Kostas-Pesek Win Tag Team Match

By BOB ZIEBELL
Daily News Sports Writer

Professional wrestling was on the program at the Red Men's Club Monday night, and an estimated 200 wrestling fans flocked to watch the American Legion sponsored event.

The main event was a tag team match with Fred Atkins of Toronto, Ontario, and Sir Alan Garfield of London, England, opposing Jack Pesek of Lincoln, Neb., and John Kostas of Greer, Tex. The feature match was between one pound, 241-240, finally managed to move outside the ring and referee Bill Kumsisto broke the hold.

The Balam Lake wrestler managed to get the jump on Newman when they returned to action, and used a series of punishing holds to weaken the Californian.

After yanking on Newman's neck, jerking at his mouth and gouging his eyes, Mooshy heaved Newman through the ropes.

Newman made several attempts to re-enter the ring, but each time was stopped by Mooshy's charge across the ring. After three unsuccessful attempts by Newman, and three thwarting moves by Mooshy, Kumsisto warned Mooshy. Mooshy failed to heed the warning and again prevented Newman from entering the ring the fourth time, and Kumsisto immediately disqualified him and awarded the match to Newman with 14 minutes and seven seconds gone.

Mooshy made a violent protest, was greeted by boos and jeers from the fans, and finally left the ring after voicing his displeasure at the ruling.

Fast and furious action ensued in the tag match as Kostas, the Greek foot wrestler, and Pesek, the handsome boy from Nebraska, met Sir Alan and his partner from Canada.

Kostas and Atkins started the match, and after several blows from Kostas' feet the Canadian moved him into his corner of the ring. Sir Alan came into the picture at this point, holding Kostas in the corner by pulling his hair from outside the ring.

Pesek came to rescue his partner and the fact he was chased back out of the ring by Kumsisto, and while those two engaged in an argument in one corner Garfield and Atkins were giving Kostas a go-over in the other.

Referee Kumsisto finally broke it up, and then Pesek and Sir Alan went to it. Pesek, at one point, made good use of Garfield's long legs by holding his head to the mat with a foot on the hair. This enraged Atkins and he charged into the ring.

All four were in the ring for a while, but Kumsisto managed to break it up and the wrestlers returned to their corners.

After action started again, Kostas was trapped in a corner by Sir Alan, and he and Atkins took turns working him over. Kostas was outside the ring all the time, however, and when Garfield and Atkins refused to pay heed to Kumsisto's warnings to break the hold the first fall was called in favor of the Greek and Pesek.

The time for the first fall was 25 minutes and 20 seconds.

Pesek and Sir Alan started action for the second fall, and Sir Alan threw a full-nelson on Pesek.

He maneuvered him into his corner where Atkins started roughing him up from outside the ring.

Pesek came up with an elbow to Pesek's stomach, and a fist to Atkins' face to quickly stop the punishment.

Both Atkins and Garfield had all they could take for about five minutes.

Pesek went back to work on Sir Alan, but Atkins with a roar of fury hurled into the ring. Kostas wasn't going to stand by and watch his partner worked over, so he went to his aid.

With all four in the ring a free-for-all ensued and both Atkins and Sir Alan were knocked to the ring floor.

Garfield protested when he recovered and put a full-nelson on referee Kumsisto.

Bill, a former wrestler himself, came back with a hip to Garfield's midsection.

Kostas hurried into the ring and started action. He came up with a series of three flying dropkicks against Sir Alan, and finished with a full body press for the pin and the match. The second fall took only 12 minutes for Kostas and Pesek to accomplish.

Preston Cagers Lose But Coach Smiles for Future

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

PRESTON, Minn. — The Preston Bluejays have taken their lumps regularly this season in basketball, but genial Coach Lee Renz isn't discouraged.

In fact, he even smiles once in a while.

Preston fans understand. You see, Renz is nursing along a team composed of only one senior varsity member, three juniors and five sophomores. The starting five this season has ranged from four sophs and a senior to three sophs, one junior and one senior.

