Woman Dies After Collision Here

7 Children Dead In Tacoma Fire

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—A flash fire believed to have started in a faulty refrigerator, roared through a two story frame house here early today and burned seven children to death.

The victims were James Clifton, 15, Nancy McCauley, 12, Thomas McCauley, 11, Cyndia McCauley, 9, Darrell McCauley, 8, Susan McCauley, 3, and Magnus McCauley, eight months.

Six of the victims were the children of Mrs. Jean McCauley, 28, James Clifton was Mrs. McCauley's brother.

Six of the children were found in their beds. Cyndia's body was found close to an upstairs window.

Fire Chief Harold Fisk said the children "didn't have a prayer's chance of escaping that fire." He described the house as "a scorched shell."

Police Detectives Al Waters and R. D. Roberts said Mrs. McCauley, a divorcee, was attending a movie at a drive-in theater at the time of the fire. She was held for questioning.

Larry Amundsen, Pierce County deputy coroner, quoted her as saying she thought the older children could "take care of things."

House Seeks to Speed Up Work As End Nears

Action on Several Measures Completed, Bills Go to Senate

By ADOLPH JOHNSON

ST. PAUL (AP)—The House tossed the ball to the Senate on several important issues this week as the Minnesota Legislature neared the end of its 90-day session.

Greatest emphasis in the closing days will be on spending and taxes. Major appropriations bills are expected to become available early next week.

This will put the pressure on the tax committees. Reports are that recommendations for spending from the general revenue fund will be substantially below the governor's budget, but there still will be a wide gap between needs and anticipated revenues.

Passed by the House and sent to the Senate during the week were: The income tax withholding bill, counted on by the administration to bring in an extra 25 million dollars during the next two years to finance higher school aids.

The 27 million dollar Korean bonus bill.

Old Age Aid
A $10 a month increase in the maximum old age assistance allowance, setting the figure at $70. The fair employment practices bill.

Action on the withholding bill, which was passed, 71-56, came after the liberal majority in the House pushed through a special rule giving automatic priority to tax and appropriations measures. Conservative opposition had threatened to block or delay consideration.

The Senate Tax Committee set a hearing on the bill for Monday, amid indications amendments would be proposed to forgive part of the tax obligation while withholding is being put into effect and to conserve the 25 million "windfall" for future spending.

A suggestion offered late in the week by Rep. Roy Dunn, Pelican Rapids, may make the proposal more palatable to conservatives who have heretofore opposed it. He proposed splitting the windfall between the school fund and the general revenue fund and thus balancing the budget without additional taxes.

Senate action on the Korean bonus and the fair employment practices bill is expected early next week.

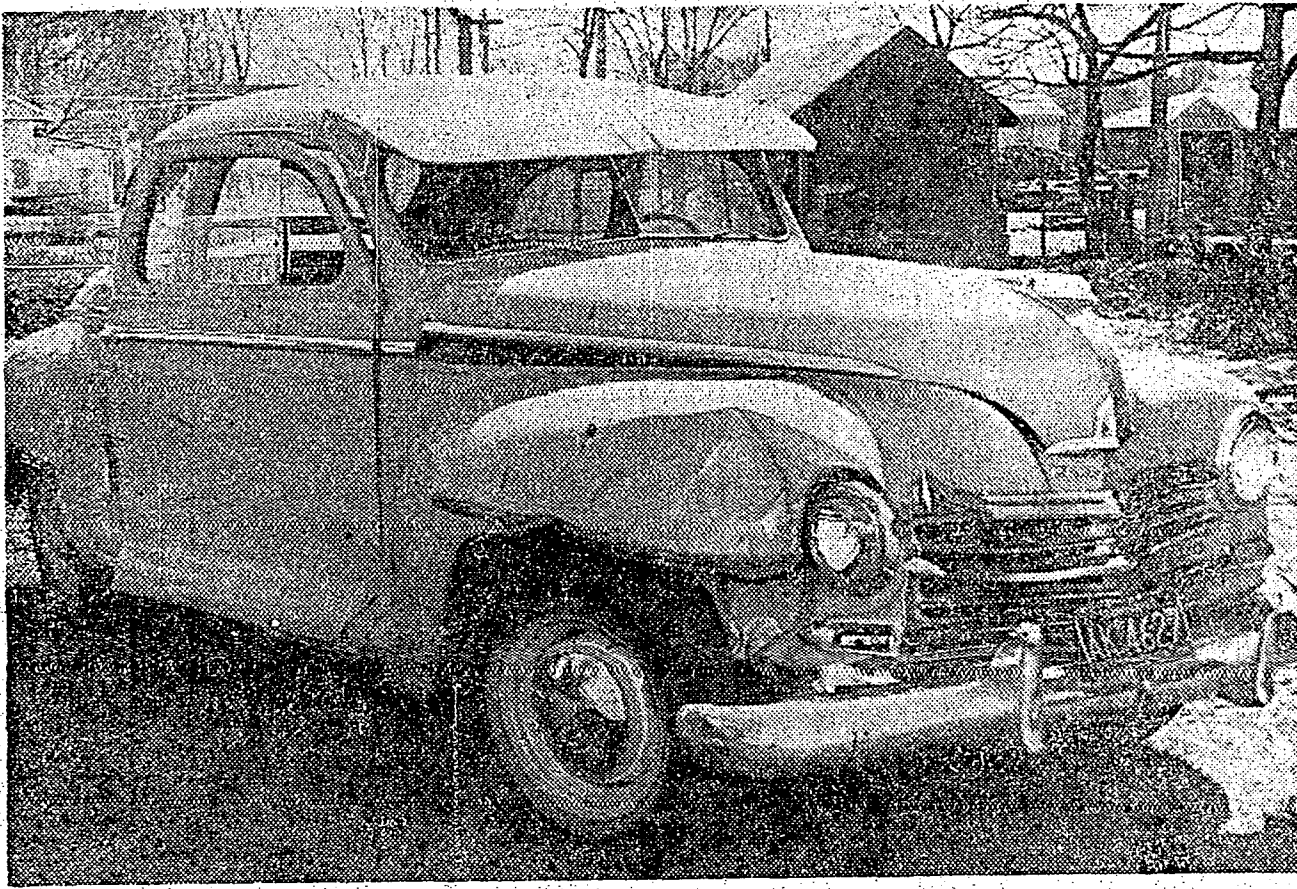

Highway Formula
Another major development during the week was acceptance by the Senate Highway Committee of a House-approved formula for dividing highway user revenues on a 62-29-9 percentage basis among the state, the counties and municipalities over 5,000.

This proposal, if it passes the Senate, will be submitted to the voters as a constitutional amendment at the 1958 general election. The reauthorized automobile license plate bill, providing for a specially painted two-year plate, was passed by the House and became law when it was signed by the governor. The new plates will be used starting in 1956.

Another major bill sent to the governor calls for a vote in 1956 in an advisory capacity without compensation.

HOUSE SEEKS

A Passenger in This Car was injured fatally in an accident at West 5th and Wilson streets Friday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Knoll, 251 E. Howard St., died of injuries suffered when she was thrown out of the car after the crash. Five occupants of the other car involved in the mishap were injured. Mrs. Knoll's husband, the driver of the car in which she was riding, was not injured. (Daily News photo)

2nd City Fatality Within Two Weeks

Two cars collided at West 5th and Wilson streets at 5:45 p.m. Friday, causing the death of a passenger in one and injuring five occupants of the other.

Listed as Winona's third traffic fatality of the year—the second in two weeks—is Mrs. Mabel Knoll, 56, 251 E. Howard St., who died at the Winona General Hospital at 11 p.m., five hours after she had been admitted for treatment of internal injuries, a shoulder fracture and severe shock suffered in the crash.

Small Atomic Blast Set Off, Big One Delayed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An atomic device which evidently was a little fellow, comparatively speaking, was exploded today but a bigger one scheduled later in the day was postponed. The experts said the wind direction and speed were unfavorable.

The next test, the Atomic Energy Commission announced, will not be until at least Tuesday. None had been planned for Easter Sunday and after today's postponement the next weather briefing was set for 10:30 a.m. Monday to evaluate conditions for Tuesday.

The shot today from a 300-foot tower on Yucca Flat came at 4:30 a.m. It was seen as a bright whiteness, fading into rich yellow, in La Vegas, 75 miles from the test site, and as a quick flash in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Salt Lake City.

Evidence that the first shot of the day was a comparatively small one—as atom bombs go—was seen in the fact that observers said they did not feel a shock wave from the test site about 75 miles from here. Las Vegas sometimes gets a sturdy jolt from the explosion of major atomic devices.

Two sharp jolts were felt at the test site control center. Twenty-four British and Canadian observers watched the pre-dawn explosion.

The customary atomic cloud rose to about 15,000 feet and drifted rapidly away to the south, southeast.

Subsequently the AEC said the winds were unfavorable for the scheduled 9 a.m. time of the second test from a 400-foot tower on Frenchman Flat and it was postponed at least until 11:30 a.m. (1:30 p.m. CST).

Churchill Sure Of Nomination To Parliament

WOODFORD, England (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill today was assured the Conservative party nomination for Parliament in this suburban London district.

Col. W. H. Barlow-Wheeler, secretary of the Woodford Division Conservative Assn., released a letter he wrote the retired Prime Minister saying: "It is with great pleasure that I have noted your wish to continue to represent your Woodford constituents in the House of Commons."

"I am sure this pleasure will be shared by the vast majority of those you have served so faithfully for so many years, and they will welcome an opportunity of returning you to Westminster at the next general election so that your incomparable experience may continue to be available to Parliament and the nation."

Churchill has represented this London dormitory area for 30 of the 52 years he has served in Parliament.

The Labor party has not announced its nominee for the prospective election expected to be held about May 26.

Child's Eye Hurt By Dynamite Cap

MADISON (AP)—A four-year-old girl's eye was damaged by fragments of a stolen dynamite cap tossed into a bonfire Friday night.

Margie Moschkau, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Moschkau, was taken to a local hospital. A staff physician said it is possible she may keep her sight in the injured eye.

The doctor said X-rays showed "two jagged fragments of the dynamite cap lodged in her eyeball." The girl also was struck in one leg and foot.

Two boys, aged 14 and 15, were arrested for tossing the dynamite cap into the fire. They admitted they had stolen the caps from the Dane County highway garage.

Fine Easter Weather For Most of Nation

It looks like a dry and generally pleasant Easter weekend for most of the nation. Weather Bureau forecasts indicate that milady's new Easter bonnet will not get wet except possibly in parts of the Northern Rockies and the Pacific Northwest, where showers are in prospect. Fair weather was predicted for other areas.

There were a few wet spots today. Thunderstorms rumbled over parts of Texas and Louisiana. Another rain belt extended over sections of the Pacific Northwest.

It was a little cool in sections of the East and Southeast early today but warmer weather was on the way. Freezing temperatures were limited to New England, New York State, parts of the Appalachians and in the higher elevations of the Far West.

In parts of the South, readings were a little cool with 38 at Greensboro, N.C., 42 at Chattanooga and 44 at Savannah, Ga. But they were milder in the rest of the South.

Clear and mild weather continued in most other areas. Temperatures were generally above seasonal levels through the Plains and in the Midwest. In the Far West yesterday readings up to 70 degrees were reported as far north as Washington and ranged up to 90 degrees in the Southwest desert region.

"The president hit the ceiling when he was told of Hatozama's remark," a reliable Korean source said. "This is the last straw. We can never establish normal relations with Japan if they are going to play the Communists off against us."

Ironically, it was March 26, Rhee's 86th birthday, that Hatozama in reply to a question told a budget committee, according to the Diet record:

"I wish friendly achievements will be made with our neighbors. North Korea seemed to be prepared for something. I think such talks may be conducted before long."

The questioner had said that the Foreign Ministry of North Korea "reportedly issued a statement expressing a desire to open economic and cultural relations with Japan."

It was reported that Yeu Tai Hua, counselor of the Korean mission to Japan, had just reached Korea to report on the progress he was making with Japanese authorities when Hatozama's remark hit Seoul like an icy blast.

The Asian neighbors have been unable to settle differences over ownership of property and national treasures following a 36-year occupation of Korea by Japan.

Talks between Japan and Korea broke down nearly two years ago when a Japanese negotiator said the government of Korea was illegal.

Cat Evicted From Chimney, Kittens Now Earthbound

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The white cat of James Victor has been evicted from the plugged-up chimney atop Victor's house, and her three kittens now are earthbound.

Victor didn't want the cat to keep her brood in the chimney for several reasons. Neighborhood children kept crawling over the tile roof to examine the kittens. Robins have nests under the eaves, and the shrieks of the anguished birds were disconcerting, to say the least.

But when Victor had the kittens deposited in a blanket hideaway he fashioned in the garage for the mother cat, he failed to reckon with her obstinacy. She took her brood back to the chimney.

The creaking noise of tile chipping under the children's feet, and the shrill cries of the birds went on, but today Victor brought the kittens down again. This time they stayed down. They are 12 days old, and too big for mother cat to carry in a leap from the front porch to the roof.

2 Teen-agers Rescued From Car in River

BRISTOL, N.H. (AP)—Two teen-agers, rescued from a car trapped in the raging Smith River for 33 hours, were recovering today at Franklin Hospital.

Nancy Willis, 14, and Albert Paine Jr., 16, suffered shock and exposure during their ordeal. They were described as in good condition.

The harrowing experience began Wednesday night when Nancy, learning how to drive, lost control of Paine's automobile.

The car plunged down a 50-foot embankment and was swept 400 feet down the swift river before it came to rest on a rock under a bridge.

Hundreds of men and boys from Bristol and surrounding communities searched for the couple but were unable to see them because the car was obscured by the bridge. The roar of the current drowned their cries for help.

Water seeped into the car and rose as high as the seat. Clad only in light clothing, Nancy and Albert spent Wednesday night huddled under a blanket in the car. They kept their spirits up with light banter and by reading an old joke book.

But most of the time they prayed. At dawn Thursday when the swirling current threatened to dislodge the vehicle into deeper water, Albert wanted to try to swim to shore, but Nancy dissuaded him. Both also feared the car might capsize if they opened the door.

Mrs. Charles Knoll

sive trucking experience—without an accident, recalled that he had slowed down as he approached the intersection.

"There was another car on my right and I thought maybe he was going through so I slowed down to let him go around me if he wanted to," Hall explained.

"I saw this other car (driven by Knoll) approaching," Hall continued, "but I thought he was far enough away so that there wouldn't be any trouble and then the next thing I know we're both in the intersection." Hall said that he turned somewhat in an effort to avoid the accident and that he believed his speed was under 20 miles an hour at the time.

The right front portion of the Knoll car struck the Hall automobile just ahead of the front door.

Runs Up Lawn
The Knoll car veered to the left after colliding in the eastbound lane of traffic on 5th street, continued over the curb and came to stop on the lawn at the southeast corner of the intersection.

Mrs. Knoll was thrown out of the car, probably when it struck the curb, and was lying in the street at the southeast corner of the intersection, about 7 feet ahead of the spot where the Hall car came to a stop.

Mrs. Knoll was conscious immediately after the accident and an ambulance was called to take her to the hospital.

Mrs. Hall and her son were taken to the hospital in a police squad car.

The accident occurred during the late afternoon period of heavy traffic and cars were stopped in the street for more than a block on each side of the accident scene.

Capt. William Muthaupt dispatched five patrolmen to the accident site and for a time traffic on 5th street was rerouted on Broadway until the intersection had been cleared of the two cars.

Second in Two Weeks
It was two weeks to the day since the city recorded its second traffic fatality of the year.

On the evening of March 25, Mrs. Eva Spuhler, 74, 202 Center St., was injured fatally when she was struck by a car as she crossed Broadway at Center street.

WOMAN DIES

Mother and Two Children Saved In Suicide Leap

SEATTLE (U-A) — A 24-year-old mother walked to the center of a 55-foot-high ship canal bridge here yesterday with her son, 4, and daughter, 2.

Calmly she threw the little boy over the edge. Then the baby. And, ignoring the shouts of horrified passersby who rushed up to restrain her, she followed her children in the long plunge into the chill waters.

Miraculously, Mrs. Ann Salisbury, 24, survived, thanks to quick action by four young men who plunged into the canal after them.

