Owl Motor Wants to Build Garage on East Sarnia

Two Retail Tenants Want Downtown Site

The Owl Motor Co. is asking permission to build a new garage on East Sarnia street, east of the Heise Clinic.

Should the City Council approve construction of the garage after its Feb. 21 hearing on the application, it would overcome the first hurdle to a new business development at Owl's present location, at Main and West 4th streets.

A spokesman for the E. L. King estate revealed today that:

Two retail tenants are being considered for the Owl building should the garage vacate the site, somewhat more than a quarter of a block. One of them is the National Tea Co., now located almost directly across Main street; the other is another firm which already has a retail outlet here.

Plans are being developed for modern air-conditioned office space which would involve additional construction on top of the present Owl building.

Negotiations are under way with the Church of the Nazarene congregation for purchase of its building and lot. This acquisition would expand the Owl property to a full half-block. If acquired, this land would be converted to a parking lot.

The Owl plans for construction of a new garage were revealed in a letter read at a City Council Monday evening. Owl Vice President and Manager F. G. Jackson said that the firm has purchased from the E. L. King estate the westerly 300 feet of outlot 20, Plumer's Addition.

The Heise clinic owns a tract immediately east of Franklin street, extending north from Sarnia street to the Milwaukee Road right of way, with a frontage on Sarnia street (Highway 61) of about 320 feet. The Owl property is directly east of this tract, with a frontage of 300 feet and also extending back to the railroad property.

There would be no filling station in connection with the garage, Jackson wrote.

The Owl property is part of a larger tract with a Sarnia street frontage of about 1,400 feet, which was zoned from class A residential to commercial by the Council last September. At that time spokesmen for the King family said that efforts had been made for 15 to 20 years to sell the property for residential purposes.

The present Owl building measures 140 by 150 feet, with an additional 60- by 140-foot used car lot to the south side of the building. It is one story with basement.

For the past year, a firm with stores throughout the country has been considering the Owl building for retail purposes, but recently an officer high in the firm told The Daily News that, although Winona is being considered, it was not in the planning for 1955.

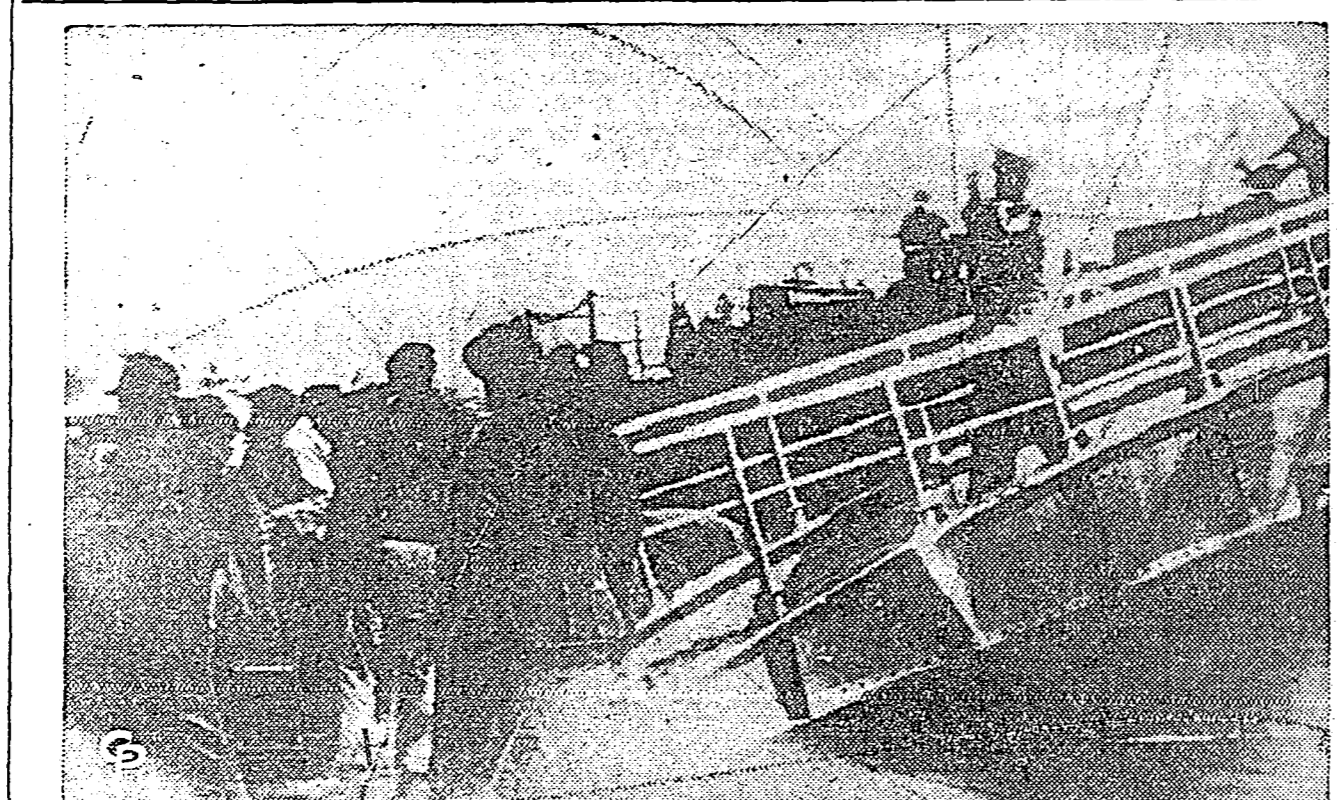

Golling Named Regional Head Of Immigration

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard A. Golling, Minnesota state public examiner, today had his appointment as the regional commissioner here for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said Monday night the appointment was in line with a decentralization program under which much administrative work is being transferred to field offices. District centers, in turn, are being reduced in number from 15 to 11.

Golling, 50, is a native of St. Paul and was educated as an attorney. He joined the state administration under the regime of former Gov. Harold E. Stassen. The northwest region he will supervise extends from Ohio to the State of Washington with subordinate offices at Chicago, Detroit and Seattle.

David H. Carnahan, 46, a Big Horn, Wyo., rancher and business man, was named regional commissioner for the southwest district, with headquarters at San Pedro, Calif. Carnahan is a graduate of Shattuck School at Faribault, Minn. He is resigning from the Wyoming Legislature to take the new berth.

The Tiny Port of Keelung, Formosa, 30 miles north of the capital city of Taipei, buzzes with activity as the first contingent of evacuees arrives from the Tachens. Military and civilians arrived in this group under protection of the U.S. Seventh Fleet following the 200-mile sea voyage.

Tachen Islanders Board Transports

By FRED HAMPSON

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Tachen islanders carrying fishing nets and a few treasures belonging streamed aboard Nationalist landing craft and U.S. transports today from rocky beaches under protection of a mighty American naval and air armada.

There was no sign of interference from Communist artillery on nearby Yikiangshan or from the hundreds of Russian-built jets based within close range on the Red China mainland.

American jets swooshed overhead and U.S. 7th Fleet warships plowed through the choppy waters of the East China Sea off the Tachens as the Nationalist evacuation moved into high gear.

Civilians were given first priority. Women and children plodded through the mud of their villages, past cackling fowl, down to the rocky, tide-swept beaches of Lower Tachen. Men, some old and feeble, joined in the migration.

Abandoned Under Pressure
The Nationalist outpost, abandoned under U.S. pressure, lies 200 miles north of Formosa and only 14 miles from the Red mainland.

Most of the 15,000 or more civilians were on Lower Tachen and 15,000 Nationalist troops and guerrillas were on its sister island just to the north.

The Nationalist Central News Agency in a Hong Kong dispatch said the Chinese Reds were strengthening forces near the Nationalist-held coastal island of Quemoy, 350 miles south of the Tachens. Nationalists repelled a Red invasion attempt there in October 1949, inflicting thousands of casualties on the Communists.

(While Red China's military arm was quiet, its propaganda voice clamored that U.S. participation was a pretext to invade the Chinese coastal islands and expand its aggression against China.)

Another of the Eisenhower administration's military manpower measures was taken up, meanwhile, by a House Armed Services Subcommittee headed by Rep. Brooks (D-La.).

One provision is designed to insure that draftees keep up with their reserve obligations after completing active service. Another feature, a kind of test for universal military training, would provide that an annual quota of 100,000 volunteers be given six months' training, instead of two years' service as draftees, on condition they agree to another 9 1/2 years' reserve obligation.

The Armed Services Committee proposed two changes in the draft law extension.

1. Youths who join the National Guard before the age of 18 1/2 and serve continuously in it until they are 26 would be exempt from subsequent draft. They are liable now until 35.

2. Those serving six months or more in the uniformed services or 24 months in the public health service since September 1940, could not be inducted for a second tour of duty.

First Boatload Of Evacuees Leave Tachens

By JIM BECKER

BIG SUN HAT VILLAGE, Tachen Islands (AP)—American and Chinese Nationalist navies today plunged into the tremendous task of evacuating 15,000 civilians from these threatened islands.

Chinese Reds made no move to stop them.

The first boatload of solemn-faced civilians boarded a small Nationalist - manned, American-built landing boat on Green Beach at 8 a.m.

At noon the evacuation was proceeding smoothly.

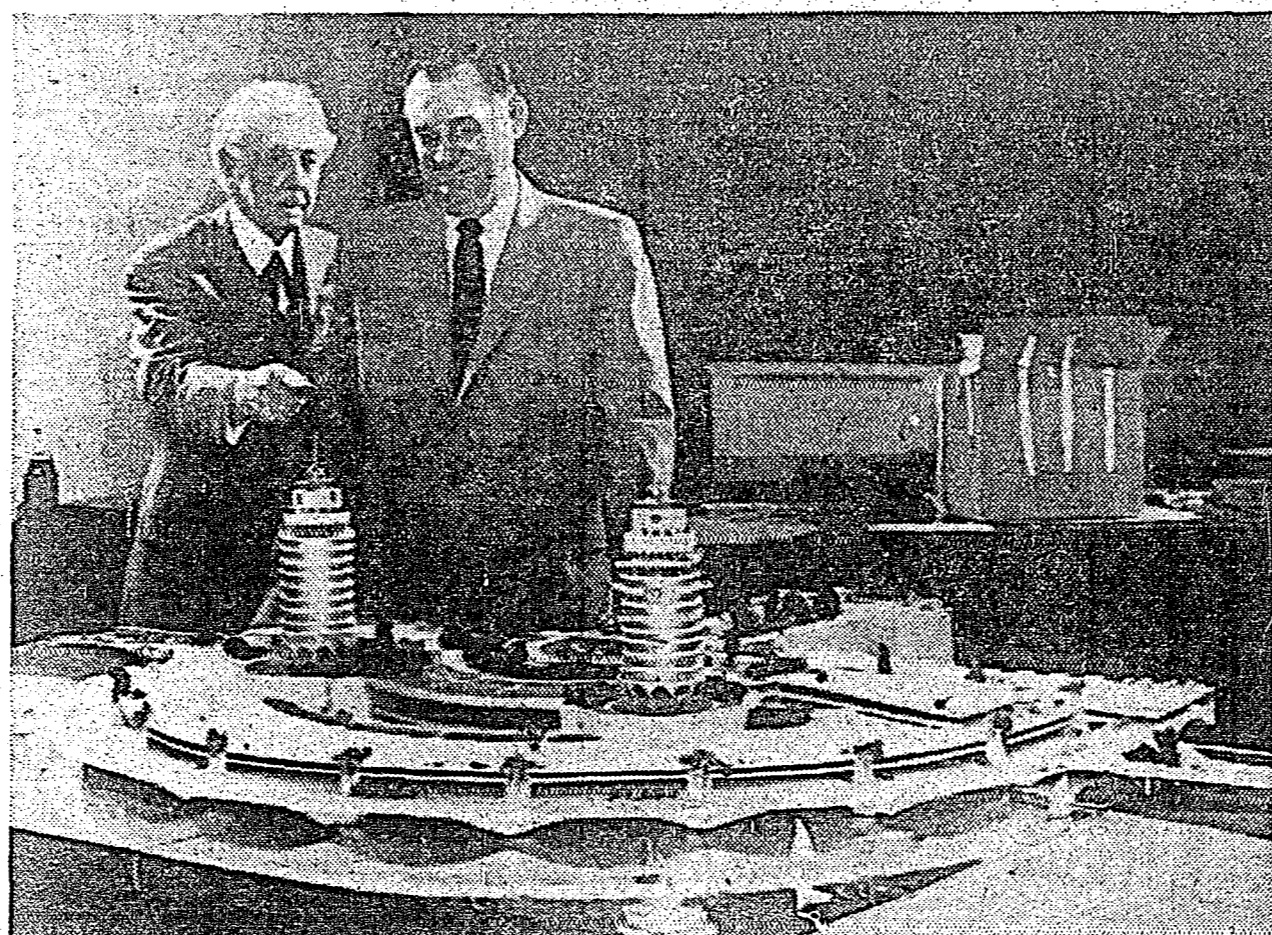

A long line of black-clad citizens snaked their way through the narrow crooked streets of this 1,000-year-old village that was once a pirate headquarters. They were on their way to the transport vessels that will take them to Formosa.

Defense Minister Yu Tai-wei, who watched the operation, said Chiang Kai-shek's soldiers also have their orders to move out.

The Harvard-educated Yu, who flew from Formosa today with Joseph Brent, chief of the U.S. Foreign Operations Administration mission in Taipei, said anything may happen during the week-long operation.

"We are not too happy about the evacuation," Yu said. "Wars are never won by evacuations."

Nationalist officials said only one man has elected to stay behind. All others have elected to go to Formosa, leaving the only homes many ever knew.

Flames Roar Through Paper Plant, Man Dies

Ontario Fire Affects International Falls Paper Machines Too

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Flames roared through the two top floors of the pulp-grinding plant of the Ontario & Minnesota Pulp and Paper Co. at neighboring Ft. Frances, Ont., late Monday, killing one man and shutting down paper machines here as well as in that community.

Emil Schine, 58, fire marshal of the plant was asphyxiated in the heavy smoke as he vainly tried to activate a sprinkler system. He was carried out by Lloyd McFadden, a fellow fire protection worker, but was dead on arrival at a hospital.

In Minneapolis, M&O headquarters officials said damage is expected to be less than $500,000 with the loss fully covered by insurance.

Flames were discovered shortly before 3 p.m. on the second floor where more than 300 cords of pulpwood were stored. The fire spread rapidly, to be fed by the rubber coating of a 600-foot long conveyor belt used to carry logs to the first floor grinding machinery, which was reported to have escaped all but minor water damage.

Firemen from here and Ft. Frances joined company apparatus in fighting the flames, which converted the 100 by 300 foot building into a giant torch.

When pressure dropped in mains, pumps pulled water from the Rainy River through holes cut in the ice. Several thousand spectators also occupied vantage spots along the Minnesota bank of the stream.

Company officials said the building appeared not to have been badly damaged structurally. It was of steel and concrete with a corrugated metal sheathing. The plant was completed and put into operation last fall at an estimated cost of 3 1/2 million dollars.

Until other pulp grinding facilities are available, company officials said three paper-making machines in Ft. Frances and two here would be forced to shut down. The Insulate plant here of the Minnesota & Ontario Paper Co. will not be affected by the blaze, they said.

Schine, an employee of the firm for 29 years, had been re-elected only in December to his third term on the Ft. Frances village council. He is survived by his widow and three children.

Nikolai Bulganin

Defense Minister Takes Over Post

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union boosted its defense minister to the premiership today and spelled out a tough foreign policy based on the idea that the United States is preparing for World War III.

Georgi M. Malenkov, confessing failure through inexperience, resigned as premier at a joint session of the Supreme Soviet Parliament. Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev then nominated Marshal Nikolai Bulganin as premier, and he got the post by acclamation.

The dramatic shift was coupled with a 2 1/2 hour speech by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who declared the United States is guilty in China of an aggression "which must be condemned by the United Nations if the U.N. wants to retain its respect."

The day's developments underscored these points:

1. There will be an all-out Soviet concentration on heavy (arms) industry.

2. Khrushchev has emerged with striking prominence in the Soviet leadership.

3. The Soviet Union now has a premier who, at least in title comes from the armed forces.

U. S. Attacked

A gallery packed with intent diplomats in the great palace of the Kremlin heard Molotov arraign the United States. His bitter address must be regarded as a major statement of foreign policy.

