Utica Woman, 85, Killed by Train

After surviving the burning of Atlanta 91 years ago, fire finally leveled this ante-bellum home Sunday. It was said to have been the only dwelling in its neighborhood not to have burned when Union forces sacked Atlanta in 1864. No one was living in it and the cause of the fire is unknown. Sparkman Asks Convention Be Held in August

Republicans, Too, May Meet Late in Summer

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), saying six weeks is enough for any man to campaign actively for president, endorsed today a proposal to hold next year's Democratic nominating convention late in August.

There were indications that both of the major party conventions would be held later in the summer than at any time in this century. Sparkman, who ran for vice president in 1952, said in an interview that because of the great physical strain involved in such a campaign he approves any action to shorten the stumping period.

Sparkman, who ran for vice president in 1952, said in an interview that because of the great physical strain involved in such a campaign he approves any action to shorten the stumping period.

"If we hold our convention late in August, the campaign probably could get under way about Sept. 15," he said. "Six weeks is enough to cover the country, with modern means of communication and transportation."

"Any longer campaign than that simply wears the candidates out," Paul M. Butler, Democratic national chairman, has suggested an Aug. 27 date for the 1956 convention. Republican chairman Leonard W. Hall said the GOP National Committee will meet within a month or six weeks to pick a site.

There were indications the GOP might delay its convention until early September. Only twice before, and never in this century, has the Republican convention followed the Democratic one. Hall, who said he assumes President Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate two years from now, said he and other party leaders are in favor of a short campaign. He hinted that "whistle stop" campaigning by train may be almost abandoned in favor of air transportation for candidates.

Chicago, Philadelphia, and Atlantic City have been offered to host the convention. Chicago also made an offer to the Democrats, and the other two cities are expected to do so.

Visited Prison
Salmore said in a prepared statement that he had visited Swenson at the prison last week and that he "appeared to be in good health and told me that he was feeling fine."

Newsmen asked Hursh at a press conference today whether "pressure" may have figured in Swenson's resignation. Hursh said, "The resignation speaks for itself. I asked Swenson to come in last Friday to talk over the prison situation. We had a friendly discussion lasting about two hours. The resignation was submitted during that discussion."

"If anyone has any questions about it, Swenson is the man to answer them," Hursh said. At Stillwater, Swenson said today he was reluctant to make any additional comment as to his reasons for his resignations "beyond what was contained in my resignation letter." He said he had been ill this summer and is now feeling better.

Freeman Silent
Hursh said newsmen he knew about Swenson's ill health before he came back to Minnesota to take his present post. He added that he felt that the pressures of the prison post were "the worst you can get for a man suffering from hypertension."

Gov. Orville Freeman declined to comment either on Swenson's resignation or on Sen. Salmore's statement.

Both Moss and Love agreed the weekend rains and snow would help but that a slow rain over a period of several days was needed to restore subsoil moisture. In the cotton, wheat and sheep country of west Texas, the snow held out the promise of some winter grass. It also was expected to help put the soil in shape for spring planting—if more moisture comes.

Early morning temperatures were 20 to 30 degrees warmer in the Far West, rain areas and 10 degrees higher in the East and South. Readings rose from 1 to 29 at Cedar City, Utah, 9 below to 21 above at Ely, Nev., and 15 below to 9 above at Dubois, Idaho. The cold center was over eastern Colorado and Wyoming. Fraser, Col., had 12 below.

Talks Over, No Report On Fate of 11 U.S. Airmen

America Blasted In Broadcast From Peiping

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Premier Chou En-lai ended their Peiping conferences today with an expressed hope "to continue contact." Their communiqué made no mention of the fate of the 11 U.S. airmen imprisoned in Red China.

"We feel that these talks have been useful and we hope to be able to continue the contact established in these meetings," they said.

The U.N. secretary general had been assigned by the U.N. General Assembly to seek release of the fliers and other U.N. personnel held in China. He flew to Peiping and had talked an aggregate of 13½ hours with Chou. Today's fourth and final meeting took up an hour 15 minutes.

A joint communiqué from the U.N. chief and the Chinese Communist leader was released simultaneously at U.N. headquarters here and in Peiping. The full text: "As a result of the suggestion for a personal discussion made by the secretary general of the U.N. in his cable of 10 December 1954 and the cable of welcome sent by the premier of the state council and foreign minister of the People's Republic of China on 17 December 1954, we had talks in Peiping (Peiping) on 6, 7, 8 and 10 January 1955."

"In these talks reference was made at the same time to questions pertinent to the relaxation of world tension."

"We feel that the talks have been useful and we hope to be able to continue the contact established in these meetings."

The communiqué was cabled to U.N. headquarters here by Per Lind, assistant to the secretary general and one of his party of six in the Chinese capital.

Hammarskjöld plans to leave Peiping Tuesday at 7 a.m., presumably by Chinese aircraft for Hong Kong. From there he will fly to Tokyo and on to San Francisco.

Before the U.N. announcement however, Peiping radio laid out one of its bitterest blasts against the United States.

U. N. diplomats received the news from Peiping with interest although they were unable to tell from the final communiqué whether any agreement had been reached.

One Asian delegate expressed belief the key might be found in the word "useful." If the talks had been a failure, he said, this word would not have been used.

Chinese Reds Bomb Nationalist Islands

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Communist airmen in three types of Russian-built planes bombed the strategic Tachen Islands today in the biggest air raid yet staged by the Reds against Chinese Nationalist territory.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry reported a four-wave attack on the Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa—was made by 38 LAI fighters. Bombers and 24 TU2 light bombers escorted by four MIG jet fighters. The ministry said one of the raiders possibly was shot down.

The ministry reported: The Red planes, attacking between 6:50 a.m. and 2 p.m., dropped more than 100 bombs. One residential area was set aflame but antiaircraft fire disturbed the bombers' aim and most of the explosives fell into the sea.

One plane was seen plummeting down south of Sanmen Bay, on the Chekiang coast near the Tachens. The Tachens were first raided by the Chinese Communist air force Nov. 1. Less than 20 planes took part in that attack and about 40 bombs were reported dropped. That was the Red's first air raid against Nationalist territory.

Today's attack fulfilled expectations in Taipei that the Chinese Reds would keep alive the "vest pocket" war and possibly expand it in 1955. The raid might or might not be one of a series intended to soften the Tachens for Red invasion, or it might have been planned to test possible American reaction.

American policy has been to keep the Reds guessing whether the U.S. 7th fleet, committed by treaty to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, will intervene if the Reds pose any major threat to the island outposts the Nationalists hold off the Red China coast.

The official Central News Agency quoted a Nationalist military spokesman, not named, as saying the Communists had been carrying on exercises lately that suggested the probability of an offensive. "It is quite apparent," he said, "that the Communists are preparing for an invasion of the Tachens."

Vice President Richard Nixon got a piece of birthday cake from Mrs. Nixon before he appeared on a radio program in Washington Sunday. The cake was in honor of his 42nd birthday. (UP Telephoto)

Grading, Labeling of State Butter Asked

By JACK B. MACKAY

ST. PAUL (AP)—Enactment of a law authorizing the State Department of Agriculture to establish regulations providing for consumer grading and labeling of butter in Minnesota was recommended to the Legislature today by a 10-member interim commission. Thirteen other recommendations were made by the commission, headed by Sen. John M. Zwach of Walnut Grove, to improve the production, processing and sale of dairy products, the breeding, raising and marketing of livestock, and the production and sale of all other agricultural products.

The 1953 Legislature created the commission—five senators and five representatives—to make the study after determining that there was need for "a great deal of improvement in the laws and regulations affecting these industries."

In urging the regulations for consumer grading and labeling of butter, the commission stressed that "a leading butter producing state should also lead in the quality standards of its products."

To preserve that leadership, the commission told the lawmakers, a system of grading and labeling to inform consumers of Minnesota butter of the quality of the product they use is essential. The basis of this recommendation was cited as follows:

1. Minnesota will become a dumping ground for poor grade butter if other states have a better grading law and Minnesota does not.

2. The housewife will know what good butter is.

3. As a result of promotion there will be increased butter sales, and grading and labeling will facilitate the promotion programs.

4. The state itself will be advertised if the grading and labeling law provides that the label shall contain the words "Minnesota Grade-Butter."

5. There will be an opportunity to promote the uniformity of butter grades through the adoption of federal grading standards.

The commission also recommended legislation be enacted to provide for a dairy specialist to be assigned to the Agricultural Extension Service, to be available as a consultant to the dairy industry on a statewide basis.

Further, the legislators advocated the extension of authority to the commissioner of agriculture to issue regulations requiring milk and cream patrons who sell to other plants to carry their quality records with them.

Other recommendations asked: 1. Adequate funds to continue the present Minnesota program of brucellosis control.

2. Inspection and licensing of animal and poultry slaughtering houses which are not federally inspected.

3. The Livestock Sanitary Board be increased from five to seven members.

4. Favorable consideration of requests of the University of Minnesota for a new dairy science building on the St. Paul campus to provide adequate facilities for dairy research.

5. A new agriculture biochemistry and soils building on the St. Paul campus of the university.

6. Sufficient funds to provide additional assistant county agents to facilitate development of the soil conservation program.

7. A state water and land resources authority be created.

Ex-Minnesotan Dies In Toyko Car Crash

TOKYO (AP)—Phyllis A. Burckart, 31, a government employee formerly from Cook, Minn., was killed Sunday when her car went out of control and smashed into a wall.

Miss Burckart was employed by the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Administration here. Albert F. Johnson of Northwest Airlines, a passenger in the car, suffered three broken ribs.

Walks in Front OF NW '400' Near Her Home

Miss Rose Stupey Dies Instantly Saturday Afternoon

UTICA, Minn.—Winona County's first accidental fatality of 1955 was recorded late Saturday afternoon with the death of an elderly Utica woman who was struck by the engine of a passenger train at a crossing here.

Killed in the accident at 4:55 p. m. was Miss Rose Stupey, 85, who apparently failed to see or hear the westbound North Western "400" when she began to walk across the tracks near the station.

Sheriff George Fort was told that Miss Stupey had gone to a grocery store in the village to buy a loaf of bread and was returning to her home less than 100 feet from the accident site when she was struck by the train.

Witness to Fatality
A witness, Ambrose Fix, Utica Rt. 1, told Sheriff Fort and Deputy Clarence McElmury that Miss Stupey was walking south across the North Western's main line tracks just east of the depot when she was struck.

Residents of the village said that the accident victim had impaired hearing and failing sight and probably did not notice the train until she was hit.

Her body was hurled 33 feet south of the point of impact and Coroner R. B. Tweedy, who accompanied Sheriff Fort to the accident scene, found that she had suffered a skull fracture, fractures of her arms and legs and other injuries.

J. L. Allen, Wesaca, the engineer of the train, said that the train crew noticed the woman step out on the tracks seconds before the train reached the crossing and the warning horn was sounded.

The train was traveling at a speed of about 30 miles an hour through the village and was stopped approximately 1,500 feet west of the crossing.

The "400" remained here until it was released following Sheriff Fort's investigation of the accident.

Born in Township
A lifelong resident of this area, Miss Stupey was born in Utica Township April 17, 1869, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stupey.

She had lived in Utica since about 1900 and formerly was employed as a store clerk and as a dressmaker.

She is survived by a nephew, Jack Warren, Burford, Ont., Canada. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Stupey, also lives here.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Utica Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Elbert Larvick, Lewiston, officiating. Burial will be in Utica Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Seltzer Funeral Home, St. Charles, until the time of the services.

Cause of $50,000 Fire Undetermined

BUTTERFIELD, Minn. (AP)—Firemen today sought to determine cause of a $50,000 fire that whipped through the business district of this Watonwan County community early Sunday.

A grocery store owned by Boyd Bontosh and a cafe operated by Mrs. Virginia Dutton and Mrs. Rosy Books were heavily damaged. Smoke damaged the Butterfield State Bank and the local post office.

Firemen from St. James and Mountain Lake assisted the local fire department in bringing flames under control after three hours.

Ike Asks Power To Cut Tariffs

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress for power to make a "moderate, gradual and reciprocal" cut in tariffs by as much as 15 per cent.

In a special message, the President said this nation's own interest requires a foreign economic program that will stimulate economic growth in the free world. He said:

"Our own self-interest requires such a program because (1) economic strength among our allies is essential to our security; (2) economic growth in underdeveloped areas is necessary to lessen international instability growing out of the vulnerability of such areas to Communist penetration and subversion; and (3) an increasing volume of world production and trade will help assure our own economic growth and a rising standard of living among our own people."

First of Series
In the first of a series of special messages to the Democratic 84th Congress, the President specifically renewed the request he made to last year's GOP-run Congress, without success, for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act with new tariff-cutting power.

As other steps in the foreign economic field, Eisenhower also recommended:

1. CUSTOMS SIMPLIFICATION. He asked that Congress take action further streamlining customs administration and procedure which, Eisenhower said, still causes "unwarranted delays" and hampers commerce despite passage of the Customs Simplification Act last year.