"I must have been dreaming," Mrs. Salisbury repeated over and over again as police gave her and the two children first aid.

But later at a hospital she told Policewoman Kay Callender she planned all day to do away with herself and the children.

The decision was made after a physician told her she needed psychiatric treatment.

Mrs. Salisbury picked up the children who had been left with a babysitter and drove to Seattle's highest bridge but couldn't bring herself to make the 165-foot drop. "I decided to go home and kill ourselves in our garage," she related. "There were a lot of children playing around the garage so I left."

"I circled around and drove to a grocery store and got the children some chocolate doughnuts." Some aimless wandering finally brought the trio to the bridge.

Three high school students saw Mrs. Salisbury's plunge. They rushed down the canal bank and dived into the water. One grabbed the little boy and the others brought the little girl ashore.

An unidentified young man later pulled out Mrs. Salisbury. Within a few minutes they were on the way to hospital treatment, none more than cold and wet.

Frederick Salisbury, the husband and father, had little explanation.

"She was a good mother," he said. "But she has been crying a lot."

H. D. Professors Ask State to Foot Hearing Costs

FARGO, N. D. (U-A) — Counsel for one of four suspended North Dakota Agricultural College professors asked Friday night that public money be made available for the defense of the four at a public hearing opening Monday.

J. F. X. Conmy, counsel for Dr. Daniel Q. Posin, also said in a letter to commissioner of higher education A. F. Arnason the cost of dissemination of answers to formal charges filed by NDAC President Fred S. Hultz against the four should be borne by the state.

Conmy maintains public monies are being used with authorization of the Board of Higher Education to retain William R. Pearce of Bismarck to act as prosecutor at the hearing, and that state money apparently was used for mimeographing Dr. Hultz's charges.

Drs. Posin, Cecil Haver, Baldur Kristjansson and William Trueman were charged by Hultz with having attempted to "undermine, frustrate and make ineffective" his administration.

The four were suspended by the board on Jan. 17, with the provision they be granted the public hearing before the college advisory committee.

YMCA Student Tour Visits Headquarters Of U.N. in New York

NEW YORK — The Winona-Albert Lea-Austin YMCA group has spent hours at the U.N. headquarters here since arriving Wednesday from Washington, D.C.

The 87 student members of the know-your-government seminar toured the headquarters Thursday morning, then heard a representative speak on the purposes, functions, activities and interpretations of the U.N. and its agencies. The speaker stressed objectives that often are misinterpreted.

The previous evening the group attended the Martin Beck Theater's presentation of the comedy, "The House of the August Moon," and other entertainment was planned before boarding a train Monday evening for Winona.

Thursday evening a dinner dance was held at the Brouhaus, with foreign students attending. Field trips are scheduled for today, church services and a boat trip Sunday and another visit to the U.N. Monday.

Nine Winona students, plus two adults, are with the touring group.

Winona County Mails $44,051 For Welfare

Monthly Report
Made by Secretary;
Breakdown Made

Checks totaling $44,051 were mailed out to 796 welfare recipients in Winona County on April 1, William P. Werner, executive secretary of the county welfare department announced today.

Included in the figure are grants made by the welfare department for old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the disabled and child welfare, with the lion's share of the checks going to OAA recipients.

Of the total, about 24 per cent—$10,546—comes out of county coffers. The remainder is divided between the state and federal governments, said Werner.

213 Children
In a breakdown below, the 28 cases listed for child welfare do not represent the total number of children currently (as of April 1) under agency supervision. The total presently included in the child welfare program here is 213. Money grants were made to but 28, said Werner; the rest receive welfare services only.

Costs of welfare grants are distributed in this way, added Werner: Old-age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the disabled are shared by state, federal and county agencies—in varying proportions; child welfare is paid entirely by the county, and aid to the blind is borne entirely by the state and federal government.

The 202 persons receiving grants under ADC during April are in 75 county families, Werner noted.

Costs
Old age 20
ADC 20
Disabled 20
Child welfare 20
Aid to blind 20

Totals
Costs: $44,051
Cost difference between state and federal government, but program is administered on the county level.

This total is for March. There is a one month lag before statements are received from the state agency.

Also handled by the county welfare department, but not included in the April statement, are 43 cases at the University Hospital, Minneapolis, and 27 veterans' assistance recipients. The university bill is presented to the county quarterly and the veterans' costs are paid entirely by the state.

In a meeting of the county welfare board, held Thursday afternoon at the courthouse, Paul T. McGuire, caseworker at the welfare office, was granted permanent status after having satisfactorily completed a 6-month probationary period.

Homes Relicensed
Three boarding houses were relicensed for one year by the board. All three are at Lewiston and serve as foster homes for children under the department's child welfare program.

Summer vacations for two county children now at the Fairbault State School were approved by the welfare board Thursday.

A quarterly report received from the Fairbault school today shows that 60 county children are presently being cared for at the institution. The county's share of maintaining these children, said Werner, is $80 per child per year.

After 13 Years In Prison He'll Get His Trial

SIoux FALLS, S.D. — Arnold Funk, 29, formerly of McGregor, Iowa, entered prison 13 years ago when he was 17 for slaying an expectant farm mother.

Now he can expect to stand trial for the crime.

Circuit Judge Roy D. Burns of Sioux Falls Friday in an advisory finding said Funk's writ of habeas corpus would be granted. Funk sought the writ on the grounds he was given a life sentence by the late Judge J. H. Bottum without benefit of counsel.

Burns found that because of the seriousness of the offense and the age of Funk the boy should have been represented by counsel and given a painstaking explanation of his rights under law.

Shortly after the advisory findings were announced Asst. Atty. Gen. George Wuest and State's attorney at Pierre, Atty. Robert Gross of Edmunds County decided Funk would stand trial for murder. Wuest made the Funk will be charged with the slaying of Mrs. Leona Hoffman May 11, 1942.

Worker Finds That Law Is Competent

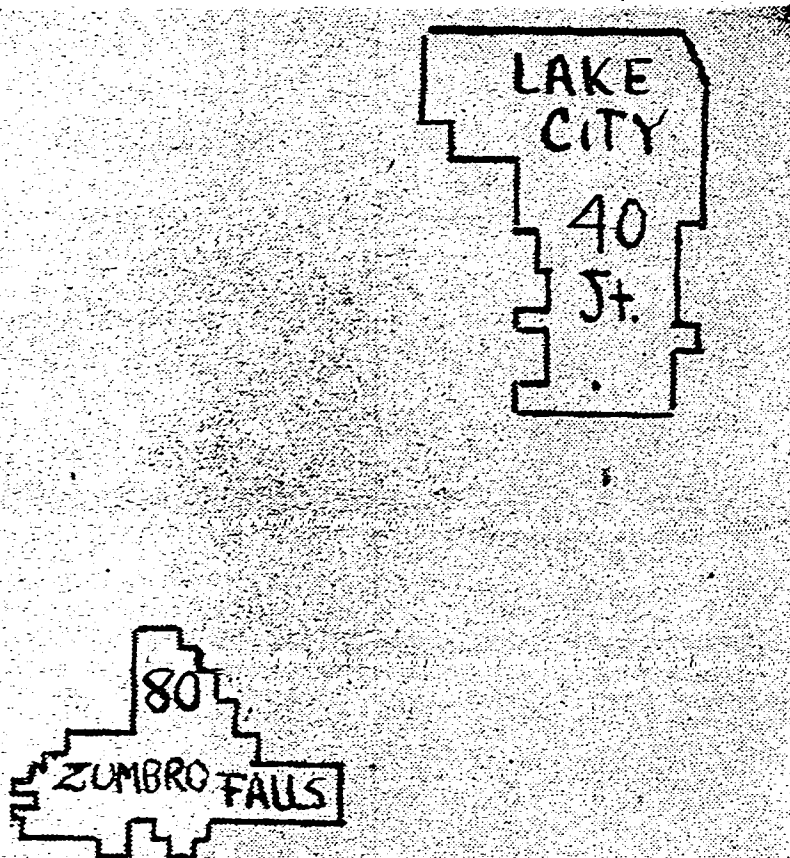

ST. LOUIS — Police Judge Robert G. David gazed at the bruised and battered face of the shipyard worker, charged with peace disturbance in a tavern and with resisting arrest, and said "Don't you know who this officer is?"

"I sure do now," replied the defendant.

The officer, who testified he had to floor the defendant three times when he resisted arrest, was Ray Mastlovich, three-time golden glove champ and the police department boxing champ.

The judge fined the defendant $25.

Proposed Zumbro Falls-Lake City Consolidation

A Consolidation Proposal which would merge the Zumbro Falls district, lower left, and Lake City, upper right, will be voted on at Zumbro Falls Tuesday. The distance between the districts makes no difference under state law. Zumbro Falls also is included on a consolidation plat of 21 rural districts from the center of Wabasha County now before the State Department of Education.

Wabasha Co. Debating Several School Plats

WABASHA, Minn.—The trend for school district enlargement, which has troubled Wabasha County for several years, will come to a head within the next few weeks as four consolidation plats—all overlapping another—are considered.

Tuesday voters of Zumbro Falls District 80 will decide whether to consolidate with Lake City Joint District 40. They also are part of a consolidation plat now before the State Department of Education with 20 other rural districts from the heart of Wabasha County.

Oak Center District 15, which also is a part of the "rural" consolidation plat, has a request before the state asking consolidation with Lake City.

The "rural" proposal, now before the Department of Education, would link 21 rural districts from the center of the county for the purposes of educating junior and senior high school students. Besides the Oak Center and Zumbro Falls districts, it contains four districts seeking consolidation with the Mazeppa High School District. They are 53, 105, 51 and 73.

To add to the confusion, a consolidation at ELGIN in the southwest section of the county is in the talking stage. It would include some of the districts in the "rural" proposal. Already, consolidations have been formed at Plainville and Lake City. Both have indicated a "closed door" policy to non-member districts. If the four consolidations now proposed are resolved and formed, only scattered areas of this county would be unattached to a high school district.

In the center of this turmoil, although not a contributor to it, is Mrs. Verma Olin, county superintendent of schools. During the last few years she has become accustomed to school problems and from indications this week, she is taking the current problems in stride.

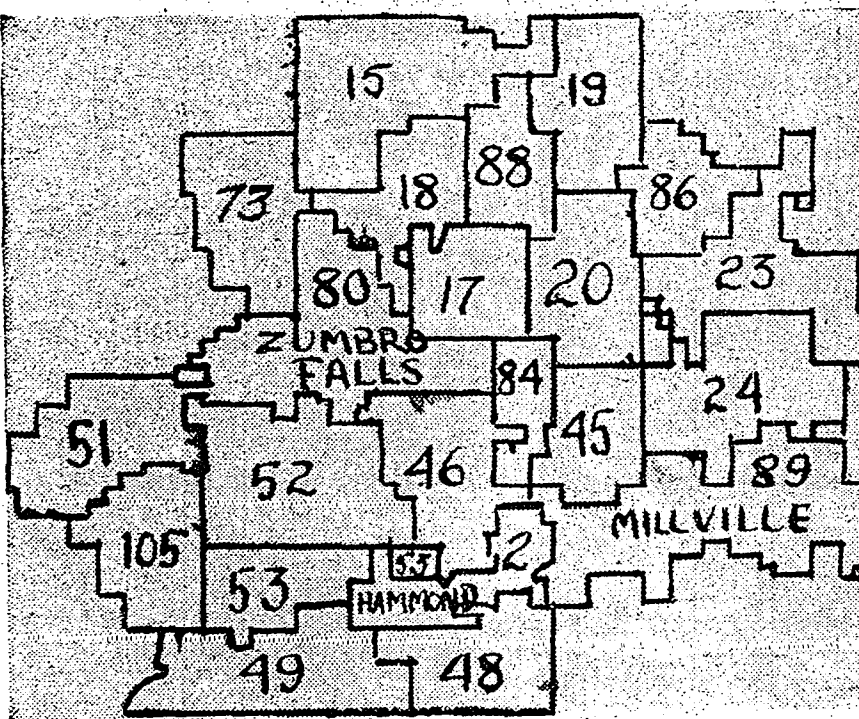

Monday she took the Oak Center-Lake City and "rural" consolidation plats to the state and in holding the Mazeppa proposal pending outcome of the election Tuesday and decisions by the state in the other cases.

As superintendent it is her job to draw the consolidation plats, take them to the Department of Education and set election dates when and if the plats are approved by the state and 25 per cent of the freeholders of districts involved.

A breakdown of the plats reveals the following lineups:

Asking the state for merger into a central RURAL HIGH school consolidation are districts 2 (Hammond), 15, 17, 18, 19, 20, 23, 24, 45, 46, 48, 49, 51, 53, 73, 80 (Zumbro Falls), 84, 86, 88, 89 (Millville) and 105. They have a combined

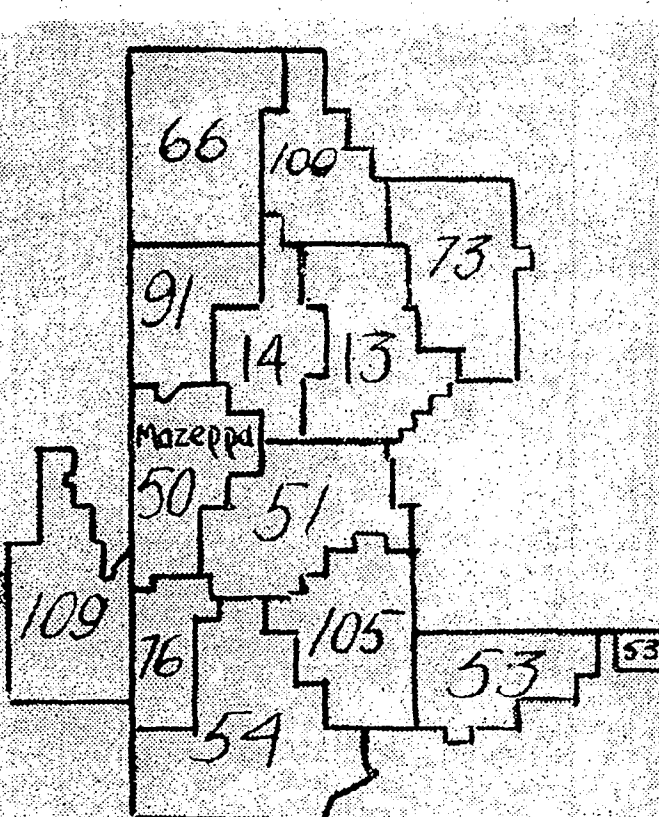

Proposed Rural Consolidation In Center of Wabasha County

Twenty-one Rural School districts in the heart of Wabasha County are proposing a consolidation for junior and senior high school purposes. This plat now is being considered by the State Department of Education. District 52, between Hammond and Zumbro Falls, is not included in the plat, however.

Zumbro Falls District 80 will vote on a consolidation with Lake City Tuesday; district 15, Oak Center, is asking the state for a separate consolidation with Lake City; four of the districts on this plat—53, 105, 51 and 73—are included in a Mazeppa consolidation proposal.

Proposed Consolidation at Mazeppa

This 13-District School consolidation plan around the village of Mazeppa, Wabasha County, is in the drawing stage and would include the 12 rural or common school districts shown and Mazeppa High School District 50. Districts 53, 105, 51 and 73 also are included on a "rural" consolidation plat now before the State Department of Education.

Californian Jailed For Drunk Driving

Roland St. Jean, 48, Willows, Calif., this morning was ordered to pay a $100 fine and $2 costs or serve 60 days in the county jail after he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving.

Police said that St. Jean was arrested on West Howard street at 12:30 p. m. Friday after he had been found to be driving in an erratic manner.

Patrolman John Pellowski said that he stopped the truck driven by St. Jean to make the arrest but the Californian man started to drive again, continued over a curb and struck a tree on the boulevard.

In default of payment of the fine St. Jean this morning was taken to the county jail to begin serving the jail sentence.

Merchants Join In Enjoying Happy Easter

Business at Least
As Good This Year
As Spring of '54

Easter bonnets may be augmented by the fair weather and happy smiles on the faces of many Winona merchants Sunday.

The weatherman said the temperature should get near the 60-degree mark after a dip to 40 to night.

And a spot check of Winona retailers this morning indicated that most are quite pleased with the pre-Easter trade.