He backed Red China to the hilt on the Formosa issue. He accused the United States of having captured Formosa and the Pescadores and said this must be considered as aggression. He also accused the United States of being intent upon world domination through the capitalist system. "And this means preparation for war."

Molotov's speech came in the afternoon session after Bulganin received the premiership. The session was marked by a great ovation for Khrushchev personally, the biggest of the day.

It was Khrushchev who nominated Marshal Bulganin for the premiership, presenting one of the

Return to Tough Dictatorship Seen

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia fell under the hard fist of a dictator again today—in the view of Western diplomats—with bull-necked Nikita Khrushchev approaching the role of the new Stalin.

The sudden resignation of Premier Georgi Malenkov was taken here as an end to the dream of "collective leadership" put before the world after the death of Stalin.

Khrushchev was seen as pulling the strings in the Kremlin as the tough boss of the Soviet Communist party—with the new premier, Nikolai Bulganin, as a sort of co-ordinator.

For months the West's observers have believed a struggle for power was raging in the Kremlin between Khrushchev's forces and Malenkov's. Khrushchev appeared to have won the first round.

What over-all effect Malenkov's resignation would have on Soviet dealings with the West was not clear. One immediate result seemed likely to be a setback to those groups in the West calling for a conference of the Big Four powers "at the summit."

Blow to British Left
The Kremlin shakeup dealt a blow to those in Britain—particularly the left-wing Laborites—trying to block the rearming of West Germany. They have based their case largely on demands for an early meeting of Malenkov, Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower to bring about unification of the divided country.

Churchill was told of Malenkov's downfall immediately. He was preparing to enter the final session of the British Commonwealth premier's conference. The news also was rushed to Italian Premier Mario Scelba in Rome (an aide said he gasped) and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn.

The emergency of Khrushchev's policy of emphasis on production of heavy industry—war materials—rather than consumer goods appeared to dampen Churchill's expressed hopes of a "new wind" blowing out from the Kremlin.

The British Prime Minister had pinned his hopes on a belief that the post-Stalin regime would devote most of its energies to raising the standard of living at home.

British negotiations with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to enlist Russian aid in securing a Formosan cease-fire were expected to continue, however.

Stands for Toughness
Khrushchev, to the West, stands for toughness and regimentation. He has demonstrated his ability at whipping the Russian people into line with disciplinary tactics, as he did in subduing the Ukraine for Stalin.

During the past year Khrushchev has been building himself up and taking a great deal more of the limelight than the others in the Kremlin regime.

His personal pronouncements on many aspects of Soviet life were calculated to present himself to the Russians as a leader in the Stalin tradition.

Many West German radio stations interrupted regular programs to broadcast the news of Malenkov's resignation. In Munich the big transmitters of Radio Free Europe began sending the news at 30-minute intervals to Eastern and Central Europe within minutes after the announcement from Moscow.

The sensational Moscow announcement came as West Germany was in the midst of a big public debate whether to go ahead with plans to rearm as a member of NATO or try to get a settlement with the Russians first.

Will Help Adenauer
Outcome of today's events in Moscow could vitally affect the positions of both sides in this German dispute.

A return to Stalin's "tough" policy would strengthen the hand of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in his demand that the West should be quickly strengthened by the addition of the proposed West German armed forces.

AEC Formal Vote Declines to End Dixon-Yates Pact
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss disclosed today the Atomic Energy Commission met Saturday and "by majority vote" declined to cancel the Dixon-Yates contract. The Democratic majority of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee had asked that it be cancelled.

Strauss made public a letter to Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) advising him of Saturday's AEC meeting.

In a telegram Feb. 1, Gore had asked that the AEC take a formal vote on the question of cancellation in view of the 10-8 vote by the congressional group on Jan. 28 in favor of cancellation.

Strauss did not say what was the division in the AEC. Presumably it was 2-1 since the commission has three voting members and Commissioner Thomas E. Murray has publicly favored cancellation.

Georgi Malenkov

most remarkable displays of personal influence since the Soviet "collective leadership" took over after the death of Stalin.

Malenkov, stepping down from the post he assumed 12 hours after Joseph Stalin's death in March 1953, confessed himself a failure in the field of agriculture and announced that the only correct course for the Soviet Union is concentration on the development of heavy industry. In a speech to the Parliament, he acknowledged the need to turn over his post to "another comrade with greater experience in state work."

He requested his own removal, and then warned that it was to be expected this would provoke "slandorous inventions" in the West. He expressed faith in the "monolithic" unity of the Communist party.

Taking New Job
Malenkov is taking a new job but what it will be was not announced.

The new premier, white-bearded Bulganin, was the Communist in direct charge of Soviet armed forces—under Stalin—during World War II. He is 59. Khrushchev is 60 and Malenkov 53.

Some Western diplomats saw in the choice of Bulganin a further evidence of the growing strength of the army in the Soviet government. Others speculated that Bulganin would serve as a sort of chairman of the board rather than a personal leader. All those present took due note that the nominating speech was made by Khrushchev and that he had been greeted by a big standing ovation at the outset.

Khrushchev said Bulganin was the unanimous choice of the Communist party Central Committee and the Council of Ministers. Yet Bulganin seemed a dark horse in the race for the premiership. Speculation in the Moscow foreign colony had centered on Khrushchev or Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as Malenkov's successor.

The Parliament gave its unanimous approval to the new premier.

British Prime Ministers Seek Formosa Truce

By EDWIN SHANKS
LONDON (U)—British Commonwealth prime ministers today shaped a new diplomatic try for a Formosa cease-fire in the windup of their nine-day conference.

As they gathered for their last secret session, the British government awaited official U.S. reaction to its appeal for the evacuation of Quemoy and the Matsu Islands by the Chinese Nationalists.

British diplomacy reportedly was concentrating on convincing the United States that the withdrawal of Chiang Kai-shek's troops from all other coastal outposts was an essential first step toward reaching a tacit standstill in the Formosa fighting.

The prime ministers discussed the Formosa problem for almost three hours yesterday. They planned to issue a communiqué on their talks late today.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru will remain here until next Monday, giving him an opportunity to continue his efforts for a cease-fire.

Nationalist withdrawal from all coastal outposts would put the 75-mile-wide Formosa Strait between the Red Chinese on the mainland and the Nationalists on Formosa and the nearby Pescadores.

Responsible informants said Britain feels this would ease the immediate danger of a blowup and possibly pave the way for an international conference on the Formosa problem as a whole.

Suggestions for a Geneva-type conference to arrange a permanent settlement between the two Chinas have been shelved until after the fighting dies down.

Haymes Claims He's Whittling Down His Debts

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Crooner Dick Haymes says he is whittling down his indebtedness, that he owes the government about $60,000 in taxes, that he has squandered his child support debts to ex-wife Joanne Pru Ireland and hopes to reach an understanding with another ex-wife, Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes.

All this Haymes detailed in a press conference yesterday in which he and his present wife Rita Hayworth told of their plans to work together in motion pictures.

Miss Hayworth is back after an 18-month absence to make "Joseph and his Brethren," starting March 7, and Haymes says his deportation case comes up soon before the District Court in Washington.

Rita, holding his hand, said, "We are both praying it will turn out favorably." Haymes said that if necessary he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court against being sent back to his native Argentina. The immigration service seeks to deport him because he visited Rita in Hawaii before they were married and illegally re-entered continental United States.

"We hope to work together in motion pictures," said Miss Hayworth. She said they will maintain their residence near Lake Tahoe, Nev.

Charity Crook Makes Pitch in Religion's Name

By RICHARD J. SINNOTT
BOSTON (U)—Watch out when your doorbell or telephone rings—the charity crook has a new scheme designed to tug at your heartstrings and line his own pocket with your dollars.

Kenneth B. Blackman, manager of the Boston Better Business Bureau, says the public is smarter about phony fund-raising drives for crippled children, the aged and handicapped, but the promoter is now making his pitch in the name of religion.

A law curbing crooked charities and requiring fund promoters to list their receipts, disbursements, purposes, and to obtain licenses from the attorney general went into effect in Massachusetts last September. But it exempted three types of charity drives:

1. Solicitations for religious organizations, nonprofit charitable hospitals and educational institutions.

2. Fund campaigns and advertising in program books, yearbooks and other publications by noncharitable organizations.

3. Mail and telephone solicitations from outside Massachusetts.

Scores of promoters who went to sleep as misters emerged the next morning with titles such as reverend or deacon or preacher or bishop, says Blackman.

BBB records indicate that there are 100 fraudulent organizations operating under the guise of religion in New England. They may steal millions in 1935.

"Five fake religious groups have collected more than a million dollars in the last four months in the Greater Boston area," estimates BBB representative Bob Smith.

Asst. Atty. Gen. James F. Mahan, probing the phonies, tells what he and his office are up against.

"Public sympathy supports these supposed men of God. People don't realize that these promoters have

Jewelers Sue Linda Christian For Gift Gems

LOS ANGELES (U)—Suit for return of $132,500 worth of jewelry has been filed against actress Linda Christian, estranged wife of Tyrone Power. The suit was filed by a New York jewelry firm, Van Cleeft & Arpels, Inc.

The suit alleges that Robert H. Schlesinger, son of a wealthy Milwaukee family, gave the jewelry firm a check for $100,000 on account last Jan. 11, and that the check bounced. A demand for payment or return of the jewelry was turned aside, said the suit.

An affidavit filed in support of the legal action says that a demand Feb. 2 on Miss Christian brought her reply that the jewelry had been given to her. A $35,000 platinum bracelet set with emeralds and diamonds, a $44,500 platinum and diamond ring and a $53,000 platinum and diamond necklace are among the jewelry involved.

religion on their lips—but larceny in their hearts.

"The religious fake is the most brazen of racketeers. He puts on clerical clothing and the public treats him with respect."

Mahan gave this recent example of how "reverends" are made in Massachusetts:

"I requested Bishop X to bring his books in for inspection. The promoter, after several attempts to renege, came into my office. He wore clerical garb. He affected an air of pious dignity. I asked him how he could be a state prison inmate one day and a bishop the next."

"I'm a bishop because the congregation laid hands on me," the promoter insisted.

Mahan told him that if he passed the collection container once more, Massachusetts law would lay hands on him. The "bishop" was next heard from in Miami, Fla.

Race to Settle Where Mythical Monster Lives

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (U)—Where does the mythical water monster Ogoogo live? Two western Canadian mayors are going to run a foot race to settle this question.

With an eye on tourist business, Mayor J. J. Ladd of Kelowna, B.C., said emphatically that the Ogoogo is a native of Okanagan Lake in British Columbia's Okanagan Valley.

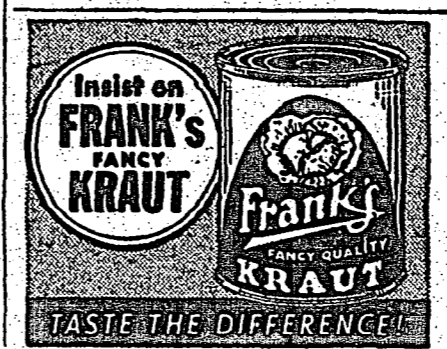

Oh, no, replied Mayor Harry Veiner of Medicine Hat, also with an eye on paying visitors. The Ogoogo is a creature of the South Saskatchewan River.

The dispute arose when Ogoogo's name appeared on a new bridge across the South Saskatchewan. Nobody knows who inscribed it, but it stuck and the Medicine Hat Chamber of Commerce called off a name-picking contest.

Kelowna fired off a blazing protest. Mayor Veiner countered with the reasonable reply that if it would make Kelowna feel any better, the Medicine Hatters would spell the name backward—that is, O-g-o-o-g-o.

When Mayor Ladd refused to be mollified, Veiner challenged him to settle the issue by racing him over a 100-yard course at the summer regatta in Kelowna. If he loses, Veiner promised, the Ogoogo signs will come down. The Kelowna mayor accepted and announced he was starting immediately. No date has been set for the regatta, but it is usually held in the second week in August.

The French population is increasing at the rate of about 300,000 a year.

Change in Law Setting Up Park Board Proposed

Would Officially
Include Recreational Activities

A former mayor has proposed that the state law setting up and regulating the Park Board be amended to include, officially and legally, recreational activities.

William A. Galewski, mayor from 1943-45, told the City Council Monday night that about 11 or 12 years ago a program was started "trying to consolidate some of these interwoven boards by placing the same men on different boards" and by eliminating overlapping functions.

He said that the program has worked well and is working well now but suggested that "in the future some time some board might say: 'That's recreation, we don't have anything to do with it.'"

Galewski said that about five years ago when the Park and the Recreation boards were consolidated with the dissolution of the Recreation Board, he was under the impression that this board would take up both activities.

No Ax to Grind

However, the state law setting up the board of park commissioners was not amended to include recreational functions.

"I've no ax to grind," said Galewski. "I'd suggest that you confer with the Park Board and the Legislature."

He described recreation as being an "orphan" under the Park Board.

Aldermen, showing a receptiveness to the proposal, agreed that the board should be contacted relative to the proposal, on an individual or group basis. City Attorney Harold Streator noted that probably the law could be amended without affecting the current effort of the Council in the Legislature to secure release of some of the restrictions on Latsch land.

Also discussed briefly was informal agreement reached at a committee meeting with the Park Board commissioners last week, when the seven aldermen present decided to rescind a letter sent to the board last Aug. 17 following a report of the state public examiner.

The city attorney will prepare a letter for consideration at the Feb. 21 meeting.

Ald.-at-Large Gordon L. Weishorn was absent. He is ill.

Watkins Pays Federal Fine

ST. PAUL (AP)—The J. R. Watkins Co., Winona, paid its $300,000 fine to the clerk of U.S. District Court here today in the form of three $10,000 certified checks.

The firm pleaded guilty in federal court here Monday to conspiracy to evade taxes on alcohol used in the manufacture of liniment.

Linus Hammond, company attorney, said the $300,000 in civil tax liabilities assessed against the company is now in escrow in Washington. The government will get the money as soon as a special permit for the use of denatured alcohol is issued to the firm.

When the matter was in U.S. Court here Monday, the Watkins company was given 24 hours to pay the $300,000 and their attorney, C. S. McMahon, Winona, said that would be satisfactory. Of the $300,000, it was explained, $600,000 was for unpaid alcohol taxes and $300,000 as a penalty for having evaded the taxes as claimed by the government but which the company has consistently denied.

Housing Authority Expenditures Hit $1,644,197 Total

Expenditures of the Winona Housing & Redevelopment Authority total $1,644,197 through last Dec. 31, the authority reported in its quarterly financial statement to the City Council Monday evening.

The breakdown includes: Overhead, $26,698.11; interest, $38,956.18; initial operating deficit, $5,270.18; planning, $68,392.79; site acquisition, $20,640.43; site improvement and dwelling structures and equipment, $1,477,271.67 and $31,968.01. Assets were listed at $1,742,311.83, including $13,220.69 in cash and another $15,710.74 in accounts receivable. A total of $3,000 had been retired of the $1,655,000 bond issue.

Board Votes Against Dike Road Upkeep

Winona County's commissioners, acting unanimously late Monday, voted against maintenance of the Lock & Dam 5A dike road north of the city of Winona—subject of several heated debates during the past month—and adopted a "hands off" policy insofar as further discussion of the 3.1 mile stretch is concerned.

"The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers had said during a stormy public hearing last month that if some governmental unit in Winona County would not maintain the road it would be closed.

A representative of the St. Paul district engineers told the board in January that if county residents wished to continue using the road, a permit for that purpose must be taken out by Winona County. The government owns the road and had originally opened it for public use during the 1952 flood.

Included in the proposed agreement, however, was a stipulation that said the county must also maintain the road, lying between Latsch Prairie Island Park and Minnesota City.

Commissioners felt in January that maintenance of the road should be the responsibility of the two townships—Winona and Rollin—which lie at either end of the thoroughfare.

Representatives of the two townships indicated that they wanted the road kept open, but declined to agree with commissioners as to who should maintain it, saying that the cost should come out of county coffers.

Both the county board and township officials, however, agreed that the road is used primarily by city of Winona residents and felt that perhaps the city should have a share in the cost of maintaining it—if it was to be kept open.

City officials—at the time of the January meeting—indicated that they were not interested, as the road in question lies outside the city limits.

Commissioners, acting Monday on the grounds that there wasn't enough public sentiment in favor of keeping the road open, passed a resolution rejecting all responsibility for maintenance of the road "for the present time."

