearsals! I had it already! I don't see no reason to get up early, showin' up when my eyes hurt."

Kingsley and Buddy have both been praised for the "true Broadway way" they speak. It happens to be Buddy's natural speech. In the show, Buddy's supposedly sipping scotch throughout. Actually, he is, although it's heavily diluted with water.

"If I was to take a few real belts, I'd think I was the greatest," he says. In one scene, he talks to Sheila Bond, who's seemingly sitting nude in a bathtub.

"She's got on these little skins stripers wear 'em," Buddy told me. "But it's hard not to keep lookin'!"

This show could be a rebirth of Buddy. A few seasons ago, while he was playing the Bandbox in Hollywood, Bob Goldstein of the movies walked in, began laughing—and signed him for Universal.

Goldstein and his late twin brother, Leonard Goldstein, left the studio. Hackett remained to do two pictures.

"One day they called me into the studio," Buddy remembers. "They said 'You're the greatest comedian in the world.' Then they said, 'But we don't know what to do with you.' So I left."

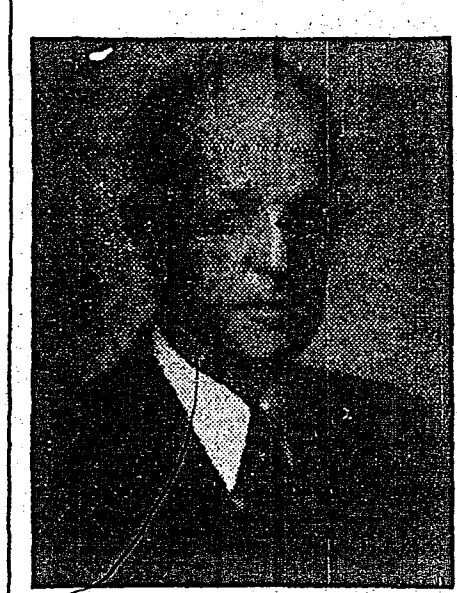

Now it appears that he'll be out there again. Buddy, who has five automobiles—a hot rod in Chicago, one in Miami, one in Hollywood and two in New York—is not titillated about the money he may make.

"What can I get out of it—only more cars. Then I'll have to take out a fleet license."

Buddy feels that "if everybody played a little golf and drank a little booze every day, there'd be no need for psychiatrists."

Personally, he's quite a practical joker. One day while golfing he

Analyst Speaker At TC on Monday

Howard Pierce Davis

Howard Pierce Davis, American world affairs analyst, will speak before the assembly of the Winona State Teachers College Somsen Hall auditorium Monday at 9:50 a.m.

Davis, who is making his third lecture tour through the Midwest, spent the spring and summer in Europe and the Middle East, and will report on and interpret the events that are affecting America's world leadership.

A New Englander by birth and education, Davis served two years with the AEF in Europe during World War I. He was ordained in the ministry in 1925, and later was headmaster of a Maine preparatory school.

In 1931 he went to Europe to study the Hitler movement that was rising in Germany, and spent many months watching the developments in Munich that became Nazism. He was at San Francisco in 1945 to report on the birth of the United Nations, at the first conference of the World Federalists at Montreux, Switzerland, in 1947, and in 1948 spoke before the FBI Academy at Washington, D.C. He is publisher of the "World Observer."

6,000 Bemidjians Get Diphtheria Shots

BEMIDJI, Minn. (AP)—Mass inoculation of Bemidji's 10,000 residents was ended late Thursday after shots against diphtheria had been given 6,000.

Dr. J. K. Hartjen, city health officer, said he regarded the 6,000 immunizations, about half of them given school children as ample protection for the community.

"We don't have a diphtheria epidemic, just a few cases," he said.

The five persons hospitalized with the disease were reported doing well. The mass inoculation was ordered after two persons died over the New Year weekend.

Health Minister Fired by Stalin Back in Favor

By TOM WHITNEY

NEW YORK (AP)—During the last few days a former minister of health of the U.S.S.R. who was fired by Joseph Stalin in 1947 has emerged again into an important job.

He is Prof. G. A. Miterev, named chairman of the Soviet Red Cross and Red Crescent Society. In this capacity he is likely to travel abroad to Red Cross meetings.

Miterev, a physician, was the health chief from 1941 throughout the war until Feb. 1947.

On Feb. 26, 1947, a laconic announcement appeared in the Soviet Press which was never explained later. It said Miterev had been dismissed from his position for failure to fulfill his duties. This was an unusual form for such an announcement and indicated Miterev had been singled out for particular disgrace. After that nothing more was heard of him until the last few days.

Gloria Vanderbilt, Stokowski May Discuss Divorce

NEW YORK (AP)—Gloria Vanderbilt's lawyer says the 30-year-old heiress may meet Monday with her husband, Maestro Leopold Stokowski, and discuss plans for a divorce.

The attorney, Arnold Krakower, stressed yesterday, however, that no divorce action has been started as yet and added:

"I am confident an amicable solution of all issues can be reached."

Miss Vanderbilt left her 67-year-old spouse two days after Christmas, saying she was ending her nine-year marriage to Stokowski because of the conductor's lengthy absences from home while on tour.

Income Tax Service At Whitehall Slated

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The U.S. Internal Revenue Service will again provide the maximum number of qualified personnel available to offer the taxpayer public assistance in filing their federal income tax returns for 1954, according to Ronald Keeler, representative of the service whose office is located here.

The Internal Revenue office in the Whitehall city hall will be open from 8:15 a. m. to 12:15 p. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m. Mondays through Fridays from Jan. 10 through Feb. 4. Additional dates during February, March and April will be released later.

All taxpayers should bring with them as complete information as possible in order to receive the best service, Keeler said.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Pheasant Feeder

Two hundred of the pheasant feeders pictured above will be on away at the meeting of the Whitewater Valley Sportsmen's Club at its January meeting in the hall at Elba Monday at 8:30 p.m.

This simple feeder consists of a bag to hold a mixture of grain and grit, and two patent tin slots terminating in cups seen in the picture at each side of the bag. The feed comes out automatically as the birds eat, much like it does from farm chicken and hog feeders.

Made by the Eyr-Kleen Nest Mfg. Co. of Elba, the feeder used experimentally in the Whitewater Refuge and in that section of the Whitewater valley for the last two winters, has just been put on the local market. In the picture James Brenno, 4250 7th St., Goodview, is trying to figure out how it works.

Representatives of the firm will be at the Elba meeting to explain how the feeders are used and tell of its success during the experimental stage. Those securing the free feeders will be asked to make reports of their experiences in feeding. Lunch will be served at the meeting and there will be movies.

Retriever Trials
January all-land trials of the Tri. State Hunting Dog Association will be held on Prairie Island Sunday with the first heats of the puppy and qualifying stake starting at 8:30 a.m. There will be two sets of judges. The open-all-age and derby stakes follow the opening ones.

Entry fees are low. These trials provide an opportunity to keep your dog in condition from one season to the next. Lunch will be served in the quonset.

Meetings
The Winona Boat Club's January meeting will be held in their clubrooms Monday evening. Plans for the coming fishing contest will have top rating in the discussion. There will be lunch and entertainment.

Minnesota City Boat Club's January meeting will be held at the Oaks Wednesday evening. A program of entertainment has been arranged. There will be the usual lunch.

Whitewater Bow Hunters Club, one of the newer organizations in this area, will hold its January meeting in the Legion Club, St. Charles, Wednesday evening. All archers and those interested in this recreation will be welcomed.

Fishing Reports
Favorable weather during the past week has put a lot of fishermen on the ice but their reports indicate that fishing has been spotty. Some have found "hot spots" and come home with limits of sunfish. Northerns have been hit in some of the deeper backwaters.

Lake Pepin fishing continues to be slow, according to reports gathered from fishermen who have tried their luck on the lake, especially at the lower end. Pepin reports fair fishing.

Open water fishing below the dams has been producing some nice sandpike—not large but the right size for good eating. Walleyes have been slow. Dresbach probably has been the best walleye spot.

Fishing Contest
The Badger Sportsmen's Club, La Crosse, will hold its fishing derby on the Lagoon on Sunday, Feb. 13. This is the big La Crosse contest. If the weather is good it draws several thousand persons.

State Rep. Berglund Undergoes Surgery
ST. PAUL (AP)—Rep. Elmer Berglund of Bemidji, who underwent emergency surgery late Thursday, was doing very well today, attendants at Northern Pacific Hospital said.

The operation came after Berglund was stricken earlier Thursday with acute appendicitis. The legislator had a good night, hospital attaches reported.

The legislator's illness threw the division of strength between liberals and conservatives in the House into a 65-65 tie. Berglund caucuses with the liberals.

Ad Alley Pickups

Saturday, January 8, 1955

A brief mention of interesting items about people, business places and campaigns as compiled by The Winona Daily News and department.

Newton L. Goltz of the Goltz Pharmacy announced that his drug store is now the exclusive dealer in Winona for Audiotone hearing aids. The Audiotone features "no tubes, no 'B' batteries, while its exclusive Audiotone Clarifier assures clearer, more comfortable hearing." Goltz's will give free hearing examinations both in the store and in private homes. Audiotone is approved by the American Medical Association. If you want to know more about Audiotone, watch for the ads which are now appearing in The Daily News.

The National Association of Food Chains, a trade organization whose members include most of the country's leading food chains, has established a Good Citizenship award to honor managers of the food chain industry who show civic awareness in their communities. Throughout the country, over 10,000 store or department managers will fill out a questionnaire devised by Columbia University. The 25 per cent who score highest according to a special rating scale will be awarded certificates of Good Citizenship. From among these winners, a final winner will be selected by a group of outstanding citizens. Sounds like an excellent plan! Local stores taking part are the Red Owl and National Tea Co.