2. PRIVATE INVESTMENT ABROAD. He recommended a cut of 14 percentage points in the tax rate paid by corporations on income earned abroad, and asked Congress to defer the tax on income of foreign branches until the funds are removed from the country where earned, and to study the further use of tax treaties by recognizing tax concessions made to foreign capital by other countries.

In this connection, Eisenhower said American capital will go abroad only when it can expect "to bring home its fair reward." He declared:

"This can only be accomplished in the last analysis by our willingness to purchase more goods and services from abroad in order to provide the dollars for these growing remittances."

3. TECHNICAL COOPERATION. He said this country should carry forward its technical assistance programs, concerned with "know how rather than large funds." Eisenhower asked favorable action on his request for technical aid funds in his budget message due next week.

4. GENERAL AGREEMENT ON TARIFFS AND TRADE (GATT). This country and 33 others are now reviewing the GATT agreement for lowering of trade barriers, Eisenhower said, to simplify its terms. When the proposed revisions are complete, he said, the results will be sent to Congress for approval.

5. INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL. To encourage travel abroad by Americans, an important source of dollars for many countries, Eisenhower asked Congress to increase the duty-free allowances for tourists from $500 to $1,000.

As to tariffs, the message followed generally the broad lines of last year's.

Hursh Seeking New Warden as Swenson Quits

ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota's new welfare commissioner, Morris Hursh, today sought advice from nationally recognized authorities on prison administration before appointing a successor to Edwin T. Swenson, warden of Stillwater prison.

Swenson, appointed warden 21 months ago in the midst of a serious riot of prisoners at the penitentiary, announced in his letter of resignation that he was quitting "because of my present ill health." Swenson asked that his resignation become effective today.

The resignation brought a protest from Sen. Raphael Salmore, Stillwater. Salmore said there was "grave doubt" in his mind that "Mr. Swenson retired voluntarily."

Salmore said he wanted Hursh to review his acceptance of the resignation.

Visited Prison
Salmore said in a prepared statement that he had visited Swenson at the prison last week and that he "appeared to be in good health and told me that he was feeling fine."

Newsmen asked Hursh at a press conference today whether "pressure" may have figured in Swenson's resignation.

Hursh said, "The resignation speaks for itself. I asked Swenson to come in last Friday to talk over the prison situation. We had a friendly discussion lasting about two hours. The resignation was submitted during that discussion."

"If anyone has any questions about it, Swenson is the man to answer them," Hursh said.

At Stillwater, Swenson said today he was reluctant to make any additional comment as to his reasons for his resignations "beyond what was contained in my resignation letter." He said he had been ill this summer and is now feeling better.

Freeman Silent
Hursh said newsmen he knew about Swenson's ill health before he came back to Minnesota to take his present post. He added that he felt that the pressures of the prison post were "the worst you can get for a man suffering from hypertension."

Gov. Orville Freeman declined to comment either on Swenson's resignation or on Sen. Salmore's statement.

Consumer credit is not in a dangerous area," says Heimann, "but is in a trend that bears watching."

A. W. Zelomek, chief of the International Statistical Bureau, says consumer debt is "not out of line."

"At 30 billion dollars, it still will be around 2½ billion under what it could be on the basis of various indicators," Zelomek states.

In east and south Texas, also plagued by long drought, rain fell. At Centerville in east Texas, W. F. Davidson, 31, crashed to his death in a light plane after taking off into rainy skies against the advice of airport authorities.

In the central Texas hill country, a cold, chilling rain struck down countless deer weakened by drought and poor forage.

"Half the deer in this hill country won't survive this weather," declared Mark Moss, who ranches thousands of acres south of Llano. "The cattle can stand it. I've been importing feed, keeping the cattle in good shape. I've tried to feed some of the deer too."

"But most of the deer are out in the hills with nothing to eat. This cold, wet weather gives them pneumonia when they are weak."

Jack Love, whose herd on a ranch of several thousand acres nine miles east of Llano is down to 300 head, said a new weed (he calls it "rat tail tallow") had appeared in the long-dry hill country.

"Deer and sheep can eat it," said Love. "Cattle can't; yet, it has to get an inch and a half high for cattle. It may help the deer."

Texas Cattlemen Hail Snow

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—The best snows of the new year spread cheer among Texas cattlemen today but in the colorful "hill country" drought-weakened deer were taking it hard.

Snow ranging up to 8 inches in this west Texas area closed a number of schools today, covered highways with a treacherous ice film, but laid a welcome blanket of moisture over crop and range land.

In east and south Texas, also plagued by long drought, rain fell. At Centerville in east Texas, W. F. Davidson, 31, crashed to his death in a light plane after taking off into rainy skies against the advice of airport authorities.

Outstanding Books Marketed in 1954

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (U)—Read all about it!

That's the book publishers' exhortation as they enter the new year with high, wide and handsome lists of novels, biographies, tales of adventure, and a vast assortment of miscellaneous matter. As long ago as November, books for 1955 began to pile up on reviewers' shelves. But the reviewers' had to keep their noses in seasonal anthologies, pretty volumes on art and ballet, and other gift items, though they were hankering for a peek into the future.

This week they got it. They found that, as has happened in previous years, some publishers seemed to like to put their best forward in the first week in January.

There was an outstanding novel, an outstanding historical novel, and three very good biographies. With the book year only six days old, reviewers could be dogmatic and safely declare: "There has been no better biography in 1955," or "This is the finest novel I've read this year."

Biography
Maybe some of them did. In all seriousness, the start in biography was most promising, and the coming weeks look no less rewarding. This week's biographies were:

"The Intelligent Heart" (Farrar, Straus & Young), by Harry T. Moore; a scary, ominous item out of Germany, "Fragebogen" (Doubleday), by Ernst von Salomon, and if you want to take its taste out of your mouth, an infinitely pleasant work, "Sir Walter Scott" (Harper) by Hesketh Pearson.

Within two weeks there will be coming Derek Hudson's "Lewis Carroll" (Macmillan); Lord Elton's "Gordon of Khartoum" (Knopf); and Scotland Yard Inspector Walter Henry Thompson's story of his 20 years as Churchill's body guard, "Assignment: Churchill" (Farrar, Straus & Young). In February there will be Hermann Kesten's "Casanova" (Harper), and in April, Charles Munch's "I Am a Conductor" (Oxford). You wait till fall for Grover Whalen's autobiography, to be called "Mr. New York" (Putnam's).

Fiction
If the 51 weeks still to come prove as rewarding in fiction as the week just over, it will be a better than average year. The first publication day of 1955, Monday, marked the appearance of the Harper prize novel, "Trial," by Don M. Mankiewicz. On Thursday came Zoe Oldenbourg's "The Cornerstone." "Trial" is an up-to-the-minute thriller with a highly relevant ideological and political background. Miss Oldenbourg's work is a historical novel with the tapestry character which always is a sign of quality in works of this genre.

Fiction to come includes "Among the Daughters" (Coward-McCann), by Anna Enters; "The Vagabond" (Farrar, Straus & Young), by Colette; "Hubertus" (John Day), by Edgar Mittelholzer; "The Last Temptation" (Simon & Schuster), by Joseph Viterli; "A Ghost at Noon" (Farrar, Straus & Young), by Alberto Moravia; "The Twelve Pictures" (Putnam), by Edith Simon; "The Royal Hunt" (Knopf), by Pierre Moinot; "The Black Prince" (Knopf), by Shirley Ann Grau; "The Unhurrying Chase" (Macmillan), by H.F.M. Prescott.

There will be short stories by Bryan MacMahon, and a play by Sean O'Casey.

Adventure
As is now becoming an established custom, men will come back from the bottom of the sea, the top of the mountains, the ends of the earth, the desert and the jungle to tell of hardships, perils and survivals.

On Monday, Ennio Tura will describe his savage battle with sharks in, or on, "Raft of Despair." In two more weeks will come "Prisoners' Bluff" by Rolf Magener, about the escape of two of Heinrich Harrer's fellow prisoners. Soon afterward there will be "The White Desert," by John Giese, about the Antarctic. Dutton publishes these three. Oxford will publish Jim Corbett's "The Temple Tiger" at the end of this month.

Stewart Holbrook—to turn to general titles—will write about "Machines of Plenty," or pioneering in American agriculture. Lillian Smith, about the Supreme Court's antisegregation ruling in "Now Is the Time," J. S. Weiner, about "The Plinkov Forgery," Jim Bishop, about "The Day Lincoln Was Shot," Elmer Davis, about "Two Minutes to Midnight," or how close the world may be to the use of the hydrogen bomb.

The surface of Lakes Huron and Michigan is 24 to 25 feet lower than that of Lake Superior.

Frenchmen Develop Camera That Will Probe Universe

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS (U)—Two French scientists have developed an electronic camera which they say should enable them to "see" 10 times farther into the universe than man has ever before.

Andre Lallemand, an astronomer at the Paris Observatory, and Maurice Duchesne, an electronics expert at the National Center for Scientific Research, have been working on the device for 11 years. Duchesne will soon take the odd-shaped contraption of glass and metal tubes to the observatory at Saint-Michel-de-Provence in southern France, where skies are generally very clear.

He will attach to it a 47-inch telescope which, say the inventors, thus will become considerably more powerful than the 200-inch giant at Mt. Palomar, Calif. Little serious star gazing is done these days by peering directly through a lens. Astronomers work mostly from photographs, which show nothing to the layman but little dots or streaks of light. This one, the inventors claim, will be able to take the same pictures in four minutes that now require six to eight hours of exposure—and take them better.

"It should give astronomers enough new observations to work on for 50 years," Lallemand said. In the new camera the feeble flecks of starlight—called photons—will first hit a thin glass plate covered with a layer of antimony and cesium, one of the rarer elements. This layer transforms the photons into electrons, which then pass through high-tension electrodes that step up their strength from 2 electron-volts to 40,000 or 50,000. The electrons are what hit a photographic plate less than an inch in diameter.

Warden Jailed by Prisoner Gets Sacked

LYON, France (U)—A burglar escaped from his cell in the prison of Bourg, took the warden's gun, snatched the prison's cash and locked the warden in a cell.

The warden's troubles didn't end there. Penitentiary service officials after an investigation decided to suspend him from his post.

Council at La Crescent Planning Effort to Reverse Court Action

Mass Meeting Held Saturday To Get Views

Additional Legal Aid to Be Obtained In Loss of Votes

By EARL GILBERT
Daily News Area Editor

LA CRESCENT, Minn.—Angered by a court decision which annulled its general election vote, this village has organized a 25-member citizens committee to seek a reversal from a higher tribunal.

Shortly after hearing news of the Houston County District Court decision Saturday, which invalidated votes from the La Crescent precinct in the Nov. 2 election for sheriff, the council met and organized an open meeting which was held in the village hall Saturday night. About 300 citizens attended.

The five officials voted unanimously to hire additional lawyers to aid village attorney Lloyd Duxbury, Caledonia, in studying the right of appeal. Since then, the citizens committee has been organized and it is understood that the chairman, Donald Yollan, has contacted Gov. Orville Freeman.

Protest Loss of Vote

Villagers expressed concern about the loss of their votes at the open meeting Saturday. Although many had sympathy for the village's native son, Clarence Vetsch, who lost the election to incumbent Beryl Kerrigan as a result of the court decision, it was the loss of the vote which brought on the mass meeting and subsequent organizing.

"As far as we're concerned," Mayor Allan Charley said of the council, "this is a matter that involves the entire village. They've thrown out our vote! Other places in the county had irregularities, too. Why can't we have another election?"

"It's not who gets the job of sheriff," he continued, "our vote has been kicked out!"

Attorney Duxbury explained that according to what he had read about the decision by Judge Karl Finkelnburg, the village had no right to appeal the case, that this would have to be a decision made by Clarence Vetsch and his attorneys. However, he said, his opinion wasn't the last word and that he would be willing to meet with other attorneys hired by the village to study the matter further.

'Integrity at Stake'

"The integrity of the village council is at stake," one of the citizens said at the public meeting. "Have other attorneys in, study the matter and call another public meeting. The majority back you and we intend to fight this out to the end."

When Charley called for opinion against taking the matter to a higher court, there was no response. Strong sentiment was expressed to back Vetsch with private funds if the village finds it has no right of appeal in the matter and if Vetsch decides to take his fight for the post to the supreme court of the state.

Members of the citizen's committee said today that funds have been offered from several areas of the county in addition to La Crescent village. Copies of the court decision—1,000 of them—are being printed and will be distributed to every home in the village, a committee man said.

At noon today, the village had not decided on who the additional legal counsel would be, but one of the officials said they would be the best money could hire.

Meeting Scheduled

A meeting of the citizens group is slated for 7 p.m. Tuesday at Pete Knapp's Barber Shop to further coordinate activities of its several subcommittees. A flurry of subcommittee meetings were held in the village Sunday after the group was activated.