Following voting, Board Chairman Ray G. Kohner said that "if some other political subdivision wishes to enter into a contract with the government for maintenance of the road—that's their business." Presumably, this tosses it right back in the townships' laps.

A representative of Winona Township had said in January, however, that his particular township could not afford to underwrite the cost of such a project.

Fair Aid Raised

Granting of $6,000 to the Winona County Fair Association—for 1955 expenses—was approved during a hearing before the Winona County board of commissioners Monday afternoon.

The sum is a $1,000 increase over the amount given last year.

Citing "increased maintenance, wiring and construction expenses this year," Fair Association president Marjell Wilste, St. Charles, appealed to commissioners for the increase.

Also appearing at the hearing were association directors, Alfred Mueller, Lewiston, Dr. R. L. Page, Merrill Smith and Roger Anderson, all of St. Charles.

Included in an increased expenditure report presented to the county board Monday were: Construction of a $5,000 lavatory building on the fair grounds; $2,000 worth of new wiring, and $900 involved in the moving of a game and fish building to the fair grounds by the Isaak Walton League.

Dr. Page and Smith told commissioners that the Fair Association had "over $1,000 in major improvements last year" and said that a state fire inspector had told them that additional electrical wiring must be installed during the next three years—if the association.

CNW Wrecker Tips on Side, Caves in Wall

A large Chicago & North Western Railway wrecker tipped off the tracks in the railway's West End yards this morning, its boom crashing through a brick wall of the engine house, but three employees working in the wrecker escaped serious injury.

Released from the Winona General Hospital after receiving treatment for minor neck burns suffered in the mishap at 9:45 a. m. were the three members of the wrecker crew, Omar Severson, 31, 419 E. Wabasha St.; Roland W. Ahrens, 26, Gilmore Valley, and Joseph A. Losinski, 30, 610 E. Bellevue St.

All three were in the steam-powered wrecker unit when it apparently became unbalanced while it was lifting a 16-ton diesel motor unit to a nearby switch engine.

The wrecker fell over on its right side and the long boom which was being used to raise the motor ripped out a window and wall area of the engine house.

Although all three men were drenched with water from a tank used to feed the boiler, the boiler itself remained intact and none of the scalding water and steam in the boiler spilled out on the men.

There was a certain amount of steam in the cab, however, but the crew managed to make its way to the front portion of the wrecker where they knocked out a window and crawled out of the unit.

They were able to walk to the yard office where an ambulance was called to take them to the hospital for examination and treatment.

Several Winona fire department units were also called to the unit to guard against any possible outbreak of fire.

At the hospital Severson, Ahrens and Losinski each was found to have suffered minor burns near his ears and neck. They were all discharged after it had been determined that they suffered no serious injuries.

E. J. Fitzgerald, the North Western's general foreman here, said this morning that no estimate of damage could be made until a more complete inspection could be made.

The wrecker was on its side at noon and the damage could not be estimated immediately.

The boom ripped out a portion of the brick wall adjacent to a window on the east end of the engine house.

Several employees who were standing near the engine house when the accident occurred ran to safety when they noticed the wrecker tipping toward them.

The wrecker was being used to lift a new diesel motor unit on a strip-down switching unit on a track just east of the crane.

The motor had been lifted off a small rail car and was being hoisted toward the switch engine when the wrecker began to tip.

Winona Man Fined After Being Arrested At Club in Goodview

Harold Bartz, 36, 711 E. 2nd St., paid a $20 fine and costs of $3.50 in justice court at Goodview Monday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Sheriff George Fort reported today.

Sheriff Fort said that Bartz was arrested by Deputies Clarence McElmury and Helmer Weismann who were called to the Happy Landing Club in Goodview at 5:30 a. m. Sunday and learned that Bartz had been involved in a fight there.

William Fossum announced that the annual dance will be held at the Caledonia Auditorium April 15.

Board Seeks Answer to Rusty Water

Commissioners
Meet With Service Engineer

The Board of Municipal Works spent more than two hours in special session Monday night seeking answers to the rusty water problem and indications are that another special meeting may be held in the near future for further consideration of the condition that has grown worse in recent weeks.

Meeting with the commissioners was Forrest L. Rhoads, service engineer of the Flox Co. Inc., a Minneapolis water treatment firm. And they also heard a letter from O. E. Brownell, chief of the municipal water supply section of the Minnesota Department of Health.

No definite decision on the course of action was made, however. The department is awaiting the results of microscopic examination of water from the wells and distribution system by the Department of Health and will also seek advice from Wallace & Tiernan Co. Inc., the Minneapolis firm that installed the city's chlorination equipment.

Preceding the water discussion, the board awarded a contract for the installation of new equipment at the Johnson street pumping station to the Acton Construction Co., St. Paul.

The St. Paul firm's bid of $16,488 was the lowest among five opened by the board last Thursday, the other four being submitted by Winona contractors. The bids had been reviewed by the city engineer and the powerhouse committee and an extended discussion preceded final awarding Monday night.

Vote to Accept Bid

Recognizing the facts that the St. Paul firm's bid was lowest and that the original bidding specifications were complete and did not warrant revision necessitating advertisement, the board voted unanimously to accept the bid. All members of the board were present as were Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer, City Engineer W. O. Cribbs and Water Department Secretary G. O. Harvey.

Before the decision was made, a letter from the Winona Contracting Construction Employees Association was read asking the board to be "very careful" in awarding the bid to a responsible plumbing contractor and noting that it would be desirable if the award could be made to a local firm if "economically and morally feasible and right."

The work involves supplying labor, material and equipment for the installation of two centrifugal water pumps complete with venturi flow meter and all necessary 24-inch suction and discharge piping and also for the installation of two 16-inch hydraulically operated gate valves on the existing 16-inch discharge headers.

Other bids were submitted by Charles J. Olsen & Sons, 111 Center St., $16,665; American Plumbing Co., 119 Washington St., $18,394; Frank O'Loughlin, 527 Washington St., $18,396; and the Winona Plumbing Co., 306 Mankato Ave., $19,438.

Explain Job

Appearing before the board were two representatives of the Acton firm, to explain how they planned to do the job if awarded the contract. Roger L. Acton explained that the firm would bring in all one man (Walter Brown, the foreman who accompanied him Monday night) and that every effort would be made to hire as many local men as needed. He added that workmen would be procured through Winona unions with men brought from other cities only if sufficient help is not available in Winona. Materials, too, will be purchased locally, Acton said.

He pointed out that the firm will do all work involved in the contract with the exception of electrical installations and that a Winona electrical contractor would do this work.

Acton had furnished the board with references from engineering firms and general contractors, all of which mentioned Brown's qualifications. He is a registered master plumber, and has been in charge of the construction of a sewage plant now nearly completed at St. Charles. Acton assured the board work would begin as soon as contracting and bonding arrangements are made.

Water Discussed

Turning next to the discussion of the water condition, the board heard a report by Harvey on the water supply system at Albert Lea. At last Thursday's regular monthly meeting he was authorized to go to Albert Lea for a survey of their system that has used Flox Co. products, for a number of years.

Harvey noted that Albert Lea has an estimated population of about 15,500 with water supplied from a deep well (Winona has three deep and four shallow wells.) Albert Lea, according to Water Superintendent Marinus Jensen, began Flox treatments in 1937 and added chlorine (now required in high iron content water supplies by the Department of Health) several years later. They discontinued Flox treatments in 1947 but resumed them a year later.

Complaints were "terrible" during the first two or three months of treatment, Jensen told Harvey, but he noted that after that there were hardly any complaints on the condition of the water.

Flushing Important

An important factor in the cleaning of the mains is flushing, and at Albert Lea, the department flushed mains as often as possible (including night flushings) during the first several months of the treatment.

Rhoads then explained that the Flox chemical (known as Nalco 918-Y) is a blend of polyphosphates that acts as a stabilizer of the water's iron content. It is tasteless and odorless. It would probably be used here in a powdered form that with shipping expenses, would cost about 17.7 cents per pound. The firm also conducts tests on water to determine the effectiveness of its treatments.

In reviewing the action of such a chemical, Rhoads said that the first result would be a cleaning of old iron deposits in the city's mains that would probably make the water worse than it is at present. He said this would continue for at least a month, but that after that the water should show marked improvement.

The chemical would be used to supplement chlorine treatments (which kill the iron bacteria but are ineffective against accumulations of the finely divided precipitates). However, it is believed that as in other cities, the amount of chlorine could be decreased considerably after the Flox treatment had taken its full effect. Rhoads explained that one reason for this was that the iron deposits in the mains consume some of the chlorine in the water and that this situation should be remedied by Flox treatment thus enabling the chlorine to concentrate entirely upon bacteria in the water. The treatment will also combat corrosion in the piping, Rhoads said.

Additional cost would be about $5 per day at the outset, board members calculated, but this would be somewhat offset later by the decreased chlorine consumption. Cost of equipment, to utilize the additional treatment was believed to be a minor factor. Harvey and Rhoads will conduct a study to determine the most feasible method of treatment.

The state Department of Health's letter regarding rust removal in the distribution system noted that the difficulty could be due to deposits of an iron precipitate, calcium carbonate scale deposits or the iron bacteria which could prevent a sufficiently high chlorine residual at all points in the distribution system. Brownell stated that scale deposits could be controlled by a polyphosphate and mentioned the products of the Flox firm along with recommending frequent system flushing. Concerning iron bacteria, Brownell said he had asked tests be made by R. L. Sha, public health engineer of Health District III, Rochester.

Mechanical Cleaning

He also mentioned the possibility of mechanical cleaning of the water pipes (an extremely expensive measure) and gave the board the names of two firms that do such work.

In other business, Harvey told the board that work is progressing on renovation of one of the deep wells in Levee Park. The pump has not been serviced since installed in 1938, but the exact extent of repair necessary to boost the production of the well has not been determined. Capacity has dipped about 300-gallons-per-minute over the 17 year span.

He added that no report has been received from the engineering firm of Toltz, King & Day concerning the survey of possible new well locations. The survey was suggested by the City Council after the board had determined that the Westfield Golf Course site on the West End seemed to be the most advisable location. There have been proposals that Westfield be moved to an area east of Lake

General Voting
For City Candidates
Will Be on April 4

Seventeen votes separated the second and third rankings in the two primary election contests here Monday.

Harold W. Briesath and Donald C. Kleinschmidt were nominated for 1st Ward alderman, but Kleinschmidt topped Frederick W. Bauer by only 14 votes.

In the 4th Ward it was even closer. Joe "Val" Karsina, the incumbent alderman, and Ray Thilmany were nominated, but Thilmany out-distanced Peter Wachowiak by only three votes.

It was a light vote. Only 705 of the 2,444 registered voters in the 1st Ward—about 29 per cent—went to the polls. It was a little better in the 4th Ward. There 809 of the 2,231 registered went to the polls. That's about 36 per cent.

In the 1st Ward Bauer was leading Kleinschmidt until the 4th precinct came in—the last of the eight precincts balloting to report. Kleinschmidt's home precinct gave him 111 votes to 57 for Briesath and 53 for Bauer.

The complete official vote for the 1st Ward:

	Bauer	Briesath	Kleinschmidt
1st Precinct	23	105	25
2nd Precinct	35	70	32
3rd Precinct	82	73	39
4th Precinct	53	57	111

The present 1st Ward alderman whose term expires, R. K. Ellings, was not a candidate for re-election to his second term.

In the 4th Ward, incumbent Karsina led every precinct. Wachowiak won in the 2nd over Thilmany, but trailed Thilmany in the other three to end up three votes short, 217 to 214.

The complete official vote for the 4th Ward:

	Karsina	Thilmany	Wachowiak

2nd Precinct	100	51	84
3rd Precinct	114	88	66
4th Precinct	98	33	28

Karsina, a truck driver, lives at 883 E. Mark St., and Thilmany, a construction laborer, lives at 57 Carmona St.

Briesath, in the 1st Ward, is a service station operator and lives at 1614 W. 5th St., while his April 4 general election opponent, Kleinschmidt, a car inspector and shoe shop owner, lives at 703 W. 5th St.

There were no primary contests in the 2nd and 3rd wards and none throughout the entire city for any Board of Education posts.

All precincts had reported to Recorder Roy G. Wildgrube, commissioner of elections, by 8:30 p. m.

Stockton Collision

Damages Two Cars

STOCKTON, Minn.—Cars driven by Clayton Tufto, Dawson, Minn., and Fred Googins, Stockton, were damaged in a collision on Highway 14, 1 1/2 miles west of here, at 5:15 p. m. Monday.

Sheriff George Fort said that Googins was driving onto the highway when his car and the west-bound Tufto car collided.

Tufto reported $200 damage to his car and damage to the Googins automobile amounted to $25.

Judge Considers Evidence in Contested Divorce

Judge Karl Finkelburg Monday afternoon took under advisement evidence presented in the District Court trial of a contested divorce action brought by Mrs. Lila Douglas, 40, 357 E. Wabasha St., against her husband, John F. Douglas, 41, her husband, who sued for divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, was represented by William A. Lindquist while Martin A. Beatty represented the defendant.

Called by Lindquist as witnesses during the trial which began Monday morning were Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, a daughter of the Douglas, 357 E. Wabasha St.; Mrs. Douglas; Arthur Schleider, 165 W. 5th St., a member of the firm which employs the defendant; Mrs. Adeline Wallen, 1285 W. 2nd St., a sister of Mrs. Douglas; Mrs. Margie Devorak, 287 E. Sanborn St., a former neighbor of the Douglas; Mrs. Freida Graham, 804 W. Mark St., and Carl Breitlow, 367 E. King St., representatives of furniture companies from which the Douglas had purchased certain items of furniture.

Beatty called Mabrey Wheatley, 208 E. 4th St., a former foreman of Douglas; Mrs. John Shugart, 361 Vine St., the defendant's sister; the defendant; Mrs. Gertrude E. Haase, 357 E. Wabasha St., and John F. Dinger, as witnesses.

Findings were ordered this morning for Frederick Kaehler, 656 E. 3rd St., the defendant in a divorce action brought by his wife, Mrs. Beverly L. Kaehler.

In his wife's divorce suit Kaehler had entered a counterclaim for divorce on grounds that Mrs. Kaehler is imprisoned for conviction on a felony.

Kaehler was represented by Harold S. Streator; the wife was not represented by counsel at this morning's hearings before Judge Finkelburg.

Kaehler and Detective Marvin A. Meier were called as witnesses.

The Kaehlers were married at Dubuque, Iowa, Feb. 21, 1948, and have three children.

NWA to Keep Hawaii Route Next 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northwest Airlines will continue its West Coast-Hawaii route for another three years under the revision of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) ordered Monday night by President Eisenhower.

The reversal of the presidential order last week cancelling those flights and giving Pan American World Airways sole proprietorship of the Seattle-Portland-Hawaii route came after a storm of protests against the Eisenhower action.

Under the new order, both Northwest and Pan American are given three-year extensions of their permits over that route.

Murray Snyder, White House press aide, explained: "All this amounts to is withholding judgment for three years so we can get a more complete financial picture."

Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), one of those marshalling the weekend protests, said he was highly pleased with the President's action. "Keeping competition on this route will bring better service to all passengers and there's nothing like competition to bring out the best in an airline," he commented.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) was not immediately available. But in St. Paul, Minnesota's Gov. Freeman called the decision a hollow victory and a "poor compromise."

"We are going to have to pay for this compromise by having two airlines running to Hawaii on subsidy," Freeman said. "We should keep the pressure on so we get what we deserve for Minnesota instead of being treated as stepchild by the national administration."

Freeman said he was concerned also about the CAB dropping of Northwest's permit to fly the Twin Cities-Anchorage, Alaska, leg of its present New York-Tokyo route. He said it was his understanding that, without this inside route, Northwest might consider moving its headquarters to Seattle from St. Paul.

The President's letter made no mention of this.

In the letter to acting Chairman Chan Gurney of the CAB and made public by the White House, Eisenhower wrote, in part:

"Both carriers operating on this Seattle-Portland-Hawaii route have built up substantial business. Moreover, since my original action in this case I have received from you information to the effect that within two years all airline subsidies in the Pacific area will probably have been eliminated or will at least approach that point."

"Renewing the certificates of both carriers for a limited period would afford them an equal opportunity to demonstrate their capacity to develop adequate traffic to operate without subsidy or prove definitely that the route cannot economically support two carriers."

"Accordingly, I request the board present for my approval a revised order in this case which would certify both Northwest Airlines and Pan American World Airways for operation between Seattle-Portland and Hawaii for a temporary period of three years from now."

