Activities of Year Reviewed Class Night

An animated annual, reviewing the activities of the past year, will feature class night in the auditorium of Sisson Hall this evening. The committee in charge includes Margaret Chase, Fred Nelson, and William Franzmann. Assisting them in the direction of the various numbers are Victor Gislason, Mary Gehrlich, Jack Koenigs, Dorothy Wachs, and William Keating. The lights committee includes John La Nouze and Merle Olson; the stage crew, Cyril Fuller and Otto Thelander. The program is to be announced in a novel way. After being graduated from teachers college, a young man becomes an inventor. His brain child is a marvelous instrument called the Seebuckphone. A teacher of history, wishing to see the device, calls on the inventor, amuses that he and the inventor were classmates ten years before. They joyfully re-ognizing each other, the two use the Seebuckphone to take them back to their last year in college. Then the fun begins, for with the aid of the invention they recall vividly the events of that year. We consider freshmen arrive on the first day; they revive the ignominious episodes of that long and the comradeship of homecoming; they stage plays; they remember the trials of taking pictures for the album; they live over the thrilling moments of basketball games; they "vocalize" in musical organizations; "wring it" in the Die-n-o-man show; dance in the dreamy atmosphere of the "prom"; and they bid their Alma Mater farewell at commencement.

Degrees Granted

Friday to 53 Graduates

The climax of either two or four years of study and hard work has been reached. The Annual Commencement of the Winona College, June 4th, at ten o'clock in the morning. Reverend Gerald Watson of the Trinity Baptist Church in Winona is to be the speaker. The theme of his speech will be "The Voice of Youth." Commencement may mean the end of school life for many of the graduates, but its real meaning lies deeper than that; it is the beginning of a new life. For years, these young people have been guided in everything they have undertaken; now they are going out on their own and do the things they think are best. They have reached a great deal of knowledge and information; now they are going to have an opportunity to put into practice what they have been doing.

Back in the first classes of Winona College, there were seven men in 1928; twelve in 1929, twenty in 1930; twelve in 1931, twenty-five in 1932, forty-five in 1933, sixty-five in 1934, forty-two in 1935, sixty-four in 1936, forty-two in 1937. The number of two-year graduates has decreased. In past years there have been as many as two hundred graduating from the two-year course; this year it was seventy-six.

Congratulations and success to the graduates!

Awards Given

At Last Chapel

Crotains were drawn in a grand fashion upon senior faces as the students witnessed the last chapel program of this year, Thursday, June 3, at 9:00 a.m. Awards to the graduating seniors and to the junior and senior departments were presented. Fred Nelson, president of the Winona Students, awarded the Gold members of that organization. The Silver members of the baseball team were M. Clarke, M. Garlough, J. Walck, L. Wood, J. Macdonald, A. J. Dukk, N. Kelle, J. David- son, A. Gundersen, A. Norquist, P. Sexton, J. La Nouze, and C. Spristerbergh.

Athletic awards in football, basketball, and track were also given. Junior earned a sweater in basketball and Wolters in football. Football letters were presented.

At Baccalaureate

Senior Supper Held Preceding Evening Program

The Senior Supper held at Sheep Hall Tuesday evening, June 2nd, opened the activities of Commencement week. The graduates of the degree course were guests of the college. The supper provided the opportunity for a very enjoyable informal gathering of the class. This was followed by the Baccalaureate service held in Senion Hall at 8:00. The graduating students entered to an organ procession, "Larum" by Handel, played by Miss Arno Ball. The graduates of both classes were seated in the front center section with the degree students presenting a uniform appearance in their caps and gowns. The services were opened with the hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy" by Dykes sung by the audience and followed by the precept week. The graduates of the general course opened the activities of Commencement by the graduates.

The Senior Supper was presented by the Apollo Club under the direction of Mr. A. H. Langum of Rochester. Their selection was "Deen Land" from the opera "The Student Prince." Rev. W. Ishenfeld, pastor of the Faith English Lutheran Church, Winona, delivered an inpromptu sermon entitled "Religion, A Call to Life." During his sermon on verses 68 in the 1st chapter of Duteronomy, he drew a parallel between the instance of Moses giving to the Isarelites the challenging words to move on, which are supposed to come from the trial of Daniel, and the receiving of this same message by those of the present generation who hear the word now. Today this message has to mean the expression through the Christian religion.

