Ex-Winonans Die in Plane Crash

4-Power Parley Prospects Better

LONDON (U)—Prime Minister Churchill said today prospects of a four-power parley seem to have brightened lately. He added he still favors a conference at the summit "but so far heads of government have not agreed to this method."

The 80-year-old Prime Minister made the statement in the House of Commons.

Amid laughter, he dodged the question of a Laborite who wanted to know if top level talks can be arranged soon enough to enable him to participate in them personally as Britain's leader. There are reports Churchill plans to retire soon.

"The future," Churchill said, "is veiled in obscurity, and I should not like to plunge too deeply into it this afternoon."

Malenkov Missing At Farewell Party

LONDON (U)—Rising speculation about the whereabouts of deposed Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov was heightened today by his absence from a farewell ceremony for a visiting Swedish power delegation.

The Swedes last night ended a 17-day tour of Soviet power stations, made at the invitation of the Soviet government. For unspecified reasons they did not see Malenkov, who was demoted seven weeks ago from the premiership to the post of minister of power stations.

A Moscow radio broadcast describing the departure of the Swedish delegation made no mention of Malenkov. Alexi Pavlenko, described as a deputy power stations minister, saw them off at Moscow Airport. Until Malenkov got the job last Feb. 9, Pavlenko had been the minister.

Malenkov also was missing from the government box at the final session Saturday of the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic, the Parliament of the largest of the 16 Soviet republics. He had attended the previous sessions, which began Wednesday.

There was no official explanation for his absence.

Some Western officials have speculated that Malenkov, who stepped down as premier Feb. 8 with a confession of failure to do his job, was doomed to eventual liquidation. These officials, seeing him as a loser in the Kremlin struggle for power, believed it only a question of time.

Moscow radio last night reported what could be construed as an attack on the ex-premier by Moscow social science teachers.

Meeting under the auspices of the Moscow Town Committee of the Communist party, the broadcast said, the teachers "sharply condemned the anti-Marxist reasoning of certain economists who rejected the law of the primary development of heavy industry under socialism."

As premier, Malenkov undertook to ease the lot of the Soviet people by putting more emphasis on the production of consumer goods and less on heavy industry. With his downfall, this policy was reversed.

The Chicago Tribune Press Service reported yesterday that rumors were circulating in London that Malenkov was executed last Thursday. The dispatch said the reports had been received "through diplomatic channels" from New Delhi.

The cloud that went up from the detonation, set off from a 500-foot tower, was flat across the top, unlike the usual towering clouds seen in the past here. It appeared that there was an icecap atop the cloud.

The Atomic Energy Commission had scheduled today's shot originally for last March 14 but unfavorable weather had forced postponement of the major detonation, although smaller tests were carried out.

At Cedar City, Utah, 170 miles northeast of the test site, residents reported that the shock today was the greatest they had felt from an atomic detonation. In that city the air vibrated from the shock.

The flash was seen in Salt Lake City, Utah, 360 miles northeast.

From Angel's Peak observers said vapor trails could be seen and appeared to criss cross above the fireball. Some 80 military planes were scheduled to fly practice missions in the shot area while 40 others were aloft in the general area on other missions.

Actually, today's blast didn't come up to expectations of observers in Las Vegas and on Angel's Peak and they said it was doubtful if anyone would have been blinded by the flash, although most of those on Angel's Peak took the precaution of looking away.

The cloud, shortly after the detonation, started to break up and seemed to be traveling in a north-easterly direction.

Included in the plans for today's test were atomic maneuvers for 650 soldiers and 28 Marines who were scheduled to be in trenches 3,500 yards from Ground Zero.

The pre-dawn tower blast was the first of two shots scheduled for today. An air drop of a less powerful device was planned for later in the day.

Freight Train Hits Truck, Driver Killed

ST. ANSGAR, Iowa (U)—A truck driver was killed today when his semitrailer and a freight train collided on a crossing three miles north of St. Ansgar.

The victim was John Solik, 53, of Molina, Ill. Solik, a driver for Merchants Motor Freight, Inc., St. Paul, was headed north with a load of farm machinery. The truck and an Illinois Central freight car collided at the crossing over U. S. Highway 218. The east bound train was reported traveling at a slow speed.

Grunewald, 2 Others Convicted Of Tax Bribery

Two Others
Acquitted After 7-Week Trial

NEW YORK (U)—Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunewald and Daniel A. Bolich, former assistant commissioner of internal revenue, have been convicted by a federal court jury of a $160,000 tax-fix bribery conspiracy.

Max Halperin, Manhattan tax attorney, was convicted with them. After the seven-week trial, the jury acquitted two co-defendants—Max Steinberg, former group chief in the upper Manhattan division of the Internal Revenue Service, and Harry T. Scherm, a former agent in the same office.

Steinberg and Scherm had been charged with receiving a $40,000 bribe in the case.

The jury of seven men and five women brought in its verdict last night after deliberating 8½ hours. Judge Archie O. Dawson sent sentencing for Friday.

Grunewald, 62-year-old former Washington influence peddler, faces a possible maximum of five years in prison, a $10,000 fine or both. His bail was set at $30,000. His home is Chevy Chase, Md.

Halperin was continued in $5,000 bail and Bolich in $3,500.

Bolich, 34, a Brooklyn resident, faces a possible maximum sentence of eight years in prison and a $15,000 fine. He was convicted on a more serious count applying to a government official.

Halperin, 69, who lives in Manhattan, could draw up to 20 years in prison and $25,000 in fines. In addition to the basic conspiracy charge, he was convicted on three counts relating to impeding witnesses before a grand jury.

Steinberg, 58, lives in Beverly Hills, Calif., and Scherm, 46, lives in Williston Park, N.Y., on Long Island.

The government charged that the five defendants received $200,000 in bribes to halt action in two income tax cases. Bolich was accused of quashing two possible tax prosecutions at the request of Grunewald and Halperin.

The indictment said the money was paid by the New York dress-manufacturing firm of Pattullo Modes ($140,000) and the Gotham Beef Co. ($60,000).

For this the 57-year-old Minneapolis woman Monday was named "Minnesota Mother of the Year."

As owner and director of the Home Study School of Minneapolis for 20 years, Mrs. Fraser has tried to give retarded children the chance of becoming useful citizens.

It began when she realized that her own daughter, Jean, had been left deaf from a severe meningitis attack. Mrs. Fraser worked up a system of rhythmic-harmonious and expressive dancing to arouse response in children where other treatment failed.

Jean is now one of her assistants in helping handicapped children and young adults.

Her family life has had more than its share of tragedy. Her small son was killed in a fall from a car. Her husband, a federal agent, was killed in the line of duty. A daughter died as a baby.

She was born in Grand Forks, N.D., and attended Valley City Normal School in North Dakota. Various state women's groups nominated her.

Mrs. Louise W. Fraser, Minneapolis, right, is shown with her daughter Jean after being chosen Minnesota's "Mother of the Year" Monday for her work with retarded children over the past 20 years. Her efforts started with Jean when the girl was left deaf and ailing by a meningitis attack. The daughter now helps her mother as an instructor at the Home Study School Mrs. Fraser founded. ## Impeached President Of Panama Convicted PANAMA (U)—The National Assembly today convicted impeached President Jose Ramon Guizado as an accessory in the assassination of his predecessor, President Jose Antonio Remon. It sentenced him to six years and eight months in prison.

In addition, the Assembly formally stripped Guizado of his rank as President and banned him from public office. The verdict was reached at a secret session of 14½ hours at the Palace of Justice.

Sources in close touch with the National Assembly said the 53 deputies reached their verdict before dawn by a 45-8 vote.

A two-thirds vote of the Assembly membership was required for both conviction and sentence.

Acquittal for Guizado—a wealthy 56-year-old civil engineer who was educated in Tennessee at Vanderbilt University—would have meant that he could have reclaimed the presidency. Ricardo Arias Espinosa, second vice president under Remon, replaced him Jan. 16.

The prosecution during the trial charged that Guizado plotted the assassination with Ruben Miro, a socially prominent lawyer, to grab power and make millions. The prosecutor demanded a maximum sentence of 35 years imprisonment—20 years as a principal in the crime and 15 more years under a penal code provision covering acts against the safety of a president.

Previously officials had indicated the prosecution would seek a 10-year sentence, the maximum for an accomplice in a homicide.

The defense argued that Guizado was being tried for political reasons because a clique wished to remove him from office. It argued that Miro alone had plotted the killing.

Miro first confessed the slaying and implicated Guizado. The impeached President pleaded innocent and Miro later repudiated his confession.

The Assembly began its deliberations about 7 p.m. last night, several hours after defense attorney Felipe Juan Escobar delivered the last argument in the eight-day trial.

In his confession, Miro said Guizado had promised him a Cabinet post.

Q. What is the possibility of a general war starting in the Formosa Strait? A. That is a question for President Eisenhower. He makes the decision, under congressional authority, on what constitutes an attack on Formosa.

Q. And if the Red Chinese attack Matsu or Quemoy? A. The decision on U.S. action probably will come before the actual attack. It hasn't been made yet. The answer on Matsu and Quemoy depends largely on whether or not the attack is directed at Formosa.

Q. What do our diplomatic representatives in the Pacific report? A. They don't believe Red China wants to go into the Asia-Pacific conference at Bandung in mid-April while attacking the United States in the Formosa area.

Q. Can Matsu and Quemoy be taken by the Peiping Reds? A. It would require a major attack. We don't think it would succeed.

Q. What about the report from military sources that mid-April is a sort of D-day for war in the Pacific? A. That gives a completely erroneous impression. The administration doesn't think we'll be in a war in mid-April, or later. It's just not so.

Q. If Matsu is attacked, along with an air attack that includes Formosa, what would the United States do? A. If the attack is directed at Formosa, the United States would reply. We're committed by our treaty.

Ike Doubts China Ready For Big War

President Refuses
To Believe April 15
Deadline for Reds

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower does not believe Red China is prepared to cause any major conflict in the Formosa Strait in the weeks just ahead.

The President does not share the view that a Red Chinese attack might be made on the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu by April 15. He has rejected this estimate of the situation by some military sources, reported from Washington during the weekend.

Information reaching the White House indicates Red China lacks air bases and supplies to back up an amphibious assault on the islands, just off the Chinese mainland.

These views were outlined by an authoritative administration source in a discussion of key current issues in the foreign relations field.

Sees Big 4 Talks

As for the possibility of a Big Four conference, the source said the administration sees all signs as pointing to a meeting of some type. The question is when, where and what form it will take.

On the question of war or peace in the Formosa Strait, the source said the administration was disturbed by the weekend report that the Communists would be capable of an early attack on Quemoy and Matsu.

The report, the source said, gave an erroneous and possibly alarming picture which might lead some to believe the United States would soon be in a full-scale shooting war with atomic weapons.

Also, he said, it was felt that such talk could damage the American position with some foreign nations that take issue with parts of U.S. policy in the Formosa area.

Decision Up to Ike

The source said Eisenhower does not minimize the danger in the Far East. He was said to feel that the situation is likely to become increasingly serious and that nobody can predict what Red China might do.

A decision whether the United States would go to the defense of the offshore islands rests with Eisenhower.

The decision probably would come before any actual attack but it hasn't been made yet, the source said.

As for the prospects of a big power meeting, the administration was said to feel that a foreign ministers conference likely would precede a meeting of chiefs of government.

Here are some questions on the key issues with answers from the administration source:

Q. After Tehran, Potsdam and Yalta, does the Eisenhower administration see any possibilities in another top-level conference? A. Yes, with conditions. This means finding out first some evidences of good faith.

Q. Are we going to have a war April 15? It's reported that on about that date the military expect an attack on the Matsu Islands. A. That prediction doesn't reflect the views of the Eisenhower administration. Nobody can say what the Chinese Reds might do. But our information is that they lack air bases and supplies. There's no evidence of a sufficient buildup at this time.

Q. What is the possibility of a general war starting in the Formosa Strait? A. That is a question for President Eisenhower. He makes the decision, under congressional authority, on what constitutes an attack on Formosa.

Q. And if the Red Chinese attack Matsu or Quemoy? A. The decision on U.S. action probably will come before the actual attack. It hasn't been made yet. The answer on Matsu and Quemoy depends largely on whether or not the attack is directed at Formosa.

Q. What do our diplomatic representatives in the Pacific report? A. They don't believe Red China wants to go into the Asia-Pacific conference at Bandung in mid-April while attacking the United States in the Formosa area.

Q. Can Matsu and Quemoy be taken by the Peiping Reds? A. It would require a major attack. We don't think it would succeed.

Q. What about the report from military sources that mid-April is a sort of D-day for war in the Pacific? A. That gives a completely erroneous impression. The administration doesn't think we'll be in a war in mid-April, or later. It's just not so.

Q. If Matsu is attacked, along with an air attack that includes Formosa, what would the United States do? A. If the attack is directed at Formosa, the United States would reply. We're committed by our treaty.

Airline Pilot, Wife Killed in California

Two former Winona residents—Mr. and Mrs. Nealon W. Thompson—were killed Monday when their light plane crashed into a canyon on a takeoff from a muddy, unused mountain airstrip in northern California.

Also killed was a neighbor of theirs from Bellevue, Wash., Peter David Jr., 42.

Thompson, who received his first flight instruction here, had been a pilot for Northwest Airlines for more than 15 years.

The trio were en route on a vacation flight to Ventura, Calif. Thompson's brother, J. T. Thompson, lives at Santa Paula, near Ventura. They left Bellevue—a suburb of Seattle—about 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Remaining at home with friends were the Thompsons' four children, and also at home were David's wife and two children.

Presumably they had stayed overnight Sunday somewhere along their southern route.

(The crash occurred at the village of Leggett in Mendocino County; Leggett is about 50 miles north of Ukiah, and Ukiah is about 300 miles north of San Francisco; Ventura, their destination, is about another 350 miles south of San Francisco.)

Yesterday the trio were following Highway 101 southward in northern California. When they encountered rain and fog, they landed at a redwood logging company's emergency airstrip at Leggett to ask the best route southward.

The Associated Press said that they were advised against taking off from the muddy strip which had not been used for two years, but they tried it. A wing tip was clipped off against a big tree as the plane struggled to be airborne, and the fragile craft spun crazily into a 500-foot-deep canyon of the south fork of the Eel River.

Deputies Injured

Sheriff's deputies who tried the steep descent down the canyon walls slipped down the 500-foot cliffside and were unable to get out until Deputy Coroner Everett Hank maneuvered a small boat through swollen waters of the raging river.

Death of all three fliers was instantaneous, said Hank.

He said that his boat, laden with bodies and two injured deputies, sideslipped a big rock on the way out and nearly capsized.

The bodies will be flown back for funeral services here. They have not been completed.

Mothers Live Here

Pilot Thompson's mother is Mrs. J. H. Thompson, 477 Harriet St.; his wife's mother is Mrs. Laura Johnson, 311 E. 4th St.

Other survivors include: Four children, Patrick, 11; Theresa, 6; Carol, 4, and Scott, 2. Nealon's two sisters, Mrs. Rosemary Coleman, Lake City, and Mrs. James D. Cole, 362 W. Howard St.; Nealon's brother, J. T. Thompson, Santa Paula, Calif., and his grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Nealon, 477 Harriet St.

Mrs. Thompson was an only child.

Mrs. Thompson, born at Tracy in 1916, was graduated from Winona Senior High School in 1934 with her husband and was employed at the Winona Clinic prior to her marriage at St. Thomas rectory here Feb. 10, 1942.

Thompson, born May 9, 1916, at Superior, Wis., took his first flight training under Max Conrad. During World War II he flew the Alaska and Orient routes for Northwest and since moving to Washington had been on the Seattle-Tokyo segment again. He had just returned from a roundtrip flight to Tokyo before beginning his vacation flight to visit his brother.