200 Attend Scout Rally at Rushford

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)—About 200 persons were at the Rushford High School auditorium Sunday evening to witness Boy Scout court of honor ceremonies in conjunction with national Boy Scout week.

A pot luck supper at 6 o'clock for scouts, guests, parents and relatives started the festivities. Decorations consisted of scoutcraft and exhibits by the troop.

James Engrav, troop committee chairman, presided at the program following the supper and introduced guests including adult leaders, committeemen, and other scout leaders. Also recognized was Clarence Austad, holder of the Silver Beaver award, highest adult scout award, and Charles Austad, only holder of the Eagle award present.

Awards presented to the troop and post included three Liberty Bells from national headquarters for achievement in a quality program, functioning manpower and increased membership. Also bestowed was a 100 per cent Boys Life banner for troop subscription to Boys Life and commendation for fulfilling a membership quota in both troop and post.

The court of honor in the form of a candlelight ceremony, was presided over by Roy Stephens, chairman and Dick Berg, assistant scout leader, clerk. Presentation of awards were made by Dr. M. J. Woltjen, Clarence Austad, D. F. Rollefson and Arthur Berg, all members of the scout council.

Boys receiving badges were accompanied to the stage by their dads and after receiving badges, gave them to their fathers who in turn pinned them on the boys.

Guest speaker was Leonard Ekstrand, Rochester, a member of the Gamehaven council, who concluded the ceremonies with an address on the different phases of scouting.

Awards presented were: Tenderfoot — Stephan Woxland, Floyd McDaniel, Allan Cordes, David Scattum, Phillip Rislove, Rolli Jaastad.

Second class — David Forsythe, Rees Johnson, Robert Stephens, Frederick Colbenson, Douglas Thompson, Carol Tudahl and James Jensen.

First class — Leon Quarve, David Forsythe, Cortland Humble, Lee Loerch and Thomas Rollefson.

Star — Donald Hoegh and Roger Anderson.

Merit badges — Donald Hoegh, Roger Anderson, Lee Loerch, Charles Pfeifer, John Woll, David Julrud, David Rislove, Donald Stephens and Ronald Berg.

The scouts are sponsored by the Men's Club of the Lutheran Church and are under the leadership of Rockwell Carlson, assisted by Earl Johnson and Dick Berg.

Eagle Ranking Given Scout at St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. — William Hynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hynes, was awarded the Eagle Scout badge at a court of honor here Monday night commemorating the 45th birthday of scouting.

One hundred sixty persons were present to witness the court held by Troop 54 in the new addition of the St. Charles school. It was the first public affair to be held in the new gym. The troop is sponsored by the St. Charles American Legion Post.

The court of honor began with a grand entrance of flag bearers, cub scouts, Boy Scouts and explorers. William Hynes led the group in a pledge to the flag. Leonard Larson served as chairman of the court and Philip Bergh was clerk. Clint Hall, district scout executive, presented the pack, troop and post charters to Larson who received them on behalf of the American Legion Post.

On presenting the charters, Hall complimented the Legion on providing opportunities in all three phases of the program for the youth of St. Charles.

Five new scouts were invested into the troop as tenderfoot scouts. The Rev. Troy Keeling, scoutmaster, pinned badges on Larry Fix, Robert Dyar, Charles McCarty, William Spitzer and Steven Moiske. Robert Page received his second class badge from Warren Clausen. Al Bergh presented first class awards to Howard Williams, Dave Bishop, Fred Carlson, Paul Bergh, Leland Wiskow and Robert Page. Star awards were presented to Dean LaFrenz and James Bishop by John Hynes. W. B. McPherson presented the life badge to David Harguth.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the eagle badge to Hynes. James Hess, scout executive of the Gamehaven Area Council, was in charge of the ceremony. Hess pointed out that many factors and influences were involved in the high attainment of Eagle Scout. Notable among these influences are church, school, scouting and most important the home, he said. Representatives of each of these facets of the boy's life took part in the ceremony. The Rev. Mr. Keeling represented the church; McPherson, the school; Robert Wolter, scouting; Mr. and Mrs. Hynes the home and parental influence.

Mrs. Hynes did the actual pinning of the Eagle badge on her son. Refreshments were served to members of the court immediately after the ceremony.

Meteor Again Flashes Over Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Residents spotted a blazing meteor flashing across the sky for the second night in a row last night. Personnel at the Salt Lake Municipal Airport's control tower, who noted both phenomena, said last night's meteor was sighted at 7:55 p.m. and Sunday night's at 8:42 p.m.

Toy Box Lid Falls Shut, Kills Child

WEST SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Curiosity about a large wooden box of toys cost 14-month-old Peggy Ann Boylan her life.

Peggy, staying with a neighbor while her mother went shopping yesterday, reached down into the box. The lid fell on her neck.

The neighbor, Mrs. John Allen, rushed the child to a fire station. A doctor pronounced her dead.

Students estimate that the population of the world was fairly stable at 500 million between the years 1 and 1200 A.D.

Seaway Forecast As Economy Aid To Northwest

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway will spawn an impressive boom in Great Lakes grain shipment tonnage that will affect the economy of the entire Northwest, a seaway official predicts.

Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., forecast here Monday night that, on the basis of recent surveys, "tremendous grain tonnages for eastern and overseas shipments" will be moving on the lakes when present dredging plans are completed.

He spoke to the Duluth Chamber of Commerce's waterways committee and at the Duluth Board of Trade dinner. The board is entering its 75th year of operation.

Great Lakes ports from Toledo to Duluth, he said, are actively engaged in long-range planning to realize maximum benefits from the seaway.

"It is truly amazing to see how the seaway has fired the imagination of Americans all over the country," Castle said.

He forecast that tonnages by 1960 should fill the demand of all transportation agencies and added that railroads probably would reduce freight rates to meet competition.

Castle estimated the seaway cost will be retired in 25 or 30 years instead of the present 50 year plan. He said this would be accomplished by savings in contracts and in financing through U.S. treasury bonds at what he called "a very favorable rate of interest."

'Smart Businessman' Being Hunted by Police

FRANKLIN, Mass. (AP)—A police alarm was out today for a man described as a "smart, congenial businessman."

Police want him for buying a new car, two trucks, a restaurant, food, supplies, equipment and clothing, all with worthless checks.

The checks were issued Friday after the banks closed and not until yesterday was it discovered they were drawn on nonexistent accounts in Woonsocket, R.I., and Taunton banks.

Police said the swindler issued more than $10,000 in worthless checks and that he cleared $300 in cash, clothing and a new automobile.

Typo Secretary Resigns After 35 Years in Post

Carl Baeuerlen, linotype operator at The Winona Daily News, stepped down from the post of recording secretary of the Winona Typographical Union 246 Monday night, an office he held 35 years.

Members of the local, meeting in annual session at the Red Men's Wigwam, gave Baeuerlen a standing vote of thanks for his service. He was replaced by Edward Lee, Jones & Kroeger Co.

Harold Huntley, The J. R. Watkins Co., was re-elected president of the local as were Stanley Anderson, vice president, Jones & Kroeger Co., and Kenneth McCready, secretary-treasurer, The J. R. Watkins Co. James Kubicek, replaced Curt Zeissler as sergeant-at-arms. Both are employed at The Daily News.

Refreshments were served following the business meeting.

Survey Shows Retail Price of Milk Lower

The American housewife paid approximately one cent less for the quart of milk delivered to her door at the end of 1953 than she did a year earlier, according to the report on the milk industry just released by Prof. G. W. Starr of Indiana University.

Prof. Starr's conclusions are based on the reports of some 385 milk distributors who participated in the 1953 milk industry survey just completed at Indiana University. The milk distributors had an operating profit of 2.08 cents for each dollar of sales. The remainder of the sales dollar was expended as follows: Material costs, largely whole milk and ingredients used in processing fluid milk 59.33 cents; wages and salaries of employees 20.95; plant, delivery and office expenses and advertising 6.39; taxes, licenses, insurance and depreciation of plant and equipment 4.84; bottles and containers 5.19; miscellaneous expense 1.22 cents.

The companies represented in the survey are in business in every major city in the United States, and had sales in excess of $1,400,000,000 in 1953. Reports were received from distributors doing business in 280 cities scattered throughout 44 states and the District of Columbia.

Put Daylight Time Up to Voters

Approval by the Assembly State Affairs Committee of the Catin bill calling for a referendum on daylight saving time will be welcomed as proper procedure for the final settlement of this age-old issue in Wisconsin.

Committee approval squeaked through by a one-vote margin after two noisy days of hearings at which opponents and proponents argued the question.

Next step will take the bill to the Assembly for consideration, with a vote on it set for this week.

All the familiar arguments were presented and once again the question was fought out on the unfortunate division of farm vs. city.

But as a voluntary farmers' committee has pointed out in committing itself to daylight time, the disadvantages for rural areas are far less significant than they were a few short years ago.

The phase that is important is the sale of farm products, particularly dairy products. Proponents of so-called "fast time" argue — and with considerable logic — that sales of food products would be increased by a degree if an additional hour of daylight were granted to the nonfarm population.

Everyone is familiar by now with the fact that farmers using modern machines are not working against time as they once did in the horse and buggy era. Modern equipment has increased the possibilities of fast work at the right moment.

The farm argument is, of course, that city folk can solve the problem simply by starting their day earlier, leaving the clock unchanged. Some industries have used that system in the past, but nevertheless it has failed to satisfy the element of uniformity.

Farm opposition to the move is traditional, but in some agricultural quarters there is evidence of a difference of opinion, as in the case of the group led by Leslie Olson of Milwaukee, who heads the Wisconsin Dairy Committee.

The state's lawmakers consistently have refused to take favorable action over the years, but with committee approval of a referendum bill, there is promise of a changing attitude, to the extent at least, that the people finally may have a voice in the question.

The test will come in the Assembly next week. It is to be hoped that it will follow its committee recommendation and adopt the referendum bill. — La Crosse Tribune.

These Days

Competition From Abroad Tougher

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — I walked into a hardware store a few days ago and picked up a chopping board. It was made in Yugoslavia. The same day, I read an item that a Hollywood motion picture company is planning to produce Tolstoy's "War and Peace," and that the production would be made in Yugoslavia. Maybe, the chopping board could be made more efficiently in Tito's realm, but has Hollywood sunk so low that thousands of American workers have to be kept out of jobs because there are superior electricians, carpenters, scene-painters, grips, bit-players, musicians, etc., in Yugoslavia compared with those in the United States? The picture will be shown in this country; its profits, if any, will be earned here. Why then do this job in Yugoslavia?

Now along comes a release from the American Knit Handwear Association which reports that in 1953 there were 30 American firms in this industry; yet today there are only 22. This, of course, is not a big industry like steel or automobiles, but it does give employment to Americans. In 1952, more than 4,000 Americans were employed in it; today, there are less than 1,500, which means a decrease of 63 per cent.

IF ONE LOOKS AT THE figures of earnings of American companies it seems as though this industry is going out of business altogether. It cannot compete with low wages, low taxes, government subsidies, etc. There is a Gresham's law in the market place; low wage goods drives high wage goods out of the market unless there is a quality differential or protection against the evil, and generally there is no such quality differential.

From the standpoint of the free market, these American firms, if they cannot compete with British and Japanese manufacturers, ought to go out of business. In terms of strict capitalistic theory, no one should be protected against the consequences of competition. But from the standpoint of social conditions in the United States, the peril is that we shall have unemployment and we shall have ghost towns and we shall have disturbed conditions. The economic doctrine of the free market here comes into conflict with the social doctrine of full employment and must be resolved politically. John L. Lewis is already making the telling point that the enormous unemployment in the coal industry, partly due to the import of residual oil, is met by distributing food surpluses to American miners instead of foreign governments.

Wool handwear imports have increased from 32,000 dozen pairs in 1940-43 to an estimated 1,200,000 dozen pairs in 1954. In the United States wages in this industry average $1.13 an hour; in Japan, the same industry pays just under 12 cents an hour. A protective tariff could be devised to keep Japanese knit gloves out of this country but then we have political problems with Japan such as the necessity of providing a market for Japanese goods in the United States to keep the Japanese from moving into Red China's corner. As a matter of fact, negotiations are now taking place between Red China and Japan which can have far-reaching effects upon our already too complicated situation in the Far East.

UNLESS WE OPEN our markets to Japan, they will have to cultivate trade with Red China and even with Soviet Russia, if they can get it. The danger to the American manufacture of products with which Japanese products can compete in American markets is that politics rather than economics will prevail. There is no free market as long as the determining consideration is not competition but politics.

This then is the peril that the small American manufacturers face and they go before the Ways and Means Committee to present their case knowing full well that their arguments are going to fall on deaf ears because so many of our legislators have become statesmen who forget the needs of their constituents in the face of the deterioration of our relations with foreign countries. The United States can exist without making woolen gloves, but when the trend is to kill off so many marginal industries, the gross effect of such a policy could be the destruction not only of marginal but also of essential industries, such as watches, in which Americans must be kept at work because of the skills involved, or lead and zinc, which in wartime could not be imported from overseas.

Sen. Barkley's Forgetful Secretary Scares Adlai

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Kentucky's Alben Barkley, the venerable "Veep," has no trouble remembering he's only a freshman senator now. But his secretary, Flo Bratten, sometimes forgets and answers the phone: "The Vice President's office."

"When she made this mistake the other day, a puzzled voice asked:

"The Vice President's office," she repeated absently. Then, suddenly remembering, she corrected herself: "Excuse me, I mean Sen. Barkley's office."

"Thank goodness," replied a relieved voice. "This is Adlai Stevenson."

Note: The last person Stevenson would want to get on the phone is the present Vice President Dick Nixon, who bitterly attacked Stevenson in the last campaign.

Attack the Attackers This writer has had several talks with Harvey Matusow, the ex-Communist who once worked for Sen. McCarthy, and who says now that he helped to plant deliberate falsehoods against people accused of Communism.

First revelation that Matusow had repented and was anxious to tell the truth appeared in this column on Nov. 8, 1954. In this and other talks he made amazing statements which throw light on the tactics of the junior senator from Wisconsin. One of them was McCarthy's investigation of the press. Matusow told me that McCarthy had asked him to investigate the press.

"Why was that?" I asked. "The press in New York—the New York Times, the Herald Tribune and Time, Inc., had been attacking Sen. McCarthy, and he was sore about it and wanted to take his revenge," Matusow replied.

"Did he want to make them appear to be Communist?"

"That's right. Attack his attackers by calling them Communists. . . . I was able to obtain records from the Communist party and Communist faction of the American Newspaper Guild dating back to the 1930's and early '40's. It was completely hearsay evidence that I was giving him and he was completely willing to use it."

"People who work indoors should get out as often as possible for some fresh air," says the Speaker, perhaps thinking of the oratorical hot air he endures on the House floor. . . . Following his appearance on a recent television quiz show, Cong. James P. Richards of South Carolina, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, received this note from a down-home admirer: "You made a good showing for a country boy, but I've seen you do better with a chaw of tobacco in your jaw." Richards wrote back: "No spittoons in the studio."

Boy Scouts Celebrating 45th Birthday

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The Boy Scout movement in America is 45 years old today.

And more boys than ever are now trying daily to do a good deed in a naughty world, a goal we grownups often chuckle over but actually admire greatly.

The Boy Scouts now have 3,700,000 members. The organization has grown every year since its founding in 1910, increased 72 per cent the last five years alone. But as the general population is aging rapidly, there are still plenty of elderly ladies for scouts to help cross a busy street intersection.

I am one of the more than 24 million Americans who have taken the Boy Scout oath:

"On my honor I will do my best to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

At least that is the way I remember the oath. And on my honor today I certainly have to admit to a number of shoddy falls from grace in keeping that pledge over the years.

But I don't hold with the few remaining minor league cynics who think the Boy Scout movement is a waste of time and its ideals are childish. On the other hand it isn't necessary for me to defend it as a key organization in the fight against juvenile delinquency. Its record proves that.

My reason for admiring the Boy Scouts is simply one of basic human gratitude. What I learned as a scout later saved my life.

At 14, having graduated from tenderfoot and second class rank, I went to a two-week summer scout camp determined to earn as many merit badges as I could. Every moment I could escape the camp routine I spent in the river. A scout teacher taught me swimming strokes.

The day before the campment ended I won my merit badge. Among other things I had to dive from a raft, retrieve from the river bottom a heavy iron sledge hammer equivalent to the weight of a 200-pound drowning man, and bring it back to the raft. Then, without rest, I had to swim 100 yards.

