Students organize four new clubs

Four new organizations are becoming active at Winona State this fall.

The Christian Science organization has been organized to bring Christian Scientists on campus together and to give the college community the opportunity to learn about Christian Science. A display at Club Night this fall and a lecture on Christian Science scheduled for November 13 are among the activities designed to do this. Several members attended the international meeting held in Boston this summer.

Students and faculty interested in learning about Christian Science are invited to the meetings held every first and third Monday of the month at 7 p.m. in the红楼 library. At the meetings, the members share experiences on the practical application of Christian Science, and follow readings from the Bible and Christian Science textbook on subjects of interest such as depression, loneliness, and fear of examinations.

The Accounting Association has been organized to broaden the minds of the students who are in the area of accounting.

The Winona State Students for Democratic Society is a chapter of the national organization. However, each local chapter is independent of the national organization and does not necess-

Bookstore to move

Mr. Kuhlman's letter on this page pertaining to the bookstore being moved to a new location is much appreciated. The administration announced on Tuesday evening that the bookstore would definitely be moved to Richards Cafeteria before the beginning of winter quarter.

While suggestions are being made, why not keep both bookstores open, limiting competition in each. If there be a shortage of employees to staff both, the bookstore franchisee volunteer to man one of the stores during that one, however.

Another, excellent suggestion might be to distribute the following quarter's book list some time before the end of the previous quarter. That would enable the student to purchase the books at his convenience. It would be easier immediately, then being no excuse for not having the book on the first day of classes.

Student suggests options to campus smoke problem

To the Editor:

I believe the general consensus about the bookstore (during registration) is that the system used is not satisfactory. I would offer a possible solution to this problem. First, I think the bookstore should be moved to a larger area, such as space vacated by the CAFeteria. Next, I think four "checkout counters" should be set up, and five to seven people hired to pick out the students' books. These people would then have to go through the six "book workers." After these workers get the books ready to the best of their abilities, they will then hand the student to whom they would see the cashier. After payment was made, the student would enter and the time involved should be at a minimum.

Then, I believe the bookstore should be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. for the first three days of classes.

Attendance policy criticized

To the Editor:
Let's make Winona State a college. For a high school to receive a state aid is much harder to show that its pupils attended so many hours. This is not the case with Winona State. Why then does Winona State have a roll policy? With a class of 75 in a room with moveable chairs it takes almost five minutes to take attendance. This is not the case with Winona State. For with moveable chairs it takes almost five minutes to take roll. This is ten percent of a fifty minute class. Nine other State have a roll taking policy? Let's create state aid it must be able to receive state aid it must be able to show that its pupils attended so much time. And proper attendance. The instructor's only worry is their competence.

Let's take away the mother image and make Winona State a college. Let's do away with attendance records.

New groups to broaden campus

Newly support the actions of other chapters. This explains why some chapters are radical and others conservative. This is why WSC-SDS; WSC-RDS set up a booth opposite the Navy Recruiting booth in the Student Center November 6 and 7. In contrast to the violence expressed by many dissidents on college campuses across the country, the WSC-RDS caused no problems.

The Students for a Democratic Society hopes to work toward more liberal dorm hours for women and curricular changes, particularly in Social Science. Meetings are held every Tuesday at 4:45 in Rixay Commons. Any interested is welcome to attend.

The pep band which plays at basketball games and other athletic events has changed. Winona State College students and faculty members are welcome to join the pep band.

The Beatles have inspired a wave of folk music groups whose main virtue is loudness and a strong beat. The Cryin' Shames, who performed at St. Mary's Saturday night are part of this "new sound" and, as indicated by the age of the audience, a part of the young music scene. Opening with a flash of yellow, green, blue, and red lights, the group appeared dressed in a motley array including an orange suitcoat with brown and white pants, a white coat with gray and white striped trousers, and a blue shirt with white collar and cuffs and blue pants. Naturally they all wore long hair, but it was combed and clean.

Warriors lose to St. Cloud

The Warriors, who finished as runners-up in the conference because of a 1-3 loss to St. Cloud, led the league in both total offense and defense.

Winona averaged 383.2 yards per game and rolled up a total of 1,841 yards for the five game conference season. Both figures are NIC records. In rushing offense the Warriors ranked second behind St. Cloud with 1,497 yards to the Huskies 1,280. In passing offense, the Statesmen were also second, this time to Bemidji, 799 to 594.

On defense, Winona held a wide margin. The Warriors came up with an average of 238.8 yards per game. St. Cloud was second with a 364.4 average. Winona led in rushing defense, passing defense and fewest number of plays run by opponents.

Individually, Pat Rolands finished second in rushing with an average of over 103 yards per game. Quarterback Tom Lennon was the second leading passer in the conference and third in total offense. Split end Tom Van Feldt was well down the list in total receptions, but he set an NIC record with six touchdown receptions and tied for the league scoring title.

Defensive back Rick Starenski also set an NIC record by intercepting six passes.

ISU creams Warriors 41-7

Illinois State University made easy work of the Warrior gridiron last Saturday, dumping them 41-7 in a rout that saw Winona outclassed in virtually every department.

The Warriors, held to only 145 yards for the game, less than half their normal average, couldn’t puncture consistent holes in the ISU defense despite open pass receivers most of the afternoon. Winona hit on only seven passes in 29 attempts for 33 yards, but several passes were dropped.

ISU jumped to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter when Jerry Kinskich dashed 15 yards to paydirt and then added the conversion.

The Warrior defense held up un- til Kinskich fixed a 49-yard touchdown pass to end Harold Olsen early in the second period. Another conversion and it stood 14-0 at the half.

But the two touchdowns were quickly bolstered. Arnie Giles picked off a Winona pass and returned it 35 yards to paydirt early in the third period. Then Clarence Mokeszczly bolted two yards after a bad snap from center on a Winona punt had given them the ball at that position.

Trailing 28-0, Winona Coach Moon Molinari went almost entirely to his second string, and the reserve backfield of quarterback Curt Palmer and running back Ed Fuglestad and Ed lief-dek and split end Harold Olsen had gathered in a 28-yard touchdown pass from Kinskich early in the final period to run the score to 35-0. Bane drove the length of the field after the kickoff with Palmer counting on a one-yard run. Dave Kroub booted to make is 35-7 with eight minutes left in the game. Moments later ISU scored again, but missed the extra point.

Besides the second string backfield, Molinari cited Chuck Gersich and Jerry Stejskal for their defensive effort for the Warriors.

The loss dropped Winona’s season record to 6-2 with one game remaining on its schedule. That comes against undefeated and 10th ranked Central of Iowa at Maxwell Field Saturday afternoon.
