Violence Breaks Out in May Day March in France

Rain Cuts Down Celebration In Moscow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Workers throughout the world marched in traditional May Day celebrations yesterday. Religious and political leaders on both sides of the Iron Curtain took grim note of East-West tensions.

Violence broke out in France. Algerian nationalists took the occasion to stage independence demonstrations and wound up in scuffles with the police. At least 41 persons were injured and 70 demonstrators were arrested.

The day, established as labor day by the International Socialist Congress in 1889, was observed by Communists and non-Reds alike.

In Moscow, President Eisenhower's wartime friend Marshal Georgi Zhukov stood in drenching rain reviewing a parade of Russia's military might. But the rain forced cancellation of the usual mammoth march by "spontaneous" civilian demonstrators. The customary air force fly-past also was canceled.

Later Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, blasted "imperialist" threats and provocations in a speech and said the Paris agreements to free and rearmed West Germany increased world tensions.

Peiping radio said Red China's leader Mao Tse-tung observed the day watching a "seemingly endless parade" down Peiping's Central Boulevard. Peiping Mayor Peng Chen made the May Day speech with a call for strengthened defenses and "liberation" for Formosa.

At Vatican City, Pope Pius XII addressed hundreds of thousands of workers assembled from all parts of Italy in St. Peter's Square. The 79-year-old pontiff urged modern society to achieve social peace and delivered stern words against Communism, although he did not mention it by name.

The Pope concluded his 25-minute speech by proclaiming the liturgical feast of St. Joseph the Worker to be celebrated each May Day.

British celebrations were marred by the death of one of the nation's top labor leaders, anti-Communist Arthur Deakin. He succumbed to a heart attack suffered while addressing a May Day rally.

Wisconsin Town Holds Second 'U.S. May Day'

BURLINGTON, Wis. (AP)—The event tenor of small town life was settled here today after an estimated 50,000 visitors witnessed a weekend of demonstrations of how the American way of life is enjoyed in a typical Midwest community.

There were noted speakers, parades, martial music and pretty girls Sunday, as Burlington celebrated its second "May Day-U.S. Way."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) brought his opposition to direct negotiations with Communist China to a cheering throng.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) pleaded with the motion picture industry to export films more representative of American life.

Knowland said the Chinese Communists "do not need a conference to bring about a cease-fire. All they need is to stop shooting and build up their aggressive forces in that area of the Formosa Strait."

"As long as one American in the armed services or in civilian life is unjustly held, I shall not remain silent," Knowland said.

Racine County Sheriff Rudolph Spieker estimated that a crowd of 10,000 persons had gathered to hear Knowland before a three-hour parade started. But this was swelled to 50,000 at the parade's end, Spieker figured.

Forest Fires Peril Valuable Florida Lands

LAKE CITY, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Forest Service warned today that still more forest fires may follow blazes that destroyed more than 30,000 acres of timberland during the weekend.

John Bethea, chief of fire control for the service, said "We are gravely concerned over the situation brought on by the yearlong drought buildup." He said recent rains have been little help.

The fires ranged from Columbia and Baker counties on the Georgia line to Lee County in south Florida. In between, big fires were going on in Flagler, Marion, Dixie and Volusia counties.

Lake City, a town of about 8,000 population 50 miles west of Jacksonville, was showered yesterday by cinders and ashes from the 7,500-acre Columbia County fire, which burned to within 10 miles of the city limits. A shift in the wind caused the shower to stop.

The Lee County fires burned over more than 10,000 acres, including 8,000 acres just south of Fort Myers. Fifteen houses were threatened for a while but crews managed to divert the blaze.

A sawmill and four small buildings were destroyed at Bonita Springs, 15 miles south of Fort Myers.

Dulles Expected To Head Bricker Amendment Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opponents of the Bricker amendment to limit the treaty power looked to Secretary of State Dulles today to line the administration up solidly on their side.

Some of them had voiced suspicions that the administration might be trying to compromise the controversial issue when the White House intervened to call off Dulles' appearance before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee at the start of its hearings last Wednesday.

Since then, however, both President Eisenhower and Dulles have spoken out in opposition to the proposed constitutional change, sponsored by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and rejected by the Senate last year after six weeks of debate.

Atom Blast Test Postponed Again

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (AP)—The atomic Civil Defense experiment, whose 5,800 participants and observers have dwindled to less than half, because of repeated delays, has been postponed once again.

The elaborate test of a model town, tanks and weapons now cannot be held until tomorrow at the earliest, and the Atomic Energy Commission says the outlook for then is not good.

Originally set for last Tuesday, the big public show has been postponed by unfavorable winds and cloud conditions. The latest delay, announced at a weather conference last night, was because winds threatened to deposit radiation fallout on this model community, observers at News Nob, and the AEC control point at the Yucca Flat test site.

United Nations Charter Change Talks Unlikely

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Prospects are fading for a general conference of the United Nations next year to review the U. N. Charter. It is an even bet among diplomats that no conference will be held.

The Soviet Union opposes the conference and has announced it will veto any change in the charter (constitution) proposed at San Francisco 10 years ago. A veto would kill any change as the charter provides the big powers must agree to any amendment.

Britain and France seem to be taking an increasingly dim view of a meeting which, they feel, would only "rock the boat" at a time when they are trying to keep the big powers calm.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, in on record for a conference but diplomats speculate he may change his mind. Two former Presidents, Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover, agreed recently there is little hope of changing the charter now. Furthermore, they agreed that this is not the time to bring it up. They appeared before a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee studying proposals for changing the charter.

In addition, diplomats here point out, next year will be a presidential election year in the United States and proposals to change the U. N. Charter will certainly generate political heat. The delegates are so interested in avoiding the American elections that some are discussing the possibility of taking the 1956 meeting of the U. N. Assembly to Paris or London.

Bank Official And Kidnaper Die in Wreck

KAMPSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A bank official and one of two men who abducted him and his wife were killed last night in an automobile wreck while being pursued by peace officers.

The dead were Harry Waldhuser, about 63, cashier of the Calhoun County Bank at Kampsville, and a man identified by Sheriff Paul L. Aderton as Thomas Underwood, about 26, of Washington Park, Ill.

Mrs. Lela Waldhuser, wife of the cashier, and a second abductor, Eugene Clifford Hubbard, about 26, of Collinsville, were seriously injured, the sheriff said.

He said an apparent attempt to force Waldhuser to go to the bank was forestalled when Mayor Jesse Campbell and his wife, neighbors of the Waldhusers, became suspicious of a car parked between the Campbell and Waldhuser homes and of the strangers in the Waldhuser house.

A crowd of about 30 persons gathered about the Waldhuser home after Mrs. Campbell telephoned an alarm. Campbell said one of the men "shouted to the group."

"You better get back or we'll kill them both. If you'll move away, none will be hurt. We've gone too far to pull off now. We're going to take them with us for protection."

The mayor said there was an exchange of shots as the two men, with the Waldhusers in the car as hostages, sped out of this town of 450 population about 45 miles north of St. Louis, but no one was hit.

The speeding car overturned on a curve about a mile out of town.

Opponent Doesn't Expect to Beat Churchill for Seat

LONDON (AP)—A. I. M. Milner, who's going to run against Sir Winston Churchill in the May 28 British elections, admits he doesn't have a chance of getting Churchill's seat in Commons.

"But I feel very sure that I'm going to cut down his majority, and that may make him think," Milner said.

"Make him think what?" the reporter asked.

"That he ought to give up his seat in the House of Commons, accept a peerage and move into the House of Lords."

"If I get enough votes it may convince Sir Winston that he should move up. Actually, I don't think he'd really mind it very much."

7 Minnesotans Die in Weekend Auto Crashes

8 Succumb In Wisconsin Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Balmy weather enticed vast numbers of motorists onto Minnesota highways over the weekend, and seven of them died in auto accidents. Many others were injured, some seriously.

The weekend tragedies raised Minnesota's 1955 traffic toll to 152, compared with 200 during the same period last year.

A head-on crash near Nashua Sunday killed two persons — Fred J. Heinzer, 54, of rural Grand Rapids, and Duane A. Nieman, 22, Peggily. Cars driven by the two collided on Highway 169 about three miles west of Nashua. Eben Henderson, Itasca County coroner, said no inquest was planned.

Critically injured were Mrs. Heinzer, about 44, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald Heinzer, 20. The husband of the younger woman was less seriously hurt.

Mrs. Laura Steffel of Olivia, 39, mother of five children, was killed Sunday when the car she was driving hurtled 50 feet over a creek near Olivia and crashed into the opposite bank. Sheriff Ben Leonard said the car crashed through five guard rails before flying into the creek.

Mrs. Steffel, alone in the auto which she reportedly had borrowed, was thrown into the water as the car overturned.

John Brandenburg Jr., 18, of rural Maple Plain, was also killed Sunday in a car accident.

Car Sidewipes Tree

Dr. B. H. Sidmons, Carver County coroner, said Brandenburg was a passenger in a car driven by Raymond Felt, Watertown, when the machine sideswiped a tree on Highway 26 at the Hennepin-Carver County line.

Another passenger and Felt were not hurt. They took Brandenburg to a Watertown hospital, but the youth was dead of a fractured skull on arrival.

Charles H. Watzke, 65, South St. Paul, was fatally injured Saturday night when he was struck by a car police said was driven by Donald Schussler, 23, St. Paul. Watzke died in a hospital.

Richard J. Walsh, 25, Duluth, was killed Sunday when his car overturned at a Duluth intersection. The car burst after the accident but authorities attributed Walsh's death to injuries suffered in the crash, not to the fire.

Harry J. Krunkkala, 19, Ely, was fatally injured Saturday in an accident near Duluth. Five other young persons were injured.

The St. Louis County coroner, Dr. Cyril Smith of Duluth, said the driver, William Leon Wagner, 17, Ely, told him he fell asleep at the wheel. The car ran off the highway, overturned and threw out some of the occupants.

Hospitalized were Wagner; Joseph Pishler, 17, Ely; Jan Patka, 17, Winton; Frank Likar, 27, Ely, owner of the car, and Ronald Boitz, 19, Ely.

Wisconsin Accidents

Accidents in Wisconsin over a sunny and mild weekend have taken a toll of eight lives, including four who were killed early Saturday in a collision near Brodhead.

The quartet of victims included: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ganshert, both 27, of Brownstown.

Mrs. Gertrude Miller, 28, of Juda, Mrs. Ganshert's sister.

Robert Bliss, 21, of Brodhead. Three others involved in the collision were taken to a Monroe hospital. One of them, Mrs. James Bliss of Brodhead, was listed in critical condition. The others are her husband, James, a brother of Robert; and Urban Miller, husband of Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Josephine Ribansky, 67, was killed Friday night when struck by a car at a Milwaukee intersection.

Mrs. Meta Dietrich, 65, died Sunday shortly after being struck by an automobile while crossing a Milwaukee street.

Malcolm Winnesberg, 22, of Iowa, was killed Saturday night when his car rolled over near Nelsonville, Portage County.

Robert Frye, 20, Sun Prairie, was killed when the car he was driving struck a culvert near DeForest Sunday night.

Rain, Snow and Hail in California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sunny weather is due in southern California today after a weekend storm of rain, snow and hail that stranded scores of fishermen and motorists and indirectly caused two deaths.

Snow in some mountain areas is as deep as 30 inches. Twenty-nine automobiles carrying 81 men, women and children were stranded in the Santa Ana Canyon area 15 miles northeast of Redlands and 60 miles east of here in the San Bernardino Mountains.

The cars got stuck late Saturday. Sheriff's rescue parties had to tow them out one by one because of impassable roads. All were freed by last night. Sgt. Richard Seavey said none of the persons were in serious danger because rescue teams could get food and blankets to them but nearly all suffered from cold and hunger.

The rescuers used bulldozers, trucks, graders and two weapons carriers from March and Norton Air Force bases. They worked in knee deep mud in some places in the deep canyon.

Forty-one fishermen were similarly stranded for a time in the Santa Paula-Fillmore area of Ventura County north of here. They were led out or towed out by sheriff's parties aided by Navy crewmen from Point Huemene.

The body of Walter J. Jones, 35, La Habra, was found 18 miles north of Fillmore. The coroner said he apparently had been hiking and had died of exposure. The body of a fisherman, Richard K. Neale, 38, La Crescenta, was brought out of the San Gabriel Mountains. A companion reported that Neale collapsed, apparently from a heart attack, while struggling through a snowstorm along a trail.

Americans Back Tough Little Viet Nam Chief

Battle Against Rebels Resumed In Saigon

By JOHN RODERICK
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Reassured of American support, Premier Ngo Dinh struck anew today at the shrinking private army of his foes at home and at Chief of State Bao Dai, who is watching the Vietnamese turmoil from the French Riviera.

Four battalions of national army troops stormed over three bridges leading to areas of the Chinese suburb of Cho Lon where two battalions of the Bien Xuyen held out in civil warfare that flared last week. The government objective was to mop up those men and permit five battalions which have deserted the Binh Xuyen, a commercial society which seeks to oust Diem, to switch to the army's side.

A mortar barrage that shook the city heralded the attack after 48 hours of relative quiet.

The government troops quickly captured the old headquarters of the Bien Xuyen commander, Gen. Le Van Vien. Then they moved southwestward to the Nhat Thien Duong bridge, two miles away, where a bitter battle was joined.

New Offensive
Diem beat down an attempted coup at the weekend and launched a fresh offensive against Bao Dai. The Premier's office announced a national assembly would meet here Wednesday to depose the absentee ex-emperor who tried unsuccessfully to oust Diem last week.

Diem issued the announcement after conferring with U. S. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, President Eisenhower's special envoy who returned by plane from Washington today. Shortly after the general's arrival, U. S. Charge D'Affaires Randolph Kidder told newsmen at the airport American backing for the anti-Communist Premier still stands.