Now since then have I swam that far?

But 17 years later I was in a boat in the third assault wave of Gen. George S. Patton's western task force as it hit the coast of French North Africa.

Our landing craft missed the beach and ran full force into a coral outcropping. As the boat began to capsize, the lieutenant yelled:

"Everybody overboard."

A moment later I was over my head in water. The surf weighted my boots, pack and clothing like lead, and seemed to claw me under. Twice I swam to the coral reef, but it was crowded with soldiers from the front of the boat, and the waves washed me away. The third time, utterly worn out, I made it. But the soldier ahead of me had to lend me a hand to help get me up on the rock.

Two days later I went to a burial service near the spot where we had landed. Many of the pale-faced boys lying there in full combat dress were soldiers who had drowned coming ashore. They never got to fight because they had never learned to swim.

Now if anybody tries to tell me that the Boy Scout movement isn't a wonderful thing — well, he's talking to a man who feels he owes his present existence to it. Happy birthday, scouts!

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

U.S. Warned Against Letdown in Europe

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK—Such a little while ago all our emphasis was on the defense of Europe. Since Korea, our brass has been concentrating its attention on the far Pacific again.

Up to now they've been hitting us where we aren't. So it worries me when our admirable, determined, overdue decision to stand pat . . . is concerned only with Formosa.

Because just as surely as we stand pat on Formosa and make it plain, as our President has, that we do "not intend to let Formosa fall . . . They'll hit us where we aren't again."

Where? A Soviet general writing in a Russian magazine on February 1, this year, said atomic war would hit "densely populated West Europe first and hardest."

The propaganda sheet is trying to discourage ratification of German rearmament. But his guess is as good as anybody's.

Our own President and our own Army Chief of Staff are in diametric disagreement as to how the next war will be fought.

Gen. Ridgway says Formosa can't be held without American foot soldiers. Pres. Eisenhower says it can.

Two honorable men, each sincerely convinced he is right and willing to bet your life.

Americans, we have to take some of the decisions of our leaders with blind faith that they know what they're doing. Even though they don't always.

That's what's wrong with the theory of those who would regiment our whole economy . . . plan everything for.

They are human and they disagree just as surely as certain economists are now pulling two ways as to whether we should plan for a boom or a bust, and if we give the reins to either of these schools of thought we might give them to the wrong school.

But in military decisions we have no choice. We have to hand the reins to somebody and follow his judgment. Pres. Eisenhower is a student of weapons and tactics who has shown the flexibility to emphasize airpower, even though he had to overcome his own depth of experience in the infantry tradition to do it.

This, I say, is a great credit to the man.

A news analyst, on the other hand, tries to chart the future by exploring the past.

And I would like to offer just a word of caution concerning our present preoccupation with the southwest Pacific. Until Germany is retrained, France is guarding our rear.

With our atomic annihilation. We have had some of these big 280 millimeter guns over there and another battalion on the way. That'll give the NATO nations a total of 36 of them, ready to lay down a curtain of atomic fire in the path of any forces marching from the East.

I hope we're not building our defense of Western Europe on quicksand.

France's government is up for grabs again. France has gone through 19 governments since the war.

And the Communists, remember, are the strongest single power in the Paris Parliament.

I hope we don't suddenly awaken one day as the French did a couple of wars ago when they relaxed behind the Maginot Line . . . suddenly to look up and look around and find the enemy was no longer in front of them, but behind them.

Young Mother Sets Fire to Baby's Crib

PHILLIPSBURG, N.J. (AP) — A young mother, accused of fatally burning her 7-month-old son by setting fire to his crib, faced a murder charge today.

Authorities said Mrs. Bernice Makatura, 23, of nearby Belvidere Pike, admitted she started the crib blaze while the baby, Stephen, was asleep yesterday.

She was quoted as saying she also threatened to take her own life and that of another son, Richard, 3, because of domestic difficulties. Her husband Stephen was at work at the time of the fire.

AFL, CIO Try For Merger of Labor Unions

By NORMAN WALKER
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Top CIO leaders today invaded the winter meeting grounds of AFL chiefs in a make-or-buy try to merge their labor union organizations.

Leaders from both camps indicated privately that if no merger agreement could be hammered out now, after two years of continuous effort, they might as well forget about the plan for some time to come.

AFL President George Meany said he regarded the talks today and tomorrow with CIO President Walter Reuther as crucial and added that he was not pessimistic over the outcome.

However, the same issue that has wrecked previous moves to merge the AFL's 10,000,000 and the CIO's 5,000,000 members into a single labor federation was still the main roadblock.

This was the CIO's fear that, as a smaller organization, its unions would be swallowed and subjected to "raids" on their memberships. The CIO still looks for specific assurance that its unions' "integrity" would be preserved under a merged setup, but it was a question how far in that direction the AFL was willing to go.

The AFL was ready to accept CIO unions as a block in a new AFL industrial union department. Among other CIO desires were guarantees that its unions would be allowed to continue their practice of organizing entire plants into single unions rather than into several craft unions, and safeguards that any union racketeers could be eliminated from the new federation.

11 Vessels Sailing To Join 7th Fleet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The heavy cruisers Los Angeles, Baltimore and Rochester sail today with eight destroyers to join the 7th Fleet in Formosan waters. They are manned by 6,500 men.

Navy officials declined comment when asked if one of the cruisers is carrying guided missiles and nuclear weapons. They said recently that the departure of the vessels is a routine rotation, not necessarily signifying an emergency.

Keelung, Formosa Ready to Receive Tachens Refugees

By FRED HAMPSON
KEELUNG, Formosa (AP)—While the Tachen withdrawal was in full swing 200 miles to the north, Keelung's foggy waterfront bustled with activity today preparing to receive thousands of evacuees.

There were unconfirmed reports that some ships would arrive today, but up to mid-afternoon none had appeared.

Keelung will be the port through which about 15,000 Tachen civilians will be fed and housed and ultimately resettled in five counties. The job will be handled mostly by civilian volunteers working at 26 school buildings.

These volunteers are headed by students from Formosa colleges and by teachers of the Keelung schools. A group of students of both sexes took time out from a busy morning to show me their preparations at one of the larger schools.

Kitchens have been set up where evacuees can cook their own meals. Free food for two meals daily will be supplied. The army is supplying trucks. The public health department is furnishing doctors and nurses. School has been dismissed and beds have been put in classrooms.

Each school is prepared to take care of several hundred evacuees—the larger up to 1,500—for at least 10 days. In the Keelung railroad yard nearby were strings of special cars to carry the evacuees to districts where they will make new homes.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—The leader of last month's unsuccessful revolt to oust Costa Rican President Jose Figueres urged his followers last night to "cease all armed resistance."

Former Costa Rican President Rafael A. Calderon Guardia, a political refugee in Nicaragua, said in a statement continuation of the fighting "will only serve Figueres to intensify his sadistic reprisals." Calderon Guardia issued his statement after rebel remnants captured the north Costa Rican town of Los Chiles last week, then were driven out by airborne government troops.

The majority of the estimated 500 rebels had fled across Costa Rica's northern border and been interned in Nicaragua, but in Washington yesterday the Organization of American States Commission investigating the revolt said captives from Los Chiles had told OAS observers that some of their comrades, after being released from internment, had reentered Costa Rica and resumed fighting.

Philippine President Seeks Annual Budget

MANILA (AP)—President Ramon Magasaysay today sent to Congress a national budget calling for expenditures of 648,200,000 pesos ($224,100,000). This is the largest budget in Philippine history. A major portion goes to national defense.

Man Kills Wife, 2 Children, Then Commits Suicide

DENVER (AP)—A 29-year-old man shot and killed his estranged wife and two children at their home in suburban Wheat Ridge last night, then threatened himself a few minutes later when threatened with arrest.

Officers said Mitchell J. Berkeley, a Navy veteran under psychiatric care, called at his wife's home after requesting to see the children.

Sheriff Carl Enlow said Berkeley apparently walked into the bedroom where Mrs. Yvonne Berkeley, her daughter Lindsey Ann, 8, and a son, Tommy, 11 months, were in bed. He shot each in the head, killing them instantly.

The children were found in their blood-soaked beds. Mrs. Berkeley, clad in red dressing gown and jeans, was crumpled in a heap beneath a window beside her bed. Enlow and his deputies raced to the home of Berkeley's brother Robert in another Denver suburb. They saw Mitchell Berkeley walking from the house to his parked car and flashed a light upon him.

Enlow said Berkeley then pulled a .35 service automatic and fired into his mouth.

The Berkeleys had been married for 10 years, but Mrs. Berkeley had started a divorce suit recently.

Princess Gets Fiery Farewell in Grenada

ST. GEORGE, Grenada (AP)—Grenadians gave Princess Margaret a rain-drenched but fiery farewell last night as the 24-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II boarded the royal yacht, Britannia to continue her monthlong tour of the British West Indies.

Two hundred men and boys stood in pelting rain around the semi-circular harbor, each holding a tall bamboo stick topped with burning kerosene-soaked rags. Fireworks burst from old Ft. George, at the harbor entrance.

Ex-Boy Friend Quizzed in Killing Of Honor Student

NEW YORK (AP)—A married student, identified as a former boy friend of slain Abner Yarrow and one of the few persons who knew the location of her hideout flat, has been recalled by police for renewed questioning today.

A police official said, however, that the Negro student is not a suspect.

Call, 30-year-old Ernest Jackson was sent home early today after being closeted for eight hours with investigators assigned to the vicious murder of the 23-year-old woman graduate student.

Twice married and the father of a child, Jackson was a classmate of the murdered girl at a New York University postgraduate workshop on human relations.

Police said Jackson was the boy friend with whom Miss Yarrow broke recently and from whom she sought to hide in borrowing a friend's apartment. The secrecy of her hideout was given away, however, when she asked Jackson to come to the cheap, sixth-floor tenement last Tuesday to remove a dead cat, police said.

Miss Yarrow, an honor student and reportedly a sensitive, idealistic girl, was slain Sunday in the barely furnished apartment she borrowed from her friend Herta Payson, 22, who had left town for a 10-day visit home in South Carolina.

Miss Yarrow's body, found sprawled on a mattress on the floor, was stripped of all clothing but a sweater. She had been stabbed 37 times, strangled and sexually abused.

Miss Yarrow was described to police as a devout and gentle member of the Quaker faith.

Mrs. Charles Zerbel Marks 94th Birthday

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—Mrs. Charles Zerbel observed her 94th birthday Monday. Friends and relatives called on her. She lives with her daughter, Mrs. Helen Ashcroft, Plainview.

Her family gathered at her home Sunday for dinner and supper. A granddaughter, Mrs. John Appel, baked and decorated the birthday cake and Mrs. Zerbel received many cards and a monetary gift. Her children in addition to Mrs. Ashcroft are Mrs. Charles Boehle, Otto, Armen and Theodore, all of the Plainview area, and Alvin, Winona. There are 12 grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Mrs. Zerbel has been confined to her bed nearly two years following a fall but is able to be up for an hour or so each day, dressed and in a chair. She is the former Adelunde Timm, was born in Germany Feb. 7, 1861, and came with her parents to the Plainview area when she was a child.

Following her marriage March 8, 1884, Mr. and Mrs. Zerbel lived in Winona and Minnesota City and then farmed near Plainview. They moved to Plainview 28 years ago. Mr. Zerbel died 13 years ago.

The Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Schoewe who were present, conducted a prayer service. Guests included a grandson, Blake Zerbel, his wife and daughter Patsy, Spenard, Alaska.

You Can Stop Smoking, Still Control Weight

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Numerous requests as to how a weight gain can be prevented after smoking is stopped constantly come to your dietitian. Today's letter from a reader in Florida poses an interesting problem:

"I have followed your nutrition advice with most pleasing results. I lost an excess 25 pounds and have maintained normal weight for the past year. On the advice of my doctor, I have attempted to cut out smoking, a habit I have indulged in for the past dozen years. This is a most difficult habit to break, I'm finding out. To replace the routine of lighting a cigarette just about every 10 minutes of my waking hours, I have taken to substituting any kind of food that will occupy my mouth and hands whenever the desire for a cigarette becomes my foremost thought.

"I can almost feel the pounds creeping on as I continue to replace cigarettes with calories. I know the desire for cigarettes will wane in time, and I will no longer feel the need for a substitute. In the meantime, however, I hate the thought of putting back 10 unneeded pounds while I'm trying to break the habit of smoking."

There are two facets to the problem of weight gain when smoking is stopped. Food tastes better, so one tends to eat more. But of greater importance, authorities point out, smoking gives oral satisfaction. Food in the form of snacks is used to provide this oral satisfaction when smoking is stopped. Here we are dealing with habit. A recognized way to break a habit is through substitution, but in this case, the substitution can become fattening habit!

Nutrition know-how can help you through this difficult adjustment period. Have a dish of crisp celery stalks, cauliflowerettes and carrot slivers. Crunch on these when you get that urgent desire to "light up." They will provide oral satisfaction with a minimum of calories. For an energy pick-up at your "zero hour" in the late morning or late afternoon, have protein—a hard cooked egg, a wedge of cheese, a glass of skim milk, buttermilk or cocoa made with skim milk.

Here's another tip—breathing exercises practiced for five minutes eight to 10 times a day help 15 heavy smokers stop smoking, according to a report by Dr. William Kaufman in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The exercises—taking deep breaths in and out 16 times a minute. Dr. Kaufman explains that heavy smokers take short breaths when not smoking, causing an uncomfortable sense of breathlessness and pressure on the chest. This, he says, may make the person restless, tired and anxious.

Here's a promise—when kept under control, the sharpened appetite levels off in a few weeks. Send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for Take Your Choice Diet and Energy Boosting Diet. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Winona Daily News. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Girl Scout Camp 'Gift Bonds' Make Valentines

Girl Scout camp "Gift Bonds" are now available for purchase as valentines and birthday remembrances for local Girl Scouts, it was announced today by Mrs. Roger Lundberg, camp chairman.

Obtainable in the Girl Scout office in the Exchange Building, the green and white certificates are issued in any denomination from one dollar upwards, and are designed to be applied on camping fees.

Relatives and friends may thus give any Girl Scout a helpful "assist" toward a vacation at the Girl Scout camp in Trempealeau next summer," Mrs. Lundberg explained. "Many bonds, are being made out in the full amount of a week's camping fee, thus assuring the recipient that her camp expenses are paid in full well in advance."

It was noted, also, that the full value of the bonds will be refunded by the council at any time up to June 1, if the owner is unable to go to camp.

Camp gift bonds may be purchased in the Girl Scout office Wednesday and Thursday afternoon, and Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays from 3:30 until 5 p.m.

Parking Lot Perils Levee Indian Mound

One of the "Indian mounds" in Levee Park is endangered by the march of progress.

City Engineer W. O. Cribbs told the City Council Monday evening that the plan for development of a parking lot in the park encompasses one of the mounds.

Cribbs said that he is hesitant about proceeding without knowing more about the origin of the mound. He said he had dispatched one of his men to the public library yesterday in search of the truth, but the man returned empty-handed, except that one historian had reported that the mounds are of obscure origin.

(Franklyn Curtis-Wedge's history of Winona County (1913) says: "Two large mounds originally marked the present site of the levee at Winona. One, 70 feet across, was a little to the east of the foot of Center street. One 65 feet across, was at the foot of Main street. Each was 2 feet high and circular in form."

(Dr. Lafayette Houghton Bunnell says in his history (1897): "At the foot of Center street, Winona, and along the river below, in olden times, a few low mounds existed of uncertain use, but they have all been leveled to the ground."

The city, with the cooperation of the Park Board, is planning to develop a strip 48 feet wide in the two blocks east of Center street. Parking would be on the north side, to the north, with the one-way drive from the west on the south side. If successful, it is planned to expand the area another 18 more feet to permit parking on either side of the lot. Consideration also has been given to developing in a similar way the two blocks to the west of Center street.

Another proposed parking lot occupied the attention of the Council. Engineer Cribbs, reporting on a Council assignment, said that the Winona Motor Co. used car lot on East 3rd street, just east of Walnut street, would accommodate 25 cars immediately, three more after certain changes in the front curbing. He said that it is available for rent at $100 a month from the Winona Motor Co. on a limited time basis. Purchase price is reported to be $7,700. Owner is Norman Rouverd.

Before the Feb. 21 meeting the engineering department will make a survey of the need for a parking lot. The lot (the immediate vicinity has only the 20-hour limits, without meters), taxes being paid on the property and more detailed rental possibilities.

