Six candidates interviewed by faculty group

Unknown at this time, the meeting and interviewing of six candidates for president of Winona State College was under way, according to Dr. Harold Guthrie, chairman of the faculty advisory committee. The six candidates, representing 12 colleges and universities across the state, were interviewed twice, once by the faculty advisory committee and once by the State College Board.

Each interview lasted an hour and opened with the committee making an introductory statement concerning his candidacy. The interview progressed into the following areas of joint concern:

1. The comparative role of the state colleges, university, junior colleges, and the liberal arts colleges of the state.
2. Views concerning the proper role of the university and the base of responsibility in the State College System, and
3. The proper degree of autonomy for Winona State College in the State College System.

The interviews were closed with a group of candidates asking questions of the faculty committee. Following the interviews, the state college board invited the committee to discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the candidates with no specific recommendations given, but impressions of the participants.

The faculty committee, Dr. Guthrie pointed out, polled each faculty, but was pleased with the choice. The board, he said, made the selection that the faculty and board were ready to for a new president to rest with them.

Hirtzel receives degree: doctorate of philosophy

Another member of the Winona State College faculty is receiving his Doctorate of Philosophy.

Richard D. Hirtzel, assistant professor in the state college's industrial arts department, received his Ph.D. at the University of Utah after successfully defending his doctoral dissertation, "Economic and Military Aid to Indonesia: A Case Study."

Hirtzel, who resided at the University in Salt Lake City in the fall of 1965 to pursue studies on a full-time basis toward the degree, will return to his normal teaching schedule after receiving the degree formally.

Did Board choose wisely?

Winona State College has a new president, and we are preparing to greet him, as he assumes his new office on Jan. 1, 1967.

Winonaian Edward A. DuFresne, was the best choice, we question the State College Board's method of selecting a new president.

THE ORIGINAL field of 30 candidates was winnowed to six, and of these six, the State College Board chose the new president. Did these six candidates get an opportunity to visit Winona State College's campus, talk to the students, and see for themselves the problems that have to be faced?

When the State College Board interviewed the candidates, an hour was allowed for each, the faculty committee was also there, and it, too, had an opportunity to interview the candidates, separate from the college board.

However, the State College Board made it clear to the faculty committee that it had the responsibility and authority to select Winona State's new president. After the interviews, the faculty committee and State College Board discussed the strengths and weaknesses of each candidate, but the faculty committee could not make any specific recommendations.

We feel that Dr. DuFresne is the best man for the job, and we will devote all his time and talents. However, we hope that DuFresne, unlike Randy Sinke, will be a little more democratic in his actions, and occasionally ask the students their opinions on problems facing Winona State.

Unsung Who’s Who

Representatives from the student governing bodies of St. Mary's and Winona State College attended Tuesday's SS meeting. They announced the support of the Winona Chamber of Commerce for a Tri-College Coordination Committee.

St. Mary's guest speaker reported that KWNO will begin weekly broadcasting of a Tri-College Student Show on Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. The first half-hour's theme will be "US involvement in Viet Nam."

The Tri-College committee for student discount cards, under St. Teresa's leadership, has approached the Winona Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped that the project, if accepted, will be accepted after the NCA discounts, which include 20-40% off on merchandise at retail stores.

President Louis Kanavati officially announced Frank Kottschade's letter to the editor of Nov. 19 concerning campaigning across campus. Kanavati said that since there were no witnesses to the placing of the poster in the Union, and a statement from SS could harm the candidates campaign, a special meeting was not called.

The first reading of the 1967 Who's Who announcement was made by Alice Peterson, senate liaison, 32 seniors received the honor.

Mr. Eddy, who does not want to hear either Randy Sinke or Louie Kanavati for ending the "So-called Riot," thinks after reading the November 3 edition of Winonan, "I hesitate to think why a person who openly admits in his rally. I further feel Randy Sinke accomplished nothing, would write during the entire rally, but accumulate him for controlling the pep rally. I have to apologize, as the Mr. Kanavati was not present at any time I was being written. Randy was so-called riot, thinking after reading the November 3 edition of Winonan, which they used for reference for their article because there was no credit given to either Randy Sinke or Louie Kanavati for ending the "So-called Riot."

TO CAUSE Randy Sinke, a fine and honest person, to apologize for an article he did not know was being written. Randy was also put on the spot and had to state that he had not discussed or taken any advice at all from Mr. Eddy during the pep rally, which is contrary to Mr. Eddy's statement in his article.

To the editor:

In reference to Mr. Christen and Mr. Eddy's article of Nov. 19, 1966, I have to apologize, as the entire student body, for not recognizing Randy Sinke's role in breaking up the major riot at Winona State College. Ski club offers free skiing

Free skiing at Mount Telemark is the goal of the Ski Club's ski trip this weekend, Nov. 19 and 20.

Mount Telemark is in northern Wisconsin near Cable, Wisconsin. The 5½ hour drive will take you "to one of the best ski slopes in the midwest," says the Ski Club's corresponding secretary, Tom Cusserly.

APO to sell "tube steaks"

"Tube steaks" dinners will be offered to students living in the dormitories again this year, on Nov. 29, Dec. 4 and 11.

The meal served on Sunday evenings, will run from 5 to 7, and be in the basement of the Prentiss-Lucas Lounge. Holdings, toppings, and soft drinks will be offered for a very inexpensive price.

Powerful vets return to bolster wrestling squad

By Steve Johnson

With nine of eleven returning from last year's NIC championship squad, Coach Gunner's wrestlers look for a successful season ahead.

Last year, the grapplers finished with a 13-1 record under their belt, the NIC Conference championship, and a sixth place finish in the NAIA national tournament. This year, the wrestlers will compete for the first time in NCAA competition, wrestling in the NCAA University Division Tournament next Spring.

This season will also see Winona State's first meeting with a Big Ten school, in a quadrangular meet with Purdue, Bloomington (Pa.), and Indiana State on December 10, the season opener.

Coach Gunner faces a very tough schedule with some optimism, and a look at his returning wrestlers would see why. Finishing in the NIC Conference tournament last year were: Glenn Trolton (113), Darold Andrist (123), Rodger Jehlicka (130), and Steve Drange (190). Jim Tannehill (167). Two other conference champs last year were: Jim Tannehill and John Zolwinski.

The NIC Conference is considered one of the toughest in the Nation and as defending champions Winona State will be a target for every team they wrestle. With so powerful a returning team and some promising freshmen, they can't help but be the favorites in the NIC.

RAiders win IM crown

One of the finest evenings this fall was put to good use Monday night as the men's intramural flag football championship was played off under the lights of Maxwell Field.

The Raiders, a 6 to 0 winner in the Tuesday night league, defeated the Money Makers 21 to 14.

WRA begins winter sports

Memorial gym was filled with activity Nov. 9. This marked the beginning of tournament play for women's intramural volleyball. The evening was a big success with more than 160 women participating. Present team standings are:
