Vol. XLIX
Winona State College, Winona, Minn., January 11, 1968

No. 10

The Winonaan

Fund drive to start this weekend to finance president's medallion

The fund drive among students to raise the money needed to finance the president's medallion will begin this weekend, according to James Evenson, alumni director.

Since the medallion is a gift to Winona State College, it is not the property of any one president, and will establish a tradition of being handed down from president to president. In this way, the medallion will become a lasting monument to Winona State College from the entire student body of 1968.

The gown, symbolic of the State of Minnesota and of the pioneer citizens of Winona, are given by citizens of Winona and by Winona State College students.

The symbolism of the medallion lies within the framework of the letters of "Winona State College President," which encircle and fold together the inner symbol. It is the center of the medallion that is focused on the equilateral triangle, symbolic of science, literature, and art, while the circle, an endless movement of education, holds symbols of the world and man.

At the apex of the triangle, the acquisition of the Mississippi River and the 10,000 lakes, which is the lower left of the triangle, the topus represents the agriculture of this state. At the lower right of the triangle is the granite, representing the early pioneer citizens of Winona who, in 1858, approached the legislature to be a charter for the institution and in addition gave land and money to provide a place for the college.

In the segments outside the triangle, the little stars, which shine for the State of Minnesota, the trees for the great forests, and the base, flowing lines of the streams of Minnesota.

The fire of the opal in the link to the chain, is real, and in belief in education, and the purple alexandrite symbolizes the school color.

The medallion, after being presented to Dr. DuFrene at the beginning of the academic year, will be worn by the president during academic processions and will be on display several times during the school year.

Members of the WSC Art Department, were assigned the medallion, and Josien of Owatonna was in charge of striking.

Representatives of the College Club will contact each student as the personal-person campaign is planned.

State colleges form union; Ross, Grimmattends meetings

A union of the six state colleges is nearing completion as the organization of the Minnesota State Student Association is realized.

This past weekend, John Ross and Robert (Jim) Grim, president and vice-president of the Student Senate, attended the group's fourth annual meeting at St. Cloud State College. Also present were representatives from Bemidji State College. According to Ross, however, all colleges, including Southwest, are in agreement with the basic principles.

The purpose of the association is to encourage an exchange of ideas among students and to provide a channel of communication to the governor's office, the state legislature, and the state college board.

The board has real power and is, in the initiative, it is up to the people of the state to be aware of this power.

A total of 59 students completed work for degree at the end of the fall quarter at Winona State College, according to Dr. H. R. Raymond, academic dean.

Degrees will be awarded for the following majors:

- Master of Science
- Bachelor of Arts
- Bachelor of Music
- Bachelor of Business Administration
- Bachelor of Education
- Bachelor of Business

59 students complete work, gain degrees full-time and part-time

Degrees will be awarded for the following majors:

- Master of Science
- Bachelor of Arts
- Bachelor of Music
- Bachelor of Business Administration
- Bachelor of Education
- Bachelor of Business

Winonaan Student Association

The Open Heart, and the Second In Friendly Candel, pub-lished in 1955, which describes his friendship and his adventures with a number of more famous American authors.

Mr. Wekes has written two books about Boston, Boston: Cream of the Crop and Boston As Seen In Boston, being a history of the Lowell Institute, and he has occasionally been known as a Short Short Novels was a Literary Guild Selection. He has been 106 years of the Atlantic, which cele-brated the magazine's centennial by giving entertainment. The Free-Book of the Month Club. He wrote a potted history and biographies about the magazine, and his book is available in S106.

Editor Weeks will discuss a "Creed for Americans" in a public lecture this evening in Somsen Auditorium at 8 p.m. on the eve of the inaugu-ral ceremony. A reception will be held following the commencement.

The next meeting, also at St. Cloud, is scheduled for February 17. The initiation of the student association was headed by the then student body president at SCSU in December 1966.

It is imperative that each or-ganization purchase the tickets for your representative and se-cretary-date or couple by Tuesday, January 18, according to the committee. Student organizations have been given permission of securing their tickets before the general public.

Following study students in priority in all, faculty, staff and maintenance staff may pur-chase tickets also by the Tues-day, January 18 deadline.