All purpose Breeze, which "washes everything" will soon have an area contest with the first prize being a Maytag Supermatic washer, plus many other prizes. Winona area people won't have to compete with the whole nation. The winners will be from this area of Minnesota and Wisconsin. Watch for further news of this contest which will appear in a full page ad in The Daily News January 13.

The nation's menfolk spent 150 million dollars on felt and straw hats in 1954. Frank H. James, president of Hat Corp. of America, declared in a year-end statement. By 1965, James predicted, retailers should be selling 180 million dollars worth of hats per year. The "hatless" fad is dying out, he said, and with a bigger variety of new styles and colors to choose from, men are becoming hat-conscious.

Druggists in the area will be glad to hear that Colgate will advertise its Rapid Shave in The Daily News throughout 1955. Two ads will appear each month. Druggists wishing to run tie-in ads should phone The Daily News advertising department at 3327.

Trade Battle Forecast In Committee Scramble

A first-class scramble is taking place on Capitol Hill for the five new Democratic seats on the House Ways and Means Committee.

Reason is that protectionist-minded Democrats — and there are some — expect the Eisenhower Administration to make a major effort to liberalize U. S. foreign economic policy, including the reciprocal trade program. Membership on the committee, which handles reciprocal trade legislation, would put them in a strong position to make their views felt.

As the new majority party, the Democrats inherit from the Republicans the right to 15 seats on the 25-member committee. First in line for committee openings are representatives with prior committee service who lost their seats in 1953 when control of Congress passed to the Republicans. But of the 15 Democrats who sat on the Ways and Means Committee in 1952, only 11 will be around on Jan. 5 and 10 of them are currently committee members. If the odd man, Rep. Burr P. Harrison (D-Va.), has his way and regains his seat, there still will be four openings.

Republicans have a similar problem, in reverse. They must trim their present majority of 15 to 10. However, the job was simplified by the Nov. 2 election, which elevated two committee members to the Senate (Reps. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska and Thomas E. Martin of Iowa) and removed one from Congress (Rep. Angier L. Goodwin of Massachusetts).

If precedent is followed, the Republicans will meet their quota by dropping their two lowest-ranking members on the committee, Reps. James B. Utt of California and Victor A. Knox of Michigan. Utt voted against the one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act this year, and Knox was paired against. Only other committeemen who opposed the bill was Illinois Republican Noah M. Mason, who was paired against.

Chief stumbling block in the way of aspiring Democratic "protectionists" is Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, who as speaker of the new House will have a big say in 84th Congress committee assignments. Rayburn has taken part in eight previous fights to extend the reciprocal trade law and has said he expects to go along with President Eisenhower's recommendations in 1955. He has even said he would like to see the law made permanent.

Also committed to supporting the Eisenhower proposals is Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman-to-be of the Ways and Means Committee. Cooper has told fellow Democrats he thinks it would be wrong psychologically for them to change any of the President's recommendations.

On the Senate side, it's the Finance Committee which handles reciprocal trade proposals, and the Democrats enjoy the right to an eight-member majority on the 15-man committee. This means they will name two new members — one to succeed Colorado's retiring Edwin C. Johnson and one to achieve a majority. The GOP problem is taken care of by the departure of Sen. Sam W. Reynolds, Nebraskan who was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Hugh Butler and did not run for election.

Whether the changing composition of the Ways and Means and Finance committees will affect the fate of the President's trade proposals remains to be seen. Key 1954 test on reciprocal trade came in the Senate on a move by Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) to substitute the three-year extension first requested by Mr. Eisenhower for the one-year extension which the President later said was satisfactory. Gore's substitute was rejected, 32 to 45, with only Democrats voting for it. Among those voting "No" were all eight Republican members of the Finance Committee. Three Democratic members also were opposed — Walter F. George (Ga.) and Johnson, who voted against, and J. Allen Frear Jr. (Del.), who was paired against.

Indications are President Eisenhower will ask for substantially the same three-year authority to negotiate tariff reductions that he requested in 1954 upon recommendation of his Commission on Foreign Economic Policy — the so-called Randall Commission.

Latest clue to the importance which the President attaches to a more liberal foreign trade policy is his Dec. 17 order regarding the Buy-American Act. The act, which directs the federal government to favor American suppliers in its purchases, has aggravated lower-bidding foreign manufacturers. Under the new order, the price differential favoring domestic producers will be lowered sharply, in some cases from 25 per cent to as little as six per cent. This means that American suppliers whose bids are more than six per cent higher than corresponding foreign bids may lose sales.

While the Democratic victory in November has been hailed as a guarantee of a more liberal trade program, some rough sailing is in store for the Eisenhower proposals. American producers who see a threat in foreign imports will fight for tariff or other protection. For the past two weeks they have been testifying at length before the U. S. Tariff

George Vitt Sends A Letter to Benson

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — The letter which George N. Vitt addressed to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, concerning Wolf Ladejinsky, is a long document of eight pages, typed single space. Apparently, Mr. Vitt has been waiting a long time to get it off his chest. Very little of the letter directly refers to Wolf Ladejinsky. He makes no pretense at having made any investigations concerning Ladejinsky.

The letter starts with an analysis of immigration to this country, an analysis which is strictly unrelated to the facts. For instance, he says: "Most of immigrants coming from Russia before 1900 were members of religious sects who sought (sic) a place for free exercise of their peculiar faith. The Duhobors are a perfect example and their faith is a pagan aberration of Christianity. The Starobors, who crossed themselves with two fingers, were less 'aberrated' but fanatics just the same. These people were for the most part ignorant peasants and their cultural level was not raised as could be expected under the environmental conditions of the U.S.A. and Canada — they are still largely 'peasants'."

BETWEEN 1881 AND 1900, the immigration from Russia, Poland and the Baltic states was not large, from about 10,000 in 1881 to 90,000 in 1900 and increasing constantly. It is not true that most of them were religious refugees or peasants; most of them were middle class persons who escaped from political persecution under the czars. Vitt says: "Immigrants who came from Russia in the period of 1904-5 could be called draft evaders during the Russo-Japanese War — traitors to their country in spite of the fact that that war was unpopular in Russia. A great many of that wave were Jews. No matter how much that war was hated in Russia, those who stayed to fight the Japanese had mostly contempt for the deserters. These were also largely from the lower and peasant classes."

The immigration from Russia did increase during 1904-5. But the rate of increase was not startling: 107,000 in 1904; 136,000 in 1905; 145,000 in 1906; 184,000 in 1907. Draft evasion therefore was not the cause of the immigration; the cause was the oppressive conditions of life in Russia leading to revolution. Curiously, Vitt is altogether wrong about what happened in 1919 and since then. In 1919 and 1920, together, only 3,000 Russians came to this country. The highest immigration since then was in 1923 with only 21,000 immigrants. (Source for figures: Historical Statistics of the United States 1789-1945, Bureau of Census.)

Commission on imports from Japan, with which the State Department hopes to conclude a reciprocal trade agreement next year. When the administration's over-all proposals go to Congress, witnesses are expected to testify against them.