The French were expected to oppose strongly any move to oust Bao Dai. They had reinstated him as chief of state in 1949. Rarely a resident of the country since the end of World War II, the ex-ruler has been at his chateau on the French Riviera for the past year.

Diem's office said the Premier's cabinet and the national army had approved the assembly call.

The split between French hostility to Diem and the continued American backing for him was underlined by the absence from the airport of Gen. Paul Ely, France's commissioner general for Viet Nam. Collins was greeted by Foreign Minister Tran Van Do and Vietnamese and American officials.

Collins hastened back from conferences in Washington when a brief civil war broke out last week. The general was expected to confer at once with Diem on the confused political events which nearly toppled him from office.

An uneasy quiet prevailed in Saigon but Diem's most recent opponent, Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, scurried back to Dalat, 240 miles north-east of the capital.

Vy, acting on orders from chief of state Bao Dai, had proclaimed himself in "supreme power" yesterday. However, the Vietnamese army took orders from Vy for only a few hours and then switched its loyalty back to Diem.

Tavern Operator Jailed for Illegal Sale of Liquor

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—An Essig, Minn., tavern operator, convicted of selling liquor without a license, today had been sentenced to a year in jail.

Emil Gulden appeared before Dist. Judge George G. Erickson here Saturday. County Atty. Robert Berens told the court that state liquor control agents purchased liquor from Gulden April 21. He added that Gulden lost his liquor license a year ago.

Plainview Church Burns Mortgage; Bishop Preaches

By Daily News Staff Writer
PLAINVIEW, Minn.—The pleasant part of a church remodeling program—that of liquidating the debt—was celebrated at the Plainview Methodist Church Sunday night.

A $21,000 mortgage for the project, launched with a fund drive in 1942, was burned before a large congregation at 8 p.m. services in the renovated sanctuary. Earlier a dinner was served in the church basement.

Bishop Preaches
Bishop D. Stanley Coors, St. Paul, head of the Methodist Church in Minnesota, preached the sermon, taking his text from Isa. 51: "Hearken to me, ye that seek the Lord: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged. Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake as in the ancient days, in the generations of old."

"There is a need for an awakened church today," he stated. "So much is being thrown into our faces by peoples of other colored skin. What can we do to tell them we are sincere?" He answered his query by outlining ways in which the Christian family and the church can improve.

Prior to his talk, church officers stood at the altar in a mortgage burning ceremony. The Rev. Charles Sheffield led a responsive reading and a common prayer. C. W. Herman, chairman of the board of trustees when the project was started, lit the flame. Others who stood with him were Charles Christison, lay leader; Edgar Herman, chairman of the trustees; Mrs. Fay Wood, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service; Miss Mae Hassig, superintendent of the Sunday School; Philip Mah-le, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and Donald Carpenter, president of the Men's Club. The Rev. W. E. Mahle, pastor of the Kellogg and Weaver Methodist churches, offered prayer and the Rev. Ernest Groenig, Rochester, district superintendent, introduced Bishop Coors and pronounced the benediction.

Christison read a history of the project. He said that the reconstruction started in 1948 with a relocation of the church to a spot on the property back from the sidewalk. Construction of a new basement and interior redecoration. The mortgage was for a 14-year term and was paid off in six years, final payment being made in December 1954.

Members of Methodist churches in Dover, Elgin, Kellogg, Weaver and Winona attended the service.

J. Wayne Green, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

How to Have Hair for a Lifetime to Be Demonstrated Here by Famous Trichologist Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive Interview by Steven Bright

WICHITA (Special)—J. Wayne Green, Director of Rogers, Inc. Hair and Scalp Specialists, exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

"Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Green. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Rogers method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness—can turn colorless fuzz into healthy growing hair—can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration to Be Held in Winona, Minnesota

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Winona, Minnesota, Tuesday ONLY, May 3, at the Winona Hotel. Trichologist Max DenAdell will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9:30 P. M. on Tuesday ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason For Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair. Men, and yes, women, too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. 'The simple answer,' emphasized this expert, 'is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case, baldness would be a rarity today!'"

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Green dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is hereditary stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an undernourished scalp. The purpose of the Rogers Hair and Scalp Clinic is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. 'A healthy scalp will grow hair if it is not already completely bald,' assures Green.

Is There Hope For The Completely Bald

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Green has collected hundreds of testimonials of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder. Green is quick, however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise," says Green, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers a Guarantee

"Rogers, Inc., America's Foremost Hair and Scalp Specialists, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Green. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist Max DenAdell at the Winona Hotel in Winona, Minnesota, Tuesday ONLY from 12 noon to 9:30 P. M. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

City Council Sets Employee Salaries Tonight

4 Zoning Ordinance Petitions Scheduled For Consideration

Salaries for the ensuing year will be set by the City Council tonight. In accordance with the city charter, aldermen will fix monthly and hourly scales for the year beginning May 1. As of this morning no requests for salary increases had been received, although a city board—the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners—is faced with one from the firemen and policemen. The board has deferred a decision pending action by the City Council.

Four petitions under the zoning ordinance also will be up for consideration: Rezoning to commercial and transient dwelling-motel of land on the eastern edge of Johnstone's Addition, and construction in violation of lot line restrictions by Joseph Kulas, 569 E. Front St.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Walz, 60 E. King St. and Ralph A. Scharmer, 577 Mill St.

Aldermen also are expected to take official action on making West 5th street an arterial, and the Chamber of Commerce is to submit signatures asking for new mercury vapor lighting in 12 downtown blocks.

Lake City Golf Club Entered

LAKE CITY, Minn.—Golf merchandise and cigarettes, valued at $87, were stolen Friday night from the Lake City Country Club, officials have revealed.

Entrance was gained by smashing a window. The thieves took golf balls, golf gloves, golf club covers and cigarettes. It marked the seventh burglary in the area in four days.

Other places reporting thefts are: North Corners Tavern, Miesville, where armed bandits took $50 in cash; Holmes Super Station, Furniture Repair and Upholstering Shop and Peterson Service Station, Pine Island; the Ford Motor Co., Cannon Falls, and the LeVan Lumber Co., Zumbrota.

Cotter Students Win State Awards

Two Cotter High School students won awards in the Minnesota Junior Academy of Science competition at the Mankato State Teachers College Saturday.

They are James Busse, 15, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Busse, 420 Hill Forest St., and Rosemary Evanson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Evanson, 563 W. 4th St.

A sophomore at Cotter, James won first place in the physics section with his project, "Radio-Carbon Dating."

He was a second-place winner in regional competition here a month earlier.

Rosemary, a Cotter junior, was a third-place winner in the mathematics section with her project, "Mathematics is Fascinating." She was a medal winner in the Winona regional contest.

The state contest at Mankato had entries from public and private high school students throughout the state who prepared original projects in the fields of photography, chemistry, physics, biology and mathematics.

Man Held at BRF Stole Car Plates At Homer—Sheriff

The arrest of a man responsible for the theft of license plates from a parked car at Homer last month has been reported to Sheriff George Fort.

Sheriff Fort was told that a Raymond Marsh, held at Black River Falls, Wis., for questioning in the theft of a pickup truck was found to have license plates stolen from Sam Murray, 259 W. Mill St.

The plates were taken from the Murray car while it was parked near Highway 61 at Homer April 17.

Sheriff Fort said that he understood that the plates at Marsh, when he stole the plates at Homer, was found abandoned at Roberts, Wis., and that the prisoner subsequently stole the truck.

BAND CONCERT

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—The Class A band gave its final concert of the year at the Gale-Ettrick High School Friday evening. Directed by Robert Stroetz, 63 boys and girls appeared in a varied program. Two selections which won first places, stars and entry in the state events were Kathryn Beadle's flute solo, "Andante in F" by Molique, with which she later placed first in state competition, and a cornet trio "Triplets of the Finest" by Henneberg, played by Betty Hoff, Paul Twesme and Beverly Baardse.

Wild Life Refuge Hearings Begin Here on Tuesday

Duck hunters of this area will have an opportunity this week to hear first hand the reasons why the Upper Mississippi River Fish and Wildlife Refuge desires to change the closed areas in the various pools.

The first of a series of three discussion meetings will be held in the federal courtroom of the Post Office Building here at 8 p.m. Tuesday. This will be followed by a meeting at the Dairyland Power Cooperative auditorium at La Crosse at 8 p.m. Wednesday, and the courthouse at Alma at 8 p.m. Thursday.

At each of the meetings colored maps, showing in detail the changes in closed areas, will be shown, and the reason for the changes explained.

Speakers will include Ray C. Steele, superintendent of the refuge; William Green, refuge biologist, and F. C. Carpenter, Minneapolis, assistant to the regional director of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Sportsmen's organizations and individual hunters will be given an opportunity to express their opinion for or against the proposed changes in the boundaries.

Closed areas are established in each of the pools to provide resting and feeding place for the waterfowl as they migrate south each fall. No hunting is permitted in closed areas. The rest of the refuge is opened annually to duck hunters.

2 Winona College Students Elected By State Group

Two Winona college students were elected to offices of the Minnesota Federation of College Republican Clubs over the weekend.

James G. Lackore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lackore, West Burns Valley, a Hamline University student, was elected secretary at Mankato, and George Hanson, St. Mary's College, was named treasurer.

President is Charles Johnson, Watertown, S. D., Macalester College student. Principal speaker was Rep. Walter Judd. The group drew up a platform for presentation to the state GOP convention.

Discreet Gunmen Rob State Store

HOVLAND, Minn. (P)—Law officers in northeastern Minnesota today sought two discreet gunmen who robbed the general store here but pointedly avoided tampering with post office funds.

Charles Manella, proprietor of the store in this Lake Superior village, said the pair ordered him Saturday night to turn over the $75 in the cash register.

The men then bound Manella with rope before filling their car to the roof with cartons of cigarettes, clothing, fishing tackle, three rifles, ammunition and outdoor equipment.

Jailed Moorhead Man Hangs Self

MOORHEAD, Minn. (P)—William Saarela, 51, Moorhead, hanged himself with his belt in a jail cell here Saturday a few hours after he was arrested on a drunken driving charge. County Coroner John A. Knapp said no inquest would be held. Saarela, who is survived by his wife and two daughters, moved here about 10 years ago from Sebeka, Minn.

It Sprinkled A Downpour Last Night

More rain was in store for Winona tonight and Tuesday, according to the official weather forecast for the area.

But it would have to be a torrential downpour to equal the amount registered in the official rain gauge at The Daily News office this morning.

The gauge is located in the center of a budding lawn west of the new building and when measured this morning showed that an inch and a half had fallen last night. A check revealed that the sprinkling system was to blame for most of moisture and that only an estimated .11 of an inch was due to rainfall during the night.

Today's forecast is for considerable cloudiness with local showers or thundershowers tonight or Tuesday. The mercury will dip to 60 degrees tonight and rise to 80 Tuesday.

Sunday's high was 82, top for the year to date.

The temperature brought droves of sunbathers to Lake Winona Sunday.

Hamline President Here Wednesday

Alumni of Hamline University, St. Paul, from the Winona-La Crosse areas will meet Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at Hotel Winona for a dinner in connection with the college's centennial celebration.

Dr. Paul H. Giddens, president of the college, will speak on "The Future of the Private Liberal Arts College."

A sound and color motion picture, "Vanguard," filmed on the campus earlier this year, will be shown following the address.

Parents of past and present Hamline students as well as other friends of the college will attend the program.

Dr. Giddens, formerly chairman of the history and political science departments at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., is a nationally recognized authority on the history of the petroleum industry. Author of volumes on the subject, his latest, "The History of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana," will be published this fall.

75 Children Receive First Communion at Sacred Heart Cathedral

Seventy-five children received first Holy Communion at the 8 a.m. Mass Sunday at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart.

Distributing the Communion was the Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Hale. The children's choir sang Communion hymns during the Mass. The first grade children who acted as flower boys and girls were Timothy Foreman, Daniel Nixon, Ronald Klaster, Craig Zeches, Mary Kay Gagner, Karen Kranke, Kathleen Korder and Cheryl Harkenridge.

GOP Collegians Meet Opposes Vets Bonus

MANKATO, Minn. (P)—The state convention of Minnesota State College Republicans went on record here over the weekend opposing a bonus for veterans of the Korean fighting.

The group also criticized Gov. Freeman for what it called "playing politics with Minnesota's civil service and professional government posts." The criticism was aimed at the governor's replacement of Col. E. B. Miller as state civil defense chief.

The 70 delegates also favored recommendation of a 90 cent hourly minimum wage.

Postal Employees Discuss Salary Boost Proposal

With congressional conferences scheduled Tuesday on pay increase proposals for postal employees, a meeting of postal clerks and letter carriers here Saturday was held to prepare to voice their opinion through communications to their congressmen and President Eisenhower.

Jerome Keating, Washington, D.C., national vice president of the Letter Carriers Association, said he could not understand the President's position that he would veto any salary increase other than that which he proposed. Keating noted that the President already has approved raises for the Congress and armed forces.

His discussion of the problems and opposition to raising highlighted the spring meeting of the Southeastern Minnesota Postal Employees Council at the American Legion Memorial Club Saturday night. About 135 attended, including delegations from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Northfield, Red Wing, Mankato, Albert Lea, Rochester, Faribault, South St. Paul, Owatonna and Waseca. State officers from the Twin Cities were guests in addition to delegations from Arcadia and La Crosse. Winona's Acting Postmaster C. B. Erwin welcomed the group.

Donald Dunn, Sioux City, Iowa, national vice president of the Federation of Postal Clerks, discussed the reclassification plan that is strongly opposed by the clerks' organization.

