2 Killed at Red Wing, 1 at Austin

Storm Warnings Flying In Minnesota Legislature

Dimpled, Teen-Aged, blond Marjorie Campbell, 17, of near Red Hook, Dutchess County, N. Y., a gal who, according to her mother is a "natural born cook" holds the entry which brought her the championship in the 1955 National Cherry Pie Baking Contest in Chicago.

New York Girl, 17, Cherry Pie Champ

CHICAGO (AP)—A dimple cheeked high school senior who had never before been farther West than Rochester, N. Y., checked into Chicago with a recipe and checked out with the national cherry pie baking championship.

Blonde Marjorie Campbell, 17, of Red Hook, N. Y., beat champions of the other 47 states and Hawaii.

This year for the first time the national contest had two male competitors, Gene Goff of Jefferson City, Mo., and David Ludtke of Grand Forks, N. D., neither of whom finished in the money.

In addition to the title, Marjorie gets a free trip to Washington, D.C., and New York, a $500 college scholarship and the electric range, on which she baked the winning pie.

During her trip to Washington, Marjorie will present the winning pie to a representative of the White House. Spokesmen for the National Red Cherry Institute, sponsor of the contest, say they aren't sure who will accept the pie in the White House.

The champion baker was accompanied to Chicago by her mother, Mrs. Richard Campbell. Marjorie's dad runs a poultry farm which specializes in breeding pheasants just outside Red Hook in Dutchess County.

Marjorie, who won the New York State contest Feb. 5 in Rochester, said she baked some 50 cherry pies since November in readiness for the national contest.

She plans to use the scholarship to attend either Iowa State College in Ames or Cornell in Ithaca, N.Y., and to study home economics.

Her ambition is to get into home demonstration work and eventually have her own TV show.

Marjorie blushing said she doesn't have a steady beau but rather, has "lots of them."

Marjorie attributed her success at winning the contest to her method of mixing the corn starch and cherry juice for the filling and the use of pastry flour.

"Like most good recipes," she said, "it's not only a case of what you put in but also how you mix it."

Freeman May Find House Members Can't Be Driven

By ADOLPH JOHNSON

ST. PAUL (AP)—Storm warnings were flying as the Minnesota Legislature ended its seventh week—a week in which one major issue was disposed of and another moved toward settlement.

The signal for trouble ahead came in a news conference statement by Gov. Freeman that he would keep the Legislature in session "all year if necessary" to get a balanced tax program.

Although he added quickly that his statement was not a threat, members of the Legislature are traditionally quick to resent anything they may interpret as interference by the chief executive.

"If he wants to destroy his program, that's the way to do it," commented one veteran member.

The governor made a statement during a discussion of his tax program. He expressed disappointment that so much has been said about tax increases and so little about the cuts he has proposed.

Party Label Killed

Discussion of party labels for legislators, which had occupied the House for many hours, ended for this session when the party designation bill mustered only 62 of the 66 votes necessary for passage. Voting against the measure were 68 representatives.

Before it came to a final vote the bill had been amended, over opposition of its sponsors, to include county officials. The amendment was blamed in part for defeat of the bill.

On the other side of the Legislature, the Senate Judiciary Committee approved a bill proposing a vote at the 1956 general election on the question of calling a convention to revise the state Constitution.

The committee vote of 11 to 9 provided scant encouragement for backers of the bill, since it needs a two-thirds majority—45 votes in the Senate and 88 in the House—for passage. Several committee members who supported the bill said they did so only to assure it a full hearing on the floor—a hearing which may come next week.

Fight on Constitution

The fight is between those who say the Constitution should be completely revised to make it more workable and those who say it is safer to change obsolete provisions one at a time by submitting separate amendments to the people.

A bill Sen. Henry Wahlstrand, Willmar, has sought unsuccessfully to pass at three previous sessions went down to defeat again. The House Law Enforcement Committee killed it, approving instead a proposal backed by Gov. Freeman.

The Wahlstrand bill called for arrest powers everywhere in the state for state liquor control inspectors at the option of each county sheriff.

Also killed by the House Elections Committee, was a proposal

Navy Patrol Plane With 11 Aboard Missing in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Hope was slight today as scores of search planes continued to seek a Navy patrol bomber and the 11 men it carried when it disappeared only a few miles from here Thursday night.

The aerial hunt was concentrated on surrounding mountains and the icy waters of Cook Inlet where a day-long check by 55 search planes had failed to disclose any trace of the twin-engine P2V Neptune yesterday.

Strong Wind Delays Second Nuclear Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A nuclear detonation scheduled at dawn was postponed early today by scientists because of continuing high winds. Strong gusts caused a three-day delay in opening the spring atomic test series.

A weather briefing at 2 a.m. PST disclosed that a straight north wind was blowing 30 to 35 m.p.h., with gusts up to 40 m.p.h.

A detonation under those wind conditions, the test chiefs said, would have forced the evacuation of the test control point, of Camp Mercury, the AEC support camp, and of Camp Desert Rock, the Army headquarters, because of the danger of radioactive contamination.

Another weather huddle was scheduled, probably about 11 a.m. PST to discuss a Sunday shot. But meteorologists said the weather outlook is not good.

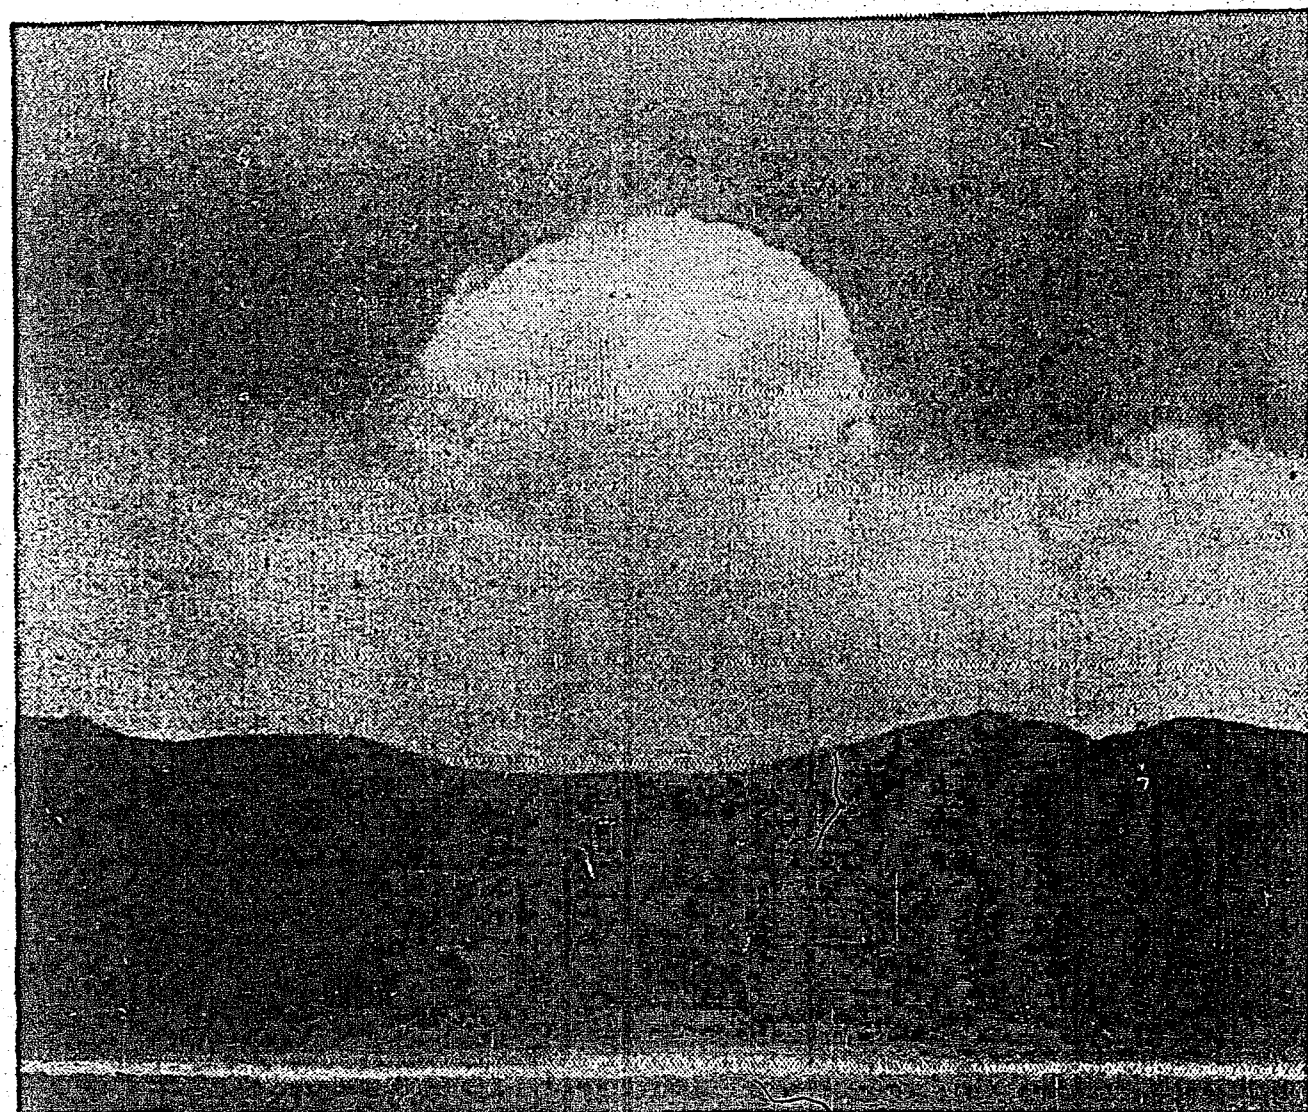

Today's shot was to have been the 500-foot tower explosion originally scheduled to open the series last Tuesday. About 450 troops were scheduled to carry out maneuvers after taking the impact of the blast in trenches 4,000 yards from the tower. Including observers, perhaps 1,000 men were to have taken up trench positions.

The same group watched yesterday's show from News Nob, eight miles from a burst beautifully placed above Yucca Flat by a B36 crew of the 4925th Test Group, special weapons center, Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M.

After two bombing runs were blacked out by the layer of clouds hanging over the site, Maj. Fain H. Pool of Lawton, Okla., the pilot, brought the plane over the only hole in the blanket at perhaps 28,000 feet, and a perfect shot dropped out of the blue. It was right on target, test officials said. The crew commander was Lt. Col. Eugene W. Cox, St. Louis, Mo.

Height of the burst was estimated at 1,500 feet. It was heard in smaller communities to the north and west of the test site, but was not heard or felt in Las Vegas, 75 miles southeast.

Observers classed it with previous small test blasts in the 15-kiloton order or less. The original A-bomb was 20 kilotons. A kiloton is the power equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT.

The cloud from Friday's atomic explosion began to take the shape of a mushroom seconds after the AEC started its delayed 1955 test series near Las Vegas, Nev. The picture was made from a distance of about 30 miles. (AP Wirephoto)

5 Known Dead, 18 Injured in Midwest Storm

Wyoming, Colorado,
Montana Isolated
By 24-Hour Snowfall

DENVER (AP)—A massive blizzard spilled eastward from the Rocky Mountains early today, leaving 5 known dead, at least 18 injured and 25 persons missing in a three-state area.

Many communities lay isolated in waist-deep drifts and numbing cold after 24 hours of continuous snowfall.

Every north-south road in Wyoming was closed to traffic late yesterday. Drifts and winds of gale velocity trapped scores of motorists on open highways, and at least seven snowblades thundered down roads in mountainous southwest Colorado.

Snowplows and rescue workers toiled through the night trying to locate a Greyhound bus stalled west of Rawlins, Wyo., with 19 passengers.

Word came by radio at 2:45 a.m. (MST) that six men missing in a station wagon between Rock Springs, Wyo., and Craig, Colo., had been found safe. They simply took shelter at a remote gas station.

The six, all members of the Craig Kiwanis Club, were overdue after starting a 175-mile drive home from Rock Springs, in the southwest part of the state.

Others marooned near Newcastle, Wyo., and 31 passengers in another Greyhound bus stuck in drifts near the Continental Divide in central Wyoming all were rescued at dusk yesterday.

Four of the storm's victims died in auto accidents attributed to slick highways. Two were killed in Montana, and one each in Wyoming and Colorado.

The fifth victim was a 79-year-old retired miner who collapsed and died in Denver after shoveling snow.

Adding to the tragedy list, fire killed a 2-year-old child at Wolf Point, Mont., and left homeless a Riverton, Wyo., farm family of seven.

Highway patrols of the three states said there were uncounted minor traffic accidents. A school bus skidded off a highway near Denver and slightly injured seven children. A Colorado patrolman, investigating a two-car accident near Denver, was struck and seriously injured by a third vehicle as it tried to stop.

Several injured
Seven persons were injured in Denver in a two-car collision, the same accident that accounted for Colorado's lone fatality.

Between Durango and Grand Junction in southwest Colorado, six passengers and a Continental Trailways bus driver miraculously escaped injury when a snowblower struck their vehicle broadside and carried it 100 yards off the road.

There is halted, upright. The party walked three miles to shelter at Silverton, Colo.

The storm left more than 30 inches of new snow in some mountain areas. Despite the destructive intensity, it relieved a long dry spell for many areas.

Plane Carrying 16 Overdue on Flight

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—TWA today reported one of its planes—a Martin 404 with 16 aboard—an hour and a half overdue on a flight to Santa Fe, N. M., 70 miles away.

R. B. Riordan, district sales superintendent for the airline, said the plane carried 13 passengers and a crew of three.

The flight originated in Albuquerque and was to travel from there to Amarillo, Tex., and Topeka, Kan.

"It may have landed somewhere, but I don't know where it could be," Riordan said. "We are still looking for it."

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a rugged mountain range—the Sangre de Cristos—which stand along the plane's route—were obscured from the base to the summit.

Scattered snow flurries were lashing the peaks under the clouds.

Safe Stolen At Dilworth

DILWORTH, Minn. (AP)—A 250-pound safe containing some $1,400 in cash and $1,800 in personal bonds was taken from a supermarket here during the night.

The theft was discovered by Norbert Arendt, the owner, when he opened the store this morning. Officials said the thieves bored holes in the back door to unlock it.

MOSCOW (AP)—Reiterating her 9-year-old stand on arms questions, the Soviet Union has called for a world freeze on armaments and the immediate destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons.

The Russian declaration was issued last night, a week before the scheduled reopening of disarmament discussions in London by a United Nations subcommittee.

Minister Andrei Gromyko and Jacob Malik, Russian ambassador to London, would represent the Soviet Union in the talks.

