IKE PLEDGES

Needy Children Will Get Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged today that no child will go without polio vaccine because his parents can't pay for it. The White House said later the President will ask authority, if necessary, to buy all commercial supplies.

The President made his pledge at a news conference.

Shortly afterward James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, called in reporters to elaborate.

Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod was embraced by his wife, Fannie, as he was released from jail under $15,000 bond Tuesday. (AP Wirephoto)

He said Eisenhower will seek authority to buy all of the Salk product which the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis does not take for the free inoculation of first and second graders, if that is necessary to meet the pledge.

Volunteering his remarks about the vaccine program, Eisenhower also said government officials are convinced the present inoculation program should go ahead despite development of paralytic polio by a few youngsters who have received vaccine produced by one firm.

The President said that in his opinion it is both safe and wise to go ahead with the inoculations. Eisenhower also dealt with these other topics:

CEASE-FIRE—Eisenhower said that at the moment the United States is in a sort of wait-and-see position with respect to possible talks between this country and Red China on a cease-fire in the Formosa area.

He added there are a number of countries — apart from the United States — which are interesting themselves in the prospect of a cease-fire. There is nothing new on the subject, he said.

MRS. EISENHOWER—He said Mrs. Eisenhower's health is not as robust and strong as that of some people, but she is a good healthy person despite what he termed her inability to throw off the effects of a very serious virus infection which she developed last March.

The reporter who put the question about the First Lady's health said it was prompted by Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler's statement in March that the President might not seek a second term because of the state of Mrs. Eisenhower's health, and secondly, cancellation of all of Mrs. Eisenhower's social engagements for this week on orders of her physician.

The reporter, Charles von Fremd, told Eisenhower he realized the question was a personal one and hoped the President would not take offense.

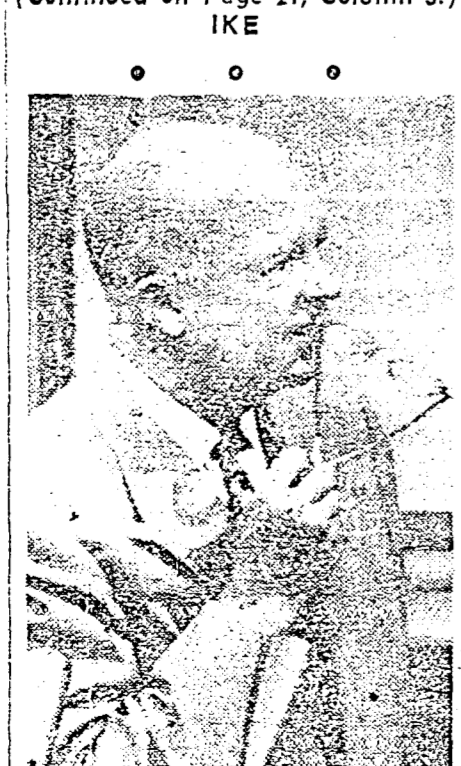

Eisenhower said it was a legitimate question. He then went on to say that in his opinion his wife's general health the last two years has been better than it was during the previous 10.

POLITICS—A reporter recalled that Eisenhower remarked last week that his term still had 20 months to run, and that he regarded that as a long time for a man of his age. He asked whether the President kept a calendar on the wall and was checking off the months to the time when his term will expire.

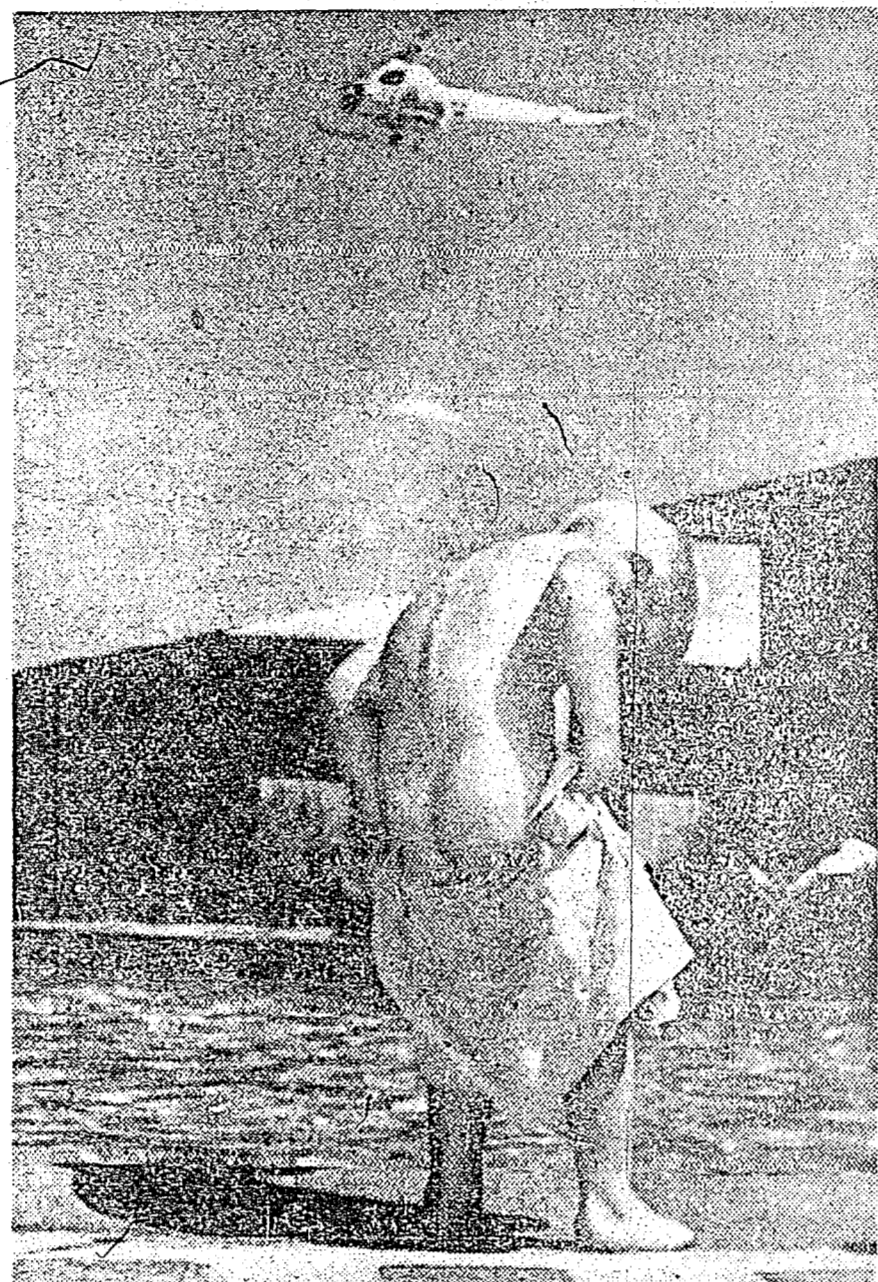

Joining in the laughter, Eisenhower replied that he always does know what the month is.

POSTAL PAY—Eisenhower avoided saying whether he will veto a bill to increase the pay of postal workers an average of 8.8 per cent. He indicated a few weeks ago he would refuse to sign any bill providing for a greater hike than 7.6 per cent. But to questions today, Eisenhower said only that he looks for the bill to be on his desk.

Viet Nam Monarchy Supported by U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The United States today was reported recommending that a constitutional monarchy be established for strife-torn South Viet Nam.

As authoritative sources revealed this current American position, local and provincial Vietnamese leaders flocked to Saigon for a special congress called by Premier Ngo Dinh Diem to act on the National Revolutionary Committee's demand for the ouster of chief of state Bao Dai, the emperor of Annam.

From his luxurious villa on the French Riviera, Bao Dai denounced the congress—or "states general"—as illegal.

The American position was said to be that because of South Viet Nam's political immaturity, the stabilizing influence of a monarchy with only limited powers is needed to give continuity and avoid chaos.

The sources said that should local sentiment prove so great against Bao Dai, his son Bao Long or some other member of the former royal house could be designated ruler with tightly circumscribed powers.

Bao Dai, now 42, succeeded to the throne of the central Viet Nam kingdom of Annam in 1926. A puppet first of the French and then of the Japanese during the occupation, he abdicated at the end of the war and became a "supreme counselor" in the postwar revolutionary government of Communist Ho Chi Minh.

Early in 1946 he fled to Hong Kong and lived in exile there on the French Riviera. The French brought him back in 1949 to be chief of state for Viet Nam. He went to France in April 1954 and hasn't been back to Saigon since.

Sentiment against the playboy ex-emperor increased in Saigon today. Newspapers appearing a few hours before the states general assembly gathered carried violent attacks against him.

The House may act on the postal pay compromise Friday. The Senate may get to it next week.

Former President Herbert Hoover, left, waved a greeting as he prepared to address the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington today. Mr. Hoover said the federal budget might be "balanced overnight" if members of his commission on government reorganization "could have our own way." With him is Russell C. Harrington, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce. (UP Telephoto)

Storm Lashes Viroqua, Home For Aged Hit

Roof Blown Off Building, Wind Reaches 80 M.P.H.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Blasting winds described by weather officials as "unconfirmed tornadoes" ripped through two widely spaced portions of Wisconsin Tuesday evening.

The first storm hit Viroqua, in the southwest part of the state, about 5:30 p.m. Two hours later Merrill, in the north central region, was buffeted by high winds.

There were no injuries reported in either storm and property damage, in the face of the 80 m.p.h. winds, was restricted. A rural Merrill man and his son were trapped when their barn was blown down around them but were freed without injury.

The new Bethel Lutheran Home for the aged at Viroqua was unroofed, other buildings were damaged, utility service was broken off and trees were blown down.

The roof of the home for the aged was picked up and dropped into a yard across the street. The home was nearing completion after nine months of construction work. Two homes on adjoining lots were also damaged.

The weather bureau said winds raked the city for 12 minutes and that hail stones measuring three-fourths of an inch also fell during the period, accompanied by heavy rain.

Lone Rock was hammered by winds that were measured between 78 and 83 m.p.h. No damage was reported.

Lincoln County Sheriff Alfred Giese said a tornado ripped through farm and wooded country about nine miles north of Merrill.

Giese said three barns were blown down and that communication between Merrill and the state Traffic Patrol Headquarters at Tomahawk was disrupted for a while. One of the barns blown over was on the Pat Taylor farm at Route 1, E. Merrill. Taylor and his 14-year-old son were caught in the wreckage but freed by sheriff's officers and highway crews. No homes were damaged.

Sparingly Settled
Power and communication lines survived in the storm which Giese said cut through an area about one mile wide and eight miles long. The region is sparsely settled.

The storm brought suddenly dark skies, lightning and rain to a large portion of the north. Rhinelander, 45 miles north, reported seeing the storm and rain.