One women's apparel shop manager said that 1955 sales had shown a terrific gain, especially during the past week when all extra help was employed on a full-time basis.

The owner of a ladies apparel store that is less than a year old termed business very satisfactory, while all agreed that business was at least up to that of last year.

Winona and area shoppers, according to one merchant, seemed to be buying more conservative clothing, favoring the medium price ranges.

Weather has been a significant factor in maintaining sales, with the lowest mean temperature this week a mild 46 degrees.

One men's wear retailer said that business in his store will probably pick up after Easter. "After Mom and the kiddies get their new clothing, it seems they usually take what is left over to buy Dad some new clothes."

Firemen Out 10 Times for Grass Fires

The Winona fire department was called out on 10 runs—six of them in a period of less than three hours—Friday to put out grass and rubbish fires in the city.

The early afternoon rash of fires began at 12:03 p. m. when a grass and rubbish fire was reported at the Orrin Phillips residence, 426 W. Bellevue St.

The next run was made at 1:12 p. m., to St. Charles and East Sarnia streets, followed by calls to Lake boulevard, east of the Huff street dike at 1:55 p. m.; at 2:15 p. m. to the Johnson street crossing of the Milwaukee Road tracks where logs were burning; at 2:20 p. m. to Pelzer street and Kraemer drive for a grass fire; at 2:45 p. m. to Lake boulevard west of Huff street; 4:09 p. m. to 1875 Gilmore Ave.; 5:06 p. m. to 1280 Park View and at 7:58 p. m. to East 2nd and Wall streets.

Today firemen were called at 10:29 a. m. to put out a grass fire on the Norm Gerler property on Lake boulevard.

Sheriff George Fort, meanwhile, said today that the danger of bluff fires in the rural areas of the county is increasing.

He asked that precautions be taken by all persons to eliminate fires which cause extensive property damage.

The sheriff said that anyone found guilty of careless acts which cause fires will be arrested and prosecuted.

Wabasha Car Stolen, Authorities Alerted

Authorities have been alerted to be on the lookout for a car stolen from its owner in Wabasha Friday night. Stolen from James Rafter, Wabasha, the car is described as a 1951 maroon Chrysler 4-door sedan with license plates AR3248.

Spring Grove To Dedicate New School

SPRING GROVE, Minn. — The new $390,000 addition to the Spring Grove School will be dedicated at public ceremonies at 2 p. m. April 17 at the school auditorium, Superintendent A. E. Hjelte announced today. Following the dedication an open house and lunch are planned.

Addresses will be given by Myron W. Clark, Stewartville, state commissioner of agriculture; Hjelte; Olaf Kjome, chairman of the school board; P. Earl Schwab, Winona, general contractor, and Carl Schubert, the architect. The Revs. Oscar Engbretson and Edmund Beaver will give the invocation and benediction respectively. Music will be provided by the high school band and chorus and grade school chorus.

Work was started on a new classroom section and auditorium-gymnasium last March and both now are in use.

The public is invited.

Would-be Thief Finds Women Hard to Handle

NEW YORK — Somewhere today a would-be thief is nursing his wounds and his ego and doubtless brooding about women—Mrs. Alice Rader in particular.

The bandit can recall how he walked into the office of R. Anderson & Sons contracting firm in Greenwich Village yesterday, just behind Foreman William Pearson who was carrying a paper bag.

Once in the office the thief produced a gun and barked to Pearson: "Stickup. Gimme that payroll."

Pearson dropped the bag, which splattered not money but a container of tea. Pearson grappled with the gunman, grabbed his gun arm and punched him in the stomach.

Well, this was man-to-man stuff and the thief whacked at the foreman's head with his gun.

Now we come to Mrs. Rader, 40 years old, five-foot-two, 110 pounds. First she whammed a heavy stapling machine across his head. Then she bounced a metal calendar off his face. Whipping the telephone receiver off its cradle, she scored a direct hit on the thug's right ear.

As a clincher, Mrs. Rader whacked the bandit on the head with a wooden fixture.

Now there was the thief, sprawled on the floor, with Pearson standing over him with the gun.

"Okay," the culprit moaned, "you got me, you got my gun, only keep that dame away from me."

When Pearson's attention was diverted for a second, he then sprang up and lunged for the door.

Pearson pulled the gun trigger but it clicked harmlessly and the man escaped.

Air Force Plans To Make Truax Control Center

MADISON — The commandant of Truax Field said Friday the Air Force plans to make the Madison base a division headquarters in control of aircraft from other bases in this area.

Col. Frederick J. Neland said it has not yet been decided when the division headquarters will be established, but he said necessary construction work must be completed by Dec. 1.

A local firm of contractors already has started work on the division headquarters, a $390,000 project.

Col. Neland said the change would mean the addition of about 200 airmen and 50 more officers, which would bring the total personnel roster at Truax to about 1,800 men.

He said operation of the division headquarters would mean the addition of only about six more planes, all transport support craft. The Truax division would be responsible for protection of an area between the division controlled at Minneapolis and Detroit.

The operation of the Truax-based 52nd Fighter-Interceptor group now are controlled by a division headquarters in Detroit.

Truax planes now guard an area of about 175 miles around Madison. Exact boundaries of division areas are classified information.

Pi Delta Phi. She is an honor student.

Her award is one of about 200 grants for study in Germany and of about 1,000 grants for graduate study abroad next year under the U. S. Educational Exchange Program. Selections are made by the Board of Foreign Scholarships appointed by the President. Students are recommended by the campus Fulbright committee and the Institute of International Education.

Homer Driver Pays Fine on Weight Charge

Lavain Ronnenberg, Homer, paid a $25 fine and costs of $3.50 in justice court at Goodview Friday after pleading guilty to a charge of operating a truck that exceeded the posted axle weight limit on State Aid Road 126 on Pleasant Ridge by 1,160 pounds.

Ronnenberg was arrested by Sheriff George Fort at 1 p. m. Friday.

Dennis Barker, 18, Lewiston, paid a $10 fine and costs of $3.50 in justice court at Lewiston on a charge of illegal passing on State Aid Road 2 near Utica.

The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Helmer Weimann at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

Ronald Bessie, 420 South Baker St., paid a $25 fine and costs of $3.50 in justice court at Homer on a charge of speeding.

He was arrested by Weimann at 10:35 a. m. today on a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile-an-hour zone on State Aid Road 1 between Ridgeway and Witoka.

Chicago Mother Held For Beating Infant

CHICAGO — A young mother was held in jail today on charges of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the beating of her 8-month-old daughter.

Detective George Miller said Mrs. Barbara Rubenhausen, 22, admitted she beat her daughter, Lois Jean, with a wet diaper and threw her to the floor last Tuesday when the baby started crying. Earlier she had told police the baby had fallen.

The baby was found to have suffered a skull fracture and multiple bruises. Mrs. Rubenhausen and her husband, Edward, 23, a machine operator, are parents of a son, James, 2, who was placed in an orphanage.

Ex-Minneapolis Man Held for Car Theft

DES MOINES — Wallace George Solem, 29, formerly of Minneapolis, was held in lieu of $5,000 bond today on a charge of stealing a car in Minneapolis and driving it here last November. He was held to stand before a grand jury at his arraignment before a U. S. commissioner Friday.

Efforts Made To End Atlanta Phone Strike

ATLANTA (AP)—Redoubled efforts were being made in Atlanta today to settle the 27-day-old Southern Bell Telephone Co. strike in the wake of violence or disorder in most of the nine Southeastern states affected.

In two states—Alabama and Florida—strikers were restrained by court order from mass picketing. And Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama called for a survey to determine whether to call out the National Guard to maintain order.

The flareup of violence and disorder was widespread. A blast, apparently from a dynamite charge, damaged trunk lines at Chattanooga, Tenn., last night, and rifle shots near New Orleans put 583 long distance lines out of order for several hours. Another cable was cut at Miami, Fla. The 32nd act of this type of damage since the strike began.

At Raleigh, N. C., a nonstriking worker told police he was set upon as he was leaving the telephone plant, and at Danville, Ky., an unruly crowd hurled eggs and rocks as it milled in front of a phone company building. It was the first violence in the month-old strike at Raleigh.

Officials of the CIO Communications Workers of America have denied repeatedly their members have been responsible for violence or damage to company property since the strike began March 14 after failure to agree on a new contract.

The company announced it had offered wage increases of about six million dollars on condition the union accept a no-strike clause, the clause which the company holds is the main bar to a settlement. The union contends such a clause is secondary, that the main issues are wages and an agreement by the company to arbitrate all disputes.

Several mediators conferred with both sides in Atlanta last night after Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service called for stepped up negotiations.

Auto Workers Union Asks Increase in Pay Deductions

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers Union has asked the nation's Big Three automakers to start deducting union dues at the increased rate of $7.50 a month from the paychecks of hourly rate employees.

The boost from $2.50 a month was approved overwhelmingly last week at the UAW convention in Cleveland. The additional $5 is earmarked for building up a $25 million dollar strike fund to support the union's battle for a guaranteed annual wage for its 1½ million members.

Disclosure yesterday of the UAW request to General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. brought no indication from the auto companies of whether the new rate would be deducted under the so-called "check-off" system or considered an assessment and not deductible.

Auction Sales Plant Burns at Mankato

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—Don Bradford today estimated loss at upwards of $50,000 in the fire which destroyed the two-acre auction sales plant he operated just outside the city limits.

The blaze started in a barn and was out of control before volunteer firemen arrived from Kasota, nine miles north of here. The loss included a pavilion that seated 650 plus an undetermined number of livestock.

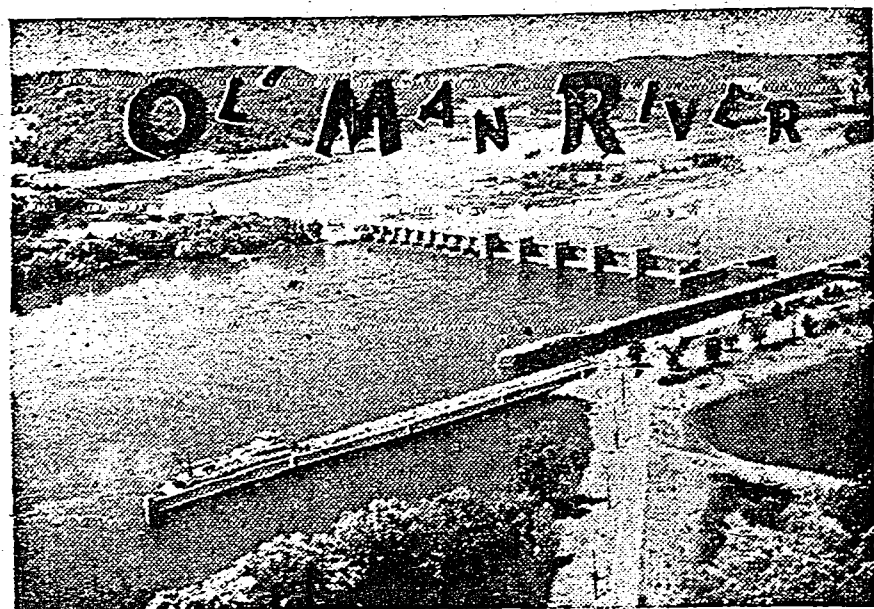

Bradford said he had "very little insurance."

Child's Hiding Place Too Good for Comfort

BOSTON (AP)—When 8-year-old Francis X. Moran hides—he really hides. During a game of "hide and seek" yesterday, the lad scooted into a trash barrel. His companions couldn't find him until the game was over and Francis tried to get out.

A fire department rescue squad had to cut the container open to free him.

TREMPEALEAU FIRE
TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special)—The volunteer fire department made two runs Friday—one to Mrs. Olive Dragan's home and the other to Robert Johnson's residence. Both were grass fires.

The Upper Mississippi River, like the budding trees and migrating birds, has begun to stir with Spring's warming sun and breezes. Winona, this year, had but a short season of closed water at the Levee front, however, Lake Pepin and the pools above the locks and dams froze deep and even now are not completely free of ice. Lake Pepin, out from the village of Pepin, Wis., was covered with a solid 26-inch sheet of ice not more than ten days ago when navigation officially opened on the upper river.

The Coast Guard Cutter Fern for the fourth consecutive year was the first through and cut a path with her heavy Amsterdam plow which opened the lake. Last week the Fern made a downstream trip to widen her first cut through the ice. The Fern operates from Dubuque to Minneapolis with Savage, Minn., on the Minnesota River and Stillwater on the St. Croix as the northern terminus of her area. Chief Boatswain Mate M. B. Richards of Dubuque is skipper on the Fern with a crew of 19 men who are responsible for the lighting and placing of buoys (at this season of operation) and otherwise enforcing and carrying out the rules and regulations of this Coast Guard district.

The early part of this week the Fern was scheduled to return upriver and proceed up the St. Croix where she will service eight lighted buoys and four shore lights. Some 225 shore lights, battery operated, will be or have been replaced and serviced by the Fern for the opening of the 1955 navigation season. These lights at the close of the 1954 season were left to operate until exhausted. New painting on the buoys left in the water throughout the winter is clearly evident from the shore and is part of the maintenance work done by the Fern. These buoys number 700 for the Fern's area of operation. The badly battered, loose or sunken buoys are replaced where necessary during these early weeks of upper river work.

SENECA FOLLOWS FERN

Following close in the wake of the Fern was the towboat Seneca of the Vicksburg Towing Co. of Vicksburg, Tenn. The Seneca came upstream with ten barges. One load was dropped at Dubuque while the nine empty covered barges were used for the transportation of grain and other commodities were destined for delivery in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The Seneca tied off several of her barges above Reed's Landing before attempting the trip through Lake Pepin's ice on the path cut by Fern. Her lights slowly moving on an apparent ice and snow covered field gave an unbelievable picture from the shore as she struggled to inch along the narrow strip of open water. En route through the lake the heavy ice and refreezing caused the loss of one of the Seneca's propellers. Rivermen agree that the shifting ice at this time of year makes navigating in this partially ice covered river particularly hazardous.

From the downriver Memphis area comes word that four barges tied off there and used by the Upper Mississippi Towing Co., of Minneapolis, broke loose from the docks and drifted downstream. Among the four barges were two loaded with molasses and one with oil. The drifters were found, one against the shore, one high and dry on a sandbar and the other two some 24 miles downriver from the docks.

LARGEST TOW OF EMPTIES

The A. H. Truax which went upstream on its first trip about 10 days ago was towing the largest tow of empties ever to be brought upstream. She had 15 various types of barges all destined for the Minneapolis area where they will be held for loading with grain and other commodities sent to downriver ports from this upper river. Capt. Ivan Sullivan of St. Louis and Capt. Walter Karnath of Winona serve as master and pilot aboard this Mississippi Valley Barge Lines vessel.

On Friday the Truax made a downstream trip, light, to La Crosse to pick up more empties to be delivered in Minneapolis and St. Paul. Monday the Truax again came down en route to a meeting with the Central which she turned below La Crosse after exchanging the Central's tow of 12 loads of coal, oil and merchandise for another trip upriver.

The first of the Federal Barge Lines boats to pass Winona this season was the Helena which came through on Thursday with eight barges destined for the Twin Cities area. Capt. George Karnath of Rock Island and Capt. Mack Winslow of Brownsville were aboard as master and pilot, respectively.

The two Captains Karnath grew up on the river in and around Fountain City which was home to them during the years their father, Capt. R. J. Karnath piloted these waters. Early this spring Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Karnath celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary on Capt. Karnath's 80th birthday.

The Tampico of the Aipei Towing Co. of Stillwater passed Winona en route downstream light Wednesday night. She expected to continue southward until she meets the Upper Mississippi Towing Co.'s vessel, Harriet Ann. When they meet the Tampico will take part of the heavy tow being brought north by the Harriet Ann. The Tampico took nearly eight hours to come through Lake Pepin Wednesday.

Lumberjack Kills Brother

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—A gaunt, brooding lumberjack shot and killed one of his three brothers in a fit of fury yesterday, wounded another, held off a posse in a gun battle and then attempted suicide. Sheriff Larry Gillick said Clifford Taber, 42, was saved after the suicide attempt by Highway 18-man posse outside.

Patrol Sgt. A. T. Cumins who pressed this thumbs against the lumberjack's neck to stop the flow of blood after Taber slit his own throat.

Taber was recovering today. Mrs. Alice Taber, 84, mother of the brothers, said she saw Clifford kill his brother Clarence, 56, with a single shot. She was in the house with Clifford when he seriously wounded another brother, Floyd, 50, but fled while he shot at an 18-man posse outside.

Talkative Couple Sent to Prison For Forging Checks

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A nomadic life was over and prison beckoned today for a talkative, friendly Dallas, Tex., couple sentenced to seven years for check forgery.

Alvin Witherspoon, 31, and his pretty wife, Billie, 29, said they were glad it was all over. Witherspoon said he had cashed checks—all bogus—in "Almost any place you can name" since they started their carter's life eight years ago.

They still face many more charges. The sheriff's department said it had 21 "holds" on them—nine from Texas and 12 from Alabama, Louisiana, Nebraska, and California. Local police have six more.

Witherspoon, redheaded and a freckle-faced, said their forgeries probably amounted to "many thousands of dollars." Both were concerned about their four children who will stay with grandparents while the Witherspools are in prison.

Decision to Ban Oppenheimer Attacked

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A ban against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer as a guest lecturer at the University of Washington has done "great damage" to the institution in the opinion of the faculty senate.

The university's senate, an advisory committee, has announced it disagreed by a vote of 56-40 to the decision to ban Oppenheimer, a noted atomic scientist.

Oppenheimer had been suggested as a guest lecturer this spring but his name was withdrawn at the request of Dr. Henry Schmitz, university president. Schmitz said Oppenheimer's appearance would "not be in the best interest of the university."

The university has been in a bitter uproar ever since the ban was announced.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Helen Rogers Reid resigned yesterday as chairman of the board of the New York Herald Tribune and a son, Whitlaw Reid, was named to succeed her.

Mrs. Reid will continue as a member of the board.

Whitlaw Reid, 41, had been president and publisher. He is succeeded by his brother, Ogden Rogers Reid, 29, who will continue as president of the Herald Tribune's European edition in Paris.

Frank L. Taylor was named exclusive executive vice president. He was publisher of the Milwaukee Sentinel more than 11 years, until May, 1954.

$1,389,124 Collected For Appleton Hospital

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—The Appleton Memorial Hospital building fund drive drew to a close Thursday with $1,389,124 reported collected during a 12-week period. The final total is $139,124 over the $1,250,000 goal, the largest capital fund campaign in the city's history. Architect's plans will be completed and construction bids opened about January, 1956, and the 100-bed hospital is expected to be finished and ready for occupancy about April, 1957.

Rita Hayworth Wants To End Film Contract

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rita Hayworth wants Federal Court to terminate her contract with Columbia Pictures Corp.

She stated in a complaint filed yesterday that the studio failed to start "principal photography" for a forthcoming film, "Joseph and His Brethren," by the expected starting date. She walked out on the picture before it got started for this same reason.

Ex-Envoy Says Recognition of Reds Would Help

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur H. Dean, former special ambassador to Korea says the United States would improve its international position by granting recognition to Red China in return for "balancing concessions."

Writing in the magazine Foreign Affairs, Dean yesterday said the current policy of refusing to recognize Communist China robs the United States of "flexibility" in foreign affairs.

He referred to the desire of some Allies to trade with China and added: "As things are going we face the inevitable defection of friends in the United Nations."

"And when that happens it may be too late to negotiate a cease-fire."

"Our strategic position may be ebbing away; we risk losing both our position and our prestige without obtaining any balancing concessions."

He did not say exactly what these concessions should be.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said Dean, a former law partner of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, was giving his opinion as a private citizen and in no way represented State Department views.

St. Paul Youth Riding Motorcycle Killed

ST. PAUL (AP)—James Weisz, 16, St. Paul, was fatally injured late Thursday when the motorcycle he and another youth were riding was struck from the rear by a car. Weisz died shortly after being taken to Ancker Hospital. His passenger, John Fakulsi, 16, suffered a broken leg.

Harold Sorenson, 43, driver of the car, said the motorcycle stopped suddenly in his traffic lane and he had no chance to avoid it. He was not tagged.

A brief mention of interesting items about people, business places and campaigns as compiled by The Winona Daily News ad department.

A. Grant Burleigh, local dealer for Culligan Soft Water Service, proudly looks at the award he received last week "In recognition of 15 years of service provided to his community as a distinguished franchised Culligan dealer." Burleigh received the award at the annual five-state operators convention in Minneapolis which he attended with three of his employees. Harold Werhane, president of Culligan, Inc., presented the plaque. A former Winonan, Hillis Meyer, who is now a Culligan dealer at St. Cloud, also received a 15-year award.

Robb Brothers Store is continuing its paint sale. Watch for the Monday ad in The Daily News which will tell you about the new 10-day special which offers a paint brush free with every quart of Janney Best Magic-Flu Super White inside enamel.

Did you see the Matzke Concrete Block Company's Daily News ad yesterday in which they presented a new type building block to the public? In case you missed it, here's the dope. It's a concrete block of new design which provides greater wall strength without additional weight. In building, the joint of two blocks falls above the center of the block below it, and usually this center is a hollow portion. On this new block, however, there is solid concrete directly in the center, thereby giving greater support. The new block also has deep-locking mortar grooves, and the shape of the holes in the block is such as to make for easier handling. The block is now available in the popular 8x8x16 inch size. Matzke's is located in Goodview.

Newspapers again walked off with the largest number of the advertisers' dollars in 1954. Total newspaper ad volume was $2,670.

000,000, up 1% from 1953. Television is the glamour girl now, but for steady, hard-hitting campaigns, newspapers are still the reliable performers.

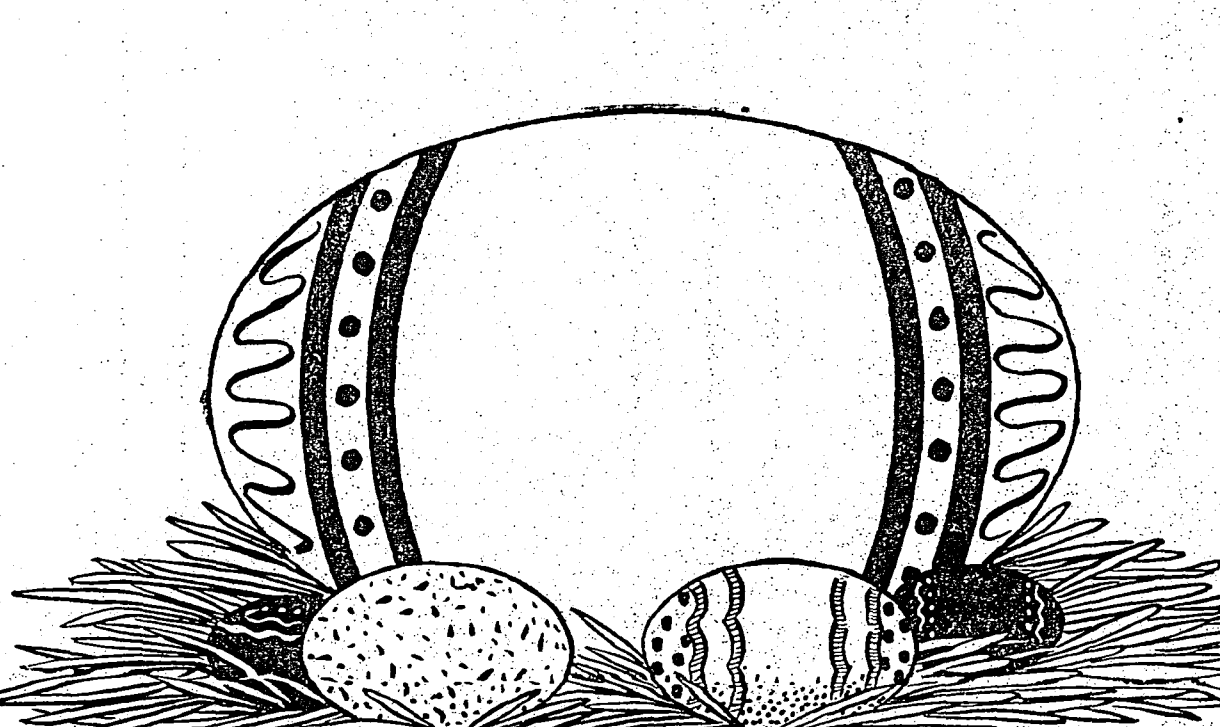

Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Kohner have received word from the home office of the State Farm Insurance Companies that they qualified to attend the three-day Regional Leaders Club Convention in St. Paul starting April 18. Mr. Kohner is qualified for this honor as a result of outstanding service in State Farm's multiple lines of insurance—Auto, Life and Fire. At the coming convention, Kohner will be honored with other State Farm leaders who have, through extensive training and activity, the insurance profession, qualified as Career Agents. The Kohners reside at 365 West King St.

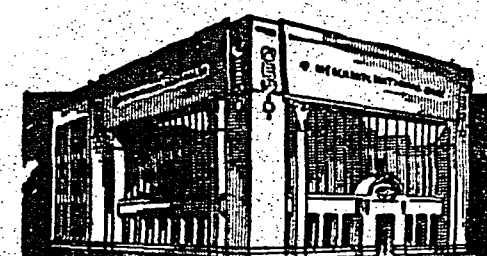

Did Kelley goof? No, he got the right view of Arnold Stenehjem, all right! This is the same picture you see each week in The Daily News ad for the Stenehjem Insurance Agency. We thought you'd like to know what brought all this on. It started when Stenehjem wanted an advertising campaign that was totally different and would create a lot of comment. The picture of the back of his head, with the headline "Meet Me Face to Face" was the result. Did the comments follow? You bet! He's probably got the best known "dome" in town, now.

Sears Roebuck has entered the gift stamp-ede. It has organized the Four Star Stamp Company which will conduct a test in Illinois. It plans to go into 26 cities in the northern part of the state, one each week and expand from there. The stamps will be used by Sears' 700 retail stores as well as independent stores across the nation and will be redeemable for merchandise in Sears stores or its mail order catalog. It is expected they will also be sold to grocers, druggists and other retailers.

Ideals of Jesus Remain As Best Hope of Man

Those who put Jesus to death feared His teachings. His execution was to put an end to His disturbing influence, once and for all. Let Him die in pain and disgrace, they said, as a warning to all who dared to be counted among His followers.

He stood before His accusers. Before Pilate and the priests. He neither protested at their lies nor showed anger at their derision. He walked the lonely road to Calvary and died on a Cross between two common criminals. That should have been the end of the story, if His persecutors were right.

Yet almost 20 centuries after this happened we celebrate Easter as the commemoration of the triumph of the spirit over death. The Cross on which He died has become the symbol of the immortality of truth. The ideals He taught, which were to die with Him, remain as the best hope of man.

Let the Chicks Grow Up As They Should

Humane Societies in various cities are urging that the custom of giving children baby chicks as Easter gifts be discontinued. The chicks die or are injured beyond repair within a day or two of their giving. The children are too young to know how to take care of them as pets and frequently the parents or friends do not know how, either.

The Easter egg as a symbol of resurrection—of the breaking out of life from a sealed container—is very ancient. It has spiritual significance and it is also a gay and cheerful reminder that spring is here. By all means let there be brightly colored eggs for this brightest of all days for the children. If the Easter bunny is a custom in a family, hunting for the funny little gifts he has hidden adds gaiety to the day. In this country all sorts of tag-ends of customs from other lands are preserved in various places, and rightly so. They add their share to make America interesting. They are all good in their way.

But the Easter chick business is neither and old custom nor a good one. It was a fad, and by all means let it be a passing one. Let the chicks grow up as they should. There are all sorts of pets which are better.

A Small Straw—But Blowing the Right Way

At first glance, that 200-plus vote victory by Robert Knowles in the Wisconsin 10th senatorial district looks like a narrow squeak for the Republican party.

In reality, it was a heartening victory for the GOP in an area of the state where the political enemy had most of its guns.

The 10th district is made up of Buffalo, Pepin, Pierce, and St. Croix counties. It is solid Farmers Union territory, and the Farmers Union is little more than a working wing of the Democrat party.

The Democrats threw everything they had into the campaign against Robert Knowles, for he is a brother of Lieut. Gov. Warren Knowles. It would have been an important victory psychologically if the Knowles name could have been trampled.

Certainly the Democrat planners put on a good campaign. Their candidate was an eminently respectable, well-liked, well-known attorney from New Richmond, the Knowles' home town.

The Farmers Union put on an all-out drive in the agricultural precincts.

The CIO gave a helping hand.

Congressman Lester Johnson, a Democrat, sent helpful literature into the territory.

Tom Fairchild, Milwaukee, one of the Democrat big guns, moved up to help in the drive.

But it didn't work. The 10th went Republican.

A small straw in the wind, perhaps. But blowing the right way. — Wisconsin State Journal, Madison.

These Days

Nothing Ever Dies, Life is Everlasting

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — In ancient lore, it is said that King Solomon wore a ring upon which was engraved certain Hebrew letters. When asked what they meant, this wisest of men translated them into the phrase, "These thou shalt pass away."

And who shall say on Easter Day that so optimistic an idea can be unwise? For Easter is a tale of 1922 years ago and it is still being celebrated, not so much as the story of a death as it is the saga of life, of life eternal, of the rhythmic resurrection of all that lives in this world.

In this age of science, we are beginning to grasp what the theologians always knew, namely, that there is no death. Nothing totally disappears. There may be a change; there may be an alteration of form or even of substance, but in the economy of nature nothing is lost. There is no destruction without a fall-out, which returns to the earth what left the earth. This the men of God always knew — "I am the resurrection!"

MAIMONIDES, the 750th anniversary of whose death is to be observed this year, in his "The Guide for the Perplexed," wrote:

"Even the existence of this corporeal element low as it is in reality, because it is the source of death and all evils, is likewise good for the permanence of the universe and the continuation of the order of things, so that one thing departs and the other succeeds. Rabbi Meir therefore explains the words 'and behold it was very good'; that even death was good. . . ."

St. Augustine speaks the same thought but more emotionally:

"O what said he, I will lay me down and sleep, for who shall hinder us, when cometh to pass that saying which is written, death is swallowed up in victory? And thou surpassingly art the selfsame, who are not changed, and in thee is rest which forgetteth all toil, for there is none other with thee, nor are we to seek those many other things, which are not what thou art: But thou, Lord, alone hast made me dwell in hope. . . ."

This noble uplifting of the human spirit is inherent in the idea of the resurrection, in the gamut of tense activity in all of nature when that which during the winter months looked drab and brown and barren, suddenly again comes to life in a fierce struggle over the chilling, freezing death which we thought was upon us. As the sun grows warmer and the grass green again and the buds break out upon the trees, we know that there is no death. We see that there is always life.

THOSE WHO LIVE in fear cannot know the glory of the eternal life. For what is there to fear? The same philosopher, Moses Maimonides, as he is called, ended this sage work, "The Guide for the Perplexed," which had such a vast influence on Thomas Aquinas, with this ultimate paragraph:

"God is near to all who call Him, if they call Him in truth, and turn to Him. He is found by every one who seeks Him, if he always goes towards Him, and never goes astray. . . ."

And this is the reminder of Easter. The world is dark; the clouds are black; the clamor of fierce noises are upon the earth. Men speak of war and look upon their sons in disappointment. But Easter comes and the sun shines. It is spring and the flowers soon will bloom. He who died has been resurrected and all that dies will be resurrected. And so, we cast our cares aside and put on our Easter bonnets and go among our neighbors with cheer and song.

Nothing ever dies. Life is everlasting and eternal. That is God's way. Were it not so, there could be no hope, no love, no life. Were it not so, populations would not increase, for why should the hopeless beget others who can only be hopeless. The life is given to the materialist, who sees nothing in life but dust to dust, by the constancy of the increase of human life. We multiply because life is good and those who really live do not fear death, for in their progeny they recognize the eternity of life. Nothing real stops because some make wars and not even the hydrogen bomb can frighten because it cannot really kill the spirit of those who trust God and are therefore not afraid.

'HUMANITY HANGING FROM A CROSS OF IRON' — EISENHOWER

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Press Luncheon Held to Influence Supreme Court

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The technique of the off-the-record propaganda news conference is being used more and more by top officials of the Eisenhower administration.

