American Society of Women College Students rush parties begin Jan. 19

Delta Zeta, the national sorority at Winona State College, and W Keys, local sorority on campus, have made plans for winter quarter rush and a variety of things have been planned from the formal to the informal.

The first main party for both sororities will be in January 19. The Delta Zeta party will be held in Richard W. Gutknecht Hall Cafeteria at 8:00 p.m. A "Clairaudient Talent" will be planned with Judy Kastke and Cheryl Wicks in charge. An alumni, Mrs. Bonnie Kinnan, will be mistress of ceremonies. The Keys plan a tea in the same time with Ann Dimension as general chairman.

A ski party at Halverson Lodge on January 25 at 8:00 p.m. will be the second activity on the agenda for the Keys. A slot in the form of a fashion show is planned. Facilities Committee.

In 1963 the state appropriated $700,000 for the building, and in addition, the land has already been purchased. Carl Graffunder of Winona State, presented the two organizers with the tickets which will be served. General chairman is Judy Hendrickson.

Faculty member publishes articles

Dr. Lynne Johnson has announced the following winter term schedule of final exams in connection with the Round Table Speech Program.

Monday, February 1, extropomnent speaking

Wednesday, February 15, after-dinner speaking

Thursday, February 16, oral interpretation of poetry

Monday, February 25, oral interpretation of poetry

Waterfall, February 8, oral interpretation of poetry

Monday, March 8, original oratory

Gold, silver, and other appropriate awards of loving cups or medals will be awarded to winners of first, second, third, and fourth places. In addition, lesser traveling trophies will be awarded on the basis of cumulative points to those campus organizations whose members participate in the contests.

National rush parties in each category are open to men and women. Rumors will compete only with men; women will compete only with women. For further information students may consult the materials posted on the Spoon Round Table bulletin board in Somsen Hall to the right of the bulletin to the president.

Students desiring to enter any contest may consult with Dr. Lynne Johnson, Room 1964, Somsen, or with the students who are sponsoring the programs: extropomnent speaking, Gary Mayer; after-dinner speaking, Joan Vaccaro; interpretation of poetry, Thomas Luchtenberg; oral interpretation of poetry, Robert Dugger.Original orders, Munsell color standards. Kinko's, please.

Frat holds ticket sales

Tickets for the Winona and State theaters are being sold by the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity through January 19.

Accord to ticket sales chairmen Pete Blum, the tickets will be sold for 60 cents for good movies at any time in either theater. Tickets normally sell for at least 50 cents.

Funds allocated for library addition

A tentative federal allocation of $400,000 has been appropriated to WSC for the addition to Maxwell Library. This addition was made by the Higher Education Facilities Committee.

On February 7 the W Keys will have a "Green Door" party in the Somsen Hall at 8:00 p.m. Kathy Kenny and Betty Dolney are chairman.

Johnson: U.S. looks good

On Jan. 3, President Johnson gave the annual State of the Union message. Taken by its title, the "State of the union" appears to be, at least in the words of the President.

The message indicated that we are in a better position economically, socially and physically than any day that we have ever been anywhere in the history of the world. However, it will be dangerous for us to rest on our laurels. Johnson indicated that this would not end our renovation.

"We have the opportunity to move not only toward the rich society and the powerful society, but upward to the great society." These words of our President indicate that we can only move forward.

With the beginning of the 88th Congress this month it will be interesting to see what type of legislation President Johnson would like to have move toward the "great society."

The patter of little feet...

Why must the track team practice on third floor Roman?

It has come to the attention of the Winonan that the patterning of big, not little feet, is annoying some who have on eight hour class on third floor Roman Hall. This classroom, incidentally, begins at 3:50 Monday through Friday, barring catastrophic events.

Did you ever try to listen to your instructor as the rhythmic thudding of indoor track shoes, mashing the hard stone floors of Roman Hall, interrupt at you at perfectly intervals, the length of those intervals depending upon the speed of the offender? It is hard for the student to concentrate and the instructor becomes extremely irritated. Editors working on class papers, preparation of notes, and creative research also become agitated by these "intruders."

But what about the athlete's point of view? Did you ever try running outside when it's thirty degrees below zero? The track team is unable to practice in the gymnasium because of the basketball team, and the shape of this season is that they have to choose between practicing pneumonia, thus causing the collapse of the track team, or practicing for third floor classes. Perhaps the most desirable solution to this problem is the acquisition of an indoor track. Meanwhile we can only attempt to achieve a reasonable degree of peaceful coexistence.

Increased efficiency?

In an earlier publication of The Winonan, it was noted that the college bookstore would be revamped to better satisfy the demands of the growing number of students.

At the beginning of the fall term, there was an obvious lack of room and workers in the bookstores. At anytime between the hours of 8 in the morning, when the bookstores opened, and 1:50 in the afternoon when it closed, it would be advisable to have a worker either standing there or around a line of students to enter Maxwell Library. This problem existed for more than a week, with more than one person standing in line for hours only to find that the books he wanted were out of stock.

This predicament was cleared up to an extent at the beginning of the winter quarter.

The Winonan wonders...

Now that you have everything you want, what will you ask Santa for next year?

Charles Becker:
"A year free from yearbook duties."

Sharon Drwall:
"Don't be ridiculous. There's nothing left to get."

Mike Oakman:
"I want a cool cat's bird. One that goes oogle, oogle, oogle."

Two class reunions set

By GEORGE MCMICK

Class of 1959

Plans are already underway for class reunions to be held during the 1969 homecoming festivities at Winona State College. In charge of arrangements for the golden anniversary reunion of the class of 1919 is Mrs. Leonard Stroebel, Stockholm, the former Anna Wilkes.