All remaining tickets will go on sale to the general public, includ-ing the student body (from Jan-uary 15 to January 19.) Tickets must be secured in the Student Union Hall. Ticket booth at a cost of $5 per person from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. from January 18 to January 19.

Alumni are asked to complete the form found at the bottom of this page, indicate whether for the Inaugural Ceremony and/or the Dinner and Ball, and it in-cluding the Dinner, include check payable to Winona State College for $5 per person.

Edward Weeks, editor of the Atlantic Monthly, America's fore-most literary magazine, will be a lecturer at Winona State College February 1 in conjunction with the inauguration of Dr. Robert A. DuFrene as the tenth president of the college.

Editor Weeks will discuss a "Creed for Americans" in a public lecture this evening in Somsen Auditorium at 8 p.m. on the eve of the inaugu-ral ceremony. A reception will

Lack of sponsorship limits Winter weekend activities

Winter Weekend, scheduled on the college calendar for January 19 and 20, has been changed in concept due to a lack of sponsorship and proper organ-ization.

Originally intended to be an entire weekend of events, the function is now billed as semi-private entertainment. The President's Dinner, a lecturer at Winona State College, was recently published Conversations With Walter Lippman.

Talked, and praying. Mr. Wekes makes his home on Beacon Hill in Boston. An ambassadeur with the Navy during World War I, he was awarded the Croix de Guerre, and later was the recipient of post-war scholarships at Harvard Uni-versity and Trinity College, Cambridge.

Lack of sponsorship limits Winter weekend activities

Members of the former Social Committee are sponsoring the event; the Student Coordinating Committee failed to form this quarter. As proposed, the IFC would coordinate the event with the newly instituted college system organization by the faculty senate.

The Social Committee is scheduled to reform before the end of the month.

Lack of sponsorship limits Winter weekend activities

Winonaan Student Association

The Open Heart, and the Second In Friendly Candel, pub-lished in 1955, which describes his friendship and his adventures with a number of more famous American authors.

Mr. Wekes has written two books about Boston, Boston: Cream of the Crop and Boston As Seen In Boston, being a history of the Lowell Institute, and he has occasionally been known as a Short Short Novels was a Literary Guild Selection. He has been 106 years of the Atlantic, which cele-brated the magazine's centennial by giving entertainment. The Free-Book of the Month Club. He wrote a potted history and biographies about the magazine, and his book is available in S106.

Editor Weeks will discuss a "Creed for Americans" in a public lecture this evening in Somsen Auditorium at 8 p.m. on the eve of the inaugu-ral ceremony. A reception will be held following the commencement.

The next meeting, also at St. Cloud, is scheduled for February 17. The initiation of the student association was headed by the then student body president at SCSU in December 1966.

Donations By Residency

Type the Inauguration Committee
Winona State College
Winona, Minnesota 55987

Name: ____________________________
Address: ____________________________

I will attend: The inauguration
(number) — no cost
The dinner and ball (5 enclosed per person)
Help improve Winona

As the new quarter begins, we feel the need to keep improving the paper and need your help.

Our sports coverage is quite obviously lacking, not for a lack of interest in the subject, but for lack of someone able to write about sports. Surely one of our many critics in Memorial Hall knows of a student who has the interest and ability to write sports. Send him up.

This also brings up another question. Since so many students read the paper, why aren't more of you writing? Why isn't the Winona Times sports page quite as good as the back-page comics? Why isn't the Winona Times sports page written by students?

Another authority whose name seems to be lost in the confusion of Christmas mail, bills, etc., etc., Dr. Ralph F. Dunbar, Today Show recently and is the head of the Narcotics Division in Harlem—N.Y.C., gave many answers and much good, documental information regarding mari-juana.

His contention is that from his investigation the use of marijuana most definitely develops into the use of heroin and it is not done because it is necessarily addictive, though disagreement exists even in this area. Some feel it can.