When Renz smiles, he's probably thinking of next year and the year after.

"We are building, that's for sure," Renz says. "And the road is rocky, too!"

The road may be rocky but Preston fans figure there's a lot of basketball gold in them that hills around the bend.

Only returning player on Preston's team who saw a lot of action last year is Gary Ruesink. Wayne Kneeskern, Preston's 6-2 sophomore center, earned a letter last season but saw little service.

This season Kneeskern has developed into one of the finest players in the District One Conference. He has scored 165 points in eight games over-all and 150 in seven conference tussles for a 21.4 average.

Only weighing 160 pounds, Renz says Kneeskern takes a physical beating every game "but keeps coming right back. By appearance," Renz continues, "he's not impressive."

"You don't expect such performances from a boy built like him, but he's got potential, and he'll be a college ball player, too."

Renz says, "Honestly, he shoots any type of shot, but what he uses most is a fadeaway jump shot. He drives and draws a lot of fouls, too."

Renz pointed out that against Houston when Kneeskern hit his season high of 32 points, he scored 13 free throws in 14 attempts the first half.

Opposing teams often play Kneeskern tight early in the game, and then give him more room, once he starts driving and drawing fouls.

With teams sagging back on Kneeskern and double-teaming or using three men on him, his scoring ability is all the more remarkable.

Analyzing Kneeskern more closely, Renz states:

"Wayne is a fine basketball player and student. He is a good golfer and baseball player, too, and he's a well-liked, respected and modest boy."

"In basketball he is good at any position on the floor — especially at center. He has played all three positions at various times this year."

TOUGHEST SEASON

Tired Pollard Hints This Is Last Year

MINNEAPOLIS — They used to say of gliding Jim Pollard that he made basketball look less like work than any man alive.

At 32, the Minneapolis Laker star is still the portrait of grace and finesse.

But this year, possibly his last as a pro, he's working and admittedly wheezing through the toughest season of his career.

"Sure, I'm getting tired," Pollard said today in a between-game recess that is almost extinct now in the National Basketball Assn.

"The 24-second rule is making old gaffers out of a lot of us. I'm not so self-conscious about it when I look at Jim Holstein (one of the younger Lakers) and find him sagging, too."

The pros' 24-second rule, Pollard says, eliminates any moments of relaxation they might have stolen under the old rules.

"We used to play like fury on defense and then catch our breath on offense. Now the moment you get the ball you take off and go. The other guys have the same idea, so you never get caught up."

Pollard also has a quarrel with the rule on purely abstract grounds. He figures the game is going too mechanical, too much a basket-shooting jamboree.

"A couple of years ago," he observed, "you could pull a flashy offensive play and have it mean something. Now somebody else would do the same thing 10 seconds later."

Pollard has a suspicion his old scoring partner, George Mikan, might feel the physical pressures of the new style just as he is.

"It's hard to say how we'd be doing with George in the Pollard said. "The game has changed, probably the same for him as for us."

Pollard does most of his scoring in streaks now, but he retains his ability to produce in rough going. He scored 17 points in the recent East-West pro battle of stars.

After this year? "Well, I've been traveling for eight years. The same hotel rooms and depots. Someday I'd like to be able to get up in the morning and come home in the evening like the rest."

But this greener-grass outlook disappears in a hurry when Pollard gets on a basketball floor.

St. Stan's Wins Cage Doubleheader

ROLLINGSTONE, Minn. — St. Stan's Grammar and Junior High School swept a double header Sunday afternoon from Holy Trinity's Grammar and High School "B" teams.

In the first game, St. Stan's jumped out to an early lead and won by a 41-36 score. They were paced by Tom Nelson's 12 points. The St. Stan's junior high came from behind in the third quarter and pulled away in the fourth, winning by a 38-30 score. Wayne Gallas was high with 9 points.

Minnesota 11th in National Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky's Williams was the Associated Press national poll for the seventh consecutive week today, but there's likely to be some changes made by next election time.