Insisting that Western powers were intensifying the arms race and production of atomic weapons by pushing for the rearmament of Western Germany, the statement said:

"The Soviet government considers atomic weapons should be banned and effective international control established for the prohibition of atomic weapons and the reduction of arms and armed forces, first of all of the major powers."

"An important step in that direction would be an international agreement under which the states would make a solemn pledge to refrain from using such weapons."

The statement proposed that a general international conference on reduction of armaments be held sometime this year and said the Soviet Union wants the nations:

1. To "abolish completely the stocks of atomic and hydrogen bombs which states possess, leading to exclusive utilization of atomic materials for peaceful purposes."

2. Not to increase the size of their armed forces and their armaments as compared with the level of Jan. 1, 1955, as well as not to increase allocations for military purposes as compared with budget allocations for 1955."

The statement charged that recent decisions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) were aimed at war preparations and "cannot but lead to increased danger of a devastating atomic war."

United Nations circles in New York and U.S. State Department officials said the Russian statement appeared to be primarily another Soviet attempt to head off West German rearmament.

Acceptance of the Soviet proposal would prevent the Bonn government from contributing a single soldier to Western defense.

Despite the Soviet statement that they favored "effective international control," Washington officials said the Russian proposal did not give an inch toward the Western demand for ironclad controls through inspection to see that written pledges are observed.

These officials said the statement pointed to continued Russian obstruction at the forthcoming subcommittee discussions.

DENVER (AP)—Earl E. Lippert had some convincing evidence when he contended in Superior Court that fellow motorist George J. Karch, 33, left the scene after their cars collided.

While Judge Mitchell B. Johns looked on, Lippert showed movie film he had taken immediately after the accident. It showed Karch standing beside the damaged vehicle, shaking his head and walking away from the scene.

Johns fined Karch $150.

Movie Proves Guilt
After Cars Collide

LOWRY, Minn. (AP)—A dirty-looking, unshaven bandit brandishing a nickel-plated pistol, held up the First State Bank of Lowry today and fled with $1,500 in cash after forcing two bank employees to crouch on the floor.

The man walked up to the teller's window about 10:25 a.m., and pushed a crudely printed note to Margaret McIver, bank employee, saying, "Keep still and you are okay. Give me money."

Miss McIver walked to the cash drawer and attracted the attention of Herman S. Engbreton, 63, cashier, sitting in the director's room.

"I came out," Engbreton said. "I saw the gun and he gave a nod, I began giving him the money."

Before walking out of the bank, the gunman forced Miss McIver and Engbreton to crouch on the floor with a command "down!"

Pierce County (Wis.) Sheriff Roy Simons said this morning that Theodore J. Bee, 67, Red Wing, was thrown from the car after it clipped off several guard rail posts and plunged into the Mississippi River, landing on its top in three to four feet of water about 20 feet from the shoulder of the road.

Bee was pulled from the icy water by a passerby and taken to a Red Wing hospital where he died about 10 o'clock Friday night.

Check Car Ownership
Authorities, in checking ownership of the 1954 model 2-door car, found it registered to Bee's son-in-law, Earl Frances Barnes, 41, of Red Wing.

They attempted to contact Barnes at Hastings, where he is employed, but were unable to locate him.

Gordon R. Closway, right, executive editor of The Winona Daily News, presents a check in behalf of the Minnesota Editorial Association to Dr. Ralph D. Casey, director of the University of Minnesota School of Journalism, establishing a scholarship fund at the journalism school in memory of the late Prof. Tom Barnhart, a veteran member of the journalism faculty. Barnhart, recognized as an authority on typography, was known to newspapermen of the area as "Mr. Weekly Newspaper." (AP photo)

Scholarship In Memory Of Barnhart

MINNEAPOLIS—Minnesota editors Friday night paid a heart-felt tribute to the memory of that "giant of the weekly newspaper," the late Thomas F. Barnhart of the University of Minnesota journalism school.

A memorial scholarship in journalism to "perpetuate the ideas and ideals" of Barnhart, who died last January, was set up by the Minnesota Editorial Association at its convention in Nicolet Hotel last night.

Gordon R. Closway, chairman of the association's committee on journalism education and executive editor of The Winona Daily News, presented a check for $2,250 to Dr. Ralph D. Casey, director of the School of Journalism. Eventually the fund will be raised to $10,000.

Carol L. Marx, editor of the Owatonna Photo News, presented to Mrs. Barnhart a maroon-and-gold leather folder containing the mastheads of 122 Minnesota newspapers as an expression of respect and affection for her late husband.

Also honored at last night's session—and this same as a surprise to the principal—was Casey. Closway presented Casey with a silver tablet to mark his 25th anniversary with the journalism school and hailed Casey's work in raising the level of journalistic skill and responsibility in his hundreds of graduates who today work on Minnesota newspapers.

Guest speaker at last night's dinner meeting was Prof. M. S. Sundaram, cultural attaché at the Indian embassy in Washington.

Sundaram, a graduate of Madras and Oxford universities and a veteran educator, spoke of the legacy of India.

He said his nation's main contribution to the world is a passion for peace, justice and liberty. In that, he said, his people's aspirations are much the same as those of Americans.

At a morning session, the MEA elected Scott Schoen, of the Redwood Falls Gazette and a former Winona Republican-Herald staffer, president to succeed Donald C. Brown, Waseca Journal and Herald.

Other officers elected were Everett S. Mills, Montevideo American, first vice president; Edward J. Morrison, Morris Sun and Tribune, second vice president; and Wes Meyer, Detroit Lakes Tribune, third vice president. Arthur J. Suel, New Prague Times, was re-elected treasurer.

Bloody Iwo Jima Landing Ten Years Ago Recalled

By HAMILTON W. FARON
Associated Press Writer

(Editor's Note: With war tension again high in the Far East, the sacrifice of thousands of Marines who died to capture tiny Iwo Jima from the Japanese in 1945 was not in vain. Here's the story of that bloody landing by an AP reporter who made it just 10 years ago as a war correspondent.)

Slowly and carefully, the young Marine private stacked his battle gear at his feet—carbine, canteen, gas mask, gas mask, canteen, ration.

Finally he took off his helmet and dropped to his knees on the rough deck in the bow of the landing craft.

His lips began to move silently. Buddies who not long before had been chanting bawdy songs glanced toward him, then wordlessly moved forward to form a circle enclosing his spot of private prayer.

In the stern of the landing craft another Marine retched violently and painfully—seasickness, maybe fear.

They were going in—in to what was expected to be, and was, one of the bloodiest beachheads in Marine Corps history—Iwo Jima.

It was a bright sunny morning, and light breezes barely rippled the water that Feb. 19, 10 years ago.

Crash of Shells
But the sky was filled with tiny clouds, wisps of smoke tossed high by incessant bombardment, by occasional hits of return fire from the pork-chop-shaped 4 1/2 square-mile island where thousands of men were soon to die.

Then it was H Hour. Landing craft stopped circling and wallowed ahead toward the beach 30 minutes away.

Louder and louder sounded the crash of shells as Navy bombardment continued to soften up the island and its Japanese defenders. The host struck the beach. The landing ramp dropped.

The Marines leaped out on the run but were slowed immediately to a plodding walk by the volcanic ash and sand beach.

To the left was Mt. Suribachi, honeycombed with caves used for gun emplacements. To the right was high ground where the Japanese had set up their heaviest defenses and where, at the end, they made their last stand.

From each end of the island, mortar shells crashed onto the beach, tearing giant holes in the yielding sand.

Then the sand became an aid rather than hindrance. Quickly and almost simultaneously, it seemed, the Marines learned that emergency shelters could be scooped out almost effortlessly by sitting down and kicking the sand away.

But many died; more were wounded.

Heavy Casualties

By the end of that bloody D day, one in every 12 of the 30,000 men who swarmed onto the beach was dead, wounded or missing.

And those casualties—2,420 on the first day, including 505 killed—were merely an indication of what was to come. By the end of the campaign casualties had climbed past 25,000—including more than 5,500 dead—among the invading Marines. Another 2,788 men of supporting naval units were killed or wounded.

The Japanese casualties? They can only be estimated. There were better than 20,000 Japanese on the island—none civilians. Only a few more than a thousand were taken prisoner.

Mt. Suribachi had been ticketed long in advance of the invasion for prompt conquest. It was known to be filled to overflowing with gun emplacements zeroed in on landing beaches and airfields.

The 28th Marine Regiment slammed onto the beach closest to its base. Promptly the 28th swung southward, their objective to silence those many guns, take Mt. Suribachi.

Pounded by fire every inch of the way they moved steadily ahead. Four days later with 895 casualties—510 dead—counted in the fight for Suribachi, the flag was raised on its crest and its guns were still.

That flag raising provided the setting for the photograph by Joe Rosenthal, then an Associated Press photographer, which since has been transformed into a gigantic Marine memorial on the Potomac's banks in Washington. Why was that barren island worth so many lives, so many injuries?

Planes from U.S. heavy bomber groups on Saipan, Tinian and Guam needed fighter cover to beat off Japanese planes as they soared over Tokyo, Yokohama and other industrial spots.

Fighters couldn't fly the round-trip distance from the bomber bases. They could fly to Japan and back from Iwo. And the big bombers needed a spot to land if damaged. Crippled B29s, torn by Japanese antiaircraft fire, began landing on Iwo before the battle for the island ended.

Three Motions Made in Dispute Over Sheriff

District Judge Takes 2 Under Advisement After Arguments

Three motions were made by attorneys for Clarence Vetsch, La Crescent, contestant in the Houston County sheriff election, before District Judge Karl Finkelnburg Friday afternoon.

A motion for order to settle the recount case was granted by the judge. The other two were taken under advisement. They were for amended findings of fact—or a new trial.

Vetsch appeared at the hearing with his attorney Richard Plunkett, Rochester. His other counsel, Milton Kludt, La Crescent, was not present. The contestant, incumbent sheriff Beryl Kerrigan, was represented by C. Stanley McMahon, Winona, and Thomas Flynn, Houston. He is currently holding the office while the case is being settled. A stay of judgment of 30 days, granted in mid-January, will run out Feb. 22. Unless another stay is granted, Kerrigan could receive a certificate of election at that time.

Plunkett based his motion for amended findings of fact or a new trial on the argument that the La Crescent village precinct election board was either de jure (by law), or de facto, (in fact), and the rule of law set up in the United States supports the fact election boards. He summarized arguments by saying that Vetsch feels the board was de facto; there was no fraud shown; the contestant was given fair election treatment in La Crescent, and therefore the village precinct votes should not be voided.

He asked the judge to declare the La Crescent election valid and to reinstate the ballots there. These were declared void by Judge Finkelnburg in a decision handed down Jan. 8 following an action in Houston County District Court.

McMahon argued that a de jure board certainly did not exist and that it is doubtful if a de facto board did. In fact, he said, it seems there were very few election laws kept in the La Crescent precinct Nov. 2. Plunkett offered a short reply and the hearing ended after argument lasting about an hour and a half.

The judge asked that the attorneys prepare an order for settling the case and that he would hand down the order after study. He gave no hint as to when decisions on the other two motions could be expected.

St. Charles Girl Farm Campus Queen

ST. PAUL — Miss Nita Nintemann, St. Charles, Minn., a sophomore in home economics at the University of Minnesota, was queen of Forester's Day at the Farm School here.

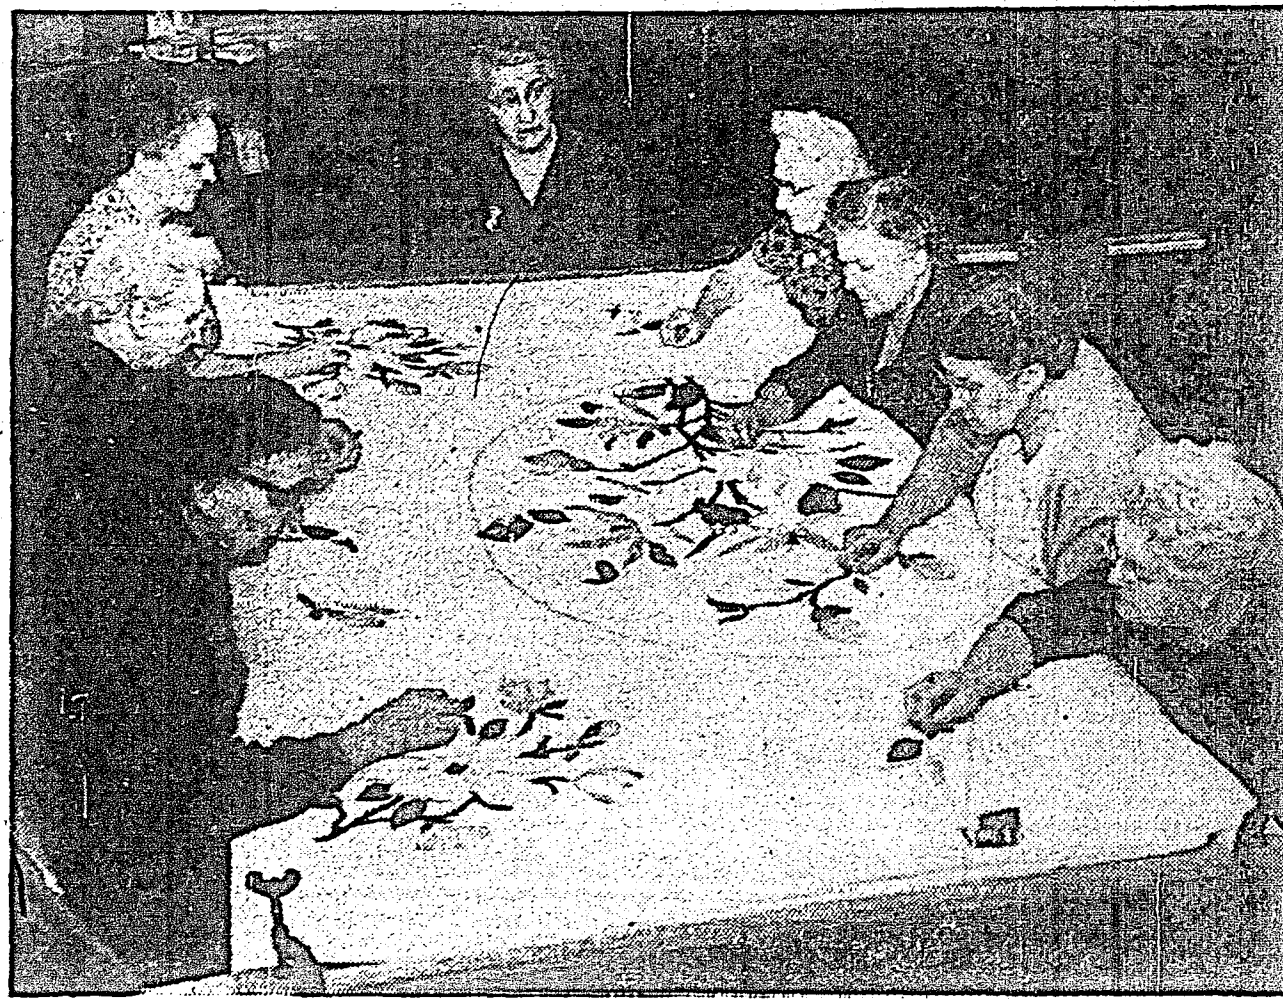

The Winona County beauty, who was style queen at the county fair last fall, a Winona Steamboat Days queen attendant in 1933, and Winona County Farm Bureau queen in 1933, Miss Nintemann ruled the forestry event with Roger Bruce Long, son of Paul Bunyan. Rita officially was crowned the "daughter of Paul Bunyan" by the foresters at the St. Paul Campus. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nintemann, St. Charles.