Plans for the 25th reunion of the class of 1944 are being made by Mrs. Glenon Cash, the former Anita Sundby. Another class that will be reunited is the class of 1959 making plans is Edward R. Lazarki, Stillwater, whose daughter Nancy is currently a student at the college.

Another group of classes — the women of the class of 1919 — sent this column the following note: "Hello from the basketball girls of the class of 1919. Yes, we played basketball — very properly dressed — at that early date. Mrs. Chorp, our English teacher, was our coach. We played in the basement of the old Normal School. Four square wooden posts held up the ceiling of that small room. Sometimes our ball went through it, but, alas — it was never found."

"Since our return in 1959, we have gotten together each Christmas with all the girls from that old school."

"Dolphin Club plans show

Dolphin Club is making preparations for their annual swim show scheduled May 11-15. The Club asks all interested students to be present for dress rehearsal Friday, May 10 at 6:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall room 202. This will be the last chance for their annual swim show before competition begins."

"We will be at the college Friday, May 10th for our first pre-competition swim."

"We are looking forward to our first meet against Winona State on Saturday, May 11th."

"Please come and support us."

"Dolphin Club, 1968-69"

"Rangers Club elect officers

A new organization on campus, the Rangers Club, elected officers last week. President of the organization is M. Elam, the former student at the college. Other officers are:

Secretary: Bruce Smith; Treasurer: Marianne Kocher

"The club has been reorganized this year to include the attendance officers."

"This is what is left of us: Mrs. John Evans (Lela Maxwell), little sister of President Maxwell and the last resident of the college."

"We missed our reunion this year, but we are just as happy from the 'other side.'"

"A former student at the college, Lloyd J. Severson, a native of Galva, Wis., has been appointed director of international; raw materials investigations for United States Steel Corporation."

"He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1938, after spending three years in France. He has been president of Quebec Carier Mining Co., a subsidiary of U.S. Steel."

"Another former student with international interests is Elizabeth Conwy, now of Los Angeles and former of Cambria, she left for Nigeria Jan. 5 after completing Peace Corps training."

"Returning to the Winona area are Ms. and Mrs. Alton F. Wentworth, who taught in Minneapolis — Wentworth at Minneapolis College of Music and his wife in the college's teacher's center."

"Mrs. Wentworth is the former Alida Johnson. The 76-year-old lady and her husband have bought a house in Homer."

"Miss Angela de Groot, alumni secretary-treasurer, reports a number of contributions towards furnishing the alumni lounge in the college's student center, now under construction, have been received from the following graduates and friends:

Adolli Blevins, Rosella Warren, Mrs. R. W. Whisken, Mrs. J. M. McElroy, Pearl Bailey, Ellen McEwen, Mrs. C. E. Mcintosh, Ruth Kelso, E. L. Kelso, Mrs. Charles Heidl, Mrs. Robert Muller, Mrs. John Kasner, Louise Ber- nier, Robert Walters, Florence Schrader, Wayne Fugger, A. N. Nar, Mrs. Irving Wolf, Mr. Irv Minn, Dorothy Woodcock, Mr. and Mrs. Walt, Douglas De Leo (with a matching grant from In- ternational Business Machines), Olive Crocker, Louise Mcmahon, Genevieve Sch Luft, Gladys Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blount, Mrs. Gilbert Lucher, alumni secre- tary-treasurer, reports.

"Another alum who is expected to return is Mr. Jack Winfield, who plans to attend every reunion in order to keep in touch with classmates and improve swimming abilities."

"The theme of the conference was, "The Church in the World." but the emphasis was on revolution. This theme symbolized the spirit of Civil Rights, resulting in a conference resolution, and to the House of Representatives. This resolution enabled the Faith Assembly to determine the following day some of the company representatives will interview W.R.C. students on possible employment, according to S.A.M. speakerman James Cavan-

"Barry White is this year's program chairman, Dr. Joseph Fow-

crair, Associate Professor of Business at WSC is club advisor."

State takes second at Carleton Tournament

The WSC cagers gained their second victory of the season over the Christmas vacation by beating the Carle of Carleton College at Northfield in the Carleton Holiday Tournament. High scorer for WSC was Tim Anderson, a sophomore from Hager, Wise., with 19.

In the final game for the championship, the Beloit Buccaneers outlasted our Warriors by scoring in the final minute to win by 5 points. Again Andersen led the Warrior attack with 18. Both he and captain Dave Goede made "all tournament" berths.

Cagers are 1-1 in NIC play; lose to SCI

The WBC wrestling team held their underrated record intact by downing a strong River Falls squad at Memorial Hall Saturday night. With the 17-9 victory over the Falcons, State now owns a perfect 4-0 mark on the season.

Larry Knoblauch lost at 123 pound class with the first of four straight decisions gained by the Warrior grapplers. Following Knoblauch were wins by Larry McKibben at 130, Purry King at 137 and Maria Sovereign at 147. State led at this point 13-9. But River Falls fought back with three consecutive decisions at 167, 177, and 177.

Going into the heavyweight class Winona led only 12-9. Larry Wiesner closed the meet with a decisive pin for the final 17-9 score.

Warriorettes do Charleston at half-time

The Warriorettes of Winona State College displayed their talents Friday night, Jan. 8, during halftime at the WBC-Michigan Tech basketball game.

The routine had a "Roaring Twenties" atmosphere. The drill team performed the difficult "Charleston" as part of the show.

Kathy Brock and Jodie Fuglestad are the club choreographers. The Warriorettes are also looking for drummers. Anyone interested should contact Misses Fuglestad or Brock.