On the basis of games played through last Saturday, Kentucky edged San Francisco's Dons 1453 to 953 points. But more significant was that the Wildcats received only 15 more first-place votes—43 to 28—than the West Coast five, now working on a winning streak of 12 games.

And if everything continues to go smoothly for San Francisco, Kentucky's lofty spot could well be in jeopardy when the nation's sports writers and sportscasters cast their votes again next Monday. For Kentucky lost its second of the season last night and once again it was Georgia Tech that turned the trick, 65-59. That left the Wildcats with a 12-2 season's mark compared to 14-1 for San Francisco.

LaSalle moved up from fifth to third in today's poll but still was far back of the Dons with 541 points. Duquesne, which beat Niagara last night for a 10-3 record

Two Coaches Rate Illini Over Gophers

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO — Minnesota is riding high in first place in the Big Ten basketball race but a couple of major independent coaches in the Midwest think Illinois is the best in the conference.

Johnny Jordan of Notre Dame and George Ireland of Loyola told Chicago's basketball writers yesterday they'll ride with Illinois.

Ireland, who saw Illinois set a new Chicago Stadium scoring record against his team Saturday, also was beaten by Iowa in his only other encounter with Western Conference teams.

"Illinois gets my vote on what I've seen," said Ireland.

Jordan's team has played both Illinois and Minnesota in addition to four other Big Ten teams.

The Irish lost to Illinois, 66-57, and to Minnesota, 77-66. They also lost to Purdue and Indiana. Notre Dame beat Northwestern twice and Wisconsin.

"Illinois is the best in the Big Ten in my opinion," said Jordan. "They're big and they have balance. Before the season started I picked Illinois to go all the way and I still think it will."

In this week's Associated Press basketball poll, Illinois was ranked 10th and Minnesota 11th. In conference standings Minnesota is 5-2 and Illinois 3-2.

There was one coach, however, who leaned towards Minnesota. Northwestern's Waldo Fisher said, "Minnesota's the best I've seen."

Fisher split a pair of games with Minnesota and has yet to face Illinois. He might change his mind. Northwestern plays Illinois Saturday.

Williams' Shot Wins for Falcons

LA CROSSE, Wis. — Jerry Williams, a forward, scored from midcourt with two seconds left on the clock to give River Falls State a 74-72 victory over the La Crosse Indians in a Wisconsin College Conference basketball game Monday night.

The win edged the Falcons into the first place notch in the loop with a 6-1 win-loss record. River Falls was tied with Eau Claire (5-1), idle until Saturday.

River Falls had tied the fast-paced battle 72-72 on two free throws by guard Carl Wild, then Williams took a pass to win the game.

Here & There

The Texas Cowgirls, billed as the world's champion women's basketball team, will play at Caledonia Wednesday night against the town's city team in an exhibition game with the proceeds going to the football lights-swimming pool fund.

First basketball game in the new Arcadia gymnasium will be held Friday night when Bill Cashen's Red Raiders host league-leading Black River Falls in a Mississippi Valley Conference game.

Talked to Alan Ameche briefly before and after the exhibition game Sunday night at the Gale-Estrick gym . . . Ameche's Wisconsin football teammates and Paul Morrow beat Don Rehfeldt's Bangor Grenadiers 66-65 . . .

Ameche, a quiet sort of chap, said in answer to a question, "No, I don't think I'll go into pro wrestling . . ."

Our hunch is that the great Badger blockbuster would rather give pro football a fling, something that would be a challenge to him, and maybe after a couple of seasons of that give pro wrestling more serious consideration . . .

Don Snyder, Winona High coach who had a state championship at St. Croix Falls, Wis., with Morrow, talked to the 6-8 ex-Badger pivot . . .

Morrow is now in law school at the University of Wisconsin, and according to Snyder, has a 3.8 grade average . . . Under that grading system, an "A" is 4.0, which indicates Morrow has plenty of talent above the neck . . .