First news of the deaths for Winona relatives came from Jack Volkel, another former Winona man and a Northwest pilot, who said he was part owner of the plane.

Queen's Name On Hotel Irks Some Canadians

OTTAWA (AP)—Some opposition members of Parliament are hoping mad over reports that Queen Elizabeth's name is going to be linked on a Montreal hotel with that of U.S. hotelman Conrad Hilton.

The Hilton Corp. has a 15-year contract to manage the Canadian National Railways' new 20-million-dollar hotel under construction in Montreal. The general impression has been that it will be named for Britain's sovereign.

William Hamilton, Progressive Conservative member for Montreal, told the House of Commons yesterday that the hotel probably will be called the Hilton-Queen Elizabeth. Transport Minister George Marler refused to confirm or deny this.

He was joined by H. W. Herdridge, Socialist (Cooperative Commonwealth Federation) from Vancouver, who said it would be a "ghastly business" if Hilton's name got on the hotel.

Herdridge complained that U.S. management of the hotel was a blow to Canada's pride, damaging to the nation's prestige and a reflection on the ability of Canadians to manage such affairs.

If a Hilton name is put on the hotel, he said, Parliament should condemn what he termed a government attempt to put Canadian money at the disposal of "these empire builders from the U.S."

The transport minister replied that he was convinced the contract with the U.S. company is a good one for the railway and the Canadian people.

Niagara River's Ice Jam Left to Mother Nature

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Nature took over today where man's best efforts had failed. The Niagara River's mighty ice jam was left to the elements.

And there was a good chance that the elements would respond quickly. The weather outlook was favorable for the first time since the jam began a week ago when ice from Lake Erie plunged down over the falls.

In addition, several expanses of open water were reported in the 12-mile stretch of the lower Niagara between the falls and Lake Ontario. Breaks were seen in the final six miles where 40 and 50-foot mountains of ice had done their greatest damage.

Demolition experts touched off 925 pounds of dynamite yesterday in the face of the jam at the river's mouth. Two does of slush ice broke away, but the main jam refused to budge. Army engineers gave blasting up as a hopeless job.

Comptroller General Has Mind of His Own

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph Campbell, handpicked by President Eisenhower as comptroller general, started with a bang. He put a firecracker under the administration's highway program.

If this surprised the administration, it must have doubly surprised Campbell's critics in Congress. They had suspected out loud he'd be an administration yes-man.

Campbell, a 55-year-old New Yorker and an accountant all his life, was treasurer and vice president of Columbia University, where Eisenhower was president. He must have made an impression on Eisenhower.

In 1953 Eisenhower made him a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. Campbell got into the row of his life when he voted for the administration-backed Dixon-Yates contract. Under it private power companies would build a 107-million-dollar power plant to supply the Tennessee Valley Authority with power to replace power which the TVA sent into atomic plants.

TVA's friends in Congress and elsewhere practically screamed in protest. They said they saw this as an opening move to undercut TVA. Tennessee's two Democratic senators, Gore and Kefauver, didn't forget Campbell's role in Dixon-Yates.

Last December Eisenhower appointed Campbell comptroller general.

The comptroller general is head of the government's General Accounting Office, which Congress created in 1921 as a watchdog. The comptroller general has to watch how the government spends money and keep Congress informed about it.

Campbell's appointment ran into trouble in the Senate right away, particularly from Gore.

Gore said he had nothing against Campbell personally but an accountant was not the man for the job; it should go to a lawyer or former member of Congress.

And besides, Gore expressed fear Campbell might, as comptroller general, go along with the administration instead of being critical when it needed criticism. But the Senate finally approved Campbell March 18.

Yesterday he was called before the Senate's Public Roads subcommittee, of which Gore is chairman. Gore wasn't there. Gore, severest critic of the administration's 107-billion-dollar highway program—which seems doomed anyway—has offered a program of his own, an eight-billion-dollar one.

Campbell was asked what he thought of the administration's program. He blasted it.

Adm. Byrd Plans Fifth Visit To Antarctic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd will make his fifth visit to the antarctic later this year as head of a U.S. scientific expedition.

The expedition, announced late yesterday by the White House, will set out in November and continue into 1957. Byrd will be 67 when the expedition begins.

The Navy is organizing the trip to set up scientific observation sites for use in the International Geophysical Year, 1957-58. During that period, scientists from many countries have agreed to conduct simultaneous studies in the earth sciences.

Byrd, who was officially retired as a junior officer in 1916, will be called back to active duty as "officer-in-charge" of the expedition. The task force commander will be Capt. George Dufek, a veteran of two previous expeditions to the antarctic with Byrd in 1939-41 and 1946-47. Dufek will be responsible for the conduct of the expedition, the Navy said. Byrd will serve principally as an adviser.

Expedition plans call for the establishment early in 1956 of a main operating station in Little America, scene of Byrd's previous explorations. Two other observation stations will be built, one of them as near to the South Pole as the expedition can get it.

Five states have towns named California, says the National Geographic Society.

Levee Parking Site to Get Board Check

Park-Recreation Commissioners Let Contract for Sodding

The Park-Recreation Board will hold a special meeting in the next few weeks to observe the proposed site of a new parking lot in Levee Park.

Secretary M. J. Bambenek Monday read a letter to the board in which the City Council requested that the board "reconsider" its stand that the two Levee Park blocks east of center be developed as a municipal parking area.

The Council wants the lot developed over a 2-block area west of Center. Plans for the east site have been virtually completed by the city engineer. The board had found that a lot to the east would be more suitable in maintaining the appearance of the area. A Chamber of Commerce survey had determined that the greatest demand was for a west location, but the poll was taken before the parking lot at the Winona County Courthouse was erected.

Now it has been noted that there is a considerable increase in demands for parking facilities in the west area due to the move of the Lake Center Switch Co. to 51 Johnson St.

The inspection of the site and plans being prepared do not constitute a refusal but rather will give the opportunity to see how trees and other vegetation will be affected by the switch. Board members were generally agreed they would go along with the Council request.

Let Sodding Contract

The board also took final action on the sodding of the Gabrych Park infield and approved a suggestion by City Engineer W. O. Cribbs, which had the approval of the Council that a drainage system be installed with the new sod.

Low among two bidders for furnishing and placing sod was the La Crosse Landscape Co. at $1,047 for 1,612 square yards of sod, which will cover the infield and portions surrounding the infield to the grandstand.

The only other bidder was Dale Welch, 254 E. 4th St., $2,700.

A representative of the La Crosse firm, Gerald J. O'Neil, said work could be begun even before the May 5 date specified by the bids if P-R crews complete conditioning of the area to be sodded. The work is to be completed by May 15. The Winona Chiefs have an exhibition game scheduled for May 17 with the Southern Minny home season opener scheduled five days later.

The drainage system will be laid by P-R crews, with the city paying the materials cost of between $850 and $380 as estimated by the engineer. The tile will be laid along the base paths and in the unsodded area, extending to a catch basin under the grandstand.

Agree on $50 Fee

In another matter relating to the Chiefs, the board agreed to keep the rental fee of the park at $50 per game but will ask the Council for confirmation that the difference between that and actual operating costs of about $70 will be made up in the next P-R budget, as has been the policy in recent years.

Another financial matter referred to the Council was a request by Westfield Golf Club for assistance during the 1955 season. Last summer, the board, with Council approval, gave labor in the equivalent of about $500 to the club. This was upped to $1,000 in the board's 1955-56 budget, but was cut by the Council, board members said.

When a 23-man delegation from the club appeared before the board Monday, they were advised to meet with the aldermen. Lambert Sutherland, a director of the municipal course acting as spokesman for the delegation, outlined the club's process of getting "out of the red" financially.

He said they'll need additional help if they are to maintain the course properly this year.

The possibility of increasing membership in green fees was mentioned, but Sutherland said that these had been considered by the directors and that it had been determined that present fees are best suited in view of the persons who use the course and the club itself.

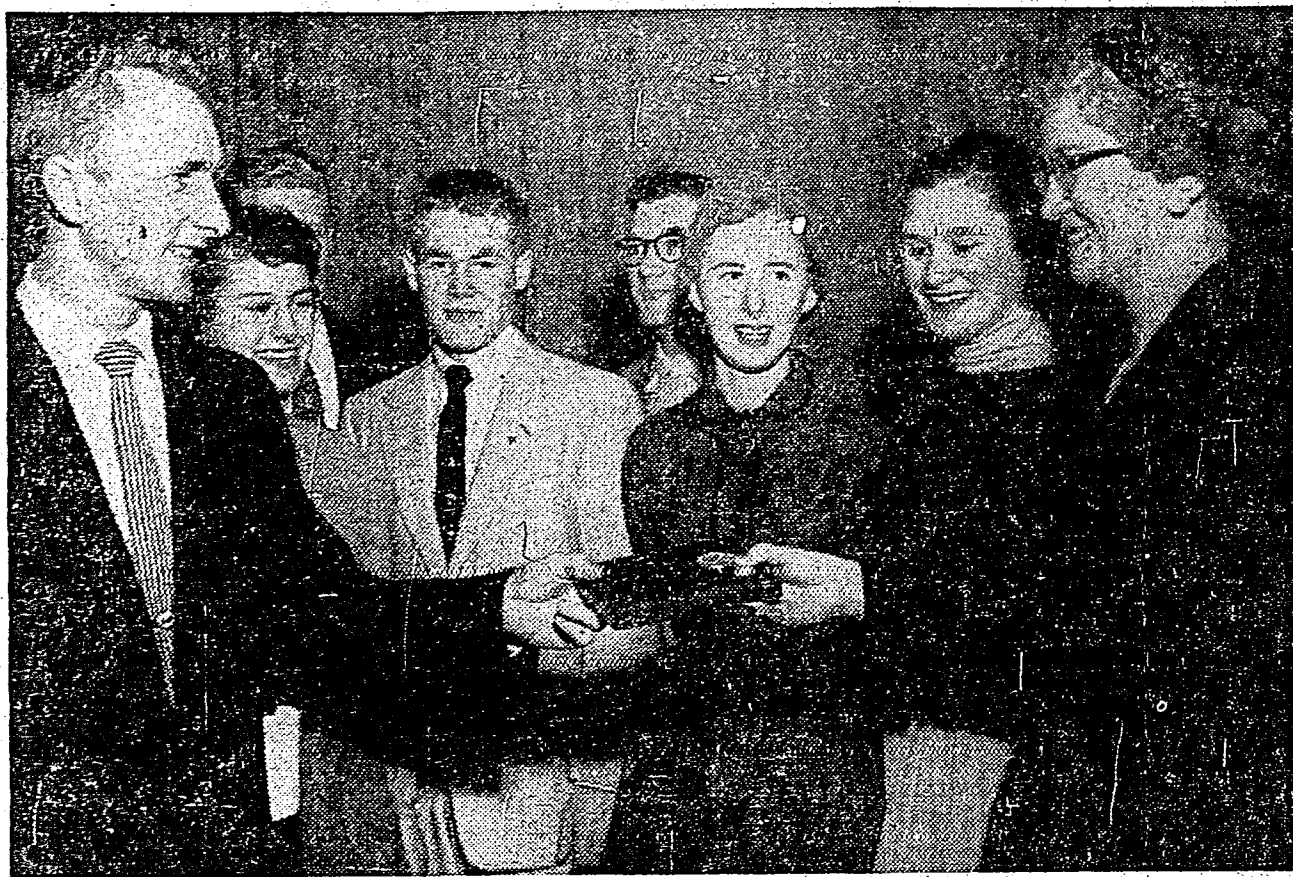

The additional funds, if made available by the Council, would put an additional man on the payroll of the board.

Sutherland indicated the group would contact the Council for assistance on the matter.

Want Building Removed

At the request of Dr. G. L. Loomis, 720 Main St. and a neighbor, Ralph Boalt, 722 Main St., the board instructed Bambenek to tear down a P-R department building near their properties. Dr. Loomis had made a similar request last year and was told at that time that the board had no objection if they wished to remove the building. It is a small building, measuring about 10-by-15-feet that was used as a lavatory until about a year ago and has since been used for storage of small equipment.

Dr. Loomis said that if the building is removed he may have an opportunity to sell a lot and add income to the city's tax rolls with the construction of a home on the lot adjacent to the P-R property on which the building is located. He said the building, which is partially hidden by trees, is considered a nuisance by residents of the area and that it could be dangerous due to its proximity to park

Kellogg Teacher Hurt as Auto Crashes at Alma

Former Alma Man Breaks Leg in Highway 35 Mishap

ALMA, Wis. — John Wills, 33, Kellogg, Minn., history and science teacher, suffered a broken lower left leg and injuries to his right knee late Sunday when his car left Highway 35 four miles south of here and crashed into a swamp near the Mosman Tavern.

A former instructor at the Buffalo County Normal School, Wills was headed toward Buffalo City when his car went out of control, rode on the right shoulder a short distance, swerved across the highway, crashed into the back slope and veered back across the road into the swamp. He was alone at the time. The accident occurred about 9 p.m.

It is reported by friends today that he was thrown out of the car before it came to rest. The only injuries suffered are those to his legs. Supt. H. S. May, Kellogg High School, said today that Wills is expected back at work Wednesday. The teacher was treated by a local physician and is recuperating at a private home in Buffalo City, according to reports.

Wills will face charges which have not yet been named, Buffalo County Sheriff Glen Davis said today. The investigation by Davis and County Traffic Officer Henry Zeichert is continuing. The car is a total wreck, the sheriff said.

House Schedules State Highway Program Debate

ST. PAUL (U)—The state highway program, including a proposed new division of road funds, will be up for debate in the Minnesota House Wednesday afternoon.

The date was set Monday on motion of Rep. Charles Halsted, Brainerd, chairman of the House Highways Committee. Measures embraced in the program, one of the major chores facing legislators, are:

A constitutional amendment splitting highway revenue between the trunk highway fund, counties and cities on a 62-29-9 percentage basis. A bill which would empower cities to issue bonds for trunk highway projects within their borders, with the securities later to be repaid from state funds.

A 20 million dollar bond issue for needed highway bridges, with a 5 per cent surcharge on motor license fees to pay for the securities.

City and urban House members last Monday engaged in a no-decision debate on legislative reapportionment. It did lead, however to some sharp exchanges.

Rep. Carl Iverson, Ashby, chairman of the Reapportionment Committee, said such moves had failed previously because of efforts to "relegate rural representatives to the role of billholders for city members."

"People in a democracy are entitled to the same vote, whether they live in the city or country, whether they are white or black," replied Rep. Leonard Lindquist, Minneapolis.

After the debate, Iverson's motion to advance the bill for final vote today lost, 64-50. Later, the House voted down, 70-26, a motion to kill the measure.

Monday, final day for introducing bills without permission of the governor, brought a new flood 128 in the House and another 61 into the Senate. New measures included one to raise the pay of legislators from $3,000 per session to $4,800 and to increase dependent allowance for computing state income taxes from $10 to $15.

The influx brought total measures introduced in the House to 1,767, with the Senate getting 1,518. Among bills passed was one permitting filleted fish to be brought into the state from Canada.

Bartender Fined For Sale to Minor

Joseph Pampuch, 39, 1650 W. 5th St. paid a $25 fine in municipal court this morning on a charge of selling beer to a minor.

A bartender at George's Tavern, 505 W. 5th St., Pampuch was arrested after police last week picked up a juvenile who was found to have beer in his possession.

Questioning of the youth resulted in his identification of Pampuch as the person who had made the sale.

Col. McCormick Seriously Ill

CHICAGO (U)—The condition of Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, has "taken a turn for the worse," his physician reported today.

The colonel, who is 74, has been in failing health for several months. Today his doctor, Theodore R. Van Dellen, issued a bulletin saying Col. McCormick's condition is "serious."

