New senators announced

Dalton rationalizes election turnout

THE NEW Student Senate President Tim Dalton was interviewed by a Winona staff member as to his views on the following subjects:

Election turnout:

THERE WERE about 750 who came out and voted on March 8th. When you base this on 3500, it is a poor showing. However, when you consider that many of these are part-time students, graduate students, and candidates who often can’t get involved in the campus activities, the turnout wasn’t too bad.

Immediate Plans:

TO FIRST OF ALL structure the communication system within the Student Senate, to meet with as many of the administration as possible individually to discuss the coming year on our campus and to do what we can to get to form a close knit administrative group to work together. Also to utilize clubs and organizations Saturns to try and make the representa- tives of these clubs a more dy- namic part of the Senate.

Appraisal of Senator:

MANY of the senators are new to the Senate with no prior experience. This is not necessarily fearful to them, as they feel real- ize the responsibility to be overcome. I think the students elected some hard workers and people who will be able to cooperate together.

I would personally like to thank those who did vote and those who took the initiative and inter- est to run for Senate positions.

The main duty of Tim Dalton, president, is to attend all meetings and to co-ordinate all the activities of the Senate. Newly elected vice president is Ray Gunderson. Besides pre- sid ing in case of the president’s absence, he is in charge of the relations with other Winona school and the state college.

As secretary, Mary Jo Blum- enitz will take and distribute the minutes of all Student Sen- ate meetings, including the meet- ings of the organization pres- dents.

Tom Gorman, treasurer, has the responsibility of preparing the budget for next year’s sen- ate at residence hall meetings for the purpose of communication between the two bodies. She must also represent the off-campus students wherever possible.

Barbara Broecker, newly elect- ed academic senator, with her committee participates in this area by working with the faculty curriculum cabinet.

Tom Sage, campus coordinat- ing senator, has the responsibility of social and student union sen- ators, as those posts have been combined. These responsibilities include planning social activities, coordinating a tri-college social and cultural calendar, working with Winona Chamber of Com- merce to establish more places of social entertainment for col- lege students, and filling the stu- dents’ role in making decisions concerning the student union.

The public relations senator, Jan West is beginning a second term in her two pronged job. The first involves publicizing all events sponsored by the Student Senate and or social committee.

Alumni criticize Baranski's taste

Mr. Freddie Baranski
Co-Editor of Winoman
Dear Sir:

I am glad to see the article you wrote for the Winoman March 1st. I never read anything so lacking in good taste as the article. It bordered on blasphemous. To think you took the Beatitudes and Lord's Prayer for the form.

Whatever was your purpose, I am sure you never got your idea across. Instead anyone with any sense of humor will not get your message.

I am an alumnum of Winona State and have always been very proud to be one. I am 95% of the student body do not have your sordid mind. I have written to Doctor De Fringe telling him of your views. I have enjoyed reading the Winoman for 4 years after reading the new President's speech at the time of his installation, I am sure he will be one to have respect for religion.

If you wish to write me and explain your purpose in writing this, I would be glad to hear it, but don't expect me to reason with you.

I believe in freedom of speech but don't think it should be from a low level as you have not used it correctly.

Yours truly,

Joseph Cassedy, '58

Mr. Freddie Baranski
Co-Editor of Winoman

Dear Sir:

Thank you for dropping the "Room Maintenance" infractions (and other violations of the Demerit System) result in a three day "camping" suspension and are made to check for the girl's presence. We know of one RA who took the Beatitudes and The Lord's Prayer for the form.

It is up to you to change the rules and do what is necessary to change them. Just try.

Sincerely,

John Kokkonen, '65

The Joint Statement on Rights and Freedoms of Students (prepared by a joint drafting committee including the AAUP and the UMF) suggests the following regarding investigation of student conduct:

"Except under extreme emergency circumstances, premises occupied by students and the personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained. For premises such as residence halls controlled by an institution, an appropriate and responsible authority should be designated to whom application should be made before a search is conducted. The application should specify the reasons for the search and the objects involved. The student should be present, if possible, during the search."

A Confusion of Boundaries' wins

The new play of a Winona State College graduate has been previewed in Mobile, Ala. William Zecker's "A Confusion of Boundaries," a psychological drama, was presented in Mobile last month with the playwright in the leading role. The Moblin Register reviewer called it "a very good play in-deed--one, in fact, and considering the uneven law of probability in show business, that could reach the big time." The playscript has been published by the Winona State College Press.

The theme of the third folk song concert given by Henry Hull and Art Van de Water last Monday evening was "Songs of the Sea." In his introduction, Mr. Hull explained that these songs communicate the concept and feeling of the sea. Most songs that were sung by sailors were employed to make their almost inhuman lives more bearable.

Mr. Van de Water accompanied himself on a five string banjo and a classical guitar. One of the first songs that he sang was "Fiddler Where O'Reilly's Gone," a nonsensical word song about the press gangs that were used by the Navy in the 19th and 18th centuries to obtain sailors to work on the ships.

The next folk song concert by Hull and Van de Water will be held on April 8 at 9 p.m. in the television viewing room of the Commons.

MONEY: THE STORY OF AN ENGINEER

We all know, of course, that in this age of technology every engineering service is receiving fabulous offers of employment, but do we realize just how fabulous those offers are? Do we comprehend just how busy industry is competing? To illustrate, let me cite the true and typical case of E. Pluribus, a true and typical, one day last week while strolling across the M.I.T. campus, E. Pluribus was hailed by a portly and prosperous man who sat in a yellow convertible studded with precious gem stones. "Hello," said the portly and prosperous man, "I am E. Pluribus, president of American Xerographic Data Processing and Birth Control Incorporated. Are you a senior?"

"This is Svetlana O'Toole," said Portly. "Congratulations," said Portly. "And for the happy bride, 5000 thousand dollars in small foreign coins."

"Thanks, hey," said Svetlana.

"Now then," said Portly to E. Pluribus, "let us get down to business. My company will start you at $75,000 a year. You will retire at full salary upon reaching the age of 60. We will give you an eleven-story house made of lapsaclaim, each room to be stocked with edible furniture. Your children will receive a full per cent on personal Stainless Steel Blades every twelve minutes as long as they shall live. We will keep your teeth in good repair and also the teeth of your wife and children into the third generation. We will send round the non-person Super Stainless Steel Blades every twelve minutes as long as he shall live, and thereafter at 6:30 p.m. in the evening. Now, son, I want you to think carefully about this offer. Moreover, here is a $5 thousand dollars in small foreign coins."

"Thanks, hey," said Svetlana.