Quilters to Display Handiwork at Armory

By TOM BERGHS
Daily News Staff Writer

One of the members of a group of Winona women, who'll show their handiwork in a "Hobby Show for Senior Citizens" March 5 at the Winona Armory, wants it clearly understood that "This is not a club; anybody comes who knows how to handle a needle."

The group is the St. Stan's Quilters and the handiwork is a supply of large comfortable-looking quilts which the women have needed into artistic masterpieces.

All the women—who've been meeting Wednesdays at 1 p.m. for the past five years—are members of the newly organized St. Helen's Guild at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church.

Thousands of Stitches Walking in on them, during one of their weekly sessions in the church basement, you'll find a group of about 20 women bent over several large frames set up on wooden horses, studiously applying the literally hundreds of thousands of stitches that go into the finishing of a single quilt.

You cannot help but notice the women's fingers—raked from stem to stern with multiple tiny needle pricks and gashes.

But they love it—and are dedicated to the task. One of the women, Mrs. L. J. Watkowski, president emerita of the group, is 77 years old—and has never missed a meeting.

Extra Sessions Officially, the group meets but once a week, for both sewing and sociability, but many of the women make it a point to amble on down to the church basement several times a week to add a few more stitches to a current project.

And there are two women who come in every morning at 9 and stay until noon.

For the most part though, the women will arrive at 1 p.m. each Wednesday and stay bent to their task for four straight hours. Attendance at the sessions usually runs at about the 25 mark, but we've had as many as 50 working here during an afternoon," added one member.

During their five-year tenure, the group has quilted the rather amazing total of 300 beautifully-decorated blankets, said Mrs. Henry Kowalewski and Mrs. Lawrence Jaszewski, co-chairwomen of the quilters.

"Last year we finished 55 quilts—'isn't that something?' said Mrs. Jaszewski.

Process Described The process of starting with a simple sheet of 81-by-99-inch cloth and coming up with a 1-inch thick, fully stitched blanket is interesting. The pilot cloth is stretched tightly over a large wooden frame and pinned securely into place. Over that piece is placed a thick downy blanket of white cotton.

Then the real work begins. On top of the cotton is placed a second cloth—same size as the first—which has had a design either punched or hand-drawn upon it.

The needles then begin to fly. They may first applique a series of cloth designs all about the top and then sew with colored thread along the thousands of lines re-

Commercial Film Producer Speaker At Ad Club Dinner

Ray Frank

Reid H. Ray, president of Reid H. Ray Film Industries, will be the featured speaker at the Hiawatha Valley Advertising Club's dinner meeting at the Oaks Monday, evening.

Ray will be assisted by Raymond Jeffrey and Frank J. Havlicek in making the presentation, "Mr. Producer... I've Got a Problem."

Talks by the three men and a short film showing is planned to give concrete examples of how three widely different motion picture problems were solved.

Ray is a veteran of 35 years in the motion picture industry. His early start was prompted by a hobby of photography when a youngster. While a student he began producing motion pictures and was commissioned by the late Howard Jones to make a series of football training films.

Made Training Films After leaving the University of Minnesota, Ray joined a commercial film company in St. Paul where he wrote, directed, edited and sold commercial motion pictures. In a short time he bought into the company and became its president. His experience since beginning commercial motion picture production includes making training films for the Army, Navy, Air Force, public health, Office of Education and Civil Defense.

He established traveling crews to undertake many of the unusual and varied subjects in conjunction with various assignments. The most unusual was the assigned task of filming a rattlesnake shedding its skin... another was the filming of a native Moro wedding and dance in Zamboanga.

Ray is a governor and fellow of the Society of Motion Pictures and Television Engineers, a past director of the American Association of General Screen Advertising and a member of the Association of Screen Advertising Companies.

In addition to the featured speaker, club members will play host to W. Walter Frank, field secretary of the Advertising Federation of America, New York, N. Y. It will be Frank's first visit to the club. He will meet with the club's board of directors and will consult with committee chairmen.

Essay Contest The Hiawatha Valley club is presently sponsoring an essay contest for high school students at La Crosse, Red Wing, Rochester and Winona. The project was launched Feb. 13 in conjunction with National Advertising Week.

The contest calls for essays on the subject, "How Advertising Affects Our Lives," with grand prize for the national champion set at $500, and includes an all-expense trip to Chicago.

In this area, the winner from each of the four participating cities will compete for an area grand prize—a portable typewriter. Each of the other three winners will receive $5. The area grand prize winner will compete in a national contest.

Boy Scout Leaders Change Meeting Date Operating chairmen for the Sugar Loaf Boy Scout district, meeting at a noon luncheon Friday, officially changed the date set for district meetings.

Cold and Snow Due to Arrive In Area Tonight

Driving Expected To Be Hazardous; Highway Crews Work

Rain, fog, snow and an expected dip to near-zero temperatures tonight are expected to produce the worst driving conditions of the season this weekend.

Although the temperature at noon today stood at a mild 34 degrees, the Weather Bureau says the low tonight will be only 5 to 8 above.

Along with the dip, a "moderately heavy snow" with accumulation of 3 to 6 inches is forecast tonight. More snow flurries and a high temperature of 18 degrees are expected Sunday.

Precipitation at noon totaled .09 of an inch, the result of light rain showers that fell during most of the last 24 hours. Visibility at the Winona Municipal Airport was only a quarter of a mile, cut by fog and a 200-foot overcast. The humidity was a high 92 per cent.

Dip to be General The temperature dip was expected to be general in Southeastern Minnesota this afternoon after mild forenoon readings. Strong northerly winds are also anticipated later today.

In Wisconsin, a cold wave and heavy snow warning was issued for the north and west portions, comprising about the same ingredients as expected here—rain, snow, sleet and much colder temperatures.

Wester Wisconsin's snow accumulation is expected to amount to 3 to 6 inches and colder temperatures also are expected in the eastern part of the state tonight. The win velocity will reach 20 to 25 miles per hour in extreme Western Wisconsin tonight.

The Minnesota Highway Department reported all main roads open to travel but warned of many slippery sections, especially through towns. Driving conditions were the worst in the central part of the state.

Fleets of highway trucks were blading and sanding today, posing an added hazard for motorists.

Four inches of snow fell in the Twin Cities overnight. Mankato had between 3 and 4, and Owatonna, Brainerd and Morris up to 2. In WISCONSIN, Superior measured another 3-5 inches of new snow giving the city an accumulation of 27 inches on the ground.

Today it was raining or snowing over most of the central portion of the state. Up to 6:30 a.m. Grantsburg had 24 inches of precipitation during the last 24 hours, Milwaukee 32, Green Bay 16 and Wausau 15.

Western Union Thief May Have Left by Train

The possibility that a gunman who held up the Western Union office here late Tuesday afternoon and escaped with $1,360 in travelers checks might have gone from here to Milwaukee emerged today on the basis of information received by Sheriff George Fort.

Sheriff Fort said that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nottlemann, Lamolite, told him that they were at the Milwaukee Road station at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday when they noticed a man buying a ticket to Milwaukee.

At the time, the Nottlemanns told the sheriff, they did not know about the holdup but when they returned to Winona and read the newspaper accounts of the robbery they found that the description of the holdup man was similar to that of the person they saw in the railway station.

The Nottlemanns called Sheriff Fort immediately after reading of the holdup.

A Holiday? And Why Not, The Kids Ask

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—Teachers at three of Caledonia's four schools have bent a sympathetic ear to the "plights" of their students and have granted a two-day holiday Monday and Tuesday.

Children, accustomed to receiving a holiday or two during the winter—on snow-bound days when the busses can't run—have pointed with much disgust to the "uncooperative elements" and asked the peds to come through with a vacation.

And too, said the children, it's such a dreadfully long time between Christmas and Easter that we're apt to become a bit unruly during the steady siege of classes.

Schools cooperating with the request are the public high school and the Lutheran and Catholic grade schools.

Loretto High School authorities, however, are standing firm and say they'll expect their students—weather or not—bright and early Monday morning.

Farm Bureau Women Meet at Caledonia

CALEDONIA, Minn.—The Houston County Farm Bureau women's committee met at the home of Mrs. Gene Schiltz, Caledonia, Tuesday. A report was given by Mrs. Wilfred Kolman who was delegate to Farm and Home Week. The following meetings were announced: Quarterly township directors meeting, Feb. 21, Caledonia, with women's committee attending; district spring conference, March 17 at Caledonia; next regular meeting of women's committee, April 19 at the home of Mrs. Albert Holm, Spring Grove, and program planning committee, March 1 at the home of Mrs. Alfred Albee Jr.

High School Debaters In State Tournament

The Winona Senior High School debate team today is representing this area in the state high school debating tournament at Macalester College in St. Paul.

The Winona team earlier this month won its ninth straight regional debate championship by defeating Northfield High School in competition here.

Nancy Cribbs and Mary Kay Haake are on Winona's affirmative team and Tom Jensen and Ed Ellis, negative.

Waterville Pair Held for Breakin In Wabasha County

WABASHA, Minn. (P)—Two Waterville men were held in jail here today on burglary charges and authorities said they had admitted about 16 breakins in seven counties since Christmas.

To be arraigned this afternoon in justice court are Richard Grover, 27, and Eugene Morrell, 20, of Waterville.

Grover was arrested several days ago at Waterville after being traced through a car license number spotted by the town marshal at Pine Island Feb. 10. The municipal liquor store at Pine Island was broken into that night but nothing was taken. The same night a tavern at Mazeppa was burglarized of $75.

Sheriff Lorus Olson of Goodhue County and John Jacobs of Wabasha County said Grover implicated Morrell, who was married only last Tuesday. Morrell was picked up in Minneapolis Thursday while on his honeymoon.

The sheriffs said the two admitted breakins in Nicollet, Fairbault, Sibley, Carver, Brown, Goodhue and Wabasha counties.

Sheriff Olson said Grover is on parole from the Iowa prison where he served time for larceny, and Morrell served a term in Oklahoma for car theft.

Proclamation Sets Brotherhood Week

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—A proclamation officially designating Feb. 20-27 as Brotherhood Week here was signed this week by Mayor Knut Amble. Attending the ceremony were H. M. Johnson, Whitehall, and Miss Tillie Sylvest, Blair, and Roman Feltes, Arcadia, Trempealeau County co-chairmen.

Brotherhood Week, sponsored annually since 1934 by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, highlights in state communities the year-long educational program of the conference, based on the concept that where there is understanding and respect, people of varying racial, social and religious backgrounds can work together.

In signing the proclamation, Mayor Amble said that "our community can profit enormously in increased mutual friendship and understanding through participation in the programs and activities of Brotherhood Week."

British Authors Ask Enlargement Of 'Obscenity'

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP)—A committee of British authors, supported by publishers and some members of Parliament, proposes to enlarge the definition of the word "obscenity."

The dictionary says the word means something "foul, filthy, disgusting, indecent, unchaste and lewd." The authors of a new bill, headed by Sir Alan Herbert and Sir Gerald Barry, want to stretch the word to cover anything unduly emphasizing horror, cruelty and violence.

They seek to consolidate and bring up to date scattered bits of British law forbidding the publication of obscene matter, in print and pictures. The professional writers do not aim to give censors more power. Their legislation would provide a number of new defenses against some magistrates who have been inclined to find obscenity almost anywhere.

The proposal to include violence in the meaning of obscenity is to give courts a weapon against the more lurid forms of "horror comics" circulating among children.

Actions for obscene publication in Britain come sporadically as prosecutors and police make intermittent campaigns. Boccaccio's "Decameron" is in the dock often, but still survives in the best libraries. Copies of D. H. Lawrence's "The Rainbow" were burned by a magistrate. Radclyffe Hall's "Well of Loneliness" was banned.

The bill drafted by the authors would require courts to consider the "general intent" of a piece of writing or a picture. It would put an end to the practice of judging a book on the basis of isolated passages of text. Courts would also be required to consider the type of readers for which a work is intended, and would be required to take into account the reputation and purpose of an author and his publisher.

Most authors and publishers seem to support the proposed legislation, but several newspapers speculated whether a broadening of the definition of obscenity might give censors a new weapon.

500,000 Miles Go by Without an Accident

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Percy A. Peebles' achievement—41 years and 500,000 miles of driving school buses without an accident—is labeled "a truly remarkable record" by the National Safety Council's Los Angeles chapter.

Peebles, 65, was given a luncheon and a plaque yesterday as school bus driver-of-the-month. He started with a horse-drawn wagon, then used a model-T Ford touring car; now he drives a modern bus for the San Jacinto School District, Riverside County.

He plans to drive for four or five more years because: "I've got nine real special passengers these days—my grandchildren."

Modern Sparking as Taught by Maureen

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Maureen O'Hara was sitting on the floor. "I'm a floor-sitter," she confessed.

To make our pretty visitor from Hollywood and Dublin feel that New York was hospitable, I sat on the floor, too. It was believed to be the first interview ever conducted with both parties sitting on the floor.

"I've been fighting for years in Hollywood for biological casting," Miss O'Hara said, after we'd both got comfy.

"What's 'biological casting?'" I asked her.

"Sparks don't happen when you put just any two people together," replied the redhead. "Sometimes the studios put two people together in a picture just because neither one is working on anything else."

"But it should be biological, it should be chemical. It should be Clark Gable and Lana Turner..." I inched closer to Miss O'Hara from my sitting position, the better to understand her.

"And you?" I said.

"I think Duke (John) Wayne and I are good together. And Ty and I make sparks."

Tyrone Power, of course, with whom she stars in "The Long Gray Line."

"Gable and I would be 'biological' casting," I think. Miss O'Hara continued, "Too old? Heck, no! Ask the woman in the street. Gable will never be too old."

"How about Jimmy Stewart and you?"

"I don't know. He's a great actor. But I think he'd make more sparks with June Allyson. And much as I admire June, I wonder if she'd make sparks with Gary Cooper."