"If reclassification should be considered as necessary, it should be offered after a full study by a joint congressional committee composed of members of the House and Senate, Post Office Department officials, employees' organizations and the postmaster general. Why should the postmaster general have to have his reclassification plan given a 'full dress' study by those with experience in postal service?"

Among those attending were: Ervin Sorenson, St. Peter, president of the Minnesota Federation of Post Office Clerks; Larry Childers, secretary of the Minneapolis local; John Morgan, secretary of the St. Paul local; Walt Noreen, St. Paul, president of the clerks' local; Glen Paulsen, clerks' national representative; Archie Mohn, letter carriers' state president, and Vice President Warren Mitchell.

Dr. Giddens, president of the college, will speak on "The Future of the Private Liberal Arts College."

A sound and color motion picture, "Vanguard," filmed on the campus earlier this year, will be shown following the address.

Stores Happy With 'Bargain Days' Promotion

Friday Night Crowd Biggest Here Since Christmas Weekends

Winona merchants today were expressing satisfaction with the results of the "Winona Bargain Days" promotion last weekend.

Favorable weather and the availability of off-street parking were cited as other factors that helped draw shoppers from the Winona area to the stores for the special promotion.

Department and clothing stores seemed to be particularly benefited by the promotion.

"Our three days were a real barn burner," said K. R. Barnum, manager of H. Choate & Co., who explained that the store's annual "Blue & Gold" promotion had been held just a week earlier.

Mrs. F. M. McShane, who assumed managerial duties at Miller's only last month, termed the promotion "very successful... a nice way to start." She said the store was "swamped" Friday and Saturday.

Asks More Promotions
And most business places contacted agreed with R. S. Clayton, Penney's manager, who said that more promotions of the "Bargain Days" variety should be held.

"In addition, we should make an effort to get every merchant in the city to participate, even if they can offer only a few specials," Clayton described "Bargain Days" an excellent promotion.

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Manager A. J. Anderson also was surveying merchants' reaction this morning, and reported satisfaction among most downtown businesses.

"Friday night's crowd," he said, "was the largest since the Christmas weekends." He emphasized that the proximity of off-street parking lots to the business district was an important factor in making shopping here convenient.

Bank's Report
The "Bargain Days" promotion impact on Winona's business probably will be further revealed in about a month, when the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis reports on department and general store sales.

Sales here during March were 6 per cent above March 1954 while sales during the first quarter this year rose 4 per cent from the same 1954 period.

In statewide computations, reporting stores averaged sales 11 per cent higher for the month of March while the 3-month average was 4 per cent higher than the first quarter of 1954.

The Southeastern Minnesota area, meanwhile, reported sales seven per cent higher for the month of March, but first quarter sales were only one per cent higher than during the first three months of last year.

The West Central Wisconsin, March sales showed no increase and first quarter sales were off two per cent. La Crosse had increases of 11 per cent (March 1955 over March 1954) and six per cent for the first quarter. Rochester merchants do not cooperate in the survey.

Last Jury Case Stated for Trial

The last jury case on the calendar for the spring term of District Court was scheduled for trial this afternoon.

The action is brought by John Culhane, Rushford, whose car and a pickup truck driven by Virgil Ellsworth, Utica, collided on a state aid road four miles west of Fremont last Jan. 10.

Culhane, who asks damages of $300 as a result of the accident, names Ellsworth as the defendant in the case.

Ellsworth, meanwhile, has entered a counter-claim for $200 for damages to the truck.

Culhane is represented by Hanson & Wilcox, Minneapolis, and Ellsworth by Ralph Foster, Minneapolis.

Judge Karl Finkelnburg is presiding.

H. M. Johnson, 409 W. King St., right, was presented a certificate Saturday night on his retirement after 31 years as a driver for the Railway Express Agency. He was honored at a Hot Fish Shop dinner given him by his fellow employees. Agent A. R. Steadman makes the presentation. Present in addition were Carl Buermann, E. H. Field, Arthur Malenke, Melvin Hohensee, Arthur Streuber, L. A. Dobberphul, Kenneth Troke, Edward J. Kanthack and Frank Renswick, present employees, and James Miller, William Haack and Hugh Puck, retired employees. (Daily News photo)

When A Raccoon tried to attend May Day services at St. Stanislaus Church Sunday, Ronald Shager, local game warden, was called. The animal was hiding in a corner of the grove on the church grounds. The inset photo shows the successful capture of the animal by Shager, holding box, and James Borkowski, Goodview. The coon was taken into the country and released. How he got to town—well, that's a mystery that only the raccoon can explain and he doesn't speak English. (Daily News photos)

Eyota Congregation Farms To Pay for $60,000 Church

EYOTA, Minn. (Special)—Farmers here are paying for the new $60,000 Evangelical United Brethren Church here. During the last five years, $24,000 has been raised in this manner.

Thursday, a group of farmers plowed and disced a 140-acre plot on the Richard Stevens farm. Fifteen acres will be seeded to peas, 40 to corn and the remainder to soybeans.

Those members who own farm equipment work the land; the congregation furnishes gasoline and oil; members not able to work at the farm buy seed and fertilizer. Women of the congregation furnished lunch.

Farmers who prepared the seed beds Thursday are Robert Matteson, Cedric Ellis, Floyd Dunford, David Bush, Elmer Fuchs, Russell Pries, John Fox and Elmer Randall. The Rev. Leslie Gehring is pastor.

The new edifice was built in 1954 by the local congregation and only $36,000 remains to be paid on the mortgage. Stevens farms two miles southeast of here.

Farmers Complain Fishermen Leave Fence Gates Open

Sheriff George Fort today reported that he has received complaints during the weekend from Winona area farmers who say that fishermen crossing their property on their way to fishing spots have left gates open, allowing cattle to stray.

The sheriff said that open gates have resulted in cattle being lost and frequently straying cattle crossing highways have been responsible for traffic accidents.

"Most of the farmers I have talked to," the sheriff said, "don't mind the fishermen walking across their land. But they would like to have the visitors ask permission and give assurances that they will close any gates that they may have to use."

The sheriff said that several of the farmers told him that if the practice continues they intend to post no trespassing signs.

Sheriff Fort also asked city of Winona residents to refrain from taking dogs and other pets which they no longer want to rural areas and abandoning them.

"I don't know what laws may cover this," the sheriff said, "but I'm making this appeal only from a humane standpoint. If a pet is abandoned in the country it must run at large and often starves or when it becomes a nuisance we are called upon to dispose of it."

Boy Hit by Golf Club Examined and Released

A Winona youngster apparently escaped serious injury when he was hit on the head with a golf club Saturday night.

Released from the Winona General Hospital when examinations indicated he had suffered no serious injury was Dennis Nowlan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Nowlan, Arthur C. Hurley Homes.

Dennis was playing with a companion near his home at 10:05 p.m. when the other boy made a practice swing with the golf club. The Nowlan boy stepped into the path of the club head and was knocked unconscious.

He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance but was released a short time later.

PLAINVIEW RESIDENTS ILL
PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—George Dickman has been confined to his home for five weeks with a leg infection. Mrs. Elmer Koepsell underwent surgery last Monday at Worrall Hospital, Rochester.

Almost 33 per cent of North Carolina's farms are operated on a technically non-commercial basis on part time or residential units.

Durand, Galesville Youths Elected By State YGOP

LA CROSSE, Wis. — William Ender, Durand, Wis., was named a vice chairman of the Wisconsin Federation of Young Republicans here Sunday.

Erroll Kindschy, Galesville, was elected high school director of the organization.

Leo Martin, Waupaca, was elected chairman over Guy Kieckhefer, Brookfield, by a vote of 399½ to 266 in the final business of a two-day convention.

Saturday night the Young Republicans heard U. S. Sen. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) attack Democratic critics of the Eisenhower administration for destroying the unity that has marked America for the past 175 years.

Martin claimed that a "grass roots poll" conducted in his home state showed that 80 per cent of the voters, regardless of political affiliation, favored the Eisenhower foreign policy.

Others elected to office Sunday were: Patricia Koenig, Thorpe, vice chairman; Marie Boyer, Green Bay, secretary; Charles Sanford, Janesville, treasurer, and James Santulli, Kenosha, college vice chairman.

Francis Sunlight, Appleton, was named national committeeman and Rose Ann Bower, Waukesha, national committeewoman.

Jack Steinhilber, Oshkosh, and Barbara Mulligan, Milwaukee, were chosen delegates to the executive committee of the senior party.

Root Beer Stand Breakin Reported

A breakin at a root beer stand in Goodview has been reported to Sheriff George Fort.

Sheriff Fort found that entry to the stand owned by Leo Borkowski was gained by breaking a rear window, reaching in and opening the latch.

Whoever broke into the building apparently slept there, the sheriff found, but took nothing.

Film Veterans Making Movie Together Again

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—Two film veterans were making a movie together for the first time in 25 years.

No, they weren't two doddering oldsters. One was Jackie Coogan, the celebrated "kid" of silent films and the most successful boy star of film history. The other was Mitzi Green, child star who became a night club performer.

Both have had recent success in TV. Coogan has appeared in "Cowboy G-Men," the much-played Western series. Miss Green performs in the Saturday night show, "So This Is Hollywood."

The pair was making a film for "So This Is Hollywood" at Hal Roach Studios. The script portrayed Coogan as a successful steel executive (he was once in the war surplus business) who visits a studio where he had been a child star. He falls in the mud on his way in. Mitzi, who once co-starred with him, figures he's down on his luck and tries to get him a job.

They did a hilarious scene recalling the silent film days. Afterward they sat down and reminisced about their younger days.

Coogan is 40 and youngish looking despite his bald head. He is now married to his fourth wife, Mitzi is 34, blonde and vivacious, the wife of film director Joe Pevney.

"Boy, we had some times, didn't we?" she said.

"We sure did," he replied. "I guess the last time we worked together was on the Lanny Ross radio show around 1935."

"That's right. We did a scene from 'Huckleberry Finn.' That was the last picture we did together. It was 1931."

Bethlehem, Nazareth, Egypt, Emmaus and Lebanon are all towns of Pennsylvania.

Opening Notes

The father and son combination above, J. O. Reinhard and son Mike, 406 E. 5th St., may not have caught the biggest trout of the opening weekend but few father and son combinations in this area did better.

Biggest of the three browns tipped the scales at four pounds, four ounces. The other two went three and two pounds. Junior revealed that he landed the big fellow on a spinning outfit using a small French spinner. He caught them during the mid-morning period Sunday in Rush Creek.

Warren Seeling, 878 W. Wabasha St., came back from Beaver Creek in Houston County Saturday with a 4-pound, eight-ounce one but did not enter it in the local contests.

Out at Elba in the annual Mauer Tavern contest, the biggest trout of the opening day was entered by Ed Kieger, Elba, and tipped the scales at three pounds, six ounces. The late opening, clear and low water made the big fellows in the Whitestate wary. Few big trout were taken out there over the weekend.

Many limits of beautiful trout 10 to 12 inches were shown by fishermen on both Saturday and Sunday. Trout fishing, despite the water conditions, were good over most of the area. Fly fishing was possible due to the weather with near mid-summer temperatures.

River Reports
A lot of big northern were taken over the weekend, all along this sector of the river. Wind on both days made fishing slow and rather disagreeable. Whitecaps were breaking in all the pools Sunday and Lake Pepin was really rough. In fact, some pleasure boats stayed in the Lake City harbor all day because of rough water. The wind spoiled fishing at the lower end of the lake, one of this area's best walleye spots.

Biggest northern entered at the Hurry Back over the weekend was caught by Donald Halver, 419 Lafayette St. It tipped the scales at 8 pounds, seven ounces to win top in the April contest. Mrs. C. J. Benter, 1077 W. King had the big one for May Sunday which weighed five pounds, 11 ounces. A five-pound walleye, and a three-pound seven-ounce large-mouth were leading in these classes.

Generally speaking, river fishing was slow but this did not keep a record-breaking crowd from an opening weekend away from the river. Actually most good fishing spots along both banks were crowded. We picnicked at Merrick Park Sunday noon and there was a line of bobbers from one end of the park to the other. A big northern was caught only once in a while.

The Buffalo City Slough produced some of the nicest fish of the weekend Sunday. Here both walleyes and northern were hitting. Quite a few large-mouths were caught.

Fishing below the dams was only fair Sunday due probably to the wind and rough water. A lot of the fishermen left early. They probably went trout fishing in the afternoon.

Fillmore County creeks drew a lot of trout fishermen over the weekend. Here creeks which were clear and low had been heavily stocked and most anglers came home with a nice creel of trout.

In all, it was a great fishing weekend and fishing got a great many people outdoors to enjoy our spring weather. It was just grand to be out throwing a bait around.

Rep. Examinations for the 9th District will be held at the federal building (generally the post office) in Eau Claire, Hudson and Rice. Applicants must be not less than 17 or more than 22 years of age July 1, 1956—the date of class entrance to the academies. Applicants must be legal residents of the district and unmarried. Candidates should notify Rep. Johnson of their desire to take the Civil Service Commission examination before May 28. Candidates should also write where they desire to take the examination. Congressman Johnson's address is: Room 340, Old House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Upon request, special arrangements may be made for eligible applicants (such as those in the military service, college or university students) to take the examination at or near their present station or temporary place of residence. The appointments, Johnson said, will be for the classes of 1956. He revealed that he is permitted to make two appointments to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., and two to the Military Academy, West Point, N. Y. Johnson stated that he had not been informed on how many nominations are allowed to the newly established Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo. Appointments to this academy are made on a different basis than those for the Naval and Military academies.

Ambassadors of 4 Powers Open Austrian Talks

By RICHARD O'REAGAN
VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union begin secret meetings today in an effort to reach final agreement on the long-delayed Austrian independence treaty.