We suggested to Ameche that he challenge Paul Giel's All-Stars to a basketball game, figuring such an affair would attract a lot of interest in these parts . . .

Ameche said, "We're working on it . . ." Ameche's team is comprised of himself, Morrow, Gary Messner, Gary Bratt, Dick Frechka and Jim Gingrass . . .

Giel's crew boasts Giel, Geno Cappelletti, Bob McNamara and ex-Preston star Phil McElroy, among others . . .

Ralph Leahy, Cochrane coach, told us he worked the North-South prep grid game at Green Bay's Packer Stadium the year Ameche was a senior . . .

Ameche, one of the most ballyhooed players in the prep classic, made only 11 yards in 13 carries in that game, but he impressed Leahy . . . "The other team kept knocking him down and he kept getting right back up," Leahy said . . .

"He didn't complain or say a word to his teammates about not blocking . . . He's really a high-type guy and not a prima donna at all . . ."

Leahy, incidentally, is quite concerned about Thursday night's Bi-County Conference game at Cochrane . . . It's Cochrane's homecoming and Gilmanston is the opponent . . . Evidently fearing that Gilmanston may come in and play the part of the rude visitor, Leahy recalled . . .

"We had a real tough game at Gilmanston earlier in the season . . . They led us the first half and were ahead in the third quarter . . . I'm afraid of them!"

Leahy evidently knows his coaching colleague, genial Vic Carlson at Gilmanston, would greatly enjoy snapping Cochrane's 44-game Bi-County Conference winning streak . . .

Success Postscript

Harry Sheff, Wykoff coach, dropped us the following note: "I want to thank you for the invitation we received to play in your polo benefit game. We want to thank you and all the wonderful people in Winona for treating us so nice . . . We at the school enjoyed it all . . ."

Harry and his group as well as the other teams and persons who contributed so generously to staging the production needn't thank the Winona Activity Group for the right to appear . . .

Thanks are due the other way around, Harry . . .

Dave Pennington, writing in the Rochester paper, announced the March of Dimes double-header they netted $41.50 and that the Winona March of Dimes netted $802.50 and that's a substantial difference, isn't it?

Andy Lipinski, treasurer of the Activity group, wrote out a check for that amount which has been turned over to Mrs. Frank Subject, local March of Dimes campaign chairman . . . So, again to everyone, thanks so much . . .

The cause certainly justified the work that went into it and the results are the reward players, coaches, fans, officials, band members, ushers, special events workers and others receive for their effort . . .

Clearing the Spindle

Max Molock, baseball coach at St. Mary's, is attending the undergraduate division baseball coaching clinic at the University of Illinois, at Chicago . . .

St. Mary's baseball team and the Winona Chiefs have a booster in Bangor . . . He's Leo Mashek, manager of the Old Style Grenadier basketball team . . .

"I saw Joey Shrake pitch nearly every time at St. Mary's last spring and I plan to watch the Winona Chiefs this summer whenever he's scheduled to pitch," Mashek says . . .

Bill Mansfield, the Michigan State boy who did some pitching for the Rochester Royals in the Southern Minny, was elected speaker of the Student Congress recently at Michigan State . . . An honor student, he is the son of Diny Mansfield, Wisconsin baseball coach.

Williams May Play if Coaxed

BOSTON — Ted Williams is ready to return to baseball and his role as hitting star of the Boston Red Sox, according to the Boston Post . . .

The Post today reports under a Miami, Fla., dateline, that Williams' business manager, Fred Corcoran, indicates Ted will report to spring training with the Sox if he gets some coaxing.

Freedoms Rest With Youth, Say Lutheran Leader

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The spiritual leader of 4½ million U.S. Lutherans said today the church must inspire the nation's youth with a new zeal to defend American liberties.

"The perpetuation of our freedoms," said Dr. Oscar A. Benson, of Minneapolis, "will ultimately depend not so much on patriotic oratory in and out of Congress as on the attitudes we develop in the hearts of our youth."