Miss O'Hara leaned toward me and stuck a pretty finger in my face.

"Size and strength have something to do with it," she told me. "I've been cast with men who you'd know I could hit with the back of my hand and knock over. That kind of a combination would n't cause any sparks."

"Now, me cast with Mickey Rooney wouldn't be any good—and I love The Mick."

"And I think very wrong casting was Peter Lawford and me. But I'd love to work with Victor Mature. And, of course, Gable."

Miss O'Hara said she also thought that she produced sparks with Anthony Quinn and George Nader. Besides "The Long Gray Line," she's looking forward to the release of "Lady Godiva," in which she really did the horse bit.

"All I wore was flesh-colored tights and a couple of strips of gauze and an awful lot of long wig," she said.

"It was supposed to be a closed set, but one day I noticed a Greyhound bus go through three times with people sticking heads and cameras out," she said. "However, they had a little house built for me to get on and off the horse so I wasn't exposed too much."

When the interview was finished, I got up off the floor and shook hands with Miss O'Hara. She pulled suddenly back.

"Isn't there a lot of electricity?"

YMCA Executive

Secretary to Be in Winona

Emery M. Nelson

Emery M. Nelson, N. Y., Associate Executive Secretary of the YMCA international board, will be the featured speaker and leader at a special world service consultation and workshop session at the Winona "Y" Tuesday evening.

The board of directors of the Winona "Y" will serve as hosts to board and committee members from La Crosse, Red Wing, Austin, Mankato, Albert Lea and Mason City, Iowa, Harold S. Street, Winona president, will preside.

The session is one of five being held in the five-state north central area council of YMCAs.

In Europe this summer, Nelson served as chief consultant to the YMCA world consultation on finance. Following this he attended the plenary meeting of the world's committee of YMCAs in Geneva, Switzerland.

Wherever he went, Nelson gave particular attention to Y projects which depend on world service help from North America. In Jerusalem, he saw the Y at work on both sides of the "no-man's land" dividing line, and trekked into the desert near Jericho where Y activities mean life-or-death to hard-pressed Arab refugees. In a number of spots he saw North American Y men on the job, and can bear first-hand witness to the effectiveness of world service aid in the struggle for world peace and democracy.

Earlier Tuesday, Nelson will meet with the professional staffs from the attending associations in a day conference. Presiding at a similar Rochester conference will be Herbert O. Johnson, president of the Southern Minnesota and Northern Iowa District association of secretaries.

against the Matsus or Quemoy.

That is the not very pretty position minus the American forces in this area. Worse still the American forces on this side of the Pacific, including the air forces, have been so enfeebled by alleged defense economy that we must look to Peking like the paper tiger that Peking radio is always calling us. Even the 7th Fleet is a poor safeguard if the Ilyushin-28's are redeployed southwards into the potential battle area, for these are not the kind of landbase aircraft that a fleet at sea can comfortably challenge.

These jet bombers, which are the main threat both to our fleet and to this island, are still based around Peking as far as is known. That fact, plus the inadequacy of the Communist airbases in Fukien province, are the two encouraging features of the situation. But the IL28's can be redeployed tomorrow morning, if indeed they have not been redeployed already, and the Communists may well believe that the Fochow airstrip will be sufficient for their needs.

In short it is prudent to be ready for bad trouble. Maybe the Communists will hold their hands this year. But they have said they would not be halted. And on balance, it is idiotic not to be prepared, as an absolute minimum, for the kind of probing attack which will smoke out American intentions, and test American resolution in this area in a decisive and final manner.

Ad Alley Pickups

Saturday, February 19, 1955

A brief mention of interesting items about people, business places and campaigns as compiled by The Winona Daily News ad department.

Fritz Pusch, above, is the new assistant manager at the local Montgomery Ward & Co. store. Pusch moved here recently from St. Paul where he spent the past 8 years with Wards as trainee and later as manager of the men's clothing department. He also worked for a time in the Wards store at Mason City, Iowa. Pusch is a good example of Wards' policy to give young men opportunities in the sales and merchandising end of the business. Manager of the local store is William Coyle.

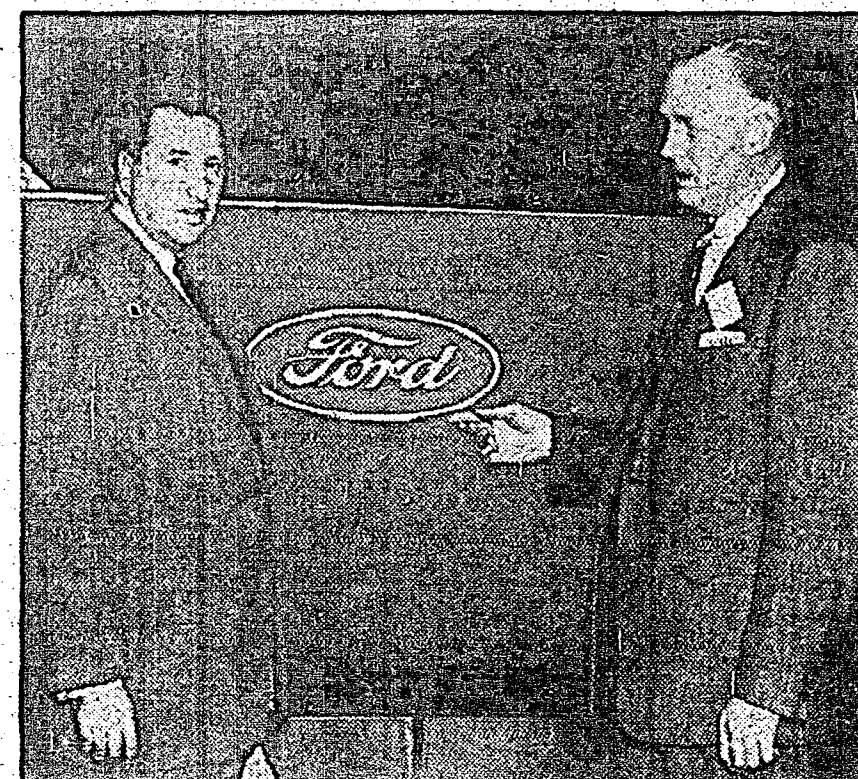

roduced automatic sewing in the United States, and offered zig-zag machines for the first time back in 1947. Is pioneering once again in the field of dealer relationships.

Through the Neechi-Elna Debenture Bond Program, dealers will be able to build up reserve funds for themselves and families, for emergencies, for education of children and for retirement. Simultaneous with the heralding of its new dealers' security program, the Neechi-Elna Corporation further announced its 1955 advertising and merchandising program, which will be the largest in the company's history. About $1,800,000 will be spent in local newspaper advertising.

Virgil Holmquist, owner of the Stop & Shop Furniture Store at 121 Main St., announces that he will handle the famed Englander line of bedding and hide-a-beds. Shipments of this line of sleeping equipment are expected soon.

Holmquist also recently returned from the furniture market in the Twin Cities where he inspected all types of furniture from living room sets to lamps. These furniture markets would be a dream to housewives, for there are rooms full of beautiful furniture of all types and makes. Holmquist went there to select and order the various pieces he thought his customers would like to see. Anyone wishing to browse around and shop at the wholesale furniture displays at the Twin Cities can do so by first getting a free pass at the Stop & Shop Furniture store.

William D. Carter of the Winona Sewing Machine Co., 551 Huff St., is now participating in a security plan just developed by the Neechi-Elna Sewing Machine Sales Corporation, which provides debenture bonds to its 2,300 franchised dealers throughout the country at no cost whatsoever to the dealers. The Neechi-Elna Corporation, which in-

Henry Ford II, left, president of the Ford Motor Company, has announced that the famous "Ford" name will appear on major implements in the company's farm machinery line in 1955. Pointing to the Ford nameplate on the company's new lightweight, six-foot combine is Irving A. Duffy, Ford vice president and general manager of the Tractor and Implement Division. The new combine, designed to harvest most of the more than 100 combinable crops in the United States, is now in volume production. The lightweight combine is expected to make combining of crops in wet and soggy soils easier. The combine weighs less than 3,000 pounds and has great advantages in hilly and uneven areas, also, says Mr. Duffy. Several dealers in Winona and the surrounding area handle Ford farm equipment.

IT'S GETTING TO BE A HABIT AT MORGAN'S JEWELRY STORE

Every 40 or 50 years they have a sale, and the father sells the business to his son.

THIS TIME

It's Allyn Morgan Sr. to Allyn (Steve) Morgan Jr.

THE MORGAN JEWELRY STORE IS MORE THAN A BUSINESS. IT'S AN IDEAL, FOLLOWING THE THOUGHTS OF ITS FOUNDER, S. W. MORGAN.

In S. W. Morgan's first book of business records, after completing an apprenticeship of 2 1/2 years in Oquawka, Illinois, he wrote the following:

Two and a half years have passed away and gone never to be experienced again. Since first I began to work at this beautiful trade, which I expect to practice till the end of my days, on the 28th of Oct. my time of agreement expired with Mr. Matthews with whom I learned my trade.

In that long and well experienced time, many a day have I worked to accomplish what I now have. Now it is done how glad I now be. At the expiration of my time, my Boss as I call him, gave me a present of a gold chain to remember him by. I surely will.

S. W. MORGAN.

Opening business in Oquawka, Ill., on November 1st, he had cash on hand $3.10. It rained that day and the receipts were 20¢. The next day, election day, business was "bad" according to the book, the total cash received for the day was 30¢. Business for the first week totaled $4.55.

In some manner he contacted Mr. J. B. Stockton, founder of Stockton, Minnesota, and after long correspondence, and with some financial help from Mr. Stockton, he came to Winona to locate his business.

S. W. Morgan arrived in Winona on October 20th, coming from Oquawka, Ill., on the steamer Gray Eagle. During the winter of 1861-1862, he worked for another jeweler in Winona and in the spring he borrowed $300.00 from Mr. J. B. Stockton to start in business for himself.

S. W. Morgan was in business for himself on April 25, 1862, with sales of a Gents B. Pin $1.50, a watch key 5¢, a total of $1.55 for the day. The next day, Saturday, was not so good as sales totaled 65 cents.

The original store was on Second Street, just west of Rademacher's location. Just 65 days after the store was opened, the 4th of July fire destroyed three blocks of the business district, including his store building. However, he was able to move out and save his showcase and tools and was in business at a temporary location the next morning.

In 1888 he built the building which now houses the Morgan Jewelry Store and where "Steve" will continue the business for the third generation.

The business continued to grow and after fifty years of business activity in Winona, he felt it was time for a younger man to run the business, and it was sold to his son, Allyn S. Morgan.

Reproductions of newspaper "clippings" will best describe the progress from that change to the present time, and are in part as follows:

Business Change Here

Allyn S. Morgan Well Qualified to Continue Successfully the Store of His Father.

RUN BY HIM FOR OVER 50 YEARS

As briefly noted last evening, an important business change will take effect in Winona on the first of July when S. W. Morgan, Winona's veteran jeweler, after fifty-one years in active business in Winona, will step down and turn over the active management to his son, Allyn S. Morgan, who by training and experience is specially well qualified to continue the business successfully. Before entering the business in Winona with his father, Allyn Morgan secured special training in some of the best colleges in the country teaching jewelry work and after this worked with several well established and successful jewelers in other places. For some years past he has been associated with his father here. He is in every way fitted to continue the store successfully on his own account.

NEW FRONT FOR MORGAN STORE AS MEMORIAL

Allyn S. Morgan To Construct Entrance To Establish-ment In Honor of Its Founder.

Allyn S. Morgan will in the near future construct a new front for his store building at 70 West Third street. This will be placed in memory of his father, the late S. W. Morgan, who founded the business and who was continuously in the store for a period of fifty-two years and eight months.

It is intended that the Morgan jewelry business will remain in the family possession for generations, and the front is to be one of permanency to honor the memory of the founder. Mr. Morgan has not yet completed all the details, but hopes before long to approve plans and let the contract.

MRS. S. W. MORGAN SELLS MORGAN BLOCK TO SON, ALLYN S. MORGAN

Transfer of the Morgan block ownership through the sale of the property by Mrs. S. W. Morgan to her son, Allyn S. Morgan, was announced today. Mr. Morgan took possession January 1.

The purchase price was not made known, but the deed carries revenue stamps to the amount of $45, indicating a consideration approximating $45,000.

At the time of sale there were no leases in effect except the one held by Mr. Morgan for the jewelry store, which had a continuance of nine years.

Disclosures of the sale followed the announcement yesterday that the Siebrecht Floral Co. had signed a lease for the rental of the store occupied ever since the

Now, in 1955, Allyn Morgan Sr., feels just the way his father did in 1913 and so the business is sold again to the son, Allyn S. (Steve) Morgan Jr., with all the confidence that the Morgan tradition of honesty and integrity will be maintained to the highest degree indefinitely in the future.

Morgan Jewelry Store Sold to Son

One of Winona's oldest businesses, the Allyn S. Morgan Jewelry Store, 70 W. 3rd St., was sold Friday to the third member of the family to operate the business that was established almost 93 years ago.

Assuming ownership from his father was Allyn S. (Steve) Morgan Jr., 424 W. King St., who has served as manager of the store for 13 years.

Registered Jeweler

His affiliation with the jewelry business had begun as a boy when he observed jewelry manufacture in his father's shop and in 1942 he began study with the American Gem Society, eventually becoming a registered jeweler with the society.

Morgan is married and the father of four children (among them Allyn S. Morgan III), retiring president of the Credit Bureau Inc., treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Masonic Bodies and the Elks.

Morgan announced that some new equipment is being added at the store to improve service to customers.

Pepin Business Thrives

50 Producing Harrows for U.S. Farmers

By EARL GILBERT
Daily News Area Editor

Pepin, Wis. —Not every farmer of this Wisconsin-Minnesota area is aware that the spike-toothed harrow he uses may have been made in this town on the shores of Lake Pepin.

More than a half million of these field implements have been built in the last 30 years by the Northern Wisconsin Manufacturing Co., a locally owned firm which was conceived and nurtured in Pepin by two families. Today there are 50 persons employed during the winter season and about 30 the year round. The business grosses about $500,000 annually, one of its officials stated this week.

But to start at the beginning, one has to go back to 1902 and a blacksmith and wagon shop on the corner of Highway 35 and Lake street run by the Schruh brothers —Edward, Albert and John —and a sawmill in the rural area owned by the Juliot brothers —Bill, Joe and Fred.

Brothers Join Forces

The Schruh brothers made horse-drawn wagons and sleighs while the Juliot brothers manufactured oak bars for harrows. Both brother combinations are natives of this community.