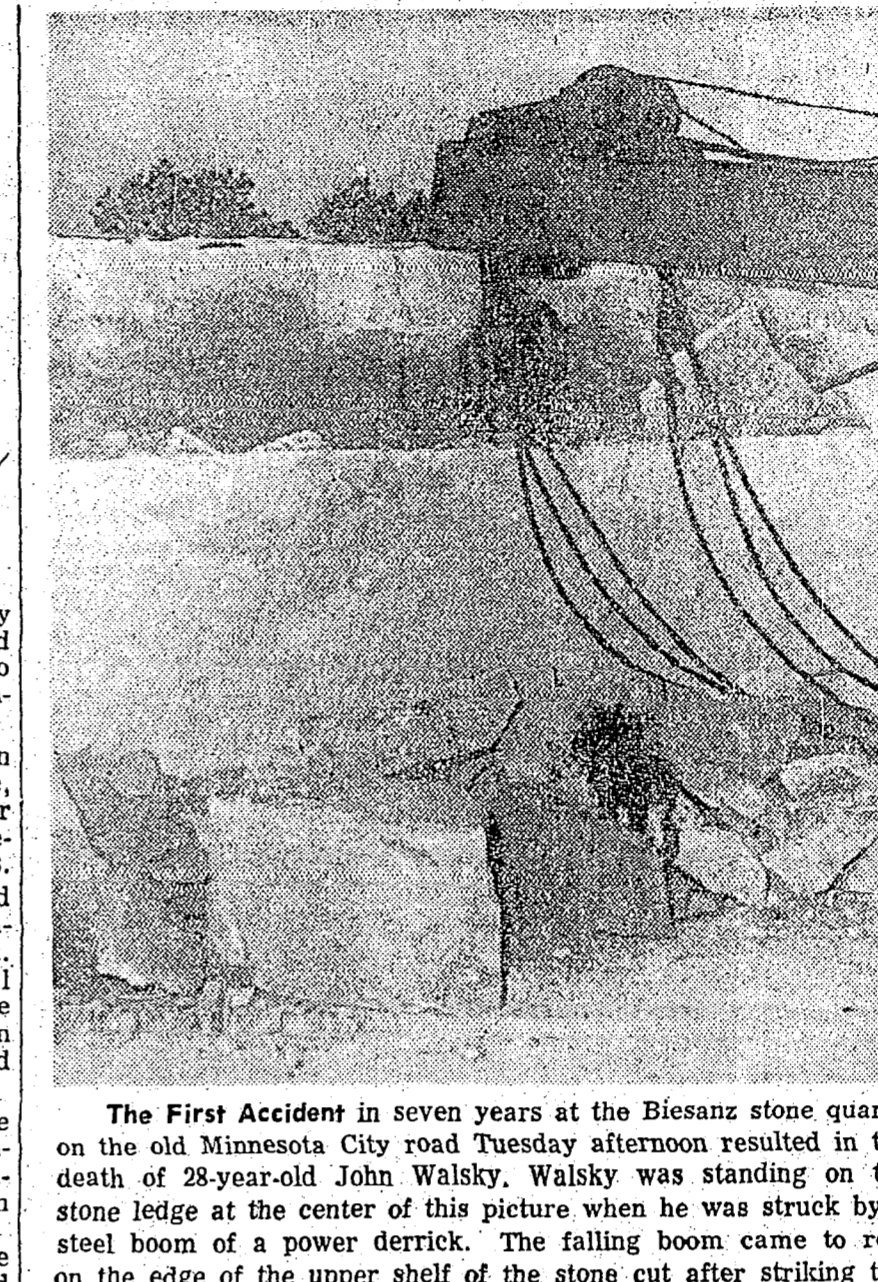

The recovery from the storm at Merrill began quickly. Giese said, within minutes after it struck his officers were checking damaged property to aid in releasing trapped animals. Highway crews were dispatched to clear the roadways of fallen trees.

High winds and rain were also reported at Platteville and New Richmond.

Temperatures which climbed to summer levels in many parts of the mid-continent for two days this week appeared headed for near normal marks today.

Fairly pleasant spring weather was the outlook for much of the eastern two-thirds of the country.

The cooler air which kept temperatures on the chilly side in the Rocky Mountain and Great Basin regions moved eastward across the plains and into the Mississippi Valley. Temperatures which were in the 90s and upper 80s Monday dropped 20 to 25 degrees yesterday.

The First Accident in seven years at the Biesanz stone quarry on the old Minnesota City road Tuesday afternoon resulted in the death of 28-year-old John Walsky. Walsky was standing on the stone ledge at the center of this picture when he was struck by a steel boom of a power derrick. The falling boom came to rest on the edge of the upper shelf of the stone cut after striking the worker. (Daily News photo)

John Walsky, 28, Dies in Biesanz Firm Accident

Accidental Death Ruling Made By County Coroner

A quarry worker was killed Tuesday afternoon when he was struck by the steel boom of a power derrick at the Biesanz Cut Stone Co. on the old Minnesota City road.

The accident victim was John Walsky, 28, Winona Rt. 3, one of the members of a four-man crew working at the quarry when the accident occurred at about 2:30 p.m.

Walsky and Ray Bambenek, 27, W. Broadway, were breaking off portions of rock at the top of a 12-foot wall of travertine while Harry Erdman, 702 Mankato Ave., and Richard Wagner, Red Top Cabins, were placing the chips of rock into a large steel bucket used to carry the scrap pieces away to a disposal area.

In this operation, Erdmanczyk was operating the power derrick used to lift the scrap into the bucket.

Erdmanczyk said that while he was operating the derrick the 20-foot steel boom suddenly began to slip and drop toward the rock ledge where Walsky and Bambenek were working.

Warning Shouted
The derrick operator and Wagner shouted a warning and Walsky, whose back was toward the derrick, looked up and turned slightly to look in the direction of the falling boom.

Before he could step aside, however, the end of the boom struck the upper portion of his body. A portion of Walsky's shirt was pinned to the rock by the end of the boom but the other three workers removed the body and carried it to the ground level of the quarry.

Although Walsky probably died almost immediately after being struck by the boom, Wagner drove a truck down the hill road to the stone company's office and plant to call medical aid and shortly after he left Erdmanczyk ran down the road to make sure that an ambulance was called.

Coroner Called
Winona police and Sheriff George Fort were notified and the sheriff called Coroner R. B. Tweedy to the accident scene.

Dr. Tweedy pronounced Walsky dead when he arrived and ruled that the death was due to accidental causes.

The spot where the accident occurred was at the top of a vertical cut in the quarry that raises to a shelf approximately 12 feet above the ground level.

About 4 feet down from the top of this shelf is a narrow ledge and it was on this ledge that Walsky was standing.

He and Bambenek had bored holes along the edge of this shelf and Walsky was tapping metal plugs into these holes.

After these wedges are set in place they are struck with a sledge to break off the uneven edges of the travertine wall.

Battered Out of Path
While Walsky was standing on the ledge, Bambenek was on the upper level and was out of the path of the boom when it dropped. The end of the boom was stopped when it struck the edge of the rock shelf.

Employed at the quarry for about three years, Walsky was born Dec. 1, 1926, the son of Mr. Walsky.

House Nears Vote On Farm Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern big-city Democrats with large numbers of consumer constituents appeared to hold the balance of power today as the House neared a showdown on farm price supports.

It was a repeat performance of last year's farm battle, save that the House this time is being asked to reverse last year's administration victory establishing a program of flexible price supports on basic crops.

Both sides concentrated their attention on the consumer and members from large city districts in the debate preceding a final vote scheduled for late today. Democrats generally supported the bill; Republicans were mostly lined up against it.

Before the House was a bill which would scrap the administration program of supports ranging from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity, and substitute for it a program of rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity in effect until this year.

Parity is a legal standard designed to afford the farmer a fair return on his crops in relation to his costs.

To assertions that farm income was down 22 per cent since 1951, Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts replied that "these depressing conditions all came about while price supports were rigidly pegged at 90 per cent of parity."

Rep. Cooley (D-NC), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said it is not true that farm state members are in "some kind of a vicious coalition" with organized labor.

Cooley hotly rejected suggestions that farm leaders plan to repay organized labor for its support by voting later for an increase in the federal minimum wage.

Swedes Investigating Red Seizure of Ships
STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Swedish Foreign Office said today it is investigating the reported Communist seizure of two Swedish trawlers.

The trawlers Vasa and Stina were seized Saturday, according to radio messages received here, by a Communist patrol ship off the Polish coast and taken to a Russian naval base. Each vessel carried a crew of seven.

Grandmother Has Million Dollar Bid For Uranium Find
FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP)—A grandmother who started two years ago with a Geiger counter and a notion to give her ill husband some air is contemplating an offer of more than one million dollars for one block of uranium claims.

Mrs. Jeanette V. Martin, said her claim is in the Sabinosa area in northeast New Mexico, about 40 miles west of Las Vegas.

"Yes, we've had several offers for our claim and we've really only dug into one-third of it," she said.

Mrs. Martin and an Army colonel who is a "weekend prospector" are partners in the venture. The colonel, Benjamin E. Thurston, a career soldier, is at Camp Chaffee, Ark., as a training inspector. He has been in the Army 29 years.

Mother of 8 Has Some Good Advice for Parents

NEW YORK (AP)—A bit of advice to parents everywhere from the American Mother of the Year:

"Love your children with all your hearts; love them enough to discipline them before it is too late."

Also, says 75-year-old Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal:

"A child should know discipline by the age of 3. Forget little things they do wrong that are not important. Praise them for important things, even if you have to stretch them a bit."

Close to tears, she said of her family life:

Mrs. Fugal, a deeply religious Mormon, is the mother of four sons and four daughters and grandmothers of 34.

Youth Shoots 3 Women Relatives, Takes Own Life

SOUTH RIVER, N.J. (AP)—A 20-year-old discharged laborer shot and seriously wounded three women relatives early today and then killed himself during a gun battle with police.

Alex Miedzwiadok was found dead on the floor of his mother-in-law's house with his unharmed 10-month-old daughter by his side.

His mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Kucharik, 43; sister-in-law, Margaret Kucharik, 20; and wife, Sonja, 18, lay wounded in the tear-gas filled home. They all were in fair condition at Middlesex General Hospital.

Miedzwiadok exchanged shots with police on two occasions during the night, when finally trapped and surrounded in the house. He shot the three women while exchanging shots with police.

Miedzwiadok was separated from his wife.

Police Chief Matthew Zaleski gave this account of events leading to the shootings:

Miedzwiadok was laid off recently at the Peter J. Schweitzer plant in nearby Spotswood.

He went to a union meeting late last night at Sayreville to seek to get the union to try to gain his reinstatement.

The union rejected his case.

He went home, and came back to the union meeting, brandishing a revolver. Union members called Sayreville police. When police arrived, Miedzwiadok had vanished.

South River police were notified. They began a search for the man, locating him near his home.

Patrolmen George Cerekwas and Steven Vass approached Miedzwiadok, and he opened fire on the two officers. They returned fire, and he fled.

Police surmised that he would head for his mother-in-law's house. Reinforcements were summoned. As the police arrived in front of the house, they were met with shots.

About 15 shots were exchanged between police and Miedzwiadok. Police Chief Zaleski tossed a tear gas bomb into the room where Miedzwiadok was doing the shooting.

Miedzwiadok then shot himself in the head.

Baltimore Mayor Leads Democrats In Election Sweep

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. capped a long comeback from a sickbed by leading Democrats to another sweep of city offices in Baltimore's municipal election yesterday.

The 51-year-old mayor, extending his victory string to 22 races ranging from the State Legislature to Congress, defeated Republican Samuel Hopkins.

A record 214,057 voters turned out. The previous high was 202,000 in 1931.

Among the 21 Democrats elected to the City Council was Walter T. Dixon, 61-year-old head of a business school and the first Negro to gain that office since 1891.

Unofficial returns from all of the city's 531 precincts gave D'Alesandro 119,097 votes to 94,960 for Hopkins, 41-year-old bank official and former member of the Legislature.

No Opposition Heard to Refuge Changes

Few Hunters Attend Public Hearing Held On Expanded Areas

Winona and area duck hunters voiced no opposition to proposed changes in sanctuary (closed) areas in pools behind locks and dams in this area.

Less than a dozen hunters attended the 45-minute meeting in the federal courtroom of the Post Office building Tuesday night, when Ray C. Steele, superintendent of the Upper Mississippi River Fish and Wildlife Refuge, and William Green, refuge biologist, outlined the need and the changes.