Members of the village council, all of whom were present for the meeting Saturday, are Mayor Allan Charley, William Lathrop, clerk, John Blaschaski, Joseph Fancher and Russell Senn, councilmen. Charley presided as more than a dozen residents took the floor to express sentiment in favor of village action.

Community Chest To Elect Directors

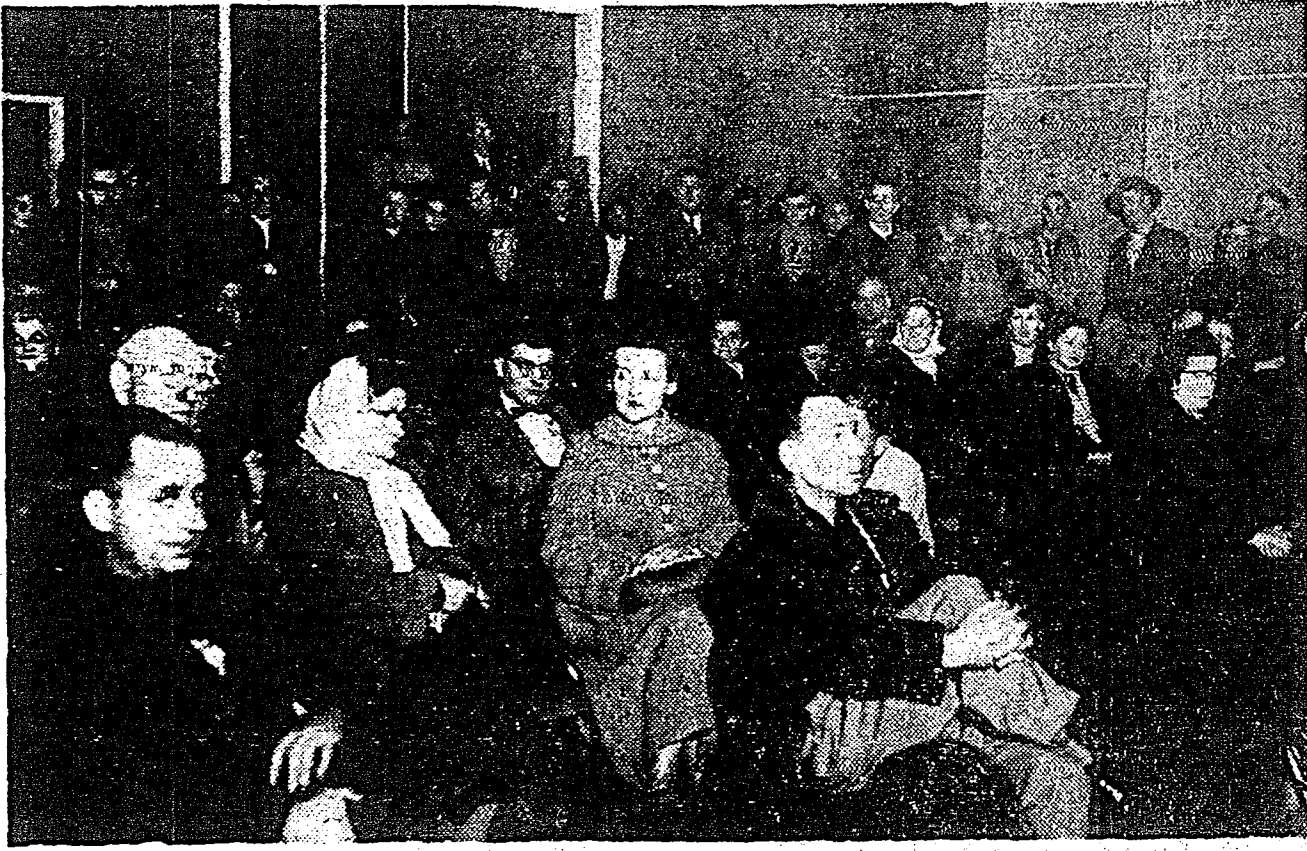

Three new directors will be elected to the board of the Winona Community Chest, Inc., at the annual meeting next Monday, following the regular monthly meeting of the directors at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA.

Retiring directors are President R. O. Powell, the Rev. Harold Rektstad and Mrs. Lawrence Jaszewski. Members of the nominating committee are C. A. Choate, William F. White and Harvey D. Jensen.

Officers for 1935 also will be elected. The annual meeting is open to the public.

Rev. Francis P. Kuntz will speak.

Farm Home Burns, 2nd Time in 6 Years

CHATFIELD, Minn. (Special)—Fire, for the second time in less than six years, destroyed the Oscar Erickson farm home, 12 miles southeast of here, Sunday morning.

Firemen estimated that the blaze, tipping through the home's upper story at 11 a.m., demolishing about two-thirds of the $10,000 structure, while water damage ruined most of what was left.

Erickson and his wife were attending church services at nearby Pilot Mound when the fire, reportedly to have been caused by a defective chimney, got under way; but neighbors and two adult sons who were at home managed to save most of the family's personal belongings.

Burned Out in 1947

The family wasn't as fortunate Nov. 27, 1940, when fire swept through a previous home built on the same foundation. At that time, they lost everything.

Sunday's blaze was discovered by a 22-year-old son, Willard, who had gone out of the home to round up a stray cow.

STOCKTON, Minn.—Harold Luhmann, 45, suffered a head cut and bruise when he walked into the side of a moving car on Highway 14 here Saturday afternoon.

Luhmann was walking north across the highway toward his home at 5:30 p.m. when he stepped into the path of a westbound car driven by Merritt W. Kelley, 626 W. Howard St., Winona.

Kelley applied his brakes and turned sharply to the right but the pedestrian was brushed by the left front fender of the car and fell to the pavement.

A physician was summoned from Lewistown to administer treatment for the head cut and later examinations at the Winona General Hospital revealed that Luhmann suffered no serious injury.

Sheriff George Fort investigated the accident.

School Board Contest Created With New Filing

Beardsley Candidate For At-Large Office; B. A. Miller in 2nd

The first spring election contest for a Board of Education seat developed this morning when a second candidate filed for the office of school director-at-large.

Opposing Clarence F. Hartner in his bid for re-election as director-at-large is Philip A. Beardsley, 515 Huff St., one of two persons to announce his candidacy for a school board post this morning.

The other filing was made by B. A. Miller, 719 Washington St., who announced that he would be a candidate for the 2nd Ward directorship now held by George W. Richmond who will not seek re-election.

The two filings left only 4th ward board seat without a candidate. No more than one candidate, however, has filed for any one board office except director-at-large. Filings for both city and school offices close at 5 p.m. today.

The president of Miller Waste Mills, Inc., MILLER in 1947 was a candidate for 1st Ward school director.

He is 44, married, and has four children—two of them attending Lincoln School.

BEARDSLEY, 46, is a district manager of the Social Security Administration in Winona, is married and has two children who attend Phelps School.

A native of St. Paul he came to Winona in 1936 as an English instructor at the Senior High School. He accepted a position with the Social Security Administration in 1938 and served at Albert Leavand Redwood Falls before enlisting in the Navy.

During World War II he participated in four invasions in the Mediterranean theater, was awarded four battle stars, the Bronze Star with combat V and at the present time is a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve.

Following his separation from the Navy in October 1945 he returned to Winona as manager of the local social security office.

He is a member of the Exchange and Postmasters clubs and the Phelps PTA.

Officers Renamed By Inter-County

DURAND, Wis.—Andrew L. Brunner was re-elected president of the Inter-County Telephone Co. here Saturday at the annual meeting at the Pepin County Courthouse.

Others re-elected were: Tom Wisenbeck, vice president; Edwin Achenbach, treasurer; John Boigenzahn, secretary, and Warren Alme, and Joseph Abledinger, directors. All are of Durand except Abledinger who is from Nelson.

Joseph Falkner, Durand, was elected to the board to replace William Fox, Ellsworth, who has moved from this area.

Major item of discussion was an application for loan to the Rural Electrification Administration made several months ago. It is hoped that the loan will be granted in order to modernize the company system and to expand operations.

The company, which serves areas in Pepin, Buffalo and Dunn counties, was enlarged last year when it was merged with the Nelson Telephone Co. Plans to purchase another company in this area are pending the granting of the loan. More than 500 subscribers use Inter-County facilities. Modernization would cost approximately $300 to $500 per station, according to officials.

The basic philosophy of sportsmen is about the least selfish of all credos: Use resources wisely, restore depleted resources, and prevent unnecessary exploitation of irreplaceable resource values.

Sister Mary Helen, College of Saint Teresa Spanish instructor, returned to Winona Saturday after a year at Bogota, Columbia, South America, and with her were 12 students who today were enrolling for intensive courses in English for the semester beginning Feb. 1. Next fall, or next summer, they'll begin regular freshman courses. They graduated from a school comparable to an American high school in November. In Columbia "summer" vacation occurs in December and January. Four more students will arrive before Feb. 1.

'Missing' Harmony Man to Pay Cost Of Dragging River

HARMONY, Minn.—Clifford Anderson, who returned from Rapid City, S. D. Saturday, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges in La Crosse County court this morning and was sentenced to 30 days in jail and costs, including fire department expense in a search here last week.

The jail term was suspended, but he was placed on probation for six months. Costs totaled about $50, including fireman's wages and loss of some dragging equipment during a search for Anderson here last week. His abandoned car was found near Pettibone Park Thursday morning and two suicide notes, believed by authorities to have been written and left by him, were found in the vehicle. Bloodhounds traced a scent to the brink of the Mississippi River at La Crosse whereupon the dragging operation started.

A car which Anderson bought here and drove to South Dakota was left there. It cost less than $20, according to La Crosse authorities. Relatives from Harmony returned Anderson from South Dakota after learning of his whereabouts Friday. He made his identity known to a Rapid City minister who in turn contacted his family here through the Rev. Clemmet Peterson, pastor of the Harmony Methodist Church.

Anderson gave himself up to the La Crosse court Saturday afternoon and was released on $500 bond Saturday night. He was arraigned at 10:30 a.m. today before Judge Roy Ahlstrom. District Attorney George Thompson was prosecutor. Anderson returned to Harmony in the car he had abandoned here.

An 18-year-old Dakota youth, Ira Gady, is in danger of losing the sight in his right eye.

A piece of steel from a wedge, used in splitting logs, penetrated Gady's eye Friday afternoon. Surgery was performed at Winona General Hospital Friday evening, but the splinter was not removed. It is behind the eye, and the attending surgeon said that it will remain there.

The surgeon said that the splinter is unusually large—about the size of a glazier's point.

Owners of downtown property in areas where the new street lighting system has been installed were reminded today that white way assessments are payable by Jan. 31 at the office of City Treasurer Ole Hultkrantz on the top floor of City Hall.

The cost of the installation totaled $32,587.50, of which the city of Winona has paid one-half. Some 5,230 lineal feet of property are involved.

Individual assessments amount to $3.115 a foot.

3 Divorce Suits Added to District Court Calendar

The order of trial for 10 jury cases on the calendar for the winter term of District Court here was set this morning at an informal call of the term calendar.

Two suits brought by a Beach, N.D., woman and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce K. Miller, for damages totaling $87,000 for detergent burns Mrs. Miller allegedly suffered as a result of using Proctor & Gamble products will be the first cases to be tried when the jury reports for duty next Monday afternoon.

Dismissed were actions by Mrs. Blanche Rose against Oscar Rose (divorce suit), the state of Minnesota against William C. Markwardt and others, and People's Cooperative Association against Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lemmer.

The action brought by John J. Pellowski against Francis Pellowski and others arising from an automobile accident was continued over the term.

Hatlevig and his companion, 17-year-old Edgar Evanson, also of Rushford, were returned to Winona during the weekend by Sheriff George Fort's deputies.

The sheriff said that Evanson will be taken into custody by Fillmore County authorities for possible prosecution on another larceny charge.

Hatlevig, who waived his right to a preliminary hearing in municipal court this morning, is charged with using a bad check to obtain a motorcycle at the Trading Post, 116 Lafayette St., Dec. 29. The motorcycle has been recovered at Livingston and is being returned here.

Hatlevig's bond was set at $1,500, in default of which he will be held in the county jail.

FBI Roundup Of Counterfeiters Breaks Up Play

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Interruption of a stage production in Hollywood of the comedy "Charley's Aunt" climaxed the roundup by Secret Service agents of 12 persons wanted for the counterfeiting of $245,000 worth of $20 bills.

Agents descended on the Carousel Theater Friday night, arrested two of the actors in the play and ripped up backstage flooring during the performance to seize two bags of fake bills.

The final arrests in the three-state roundup were not announced

Guy H. Spaman, Secret Service agent in charge here, described the show stopper raid. Agents, who went backstage, said they learned that actor George W. Lewis, one of the leading performers, had stuffed a couple of bags under the

The agents ripped up stage flooring and found the bags which Spademan said contained $9,000 in fake bills. Lewis was arrested during the intermission after the first act and the show stopped. Another actor, John B. Roche, also was arrested.