In 1925 they joined forces at the blacksmith shop, which still stands as the core of the modern fabrication plant, as the Northern Wisconsin Mfg. Co. and Schruh Brothers. Their incorporation came in 1931 and in 1945, NWMC bought out the Schruh firm to form the present company.

One of the original forces, Joe Juliot, is currently president and general manager of the company. Other officers are sons of the founders. Glenn R. Schruh, vice president and president and his brother, Elwin Schruh, secretary-treasurer.

Several additions have been made to the fabricating plant at Highway 35 and Lake and the growing business has expanded to a large plot of ground in the northwest section of town back of the high school where units of the machines are assembled, painted and shipped. There also are two warehouses and a garage for three semi-type trucks. Officials said that another warehouse probably will be built in the near future. They have six trailers for shipping finished products and bringing in steel bars and tubing from Illinois and Ohio.

Almost All Made Here

With the exception of chains, which are purchased from Peerless Chain Co., Winona, and a two-inch spring used on each harrow, the entire product is manufactured in Pepin. About 1,800 tons of steel are used annually in the business; Al Brunkow, Cochrane lumberman, supplies oak bars for the harrows.

There are about 30 machines for processing the steel and wood in the fabricating plant, most of which were invented and made by the two families. Between Nov. 1 and April 30 each year, 50 men are kept at peak production on the harrows. The remainder of the year, the fabrication unit operates while the assembly and shipping plant slows down.

The trucks are kept on the road except for brief spells. Harrows made in Pepin are shipped to jobbers in the Twin Cities, Milwaukee, Kansas, Pennsylvania and the West Coast.

Three Types Made

Three types of harrows in several different widths and with varying numbers of teeth are made here. They are the wood lever harrow; flexible lever harrow and a smoothing harrow for truck gardeners. All are made to be easily repaired.

When asked what the future holds for his business, Joe Juliot replied that replacement of harrows seems promising as modern farm tractors pull them at great speeds and as a result they wear out.

The other founders of the firm are still living in Pepin though not active in the management. Elwin and Joe work at the fabricating unit and Glenn runs the assembly and shipping end of the business.

State School Aid Should Be Frozen at Present Scale

If the present scale of state school aids of $80 per pupil unit is increased to $92, as the school lobby is now requesting the Legislature, Minnesota taxpayers—farmers, laboring men, professional and business men—face a $73,000,000 blow beginning with the 1957 biennium.

Such an increase in education taxes is unthinkable. It is true that there will be a $29,000,000 surplus in the state income tax fund—out of which school aids are paid—on July 1, but we still will be $12,000,000 in the red at the end of the next two years even at the present rate of spending to say nothing of the proposed $12 per pupil unit increase.

As long as there was a surplus in the school aid fund, the aids were paid without too much sense of pain, and legislators were understandably reluctant to dictate to the local districts. But with the fund soon to be exhausted, this is the time to perfect economies rather than raise the per pupil unit aid.

Here are a few points for our representatives and senators in St. Paul to consider:

At the present scale of $80 per pupil, Minnesota ranks eighth highest in the nation in per pupil costs of operating the public schools.

If the per pupil unit aid is increased to $92, Minnesota will become the fourth highest state in these costs.

In 1954 the per pupil cost of our public school operation in Minnesota was $312. The national average is $247.

Minnesota already is spending as much as such heavily industrialized states as Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and Massachusetts.

Minnesota has 5,000 school districts. Experts say one-tenth as many would be ideal.

Too many schools have only a handful of students.

Minnesota has 1,500 school districts which have no schools at all, yet they are drawing state aids.

Minnesota has the second highest state income tax up to $10,000 income in the United States.

If Minnesota is determined to upgrade its economy and offer an incentive to farmers, workers and new industries, we should freeze state aid where it now is. That way and that way only can we boost individual incomes, increase job opportunities and provide help for agriculture and industry.

Erich Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Arch of Triumph," tells about a cousin of the same name who paced a hospital corridor awaiting the arrival of his first-born. A nurse finally ended his anxiety by informing him he was the father of an eight-pound boy. A few moments later she was back to say, "You now have another son." The father had not been expecting twins. He stammered, "That — that last Remarque is un-un-called-for!"

Irving Hoffman—columnist, publicity counsel, and man-about-town, has added a new interest to all his other mysterious activities: He's actually purchased a geisha house in Tokyo! The manager won't let him come near the place, however; they say that if the cops ever spotted an American on the premises, they'd double the payoff demands — and banish, there would go the profits!

The Old Faithful Geisha in Yellowstone Park sounds more dependable!

A veteran pilot on one of the transcontinental airlines discovered early in his career that one gentleman's washroom on a plane carrying over fifty passengers poses certain problems. He has solved them for himself very neatly however. Now, whenever he wishes to wash up, he just lights up the panel reading "Kindly fasten all seat belts," gives the customers half a minute to comply — then saunters majestically to the convenience.

After planning a jail break for a year, a con up in Maine last fall had the bad luck to bring it off on the very day of the worst hurricane that had hit New England in sixteen years. He had — I cannot say enjoyed — exactly two hours of freedom, saw the roof blow off one house, a tree crash down on another, boats piled up against the rocks like kindling wood — then meekly walked back into the jail. "Life's gotten too tough outside," he explained.

A thoughtful pediatrician reminded a comparatively new father, "Never spank your child on an empty stomach. Be sure to eat something first." Then he noticed that the baby's hair had turned white. "This kid worrying about something?" he asked. "It's not the kid at all," the father answered him. "It's my nearsighted wife. She keeps powdering the wrong end."

Political Threat In Union Merger

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — There was a time in the mid-1930's when it was possible to argue over the future of trade unionism in the United States. In the middle 1950's, that is no longer a moot question. The strong, well-financed, politically powerful trade union has become a norm of American life. About one-quarter of the American labor force, 15,000,000 workers, belong either to AF of L or CIO unions. To argue that these members are coerced into paying dues and striking against their will is to raise an unsolvable issue. There has been no demand on the part of any large group of workers that unions be abolished.

The new AF of L-CIO will not only represent an enormous concentration of manpower but several billion dollars of reserves, much of which is being invested in common stock, often in the particular industry which the union serves.

NO MATTER WHAT has been said of the Taft-Hartley law, it has run from the 80th Congress to the 84th without change or amendment and has strengthened the unions. The history of trade unionism in the United States will show that the Wagner Law gave the unions a tremendous impetus, and while in the political strategy of unionism it was felt necessary to denounce Taft-Hartley, the reason it was not abandoned has been that the unions did very well under it. They have become enormously rich and if their wealth increases at the present pace, it will not be long before they come into possession of many industries, not by a socialist revolution but by the normally capitalist process of buying the shares of companies on the stock exchange.

The new national labor organization will be more powerful than either international union was during the period of competition between them. But with power must come responsibility. The agreement was correct in excluding racketeers and subversives, but that is not good enough. The racketeers need to be excluded actually and physically. All labor leaders know who they are and what unions they have invaded and which they control.

Similarly, the trade union leaders know who the Communists are and they do not strengthen public confidence by permitting unions expelled for having been led by subversives to return to American trade unionism by the back door of amalgamation with decent unions. That can only mean an open door for infiltration.

That many unions are accepting their responsibilities seriously is apparent in the publication of annual reports. But the democratic method of choosing union leadership is still to be hoped for and will undoubtedly come as the unions become more stabilized and businesslike. It is one thing to manage a union that is struggling for its existence; it is another to run a union whose business operations involve several hundred million dollars — and the members know as much arithmetic as the leaders.

THE CRITICISM OF THE labor union therefore shifts from theorizing as to whether they should exist at all to objections to racketeering, subversion and unstable practices. The course fixed in the middle 1930's of a recognized American type of trade unionism regulated by Act of Congress and supervised by the National Labor Relations Board is now fixed in the American industrial system. The remaining independent unions are not very different from AF of L-CIO unions and often are as great a trial to management. No large industry in the United States is without some type of union organization.

The fear of the merger then is unrelated to the industrial aspects of trade unionism but does arise from the uncertainty of the use of manpower and cash for political manipulation. While light limitations are placed on political contributions of corporations and individuals, practically none are placed on the trade union or their related organizations. They could corrupt the entire electrical process with their abundant tax-free dollars if they so choose. Furthermore, they could develop a class-conscious political system which might be modeled after the British Labour Party or become affiliated with international Communism.

This fear could not have existed in the era of Samuel Gompers; it merits thought and study these days when a doctrinaire socialist, such as Walter Reuther is, may be the effective leader of 15,000,000 men. It is not altogether impossible that by 1960, this may be the prevailing issue in a presidential campaign.

Bad Advice Gives Ike Trouble on Air Routes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower is having aeronautical headaches. He's just had a terrific headache over an air route between Seattle and Hawaii and he's about to have more over a route to Alaska. Part of the trouble is the present White House system of staff work whereby the President, following the general staff system in the Army, takes the recommendation of his staff without knowing too much about the facts behind their recommendation.

Here's the inside story of what's been happening. After long study, the Civil Aeronautics Board recommended that Northwest Airlines continue its present operation between Seattle and Hawaii in competition with Pan American Airways, and that Northwest be given a permanent license to fly the Great Circle Route over the Arctic to Tokyo.

This decision against Pan American, the pet airline of both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, automatically went to the White House for confirmation. And this is where Ike's headache began. For his Sec. of Commerce Sinclair Weeks immediately moved in, together with Undersecretary of Commerce Robert Murray, even though Murray had just submitted his resignation.

They recommended that the President reverse the findings of his CAB and rule for Pan American. Trusting his two Commerce Department executives, that was exactly what the President did. He ruled that Northwest Airlines could no longer fly the route between Seattle and Hawaii, leaving Pan Am to fly that route without competition; also refused to give Northwest a permanent route over the Arctic to Tokyo, thus opening a possibility for Pan Am to get that route later.

Extra Saturday Session

When this news broke, things really began to pop around the White House. First, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota phoned Gov. Orville Freeman, new Democratic governor of Minnesota, requested that the Minnesota Legislature pass a resolution demanding that Ike follow the advice of the CAB. The Legislature promptly did so. Simultaneously various northwestern state Chambers of Commerce served by Northwest Airlines planned a trek to Washington.

Simultaneously, also, Sen. Humphrey phoned assistant president Sherman Adams. "The President's ruling will jeopardize one of the most important enterprises in the Northwest," he said. "It should be better informed before he reverses experts who have been studying this question for months."

Humphrey, a Democrat, asked for an appointment to see the President but was told he couldn't possibly see him for about a week. This was on Thursday, February 3.

However, as protests began to roll in, Adams hastily called Republicans to a conference for a Saturday morning, February 5. Ordinarily Ike goes away on Saturdays. But Adams knew that on the following Monday that mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul, plus the governor of Minnesota, plus several Chambers of Commerce would be descending on the White House. To head this off and to take the play away from Democrat Humphrey, Ike held an emergency meeting with two Minnesota Republicans — Sen. Ed Thye and Cong. Walter Judd. Sec. Weeks and Undersecretary Murray, who originally caused the trouble, also attended.

At the meeting Ike complained that he hadn't been given all the facts. He had been told that Northwest Airlines had received a greater subsidy than Pan Am, a piece of information based on an outdated report and definitely not the case. Pan Am's total subsidies are greater than any other airline's. Result: The President completely reversed himself, came out for Northwest as originally recommended by the CAB.

Burn Means Trouble in Blood III

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Even a slight burn can mean serious trouble. If you've got Burger's disease, and a serious burn on the affected limb might lead to gangrene and eventual amputation.

Yet heat is good for your feet and legs.

What, then, should you do? As I advised yesterday, don't use hot water bottles, sun lamps or electric pads to warm your feet if you've got Burger's disease. Instead, get into a bathtub full of water heated to precisely 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Get all the way in. Don't just dangle your feet or legs in the water.

I think you'll find this about the safest method of applying that needed heat to your affected limb.

Exercise Helps. Proper exercise probably will be good for your leg, too. Burger's exercise is a fairly simple one, which you can do at home without any special equipment.

Here's how: Raise your affected leg about 60 degrees above a horizontal line. Let it rest there (on a table, chair back or some other support) until the blood drains and it becomes blanched, or whitened. Usually, this will take from one-half minute to three minutes.

Then, let your foot dangle straight down for from two to five minutes, until it assumes a natural reddish color, after which allow it to rest in a horizontal position for five minutes or so.

Now, repeat the cycle. Do this exercise for an hour at a time several times during the day, its purpose, of course, is to aid circulation in your affected limb.

There are mechanical devices which also might do you some good. These are usually found at hospitals.

One is a boot-like contraption which encases your leg in an airtight chamber and subjects it alternately to pressure and suction. Another is an oscillating bed which alternately tilts your feet higher and then lower than your head. While there have been cases of spontaneous cures, these instances, unfortunately, are rare.

More Doctors Needed For Home Defenses

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK — They tell us we must gear ourselves for a perpetual emergency. Plan plane procurement, troop replacement, stockpiling and taxes for endless trouble. And by all means maintain Civil Defense! But they drain off our supply of doctors faster than medical schools can possibly replace them.

The Pentagon says the next war is coming to us! That our oceans will not isolate us anymore. That the next war strikes home!

Then they send the doctors away. Physicians are being drafted . . . to stand watch on the Rhine . . . for a war that's going to be fought on the Great Lakes!

Somebody's real mixed up here. On the front desk at the Office of Defense Mobilization there is a big fat letter today. It's signed by the Health Resources Advisory Committee. Eight big men in medicine, insurance and hospital management. It describes what happens to a young doctor who wants to practice his profession.

Civilian medical training makes him work hard. Energetic teaching. Steady, uninterrupted learning. For interns and residents the opportunity to learn is paramount. They don't mind being overworked. They hate idleness. They distrust a leisurely tempo.

The two years of obligatory military medical service are too often not built around such a vigorous pace. These years are now regarded by young doctors as an inescapable frustration, a dreadful penalty to pay for having chosen a medical career.

This is a basic problem. We can't afford to discourage the few young men who are unselfish enough to want to become doctors.

We graduated 6,800 medical school students in 1954. Subtracting those doctors who died or retired, or adding the increase in our civilian population, we're going backward.

There is right now in the United States about one doctor for every 740 persons. In the military service, we have one doctor for every 300 persons. They tell us in the next big war the radioactive clouds will also over Detroit and Dallas. . . .

But there are fewer than half as many doctors on the home front. Yesterday, the Federal Civil Defense Administration announced that maybe after the atomic Pearl Harbor when you pull your baby from the radioactive rubble, maybe you can find a veterinarian. If you can, it's all right for him to administer emergency medical care.

The FCDA admits that there are not enough doctors, nurses and hospital personnel to make a dent in such a disaster, so maybe you can get a vet.

Don't misunderstand my allusion. I'd rather be treated by a good vet than by a bad doctor. That isn't the point.