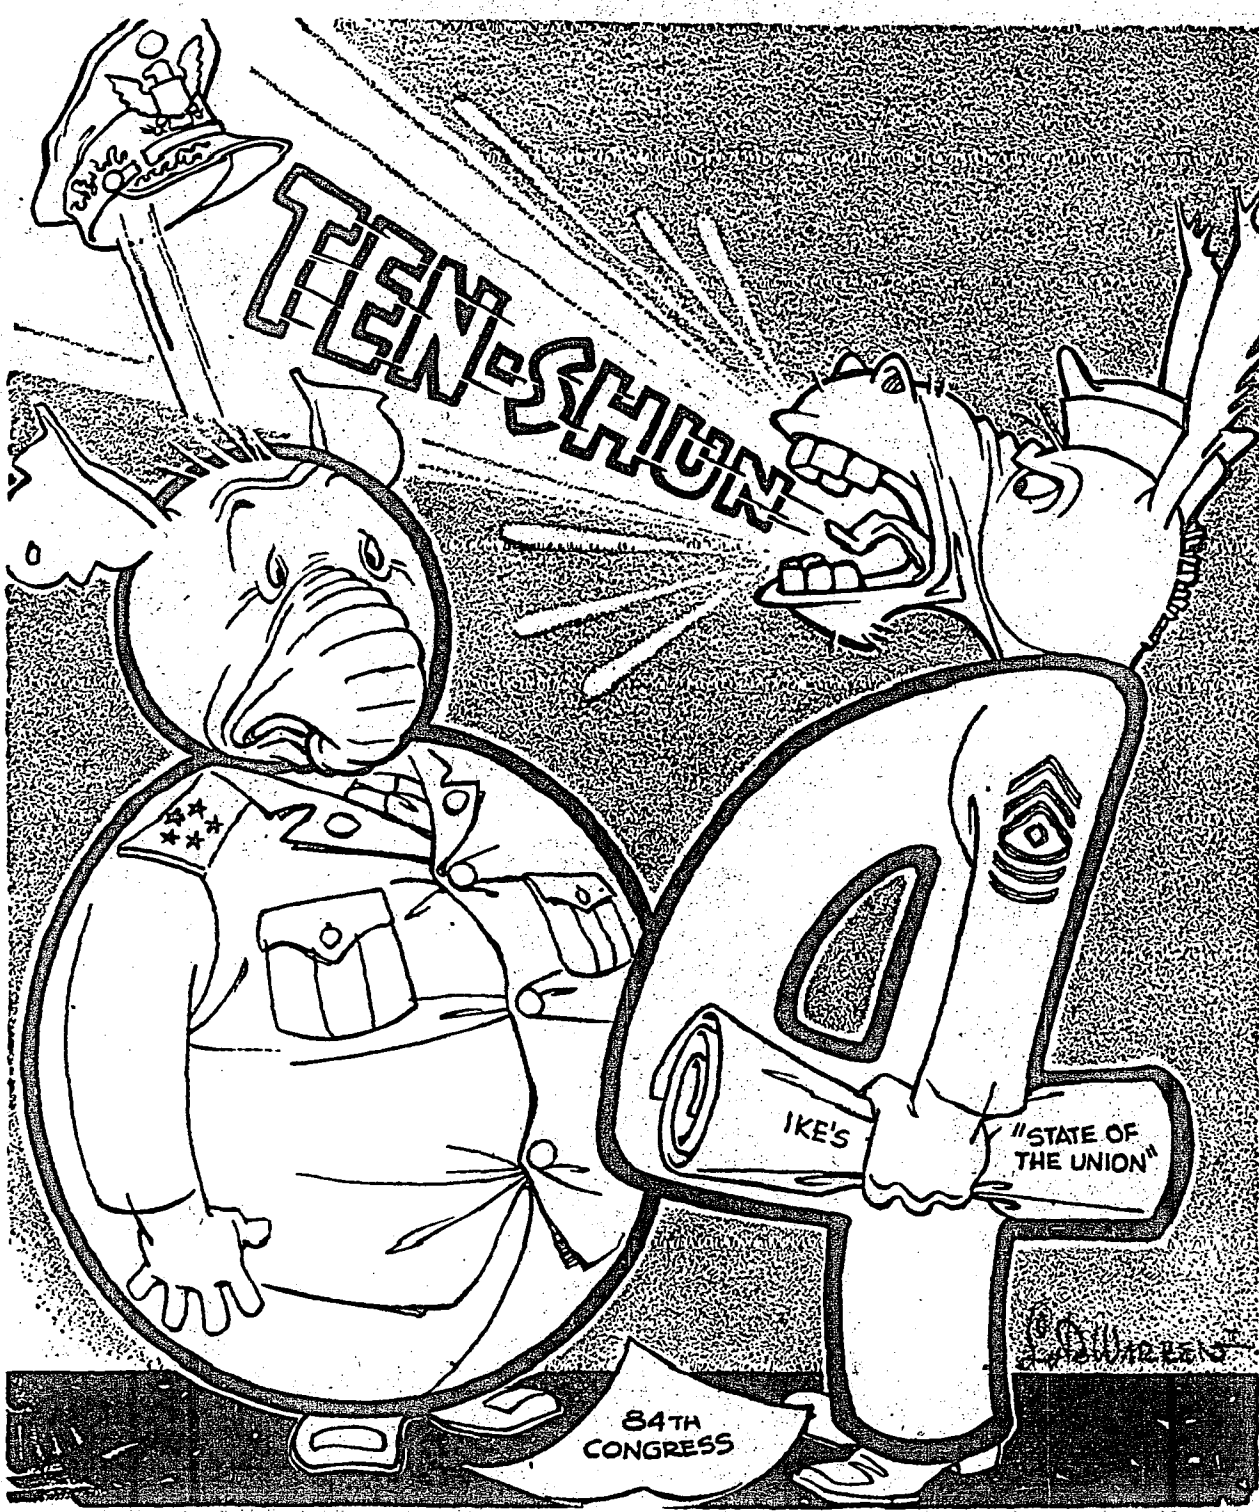

Since Congress first passed the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act in 1934, the law has had a stormy history. Generally, Democrats have favored it and Republicans have opposed it, but in the 84th Congress, sectional as well as partisan differences will emerge. Rhode Island and West Virginia are examples of states which, although represented by Democratic senators, have suffered economic injury which they blame on imports.

In the 20 years since 1934, American imports for consumption rose from some $2 billion to almost $11 billion in value. While the duties collected on these imports also increased, their ratio to the value of imports declined, from 18.4 per cent in 1934 to 5.6 per cent in 1953. Rising world prices had much to do with this decline. But the reciprocal trade agreements negotiated during the period are credited with — or blamed for — as much as half of the decline.

Democrats Hear Rayburn Attack GOP Muckraking

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When veteran Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio opened the secret Republican caucus this week, he said with a chuckle: "I do not have a schedule of procedure. However, when the Democrats completed their caucus in this chamber a few hours ago, they perhaps inadvertently left a copy of their agenda behind them. Maybe we should adopt it here as a gesture of good will. We have to get along with these fellows for the next two years."

Brown would hardly have suggested following the Democrats had he known what transpired at the opposition caucus. There "Mr. Sam" Rayburn of Texas — the "Mr. Big" of the House of Representatives — unloosed some pent-up steam which had been bothering him, as well as many other Democrats, for some time.

"The country must come first," the new speaker proclaimed. "On issues affecting the national security the President can expect and will get our support."

"However," continued Rayburn, "we Democrats cannot forget some of the tactics employed by the President's own party in the last campaign, the reckless smearing of Democrats as alleged traitors, with which the President saw fit to identify himself."

Rayburn specifically singled out Vice President Nixon as the bellwether of these attacks. But he also pinned responsibility on Eisenhower. The President, he said, had first contended he hadn't read Nixon's statement in the newspapers. Later he praised Nixon for doing a "great job" in the last campaign.

In my estimation, that makes Eisenhower a party to these unwarranted attacks on our patriotism," Rayburn told the secret caucus. "I'm of a forgiving nature, but I cannot forgive or forget the nasty aspersions that were hurled on my party by some people high in the councils of the Republican party."

"Attacks on our loyalty, as Americans, are far beyond the normally accepted tactics in a political campaign," said the man who has served longer consecutively in Congress than anyone else. "The last campaign marked an all-time low for gutter politics and political muckraking."

No More Pearl Harbors

Rayburn further told the closed-door session that with the world "sitting on the edge of a precipice," Democrats in Congress would give no support to GOP efforts to balance the federal budget "at the sacrifice of an adequate national defense."

"I hate to pay taxes the same as everyone else, including the New York bankers who are preaching about a balanced budget at a time when our democratic economy is threatened by the deadliest foreign enemy we have ever faced," said Mr. Sam.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, he recalled, pleaded in vain for sufficient defense funds prior to World War II.

"That war eventually cost us a bout $400,000,000,000," Rayburn continued, "whereas the expenditure of a few more billions earlier might have prevented the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor."

"The same is true today," concluded the speaker. "Even though it throws the budget out of balance, we must spare no defense spending to make our nation so strong that no predatory dictator or international pirate will dare attack us."

Spotless Governor

Unlike some Washington bureaucrats, the governor of Puerto Rico is not opposed to taking a suggestion from the press.

Last month this column reported: "Mystery surrounds the reason why General Motors continues to be the highest bidder and get contracts. Despite that. Recently, Puerto Rico asked bid on 50 buses. Lowest bid was made by Mack

A Sweater, 'Mikes' Give Hope Trouble

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—Between telephone calls, Bob Hope relaxed and talked of the triumphs and tribulations of entertaining huge crowds in gyms, airplane hangars and baseball parks.

He had lately returned from Greenland, where he filmed a TV show which you will see Sunday night. Hope, Bill Holden, Anita Ekberg (the smorgasbord Marilyn Monroe), and other members of his troupe, reached Thule, 600 miles from the North Pole, at 11 a.m., the day before New Year's.

At 3 p.m., they did a show before 2,500 Air Force men in a gymnasium. Miss Ekberg wore a tight sweater which brought so many howls and whistles the lines were completely lost in the noise. For the evening show, which was filmed, Hope ordered a costume change. That's why you won't see the sweater.

They went on again that night at 8:30, played right through midnight and took off at 1:30 a.m. On the way back, they landed in a swirling snowstorm at Goose Bay, Nfld., and performed for 2,000 men in a hangar where the heating system was so noisy it had to be turned off. Hope reached New York elated but sniffling.

As he told about the trip, he was continually interrupted by the phone. Hope answered the calls in a variety of accents—British, French, Viennese and several couldn't place—and a variety of jokes. But in less than an hour he had promised to call at least two dozen people back.

To one friend on the phone, he said "Why don't you give yourself up to go to Bellevue (the mental ward)? They're holding an outside suite for you."

We talked about the times Hope almost "died" or "laid a 'big bomb' before large audiences."

"About four years ago I did a big July Fourth show before 175,000 people in a park at Buffalo," he recalled. "They haven't heard a line yet. The Mike went dead. I pounded it. I soft-shoe danced, I screamed. But only about 100 people heard me."

At Cleveland, his home town once gave him a big day at the ball park. Some 80,000 people, he recalls, were in the stadium. He got a big introduction and a big ovation as he approached the mike.

"That public address system may be fine for baseball announcers," he said, "but it laid a big egg for me. Just as I was doing the punch line, the straight line was reaching the crowd. It was so bad my relatives were grumbling that I must have been stealing the money all these years."

Once, during the war, he was playing a small provincial town in Australia. Material which had proved sure-fire elsewhere for the comic was now laying a monumental egg.

"When that happens," he said, "you get worried, of course, but you don't get panicky. You try to diagnose the trouble. In this case, in this little place in Australia, I simply broadened the humor and it worked."

The gag which won the Australians over was: "I stopped in Brisbane and saw a woman standing in the rain. She had her dress up over her head. I said, 'Madame, you're getting your legs all wet.' She said, 'What do I care? My legs are 50 years old but my hat is brand new.'"

We talked about writers. Hope now employs five for his TV shows and two for radio. He used to have 13 writers for a half-hour radio show. Each man wrote for the same scenes. Then they would all assemble and read their competing material before each other. Hope would make the selections.