Steele said, "There is little change in the actual area and we are convinced that the changes will benefit the duck hunters."

He said that when the duck refuge areas were established more than 25 years ago, there was little choice of location; the area available then was less than half the area available today.

At that time, he said, "they anticipated that we would be able to revise the plan and select sanctuary areas more suitable for the job later on."

Prime requirements of sanctuary areas are availability of food, cover, water and protection, he explained.

"There is no area in the United States comparable to the situation in the Mississippi refuge," Steele said, pointing out that only 20 per cent of the total area is closed to duck hunting. He added that 40 per cent of the ducks moving across the country utilize the Mississippi Flyway and that the area also has 40 per cent of the hunters. The refuge includes roughly 250,000 acres of public, dedicated land.

Steele departed from the subject at hand briefly to comment on reported duck slaughters in Mexico. He said that about 15 million ducks are killed annually in the United States and 5 million in Canada. "In Mexico," he continued, "the annual kill amounts to only half to three-quarters of a million, and many of those are shot by American hunters."

He described the plan as "being designed to perpetuate good hunting conditions." Steele said it has been carefully studied by the refuge service, submitted to state and federal departments and then considered by the conservation departments of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. He said that the latter four participated in a hearing at Dubuque, Iowa, early last month and that some suggestions were made that resulted in minor modifications but that the program as a whole will continue as planned.

Slides Presented
Green presented colored slides of the areas involved. He noted that there would be no change in the refuge in the pool of Lock & Dam 5, The Whitman refuge (on the Minnesota side of the area) includes about 2,350 acres and the Lost Island area to the east, 1,200 acres.

Concerning the pool refuge area of Lock & Dam 5A, Green noted that the path followed by ducks established a "hot spot" where hunters could await the flights and with a concentration of fire some times prevent them from leaving the refuge.

Green said that the new refuge area, south of the present 1,257-acre site, would begin about 1,000 feet above the dam, with the west boundary along the east bank of Straight Slough. It includes Lake Polander, which he noted is full of stumps and dangerous to navigation when the water is rough.

Another feature of the change is that 800 acres of the area will be in Minnesota waters and 400 in Wisconsin. The present refuge is entirely within Minnesota.

In response to a question concerning the refuge above Lock & Dam 7 by George Graham, 804 W. Mark St., Green said that the acreage would be increased from 1,650 acres to about 7,000. Some 5,000 of this, however, cannot be hunted at present under Minnesota's open water laws. The actual land area change, he said, would be closing of about 340 additional acres.

Green pointed out that the proposed area, located near Lock & Dam 7 at Dresbach, has been used as a resting place by large numbers of birds even though it has been hunted. The area is bounded on the northwest by Spring Slough and the southeast by French Island.

Two other discussion meetings are scheduled to explain the changes to hunters. The next will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Dairyland Power Cooperative auditorium at LA CROSSE and the third meeting will be at the courthouse at ALMA Thursday at 8 p.m.

Blood Donors' Faces Familiar, Worker Says

"Most of the faces here are always very familiar," a Red Cross bloodmobile worker commented here Tuesday when only 97 pints were contributed toward a four-day goal of 617.

And Red Cross chapter records prove her statement, said Blood Chairman James D. Cole.

The chapter maintains a file on all who have given blood; it dates back to 1948.

In those eight years only about 1,500 persons out of the 32,000 in the chapter area have contributed. The 1,500 have given over 7,000 pints; the rest none.

341 Pints Given At Mondovi, Alma

ALMA, Wis.—In two days, Buffalo County residents at Mondovi and Alma have contributed 341 pints of blood to the Red Cross.

William Kockenderfer, Fountain City, chairman, said that at Mondovi Monday 220 pints were given and at Alma Tuesday 121. There were few rejections, he added.

Mondovi has a population of 2,285 and Alma, 1,068.

Today the unit is at Cochrane. It'll be at Waumandee Thursday and at Fountain City Friday. Hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Quota for the week is 500.

Consolidation Plan Aired at Peterson By 10 Districts

PETERSON, Minn.—The prelude to possible school district enlargement was enacted here Tuesday night as representatives of 10 rural districts met with Peterson residents for discussion of problems connected with such a move.

All of the districts send at least some of their students here now, and, according to Superintendent R. J. Vieths, there would be very little change in enrollment if enlargement was approved. Mainly, it would give the Peterson district more assurance of stability.

The meeting was called by a committee of rural school board officials headed by Bertrum Boyum, Winona County District 104, a closed district. Other districts involved are all from Fillmore County: Those operating schools and sending high school pupils here are 12, 15 and 36; with closed schools and sending all students here are 34, 35, 160, 164, 186 and 188.

Vieths spoke and superintendents Miss Anna Seem, Fillmore County, and Jesse Jestus, Winona County, answered questions. About 150 attended the session held in the new auditorium-gymnasium completed in February 1954.

The school superintendent said a friendly atmosphere prevailed

Bicycle License Sale To Begin in Schools

The sale of bicycle license plates in Winona public and parochial schools will begin Monday, Police Records Clerk George McGuire announced today.

Through May 23, McGuire and an assistant will visit each school in the city for bicycle registration and license sale.

The license fee is 25 cents and children are asked to have their registration cards with them on the day the license sale is scheduled for their school.

Those with new bicycles which have not been licensed previously should have information regarding the bicycle serial number, color, manufacturer and type of brake so that registration may be made at the time the bicycle is purchased.

License plates also will be on sale at the Winona police depart-

For instance, Emil Karis, 620 Clark Lane, was there yesterday to give his 14th pint, and so was Paul Bilder, 460 E. Mark St. Daniel Bamken, 260 Mankato Ave., gave his 12th pint.

Mrs. Robert A. McLean, 252 1/2 Mankato Ave., was familiar, too. She was making her 16th visit.

Tuesday, there were 17 others who were willing to give a pint in addition to the 97 who did; the 17 were rejected for various medical reasons.

Today, 114 were registered to give at the Masonic Temple. It'll be there Thursday, too, when only 69 have registered. Walk-ins—without prior registration—always are welcome, but particularly from 5 to 8 p.m. The bloodmobile unit will be operating from 2 to 8 p.m. today and Thursday. Friday it will be at St. Mary's College.

Cement Mixer Truck, Semitrailer Collide

Two trucks were damaged in a collision at the junction of State Aid Road 6 and Highway 61 at Minnesota City at 8:05 a.m. today, Sheriff George Fort said that the accident involved a cement mixer truck driven by Melvin Pielmeier, 4165 7th St., Goodview, and a semitrailer driven by Albert Rodgers, South St. Paul.

Both vehicles were traveling west on Highway 61 when Pielmeier began to make a left turn onto the state aid road as the semitrailer began to pass.

Elmury, who investigated the accident, estimated damage to the semi at $900 and the cement truck, $400.

Gostomski and Vice President John Kleist, 402 E. Sanborn St., were re-elected by the commissioners at the board's annual meeting during which salaries for members of the fire and police departments for the coming year also were set.

The board authorized an across-the-board increase of $10 a month for all members of the two departments, the same raise granted Monday evening by the City Council for its employees.

Range Listed

The wage hike raises the monthly salary of regular firemen and patrolmen to $310 on a scale that ranges from $280 a month for probationary patrolmen and firemen to $425 for chiefs of the two departments.

Overtime pay was continued at $1.50 an hour.

The complete salary listings follow:

Fire Department — Chief, $425; assistant chief, $360; captains at the central station, $320; captains at the outside stations, $325; alarm operator, $350; truck drivers, $315; probationary firemen, $280; firemen for the first six months, $290, and firemen after six months, $310.

Police Department — Chief, $425; radio engineer, $360; assistant chief and chief of detectives, $380; one detective, $345; second detective, $335; captains, $325; jailor, $310; motorcycle traffic sergeants, $320; sergeants, $320; clerk, $320; probationary patrolmen, $280; patrolmen for the first six months, $290; regular patrolmen, $310.

Members of the two departments, with the exception of the two chiefs, the assistant chief of police, detectives and clerk, also receive a $10 monthly clothing allowance.

No action was taken by the board on requests for an extra week's vacation each year for employees with 20 or more years' service.

The two departments originally had asked for 10 per cent increases in their basic salaries.

Building Painter

On the recommendation of the architects for the new fire station now under construction at East 3rd and Laird streets, John P. Brang, Winona, was approved as a painting subcontractor.

The city engineer was instructed to draw plans and specifications for a new alarm board to be installed at the new station.

Assistant Chief of Police Everett Laak and one member of the board were authorized to attend the governor's safety meeting in St. Paul May 18.

Limits on Some County Roads May Be Lifted

Liquor Stamps Held By Three Taverns Cited by Sheriff

The possibility of removing weight restrictions on "some" of Winona County's roads by the end of this week was today being considered by County Highway Engineer Gordon Fay, following a recommendation by the county board Tuesday that the matter be studied.

Presently, all state and county aid roads here, with three exceptions, are under a four-ton per axle load limit set by state law and approved in March by the county board. Three spots have a five-ton limit.

Under the law, the four-ton limit automatically goes off on May 15, unless extended by the state commissioner of highways.

Individual counties, however, may take restrictions off before the date if road and weather conditions warrant such a move.

Resolution Checked
Board Chairman Ray Kohner focused the problem Tuesday when he asked Fay if "it wouldn't be possible to do something about removing the weight limits pretty soon."

Commissioner Adolph Spitzer pin-pointed it by saying he'd "like to see them go off by the end of this week," with Commissioner Arnold Zenke adding that "things seem to be in pretty good shape now."

Fay answered that he wasn't sure whether he could "officially" do it, but added that he thought the restrictions approved in March said "something about it" and asked County Auditor Richard Schoonover to look it up.

Schoonover reported that the original resolution stated that "the restrictions shall cease when the county highway engineer removes the signs of such restrictions."

Fay agreed to "do something about it," but added that "some of the roads are in good shape and others aren't so good... I'll probably remove some of the bans this week, adjust a few of the others and leave the rest the way they are."

Taverns Discussed

Sheriff George Fort presented a letter to commissioners Tuesday which said that Harry A. Sieben, state liquor control commissioner, has told him that three Winona County tavern operators "have purchased and are now holding retail liquor tax stamps in violation of Minnesota statutes 340.025 and 340.026."

Involved are: Richard Campbell, Black Horse Tavern, Homer; Arthur Brorson, Lamotte Tavern, Lamotte; and Clayton Mosher, Ship Tavern, Dresbach, according to Sieben.

Upon commissioners' request, County Attorney S. A. Sawyer quoted and explained the statutes as they apply to persons who do not have a state license to sell intoxicating liquor.

In effect they say: The county board shall (not may) revoke the nonintoxicating (3.2 beer) license of any person possessing a federal special tax stamp without notice and without a hearing on such revocation.

Actually, it works this way: If you haven't a permit to sell both beer and hard liquor (which the three taverns are reported not to have) then you have to make a choice—if you sell liquor under a federal stamp, then you're supposed to lose your beer license; if you want to sell beer, then you're not supposed to buy the federal tax stamp to sell hard liquor.

The county board declined to take action and placed the letter from Sheriff Fort on file.

Bids Asked

Schoonover was authorized by the board Tuesday to advertise for June bids on:

• A season's supply of coal for the various county buildings.
• Four 30-ton carloads of calcium chloride for use by the county highway department.

• A pair of new two-ton dump trucks with five-cubic yard boxes.
• Sale of various used highway department equipment.