The point is that through some shortsighted error, the boys who are hell-bent to regiment anybody are taking another two-year sentence onto a doctor's required training. . . . They're forcing him into a uniform, though there are, per capita, only half as many doctors in civilian life.

Then, in preparation for a war that's coming at home, they're sending the doctors away. . . . slinky, screeching twister of the night, advancing the wee hours of the morning with its Satanic howls—and rattling padding about scot-free, untrammelled by city ordinances.

Trouble at La Crescent.

Winona welcomed a new pastor and his family this week. They are the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Backer and daughters who moved into the St. Martin's parsonage Tuesday. Left to right, they are Elsa, 11; Pastor Backer holding Mary

New St. Martin's Pastor to Preach 1st Sermon Sunday

A native Minnesotan who returned home by "going against the stream" will preach his first sermon as pastor of St. Martin's Lutheran Church Sunday morning.

He is the Rev. Harold F. Backer, who moved into the brick parsonage at 310 E. Broadway Tuesday with his wife and four daughters. Though they sleep there, it will be several days before they can eat meals in their new home as it is being redecorated. To make this week of transition more trying, Mrs. Backer is in bed with laryngitis.

The new pastor, who was installed at special services last Sunday morning, comes here from Mount Calvary Evangelical Lutheran Church, La Crosse, after earlier pastorates further down the Mis-issippi Valley at Chasaburg and Plattville—thus the observation in his words that he is coming up the river or against the stream. He has been a member of the Mississippi Valley Pastoral Conference for 15 years.

"One Happy Family"

When he speaks at St. Martin's at 10:30 a. m. Sunday on "One Happy Family" it will be his first sermon as pastor of a Minnesota congregation, the state where he was born. Pastor Backer, a native of Essig, Minn., graduated from Dr. Martin Luther High School, New Ulm; spent two years at Concordia College, St. Paul, and was ordained after completing studies at Thienerville, Wis., seminary in 1933.

Mrs. Backer is from Bangor,

Wis., where they were married in 1936. She finished a 24-year course at Dr. Martin Luther College and taught parochial school for many years.

Their daughters are Ruth, 13; Elsa, 11; Myrna, 9, and Mary Ellen, 2. The three older girls now are studying at the St. Martin's School just around the corner from the parsonage.

A reception was held in the family's honor at the school auditorium last Sunday night. With plastering and painting crews busy in the house it is impossible to use the parsonage kitchen so women of church circles have been providing meals for the Backers this week.

As for Mrs. Backer's throat trouble, her husband said yesterday that she has been ill for about five weeks, but appeared somewhat improved the last few days.

Event on July 29

The Rev. Alfred Sauer, who had the parsonage built 35 years ago and who lived in it continuously until the recent Christmas holidays, is now residing in the Park Lane apartments at Kansas and Wabasha streets. He will continue as titular head of the congregation until July 29 when he will have completed 50 years as pastor at St. Martin's. The Rev. Wilmer Hoffmann is associate pastor. There are 2,148 communicant members of the church and more than 3,000 baptized souls.

When Pastor Backer accepted the St. Martin's call in mid-December, plans called for painting the home in time for their arrival this week. However, it was then found that nearly all of the rooms needed to be replastered, which accounts for the delay in getting settled. It will be another two weeks before the job is completed and his family is settled there.

He preached his final sermon as pastor of Mount Calvary Feb. 6 and was installed here by Pastor Sauer last Sunday morning. Pastor Hoffmann spoke.

Lenten Season Begins On Ash Wednesday

Lent signifies a period of preparation for the high-point in the Christian church year—Holy Week—which terminates with Easter Sunday, the testimony of Christian hope.

For 40 days preceding Easter, churches which hold to ancient ritual have services bearing on repentance and abstinence. Most present-day Christian denominations make it a period of intense introspection. Almost daily services are held for this purpose and to strengthen the faith of worshippers.

This year, Lent starts Feb. 23, Ash Wednesday. It will end at Easter, April 4. Some congregations observe special services on the day preceding Lent, Shrove Tuesday. This also is the day of Mardi Gras in New Orleans, in France and in some South American countries.

In Winona, all Catholic churches and many of the Protestant congregations will observe Ash Wednesday and other services regularly scheduled throughout Lent.

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church, youth of the congregation will sponsor an annual Shrove Tuesday project in the form of a spaghetti and meat supper at 5:30 p. m.

Ashes, the traditional and Biblical substance denoting penitence, will be distributed by priests at Wednesday services in Catholic churches. After being formed from last Palm Sunday's palm branches and blessed at early Masses, the ashes are placed on the foreheads of worshippers as they kneel at the altar.

At the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, ashes will be blessed at the 6:30 a. m. service and distributed at this and others at 7:15 and 8 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. At the latter service, a sermon will be delivered. The way of the cross will be observed ending with the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Similar services will be observed throughout Lent at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Friday and Sunday. Holy Communion will be celebrated before and during the 6:30 a. m. Mass.

St. Stanislaus Catholic Church will have distribution of ashes at regular morning services and at 7:30 p. m. Ash Wednesday. The Rev. Harold Gavin, principal of Cotter High School and former priest at St. Stanislaus, will deliver a series of Lenten sermons at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday nights. Stations of the cross will be observed at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday and Friday and at 2:30 p. m. Friday by school children. A 40-hour devotion will be held March 20-22. Sundays at 2:40 p. m. Gorskie Zale will be held for Polish members.

Ashes will be blessed and distributed before and after 8 a. m. Mass Wednesday at St. Casimir's.

World Prayer Day Planned For Friday

The Winona Council of Church Women will observe the World Day of Prayer Friday at 2 p. m. at Central Lutheran Church.

In recognition of this 68th successive day of prayer, Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer has proclaimed Friday as "Winona Council of Church Women World Day of Prayer."

Persons on Program

The theme, "Abide in Me," will be led by Mrs. Herbert O. Johnson and the offertory solo will be sung by Mrs. Omar Williams, with Mrs. T. Charles Green as organist. They are all of Central Lutheran Church. Dr. L. E. Brynstad, host pastor, will speak on "Abiding in Christ."

"Mrs. H. R. Kalbrener, president of the Winona Council of Church Women, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will give an address of welcome.

The program committee in charge of arrangements are Mrs. Green, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Kalbrener, Mrs. L. L. Korda, Central Methodist Church, and Mrs. E. H. Welty, St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

A social hour and tea will follow the service in the social rooms of the church.

"Abide in Me," is taken from John 15:4, and was written by Miss Jorgelina Lozada, of Buenos Aires, Argentina. It will be used in 125 countries observing World Day of Prayer.

Rotating Assignment

Each year the National World Day of Prayer Committee asks a woman or a group of women from one of the participating countries to write this service. Miss Lozada, one of the first two graduates of Instituto Model, now the Union Seminary, was assigned the responsibility for children's work among the various Disciples churches in Buenos Aires. She was ordained in 1930, however, and two years later became one of the very few Argentine women pastors.

Her interest in children led her to open a kindergarten, and through the years she has continued in children's work in addition to her regular pastoral duties. She has taken active part in the Confederation of Evangelical Churches in Argentina, for which she is at present secretary of religious education. She has served on the curriculum committee which is now preparing graded lessons in Spanish. She was the first Latin American woman to serve on the Commission on Life and Work of Women in the Church, World Council of Churches.

The offering this year will be used for foreign and home missions. Ewha University in Seoul, Korea, has been added to the list of women's Christian colleges abroad which receive part of the World Day of Prayer offering. The Rev. Kalbrener, president of the Winona council, urged all women to reserve this date and bring a friend to this service.

Independence Man Named Radio Operator In Trempealeau Co.

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Eugene Sossalla, 22, Independence, was engaged Wednesday evening by the Trempealeau County Board's law enforcement committee as radio operator at the county jail, according to Myron Olson, Independence, chairman of the committee.

Sossalla was selected from 19 applicants. He will begin his work March 1 at a salary of $175 per month. His hours will be governed by the sheriff but he will be required to work at least 48 hours a week.

The head, identified as part of the body of Myrtle Haas, 39, was discovered by two hunters Nov. 28. The state charges that Haas murdered his wife Oct. 28 in the small blowoff of an unhappy marriage.

The Rev. Mr. Sossalla, who was Mrs. Haas' pastor, was recalled by the jury Friday to repeat that Haas, during a visit to the rectory, told him he understood officers had found his wife's severed head. He was certain of the date, he said, because of a sort of diary or log in which visitors were listed. "Haas told me they had charged him with murder," he said.

Haas, who took the witness stand early and held it all day, denied the clergyman's statements during direct examination and again in a tense hour and half of cross-examination. He said the pastor must be "confused."

He pointed out that the business section of the city contributed over half the total, or about $1,325. The 1st Ward contributed about $140, the 2nd Ward about $402, and the 3rd Ward about $215.

Contributions from the chest during 1934 were: $225, Salvation Army; Whitehall Community Welfare Association, $500; Salvation Army, $260; Music Mothers Club, $200; Trempealeau County Child Welfare, $200; Wisconsin Heart Association, $100; Gateway Area Boy Scouts, $400; Winona United Fund, $150; Girl Scouts, $350, and expenses, $87.

The balance on hand was $2,405.61.

Terms of Dr. Wilberg, representing the Whitehall Improvement Association, of Dr. Milavitz and of Mrs. Allen Knudson expired. Appointments will be made by the Whitehall Improvement Association, the Lions Club and the Parent-Teachers Association presidents immediately so that the board can meet Monday afternoon to elect officers.

Holding over are Hiram Hegge of the WIA, Willie A. Johnson of the Legion and Mrs. Kenneth Swenson of the Legion Auxiliary for two more years, and L. D. Anderson of the WIA for one more year.

The group voted to dispense with the budget and admissions committee and place this responsibility on the board.

The Public Service Commission, in granting the authorization, said the fare increase is subject to hearing and subsequent modification if found necessary, after a trial period of not less than 90 days.

The firm filed its application for a rate increase Feb. 14. With the application it filed an audit showing it had a net profit after income taxes of $3,545 in 1954. The firm said that a 5-cent hourly wage increase to all employees effective Jan. 1 and increases in other costs of operation would amount to $7,500 in 1955.

Faculty Stages Fair At Teachers College

Nearly 400 students, alumni and friends of Winona State Teachers College attended the annual fair staged Friday evening in Somsen Hall by the faculty of the college.

The fair opened in the auditorium with a well-acted and directed performance of Lady Gregory's "Spreading the News" and Paul Green's "The No Count Boy," presented by students in the elementary acting class.

Miss Dorothy Magnus, head of the speech department, directed the two plays.

After the performance the audience moved into the Smog, the student exchange, which had been turned into a night club for dancing and a faculty floor show.

A band, made up of Maurice Mariner, Dr. Wilmoth Price, Daniel Hoyt, Edward Jacobsen, and Dr. Luther Gulick, accompanied, in pantomime, a dance band record with much rhythmic beating of feet, solo trumpeting and double bass antics on a broken guitar.

An all-male singing group, led by Dr. Rudolph Lokensgard, harmonized several old favorites, with Frederick Jederman, baritone, as soloist in "O My Darling Clementine." Other members of the group were Dr. Price, Edward Jacobsen, Dr. John Fuller, Dr. Gulick, Dr. Melvin Wedul, Dr. E. L. Raggar, Dr. Harold Guthrie and J. C. Guthrie.

Following a reading by Dr. Augusta Nelson, illustrating English usage as it is practiced in the popular lyric, the "Hag Island Four," the Misses Beverly Cornelius, Beulah Gregoire, Ruth Mary Payne and Phyllis Roney, sang and danced in pantomime to popular records which had been timed and tuned to high pitch. Miss Cornelius' microphone technique, synchronized to a split second with the record, gave effective emphasis to the routine of the singing and dancing.

A touch of old vaudeville to the floor show was next offered by a quick-change duo, Jacobsen and Dr. Gulick.

Advertising helped make the difference

FARMERS DON'T RECKON with real horsepower any more — a tractor can do the job better. Today's farm is an open-air factory with a specialized machine for every task. And America's mechanized farming produces more food ... and better food ... than any other country in the world.

But to mass produce the millions of tractors, plows, combines, pickers, cultivators that are found on modern farms, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of farmers at the same time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new farm machinery and equipment — and helps sell it. The more it sells, the more must be made — keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better farm machinery at prices more farmers can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference — in farming, and in our American way of life.

Old Files Reveal 1st Probate Cases

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — As progress is being made toward the completion of the 126-by-62-foot, two-story addition to the Trempealeau County courthouse, most county officials are thinking about the moving job ahead.

But one of them is already making preparations for the big move. Miss Marion Rossa, Arcadia, registrar in probate, is devoting her spare moments she can find to converting 7,000 folded files in her vault into flat files, for she plans on using only filing cabinets in her new office on the second floor of the building, just at the rear of the county court room and the private office of Judge A. L. Twesme.

As of mid-January this year, there were 12,000 files in the probate court vault, with the other 5,040 already in flat files, as the steel box files are outmoded.

Although it will be a few months yet before the addition, begun last July, is ready for occupancy, the exterior has been completely except for blasting and polishing, all the plastering has been completed, the terrazzo floors have been laid in the corridors and the tiling of the corridor walls was completed of the building, just at the rear of the county court room and the pink has not only come into vogue for men's shirts, ties and kerchiefs this year; it is apparently the vogue for tiling.

First Probate Case

Trempealeau County was created by an act of the state Legislature Jan. 24, 1854. Yet, no case was filed in county court until March 23, 1855—nearly 100 years ago—when the last will and testament of Joseph B. Tottingham was filed with County Judge Benjamin F. Heuston.

Although there is nothing to point specifically to the fact, it is likely that Joseph B. Tottingham never came to Wisconsin, as he died Nov. 21, 1853, in the town of Pittsford, Vt., and his will was admitted to probate first in Rutland County, Vt., the judge there sending a copy on to Wisconsin "pursuant to the statute in such cases, made and provided for the allowance of foreign wills."

Tottingham, it can be rightfully assumed, was a relative of George Gale, founder of Trempealeau County, who was a resident of La Crosse at the time but was the attorney representing the estate.

It may be assumed that Gale was investing in lands in the west for his relative, Tottingham, the latter very likely also furnished some of the funds with which Gale purchased the 2,000 acres of land in Trempealeau County; hence the necessity of probate proceedings here.

The will appearing in the file was written in pen and ink on folded paper similar to a certain type of personal stationery that may be purchased at this time. Both sides of the sheets were invariably used in all the handwritten documents appearing in the early files. Although the first practical typewriter was invented by Wisconsin men and with the shift-key, put on the market in 1878, they did not begin to appear in general use in Trempealeau County until much later.