In recent weeks the colonel had been hospitalized in Chicago but now is at his country home, Canterbury, near Wheaton, in Du Page County.

A Kellogg School Teacher was injured in this battered car late Sunday when it left Highway 35 near the Mosman Tavern, in background, and crashed in a swamp.

John Wills, the driver who was alone, suffered leg injuries. He was thrown clear before the car came to rest and crawled onto the highway to seek help. The man near the wrecker is John Schaefer of Winona. (Daily News photo)

Police Recover Property Taken At Trempealeau

Articles stolen from riverfront cottages near Trempealeau, Wis., last fall were included in two automobile loads of loot recovered following the arrest of three men at La Crosse last week.

La Crosse Chief of Police George C. Long said today that Howard Alexander, 44, and George Oyer, 44, La Crosse, and Lloyd Copus, Baraboo, Wis., have confessed to a number of burglaries in the La Crosse area and are being questioned regarding thefts from the Trempealeau cottages last Oct. 16.

Said to Have Confessed

Alexander was quoted as confessing that he and Oyer had burglarized five Vernon County (Wis.) cottages and several others in Minnesota while Copus admitted thefts from a television store, two taverns and a cottage, all outside La Crosse County.

Following the arrest of the trio, Trempealeau County Sheriff Ernest Axxess asked La Crosse authorities to question the three regarding the Trempealeau break-ins and one of the cottage owners went to La Crosse to inspect the articles recovered from the men.

He identified a motor and a fan as having been taken from the cottages and further questioning regarding the Trempealeau break-ins was in progress today.

Chief Long said that anyone who has articles stolen from cabins along the riverfront in this area might come to police headquarters in La Crosse to determine whether it has been recovered.

Two power lawn mowers, two outdoor motors, several fishing rods and tackle boxes containing fishing equipment, six guns, a number of gun cases, three cases of liquor, an adding machine and a quantity of other merchandise has been recovered by police.

Three other persons have been questioned regarding purchases of stolen property from the three men. Copus also was reported to have admitted the theft of 11 chain saws from a Baraboo firm Nov. 27.

Copus and Oyer last week pleaded guilty to charges of burglarizing the Midway Bar in La Crosse with both cases continued until next month.

First Towboat Through Dam; Fern at St. Paul

Another 'Spring' Day Predicted For Tomorrow

The first towboat of the season passed through Lock & Dam 5A en route to the Twin Cities at 9:05 a.m. today.

The Seneca and nine empty grain barges were actually the third notable "first" of the season.

On March 18, the ice-breaking Coast Guard Cutter Fern passed Winona, but it didn't arrive in St. Paul until Monday afternoon following a 6-day battle through the ice on Lake Pepin. Ice thickness on the 25-mile lake was estimated at between 22 and 25 inches. The second among the firsts was the arrival of the Delta Cities, with 1,700,000 gallons of gasoline for the Shell Oil Co. terminal here Saturday. The Delta Cities, however, did not go north beyond Winona.

The Weather Bureau issued another encouraging forecast today, calling for fair and warmer temperatures tonight and fair and continued mild weather Wednesday.

Lowest temperature in the 24 hours ending at noon today was 21 degrees at 7:30 a.m. today. The high Monday was 39 and the mercury was at 41 degrees this noon.

A low of 26 is forecast for tonight and the weatherman says the mercury may get as high as 58 Wednesday afternoon.

Swedish Ship Loading Cargo For Red China

ISTANBUL, Turkey (U)—A Swedish freighter carrying iron for Red China is now loading more cargo in Communist-ruled Romania before sailing to the Far East, reliable informants say.

These sources identified the ship yesterday as the 4,524-ton Sunnabris. They said she is now at the Romanian port of Constanta and will pass through the Turkish Straits en route to Whampoa, the port for the south China city of Canton.

The Sunnabris passed northward into the Black Sea March 20. At that time her officers reported to Turkish control authorities that she was carrying 3,900 tons of iron plates, iron bars, paper and cotton consigned from Poland to Whampoa.

In Hong Kong, maritime sources reported yesterday that the Polish tanker Karpaty has arrived at Whampoa with about 10,000 tons of petroleum, including jet plane fuel. There was no official confirmation of the report. The sources said the Karpaty was one of two Polish tankers making regular runs between Constanta and Whampoa.

Two Shifts Of Men Are Operating this steam-driven pile driver at the Dairyland Electric Co-operative station, Alma, Wis., in the preliminary stages to erection of an $8½ million addition.

Between 700-800 southern pine poles are being driven into the ground as footings for the new plant. Men and equipment are from the L. H. Bolduc Co., Inc., Minneapolis, which has subcontracted the work from Fegles Construction Co., Minneapolis. (Daily News photos)

A Cofferdam is Being Installed at the Alma Dairyland Electric Co-op station as work proceeds on a multi-million-dollar expansion. The dam will hold back the Mississippi River while an outlet tunnel is cut back to make room for a dock extension. Steel channels are intermeshed for the dam and a steam-driven hammer pounds them into the river bottom.

Piling Being Driven For New Alma Plant

By Daily News Staff Writer
ALMA, Wis. — Groundwork on the new $8½ million expansion at the Dairyland Electric Co-op station here is on a two-shift basis after a piling bottleneck was relieved last week.

The $1,250,000 substructure and dock expansion phase of the big project was held up temporarily early this month while proper piling poles were being sought. Original shipments from the south were not satisfactory as some of the pine poles were too long and not first-class wood.

Acceptable poles are now on flat cars next to the Alma plant and crews of the L. H. Bolduc Co., Inc., Minneapolis are working two shifts driving the piles next to the main plant where the addition will be built. It is hoped, according to John Burg, plant superintendent, that concrete can be poured for footings about June 15. A rising river may extend this deadline.

A 150-foot extension of the river dock, where coal barges are moored and unloaded, is proceeding nearly on schedule. Metal cofferdams are now being installed near the screen house to permit work on the outlet tunnel which must be shortened about 25 feet.

Fegles Construction Co., Minneapolis, is general contractor for this primary work. Later the superstructure will be constructed and a re-heat generating unit installed. A late 1956 completion date is anticipated. The installation will make the Alma plant the largest of its type in the nation for rural power loads.

40 Flee Pre-Dawn Fire in Minneapolis Apartment Building

MINNEAPOLIS — One man was overcome by smoke and more than 40 persons fled today when a pre-dawn fire swept through an apartment building, causing damage estimated at $50,000. The building is at 1807 Elliott Ave. S.

Marvin Brathall, one of several occupants carried out by firemen, was found unconscious in a third-floor hallway. He was reported in poor condition at General Hospital, suffering from smoke inhalation.

The fire apparently broke out near a third-floor apartment. The three-story building contains some 20 apartments. Flames burned through the roof of the building before being quenched.

4 Brothers Sent Back to Jail for Draft Violations

ST. PAUL — The four Doty brothers from Bruno, Minn. were due to start their second set of prison terms within five years today for violations of the nation's draft laws.

The four, Joel, 28, Orin, 27, Paul, 26, and Sid, 25, were given two-year sentences in federal prison for failure to report for military service. In 1951, the quartet had received sentences for failure to register for the draft.

The Dotys argued, unsuccessfully, that their draft commitments had been made illegally by federal authorities while they were still serving the initial terms. All have claimed conscientious objection to military service on religious grounds.

Russ Announce Purse-Snatching Gang Smashed

MOSCOW — Izvestia, the official newspaper of the government of the Soviet Union, announces the smashing of a gang of purse-snatching extortionists who terrorized the city of Molotov, in the western Ural.

It is rare for any Russian/newspaper to publish crime news.

But Izvestia found space for a score of lines to tell about these six rascals (including a woman). They concentrated on grabbing women's purses. Then, in addition to looting them they used identification cards found in the handbags to get addresses to send threatening letters.

The cops got busy and found that the leader of the six was pretty good at manufacturing homemade knives for stabbing as well as poison pens for writing extortion letters.

Even before Izvestia prints the verdict, the labor camps can count on six more population.

Jelke Lawyers Set to Finish Defense Today

NEW YORK — Minot F. (Mick) Jelke's lawyers expect to finish the young oleomargarine heir's defense today against accusations that he induced a girl to be a prostitute.

When the trial recessed yesterday with a banker still on the stand, chief defense attorney George Washington Herz said he needed only one more day to wind up his case. On this basis, the jury may begin deliberating a verdict tomorrow or Thursday.

Banker Charles F. Salkeld was scheduled to be cross-examined today.

He testified yesterday that Jelke, now 25, received about $13,500 in gifts and loans from members of his family between September 1951 and March 1952.

This is the period in which the state says Jelke received from $10,000 to $15,000 from Pat Ward, a high-priced call girl. She testified that Jelke lined up dates for her and she got fees of around $50 to $100.

Salkeld, who handled the playboy's accounts at the Bankers Trust Co., said Jelke's social register mother Mrs. Ralph Teal of Danbury, Conn., deposited $400 a month to his account.

In addition, he said, Jelke got a loan of $2,800 from his late brother John in February 1952. In June and July of the same year he borrowed a total of $10,000 from another brother, Charles. The loans from Charles came after Pat Ward, now 21, broke with Jelke.

Humor Best Prescription For Marriage

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The best prescription for a happy marriage, says Myrna Loy, is to hang on to your sense of humor.

Miss Loy, in private life Mrs. Holland Sargent, thinks she had the best possible preparation for matrimony in her movie roles, which usually called for a gay, modern, wise-cracking wife and a husband who appreciated her jokes.

She played opposite Bill Powell in the "Thin Man" series before the war and later in such successes as "The Best Years of Our Lives" and "Belles on Their Toes." After a two-year vacation from acting, she is coming back for a new TV show, It Gives Me Great Pleasure, based on Emily Kimbrough's hilarious book about the experiences of a woman novelist on the lecture circuit.

The TV work has been very handy, because the studio where the shooting is being done is just across the East River from the Sargents' New York apartment.

Myrna has been blissfully domestic since 1951, when she married Sargent, then an assistant secretary of state but now president of Radio Liberation, a privately supported organization formed to broadcast American news and views to Communist satellite countries.

She has been active as a member of the National Commission of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, has twice been a delegate to conferences in Europe, and retains her interest in the work although not at present a member of the commission.

She divides her time between the New York apartment, a house she has just remodeled in Georgetown, Md., and an occasional spell of work in Hollywood.

Radio Station For U.N. Hard To Give Away

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK — For the past six months Ira A. Hirschmann has been trying unsuccessfully to give a radio station to the United Nations.

The U.N. would like to have the station but hasn't figured out how it would finance it and provide a staff to run it.

The station is WABF, operating on a local FM channel. Hirschmann started it in 1941 in what proved to be a noble experiment in programming.

A music patron and former department store executive, Hirschmann patterned his programs after the third service of the British Broadcasting Corp. The station featured classical music, drama and other cultural programs. Partly because so few sets in this area were equipped to receive FM broadcasts and partly, perhaps, because not enough people cared for the serious programming, the station lost money steadily. Hirschmann took the station off the air in June 1953 but obtained extensions of its permit while he decided what to do with it.

Last August he conceived the idea of giving it to the U.N. and wrote Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, who conditionally accepted in October.

More weeks passed and the U.N. brought up the problem of moving the station from its Hotel Pierre location to U.N. headquarters. It would cost $8,400. Hirschmann wrote on Jan. 17 that besides giving the station, he also would pay the moving costs.

Meanwhile, the proposal for operation by the U.N. of a station of its own received tentative approval from the Federal Communications Commission and State Department, subject to approval of the U.S. delegation to the U.N.

A check with the U.S. delegation shows it still has received no request from the U.N. for authorization to operate the station.

Says a U.N. spokesman: "The acquisition of such a transmitter would provide a useful adjunct to the information resources of the United Nations, but various financial and operational problems are involved. The question still is under consideration."

And there the matter stands. A baby hippopotamus, which weighs about 10 pounds at birth, can swim before it can walk.

Some people gamble on a horse. And come by shooting craps. But coast to coast—He gambles most—Who lets insurance lapse.

Capitol Quotes On the Yalta Papers

"The . . . report . . . appears to have been greatly censored . . . (and) does not truly reflect all which went on — or was agreed to — at the . . . meeting. However, the revelations . . . are sufficient to convince most thoughtful persons that the American delegation . . . used extremely poor judgment and made entirely too many unnecessary concessions to Russia . . . Undoubtedly the report will be a controversial political issue for a long time to come." Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio).

"The bungling, inept handling of the whole affair by the State Department, coupled with the all too apparent political motive which inspired it, has backfired . . . Only the political alarmists sought to blow up the 'revelations' to elephantine proportions. Their efforts have been providing the comedy but have resulted also in tragedy insofar as this nation's world relationships are concerned . . . What the secretary of state . . . did not appear to foresee was the world-wide repercussions that would follow . . . The loss of confidence we have suffered in Britain alone may well be incalculable. The facts of the Yalta agreement were known . . . but the informal and . . . rather tactless discussions among the Big Three were not common property. Making them so accomplishes no peace advancing purpose." Rep. John J. Dempsey (D-MN).

" . . . we believe the Yalta papers should have been made public a long time ago . . . we do not care what England thinks about the . . . release of the . . . papers . . . Of course we need allies abroad. We need them in our self-interest . . . but they need us too, in their self-interest. That seems . . . too readily ignored by those who are always worrying about . . . the reaction of our allies . . ." Rep. Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.).

4-Lane Road Needed On U.S. Highway 61

If progress is to be made on Highway 61 construction between La Crescent and Winona, it appears that the Minnesota Highway Department will have to take the bit and go—as did the Wisconsin Highway Commission when it made up its mind Highway 14 through Coon Valley had to be redone.

Some of the terrain through which U.S. 61 passes in this particular area has the characteristics of the Coon Valley stretch. It is rugged and rolling, with much excavation and grading necessary to carve out a road.

But the then chairman of the Wisconsin Highway Commission, the late James R. Law, resolved that one day the job had to be undertaken, regardless of cost, and he was able to convince his associates on the commission to his point of view.

The result: One of the most structurally perfect highways in the Midwest coursing through high hills that at points ran the cost to upwards of $150,000 per mile—more than double ordinary construction costs for highways on level ground, by present figures.

The Minnesota Department complains, with justification, of course, that construction costs in the neighborhood of $11 million face it in the proposed 4-lane route.

But that does not diminish the necessity for its being done—and with more rapid and certain calculation than has been displayed up to this time.

The same reasons which prompted Mr. Law to act in behalf of Highway 14 prevail in the case of Highway 61. Chief among them, aside from pure necessity for completing the road, was that Western Wisconsin was due a major expenditure to bring its highways up to standard, by comparison with the remainder of the state.

Southeastern Minnesota is due the same attention by the Minnesota Highway Department. The area has benefitted from few highway improvements in ten years, while highways elsewhere in the state have been improved, notably those leading to the northern resort country.

The scenic advantages of Highway 61 alone afford basic argument for its immediate improvement, if the state has tourist dollars in mind, as it must have.

From a basically practical standpoint, it deserves to be built as a modern extension to the Twin Cities for traffic entering the state on Highway 14 at La Crosse, of which the La Crescent-Winona stretch is the weakest link.

The Minnesota Highway Department cannot in fairness resist longer the growing demand that it spend a sizable amount in this area for a modern road—to act with determination as Wisconsin did in hewing out a highway in difficult terrain in the vicinity of Coon Valley.

After all the years of delay, completion as promised by 1957 seems still a long way off for a project as necessary as this one. —La Crosse, Wis., Tribune.

Claques Suffer In Washington

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — Whenever any administration in Washington takes a position on any subject, there is always a claqué of distinguished names that is used for supporting applause. The same names often appeared in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations as now appears in the Eisenhower administration. For many of these men, it is always "God's in His heaven; All's right with the world."