Included in the list of old highway equipment going on the block are: Four 1 1/2-ton dump trucks, including two 1940 models, one 1941 model and one 1943 model; two Monarch Model 75 crawler tractors of 1929-30 vintage; one Caterpillar Model 60 crawler tractor purchased in 1931; two McCormick-Deering power units; two McCormick-Deering 1020 tractors; one McCormick-Deering 1530 tractor; two concrete mixers, with two-bag capacity; one one-yard Northwestern shovel, purchased in 1920; and one unit half-yard power shovel.

Commissioners approved and ordered paid all bills for April.

High Wind Levels Farm Buildings in Caledonia Vicinity

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—Sudden high winds late Tuesday afternoon blew down several farm buildings in this area, cut electric service to Eitzen and Brownville and leveled many trees.

Damage was heaviest in the Portland Prairie farming community southwest of here as the storm struck about 4:30 p.m. Estimates placed the gusts as high as 70 miles per hour followed by hard driving rain.

About 1,000 families were without electricity in the area for about 2 1/2 hours yesterday, Milton Poeppel, line superintendent of Tri-County Electric Co.-op, Rushford, said today. Some power lines were snapped by the wind, others from falling trees. The tops of a few Dairyland Power Cooperative transmission poles were toppled in Houston County, too, he said.

Barns on the William Oltmans farm, and Elmer Schroeder place, Portland Prairie, were felled. Some cattle were in the Oltmans building, but escaped unharmed. Schroeder does not live on the place where the building fell. It is used to store hay.

A silo and corn crib blew down on the Raymond Ranzenberger farm, Caledonia Ridge, five miles south of here. Mrs. Emma Wiegrefe, Portland Prairie, lost eight pine trees from a grove; Roy Dibbey, Portland Prairie, and Quentin Burg, Caledonia Ridge, lost trees in their yards.

Absolute Speed Limit May Be Placed on '61'

The Minnesota Highway Department says that Highway 61 between Winona and La Crescent is one of the highway segments which should be designated for absolute speed limits.

In that case, says Highway Patrol Chief Paul Martz, radar would be used to trap speeders.

The Legislature authorized the highway commission to set absolute limits, either higher or lower than the present 60-mile-per-hour "prima facie" limit, on highways where he felt it necessary.

Under the present "prima facie" law, arresting officers must prove carelessness in order to tag a motorist driving more than 60 miles an hour. That makes use of radar speed detectors worthless.

It may be several weeks or months before absolute limits are imposed on any Minnesota roads. "I don't see traffic and safety engineer in the highway department, said no definite program for zoning is being planned yet.

Darrell suggested that absolute limits of less than 60 miles an hour may be imposed on Highway 61 between Two Harbors and northern Minnesota taconite towns as well as between Winona and La Crescent.

"These stretches are pretty crooked," Darrell said, "and slower speeds would be advisable."

Martz said the patrol has ordered a radar detector for experimental use but will use it only after ample warning to drivers.

3rd Boys County Project Termed Successful Event

David Sauer, chairman for the third annual American Legion-sponsored Boys County—held all day Tuesday at the courthouse—today called the affair "a very successful project," adding that it was his belief that the 51 delegates from five county high schools "learned a lot."

Tours of various county offices began at 9 a.m. and continued after a noon luncheon at the American Legion Memorial Club, where Judge Leo F. Murphy was guest speaker.

Maurice L. Mariner, dean of men at Winona State Teachers College, presided at a 3 p.m. summary session for all representatives.

High school juniors attending the session included: Norman Indall, adviser, and Dale Byboth, Wayne County; Francis Maschka, John Kreider, adviser, and Edward Wittenberg, St. Charles High School — Del Rubberg, adviser, and Albert Larson, Philip Flina, adviser, Ben Ellsworth, Melvin Glover, James Pelowski, Arley Threke, Ralph Mahaffey, Ron Galt, Ken Neumann, Albert Fenske and Bill Johnson.

Lewiston High School — Donald Wamlock, adviser, and Elmer Bartsch, Dean Selvig, Victor Vail, Robert Shattuck, Charles Crossfield, Fred Crossfield, Marjorie Ziemer, Carol Peterson, Gary Peterson, Arlene Treder and Donald Barber.

Norman Skaar, La Crosse, paid a $35 fine and $2.50 costs in justice court at Homer Tuesday on a charge of operating an overweight truck on County Aid Road 101 near Homer.

Skaar was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Helmer Weinmann and charged with driving a truck that was 1,440 pounds overweight.

State Approves Speed Zones On County Roads

30- and 40-Mile Areas Designated At 7 Communities

State Commissioner of Highways M. J. Hoffmann has authorized "safe and reasonable speed zones" at seven Winona County communities, following an engineering and traffic investigation requested by the Winona County Board of Commissioners in April.

All of the designated spots are unincorporated villages, where speed zoning, must be done by resolution and action by the state commissioner of highways. Incorporated villages have an automatic 30-mile speed zone within their limits.

A detailed report on the restrictions includes:

Roadside Park Open at Lewiston

LEWISTON, Minn. (Special)—A roadside park was dedicated here Sunday afternoon by the Green Thumb Club and village officials.

Located beside Highway 14 just west of the Papenfuss Service Station, the site was purchased by the Lewiston Business Men's Association several years ago.

Bernard Kennedy, president of the LBMA, spoke briefly and the Rev. LeRoy Franz, offered the invocation. Mayor E. E. Gremelsbach planted the first tree, a maple presented in his honor by his son, Eldon.

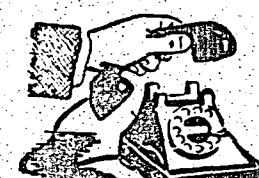

Mayor Loyde Pfeiffer, Winona gave two trees and Gremelsbach planted these—Mrs. C. C. Every and her son, Benjamin, then planted three trees and others were placed in the ground by: Al and Francis Eustermann; Kennedy; Fred, John and Herman Zander; Mrs. Herman Krenzke, representing the Lewiston Flower Society, and the Green Thumb Club. Altogether 13 trees were planted.

A fireplace may be built in the near future there as a joint project of the club and businessmen.

Actor Tells About Tour in 'Stinking South'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Wendell Corey could write a book about his tour with "Caine Mutiny Court Martial." Suggested title: "With Douglas in the Deep South."

You'll recall that Paul Douglas, who played Captain Queeg in the troupe, was reported to have popped off in Greensboro, N.C., that "The South stinks. It's a land of squalor and segregation."

The casual remark to a Greensboro Daily News reporter started a chain reaction. Producer Paul Gregory canceled the play's tour, declaring that Douglas' remark had so infuriated the South that business would be poor. Douglas denied he issued the quote and sued Gregory for a million dollars. Actors Equity placed the actor on probation for a year because of his conduct on the tour.

How did the hassle look to an innocent bystander?

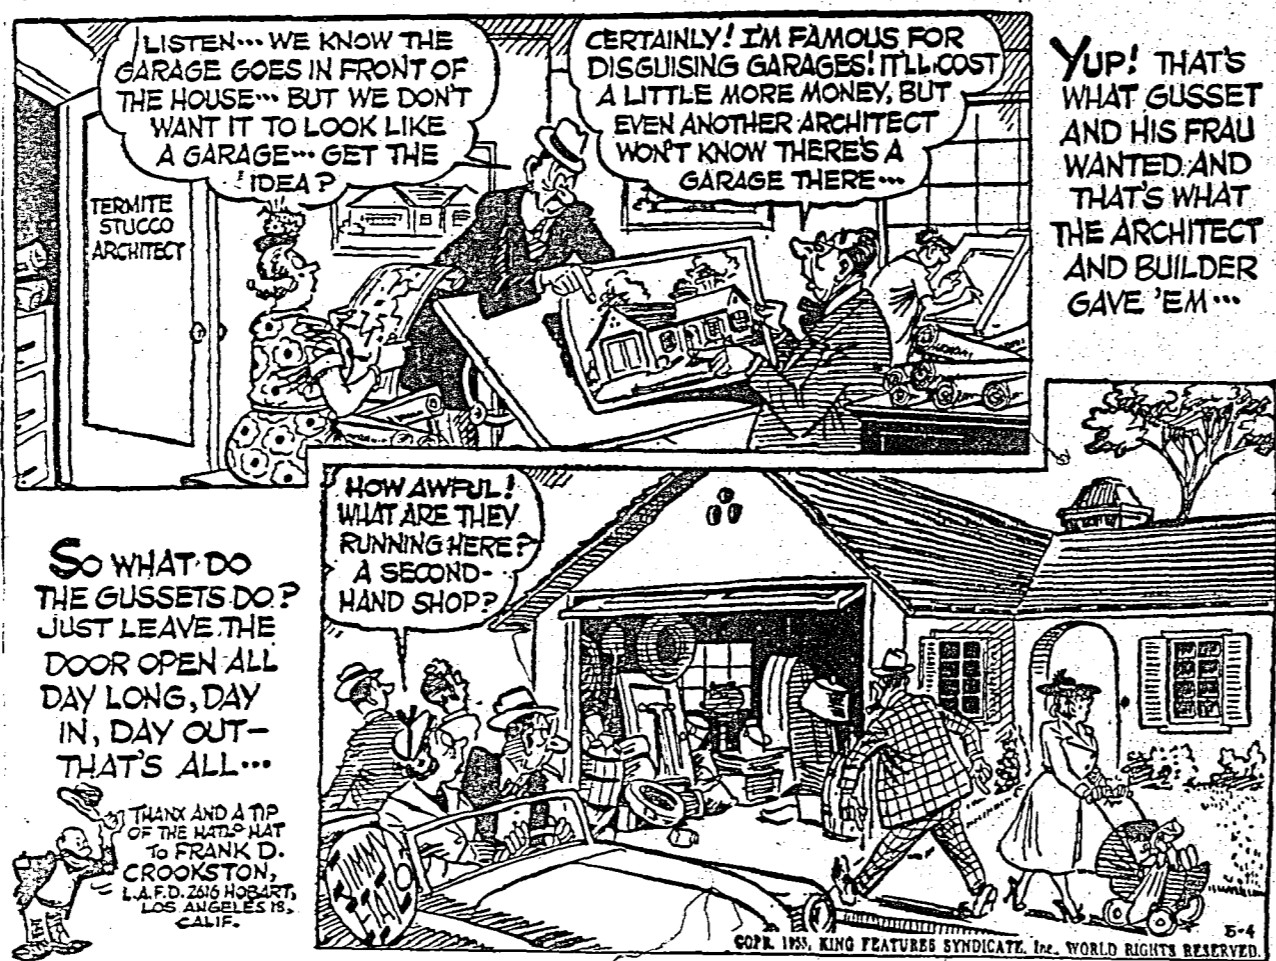

"Naturally, the rest of the company wasn't happy about his remarks," said Corey. "But I'm not sure what effect they had on business. There was a little resentment in Greensboro before we left. But we went on to good business in places like Atlanta, Jackson and Birmingham—and you can't get much deeper South than that."

"Actually, the people in the South have a lot more sense than we give them credit for. A lot of the folks down there took the incident in good humor."

Corey explained that the company had swung up to Pittsburgh when the cancellation came from Gregory. Other Southern dates remained to be played. Then the producer was threatened with lawsuits by civic groups and others who were sponsoring the canceled dates. He whipped up a company headed by William Bendix to fulfill the obligations.

His comment about Douglas: "He was a very effective performer on the stage; everything was professional. We weren't exactly friendly, but we weren't unfriendly either. In San Francisco, Steve Growth Seen In Foreign Trade for U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A gathering of American businessmen today received an optimistic forecast of "buoyant" growing foreign trade in the next year for the United States and most of its free world partners.

This forecast was given by E. E. Schnellbacher in remarks prepared for a breakfast arranged by the American Chambers of Commerce Abroad, a division of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, which ends its 43rd annual meeting here today. Schnellbacher is intelligence director for the Commerce Department's Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

Schnellbacher said he foresaw increased export and import volumes as well as lowering of foreign trade barriers.

