Mc Cluer, Reidelberger combine talents to direct comic operas

Two one act comic operas and a possible readers' theatre presentation were announced for spring production this week by Mr. McCluer of the music department and Mr. Reidelberger of the speech department. The operas have been cast and rehearsals began last week.

"La Serva Padrona" by Gio- vanni Pergolesi is the story of a young girl named Serpina, who is the communal property of the local aristocrats. She is courted by the count, transferred to another bachelor, and finally, it is seen that she has taken the open acceptance of the count's son, a turn of events which the opera's name implies. The story involves a tense situation, concluded by the count's son's departure and the complete acceptance of Serpina by the count, thus proving her the story of loving two men and having one's heart's desire in the end.

"The Little Old Lady of Leipsic" features the story of an elderly woman who lives with her middle aged son and is courted by younger men. The opera is set in Paris, France and opens with a group of young men singing to an old woman who is living with her son. The opera ends with the young men still singing, and the old woman contentedly looking out over a flower bed. The opera is a light, comic one, and is sung in French.

The operas are being directed by Mr. McCluer and Mr. Reidelberger. The cast consists of Eileen Matlock, Marlene Zablocki, James Deschamps, and Bruce Goodspeed. The orchestra will include several students and will be conducted by Mrs. McCluer.

Tri - college class begins with 31 scholarships

The Minnesota Council of Economic Education has granted 31 scholarships to a class in economic education which is meeting this spring quarter at Winona State College.

Students are elementary and secondary teachers and administrators from the area. Most of them are experienced teachers and will be given the opportunity to participate in the class on a part-time basis. The class is open to any teacher who is interested in pursuing economic education and who wishes to learn more about the subject.

The course will be conducted by Dr. Gregg, chairman of the department, and Mr. Reidelberger, who will serve as the assistant coordinator. The course will meet on Tuesdays at 2:00 p.m. in the university center. The first survey of the class will be conducted on Feb. 10, and the final exam will be held on Apr. 27.

The issue, printed by the Inter- national Affiliation Committee, is primarily for the students of Oslo Lærerløy.

Student Senate president opens office in 106 Somsen

"Basically, the role of student government is wide open. It is unlimited due to circumstances here at Winona State," said John Ross, newly elected 31 president. "The potential is here like it has never been before."

Ross, the newly elected student president, has a two-pronged approach to his position. He wants to have more co-operation among the different colleges of the state and to work with other student leaders from different colleges. He has stated that so many of the problems can not be handled by one college alone but must be handled by the whole field of all.

Also, he hopes to see more student involvement at the policy making level of the college. Pos- sibly this would be the task of a joint student-faculty committee.

Looking at the past year, Ross comments that the student government has been a long way to go. "But," he said, "it has a long way to go. The student government did not always work as a group. There has been much ground work to be done, Ross said.

"HOWEVER," Ross warned, "all of this is based on student support. I want to reflect what the students want. Nothing will happen without student support."

To aid in student support and direct participation, Ross will have his own office in Somsen Room 106, Student Personnel. The hours are daily 3-4.
Open House looks dim

Open House on April 28, from Noon until 2 p.m., promises to be a good idea.

Many WSC students who bring dates that do not attend Winona State University, the dormitory students, might be their only chance to show their favored one where they live.

Open house is regularly scheduled for the first Sunday in each month, which would be the following Sunday, but the rules are not so inflexible that a change, if desired, could not be brought about.

If students want to show their dates where they live, from Noon until 2 p.m., True,Wesley Parents Weekend there probably will be an open house, but how many students would want to do so?

As it presently stands, the roommates make the decision as whether or not they want to have an open house by simply leaving their door open or locking it. For those students who want to show it off, whether or not they want to have an open house by simply leaving their door open or locking it. For those students who want to show it off.

The decision is made not to have an open house then, we deplore the decision and will ask the students or for the convenience of those in charge.

Noteworthy news in brief

Editorial

Senate makes first mistake

In the current campaign for Clubs and Organizations Senator, certain iniquities have risen which seem to need further investigation.

Two candidates for the offices were nominated on April 17. One of these campaigns through the P.O.'s, an act which is illegal. The Senator officers, including one of the candidates of having campaigned through the P.O.'s.

The Senate executives have seemed step out of line. A bill early in their new term, we feel. The candidate who violated the rules claimed ignorance of the law, even though she had an entire nomination period, including one of the executives. Also, the rules were clearly printed in the Winonan three weeks ago, in the April 8 issue.

It is indeed a pity, after expecting such marked improvement from our newly elected Senate officers, to see them make so gross an error so soon. We hope it doesn't happen again.

Senior wants referendum

To the Editor:

I was interested in the editorial of the April 13th issue of the WINONAN. Mrs. Studler stated that "they are good candidates," which is true. But the women living in the residence halls do not want to abolish hours.

Why not have a referendum to get the women's opinion on this matter.

Perhaps this would be a good project for the new Student Senate officers, in order to get the females involved on campus.

The culture of the fantastic baby, better come back later next week, 'cause you ain't on a losing streak—where we are socialized, rationalized, cynicism, and disenchanted. I'll play your apartment or campus.

Sincerely,

Sarah H. Jameson

WSSA invalidates election

By J. M. Wiersha

The election for Club and Organization Senator was invalidates at WSSA on Tuesday because of irregularities in the procedures.

The candidates were Fred Baranski and Shirley Kress.

Miss Kress used the Somesen P.O. boxes as a means for campaigning. The club officers are to sign the petition according to the constitution by-laws. The major offender was John Ross, president, whose duty it was to notify the candidates about election procedures. New nominations were taken, and the running for Organization Senator are Fred Baranski, Marty Lynn, Draim Shep, Shirley Kress, and John Whorton. Elections will be May 2; voting will be only by club representatives at the WSSA meeting.

The Homecoming date for 1967 was disputed. Gary McDowell, homecoming chairman, announced that there are two possible dates: October 14 and 28. On October 14, favored by the athletic department, WSC plays Mankato, and October 28, favored by the athletic department, WSC plays Michigan Tech. Voting for a final decision will be Tuesday.

The election has been changed. The candidates must be nominated by an upperclassman or faculty member and have a 2.5 average. Only five per cent of the senior class will be so honored.

Sofa went on record favoring the teacher evaluation program as so far developed.

Elections for class officers will be as follows: sophomore, May 4; junior, May 10; and senior, May 16. Fred Rossiter, junior president, is in charge of all the details.

"Smog Helper" seeks publicity

To the Editor:

"A picture is worth a thousand words," but also, the Winonan again smashes through with a frivolous, superficial, condescending, unscientific,工作作风 to clean up the WSSA of Smog. A story, consisting of a picture, perhaps more than a thousand words should be mentioned about the time, effort, and work that the TEKE's spent on the Smog.

I think that Winonan should perhaps start recognizing a rip- ple in the sea of apathy; and print something about it, instead of always degrading the situation in the columns.

THE WINONAN should have at least made the TEKE achievement into a story; and express some gratitude for a job well done. I think it is a shame when the TEKE's have to think about who is the student and faculty for helping the "Smog Helper," Tom Laverne, Senior.

Theke's shun over publicity

To the "Smog Helper":

The TEKE's appreciate your interest in our project, but fear that you misinterpreted our motives.

We are aware that every other group, which claims to be an "overpublicity" for all its achievements since the Winonan does not al- ready share the same enthusiasm.

But some young people reject the conviction that individuals can bring less importance and more solvency to our massive, complex systems.

SENSIBILITIES. The stream of con- consciousness is sometimes a raging river.

OSLO NIGHT ... Some 135 faculty students and friends of the college and Norway attended a dinner Sunday evening in Kyushu Commons when Dr. Finn Seyersted, center, holding his daughter Mette, spoke. He is the new Norwegian Consul-General for the Midwest with offices in Minneapolis. From left, Mrs. Seyersted; Mrs. Robert A. DuFresne, President DuFresne; Dr. Seyersted; John Bjornhaug, visiting biology professor from Oslo teachers college, and Mrs. Bjornhaug. Mrs. Bjornhaug showed slides of Norway, while Dr. Seyersted discussed the U.N. Forces. He praised the exchange program between Winona State and Oslo. (Winona Daily News photo)

Math, Physics majors change

Five options for a Mathematics Major in the Bachelor of Arts program are now available, the Mathematics Department, according to Dr. Emmett, Division Chairman of the Mathematics and Science Division.

The five options, anyone of which may be selected by students depending upon his interests are: Mathematical Statistics, Numerical Analysis, Computer Science, Analysis, and Applied Mathematics.

THERE TO five courses are available in each option, and each student will select three to complete the option requirement.

New courses in mathematics are: Numerical Analysis, Statistical Inference, and Mathematical Logic.

New courses are Numerical Analysis 339, with 338 as a prerequisite; Statistical Inference 419, with 319 as a prerequisite, and 452 Mathematical Logic, with Mathematics 227 as a prerequisite.

The NEW PHYSICS major includes a program which will go into effect by September, 1967.

New courses are offered in Statistical Physics, Mathematical Methods in Physics I, and Mathematical Methods in Physics II, and Advanced Laboratory I.

Warrior nine crushes Bemidji - Netmen drop 2, take 1

The Warrior pitchers, Chip Schwartz and Jack Benedict, led the defense, the Winona offense collected 33 hits in three days to sweep a three-game series with Bemidji last weekend. The sweep gave the Warriors an unblemished 3-0 record to lead the NIC.

Schwartz hurled a four-hitter on Friday, leading the Warriors to a 7-3 win in the conference opener. Schwartz recorded 15 strikeouts with his powerful fast ball, while fighting control problems. He walked six batters and hit three, but Coach Grob let him go the distance and he finished the game. The victory gave Schwartz a 2-5 record.

THE WARRIOR batters chalked up eleven hits in the first three innings, bombing Bemidji starter Dan Bergen.

Rich Decker, Chuck Schultz and Tone Smastelhuf picked up two hits, while third baseman Al Iwase collected 33 hits in three innings. The key Bemidji batters stole two bases.

In Saturday's double-header, the sweep gave the Warriors scoring seven runs in the first inning.

Charlie Goroch went 2 for 3, scoring two runs. Pat Roland dropped in a three run homer in the first inning.

The second game developed into a late inning rout, with the Warriors scoring seven runs in the fifth, and seven more in the sixth. Hank Zumbach led the fifteen hit barrage, going 3 for 4 and scoring four runs. Bob Ivers got the win, with Jack Benedict aiding with two innings of perfect relief ball. Roland, Schulte, and Carl Steen all honored for the defending champion Warriors.

THE WARRIORS host U.Morris tomorrow at Galatry Park. Game time is 3 p.m.

Thursday, April 27, 1967

The Warrior tennis team dropped a pair of matches this past week after defeating Rochester 2C-2 on April 19.

La Crosse State picked off a win one victory over the Warriors last Saturday, dumping them 9-6. La Crosse completely dominated the match, which was waged in sub-freezing cold at Lake Park Courts.

TUESDAY the Warriors traveled to Stevens Point, where they lost a 12-0, 6-2 match. Larry Espeland, playing third singles, picked up the Warrior's only single glasses victory, 6-4, 6-4. The first doubles team of Nelson and Espeland grabbed the other point, winning 6-4, 8-6.

Dropping only the second singles and first doubles matches, the Winona netmen had little trouble with Rochester.

Friday, the Warriors will continue their road trip, journeying to Stout State, and then on to Mankato on Saturday.