Unfortunately for their reputations, all has not gone well, certainly with the universal desire for a restored and permanent peace. The war, which commenced in 1914, has managed in one form or another to continue to this day. The pessimists who questioned the virtue of secret diplomacy and deals without principle have been justified by the course of events.

AND SO, ONE COMES across comments concerning the Yalta Agreements which are not borne out by the publication of the Yalta documents. For instance, Harry Truman, then Vice President of the United States, said of them:

"We're going to look forward to the most glorious period in the history of the world."

Surely, the period between 1945 and 1955 has not been the most glorious in the history of the world from the standpoint of achievement of any kind.

James Byrnes, who was present at Yalta, said: "Every person should be proud of the role portrayed by the President, especially in the discussion of economic and political problems . . . I was tremendously impressed by the comradeship and genuine affection showed by the three leaders." Elliott Roosevelt, in his book, "As He Saw It," gives us this:

Harry Hopkins is my witness for the statement that the unity of Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt was a firmer and more tangible thing at Yalta than at Teheran. And it was evident that father's role, even more than at earlier conferences, was that of leader. It is not by chance that he sat in the middle when the pictures were taken. He dominated Winston Churchill more completely than before: Joseph Stalin was likewise prepared to heed father's counsel, to accept father's solutions."

The evidence in the documents shows that Stalin was a master of the situation and that the only one of the three who raised his voice in favor of the morality of Western civilization was Winston Churchill in his remarkable defense of free elections.

Admiral William D. Leahy seems to have been one of the very few men in public life, particularly among those who were close to President Roosevelt, who suffered misgivings. He said:

" . . . the proposed peace seemed to me a frightening sowing of dragon's teeth that carried germs of an appalling war revenge at some time in the distant future. There was another compelling factor that kept me from sharing in the feeling of great hope, almost exultation that prevailed in our American delegation as we left Yalta: As to the practicability of maintaining world peace through the United Nations. The essential agreement to destroy German militarism accepted at the conference would make Russia the dominant power in Europe."

WE NOW KNOW from the contents of the documents that Winston Churchill could not at Yalta have believed what he said at the time:

"The impression that I brought back from the Crimea and from all my other contacts is that Marshal Stalin and the other Soviet leaders wish to live in honorable friendship and democracy with the Western democracies. . . . This must have been diplomacy rather than statesmanship speaking, for if any man suffered from a squeeze play, it was Winston Churchill at Yalta who found himself between Roosevelt and Stalin. He was almost an unwanted middleman. In fact, Roosevelt occasionally indicated to Stalin that the British were a peculiar people who liked to have their cake and eat it too, thus giving Stalin a broad hint that he and Churchill were not a unit."

I can only add, to be impartial, that the Republican senator from Vermont, Warren Austin, said of Yalta that "It's the answer to a prayer."

U.S. Making Same Mistake 2nd Time

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK—There's one time you don't find figures monotonous. That's when you're counting artillery shells coming your way.

It's two hours to dawn, and the enemy has been hammering you all night. They're going to jump out of their holes and run at you and fly at you and jump on you at any moment. The longer they wait the worse you get hurt by that hell-fire of mortars and heavy caliber cannons.

Where in Hadesday are they getting all that artillery? And then one day you crawl home over the bodies of dead buddies and somebody tells you our enemy was getting that firepower.

From our friends! That's rough. We got a lot of hardware back from Japan that way once.

Here we go again. While Yankee dollars are presently supporting the Japanese economy, the Japanese are right now playing host to a Chinese Communist Trade Delegation preparing to increase trade between those two countries.

Harvey of the financial support of Osaka merchants who are eager to trade with Peiping and Moscow. Even if all they get in return is narcotics.

What in the world is all the fuss about the "Aruba." One dinky shipload of jet plane fuel we chased back to Red Romania. What about the 1,470 trips which our Allies' ships made into and out of Communist ports last year? What about them?

We all get so hopped up and happy that we managed to scare off one tanker with a piddling 13,000 tons of jet juice. . . . But our parenthetical (friends) delivered a gross tonnage of 8,733,000 tons . . . that's almost nine million tons of stuff. And this traffic with the enemy is steadily increasing.

A number of the shipping companies in Hong Kong, which fly the flags of our "allies," are owned and controlled by Chinese Communists. And this paper wouldn't let me print that if I couldn't prove it. I can.

Most of them sail under the British flag. No wonder the Reds don't try to seize Hong Kong. It's worth more to Communism as a Crown Colony. And that's not all.

The British are now using their navy . . . to protect those shipments. Acting Assistant Secretary of State, Ben H. Brown, Jr., wrote to Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) that British naval vessels on patrol duty around Hong Kong "apparently have orders to render assistance to British merchant ships in the area which encounter interference or other difficulties."

This means . . . Communist ships with Communist cargoes have the protection of the British Navy. Don't tell me the stuff they're trading isn't critical war material. It includes rubber and oil and machine tools. Besides, anything that is sent to the Communists makes them stronger . . . or they wouldn't want it in the first place.

In Oklahoma's early days, anybody who sold firearms or horses or anything to hostile Osages, we'd shoot him. Then, after we were sure he was dead, we'd ask him, "Now, what did you want to do that for?"

Remember, we armed both sides at the 38th parallel. It's time for the Americans who might be dying to recapture this stuff someday to get off their cotton-pickin' posterior and demand that not one more Yankee tax dollar buys anything for anybody who trades with the enemy.

Tone-Deaf Husband Is In Trouble

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (M-Silence is a wife's best weapon. It upsets a husband.

A smart wife (is there really any other kind?) learns to use silence as a club to knock that man in her life off balance.

Every husband leans heavily for guidance on the messages that bubble so dependably from his wife's vocal chords. They tell him whether he's doing all right, or making a mess of things.

Naturally all this tremendous wordfall doesn't register in his feeble brain. He doesn't hear half of it. He doesn't need to. He learns to tell by the tone when he should tune in and really start listening.

But when his wife falls silent, his ears immediately snap to attention. He feels something unnatural has happened—as if he were watching Niagara Falls and it suddenly ran dry. He is totally lost. What has he done wrong? He must have done something wrong. Why won't she tell him?

Husbands don't mind being bawled out when they deserve it half so much as they resent being clubbed by a wife's silence.

Never Shuts Up "My wife never shuts up except when she's mad at me," explained a husband. "But we've been married 20 years, and she has accumulated 836 different grudges against me. When she quits talking to me, how can I tell which one of the 836 reasons has made her mad at that particular moment? If I try to find out and guess the wrong reason, that only gives her another thing to be mad about. It isn't fair."

There are thousands of reasons why wives fall silent, and the only two pleasant ones are—sleep and laryngitis.

What are the worst? A poll of husbands, who insist on remaining anonymous purely in the interest of self-defense, gave these as the "most brutal forms of wisely silence."

1. The why-can't-you-read-my-mind-like-it-was-a-crystal-ball silence—in the midst of a pleasant dinner your wife suddenly ceases speaking. The next words you hear from her, just after she switches off the bedroom light, are, "Why didn't you pass the butter to me? You know I like lots of butter on a baked potato."

2. Then fence-straddling silence—you are driving to visit friends and come to an intersection. "We turn right or left?" you ask. Silence. You turn right. More silence for 10 miles. Then your wife gives you five reasons why you should have known all along you took the wrong road.

3. The yes-I-really-mean-no-silence—you ask if it's all right to play some Saturday golf. Your wife shrugs noncommittally and turns away. All afternoon you wonder what's wrong. It ruins your game. When you return, you find out there were 43 things about the house your wife wanted you to help her with on this one day of the year. No later day can ever make up for it.

4. The don't-take-me-for-granted silence—jokingly, you say, "I know I'm no bargain, honey, but you'd still rather be married to me than any other guy you ever met, wouldn't you?" A thoughtful look comes into her eyes and she hesitates visibly before saying, "Why, of course, silly." But that fraction of silence—it puts you on a real teeter-totter. What other guy had she thought of?

Are Farmers Going To Produce at a Loss?
To the Editor:

As another planting season is nearing, I wonder if we are going to produce at a loss, or if we are going to be guaranteed cost of production? There are many things to be taken into consideration, first you must have the machinery, gasoline, oil, seeds and fertilizer then after you have planted you have the weather hazards to contend with. Then after you have gone through all this maybe you will harvest a good crop, maybe just fair.

Then after harvest when the times comes to sell, you are forced to take what you are offered, but to produce this crop you have had all your expense to meet at a fixed cost. Everyone along the line is sure of his profit except the farmer, he doesn't know all through the season if he is going to even break even, to say nothing about his labor. The working man, the manufacturer, professional people, the retailers, teachers, in fact everyone except the farmer knows what they are going to get. I guess that we are too dumb to know any better. If we would all get busy and write our representatives in Washington and let them know how we feel, it might help some.

Our administration certainly has not kept faith with the farmer. We were promised not only 30 per cent of profit but 100 per cent of parity. As I have said many times before, when farm income is low, everyone else, labor, industry and all walks of life, are hurt, and in the end it brings on a depression. I cannot understand how our administration can expect agriculture to survive when wages are the highest in history, also equipment, and all the necessary things that it takes to run a farm.

I know of many young people in Winona County, and as far as that goes all over the nation, who started farming and have been forced to sell out at a loss, and many more will have to if things don't change, and many of these have served their country. It is certainly not much thanks for serving their country, it is more like a nice slap in the face.

All that I ask and I know that a lot of other people think the same, is that the things that we have to buy and taxes come down accordingly.

I used to consider myself a Republican, but if all that can do is bring on a depression, I think that this will be our last Republican Administration. Neither do I want war to bring prosperity, I know that it can be done without war. I think that if enough heat were put on, demanding the resignation of Secretary Benson, we could get rid of him.

Well folks lets all pitch in and start something, lets show them that we are not as dumb as they think we are.

Something Should Be Done For Enslaved Polish People

To the Editor:

Currently there is some concern expressed in diplomatic circles as to who is responsible for informing the public in part as to what happened at the secret meeting at Yalta. Some of the public were acquainted with a few of the facts shortly after Japan's surrender in August of 1945.

According to Senator McCarthy's recent statement, the people know very little of what happened at Yalta and they shouldn't expect to learn much more in the near future.

At present, there is some talk of repudiating this pact which granted Russia many concessions. Being of Polish descent, and as most Polish Americans are aware of the fact that Poland was sold down the road at Yalta into Russian bondage, there has been for a long time a strong sentiment expressed by the Polish people to have this pact renounced or that an expeditionary force be sent to liberate Communist-dominated Poland even if it means another world war.

Contrary to the statement made by Winston Churchill a few days ago relative to this matter, that he never did care much about the Poles and that he only had deep sympathy for them, there remains the fact that Poland was bombed around the clock into submission for 30 days. That was before her allies entered into the war.

It may also be recalled that after being ravaged by the invading Nazis driving the Russians beyond the border, and then driven back by the victorious Russians across Poland, nothing remained of the latter but scorched earth and the indomitable will of the Polish people to carry on the war from its underground hovels.

In spite of this valuable support given to her allies, nothing is done for these enslaved people in return, although since then we fought a three-year war in Korea, losing 33,000 men, which was later admitted to be a mistake and that it should have been fought in some other part of the globe.

Poland is not free, but quoting from one of its statesmen, as reported in leading newspapers: "Never again will Poland be duped into another war to save democracy."

Parking Lot Would Outweigh Historical Interest
To the Editor:

There has been some discussion recently about keeping the mounds in Levee Park or turning it into a parking lot. A cousin of mine by adoption, Miss Jennie Barnes now Mrs. Rovrik of Moses Lake, Wash. (some old residents may remember her as she attended and graduated from the Normal School, now the Winona State Teachers College) lived not far from Levee Park as a child.

I wrote to ask her if she could give me any information about these mounds. She replied that the children of her day were told they were made by the mound builders. A better historian than this writer will have to tell you who they were. She recalled that people had dug into these mounds but had found only a few human bones and only a lot of old rubbish.

She added that a parking lot there would be of much greater service to present and future generations than any historical interest could yield.

Place Blame For Accidents Where It Belongs
To the Editor:

Why isn't The Daily News screaming "Death Trap" another traffic fatality on the streets of Winona? Why not publish a few facts instead of trying to create mass hysteria? During 1953-54-55 there were as many or more traffic fatalities on the city streets than on Highway 61. During 1954 there were more fatalities on Highway 14 from Winona to Utiaca (10 miles) shorter than 61 from Winona, to La Crosse, than the combined total on Highway 61 for 1953-54-55.

No fatal accident during this period can be blamed on the highway as ice is not peculiar to Highway 61 alone and the law states that you shall drive only as conditions warrant and shall have your car under control at all times.

Now let's look at some statewide figures. In 1954 there were 46,955 accidents of which 535 were fatal accidents resulting in 639 fatalities. Of this total there were only 3,043 accidents and 72 fatalities where there were no traffic violations. Only 1,077 accidents on five fatalities that were beyond the driver's control. Twenty seven thousand, five hundred fifty four accidents and 361 fatalities happened on dry road surfaces and 10,491 accidents resulting in 76 fatalities on icy surfaces. Accidents due to road defects were only 2,344 with 35 fatalities and none of these applied to Highway 61. A total of 25,134 accidents with 196 fatalities happened on straight level roads.

I honestly believe that these figures show that it is about time that the blame for accidents is placed where it belongs, on the people, and not on the highway.

I agree that a new highway is needed, badly, from here to La Crescent. Not because some people insist on calling it a "death trap" but because, due to unwarranted adverse publicity, many people are afraid to use it there by hurting Winona business. Secondly the highway is outdated and cannot adequately handle the flow of traffic during the summer months.

Sex Maniac Feared in Triple Slaying

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—The weird slaying of a well-to-do stock farmer, his son and a daughter-in-law raised fears today that a vicious maniacal killer is at large in a two-state area.

Officers trying to explain the strange triple killing yesterday had one strikingly similar crime for a link.

As in the case of the new victims, the body of a farm woman was found at nearby Mount Vernon, Ind., just one week ago with her hands tied behind her and a bullet through the head.

When Goebel Duncan, 51, and his son, Raymond, 21, were found yesterday in a muddy bottomland field, their hands were strapped behind their backs with belts. A bullet had been fired into their heads.

Sheriff Lee Williams went to the Duncan home to report the tragedy and found the rest of the gruesome crime.

Mrs. Mamie Duncan, 48, wife of Goebel, lay face down on a bed, her clothes stripped from the body from the waist down. Her hands were bound with an electric cord and a bullet was through her head. She pulled through surgery last night but remained in a critical condition.

In another bedroom, the sheriff found lying face down on a bed the daughter-in-law of Goebel. Her hands had been tied with a sash cord. She, too, was nude from the waist down and was shot through the head. Her two-year-old daughter, Shirley Faye, was on the bed sobbing but unharmed.

Officers believe the crime was the work of a sex maniac or a maniacal robber-killer.

Sheriff Williams leaned toward the sex-maniac theory. A doctor reported that neither Duncan woman had been sexually attacked, but the sheriff said there was evidence rape had been attempted.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Susan Sailer, 47, was slain and raped March 21 at her Mount Vernon, Ind., home in a pattern almost identical with that of the Duncans. Her killer remains at large. Mount Vernon is 15 miles northwest of the Geneva community, scene of yesterday's slayings.

'No Joy Ride,' Graham Says of Scottish Outing

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Billy Graham says he visited the vicinity of Scotland's famed Loch Lomond last Sunday but he wasn't on a sabbath "lark."

"I went out into the countryside for relaxation and for meditation and prayer by a mountain side," the American evangelist told his audience of 16,000 last night at the beginning of the second week in his all-Scotland crusade.