This progression from marijuana use to heroin is so frequent — not quite as frequent as from the shelves of Christmas mail, bills, etc.) who was on Hugh Down's

To the Editor:

Your editorial on Nov. 3, '67 interested Mid-west. I've been out we see hundreds of addicts and

Dr. Ranciere, a recognized author-

There has also been some talk of running a short column on

PSychological Services Center

by Richard Gora

Few college students realize

That the Psychological Services Center actually two separate facilities, one for twenty-

French primary and secondary

We have received some pressure for something other than straight-line coverage of Winona. We've been given an analytical business beats type of column. Your opinions on this are solicited. Send me your ideas on short column on area oil conditions every week. Are you, the student body, interested, or is it just a few vociferous individuals?

Alumnus discusses drugs, points out harm of marijuana

As we go to press

by Fredric Barsanski

What's Wrong with American Colleges and Universities

recognizes nine students for their scholarship and service to Win-

Majoring in Business Administra-

Jim Beam, founder of the famous Bourbon Whiskey, asks, "Let Students Drink" (let students drink) eventually founded himself. Jim says he is also running his fraternity behind the scenes. He hopes the same thing doesn't happen to him.

Plain Gehrke, unknown and certainly has not been a party to the whole election smelled, and I know the whole election smelled, but I made it and I'm not going back. So if they like high the ballot" commented, "So what if

Loren Bolygirch member of the Phi Delta Society and a member of the Board of Directors, has a theory that explains everything. "But everyone knows the whole election smelled, but I made it and I'm not going back. So if they like high the ballot"

Alfonso Bagaglio, member of the Phi Delta Society and a member of the Board of Directors, has a theory that explains everything. "But everyone knows the whole election smelled, but I made it and I'm not going back. So if they like high the ballot"

Alfonso Bagaglio, member of the Phi Delta Society and a member of the Board of Directors, has a theory that explains everything. "But everyone knows the whole election smelled, but I made it and I'm not going back. So if they like high the ballot"

Brian Phi Delta Society and a member of the Board of Directors, has a theory that explains everything. "But everyone knows the whole election smelled, but I made it and I'm not going back. So if they like high the ballot"

The keen edge

Wash our car . . .

Don't let it rust away

Wash away excess road dirt at:

SOFSPRA CAR WASH

1512 Service Drive

Oxnard Westgate
A meeting was held today for all students applying for financial aid during the 1968-1969 school year. At the meeting Mr. John Kane, Financial aid director, explained various financial aid programs offered at Winona State. One of the newer programs is the State Scholarship program available to Minnesota residents under 26 years of age. Signups will range from $200-$400 a year, depending upon tuition, fees, and both costs and need. Scholarships will be awarded annually to first year college students who ranked highest according to academic standards set by the Liaison and Facilities Commission for Higher Education in Minnesota.

The National Defense Student Loan is available for students who maintain a 2.0 C average. An undergraduate may borrow $1,000 each academic year; a graduate student may borrow $3,500. Payments begin 9 months following graduation and may be extended for ten years. Ten percent of the payment may be forgiven for each year a person teaches, up to five years. A similar program is the Nursing Student Loan forLuckily Requirements and payments are similar to the National Defense Student Loan.

United Student Aid Funds are available from USAF, a private corporation which provides low-cost loans to students. Money is provided for tuition, fees, room, and board. All interest on the loan is paid by the United States government.

Work on campus is provided to students through the Work-Study program. Preference is given to applicants from low-income families. Students may work 8 hours per week while attending school and 48 hours per week while not attending school. Current wage is $1.35 per hour, a 50c per hour raise every two years. Other employment may be found in Winona by checking the bulletin board in the basement of Ryko’s Commons.

Students applying for aid who are under 21 years of age, or single, must have their parents or guardian complete the Parents’ Confidential Statement.

---

Kane explains programs offered at financial aids meeting today.
WSC bowling team does "very well" on road trip

Winona State bowling team finished with a 900 average in their second Tri-C with meets at Millikin, South Dakota on January 4. Captain Duane Nelson, captain more from Minneapolis, led the way with a 101 average. The WSC bowling team won two out of three games from the University of Minnesota Morris, one out of three games from Gustavus Adolphus, and split with Manitoba tying one game at 911.

Coach Charles Zane commented that "the team did very well considering the long road trip." As of Millikin meet Winona is third among the seven college teams competing. Zane concluded, "After the next meet in Marshall on February 3 there is a possibility of the WSC bowling team to move into first or second."