The will devised all Tottingham's real and personal property to his wife Sarah, who was appointed executrix, and to his two daughters, Nancy Jane and Mary Elizabeth, "to support herself and children in reputable and comfortable manner and furnish my daughters with a good, proper, sufficient and general education."

Upon their marrying, the daughters should each receive one-third of the estate.

The size of the estate was not indicated; but the will provided that the executrix should pay $50 each to the Vermont "Domestic Missionary Society," the "American Education Society" and the "American Foreign Missionary Society" within five years of Tottingham's death.

A bond of $1,000 was required of the executrix.

Publications of the notice of the Miller petition and the probate notice were made in a La Crosse weekly paper, the affidavits for which are yellowed with age.

Guardianship Matter

File No. 2 in the probate court vault of Trempealeau County is a petition for guardianship, Jared P. James, 14 years old, of Montville (afterwards called Trempealeau) applied for guardianship of an estate of "about" $150 left to him in personal property by his father, Levi James, late of Orange County, Vt. George Batchelder, first supervisor from the Town of Montville on Trempealeau County's first county board was appointed guardian. Batchelder was placed under $300 bond. George H. Smith, first clerk of court, and Ira H. Hammond of Montville, who had a warehouse for lumbermen's stores at the mouth of Hammond's Chute of Black River, were Batchelder's securities for the bond.

Of the three cases filed in probate court that first year, 1855, one was the estate and the other two were guardianships.

One case was filed in 1856; two in 1857; none in 1858; three in 1859; two in 1860; one in 1861; five in 1862; two in 1863; five each in 1864 and 1865, and then business began to pick up in 1866 with 10 and the number increased from that time on.

The total number processed in 1854, 99 years later, was 338.

First Insanity Case

File No. 6 is the first insanity case, the patient being ordered confined in the house known as "The Travellers Rest" at Galesville.

Although the county judge in Trempealeau County had no Circuit Court jurisdiction until 1917, Circuit Judge George Gale in 1859 appointed the Trempealeau County judge a referee to hear the testimony in a divorce action brought by Elizabeth Duville "ag't." John Duville. Testimony revealed that the defendant "when he was sober was a good kind of a man; when he was drunk the plaintiff had to run" as he threatened her with a loaded rifle, a shotgun, butcher knife, and even tried to drown her. The first adoption file appeared in 1862.

The first time that an inventory of an estate appears is in 1864, in the estate of Lorenzo D. East-

MISS MARION ROSSA
Young Registrar, Old Records

man, Judge A. W. Newman presiding.

According to the encyclopedia, inheritance taxes were instituted by the federal government during the Civil War, then dropped again and not instituted again until the time of World War I, which would account for the necessity of an inventory in the 1864 estate.

Wisconsin did not adopt inheritance taxes until April 1, 1903. Proceeds of the Eastman estate amounted to $4,417.29 and expenses, $1,648.67, leaving $2,768.62, of which two-thirds went to Amos Eastman and one third to Eliza Batchelder, "to have and to hold." Beneficiaries were a brother and a sister of the deceased.

The will opened with "Sensible to my liabilities to sudden death."

Big One for Time

Judge Gale, the founder of Trempealeau County, who died April 1, 1863, left a considerable estate for that day; nearly $10,000 was bequeathed to his wife, Gertrude Young, daughter of George and Anna Waldron Young, and their three children, George and William, who became attorneys, the former at Galesville, the latter at Winona, and Helen, wife of H. J. Arnold of Kansas City.

Of interest is a one-dollar bill, series of July 11, 1862, which was found in File No. 51, there was no apparent reason, if it was an example of old folding money of that day, the bill measures 7 1/4 inches in length and three inches in width.

More Tests Needed On Siamese Twins Before Operation

CHICAGO (U)—Doctors say further tests are needed to determine whether the head-joined Andrews Siamese twins could survive a separation operation.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John W. Barrett, acting as spokesman for doctors at Mercy Hospital, reported yesterday the twins—Deborah Marie and Christine Mary—apparently have separate brains.

Yet to be determined, he said, is whether they have common or separate blood circulation of the brains.

The twins, 4 1/2 months old, are undergoing a series of exhaustive tests. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Andrews of Chicago.

The twins sometimes feed, sleep and cry at different times.

Editor, Minister, Funeral Director Catch Bank Bandits

CARL JUNCTION, Mo. (U)—A minister, a funeral director, and a newspaper editor teamed up in a motorized posse and tracked down three men charged with a $1,638 bank robbery here yesterday.

Their action resulted in the arrest of the trio identified by the FBI as Paul Courtwright, 47, Earl Vaughn, 55, and George Stenking, 57, all of Webb City, Mo.

The FBI said all but $167 of the loot was found in a pillowcase stuffed under Vaughn's back porch. Assistant Prosecutor John Martin gave this account:

Courtwright entered the Citizens Bank alone and forced a teller to push a money bag. Ray Miller, editor of the Carl Junction Standard, and Rubb Stone, funeral director, jumped in one car and Rev. Keith Bottles got into another and pursued the bandit's get-away car allegedly driven by Stenking.

A short distance from town Courtwright switched to a second car. Miller and Stone followed him and the minister followed the first car to Webb City, a few miles from Carl Junction. Officers were notified and the arrests followed.

MANY OF YOU may have wondered in just what atmosphere the network dramas you hear over KWNO are enacted. Here, you see the stars of WHEN A GIRL MARRIES doing one of their Monday through Friday scripts: The fellow faintly visible in the background is the engineer who operates the switchboard, controlling the volume of the program with the various stations throughout the country. At the left is Lily, the maid, while the other two are Joan and Harry Davis. Sound effects are dubbed in when needed to give a realistic effect to the entire drama. Hear WHEN A GIRL MARRIES every weekday at 9:45 a.m. over KWNO.

The annual Lenten message to the school children of the nation by Pope Pius XII will be broadcast over KWNO Wednesday from 10:30 to 10:45 a.m. The Sistine Chapel choir and a message by Most Rev. Karl Alter, Archbishop of Cincinnati, will also be heard. The Pope's message will be delivered in English.

THE CASUAL OBSERVER will feature Mrs. Sylvester Ryan Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. Ryan will tell of the past 30 years' changes in women's hair styles, cosmetics and other beauty fashions. On Thursday, Mrs. Lambertson will give excerpts from a talk she is giving on Feb. 22 at the St. Paul Women's City Club. Be sure to tune in!

There's always a first time for anything! And it happened on TOWN MEETING OF THE AIR early this month. Seems that the guests on the program were delayed by flight trouble and the director of the program had to carry on alone for about eight minutes. Many of you no doubt were tuned in that night on Feb. 8. Even the moderator of the program was late, so the poor director struggled to hold his audience's attention. He really let out a sigh of relief when the missing trio showed up. First time anything like that happened in the 20-year history of the noted program. Tomorrow, by the way, TOWN MEETING will discuss "What Can the Free World Learn from the Iron Curtain Countries?" Four prominent members of the Assembly of Captive European Nations will discuss the subject from 7 to 8 p.m.

The National Association for Better Radio and Television has just named the VOICE OF FIRESTONE as the top classical music program on the air. VOICE OF FIRESTONE also tied for first place in the "best musical program" category with "Your Hit Parade" in the second annual poll of high school editors by a national magazine.

Monday at 7:30 p.m., VOICE OF FIRESTONE will feature Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano, and Brian Sullivan, tenor. Included in their repertoire will be "Younger Than Springtime" and "The Song Is You."

Basketball tonight finds Winona TC against Moorhead at 8 p.m. Tuesday. St. Mary's meets Hamline in what should be a good game. Be sure to hear these action reports by Chuck Williams over KWNO if you can't get down to the games.

DID YOU KNOW?—That Don McNeill's BREAKFAST CLUB had a whopping total of 17,208 fans in the studios watching the program during 1954? Millions more heard them on the air, with many of those listeners in this area, tuned to KWNO, of course! Hear the program every Monday through Friday from 8:15 to 9 a.m.

Mighty Mite

A good example of the saying, "Dynamite comes in small packages," is Bruce Katiepoli, the mighty mite of Alma's basketball team.

Wayne Kannel, Alma coach, writes: "His accomplishments are remarkable considering his small stature. When he entered high school, he measured just slightly over five feet in height. At the present he is around 5-5. Katiepoli has been a member of the Alma basketball squad for four years and during these years he has scored well over 600 points. This year, Katiepoli's last, is his best as 'he seems certain to approach or go over the 400 mark,' according to Kannel.

Kannel continues, "He is at his best when playing a man-for-man defense; a defense we don't see much of in the Bi-County Conference. In fact, we've played only one game all season against a strict man-for-man, and in that game he scored 31 points. In the opinion of many of our opponents and in mine also, Bruce is one of the finest guards in this area," Kannel concludes.

Basketball isn't Katiepoli's only forte. He has also lettered four years in baseball and has played every position except behind the plate. His strongest spots in baseball have been pitching and shortstop.

Incidentally, before Friday night's game, Katiepoli had scored 24, 23, 24 and 31 points in Alma outings.

Toughest Tourney?

We figure the Alma-Galesville District tournament certainly must go down as the strongest district in Wisconsin prep circles. To show you what we mean, consider the following:

There are some 270 schools aligned in district tournament competition, in other words, all schools with a student enrollment under 275. The majority of Wisconsin high schools fall into this category.

The top teams in Wisconsin are rated in two categories, the Big Sixteen and Little Sixteen and district schools are included in Little Sixteen ratings.

Defending champion in the Alma-Galesville District, Cochrane, is currently rated No. 2 in the Little Sixteen, and Gale-Ettrick is rated No. 6.

So, out of the generally-regarded 16 top teams in the ratings, two are playing in the Alma-Galesville meet.

But the strength of this tourney doesn't stop there, since Blair is also one of the stronger small schools in the state. A three-game losing streak in December ruined Blair's chances of a rating.

But with the return of Paul Halverson to the lineup, and since Jerry Stendahl joined the club, Blair hasn't been beaten, rolling up 11 straight games. Blair has average team height of 6-1 and its five starters all average in twin digits in pre-game scoring.

We're not handing out titles. The records of these three teams during the regular season assure none of them the championship. But on the eve of the tournament, it's safe to say any one of the three would be considered plenty strong enough to win in a normal year.

Here & There

Sam Young, Black River Falls coach, captained a championship football team at Eau Claire State in 1949 and was an all-conference tackle two years.

Black River Falls, by the way, will have to enlarge its trophy case if present trends continue. Under Young, BRF has won consecutive titles in both football and basketball the past three years, putting quite a monopoly on Mississippi Valley Conference titles.

Mondovi, however, can be expected to provide a tremendous threat to Black River Falls' dominance the next two years. Actually, Coach Bob Batchelder's boys have been a threat this year, since it took Black River Falls an overtime session to beat them recently.

But, watch out next season and the next, because of the five players who started that game for Mondovi, four were sophomores and the other one a junior.

The yearlings include Carroll Lehman, a 6-2, 180-pound center; Gary Schultz, 5-11½ guard; Allen Urness, 5-9 guard and Mick Collins, Hart, the junior, is 6-2 and weighs 170.

Only senior on the top six is Don Ede, a winner of two previous letters and a 6-footer.

Batchelder is in his first season at Mondovi and has had winning experience in two previous seasons at Colfax, winning the Middle Border Conference football title in 1932 and compiling 19-2 and 20-3 records his two years in basketball.

Don Ede, coach at Taylor whose team closed its pre-tourney season with a win over Alma Center Thursday night in Trempealeau Valley Conference play, typifies the "Bound to Rise" theme of a Horatio Alger book.

The decision of Alma Center gave his team a 10-9 season record, which is quite an improvement over the 0-21 mark of Taylor a year ago. Ede is in his first season at the Taylor helm.

When Mike Leahy, shot-chest specialist of the Cochrane Firehouse Five, burst into the lockerroom after the Arkansas game and informed Jim Bade he'd scored 45 points, no one was more surprised than Bade.

Ralph Leahy, Cochrane coach and Mike's papa, said the players were discussing Bade's performance and one of them said, "I bet he made 30 points at least." Duke Loretz, senior member of the team, tried to worry Bade.

"You may have to buy pop tonight." The player scoring closest to his jersey number buys treats for the other players and Bade's home jersey number is 42. Bade wasn't a bit worried about buying cokes until Mike told him he had scored 45 points.

The total was one point less than 46 by Hank Rosenow two years ago at Nelson, and was but another chapter in a fine season for Bade, a 5-8 sophomore guard.

Leahy has been happy over the way the other players have accepted the fact that a sophomore stepped into the lineup and became high point man.

"The kids have swell spirit. They don't care who gets the points; winning is all-important. . . . Bade has a 23-point average. Loretz, Dave Kuehn and Bobby Rogneby 15. . . . Dave Schreiber, the other starter, is just a shade below 10 points in scoring per game."

The University of Wisconsin fencing team has a 6-3 mark on the season and is 2-1 in Big Ten competition. The Badgers, we heard tell, have got some good fells, sabre and epee representatives. . . . Haven't had much fencing news lately, you know.

as the visitors built to a 4-0 count before the Gophers could get going in the opener. Bob Meredith made the second counter for the Gophers.

Bob Schiller, Jerry Karpinka and Mike Buchanan all teamed goals in the first period for Michigan State. Tom Rendall added the fourth in the middle frame and Jay Gould counted the fifth time for the visitors.

The victory gave Michigan State a half point edge in loop play with a season record of 8-5-0 against Minnesota's 8-10-1.

Ted Lyons, former White Sox pitcher elected to the Hall of Fame, never played in the minors. He jumped right from the campus of Baylor to the Chicago team.

Hawks Edge Rockets

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor
The Winona High Winhawks parlayed ability under pressure into another close victory over the arch-rival Rochester Rockets Friday night in the Senior High Auditorium.

The Hawks rallied from a four-point deficit in the final minutes and had a 49-45 victory in tow when the final gun sounded. That, coupled with a 59-57 Winona win at Rochester earlier in the season, makes the two teams virtually even going into upcoming District Three tournament competition.

The game was deadlocked 12-12 at the end of the first eight minutes but Rochester held a scant, one-point 28-25 margin at halftime. At the end of the third, the Rockets were up, 32-37. The Rockets apparently were on the way to a victory when they took a 45-41 lead with four minutes left in the game. The Hawks, however, had other ideas. Coach Don Snyder's charges rallied with the chips down, outscored the Rockets 8-3 in the last stages of the game and pulled the game out of the fire.

Earl Buswell started the rally with a fielder and Bill Heise added a pair of free throws to tie the game at 45-45. Heise's free throw opportunities came when Rochester captain Joe Harding was charged with his fifth personal foul with 3:44 left in the game.

Buswell stepped up to the free throw line on another foul situation at 2:59 and sank his second shot but Rochester center Tom Robbins retaliated in kind for a 46-46 score.

