A physical education major from Mankato, in Winona State College, was crowned as Homecoming Queen. She was crowned after a week of campaigning by SAM, at the coronation ceremony held in Somsen Hall Friday.

Miss Heather Roxburgh, mistress and master of ceremonies for the coronation, introduced each queen candidate and her escort as they walked to the stage decorated in purple and white. Each candidate carried a long-stemmed rose.

MRS. PAUL Engen, 1964 Homecoming queen, was escorted to the stage by President Nels Minne to crown Miss Cindy Packard, Winona State's 1965 Homecoming Queen. Cindy, wearing a white formal, was escorted by Robert W. Wescott of Shawano, Wisconsin. Charles R. Zeman presented Cindy with the queen's scepter and Raymond Walsh, football co-captain, presented her with a bouquet of red roses.

Dr. Margaret Boddy, in addition to her duties as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, is a member of the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women.

Dr. Boddy, in addition to her work at WSC, is a member of the Governor's Committee on the Status of Women for two years and has been active in the American Civil Liberties Union and the American Association of University Professors. She has had publications in learned journals for several years following research she did in England on eighteenth century English law and Robert Grim of Beecher, Illinois, was crowned as a member of the freshmen class officers held Oct. 20. Sarcastic or bland?

There are two ways to begin this kind of editorial; we could get sarcastic and say "In WSC is a cultural wasteland, is it Governor," or we could just be bland and say "Thinks, WSC students, for the beautiful turnout at Monday's performance of 'Antigone' by the Wesley Theatre.

We rather like the bland approach. That's all that matters now anyway. Monday's show played to more than a full house; it played to a packed house. According to Mr. Spier, the reaction was so good that it is hoped that the Cleveland Players will be back again next year.

A PACKED house, much less a full house, is much more than we ever anticipated, for last year it seemed like nobody ever went to anything. Perhaps that's because nobody ever did.

From this desk and Monday's performance, however, it looks as if this year will be a much more fruitful one. The next few weeks will most likely tell the story, for on Nov. 1 Glenn Yarbrough is coming to WSC, and we're all looking forward to that. Nov. 1-5, the WCN seeks Robert Baill's "A Man for All Seasons" in the Arena Theatre.

Elsewhere, other productions are coming to town. Currently there is a premier showing of Puccini's opera "La Boheme" at the State Theatre. There are still two performances left Oct. 30, and it would be interesting to see how many people come tonight. It was last night or tonight. It's our bet that quite a few take advantage of this free entertainment.

ST. MARY'S and St. Teresa's have dramatic productions coming up soon. St. Mary's will present John Colman's "Luther" Oct. 28-31 and Nov. 1; St. Teresa's will present Eugene O'Neill's realistic comedy 'Ah Wilderness!' Nov. 11-18. Many WSC students will be there, too, we wager.

Glenn Yarbrough, as we have already mentioned, is coming on Nov. 1. Many WSC students think he's quite good, for he sang with the Limeliters for a time, has cut a few albums and singles, including "Baby, the Rain Must Fall," which for a time was No. 12 in the nation, and he's being sponsored at WSC by one-third of the yearly budget for such programs. We are sure that WSC students will not miss the chance to see the world.

"A Man for All Seasons" is also sure to receive a good turnout. It is being produced on the replica of the Guthrie Theatre stage that was built by the Industrial Arts department two years ago for the Arena Theatre. Previous showings by the Wenocash Players on this stage have proven successful; this production is likely to follow suit. We are sure that many will see this, too.

THERE IS also a jazz concert this Sunday night which many students will see. With all these "cultural" things going on and a group the whole school who gives them a good turnout, are sure to have a fruitful "cultural" year.

Economic development to concern all

by John Ress

Of primary concern to every- one is the matter of economic de- velopment. Economic development, as everyone knows, has been a somber subject for most of us. By the end of the 20th century we will have to have a new kind of world to live in. Without adequate economic development, the world will be a much worse place.