First, Adm. Carney indicates at a press dinner that an attack will be aimed at Quemoy-Matsu around April 15. Then Jim Hagerty, the President's press secretary, states at another "background" dinner that it taints so. Next Adm. Carney tells a Senate committee that he never said any such thing at all.

Finally, Robert R. Roth of the Philadelphia Bulletin produces stenographic notes showing that Adm. Carney did say exactly what he now says he didn't say — namely, that the Reds would attack Matsu by mid-April.

It's all very confusing to the American public and makes us look like fools to our allies abroad.

What the public doesn't know, however, is that another background press meeting was held by the Justice Department not long ago. This time it was not a dinner, but a luncheon. And the man who held it was Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger.

Mr. Burger is a lawyer — supposed to be one of the top lawyers of the U.S.A., or he wouldn't hold his office in the Justice Department.

However, the purpose of his luncheon was to do what the American Bar Association frowns on — influencing the courts through the press.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Burger is scheduled to stand before the Supreme Court of the United States on April 18 to argue a famous security case. And, to sway public opinion in advance, he invited 12 newsmen to an off-the-record lunch. Upon arrival they were amazed to hear a bald attempt to use them to influence the public for the purpose of influencing the Supreme Court.

Famous Peters Case

The Supreme Court case that Burger will argue is the famous one of Prof. John P. Peters, top medical officer of Yale University, who was fired from his part-time, non-sensitive government job in the U.S. Public Health Service after an unnamed, undercover government witness claimed that Peters had Communist affiliations. Dr. Peters was never permitted to face his accuser, and sued on the ground that this star-chamber proceeding violated his civil rights.

The case comes up for argument in the Supreme Court in about a week and already the Justice Department has one strike against it because Solicitor General Simon Sobeloff, who is supposed to handle all Supreme Court matters, refused to sign the Justice Department's brief.

So, to arouse public opinion in advance, Asst. Atty. Gen. Burger proceeded to tell newsmen how a wrong decision by the Supreme Court could wreck the government's entire security program, how the Justice Department could function efficiently only if its corps of informers remained undercover, and how disclosure of their identities would wreck the security machine.

Sooner than identify its secret witnesses, Burger hinted, the Eisenhower administration would abolish its security hearings altogether.

Burger did not explain why the reported secret witness against Dr. Peters, understood to be Louis F. Budenz, could not be named, since Budenz has occupied the limelight at many public congressional hearings.

Inspired by Communists

But he did attack anyone who criticized the Justice Department's security program as being Communist-inspired.

The 12 newsmen listened in silence. Then one of them asked whether he considered Vannevar Bush, a top American scientist and vigorous critic of the security

Advice on Health

Sun Baths Are Good For Baby

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

It won't be long before you'll be able to give your baby sun baths again. In most parts of the country, sun baths can be started some time in April and continued through September.

As the time for these outdoor sojourns draws near, I think a word or two of advice is in order, especially for those of you who have become mothers during the winter months.

Your baby needs sunshine. The short, unseen ultra-violet rays of the sun help his body change the phosphorus and lime in his food into strong, straight bones. Sunshine helps increase his vigor and helps prevent rickets.

You can start giving the baby sun baths any time after he is one month old, providing the weather is warm enough. Now remember, he must always be protected from the cold, dust and wind. This is especially important during the early spring or late fall.

Except during extremely hot weather, the best time for a sun bath is usually between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. These are the hours when the sunshine contains the most ultra-violet rays.

However, don't rush your baby into the hot sun right after his feeding. Wait half an hour or so.

You'll have to change your tot's sun-bathing time during extremely hot and clear days like those we usually find in July and August. Midday sunshine frequently becomes too hot to burn or overheat your youngster. On such days, I suggest a sun bath either before 10 a.m. or after 4 p.m.

How long should you leave him in the sun?

Well, when you first begin the sun-bathing treatment for a young baby in hot weather, keep him in the sunshine only a few minutes. It's probably easiest to bathe him in your lap or place him in his carriage. Push the hood all the way back so the sun will shine on his cheeks, legs and hands.

You can remove all his clothing in warm weather if he is three months old or older.

Expose him to direct sunlight for only one or two minutes a day at first. Then leave him in the sun shine three to five minutes longer each day until his sun bath lasts at least half an hour in the morning and another half an hour in the afternoon.

You don't want the sun's rays to shine directly into his eyes, so point his feet away from the sun.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
M. S.: I have been told that my adrenal glands are not functioning properly. What purpose do they serve? Would the fact that they were not functioning correctly cause a constant ache, sometimes sharp, in the chest?

ANSWER: It is not likely that the pain in the chest is due to malfunction of the adrenal glands. These glands form several secretions necessary for normal well-being.

They Didn't Know Him On Road to Emmaus

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK — Late in the afternoon of the first Easter day, two disciples left Jerusalem and headed toward their homes. They lived in a little town called Emmaus, seven or eight miles away.

They walked in stunned silence. They were very tired and very grieved and they were afraid. One of these disciples was named Cleopas. I don't know the name of the other one. They were not prominent in Christ's work. But they were earnest believers.

And now their friend and leader had been crucified. The One they had hoped would redeem Israel, was dead.

They walked on into the lengthening shadows of the waning day.

As they walked, one of them mentioned the events of the morning.

He told of the removal of the body from the tomb: what the women had said.

Interested. When the angel had wanted to spread the word fast, he'd told the women first.

Suddenly, on the dusty road to Emmaus, a stranger drew near and walked alongside them.

The stranger asked them what they were talking about.

And the two disciples retold what had happened: that this morning the tomb had been found empty.

And the stranger chided them. He said if you really believe everything the prophets have said, then the carpenter from Nazareth has done what he was supposed to do. There was nothing to be so sad about.

If they really believed.

When they finally got to Emmaus, it was almost dark. The grief-stricken disciples invited the stranger to eat with them.

And he did.

It wasn't until they sat down to eat and the stranger took the bread and broke it and blessed it . . . and handed it to them . . . that they suddenly recognized their guest.

It was Christ himself who had been walking and talking with them.

Actually, they'd seen him only a few times and then mostly in crowds. He must have appeared different, less strained, now that his task was complete.

But probably the real reason they didn't know it was He . . . is that they didn't look up.

The two disciples had been so engrossed in their own disappointment that they weren't paying attention.

Cleopas and his other chap had been weeping.

A stranger comes alongside and asks why and they tell him he must be the only man in Jerusalem who doesn't know.

He tries to explain that they should be rejoicing.

The Scriptures had been fulfilled. Jesus had lived a good life in a wicked world to show that it could be done. He had died, and risen again, to show men they could do that, too.

It had happened as Moses and the prophets had said it would. But still they grieved, because they didn't recognize Him.

Christ was right there beside them on the dusty road, and they didn't know it.

And it wasn't until they invited Him into their home . . . that first Easter evening . . . that they knew.

It wasn't until they invited Him into their home . . .

Judge Refuses Restraining Order In School Dispute

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Judge Charles Long has refused a plea from 14 Irving citizens for a restraining order against the town's interim school board.

The board was appointed by the county after voters March 27 abolished the Irving Independent School District and its board of trustees. Petitioners for the injunction said the board was robbing teachers fired by the old school board which had ousted Superintendent J. L. Beard.

Beard's Feb. 16 ouster precipitated a walkout of about 200 school employees, most of them teachers who protested the manner of Beard's dismissal. A new election has been set for April 16 to re-create a school district and name a new board.

How Would YOU Answer This Question?

For the average family today, what is the surest way to financial security?

Correct answer: Life insurance is not only the surest way, but almost the only way, the average family can build financial security in these days of high living costs and high taxes. Your Northwestern Mutual agent can show you how such security can be yours . . . and with less strain on the budget than you think. Call him, today. No obligation.

TODAY Reds Have Indochina Advantage

By JOSEPH ALSOP

SAIGON, Indochina — The real key to the situation in this unhappy country is a political equation a sixth grader could solve.

On one side of this equation are three relatively knowable factors; the condition of the countryside, the condition of the Vietnamese national army, and the condition of the Viet Minh power in the North. On the other side is the eternal unknown, the future.

Work out the three knowable factors. Unless all the experts are wrong about these factors, the result equals eventual Viet Minh victory here in Southern Indochina, which in turn will equal a general catastrophe in Southern Asia.

The trouble in the countryside is simple. President Ngo Dinh Diem is a notably bad administrator. He has also been continuously and perhaps inescapably preoccupied with the struggle for personal power in Saigon. Thus he has left an almost complete administrative vacuum in the provinces.

Reds Win Villages
The ruthless and well organized Communist apparatus has been quick to send its cadres into this vacuum. In the region of the great rubber estates over towards the Cambodian border, for instance, military measures prevented Viet Minh infiltration until Geneva ended the fighting. But now the Viet Minh cadres have poured in and taken over the villages.

Again, the important province of Nha Trang has always been predominantly Nationalist rather than Communist. But in recent months great numbers of Viet Minh cadres — one unhappy local official guesses as many as 2,000 — have quietly moved into Nha Trang from the neighboring Communist stronghold of Quang Hai. And now Nha Trang is being taken over too.

In the feudal domains of the military religious sects, to be sure, infiltrating Viet Minh cadres still get short shrift. But when the heat is really on, the sect leaders who are now fighting President Diem, will surely tend to make the same personal deals with the Viet Minh that the comparable Chinese warlords made with the Chinese Communists.

Bigger Area
In the much larger area of Southern Indochina not under sect control, meanwhile, between 60 and 70 per cent of the villages are already subject to strong Viet Minh influence, according to estimates from American official sources. French estimates, based on more detailed knowledge, give the Viet Minh probable control of a fantastic 70 to 90 per cent of the villages.

Today, to be sure, the simple people of Viet Minh are desperately war weary. If a strong government could be created in Saigon by some unforeseen miracle, war weariness would help it take the villages away from the Viet Minh. But unless all signs deceive, Ho Chi Minh will shortly be able to raise the Indochinese countryside against the Saigon government by the simple act of sending his secret couriers across the 17th Parallel.

In other words, Ho Chi Minh will be able to recreate in the South the same conditions that defeated the strong French army in Tonkin. In that nightmare war, the French forces held only the towns and strong points and even used the roads at their peril. And because most of the French forces were always tied down guarding their own rear against a hostile

Parents to Learn Who Got Actual Polio Vaccine

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Parents of children in 11 states, Canada and Finland who participated in last year's Salk polio vaccine tests will learn by the end of next week who got the actual vaccine and who got a neutral control substance.

Robert Voight, chief statistician at the poliomyelitis evaluation center at the University of Michigan, said yesterday the coded vaccination records of some 749,000 children are being mailed to health departments in areas where children took part in the mass experiment.

From these records, health officials will learn for the first time which of the children who were given an injection received the Salk vaccine and which were given placebo (dummy shots). The placebos are as ineffective against polio as water.

It already is known in 33 other states comprising what the evaluation center calls "observed control areas" that all second graders were inoculated with the vaccine while first and third graders received nothing. The names of the latter were recorded simply to serve as a control group.

The first lists were mailed yesterday to Canada, Finland, Utah, California, Washington and Montana. Others go out today to New York, Massachusetts, Alabama and Iowa.

countryside, there were never enough French troops left over to confront the main body of Viet Minh regulars.

Such is the first factor of our equation which in turn confers a rather lurid importance on the second factor, the Vietnamese national army. This army is now disorganized, demoralized and suffering a hemorrhage of desertions.

Training Lags
Retraining and reorganization have just been started by Lt. Gen. John W. O'Daniel's Franco-American "Trim" group. But of the six planned Vietnamese divisions, only three will have received serious retraining by next year. The other three will merely get the day's apiece of "indoctrination." And three fair and three dubious divisions are no force to carry the burden the French carried in the Tonkin Delta.

Finally, the equation's third factor, the power of the Viet Minh in the North, has been growing steadily. As predicted earlier by this reporter, the intelligence experts have had to raise their forecasts, giving Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap a full 20 divisions by the spring of 1953.

How then does this equation work out? Obviously the first part of the answer is that the Viet Minh would prefer to take Southern Indochina by peaceful means either at the Geneva-required election or the formation of a "Government of National Union" in Saigon.

Will Use Force
But if they cannot take the South peacefully, yet have control of the Southern countryside, then the Viet Minh will surely order the guerrillas into action. They will filter a few guerrilla-disguised small units of regulars into the South, both to intimidate any hesitant villagers and to lead the guerrilla effort. And they will hold the balance of their regulars, say seven divisions, in reserve to discourage French or American intervention.

In these circumstances, intervention with large ground forces will be remarkably unattractive. In these circumstances, intervention with the air-sea mobile striking force Secretary Dulles is always talking about, will be about as useful as taking a bludgeon to a swarm of wasps. But in these circumstances, if there is no effective intervention to save Southern Indochina, the Vietnamese national army will not be able to hold out for more than three months.

This estimate of the Vietnamese army's future capability against the kind of insidious Viet Minh attack that is now generally foreseen, has been officially forwarded to Washington and Paris by the responsible American and French officers. It is probably an optimistic estimate. At any rate, it is the final answer of this Indochinese equation, which can make a mockery of Geneva, turn the Manila pact into a bitterly bad joke, and seal the fate of all South Asia.

Stevenson Plans Talk on Far East

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats will listen closely to Adlai E. Stevenson Monday night for any foreign policy differences between them and him.

Stevenson's plans for a major radio address on the Far East situation were disclosed yesterday.

Stevenson will speak on his own initiative, without advance consultation with congressional leaders or Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler about his remarks. He is understood to have told Butler only that he planned to make a statement soon.

Urged by Friends
Friends said "hundreds of letters, telegrams and telephone calls" prompted the speech, as an effort to give a clearer picture of what he thinks the Far Eastern situation might mean to this country.

The consensus among Democrats here is that the 1952 presidential nominee is likely to be much more critical of Eisenhower administration policies in the Far East than have leaders such as Senator George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

As one highly paced Democrat explained it, Stevenson is expected to take a more political view of the problem than George, whose position requires day by day cooperation with the Republican administration.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, has proclaimed George as the Senate spokesman for the party on foreign policy issues. It is no secret, however, that some Democrats have followed along reluctantly at times.

Few Public Hints
Stevenson could make the Democrats in Congress happy by cracking out at the "war party" that Johnson and some others have indicated they think exists in Republican ranks.

Stevenson has given only brief public hints of his thinking on Far Eastern problems. Twice in statements he has called for "restraint" in dealing with the explosive Formosa issue.

He said on a Feb. 4 visit here that it would be well to remember that "Formosa doesn't belong to the United States, it doesn't belong to Red China and in fact it doesn't belong to anybody." Stevenson's decision to take to the air was looked upon here as indicating a flexing of political muscles unused since his last appearance at a Democratic rally in New Orleans in December.

Japan Urges Russ Start Peace Talks

TOKYO (AP)—Japan released today the text of a sternly-worded note to Russia urging that peace talks "be started promptly" in New York City.

The note, which was turned over to Russia's U.N. representative Friday in New York for transmission to Moscow, had the effect of rejecting Russian suggestions to hold the talks either in Tokyo or Moscow.

Appointment Of Eden Shows England Changes

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP)—There may always be an England, but the fact that a man who has divorced a wife can attain the highest political office in the land is evidence that the old country is changing.

True, Sir Anthony Eden's divorce was not a spectacular one.

There were no correspondents, no titillating testimony, no dark culprit. It was just that Beatrice Beckett, daughter of banker-publisher Sir Gervase Beckett III, decided after more than 20 years as Mrs. Eden that she wasn't suited temperamentally to be the wife of a man wholly absorbed by statesmanship. She went to New York in 1946 and stayed there.

Eden divorced her on grounds of desertion in 1950.

Not so long ago the circumstances would have been a scandal to shake a government. As it was, there was just a ripple of interest.

In August, 1952, Eden compounded what would have been a grave misdeed in the 19th Century by marrying Clarissa Churchill, then 32 and a niece of Sir Winston.

It was a civil marriage in a registry hall. The Church of England, strongly opposed to the remarriage of divorced persons, would not have permitted a religious ceremony.

But a sanction of sorts was given by the attendance of Sir Winston, who beamed broadly as marriage linked his political heir to his own family.

The wedding brought some sharp comment from conservative ecclesiastical quarters. But it died down and the divorce raised no serious obstacle to Eden's ultimate promotion.