After a religious broadcast for the British Broadcasting Corp. Sunday, Graham and his executive secretary went for lunch to a hotel near the lake celebrated in Scottish legend and literature.

The outing aroused reproving comment from some Scots, who believe Sunday activities should be confined to the church and the home. Graham had on a critical telephone call from a man who said he was a representative of the Lord's Day Alliance, an organization of considerable influence in Great Britain.

"I should like to correct an impression that I went on a lark," Graham told his vast audience last night, the largest so far in his six-week crusade. The countryside, he added, "is an excellent place to pray."

Graham based his sermon last night on the 20th chapter of Exodus, in which the Ten Commandments are recorded. After he spoke, 347 members of the audience responded to his call for "decisions for Christ."

The number of passenger automobiles in Sweden rose from 250,000 in 1951 to 540,000 in 1955.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Eisenhower Forces Excel At Controlling Congress

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—They used to talk about a "rubber-stamp Congress" in Roosevelt's day, but nothing in FDR's day ever equaled the clock-life efficiency with which Eisenhower forces now whip GOP senators into line on important votes.

Not only is the Eisenhower machine efficient when it comes to Republican senators, but even with important that a President keep his Congress in line. So let's see how the machinery works.

The technique is chiefly one of getting on the long-distance telephone. The White House to key political backers or contributors in the senators' states or the congressmen's districts. Take, for instance, what happened during the battle over taxes.

To win, Republican leaders needed almost every GOP senator, plus a few Democrats. So here is what happened:

Sherman Adams, assistant president, got on the telephone to Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, a Dixiecrat. Kennon who voted for Ike, Adams asked Kennon to contact other governors to pressure their own congressmen; also to pressure Sen. Ellender of Louisiana, a Democrat.

Kennon knew where some of the big campaign contributions were made in Ellender's recent re-election campaign. In the end Ellender found himself, a life-long Democrat, voting with the Republicans. His sudden conversion was unexpected, for Ellender claims to be a great defender of the little man and the tax bill gave a break to the little taxpayer. But though Senate leaders Lyndon Johnson and Earle Clements spent hours pleading with their colleague from Louisiana, Ellender voted against his own party and with the big oil companies and Dixiecrat governor Kennon. (He was five and a half years before he has to face the little voters who elected him.)

Joe Comes to Heel
Another senator who was wavering was Joe McCarthy. Joe is so sore at the Eisenhower administration that he will vote against them on anything that will hurt—especially if it will also help him back home.

However, it took just one phone call from Washington to change Joe. That call went to Tom Coleman, big wheel of the Republican party in Wisconsin. Coleman has saved McCarthy politically more than once and may have to save him again.

So Tom called Joe and Joe came to heel. He voted with the man he hates—Eisenhower.

Another Republican who planned to vote for the $20 tax cut was hard-working Milton Young of North Dakota, whose farm voters are Republican in name but lean heavily toward liberal Democratic policies. The minute it became known Young was going to desert GOP ranks, however, the pressure was turned on from Washington.

Young has had generous support from some of the big grain companies, and the final tally found him voting against the tax interest of the little taxpayer in North Dakota.

Humphrey Jumps
Most significant of all was the way the Ike machine worked on kindly Sen. George of Georgia, a big wheel on the finance committee and a man with tax prestige in the U. S. Senate.

Last summer George himself proposed to increase personal exemption for dependents from $600 to $800, with an increase up to $1,000 later. This would have cost the Treasury $4,200,000,000 the first year, plus more if the $1,000 went in later.

The $20 tax cut, on the other hand, would have cost the Treasury only $2,300,000,000. Furthermore, Senate Democrats had patched up a compromise whereby most of this was made up by plugging other tax loopholes.

Sen. George himself sat in on the conferences by which this compromise was worked out. In fact he suggested some of the most important moves, one of them being the extension of excise and corporation taxes six months beyond

Multiple Sclerosis Cause Isolated by Research Worker

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A research worker at St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center has succeeded in isolating "the probable cause of multiple sclerosis," the hospital announced yesterday.

The researcher, Miss Rose R. Ichelson, said, "There is plenty of work still to be done in order to prove" the findings. She said it will take a year and a half to determine if a way has been found to kill the organism.

Miss Ichelson is director of research work on the crippling nerve disease at St. Luke's.

The announcement said she had isolated and grown the organisms believed to cause the disease by working with spinal fluids from known sufferers. The organisms were identified as spirocheta myelophthora.

Bad Carriage Of Head Brings On Double Chin

By IDA JEAN KAIN

At this season of the year, perhaps because of new Easter bonnets, there seems to be a general dissatisfaction with the state of the chinline. So with no more bandying words, let's ferret out the cause and take corrective measures. Back of a double chin or a scraggly throatline is a muscular deficiency extending from the top of the chin to the dimple in the throat. We're on the right track here, but we must go deeper and put the finger on why the muscles tend to fall down on the job as time goes by.

Can the whole thing be blamed on the years, or is there something else? Well, one rarely sees a famous actress, even an old timer, with a double chin, and of course there is no physiological difference between an actress and other women. The difference is head posture. Fact is, bad head carriage is back of most chin troubles. When the head is held properly, the throat muscles are bracingly on the job. Some of you write to ask if a chin strap is helpful. While a chin strap feels bracing, reasoning again from cause to soft muscles, the temporary support from a chin strap is no more helpful than tying your arm up in a sling. During a beauty treatment, the ice that is applied does have toning effects. It helps to dash cold, cold water under your chin and over the throatline on rising in the morning. In applying ice, the rule is to have it wrapped in gauze or a thin wash cloth.

The real toning measure, however, is to exercise the muscles of the throat. The practice of correct head posture affords continued mild exercise. But, in order to counteract the necessity of tipping the chin down, for example in typing and other work, corrective exercise is needed by most of us. An easy exercise to take before getting out of bed in the morning is to simply slip the pillow under the shoulders, let back of head rest on bed, and from this position, raise head to chin level. Be sure to hold for six seconds, for holding is toning. Repeat twice, night and morning.

What about creams and oils and tingling astringents? All these surface measures help, for creams and oils are softening, discouraging wrinkles, and the astringents are skin toning. But only toned muscles can support the skin to a smooth covering. The main emphasis should be on exercise for muscle toning, backed up by perfect head carriage. The proper way to carry your head is squarely on your shoulders, with that line at the back of the neck pulled up, and the tip of the chin level. That's the clue to the beautiful throat line of our all-time favorite actresses.

Send long, stamped self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflets. For a Beautiful Throatline and Get a Lift with Posture. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Winona Daily News. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Brownie Easter Egg Roll, Scout Cookie Sale Listed

Plans for the brownie Easter egg roll, Girl Scout cookie sale and summer camping highlighted the discussions at the March meeting of the Girl Scout Leaders Association Monday afternoon at the YWCA.

Mrs. William Miller, chairman of the 1933 Girl Scout cookie sale which starts at 9:30 a.m. April 16 and ends April 25, talked to the leaders about the rules governing the sale of the cookies. Mrs. Lloyd Renneberg reported on arrangements being made for the annual brownie Easter egg roll scheduled for April 7 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Girl Scout Camp Site. The afternoon's activities will include a hayride, games, prizes, egg rolling and tossing contests and an outdoor wieners lunch. Camp folders are being distributed to all the troops starting today, Mrs. R. W. Lundberg, camp coordinator, announced. She briefly discussed plans for established and day camps scheduled for this summer.

Republican State Chairwoman to Visit Local Club

Plans were laid by members of the executive board of the Winona County Republican Club, at its monthly meeting Friday for spring activities to be undertaken by the club. The group met with Mrs. E. F. Heberling, local club president, 257 Grand St.

Working on an enlarged membership meeting, to be held in May, are Mrs. Richard Callender and Mrs. J. Milton Dahm. Election of officers will be on the schedule of this meeting, too, the date and place of which will be announced when arrangements are completed. Mrs. Ray Iverson, first vice chairman of the Winona County Republican committee, reported that Mrs. Kay Harmon, chairwoman of the Minnesota State Republican organization, will come to Winona in June to spend a day with local Republican party workers. Mrs. Iverson and Mrs. Heberling will have charge of arrangements.

Because a large number of Republican women made the trip to the State Capitol in 1933, to observe the legislative branches of state government in action, it was decided not to undertake such a tour this year. About 40 club members and friends visited the legislature two years ago.

The meeting in May will feature a review of objectives of the local club which is a member of the state and national federation of women's republican clubs.

Iota Chapter Hears Discussion On Legislation

At the March business meeting of Iota Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma at the YMCA, Monday evening preceding the dinner and program, a report was given on the benefit card party of Feb. 28. Slightly more than $100 was cleared, and will be awarded this spring to some Winona student needing help to secure teacher training.

Miss Verlie Sather, chairman of the committee on fellowships for foreign women teachers, reported a total of $14 in voluntary contributions to the regional fellowship fund.

Plans were announced for the Recruitment Tea to be given April 25 for Winona Senior High School FTA members. Reports of other committees also were given. Miss Helen Pritchard, chairman of the Pioneer Women committee announced the beginning of a study of the pioneer work done by Miss Theda Giedemeister.

The program which followed the dinner was in the hands of the legislative committee, the Misses Ibez Adams and Ann Rupp who reviewed proposed legislation and controversial legislation on the national and state level.

As an illustration of how difficult it is to pass laws, Miss Adams stated that although in the 83rd Congress 17 bills to provide for new school construction were introduced in the House of Representatives and four in the Senate, not one of them ever got out of committee for a floor vote.

Representatives from 24 states appeared before the appropriations committee, she continued, in behalf of their needs. All governors were advised by President Eisenhower to conduct surveys and appoint commissions to study state and local needs. This was done in Minnesota by former Governor Elmer Anderson.

Plans for a White House conference to be held late in 1955, a feature of which will be discussion groups, limited in size and discussing practical aspects of emergency problems, were noted.

It was reported that there was much criticism of the plan advanced by President Eisenhower which stresses loans and credit backing rather than outright gifts.

The attitudes and recommendations of the national and the Minnesota Education Association were outlined by the speakers.

An informal discussion by members of the chapter seemed to indicate that their opinion favored the principles outlined by the President, that communities and states able to do so meet their own needs, but in hardship or emergency cases, the federal government should help where needed.

Guests at the meeting were three state members of Delta Kappa Gamma from Lake City, the Misses, William Kemp, Rolf Kaasa and Warren Peterson. Mrs. Peterson is the former Alene Munger of Winona.

Good Mental Health Developed From Childhood on, PTA Told

That good mental health in adults is developed from the cradle was the premise on which Dr. Francis Gamelin, Robbinsdale, based the talk in which he urged parents and teachers of Phelps Laboratory School PTA, to understand and help the child become the kind of adult who can withstand the strain and stress of everyday living as well as that of exceptional times.

Dr. Gamelin was guest speaker at the PTA meeting in Somen Hall, Winona State Teachers College, Monday evening.

"We all have a breaking point," Dr. Gamelin said. "Two things that determine more than anything whether a person remains calm and poised under strain are the inner braces which he acquires during childhood and the amount of stress he can handle or bear at any given time."

"These inner braces make the difference between an adult's ability to carry a heavy mental load or break under it."

He recommended that strain and stress be minimized as much as possible in environment so that an individual doesn't have to reach a breaking point.

"Inner braces" which make the adult strong and which need to be cultivated in the child, Dr. Gamelin named as a feeling of personal worth, a zest for life, and social sensitivity.

In developing the first point, Dr. Gamelin stressed the importance of a person's belief in himself, a feeling of confidence, a need to succeed at some one thing. He urged that a child "be loved for what he is and not for what some adult wants him to be," and suggested that parents and teachers help children recognize their special abilities — however limited they may be.

"A zest for life," Dr. Gamelin said, should be developed in every individual. He recommended a balance between the ability to work alone and with others, between a diversity of interests and one or two more special interests.

He praised the modern elementary school's efforts to "keep open the door of thinking and experience to a wide variety of interests—music, art, science, literature, skills."

"Social sensitivity," Dr. Gamelin defined and developed as the necessary ability to get along with others, based on the understanding of other peoples' feelings and actions.

During his talk he emphasized the importance of an individual's "seeing himself as he is," recognizing his abilities and disabilities and dealing positively with them.

Dr. Gamelin, a certified psychologist, is on the staff of the University of Minnesota and is current mental health chairman of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers. He was introduced to the group by A. M. Goergen, Phelps vice president and program chairman.

Following the talk members and guests adjourned to the college student exchange for a social hour.

Migrant Families Provide Mission Field, CDA Told

"Perhaps without realizing it we have the greatest possibility of doing mission work right here in our own diocese," Mrs. Ben Pribyl, Blooming Prairie, Minn., guest speaker at the meeting of Court 191, CDA stated Monday evening at the KC Clubrooms. Mrs. Pribyl's subject was the Spanish-speaking migrants, large groups of Mexican families who migrate north every spring to obtain work in the locality of Hollandale, Minn. "Every year," she continued, "between eight to 1,500 migrants are located in this Hollandale area. They come as early as April and may remain until the harvest is over in October. They do not wish to be migrants. Given the chance they would settle down."

"The reasons for the migrating is the fact that they lack education, speak little or no English and know nothing but poverty in most cases. This is the situation and a great challenge for us as Catholics to do something about it."

Mrs. Pribyl presented a film which showed the migrant colonies; the parish church, St. Mary's of Geneva, and the vast fields of some 18,000 acres of vegetables which provides work for these people. A community center sponsored by the Council of Catholic Women, she reported, has just been completed with help of volunteer workers of the parish and neighboring parishes. The building, 40 by 60 feet, will be used as a center and a place of contact for these people. Here they will be taught catechism, nutrition, sanitation, and other phases of the American way of living.

"They are a friendly and gracious people and probably would be happy to make Minnesota their permanent home if occasion arose," Mrs. Pribyl explained. "This kind of lay apostolate work may seem superficial. The migrants are here today and gone tomorrow yet when we think of them as souls cherished by our Blessed Mother, souls being drawn from the kingdom of Her Son and by conditions not of their making any help however small and temporary, is worth the effort we put forth."

Winners of the poetry contest sponsored by the CDA who were present, gave their prize winning poems. First place winner was Li-onell Banning, and in second place was David Hill. Third place winner was Judy Koll. They are students at Cotter High School, and were awarded cash prizes for their poems. The poem written by Lionell will be entered in the state poetry contest.

Mrs. Elsie O'Neil presented the CDA choral group in a number of selections, and gave a reading "Limbo" which was obtained from the Sisters of St. Mary's Hospital, Madison, Wis. Mrs. H. S. Lowe received the attendance prize and Mrs. Lloyd Maas and Mrs. Minnie McKinney were in charge of the social hour.

It and two others were presented before a crowd of parents and friends as a climax to three local festivals held at Alma, Mondovi and Fountain City earlier. ## General Assembly Formed by KC; Bishop Honored

The name of the Most Rev. Francis M. Kelly, former bishop of the Diocese of Winona, has been chosen as the name of a new general assembly of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus here.

In a meeting at the local assembly's clubrooms Sunday morning, council 639 here took official action to expand and become a general assembly, a project that has been in progress more than a year.

The selection of a name for the new general assembly indicates completion of the necessary details and groundwork.

The new group will now be known as "The Bishop Francis M. Kelly General Assembly of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus." General usage will probably shorten the name to "Bishop Kelly Assembly," said officials.

First officers of the new general assembly are: The Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Hale, faithful friar; Carlus E. Walter, navigator; Carl Fischer, captain; Frank J. Boland, comptroller; Hubert M. Weir, admiral; Edward D. Jersek, pilot; Paul Libera, scribe; Edward Kloniecki, inner sentinel, and Leo Lemieux, outer sentinel.