Six of the 12 persons, including an unidentified 17-year-old strip-tease dancer, were arrested in Los Angeles. The other men arrested here were Glenard Elmer Schmidt, a printer; Roger Hajlitz Spaman said 11 of those arrested have been charged with possessing and passing counterfeit $20 bills. Schmidt is charged with manufacturing counterfeit money. The bogus bills, Spaman said, bear the serial number 01137932A and a poor likeness of President Jackson. He said many may be in circulation.

Although many people regard spiders as insects, scientists put them in a different category.

We Worry About New Taxes, How About Cutting Expenditures?

Every person who makes a living in Minnesota will have to contribute some direct tax payment in support of government if financial needs of the state and its local communities are to continue to increase.

This is the conclusion of the Minnesota Tax Study Commission, as announced last week in the latest of a series of reports. The commission emphasized these three points:

1. Rising government costs inevitably will mean increased direct taxes on Minnesota residents.

2. Many citizens now exempted in whole or in part will have to contribute something in direct taxation.

3. Larger tax yields should come from one of two sources — either a uniform (ungraded) levy on individual income or else a general sales tax.

The commission previously reported that average taxes on property and personal incomes were high, and has now concluded that ways must be found to obtain direct taxes, even if in small amounts, from everyone earning a living in Minnesota.

This could be accomplished either by taxing income, including lower brackets now exempt, or by imposition of a general sales tax. Under a sales tax, an individual's tax payments would be determined by the amounts spent on goods subject to the levy.

The commission's latest report discusses the merits and demerits of six methods of taxation not now used in Minnesota, but which have been proposed here. These are a public utilities use tax, the Michigan receipts or "value added" tax, graduated land tax, hotel occupancy tax, pari-mutuel racing tax and general sales tax.

Tax relationships between the state and local governmental subdivisions also were studied by the group. In this connection the commission said: "Local units should not appeal to the state to furnish the funds for purely local responsibilities. On the other hand, the state in its exercise of control of the local units, must provide them with sufficient and satisfactory means to levy the necessary taxes to raise the needed revenues."

Also, the commission said: "Each unit of government spending public money ought to have the responsibility to levy upon its own citizens as much as possible of the taxes needed. . . . Local governments in the long run are better off to levy taxes according to their needs instead of looking to the state for grants, which usually result in the state directing how the expenditure shall be made."

One thing the commission failed to mention which might be well for the new Legislature to study seriously: Why not cut expenditures sharply, eliminate waste on duplication of services and step up production by all state employees to the extent that no new taxes of any kind need to be levied?

Door Left Open For Negotiations

Our State Department has declared more than one-fourth the land area of the United States off-limits to citizens of Soviet Russia. The move was in retaliation for Soviet limitations on travel of Americans inside Russia which have existed for years.

Americans would prefer to allow Russians to travel freely through our country, to examine our way of life and compare it with that of their own people. The comparison could not help but be favorable.

But rights and privileges granted by one government to citizens of another must be on a reciprocal basis. There is no other way for our government to get travel privileges for Americans in Russia than to let the Russian government know that we will be no more generous than they are in our treatment of their nationals in this country.

The Russian reaction, after the initial face-saving growls, may be to reconsider their position on allowing Americans to move about in Russia. Americans hope so. Our State Department has left the door open for negotiations on the matter.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Matt Weinstock tells about a lovely cat lover who was dining with her husband in her apartment one night when she fancied she heard a cat meowing a floor or two away. "I'll bet that pussy is lonely," she remarked, and playfully meowed back.

To her surprise the cat answered her! She repeated her meow, this time putting extra feeling into her performance, and there then ensued the darndest cat conversation ever heard in that neighborhood. It continued for a full half hour, while the husband marveled.

The next day her triumph was deflated when a neighbor dropped down to borrow

These Days

Dr. Peale's Book A 'Best Seller'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — For 114 weeks now, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's book, "The Power of Positive Thinking," has been at the top of the best seller list. That is a news item surely as significant as the Dr. Sam murder case, as Gloria Vanderbilt leaving Leopold Stokowski, or as the conflict between Arthur Godfrey and his staff.

For what this astonishing news item tells us is that among all the books published and sold to the general public through book stores, the one that has been most purchased each week for more than two years is a religious work, written by a clergyman whose object is to preach living according to the moral law of God. Dr. Peale is not a literary stylist; he does not use words for their effectiveness. He is a simple Ohioan, a Methodist who presides over a Dutch Reformed Church, who, without much ado about it, captivates his reader as he does his listener, by the simplicity and humility of his conversation.

IT IS NOT NORMAN VINCENT PEALE who is very important in the phenomenon of his popularity. The same can be said for Billy Graham and Dr. James Fife and hundreds of similar spiritual leaders. They serve a terrifying need, as Bishop Fulton Sheen does, the need for a comforting word, the need for a holding of hands, for a pat on the shoulder — the need to know that God does exist and that His servants labor upon this earth.

For 114 weeks, this little book "The Power of Positive Thinking," stands at the top of the best seller list because in these troubled times, in spite of what all the current wise ones say, men and women do turn to God and to a message that relates man to God. In our country, materialism does not satisfy. It is not enough. It is not comforting. Luxury does not make for peace of mind; a high standard of living does not make for contentment; money in the pocket or in the bank does not produce happy families. More and more of our people are beginning to recognize what Arnold Toynbee has said so correctly:

"Why is this secular cult of science not enough? Because science operates in a spiritual medium from which it can never detach itself. Our Western science is the child of moral virtues; and it must now become the father of further moral virtues if its extraordinary material triumphs in our times are not to bring human history to an abrupt, unpleasant, and discreditable end. . . ."

EVEN SOVIET RUSSIA is discovering the frightful condition that too many Russians go to church and the atheistic campaign has been stepped up. The amazing fact is that science has not killed God, by whatever name he may be called. The pull toward the Divine Intelligence is so great these days that it is perceptible.

In this connection, I want to call attention to a remarkable book I have recently read which has not appeared on any best seller list. It is "A Democratic Manifesto," by Samuel Enoch Stumpf, professor of philosophy, Vanderbilt University. This book deals with "the impact of dynamic Christianity upon public life and government."

To those who complain that there are thousands of books which tell of everything that is wrong about the United States and how everything is right elsewhere, particularly in the Soviet Union, here is a small book, easy to read, particularly good for intelligent young people, which has an answer and a message that is inspiring. Scholarly yet not pedantic, this book says:

"Our heritage and tradition are rich in spiritual insight. And the case for democracy is a formidable one and ought to be stated in its fullness and with positive power. No one is under any illusion that simply by stating a set of ideas we can bring into tranquil repose a world torn by convulsive revolutionary forces. But it is equally unrealistic to deny that our present struggle is a fierce competition for men's minds and souls. . . ."

Again, this significant book has been written by a profoundly religious thinker who relates the Judeo-Christian ethic to our immediate problems, most of which grow out of an abandonment of traditional morality — internationally, nationally and individually. I should not be surprised if I quote from Prof. Stumpf's book in many of these articles.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ike Meets Opposition To GOP Rejuvenation

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's talks with intimates regarding his political future are continuing. The details of the talks are not always identical, but the general substance is. And one thing he keeps harping on is that he doesn't want to run for a second term.

Another thing he emphasizes is that the Republican party must build a new liberal organization, develop new leaders. He also talks of policies very similar to those of Roosevelt and Truman — when it comes to foreign affairs — though, in at least one important case, Ike's ideas didn't get one inch beyond his more conservative, budget-balancing secretary of the Treasury, George Humphrey.

Lunching with one liberal Republican the other day, the President emphasized the importance of getting vigorous, young Republicans to come out for Eisenhower. He is considered one of the top Eisenhower men on Capitol Hill. But he is seldom consulted, gets few jobs. In contrast, Sen. Martin of Pennsylvania, a member of the anti-Eisenhower, pro-Taft wing, gets most of the jobs but doesn't always vote with Ike.

Nixon vs. Neuberger

Here is a play-by-play account of what happened when freshman Sen. Dick Neuberger of Oregon chastised Vice President Nixon at the Women's Press Club dinner and did it so effectively that Mrs. Malone, wife of the GOP senator from Nevada, walked out in a huff.

Neuberger and Case of New Jersey were the feature speakers. Case gave an excellent speech, so good that Neuberger's might have been an anticlimax. It wasn't. After some wisecracks and jokes on himself, he hit the theme: "We must base our politics on issues, not on character assassination."

This brought general applause, but Vice President Nixon, sitting one yard from the speaker's stand, did not applaud. He had gone into Oregon, together with eight Republican senators, and had personally delivered some of the worst character attacks on Neuberger.

"No election is worth winning," continued the young senator from Oregon, "if we have to abandon the Sermon on the Mount and the Ten Commandments."

By this time the Vice President was getting red in the face. "I hope," continued Neuberger, referring to Benedict Arnold, "that we will not begin accusing George Washington because he once trusted a traitor."

Nixon squirmed and got more crimson. "And I want to thank one man who came into Oregon and campaigned hard against me but campaigned squarely on the issues, not personalities," said the young senator. "I refer to the senior senator from California, Bill Knowland."

This brought down the house. Without mentioning Nixon's name, Neuberger had spanked him about as neatly and as soundly as anyone could be spanked.

2 Minnesotans Die in N.M. Auto Crash That Kills 7

LORDSBURG, N.M. (AP)—Seven lives—those of five adults and two children—were snuffed out Friday in a smashing head-on collision 21 miles east of here.

State Policeman Neil Moore said the accident occurred when a speeding automobile with five persons in it crashed into another auto bearing a Minnesota couple.

Moore said the car driven by Ralph Osborn Mitchell, 22, Adena, Ohio, soldier stationed at Ft. Bliss, Tex., was three feet across the center line at the time of impact. Killed were Mitchell, Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Lavern Hursh, both 25, of Silver Spring, Md., their two small unidentified daughters, Edward H. Vincent, 66, Fairmont, Minn., and Mrs. Vincent, 59.

Simultaneously Ike favors the conservatives, not the liberals,

Boyle's Column

Shills Paid To Drum Up Gambling

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—You meet so many interesting people in a gambling house, and not all of them cost you money.

The most fascinating, I think, are the shills, those delightful Barrymores of dice, roulette, blackjack or whatever game happens to be dragging and needs a shot in the arm.

As you may know, shills are the genial fakers who are paid to drum up trade by playing with the house's money, to appear to be having the time of their lives in the hope that their thrills will prove contagious.

On a recent trip to Puerto Rico, where gambling is legal, I studied the shills. You understand, of course, that the only reason I went to the casinos was to gather material for a column.

Easy to Recognize

Shills are easy to recognize. They open and close the joint. When they run out of chips, they retire to the men's room, smoke a cigarette, and somehow always return with another (or maybe the same) $20 bill for fresh chips.

When they win, their eyes flash with triumph, and their chips are piled up prominently in front of them. When they lose, their eyes darken, but never into the blackness of real despair because, after all, real despair is contagious, too.

The kindly old banker always wore an understanding expression. As you paid for chips, his eyes seemed to wish you luck. When you lost, he looked sad but, still, encouraging. Always encouraging. When you won, he beamed. He couldn't have been more delighted that you were taking his dough.

Among the players, I noticed several types.

Young Couple

There was the young couple just off the cruise ship. She seemed stout and breathless. He tried his best to be casual, but his hand shook. She stood close to him. He rolled the dice, made two or three passes and you could see her fidgeting mentally at his elbow. But his sense of man-of-the-worldliness wouldn't let him leave. Not until he lost.

Then there was the middle-aged drinker, who appeared to be drunker than he was. When the dice came his way, he turned to a woman he didn't know and with great flourish invited her to shoot for him.

This, I guess, was supposed to indicate he didn't care what happened to his money. Anyway, the sight of a fresh woman rolling with somebody else's dough seemed to give the other players new hope. Many bet on her.

She won at first, and then lost. And as she lost, the drinker became less drunk, less flamboyant, less cavalier.

Then there was the timid, guilt-ridden amateur. When he won, he looked apologetic, as if he were stealing the money. When he won a real pipe, he looked apprehensive, as though three Chicago gunmen were waiting outside for him. When he lost, he seemed to be looking over his shoulder, as though he were playing with his boss' money.

There was the tight-lipped, belligerent skeptic. Every time his turn came, he growled for fresh dice. I doubt he would know loaded dice from kipped herring. Anyway, fresh dice didn't seem to help, either.

Finally there was the student. For one entire night, he stood by without playing. Just made notes. This was the system player, bubbling with conspiracy. He played

Peress Fired 15 Months After Act

By JAMES MARLOW Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—An enemy would have time to invade the country and start raising a family if it took the Army as long to fire a shot as it did to get rid of Irving Peress after he balked on questions about Communism.