"In a time when freedom of speech and even freedom of thought are jeopardized by those who have the power to intimidate and to apply social and economic pressures," he continued, "it may be that the church remains as the staunchest defender of our American liberties."

Benson's comments came in a report prepared for the opening session of the annual meeting of the National Lutheran Council, a union of eight Lutheran church bodies. Benson is president of both the council and one of the eight units—the Augustana Lutheran Church.

A church mission of "supreme importance," Benson said, is to spread the "Gospel to the campus through student service and to the military personnel through our chaplains."

He also asked the council to broaden Lutheran services to youth by setting up a "division of men's and boys' work" and perhaps a "bureau of scouting."

In another report, Dr. Paul C. Empe, of New York, said Lutheran annual financial appeal, "raised more than 109 per cent of its 1954 goal of $2,835,218."

Empe, executive director, said the LWA goal for 1955 is $2,962,000. He asked approval of goals of $3,172,000 for 1956 and $3,250,000 for 1957.

Mill City Office To Give Home Aid To Minority Groups

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — A program, aimed principally at providing homes for minority groups, began operations today, with the opening of its office here, Administrator Albert M. Cole of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, has announced.

The Minneapolis office will be headquarters for Region X of the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit program—a nationwide organization.

The office, in the federal office building here, will be staffed by Frederick P. Longway, executive secretary, and Darrell M. Holt, committee chairman.

Purpose of the program is to assist prospective home buyers or builders in obtaining FHA-insured or VA-guaranteed mortgage financing by facilitating the flow of mortgage money from areas or regions where it is plentiful to areas where it is scarce.

The program is designed in the main to help members of minority groups obtain housing financing under the same terms as are available to others. Assistance under the program is limited to areas designated by the regional committee, except that members of minority groups are eligible no matter where they live.

Region X covers the states of Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota and the "eligible areas" include Winona, Wabasha, Fillmore, Olmsted and Houston counties in this area, the cities of Rochester and Winona excepted.

The program operates this way: A person wishing to finance the purchase or construction of a home in a designated area must first seek a loan from at least two money lenders in his locality. Similarly, a member of a minority group, regardless of where he lives, must follow the same procedure.

If unsuccessful, he may then apply to the VHMHC for assistance. He will fill out an application form at either his VHMHC regional office (Minneapolis) or the nearest FRA field office or VA loan guarantee offices.

The filled-in form will furnish a basis for lending institutions to determine whether they are interested in giving a loan to the applicant.

The regional office will then circulate the application to local lenders participating in the program. If none of them wishes to make the loan, the application will then be circulated to other persons, both in the region and outside the region.

Generally Lower Prices Blamed for Farm Income Drop

ST. PAUL (AP)—Generally lower prices were blamed for a four million dollar slump from 1953 in last year's farm income, although the $1,280,000,000 Minnesota farmers took in still was a million ahead of 1952.

This was the report of Rex W. Cox, University farm economist Monday night. Cox said receipts were up for crops, hogs and cattle, largely because of production increases, but that income decreased from dairy products, eggs and chickens.

Income from eggs was 95 million dollars compared with 123 million in 1953 and fluid milk returned 168 million, 9 million under the preceding 12 months.

Senator Election Set for April 5 In 10th District

MADISON, Wis. — Gov. Walter Kohler has set April 5 as the date for a special 10th senatorial district election to select a successor to Warren P. Knowles, who was elected lieutenant governor last fall.

The April date coincides with the regular spring judicial election.

Robert P. Knowles, New Richmond insurance and real estate salesman, has announced that he will be a Republican candidate for the post. He is a brother of Warren P. Knowles.

Dist. Atty. Leroy Hageman, Ellsworth, also has announced his candidacy on the Republican ticket while William W. Ward, a New Richmond attorney, is the only Democratic candidate to date.

Named lieutenant governor in the Nov. 2 election, Knowles resigned Jan. 1 to assume his new duties. Counties in the district are Buffalo, Pepin, Pierce, Dunn and St. Croix. Dunn County was added to the district by reapportionment.