If the present "upsurge of industrial activity" in this country continues, Schnellbacher said, the United States may very well enlarge its raw material purchases from Latin America, Canada and other areas.

The outlook is further improved, he said, by the fact that most nations bolstered their dollar reserves in 1954 and now may be ready to stop building those reserves.

"If dollar earnings (of foreign countries) continue to increase in the year ahead," Schnellbacher said, "foreign nations may well open up their markets further to U.S. products, rather than increase the rate of accumulation of their dollar assets."

But he emphasized that competition is becoming keener and that U.S. sales probably will require "large doses of good old-fashioned trade promotion efforts."

Toupee Complete With Dandruff Newest Dodge

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—One of the big laughs in "The Honeys," the new farce comedy, concerns a bald man (played by Hume Cronyn) who has toupees of various shades and lengths—one of them quite long so that the wearer looks like he needs a haircut. To make it more realistic, he sprinkles some Epsom Salts on his collar—that's the real convincer — his "dandruff."

"The difference between schoolgirls and Hollywood girls," says Mrs. Milton H. Greene, "is that schoolgirls who should wear a size 34 sweater wear one a size 38, while Hollywood girls who should wear a size 38, wear one a size 34."

Austria Has Growing Wave Of Pill-Eating

VIENNA (AP)—Top doctors, psychiatrists and social workers are trying to halt a growing addiction to medicine in Austria.

Health insurance statistics published recently show that Austria's seven million population consumed more than 320 million pills during 1954. The number of prescriptions for medicines climbed from 5,600,000 in 1950 to nine million last year.

A publicity campaign pointing to too much medicine as an evil is to be started soon.

Dr. Hans Hoff, head of the city's psychiatric clinic, says:

"Millions of city dwellers are becoming medicine addicts and are worse off than those taking narcotics. A narcotic addict is quite normal when he has taken his drug, but the health of a medicine addict is soon completely undermined and he becomes incapable of leading a normal life."

"On feeling a slight headache, mild indigestion, or sleeplessness, more and more people reach to the medicine cabinet for quick relief."

"They try to cure themselves by following the advice of advertisements, instead of consulting a doctor. That is nearly always a grave mistake, for although the pain disappears, its cause—maladjustment—remains and after some time the symptoms return. This causes people to take more medicine and, in time, they become medicine addicts."

Scientist Advances Theory on Continents

WASHINGTON (AP)—A theory that continents result from a collision between the earth and a giant meteor was advanced yesterday by Dr. B. F. Howell, of Pennsylvania State University.

He told the American Geophysical Union a meteor about one hundredth the size of the earth, or a group of meteors, may have struck near the North Pole a couple of billion years ago and splattered southward.

He called attention to the "southward pointing fingers of the continents."

Japanese Keep Eyes On Saigon

By JOSEPH ALSOP

TOKYO — According to report, President Eisenhower and the National Security Council have recently been re-examining the fundamentals of the Japanese-American relationship. The re-examination was overdue, in view of the President's official classification of Japan as "the bastion of American defense in the Pacific."

Under the new policy line laid down by the N.S.C., the more glaring follies of our dealings with the Japanese since the signature of the peace treaty are apparently to be corrected.

Yet our highest policy makers still began their work by writing down, as assumption number one, that the Japanese-American alliance could in effect be taken for granted for an indefinite term of years. The American representatives here, who are in daily contact with the hard, on-the-spot facts, protested sharply that taking Japan for granted was profoundly unwise.

No Political Realism

Even so, the complacency and lack of political realism in present day Washington is such that the National Security Council's first assumption has only been diluted rather than corrected. It cannot have been corrected for a very simple reason. America's "island chain" strategy in the Pacific is still squarely based on the Japanese alliance. And this implied taking Japan for granted, even although the National Security Council may state the position somewhat more cautiously.

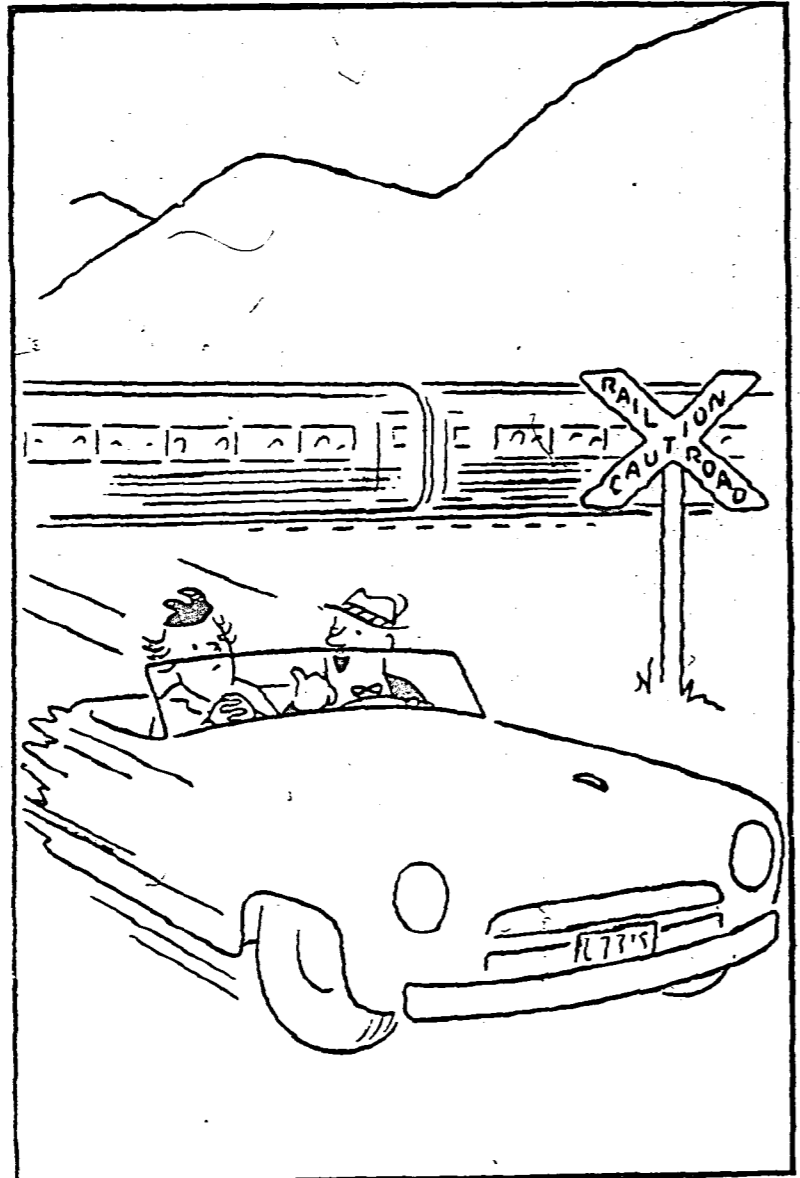

On any realistic assessment, therefore, the whole American defense system in the Pacific must now be regarded as in peril. Our strategy is threatened, not directly in Japan proper, or even in the Formosa Strait, but indirectly in Southeast Asia. Unless the Communist advance in Southeast Asia can somehow be halted, we are probably due to wake up one day to the unpleasant discovery that Tokyo depends on Saigon.

This danger was clearly recognized by the National Security Council in the early stages of the Dienbienphu crisis last year. For a while, it was the official doctrine that a Viet Minh victory in Indochina could not be permitted because such a victory would open the gates of South Asia to the Communists, and because the loss of South Asia would in turn involve Japan and India.

Chain Theory
This "domino chain" theory was later abandoned, and even scornfully condemned, when the Eisenhower administration found it more comfortable and politically expedient to duck the grim challenge of Dienbienphu. Unfortunately, however, there is every reason to believe that the domino chain theory is still correct, even although it is now officially frowned upon in Washington.

Misguided Missiles

by Chon Day

"Quiet bunch in the back seat, eh?"

ent to duck the grim challenge of Dienbienphu. Unfortunately, however, there is every reason to believe that the domino chain theory is still correct, even although it is now officially frowned upon in Washington.

The main reason is only too obvious. Japan must trade to live. Every Japanese businessman, without exception, regards Southeast Asia as Japan's most promising future trading area. Japan must almost import huge annual tonnage of rice to live. And two Southeast Asian countries, Thailand and Burma, are currently supplying Japan with just under 600,000 tons of rice a year, or rather more than half of Japan's whole annual rice import.

In these circumstances, what happens in Southeast Asia has life and death significance for the Japanese people. As yet, to be sure, the ugly process of decay that presently centers in Saigon has hardly been noticed by the great majority of Japanese.

People here have been lulled, like people in America, by the bold promises of SEATO. Then too, the Japanese are intensely preoccupied with their own internal problems, and since the war they have had poor means of learning about the outside world. And above all, the Japanese conviction that America is a sure winner in any world struggle has not yet been really shaken. But this conviction, born of Japan's own defeat by America, will surely not survive a shattering series of free world defeats in the area of Asia that is most important to Japan. In Japanese eyes, America and the other Western nations will look like hopeless losers, not sure winners, if the Communist advance in Southeast Asia continues unchecked. And to the tremendous political impact of this changed psychology, will be added ed the tremendous economic impact of the extension of Communist control into Japan's most vital trading area and rice source.

Eyes on Japan
If Japan is exposed to this double seismic shock, the already strong ferment of anti-Americanism here can be expected to become uncontrollable. Being passionately independent (which is the reason they are now anti-American) the Japanese are not likely to make a complete reversal of alliances. There is no visible likelihood that they will actually join the Communist bloc.

But if Southeast Asia is lost to Communism, there is the greatest possible likelihood that the Japanese will abandon the American alliance and move into a strictly neutral position. And that in itself will mean the utter collapse of the current official American defense plan in the Pacific, plus some other unpleasant things too.

If Japan chooses neutralism, American forces will obviously have to be withdrawn from these islands unless President Eisenhower wishes to try to hold our bases here by naked force. Thus the island chain will be decisively broken.

At the same time, the other great Pacific nightmare of the American Chiefs of Staff will also come true. Japan's industrial potential will automatically become available to Communist China. Southeast Asian rice and rubber and tin and Chinese coal and iron will then pay for the ships, steel, machine tools and all the other commodities that China needs to build herself rapidly up to the status of a full scale military-industrial great power.

In short the central fact that the Washington policy makers now ought to be facing, is the fact that Asia is a seamless web. If the web is too badly torn anywhere, it will unravel everywhere. And it is tearing now.

Sesame seed is also known as "benne" or "Bene" seed. It has a pleasant faintly nutty flavor and is good sprinkled on cookies, rolls and biscuits before baking.

Nationalists Report Red Buildup Near Offshore Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China today produced fresh reports of a Red buildup near the offshore islands and said its planes damaged three Communist gunboats in the Quemoy area.

The air force said its pilots sought out the gunboats, described as between 300 and 400 tons, on the landward side of Quemoy in western Amoy Bay. The area is 120 miles west of Formosa across the strait.

Pilots said one of the gunboats caught fire and suffered heavy damage. The Communist buildup threatening the offshore islands continues both near Quemoy and in the area opposite the Matsu group 175 miles up the coast, the Taitao News Agency reported.

The Reds are patrolling the coast with high-speed torpedo boats, said the agency, which is operated by the Interior Ministry. Commando units are being organized to spearhead attacks on both groups of islands, it asserted.

Mayor Finds Herself Without Town to Run

KILL DEVIL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Emily Mustian, elected mayor of Kill Devil Hill yesterday, would take office today—but today this town ceases to be a town.