Previously, the local assembly had jurisdiction over KC's in the immediate Winona vicinity only. The new arrangement gives the group here jurisdiction over Fourth Degree Knights in an area expanded to include Wabasha, Plainview and Caledonia.

Meetings of the group will be held on the third Sunday of each month at 10:30 a.m. at the clubrooms, 64 E. 5th St.

Native of Houston
Born at Houston, Minn., Bishop Kelly later became the third bishop of the Diocese of Winona, with residence in Winona.

At the time of his death and for many years preceding it, Bishop Kelly was a member of the Winona council and the Fourth Degree assembly, holding the office of faithful friar.

As a teacher in the classroom and later as bishop with authority over the Catholic parochial schools, high schools and colleges in the diocese, Bishop Kelly always stressed teaching the high value of the American heritage and constant indoctrination of the principles of love and service for God and country.

Knowland Asks General Showing Of Airman Film

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today "hardened criminals" in American jails are often "better fed and better clothed" than 11 U.S. airmen now imprisoned in Communist China.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, said the Air Force last Saturday showed him a film of the 11 airmen, jailed as "spies" taking exercise in a prison yard and eating out of cans. The Reds also hold four other American fliers captured in the late stages of the Korean War.

That film, Knowland said, should be shown "across this nation so everybody could see it."

He said Dag Hammarskjold, U.N. secretary general, brought the film back from Peiping, where he flew early this year in an effort to win the release of the fliers. Knowland said he would press the State Department to release the film for public showing.

"I won't say that our men weren't able to walk around, or that they appeared on the edge of starvation," he said in an interview.

"But I have seen hardened criminals in our own jails in California, when I inspected them as a member of the California State Assembly, who were better fed and clothed than those 11 men."

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

Christian Dior has thrown us a curve which turned out to be a straight line. And if his new fashion trend will free us from the Female Bosom in Advertising, Song and Poster, I'll be thankful.

"And what is Madame's bust measurement?"

This question, expressed or implied in too many illustrations, too many ads, too many billboards, theater marquees; this parade of dummies in their underwear, the inescapable jokes and snickers I find embarrassing.

Is this the measure of our national intelligence quotient? Is this the tape recording of our humor level—the size 38 uplift?

Maybe some are amused by the comedian whose eye level hits a taller lady companion just above armpits. As he muffs his lines in admiration of her overly evident equipment, the evidence of meager comedy is what overwhelms a good many of us.

It isn't a question of Victorian prudishness but rather the conviction that the bustline, however ample, isn't adequate as a substitute for wit. A conviction that "entertainers" are barking up the wrong brassiere strap, in failing to comprehend when they are offensive rather than funny.

A visiting European woman remarked that we Americans are unduly concerned with the bosom, a criticism we deserve if only because we don't rebel against continual chesty allusions. But we are afraid of being considered stuffy. We no longer dare confess embarrassment. It seems to me we are so self-consciously intent on spreading sex knowledge that we are inclined to vulgarize where we intend merely to educate. And when the sexy department is carried to a repulsive and boring extremity we hesitate to say "Enough!"

In recollecting from the prudery and silliness of yesterday's "hush-hush," we are reluctant to admit that anything can shock us. Shock, of course, is a strong term and has been misused in this connection. The ever present sight of a low-necked babe isn't shocking. It is merely embarrassing, not for what it reveals of the lady's upper anatomy but for what it reveals of her brain cells or lack of.

Well, maybe, this is the best we can do, but I don't think so. It seems to me yet another case of the bright boys of the advertising and entertainment worlds underestimating the public's intelligence. Fellows, we are ready for a shift of scenery. You take the falsies and the uplifts and put them in mothballs for a season. Give us some new measurements for wit and originality.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

"Sacred Snakes" Mountain

The Winnebago called it Hay-nah-ah-chah, the Sioux called it Pah-hah-dah and the early French explorers gave the name of La Montagne, qui Trompea Leau, according to Dr. Lafayette Houghton Bunnell, pioneer historian, referring to Trempealeau Mountain, but none of them ever viewed it as pictured in the aerial view above. This is another of the series of "Looking Down" pictures we have been publishing. Merritt Kelley, Daily News photographer, took this one the other day while flying over the river.

Bunnell, in his history, relates a story told him by James Reed in 1840 on his first trip up the river. Reed told him that Colonel Dousman, founder of Prairie du Chien, started the story about the Trempealeau area being the home of swamp or sacred rattlesnakes to frighten settlers and traders away from Reed's place. Rivalry among the whites was high in those days. Trading organizations preferred to be left alone. Dousman's American Fur Co. did not get along well with fiery Jim Reed.

Reed further explained that the Winnebago word indicated a "soaking mountain" and the Sioux word meant a mountain that had been moved out or separated by water. However, the Winnebagoes did hold the rattlesnake sacred and they called the bluff, Bunnell found out later, "the place of the sacred snake of the river."

In those days, Bunnell adds, the mounds or burial places of Indians were quite noticeable on the top of the mountain and later, skulls and other Indian articles were dug from these burial areas. He contended that the rattlesnakes were placed there and protected to keep raiders away from the graves. All of which seems quite reasonable. Anyway, the name rattlesnake mountain has been associated with Trempealeau Mountain for at least a hundred years.

Refuge Boundaries
A lengthy document containing proposed changes in the closed area boundaries of the Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge has been submitted by Ray C. Steele, superintendent, to the Conservation Departments of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois for comment and suggestions. These departments are now studying the proposals. A conference on them was held by the Wisconsin department at Black River Falls a week ago.

So far, no comment has come from Minnesota or the other states, and the whole plan is more or less subject to a lot of changes and approvals before it will be made a part of the management plan of the refuge.

With this uncertainty, we have not published the suggested areas, but plan to use a series of maps showing present boundaries and the new ones as soon as anything definite has been formulated that can be transferred to a map.

Sportsmen's groups, however, should go into these proposed changes at an early meeting. The Badger State Sportsmen's Club of La Crosse has scheduled a special meeting for April 7 when the changes in that area will be discussed.

It should be remembered that Wildlife Refuge is making these proposed changes for the benefit of waterfowl, not for the hunter, and that any change that is made is going to stop on some hunter's toes. His favorite spot may end up in the center of the closed area.

We plan to keep in close touch with this development and supply hunters with the information on the new boundaries as soon as the detail crystallizes sufficiently to be of any value.

Stockton Scouts Stay Out All Night—Some of Them, That Is

STOCKTON, Minn. (Special)—Ten members of Boy Scout Troop 200 here braved zero temperatures Friday for an all-night campout at South Valley.

Accompanied by Scoutmaster John Van Winkle, a dozen boys hiked out of Stockton at 4:30 p.m. and pitched their tents at the camp site. Following a self-cooked evening meal, a few of the younger troopers decided the cold was too much for them and trekked home. Ten hardy scouts remained and returned home—cold but well oriented to the rigors of winter camping—about 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Making the trip were Jon Anderson, George Behm, David Haedtk, Donald Haedtk, William Hinton, Ovan Larson, Jerry Roberts, James Roberts, John Van Winkle and Henry Jorwick.

The word here, however, is that those who returned home Friday are keeping out of sight. The reason? A girl—Kathryn Van Winkle, daughter of the scoutmaster—stayed all night.

Sen. Sparkman Urges Haste in Arming Germans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today the Eisenhower administration should "supply all the materials possible" to assist a rapid buildup of the planned 12-division West German army.

He commented as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee prepared to hear a plea from Secretary of State Dulles for speedy ratification of treaties to rearm Germany and bring her into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Sen. George (D-Ga.), committee chairman, forecast that the pact might be ready for anticipated Senate approval late this week. No House action is required.

The Senate has delayed acting on the agreements until final action by Germany and France. The parliaments of both have now approved the pacts.

Estimates of the time required for the West German Republic to construct a fully equipped force to take its place within NATO's defense system vary from three to four years.

Sparkman, a Foreign Relations committeeman, said in an interview:

"The big problem in building a German army is that they will be starting from scratch. They'll have to start training privates, then platoons, then companies and on up to divisions. They have nothing to day."

He said the same will be true of the new German air force of about 1,300 planes and a small coastal navy.

Senator Defends Ike's Regular Trips to Church

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Allott (R-Colo.) said today President Eisenhower is doing a lot more for the country by regular church attendance than Sen. Neely (D-WVa.) is doing in criticizing him for it.

Allott blasted back in an interview at Neely's criticisms yesterday of the President's golf, his church attendance and his foreign and domestic programs.

Neely, in a speech to the CIO United Auto Workers convention at Cleveland, said the President never belonged to a church before he became chief executive yet now gets his picture taken nearly every Sunday attending services.

"I object to connecting religion with politics," Neely said. "Any man who tries to parade his religion that way before the public is ungodly."

Allott replied: "Any man who is president of the United States and by his example of church attendance calls the attention of the people to the need of devotion is doing a lot more for his country than a man who can find nothing better to criticize."

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he doesn't think "anybody in the United States believes" what Neely said about Eisenhower. He added that he had not told the President about it, but was speaking "for the White House."

Neely said he thinks the country needs a president "who won't spend more than half of his time playing golf and fishing."

Allott said he seemed to remember that Democratic presidents went cruising up and down the Potomac "and spent some time sitting on the beach in Florida wearing fancy flowered shirts."

Dancer Sues Spreckels Heir

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A blonde night club dancer has filed a $80,000 damage suit charging Adolph B. Spreckels II with "indecent assault and battery" while both were hospital patients.

Mrs. Georgia Asper, 28, a widow, declared in her suit that Spreckels, sugar family scion, invaded her room in Polytechnic Hospital just before midnight last Dec. 4. She charged Spreckels "with force and violence made an indecent assault and battery" upon her. She resisted "to the utmost of her ability" but was unable to prevent it, she added.

The complaint, filed yesterday, reported four nurses responded to Mrs. Asper's cries and put Spreckels in his own room.

Spreckels, 43, served a 25-day jail term last November for beating his fifth wife Kay Williams with her jeweled slipper.

He since has married and separated from a sixth spouse.

Minnesota Highway Needs Estimated At Over $1½ Billion

By RICHARD POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cost of needed highway construction in Minnesota through 1964 was estimated by the Bureau of Public Roads Monday at $1,650,000,000.

The bureau's long-awaited report to Congress placed the cost of all needed highway work in the nation at 101 billion dollars for the 10-year period.

The survey, made at the direction of Congress, is designed to provide an up to the minute picture of present and future highway needs. Congress is considering several proposals for an accelerated highway building program.

The Interstate highway system — major highways crisscrossing the nation — would require nearly one-fourth of the huge total or about $23,253,000,000, the bureau estimated.

Cost of highways needed in the various states ranges from 220 million dollars in Nevada to more than eight billion dollars in California. The breakdown showed that 23 states need a larger expenditure for highways than Minnesota.

Estimated cost of Minnesota's part of the Interstate system is 483 million dollars, split between 262 million for rural and 221 million for urban roads.

The primary and secondary road systems also receive federal aid. The report estimated the Minnesota primary system needs at 494 million dollars with 305 million for rural and 189 million for urban roads. It placed the state's secondary system needs at 229 million, with 113 million for state and 116 million for local roads.

The report estimated that federal-aid highways in Minnesota would cost $1,206,000,000 and that needed non-federal aid roads in the state would cost 444 million.

Strictly state highways, the report said, would cost seven million in Minnesota, split two million for rural and five million for urban roads. Cost of other roads and streets was placed at 437 million for rural and 239 million dollars for urban roads.

Expenditure Breakdown
Here is the breakdown of estimated expenditures for Northwest states according to the Bureau of Public Roads' estimate of highway needs over the next 10 years. Figures are expressed in millions of dollars.

Minnesota—Federal aid: Interstate, 494; primary, 229; secondary, 134. State and local aid: All roads, 444. Cost of all needed aid: Rural, 996; urban, 654; total 1,650.

North Dakota—Federal aid: Interstate, 107; primary, 82; secondary, 188. State and local aid: All roads, 107. Cost of all needed aid: Rural, 414; urban 70; total 484.

South Dakota—Federal aid: Interstate, 95; primary, 164; secondary, 157. State and local aid: All roads, 109. Cost of all needed aid: Rural, 452; urban, 73; total 525.

Estimated cost of Wisconsin's part of the Interstate system is 323 million dollars, split between 208 million for rural and 115 million dollars for urban roads.

The primary and secondary road system also receive federal aid. The report estimated the Wisconsin primary system needs at 725 million dollars, with 523 million for rural and 202 million dollars for urban roads. It placed the state's secondary system needs at 547 million dollars, with 411 million for state and 136 million dollars for local roads.

The report estimated that federal-aid highways in Wisconsin would cost $1,595,000,000 and that necessary highways to be built without federal aid would cost 790 million dollars. The latter includes 366 million dollars for rural and 424 million for urban roads.

Agriculture Department Money Bill in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House sent to the Senate by voice vote Monday a bill carrying $978,625,391 in extra funds for the Agriculture Department.

This budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 is about 27½ million dollars more in cash and borrowing power than the department had requested.

The House followed without change the money recommendations of its Appropriations Committee on Agriculture Department allotments.

Cabbie's Kids Come In Handy in Robbery

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—When Dallas cab driver Eugene Brandenburg told two armed robbers yesterday that he had "a bunch of kids" at home, they tossed back $16 they had just taken from him. Then they drove away in his cab. Police later found it abandoned only a few blocks away.

BRF Airmen's Body Identified

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special) — Positive identification has been made of the body of a Black River Falls Marine Corps pilot, missing since July 1951, according to word received here by his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Olson have received a telegram from the Marine Air Corps at Great Lakes, Ill., verifying reports that their son, Capt. Arnold Olson, died of malnutrition in a North Korean prison camp.

It was the first official word of the airman since September 1953 when an Arlington, Va., soldier under care in New York for an advanced case of tuberculosis, told the Olsons by telephone that their son had died of "lack of food and medical care."

The Marine Reserve pilot was flying his third combat mission when his plane crashed July 13, 1951, during a pre-dawn raid on an enemy truck convoy near Namchonjom, North Korea.

Fellow prisoners related that Capt. Olson was captured by the Communists and marched to a camp at Changsong, North Korea, where he died Oct. 25, 1951. He was 25 at the time, and held the rank of first lieutenant although he had been recommended for promotion. He was awarded the rank of captain posthumously.

Capt. Olson has been posthumously awarded Gold Star lapel pins and three other medals in addition to a plaque from President Eisenhower in recognition of his achievements.

Born here Nov. 14, 1925, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve May 21, 1946.

After serving at Miami and Pensacola, Fla., he was released from active duty Jan. 10, 1947, and entered the University of Wisconsin. In 1950, Olson received a bachelor of arts degree in biological chemistry. He continued his reserve service with a Marine fighter squadron at the Naval Air Station, Minneapolis, and was ordered to extended service Aug. 1, 1950.

County Farm Bureau Leaders Discuss Bills at Lake City

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special)—Members of the Wabasha County Farm Bureau legislative committee, and their wives met Saturday at the city hall here in the second legislative meeting of the year.

State Sen. Robert R. Dunlap, Plainville, led the discussion. Mrs. Joyce Lund, Wabasha, was invited but was unable to attend because of a conflicting engagement.

Sen. Dunlap explained the bills before the Legislature and called on farmers for personal views on the proposed legislation.

Among the bills discussed were: Permission for hunting; change of assessment date; bread enrichment; milk control bill; tax on beer cans and nonreturnable containers; elimination of milkshed barriers; state withholding tax; insurance bill (submitting copy of insurance policy to legal authority after an accident); taxation of household goods; number of members of the Livestock Sanitary Food Board (from 5 to 8); and pricing of milk in a locality.

Many of these bills are in line with resolutions submitted at the state and county Farm Bureau annual meetings.