Robert Knowles, 39, is a native of River Falls and the son of the late Judge Warren P. Knowles, who served as Pierce County judge for 25 years. He is a graduate of the River Falls High School and Wisconsin State College at River Falls. Knowles has been in the real estate and insurance business at New Richmond for 17 years. He is St. Croix County chairman of the Wisconsin Insurance Association.

A veteran of World War II, Knowles is active in the VFW, American Legion, Kiwanis Club and conservation organizations. He served 10 years as a court commissioner and has been active in Boy Scout work. Knowles is married and the father of four children.

Assistance under the program is limited to areas designated by the regional committee, except that members of minority groups are eligible no matter where they live.

Region X covers the states of Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota and the "eligible areas" include Winona, Wabasha, Fillmore, Olmsted and Houston counties in this area, the cities of Rochester and Winona excepted.

The program operates this way: A person wishing to finance the purchase or construction of a home in a designated area must first seek a loan from at least two money lenders in his locality. Similarly, a member of a minority group, regardless of where he lives, must follow the same procedure.

If unsuccessful, he may then apply to the VHMHC for assistance. He will fill out an application form at either his VHMHC regional office (Minneapolis) or the nearest FRA field office or VA loan guarantee offices.

The filled-in form will furnish a basis for lending institutions to determine whether they are interested in giving a loan to the applicant.

The regional office will then circulate the application to local lenders participating in the program. If none of them wishes to make the loan, the application will then be circulated to other persons, both in the region and outside the region.

(First Page, Tuesday, Jan. 18, 1955) STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF WINONA ss. J. W. PROBERT, Clerk.

In the Matter of the Estate of Charles E. Whiston, Decedent.

Summarized Assignment or Distribution of Assets of Charles E. Whiston, Decedent.

It is ORDERED, That the hearing thereof be had on February 10, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. before this Court in the Probate Court Room in the Court House in Winona, Minnesota, and that notice of said hearing be given by publication of this order in The Winona Daily News and by mailed notice as provided by law.

Dated January 17, 1955.

LEO F. MURPHY, Probate Judge.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower held another of his stag dinners Monday night and a Wisconsin man was among the guests.

Charles D. Gelatt, president and board chairman of the Northern Engraving & Manufacturing Co., of La Crosse, Wis., was among those present.

Discussions at the dinners, which began last year, reportedly have centered on Eisenhower's stated determination to place party control in the hands of leaders he regards as "progressive moderates." Those who have attended are understood to be plugging for Eisenhower to seek a second term in 1956.

Dehydrated eggs will not provide you with boiled, fried or poached varieties of hen fruit; they are good scrambled, particularly with chipped dried beef, and they make excellent additions to biscuit mixes.

Charity Deduction Increase Bill Wins Committee O.K.

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Minnesota House Tax Committee today approved a bill that increases the amount of deductions that may be taken by individuals for contributions to charitable and religious organizations and decreases amounts allowable to corporations in computing state income taxes.

Sponsored by Rep. D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul, the measure increases the allowable amounts to be deducted by individuals from 15 to 20 per cent the maximum deductible by corporations.

William Burkman, state income tax director, explained that the deductions are allowed as a credit against net income. Wozniak contended that passage of the bill would produce an additional $25,000 in revenue in the next biennium.

Rep. E. J. Chisler of St. Paul, committee chairman, submitted five other tax bills which were approved by the committee. All are designed to plug loopholes in the present state tax laws and clarify certain tax laws.

Quick Decision Promised Wiley On Judgeship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has notified Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) it will make a quick decision on his recommendation of Municipal Judge Herbert J. Stefes of Milwaukee for a federal judgeship in the Eastern District of Wisconsin.

Wiley said both Atty. Gen. Brownell and William P. Rogers, deputy attorney general, told him personally they will act soon on the matter.