Now Eden, as prime minister, will recommend to Queen Elizabeth who shall be bishops of that same established Church of England which could not approve his second marriage.

Sulphuric Acid Blamed for Death Of Wisconsin Boy

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Acute Bronchitis, caused by inhaling a strong solution of sulphuric acid, was blamed Friday for the poison death of a 7-year-old Sank City, Wis. boy.

The boy, Eugene Ruhland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Ruhland, died en route to a hospital after drinking liquid from a bottle he found in a dump.

Dane County Coroner Stanley Larson said incomplete analysis at the state crime laboratory showed a strong solution of the acid in the boy's body and in the bottle.

A worn label wired to the bottle read "sulphuric acid."

Mother Returns From Church, Finds Son Dead

TANEYTOWN, Md. (AP)—A mother returned home yesterday from the three-hour Good Friday passion service at her church to find her 29-year-old son hanged.

Dr. J. T. Marsh, Carroll County medical examiner, ruled the death of Wirt Patterson Crapster a suicide and said the Princeton graduate, who was on leave from medical college, had been mentally depressed some time.

His mother, Mrs. B. Walter Crapster, found her son's body hanging from the rafters of their home when she returned from church.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily, who had taken shelter from an April shower in the den of Mr. Chatter Chuck, the groundhog, was listening to what his friend was saying. They stood in the highest part of the den which was lighted by lanterns, made from last year's fireflies in bottles, hanging from the ceiling.

"You were saying, Mr. Chuck," spoke Uncle Wiggily, "that you thought—and then you didn't finish. What do you think?"

"I think someone is coming in to my den," whispered the groundhog.

"Is it Woodie or Waddie, your boys?" asked the rabbit.

"It doesn't sound like either Woodie or Waddie," whispered Mr. Chuck.

"Perhaps it is Mrs. Chuck," suggested Uncle Wiggily.

"No, my wife is in the kitchen, farther along in the den. She is getting lunch ready. So it can't be her," whispered Mr. Chuck.

"Then who is it?" asked Uncle Wiggily. He could now hear a scuffling, wabbling sort of noise, as if someone was slowly crawling into the den of the groundhog gentleman. "Who is coming in?"

"I don't know," answered Mr. Chuck. "But I am quite sure it is no friend of mine. If it were a friend he would call out and I would know his voice. I think—"

Once more Mr. Chuck stopped talking. This time he began to sniff.

"Do you smell something?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, I do," answered the groundhog gentleman. "I think I smell the Bob Cat! He is coming in!"

"Oh, whatever shall we do?" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "I was caught in the rain. But I would rather be caught in the rain than be caught by the Bob Cat!"

"Don't worry, Uncle Wiggily!" whispered Mr. Chuck.

"But I can't help worrying," answered the rabbit gentleman. "We are down here in your den. True, we are out of the rain, but if the Bob Cat is coming in he will catch one of us."

"Don't worry," advised Mr. Chuck. "When I dug this den I made a back door way out. If the Bob Cat is coming in the front door we can run out the back door."

The Bob Cat cannot catch us. You and I and Mrs. Chuck will run out the back door."

"What about Woodie and Waddie?" asked Mr. Longears.

"They are roaming around in the woods," answered their father. "They know how to keep out of reach of the Bob Cat. And they don't mind the rain. Come on, Uncle Wiggily. We must make our escape before the Bob Cat comes too far in. Follow me!"

Uncle Wiggily followed Mr. Chuck, who ran through the kitchen of his den, where Mrs. Chuck was opening some canned clover for lunch.

"What's your hurry, Chuckie?" she asked her husband.

"We must run out—for a little while, anyhow," answered Mr. Chuck. "The Bob Cat is sneaking in."

"But it is raining outside, isn't it?" asked Mrs. Chuck. "How are you, Uncle Wiggily?" she asked the rabbit. "I see that you are wet, so it must be raining outside."

"It is," answered Mr. Longears. "Mr. Chuck kindly invited me in out of the rain. I am sorry we all have to go out in the rain again."

"Better the rain than the Bob Cat," said Mrs. Chuck.

"Right you are!" exclaimed Mr. Chuck. "Come on! Hurry! Bobbie is making his way in fast!"

The two groundhogs and the rabbit ran out of the back door of the den. To their glad surprise the rain had stopped and the sun was once more shining.

"I have had enough adventures for today," said Uncle Wiggily. "I shall now hop home to my hollow stump bungalow. I hope Bobbie doesn't catch you and your wife, Mr. Chuck."

"Don't worry," answered the groundhog. "My wife and I will not go back into our den until Bobbie has left. We shall be all right. We hope you get home safely, Wiggily!"

"Oh, I shall be all right," answered the rabbit. And he was. He reached his hollow stump bungalow safely. And just as he entered, Nurse Jane called: "Hurry, Mr. Longears. You are wanted on the telephone!" Who wanted Mr. Longears? Read all about it on Monday if the electric light doesn't go out in the rain and turn red and blue.

Controversial Writer Of Old Song Succumbs

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)—The man who wrote "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier"—a controversial song of World War I—died last night at his Encino home.

He was Al Piantadosi, 71, who got his first fame as a musician as "Ragtime Al" in the early 1900's in New York's Chinatown. He collaborated with Irving Berlin on some early numbers and in 1914 became a charter member of ASCAP, a songwriters' and publishers' organization.

Among his other songs were "Pal of My Cradle Days," "The Curse of an Aching Heart," "Baby Shoes," and "That's How I Need You."

Expanded Camp Program Outlined For Girl Scouts

A greatly expanded camping program has been announced by the Winona Girl Scout council, for the coming summer which will mark the second season at the new camp site at Trempealeau. This information was contained in the official camp folder which was distributed to all troops this week.

"Fly-Up" brownies, that is those who will be intermediate scouts when school opens next fall, will have a full seven-day camping session this summer, from June 19 to June 25, with a special program geared to their needs and interests. Camp periods for intermediate and senior scouts have been lengthened this year to 10 days instead of the former seven, in order that there might be more sustained continuity to camp activities. Three camping periods will be available to these older girls. The first will be from June 26 to July 5; the second, July 7 to 16, and the third, July 15 to 26.

Registration days for established camp are April 16, from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m., and May 7 during the same hours in the Girl Scout office, the Exchange Building. A $3 registration fee must be paid at that time with the balance due June 4.

Activities, which will be supervised by trained adult leaders, will include cooking, lashing, hiking, biking, canoeing, boating, dramatics, handicrafts and land sports. The wooded 700-acre campsite offers limitless program possibilities, and the staff plans to explore and use them increasingly during the coming season.

Day camp will also be offered this summer, and for the first time it is scheduled to follow the established camp program, in order to give the girls an interesting scope of activities for the "tag-end" of the summer. Day camp dates are Aug. 1 to 5 and Aug. 8 to 12. Brownies, intermediates and all 7-year-olds who will be second graders next fall, are eligible to attend.

Registrations for day camp must also be made in the Girl Scout office April 16 and May 7 and may also be made June 4. The camp fee of $3.50 per period must be paid at the time of registration. This minimal fee covers transportation to and from camp, food for a cook-out and daily treats.

Hiking, cooking, games, singing, dramatics, crafts and fishing days are planned for the day camp. A pioneer unit and overnight hikes will be scheduled for older intermediates, and a brownie "Holiday" will be the feature of one day of each camp week, with a special overnight for brownies.

The camp brochure, containing all pertinent information about camp has been distributed to all Girl Scouts in the city by Mrs. R. W. Lundberg, camp chairman, working with troop leaders. It was prepared by Mrs. Adolph Bremer, public relations chairman.

Registration forms for both established and day camp are included in the brochure and are to be completed and signed by a parent before being brought to the Girl Scout office.

RUTH CIRCLE

CIRCLE SEVEN

Circle Seven of McKinley Methodist Church will be entertained by Mrs. Elmer Schmidt, 1217 W. 4th St., at 8 p. m. Thursday. Mrs. Albert White is circle chairman.

Adolph Bremer To Be BPW Club Speaker

Adolph F. Bremer, city editor of the Winona Daily News, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Winona Business and Professional Women's Club to be held in the parlors of the First Congregational Church Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. He will speak on "How News Is Gathered."

The program will be under the direction of news, radio and television committee of which Mrs. Marie Fjeldstad is chairman, and Mrs. Katherine Lambert, a member.

Devotions preceding the dinner will be given by Miss Ann McCleery.

During the business session which will follow the program, reports will be given on the district convention which was held at Owatonna March 27. This convention was attended by Miss Verlie Sather, president of the local club; Miss Leona McGill who completed her term of office as the district secretary-treasurer; Miss Agnes McGill, Miss Ruth Engler, Miss Esther Bach, Miss Margaret Weimer, Mrs. D. B. McLaughlin, Mrs. Roy Baab who served on the resolutions committee, and Mrs. Lambert.

Reports will be given on the Small Business Clinic to be held at Rochester April 24. Persons interested in attending this clinic are to get in touch with Miss Sather. The Winona club is to have charge of the registrations at the clinic. Anyone who would like to convert a talent to a trade, or learn how to market a hobby, or launch a business of their own is invited to attend this clinic to be held at the Kahler Hotel, Rochester. Sessions will begin at 9 a. m., and continue through the day with speakers conducting various workshops on aspects of small business management and development.

A speaker from the speakers bureau of the Governor's Committee on the Teacher Shortage will give a short talk on this subject during the business session Tuesday. Other committee reports will be given at that time also.

The program will also announce the nominating committee and the names of the delegates who will attend the state convention at Moorhead, Minn. May 19 to 22.

A social hour will follow the meeting.

SHRINE WOMEN

A luncheon meeting at which a local unit of the Auxiliary to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, will be organized, will be held at the Hotel Winona Wednesday at 1 p. m. Wenonah Players To Give Ibsen's 'Hedda Gabler'

The Wenonah Players of Winona State Teachers College will celebrate the fifth anniversary of arena-style production in their theater when they present Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" April 25, 26 and 27 in the ballroom section of the student union in Somsen Hall.

Miss Dorothy Magnus, director of the college theater, in announcing the annual spring production, said that the Norwegian Consul General in Minneapolis, Theodore Sivig, would attend one of the performances at the college.

Miss Magnus, tracing the history of arena-style production at Winona State Teachers College, said that the players had introduced it to the Winona area with two one-act plays presented in old Ogden Hall in February, 1930.

The following year, with the performances of G. B. Shaw's "Arms and the Man," the players gave the first college arena-style production of a full-length play in the area.

This year's production of "Hedda Gabler" will mark, Miss Magnus said, the first arena-style performance in Minnesota of Ibsen's drama.

Announcement of the cast, the production and ticket sale will be made at a later date.

Prizes will be awarded at each table and refreshments will be served.

Soviet Youth Back Behind Iron Curtain

BERLIN (AP)—A Soviet youth who defected to the West and asked for political asylum last month was returned to his parents today behind the Iron Curtain.

This was done at his own request, U. S. officials said. The youth was Valery Lysikov, teen-age son of a Russian air force officer stationed just outside East Berlin.

His defection to West Berlin March 18 stirred an international furor. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov charged that U. S. authorities were holding the youth against his will and demanded his return.

The United States denied this. Lysikov met with his parents March 26 under the supervision of U. S. officials in West Berlin. U. S. authorities said later that he refused to return to Communist East Germany.

Why he changed his mind was not immediately made clear by U. S. officials.

Lysikov had been staying in West Germany while plans were being made to grant him a U. S. entry permit.

At a news conference in West Berlin March 29, Lysikov said his fondest desire was to go to the United States, where he hoped to become a pilot, an ambition which he said his father had forbidden him. He said he was fed up with the Communists "lying propaganda."

A U. S. official said Lysikov was turned over to his parents at noon. The parents, accompanied by two Russian officers, came to West Berlin in an auto and picked up their son.

"I hear he was quite happy about returning," the official said.

Law Officers Track Man Lost in Woods

ISHPEMING, Mich. (AP)—George Peterson, 28, lost in the snowbound Michigan woods for three days, was found Friday by two law officers who tracked him for 10 miles on snowshoes.

State police trooper Erland Wiitonen and conservation warden Arthur Savilto found Peterson, of Ishpeming, lying unconscious in the waist-deep snow. He had been missing since Monday night.

A search was started Tuesday after Peterson's car was found. Peterson was taken to an Ishpeming hospital where authorities said he is recovering from effects of exhaustion and exposure.

Police did not say why Peterson had gone into the woods.

county's 1955 traffic toll to five.

At this time a year ago the city's traffic record was marred by one fatality.

A resident of Winona most of her life, Mrs. Knoll was born here Dec. 16, 1888.

She was a member of the Central Methodist Church.

In addition to her husband she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Farnan, South Bend, Ind., and Mrs. John Kirby, Chicago, and two brothers, H. G. Stark, Chicago, and N. C. Stark, Winona.

Funeral services will be held Monday 3 p. m. at the Fawcett-Abraham Chapel, Dr. Truman Potter officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Fawcett-Abraham Chapel Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

Westfall, 16, was the first to sight the half-submerged car. He summoned other searchers and rescue apparatus was called from the fire department.

Firemen, using block and tackle, lowered a 55-foot ladder across the rampaging river to the car.

Fire Chief William B. Tucker crawled over the spray-swept span to the car, tied a rope around Nancy's waist and aided her, inch by inch, back to shore.

Albert was rescued in the same manner by Franklin Fireman Louis March.

At Franklin Hospital, Nancy's biggest worry was, "I wonder if he's sore because I wrecked his car."

Young Man's Fancy Holds Good at 96

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—What they say about a young man's fancy and the spring time still holds true for George Woodward at 96. He and his neighbor, Bertha May Melenson, 71, both of Oakland obtained a marriage license at Alameda County Clerk's Office this day.

They plan to be married this weekend. Woodward, twice a widower, has five daughters and two sons. His bride-to-be, a widow, has five daughters and three sons.

Pigeons Cause More Damage Than Women

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—It was almost like a women's rummage sale as five pigeons invaded the Save Rite drug store Friday and knocked down some merchandise from top shelves while flying around.

The pigeons apparently entered the store through a skylight. The pigeons swooped around the store, caused $10 to $15 damage, and finally were driven out a rear window by police and employees using rakes.

Hearings Due To Reopen in Natural Gas Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another chapter opens next week in the fight over legislation to exempt independent natural gas producers from regulation by the Federal Power Commission (FPC).

Opponents of the legislation — there are several different bills — get their say when the House Commerce Committee resumes hearings next Thursday. Supporters testified for several days prior to the Easter recess of Congress.

There are some 5,000 independent producers, so called because they are not affiliated with pipeline or public utility companies. From around 65,000 wells, they originate most of the country's natural gas supplies. They sell to pipeline companies, which sell in turn to distributing firms.

Scheduled as witnesses at re-opening of the hearings are Randall J. Le Boef Jr., counsel for Consolidated Edison Co., and representatives of other large city utilities. They oppose some provisions of the exempting legislation.

National Coal Assn. witnesses are scheduled for April 20. Committee officials said these witnesses are not opposed to the "principle" of the legislation but object to some features of a bill by Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) and are throwing their support behind a bill by Rep. Staggers (D-WVa).

The Staggers bill would give the FPC jurisdiction over direct industrial sales of natural gas in interstate commerce and prevent dumping of gas at less than cost.

Former Mayor Of Brainerd Dead

BRAINERD, Minn. (AP)—Dr. R. A. Beise, 78, Brainerd physician and former mayor, died early today at St. Joseph's Hospital after several weeks illness with a heart ailment.

Dr. Beise was graduated from Rush Medical School in 1901 and had practiced here since 1903. In June 1951 he became a member of the 50 Club, honor society of the Minnesota Medical Assn.

He served as mayor of Brainerd from 1915 to 1919.

Survivors are his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Louise Quamstrom, Brainerd, and a sister, Miss Ida Beise of Ada.

Funeral arrangements were being completed.

Minneapolis Pilot Dies in Sea Crash

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—The Navy said that Lt. Thomas George Johnson, 32, Minneapolis, Minn., was killed when his plane, an AD6 Sky-raider, crashed into the sea after a takeoff from the carrier Oriskany Thursday.

The crash occurred during a training flight off the coast of Japan. The body was not recovered. Johnson is survived by his wife, Dorothy, and two daughters, Bonnie Lynn and Kathy Ann.