Heise took the rebound when Robbins missed his second shot with two minutes to go and the Hawks started a control game to set up a late-second shot. With 14 seconds left, Buswell was fouled and he cashed in on both gifts. That put the Hawks ahead 48-46. The Rockets zoomed down the floor, attempted a shot and missed.

Tenold Milbrandt, Winona forward, was fouled on the rebound with five seconds remaining. He scored one free throw and it was 49-46.

Winona allowed Rochester's Jim McDermott to drive the length of the floor and score a layup, rather than risk committing a foul, and it ended 49-48.

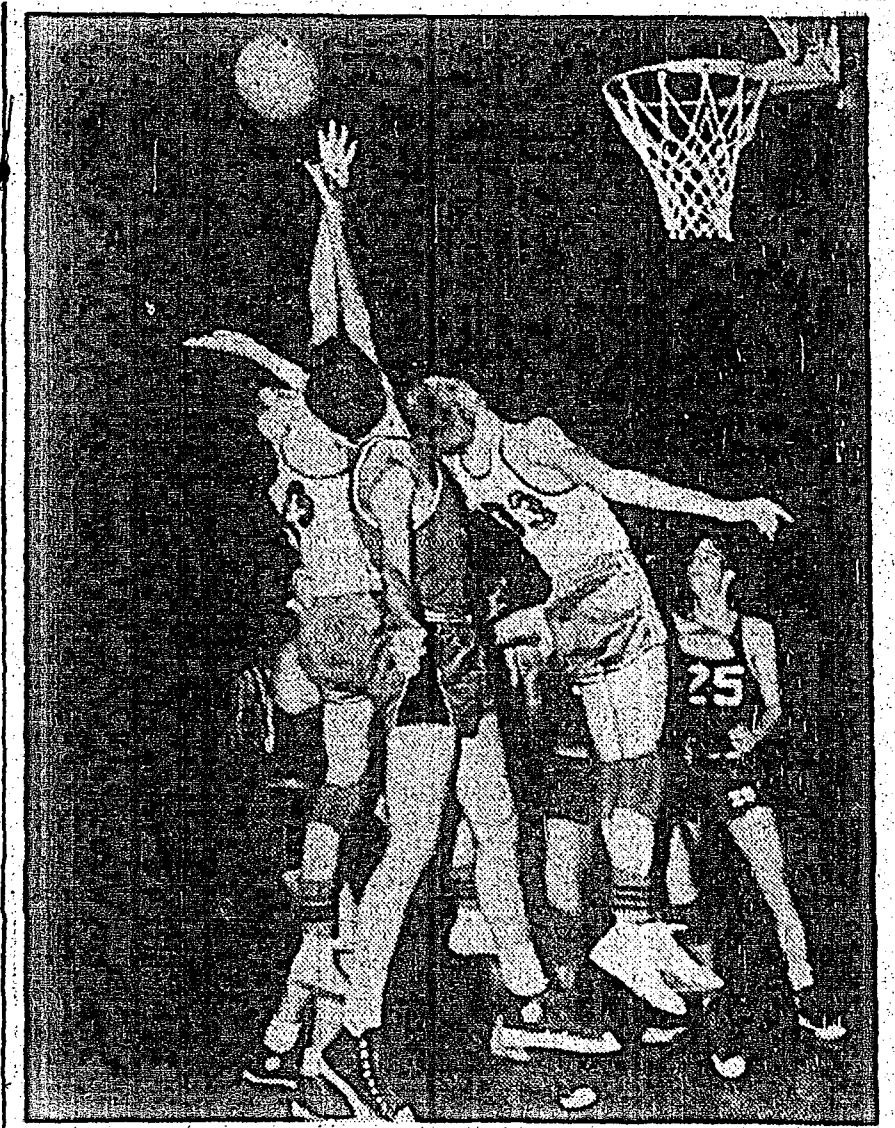

Closeness of the two teams was indicated in field goals. Both squads made 15 shots from the floor, but Winona had one more free throw than Rochester, 19-18.

Heise's 13 points was a high mark in the game. Buswell had 11. McDermott led Rochester with 10. Seven players saw action for Winona, while Rochester Coach Bob McNish used 11 players and nine Rockets shared in scoring.

The Hawks have one regular season game left, here next Friday night against Owatonna in the final round of Big Nine action. By beating Owatonna, the Hawks would close their conference record at 5-5.

Canton came close to upsetting the apocryphal Chatfield in District One action Friday night, but Chatfield pulled out a 68-66 victory to remain on the top rung with Wykoff in the standings.

Wykoff had little trouble holding its place with a 79-45 victory over Caledonia; Spring Valley turned the tables on Harmony and moved them out of contention with a close 44-43 victory, and Rushford handed Preston its 11th straight loss 62-58 while Mabel stayed even with Canton by defeating Houston 60-54.

Canton took a 17-16 lead over Chatfield in the first quarter, but failed to hold it as Chatfield forged ahead 38-31 at halftime. Chatfield increased its lead to 53-45 by the end of the third quarter but almost fell under a last quarter spurt when Canton outscored them 21-15.

Bill Harwood, loop leader in scoring, kept pouring them through the nets as he came up with a 24-point total to lead Chatfield.

Dave Finstuen added 16 points for Chatfield. Gordy Johannsen, who re-injured a bruised foot in the third period, led the Canton attack with 20 points.

Hubert Vannetter and Tommy Truman each had 16 and Bob Pierce 12 to round out the Canton scoring. Chatfield made it a double victory by winning the B game 53-28.

Victory Today Must In Gophers' Hopes for Title

Play at Michigan This Afternoon In Televised Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnesota, seeking its first undisputed Big Ten basketball title in 18 years, can take a big step towards that goal today by defeating Michigan in a nationally televised game at Ann Arbor at 2 p.m. CST—CBS.

The Wolverines, victors in three of their last four starts, can be mighty rough at home. They beat Northwestern Monday night and lost to Illinois last week by one point.

If Minnesota beats Michigan, the Gophers have one more road game left against Wisconsin Monday before going back to Minneapolis for a pair of games which wind up the season.

Iowa, only 1/2 game behind Minnesota, is at Michigan State tonight, while Illinois, the other contender, is at Wisconsin. In other games, Northwestern is at Indiana and Purdue is at Ohio State.

Michigan's chances of upsetting the Gophers rest largely on the broad shoulders of Ron Kramer, sophomore football end who is finding himself at home on the basketball court.

Kramer started off slowly but appears to have reached his peak with 28-point performances against both Purdue and Northwestern.

Michigan must also stop Minnesota's big three — Dick Garmaker, Chuck Mencil and Bill Simonovich.

Garmaker, leading scorer in the conference, and Mencil give Minnesota a strong one-two scoring punch while Simonovich, 6 foot 10, is a rebounding problem to Minnesota opponents.

St. Mary's Clips

MINNEAPOLIS — The St. Mary's Redmen, fast becoming one of the toughest road teams in the Minnesota College Conference, won another game away from home Friday night, taking a 77-72 victory over Augsburg here in the Armory.

St. Mary's recently turned in a major surprise of the MCC season when it won a 69-62 victory at Gustavus Adolphus.

Friday night's victory over Augsburg was almost a replay of the first game. Free throws once again provided Coach Ken Wiltgen's Redmen with their margin of victory.

The first time the two teams met this season St. Mary's copped a four-point, 82-78 victory at Winona. In that game the Redmen were outshot in field goals but held a 32-16 margin in free throws.

In winning by five points Friday night, the Redmen again took a back seat in field goal production, 26-22, but made 33 free throws to Augsburg's 20 points from the charity line.

Bill Skemp, St. Mary's forward who captured scoring honors for the game with 27 points, meshed 13 free throws. Skemp was one of four St. Mary's scorers in double figures.

Coach Wiltgen used seven Redmen in the game and all shared in scoring. Captain and guard Marty Coughlin tallied 16 points, forward Fred Sheridan hit 13 and center Johnny Curran scored 11.

Significant in St. Mary's victory was its ability to halt the scoring threat of Augsburg center Virgil Gehring, limiting him to seven points.

Ron Hess and Jim Plumedahl, a pair of nifty guards, led Augsburg in point production with 21 and 20 points respectively.

Another point of similarity in the two meetings of Augsburg and St. Mary's.

Skemp Coughlin

St. Mary's this season was in personal fairs. The first time the two teams played, the smaller Auggies, committed 28 personals and St. Mary's 18.

Friday night Augsburg outplayed the Redmen, 33-19.

The game enabled the Redmen to strengthen their hold on third place in the Minnesota College Conference with a 9-4 record and sets them up for another tough foreign affair tonight.

Tonight St. Mary's stakes its improved stock on the St. John's market at Collegeville, Minn. Winners over St. John's at Terrace Heights earlier this season, tonight's game is regarded no more than a tussle for the Redmen since the Johnnies, with high-scoring Bill Sexton healthy again, are expected to be exceptionally tough at home.

The Redmen will return home for a clash with the Hamline Pipers Tuesday night in another MCC game at Terrace Heights.

The Pipers today are in second place in the standings and can move into a tie for first place by beating Gustavus Adolphus tonight.

Alma took the lead at the end of the first period 15-13, but fell behind 28-25 at halftime. Gilmanston worked on its lead and was in front 47-43 at the end of the third quarter.

Alma rushed back, however, tied the game up at 58-58 and forced it into overtime.

Each team scored six points in the first overtime and it ended 64-64. Alma then came up with another six points in the second overtime while Gilmanston scored only two and the final score read 70-66 for Alma.

Bruce Katioppe was the big gun for Alma as he potted 25 points. Lavore Winger had 12 and Bruce Denk 11. Bob Hovey scored 20 points for Gilmanston and Len Brofman threw in another 15.

MORAN SETS RECORD Gales, W. Salem Share 1st Place

Gale-Etrick and West Salem ended in a dead heat for first place in the Coulee Conference as a result of games played Friday night. Both of the first-place teams won games as Gale-Etrick defeated Holmen 60-37 and West Salem downed Onalaska 91-57.

The only loss that either team suffered was to the other as they split during the season.

Bangor stayed right behind the leaders by defeating Trempealeau 55-50 in its eighth win against four losses and Melrose defeated last-place Mindoro 60-49 in the other games scheduled.

Much of the excitement generated in the final night of league play was at Onalaska, where West Salem's Pat Moran scored 44 points to set a Coulee Conference record.

Moran, son of Coach Horace Moran and 6-4 West Salem center, sank 18 field goals in 29 shots for 62 percent.

He made 15 points in the first quarter, 14 the second for a first half total of 29, 8 in the third and 7 in the first 3 1/2 minutes of the fourth before retiring from the game.

The total was a single game career mark for Moran and a West Salem school record. Previous Coulee Conference record was Jerry Paisley's 40.

By virtue of its 60-37 victory over Holmen Friday night, Gale-Etrick insured a tie for the conference title, its seventh outright or shared crown in the past 10 years.

Gale-Etrick took a first quarter lead of 12-5, increased it to 29-15 at halftime and then swamped Holmen in the third quarter to come out on top 47-19 at the end of that period and coast the rest of the way.

Bill Kindisch had 19 and Hugh Kohlmeier 16 for the victors and Mickelberg had 16 and Hagerman 10 for Holmen. The B game ended in favor of Gale-Etrick 39-26.

Bangor 17, 10, 12, 15-54. Trempealeau 13, 18, 12, 53-50. Holmen 5, 10, 4, 18-37. Gale-Etrick 12, 17, 18, 57-37. West Salem 28, 26, 18, 31-61. Onalaska 16, 13, 17, 47-57.

McCreedy's 675 Takes Big Lead

Biggest noise of falling tennis in the doubles and singles division of the Winona City Tournament took place when Chet McCreedy began his singles series.

By the time the last frame had been rolled and the last scattered pin picked up, McCreedy had a 675 scratch series and 731 handicap to take a huge lead in that division.

In second place behind McCreedy in singles is Harold Berg with 642, a 91-pin spread.

McCreedy's series was composed of single games 235-224-216. He had one error and one open frame.

The top single game in Friday night's action was by Harold Berg who crashed a 247 and Friday night's activity also found the first errorless individual series of the tournament being rolled, a 568 by Roy Rose.

Leading the doubles parade is the Milton Meyer-James Cisewski combination with 1,250 handicap, 15 pins ahead of Art Moore and John Borszkowski with 1,235.

Doubles and singles continued today in the city tournament and will keep going into next week.

DENNIS THE MENACE

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Yes. They should learn from friends and enemies all they possibly can about each other's families; education; health; heredity; ambitions; and previous love affairs, and their results. Marriage is highly dangerous for both if either is caught on the rebound from a love disappointment. Our booklet, "How To Pick a Mate," tells what questions to ask, and how to ask them. Nonprofit, 15c (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, care of The Winona Daily News.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Historians believe there was no organized war until tribes became semi-civilized, owned lands and domesticated animals, and originated the idea of property. Then, under an ambitious leader, war became a habit, either to seize the adjoining land, cattle, etc.,—sometimes the women—or else to convert the other fellow to his religion. A pleasing way to spread "sweetness and light."

Answer to Question No. 3
3. The books on philosophy and religion define the moral codes of a people, but their general precepts are found in stories, poems, and songs for children. Right always triumphs. The villain is always defeated; the hero, victorious. But these stories go further and show what kind of conduct makes heroes (helpfulness, sympathy, bravery), and what kind makes villains (cruelty, brutality, greed).

Stassen Says Billion In Asian Aid Approved

CHICAGO (AP)—Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen says "very significant... long-term" economic aid has been approved for Asian nations as part of President Eisenhower's program "for building for peace."

Stassen said at a news conference yesterday that full details of the program, approved by the President, the National Security Council, and the Budget Committee, probably would not be available until April.

He wouldn't give a definite estimate of the program's cost, but told reporters it would be "up around" a billion dollars.

Stassen said most of the Asian aid would be "in commodities, machinery and equipment, much of it in long-term loans."

Friendless Model Plunges to Death

CHICAGO (AP)—No relatives or friends appeared yesterday at an inquest into the death of Joyce Goode, a pretty model and registered narcotics addict who plunged to her death from a South Side hotel room Thursday.

"This appears to be a woman that nobody wants," said Deputy Coroner George Balmer as he continued the inquest to Feb. 25.

A note found pinned to Miss Goode's clothes after her plunge from the seventh floor of the Gladstone Hotel read: "Please take care of my baby in Room 708. I am too sick to feed him."

Miss Goode, 33, and who had been a model for national advertising, was the wife of Charles Taylor, a postal worker. Her one-year-old son, Stephen, was taken to an orphanage.

screamed at her, slapped her and stayed out all night without explanation.

The blonde singer asked no alimony and said that there was no community property. They were married last April.

She inherited one-third of Beery's three-million-dollar estate.