It was on Feb. 2, 1954—15 months after he invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked about Communist connections—that the Army discharged Peress, New York dentist who held the rank of major.

Help Keep Streets And Walks Clean To the Editor:

It seems to me the City Council and the managers of several downtown stores ought to think this over.

A week ago Sunday at 10:30 a. m. I had occasion to walk up Third street. I saw something that surprised me. Several stores apparently had swept their sweepings out of their front doors and left them on the sidewalk. I know these stores have empty boxes at the rear. Why not put the sweepings there and keep our streets and walks clean?

Wet Weather Saves Baby's Diaper Supply

PATUXENT RIVER, Md. (AP)—Wet weather in the Azores yesterday may have saved a Navy lieutenant from a dampening defeat in his 13,000-mile "diaper derby."

Lt. Norman K. (Moose) Donahoe left Naples yesterday with his newly adopted Greek baby and only a dozen disposable diapers between him and this Maryland naval air station.

"I just have enough diapers left to make it. It was tough and on until this morning, and in a few more hours it would have been gone," said the six-foot, 27-year-old Korean War veteran pilot yesterday.

But the Navy reported here last night that the military transport plane carrying Donahoe and 17-month-old Roni Marie was grounded in French Morocco, North Africa, because of bad weather.

Donahoe used his leave to fly to Greece in search of a baby after he and his wife Helen, 27, were unable to find a child for adoption in Texas. Donahoe is stationed at Corpus Christi Naval Air Station. He is due back there Jan. 18.

He left Athens with 48 disposable diapers and 35 had been used up by the time he reached Naples.

13-State Alarm Out for Angus Bull

BALTIMORE (AP)—State police put out a 13-state alarm last night for a 1,200-pound, 3-year-old Black Angus bull with the number 209 tattooed in both ears. The bull was last seen Saturday at Takaway Farm, operated by Mrs. Doris F. Sundeloff in Thurmont, Md.

H. W. CLARK about this question I bought cheap insurance from an out-of-town agency. They had no local agent to adjust my auto claim — I waited six weeks for settlement, and got $200 less than my damages. With a local agent, could I expect prompt and full settlement?

Thailand Fears Reds, Resident Writes Winonan

Communism, as it exists today in Thailand, was described to some extent in a letter received this week by a Winona woman, Mrs. Harriet H. Dunton, 276 1/2 Center St., whose Thailand friend is the wife of a U.S. government mine operator.

The writer, Mrs. Gladys McKay, is a former resident of Deer Lodge, Mont., the home of Mrs. Dunton's nephew, Mrs. McKay at one time was employed as stenographer by the nephew, William A. Keeley, former Montana state senator and president pro tem of the Montana legislature.

It was at Deer Lodge, many years ago, that Mrs. Dunton first became acquainted with Mrs. McKay, at the time of the death of Mrs. McKay's first husband. She later married Jack McKay, an employee of the federal government and the two have been stationed near Bangkok since early in 1953.

In her letter, Mrs. McKay indicated that she would return to the U.S. in May of this year to join her young daughter, Lena Lee, at Deer Lodge. She will live there until her husband's term at Bangkok is completed in 1956.

She had written to Mrs. Dunton in an earlier letter that she will "hate to leave Bangkok, because the natives here are all so light-hearted and happy" and said that she'd finally gotten used to their bamboo house whose open front faces the jungle.

Writing of the Communist problem in Thailand at the present time, Mrs. McKay said: "The Communist situation seems to be getting no worse yet in its threat to this country."

"However, they always seem to strike suddenly and when least expected. I don't believe though, they would actually invade this country unless Russia and Communist China are ready to start a world war."

"I had thought they would try to work it under the guise of a revolution in this country for overthrowing the corrupt government; but at least to date they seem to have had little success."

"Very Opposed" She continues, "The people on the whole here are very opposed to Communism and while the majority of the population are rather poor, they are not hungry as is true in so many Asian countries. Also, the Siamese are not of the temperament to throw themselves into a cooperative effort throughout the country."

"The government is composed of a handful of influential people who maintain their position not by the will of the people, but by strength of force. However, the force is not directed toward the people outside politics, and a change of government, or coup d'etat, really affects the country as a whole almost not at all."

"The people seem to be content to be so governed — probably because their own personal liberty is not interfered with; they have enough to eat and they do not need much money to live."

"They are not good material for Communist propaganda — fortunately."

"I have a Siamese servant girl to do the housework and laundry (the washing must all be done by hand); but I always get the meals myself, as it is hard to train the Siamese out of their unsanitary habits where food is concerned."

Mrs. McKay wrote that she was at present authoring a book on life in Thailand's upcountry jungle and hopes to have it published on the American market in a year or so.

Encouragement Helps Banish Dieting Gremlins

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Encouragement for slow losers coming right up. The gremlin that plagues dieters is a phenomenon known as water swings. Failure to lose at the start of a diet, or later on, is due to just one thing—retention of water in the tissues. Here's a promise: If you stayed on the 1,100-calorie diet, you have lost fat, but when water has replaced fat in the cells, registration of the lost fat is postponed until the water is released.

But how do you explain an actual gain at the start of a diet, puzzled dieters demand. You know the way fat floats on water? That's because fat weighs less than water. When stored water replaces lost fat, the result is a temporary "gain."

The water balance always adjusts, and when the cells release stored water, the pointer will plunge. It helps to know in advance that weight will not go down in a straight line. Holding periods will be followed by an abrupt loss, if you stay with the diet.

Water retention has nothing to do with the amount of water consumed; therefore the fundamental trouble should be treated. To counteract water storage, have a complete protein food with each meal. If you tend to oversalt food, use less. The sodium of salt is the water-holding mineral of body fluids. Unless the doctor orders it, there is no need to drastically reduce salt.

However, on a diet, you may start losing from the first day. If you lose fast—five pounds the first week—part of this loss is water from the tissues. After the stored water has been released, weight will be lost more slowly, but it will all be fat.

Again, you may store water after you have lost 10 or more pounds, and lose no more for an aggravating three weeks. But whether you fail to lose at the beginning or later after part of the excess has been reduced, stay with the diet, confident you will lose the right amount in the long run.

LUNCHEON (200 calories)—Baked ham on rye, mustard or Swiss cheese (2 slices) or meat loaf with 20-calorie vegetable (celery, asparagus or spinach). Combination green salad, special dressing. Glass skim milk or buttermilk.

LATE AFTERNOON ENERGY PICKUP—Glass of 1/2 milk or buttermilk or hard-boiled egg. Cup of tea.

Problems of Youth Dominate in Subjects at AAUW Workshop

Three sessions of 50 minutes each, beginning at 10 a.m., were followed by a luncheon and business meeting at the annual all-day workshop of the Winona AAUW Saturday at the YMCA.

The sessions were planned and presented by three of the study groups of the organization — the education group, youth conservation committee of the social studies group, and the fine arts group.

A talk on the provocative question, "Do Children Need Parents," presented by Dr. E. L. Ragar of the division of education and psychology at the Winona State Teachers College, opened the day's program.

In answer to his own question, Dr. Ragar concluded that children not only need parents, they want them. He pointed out that the type of need varies as the child grows, that "parents alone can furnish the child with the love and security that is every child's birthright and which is so greatly needed by children in this day of complexities," and "the parent serves as a coordinator between the child and his life outside the home," that "there is a definite trend—as a result of clear-cut findings of psychiatry — away from mere objective expertness on the part of parents and toward the realization that technical skill alone is not enough to insure wholesome development—it cannot be substituted for love," that "the greatest contribution we can give our children is not money, fine houses, stocks or bonds, but a sense of security and love."

Dr. Ragar was brought to the workshop by the education group, and was introduced to the members by education chairman, Mrs. C. Stanley McMahon.

A panel discussion on the question of youth conservation followed. Dr. Ragar's talk. Chairman of the AAUW youth conservation study group, Mrs. Milton L. Spencer Sr., also moderated for the panel, introduced panel members, Mrs. Truman Potter, Miss Vivian Tansley, the Rev. J. R. Felten and Dr. Neil Minne.

Miss Tansley opened the panel with a plea that everyone in the community accept responsibility on the question of youth conservation. She urged that "we accentuate the positive" instead of putting the emphasis on the negative and pointed out that "the 20 billion dollars spent in one year in the United States to keep youth in correction and rehabilitation institutions might better be spent in keeping them out of such places."

She recommended that "youth be given an opportunity to plan community activities" and concluded, "We think we know what they want but we often 'miss the boat.'"

Mrs. Potter told the group that "what a boy or girl does in his time away from home and school depends to a large extent upon what the community has to offer."

She said she felt the attitudes and activities of groups of youth reflect the social value and customs of neighborhoods and communities from which they spring. She reminded her listeners that "environment factors in Winona or in any community are not someone's responsibility but everyone's."

F. R. Felten made the point that "we do not always see the relationship between effects and causes." He said he thought it was a mistake to look at the problem of youth delinquency from the point of adolescence and declared "We can't change something overnight that has built up over a period of years."

"If a child is to become delinquent," he continued, "he starts earlier than adolescence, depending upon the kind of life or upbringing he enjoys or does not enjoy."

"Factors that make for unhappy 'homelife' with its bad effects," he listed as "unsuitable marriages, poor discipline, spoiled children and too materialistic standards." He concluded that a child has to have "security, love and affection if he is to meet the problems of life."

The panel presentation was concluded with an analysis and summary of youth councils and their functions by Dr. Minne. Among other things such an organization, he said, is a means of seeing what problems are in the area—a means by which the public can inform itself. He pointed out that the problem of youth conservation will probably not decrease very soon

How To Read A Floor Plan is illustrated graphically in this 3-dimensional plan, which, virtually shows the house as you would look down with the roof removed. You can imagine walking in the front door and visualize every turn you would make in passing from room to room. This

3-bedroom, 2-bathroom house with basement and 2-car garage was designed by Herman H. York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y., as his plan 7253. The house covers 1,675 square feet, without porch and garage.

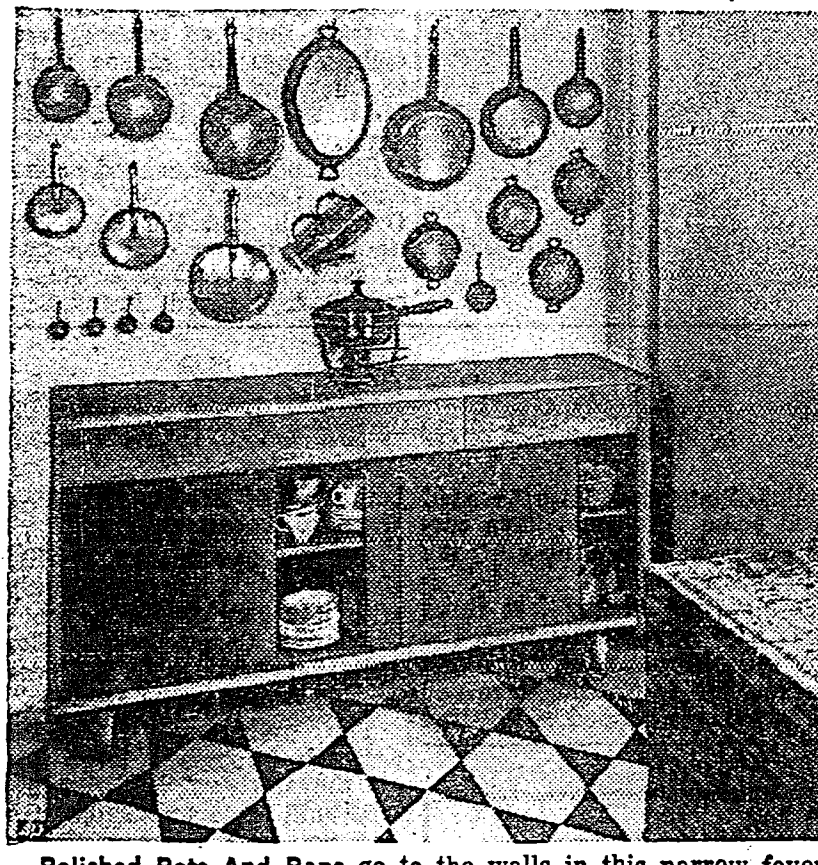

Color Perks Up Kitchen

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Is your kitchen sound asleep — dead as a doornail, dreary, cold? Maybe that's why you don't like to work in it.

A pretty kitchen is a joy to any housewife — even those who dislike cooking chores. A little ingenuity and the lady of the house can enjoy her kitchen whether she is a gourmet or queen of the can opener brigade.

One way to insure a rosier outlook is to plan a real coordinated color scheme. A new paint job will liven up the coldest looking room. Try pink or yellow on the cool north side. Blue is pretty on the south side where sunshine reigns. Two colors besides white may be used. Accessories such as dish and hand towels and wash cloths may be color coordinated.