Voters, while electing a mayor, repealed their town charter. Property owners, peeved because tax rates had jumped 200 per cent since incorporation in 1953, led the fight to kill the charter. Kill Devil Hill is the site of the Wright brothers famous first powered flight.

In 1854, the expectation of life at birth in England and Wales was less than 40 years.

Japanese Officials To Lose Free Rides

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's National Railway Corp. today explained why it plans abolishing first-class coach service in June. First-class coaches, little better but twice as costly, operate at only 30 per cent capacity "and most of those are corporation and government officials riding on free passes."

Stolen Swim Leads To Death of Boy, 11

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP)—James Donald Moss, 11, playing hooky from school, gashed his thigh and bled to death as he took a dip in the old swimming hole yesterday. He was cut on a sharp piece of metal.

Three-Way Tussle Develops Over Raising Minimum Wage

A three-way debate over revision of the minimum wage law has produced organized labor's big "pitch" of the year and is building into a large-scale lobby tussle.

As a Senate Labor and Public Welfare subcommittee heads into the final lap of its hearings, unions are pressing for a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour and extension of the law to several million more workers. The Administration backs a boost from the present 75 cents to 90 cents. Business interests are working to block any change.

Labor calls the present minimum "sub-standard" and says a wage assuring low-income families a "decent" living would bolster the economy. The Administration, while supporting a 15-cent increase, agrees with wholesalers, retailers and manufacturers affected by extended coverage that the economy would be hurt by lifting the minimum to a level which, they say, some industries could not absorb.

These arguments revolve around the New Deal-enacted Fair Labor Standards Act. Under it, since 1938, the minimum has been raised from 25 cents to 75 cents, and it now covers about 24 million workers in interstate industry. Workers in chain stores, hotel systems and certain other businesses are exempted and some of the nearly 50 bills before the House and Senate would cut back these exemptions.

Since the House Education and Labor Committee is busy with school construction proposals and says it has made no plans for minimum wage hearings, interest has centered around the Senate where unions are pressing for legislation along the lines of bills introduced by Sens. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.) and James E. Murray (D-Mont). The Senate also has a proposal by H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) which would set the 90-cent rate backed by the Administration and bills by Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) and Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.) to fix the minimum at $1 an hour.

The Lehman measure, co-sponsored by five other senators, would hike the minimum to the $1.25 desired by labor and extend the law to cover 33 million workers. Major provisions of the Murray bill are similar.

Top leaders of both the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations testified in favor of the Lehman and Murray bills. Congressional Quarterly has told that the unions have a unified strategy. Organized labor is using its biggest guns in the campaign.

Pacing the labor effort are the Joint Minimum Wage Committee and the Citizens' Committee on a Fair Labor Standards Act. The Joint Committee, formed last December, is composed of two AFL and two CIO clothing workers unions. Operating from headquarters in a Washington hotel room, it is pushing for resolutions from city governments and state legislatures favoring a higher minimum wage.

The Citizens' Committee was formed in mid-April to help coordinate activities of consumer and civic groups. One of its projects is stimulating interest among governors and mayors. The committees are backstopped by the AFL and CIO, although most of their members are paid well above the present minimum, and a spokesman said that "we must all move together on the wage front if we are to sustain gains in our individual bargaining areas."

Allied with labor are some farm groups. Unions have endorsed high farm price supports and count on farm groups which favor high supports for aid on minimum wage legislation.

A variety of interests, most of them business, oppose a higher minimum. Among these are industrialists who want to preserve wage differentials and exemptions. Retail, farm and other interests whose workers are now exempt argue, in part, that "wage-fixing" tends to lead to other government controls.

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce say that market competition should be relied on to increase wage rates. They maintain that a higher minimum would lead to "disemployment" of many workers and higher prices to consumers. Similar points are being made by Committee for Constitutional Government and groups which regard a higher minimum as "uneconomic."

While farmers favoring high price supports are teaming with labor on the wage issue, some farm lobbies, such as the American Farm Bureau Federation, are working to block an increase and retain exemptions for farm and food-processing workers.

Active in the front opposing labor are the American Retail Federation and the National Retail Dry Goods Association. Says Roland Jones, president of ARF: "The retail industry is far better prepared than it was in 1949 when this issue was fought to a successful conclusion. The aggregate of strength and influence is impressive. It is possible that construction of an integrated organizational setup at state and local levels has won the battle before it starts."

Although labor leaders regard this prediction as overoptimistic, they concede they are in for "another battle royal."

Conformity Talk Confusing to Many

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK —Two years ago, if anyone said "conformity!" most people would wonder what he was talking about because in this country there is no rigid conformity except among teen-age girls who must do as their class at school does even if it gives them a tail like a horse.

Some propagandists got to using the word, conformity, and made a sin of it. After all, in some ways of life we all conform to patterns. We wear clothes which are fairly uniform, and advertising has taught us to eat the same breakfasts, although I, the conservative, eat neither eggs nor cereals, preferring meat or fish to start the day. We, most of us, stop at a red light and go when it is green. We pay our taxes, which we hate, and grumble almost in unison.

But what these, who most violently object to conformity, resent vehemently is the cultivation of a national ideal of life, namely, our people accepting the same concepts or being oppressed or coerced into believing them.

AND YET, MOST OF us do conform about generalities or we should have an anarchy. Most Americans believe that there is a God, a divine intelligence, although they can get into the fiercest kinds of arguments as to what He is and how He is to be worshipped. The fundamental remains, however.

And nearly all of us believe that ours is a good country, to which we try to be loyal according to our lights. Again there are vast and annoying differences of opinion as to how one can be most effectively loyal to his country — but the need for loyalty is not denied, and traitors are despised as unworthy and indecent.

Then most of us believe in the family and we should like to see our own preserved through life from beginning to the end. We do not, some of us, succeed in that, perhaps through selfishness or inflexibility or just plain cussedness. But the worst offenders speak well of the family although they have made a mess of their own.

We, in this country, are becoming somewhat confused about our economics because we live in a kind of mixed socialist-capitalist system. Two wars and a great depression have made our economy to go into by-ways. Nevertheless, most of us believe in good old-fashioned capitalism, if we could get a try at it again. However, we should not like to give up any of the benefits that came to us from give-aways, that is, when we get something for nothing.

So we argue over the economy and some are for this and some for that but on the whole, it is the details we quarrel about, not the general principles. The Marxists and Keynesians and similar theorists have made smaller headway in this country than might have been expected seeing how much effort has gone into their propaganda.

MOST AMERICANS BELIEVE that their constitution is a great instrument of government, particularly as it protects our liberties. But we are, in this land, lawyers of various stages of amateurishness and each one of us knows exactly what the government should do, the Congress pass on, and the Supreme Court decide. That is why we are a free people. And let no one silence the citizen who wishes to air his views, as long as he keeps himself a free man. In the end, good-sense generally prevails although it sometimes takes a long time to show good sense.

What then is all this outcry against "conformity"? It would seem that a minority of folks want most of us to conform to their notions. They raised a storm about "book-burning" but they use foul means to kill books in the market place; they raise an outcry against informers for the government, but they form committees to inform each other about whom they love and hate. In other words, instead of accepting the majority as the norm, they want a particular minority opinion to be the norm. And they raise the cry of "conformity!" much as a pickpocket shouts, "Stop thief!"

Well, it is all in a lifetime and if one lives long enough, the protest against a pattern in one decade becomes the pattern of the next, as Benjamin Franklin would say if he saw his fellow-publishers in 1955 in long trousers.

Puerto Rican President Gets Cooperation of Ike, McKay

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, first Puerto Rican ever elected governor of Puerto Rico, and the best governor the island has ever known, was conferring with President Eisenhower regarding various Caribbean problems. Among other things he doesn't want too high a minimum wage fixed for Puerto Rico and pointed out that the present average wage in the island—58 cents an hour—is higher than the minimum wage in England, France and Italy.

He also urged President Eisenhower to help set up a Caribbean commission including every British, Dutch and French possession in the Caribbean as well as Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, in order to secure better cultural and economic cooperation in that area.

The President was sympathetic to both ideas. During the conference they got to talking about the Puerto Rican nationalists who had attempted to assassinate President Truman and had shot several congressmen.

"I was driving through New York," remarked the President, "when a friend pointed out a building which he said was the headquarters of the Puerto Rican nationalists."

"That must have been the jail," replied Gov. Munoz, "because all I know are in jail."

"I don't see why they should want to shoot me," continued Eisenhower jokingly. "I have announced that I was for independence of Puerto Rico wants independence. You're the man they should shoot, not me."

"They've already tried," replied the governor, a little ruefully, doubtless having in mind the occasion when the nationalists stormed his home about a year ago.

Note—Gov. Munoz Marin is getting excellent cooperation from both President Eisenhower and Sec. of the Interior McKay in handling Puerto Rican problems.

Behind Formosa Switch Here's the inside story of how the State Department issued a statement one day that the USA would not discuss a cease-fire with Red China without Chiang Kai-shek; then three days later said we would discuss a cease-fire without Chiang Kai-shek.

This was not a minor snafu perpetrated by a minor State Department official. Nor was it entirely the fault of Herbert Hoover Jr., the Undersecretary of State who originated the first statement. He phoned a copy to Gettysburg, talked to the President about an hour on the phone.

Later, two things happened. First, Sen. George of Georgia got a tremendous ovation when he told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that we should talk to the Red Chinese about peace no matter what the circumstances. White House staff members, always sensitive to public opinion, were present. Impressed by the ovation, they reported it to Ike.

Second, the State Department received a four-page confidential cablegram from Premier Mohammed Ali of Pakistan, who visited this country last year, is a good friend of the U.S.A.

All vs. Nehru At the Bandung conference, Red China's tough-talking Premier Chou En-lai had two conferences with the two rival leaders of what was once British India, now are Pakistan and India.

According to the secret cable reports of U. S. diplomats, Chou's talk with idealistic Premier Nehru was a flop. Nehru tried to be the peacemaker of Asia, but got cold-shouldered.

Though Nehru wanted the Red Chinese leader to guarantee the neutrality of all non-Communist Viet Nam, Chou would guarantee only the small and unimportant states of Laos and Cambodia, Improvement of the habit at this time he will gradually lose much of his desire for mouth movements.

Advice on Health

Let Young Baby Suck His Thumb

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A very young baby has a strong desire to suck things. He will readily suck a bottle, his fingers, his hand or just about anything that comes near his mouth. He moves his hands about, aimlessly, and doesn't have the power to select one particular finger to pop into his mouth.

By the time he is seven to ten months old, his skill has increased so that he is able to place his thumb or a particular set of fingers in his mouth. Your young baby, you see, gets great satisfaction out of mouth movements.

Leave Him Alone Because it gives him pleasure, ordinarily you shouldn't try to break him of the habit at this time. As your youngster grows older, he will gradually lose much of his desire for mouth movements.

He finds other things to interest him, such as playing with his feet and hands.

Little by little, the world grows more interesting for him as he sees more and hears more. Gradually he may lose his thumb-sucking habit if you keep him well-fed and occupied, although about half of the children still suck their thumbs or fingers occasionally at the age of four.

Can Cause Deformities

Thumb-sucking can cause deformities such as buck teeth. But you probably don't have to worry if your youngster has stopped sucking his thumb by the time he is six. Most of them do, by this time. Even if your baby's upper teeth and jaw do stick out a little as a result of prolonged sucking, the deformity usually will disappear soon after he stops.

Beyond the age of six, though, thumb-sucking for hours on end might cause permanent buck teeth. You've got to determine why your child wants to suck his thumb before you can do much about it.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. R.: I am sixteen years old and cannot take vitamin C. Can this vitamin be absorbed by the system in any other way?

