Follow directions at pre-registration

The registrar's office wishes to remind students that they read the directions when they register for spring quarter. With the IBM machines facili- land the catalogues, they should find out what those regulations mean. In the past, students have taken many courses which do not fulfill their requirements. Material has been passed on that some courses were improperly pre-registered which begins Feb. 3.

Freshmen will receive appointment cards for holding spring quarter. It is impor- tant that students meet their scheduled appointments, for if they miss their appointments they will have to wait until all others have pre-registered. Students who plan to graduate or winter quarter should fill out their cards correctly if they plan to graduate in the registrar's office immediately.

Editorial - "History's child"

Sir Winston Churchill "is history's child" and what he said and what he did will never die," said President Johnson when he heard that Britain's prime statesman was dead. Indeed, Churchill will live on in word and deed as his death was nearly a week ago placed him among the great men of history.

"When there was darkness in the world and hope was low in the hearts of a generation, Franklin Delano Roosevelt gave us Winston Churchill," said the President. Who can ever forget that dark day of World War II when the British, in a double-strength, gave to a "blind, bold, brave and swell" state, the command he stood up for the RAP? Churchill participated in many of the world's most memorable moments, among them the Atlantic Charter Conference and his many speeches, "History's child" recognize another world figure.

The exams schedule out just a few weeks before finals, but for just a moment we shall. Although I have prepared for such a trial in preparing for it, I can't imagine them using their ability to lead.

Churchill - "History's child"

Winston Churchill, "History's child," has left his mark on the world. His words and actions have inspired generations.

Churchill's leadership during World War II was instrumental in shaping the course of history. His speeches, such as his famous "Blood, Toil, Tears, and Sweat" speech, have become iconic in the annals of history.

Churchill's influence extended beyond the confines of politics and warfare. He was a writer and orator of great skill, and his homosexuality was recognized by another world figure.

If you're looking for a unique gift for a history buff, consider a Churchill quote or speech. With its inspiring words, "History's child" will continue to inspire generations to come.

WSC students active in Peace Corps service

"The Peace Corps is an education in itself. Since a volunteer loses many of the society he works in that the native people do, the volunteers actually learn more than the native people," one Peace Corps veteran stated.

John Pelczarski, White Bear Lake, has been assigned to train in June for Peace Corps service in Liberia. David Yell, Winona, has applied for service.

Mr. John J. Fuller of the education department, administered a Peace Corps test to Gail Hailer and Mary Wanstorp last November.

YD speakers set

All students and faculty interested in politics and government are encouraged to join the Young Democrats of Winona according to club president Harry Sieben.

Club advisor Henry Hull is providing the leadership for a series of guest speakers participating in the bi-weekly meetings. Most topics are non-partisan and provide an excellent opportunity for a broad look at the political scene in America.

Club dues are one dollar yearly. They include the opportunity to attend the Young Democrats State Convention in Minneapolis as well as other Y.D. activities.

Mr. L. M. Mariner appointed Air Force ROTC advisor

At Winona State College, Mr. L. M. Mariner has been appointed as advisor for Winona State's participation in the Air Force ROTC two-year program, according to Dr. Neil Minna, president.

Significant changes have taken place in the training for Winona State's participation in the Air Force ROTC program. These changes make it possible for students transferring from Winona State to colleges having Air Force ROTC to continue in the Air Force officer.

These changes, primarily affecting a two-year program, were brought about through recent passage of the Student Travel Act of 1964 (Public Law 88-541).

According to Mr. M. L. Mariner, the training normally given during the basic course so that students entering the two-year program will do so on a par with those four-year students who have completed the normal Air Force ROTC basic program.

All male students who have two or more years of academic work remaining until award of their degree, either at the baccalaureate or associate degree, are eligible to apply, providing they can complete each work prior to their 20th birthday.

In effect, transfer students who already have four-year college credit or who are currently enrolled at a university which offers Air Force ROTC.

Windows State 17, St. Cloud 11

Winona State's wrestling forces brought their winning string to six for the year on wins over Luther and St. Cloud. Luther fell 5-4 and the Warriors downed stubborn St. Cloud 17-13. Against Luther, Larry Marchionda, Perry Ring, Merle Sovereign, Leo Simon, Tom Carson and Larry Wietzema gained wins for the Warriors. Caren won with a win in overtime. St. Cloud made it rough on the Warriors by getting pins from the Handsbread brothers at 123 and 130 and a 3 point class against Marchionda and Larry McKibben. King gained a decision, Sovereign a pin, and Simon a decision to put St. Cloud ahead 13-10. But Rings of St. Cloud decided by tossing Brem- ner to pin St. Cloud back into the lead 13-11. Caren at 177 and Wietzema at heavyweight both took decisions to wrap up the meet 17-12.