Crime News Escape For Average Reader

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK — Half the jurors in the murder trial of Sam Sheppard retired to the jury room convinced the osteopath was innocent. On the first ballot half of them were ready to vote him not guilty of the murder of his wife.

Five days later they voted unanimously to convict him. Today the defense is demanding a new trial, charging that Sam was tried for indiscretions of which he is guilty but convicted for murder of which he is innocent. Here we go again.

To me it is not quite understandable, the emphasis we give to what might be a single crime of passion while without protest we let known sex criminals run loose in our cities.

"Known sex offenders are being rounded up!" That headline turns my stomach. It follows within minutes every hideous crime against some woman or some child. If they are "known sex criminals," what are they doing loose?

Law enforcement officials have told me that two types of criminal always come back. The narcotics addict and the sex fiend.

Just as surely as they are released from custody, you can bet some decent cop will have to risk his life to drag them in again. Yet, while these criminals somehow find parole so convenient, you take a thing like this Cleveland case and the public is ready to organize a lynching party.

You know why? I think it's not just the incongruity of such a crime which captures public attention.

There was a very similar killing in Indianapolis and a very similar court trial at the same time which nobody noticed outside Indianapolis.

I think maybe the reason there was so much beauty-parlor gossip about Tulsa's Grandma Nannie Doss and her spectacular coffee recipe.

And the reason Sam Sheppard is still on Page One today.

I think maybe it's an escape for us. An escape for Americans turning away from the far more hideous crime of abandoning 537 American servicemen known to be in Red China dungeons and slave camps.

Americans, at this moment, are grasping for some readily comprehensible, awful thing about which they can say, "tsk, tsk . . ."

We need desperately to divert our own attention from our own criminal negligence, and it takes a pretty bloody mess to accomplish that.

But, by focusing our attention hard on the Tulsa grandmother and the Cleveland osteopath, we can do it.

We can turn our backs on that frightful, frustrating, heartsearing, clinically vile situation in Asia.

I wonder sometimes if our puny legal processes will agree with the Good Lord's final judgment . . . As to whose soiled hands wore the more livid stain.

Panama President's Brother Takes Over Hunt for Slayers

PANAMA (AP)—The younger brother of assassinated President Jose Antonio Remon has been tapped for the job as government minister in Panama's Cabinet to take over the six-day-old hunt for the slayers.

President Jose Ramon Guizado, who was sworn into office shortly after his predecessor was machine-gunned to death last Sunday, was expected to announce the appointment of Alejandro Remon to the key cabinet post later today. The government minister controls the National Guard, Panama's only armed force, and the nation's secret police.

The younger Remon, 45, is head of the National Revolutionary party and a member of the National Assembly.

Despite the continuing nation-wide hunt for the slayers no major developments were reported.

The dead chief executive, popular longtime strongman of Panama, was shot as he chatted with friends in the brilliantly lighted pavilion at the Juan Franco Race Track, four miles from this city. Two other men were killed and three wounded.

Advice on Health

Pneumonia Has Cure, Cold Hasn't

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Patient: "I've got a cold, doctor. Can you cure it?"

Doctor: "No. But come back again when you get pneumonia. I can cure that."

Now I'm sure no doctor ever offered this kind of advice, but this "joke," which most of you have undoubtedly heard, does illustrate a medical phenomenon: We can't cure colds, but in most cases we can cure pneumonia.

I don't mean to imply that pneumonia is a joking matter. It's a serious illness. Sometimes it's fatal, but fortunately not as frequently as it once was.

Lobar pneumonia, for example, took the life of every fourth person it attacked only a generation ago. Today modern medicines have cut that toll to less than one death in every 20 cases.

Attacks Lungs

Lobar pneumonia is a disease which attacks the lungs. It is caused by bacteria and usually hits in late winter or early spring. It strikes the young, strong and healthy persons as well as the aged.

In children, it strikes both sexes with equal vigor. But 70 per cent of the adult victims are men. Negroes seem to be especially susceptible.

The disease almost always follows a cold. That's an important thing to remember.

You're courting pneumonia if you've got a cold and work too hard, stay out late at night, become chilled or are soaked by a cold rain.

If you notice a severe chill, a sharp pain in your chest, a hacking cough, and have difficulty breathing, have a flushed face and a fever, you'd better call your doctor right away—Go to bed immediately. Your room must be ventilated, but not cold.

Conserve Your Strength

The person caring for you must keep you quiet and comfortable. You will have to change your position in bed often. But have your nurse move you. You must conserve all your strength.

Your nurse should wear an apron which covers her dress completely. She must wash her hands thoroughly each time she touches you or comes near you. You can't have any visitors.

You'll have to drink a lot of fluids, about three to five pints each day. You can have fruit juices with water, coffee or tea or other sweetened drinks.

One more important thing: Keep on your spirits and maintain a determination to get well.

A physician armed with penicillin and sulfa drugs can probably cure you quickly if you summon him in time. But call him immediately. Don't wait until tomorrow. That may be too late.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

E. L. W.: Would would cause numbness in the hands?

Answer: The numbness in the hands may be due to a number of different conditions; first of all, poor circulation, disturbance in the blood vessels in the hands, as in Raynaud's disease, or disturbance in the nerves supplying the affected parts.

San Francisco Mint Goes Out of Business

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After more than a century of money-making which ranged from $20 gold pieces to copper pennies, the San Francisco mint is going out of business. Its plant is outmoded and its hilltop location prevents expansion.

Annual Meetings Set by Churches For Coming Week

Many Winona churches conduct annual meetings during January, electing officers, setting budgets and in general inaugurating a new fiscal and spiritual year.

Tuesday night Lakeside Congregational elected Carl Stalknecht, chairman of the congregation succeeding the late Oscar Tillman. Re-elected were Mrs. F. W. Kukowski, secretary; Miss Violet Mann, treasurer; Edgar Norman Sr., trustee for three years; Robert Tillman, Earl Holly and Harry Johnson, deacons for one year, and their wives deaconesses for a year.

Miss Darlene Johnson, Betty Lundstrom, Oscar Lindstrom, Katherine Tillman and Mrs. Carl Stalknecht were named to the music committee and Stalknecht, Edward Norman Jr., George Forster and Russell Johnson, ushers.

The Sunday School department will be headed by Robert Tillman, who was re-elected superintendent, Miss Darlene Johnson, assistant replacing Oscar Lindstrom; Mrs. Everett Duncanson, secretary; Mrs. Robert Tillman, assistant secretary, and Miss Judith Stalknecht, treasurer. The Rev. Benjamin Lundstrom is pastor.

Faith Lutheran's annual meeting will be Sunday afternoon following a congregational dinner at noon. Hostesses are Mrs. Harold Brieseth and Mrs. Albert Thiele.

At St. Martin's Lutheran the annual meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday after a congregational dinner.

A similar meeting will be held at St. Matthew's Lutheran with a potluck supper starting at 6:30 p.m. Monday. The Rev. G. A. Horn, Chasburg, Wis., will be the featured speaker.

Two business sessions will be held Thursday night following 6:30 p.m. suppers. First Congregational will celebrate its 100th annual business meeting then. First Baptist Church will hold a bi-monthly business session.

The Church of Christ, West Broadway and South Baker street, will conduct annual business at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. A 6 p.m. potluck supper will precede the parley.

A lay delegate will be selected tonight by the Evangelical United Brethren Church at a conference presided over by Dr. H. E. Hiller, superintendent of the Southeast District of the Minnesota EUB Conference. The annual meeting will be Jan. 16.

Calvary Free Church's annual meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

St. Mary's Brothers To Attend Meetings

Brother J. Ambrose, FSC, president of St. Mary's College, and Brother Julius, FSC, dean of studies, will be in Washington, D. C., next week to attend a series of meetings.

Monday they will attend the executive meeting of the National Catholic Education Association. Tuesday, the association of the American Conference of Academic Deans, and Wednesday and Thursday the Association of American Colleges.

FARM TALK AT MABEL

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — W. P. Drechsel, Mabel vocational agricultural instructor, announced that a talk on "Making Quality Concrete and its Uses for Farm Construction" will be given by Vince J. Meyers, Minneapolis, at the Mabel High School agriculture building Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Pastors Conference Planned at St. Paul

ST. PAUL—Dr. Howard Thurman, Boston, will head the list of speakers for the 23rd annual Minnesota pastors conference here Jan. 24-26.

Named one of the 12 outstanding preachers in the U.S. in 1933, Dr. Thurman is currently dean of Marsh Chapel and professor at Boston University.

Sponsored by the Minnesota Council of Churches, the meeting is considered one of the major interdenominational conferences for clerics in the nation. It will be held this year at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Among other distinguished teachers for the conference will be Dr. Winthrop S. Hudson, professor of the history of Christianity at Colgate-Rochester Seminary; Dr. James S. Chubb, Grand Island, Neb., who is noted for his practical application of Christianity to everyday problems; Dr. Robert Mortvedt, president of Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kan.; the Rev. Gerson Engelmann, pastor of United Protestant Church, Park Forest, Ill., and Dr. F. Olin Stockwell, former Methodist missionary to China.

The meeting is expected to bring more than 500 pastors to St. Paul from all parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

St. Olaf College Choir Here Jan. 29

The St. Olaf Lutheran Choir of Northfield, Minn., will give a concert in the Senior High School auditorium Jan. 29 at 8:15 p.m., according to Dr. R. L. Lokensgard, local manager for the concert.

The choir will sing in Winona after a lapse of 25 years since their last concert here. The concert will be part of the winter tour which is being made preliminary to the European tour to commence in May.

The membership of the choir is virtually the same as that of last year, giving the same students the opportunity of singing together for two years. This raises the standard of the choir to the pinnacle of its perfection.