An investigation of the suitability of the lot had been asked by the Chamber of Commerce parking committee.

In another traffic matter, the Council noted that the state attorney general had ruled that the Minnesota Railroad & Warehouse Commission must act on opening of any railroad crossing to traffic. As a consequence, in accordance with previous agreement of the Council, City Attorney Harold Streeter this week will begin action before the commission to order the Milwaukee Road to open Steuben street, to give A. M. Kramer access to light industrial property to the south of the tracks.

Streeter told the aldermen Monday night that he earlier had quoted the railroad as holding that opening of Steuben street would be more of a handicap than opening of Buchanan street. He said that the railroad instead informed him that Buchanan would be more of a handicap. The railroad has indicated it will oppose either opening.

City officials prefer opening of Steuben because little fill is required, although removal of a house from the street would be necessary.

The railroad, rather, has indicated an interest in assisting in construction of a road to the south of its tracks.

City Recorder Roy G. Wildgrube told the Council, meanwhile, that, hereafter the overtime pay for off-duty policemen assisting with the parking meter collection will be paid out of the meter fund rather than out of the police fund.

Salary Increase For Municipal Judge Suggested

An increase in the annual salary of the Winona municipal judge from $3,800 to $5,000 was recommended Monday night by the City Council. The action followed an appearance in committee of the whole by Judge E. D. Libera.

For the salary to be changed, the Winona municipal court act must be amended by the Minnesota Legislature.

A compilation presented by Judge Libera revealed these salaries of other municipal judges: Rochester, $6,300; St. Cloud, $5,000; Virginia, $4,800; Fairbault, $4,500; Hibbing, $4,200; Sault Ste. Marie, $4,000; Mankato, $3,900; Owatonna, $3,840, plus five other cities paying less, ranging down to $3,300.

It was pointed out that the average percentage of salary based on population of the cities listed above Winona, excepting Rochester and St. Cloud, is about 34 per cent. If the salary of the Winona municipal judge was based on this percentage, it would be approximately $5,500. The average percentage salary based on population of Rochester and St. Cloud is 20 per cent; in Winona the comparable salary would be $5,000. Rochester and St. Cloud provides offices for their judges.

It was noted that all of these municipal judges are practicing attorneys, as is the custom in Winona.

The last previous raise in salary for the position was given in 1951.

Receipts of the municipal court last year were about $14,000, exclusive of state receipts, and about $3,000 over four years ago.

School Problems Aired at Preston

PRESTON, Minn. — School district enlargements and building programs at Spring Grove, Clarendon and Grand Meadow were discussed by a rural committee of 15 here Monday night following reports by committees of three which visited each of the districts named.

The rural group, which represents 10 closed and 3 operating common school districts of Fillmore County, are studying possible merger with the Preston school district. The enrollment here is now 425 and growing. Existing facilities are overcrowded.

Delegates now will take the reports to their school districts and reaction in each will be studied and discussed with all rural school board members here Feb. 23. A definite plan of rural action is expected to come from that meeting.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A University of Minnesota surgeon and a Pennsylvania minister will deliver keynote addresses at the 1955 statewide cancer workshop to begin here today under the sponsorship of the Minnesota division, American Cancer Society.

Among approximately 125 key Minnesota volunteers representing nearly 80 county units will be Ben Sanford, Spring Valley, and Mmes. E. M. McCullough, M. L. Spencer and Leo Koll, Winona.

Dr. Kenneth Jensen, associate clinical professor of surgery, U of M, and the Rev. Edwin E. Steward, Meadville, Pa., will headline a list of speakers at a banquet at the Normandy Hotel here tonight. Also appearing will be H. P. Skoglund, president of the North American Life and Casualty Co., Minneapolis, and Dr. David P. Anderson, Austin, Minn.

MAINTENANCE MAN RE-HIRED HOKIAH, Minn. — John Gistaler, 68, was re-hired as village maintenance man by the village council here Monday night on a low bid of $210 per month.

Other bidders were Harry Marquette and Herman Feuerhelm. Gistaler's duties include general maintenance and care of the pump-house. He held the post in 1954.

acknowledgement of his error and lack of experience, Malenkov did not appear ill at ease on the stage. He chatted informally with other Soviet leaders on the platform.

The appointment of Bulganin and Molotov's speech came three hours later in the afternoon session. This was the scene as the Soviet reconvened in the afternoon session: Malenkov led the government leaders to the stage and was greeted with loud applause. He was followed by Khrushchev and the rest of the government. As soon as they took their seats, Khrushchev arose and walked to the rostrum to a standing ovation, to make the speech nominating Bulganin.

The number of musical instruments in the United States is estimated at 27 million.

Pallbearers were J. D. Weimerskirch, Philip Sheridan, Frank Breza, George Ehlers, Alfred Einhorn and Fred Wild Jr.

No Dividend Payment
This Year, La Crescent
Fruit Growers Decide

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special)—Because of low production in 1954, the La Crescent Valley Fruit Growers Association will not pay a dividend, it was announced at the annual meeting here Monday night.

Although prices were good in 1954, officials of the organization stated, production was about one-third of what it was in 1953. Only a small percentage of the stockholders attended the meeting last night at Carroll's Cafe and it is doubtful whether a quorum was present.

Gordon Yates and a Mr. Erickson were named to the board of directors and Vic Leidel, president of the board, was re-elected. The directors are expected to reorganize in the near future.

FIRE CALLS
Firemen were called to Hamilton street at Lake Winona at 5:18 p.m. Monday when a motor was on the Yahke Ice & Fuel Co., for ice harvesting caught fire.

The motor was damaged extensively.

Another run was made at 9:44 a.m. today when a plumber's torch started a small fire in wood of a house under construction at 268 Lafayette St.

Beardsley to Talk At Rushford Meeting

RUSHFORD, Minn. — Philip A. Beardsley, Winona social security office, will explain the new farm social security program at the annual meeting of the Rushford Cooperative Creamery Association Saturday at 11 a.m. in the local school.

Earl Somer, secretary of the association announced today that officers would be named at the session and a lunch, awarding of door prizes and entertainment will be parts of the program.

County Board Buys 2 Trucks

Winona County Board of Commissioners this morning accepted a bid from the Winona Truck & Implement Co. for the purchase of two International 6-cylinder, three-speed transmission, one-half ton pickup trucks.

The firm, represented by M. A. Peterson, submitted a base bid for the two vehicles of $2,172.70. Accessories to be specified on a purchase order will bring the total cost to $2,331.

The bid was low among five firms submitting proposals to commissioners. Other base bids, including submitted prices, were received from: Eustermann Ford Co., Lewiston, $2,692.94 (represented by A. N. Eustermann).

Owl Motor Co., Winona, Ford, $2,349.40, (unrepresented).

Seifert-Baldwin Motor Co., Winona, Dodge, $2,440.00 (represented by C. K. Baldwin).

Winona Motor Co., Chevrolet, $2,353.60 (unrepresented).

Federal tax was deducted from all proposals before they were submitted and none included installation of overdrive.

Both trucks will, in addition, be equipped with nylon tires, and oil filters, with but one to include overdrive. Both are to be used by the county highway department.

Elgin Co-op Will Elect 3 Directors

ELGIN, Minn. (Special)—Three directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the Elgin Cooperative Creamery Association here at 11 a.m. Saturday.

The meeting will get under way at the high school auditorium with the election of directors to succeed Art Benike, John Ernst and Henry Rott for terms of three years. The high school band will play during the noon hour at which time a lunch will be served. Moving pictures will be shown, door prizes will be awarded and a speaker heard on the afternoon program.

City Moves to Buy Land for E. Burns By-Pass

The City Council moved Monday night to acquire property for construction of a by-pass of the condemned East Burns Valley bridge near the end of the city limits.

It voted to acquire an option to purchase from Lloyd Ozmun and to begin condemnation proceedings against Mrs. Leona Corey.

The Ozmun option will involve a purchase price of $1,500 for .74 of an acre, plus moving of a garage and changing of a driveway. Opposing it were 4th Ward Ald. Joseph Karsina and Daniel Bam-benek.

The city is interested in acquiring .23 of an acre from the Corey property to complete the new route for the road. Its construction will eliminate the need for building a new bridge over the creek. City Engineer W. O. Cribbs has estimated the cost at $20,000. Cost of the road, on the other hand, is estimated at $7,900, including estimates for property acquisition.

Under the new arrangement, the motorist, driving into the city, would turn somewhat to the right at the present location of the bridge. The road would angle off toward the old Pleasant Valley road, joining it near the Sugar Leaf Creamery building.

Only objection that has been raised to the road within the Council is that it will involve a sharp turn to get onto the Pleasant Valley road.

The Corey condemnation will involve removal of a small frame home.

Malenkov Story One of Swift Rise and Fall

By TOM WHITNEY

NEW YORK (U)—Georgi Malenkov came close but he never quite succeeded in taking over all the power once held by the late Joseph Stalin.

But from obscure beginnings, this short fat man rose high. He appeared to have a lot of what it takes for success in the Soviet Union — but apparently not quite enough.

To the outside world, Malenkov had two personalities, two distinct characters — one before Stalin died and quite a different one after Stalin.

Before Stalin died, he was known chiefly for the scowl in his photographs. After Stalin's death, he showed himself as a smiling chubby fellow with thick, wavy hair and a winning way.

Before Stalin died, Malenkov never saw a foreigner, never gave one an interview, seldom spoke to anyone at a reception. After Stalin's death, he received a few foreigners in his office but saw many at official receptions — not only in the Kremlin but also in foreign embassies. He had lengthy conversations with foreign ambassadors and was frank in expressing to them some of his views and ideas.

Party Character

Before Stalin died, Malenkov stressed his Communist party character by always wearing in public the semimilitary plain tunic and military-type hat favored by medium-level Communist party executives. All the rest of his colleagues in the leadership except Stalin wore either business suits or full military uniforms. After Stalin's death, Malenkov himself changed over to neat business suits.

On Stalin's death, Malenkov succeeded to Stalin's premiership but did not keep the old man's job as secretary of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee. That went to Nikita S. Khrushchev, who now has eclipsed him.

Nor did Malenkov take Stalin's position as generalissimo of the armed forces of the U.S.S.R.

The Soviet dictatorship officially became a committee instead of a one-man affair, with authority exercised by a group of from five to perhaps 15 men. But after the purge of Lavrenty Beria, two individuals stood head and shoulders above the rest — Malenkov and Khrushchev.

As the months passed, Khrushchev more and more seemed to have the edge.

Malenkov's rise was as dramatic as his fall.

For a long time he was a man of mystery, with very little known about his past. In the last year some of that mystery has lifted. The large Soviet encyclopedia has a full-page biography of him.

Facts of Career

While this biography gives the official facts of his career, a more complete story could be told only by reading extensively between its lines.

He was born Jan. 8, 1902, in Orenburg, on the border between Europe and Asia. His father is described as an "employee," probably a middle-class business or government official. Although he eventually became head of a government which styled itself a "proletarian dictatorship," his background appeared to be neither proletarian nor working class.

He volunteered in the Red army during the civil war. In April 1920, he joined the Communist party and from 1919 to 1921 he was a "political worker" in army units on the Eastern and Turkmenian fronts.

After demobilization from the army he studied from 1921-25 at the Moscow Higher Technical School. There he first attracted the attention of party higher-ups. He got an engineering education which was to prove useful to him later. But more than this he won his spurs in Communist party organization work, becoming one of the leaders of the party organization in the school.

From 1925 to 1930 he was in "responsible work in the apparatus of the Central Committee of the Communist party," according to

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Boats in Winter

Boats hibernate in many ways during the winter. Some owners just haul them out on shore like those pictured above. Others let them freeze in the ice, while a few bring them home and put them in the garage where they repaint them during the winter in preparation for the coming year.

This latter plan has its advantages. It gives one something to dream about on a winter evening—perhaps it awakens memories of the ones that got away or the ones that were caught. Regardless, it is a good idea to give the boat some thought in winter. Perhaps, most fishermen put the repair job off for those Sundays after the ice fishing season closes. Anyway care is essential if a boat is to continue to be safe.

This picture, "Boats in Winter," was not taken for any reason like those itemized above, but only because it was slightly covered with snow and between the sleeping trees and white snow-covered ice it made an unusual picture. The location is Merrick State Park near Fountain City.

Fewer Jackrabbits

The other evening a group was talking about various subjects when some one spoke up and asked, "What has become of our jackrabbits? Have you seen or killed any while hunting cottontails this winter?"

Puzzlement lighted up the faces of the group and only one remembered seeing a jackrabbit recently although a number of them had hunted cottontails in areas where they formerly saw on different trips in the past a number of these big fast hares.

Incidentally, a jackrabbit is not a rabbit but a hare and is of the north, not the common cottontail rabbit, which has replaced the latter in this state. In fact, early records show that the cottontail was just native to Southeastern Minnesota but replaced the snowshoe when civilization moved in. Cottontail gets along well with people. The snowshoe gets out when people arrive. In Minnesota they retreated into the north woods.

Jackrabbits a few years back were quite plentiful in the more open areas of Oak Ridge, Greenleaf Prairie and in western Wabasha and eastern Olmsted counties. In fact, it was Sunday sport to go into the snow-covered plowed fields and raise them. A leaping jack provides an exciting target for a rifle.

Skilled jack hunters spot them by seeing the black tips of the ears. All of the rest of the rabbit turns white in fall. When first discovered jacks will jump six or eight feet in the air so they can look about to see what is happening. When they take off they can travel in long leaps—eight or more feet, at a speed of up to 30 miles an hour. The jack rabbit is one of the fascinating animals of the American plains.

There was a time when they were considered a source of food by many people in winter. The up to date butcher shop of 50 years ago always had a few of these fellows hanging outside their door in the daytime. Market hunters supplied the animals.

Jacks are considered a pest throughout most of the west and big jackrabbit hunts are staged in some communities. As many as a thousand such rabbits are killed in one such hunt in some areas of North Dakota in a single day.

But it appears locally that the jackrabbit is slowly vanishing. Perhaps it is just the low stage of their cycle or perhaps modern farm machinery is making their life a tough one—reducing the jackrabbit carrying capacity of the area.

Trouble Feared Over Equalization Of School Aids

ST. PAUL (U)—A report not scheduled to be issued for several weeks already is causing concern among some legislators.

The report will detail results of comparative assessment levels. The survey was ordered by the 1951 Legislature to try to arrive at a uniform basis for distributing equalization school aids.

The job was assigned to the commissioners of administration, taxation and education. Their report is due March 1.

Equalization aids are designed to help districts with low property valuations. Greatest amounts go to the poorest counties.

At the time the study was ordered, some legislators expressed the opinion that property valuation purely was set low in some school districts to get more equalization aid.

Preliminary results of the now completed survey have shown wide variations in assessments on the same classes of property. And legislators who have seen parts of the report say a good many school districts will lose equalization aid.

One estimate is that if the study is made the basis for distribution of such aid, the amount sent to school districts may be cut as much as 25 million dollars.

And that's why some legislators are concerned. They fear their school districts, which depend heavily on equalization aid — may be caught short.

There is talk of a bill to delay effective use of the findings so as to give school districts scheduled to lose aid an opportunity to make adjustments.

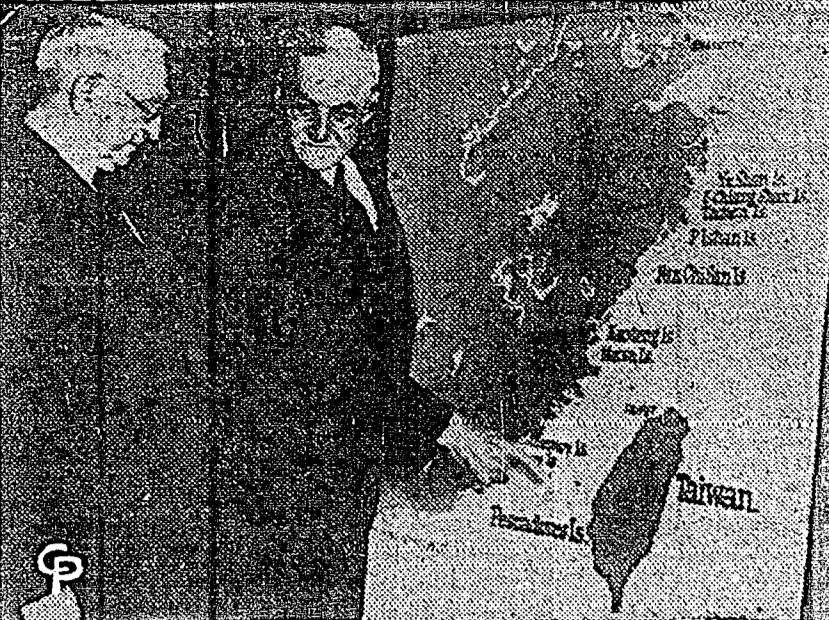

Meanwhile, strong likelihood developed that efforts to enact a law to bring legislators under party labels would fail at this session.