The closing hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King" by Girardin was followed by an organ roll postlude, "Fantasia G Minor," by Bach as played by Joseph Honeck. There was no formal recessional by the graduates.

Prepared for What?

Each year about 250,000 students are graduated from the colleges and universities of the United States. Each year commencement speakers dwell on the meaning of the word commencement, pointing out that graduation means that these students have fulfilled certain requirements and are, therefore, qualified to "commence" work in their chosen fields. Do young people understand, when audiences listen to commencement addresses, that the political situation is satisfactory, that the possibility of the United States remaining a nation is remote, that economic conditions are better than they have been for years, and that, in general, prospects for these graduates are bright.

Prospects may be bright, but these prospects do not materialize into jobs; they have a way of becoming "phantom" prospects. Two or three months of hearing possible employers say, "I'm sorry but we have no opening now!" are enough to dim the optimism of any young person, but especially is it true in this field. While rural schools have spent four years preparing for some particular position, six months or a year of fruitless searching for a position leaves the youth with a rather pessimistic outlook on life, diminishing in a feeling that there is no help, no corner in the world for him. Some of these students who graduated last year, or the year before, or the year before that are still seeking employment, and each spring a new graduating class helps swell this group.

Then, we ask, is it the truth that the outlook for youth is dark, and that youth faces nothing but disappointments and ultimate bitterness? Not at all. Young people in industry will adjust themselves to youth, youth must adjust itself to conditions in industry. Since there aren't enough "positions" open for all the graduates, many of them may accept "jobs" if they are to have any. However, many jobs demand a great deal of skill, which college graduates of professional schools do not possess. This means that these young graduates must, after their "jobs" are filled, go back to school, through a period of apprenticeship before becoming really skilled workers.

To train for a job after preparing for a profession is, seemingly, a rather bitter experience; but when young people come to a realization that they are ready to do the physical type of work other than the white-collar variety and yet exercise their creative ability and live the full life, they have conquered most of the obstacles to their happiness.
Trackmen Take Fourth At State

Trackmen Take Ped track team to Moorhead on Third - Mankato on Fourth - Winona

The Winona Track Team ended their season at the State Meet at Moorhead, May 12th, in a quadrangular meet with La Crosse, Rochester, St. Mary’s, and St. Mary’s. The points were La Crosse 310%, Winona 310%, St. Mary’s 60%, and Rochester 90. In the dash, Gisland in the pole vault, and Grudem and Andrejek in the two-mile, on the basis of previous runs, were potential contenders in their events. Both have been selected to run in track meets this summer before the state meet. An interesting race was sure to ensue as a result of the narrow victory that Minneapolis secured over St. Cloud’s ability in the same distance. Grudem and Andrejek, if they outshine their efforts, have gone unrewarded.

Captain Bill Franzen was given the honor of closing last season’s victory in the low hurdles. Using the scissors jump, Ottman has been jumping 6 feet 6 1/2 inches consistently to qualify him as a leading contender in the high hurdles. Gisland and Ottman have both bettered 20 feet in the broad jump.

Although W. S. T. C. was given an outside chance at the coveted state title, all “precocious” track meets must recognize the strength of Winona’s contingent. They have shown superior strength in the track events in previous meets, and that, coupled with the tempering of Winoma’s effectiveness in the field events by St. Cloud’s ability in the same division, makes them outstanding contenders.

The complete squad that participated is as follows: Franzen, Jorris, Detloff, Christenson, Rob. Ottem, Gislason, Wilson, Quady, Arns, Gislason, Spender, Carbon, Ottman, Farmer, Walvorton, and Andrejek.

Results of State Meet:
First - Moorhead
Second - St. Cloud
Third - Mankato
Fourth - Winona
Fifth - Benidji

Winona Defeats Mankato Indians

On Friday, May 21, the Warrior trackmen were set out for blood, with two previous defeats fresh in their minds, they demonstrated their complete superiority over the Mankato team. Mankato presented a fine team, but it could not cope with the exceptionally fine, balanced team presented by Coach Glen Galligan. When the scores for the day were totaled, the Warriors led by the substantial margin of 75-56.