They will bring the 30,000 words of the draft pact up to date so that their four foreign ministers can sign it at a later meeting here.

After 10 years of deadlock, the Russians have said they now want to end the occupation of Austria. The ambassadors' talks will show whether the Soviets mean it. Most Western diplomats here believe this time they may.

If the ambassadors agree and the foreign ministers approve, the 44,000 Russian and 25,000 Western occupation troops will have to leave the country within 90 days after ratification of the pact. This could come by fall.

The ambassadors' meeting also was watched closely as an indication of prospects for further Big Four conferences on East-West differences.

Austria's government has said that once free she will remain militarily neutral. Although her government is strongly pro-Western neither Russia nor the West would be able to use her strategic crossroads or her Alpine strongholds.

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., as the senior Big Four diplomat in Vienna, was the chairman for the first session of the talks.

6 Wildlife Tours Set for Pupils in Houston County

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Houston County pupils in grades five to eight will take part in six wildlife tours May 11-13, according to Miss Gladys Lapham, county superintendent of schools.

Tours will begin with a pocket gopher poisoning demonstration to be held on a farm. Following will be a meeting at the school where a talk will be given concerning wildlife, and a movie will be shown.

School, location of demonstration and time are:
May 11—Hokah, 9:30 a.m., William Schaeffer farm; Houston, 1:30 p.m., Lloyd Vix farm;
May 12—Caledonia, 9:30 a.m., George Bissen farm; Spring Grove, 1:30 p.m., Adolph Muller farm;
May 13—La Crescent, 9:30 a.m., Donald Faye farm; Brownsville, 1:30 p.m., Dr. Alf Gunderson farm.

Youth Gang Member Held For Killing Boy

NEW YORK (AP)—A smiling, cynical youth gang member was held today in the slaying of a 15-year-old model boy whom he mistook for a member of a rival gang.

Frank (Tarzan) Santana, 17, was charged with homicide in the death of William Blankenship Jr., an honor student and high school football star.

The killing broke the slain boy's father, a civic leader and fighter against juvenile crime.

Said William Blankenship Sr., a research chemist:

"We're going to take the boy to Pennsylvania—where he was born in the blue Poconos—and we're going to put him into clean dirt."

"Then we're going to leave this city. We're whipped. We've been caught and crushed."

A group of teen-aged girls cheered Santana as he was taken to a police station yesterday for fingerprinting and photographing.

"I love you, Tarzan," shouted one of the girls.

Santana laughed and triumphantly shook his handcuffs.

Police said young Blankenship was cut down by a bullet from a foreign-made automatic fired by Santana Saturday night in the Bronx. Blankenship was on his way to the movies with a friend.

Mall did.

New-Traffic Laws To Reduce Accidents

The 1955 Legislature made one of the greatest records of any law making session in many years in the number and scope of the measures it enacted aimed at reducing Minnesota's toll of traffic accidents. This was the opinion expressed by traffic safety leaders. Among the most outstanding accident prevention measures cited were:

(1) Establishment of the previous 60 m.p.h. prima facie speed limits (and such other limits as may be posted) as absolute limits. This also makes it practicable for traffic enforcement authorities throughout the entire state to use radar for speed detection.

(2) Authorization for the addition of 29 more patrol officers and ten supervisory officers in the State Highway Patrol, bringing the patrol's total force up to 255; also giving highway patrol officers broader powers of arrest.

(3) Authorizing the courts to impound the motor vehicle license plates and registration cards of any person driving after suspension or revocation of his driver's license, or of any car owner who knowingly loans his car to an unauthorized driver. (Minnesota first state in union to adopt.)

In addition to these three provisions which many traffic and safety authorities regard as the most important, the Legislature also enacted many other measures in compliance with the recommendation of the Minnesota Safety Council and the Governor's Traffic Safety Conference held on January 26. These included:

Clarified the state law with regard to yielding right of way by providing that when two vehicles approach an uncontrolled intersection at approximately the same time, the vehicle approaching from the left shall yield right of way, but further providing that any vehicle traveling at unlawful speed shall forfeit any right-of-way rights which it might otherwise have possessed.

Authorized use in court of voluntary chemical tests as evidence in drunken driving arrest cases.

Provided for use in the future of reflectorized motor vehicle license plates readable at night from a distance of at least 100 feet.

Authorized establishment of a system for official compulsory periodic inspection of motor vehicles.

Required trucks with high rear ends to be equipped with bumpers after Jan. 1, 1959, to prevent passenger cars from sliding underneath.

One Clock Covered But State Clocks Unchanged

While the legislative clocks in Minnesota remained covered during a stretched out session of the lawmakers, a bill to legalize daylight saving time in Minnesota was lost in the shuffle. Even though the legislators themselves could well see the need for more time, they couldn't quite get around to adding an hour of daylight to the usual time schedule during the summer. Oh well, sentiment appears to be pretty well divided over whether the idea is a good one or bad. Farmers generally oppose it; cities are for it. Farmers say if the city folks want more daylight all they have to do is get started an hour earlier, not monkey with the clocks. There seems to be some sense to that argument, too. — Red Wing Republican-Eagle.

Try and Stop Me

Ben Hogan, all-time golfing great, was fooled by fate one day when he tried to give a duffer the thrill of a lifetime. Ben and a friend were playing a practice round. They just had holed out on a short, three par hole. His green partially surrounded by trees and traps. Suddenly, out of nowhere, a ball plopped down and trickled within two inches of the cup. Ben playfully tapped it in, and when a red-faced player came puffing up, Hogan held out his hand and said, "Mister, you're in for the biggest kick you've ever got out of golf. Just look in that cup." The duffer did so, then hollered to a partner still hidden from view:

"Hey, Joe, Whaddya know! I sank it for a seven!"

Dog Would Enjoy New Disney Movie

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK To get into a serious topic for a change, my dog, Joe, will not be admitted to a movie theater, although, from what I see going on in such places, he would behave better than many. And it is too bad, because Joe would enjoy Walt Disney's "Lady and the Tramp," because this is as sweet and fine a melodrama as the limited mind of a human could conceive.

The book was written by Ward Greene, a southerner who moved north and got himself subverted by H. L. Mencken and such medievalists, but who somehow retained a capacity for understanding dogs which is the mark of the gentleman. I do not know much of Walt Disney's ancestry but of all who try to produce amusement on the screen, he is the most humane, avoiding tricks of making humans act like dogs which they cannot do without stooping to the vulgar. Not that dogs are vulgar, but their imitators always seem to be.

"LADY AND THE TRAMP" is a delightful melodrama in which the heroine, Lady, is a sweet young spaniel and the hero a gentleman of confused parentage but of philosophic mien. He is a tramp who finds foraging and pilfering and evading the dog-catcher not only necessary for survival, as he is not hand-fed on kennel rations, but joyous because he does for himself. The tramp is a free enterpriser who takes what he can get where he can get it, according to his own rules of social and moral conduct. Naturally, he is a great fighter, as all must be who make their own way in the world.

He and the lady hook up through the circumstance that some humans prefer cats, which is a subject that we shall leave to those who understand such things. The lady finds herself in the umbrageous situation of being driven from her own hearth and home in which, however, remains the baby.

Now, no matter what humans do to dogs, the dog is everlastingly loyal. That is the only one quality of dogs that man must envy. Only humans foul up their own nests, others of the living world realizing how wicked such things can be. A dog would sooner die than betray his master or mistress or their baby. Humans there are who even betray their country, or turn up their noses at old friends and relatives, or who change their names or sometimes their faces — but a dog is loyal.

And so the great dramatic struggle takes place between love and loyalty. Lady goes back home and is put in the dog-house and is chained up, which only a human can do to a dog. And the tramp is disconsolate but what can one do with a lady?

HOWEVER, THE RAT comes on the scene and imperils the baby, and lady is hysterical because of her great love and loyalty. And the tramp hears her barking and comes to the rescue and a terrific battle ensues in which loyalty conquers and the rat is killed.

Would it were so among humans, who unfortunately, often permit the rat to triumph because there is no sense of loyalty and virtue has been drained away in a service to false gods. The ways of humans are so obscure and are usually so senseless that dogs must have a hard time understanding them, although the tramp does rather well.

We always say of dogs, "If they could only talk." So Walt Disney lets them talk by means that are his alone. And they not only talk but sing. And if anyone ever heard an impenetrable barbershop quartette sing "Home, Sweet Home," he is in for a nostalgic treat when he gets a chance to see "Lady and the Tramp." For here is fine singing of the ancient kind, not the groaning and moaning which the humans like to call music these days.

Nay, these dogs have somehow caught the spirit of "Mid Pleasures and Palaces Though We May Roam." And for anyone who is not a sullen teenager discovering anew what Adam and Eve learned from the serpent — this is grand singing.

So altogether a wonderful time was had by all except the fat lady who loved Siamese cats when American cats would do as well, as everyone knows. Oh! And the rat. He died.

Rhesus Monkey of India Unsung Hero of Salk Saga

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Unsung hero of the Salk saga is the Rhesus monkey of India, a flabby-jowled little fellow with a short tail. A friend of the people who monkey around in medical laboratories, he's helped more than once to crack a tough research problem.

Without the raucous Rhesus, in fact, there might be no Salk vaccine today. Actually it was Harvard's Dr. John F. Enders who in 1951 paved the way for the Salk vaccine's development by discovering that polio virus could be grown in a culture composed chiefly of chopped-up monkey's kidneys. Later it was found that the Indian Rhesus was the most suitable applicant for the honor.

Today, Dr. Enders is little remembered in the midst of all the publicity for Dr. Salk. Nor has anyone proposed an award to the Rhesus for his important role in the conquest of dread polio.

With no home-grown monkeys and an urgent need for the vaccine, we are at the mercy of India for our monkey supply. This almost caused a crisis last month when American animal welfare groups raised an outcry over the treatment the Rhesus was getting from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Sympathizing, India halted shipments, but it resumed them after assuring herself that the National Foundation was acting humanely.

Meanwhile, the animal welfare groups are keeping an eye on things, even to the point of meeting each plane as it wings in from India with its anthropoid passengers aboard.

To inoculate all Americans up to 21 years of age will require about 60,000 monkeys. The going rate is about $30 per monkey. In other words the 60,000 will cost some $1,800,000 — a lot of monkey business in any man's language.

Heretofore the job of procuring monkeys for vaccine production has been done by the National Foundation, which runs a monkey motel at Bluffton, S. C. With accommodations for 6,000 guests.

Now, however, commercial producers of the vaccine will step in to the picture with monkey farms of their own. They hope to speed Salk vaccine production — if no one throws a monkey wrench into the works.

Viet Nam Going Communist

While American politicians and a good part of the public have been worrying about some islands off the coast of China so small they don't show on any map, a sizable chunk of Southeast Asia once described by Eisenhower as vital, is about to go down the Communist drain.

It is southern Viet Nam — the most important part of Indochina left free after the Geneva conference bowed to the Reds and surrendered the north.

This time, Viet Nam is going down the drain not because of Communist invasion but because of bungling, neglect, religious rivalry and Franco-American bickering. All the Communists have to do is sit on the sidelines and applaud our bonehead plays.

Here are inside details of what's happening in this tiny, war-weary country which Eisenhower once described as vital to the free world.

Prime Minister Ngo Dinh Diem of Viet Nam is a strong anti-Communist, an honest leader, a strong Catholic, but he is also anti-French. Opposed to him are not only certain Buddhist sects but the colonial office in Paris — long noted for its old-fashioned policies and for being out of step with the French people.

Opposition to Premier Diem is probably more economic than religious, though the two are combined. For years the Buddhist sects which now oppose him have drawn their chief revenue from the river pirates and the brothels of Saigon,

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — America today is contest-crazy. For every person trying to get rich quick by buying wildcat oil or uranium stock, there must be 10,000 seeking to end all their money problems by winning a big national prize contest.

There are scores of these contests going on all the time, and the prizes are getting so magnificent the sponsors are scratching their heads trying to think up bigger and better ones. So far neither the Statue of Liberty nor the New York Yankee baseball club have been put up as contest prizes, but don't bet they won't be.

Remember the dear dead days when college boys swallowed goldfish and men nosed peanuts up Pike's Peak for pure glory? Not any more. Contests now have to pay off in hard cash.

Fortune By Bxtpst The Horatio Alger hero of yesterday got ahead by hard work. But the hero of the modern contest world is the guy who in a single evening wins a world tour, a furnished home and a life income of $500 a month. He does it by sending in a boxtop on which he has scribbled in 25 words why he likes "Blotto, the new wonder-absorbent breakfast food."

The goal no longer is to strive and succeed. Why save up for a trip to Paris when it is so much easier to win it by breaking the bank, identifying the mystery tune, solving the puzzle, or entering a contest to name a new seductive perfume?

Personally, I entered one of these contests to name a perfume, got nowhere, and now have sworn off being a contestant for life.

(Editor's note: What name did you suggest for the perfume?) (Boyle's note: "Snooty"—and I still can't see why I didn't win.) But the contest mania has become so widespread it is ruining social life in this country. People are so busy filling out box tops they no longer have time to talk.

The craze also has infected the white collar dreamers are so busy filling in boxtops or contest labels they have no time for their regular tasks. I heard of one annoyed employer who put up a sign on his bulletin board: "A prize of $10 will be paid this week to the first employee found working at the job he's being paid to do."

After a week he removed the sign. There had been no takers. The prize was too small.

This grabbing philosophy has divided the land into two new classes—those who sponsor contests, those who enter them.

Since I now am too proud to enter any more contests, I have decided to sponsor one of my own. An exciting contest that demands both skill and dexterity and will add to any entrant's education by improving his understanding of nature.

So I hereby announce it—an international competition to see who will become the first person in history to milk a live lady polar bear.