The choir was founded in 1903 by Dr. F. Melius Christiansen, who had been trained in the chorale schools of Germany. In 1920 the choir began its nationwide tours winning great acclaim from the music critics of the largest cities of America. It has made several previous tours abroad winning the same recognition in the largest European music centers. Its founder and choir have been pioneers in the field of composition and rendition of choral music, so that it has become famous not only in churches but in schools and with secular choral groups.

Dr. Olaf Christiansen has succeeded his father as director, carrying on the same techniques and perfection for which the organization has been known during the past 50 years.

The concert will be sponsored by the Brotherhood of Central Lutheran Church and St. Olaf College alumni. Tickets are on sale at the Edstrom Music Store and the Edwin Buck Camera Shop.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE (West Sanborn and Main)

Keynoting the lesson-sermon entitled, "Sacrament," is the golden text from John 4:23: "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be read (22:1-3): "Blessed are the pure in heart: For they shall see God."
Scriptural selections include the Beatitudes, the Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5:8): "Blessed are the pure in heart: For they shall see God."
A great step towards the joys of spiritual life is the attainment of the spiritual law of love and the law of truth.

Nytaarsgjodt, A Traditional Scandinavian celebration came to Winona this holiday season. In previous years yulebaking became well known—Christmas visiting by friends dressed in hilarious costume who go from home to home. Christmas goodies are distributed and members of the family join the group to call at still other homes during the evening. Yulebak is literally translated "Christmas buck" and the New Year's round of visits, Nytaarsgjodt is translated "New Year's goat." In the group in the picture at the left, calling New Year's Eve at the home of Mrs. T. W. Murray who is at the left in front, are left to right, Mrs. Melvin Wedul, Dr. H. O. Lois Bess Wed In Ceremony At St. Martin's Christmas trees formed the background Dec. 28 for the wedding of Miss Lois Bess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bess, 521 E. Wabasha St., and Carrol R. Rislove, Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Feder Rislove, Rushford, Minn.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. G. Hoffmann at 1:30 p.m. at St. Martin's Lutheran Church. Emanuel Arndt, church organist, played Sassmannshausen's "Marche Nuptiale" as the processional and "Marche Triomphale" as the recessional, and also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. W. G. Hoffmann, who sang "Take Thou My Hand and Lead Me" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white lace over bridal satin made with mandarin collar, long sleeves and full skirt. Her veil fell from a crown of lace and pearls, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white chrysanthemums, pompons, stephanotis and ivy. Her gift from the bridegroom was a gold cross.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Abraham, as matron of honor, and the Misses Lorraine Kassulke and Irma Shoenike as bridesmaids. Their gowns of cracked-ice white were made with mandarin collars, three-quarter-length sleeves and full skirts worn over hoops. Their flowers were cascade arrangements of red carnations and pine tied with red ribbon, and they wore white gloves, gifts of the bride.

The flower girl, Susan Abraham, niece of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Abraham, wore a floor-length dress made similar to the older attendants, and carried a colonial bouquet of red carnations.

Attending the bridegroom was Kenneth Abraham, best man. Ray Albrecht and Allen Rislove were ushers.

Mothers of the couple wore navy ensembles with corsages of red carnations.

A reception for 150 guests was held at St. Martin's School auditorium where Christmas decorations were again used. Serving were the Misses Joan Fifelet and Betty Schoenike and the Misses George Somers and Harold Bender. Mrs. Donald Streuber and Mrs. Doris Schoenike had charge of the gifts and Mrs. Robert Albrecht Jr. took care of the guest book. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Robert Albrecht Sr., served the wedding cake. In charge of the kitchen were Miss Otha Ziebell, Mrs. Carl Buerman, Mrs. Bertha Bono and Miss Esther Schmidt.

The bride has been employed as secretary to the superintendent of public schools, and the bridegroom, graduate of the Winona State Teachers College, is employed as an instructor in the Minneapolis public schools.

Showers for the bride-elect were given by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bono, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zaborowski at the former's home, by Mrs. William Silsbee, by the Misses Lorraine Kassulke and Irma Schoenike at the latter's home and by Mrs. Robert Albrecht Sr. and Mrs. Kenneth Abraham at the former's home. The bride-elect was also honored by Winona Senior High School faculty, the office staff, and Circle P of St. Martin's Church.

Nuptial Mass Celebrated by Bride's Brother

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—A hurried trip from British Honduras enabled the Rev. Francis Ring to read the nuptial Mass for his sister, Miss Phoebe Ann Ring and John B. Kann at St. Peter and Paul Church, Mazepa, Dec. 28 at 11:30 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ring, Lake City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Rosella Kann, Goodhue, and Bernard Kann, Red Wing. The Dominican nuns of Plainview sang the Mass, Christmas greens and poinsettias were used in the chancel and on the altar.

Mrs. Robert F. Carlston, Minneapolis; Miss Janet Kann, Goodhue, and Miss Margaret Ring attended the bride. The flower girl was Roberta Carlston, Minneapolis, and the ringbearer, James Kann, Goodhue.

The best man was Robert Carlston, Minneapolis. Groomsmen were Arley Hendricks, Goodhue, and Reno Kehren, Capt. Kenneth Ring, Lawton, Okla., and Richard Meyer, Oak Center, ushered. Bruce and Steven Carlston were train bearers.

For her marriage the bride wore a gown of white velvet, floor length, in princess style. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, nylon and tulle yoke and long sleeves. Her veil of imported silk illusion net was edged with Chantilly lace. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, earrings and bracelet, gifts of the bridegroom. The bride carried a shower bouquet of red roses.

The attendants and flower girl wore similar dresses in holly green taffeta with net overskirts, fitted bodices and velvet sashes and chokers trimmed with rhinestones. Their green velvet pillbox hats were trimmed with rhinestones and net and they carried red and white carnations.

A dinner for 80 guests was given by the bride's parents and a reception was held at their home during the afternoon. The rooms were decorated with Christmas greens.

Assisting at the dinner were the Misses Richard Smith, Leonard Kries, Murray Jones, B. F. Darcy, Frank Almetzer, Steven Befort and Roy Schafer. Oils by Midwest Artists in Display At Public Library

Ten oil paintings all done by midwest artists and purchased for the permanent collection of the Minneapolis Institute of Arts are on display in the Bell Art Room of the Winona Public Library through the month of January.

All of the paintings were selected and purchased from the annual local artists exhibitions held each year at the Minneapolis Institute.

Bernard Arnest who is particularly noted for sensitive use of color, for both realistic and abstract composition, is represented in the exhibit with his painting "Bright Street."

Mr. Arnest, assistant professor of art at the University of Minnesota, has exhibited regularly at the Kraushaar Galleries in New York City and in many national competitions.

"Store Front" was painted by Syd Fossum, instructor of art at the Des Moines Art Center. Mr. Fossum, former instructor at the Minneapolis School of Art, is well represented in all Twin Cities exhibit halls and museums.

A former instructor at the University of Minnesota, Raymond Parker is represented with his major work to date, "Industrial Implements." Now residing in New York, Mr. Parker has been featured at the Museum of Modern Art in one of a series of "new talent" exhibitions. His work won first prize in the annual local artists exhibition at the Minneapolis Institute in 1948 and 1949.

"Beaver Bay" was painted by Eloy Wedin, a popular and well-known midwest artist, whose work has been exhibited in virtually every local artists exhibition for the past 20 years.

The painting, "St. Thomas," was done by a St. Paul artist, Paul Kramer, who has exhibited his clear and precise landscapes in many city and state exhibitions in recent years.

"Idle Boats," a prize winner in the 1953 local artists exhibition at the Minneapolis Institute, was painted by Leroy Neiman, a former student at the Minneapolis School of Art, and now instructor at the Art Institute of Chicago.

"Some Patterns of Culture," recalling a view of America from the air, was done by one of Minnesota's better known abstract artists, John Anderson.

Another Minnesota artist, Robert Kilbride, reflects his two years spent on a scholarship in Paris in his "Paris Street." A graduate of the Minneapolis School of Art, Mr. Kilbride is a well-known artist in Minneapolis, and has received some recognition in the national press.

Eric Austen Erickson who paints with Mr. Kilbride at the Kilbride-Bradley Studio, has "City on the Water" included in the exhibit.

The first prize winner in this year's local artists exhibition at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts is also included in the exhibit at the public library. Julia Pearl, painter of the prize-winning "The Sisters," is an instructor at the Minneapolis School of Art. She has won numerous prizes at the Minneapolis Institute's biennial exhibition of prints and drawings.

Program numbers to be presented by Clair Leonard, pianist and composer, at St. Mary's College Monday at 8 p. m., were announced today. Mr. Leonard is appearing in a piano recital of improvisations.

The program will be as follows: Suite in B-flat major—Sarabande—Minuet—Gigue—Four Biblical Portraits—Moses—David—John—Peter—Four Portraits of Women—Marie Antoinette—Madame Curie—Marie Dietrich—Mrs. Roosevelt—Three Medals—Whimsy—Complaint—Ritual—Chaconne in D minor—Largo.

State's Education Opportunities to Be Local BPW Club Panel Topic

A panel discussion on "Education in the State of Minnesota" with Glen Fishbaugh, director of the Phelps School, serving as moderator, will be the highlight of the program planned for the January meeting of the Winona Business and Professional Women Tuesday. The dinner will be served at 8:15 p. m. in the parlors of First Congregational Church.

Devotions preceding the dinner will be given by Miss Adele H. Kressin. Music will be furnished by the music department of Winona Senior High School.

Members of the education and vocation committee are in charge of the program with Miss Mildred Bartsch serving as chairman, and Miss Louisa Farmer and Miss Esther Bach, as members. Miss Farmer will give a short report on the public schools. Mrs. James Werra on adult education in Minnesota, and Miss Bartsch on the non-public school, with discussion following during which Mr. Fishbaugh will serve as moderator and consultant.

Plans will be made for the club participation in a bake sale to be held in connection with the March of Dimes auction late in January.

Miss Verlie Sather, president of the club, will attend the January state board meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs to be held in Minneapolis Jan. 15 and 16.

Mrs. D. B. McLaughlin, state health and safety chairman for the organization, will be in charge of one of the workshop meetings Jan. 15. Other members of the club including Miss Bartsch, education and vocation chairman; home Tuesday at 8 p. m.

VFW Auxiliary Votes $5 to March of Dimes
At the business meeting of the Auxiliary to Neville-Lien Post 1287, VFW, held Wednesday evening with the president, Mrs. John Thompson, presiding, General Orders 7 were read by the secretary, Miss Bertha Miller. Members also were invited to meet the national president, Mrs. Agnes Holz, who will visit the Department of Minnesota, Feb. 1 and 2.

National Veterans of Foreign Wars week will be observed Jan. 23 to 29. The quarterly audit report was given by Mrs. E. W. Evans, trustee.

The sum of five dollars was voted to the March of Dimes. Following the meeting, lunch was served by Mrs. Frank Theis, chairman; Mrs. Helen Lilla and Mrs. Fred Meska. Games followed with prizes going to Mrs. Phillip Hicks in schafkopf and Mrs. Katherine Stanislawski in buncio. A social meeting will be held Jan. 19.

It's Never Too Early in the feminine mind for the new season's fashions and first glimpse locally brought the above models. Left to right standing, Mrs. Roger Schneider models a long-bodied, white polka-dotted navy jumper and carries a scarlet chiffon handkerchief scarf for accent. Mrs. Everett Edstrom appears in a Javanese-like diagonal print frock in dark olive, gold and cream, with side-wrapped bodice and full skirt, and Miss Ruth Jordan in a narrow-striped blue and white shirtwaist frock with rhinestone buttons in a line down its placketed front. Seated left to right are Miss Pauline Phillips in a lavender-checked cotton with lace ruffles down its tucked-bosomed waist, and pleated skirt, and Mrs. Mark Kolter in a pink linen suit with wide, buttoned-on white cuffs. Fashions for Coming Seasons In First Show Flowers, birds and gay new colors and lines presaged spring and parasols and cottons cast the shadow of summer at the first fashion preview of 1955, presented in three showings Friday at the H. Choate & Co. store.

Mrs. Marilyn Michael, fashion consultant for Nelly Don, nationally-known designer, whose spring offerings were being presented, was commentator for the show following her introduction by C. A. Choate, vice president of the H. Choate & Co.

Gingham, pique, iridescent chambray vied with moiré, linen, silk and acetate in frocks and suits for wear through the spring and hot summer days and even some models for wear under winter coats now. Lines offered the similar choices—slim or full skirts, brief or three-quarter full sleeves, scoop necks or high collars, fitted or full shirtwaist blouses.

Lavender checks made a demure schoolgirl shirtwaist frock with lace down its tucked blouse front. A pattern insert of stripes simulated lace insertion in the skirt. Huge pearl earrings and an ombre purple parasol completed a smart daytime ensemble.

Slim stripes in blue or gray marked a soft silk-like acetate with clinging straight lines, band collar and masculine shirt band closing made feminine with rhinestone buttons.

Pale pink cotton in wide-skirted model had lines of tucking encircling the skirt and repeated on the collar. A boldly-checked, red and white sheer gingham was accented with narrow navy lines and brown-striped gingham offered a border pattern of checks ingeniously used at neckline rather than at the hem.

An afternoon frock of cotton wrapped to the side as to bodice and with full skirt appeared in a Javanese print of dark olive, gold and cream and also in deep red, navy and off-white. Large polka dots marked a long-torsoed jumper in either sharp navy or softened charcoal.

Brown and white checks fashioned a sun-back frock with brown velvet bow in front and embroidered bolero and a full-skirted pink or orchid (take your choice) frock boasted a collar made up entirely of nylon lace ruffles.

A small-checked gingham fashioned a crisp red and white and also a blue and white frock and navy, blue and rose offered a tapestried patterned cotton in a late-day dress.

Navy silk shantung appeared in a sheath dress with high, narrow cowl collar caught with a rhinestone pin and in a smart suit. Rich cream raw silk fashioned a short-jacketed belted suit accessorized with olive green and linen made two appearances, in yellow and in pink, in a suit with buttoned-on, white cavalier cuffs.

Models were the Misses Pauline Phillips and Ruth Jordan and the Misses Mark Kolter, Everett Edstrom, Roger Schneider, Wilbur Helzer and Howard Clark.

and 10 of 14 free throws. Austin used three men out and Olson and Lightly up front. Lightly attempted 13 shots, made none, but had 10 of 13 free throws. The Hawks used a 1-3-1 zone to combat the big-man threat, but Austin's guards, Tony Maus and Terry Meyer along with Halverson, helped keep Winona honest with some timely outside shooting.

Next game for the Winhawks is Wednesday night at Memorial Hall against Cochrane in the annual Winona March of Dimes classic.

Dave Sebo Gets Only Pin, Three End in Draws

AUSTIN, Minn. — The Winona High wrestling team opened its post-holiday season with a convincing 26-12 victory over Austin here Friday afternoon.

A number of features highlighted the victory by the Mississippi River matmen.

Winona, in winning the opening four bouts, held Austin without a single point in those matches. Frank Lassen won 2-0, John DeLonger took his event 4-0, Dick Waite scored a 2-0 victory and Roger Williamson grabbed a 7-0 win.

Three matches—those of the 133, 138 and 165-pound divisions—ended in draws. Winona only lost two A squad matches. On the other hand, the Hawks' Dave Sebo claimed the only fall of the night when he pinned Austin's Ulland at 5:29 in the 145-pound division.

Winona's other inner was heavyweight Jim Blake who defeated Meyer of Austin 2-0 in a hard fought struggle.

Austin gained a small measure of revenge for what was to happen by defeating Winona's B squad 32-13 in the preliminary of the day.

Three Hawk junior varsity grapplers were victorious. Brown, 127, and heavyweight Huff scored falls and Hefman won a 5-2 decision.

Elgin, Kellogg, St. Felix Win Independent Tilts

WABASHA — St. Felix, Mazepa and Elgin were independent prep basketball teams scoring victories Friday night.

Coach Ken Kalbrenner's St. Felix Yellowjackets turned the tables on Maiden Rock by taking a 56-39 decision at Wabasha, while Mazepa defeated Kellogg 63-52 in overtime and Elgin outscored Holy Trinity of Rollingstone 65-50.

St. Felix had lost a 71-58 game earlier in the season at Maiden Rock. Dick Harano and Wayne Pinoneau led the Yellowjackets to their revenge-winning triumph.

Harano had 18 points, 12 on free throws, while Pinoneau hooped eight field goals for 26 points from the pivot spot. Dick Balow added nine for the winners. Top scorer for Maiden Rock was Junior Andrews with 18 points.

St. Felix' B team won its first game of the season, 28-24 in the preliminary.

Don Behrens scored 30 points and Dick Mast 22 as Vic Grabau's Elgin Watchmen toppled Holy Trinity. Behrens now has 68 points in his last two games. Top scorers for Holy Trinity were Andersen and Leonard with 12 apiece, and Kalmes with 11.

Rollingstone won the preliminary game . . . the scorebooks show the Kellogg-Mazepa game in overtime.

The scorebook showed Kellogg ahead by 51-50 at the end of regulation time but according to a recount, the score was actually 50-50.

Mazepa outscored Kellogg in the extra session 13-2 to take the win. Dean Kukinski scored 17 and Don Peters 14 for Kellogg, but they relinquished the evening's honors to Mazepa's Windhorst who made 31 points on eight field goals and 15 free throws . . . Summerfield added 12 for Mazepa.

NBA Disallows Celtic Protest

NEW YORK (AP) — President Maurice Podoloff of the National Basketball Assn. today disallowed a protest by the Boston Celtics in a 101-99 loss to Minneapolis last Dec. 8.

The Celtics had claimed the final two points—free throws by Vern Mikkelsen of the Lakers—were not valid because they came on a foul committed after the game ended.

Podoloff upheld Referee Sid Borgia who had ruled Mikkelsen was entitled to his two shots. The league president said it was a question of the referee's judgment and that after hearing evidence he was not inclined to overrule the official.

Nelson's 'B' Squad

When basketball fans in the Bi-County League speak of Nelson's "B" squad, they are referring to one of two commodities—either the Nelson preliminary team or a trio of varsity performers whose last names all begin with the letter "B."

The triple-tandem offense of Coach Paul Rosandich's Nelsonites wheels around the scoring of Richard Bautsch, Paul Breutzman and Glen Brommer.

Bautsch, a sophomore center, had a 19.9 average going into Friday night's game . . . Although Nelson stubbed its toe at Plum City 75-60, Bautsch collected 26 points. Breutzman, a senior forward who stands as feet even as does Bautsch, and weighs 180, holds a 17-point average, while Brommer has a 12.6-per game mark and got a dozen against Plum City Friday night.

Nelson is currently 4-4 in the Bi-County and has a 6-4 record on the season . . . "We hope to do better the last half of the season. We've improved since the season started and should be a contender in the conference later on."

"We are averaging 68.7 a game to our opponents' 62.4 . . . We will be hard to beat on our home floor where we have an average of 80 points per game . . ."

