Tri-Colleges present hit musical Tuesday

"The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd", this year's second Tri-College event will be presented at the junior high auditorium on October 17, at 7:30 p.m. The program will include skits by the Dramatics Club and the Stu-Division of the Student Union.

The Sandpipers captured WSC audience singing wide selection of songs

"...The voice out of it...every shrug, every sigh is eloquent," states Willard Woodward, the choir director of Chaska High School's Sandpipers. The choir is directed by Ernie Broersma.

Piano, Jim Brady, and Richard Shoff were backed by a five-piece band, consisting of two female guitarists, Rocky and Sunny; the drummer, Doug Deans; pianist, Pat Balentino; and electric guitarist, Mike Brady, brother of Jim.

The next song, "You've Got to Have Skin," a comic barf (laugh), was a love song from "Sing, Sing, Sing" with rock-and-roll variation by Richard Shaw. The feature of the song was a vibrant drum solo by Doug Deans.

Intermission was provided by Fred Smith, comedian, whose main talent was sound effects. His routines were unfortunately marred by his loudness.

The boys demonstrated their ability to solo as well as harmonize. Mike exhibited tremendous flexibility in vocal range as he sang the theme song from "Exodus". Jim followed with a powerful rendition of "I Remember You". Richard, obviously the groups' lead rock-and-roll star, finally had his turn and belted out "What I Say". Especially noteworthy was their ability to sing in foreign languages. Diction and pronunciation in Spanish, French, and Latin while singing is a difficult task (continued on Page 5, col. 2)

Black Power forum opens series, intent to awaken apathetic students
by Karen Kellett
College students tend to live in a bubble, as their world is limited to their college and what they learn there. The real world is one of constant change and growth, but students often fail to see this.

What is Black Power? What Black Power advocates are trying to accomplish. From these and other such questions the students were able to express themselves and learn from one another. The discussion tended to get off into side lines and no great conclusions were drawn. However, the students learned that the issue was complex and becoming involved and interested in their society.

The discussion will be held Monday, October 30. The topic has not been announced.

The keen edge
by Fredric Baranski
I could say I was passive, inert, stagnant, static, nodaratory, sluggish, lethargic, torpid, slothful.

And you wouldn't care! I could say I was apathetic. The familiar cry of the apathetic student is: I haven't got time to get involved. Or practice it. Or condemn it. Or break out. Or do anything.

And you wouldn't care! I could say I was uncommitted.

The Air Force doesn’t want to waste your Bachelor of Science Degree any more than you do.

B. Sc. Those letters have an impressive sound. But they won’t be as impressive if you get shunted off into some obscure corner of industry after you leave college. A forgotten man. You want activity. You want to be in there and show your stuff. All right. How do you propose to do it?

If you join the United States Air Force you’ll become an expert fast. The Air Force is like that. They hand you a lot of responsibility fast. Through Officer Training School you get a chance to specialize where you want… in the forefront of modern science and technology. Suppose, for example, you wanted to become a pilot and serve as aircraft commander on airplanes. You’d plan missions and insure that the aircraft is pre-flighted, inspected, loaded and equipped for the assigned mission. You’ll be trained to fly exciting aircraft. Just examples. There are so many more.

Wouldn’t it be pretty nice to enjoy officers’ pay and privileges? And serve your country, as well. Also, you get retirement benefits, 30 days’ paid vacation, medical and dental care.

B. Sc. Very impressive letters. Now, do something with them.

Campus Coordinating Committee considers public relations, concerts

The reorganization of procedures for coordinating extracurricular activities is presently under consideration by the Student Senate. According to Doug Hornsdahl, Social Senator, and Judy Rose, Union Senator, proposed changes would see a merger of the student social committees with the student union board.

As constituted, the social committee, composed of approximately twenty students, functions independently of the senate. Members are chosen to compose the broadest possible cross section of campus interest groups. The social senator, however, does serve as a liaison with student government.

Under the new system, this committee would fall directly under the jurisdiction of the elected social senator. Combined with it would be the now inactive union board. Hopefully this would provide those most directly affected—the students—with a say in union affairs and scheduling.

The new group, tentatively known as the Campus Coordinating Committee, will consider the areas of public relations, big name entertainment, dances and concerts, recreational activities, special events, and clubs and organizations.

WSC loses for 1st time in close match with St. Cloud State

Winona State's football team dropped its first game of the season Saturday, 13-26, St. Cloud State.

Rain fell throughout the game, hampering quarterback Tom Lenn's passing attack. To Lenn's credit, he did complete ten of 20 passes with the slippery ball.

Coach Ron Moliaino was strangely jubilant at the loss. "We played an excellent game, a fine game. In fact, we played better than we did in beating Moorhead State the week before," said Moliaino.

On his decision to go for two points after the Warriors' second touchdown, Moliaino explained: "They had a good kicker and we figured if they scored again, he'd come on, so that's why we did it. However, the wet ball was bobbled in the backfield and that ended that."".

The loss left Winona in third place in the NC, behind two unbeatens, St. Cloud and Minnesota. A Homecoming victory for the Warriors over Mankato could put Winona back in the title race.

Mankato ties St. Cloud in conference title race

Mankato State bombed winless Michigan Tech 28-7 while St. Cloud tied unbeatens, St. Cloud and Minnesota, to hold each other in an 0-1-1 tie in conference title race. Game time is 2 p.m. Saturday in what is considered one of the most important games of the season.