Polished Pots And Pans go to the walls in this narrow foyer-kitchen designed by architect David Whitcomb. He has used rubber flooring in a dramatic pattern to give the illusion of a larger room.

Pale yellow walls with blue or brown accessories can be very cheerful, pink with cherry red or black and white, or black and white with cherry accents may be smart and lovely.

Floor tiles may be colorful, although black and white is neutral when other color is used in the room. Rubber or vinyl tiles may be used in attractive designs for a new look.

When selecting kitchen utensils pick attractive things that may be displayed such as colorful casserole dishes, copper-bottomed pots and pans that may be put at the wall, straw bread and wine baskets, salad bowl, spice racks and shelves for holding pepper mill, salt grinder, garlic press, wall knife racks, wooden spoon holders.

Put your blender, mixer or electric broiler where they may be used easily. Most of this equipment is attractive enough to be displayed.

An attractive little painting or two may be used on your kitchen walls if you like.

Fairmont Police, Suspects Trade Shots in Chase

FAIRMONT, Minn. (AP) — Police and two burglar suspects traded pistol shots during a foot race here late Friday while several pedestrians and onlookers ducked for cover. No one was hit.

The two suspects escaped while more than a dozen police and sheriff's deputies surrounded a Fairmont junkyard into which the would-be burglars had fled.

It all started when Horton Tucker, manager of the Red Owl Super-Market took a last look at the store's parking lot about 11 p.m. from a window of his home across the street.

Tucker saw two men at a door, apparently trying to break in. He telephoned police. As the police car drove up seconds later, the two men got into their car and leisurely drove away. Police radioed to headquarters and learned the car they were following had been stolen from a Fairmont parking lot.

When Officers Silvan (Bear) Olson and Joe Gulla overhauled the car, its two occupants jumped out and ran. One of the men dropped a .38 caliber pistol. Gulla pursued on foot.

One of the suspects fired several shots from a .45 caliber pistol and Gulla returned the fire but was hampered by fear of hitting onlookers.

The men sprinted into railroad yards and into the junkyard. But while officers were surrounding the yard the men stole a car from a residence garage and fled. The car was found abandoned a mile west of Fairmont.

Tempestuous Italian Star Likes Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Anna Magnani, the tempestuous Italian star, has seen Hollywood, likes it, may return.

I learned this in a bilingual interview with the help of an interpreter in her suite at the Beverly Hills Hotel. She also remarked that reports of her temper outbursts on "The Rose Tattoo" set were exaggerated.

After seeing her in peasant roles, I was surprised to find she was sleeker and more attractive than I expected. She was dressed in a black slacks outfit, well ornamented with jewelry. In repose, her face had a rare Italian beauty.

I asked the actress if she thought Italian performers were more temperamental than those in Hollywood.

"I do not think so," she replied. "Artists are artists, no matter what their nationality."

This was leading up to a question about reports that Miss Magnani had acted as tempestuously off-stage as well as on during the filming here.

"I never listen to gossip," she said with a flick of the hand. "There had been a story that she had put too much reality into a slapping scene with Marisa Pavan and the young actress had fled the set in tears."

"If I must slap, I slap; you cannot slap like this," she remarked, making a dainty gesture with the flat of her hand. "I believe in doing what the script calls for."

There had also been rumors of flareups between her and director Danny Mann. She said that she had had excellent relations with the director since the producer, Hal Wallis, she also happened over her co-star, Burt Lancaster, who she said was a thorough and earnest actor.

Miss Magnani said she liked America and would like to return here later this year. Her son is a paralytic and she hopes to bring him here for treatment. She might do a play in New York next year. Would she ever want to settle here?

"Oh, no," she replied. "I love my country too much."

Phony Money Plant Sought In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A search was under way here today for a phony money making plant following the arrest of a 32-year-old man in connection with the passing of 35 counterfeit $10 bills.

The man, who was arrested by Secret Service agents Sunday, was not identified.

Four other men, one of them a 25-year-old soldier from Truxa Field, Madison, were held by Milwaukee police. Two women, 27 and 25, were held and then released with orders to return for additional questioning today.

Authorities were convinced the phony bills were printed in Milwaukee. They appeared to be no connection, Secret Service agents said, between them and the arrest of 12 persons on the West Coast in the smashing of a quarter million dollar counterfeit $20 bill racket.

Agents said the bills were passed in the downtown Milwaukee area, and on the near North Side at filling stations, taverns, a restaurant and a grocery store. Officials said 35 complaints were received in a month and more were expected.

Secret Service men said the bills were poorly printed on paper thicker than a legitimate $10 bill. The impression on the back of the bogus bills was better than the one on the front.

Agents received their first lead when a man arrested on a drunk charge had three of the bills in his pocket. He said he got them from a brother-in-law, who named the 32-year-old man as the source. Both men were held.

Early Sunday morning a 24-year-old motorist offered a counterfeit bill in payment at a gasoline station. The attendant, Peter Strand, 28, recognized the bill as a phony and refused it. As the driver paid in honest money another attendant, Gerald Speicher, me noized the auto's license number. The car was later picked up by police.

Police said the driver told them he got the bill from the 32-year-old. In the auto were the soldier and the two women. The men were held.

SPORTS Sidelight

BY RALPH REEVE

It Was the Best

Friday night's Winona High-Austin game meant a lot to us for a number of reasons . . . Coach Don Snyder's Winhawks met their best opponent of the year and rose to the occasion with their best performance . . . I can't remember ever watching a better high school basketball player than Austin's 6-6 forward, Jerry Olson . . . We'll have to scratch our noggin to remember a better, more efficient and completely impartial job of officiating than the performance of the two Minneapolis arbiters, Clarence Mitby and Paul Sokol . . .

A few thoughts on the game: Ove Berven, the calm and genial Austin coach, said of his great forward, Jerry Olson, "He's the best I've ever had . . . He's a nice kid besides."

That offhand statement is significant since Berven has turned out some great ones at Austin. The number of All-Staters who played under his banner are legion . . .

Dave Weiss played capably at the University of Minnesota and Burdette Halderson is now one of the better pivot-men in the country at the University of Colorado . . . Halderson was only 16 his last year in high school and thereby didn't reach maturity until college . . .

Olson showed the predominantly Winona crowd a lot. He shoots equally well with either hand and when he started hooking them in left-handed in the second half there wasn't much the smaller Hawks could do about it.

Jack Nankivil stepped on the scales after the game and exclaimed, "Gee, I lost seven pounds!" He weighed 162 before the game and 155 after . . . Jack, about 6-2 or 6-3, doesn't have a lot of weight to lose, either . . .

Bill Heise was never better, especially in the second quarter when he couldn't miss, making 15 points in eight minutes . . . When Austin started sagging back on him in the second half, it left the circle open for the drives of Earl Buswell from the right and Nankivil from the left . . .

Snyder showed the largest crowd of the season a vastly developed team. The bench strength has been built up and there's scoring ability at every position . . .

We got a big jolt out of Heise's performance . . . We told him after the game, "Gosh, Bill, you must have believed that stuff about the H-bomb we put in the paper!" He just grinned . . .

We always hesitate to use a gimmick like that since it often puts too much pressure or ballyhoo on a boy, but Bill didn't cross us up . . .

Particularly pleasing, too, was the sportsmanship of the two teams . . . Several times vanity was hurt in bruising rebound scrambles, but each time the boys involved shook hands and play continued without any bad blood spilled . . .

Austin has the best ball club, probably, Winona will face this year. But we don't go along with the idea some fans expressed that an Austin victory was inevitable . . .

Sure, the Packers are good, and the team that beats them will have to be very, very good. But we feel it can be done . . .

Winona High battled back to a 44-42 lead in the third quarter . . . Two factors caused their eventual downfall. They had a little relapse after taking the advantage. Also, Olson came in to take charge at that point. Austin is a team you can't let up against . . .

The Hawks let up for perhaps two to five minutes and it was too long a time . . . Maybe it will be different if the two teams meet again before the final whistle is blown this season.

Hither & Yon
In other news, short stuff: Abbie Fehr, well-known golf pro at Hillcrest Country Club, Eau Claire, landed the sixth hole-in-one of his career at Sunset Golf Course, St. Petersburg, Fla., this winter . . . He used a five iron for his 168-yard ace on the fifth hole of the course . . .

Rumors, rumors, rumors! Joe Raso is the only player on Austin's 1954 Southern Minny team who hasn't yet felt the ax of release papers . . . Rumors, according to Al Schmah of Albert Lea, would have you believe such old-timers as Sammy House, Mel Harpuder, Jack LaVelle, Dick Seltz and Rolli Marquardt will don Austin spangles this summer . . . But don't believe it is our advice . . .

No action by the Austin board has been taken concerning outfielder Joe Sexton who is now attending Purdue University . . . Mankato High set a single game scoring record for that school when it defeated St. Peter 86-62 . . . And Johnny Bogard, an accurate tosser of Mankato's football team, can hit the bulls-eyes in basketball, too. Over one stretch he had 14 consecutive free throws, 18 of 20 . . .

Rochester, like Winona, believes in the value of the March of Dimes basketball doubleheader promotion . . . A benefit card to be staged Saturday night features Rochester High against Minneapolis Roosevelt and Lourdes against Spring Valley of District One . . .

Austin fans are talking of going into their final regularly-scheduled game of the season, Feb. 25 against Red Wing, with an unbeaten record. Austin's ordinarily-genial coach, Ove Berven doesn't like the talk of an "unbeaten" season . . .

"I don't know how or where it got started, but this talk is downright silly," Berven says . . . "Sure, we've got good material but that's no reason to believe we can win every game in a breeze. We have a lot of work to do and looking ahead to the final game of the year would be one way to court disaster . . ."

Only four members of the Albert Lea entry in the Southern Minny Hockey League are over high school age . . . The Winona Hornets, on the other hand, don't have a player in the prep age category . . .

We've heard a lot of local youths say those responsible for the staging of Don Swearingen received Friday night were Austin students who attended Friday night's basketball game here . . . Swearingen was assaulted by several young rowdies on West Fourth street near Johnson street . . .

Another Winona High youth to get clipped was Jerry Ziebell, young star on the Winona High swimming team . . . Two youths accosted him and while one held his arms, the other slugged him . . . Jerry's face is decorated with a split lip these days . . . His brother, Bob, said it didn't upset him . . . Jerry was too happy over winning two events in the Austin-Winona High swimming meet Friday afternoon . . .

In the cases of both, the assailants drove up in a car, hopped out and accosted the Winonsans, then jumped back in the car and drove away . . .

Winona police are investigating the affair . . . Incidentally, according to Koek's records at Austin, Winona High's victory in that swimming meet was the first by a Winhawk team at Austin in not 11 years, but 18 years . . . Hornets Defeated By North Mankato

By BOB ZIEBELL
Daily News Staff Writer

The Winona Hornets suffered their third loss against a lone win at Athletic Park Sunday when North Mankato took measure of them 6-4.

The Hornets started fast and jumped in front 2-1 at the end of the first period, but came up with a stale second period.

North Mankato had its biggest period in the second, pouring in three goals, while the Hornets went scoreless in their seven attempts.

The Hornets were hampered by the loss of starting center Roger Neitzke who re-injured some bruised ribs and left the game. He had been top point-getter for the Hornets.

The Hornets roared back in the final period and mixed it up with some fast-moving hockey as North Mankato played the clock.

The Hornets managed to score twice in the third period, but Mankato matched their output, one goal of which was highly-disputed.

The disputed goal came when North Mankato scored and it appeared they had a man in the crease. The referee ruled it was not so, and after a debate the goal was allowed.

The other North Mankato goal of the period was a rather freak one too. Trautman of North Mankato took a shot at the goal, and Horne, goalie, Dick Larson, who had 58 stops for the game, moved out after the puck which was sailing about three inches off the ice. Just as he dove for it, however, Bob Michalski made an attempt to stop it with his skate. The puck hit Michalski's toe, bounced high in the air and into the net.

Larson's 58 stops would have been a new league record, if he hadn't set it himself against Rochester Thursday night.

He had 62 stops in that game, thus giving him an average of 60 stops for the last two games. He now holds the league record jointly with Russell of Rochester.

The next game for the Hornets will be next Sunday at Athletic Park when they meet Owatonna's entry in the Southern Minnesota Hockey League. Owatonna holds a 2-1 New Year's Day victory over the Hornets.

"This is the first year since then I've had the kids to use the defense," Crowe says, "and they are doing a pretty good job."

Coach Johnny Nett pointed to a St. Augustine height advantage and the fact "they outthrustled us" as contributing factors to his team's downfall.

"We had a poor shooting night," Nett added, "both in field goals and free throws."

Nett said Crowe's ball-handling was extremely poor and that the Ramblers lost several good openings early in the game through faulty passing.

Top scorer in the game was St. Augustine's Dave Christpherson, center, with 19. Two Ramblers—center Ken Plein with 12 and forward Rich Brown with 10—hit double figures.