HELP! HELP! Coaches, fans, players, officials and rafters: We need information, averages, pictures, gossip, brighteners and features to keep the Roamer in business . . . Here and There

Jack Bertolini Blair football and basketball coach, who terminates his career at the Cardinal school after next week says, "I've had a lot of enjoyment working with them and I'll take some pleasant memories with me when I go to Walworth."

Bertolini, whose Blair team beat Black River Falls 76-73 in a non-conference game Friday night, rates BRF guard Dave Mills "one of the better players in this area—he could play on one of my teams any time. He's real smooth."

Mills is a returning All-Mississippi Valley guard. He's 5-9 and was also an all-conference quarterback in football . . . According to Bertolini, 6-5 BRF center Al Johnson, has improved a great deal the past year to take up the slack left by the graduation of pivot Jim Grinde.

With Paul Halverson back, Blair is expected to make a big bid for conference honors in the Trempealeau Valley loop . . . Halverson, incidentally, would be the first to admit his teammates helped him record his pre-illness 30-point scoring average before Christmas.

With a star like Halverson around, many folks, including sports writers, often forget there are four other boys on the team who help make the big boy what he is . . . Blair isn't a one-man show by any means since Lee Matheson got 24, Ronald Stone 19 and Monte Bluske 13 against Black River Falls . . .

When Jim Bade of Cochrane scored 21 points against West Salem in a 58-56 victory for Cochrane during the holidays, it almost cost him treats . . . The Cochrane players have a gimmick whereby the one who scores the number of points closest to his jersey number has to buy pop after the game . . . Bade, a sophomore, wears jersey No. 21 and he scored exactly 21 against Horace Moran's Panthers . . . Cochrane Coach Ralph Leahy saved him the expense, however. Leahy gave Bade a dollar after the game and said, "Anytime you score 21 points, I'll foot the bill!"

Harano had 18 points, 12 on free throws, while Pinoneau hooped eight field goals for 26 points from the pivot spot. Dick Balow added nine for the winners. Top scorer for Maiden Rock was Junior Andrews with 18 points.

St. Felix' B team won its first game of the season, 28-24 in the preliminary.

Gophers Fear Knockout Blow By Sioux Six

North Dakota Hands Minnesota 6-4 Defeat

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota's Western Intercollegiate Hockey champions tottered on the brink of a knockout today and North Dakota poured new life into its title ambition.

The Sioux Friday night ended almost two years of Minnesota dominance in the teams stirring rivalry with a 6-4 victory in which the climax came, with jet speed.

The North Dakota stars shoved through three goals in less than four minutes early in the final period to erase a Minnesota lead and hand the Gophers their first defeat in eight games against the Sioux.

It sent the manpower-shy Gophers tumbling further into the league's second division with their third loss against a single victory and a tie.

Coach Fido Purpur, whose Sioux hiked their league mark to 3-2, laid most of the credit to superior depth. "We had the advantage of an extra line," Purpur said afterward in the jubilation of the North Dakota dressing room. "I'm sure it helped wear Minnesota down."

But a disconsolate Johnny Mariucci of Minnesota refused to develop any theory. "They were a better team, and we didn't have much drive. We're going to have to go like daylight to make a showing tonight."

The teams wrap up their series tonight and Minnesota is squarely against the wall. Another defeat will all but finish its hopes for a repeat championship.

Penalties Hurt As Hawk Icers Lose 3-2 Tilt

The Winona High hockey team lost its first home game of the season Friday afternoon 3-2 to North St. Paul. Due to ice conditions the game started late and goals were exchanged midway in the middle of all periods to compensate for uneven ice conditions.

Roger Munson scored the first goal of the game at 7:38 of the first period on an assist from Roger Benson. Fourteen seconds later Lundgren scored for North St. Paul on an assist from Johnson.

With the score tied, play surged from one end of the rink to the other through the second period and into the third until Dick Smith scored Winona's second goal assisted at 2:55 of the final stanza.

At 7:30 of that period, Don Beeman was sent to the penalty box on a tripping foul. At 8:53, just two seconds before he returned to the ice, North St. Paul tied the score again as Bob Young scored on an assist from Huston.

Twenty-six seconds after he returned to the ice Beeman was ejected from the game for kicking, a violation which calls for disqualification plus a major penalty to be served by the ejected player's substitute.

In high school hockey a minor penalty calls for one and one-half minutes and a major three minutes in the penalty box.

With Winona short-handed for the remainder of the game North St. Paul finally succeeded in scoring the winning goal at 11:42 when Johnson scored unassisted.

Dick Young, minding the nets for the Polar Bears, had his rabbit's foot working as he earned three more stops in the final 18 seconds of play as Winona tried desperately to tie the score and send the game into overtime.

Young had 10 stops and Jim Larson made 24 saves while guarding the Winona goal.

Penalties were served by Smith, Noeske and Beeman of Winona and by Bob Young for North St. Paul.

A five-way tie existed for third place in the Big Nine Conference, today following action around the league Friday night.

Austin's Packers moved into a tie for first with Red Wing by beating Winona 87-70 while the Wingers were taking a 60-47 non-conference decision from St. Paul Central.

Teams with 2-2 records sharing the next five positions are Winona, Faribault, Owatonna, Mankato and Albert Lea.

Rochester pulled to a 2-3 mark by handing Faribault a 67-64 defeat. Faribault's 1-2 punch, Jim Drezwitz and Gordy Hunt, scored 26 and 25 respectively to maintain their second and third positions in Big Nine scoring.

But Rochester produced five players with 10 or more points and the balanced scoring turned the tide. Roger Garmers had 14, George Miner and Jim McDermott both 12 and Joe Harding and Dave Healey 10 apiece.

Drezwitz and Hunt accounted for all but four Faribault field goals.

Howie Rice's free throw in the final seconds helped Mankato to a 66-65 victory over improving Owatonna. The Scarlets, using a two-rotation system, were led by Jerry Flanagan with 14 points.

Gene Logan hit 17 for Owatonna. Albert Lea overcame a 17-12 Northfield lead after the first 12 minutes and went on to take a 51-36 victory. Albert Lea's Buster Rahn and Northfield's Don Jurries with 13 apiece were the only players in double figures.

Rahn, the conference's top foul collector, had four personal fouls in which he failed to foul out. He fouled out six of Albert Lea's eight games.

Dick Dedon scored 16, Willie Fierstad 12 and Darrell Maxwell 10 as Red Wing remained undefeated in its extracurricular win over St. Paul Central.

RESULTS FRIDAY NIGHT
Lake City 76, Kenyon 50
Farmington 78, Zumbrota 72

Lake City basketball teams have had trouble with Coach Bill Franti's Kenyon Vikings in recent years, but Coach Walt Williams' Tigers appeared to have shaken the jinx Friday night when they rolled to a 76-50 victory.

The game left Lake City undefeated with a 30 record in the Hiawatha Valley League and Zumbrota Kenyon to a three-way tie for second on a 1-1 mark with Farmington and Cannon Falls.

Lake City placed five men in double figures. Phil Schacker led the way with 20 points, followed by Gene Wiebusch and Norm Busian with 14 apiece and Bill Rill and Don Busch with 12 apiece.

Kenyon's 6-5 center, LeRoy Fierstad, made 14 points. The Tiger B team also won 40-38. Lake City's varsity outscored Kenyon in every quarter and drove to its best advantage in the second and third when it outpointed Kenyon 21-14 and 23-12.

Coach Soup Winblad's Farmington team moved into the victory, column in league play with a 78-72 triumph over Zumbrota, Farmington's great sophomore center, Dale Sprute, hit 35 points while Olson got 29 for Zumbrota.

Fountain City and Arkansas maintained grips on second place in the Bi-County Conference and Plum City upset Nelson to feature action in that loop Friday night.

Fountain City beat Peplin 64-49 as Fred Keller scored 27, Dick Heitman 17 and Dave Farrand 16. Peplin's Johnson had 16 and Barnes 10. Fountain City won the B game 23-21.

Arkansas broke a 33-33 third quarter tie by outscoring Gilmanton 14-9 in the last quarter to take a 4-2 decision.

Edward Heitman with 18 led the Travelers followed by Tom and Bob Drier with 14 and 10 respectively.

Bob Hove and Marlin Plank of Gilmanton both scored 10 and Larry Brotzman hit nine from the pivot. Gilmanton's junior varsity remained undefeated with a victory in the preliminary game.

Nelson's Dick Bautsch hit 26 and Glen Brommer swished 12 but it wasn't enough to beat Plum City as that team took a 75-59 victory. Junior, Martin and Jim Plomstrom scored 17 apiece for the winners, followed by Dave Gifford with 15 and Jim Oberding with 12. Plum City also won the B squad tilt, 38-29.

2 Deaths Make Chicagoan Heir To $15½ Million

CHICAGO (U)—Deaths of her grandmother and an uncle in less than a month have made a comely Chicago brunette sole heir to an estimated $15½ million dollars, perhaps more.

She is Mrs. Mollie Netcher Bragno, 28. She and her husband, wine manufacturer Edward Bragno, already were wealthy in their own name.

The fortune which now passes to Mrs. Bragno was amassed through operation of the old Boston Store, a state street department store founded by her grandfather, Charles Netcher Sr., and operated after his death in 1905 by his widow, Mrs. Mollie Netcher Newbury.

Mrs. Newbury died Dec. 12 at the age of 87.

ments of the election laws are mandatory and which are merely advisory of the courts are governed by consideration of sound public policy. (The judge then referred to cases from state law manuals.) Such policy requires that all ballots be cast and counted under the supervision of at least a de facto election board acting under color of election or appointment. Anarchy at the polls is unthinkable.

