Players Sponsor Reading Contest

The second annual interpretive reading contest sponsored by the Wenonah Players was held at Somervell High School Tuesday, February 28, with nine high schools participating. Two contestants who received judgments of excellent in their selections were Elizabeth Collinsson of Winona, and Jeanne Hurtle of Mankato.

The other contestants and the high schools they represented are: Betty Anderson, St. Charles; Joyce Spliter, Galeville; Lela Gashel, Waubasha; Betty Joyce Jones and Red Wing; Moneta Resner, Lewiston; Lorraine Berggren, Harmony; Alba Robinson, Trempealeau.

Dr. Lynch spoke at 9:15 a.m. on the "Aims and Objectives of the Contest." The purpose of her talk was to show the value of speech training to all students because the four-year high school period rather than the coaching of two or three students at a special time.

"In extemporaneous reading," said Dr. Lynch, "the relative ability of each contestant to interpret literature and to make application of speech principles is tested. Therefore, it is hoped that better interpretation and better understanding of the theory and application of speech principles will be encouraged. Because there is no coaching for the four-year period whatsoever, there is a great deal of necessity of teaching all phases of education program. These pictures were shown in the auditorium.

College Prominent in Curriculum Laboratory Plans

Winona State Teachers College is one of the first in the state to make plans for a curriculum laboratory.

"The curriculum laboratory or workshop is perhaps the most recent development in the educational field and library service," said Mr. Simmons, who attended the meeting of the University Study Center last summer at which time the Curriculum Society for the state of Minnesota was formed. The laboratory includes everything needed for use in solving curriculum problems in the elementary and secondary schools.

The new laboratory provides excellent facilities, a room having been set aside in the building to which instructors, students in the college, superintendents, and principals from schools, and others concerning the need of help in solving curriculum problems.

The curriculum laboratory conference held at the college in January featured Dr. Rockwell, state commissioner of education, and Dr. C. E. P. Price, of the University of Minnesota. Dr. Filip spoke on current curriculum problems and set forth his ideas of how curriculum should be organized. Dr. Rockwell pointed out that there is a great need in the state of Minnesota in which he emphasized the necessity of teaching all phases of today's problems so as to give a clearer understanding of life as it is being lived today.

Tour Arranged By Committee

Week's Trip Includes Eastern Points

An all-expense college tour to New York has been arranged for the week of June 7 to June 14 by a committee of students and faculty members. The total cost per person will be sixty-three dollars. A competent escort of the Milwaukee Railroad will accompany the party during the entire trip.

Leaving Winona Wednesday afternoon, June 7, the party will arrive Thursday morning for a sight seeing trip in Niagara Falls. On Friday night it is planned that he will have an open house at the student union of Colgate University.

The return to Winona in concert will be on Monday, June 14. It is the general opinion that there is a great deal of literature talent in the college which never has an opportunity to express itself since the Wenonah is chiefly a news publication. In order to provide recognition for those who have talent in writing, the Wenonah is devoting an extra page in its next number to strictly literary material.

With the idea of encouraging contributions the paper is giving a contest, the winning numbers of which will be published in the March 31 issue. Such types of material as essays, editorials, character sketches, and dramatic sketches will be accepted. All material must be in type. Contestants will submit their contributions marked "Contest material" to Miss Gail Astle, 0'clock March 14. Judges will be chosen and winners announced in next issue.

By Fine Arts Class

A Guernsey milk, minus the cow and proper ending. I like to collect — books, stamps, — anything.”

There are two saints who seem to have been designed for our everyday world.

The fine arts class, under the direction of Miss Crossman, has arranged an exhibit of miniature model homes, as pictured by Life Magazine, in room 8.

Eight houses, originally designed by famous American architects, for families with incomes ranging from $2000 to $10,000 yearly have been cut out and put on display. The floors plans of each house are also included.

Karl Grimm, a nephew of Walter and Leta Grimm, is making the miniature homes from plans drawn by architects and his project was sold to the Life Magazine. Mr. Grimm is a graduate of Purdue, and has a master’s degree from the Wharton School of Finance in Philadelphia.

Limitation grass has been used for lawns and cotton for snow in the two winter settings. Drive ways are made of pebbles or splotch; sidewalks of cork or sponge. Lawn furniture, tennis courts, lil y pools, and rock gardens add realistic touches.