The report acknowledged that the current farm picture "is not all optimistic," but it added that continued large output of farm products is a "strengthening factor both for farm income and for the level of processing and marketing activity within the district."

Cordell Hull Shows Slight Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The condition of Cordell Hull, former secretary of state hospitalized by a stroke, was reported as still critical but "essentially unchanged" early today.

A spokesman at Bethesda Naval Hospital said yesterday the 83-year-old Hull had shown "slight but sustained improvement."

Public Shows More Interest In Business

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Public interest in the inside workings of business continues to grow.

It sparks dramatic and musical comedy hits on Broadway. It lifts novels to the best seller lists. It inspires television shows.

Writers find a growing public for their accounts of what makes business tick, of unethical jockeying for position by executives, of the drama behind the doors when boards of directors meet, or along the assembly lines of factories.

Some businessmen are showing signs of getting restive and a little resentful under this clinical attention.

They remember that once before the public got interested in business as a subject of fiction. Frank Norris, Theodore Dreiser and Upton Sinclair raked up some mossy stuff. And Sinclair Lewis' Babbitt was carried over into popular usage as a common noun to describe the more promotional type of business man.

The second World War set off the second wave of interest. This time it's in the drama of business itself. At first the writers played with the quirks of some industry or profession. "The Hucksters" purported to show readers the inner secrets of advertising agencies. Of late the writers have turned to the industrialist, a being they once dismissed as dull. "Executive Suite," a novel later made into a movie, dealt with a battle for power among corporate executives when the president dropped dead.

A Broadway comedy hit, "The Solid Gold Cadillac," started in a stockholders' meeting and moved into top management's push of a financial comedy hit, "Pajama Game," based its plot on the struggle of a labor union to get a 7½-cent-an-hour pay raise—a theme that once wouldn't have inspired either music or comedy.

Latest to take up the fad is television, both at the comedy-secretary level and in the serious drama field.

New Father Kills Family of Four After Argument

McMINNVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Billy Gibbs, 29-year-old father of newborn twins, gave officers gruesome details yesterday of killing a farm family of four, hiding their bodies and selling their livestock.

Dist. Atty. Fred Gilliam said Gibbs signed a statement in the presence of his father and a Tennessee Bureau of Investigation agent giving this account of the slayings, which occurred the day after his twins were born:

He went fishing with Henry Bratcher, 45, a distant cousin Wednesday morning on Bratcher's farm, got into an argument and later shot him in the head.

Returning to the house, he shot Mrs. Bratcher, 42, after forcing her to drop her 20-month-old granddaughter down a cistern in the barn. He then lay in wait for Lily May Bratcher, 11, to return from school and beat her to death with a hammer.

Gibbs was arrested Saturday night on larceny charges after he sold a pair of mules and some pigs belonging to Bratcher. The next day investigating officers found the bodies.

Gibbs was immediately charged with murder, but he denied any knowledge of the slayings until he signed the statement more than 24 hours later.

Building Step-up Promises Aid to Northwest Industry

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Stepped-up construction activity promises further industrial gains in the northwest, the Federal Reserve reported today in its monthly review of business conditions.

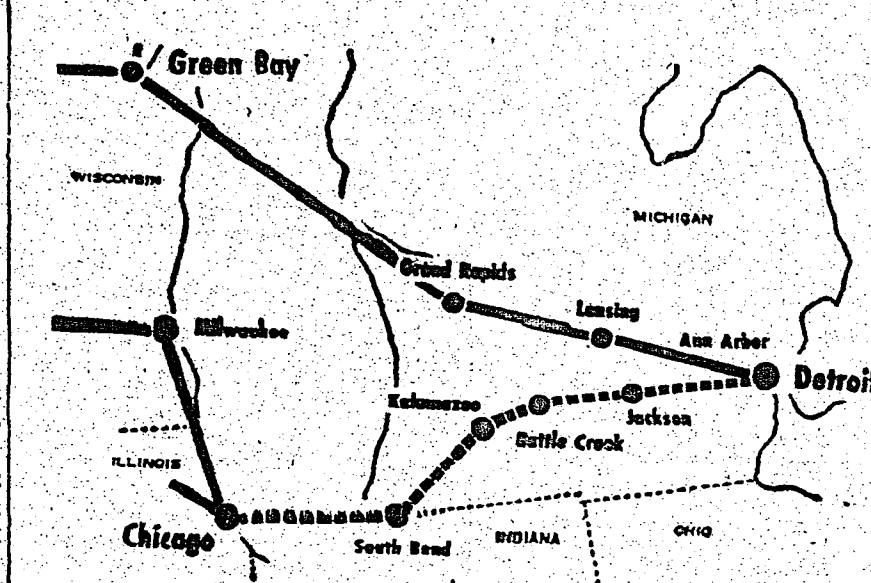

High rates of commercial and residential construction throughout the region raised employment in this field to record highs in recent months, the report said.

Most types of construction are running sharply ahead of last year's figures, economists reported, with the peak season still ahead. From November through February the dollar value for building permits within the Ninth Federal Reserve District totaled more than twice the dollar amount issued a year ago.

The general economic picture through February, the report said, suggests continued industrial recovery. The trend appeared favorable despite lowered employment in the iron mining industry. A strong seasonal employment increase is expected with the expected brisk upturn in construction.

The report acknowledged that the current farm picture "is not all optimistic," but it added that continued large output of farm products is a "strengthening factor both for farm income and for the level of processing and marketing activity within the district."

Cutbacks in iron ore employment the report said, was due to extensive stockpiling and a delay in submitting of contracts by steel producers.

Inauguration of Service between Chicago and Detroit May 1 will mark North Central Airlines' most extensive route development in two years. Addition of the 232-mile segment—via South Bend, Ind., and Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Jackson, Mich.—will increase North Central's five-state system to 2,631 unduplicated route miles. North Central currently serves 39 cities through 31 airports in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois. The new route will raise these figures to 43 cities and 35 airports and bring the sixth state (Indiana with South Bend) into the airline's expanding network. The company originally began operations on Feb. 24, 1948 with service to Chicago and 18 cities in Wisconsin and Minnesota. North Central's fleet—all DC3 transports—flew an aggregate of 373,193 miles in scheduled operations last month, an average of over 13,000 miles a day on 58 daily flights.

ATOMIC FUTURE

Nuclear Reactor To Light Home

By RELMAN MORIN

(Editor's Note: How far away is the day the atom will come into your living room? This guest is just waiting to be put to work, but getting it harnessed poses many problems for private industry. This article, first in a series of four, tells you why.)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wonderful world of the atom lies close at hand. In that world—

When your automobile frets and sputters, you will have the motor "X-rayed" instead of torn down. Pictures of its insides, taken with cobalt 60, will locate the trouble.

Your home, of course, will be lighted with energy taken from a nuclear reactor. And you will ride on trains and ships powered by the atom.

It will purify sea-water for irrigation and bring life-giving water across mountains to the desert. In factories, radioactive bracelets will guard the worker against mangle by dangerous machines. If the jaws of the machine come too close to his hands, radiation from the bracelets agitate a Geiger counter. It instantly stops the machine.

Buck Rogers stuff? No, indeed. Some of these things already are here. Others, many others, are beyond the experimental stage.

Then, does this mean that the Atomic Age finally has flowered for peaceful instead of military purposes?

Well, yes and no. Last month, a congressional committee questioned many witnesses — businessmen, engineers, patent lawyers, labor leaders, experts of the Atomic Energy Commission—in a long series of hearings. They all attacked this problem.

"How to harness atomic energy, on a grand scale, to enhance the living standard of every American."

A bright red thread of impatience, almost frustration, ran through the hearings.

Equal to Problem
Here is the American industrial system, big, rich, powerful, presumably equal to any mechanical problem.

And here is the atom, the tamed giant, waiting to work. One pound of fissionable uranium equals, in releasable energy, 2,600,000 pounds of coal.

Yet, the United States is not generating commercial electricity from the atom. "Fossil fuels," coal, gas and oil, are still the main sources of energy. How long will they last? Geologists disagree. The profusion of benefits from the atom are visible on the horizon, but not yet attained.

Hence, the impatience. Each witness was asked, in effect, "What's holding us up? When are we going to get the show on the road?"

A year ago, and even later, there was a simple answer—"Government."

The 12-billion-dollar atomic empire was the exclusive property of the United States government. That meant installations, reactors, materials, and—most important—the knowledge necessary to use them. All this was a government preserve.

The reason, of course, was national security.

But as time passed, it became apparent that other nations, friends and enemies, were acquiring a vast fund of knowledge about the atom. Some American scientists say the Europeans already know as much, possibly more, about peaceful uses than we do.

Big Scale Plan
Moreover, for years, there has been a feeling in Washington that if atomic energy is to be fully applied to ordinary living, American industry must come in, and on a big scale.

So, last fall, Congress passed a brand new atomic energy act. In philosophy, it is very different from the old law. It provides, principally, for two new approaches:

1. Opening the door—part way—for private industry to use and develop atomic energy.
2. Greater cooperation with other nations in the peaceful uses of the atom.

Analysts of the new law, notably Everett L. Hollis of General Electric, emphasizes that it "reduces," but does not end, government monopoly. The AEC retains wide controls. Hollis sees the new pattern as a team effort between government and industry.

As an example, the Duquesne Light Co. and the AEC are jointly

Warming Trend Over Much of Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Skies were clear and there was a warming trend over most of the mid-continent today but it was a little chilly in parts of the East and South.

Snow flurries were reported in New York state and northern New England, areas hit by storms over the weekend.

Temperatures were 5 to 15 degrees above yesterday morning readings from Texas northward to the Northern Plains and Great Lakes region. Freezing weather was confined to the area east of the Mississippi Valley and north of the Ohio Valley. It was near zero at Grand Marais, Mich.

Readings in the Gulf region ranged between the middle 30s north to the 40s or low 50s in Florida and along the coast.

It was near freezing early today in Mobile, Ala., and Raleigh, N.C. The recent cold weather in the South caused an estimated 60 million dollars damage to orchards and crops. The peach crop was virtually destroyed in Georgia, the Carolinas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Virginia.

SPORTS Sidelight

BY RALPH REEVE

Best Looking

Paul Giel's mother will be interested in a poll conducted by nearly 100 big league baseball writers rating players on all 16 major league teams in 36 categories.

Picked "best looking" on the New York Giants was Paul Giel. The poll is printed in the Wednesday issue of The Sporting News. The Giants concluded the social end of their spring training season with a golf tournament, dinner and dance thrown by Horace Stoneham at Phoenix. Alvin Dark's 80 won low gross honors, while Giel was the lucky player in a blind bogie drawing.

STATE TOURNEY NOTES: You better believe all the nice things said and written about Ron Johnson, New Prague's 6-6 junior center. For our money, he was the outstanding player in the tourney, the one with the most potential as a future college player. The other two were Gordy Sundin of Washburn and Jerry Olson of Austin.

We feel the team of outstanding players in the state tournament should be called the "all-tournament team" as it is in Wisconsin, rather than label it the "All-State team."

It goes without saying there are scores of players who are as good as some picked that don't rate merely because they don't appear in the state tournament.

We're not rapping the players selected, but just say they aren't necessarily the 10 best players in the state.

A well-known Wisconsin prep coach, not from our area, said of the officiating in the Minnesota tourney: "If they called them as close during the Wisconsin state tournament, there wouldn't have been a team in the meet with a regular player left on the floor by the fourth quarter."

And a college coach, asked for opinion of individual players in the Minnesota classic, said, "Ron Johnson could play for me tomorrow." Asked about the rest of the crop, he answered, "No comment."

The field was weaker than in ordinary years, but the Washburn team was a genuine state champion. It had size, speed, poise, ability under pressure, rebounding and defensive ability, excellent shooting and just about everything a state champion is expected to have. Washburn's over-all speed proved Austin's downfall.

A Good Prospect

We discovered during our state tourney excursion that Frank Fahey, scout for the Milwaukee Braves and formerly a St. Louis Cardinal scout, lives in the same St. Paul neighborhood the Sidelighter's brother does.

"Just drop in at the corner drugstore about noon, he's always there then," my brother said.

Sure enough, there was Fahey, perched on a stool eating soup and crackers.

Fahey's opinion of some of the young baseball players around here, Bobby Rognegby, Cochran's junior catcher: "He's worth watching—I saw him in the tournament last spring at Menasha."

Chuck Wally, Winona High hurler: "I think he's a good prospect—he's a nice, loose kid—not herky-jerky and real intelligent."

Fahey worked with Andy Wally, Chuck's dad, for many years. Andy is a part-time Cardinal scout. "Give him my regards," Fahey said. "He's a swell fellow and was a good catcher."

Andy Wally had a promising major league career ahead of him back in the '30s. He was a regular catcher on the Beaumont team in the Texas League which graduated pitchers Earl Whitehead and Tommy Bridges and first baseman Hank Greenberg to Detroit.

Andy was slated to go up the same year they did but arthritis canceled the opportunity.

Fahey said, "I was talking to Jack Zellar, who was associated with Beaumont then. He's head scout for the Browns now. He said Andy was a good catcher and if he hadn't taken sick he would have made the big leagues. Andy's a darn good citizen."

Interested in Emil Scheid and the Winona Chiefs, Fahey said of Scheid, "I'll tell you one thing about him. He goes out and gets the ball players. He's a darn good organizer and he works hard."

"I'd like to see Winona have a good club because they've got such good fans. Winona is one of the best baseball towns in the country."

Of Paul Giel, Fahey said: "He's such a highly intelligent fellow and great competitor," leaving unsaid his opinion that one with those qualifications has a good chance to make good.

Other Faheyisms: "Anytime a boy can throw and run and he's got good size there's something to work with."

Speaking of Winona's Park-Rec program of summertime baseball for kids: "That's a real good program. I wish they did it on a national basis."

By BOB ZIEBELL
Daily News Sports Writer

"On paper we look exceptionally good, but no one can tell what will happen during a baseball season." So commented Coach Luther McCown on Winona State baseball fortunes for the coming year.

"Last year I said we would win five games, and we ended up with a 12-6 record," said McCown. "This year I tend to reverse my prediction, but I fear that the outcome might reverse itself too."

The Warriors will have an experienced ball club this season and could, if need be, field a team of lettermen.

Some newcomers to the squad are expected to handle some of the positions that before necessitated the utilization of pitchers who were not slated for mound chores.

In other words, the Warriors will also have depth this season.

Looking over the outfield, McCown has his choice from five lettermen. Bill Christopherson, Jerry Grebin, Pete Polus, Art Nardiello and Rollie Papenfuss are the veterans.

Moved to Outfield

Christopherson played first base last year, but is being moved to an outfield position. He hit .333 and led the team in RBIs with 15 last season, getting seven in one game at Fort Leonard Wood.

Nardiello was used as a reserve in the outfield and also hit at a .333 clip. Grebin and Polus, both pitchers, twirled their share last season and are expected to get some mound duty this year also.

Grebin hit .294 and had seven RBIs and Polus hit at a .265 mark. Papenfuss started most of the games last season and came up with some fine defensive play.

In the infield, a newcomer to the Warriors will be Bill Wiecek, a veteran of Winona baseball. Bill played with the old PNA ball club when he was in high school at Cotter.

"He looks strong!" said McCown.

and the Warriors will be looking to him for power at the plate.

The rest of the infield lineup will have all lettermen. At second base will be Jim Sendlebach, who found himself at the plate at the end of the season last year and ended with a .351 batting average to top the club.

Jim Miner will return to his shortstop position where his defensive play was outstanding last season. His hitting dropped off after a good start and he ended with a .172 batting average, but had seven RBIs to his credit.

3-Year Letterman

A three-year letterman will be back at third base in Evan Davies. Davies returns to the Warriors after an absence of a year, and is expected to give them another lift in the hitting department.

In an utility role in the infield will be Bob Luth. Luth hit .250 while handling the catching chores last season. He also is a very good defensive ball player, but was switched behind the plate to make up for a gap there last season.

COACH LUTHER MC COWN
Reverses His Prediction

Promising Candidates

Three other boys may give some of the veterans a battle for their infield positions.

Bob Bateman, a regular at Winona High last year, is listed by McCown as looking very good in the indoor workouts.

Dick Beberg, another freshman, hails from Stillwater and is highly recommended as an infielder. John May from Rose Creek also is expected to see some duty.

Behind the plate the Warriors have more depth than in recent years. Frank Jaszewski seems to have the inside track, being an experienced player in Winona and on area teams. Last summer both he and Polus played on the Lewis team in the state tournament.

Don McBride from Gaville is another top-notch catching prospect. A boy that handles himself very well behind the plate is freshman Don Segermark, fullback on the Warrior football team the past season.

"He has had good training, but needs to brush up on his hitting," McCown said. Other good freshman catcher prospects are Leonard Brace from Mabel and Martin Flaherty.

Transfer Prospect

Transfer from Macalester, Benny Cook, will not be eligible for conference play, but will probably see action in non-conference tilts.

The Warriors mound staff looks very promising, but McCown feels that the loss of veterans Fred Hoelt and George Whipple will hurt the Warriors.

Hoelt was one of the aces of the staff last season in addition to hitting .317 for the season. "He was a long ball hitter, leading the team in the number of hits and total bases last season," commented McCown, "and that kind of player is always missed."

Whipple was the top reliever for the Warriors last season, as this role is always a hard one to fill, especially with inexperienced players.

Including Grebin and Polus, the Warriors still have six lettermen at pitching positions. Leading the parade will be Lee Paul, who was a star before leaving the Warriors for the Army.

Paul, McGrath Set

A non-letterman, but a veteran of baseball, is expected to team with Paul as the two front line pitchers when Jack McGrath, ace of the Winona Chiefs, dons a Warrior uniform for the first time this season.

Back from the Army are Duane Halverson and Jess Waldron, both Warrior lettermen. Also back from last year is Jerry Antoff. Halverson is looking good and may be the "stuff" pitcher the Warriors need.

Top freshmen are Daryl Wohler, star hurler from Winona High, Jerry Seeman and Lynn Iverson. Wohler is expected to do quite a bit of pitching for the Warriors, possibly in Whipple's relief spot.

If McGrath and Paul can make up for the all-around play of Hoelt and Whipple some of McCown's pitching worries will be solved.

As in other years, it is expected that the pitchers will also be used in other positions, especially in the southern trip where only a limited squad can be taken.

22-Game Schedule

McCown finished off on a not too optimistic note by saying, "The prospects do look good, but they did for Brooklyn last year too."

The Warriors have 22 games scheduled this season, the first four being played at Fort Leonard Wood. The Warriors open against the Army team on April 8, and then play games April 9-10-11.

The first home game is scheduled for April 23 against La Crosse State. By that time, the Warriors will have six games under their belt, as Upper Iowa University and Iowa State Teachers College will also be played away from home. Conference action starts against Mankato State on May 4 at Winona.

TABBING THE MAJORS

Dressen Sees Nats In First Division

By JACK HAND

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Manager Chuck Dressen glibly predicts a first division finish for his Washington Senators.

"I don't know whose place we'll take but we're going to push somebody out," he said.

Outfielders Jim Busby and Roy Sievers, first baseman Mickey Vernon, third baseman Eddie Yost and pitcher Bob Porterfield are the real strength of the club. Dressen must do his best with limited material to bolster the infield, add punch to the attack and find depth for his pitching staff.

One in a job move was to shift Pete Runnels (268), his cleanup hitter, from short to second base. Vernon (290) will be relieved at first by Sievers in the second half of doubleheaders. Yost (.255) is a fixture at third and Bobby Kline (.319) at Birmingham looks like the shortstop over Jerry Snyder (.234) and Lyle Luttrell (.254) at Chattanooga.

Sievers (.232), whose 24 homers last year set a new all-time high for a Washington player, will play left, except when he is helping out at first. Busby (.298) is the center fielder with Tom Umphlett (.219) in right.

Ernie Cravetz, a 5-4 switch hitter just back from the Army, may make the club. Another candidate is Cuban Alejandro Crespo, 38.

Bruce Edwards (.298) at Los Angeles will spell Eddie Fitzgerald (.280) in the catching department with help from Bob Oldis (.333).

Dressen is high on Camilo Pascual (4-7) to take a starting pitching job along with Porterfield (13-15), Maury McDermott, (7-15), Dean Stone (12-10) and Johnny Schmitz (11-9).

Ted Abernathy, a 22-year-old returning serviceman, has been outstanding in the exhibitions and probably will start. With Chuck Stobbs (11-11) and Spec Shea (2-9) also available, the pitching appears to be better.

Milwaukee Kegler Rolls 738 in ABC

PORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Eddie Gerzine of Milwaukee, was in first place today in the singles and all events divisions in the American Bowling Congress tourney on series of 738 and 1,938, respectively.

Joe Heible, Madison, Wis., was second in all events with 1,869. Myron Erickson, Racine, Wis., was third in singles with 670.

Joseph Schneider and Loren Haberstroh, both of Milwaukee, with series of 692 and 643, respectively, were in ninth and 10th place in singles.

Gerzine, a left-hander, banged the tenpins 62 better than the second place runner, Ted Bies of St. Paul, Minn., in the singles. Gerzine had games of 225, 235 and 278 in taking the singles lead. He rolled 616 in the doubles and 584 in team competition.

Erickson bowled a perfect 300 game, the 14th since the first ABC meet in 1901, to move into third place.

His 300 was made on eight perfect strikes, two light ones, another heavy and finished with a Brooklyn, the ball curving to the wrong side of the headpin but flattening them all.

Casimir Szopinski, Milwaukee, was fourth in singles with 668.

Gopher Nine Rips Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Sophomore Jerry Thomas pitched and batted Minnesota to a 6-0 baseball victory over Oklahoma Monday.

Thomas allowed only 3 hits, and only one after the opening inning. Thomas also cracked out a single, double and triple in four trips, scored once and drove in two runs.

The Gophers got to starter Joe Mobra for single runs in the opening two innings. He settled down after that and retired 11 in a row until Thomas tripled in the seventh with Earl Goldberg aboard. Ken Yackie then singled to score Thomas.

Darrell Cochran blasted a two-run 395-foot home run in the eighth for Minnesota.

Winona State Awards Winter Sports Letters

Lettermen for winter sports at Winona State Teachers College were announced today following a meeting of the athletic committee.

Appearing for the first time was a list of letterwinners in wrestling. Wrestling was inaugurated at Winona State last year, but letters were not awarded.

This year, with two home meets held at the college, the committee with Coach Gene Brodthagen set up an award system in the sport.

In all, 12 letters were awarded in basketball, and nine in wrestling. Following is the list of basketball letterwinners and the number of letters earned in the sport.

Pete Polus (4), Lee Paul (3), Dave Smith (3), Gil Regnier (2), figures as a pennant contender. The Phils seem to lack power.

Pittsburgh doesn't have the experience. And the Red Sox don't have Ted Williams.

Yet, Philadelphia is the winningest exhibition club to date, winning 10 of its 15 spring games. That's the best record (.667) in either league. Milwaukee followed with a .643 percentage on a 9-5 record. Pittsburgh and Boston both are 10-6 for a .625 mark.

Manager Pinky Higgins' Red Sox have the best record on a strictly league basis, however. They've won seven of eight against clubs in their own American League.

The Chicago White Sox, 6-9 overall, are second in the American with a 3-2 mark.

The Phils top the National with a 6-2 record against other clubs in the senior circuit. The Braves and the world champion New York Giants are next with 5-2 records, although the Giants have played all their National League games against the Chicago Cubs.

The battle between the leagues goes to the National at this stage by a 38-28 count.

The clubs will be breaking camp this week.

There wasn't much but rain and cold weather on the exhibition schedule yesterday. Just three games survived the elements.

Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 2-1, with Preston Ward hitting a two-run single in the third.

The New York Giants scored five runs in the eighth to overhaul the Cubs, but Chicago scored a deadlocking run in the ninth and broke it open with four in the 10th off Reuben Gomez for a 14-11 decision.

Kansas City defeated the Detroit Tigers 3-2 behind the six-inning, no-hit, no-run pitching of rookie Art Ceccarelli.

Jerry Grebin (4), George O'Reilly (4), Craig Currier (3), Dick Fredrickson (1), Jim Kern (1), Harold Regnier (1), Bill Christopherson (1), Jim Sikorski, manager.

The Winona State award system is set up on the basis of a letter for the first year award, jacket second, sweater third and blanket fourth.

The wrestling lettermen are: Ken Haback, Paul Evenson, Gordon Schleder, Earl Christianson, Kermit Selke, Clyde Pasvogel, Merle Peterson, Gordon Selke and Jack Strommer.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Gal Wrestlers Scheduled

The return of the fair sex to the professional wrestling scene in Winona was announced today by Jack Dugan, American Legion wrestling promoter who said a special event between Delores DeWitt and Ramona Waukazo has been booked for Monday night's program at the Red Men's Club.

Remembering the success which greeted the last appearance of the gal grunt-and-growlers here, Legion authorities forecast one of the top crowds of the season for the upcoming card.

The card includes three matches. A mysterious newcomer with the name "Kubla Khan," weighing 280 pounds and hailing from Mongolia, takes on Paul Ballar, 240-pound Canadian lumberjack in the main event.

The main go is slated with a one fall, hour time limit.

The special event is the match between Ramona and

Delores and like the opening bout is scheduled for one fall or 30 minutes.

Kicking off the evening's action at 8:20 p.m. will be Dick (Bruiser) Affies, 250, of Green Bay, Wis., and Gregory Jarque, 235, Barcelona, Spain.

Ramona Waukazo, appearing here for the first time, is a dark-haired Chippewa-Sioux Indian girl from Mahan, Minn.

Standing 5-2 and weighing 135, she is the granddaughter of an Indian chief and although she only recently made her wrestling debut, is regarded a top contender in the future for championship honors.

She was graduated from Wayzata High School and now lives with her parents in Minneapolis. A childhood background of softball, badminton, roller-skating, swimming and horseback-riding influenced her to decide on a wrestling career, rather than on that of a secretary which she first attempted on finishing high school.

A clean, scientific wrestler, Ramona turns into a demon of fury when her temper has been aroused.

Raven-haired Delores DeWitt is a statuesque beauty often mistaken for a professional model.

Like Ramona, she was active during her school years and specialized in swimming and diving where she won a large collection of trophies and medals.

Before deciding on a wrestling career, she not only participated in swimming but also basketball, softball, tennis, fencing and even boxing.

She is 5-5 and weighs 145. Attributes which have made her successful in the rough-and-tumble mat sport is her desire to improve, topnotch physical condition and cat-like grace and speed.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. S.

1. SCIENCE DISCOVERS DISEASES AND DEFECTS ARE PARTLY DUE TO HEREDITY.

2. IF YOU RECEIVE AN ANGRY, INSULTING LETTER, SHOULD YOU ANSWER IT?

3. SHOULD STUDENTS BE ALLOWED TO CHOOSE THE STUDIES THEY LIKE BEST?

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Fortunate, because it enables specialists to predict probable chances that some children will inherit the tendencies. If chances are great, a couple can forego children, or often they may safely marry other persons. Nearly always heredity clinics can give couples a green light for marriage.

For self-addressed postal to this newspaper, I will send you the location of the few heredity clinics rapidly being organized.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, immediately. Tell your correspondent what an ignorant, insulting bozo he is, but don't mail the letter. Read it again in five days and see how foolish you would have been to send it. You ask, "Why write at all?" Our booklet,

"How To Manage Your Feelings and Emotions," will show you the answer is about the most important answer in your life and happiness. Nonprofit, 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggum, care of The Winona Daily News.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Only within narrow limits. If even educators don't have complete knowledge of what studies result in education, a green youngster browsing around isn't likely to know how to educate himself. Educators think educational counselors should outline broad fields, find which fields a student likes, test his abilities, and counsel him all along. Only thus will a student likely find his stride and progress toward education.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggly and Bosun, in the helicopter, ready to make a landing on the deck of the rabbit gentleman's Amusement Raft, could still hear the loud barking of some dog.

"Are you sure that is our friend Turfbog, the English bulldog who is barking?" asked Uncle Wiggly, as he looked over the side of the cabin of the helicopter down to the deck of his raft.

"Yes, I would know Turfbog's voice anywhere," answered Bosun. "Stand by for a landing, Cap'n Wiggly!"

"Stand by it is, Bosun! I'm ready!"

The old sea dog started to let his helicopter gently down to the deck of the raft. As it was slowly settling for a landing, Uncle Wiggly asked the old sea dog:

"Do you think it was Turfbog who cut my raft loose from the South Shore of Frog Pond and sailed her here to the North Shore?"

"No, Cap'n Wiggly, I don't believe that at all, sir! Your raft was cut loose by the ice and the wind and just drifted here to the North Shore. Turfbog had nothing to do with it."

"Then how does it happen that Turfbog is aboard my raft now, Bosun?"

"He must have happened to get here. Probably he was coming to look for the raft, to get ready for a summer cruise, the same as I was. He just happened to find the raft here on the North Shore and he went aboard. We'll soon be down on deck and there we can ask him."

"It's all sort of mysterious, Bosun!"

"No mystery at all, Cap'n Wiggly! We shall get the straight of it very soon now. Stand by! We are going to land on deck!"

"I am standing by, Bosun!"

A few moments later the helicopter landed safely and gently on the deck of Uncle Wiggly's raft which had drifted from the South Shore to the North Shore. Out of Nurse Jane's candy kitchen came rushing Mr. Turfbog, the English bulldog.

"I sure am glad to see you two!" he barked as Uncle Wiggly and Bosun climbed down out of the helicopter. "I've been living here, all by myself in Nurse Jane's candy kitchen, the last three days."

"I should think you would have been cold and hungry," said Uncle Wiggly as he twinkled his pink nose.

"Oh, I made a fire in the stove

In Nurse Jane's kitchen," barked the bulldog. "And there was some corn that I popped. I also found some molasses taffy candy left over from last summer. I made out all right. But how did you two know I was here?"

"We didn't know, Turfy, old chap," barked Bosun. "Cap'n Wiggly and I started from his low stump bungalow to come and look for his raft. She wasn't tied up along the South Shore where we had left her last October. I saw where the mooring ropes had broken. I thought that the wind and ice had torn the raft loose. So Cap'n Wiggly and I started to look for her and we just now saw her here on the North Shore. But how did you get here, Turfy?"

"Oh, I finished my winter vacation and I thought it was time to see if Cap'n Wiggly might be thinking of another summer cruise. So I made my way here to the raft and as I said, I have been here three days. I sort of guessed that the raft had drifted away, and I thought Cap'n Wiggly would come looking for her sooner or later. And here he is!"

"Yes, I am here," said Mr. Longears. "Now the question is what shall we do next? Can we work the raft back to the South Shore, Bosun?"

"Not right away, Cap'n Wiggly, sir. It will take a little time. But Turfbog and I can get her ready. I'll fly you back to your bungalow and I will let you know as soon as the raft is ready. Now I think."

Suddenly the barking of another dog could be heard.

"Who is that?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"I think it must be jolly Mr. Poo Dell, our French poodle friend," said Mr. Turfbog. "In fact I am sure it is. Here he comes, now!"

There will be another story tomorrow if the overshoes don't walk away with the rubber boots so the foot of the stairs has nothing to wear out in the snow.