To the best of my knowledge it has never been tried before but we can't let the Russians beat us to the punch in this, can we?

Rules of the Contest The rules of the contest are simple:

1. The polar bear must be awake and undrugged at the milking hour.

2. All milking efforts must be attempted in an atmosphere of mutual good will—that is, as mutual as the polar bear will allow.

3. Each entrant will assume personal responsibility for all medical expenses entailed, including any claims for damages registered by the polar bear.

4. Entrants will provide their own polar bears.

5. The winner will receive international recognition but no cash prizes — although he will be allowed to retain the milk if he chooses.

Entrants may object that this doesn't sound like much of a contest. But our main purpose here is to put contests back on a sound, commonsense basis of good old-fashioned fun. They have another consolation. They won't have to mail in a box top or write a 25-word essay on "Why I enjoy milking polar bears."

French Seem Unable To Handle Viet Nam

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Bao Dai has become a symbol of the inability of the French to face reality in the 20th century. The determination of the people of Asia to shake off colonialism for independence. The French seem incapable of ending the chaos in South Viet Nam in Indochina, where they have had a succession of disasters. Unless the United States can end it, the Communists seem certain to take over.

The French had bought Indochina as a colony in the 19th century. They were driven out in World War II, which smashed West European colonialism in most of Asia. But they wouldn't look at the clock.

They moved back in after the war. They were too impoverished to defend it from outside attack. They thought they were strong enough to control the natives. They weren't. But they couldn't bring themselves to let go.

The Vietnamese, in the big eastern province of Indochina, demanded freedom. The French promised it, after negotiations. The negotiations collapsed in 1946.

Ho Chi Minh, Moscow-trained, began war on the French with the Vietminh, made up of Vietnamese Communists and nationalists.

The French were too weak to crush the rebels. They did not train Vietnamese armies and officer corps capable of crushing Ho Chi Minh. Such an army, of course, one day might have turned on the French and driven them out.

Nor did they build up any Vietnamese leader who could have been a real head of state and rally points for his people against Communism. Instead, they picked Bao Dai, former emperor of the province of Annam, as chief of state.

He was a French puppet. Since his appointment in 1949, he has lived most of the time in luxury in France while his people were going through the agony of war. He has served as a loud-speaker through which the French could give the Vietnamese orders.

Coast Guard Saves Five Aboard Raft

MONTEREY, Calif. — All five crewmen of the distressed raft Lehi II were rescued from stormy seas early today by the Coast Guard cutter Active, climaxing a second ill-fated attempt to drift to Hawaii.

The raft was abandoned for the time being, but the Coast Guard said it would be placed in tow. The raft's skipper, Devere Baker, of Petaluma, Calif., said earlier in a radio message he was "reluctant to be rescued."

It was Baker's second attempt to drift on the currents to Hawaii. Last year he and his crew were picked up by a banana boat after drifting into a storm about 250 miles south of San Francisco, their starting point.

Last night the Lehi II was reported breaking up in eight-foot seas about 20 miles off the coast of Santa Cruz but in no immediate danger.

Suspected Polio Victim Has Mumps

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — An 8-year-old boy who made news by becoming ill two days after being inoculated with polio vaccine turned out to be a victim of the mumps.

The boy, son of a couple stationed at nearby Mather Air Force Base, was placed in isolation at the Sacramento County Hospital last week as a possible polio case. But City-County Health Officer J. O. Church announced last night the boy has mumps.

Conference on Education Set At TC Tuesday

Reynolds, secretary of the Minnesota committee on teacher supply, will speak on "The Purposes of Education" and "Teacher Recruitment," to be followed by Eugene Sweazey on "Federal Aid to Education."

A discussion period for the audience will follow the talks, during which other topics will be considered to include: "What should our schools accomplish?" "What are our school building needs?" "How can we get enough good teachers and keep them?" "How can we obtain a continuing public interest in education?"

The conference, open to the public, is in charge of Mrs. C. Stanley McMahon.

Requirements for Superintendent of Schools Changed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — What does a school board look for today in a superintendent?

Five men attending a conference of presidents of state associations of school administrators sketched in a panel interview today how requirements have changed over the past quarter century.

First of all, said Henry L. Willett, Richmond, Va., president of the American Assn. of School Administrators, the day is past when a superintendent can concern himself with just "the five Bs"—buildings, bonds, buses, budgets and beans.

"Today," Willett said, "the demand is for people who can work with people, whether they are teachers, his staff or members of the community."

Will Crawford, former head of schools at San Diego, Calif., and now professor of education at the University of California at Los Angeles, said:

"The time is gone when a man might be selected for superintendent because he was a specialist in public building construction perhaps, or for some reason of personal popularity—such as being a successful basketball coach."

"Today's school boards are setting up careful specifications covering such matters as education, experience, character and culture. Business sense is still important but, in addition, most boards want someone who believes thoroughly in public education."

A Connecticut superintendent, George R. Champlin, of Willimantic, added another qualification—a sense of public relations.

"One of our biggest jobs," he said, "is to set up formal and informal means to help people channel their thinking about our schoolrooms. Official machinery often makes this difficult, so we must work more with parent-teacher associations, citizens committees and the like."

In the national election May 26, Anglesey's House of Commons seat will be won by Mr. Hughes. That's certain. But which Hughes?

The Labor party candidate is lawyer Cledwyn Hughes, 38, who holds the seat now. The Conservative party is running schoolmaster Owen H. Hughes, 43, the Liberal party, not to be outdone, has entered newsmen John William Hughes, 45.

Although which Hughes to choose may yet confuse, the voters are not without clues.

Cledwyn is running as "Hughes the law," Owen as "Hughes the school" and John William as "Hughes the news."

Hair and Scalp Consultant Will Demonstrate How to Grow Thicker Hair . . . and Guarantee It!

Demonstration To Be Held Here

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Winona, Minn., Tuesday only, May 3.

These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Winona Hotel on Tuesday only, May 3, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 29.—In an interview here today Robert Shelby, eminent hair and scalp consultant and director of Jarvis, Inc., said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

Guaranteed

"The Jarvis firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Shelby said.

Once a person avails himself to the Jarvis treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee. "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

Hopeless Cases Discouraged

First, the Jarvis consultants are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin or colorless, the Jarvis firm can perform wonders.

Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the conditions of his scalp, and cause of his hair trouble.

Free Examinations

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Jarvis firm in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and a consultant will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Jarvis firm is sending consultants to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

No Cure-All

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny, baldness," Shelby emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Jarvis wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

Hair for Lifetime

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Shelby said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

How's Your Hair

If it worries you call Robert Shelby at the Winona Hotel in Winona, Minn., on Tuesday only, May 3, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited.

You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Both men and women are welcome.

'April in Paris' Prom Background For 240 Students

A Paris background of shops, cafe and night time setting transformed the Winona Senior High School gymnasium for the annual Junior-Senior Prom at the school Friday evening.

Refreshments were served in a French cafe where the awning in red and white repeated the colors of the checked table cloths. A low "stone" wall surrounded the orchestra and a painted night scene of Paris was in back of the musicians. Dark and light blue paper interwoven made a dropped ceiling studded with stars.

Gay French posters, street lights and benches added to the outdoor atmosphere.

A floor show during intermission included a record pantomime by Thomas Chandler and Robert Bergsrud and a vocal solo by Deanne Harter.

Chaperones were the Messrs. and Mrs. Harris Ellis, Arnold Haske, Frank Tuttle, Wilton Berger, Douglas Robinson, Noel Olson, Davis Christensen, Ralph J. Williams and Carol Syversen.

Senate Debating Ike's Foreign Trade Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate opens debate today on one of the hardest-fought issues of the 1955 session—President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill.

Advance indications, however, were that the Senate Finance Committee's reworking of the measure had taken much of the fire out of the fight.

Leaders on both sides predicted it will be passed just about as it came from committee. No votes are expected before midweek.

However, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said there was a good chance to finish with the bill this week and get it into conference with the House.

The Senate committee retained the key authority sought by Eisenhower and contained in the bill which the House passed Feb. 18. This would extend the 21-year-old reciprocal trade agreements law three years to June 30, 1958, and give the President additional power to cut tariffs by 5 per cent in each of the three years.

The President has described the measure as vital to the economies of the free world nations.

Incomes of Top Corporations Up Over 1954

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, N.Y.—There was gold in the corporate tills the first three months of the year.

The first 484 corporations to report their net profit after taxes in the first quarter of 1955 show today that their combined earnings topped their net income of a year ago by 27.2 per cent. Four out of five show an increase in profits over last year.

Stockholders are sharing part of the gain. Cash dividends paid during the period by all corporations issuing public reports approached 2 1/2 billion dollars, 6 per cent more than in the first three months of 1954.

Not every shareholder gained. Some corporations skipped or lowered dividend payments.

The striking gain in profits over the 1954 first quarter would be misleading, however, if you didn't remember that a year ago many business firms and some industries were in the midst of a slump.

Railroads are an example. Of the 35 reporting so far, all but 6 are doing much better this year. And last year 6 of the 35 were using red ink. A big gain in freight volume, plus some paring of costs, pushed the combined earnings of the 35 77 per cent above a year ago.

The 33 steel companies in the list show a 70 per cent profit gain over a year ago, reflecting the general industrial recovery. The 45 mining and metalworking companies show a combined gain of 54 per cent.

Of the 484 corporations, 98 made less this year than last. There were 17 companies reporting a loss, against 33 a year ago.

Eau Claire County Board to Decide Officer's Status

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (P)—The Eau Claire County board will decide whether to discharge or reinstate county traffic officer Orville Larson, 49, of Altoona, to the police force.

Larson was suspended indefinitely Friday and fined $150 after he pleaded guilty in County Court to throwing paint remover on the automobile of a man with whom he had been unfriendly. A six-month jail term was stayed and Larson was placed on probation for one year with orders to make restitution to the car owner.

The liquid splashed over a parked automobile owned by Donald J. Schmidt, of Altoona. Damage was estimated at more than $100.

Schmidt notified police and suggested they question Larson. A detective discovered paint remover traces on the squad car used by Larson. In a written statement to the sheriff, Larson admitted throwing the paint remover and alleged that Schmidt had threatened him on several occasions.

TODAY'S column seems to be of a tropical flavor. Last week from New York came word of a real safari of the Bob Schuler family when they left their fabulous penthouse and moved to a house on the seashore in Bermuda which they will have for the summer. The family went by boat rather than plane because they just plain took up too much room.

Bob, who is a TV producer, took with him trunksful of scripts and material to work on over the summer. Pat of course is a Metropolitan opera and concert star and will work hard on her roles for the next season, even having her accompanist fly down to work with her. Then there was two-year-old Heidi with all her treasures, and Millie, her West Indian nurse who has been with the Schulers since before Heidi was born.

The other members of the family who went along were Dandy and Despinia, the handsome white English bulldogs the Schulers brought back from London, and their new litter of three puppies. Also two parakeets. Oh yes—and Pat and Bob's bicycles.

Well, the Schulers are far stronger and more resolute persons than I am if they get any work done with a baby, five dogs, two birds, two bicycles and a beach to distract them.

The editor of the weekly paper of the little island of Kauai, most remote of the Hawaiian island group, sends me his paper and I never fail to read and enjoy it. For though it usually consists of 24 pages all the news is restricted to island doings. Its pages are never sullied with Formosa crisis, United Nations wrangle, U.S. Senate battles, German crisis, British impasse. In fact it excludes all the big blustering world except only one—enchanting little Kauai.

Banner headlines in a recent issue proclaimed the big news of the week to be the theft of a fishing boat by a drunken native. Another week the big headline story told how two explorers of Mt. Waialeale in the center of the island got lost in a swamp for two days.

In my most recent copy I was fascinated to read of the orchid-aceous wedding of Miss Sau Kem Apana and Tatsuo Nakamura at the First Hawaiian Church with Rev. Moses Imai.

Here we are, in May with Memorial Day coming up, and this is a good time to print a comment or suggestion recently sent me by a Goodview woman. "Don't you notice how neglectful we are in displaying our flag on national holidays? We always display our flag on holidays, but you can ride around and observe on any national holiday that the homes that display a flag are few. Only on banks, federal buildings and in the downtown business section do we see flags. We are all so proud of our country and of being Americans. Why don't we display our flag when the occasion arises? We are so very exact in decorating for parties in our homes but fail to display our flag on proper occasions. Can't you bring this up in your column?"

Scottish Crusade Biggest in History, Says Billy Graham

GLASGOW, Scotland (P)—Billy Graham said his six-week Scottish crusade was the largest evangelistic event in history. Television and telephonic hookups swelled his total audience to 2,547,365, he reported last night.

Graham wound up his nightly meetings Saturday with a mammoth gathering of more than 100,000 persons at Hampden Park Stadium.

The American evangelist told a news conference that 52,253 persons made "decisions for Christ" during the campaign.

The response to Graham this year exceeded that during a 12-week revival he held in London last year. Audiences which heard him then directly or by relay totaled 2,047,330, and there were 38,447 decisions.

Graham will preach in London's giant Wembley Stadium May 14-23. He also will conduct evangelistic meetings during the summer in a number of cities on the European continent.

Relations With Japs Strained

By JOSEPH ALSOP

TOKYO.—On the surface, America's relations with Japan seem to be as satisfactory as ever. But look beneath the surface a little. You quickly find all sorts of signs that President Eisenhower was being a bit premature when he officially described Japan as "the bastion of American defense in the Pacific."

A national mood is always hard to detect correctly, and even harder to define without exaggeration. But a great many scores of conversations with leading Japanese have convinced this reporter that the Japanese mood now quite seriously jeopardizes the vital link between Japan and America.