Individual star performances featured the meet. Captain Bill Franzen, state winner last year in the low hurdles and unbeatable so far this year again captured first place in his specialty with a time of 10.5. Arns turned in star performances by broad jumping 20 feet 10 1/2 inches and 20 feet 6 inches respectively. This was the latter, but the missing 5 inches was from a severe cold, Harold Grudem ran the two miles in 10 minutes 35.6 seconds. Lucas Jorris, star performer in class No. 1, proved his ability of making baseball a major sport this year. Next year, T. C. will have a larger schedule. All credit must be given to Coach Weisner because of the way he handled the team. Knowing the ability of his players, he placed the players in positions where they were the most useful.

A summary of the season reveals the following:
St. Mary’s over T. C., 7-4
St. Mary’s over La Crosse, 6-3
T. C. over Montgomery, 6-3

The squad was composed of the following: catchers, "Capt." Peterson, Partlow, pitchers, Spencer, Arne, "Art" Wilson, Detloff, 1st base, "Babe" Wilson; 2nd, A. Wilson; short, Kaczrowski; 3rd, Spender, Arns, Gislason, Badzi, Smith, Detloff, Hartford, Wood, and Kalbrenner. No, there were no Pebers or DiMattias in the group, who were potential. The above list is composed of the best trackmen on the field.

A question if this feat should be given to Coach Weisner because of the way he handled the team. Knowing the ability of his players, he placed the players in positions where they were the most useful.

The Winona team went into the state meet after winning by about 12 college points over Mankato. As the defending title holders, Coach Cohen played No. 1; Thomas No. 2; Nevel No. 3 and Johnson No. 4, while the Peders were licked by a score of 4 to 1 on the Lake Park courts. Captain Edig and John Wachs and William Bixler, being No. 2, lost his match. In the doubles Nosek-Johnson defeated the Mankato team for the fourth Winona point.

Women’s Athletics

The official W. A. A. wind-up for this year was held at Bluff Side Park, Monday, May 24th.

All girls who had put in efforts enough during the year to sign up for activity were eligible to go. Kitchell was played between raindrops and winers were tossed in the same manner.

Thursday, May 27, saw the last of after-school kitchell. Under the guidance of Vivian Yates the girls participated in about eight sessions. Vivian’s team consisted of Lewis Simmons, Helen Rifflard, Louis Klinkebush, and Viola Kunkel. They seemed to have poor luck stealing bases and burning the balls into first. They were beaten once again at the rate of 3 to 2. However, they still maintain they have the better team.

Although no instruction has been given in golf this spring, ex -cept for a part of the practice round.

The Winona golf class seems to draw quite a group of spectators, but it doesn’t compare with the male golfers’ tremendous class atttacts. The latter is now playing kitchell through the golfers asserts it is still practicing.

The school clubs have been used many times. Gayle Graham played as No. 4 on the college team against Rochester the 26th of May.

Percy Writes To Ma

Percy

Dear Ma,

We got our 1937 Wenonah today & Gee, Ma, there she is! The cover is kinds a brown & orange color & the title is "De Banjo Plays" by Wilson. After this is also being planned.

Meberg gave a violin solo, "Air and Variations" by Dancla. Comedy acts were played by the Boys' Octette, Barbara Kiss, and various soloists and duets. The program was by various students. It must, therefore, collect a good program of outside activities was done by the young students and to enjoy the program provided by the Phelps Junior High School, June 14 to July 23, 1937.

One more phase of the band work was the one held by the Y. W. C. A. From all reports members and associates left Winona territory for their picnic and sent with every Kodak roll enlargements with different views which is being celebrated this way.

College Band Completes Very Successful Year's Work

This year the college band under the capable and energetic leadership of Mr. Everett Eldredge, has developed a program quite different from that of preceding years. The band has taken several trips to surrounding towns for the purpose of recruiting new students from the high schools. The programs have been received with high favor by the audiences, especially the last number which is a present effect on everyone. It is a fine program of outside activities which is a present effect on everyone.