Rep. Leonard Lindquist, Minneapolis, a leading supporter of the effort, said "there isn't much chance" to pass the bill now that it has been amended to include county officials.

Rep. A. F. Oberg, Lindstrom, a co-author of the measure, said the amendment would compel him to vote against the bill.

When the measure came up for further debate Monday, Rep. Karl Gritter, St. Paul, chief author, asked that it be delayed to give people in the rural areas a chance to express themselves on the county official amendment.

In another development, the Senate Workmen's Compensation Committee, by a 7-6 vote, approved a bill broadening unemployment compensation. Under the measure, which also has the approval of a House committee, all who work for employers of one or more persons would be entitled to unemployment benefits.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, right, confers with Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee just before they went before a closed session of the Senate group at which the secretary presented his views on the China situation. He told the committee he very much doubted that Communist China would think of war if the mutual security treaty with Chiang Kai-shek's government is signed.

Spurned Suitor Surrenders After Murder, Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH (U)—A spurned suitor surrendered himself meekly to police last night to climax a daylong hunt that followed the fatal shooting of one person and the gunpoint abduction of the suitor's ex-girl friend.

Russell Winterbottom, 33, surrendered after telephoning from a relative's home in nearby Turtle Creek for authorities to "come and pick me up." With him was Lorraine Rodgers, 20, whom witnesses said they saw forced into a car at gunpoint by Winterbottom.

He is charged with murder in the shooting of Walter W. Henry, 49, who lived in the same hotel as Miss Rodgers.

Police Supt. James W. Slusser said Henry was shot yesterday morning as he attempted to end a quarrel between Winterbottom and Miss Rodgers, Winterbottom's former girl friend.

Miss Rodgers told police and reporters afterwards that Winterbottom once threatened to kill both her and himself. She said, however, that she was unarmed during their ride over back roads. Late yesterday afternoon, she said, they heard a broadcast announcing Henry's death and she asked Winterbottom to surrender. She is held as a material witness.

10 Tons of Corn In Galesville Polio Campaign

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—About 10 tons of "corn for polio" were received here Friday when Future Farmers of America from the Gale-Erick chapter canvassed area farmers.

J. O. Beadle, FFA advisor, was in charge of plans. Mrs. Clarence Brown, local polio fund chairman, received the report that 19,365 pounds of ear corn and 530 pounds of shelled corn were included in the days donations. The corn was sold to two Galesville mills and one at Erick, and will return about $300 in cash.

Seven farm trucks were donated for the day by Earl Trim, Carl R. Olson, S. C. French, Henry Hoff, Robert Bell, Ethan Sacka and Robert Sacka, and were driven by sons of these farmers. School bus routes were followed and in many cases farmers handed the boys sacks with the offer to "help themselves." Mrs. Brown has announced that the proposed mother's march for polio has been given up unless an emergency occurs. Citizens are urged to return the March of Dime cards they have received, which will care for the local quota.

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Galesville centennial pictures in color will be shown in a program at the French Creek Lutheran Church Wednesday evening.

Robert Longwell took the pictures last June as Galesville observed its 100th anniversary. Also shown will be several travel groups of special interest.

The program is to be for the Men's Brotherhood group of the church, and all interested are welcome. The program committee includes Lewis Lebakan, Alfred Lien and Harland Tolonen.

Ice Skating Rink Attendance Reported

Attendance at Winona ice skating rinks totaled 22,194 during January. M. J. Bamnack, director of parks and recreation, announced today.

Lake Winona led the attendance figures with 7,255 while the Athletic Park skating rink had 4,545 and East Center 5,184.

There were 1,310 persons using the Athletic park hockey rink, 490 at Arthur C. Thurley, 1,240 at Central, 620 at Madison and 350 at Jefferson.

Ice hockey spectators totaled 1,200, Bamnack said.

Total attendance at rinks during 11 days of operation in December was 9,716.

Jefferson and Thurley rinks were not completed until Jan. 15 and Bamnack said that many days of skating were lost at all rinks in January during cold weather.

Trempealeau Legion Meeting on Friday

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—A meeting of the Trempealeau County Council of American Legion Posts will be held at the Log Cabin, Eleva Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

County Commander Cliff Blaha, Erick, will preside, with local arrangements in charge of Ingvald Brian, Eleva post commander. James A. Martineau, department commander of Wisconsin, will speak. Martineau has held many offices in the American Legion including post commander at Oconto; 9th district commander; and department vice commander. The Eleva Auxiliary will serve lunch after the meeting.

Prenatal Classes Set at Whitehall

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The first lesson in a series of prenatal classes will be held Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 2 p.m., at the city hall in Whitehall. Mrs. Fern Lasister, Trempealeau County public health nurse will conduct them.

Women from Trempealeau County are invited to attend free of charge. The topics, "Preparation for Parenthood" and "How Your Baby Grows" will be discussed at the first meeting. The film, "Human Reproduction," will also be shown. Questions from the group will be discussed. This will be an opportunity for interested mothers and mothers-to-be to gain basic information.

Pepin Heart Fund Drive Chairman Named

PEPIN, Wis. (Special)—Mrs. Julius F. Jahnke has been named chairman of the 1955 Heart Fund drive here by General Paul B. Clemens, Solon Springs, state chairman.

The drive in Pepin will be conducted by means of a mail campaign this month.

Mrs. Clarence Seifert has been named chairman of the 1955 Red Cross campaign, Pepin chapter. The campaign will start March 1 with a quota for Pepin and Stockholm of $442. Malcolm Hulett, field representative, and Miss Alma Hanson, executive secretary, will be in Pepin Feb. 18 to meet with the chairman and local officers.

Briton Says Formosa War Unlikely Now

DENVER (U)—A Conservative member of the British Parliament says the likelihood of war between Red China and the United States has lessened "because China knows what will happen if he tries to take Formosa."

This statement was made by the Hon. Richard Wood in an address to a group of business and civic leaders last night. Wood, son of Britain's former ambassador to the United States, Lord Halifax, is on an eight-week speaking tour of the United States and Canada.

Telecast Presents Complete Musical

NEW YORK (U)—The Broadway hit musical "Peter Pan," starring Mary Martin, will be presented intact in a two-hour color telecast on NBC on the night of March 7, it was announced today by Sylvester L. Weaver, president of the network.

Weaver said the entire cast, scenery, costumes and orchestra will be used.

"This will also be the first time that a Broadway stage success will use television in place of the national road tour that traditionally follows a New York run," he said.

TRACTOR MISHAP

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—Wayne Stoltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stoltz, is confined to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Wabasha, for injuries suffered in a tractor accident Sunday.

As Stoltz attempted to start the tractor at the Fred Heuer farm, the lacing on a belt broke and struck him in the neck, narrowly missing the jugular vein.

March of Dimes Talent Contest Finalists Named

Simultaneously with the release today of the names of finalists for the Winona Jaycees March of Dimes talent contest Thursday evening, it was announced that Jeanne Reine, Miss Minnesota of 1954, would be a guest vocal star for the 8 p.m. program at Winona Senior High School auditorium.

Thursday evening's public talent show, slated to be emceed by KWNZ announcer Rob Gillum, culminates a month-long series of eliminations over the air.

Norman Svien, general chairman for the annual polio fund affair, said today that finalists in two age divisions will include:

Group I—Up to 12

Janet Olson, 10, Independence, Wis., singer; George Lanik, 11, 607 E. Bellevue St., piano solo; Charles Biesanz, Kid Chorus, a group from 4 to 12 years old; Susan Kane, 11, 208 Wilson St., and Creston Hartwich, 11, Lake Boulevard, piano duet; Jack Schuminski, 10, 901 W. 5th St., piano solo; Richard Rydman, 10, 1074 Marion St., piano solo; Nancy Joe Wera, 9, 802 W. Broadway, Judy Strommer, 12, 821 W. Broadway and Bonnie Wera, 12, 802 W. Broadway, vocal and tap dancing trio.

Group II—13 to 18

Joan Sieracki, 17, 521 W. 4th St., organ solo; Nancy Thurne, 14, 184 N. Baker St., organ solo; Kathryn Rose, 14, 453 Maceman St. and Judy Marchlewitz, 13, 3758 6th St., Goodview, vocal quartet; Sharon Bade, 14, Cochran, Wis., piano solo; Phyllis, 16, and Lois, 17, Miller, 1184 W. 4th St., vocal duet; The Blue Notes, Galesville, Wis., group of four 17-year-olds, vocal quartet; Charlotte Vreeland, 16, 1755 W. Wabasha St., accordion solo, and Karen Addleman, 13, 263 W. Mill St., guitar solo.

Three judges, to be named today, will award cash prizes to 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winners in both age groups. Prizes will be $15, $10 and $5.

Providing musical background for the program will be Johnny Roberts' orchestra.

The 60-voice St. Mary's College Men's choir will be featured among four specialty acts to be presented periodically during the program.

Also appearing will be: Betty Eris, member of the Winona Twirlers, who topped third place in competition at the St. Paul Winter Carnival; Thomas Chandler and Robert Bergsund, students at Winona Senior High School, who will present a pair of farce pantomimes, and Rosalie Borja, Island of Guam, now a student at Winona State Teachers College, who will sing.

All proceeds from the affair—both from previous KWNZ elimination voting and the public finals Thursday—will go to the March of Dimes.

Those who momentarily or by force of habit get to feeling that the world is hopeless, should ponder the wise words of the Dutch national hero, Prince William the Silent, who brought his country independence from Spain against overwhelming odds. He said, "It is not necessary to hope in order to undertake, or to succeed in order to persevere."

Schoening Named Chairman for B-I-E Program

Lewis Schoening, guidance director at the Winona Senior High School, has been appointed general chairman for this year's observance of Business-Industry-Education Day here March 17.

The annual B-I-E Day program will be in progress from 1 to 3:30 p.m. when all members of business and industry firms throughout the city will be invited to visit Winona's public and parochial schools.

A social hour will follow at the Winona State Teachers College. Members of the planning committee who met recently to draft plans for the observance were Superintendent Harvey D. Jensen and Schoening, representing the Winona public schools; the Rev. Harold Dittman, superintendent of schools of the Catholic diocese of Winona; P. H. Ricks, Winona Business College; Elvin R. Lewandowski, St. Mary's College; Miss Mary Hickey, Winona Secretarial School; M. O. Wedul, Winona State Teachers College, and Miss Modesta Gallery, College of Saint Teresa.

Committee chairmen for the event are Father Dittman, finance; Ricks, invitations; Lewandowski, publicity; and Wedul, social.

Members of the social committee are John Hughes, public schools; Bro. J. Robert, St. Mary's College; Miss Geraldine Gardini, Cotter High School; Miss Jeanne LaBlone, College of Saint Teresa, and Miss Hickey.

Steamboat Days Steering Group Airs 1955 Plans

Although Winona's 8th annual Steamboat Days celebration won't begin until five months from today, plans and preparations are well under way according to reports submitted during a meeting of the steering committee Monday noon at Hotel Winona.

The 1955 event will be held July 8, 9 and 10.

Presiding at the session, attended by about 25 committee members and representatives of civic organizations, was Kenneth L. Gunderson, who as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce merchants' bureau will serve as Steamboat Days general chairman.

He was introduced by L. E. Palm, last year's chairman who received a rising ovation in recognition of the success of the 1954 event.

Small Surplus from 1953 Gunderson briefly reviewed the financial status of the committee, noting that there was a surplus of $140.21 after the completion of last year's event.

He announced that the Sunset Amusement Co. had been contracted to provide the carnival attractions that will be held on Main street between Front street and the alley between 3rd and 4th streets, as has been the practice in recent years.

Arrangements are being completed to have three completely different stage shows at Levee Park Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights this year, rather than appearances by the same vaudeville acts on the three show nights.

The tentative program will include a total of 17 acts, with coronation of Miss Steamboat Days included in the Friday night performance.

In view of the expenses involved in the queen contest, it was suggested that some of the events planned strictly for the queen and candidates be curtailed. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will again conduct the contest.

Several suggestions were also made concerning the possibility of naming a "Commodore" to rule with Miss Steamboat Days over the 1955 event. A new innovation, it was felt by some, that it would add to the summer carnival and provide an escort for Miss Steamboat Days in appearances at area community events.

Discussion of water activities included mention of the possibility of featuring a water skiing show instead of the boat races, but after consideration, the members decided that the races should be continued.

It was also suggested that local water skiers be scheduled for performances between races. Ray Eggers, president of the Winona Boat Club will be in charge of arrangements.

G. O. Brems has been renamed chairman of the Steamboat Days parade July 9, and M. J. Bamberg, director of the Park-Recreation Department will be in charge of the July 8 kiddie parade.

The committee also noted the success of the square dance of last year's Steamboat Days and after a brief discussion rescheduled Cy Hedlund as chairman. And the group decided to repeat the fireworks that signal the end of Steamboat Days at the conclusion of the Sunday night stage show.

Len Dernek, president of the Winona Activity Group and chairman of the 1955 Winter Carnival, reviewed the group's activities. The Steamboat Days steering committee voted to give $100 to the Activity Group.

CONCERT AT CALEDONIA

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—The La Crosse civic band, directed by Frank Italiano, will present a concert at the Caledonia Municipal Auditorium Monday.

The band will have as its guest conductor Merle Evans, director of the famous Ringling Brothers Circus Band. The program is being sponsored by the Caledonia civic chorus. No admission will be charged but booster tags will be sold Feb. 10-12 in order to bring this and other entertainment here.

School Problems Aired for Lions

The snowballing school problem was discussed at length Monday noon at the Winona Lions Club by Dr. Melvin O. Wedul, head of the Phelps School, Winona State Teachers College.

William Lambert, Sam Edgar and Ray Poter were introduced as new members. President Robert Beadles presided and Charles Beckman was program chairman.

Dr. Wedul told of the rising school attendance problem, the relatively small number teaching and in teacher training schools and the future aspects of the situation. He asked for a better understanding of the problems confronting teachers and students and concluded by suggesting that the remedy lies in attacking the problem and not the school.

Bill to License Pheasant Hunting Areas Introduced

By JACK B. MACKAY

ST. PAUL (U)—Licensing of pheasant hunting preserves patterned after a broad Wisconsin law is provided in a law introduced in the Legislature today by Rep. Carl O. Wegner, Minneapolis and four co-authors.

The conservation commissioner would issue licenses for the releasing, shooting, possession and use of pheasants at a fee of $5 for each 320 acres or portions thereof contained within a preserve.

Co-authors include Reps. E. J. Childers, Littlefork; Otto Clark, Osakis; Loren S. Rutter, Kinney and Fred Schwanke, Deerwood.

One clue to the bill's intentions appeared to lie in whether they would throw up any planes to cruise in the same area as American craft flying over for the slow-moving Tachen pullback.

The Navy indicated that if incidents occur, American planes will be under no restrictions in pursuing any attacking craft. A Navy spokesman said Navy and Air Force planes, if attacked, will follow a policy of "hot pursuit" that is, they may chase their attackers as long as their fuel holds out.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, meanwhile, appeared ready to grant Dulles' request for quick approval of the mutual defense treaty with Chiang, despite opposition from Sen. Morse (Ind.-Ore).

Chairman George (D-Ga) called the group together to study what he said were "certain understandings" mentioned in Dulles' testimony behind closed doors.

Man Robbing Church Poor Boxes Caught

BOSTON (U)—Lorenzo E. Morin, 29, was sentenced to two months in the House of Correction yesterday for robbing church poor boxes with a cane tipped with bubble gum. Police said Morin's technique was to light a candle at the altar and while kneeling as though in prayer sneak the cane into the poor box to lift coins.

Reds Threaten U.S. Planes on Tachens Mission

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (U)—American officials kept their fingers crossed today against the possibility of shooting incidents if Red China carries out a veiled threat to fly planes in the same air being patrolled by U.S. craft.