It is a mood of impatience, irritation, doubt, and even rising anger with the United States. These emotions are controlled and repressed for the present, to be sure, by highly practical considerations. But remove the repression by changing Japan's practical situation. The emotions that are now quite largely bottled up may then burst forth with quite astonishing force.

Thus far, the American policy makers have succeeded in blandly ignoring this Japanese mood. They have not been shaken out of their politically convenient complacency about Japan because the outwardly pro-American and anti-Communist Japanese conservative parties still possess a substantial majority. But even in the case of the Japanese conservatives, if you look beneath the surface what you discover is disturbing.

Rival Factions
The two conservative parties, the Liberals and Democrats, still have the majority because they have more money, more political organization and more political experience. But they are not only split into rival groups which are in turn riddled by internal faction and intrigue. They also lack the confident leadership and the bold, clear programs that are so desperately needed by this nation looking for a new direction.

Moreover, while their anti-Communism is sincere enough, the American policy of Japanese conservatism is strictly a matter of expediency. The big businessmen who dominate the conservative parties think that as yet Japan cannot survive economically without the link to America. Hence the Japanese conservative politicians are officially pro-American. But it is very clear their hearts are not in it. For example, the conservative strong man, Finance Minister Hishida Ichimada, would not doubt formally deny any anti-Americanism. But one cannot resist the suspicion that if circumstances permitted, Ichimada would like nothing better than to tell America to go to hell and launch into an aggressively independent policy. As for the two socialist parties of the Japanese left, they are still a political minority. But the trades unions are now giving the socialists both the funds and the political organization in the big towns that they need so badly to compete with the conservatives. The young people are all socialists, and mostly left-wing socialists. And while both socialist parties are strongly anti-American, the left-wing socialists are also strongly pro-Soviet.

The Japanese socialist suffer, perhaps even more than the conservatives, from a shortage of leaders and a lack of practical programs. But in this nation which has not yet found itself since the war, the political left can quite conceivably win one day if the trend of world events continues to discredit the American alliance. In any case, one must face the fact that the American alliance is not something the Japanese of any party like, but rather something the majority still submit to because they think they must.

There are two reasons why a majority of Japanese still hold this opinion. The first is plain hard cash.

Balance of Trade
By far the largest item in the Japanese balance of trade is the annual exchange of more than $800,000,000 with the United States. The exchange is uneven since we import less than half the value in goods from Japan that Japan takes from us. For the present the margin is covered by American military expenditures here. For the present, therefore, money is the chief motive of the staunch insisence of the Japanese big businessmen on the American alliance.

But no one knows what the future business attitude may be, when and if the Eisenhower-Wilson-Humphrey disarmament program great by cuts out military spending here, and Japan can no longer pay for American imports with American dollars.

As to the second Japanese motive for reluctantly holding to the American alliance, it is just as crudely practical as the first.

Everyone likes to be with the winner. Asians like it more than most people, and the Japanese are Asians. Almost 10 years later, the aftertaste of America's victory in 1945 is still strong in Japan. Thus far, the great majority of Japanese find it hard to believe that America will not be the final victor in any world showdown.

This confidence born of experience that America is a winner was the real explanation of the Japanese indifference to our early defeats in the Korean War. What should have caused a panic in Tokyo did not cause a ripple. But confidence is always a fragile thing. The Japanese are becoming more and more aware of the Asian crisis. And if the great crisis in Asia produces a series of shattering defeats for the free world, as seems only too likely, a complete recalculation of Japanese politics will have to be made.

This is the real heart of the matter. It is foolish to provoke needless resentments among allies, as we have done with the Japanese. But it is absolutely fatal to forget the rule laid down some eighteen centuries ago by the great Tacitus, "let them detest us so long as they respect us." The consequences that have to be anticipated if developments in Asia undermine Japan's respect for the United States are so serious, that they need analysis in a further report.

State Announces Gas Tax Split For Winona Co.

Winona County has been allotted about 8 per cent more state gas tax money for 1955 than it was given for 1954, County Auditor Richard Schoonover announced today.

A letter from the State Board of Allotments reveals that the county's 1955 share has been set at $214,969, said Schoonover.

Present law calls for distribution of gas tax monies on the following basis: The state of Minnesota automatically keeps two-thirds of the take in its own coffers. The remaining one-third is divided in varying percentages among the state's 37 counties.

(Minnesota voters will be asked to vote on a referendum to the constitution next year, which, if passed, would distribute the gas tax money and state license fee monies on the following basis: 62 per cent for the state, 29 per cent divided among the counties and 9 per cent divided among large cities. This change would in reality bring a share of 38 per cent of gas and license money back to Winona County—as opposed to a share of 33 per cent now.)

State Air Road Pay
In addition to the gas tax money allotment (deposited in county aid roads fund), said Schoonover, Winona County will receive an allotment for state aid roads in 1955 amounting to $16,640.

And in addition to these regular grants, the county has been informed that it will receive a special allotment of $9,000 for the purpose of matching federal aid secondary funds for the construction of SAR 18 south and east of St. Charles.

County Highway Engineer Gordon Fay and the county board previously had requested State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann to allot $20,000 for that project.

In slashing the request, the state board said, "In view of the many requests for special allotments, as compared with the amount available for that purpose, the board was unable to give the full amount requested on SAR 18."

Serving on the allotment board are: Hoffmann, State Auditor; Stafford King and State Treasurer Arthur Hansen.

Payment in 1955

In 1954, Winona County was given $199,531 in gas tax money—$15,438 less than this year. The state aid roads grant is the same as in '54.

All of the 1955 gas tax allotment, however, will not be received into county coffers during 1955, because of the July 1 opening of the state's fiscal year.

The last half of the 1954 allotment will be received here about August 1 and the first half of the 1955 allotment will not be received until Feb. 1, 1956.

New Homes, Old Ones Add to Whitehall Growth

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Nearly 100 new modern homes have been built in Whitehall the past 10 years as the residential sections have extended into the Briggs and Garaghan additions on the east and south and the Sunset and West Dewey street additions to the south and west.

But at the same time some of the older homes have been transformed also. Among these is one of the largest in the city, the former O. P. Larson residence at the south end of Main street.

In April 1954 this 13-room house was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jacobson from the Mrs. J. C. Gaveney estate. They proceeded to modernize the kitchen and redecorate the interior, preserving the fine old oak doors, woodwork and floors in the natural state in which they had been kept since the house was built by the late O. P. Larson before the turn of the century.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson repainted the exterior a pretty shade of yellow—it had originally been white and the Gaveney's had painted it gray.

Otherwise the Jacobsons left the exterior pretty much the same except for adding an attached garage to the rear.

They have completed repapering the four large living rooms and dining room down stairs, the spacious hall and stair well, and most of the large bedrooms upstairs.

The five spacious rooms in the full basement. They have three children—Fred, Robert and Susan.

For a period, up to the 1930s, the structure was a nurses' home for Whitehall Community Hospital.

Texas Families Test Various Air Conditioners

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Keep your shirt on if you want to keep your house cool economically. Everybody seems to agree that air conditioning is wonderful. But few people realize that one of the industry is now being completed with 22 families as guinea pigs to demonstrate the virtues, faults, economy and luxury of air conditioning.

This test means a lot to all home owners who do not have year-round central air conditioning. It is a good stunt being put on in an air conditioned village at Austin, Tex. Different air conditioning plants were installed in each of the 22 houses, which were built and by Austin builders for about $15,000 each.

The buyers agreed to play ball by keeping books on costs and meters on how they liked air conditioning. The houses represent a wide variety: Frame and masonry as well as combinations of the two; two bathrooms in 18 homes and 1 1/2 baths in four; double carports or two-car garages. In many of the houses thermostatically controlled exhaust fans were installed in the attic to suck out hot air and ease the load on the air conditioning equipment.

14 Are Happy
So far the upshot has been that all but one of the owners are satisfied with air conditioned comforts: 14 are happy with the humidity maintained, but operation costs are running higher than anticipated.

Well, it's hot as Texas in Austin and summer cooling is as important in this region as comfortable winter heating in Duluth or Bangor. But when the first reports on the Austin research were announced at the January convention in Chicago of the National Association of Home Builders, sponsors of the project, the surprise was that everyone could keep their tempers so well air conditioned. Builders blamed the air conditioning manufacturers and the manufacturers blamed the architects.

Events have now reached a point where Business Week, commenting on the experiment under a headline "Air Conditioned Homes Getting Closer, But..." concludes that such homes "are within the reach of persons of moderate means, but installation charges must be reduced and service facilities improved."

Obviously, everybody is going to benefit from the Austin test, but the growing pains are interesting. The guinea pig families report in surveys that they sleep better, eat better, eat heavier foods, cook more, bake more, enjoy better health, children are happier and play indoors more; less sinus trouble; less dirt and dust in the house; family dispositions better; entertain more; stay home more; fewer picnics and movies; do more household work; serve more warm drinks.

However, the goal of $100 per year for operation seems to have been lost with a yearly cost approaching $120. This is based on Austin's rates of $1.62 per kilowatt hour for electricity, 15 cents per 1,000 gallons for water and 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for gas.

Noise a Complaint
Noise from equipment was one of the complaints. "The builder can solve the noise problem in advance," one study concluded. "The cost of sound-deadening a closet varies from $20 to $45."

But one of the most interesting criticisms is leveled at the architects. "It is not good judgment," this report said, "to take any convenient house plan that happens to fit the lot physically and proceed with construction. Badly oriented windows provide the single largest source of heat gain."

As much as one ton in capacity of cooling equipment can be saved by a slight shift in orienting a house so that a large window area will be sheltered from direct sunlight.

TOMATOES TWO WEEKS EARLIER

THERE is something fascinating about the first blush of ripening tomatoes to the home gardener who has been waiting very eagerly for this event. Like the early spring flowers, it gives him a decided lift.

And, now, with careful attention to planting and growth, the early ripening can be hastened by at least two weeks. Spraying the first blossoms with a fruit-setting hormone spray will do the business. You can get such a spray at your seed store.

Start with stocky plants of an early maturing variety and set them out as soon as settled warm weather has arrived. If you want to gain a little advantage on the weather, they can be planted a little earlier and protected with "Hotkaps," if frost seems to be likely.

Plant each one in a hole in which a handful of a complete fertilizer, or bonemeal, or a shovelful of well-rotted manure, has been mixed with soil. Set the plants deep as extra roots will develop on that portion of the stem below the surface of the ground. Water each plant thoroughly. If they are to be trained to stakes, they can be spaced about two feet apart, otherwise about three feet. In the small garden staking can be done to save space instead of having the plants sprawl over the ground.

Next, take a strip of paper about three inches wide and make two or three turns with it around the stem of each plant so that one-half of the paper collar extends below and the other half above the surface of the ground. This will prevent cutworms from destroying the plants.

In about a month after planting make a shallow furrow around each plant about six inches away from the stem and scatter a handful of a complete fertilizer in it working it lightly into the soil with the corner of a hoe. Soak well with water and then pull a little soil over the fertilized area. A liquid plant food can be used instead of dry fertilizer, if desired. Then, to help hold moisture in the ground, spread a mulch of leaves, or grass clippings around and between the plants. The soil should not be too rich in manure, or nitrogen, since overgrowth of vine and fewer tomatoes may result. A fertilizer high in phosphate and potash, and low in nitrogen, will produce sturdy plants and a high quality of tomatoes.

The first blossom cluster that appears on the plant is the one that produces the earliest tomatoes. When the weather is cool, many, or all, of the first blossoms will drop off and the earliest crop will be lost. Here is where the fruit-setting hormone comes in. This spray causes the blossoms to stay on and produce fruit which ripens much earlier.

Mix the spray according to the directions on the container and use in a small clean sprayer in which no weed killer has even been used. It is best to keep a small sprayer for this purpose only. When the first blossom clusters appear spray them lightly with the solution. It is sufficient to have the spray just touch the blossoms.

The sprayed plants produce earlier, larger, meatier tomatoes with fewer seeds, sometimes practically seedless. Spray at intervals of five or six days as other blossom clusters appear for tomatoes that are nearly seedless. The foliage may curl a little, but do not be alarmed at this, if the sprayer is clean.

Try a hormone spray on your tomatoes this season. If you hesitate to use it on all of your plants, spray a few of them and convince yourself of the beneficial results.

Sawdust From O'BRIEN'S

First of all, let's take up a very important matter. The "Lumber Number" has been changed. It is now 3303. Put that some place so that you will have it when you need it. Remember 3303 for the O'Brien Lumber Co.

There are some "Sore Thumb" enthusiasts that you couldn't sell a cheap tool to if your life depended on it. All their equipment is expensive and right up to snuff. Why? Well, they'll tell you: "I don't want to take any chances on getting hurt. Take my time and do it right with the right tools." Yet, these same people will still use an old ladder that they've had for years. Climb all over the house on an old dilapidated thing that should have been burned up last winter. I've seen fellers climb up on a ladder that by golly I don't think a steeplejack would go up over the first rung. And that's why we handle the Heider ladder. This is a ladder that is built to last. Heider has been making ladders for over 50 years and they make all types, and all sizes. Heider combines Spruce lumber for lightness and durability, with reinforcing steel to construct a ladder that will last through any amount of hard use. Take the Heider step ladder for instance. This ladder is made with a 1/4" galvanized steel rod under every step. The steps themselves are mortised in the side rails for added strength. On the very bottom step it has another added strengthener, steel angle braces riveted to the step and to the sides. The top shelf is not made like you see most ladders. Most ladders have a piece of lumber set on top with a couple of pieces of metal at right angles under the edges to hold it on to the side rails. Heider makes their ladder with a steel cap that not only goes under the top shelf but also around and over so as to finish off and give it more strength from top to bottom. This is the Heider ladder.