Answer: Vitamin C is present in many foods, particularly the citrus fruits and a number of vegetables. It is also available in the form of tablets. You should consult with your physician concerning the best method to obtain the vitamin C you require.

Red Chinese Push Luck Just So Far

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Red Chinese, by design or necessity, have played it pretty cute since the Korean War. It's almost as if a public relations man had told them: "Don't push your luck. Next time don't just jump into war. Give yourself time to see what American public opinion is. That may let you know how far you can go, and what you can get, without war."

Chances Are You Won't Die Laughing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are worried about your health, here is a consoling thought—you probably won't die laughing.

Laughter never has been a leading cause of death in any civilized country, and the danger of it knocking you off in this country is diminishing every year.

"We're a sober lot and getting soberer," said Charles Morton, a thoughtful humorist who never lets the foibles of a confused world disturb his own wry good cheer.

"It is becoming more difficult for us to laugh at ourselves. Everybody's terribly cautious. They're afraid of offending someone. As the money stakes get higher and our enterprises larger, everything seems to become desperately serious."

"This is too bad. There is enough that is upside down in this world to warrant anybody having a good big belly laugh."

Deft Humor Writer

Morton, associate editor of the Atlantic Monthly, is one of the few remaining masters of the light article, a deft humor form brightened by such predecessors as Stephen Leacock and Robert Benchley. After surviving the feminine indignation aroused by his book on "How to Protect Yourself Against Women and Other Vicissitudes," Morton has come out with a new and equally funny guidebook to current "stuffed-shirtisms" called, "A Slight Sense of Outrage."

"Among other things Morton is outraged by the Y-necked men's pajamas ('men with their collars off look like picked chickens') and writers who describe bananas as 'the elongated yellow fruit' and billiard balls as 'the numbered spheroids.'"

He has a theory on how a sense of humor develops and how a humorist differs from normal people.

"Assuming a child is ordinarily intelligent and has a sense of proportion," he said, "he tends to believe what grownups tell him. He realizes they are older and have lived longer."

Finds It's Baloney

"But at some point he discovers that an enormous amount of what they have told him is baloney—poor moonshine and that they don't know what they are talking about."

"This seems amusing to him and excites his sense of comedy because it is funny to see people actually believing the ridiculous things they say. It also seems funny for him to reflect they had him believing this guff, too."

"Thus humor is an awakening, a discovery. But, unfortunately if he is normal, in time this sense of comedy evaporates. He no longer is excited or amused by the crazy things people do or say. He himself becomes one of the older people who say and do things that are manifestly absurd."

"The wheel has turned full circle. But there are a few people who never get over it, who never grow up. Thus it could be interpreted that a light writer is a case of arrested development."

Morton lit up a cigar and cheerfully admitted that he was in no hurry to grow up himself.

In an age of speed everything comes and goes faster. The lightning wisecrack and the one-line cartoon gag now characterize the nation's comedy. The leisurely light humorous essay is slowly dwindling.

"There are few markets left for it," said Morton, who says he wouldn't advise any mother to try to raise her boy to be a light writer.

"She couldn't do it anyway," he added. "No one who writes a good piece knows exactly how or why he was able to. All he knows is that it warms him in a strange way."

Alfalfa developed in the eastern Mediterranean, went to Italy in the 1st century A.D., was taken from Spain to America in the 16th century but was practically unknown in the United States until the middle of the 19th century.

Labor Leaders Against 'Own Political Party'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Organized labor—15 million strong—is going deeper into politics, but the high command is strongly opposed to a political labor party such as that in Great Britain.

Labor's top chiefs say that after the coming merger of the AFL and CIO, unions will remain an independent political force. But they concede that Democratic candidates are far more likely to benefit from labor's political action than Republicans.

Some labor leaders imply that if unions cannot achieve their goals through the two-party system, they may have to turn in another direction.

AFL President George Meany, who will head the merged AFL-CIO organization, gave these views in an interview:

"As long as I have anything to say about it, the AFL will not tie itself to any political party. I don't believe in a labor class or a labor party along class lines such as the British Labor party. I don't believe in it just as I don't think there should be a political party in this country along denominational lines. There will be increased political action by labor in 1956. But political action by organized labor doesn't mean we will tie ourselves to any party. There is talk that labor is going to join forces with the Democratic party. Well, I'm not going to tie the AFL to any party, anytime, anywhere.

"That doesn't mean, of course, that we won't support more Democrats than Republicans because that probably will be just the way it works out. The facts are that more Democrats have favorable records from our point of view than Republicans."

The merged unions will make their political drive through a single organization which will be formed with the merger of the AFL's Labor League for Political Education and the CIO's Political Action Committee.

The AFL and CIO set up these political action groups after passage in 1947 of the Taft-Hartley law, which forbids unions from taking dues money out of union treasuries and spending it in support of any candidate for federal office.

These groups accept voluntary contributions from workers, and since it is not dues money, there are no strings on spending it in direct support of any candidate.

But won't the effect of such political action actually mean drawing labor into closer working arrangements with the Democratic party, which now gets most of labor's support?

Meany replied: "I will say this. If the time should ever come when we are forced to do such a thing—tie ourselves to any party—then it will be our own party."

"We are going to try to achieve our aims on a nonpartisan basis. But if the nonpartisan effort fails, then we'll go somewhere else. We'll go where we must go. And we'll go as far down that road as it is necessary to go."

It is known that Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, and John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, both share Meany's misgivings toward a national labor party in the United States.

Thomas Kennedy, vice president

Territorial Pioneers To Meet on May 11

ST. PAUL—The Minnesota Territorial Pioneers will hold its 59th annual meeting in the House of Representatives, State Capitol, May 11, commemorating the 97th birthday of the state.

A. C. Rothmund, president, will preside at the session at 10 a.m. W. M. Anfang, member of the board of directors, will have charge of the afternoon program and reception at 1:15 p.m. Gov. Orville Freeman will speak.

of the UMW, whose views often reflect the thinking of Lewis, had this to say:

"There is no need for a labor party in the United States. The American labor movement is essentially an economic movement and if it fails to realize this and to continue to act in behalf of its own membership to win better wages and working conditions through economic action, the UMW feels that it will suffer the fate of much of the European labor movement."

Lewis reportedly thinks Meany and Reuther are going too far into politics even with their present plans for more vigorous political action.

But there are some who think labor should have its own state labor parties if not a national party. The viewpoint of this group was voiced last December in the CIO convention by Mike Quill, president of the Transport Workers of America.

To Quill's argument, Reuther replied:

"Building third parties will get no one anywhere. Every try has failed miserably, not because the motives or the reasons or the morality behind it was wrong, but because we are dealing with a structure in America that does not lend itself to the creation of third party movements."

"Basically what we are trying to do is work within the two-party system of America and bring about within that two-party system a fundamental realignment of basic political forces so that political parties can become responsible."

Meany himself believes the coming AFL-CIO merger, with the creation of a single political action department, will take labor farther away from the idea of a national labor party.

"Under unified leadership, I'm convinced we will be more successful in the course which we have followed," he said.

Hamline Alumni To Meet Tonight

Giddens will speak on "The Future of the Private Liberal Arts College," before the group representing the Winona-La Crosse area alumni. Harlen Holden, Winona, president of the Winona-La Crosse Area Hamline alumni, will preside. A sound and color movie on Hamline's educational program will be shown.

In addition to Holden, the arrangements and invitations committee for the dinner include Mrs. William B. Specht, chapter secretary; John Hynes, chapter treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harington; the Rev. and Mrs. Clare W. Karsten; Mrs. George R. Little; Dr. and Mrs. Truman W. Potter; and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Busdicker.

Stassen Claims Favoritism Try in Contract Award

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen said Tuesday a Senate investigation has disclosed an "effort to play favoritism" in awarding a foreign aid contract and he has barred those involved from another chance to bid for the work.

Stassen said the ban applies to Robert H. Pinner, the fired project engineer for the job; Pinner's friend, Alfred E. Poulsen of Los Angeles; the Agricultural Construction Co., of which Poulsen is vice president; and any firm with which either Poulsen or Pinner is connected.

Stassen, outgoing chief of the Foreign Operations Administration made his statements in testimony before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

He protested at one point that his agency has been caught "in the middle" of pressures from rival groups of Congress members interested in the project, a grain storage job in Pakistan. But he quickly said the congressional intervention was "in all instances in a proper manner. There wasn't anything wrong" with what the lawmakers did.

The subcommittee is investigating FOA's handling of negotiations for the project. The inquiry ranges around a complaint from Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) that Agricultural Construction was chosen for the job despite the fact its $2,400,000 bid was nearly a million dollars above the offers of two Kansas City firms.

Pinner last April 16 told the committee he had given "inaccurate" information in his prior sworn denials that he "leaked" helpful and confidential information about the project to guide Poulsen in his bidding.

He swore, however, that he received "no payoff" and he had done nothing improper.

Pair Pick $3,000 Worth of Tulips

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP)—The fine for picking tulips along Holland's famous Tulip Lane is $5 per flower.

At that rate Charles D. Bedinger, 20, and Dean Soyering, 20, both of Gary, Ind., would have owed the city something like $3,000.

State police found more than 600 tulips stuffed into their car when they were stopped near New Buffalo for speeding.

Municipal Judge Cornelius Vander Muelen fined them $104 each plus costs yesterday and sentenced them to 30 days in jail on a charge of malicious destruction of flowers.

Farm Boy Killed As Tractor Tips

GRACEVILLE, Minn. (AP)—A 13-year-old farm boy was killed Monday night when the tractor he was driving overturned on a country road and pinned him in a water-filled ditch.

The body of Roger Reynolds was found by his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Squire Reynolds, who operate a farm about 10 miles northwest of here. It was estimated the boy had been dead 20 minutes before his body was discovered.

Why only TCP gets the full power from High Octane Gasoline

You might expect that all you need to get the full power out of a high compression engine is high octane gasoline. Actually you need more than just high octane—you need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

That's because the way most of us drive most of the time—short trips here and there—creates a power-wasting problem that neither engine design nor highest octane gasoline can solve by themselves.

This problem is the increased build-up of certain deposits within the combustion chambers... the principal cause of power waste.

What happens is this:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time... before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for. The above statements may also apply to other companies which produce high octane gasoline if they are licensed to use TCP.

Democratic Governors Holding Own Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than a dozen Democratic governors stayed over after an administration-sponsored governors' conference today to talk over party organization and federal-state problems.

Highway and mental health legislation were high on the agenda for the first public session arranged by Democratic leaders. Discussion of 1956 campaign plans and intraparty affairs was listed for a later closed session with national committee officials. The party sessions will wind up tomorrow.

Republicans and Democrats rowed over the purpose of the Democratic meeting, coming on the heels of the two-day all-governors' briefing conference concluded yesterday.

Two Democratic governors—Averell Harriman of New York and Frank Lausche of Ohio—differed sharply over the propriety of the Democratic conference. Harriman stayed for it and Lausche didn't.

All of the nation's 27 Democratic governors were invited by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler to today's and tomorrow's sessions. Fourteen said they would stay, with three more possible.

Others said they had state business to return to or didn't reply to the invitation.

GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall issued a statement last night accusing Butler of trying to make "a political sounding board" out of the conference called by President Eisenhower.

"This is another inept blunder by Mr. Butler," Hall said. "He puts every Democrat governor on the spot."

The Democratic committee replied that it had planned the meeting of Democratic governors for several months, and decided to hold it following the White House conference to "save the governors the time and expense of making a special trip."

Hall cited a statement by Ohio Gov. Lausche saying he did not intend to help figure out "ways and means of defeating the man (Eisenhower) who has just been my host."