Wiley told a newsman he believes the decision not only will be soon but likely will be favorable to Stefes.

Although President Eisenhower will actually send the ultimate nomination to the Senate, the Justice Department screens candidates and sends a recommendation to the White House.

Wiley sent his recommendation of Stefes to both Eisenhower and Brownell on Jan. 20 after he had received word from the Justice Department that his original choice, Charles D. Ashley, former Milwaukee County GOP leader, would not be nominated.

The Justice Department also has before it a recommendation by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of Urban Van Susteren of Appleton for the post.

Citizens Oppose Street-Widening In Formosa City

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist government is pushing plans to widen some of the main avenues in this Communist-threatened capital city "for the sake of citywide dispersal in case of emergency."

There's vigorous opposition from residents in the way.

On Roosevelt Road, angry house-holders whose residences are being torn down to make room for front of bulldozers and threatened work crews. The crews were given police protection.

The government offered free land and a large resettlement bonus to those affected.

Big Dog Halts Car, Saves Boys on Sled

OMAHA (AP)—Sgt. Michael Loftus, police safety education officer, says a big black dog which dashed out of darkness into the lights of his car saved two boys from possible injury or death.

"I should know. I slammed on the brakes. If I hadn't those two boys on a sled would have plowed right into the side of my car," he related.

Teen-age Curfew Goes Into Effect

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A curfew on teen-agers went into effect last night in a move to curb juvenile delinquency. Those under 17 found on the streets after 10:30 p.m. were sent home, unless with parents, working in gainful employment, or on an errand at their parents' direction.

Names of violators were taken by police officers and if the youngsters are caught again, they must appear in court with their parents. Curfew starts at 10:30 p.m. except Friday and Saturday, when it's at midnight. It lasts until 6 a.m.

Duluth Man Gets Life For Slaying 'Heckler'

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Richard V. Kangas, 68, Duluth, today was headed for Stillwater Prison to serve a life term after pleading guilty late Monday to a second degree murder charge.

Kangas admitted the fatal shooting of Karl A. Aho, 80, at the Duluth hotel where both lived, because Aho had been "heckling" him. He had been charged with first degree murder but was permitted to plead to the lesser charge.

Both charges carry mandatory life terms but second degree murder is based on a lack of premeditation.

Market Turns Irregular After Record High

NEW YORK (AP)—Irregular price movements marked the stock market today after its record-setting performance Monday.

The market reached a new 1955 high Monday, the second best level in its history.

Today the market was higher in early dealings and then turned irregular. Gains went to between 3 and 4 points while losses were between 1 and 2 points at the worst.

Volume dwindled as prices mill ed around and came to an estimated 3,200,000 shares. That compares with 3½ million shares traded Monday.

DENNIS THE MENACE

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, says psychiatrist Rudolf Dreikurs in his book, "Challenge of Marriage." One woman said (paraphrased): "My husband is so perfect I can't stand it. Whatever I do or don't do is all right. If he would only lose his temper or do something a little bit wrong for once! It's terrible living with an angel!" Boy, you've got to do something once in a while to keep her guessing!

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Bonaro Overstreet, co-author with husband, Dr. Harry, of "The Mind Alive," says you must first keep many lively interests; second, be modest; recognize your ignorance; third, be courageous — undertake things that require courage; fourth, be mentally generous — appreciate superior knowledge and skill. This will make you "proudly human" as long as life lasts.

3. Psychologists have usually said this is true, but new experiments show different results. Psychologist H. J. Leavitt compared the amount learned and remembered by groups of fast and slow learners and found that after one to seven days, the fast learners remembered the most. However, after 28 to 70 days, the slow learners remembered the most. Encouraging for us "slow-but-sure" plodders.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

There was quite a celebration in Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow when the rabbit gentleman and his friend, Pat Butter, were blown safely home by the wind. The two friends had been stuck in a drift where the snow boat was pushed by that same, strong wind. While stuck in the drift, though they were snug and warm in the cabin, the rabbit and goat were bothered by the fox, the wolf and the bob cat who tried to get some ear nibbles.