"There was no lawful election board in the La Crescent village precinct, and there was no such de facto board. Moreover, the persons who served frankly admit that they made no effort to comply with the statutes. They merely followed their own notions of what was appropriate. In such a situation the court will not inquire whether there was any actual fraud or mistake. Public policy forbids any recognition of the vote.

"In other precincts in the county there were many irregularities which were more or less serious. It is regrettable that the statutes were not more strictly observed; but there is no evidence of fraud, and slight errors in the counting and slight errors in the counting have been corrected in the foregoing findings. In my opinion, the election in these other precincts was not invalid. (The judge then cited several cases in point.)

"Under the stipulation made at the pre-trial conference the court has accepted the count of the inspectors instead of that of the election board when a discrepancy exists. In some cases, however, the discrepancy is merely apparent and not real because the inspectors have rejected ballots not properly marked. Such ballots have been counted, in fact 35, there being no evidence of fraud or mistake."

Mother's Suicide Blow to Sheppard As Appeal Looms

CLEVELAND (U)—Grief and hope were companions to Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today in his county jail cell—grief over his mother's suicide and hope he would win freedom on bail and an appeal from his life sentence for murder.

The cell was not the same one where the handsome, 31-year-old osteopath has spent all but four weeks since July 4 when his pregnant wife, Marilyn, was clubbed to death in her bed. A jury convicted Sheppard of the crime Dec. 21.

After he got the news that his white-haired mother had shot herself to death, Sheppard was moved, in spite of his protests, to the jail's observation cell where he will be under constant watch.

Members of his family who told Sheppard of his mother's death yesterday afternoon said he had "broken down completely," but he regained his composure before transferring to the cell.

"Mother was very proud," said Sheppard's oldest brother, Richard, one of those who visited the jail. "She had complete faith in Sam's innocence, but all of this was just too much for her."

Her husband of 39 years, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, is hospitalized.

6 Killed in Auto Crash in Virginia

FINCASTLE, Va. (U)—Two autos collided near this southwest Virginia town late last night, killing six persons and injuring two others. State police tentatively identified the dead as:

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wills, each about 55, and Wilmer Rea Wills, 39, all of Fincastle.

George Vincent Brown, 21, of Fincastle and William Henry Clay Jr., about 20, and Gilbert Wylie, 21, both of nearby Troutville.

ized with pleurisy. In a carefully penned two sentence suicide note she wrote: "I can't manage without dad. Thanks for everything."

Although Sheppard telephoned his 64-year-old mother from the jail, he did not want her to see him in those surroundings and she did not visit him or attend the trial. Much of the time she was ill with a heart ailment. She suffered a stroke two months ago.

She last saw her youngest son when he was released on bail Aug. 16, meeting him with open arms on her front porch. A grand jury indictment returned him to jail after 30 hours of freedom.

Sheppard asked Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney for permission to attend private funeral services which will be held for 64-year-old Mrs. Ethel Sheppard Monday. He was told a court order must be obtained to allow him to go under guard.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"WATCH THE EXPRESSION ON HIS FACE. HE DOESN'T KNOW I SAVED ANYTHING FROM THE FOURTH OF JULY."

LAFF-A-DAY

"Aldrich!! You're overdoing it again!"

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Women will answer with an A-bomb "Yes!" Likely for them scientists agree. They assure us that man's face, head, and reproductive system have more similarities to those of the apes and monkeys. Biologists believe that the female has always been the leader in evolution—the true "Mother of the Race"—in both plants and animals. Boys, that's sure one on us.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Sociologist Bernard Kirby, Washington State Board of Pardons and Paroles, sums up numerous studies. These studies show chiefly that some methods are more successful than others, but all are far from perfect. He urges states to provide more funds for scientific studies of criminals and delinquents before and after different methods of punishment and reformation. Applause here. Cheapest way in the long run.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, says H. S. Fennell, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in "Scientific American." Dust bowls are due chiefly to (1) lack of will to conserve, and (2) man's short memory. Droughts are natural, but we forget this and during wet periods plow land that is sure to be blown away. Until man learns and remembers the psychological lessons, deserts, as always, will be "on the march."

ALSOPS

tration, and (b) that a great proportion were not really fired at all, but simply had the "security risk" tag hung on them after they left the government.

The administration is sufficiently worried about this issue so that a counter-strategy is being devised. This counter-strategy will probably involve putting three or four "horrible examples"—government employees with real subversive records—on display.

Of course there will be other rows as well. For example, no one expects Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy to sink happily into obscurity. McCarthy is now so utterly discredited that he can only get the headlines by the most violent assaults on the administration, and this is the course most observers expect him to take.

More Battles Seen

But the above brief sampling suggests an obvious fact. By a very strange coincidence, the now foreseeable battles likely to take place in this Democratic-controlled Congress are of a sort likely to help the Democrats and hurt the Republicans. But this prospect is not quite as cheering to the Democrats as might be expected.

For the objective of the Democrats is no longer to capture Congress—it is to capture the White House. The Democrats hope and believe that the political battles to come will show the Eisenhower administration and the Republican party in the worst possible light. Logically, this ought to hurt Pres. Eisenhower and thus ease the Democrats' task of recapturing the White House. But even the most sanguine Democrats doubt that whatever happens in this session will hurt the President much, however much the Republican party may be hurt.

Many Like Ike

The problem of putting Pres. Eisenhower down to beatable size is, in fact, far and away the Democrats' most baffling problem. This reporter's nine-year-old son, who received a junior-sized printing press for Christmas, may have indicated one reason why the problem is so baffling. He recently produced the first issue of a newspaper with which he hopes to record the family fortune. It consisted of a single headline: "President Ike is Good."

DICK TRACY

"DID YOU GET ANY PICTURES?"

"YEAH, BUT KEEP YOUR FINGERS CROSSED. THE LIGHT WASN'T TOO GOOD."

"PHONY? WHY THAT 'FUR SHOP' WAS SO PHONY YOU COULD SMELL LARDENY THE MINUTE YOU STEPPED OFF THE ELEVATOR."

"MEANWHILE"

"YEAH! I HAD MY OWN KEY. REMEMBER?"

"RUCHEAD? I THOUGHT YOU WERE IN MEXICO."

"OH, LOOK, DAISY, BEANIES COME TO CALL ON YOU."

"WHICH RIBBON WOULD YOU LIKE?"

"I'M FIXING DAISY UP PRETTY FOR HER DATE."

"IT BEATS ALL, HOW YOU WOMEN STICK TOGETHER."

"LOOK—HERE'S MY PROPOSITION—I WORK HERE 'FORE AFTER SCHOOL FOR A WEEK—ON TRIAL—"

"AND FOR HOW MUCH?"

"THAT'LL BE UP TO YOU—FOR NOTHING IF I'M WORTH NOTHIN'."

"WHAT YOU THINK YOU COULD DO IN A STORE LIKE THIS?"

"WELL, I COULD SWEEP OUT AND DUST—TO BEGIN WITH—"

"A.K.—O.K.—SO, DUST!"

"HOW LONG DO YOU WANT TO BE OUT—I WANT TO BE OUT—"

"I DON'T CARE—ANYTHING THAT TAKES ME AWAY FROM THINGS."

"WELL, IF YOU WANT TO STAY OUT A FEW DAYS, I'LL HAVE TO PROVISION THE LARK, AND—"

"YOU WOULDN'T GO OFF ON A TRIP AND LEAVE TWO OLD FRIENDS, WOULD YOU, SAM?"

"ACHTUNG, MURK! COMPANY VE GOT!"

"SORRY TO INTERRUPT YOUR HOLIDAY—PIPPER AND MURPHY, BUT THEY'RE COMING FOR YOU IN A GLIDER...I GUESS IT'S THOSE TABS YOU HUNG UP AT THE CLUB...YOU'VE GOT TO GO BACK AND PAY!"

"WHAT GOOD—WOULD IT DO? IF THE GLIDER GRAB WORKS, WE CAN TROW SPIRITS OF AMMONIA PARTY!"

"BUT THE WEATHER TAKES NO SIDES—AS THE RESCUE PLANE COMES IN FROM ALASKA AN AIRCRAFT RISES FROM THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION..."

"THE MAN SAID YOU WANTED AN ESTIMATE ON DOING OVER SOME CHAIRS—I HAD NO WAY OF KNOWING—"

"IT'S ALL RIGHT! NO ONE IS BLAMING YOU, MR. FORSBY!"

"BUT I THINK YOU'D BETTER COME WITH US—"

"YOU'VE BEEN DRUGGED, SAWYER. HAD YOU FLOWN THIS MORNING YOU MIGHT HAVE CRASHED, COULD YOUR MAID HAVE DOPED YOU?"

"SHE FIXED MY BREAKFAST."

"KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT HER?"

"AND YOU THINK SHE MAY BE A SPY. OKAY, DON'T LET ON. DON'T ALARM HER. BY NO MEANS DISCHARGE HER."

"I SEE. JUST LET HER KEEP ON DRUGGING ME."

"NO, WE WANT HER TO LEAD US TO THE HIGHER-UPS. WHEN SHE LEAVES YOUR HOUSE TONIGHT, WE'LL TRAIL HER."

"OKAY."

"LOVE ME, MR. KIRBY AND GIVE ME MY REVENGE. I'VE WAITED AND LONGED FOR THIS!"

"MEMORABLE, DESMOND, BUT THEN ANY TIME WITH KEMET KILMORE IS SPECIAL."

"A REMARKABLE GIRL—CANDID, HONEST, AND NO FEIGNING WILES—"

"IT'S MORE THAN REMARKABLE—IT'S INCREDIBLE!"

"Zorky, I have a toast in the oven. Will you pick up the living room floor?"

"Oke, hope."