The Ramblers played without 6-2, 200-pound forward Jim Danielson, who was ill, and the absence of his rebounding was felt.

Next game for Cotter is Wednesday night in Memorial Hall against Wyckoff in the second half of the March of Dimes doubleheader. Winona High and Cochran square off in the first game at 7:30 p. m.

Kentucky Loses To Georgia Tech

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Bruised, battered and bewildered Kentucky, its proud string of 32 straight victories shattered by Georgia Tech, will try to pick up the pieces tonight against De Paul.

The almost unbelievable defeat of the Wildcats by a club that could not win a Southeastern Conference game last year was only a little more surprising than the defeat of mighty Duquesne by little St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. Kentucky's defeat, coupled with Cornell's victory over Dartmouth, left just one major unbeaten team in the country—Auburn.

Kentucky's downfall, by 59-58 on a last-minute goal by Joe Helms, was all the more amazing because: 1. The Wildcats had won 32 games in a row and 129 in a row on its home court.

2. Kentucky had not lost a Southeastern Conference game at home since 1939, running up a string of 70 victories.

3. Georgia Tech showed a less-than-mediocre 2-5 record this season.

"What is there to say but 'Wow,'" enthused John Ryder, Tech coach. "We worked three days getting ready for Kentucky, but it was no strategy we used. We were stronger than Kentucky throughout and our kids forced them on a lot of plays."

The Dukes' 82-72 defeat at the hands of St. Francis came from a team that had broken even in eight games this season and lost to Duquesne earlier in the season 71-58. Duquesne plays Dayton tonight.

Other notable weekend action included Cornell's 70-66 defeat of Dartmouth, and Furman's fantastic 154-67 victory over the Citadel to set a new college scoring record. Darrell Floyd, Frank Selvy's

Minnesota Meets Indiana Tonight

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Recharged Minnesota, overnight a Big Ten contender again, duels Indiana tonight in a game which will finish in fourth quarter hysteria if the wild pattern of the last three weeks persists.

In Minnesota's last five games, against Wake Forest, Duke, North Carolina State and Iowa, a well placed onion skin could have created the point spread up until the final few minutes.

The pressure in the last three games has been excruciating. The Gophers lost by one point to North Carolina, two to Northwestern and Saturday night popped a Big Ten bombshell by beating Iowa 81-80 in the last 12 seconds.

Indiana was shelled by Illinois Saturday night but comes equipped with 6-10 Dick O'Leary and m. Minnesota Coach O. Z. C. Cowles calls "unquestionably the best offensive center in the country."

The assignment of guarding Schlundt imposes a large burden on the Gophers' Bill Simonovich who until three weeks ago at least had not been rated in the same league with Schlundt.

Yet his 16 points before he fouled out against Iowa were vital in keeping the Gophers within shooting range while Dick Garmaker was having his usual first half troubles.

Schlundt and Dick White, who tossed in 19 points here last year, were prime movers in torpedoing Minnesota's title drive in 1954 when the Hoosiers coasted past the Gophers at Williams Arena and whipped them again at Indiana.

With them are Willie Choice, dexterous and a great jumper, and veteran Burke Scott. "A team" Cowles says with tongue in cheek, "not to be taken lightly."

The largest Willia m s Arena crowd of the season, perhaps as high as 15,000, is expected for the game.

At Iowa City Saturday, sophomore Dave Tucker climbed his finest game of the year with a free throw that brought victory after the Gophers held the ball for 2 1/2 minutes waiting for the proper moment.

Garmaker and Chuck Mencil had got them there with fine second half shooting to compensate for the loss of Simonovich. Garmaker, limited to six points in the first half, hit 19 in the second for 25 points. Mencil scored 20.

THE 'INSIDE' SWING

Proper Hook Angle—Turning the right shoulder back as the stance is taken, and facing approximately at the No. 6 pin, is the simple way to develop an effective "inside" swing. As the sketch shows, the ball is swung back well inside the "straight" line. It is in position to be stuck into the right hip pocket. From that angle the delivery naturally is to the right of the head pin, as dotted line shows. Notice the position of the hand, with arrow indicating fingers on the right (outside) of ball.

The important thing, once this position is reached with coordinated footwork and arm swing, is to complete the approach with a left-to-right finish and a full, follow-through swing. No rushing whatever. No further hand turn. Merely swing the arm through, and the fingers will apply hook-spin without any conscious effort. Should the ball have too much hook-break—and it will hook with this delivery, that is sure—practice a longer swing-through. Reach out more. That will reduce the hook for better control.

Two Casshott men were killed late Sunday night in a two-car crash seven miles south of Madison, near Oregon in Dane county.

Dead were Richard Langan, 26, and James V. Cary, 24, both farmhands.

Police said the victims were passengers in the back seat of an automobile struck from behind by Gordon Hartin, 26, of Evansville, who was injured in the collision.

Hugh Haines, 72, of Gillingham in Richland County, died Saturday night of injuries suffered in a two-car head-on collision on Highway 56 near Richland Center Saturday afternoon.

2 Girls Hurt in Lewiston Accident

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special)—A pair of teen-age girls were treated for facial injuries here Sunday night after suffering from a car accident in which they were riding in a parked car in front of the Mrs. Alice Wirt home on Main street.

Driver of the car, Roger Kreinbring, 18, Lewiston, later pleaded guilty to careless driving before Justice of the Peace Russell Phillips. Stockton, and paid a $15 fine and $3.50 court costs.

Donna Kutz, 17, Lewiston, and Ramona Patzner, 17, Wyatville, passengers in the Kreinbring vehicle, were treated by a local physician and released. Another passenger, Kermit Fabian, 18, Lewiston, was uninjured.

56 Chances Better
Laird said the Republicans lost control in an off-year election and their chances should be much better in 1956 when the presidency is up.

"I believe it will depend a lot on what we do in Congress in the next two years," Laird said. "However, there is no question that it will be a lot easier if President Eisenhower runs again."

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski of Mercer said what happens two years from now "depends entirely on what this administration does to bring the farmers back in their fold."

O'Konski said it was his opinion that return of the party to control depends upon whether 50 per cent supports on the basic commodities are restored.

O'Konski said there is no question in his mind but that Eisenhower will seek re-election. And he said the party's chances for regaining control of Congress will be much better if he does run.

Rep. William K. Van Pelt of Fond du Lac predicted the party will regain control in 1956. He also said he believes Eisenhower will seek re-election and that the party's chances will be better if that happens.

Republicans Optimistic On Developments in '56

By RICHARD P. POWERS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Most Republican members of the Wisconsin congressional delegation predict (1) the GOP will recapture control of Congress in 1956 and (2) President Eisenhower will run for and win re-election.

They made these cheery (for the Republicans) forecasts as the Democrats took over narrow but definite control of both the Senate and House as the 84th Congress got under way.

The Senate lineup now: 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans, and one Independent. The House: 231 Democrats, 203 Republicans, and one vacancy.

Although the majority of the Wisconsin Republicans took an optimistic view, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said there were too many impediments to make any predictions at this time.

"It will depend a lot," McCarthy said, "on what happens on the farm issue. The farm income has dropped and if the drop continues we will take a beating."

Asked if he thought his party's chances would be better in 1956 if Eisenhower runs for re-election, McCarthy said "it is too early to say. We will have to wait and see what is done in the next two years about such things as indirect trade with the Reds."

McCarthy said the path foreign policy takes will be a major factor in what happens two years from now. McCarthy is at odds with the administration on a course to pursue in the Far East.

Sen. Alexander Wiley said in a separate interview he believes the chances of the party's regaining control two years from now "are excellent, especially if President Eisenhower runs."

"I hope the President runs for re-election. I think he will do so, and I believe he will win again," Wiley said.

Wiley, who is up for re-election two years from now, added he does not believe the Republicans "to win Congress on Ike's coattails."

Win Without Ike?
Wiley said he believes Eisenhower, if he runs, will be a "constructive force" but that he expects the Republican congressional candidates two years from now to win on their own record.

Rep. John W. Brynes of Green Bay had this to say:

"1956 is a long time away, but things look favorable for a Republican-controlled Congress at that time. We did extremely well in the last election, the margin of loss of control was slim. If we follow a good course in the next two years, we should be in good shape."

Brynes said he hopes Eisenhower will run again and added, "The way it looks now, we will have a much better chance if he is running."

Rep. Glenn R. Davis of Waukegan said he believes the GOP has "a good chance in 1956."

Davis said it is his firm belief that Eisenhower will be a candidate for re-election, noting that only three presidents in the past have voluntarily retired after serving one term.

"Except for Vice President Dick Nixon, I do not believe that anyone else is built up enough nationally anywhere approaching President Eisenhower," Davis said.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield said, "I believe there is a good chance that the Republicans will be back in control two years from now."

Chief Supervisor Filling Golling Post
ST. PAUL, Minn. — Raymond B. Vecellio, chief supervisor of the public examiner's department, was acting head of that division today as the resignation of Richard Golling, public examiner since May 1943, became effective.

Vecellio has been with the department several years and also has worked in the state department of administration.

Army Has Plans For Evacuation Of U.S. Families

FRANKFURT, Germany. (AP)—The U. S. Army is ready for swift evacuation of American families from target cities in West Germany in an atomic war.

It has worked out emergency plans to move Army wives, children and civilian workers to safety areas across the Rhine and in France. All American-owned private automobiles would be commandeered.

Newly revised instructions from Army headquarters stress a caution in evacuation plans. "These plans may have to be carried out under dangerous and adverse conditions during any season of the year."

However, the Army adds, the evacuation plan "is a purely routine and continuing matter and is not inspired by any development of the current international situation."

In event of attack, the alarm would be given by sirens. Non-combatants would move to assembly areas in automobiles or on foot with minimum baggage.

From the assembly areas, they would move in convoy under military control to undisclosed "havens." Individual cars would not be permitted to travel out of convoy.

Rations would be provided at assembly areas. Family units would be kept intact in the convoys. Hospital patients would be evacuated by medical detachments.

He gave a summary of the year; reports were read by Elgin Sonnenman, secretary; Alvin G. A. N. Z. treasurer; Mrs. Carl Eckhoff, Sunday School treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Jungbun, president of the Afternoon Missionary Society; Mrs. Clarence Gauger, treasurer of the Missionary Society; Mrs. William Ertl, president of the Evening Missionary Society; Miss Pearl Anderson, treasurer; Mrs. Harold Briesath, president, Mrs. Robert Damm, treasurer of the Faith Lutheran Ladies Club, and Mrs. Paul Prondzinski, chairman of the cradle roll.

Total benevolences amounted to more than $1,800. Rising votes of thanks were given the retiring councilmen and to the auditing committee, Arnold Martinson and Oscar Olson.

Delegate Elected
Kenneth Mehaffey was elected delegate to represent Faith Church at various conventions during the coming year. The first of these will be the evangelism meeting of the National Lutheran Council at Milwaukee Jan. 27-30. About 10,000 men from eight Lutheran bodies constituting the National Lutheran Council will attend. He also will represent Faith Church at the 65th annual convention of the Synod of the Northwest, United Lutheran Church in America, at Billings, Mont., May 24-26. Oscar Olson was elected alternate delegate.

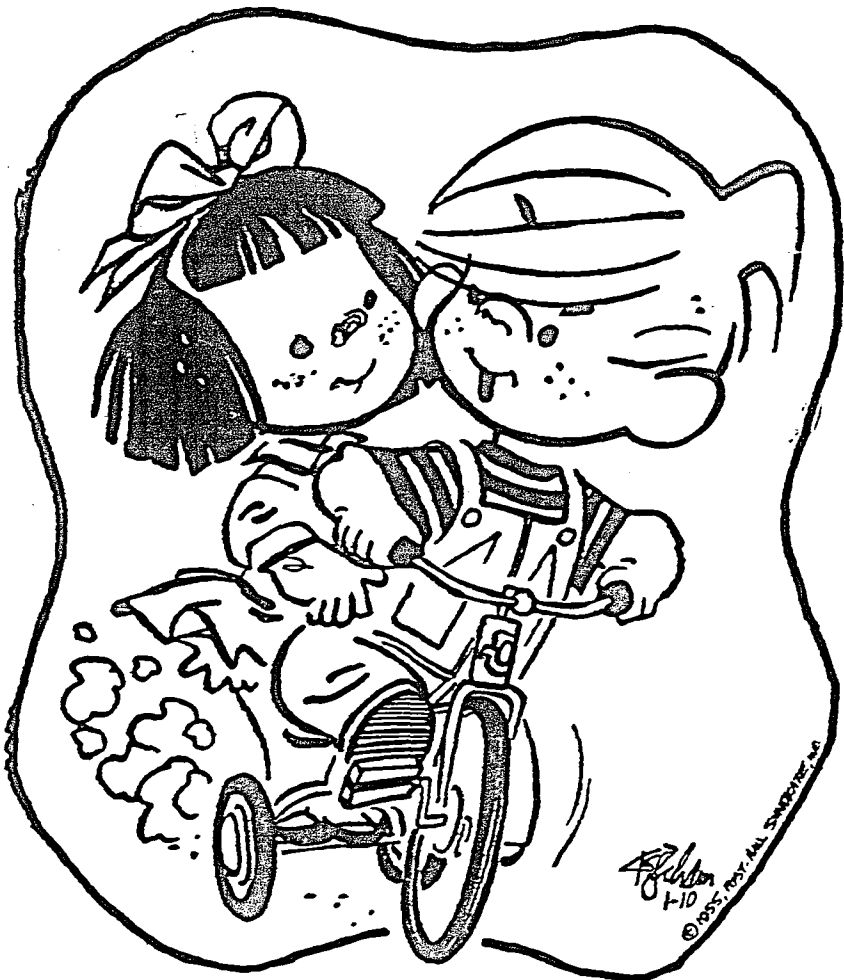

After a considerable discussion about future improvements on the church property, Leon Inman, Wayne Kicham, Harlo Larson and Dale Simons were elected to investigate the purchase of new pews, and to bring in a report on the advisability of remodeling the interior of the church. It was also suggested that each organization of the church select some delegate to confer with the pastor and the church council in the matter of securing new chairs for the church parlors.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of a prayer by the congregation and the benediction by the pastor.