But the wind suddenly changed, it blew the snow boat high up into the air, and then let it down for a happy landing close to the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow.

Chief and his police dogs, who had been sent on a rescue search by Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, saw the snow boat in the air. The rescue party turned back and now they were all happy in the bungalow.

"What became of the fox, the wolf and the bob cat?" barked Sergeant Bill, who was Chief's helper. "The last Pat and I saw of them," answered Uncle Wiggly, "was when they were being blown high above us in the air." "They may have dropped down in some snow drift far from here," said Chief. "I don't believe they will make happy landings." "It would serve them right," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. "Oh, Uncle Wiggly, I am so glad you are home safely! I'll get you some more hot cabbage tea. Chief, will you have a little more hot bone soup?"

"Thank you, I will," barked the police dog politely. "How about you, Pat Butter?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper who had suddenly made ready a happy landing party after Uncle Wiggly reached his bungalow. "Will you have a piece of tin can pie?"

The goat gentleman suddenly put one paw into his coat pocket. A strange look came over his face and his chin whiskers wobbled. "Oh, my goodness! No, thank you!" he bleated. "I must prance home as fast as I can."

"Why so, Pat?" asked Uncle Wiggly. "Now that you are here, why not stay and enjoy Nurse Jane's party?"

"I am all out of Swiss cheese," bleated the goat. "I must run home to my grocery store and get some. Besides, I thought to let Aunt Lettie know that I have made a happy landing."

"I have already told Aunt Lettie, over the telephone, that you are safe," said Nurse Jane. "Please stay, Mr. Butter!"

"No! No, thank you, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy! I must get home. I must have my Swiss cheese!"

"If you wait until I finish my bone soup," barked Chief, "I will run you home in the police dog squad car."

"Thank you, I'll wait," answered the goat. "Meanwhile I can nibble a piece of tin can pie, Nurse Jane, if you will be so kind."

"Here you are," said the muskrat lady housekeeper.

It was a jolly happy landing party but it was soon over, for it was getting late. Back through the midnight moonlight Mr. Butter rode home in the police dog squad car. Aunt Lettie was glad to see him.

Uncle Wiggly, Nurse Jane and all the rabbit children were soon sound asleep in the hollow stump bungalow. But where were three chaps who were not asleep? They were the fox, the wolf and the bob cat.

They had been blown away by the same changing wind that blew Uncle Wiggly and the goat safely home in the snow boat. The three bad chaps made landings in the snow, even if they were not happy landings.

"Now what do we do?" snarled the wolf.

"We are going to sneak up," whispered the bob cat.

"Sneak up where?" the fox wanted to know.

"Listen and I shall tell you!" mewed Bobbie.

What Bobbie said and what happened next will be told tomorrow

Rights and Wrongs Of Winter Driving Get Demonstration

CLINTONVILLE, Wis. (AP) — A 98-pound lady test driver and two men drivers demonstrated the rights and wrongs of winter driving Sunday to a crowd of 1,200 drivers.

Betty Skelton, Lyman Daniels, Roy Bannister—all of Detroit motor companies—battled every winter driving hazard and then explained them to the audience.

The demonstration, at nearby Pine Lake, was part of a three-week safety research project under the direction of the National Safety Council.

The test showed that regular tires required from 192 to 223 feet to stop on ice. Snow-mud tires used up between 181 and 209 feet. Reinforced tire chains needed only 77 feet. The tests were made from 20 m.p.h.

State Dairymen to Repay 'Debt of Honor'

ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee will repay a $20,000 "debt of honor" to the state treasury Wednesday.

It was this sum the Legislature had appropriated for dairymen in 1937 to form their own sales organization.

The committee will hand over the check in a brief ceremony to Gov. Freeman at a joint legislative session. The five surviving authors of the 1937 grant have been invited to attend.

Within two years Afghanistan will have virtually eliminated malaria from the entire country.