Duluth Man Hit By Car Succumbs

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Frank Groski, 64, died in a hospital Friday of injuries suffered March 31 when he was struck by a car driven by Paul W. Burcar, 18, Duluth.

Burcar is serving a 120-day term at the St. Louis County Work Farm after pleading guilty to charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident. Groski's death carried the state traffic toll to 123 compared with 147 a year ago.

Boy Fatally Injured Playing at His Home

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—David Milligan, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Milligan of Clinton, Iowa, died at a hospital here Friday of a brain concussion received while playing at his home.

The boy was injured Thursday apparently after he had leaped from a moving swing and ran through a gap in a picket fence, striking his head on a crossbar.

Lighthouse Keeper's Wife Writes Books

BON PORTAGE ISLAND, N.S. (AP)—For 25 years Evelyn and Merrill Richardson have kept their lighthouse blinking its warning across the waves of the North Atlantic.

And the spell of this lonely island still fascinates the lighthouse keeper's wife who made it famous in her writings.

Mrs. Richardson is working on a third book, a sequel to "Desired Haven," a novel of the old days on the island-dotted southwest coast of Nova Scotia. She plans to call it "No Small Tempest."

"But I don't think I'll get it done this year," says the handsome, gray-haired woman. "My publishers have also asked for a sequel to 'We Keep A Light'."

That book, her first, won the Governor General's Award, and is still going strong nearly 10 years after it was published. It is a simple tale of her family's existence on the island.

Anne, the Richardsons' elder daughter, is married with two children and lives at a nearby mainland village. Betty June married the assistant lightkeeper at Cape Island. Their only son, Laurie, died in 1947.

Mrs. Richardson writes in the winter because she's too busy in the summer with visitors, friends and relatives. Only people on the island the rest of the year are the Richardsons and Herbert Larkin, the assistant keeper. But they count as family members two cats, a dog, hens, sheep and nearly a dozen head of cattle.

Communications with the mainland have improved since the Richardsons came to Bon Portage. They have a two-way radio contact with the direction-finding station at Yarmouth, N.S., and along with other lights in the district report at 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

"It's a Godsend if there is sickness," says Mrs. Richardson. Earlier all they could do in emergencies was raise a distress flag, which sometimes wasn't seen for days.

Transportation to and from the island hasn't changed much. It's still by motorboat, and then only when weather is right for a landing.

Dropping in on Mrs. Richardson, as she says, "may offer some inconveniences for the visitor." Those who make it during the fall and winter are likely to be treated to wild duck or lobster, which Mrs. Richardson cooks to perfection.

Workmen were on the island all fall building a new kitchen, and it is Mrs. Richardson's pride and joy. And next summer the Department of Transport plans to build the Richardsons a new house.

Mrs. Richardson is looking forward to turning a bedroom into a study in the new house. She now works in the living room on a typewriter her proud husband bought her.

Civil War Vet's Condition Improved

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Civil war soldier Albert Woolson, ill with lung congestion, spent a restful night, St. Lukes Hospital nurses reported today.

The 108-year-old veteran, the last of the 2,675,000 men in the Union army, has been hospitalized since Thursday.

Nurses said today he has been sleeping a great deal and has been eating fairly well.

Penny Rae Won't Be Home for Easter

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Penny Rae Raymond, 7-year-old Waukesha, Wis., girl recovering from heart surgery that will allow her to lead a normal life, will not be able to be home for Easter.

A hospital statement Friday said the little girl is in good condition.

Penny Rae was operated on the middle of last month when surgeons at the University of Minnesota Hospital closed a hole in the muscular wall of her heart. They said that without the surgery she would have been deprived of a normal life.

Senator Recovering At Father's Home

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) was reported improving and "up and around some" at his father's home here.

The senator is recovering from an operation growing out of war-injured injuries. It isn't known when he will return to Washington. He expects to be visited by Boston newspapermen soon and will give his first interview at that time.

Earthquake Rattles Dishes in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An earthquake described as a "strong local shock" by a St. Louis University scientist shook metropolitan St. Louis and a wide area east and south of the city at 7:01 a. m. CST today, but no major damage was reported.

The tremor rattled dishes and spilled coffee, but the only reports of damage came from St. Louis County, where the sheriff's office said four persons told them of cracked walls in their homes.

Reports of the tremor were received from Carbondale, Ill., 100 miles east of St. Louis, and Ste. Genevieve, Mo., 60 miles south of the city.

Estimates of the length of the tremor ranged from 10 to 30 seconds.

Warriors Club Fort Wood

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo.—The Winona State baseball team opened its 1955 schedule here Friday afternoon by winning a 21-14 slugfest against the post team of Fort Leonard Wood.

Coach Luther McCown's Warriors demonstrated a blistering batting attack and Jack McGrath sparked in his five-inning mound debut. On the debit side of the ledger, however, were six errors that led to ten unearned runs for the Fort Wood team.

McGrath started the game and pitched hitless ball during his five innings. He walked only one.

The diamond itself was man and struck out five batters.

Coach McCown said McGrath's change of pace was "working beautifully," accounting for his streak of scoreless frames.

The park game was played in bad 30-foot barriers down the right and left-field lines and was 335 in centerfield.

As a result, the Warriors sprayed five home runs over the wall.

Pete Polus homered with two mates aboard and four other Warriors homered with one man on—Evan Davies, Jim Sendelbach, Jim Miner and McGrath.

"rough," according to McGrath, resulting in six Winona and four Fort Wood errors.

After McGrath finished the fifth inning, freshman righthander Daryl Wohler pitched 1 1/2 innings and gave up eight runs with only two of them earned.

Duane Halverson finished the game for Winona and was touched for four earned tallies and two unearned runs.

The soldiers had four ex-professionals playing and their starting pitcher, Tjaden, formerly pitched for Waterloo in the Three-I League. Winona got six runs off him in six innings.

Tjaden's reliever, Sanchez, was blasted for three runs in the seventh, ten in the eighth and two in the ninth.

Leading hitters for Winona were Sendelbach with four hits in six times at bat; Davies, three-for-five; Miner, three-for-five, and catcher Frank Jaszewski, three-for-six.

The Warriors outthrew Fort Wood 20-7.

The Warriors are scheduled to play Fort Wood again this afternoon, McCown said Lee Paul will start for Winona State. Another game is booked Sunday and the final game at Fort Wood is scheduled for Monday.

Grimm Solves One Problem, Gets Another

Braves Pilot Plans 'Platoon' At Second Base

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Milwaukee Braves' manager Charlie Grimm is no longer embarrassed by his riches.

Up until Friday, Grimm was faced with the pleasant problem of having two good second basemen, Jack Dittmer and Danny O'Connell, either one of them too good to be sitting on a bench as a second-stringer. At last, Grimm hit upon the happy solution: He will play O'Connell against left-handed pitching and Dittmer against right handers.

O'Connell's back, which kept him out of action for a couple of weeks in spring training is all right again and Dittmer has been playing fine ball all spring. Dittmer lost his second base job last season when the Braves bought O'Connell from Pittsburgh.

With the answer to that question out of the way, Grimm turns to a less pleasant problem: Pitcher Chat Nichols' disappointing performance.

Nichols had an unspectacular 1954 season and has been bothered by wildness so far this year.

Grimm is unhappy because Nichols hasn't shown any improvement but he says, "I haven't given up on Chat."

The Braves face Cleveland in exhibition games today and Sunday. Lew Burdette was scheduled to start for the Braves today and Gene Conley gets the Sunday assignment. The Indians scheduled Bob Lemon for today's game and Mike Garcia for Sunday.

Grimm hasn't announced his starting pitcher for the Braves' opener against Cincinnati here Tuesday but it will almost certainly be veteran Warren Spahn. The Redlegs said that they will start Gerry Staley against the Braves.

The Braves worked out at County Stadium Friday morning and the Indians worked out in the afternoon.

Gerzine Holds ABC Singles Top With 738 Count

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The American Bowling Congress tournament opened its third week at the Memorial Coliseum today and the 738 singles series of Milwaukee's Eddie Gerzine looked bigger than ever.

Gerzine fired his pace-setting count on the tournament's second day. Second place belongs to Dave Moffat of Chicago, whose 704 is 34 pins lower than Gerzine's series.

Some of the stars who had a crack at taking over include Junie McMahon, Eddie Kawolles, Paul Krumke, Harry Lippe and Ed Brosius.

Gerzine also is riding ahead of the field in the all-events division with a 1,938 aggregate. Morrie Oppenheim of Chicago has 1,930.

Howard's Clothes of St. Paul, Minn., and the Cole Finder-Mercury quintet of Chicago share the open team lead with 3,015.

A couple of youngsters from Niles, Mich., pace the doubles division. George Lutzen and Bill Hilligoss combined for a 1,270 Thursday to move into the top spot. Lutzen is 21 and weighs 115 pounds. Hilligoss is 23. They are competing in their first ABC.

Only one doubles and singles squad and two booster team divisions competed Friday as the ABC observed Good Friday.

Florida State Beats Wisconsin

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The University of Wisconsin baseball team, playing its season opener Friday, was defeated 3-2, by Florida State.

Ron Locklin, in centerfield for the Badgers, was injured in the third inning after a second diving, shoe-string catch.

The Seminoles won the game by scoring their third run in the ninth inning after one was out. Florida's Fred Twomey hit the game's only homer as his team marked up its ninth victory in 12 starts.

The two teams were slated to meet again today.

Arcadia Slates Mixed Doubles

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—A spring mixed doubles handicap tournament will be put on at the Riverview Lanes Bowling alley here on four week ends: April 8-9, 10-11, April 22-23-24 and April 29-30-May 1.

First prize will be $100 (based on 100 entries), with prizes for every four entrant. Entry fee is $5 per couple of which $3.50 is paid back in prizes. Extra prizes will be $5 to the first couple bowling 375 or better total scratch score in one game, and $5 to the couple bowling highest total score in one game scratch.

Three games will be bowled across six alleys. Men's 155 scratch, 1/2 pins, 10 pin limit per game. Anyone may enter as often as he likes with same partner and collect once in first five places with same partners. Averages will be taken as of March 1, 1955, and falsifying averages forfeits any prize money.

Entries are now being taken at the alleys.

Mondovi Dart Ball Finals Scheduled

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special)—The championship of the Mondovi Dart Ball League will be decided at 8 p.m. Monday, when Modena St. Paul No. 2, and Central Lutheran No. 2 dart ball teams meet at Central Lutheran Church, Mondovi.

Only these two contending teams remain, after three weeks of elimination rounds.

A third place consolation match will also be played at the same time, and place, between Modena St. Paul No. 1 and the Trinity Lutheran, Mondovi.

Bobby Thomson of the Braves was born in Glasgow, Scotland, but now makes his home in Milwaukee.

CLEVELAND AL CHOICE

Scribes Pick Braves 1st

Compiled From The Associated Press
The Milwaukee Braves were chosen by 110 baseball writers in an Associated Press pre-season poll to win the National League pennant this season.

Milwaukee received 60 first place votes to 28 for the defending champion New York Giants and 19 for Brooklyn. In the American League, the Cleveland Indians got 61 first place votes, the New York Yankees 47 and the Chicago White Sox 2.

COMEBACK KIDS
Gil Coan and Hoot Evers, a pair of returning outfielders, show signs of regaining their old form. Under Baltimore Orioles Manager Paul Richards, Coan has worked on defensive perfection and Evers on hitting.

Coan's spring exhibition batting average is .295 and Evers .409 with both showing well defensively.

SCORE VS. BRAVES
Cleveland Manager Al Lopez

plans to use rookie Herb Score in Sunday's game at Milwaukee in a relief role with Mike Garcia starting. Lopez calls Score his "24 carat" rookie.

NEVER SO NICE
The men in blue never had it so nice as they'll have it at Wrigley Field this summer. The Chicago Cubs' management put finishing touches on a $30,000 dressing room for umpires which includes television, carpeted flooring and walls of natural birch.

KNEE AILMENT
Mel Parnell, Boston Red Sox pitcher troubled with fluid on the knee, will have heat treatments and if that doesn't work, the knee will be drained.

Bobby Shantz took another stride to regaining the form he once knew when he pitched seven innings against Richmond of the International League, allowing only one run and six hits.

PACKERS INK END
Robert Peringer, offensive end from Washington State, has been signed to a 1955 contract by the Green Bay Packers, it was announced today by Coach Lisle Blackbourn.

Beau Jack, Williams
Scheduled to Fight
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Two former lightweight boxing champions, Beau Jack and Ike Williams, meet for the third time tonight at Augusta's Municipal Auditorium.

Both are aging ring veterans. Williams, 32, has fought 152 times, Jack, 33, 109.

West Virginia University holds the 1954 football and 1955 basketball championships in the Southern Conference.

Big Bass Teases Hopeful Anglers

Largemouth Is Too Wary To Get Hooked

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

OCALA, Fla.—Fred Schuelke, a friend and showing basset hounds and fishing for fish he seldom catches, was right when he said "there's big bass in this lake."

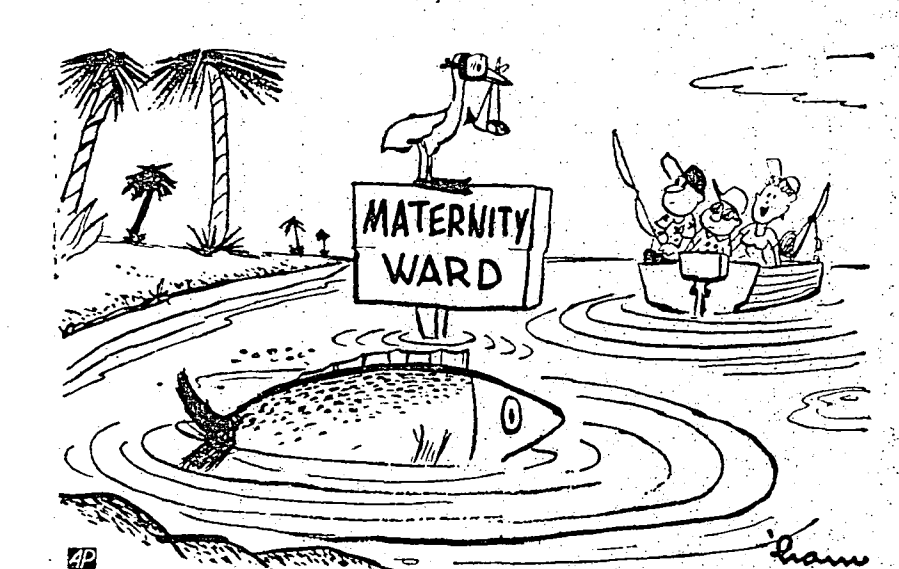

They were jumping all over half-mile Shoosolee Lake, located 20 miles from here in the nation's southernmost national forest and game refuge.

"We'll ride into Lynne and get some live shiners at Dave Boyer's," Schuelke promised. "He raises the shiners himself, all sizes in several tanks. We'll get some big shiners and maybe catch some big bass."

Boyer was on a job building roads but Mrs. Boyer netted us 15 of her biggest shiners. On the way back we stopped for gas and were introduced to a South American monkey with polished finger nails, panties, a dress and no tail.

We had spent a month interviewing baseball players. It was no time to interview monkeys, not with bait in the bucket and Schuelke's cabin 100 yards from the lake. It's one of two cabins on a lake that is hardly fished.

To fish it you've got to bring in your own boat. There are only two private little boats on the water.

Florence Schuelke put Dupid, her favorite basset pup, in the cabin, helped rig up three light casting poles with corks about three feet above the bass hooks.

With her husband at the oars of his 12-foot carport boat we made for a point in the heel of Shoosolee Lake. "Be my guest," Schuelke said. "You make the first cast."

For a minute he thought Ted Williams was casting. The bobbin and bait sailed all of 25 feet off stern. Mrs. Schuelke followed suit.

Bing, like that, we had a strike and like a jerk jerked the hook and the half-pound shiner out of Mr. Bass' reach.

"Let 'em take a lot of slack, like this," offered Mrs. Schuelke.

Schuelke, who knows plenty about the habits of the elusive bass but not enough to catch them, remarked, "I'll row close and each of you cast."