The balance of international payments has shown a deficit every year since 1960 with the ex- ception of 1952. Between 1950 and 1966 the deficits averaged $3 billion a year and were of no real concern. The small surplus in 1957 was due to the increase in U.S. exports during the Korean crisis. Thus, in 1959, the deficit reached troublesome proportions, averaging $2.5 billion a year in the next five years fol- lowed by a surge in the outflow of gold which reduced by 20 per cent the U.S. gold stock held in 1967.

The overall problem illus- trated here is that of losing con- fidence in the dollar and therefore concerns everyone, should any change in monetary policy be made to correct this situation. The other problem to look for in the future is the continual rise of prices and inflation. Keep in mind, however, that repre- sents creeping and not galloping inflation and as such is not as serious a problem as many think inflation, as used here, is an increased de- mand for products and services in a corresponding increase in supply resulting in a steady increase in sales. Inflation is hardest on that segment of our population living on fixed in- comes — not excluding students.

The Committee for Economic Development (CED) suggests three factors to be used in the defense of inflation. They are: 1) Increase national productivity; 2) Prevent demand from rising faster than production, and 3) Adopt and adhere to policies, either voluntary or governmen- tal, to accomplish those objec-

Mankato sinks Warrior NIC hopes, 13-12

Mankato: Paulson (5 runs) PAT — Kick blocked

Winona: Usgaard) PAT — Kick failed

It's a pass. Quarterback Dave Usgaard fires a pass from the shotgun formation to Archie Skemp (82), for a 30-yard gain to the Warrior 20. The pass failed, but the big rush forced Usgaard to pass hurriedly and went incomplete.

Season finale with Elmhurst

The last football weekend this season features Elmhurst College in a conference crown and second place.

Perhaps things would have been different had sore place kicker Keith Comeforo not developed pneumonia during the trip to Bemidji the third week of the season. But regardless of bad breaks and personal losses the Warriors are having a fine season.

The homecoming game was possibly the largest this season, a tribute to a fine season. The Warriors set up for the homecoming game.

Harriers top Loras, 21-34

By Bruce Closway

Led by John Rahaim, the Winona State Harriers ran past Loras College of Dubuque, Iowa, by a score of 21-34, here last Saturday. The victory brought the team's overall record to eight wins and only one defeat, that coming at the hands of Carleton. Rahaim's time of 19:58 over the 3.9 mile course was very impressive considering the poor weather. Bob Mooney of Loras placed second, but Winona's Bruce Smith finished close behind.

Another strong race was turned in by Rodney Phillips, who took fourth. He was followed by Mal Measham of Loras. Other finishers for Winona were Vernon Hassel, sixth; Mike Anderson, seventh; Bob Puiter, twelfth, and Paul Hodge, fifteenth.

Next on the schedule for the Harriers will be the NIC conference meet at Bemidji this Saturday.

Mankato sinks Warrior NIC hopes, 13-12

Arch-rival Mankato State snuffed Winona's homecoming in hopes of a share of the NIC championship as the Indians downsed the Warriors 13 - 12 at Maxwell Field.

The loss placed the Warriors in a three way tie for second place as Bemidji beat front running Michigan Tech, 3-2. Tech. ended up with a 5-2 season mark. In seven games, Winona out-scored the opposition 129-87. The two losses were by the same 13-12 score.

The Warriors go into this game with a 3-2 season mark. In seven games, Winona out-scored the opposition 129-87. The two losses were by the same 13-12 score.

The Indians tallied in the second quarter after gaining possession on their only pass interception of the afternoon. Mankato's Steve Statka nabbed the ball at the 35 and ran along the sideline to the 1.

The third quarter was scoreless.

Starting on their own 11 yard line, the Warriors rallied to score. Usgaard set sail eleven passes, completing nine, moving the Warriors to the one yard line. Usgaard slipped through for a one yard touchdown to make the score Mankato 13 and Winona 12.

The Warriors set up for the two point conversion but the big rush forced Usgaard to pass hurriedly and went incomplete.