DENNIS THE MENACE

YOU SURE SMELL GOOD! YOU BEEN EATIN' A PEANUT BUTTER AN' JELLY SAMWICH?

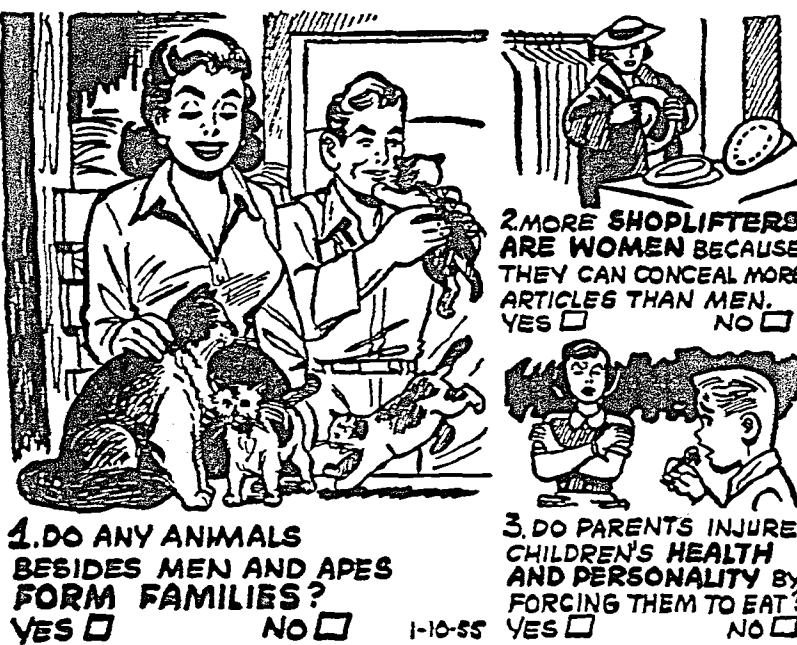

LAFF-A-DAY

Not the Philip Duncan who WRITES?

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D.Sc.

1. DO ANY ANIMALS BESIDES MEN AND APES FORM FAMILIES? YES ☐ NO ☐

3. DO PARENTS INJURE CHILDREN'S HEALTH AND PERSONALITY BY FORCING THEM TO EAT? YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1
In his delightful and important new book, "The Human Animal," anthropologist Weston La Barre says many animals, insects, etc., form herds and colonies but not families. In apes and man the male sticks around chiefly from his year-round "sexuality," and the female sticks with her young to feed them. By association, not paternal instinct, they come to enjoy each other and form families.

Answer to Question No. 2
Doubtful. Women today probably have fewer places than men for concealing articles. Psychologists think women shoplift more chiefly because they are tempted by hundreds of gossamer gowns that men don't care for. Even with the most elaborate costumes, women could hardly conceal the grand piano which some men once lifted from a New York department store during business hours!

Answer to Question No. 3
Ralph Meister, Mooseheart psychologist, says parents create

"eating problems" by showing over-concern about eating. With a fair variety of foods the child's natural tastes will select about the right foods, right amount, and the child himself will decide when to eat. Some parents even push the food into the child's mouth, injuring both health and personality.

90,000 Eggs Over-Cooked as Transport Burns

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (U)—Ninety-thousand eggs were over-cooked here Saturday when fire broke out in a semitrailer truck.

The truck, loaded with 538 cases of eggs was en route from Walters, Minn., to Sumner, Iowa. Driver Ben Keyes smelled smoke about 10 miles west of Albert Lea at 2 a.m.

Keyes stopped and found a tire burning. Flames spread quickly to the trailer. Alden firemen helped put out the blaze and pulled all but 250 cases from the truck.

A second truck was called from Sumner to pick up the salvaged eggs. Before loading up, Keyes and the second driver went to an all night cafe for lunch.

They ordered scrambled eggs and toast.

Don't fret, just relax and be appreciative. No person at 60 is expected to do more in one day than he did in two hours at thirty. Perhaps this is nature's form of reward after one has sailed through the years.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

I have plunged headlong into the post-holiday melancholia. New Year resolutions carefully made and filed away for next year. Letters written to Santa Claus about a slight mix-up. I mean, he is busy, but how can you confuse a white mink scarf with milk white yarn—and a pair of knitting needles to go with it?

Normally, January, February and through the Ides of March are reserved for worrying about the income tax. Will the collectors take a kindly view of the deduction for the church bazaar—contribution of one large casserole of okra—or won't they? Things like that.

This year the Bureau of Internal Revenue is sending out striped mail which some say will separate the glossy income earners from the ribbon clerks. Stripes do not upset me at all. In my bracket, just the plain punch card will do fine. But for any interested neighbors, I hope Aunt Martha will write us soon on the nice yellow-banded stationery we sent her. I am told the yellowish stripes denote important discussions with the Tax Bureau.

The reason for my excessive depression is that Uncle Sam has lengthened the worry period from March 15 to April 15, and of all the inconsiderate acts this gets the loving cup! April is for showers, umbrellas and recuperating from what used to happen in March. April is for wondering if the field mice ate up every single tulip bulb before it had its chance to live and bloom in the warm spring sunlight. April is for painting garden tools so they can be identified after the children have scattered them up the block. April is for letting out hems on last year's summer dresses, and deciding that the baby isn't a baby any more. April is the month of hop-

Ex-State Senator 'May Be Candidate For Governorship'

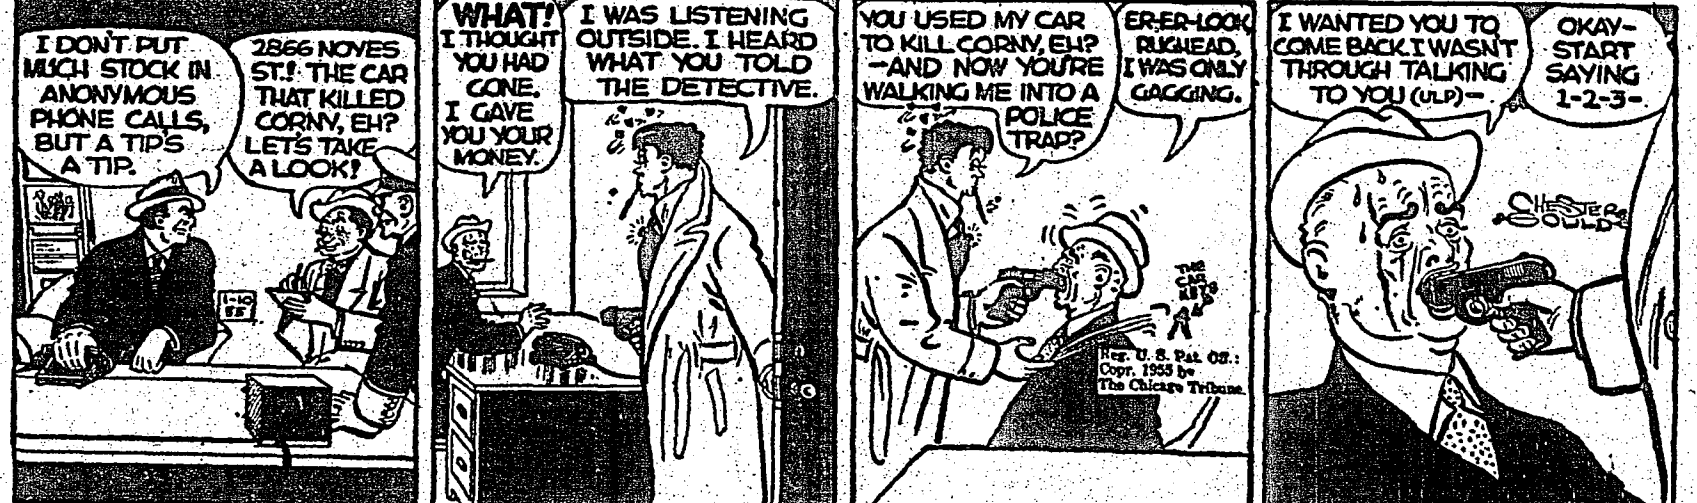

ST. PAUL (U)—Leonard R. Dickinson, former state senator from Bemidji was in St. Paul Saturday and tossed his hat into the 1956 Republican gubernatorial race.

"Are you going to be a candidate for governor?" he was asked. "I think maybe I will," he replied, adding "I'm going to keep myself around."

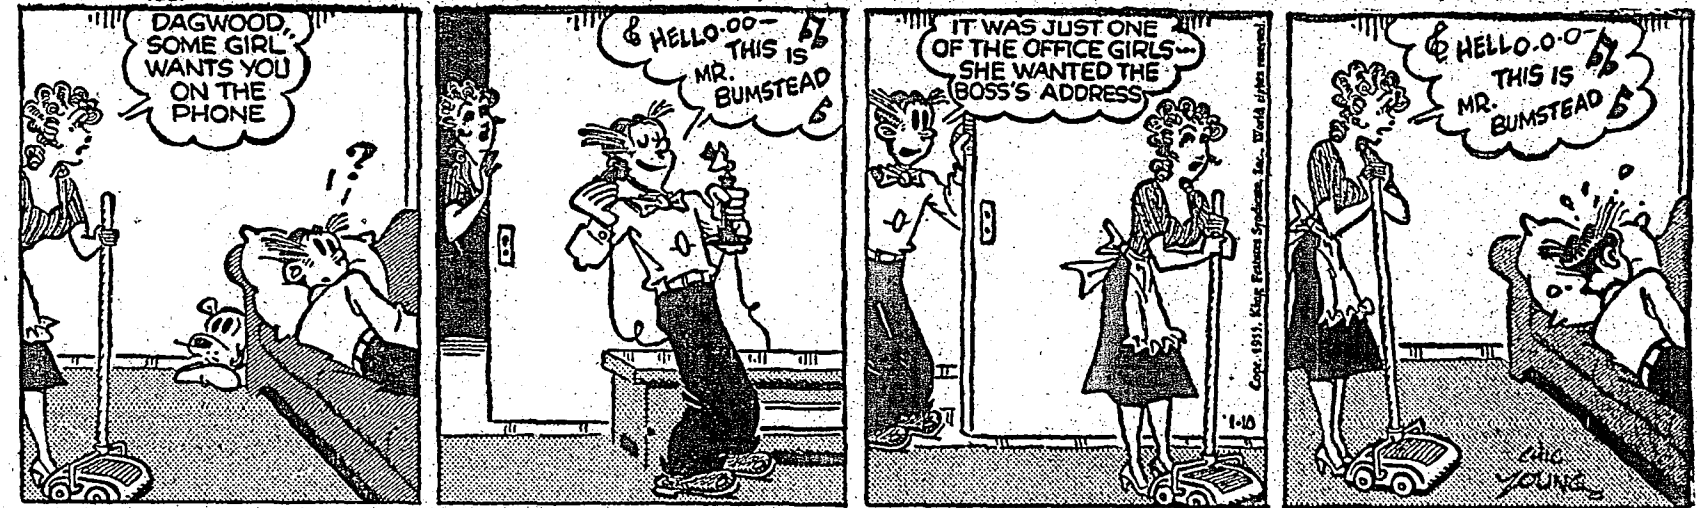

Dickinson took issue with Val Bjornson, former state treasurer regarding the state party officers. Bjornson, in a letter to party leaders, urged every officer of the state party be replaced.

"I don't want to quarrel with these party people," Dickinson said. "Dickinson tried to file for governor against C. Elmer Anderson in the last election and his petition was knocked out by the state Supreme Court."