A few casts were unproductive. Then Mrs. Schuelke rigged up a spoon. Each time the big bass broke water she almost snagged his tail. Soon he stopped teasing and we left. Ten minutes elapsed and he was back, swimming back and forth on the surface much in the manner of an expectant father strolling back and forth outside a maternity ward.

We headed back to the spot and again I was Schuelke's guest. I had the first cast. Before I could adjust the spinning reel the work went down. I had lost bass the day previous so I gave all the slack possible.

"The cork's down a long time," Schuelke offered. "You got him hooked, better reel him in."

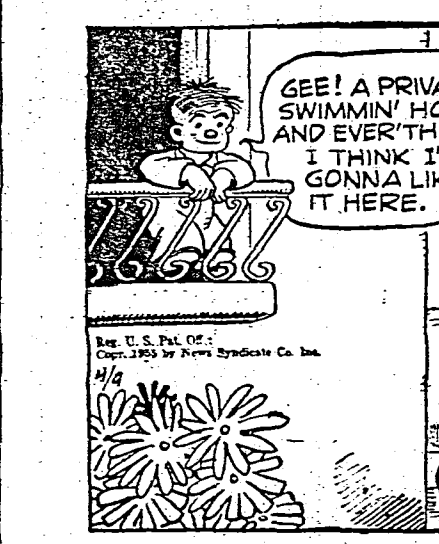

It was Schuelke's second spring on Shoosolee and, after all, he found the spot and we took his advice. When we thumbed the line to check the slack, the cork floated to the top and the bass—must have been a 10 or 15 pounder—went to the bottom. Inspection of the shiner showed three definite strikes, the last an inch below the hook.

I can still see Fred Schuelke spending $1.50 a day for 15 shiners. And I can still see Mr. Largemouth Bass laughing. But I'll be back to get him next spring. Oh, Schuelke won't pull him in. He's not that kind of a friend—or that good a bass fisherman.

Middlecoff's 65 Takes Lead In Masters

Hogan Second; Snead, Burke Tied for Third

By MERCER BAILEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Cary Middlecoff calls the huge Augusta National "a waiting course"—and the rest of the golfers in the Masters Tournament were waiting today to see if the former molar mauler from Memphis falters in the third round or keeps a firm grip on his four-stroke lead.

That isn't exactly what Middlecoff had in mind when he used the term, but history has proved time and again that in this classic championship those who wait for the pace-setter to stumble quite often are rewarded.

After shooting his spectacular 31-34—65 yesterday for a 137 total, the 34-year-old 1949 U. S. Open champion, who registers out of Kiamiesha Lake, N. Y., commented:

"This is the tenth time I've played here. Last year was the first time I learned that this is a 'waiting course.' You have to wait for things to come your way. You can't force birdies on this course. You begin trying to force a birdie, you wind up with a bogey."

Jackie Burke, the first round leader, knows exactly what Middlecoff means. The birdies came his way in drives Thursday when he got his 67—good for a four-stroke lead—but he caught a batch of bogies yesterday and took a 76. This dropped him into a tie for third place with Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. who had rounds of 72-71—143.

Thus Burke was six strokes behind instead of four strokes ahead after the second round, a shift of 10 strokes in one day.

Ben Hogan, from Fort Worth, Tex., sometimes called the "boss" of the Augusta National course because of his consistently good showings here, made his bid for the lead with a fine 68 in the second round. But he fell short under Middlecoff's terrific onslaught and had to settle for second place at the midpoint of the tournament with a 141.

Next in line with 144 was Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, Mike Souchak, Durham, N. C., was sixth with 145. Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C., tied with Souchak for second place after the first round, had a lot of company at 146.

Managers Predict Cleveland Again

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will successfully defend their American League championship and will oppose either Milwaukee, New York or Brooklyn in the World Series.

This is the consensus of the 16 major league managers in a pre-season canvass by The Associated Press today.

Only one pilot—Al Lopez of the Indians—was bold enough to select his own team. Two others—Lou Boudreau of Kansas City and Charlie Dressen of Washington—also named the Indians. The others recognized Cleveland's strength but also showed respect for the Yankees and White Sox.

No National League manager was willing to go out on the limb but all agreed that the Braves, Giants and Dodgers rated the top three spots. Eddie Stanky of St. Louis, Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati and Mayo Smith of Philadelphia each predicted that their clubs would also be in the thick of the pennant race.

Lopez pulled no punches as he predicted another Indian flag.

"I think we ought to win the pennant again this year," he said. "This is what the other managers had to say."

Casey Stengel, Yankees: "I have the best club in the league outside of pitching and should be first or second. The ones who finished behind me last year haven't improved enough to pass me."

Marty Marion, White Sox: "I look for a three team race in the American League with the White Sox, Indians and Yankees battling it out for the pennant."

Lou Boudreau, Athletics: "I look for a two-team race between Cleveland and New York but my pick is Cleveland because of superior pitching. Boston and Chicago will be contenders. Detroit has a team of promising youngsters and could be the dark horse."

Charlie Dressen, Senators: "Whoever wins will have to beat Cleveland. They've got everything but speed. With all that power and pitching, they don't need too much speed."

Mike Higgins, Red Sox: "I am not so familiar with the rest of the league to try to evaluate where we'll finish. I'll be able to tell more when I've made a swing around the league."

Bucky Harris, Tigers: "You have to acknowledge the strength of both Cleveland and New York. Detroit should be on a par with Boston. No sense sticking your neck out picking the winner."

Paul Richards, Orioles: "The experts figure New York, Cleveland and Chicago to be strong with the five others to be also-rans."

Leo Durocher, Giants: "I never predict the outcome of a pennant race and I don't intend to start now."

Charlie Grimm, Braves: "We're going to have a slam-bang affair this year with six teams fighting for the first division."

Walter Alston, Dodgers: "I look for a three-way battle between New York, Milwaukee and us although five or six clubs have a chance."

Eddie Stanky, Cardinals: "You've got to respect the Giants because they're the champions but I foresee a five-team race in a very tough league."

Birdie Tebbetts, Redlegs: "It will be a scramble this year. Naturally, the Giants, Braves and Dodgers are favored, but our club, St. Louis and Philadelphia have enough so that with some luck any one of us could make it interesting."

Fred Haney, Pirates: "You can toss three coins in a fountain and take your choice between New York, Milwaukee and Brooklyn."

Mayo Smith, Phillies: "It should be a wide open race with the Giants, Braves and Dodgers appearing to be a bit stronger."

Stan Hack, Cubs: "I'd probably have to go along with Milwaukee on the basis of pitching depth, although the Giants are the champions."

Injury Perils Ashburn Streak

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

This was the year Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phils figured to cash in on a personal ambition by cracking the National League record for consecutive games played. Now, his hopes are threatened before the season even opens.

At best, his hopes of topping the 822-game streak set by Gus Suhr at Pittsburgh from 1931 to 1937 are a bit shaky.

Ashburn, with a 730-game spring was laid low by a collision with Del Ennis as the pair chased a clout by the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle yesterday. They met full stride, crumpling unconscious.

It took five minutes to revive them, but they managed to limp off under their own power. Ennis was merely shaken and bruised, but Ashburn, the Phils' 28-year-old centerfielder, suffered a sprained left knee.

Ashburn has been hurt before in his streak, but always managed to hang in there. He has three days grace now before the Phils open at home Tuesday against New York.

If Ashburn is even able to hobble, Manager Mayo Smith probably will have him in the opening lineup, figuring to relieve him quickly yet keep the streak alive. Doctor's orders, however, could keep Ashburn off his feet altogether.

Kansas City got a morale boost from Bobby Shantz, who went six innings in good shape. He gave up six hits and one run, walked none and fanned two as the Athletics beat Richmond of the International League 10-3.

Camillo Pascual and Maury McDermott six-hit Cincinnati as Washington won 11-5.

Pittsburgh started with Max Surkont, and the opening day pick got the 10-7 decision over Baltimore although he was relieved in the fourth.

Canadiens Face Detroit Tonight

MONTREAL (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens, with a new grip on their confidence, move into another clutch assignment against the Detroit Red Wings tonight in the fourth game of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs.

Detroit, winning 15 straight games for a NHL record before giving in to the Canadiens 4-2 Thursday, have a 2-1 edge in the playoffs. A victory tonight would send the best-of-7 series back to Detroit's home ice Sunday with the Red Wings overwhelming favorites for their seventh Stanley Cup, symbol of hockey supremacy.

Guard Sponsors Benefit Dance

Hope to Buy Ring, Boxing Equipment

A benefit dance to raise money for the Winona National Guard Golden Gloves boxing team will be held April 20 at the Armory, it was announced today.

The dance is being sponsored by Company A, 135th Inf. Reg., Winona.

Enlisted men are in charge of the arrangements. Committee members are Sgt. Royal C. Herrmann, chairman, Dave Luck, Clarence Loer, Vince Cisewski, John Erickson and Gerald Cieminiski.

Co-directors of the Golden Gloves boxing team are Chuck Puterbaugh and Johnny Bell.

Ultimate aim is to raise enough money to buy a boxing ring and more equipment and to stage amateur boxing shows in Winona next season under the sponsorship of the National Guard.

The Rhythm Masters, a 15-piece orchestra, will play for the dance from 8:30 to 12:30.

Arcadia Baseball Team Makes Plans

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — A meeting was called Wednesday evening by the president of the Arcadia City Baseball Club, Robert Boland, to select a secretary to replace Clifford Nelson, who is unable to take the position. Ignatius Sossalla, who now holds the office as treasurer, was elected to be secretary also.

Members of the board of directors re-elected were A. C. Schultz, Redmond English, Morris English and Werner Bell.

There will be a baseball game between the local team and Independence May 29 during the Broiler-Dairy Festival. Proceeds of the game will be donated by the local club to the Lions Club, who is backing the team this year.

No bat boy has been selected as yet, but it was decided to have the manager, Donald Galuska, select a bat boy.

Ignatius Sossalla reminded all baseball players to return all new uniforms to him within the next few days for dry cleaning.

Players on this year's roster include three pitchers, Roland Sobotta, Thomas Paine and Ernest Miecek.

Others on the roster include Roland and Haines, Allan Klink, Richard Mettlich, Jack Mettlich, Howard Hanson, Donald Glazer, Jack Benusa, Richard Runkel, Franklin Sobotta, Robert Gilbertson, David Hoesley, Darrel Schultz, Myron Angst, Clarence Fugina Jr., and Robert Boland.

Jones Scores TKO Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ralph (Tiger) Jones, a systematic man inside the ring and out, has modest plans for his next fight after punching his way to one of his rare knockouts in a nationally televised fight.

The New York Negro exploded a pair of bombs against the head of George Johnson and then flailed away with a series of blows that left the Seminole Indian from Trenton, N.J., helpless against the ropes for a TKO with 59 seconds left in the fifth round of their middleweight bout Friday night.

Bob Melnick, Jones' manager, said he hoped to arrange a bout with Kid Gavilan in Cuba in about two months and had no immediate plans for a match with one of the top-ranking middleweights.

It was the ninth knockout for the 27-year-old Tiger in 34 victories as a pro. He has had 50 pro fights and has never been knocked down.

Jones weighed 158½, 3½ pounds more than Johnson.

Both judges had scored the fight evenly for the first four rounds, and Referee George Kessler had given Jones a slight edge.

HOUSE SEEKS

on a constitutional amendment to rewrite the judiciary provisions of the Constitution.

Nearing final approval were the real estate licensing bill, which has been before the Legislature in various forms for 36 years, and a proposal to liberalize the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The measures have passed the two houses in slightly different forms. In the same situation was a measure to empower the courts to seize and hold license plates of motorists convicted of driving after suspension or revocation of their drivers' licenses. No state now has such a law.

Bill on Trucks

The bill to extend the maximum legal length for trucks from 45 to 50 feet, which passed the House earlier, received a setback in the Senate. Only minutes after giving the measure preliminary approval, the Senate voted 34-22 to kill it.

Its supporters are planning an attempt to reconsider the killing vote. The Senate passed a fair price farm resolution, deleting a section interpreted as backing rigid price supports, and a bill to appropriate $30,000 to finance the state's fight against artificial barriers restricting sale in certain parts of the country of Minnesota dairy products.

Also approved by the upper house was a bill to outlaw sale of literature which, for minors, would be obscene.

Gov. Freeman's big reorganization bill won approval by the House Civil Administration Committee and had its first hearing before the Senate committee.

Coming to the floor late was a bill to permit individual communities in the state to adopt daylight saving time. The measure, backed principally by the larger cities, won committee approval in both houses. Farm groups continue to oppose it.

Also winning committee approval were bills to permit school districts to "associate," without consolidating or reorganizing, to operate high schools, and to license and regulate the trading stamp business.

Delayed until next week was a decision by the Senate Education Committee on school aids. The House committee has recommended a $5 basic aid increase, to $85.

During the week the number of new laws rose to 401, with a dozen more bills awaiting the governor's signature. A total of 58 bills were sent to the governor in the week shortened to four days by the Good Friday holiday.

Game Called 'Chicken' Kills Ohio Motorist

COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP) — Jack McCoy, 17, died Friday after an automobile collision which the highway patrol said may have resulted from a thrill game called "chicken."

In the game, two automobiles race toward each other at night without lights. First driver to swerve his left wheel from the center line or to turn on his lights is dubbed "chicken," a state highway patrolman said.

McCoy, who lived outside near Warsaw, was a passenger in a car which patrolman T. P. Harding says may have been involved in a game of "chicken."

Three youths were too seriously injured in the crash to answer questions, Harding said. The smashup occurred Wednesday night about 15 miles west of Coshocton.

Harding said the "two automobiles approached each other at high speeds, with lights out."

LAFF-A-DAY

"I foolishly remarked that Marg couldn't drag me to one of these affairs!"

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WISGUM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. To some extent, Sociologists Burgess and Wallin, after extensive study, state: "Health is a factor in mate selection. The very healthy, healthy, and those in poor health tend to marry those of health similar to their own." They ascribe this partly to the fact that healthy persons meet each other in society and sports, while the unhealthy often meet in hospitals and health resorts. I met my wife on a roller coaster.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Yes. Numerous studies show that noise impairs not only hearing but nerves, dispositions, and digestion. It increases accidents, wastes material, slows workers, and generally plays havoc with body and mind. Suits for compensation for hearing impaired by noise are increasing, and studies are being made in hopes of reducing noise and bringing about laws to control this nerve-racking menace.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Yes—our gifted children. The National Catholic Educational Association has established a section for gifted children—those with IQs from 135 to 200. The new National Association for Gifted Children is also doing a lot. Psychologists find they are our "most retarded children" in that they are academically farther behind where they should be than the mentally retarded—usually at least three years. Statistics indicate that half are never even discovered.

Heroine

CHICAGO (U)—A 13-year-old girl was hailed as a heroine yesterday for her calmness in saving her three younger sisters and a brother from probable suffocation from fire and smoke in their home.

She is Rosemary Pacheco, who was caring for her sisters and brothers in their second floor apartment when fire broke out in the first floor flat at 1706 S. Morgan St.

Rosemary led Mary, 11, and Dolores, 9, and her brother, Samuel Jr., 6, down a smoke-filled front stairway to the street.

Then she returned to the apartment and started down with her baby sister, Theresa, 11 months, who had been asleep. But the smoke was too thick and Rosemary returned to the apartment, opened a window and shouted for help.

An unidentified man caught the baby as Rosemary dropped her out the window. Then Rosemary lowered herself out the window and jumped to the sidewalk below, suffering a minor injury to her

Truck Driver Loses Shrimp In Poker Game

HOUSTON (U)—FBI agents sought today a truck driver they say lost 12 tons of frozen shrimp in a poker game.

Robert W. Brewer, Sikeston, Mo., was charged with unlawfully converting merchandise in interstate commerce for his own use.

George Burton, FBI agent-in-charge, said Brewer, 29, left the Brownsville Shrimp Exchange April 1 with the shrimp aboard a truck and trailer owned by the Quexner Truck Lines, San Antonio, Texas. Brewer's destination was Detroit, Mich.

Burton said Brewer got into a poker game in Houston with four men and apparently lost the entire shipment of shrimp.

Winners of the game, Burton said, attempted to market a portion of their winnings to cafes in Houston and Beaumont but the FBI recovered $4,900 of the sales money.

Firemen arrived and extinguished the fire, which had broken out around an oil stove.