Quality, durability, lightness, and made to meet the American Standard Safety Code specifications. Heider makes all types of ladders, Step, Straight ladders, Combination Straight and Step ladders, this a handy thing, sort of a two-in-one ladder, and then Extension ladders. All these types are made with the same fine workmanship. All we ask is that before you buy a ladder you compare Heider ladders with others and see whether you don't agree that Heider makes the best. Why take chances, get the best.

Don't forget to look at our trellises the next time you're in the neighborhood. We have a dandy selection to choose from.

Once again we want to tell you about the change in the "Lumber Number." To call O'Brien's just dial 3303 and we'll be on the other end just like that. You'll still get us by dialing the old number of course, but to save time dial the new one 3303.

Climbs to 18;
Cost $142,200

A boom in new home construction here has pushed 1955 figures well ahead of those a year ago as permits issued at the city engineer's office last week equaled the figure for the entire first four months of 1954.

The seven permits issued last week brought the year's total to 18, with a total estimated cost of construction of $142,200.

It helped boost total permit valuation for all categories to $624,428 this year, more than 2½ times the figure at this time last year.

During April, 16 new home permits were issued. Peak month during 1954 was May when 12 permits for new home construction were issued.

Commercial Projects
Permits last week totaled $61,250 and in addition to the home permits, two large commercial projects were included.

The Pure Oil Co. 178 Johnson St., received a permit to construct a 23-by-43-foot warehouse at the corner of Broadway and Bridge street. Arnold Berggren is the contractor for the project that will also include a pump house and footings and foundations for four tanks to be moved from Lake boulevard.

The Badger Machine Co. drew a $2,000 permit to raise the roof of a storage building at 4th and Villa streets 8 inches. Cost of the project, according to the permit, will be about $2,000.

The new home permits were issued to:

• The Winona Real Estate Agency, 213 Center St., for two homes, one of them a $10,000 home at 456 Glen-View Ct. The house will measure 32 by 24 feet with an attached 14-by-20-foot garage. The other home, costing about $8,000, will be built at 455 Glen-View Ct. The 26-by-40-foot building will have an attached 12-by-20-foot garage.

• Robert Schulz, 562 E. Broadway, a 46-by-30-foot home and attached garage at 466 Junction St., at a cost of about $8,000.

• L. J. Casper, 112 Laird St., a 24-by-40-foot home at 262 E. Mark St., for $8,000.

• Fred Elrich, 218 Washington St., a 26-by-40-foot home and separate 18-by-20-foot garage at 1203 W. Mark St. The 1-story building and garage will cost about $6,500.

• Richard Styba, 763 E. Howard St., a 32-by-40-foot home and attached garage at 620 E. Bellevue St., for $6,000.

Additional Permits
J. A. Wenzel, 273 E. 3rd St., will dismantle a shed and construct a 16-by-22-foot home at 169 Wall St. at a cost of $1,200.

Several permits were issued for porch projects. There were to J. B. Sichter, 415 W. Wabasha St., to construct a 14-by-20-foot porch for $350; Theodore J. Hengel, 623 E. King St., to enlarge a porch for $300 and to Joseph Staron, 878 E. Sanborn St., to close in a porch at an estimated cost of $50.

Two new garages will be constructed by Ray H. Brown, 525 Villa St., and Doerer's, 1078 W. 5th St. Brown's 16-by-22-foot garage will cost about $200 while a similar cost was estimated for the 13-by-30-foot garage. Doerer's will build at 1104 W. 5th St.

A permit was issued to the Stirmann Selover Co., 162 Main St., to construct a 12-by-20-foot carport at 378 Johnson St. P. Earl Schwab is the contractor.

Other permits were issued to John Bonner, 977½ Gilmore Ave., to put a 15-by-14-foot basement under his house for $150, and to Walter Neumann, 121 E. 2nd St., $75, to make the foundation of a 20-by-30-foot building south of the Lake Winona outlet ditch 3 feet higher.

Moving Projects
Floyd Olson is the contractor for two moving projects, according to permits, both at an estimated cost of $125. Sylvester Cieminski, 876 E. 4th St., drew a permit to move a 12-by-20-foot garage from 465 Glen-View Ct. to 876 E. 4th St., and Lloyd Brabbit Jr., Winona Rt. 3, received a permit to move a house from the Sterling Hotel property near the junction of Highways 14 and 61 on the West End to Garvin Heights.

Wrecking permits were issued to C. Paul Venables Inc., to dismantle a 20-by-60-foot building at 75 W. 2nd St., with A. M. Kramer as contractor, and Leonard Palubicki, 309 Chatfield St., drew a permit to dismantle a shed.

Furnace installation permits went to: John Michalowski, 1026 E. Sanborn St.; Loyde E. Pfeiffer, 1537 Gilmore Ave.; Mary Lorbke, 617 E. 3rd St.; Ed Kukowski, 609 W. 5th St.; Anna and Marie Bollman, 250 E. Wabasha St., and Gertrude Sobotta, 164 Chestnut St.

Make Do

Glass Circles can be cut with a homemade glass cutter compass. Practical Builder magazine suggests screwing an ordinary glass cutter to the end of a wooden bar. Holes for adjustable radii are bored in the bottom of the bar. A rubber suction cup with a screw imbedded in it forms the pivot.

Redmen Lose Pair, Win 5-3

St. Mary's bid for a third straight Minnesota College Conference baseball title received a serious jolt with a double setback at St. John's Saturday.

JOHN SANDERS Wins College Debut

but a silver lining appeared Sunday when freshman John Sanders pitched and won his first college game, a 5-3 decision over Loras, at Terrace Heights.

Coach Max Molock used Joe Shraake, his ace lefthander, against the co-title defending Johnnies Saturday at Collegeville in the first game but the hosts tagged him with a 3-2 loss and followed up with a 6-4 defeat of the Redmen in the second game.

The double-loss reduced St. Mary's to a 3-3 record in conference play, while St. John's boasts a 4-0 mark.

Shraake's performance against St. John's was one of his typically fine jobs. He gave up seven hits, walked only one batter, struck out 14 and was charged with three earned runs. To date, he has given up four earned runs in 33 innings of conference pitching.

ting one batter. Only two of the six St. John's runs in the second game were earned as three St. Mary's errors helped the Johnnies to a four-run, third inning rally.

After the pair of disheartening losses at St. John's, the performance of Sanders in the Sabbath encounter against Loras was encouraging.

The Cotter High product, a lefty, had a 5-0 shutout going until the ninth inning when Loras scored all of its runs on two errors and three hits.

Sanders gave up seven hits, walked two and hit one batter. In winning his first college start, and against a team that had defeated the Redmen twice before this season, he displayed a good change of pace and a lively fast ball. Twelve of St. Mary's 27 putouts against Loras were made by outfielders.

for the Wednesday game. Saturday at St. John's the Redmen took a 1-0 lead in the first inning on a hit-batman and singles by Shraake and Duane Kuehl. The Johnnies went ahead 2-1 in the third on Marty Rathmanner's single and a homer by Don Carlson.

It remained 2-1 until St. Mary's knotted the count in the eighth on singles by Len Sparracino, Ken Monaco, a walk and another single. The Johnnies clinched the victory in the same inning on a single, stolen base and another single.

Leading hitter for the Redmen was Ken Monaco, two-for-four. The Redmen scored once in the second, once in the fourth and twice in the seventh in the second game as Dick Kuehl batted in three runs on a home, single and sacrifice fly. Shraake, playing in the outfield the second game, also had two hits.

The Redmen committed six errors, season high, in the Loras game, but until the ninth inning they didn't result in Loras runs.

Prexies, Veeps Tie in Tourney At Country Club

Ward Fires 75; Leaf's Eagle Feature Saturday

The "presidents" and "vice presidents" renewed a long-standing rivalry Sunday at Winona Country Club and when the day's golfing event had been completed, the match ended in a 9-9 deadlock.

The tournament, which formally opened the 1955 season at the Pleasant Valley golf course, found the presidents making one of their strongest showings in years.

The tournament was a best-ball, handicap event. Foursomes included two presidents and two vice presidents. Three points were possible in 18-hole matches and one point in nine hole matches.

Medalist for the day was defending Winona city champion Bill Ward, who carded a 75 for the veeps, one stroke lower than W. T. Lemon's 76, who played for the presidents in the same foursome.

Only other player to break 80 Sunday was Jack Leaf, who shot a 75 for the veeps.

Leaf, a traditionally "long off the tee" golfer, provided the weekend highlight at the Country Club Saturday when he eagled the 372-yard No. 1 hole on the second time.

He belted a booming drive and holed out with a wedge shot. "It was pretty windy," Leaf recalled. "I imagine the drive was out about 280 or 300 yards."

Of the wedge shot, he said, "It just ran up to the cup and rolled in, like a little ball should!"

Next event at the Country Club will be the start of stag night golfing Wednesday at 4 p.m.

Results of the tournament Sunday follow. Scores listed are individual cards, best-ball total and points.

P-R-E Leonard 46, and F. R. Simon 47, tied with Ward 46 and Leaf 47, and J. A. Henderson 47-75.

Feller Hurls 1-Hitter

By JOE REICHLER The Associated Press

The American League champion Cleveland Indians were back in first place today and who do you think put them there?

Bob Lemon? No! Early Wynn? No! Mike Garcia? No! None of the fabulous Big Three had anything to do with it.

It was 36-year-old Bob Feller, who wasn't even trusted to pitch in the World Series last fall and 21-year-old Herbie Score, who did not even join the Indians until this spring.

They put two brilliant pitching exhibitions back to back as the Indians twice conquered the Boston Red Sox 2-0 and 2-1 to forge into a half-game AL lead.

Feller, only pitcher since 1900 to turn in three no-hitters, came within eight putouts of getting his fourth as he won his first game of the season and 263rd of his career in the opener. He permitted only one hit—a one-out seventh-inning single by Sammy White. It was his 12th no-hitter.

Score, who was only 4 when Feller set the American League strikeout record of 18, came within two of Bob's mark, striking out 16 in the second game.

Men or Boys? Gophers Face Alumni Test

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota football heroes of yesterday will return to Memorial Stadium on May 14th for a fling against Murray Warmath's varsity in the first alumni game in Gopher history.

The scheme has long been close to Warmath's heart and one which eventually might replace the annual intrasquad spring game. The latter, however, will go off as usual on May 21st.

Against Warmath's none too experienced regulars will be aligned the likes of Clayton Tommemaker, Wayne Robinson, Leo Nollmiller, Bob McNamara, Dave Skrein, Jim Malosky, Dick Munding, Billy Eye and Bud Grant.

The invitation list prepared by Gopher athletic heads goes even further into antiquity. It includes Ray King, an All-America end of the late '20s, and the redoubtable John Mariucci, who cracked heads impartially as a hockey player and footballer a couple of seasons later at Minnesota.

King and Mariucci aren't thinking seriously about iron-man service. But most of the 60 or so who will receive invitations are in pretty fair shape right now.

Macs Surprise St. Thomas, Augs Win Over Gusties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The lead in the Minnesota College Conference baseball race was taken by St. John's University Saturday as the Johnnies chalked up a pair of victories over St. Mary's.

Macalester edged St. Thomas, 11-10, in a 10-inning contest; Augsburg swept a double header from Gustavus Adolphus, 10-8 and 5-4, and St. Olaf conquered Hamline 13-6, in a non-conference game.

St. John's now has a 4-0 record in the conference.

St. Thomas was pushed out of first place when Macalester's Bob Specht, hammered a three-run homer in the bottom of the tenth inning. The Tommies took a 10-8 lead in the top of the tenth.

Several walks helped Augsburg to a 10-8 victory over Gustavus Adolphus in the first game of a conference double bill. And Jim Plumedahl's single in the eighth inning of the nightcap gave Augsburg a 5-4 victory.

Two home runs and a triple by first baseman Ralph Hagberg helped St. Olaf to a defeat over Hamline, 13-6. Pitcher Erv Mikkelson homered and doubled and Gene Hedlund got a homer and a single for St. Olaf. Hamline's Don Rasmussen hit a homer and Don Larsen drove in a run with a triple for Hamline.

Wisconsin Divides Bill With Indiana

In the first tilt the Badgers were trailing 2-1 in the fifth inning when Bill Rubin homered with one man on base.

Indiana's centerfielder, Art Herring, starred in the second tilt with a grand slam homer in the sixth.

Moore, Valdes Winner Seeks Marciano Bout

Aging Archie 2-1 Favorite Against Valdes Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore and Cuba's Nino Valdes, each yearning for a crack at heavyweight ruler Rocky Marciano, clash tonight in a nontitle 15-round bout in Las Vegas, Nev.

Both put up a loud holler when Marciano bypassed them in favor of England's Don Cockell. The two then agreed to battle it out so that the winner could put the pressure on the heavyweight champion for a September title bout.

The 38-year-old Moore, winner of 19 straight fights over a three-year span, is a 2-1 favorite to beat the 30-year-old Cuban, now the No. 1 heavyweight contender, for the second time. Archie, a six-footer outpointed the 6-3 Cuban giant in a St. Louis 10-round, March 11, 1952.

There will be no radio broadcast, or telecast.

Ronnie Delaney, the once-beaten middleweight contender from Akron, is a 4-1 favorite to beat Virgil Atkins of St. Louis in a 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight. A southpaw, Delaney has a 49-1-3 record. Atkins' record is 26-13-1.

Brooklyn's Carmelo Costa, sixth-ranking featherweight contender, is a 4-1 choice over 22-year-old Tony Puleo, another Brooklynite, for their 10-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. Puleo's record is 3-2-2. Costa, 20, has a 25-2-3 record.

ABC will telecast at 8 p.m. CST.