American planes helping to cover the evacuation of Chinese Nationalists from the Tachen islands were accused by the Peiping radio yesterday of "gravely encroaching on China's territory and sovereignty."

The broadcast said: "If the U.S. Air Force ventures to intrude into China's territorial air again, the U.S. government must bear all serious consequences arising therefrom."

This warning came even as Secretary of State Dulles was telling the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he doubts Red China really wants to wage war against the United States.

"However, I do not doubt that the Chinese Communists are probing our resolution," Dulles added.

The secretary urged prompt Senate ratification of the mutual defense treaty between this country and Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government as one step to help "create a situation in which the present warlike mood of the Chinese Communists will subside."

One clue to the Reds' intentions appeared to lie in whether they would throw up any planes to cruise in the same area as American craft flying over for the slow-moving Tachen pullback.

The Navy indicated that if incidents occur, American planes will be under no restrictions in pursuing any attacking craft. A Navy spokesman said Navy and Air Force planes, if attacked, will follow a policy of "hot pursuit" that is, they may chase their attackers as long as their fuel holds out.

Pinay Summons N. Africa Officials For Policy Confab

PARIS (U)—Seeking to form France's 21st postwar government, Antoine Pinay summoned his country's top administrators in North Africa to conferences today on future policy in the troubled colonial area.

The 63-year-old prospective premier scheduled conferences with Algeria's outgoing Governor General Roger Leonard; his designated successor Jacques Soustelle; Tunisia's resident general Gen. Pierre Boyer de la Tour, and Moroccan resident General Francis Lacoste.

With them Pinay hoped to work out a North African program agreeable to political leaders whose backing he needs to give him a majority in the National Assembly. North African policy was the issue on which the Assembly voted Premier Pierre Mendes-France out of office early Saturday.

Tile Siding Falls, Duluth, Superior Women Injured

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—A section of tile veneer toppled from the wall of a store Monday, injuring two winter visitors.

The tile veneer, measuring about five by six feet, fell from an outside wall of the Crosby Shoe Store on North Miami avenue, at Flagler street, downtown Miami.

It knocked Mrs. R. C. Buck of Superior, Wis., into the street and pinned Mrs. Lawrence Bowman of Duluth, Minn., against the side of the building.

Mrs. Buck received a broken right leg, cuts and shock. Mrs. Bowman was cut on the head and arms and suffered shock. Both were reported in satisfactory condition.

"I have no idea what might have caused it to fall," said Don Liebowitz, store manager.

City building inspectors said other sections of the tile are loose and that the entire side of the store will have to come down.

Youngster Has Background for Movie Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—A handsome 20-year-old named Jody McCrea has a better than average start in his ambition to be an actor. His father is Joel McCrea and his mother is Frances Dee.

"The kid's okay," says Joel, in an appraisal as unprejudiced as you could expect from a father. "He has inherited something from each of us. He has his father's curiosity about things. He wants to know how everything on a movie set works and what it's for. He's constantly asking me questions. That's good."

"And he has his mother's capacity for hard work. He is taking a full course at UCLA, including Army officer's training, and is appearing every night in 'The Rose Tattoo' at a theater in Hollywood. That's a pretty tough schedule for a kid, but he loves it. And he manages to maintain a B average in his school work."

Joel was on a sound stage where he was recording dialogue for the recently completed "Wichita" for Allied Artists. Jody is also in the film.

"We were going to have him play my brother in the picture," the actor explained. "But we were doing it just at the time when Jody was in final examinations at UCLA. I told him they were more important; other pictures will come along. So he just did a small role in the picture."

Jody showed up, and he impressed me as a prime prospect for the movies. He's a tall lad, with his father's handsomeness and his mother's dark, thoughtful eyes. Has he always wanted to be an actor?

"No," he said. "I always thought I was going to be a rancher. But about three or four years ago I started thinking about acting. It appealed to me, and I thought I would have a better than average chance in it because of my parents."

He has been pursuing it ever since, appearing in school plays and soaking up all the information he can.

Street Dept. Garage May Be Expanded

The city of Winona is considering expansion of its street department garage either by purchase or rental.

Expansion of the facilities on Stone street, south of West 5th street, has been considered previously on an informal basis, but Monday night the City Council received two written proposals:

Mrs. Ethel Nelson, 703 W. Broadway, who is offering a lifelong lease at $150 a month, for the building immediately south of the present street department garage.

Paul Hruska, 626 E. 5th St., who is offering to sell the building formerly occupied by Stansfield Knitting Mills for $14,200.

The street department garage, the Nelson property and the Hruska property, although now separated by walls, was once all one building—the Winona Wagon Works.

Extra Space Needed
For some years the Council has been considering the need for additional street department garage space, a need which has arisen largely through acquiring more motive equipment.

Thought has been given to construction of a building in a location that is more central.

The Council made arrangements with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kohner, representing Mrs. Nelson, to view that property before the Feb. 21 meeting and also to view the Hruska property. The Hruska and Nelson proposals were referred to the street committee.

A claim for $25,000 was received from Etta Treister, 644 E. Wabasha St., who claims she fell on a slippery icy sidewalk on the north side of East Wabasha street between Lafayette and Center streets at 326 Center St. at 11:20 a.m. Jan. 3 and fractured her left hip and shoulder in addition to other injuries.

Subject to the passage of an ordinance, George Falk, owner of the buildings occupied by the Winona Beauty Shop and the Home Furniture Co., 62-70 E. 4th St., was given permission to erect a marquee. Perry M. Williams of the Williams' Glass House made the application.

On his bid of $750, John D. Wood, 227 E. King St., purchased lot 8, block 2, Circus Addition, from the city. This lot is part of the former playground and housing project site at East Mark and Kansas streets. A condition of sale, as in the sale of other lots at this location, is that a house be built on the property within one year.

Bounty on Gophers
At the request of the Winona County Board of Commissioners, the city will join in bounty payments for pocket gophers. The board is initiating a new arrangement, under which the county will pay 15 cents for each animal if the municipality pays 5 cents. Aldermen anticipate no flood of bounty payment requests.

State law provides that the mayor or presents claims for bounty payments to the county. The arrangement for years has been for the mayor to make a personal deposit at the police department, which then pays out bounties, not only for gophers, but rattlesnakes, etc., and at intervals the mayor is reimbursed by the county. In a recent year all bounties totaled only $13.

Under this new arrangement, the city will be liable for one-fourth of the 20-cent gopher bounty.

The Feiten Implement Co. wrote a letter of appreciation for use of a portion of Washington street Jan. 17 during a program for its customers.

Filed was a notice that the St. Casimir's Home School Association will conduct bingo games.

Band Requested
A request for the appearance of the Winona Municipal Band at the 10th District American Legion conference parade at Independence May 22 was referred to the band committee, of which 1st Ward Ald. R. K. Ellings is chairman. The request came from M. A. Wiemer, guests chairman.

Authorized was an extension agreement with the North Western Railway for use of a piece of property at the foot of Stone street. The railway property is used by the street department to store petroleum products. The agreement is for five years at an annual rental of $75, an increase of $25.

Expenses were authorized for Mrs. Katherine Lambert, city poor commissioner, to attend the Minnesota Welfare Conference at Minneapolis March 21-23 and for George Jensen, city electrical inspector, to attend the state electrical inspectors meetings at Minneapolis March 7-8.

The 1955 Steamboat Days committee was given a license to show a carnival on Main street from Front street to the post office alley July 8-10. All property owners affected signed a petition approving such an arrangement, according to A. J. Anderson, Cham-

Hiawatha Valley Association to Meet Thursday

The annual meeting of the Hiawatha Valley Association will be held at Hotel Winona Thursday. A business meeting will follow the 6:30 p.m. dinner.

Topics to be discussed include:

- Determination of financial support anticipated from member cities this year.

- Planning of promotional programs including newspaper advertising, printing of pamphlets, highway billboards and tours conducted for newspaper and other news media representatives.

- Consideration of methods to secure financial support of roadside firms not associated with member cities.

- Election of officers.

Present officers are Gordon R. Clossway, Winona, president; A. H. Kaulfuss, La Crosse, vice president and A. J. Anderson, Winona, secretary-treasurer.

The association includes memberships in Lake City, Red Wing, Wabasha, Winona, La Crosse and La Cross. Its objective is to promote tourist travel on U. S. Highway 61 between La Crosse and the Twin Cities—the Upper Mississippi River scenic route—through the Hiawatha Valley.

Eight Vacancies Announced at Country Club

The Winona Country Club

authorized 175 male voting members under its constitution and by-laws, now has 167 members with eight vacancies, it was announced by L. C. Landman, president, at the annual dinner meeting of members at the Hotel Winona Monday night.

L. W. Torgerson was re-elected to the board of governors for a term of three years and J. A. "Jack" Leaf was named for a term to succeed R. W. Miller. Holder members of the board are Pres. Landman, R. E. Leonard, Richard Callender, B. F. Perkins and A. J. Anderson. Officers for the coming year will be named by the new board at a meeting next week.

A vote of thanks to Pres. Landman and the board for their work during the last two years under the Landman administration was passed by unanimous vote by the 50 members present on motion of C. D. Tarse.

In thanking the membership for support, Landman said, "We purchased considerable new equipment during the past year and made numerous repairs to the clubhouse and the course but despite this substantial expenditure in maintaining the club, finished the year with a good net profit."

The evening was devoted to reports by the various committees and a discussion of plans for the coming golf season at the Pleasant Valley links. The nominating committee was composed of A. J. Anderson, chairman, J. R. Chappell and R. R. Brotherton.

Landman explained that when eight new membership applications have been approved, membership in the club will be closed. Applications may be sent to the club secretary.

Carl Lauer, treasurer for the last two years, announced his resignation and Carl Klage was named as his successor.

New Welding Class At High School

A new welding class for employed people will begin Feb. 14 at 7 p.m. in the welding shop of the vocational department at Winona High School. This class will meet Monday and Thursday evenings until May 26. A fee of $7.50 is charged for this course.

Registration for this class will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, in the vocational office of the Winona High School. Persons unable to register at this time may call during school hours on Wednesday, and Thursday.

This course will consist of training in oxyacetylene and electric welding of medium gauge metals in three positions, flat, vertical, and overhead. Joseph J. Holm of the Winona Body and Implement Shop will teach the course.

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. Fifty questions asked of a large group of fathers revealed that 72 per cent bounced the baby, 65 per cent carried the baby in public, 60 per cent wheeled the baby carriage, 61 per cent thought mother "did a swell job" rearing the children. Only 9 per cent of the children brought their troubles to their fathers, and luckily for kids, most fathers left spanking to mothers.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. If they did, you couldn't read at all. Your eyes jump, rest, jump, rest, etc. Everything is blurred while eyes are moving. Fast readers make long jumps; slow readers, many jumps. Our booklet, "How To Read Faster and Better," helps improve reading skills. Nonprofit, 15c (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggum, care of The Winona Daily News.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Apparently near the truth. This doesn't indicate that we are stupid. The learning machinery of the brain seems to reach its peak about 16. With millions above 16, millions below—many below 10 and 12—the average learning ability is probably around 14. But knowledge and ability to achieve increase by study and experience with scarcely any limit.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggly, busy on his new idea down in the cellar of his hollow stump bungalow, stopped long enough at making the bang-bang noises to hear the voice of Pat Butter at the top of the stairs.

"What was that you said, Pat?" the rabbit gentleman inquired.

"I asked," bleated the goat, "if I come down where you are working?"

"There is no Swiss cheese down here, Pat," replied the rabbit.

"I have had my Swiss cheese for this morning," bleated Mr. Butter. "So I won't need any until lunch time. I happened to be over this way," he said, not speaking of Nurse Jane's telephone call, "so I thought I would pay you a visit, Wiggy."

"I wish you would pay me back the ten cents you borrowed last week to buy some Swiss cheese, when we were riding in my snow boat," said the rabbit. "Not that I really need the ten cents, Pat, but I would like to get back what you owe me."

"I'll give you the ten cents if you let me come down in the cellar to see you, Wiggy," said Mr. Butter.

"Come ahead," invited Mr. Longears. "Come ahead."

Mr. Butter really didn't intend to do it, but he came ahead all right. He slipped on the top cellar stair and slid, head first, all the way down. But as he wore hard horns on his head, the goat gentleman wasn't at all hurt.

"Well, Pat, I am glad you came down ahead all right," said Uncle Wiggly. "Ha! Ha! Ha! But there was no such hurry that you had to slide down the stairs head first."

"I didn't plan to do it, Wiggy," answered Mr. Butter. "I just slipped."

"Are you hurt, Pat?"

"Not at all. Like the Rocky Mountain sheep, I landed on my horns, I'm O.K."

"Glad to know it, Pat," the rabbit gentleman said. "What can I do for you?"

"Oh, I don't need anything," bleated Mr. Butter. "First, here is the ten cents that I borrowed. Thank you!"

"You are welcome," answered the rabbit as he put the dime in his pocket and looked at the hammer in his paw and then at some other things on his work bench in the cellar. "Well, as the ten cents was the first thing, what is the sec-

Boy Dies of Burns

Suffered Month Ago

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — David Gephart, 9, Minneapolis, severely burned a month ago when his bed caught fire, died Monday.

David was visiting at the home of an uncle in Mound, Minn., when a wire short-circuited, throwing sparks onto the bed covers. The youngster suffered burns over most of his body.

Fishing Boat Stuck

In Ice Finally Free

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — A small fishing boat, stuck more than 24 hours in the ice off the harbor here, has been freed by the Coast Guard cutter "Sundown."

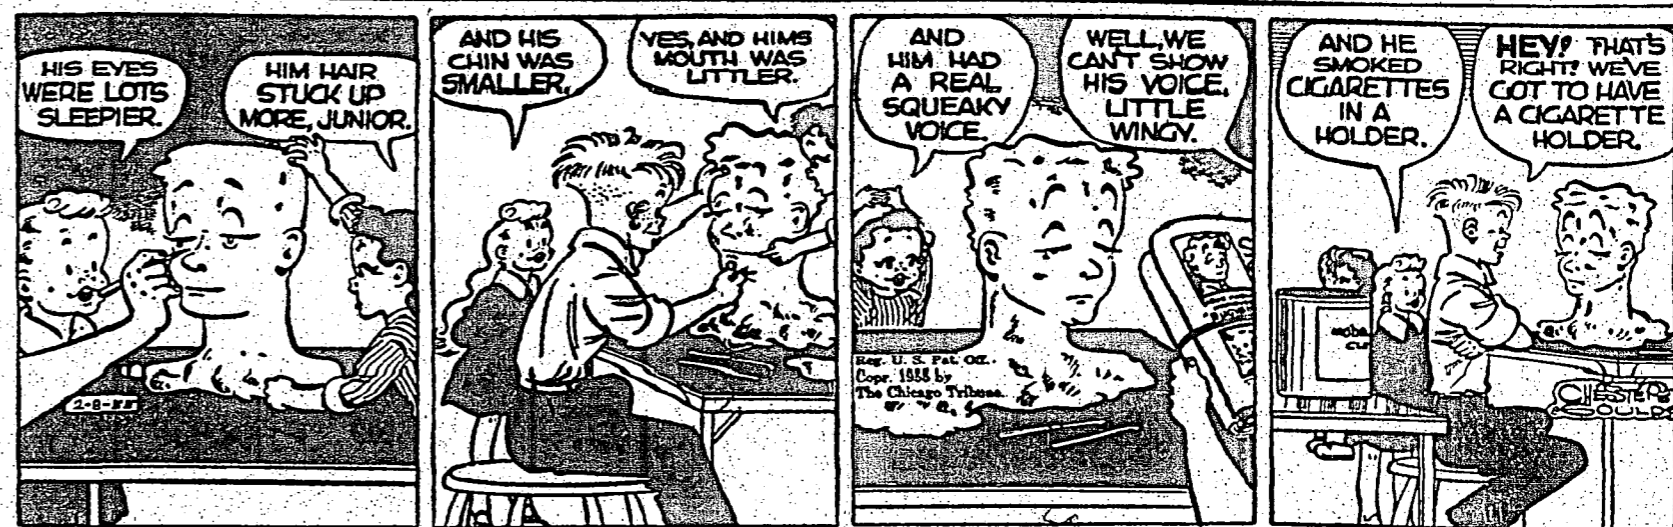

Lester Smith was pulled free late Saturday evening after the cutter had battled four hours through floe ice to reach her. The Smith was trapped Friday. There were no injuries, either in the rescue or in the mishap.