Ford V8's Take Oldmobiles To Win Championship

Coming from behind in the last few minutes of play, the Ford V8s defeated the Oldmobiles 23-21 to capture the Intramural championship, when the Austin A team which had been victorious in the V8's first place, were upset 29-25 by the Inter continentals.

Facing defeat with but five minutes remaining and four points behind, the Olds set to work in earnest. On three successive long shots by Davidson, who had starred for the winners, they took the lead and Captain Gerald Peterson then "called" the game when he drove in from the side to sink a short shot.

Getting off to a slow start in their first game by being defeated rather easily by the Austins, the Ford continued to improve with each game and by the last frame were in the lead.

Outstanding was the play of the Peterson five, so superior to the vans that the city championship is undisputed in second place, and the list of nona cagers found enough scrap to allow any let-up. Art's starting running mate, Bill Kazrowski, followed in the individual scoring, garnering 8 points. Moorhead's scoring was evenly divided with Putney and Kellet getting 11 and Preston 10.

With the hard driving Captain Andrejek again spurring his team, the Peds defeated a fine passing squad of St. Mary's, who had won two games and tied one. However, mention of only the last two games would be just to mention a few of the many that may be considered for the title.

Winona Peds Defeat Mankato Indians, 53-52

In Overtime Thriller

In one of the most thrilling contests a crowd ever yelled itself hoarse through, the Winona Warriors captured top place in the conference ratings by nosing out Mankato in an overtime, 53-52 on January 27. The regular game ended at 43-all.

Matching basket for basket, the teams struggled to a 26-all deadlock at the half. The Peds had a seven-point lead to overcome in the last frame. With but one minute to go, and Winona fighting a 4-point lead, the Spencer brothers tossed by our captain, and one retaliating free throw by Knoll and a driving style of play with fine teamwork and accurate shooting, the Minnesotans managed to make the last minute of play, thus forcing the game into an overtime that produced the desired results.

Redmen Take First Game In Series

Led by the elusive Garrett Barry, who amassed a total of 14 points, the Redmen of St. Mary's handed the Teachers a sound trouncing taking to the lead in the city series. Following closely on the heels of Barry for scoring honors was Captain Art Andrejek, who garnered 12 of the Warriors' 26 points. Art received 13 chances from the free throw mark, and sank 8 of them.

The score at the half was 20:15 in favor of St. Mary's, and gave indications of a good second half, but such indications became of no significance as Barry paced the red-shirted cagers to 28 points while the Flesse-Five failed to connect. The game ended with a score of 47-20, the Peds apportioning most of their points to reserve guards. However, mention of the time for the next encounter rolls around there need be no feeling that the city championship is packed away in cold storage. It is the opinion of many that the Peds are capable of much better ball than was displayed in the first half.

The reserve squad of W.S.T.C. deserves honorable mention for defeating a fine squad of St. Mary's reserves in an exciting fourth quarter, 32-30. Foss led our reserves with seven field goals and a gift shot to make one less than half the total points. Ball scored 12 points for the vanquished to take second place honors in the contest.

Despite the loss of the services of Captain Andrejek, the Winona cagers found enough spirit Saturday night to again come from behind in a tough game and remain on top of the Northern Conference standings. The game ended 35-20, much to the misfortune of Duluth, who lost three players on fouls during the overtime. One was Captain Cerwinski, who gained Moorhead's scoring honors of the evening with a total of 10. Field goals during the overtime by Kaczowski, R. Spencer, and Guimand, and a free throw by Walker showed well for the final analysis against Duluth's lone free throw.

The first quarter ended 0-2 for Duluth. Winona went on a scoring spree the second quarter to tighten the score to 19-18 at the half. Though Winona never was ahead of Duluth during the game, they managed to make the last minute one of the times they were tied, thus forcing the game into an overtime which produced the desired results.

Compete Keenness In W.A.A. Tournament

Hi-dee hi, hi-dee ho, Come on, girls, let's go!

Yes, and by the looks of things Ethel Meyer's and Virginia Robb's basketball teams are doing just that. Ethel's team after getting off to a slow start has finally been victorious in the last two games. That means that both teams have won two games and tied one. Virginia's team is ranked considerably by that "Mutt and Jeff" — Fisher and Kurregoe — combination, but the Meyer gang is out to step the best of them. All in all, it's a good test.