Gophers Share Big 10 Top Rung With Michigan

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan and Minnesota, tied for the Big Ten baseball lead, meet in a doubleheader at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Before the two big games are played, Michigan must play Iowa Friday, and Minnesota is at Michigan State. In other games Friday, Illinois is at Ohio State, Purdue at Indiana and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

Michigan suffered its first loss of the year by splitting a doubleheader with Purdue Saturday and the Gophers gained a share of the lead by taking a pair from Iowa.

Michigan won its fifth straight, 17-0, but Purdue came back to take the nightcap, 5-3. Minnesota beat Iowa, 5-2, and 11-5.

Illinois climbed into contention by taking two games from Michigan State's defending champions, 7-1 and 9-5.

Northwestern and Ohio State split with Northwestern winning the opener, 2-1, and dropping the second game, 3-1.

Wisconsin finally won a conference game by beating Indiana, 4-2, but the Hoosiers came back to take the second game, 4-1.

Michigan and Minnesota each have 5-1 records. Northwestern and Michigan State have 3-3 marks; Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State have 2-2 records; Purdue has two victories in six games; Iowa has one victory and three losses and Wisconsin has lost five of six games.

St. Cloud Team Gains 2nd Place In ABC Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Two unheralded teams which got hot under tournament pressure revised the standings in the American Bowling Congress tournament over the weekend.

The Toledo Spaniol five of St. Cloud, Minn., rolled a 3,081 Saturday night to ease into second place and the Falls City Brewers of Louisville, Ky., took over fourth with a 3,044 Sunday night.

The Louisville five also posted the tournament's high single game so far — 1,094, at which Cliff Boyd contributed 267. Charles Schrader posted a 667 series.

Lou Mehr, after bowling with his St. Cloud team Saturday night, took over ninth place in all events Sunday with 1,915. It was the only change in individual standings for the day.

Current leaders are the Pfeiffer's Beer quintet of Detroit with 3,138; Harry Zoeller and George Pacropolis of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in doubles with 1,365; Eddie Getzine of Milwaukee in singles with 738, and Fred Bujack of Detroit in all events with 1,993.

Mehr added a 555 in singles and 598 in doubles to the 662 he rolled with his team for his all-events count which was 78 pins short of Bujack.

Although Mehr's team score was his best, he was topped in that performance by his teammate, Vic Poganski, who rolled 668. Their team is champion of the All-Star League in St. Paul, Minn.

Braves Peddle Smalley to Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves Saturday sold infielder Roy Smalley to the Philadelphia Phillies for an estimated $25,000 plus a minor league player to be named later. The sale cut the Braves roster to 26, one above the league limit which must be reached by May 12.

Smalley came to the Braves last year from the Chicago Cubs.

Smalley was a .260 hitter in 1954, batting .260 in 135 games. He had 10 home runs and 44 RBIs. He was a .260 hitter in 1953, batting .260 in 135 games. He had 10 home runs and 44 RBIs. He was a .260 hitter in 1952, batting .260 in 135 games. He had 10 home runs and 44 RBIs.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Young Tiger Outfield Unit Second Such Combo Since War

By GAYL TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is difficult to recall another big league club which has had as great luck as the Detroit Tigers in "coming up" with spectacular young outfield units. The one which is causing American League eyes to bug these days is the second such to burst upon the Motor City since the war.

It seems only yesterday, and it actually was only six and seven years ago, that a youthful Tiger outfield trio of Hoot Evers, Vito Wertz and Johnny Groth was the hottest thing in the game. They had hit Briggs Stadium almost together and in no time at all were being fitted for immortality.

In 1950, the second year they played together as a unit, Evers hit .323, Wertz .308 and Groth .306. Largely due to their collective clubbing, the Tigers won 85 games and finished an exciting second, only three games back of the Yankees. There seemed no limit to what heights the trio might eventually carry the club.

But it wasn't to be. The next season Evers' batting average plummeted to .224, that of Wertz to .285. Only Groth stayed close with .299. Within two more years the terrible trio was scattered through the league. You may recall that Wertz did a bit of hitting for Cleveland in the last World Series. Evers is hanging on with Baltimore. Groth with the Chicago White Sox.

And now the Tigers have Al Kaline, Bill Tuttle and J. W. Porter. The latter, just out of the Army, has yet to prove that he is quite in the class with the other two, but hit .323, Wertz .308 and Groth .306. Largely due to their collective clubbing, the Tigers won 85 games

Conley Assigned To Stop Brooklyn

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves take on Brooklyn again tonight at Ebbets Field 6 p.m. (CST) somewhat haunted by the one-run jinx which made itself evident in Sunday's 5-4 loss to the league-leading Dodgers.

In six of the Braves' seven losses this season the margin of defeat was a single run.

Big Gene Conley (2-0) will start for Milwaukee against Carl Erskine (3-0) as the Braves try to gain an even split in their two-game series.

There were some consoling factors even in defeat: Eddie Mathews came through with his first homer of the year, the Braves showed ability to rally even though it was not quite enough, and Henry Aaron, as a fine ball hawk out there in right field.

Foos Get Homers

On the debit side, opponents are finding Milwaukee pitching good for savvy homers and the Braves at times play some sloppy ball.

The decisive blow of the game probably was George Shuba's first hit of the year, a pinch single into short center in the eighth inning.

With two out, Shuba's Texas leaguer dropped in front of the racing Billy Bruton and Gil Hodges scored the winning run.

Bobby Buhl started for Milwaukee but was hit for homers by Duke Snider and Hodges in the first two innings to give Brooklyn a 3-0 lead. Snider's blast atop the right field scoreboard scored Pee Wee Reese, who had doubled. The usually reliable Bobby Thomson came charging in for Reese's liner and then saw it sail over his head.

Mathews Connects

The Braves got back into the game in the third when Mathews, once the home run king of the league, connected for his initial homer of the season to score Aaron ahead of him.

The Dodgers added another run in the seventh after Ernie Johnson had replaced Buhl. Jackie Robinson walked, Carl Furillo hit into a double play, Billy Loes singled, as did Junior Gilliam and Reese walked to fill the bases.

With Snider at the plate, Del Crandall tried to pick off Gilliam at second but threw wild and Loes scored. Johnny Logan's bad throw to the plate allowed the other two runners to advance. Snider walked purposely. The damage in that inning could have been much worse if Aaron hadn't raced to deep right center to drag down Roy Campanella's drive with the bases loaded.

Braves Tie Score

The Braves tied the count in the eighth when Bruton doubled and came home on Aaron's two-bagger. Loes was replaced on the mound by Ed Roebuck. Thomson singled Aaron across to knot the count.

Lew Burdette came in for Johnson in the Brooklyn half of the eighth. Sandy Amoros went down. Hodges singled but Robinson fanned. Then Shuba pinch hit for Roebuck. He lifted a lazy fly that fell back of second to score Hodges. Neither Bruton in centerfield nor Danny O'Connell at second base could catch the decisive fly ball.

Burdette was tagged with the loss and Roebuck got credit for the victory.

The loss gave the Braves a weekend split as they had dumped the Phillies at Philadelphia 4-2 Saturday.

Pleased With Chiefs' Progress Gloomy Forecasts Amuse Scheid

By RALPH REEVE

Daily News Sports Editor

Emil Scheid, the man entrusted to lead the Winona Chiefs out of the Valley of Shadow and into the Promised Land this season, was a man of mixed emotions Sunday.

The shepherd of Winona's 1955 baseball flock was happy over the progress of his disciples, but he displayed a mixture of amusement and scorn over the prophecies of gloom by many of the scribes of the league.

The majority of these scribes, the self-appointed wise men of the league, told your agent at the Hubbell House, Mantoville, on Wednesday last, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, Reeve, the Chiefs will finish sixth or seventh or eighth."

Those words, duly reported, brought the following remarks from Scheid:

"I didn't know all of the sports writers would be so easily led by Bob Balance (Waseca-Owatonna pitcher who predicted the Chiefs would finish sixth)."

"Way Off Base"

Scheid continued, "Now I say unto you, they are way off base. Yea and forsooth, I don't see how any team can beat me out of the first division."

Scheid's flock, eight of them are signed to contracts and a couple on tryout, including Dick Stanton of Lamolite, practiced Saturday afternoon at Jefferson Field and a good workout, 15 strong, was held Sunday.

Scheid was away on business Saturday, but he directed workouts Sunday and some 100 to 150 fans were there to watch the proceedings. Pitching, hitting, infield practice.

Scheid mentioned that he might open the season with "five pitchers—three right-handed and two left-handed—and a utility man, along with nine starters."

The fact that colleagues Smith, Joe Shrake, Tom Petroff, Jerry Kindall and George Gleason won't be available until June doesn't worry Scheid. He sees in the situation a good chance to give fair trial to other players the first several games.

Exhibition Sunday

Winona's first exhibition game is Sunday afternoon at Fairbault, 2:30 p.m., followed by a Tuesday night, May 10, game at Fairmont. Scheid said he'd like to book out-of-town exhibition games on Thursday, May 12 and Saturday, May 14.

Scheid wasn't the only person who disagreed with the uncompromising forecasts handed the Chiefs. The combined opinion of the players at the practice Sunday was, "Phooey!"

Practice. A third baseman who played two years in the Appalachian League, he returned home this spring from Peoria of the Three-Eye League after getting his choice of re-assignment to Johnson City of the Appalachian League or Winipeg of the Northern League.

Cross-Fire

Felker, who moved to town Saturday, impressed Scheid, along with Reinhardt and Jensen, who he said had a "good crossfire."

Don Miller, the second baseman, is due for induction into the Army in June and Scheid figures to open the season with him at second until George Smith, the Michigan Stater, arrives.

Don Miller, the second baseman, is due for induction into the Army in June and Scheid figures to open the season with him at second until George Smith, the Michigan Stater, arrives.

Scheid mentioned that he might open the season with "five pitchers—three right-handed and two left-handed—and a utility man, along with nine starters."

The fact that colleagues Smith, Joe Shrake, Tom Petroff, Jerry Kindall and George Gleason won't be available until June doesn't worry Scheid. He sees in the situation a good chance to give fair trial to other players the first several games.

Exhibition Sunday

Winona's first exhibition game is Sunday afternoon at Fairbault, 2:30 p.m., followed by a Tuesday night, May 10, game at Fairmont. Scheid said he'd like to book out-of-town exhibition games on Thursday, May 12 and Saturday, May 14.

Scheid wasn't the only person who disagreed with the uncompromising forecasts handed the Chiefs. The combined opinion of the players

Market Irregular, Trend Is Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market performed in a sluggish and irregular manner today with a slightly higher trend apparent in the late afternoon.

Some stocks moved widely with gains running to 5 points and losses to 4 points, but changes for the most part were well covered by a range of 2 points.

Trading was estimated at a moderate 2,300,000 shares. That compares with 2,230,000 shares traded Friday when the market was higher.

Almost all major divisions displayed a wide mixture of gains and losses.

Zenith Radio, which has been presenting its pay-as-you-see television plans with vigor in recent weeks, was up around 6 points at times in light trading. Lily Tulip Cup dropped 4 points on a handful of shares traded.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

In his famous book, "The Return to Religion," H. Link argues that the basis of all sex happiness is good manners—and good manners are the outward expression of tolerance, unselfishness, ability to get along with others, sweetness of disposition, gentleness, refinement—in short, personality and character. Without these, no amount of sex education will do much good or insure marital happiness.

Answer to Question No. 2

Psychologist Weisgerber defines perseveration as a "tendency for ideas, words, sensations, emotions, etc. to return to, and persist in your mind." If you have an annoying tune running through your head or keep repeating angry thoughts about an enemy, you're a conscientious perseverator. Dr. W. finds that the tendency persists, it indicates you are somewhat introverted, neurotic, and lacking in self-confidence.

Answer to Question No. 3

Dr. Edmund Jacobson's many experiments show that people who take daily rests gain little or no rest unless they have taken systematic training in relaxation. Many tense, restless people do not relax their muscles even when asleep. Relax all your muscles, and you can't help sleeping. This takes training. Our nonprofit booklet, "How To Relax," contains Dr. Jacobson's course in relaxation—15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggum, in care of The Winona Daily News.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

In "affaire Russian editors," let me say that the American visit by refusing to be fingerprinted, I wonder if we too didn't miss one by getting our feet caught in that inevitable red tape?

Mid-April was to have seen a delegation of Soviet editors embarking on a month's safari through the jungle of "capitalistic" sight-seeing and study. Having requested this trip themselves, 11 Soviet scribes packed their bags and headed for the point of departure.

And what happens? Confronted by our regulations requiring fingerprinting, the editors rebelled. "Treatment befitting criminals," they said. "American editors were not subjected to such debasing procedure on their visit to Moscow. Why should we be humiliated in such manner?"

For once, I agree heartily with their position.

The British are the traditional sticklers for The Rule. Not in the book? Then the case is hopeless. In the book? Then do it exactly that way. In the present instance, we seem to have out-Englished our great friends in their Colonel Blimp devotion to the rule.

Our American Embassy handling the incident suggests that our fingerprint requirements were well known to the Russians, and that they perhaps never intended to make the trip. They suggest that this was a mere "out" carefully anticipated by Moscow and just as carefully calculated for further propaganda against America.

And they are probably right. But this is all the more reason why we should—for once—have been using what we fondly call wits. The more reason why we should have anticipated this high-stakes chess play.

We have often been outguessed and outsmarted by Russian brains, and not only in the high level

Only Jap May Day Riot at Ball Game

TOKYO (AP)—May Day labor demonstrators behaved themselves yesterday.

In a baseball game between Osaka film stars and Tokyo actors, they saw wild throws make a home run of a bunt to the pitcher.

And after Osaka won 12-9 a few thousand botchy soxers rioted trying to get the film stars' autographs. It took three companies of police three hours to get the actors to their cars.
