When Wenonah Players open their winter show, Tad Mosel's Tennessee Family, February 9th, they will present a scene with one of the boys from Winona who is also one of the first children to appear on the stage in a play at Winona State College.

Jude Fuglestad, one of the Back Porch Majority's leading men, has been a token for the group. He has sung and played the harmonica. He is also a musician and has been active in the band. He has been a regular member of the group and has been active in the band.

The Back Porch Majority, distinctive from other groups, is the first group to stage a full-length production of Tennessee Family. The group has been working on the show for several months and has been rehearsing daily.

ID policy not effective

The couple, a Winona State fellow and his date from the College of Saint Teresa, walked to the doors of the dance last Saturday and did not have to pay the admission fee for their dates. This is as it should be, according to the new policy which was recently put into effect. As it should be, except for one thing. Immediate action is required.

This means that sixteen people voted for Delta Zeta Sorority. Twelve people voted for secret ballot for six names apiece. May I ask if five people rate a majority? As a general point of interest, and as I was one of the senators who counted the ballots, I can assure the student body, including the administration, that the result of every single one of the campus cover girl candidates who were elected was received without question. On the contrary, they were approved.

Mr. Carter stated that five of the campus cover girl candidates belong to Delta Zeta Sorority. Mr. Carter further explained that four of the six belonged to S.R.N.A. Is this not just as important a statement?

In his LETTER, Mr. Carter stated in part, "I am not questioning the integrity of our senators: in fact, I believe that the main point of his letter was exactly the opposite." It seems to me that Mr. Carter was being quite considerate. Mr. Carter stated that he is expressing the opinion of the other senators. I feel that the major point of his letter was exactly the opposite. I feel that he was questioning our integrity.

I am in no doubt that I am a responsible member of the Stu- dent Senate, but I also feel that the major point of his letter was exactly the opposite.

SS produces campaign rules

Letters to the editor:

My heartfelt congratulations to the campaign leaders and to the senators who sat down in a committee meeting and produced a list of policies and procedures for campaign activities at Winona State College. This list of policies and procedures will help to clear up questions about campaign, campaign posters, and placement of campaign material.

Many questions such as the following have been raised. The six campus cover girl candidates have not been paid. I am glad that the Student Senate has taken steps to insure that these questions will not happen again.

If these policies and procedures are now enforced, with the desired result, students will be encouraged to follow the required procedures, completely defeating the entire purpose of having a campaign.

It is up to the following groups to see to it that enforcement of the policy takes effect, but they must first of all understand what the policy is.

It is hoped that by now everyone is clear on the matter, and the suggestion has been made that perhaps the students at Saint Teresa's and Saint Mary's would appreciate knowing what our policy is. Perhaps a tricollege council can be set up to discuss the matter and possibly form a tricollege ID policy, effective at all three colleges.

Mankato nips cagers; St. Cloud here Sat.

Moorhead's upset victory over St. Cloud Saturday had the stage when Winona State's basketball team took the floor at Man- kato to battle the Indians, who had been beaten by Vincennes earlier this season. Both squads owned identical 19-7 marks in the conference prior to the game, but the players showed no tension as the contest began. Coach Campbell's cagers worked deliberately and effectively in the opening minutes and managed to build up a 7-point lead behind Mike Jeresek's 75 per cent scoring performance. But Mankato kept pace and came back to grab a 58-57 lead at the half-hour mark.

THE SECOND half of the game was a sea-saw affair with the NICS leading scorer, Winona's Dave Meinerz, and Jim Vescus- si of Moorhead forming a monopo- lony on the scoring, Rich Star- neck was assigned to guard the Mankato star, but the Warriors' freshman standout got into early foul trouble. Vescusi was quick to take advantage of the situation as he stepped up to the lane and took short jump shots as Starneck delirated cau- tiously from the outside, and wound up with 24 points, 14 in the second half as Mankato pulled ahead.

Campbell had the team switch to a man-to-man defense with ten minutes left and the game tight- ed up. Meinerz collected 15 points and 9 rebounds and also totaled 34. The junior guard stole the ball 3 times and grabbed several key rebounds throughout the game. He evolved a tip in following up one of his own shots in the final seconds.

The second overtime was still a toss up till the last four seconds when a Jeresek pass was intercepted following a pair of free throwers by Vescusi. The score read 68-67 favoring the In- dians when time ran out.

Another two . . . The North- ern Intercollegiate Conference leading scorer is Dave Meinerz of Winona State. Known as "Mouse" by his teammates, the junior from Croquet, has averaged over 25 points per game this season and has been the spark- ling force in the conference.

Tankers best LaCrosse, St. Thomas for 6-1 mark

Winona State's swim team will get an idea of what it will be up against in the conference meet this year when they travel to Bre- medal for a dual contest with the Redmen on Saturday. Tomkows- and Remillard are both rated as favorites in the meet this year NLC meet scheduled for Feb. 24 in Minneapolis. The Tomkows are warmed up for their match with the Beavers by recording a pair of dual meet victories last weekend. They were able to oust both Winona and De- medal in dual meet competition.

The Tommies bowed to Winona's 6-4 dual meet team, com- posed of Jerome Grade, Olson, Pete Kopeck, and Redhead to begin the meet. But Calvert was again in the spotlight as he was a dual meet winner with a 58 second performance in the 100-yard freestyle. And Chil- ders collected another first in the 200-yard freestyle.

Randy Blake edged teammate Stover to win the 100-yard dive- der, and Olson was the breaststroke winner for the second year in a row. Tomkows' tone of the angle pranced into vic- tory in the 50-yard freestyle, but was involved in a tie for first in the 100-yard event.

BLANCH "ALSO" contribut- ed a winner first with a top performance in a backstroke. However, he lost his freestyle re- lay teammates were upset by St. Thomas in a final event.

The victory over the Tommies completed the Warriors home season with a perfect 4-0 mark.

Matmen win quad; record now 14-0

Wrestling continued to control the spotlight on the mat as the Warrior matmen preserved their undefeated status by sweeping a quadrangular at La Crosse last Saturday. Winona defeated River Falls for the sec- ond time this season in their first match of the triple dual by a margin of 29-1. Whitewater was the Warriors second victim of the day as the Warriors fell to Coach Gunner's crew by a score of 25-9. The host, La Crosse, was the least trouble for Winona. The Indians could man age only a single win and dropped a 29-12 decision to the powerful Warrior wrestlers.

The three victorios captured Winona's season record to an outstanding 14-0, but the team still remained sixth in the nation al rating following the triumph. Obviously the majority of the sports writers who take part in the voting have neglected to see the Warriors in action this year.

BIG JOHN ZWOLJANSKI, Wino- na State's heavyweight wrestler, entertained the spectators in La Crosse by pinning his first two opponents and winning his last match by forfeit. This performance from River Falls left a lot to be desired as the Falcon heavy- weight round his shoulders on the mat only 15 seconds after he had broken hands with Whitewater foe, Pete Kopercinski, and Blanchard, won all three of his matches, collecting a pair of decisions and a forfeit in the 160 pound weight round.

The Notorious Knights, WSC chess club, won a 7-0 victory over a St. Mary's Chess team. Winning two games each were: William Brown, Allen Sheldon, John Nelson, and George Lafata. Both win ters won a single game.