Asked about Lausche's stand at a news conference last night, Gov. Harriman said:

"I totally and utterly disagree with Lausche. We are here as governors, not as guests of the President of the United States. I am grateful for his (Eisenhower) calling the meeting as it gave me an opportunity to meet with my Democratic associates. Other than that, I don't know what I got out of the (briefing) meetings, except Secretary Hobby who presented the polio vaccine situation in a very interesting way."

Represented at the conference on strengthening the SEATO area are Australia, Britain, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand, the Philippines and the United States.

Steps to counter Red subversion and infiltration have been high on the agenda.

Nehru to Visit Russia in June

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru plans to leave Bombay June 5 for his long-projected visit to the Soviet Union and other East European nations, a government spokesman said today.

Disclosing the first definite dates for the trip, the spokesman said Nehru would arrive in Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 6. On June 7 he will fly to Moscow for a two-week stay.

The spokesman said the balance of the Prime Minister's itinerary, including visits to Poland and anti-Soviet Communist Yugoslavia, had not yet been settled.

Envoy Predicts Formosa Will Be Price of Peace

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Nationalist China's ambassador predicted today that Red China would insist in any direct talks that the United States clear out of Formosa as the price of peace in that embattled area.

The ambassador, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, said in a speech prepared for the Foreign Policy Assn. that the Communists "are not ready yet to wage war with the free world" either in Asia or Europe.

"But the Formosa area presents the greatest danger to peace," he said.

He said the Communists would not risk war or "a deadly defeat" as long as it is made clear that Nationalist China will defend the offshore islands of Matsu and Quemoy "at all cost."

Greek City Rocked By 40 Aftershocks

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Press reports from Volos said today the quake-stricken city was shaken by 40 aftershocks, described as fairly strong, during the past 24 hours. More houses have collapsed and the population was reported panicky.

The reports said a total of nine persons have died in quakes which started April 19. The Defense Ministry announced that only 4,895 houses remain intact of a total 24,167 in Volos and surrounding villages and an estimated 110,000 persons were homeless.

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—"The night before the choice was announced the girls prayed," the New York physician said.

"We were told they prayed not that they would be the ones picked but that we doctors would not feel anguish at having to leave some of them home."

That is the little story behind the story of 25 Japanese girls, disfigured by the atomic bomb 10 years ago, who were selected for free plastic surgery treatment in the United States.

Dr. William M. Hitzig, who helped to make the selections, told the story as the 25 excited girls prepared for the first and most important airplane trip of their lives. The girls, all in their 20s, leave tomorrow.

They may face up to a dozen operations, and be gone a year. Yet all are filled with hope and are in unbelievably good spirits, said Hitzig.

Polio Vaccine Of Live Virus Seen In Future

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A Cincinnati scientist looks forward to long-lasting immunization against polio through the use of vaccine containing live virus.

Dr. Albert E. Sabin, who conducted experiments in which live-virus vaccine was swallowed by 30 volunteer reformatory prisoners, told the Association of American Physicians yesterday it might be a long time before a workable vaccine of that type can be achieved.

In his report to the association, Sabin said the prisoners who received the vaccine containing live polio strains developed virus-blocking antibodies.

The news came on the heels of the success of the Salk antipolio vaccine, which used a killed germ and must be injected.

Dr. Hart Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which financed Dr. Sabin's work, said it is still too early to determine effectiveness of the new vaccine.

Thus, he said, there could be no comparison of the Salk and Sabin vaccines.

Acerola juice, newest source of vitamin C, has been teamed with apple juice and packed in small cans in a line of baby foods. Other juices packed for baby — pineapple juice, tomato and pear — will soon be enriched with the vitamin C rich acerola juice.

Actress Wins Million Dollars, Divorce, Jewels

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—As a prelude to her departure for Spain for a movie, actress Linda Christian divorced Tyrone Power yesterday and obtained a million-dollar property settlement from him, then beat efforts of a New York jewelry firm to cause her arrest.

Van Cleef and Arpels, the jewelers, asked for Miss Christian's detention on the representation that she has steadfastly refused to disclose the whereabouts of $132,500 worth of jewels the firm sold to Robert H. Schlesinger, of Milwaukee.

The concern says Schlesinger has refused to pay for the gems and Miss Christian says Schlesinger gave them to her, that they are hers, unequivocally, and that she gave no consideration to Schlesinger and did not promise to marry him.

Housing Authority Checking Mowers; OK 2 Resolutions

Members of the Housing & Redevelopment Authority of Winona were scheduled to inspect lawn mowers today after opening bids Tuesday for 33 hand mowers and a rotary power mower.

The commissioners discussed the bids submitted at length during the meeting before deciding to ask the five Winona firms who submitted bids on the hand mowers to bring mowers to the Arthur C. Thurley Homes for inspection.

Further action also was scheduled today on consideration of the six bids submitted for a 21-inch self-powered mower.

Two resolutions were passed by the authority. One provides that the authority's general depository will be transferred from the Merchants National Bank, which has had the funds about three years, to the Winona National & Savings Bank. Sixty days' notice is required.

The commissioners agreed that the funds should be switched among the three banks on a three-year cycle, returning to the First National Bank (original depository) in 1958.

The other resolution will ask the City Council to designate Highway Service Drive as a one-way no-parking alley. As a dedicated street, Highway Service Drive is city property, and would require Council action for enforcement of the regulation.

Executive Director Arthur A. Gallen explained that the drive, between West Wabasha street and Kraemer drive connecting Pelzer street and Druey court, is too narrow to permit parking as on other streets at the site and that service vehicles have found difficulty in parking there in the past. He also said it would be advisable to have the street clear in case of use by emergency vehicles. There is a small parking lot at either end of the drive.

Layer sliced strawberries, diced fresh pineapple and spoons of vanilla ice cream in parfait glasses for a delicious dessert.

Overexpanded Industry Just So Much Talk

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—All that talk about American industry being overexpanded—is it outdated already?

Some top industrialists are saying so and calling for further increases in the capacity of mills and factories to keep in step with the increased consumer demand they foresee.

Just one year ago it was fashionable in some circles to say that the great postwar spurt of building new plants and buying new equipment had given the United States a production capacity well in excess of current civilian consumer demand.

It would be quite some time, they said, before civilian demand—if unsupported by an additional huge defense production—would catch up.

But now plans for future expansion are being announced by the corporate leaders in many industries. The basic industry steel is a good example.

Between 1950 and 1954 it increased its capacity by one fourth. Last year industry leaders were saying that present capacity of 124,800,000 tons a year should be enough for at least five years more.

This week the nation's steel mills are set to turn out 2,328,000 tons, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute. This would top the record set in March 1953.

And today at least five of the top men in the industry are on record as saying another round of building more mills and upgrading old equipment must be started.

The reason: The steady increase in the nation's population and—more importantly—the increase in the standard of living. Steelmen believe Americans will be buying more cars, more appliances, building more offices, stores and homes, more bridges, schools and highways.

Benjamin F. Fairless, in his swan song as he steps down from the chairmanship of the board of U. S. Steel, says his company to keep in step must add more than one million tons of new capacity each year.

Eugene G. Grace, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest producer, says his company should add eight million tons of capacity in the next 10 years.

Voters Elect Mayor Who Wasn't Candidate

BOONEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Carl Bovender wasn't running for anything. He just kinda was standing around and the first thing he knew he was elected mayor of Booneville.

It seems that no one filed for the office. What with Carl being a familiar figure around Booneville, the voters took things in their own hands. Bovender got 73 write-in votes. He had served as mayor three years ago and he's going into office again—whether he really wants to or not.

Capehart Stays Neutral in GOP Hoosier Dispute

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart maintained a neutral position today in a sizzling exchange between two other Indiana Republicans, Sen. Jenner and Gov. George N. Craig.

Craig brought with him to a governors' conference the Hoosier GOP dispute, saying in a statement that Jenner had engaged in "neurotic" criticism of the foreign policies of President Eisenhower.

Jenner promptly fired back with a statement referring to Craig as "a monkey."

Capehart, a candidate for reelection to the Senate next year with the promised support of both Jenner and Craig, carefully read the statements and then said:

"I have absolutely no comment."

Craig, a former national commander of the American Legion and a strong supporter of Eisenhower, won election to a four-year term as governor in 1952 by a margin wider than that by which Jenner won Senate reelection.

A year ago the governor claimed victory over the combined forces of Jenner and Capehart in a struggle for control of the Indiana Republican State Committee.

World's Largest Flag Readied for Its Day

DETROIT (AP)—The world's largest flag is ready for its annual appearance on Flag Day, June 14.

The huge flag weighs three quarters of a ton and measures 235 by 105 feet, roughly half the size of a football field. The J. L. Hudson Co. department store had it made for once-a-year display on the front of its 14-story downtown store.

London Bus Strikers Going Back to Work

LONDON (AP)—Communist-sparked bus strikers who disrupted London's surface transport system today began returning to work after the morning rush hour.

Nearly half the city's 30,000 bus drivers and conductors walked out in the wildest stoppage over work schedules. But as the morning wore on, many went back to their jobs.

The stoppage flared as another unofficial walkout in coal mines around Doncaster halted the flow of coal from that Yorkshire region—Britain's largest coal producing area. More than 44,000 miners were off their jobs in a piecework pay dispute. The London strike left nearly 3,000 of the city's 5,744 double-decker buses without crews. Of the sprawling capital's 293 routes, 136 were without any service at all. On 38 others only a few of the scheduled starting runs were made.

By 11 a.m., however, almost half the force had reported.

New York Authorities Hunting 'Mad Bomber'

NEW YORK (AP)—Authorities pressed a hunt today for a "mad bomber" believed to have planted about a dozen crude bombs found in various parts of the city in the past two years.

Additional detectives have been assigned to railroad stations, bus terminals and large theaters.

The police order last night followed the discovery on Monday of a crude cylinder bomb in Radio City Music Hall.

Summer Workers Appointed at Blair

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—City councilmen discussed installation and maintenance of lights at the ball park, hiring of a park custodian and recreational director and new tables at the park, when they met Monday evening.

Melvin Hjerleid was engaged to install and maintain lights at the park. Arthur Stenkaugen will be park custodian. Darrell Slette was hired as recreational director for the summer with a salary of $225 a month.

The council also voted to buy 10 new tables for the park. An additional manhole will be installed on Main street.

Building permits were granted to James R. Davis, Everett Berg, Clarence Hanson and Richard Benson for new homes.

The council passed a motion that hereafter owners whose dogs are found running at large in the city will be subject to a fine of $5.

Lloyd Johnson was re-appointed city weed commissioner.

The ordinance committee was directed to a meet with the city attorney regarding revision of some ordinances. A report will be made at the next meeting.

Retail liquor licenses and fermented malt beverage licenses were granted to Clarence Schultz, Archie Kocum, Harry Stay, Alvin Berg, Orvin Stay and Elland and Gunderson.

Smoking Car Scares Record-Happy Town

ELLINWOOD, Kan. (AP)—This town of 3,000 has gone five months without a fire alarm and the volunteer firemen are trying to stretch the streak.

Harry Gaughan, motor car dealer and fireman, displayed the right spirit the other day.

He traded for an old car, which began to smoke as he drove it toward his shop. Instead of heading for the fire station, he aimed for the city limits, hoping to get the car out of town before it burst into flames.

Then he learned the motor was just overheated.

PEPPY NINE 4-H
PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special)—Paulette Ball won a blanket donated in a competition by the Peppy Nine 4-H Club Monday at the Charles Kruger home. The group made plans for participation in Dairy Day here June 9 and annual 4-H achievement day. The club probably will enter a float in the dairy parade and members will enter individual demonstrations in the latter.

Principals in Viet Nam Control Battle Described

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

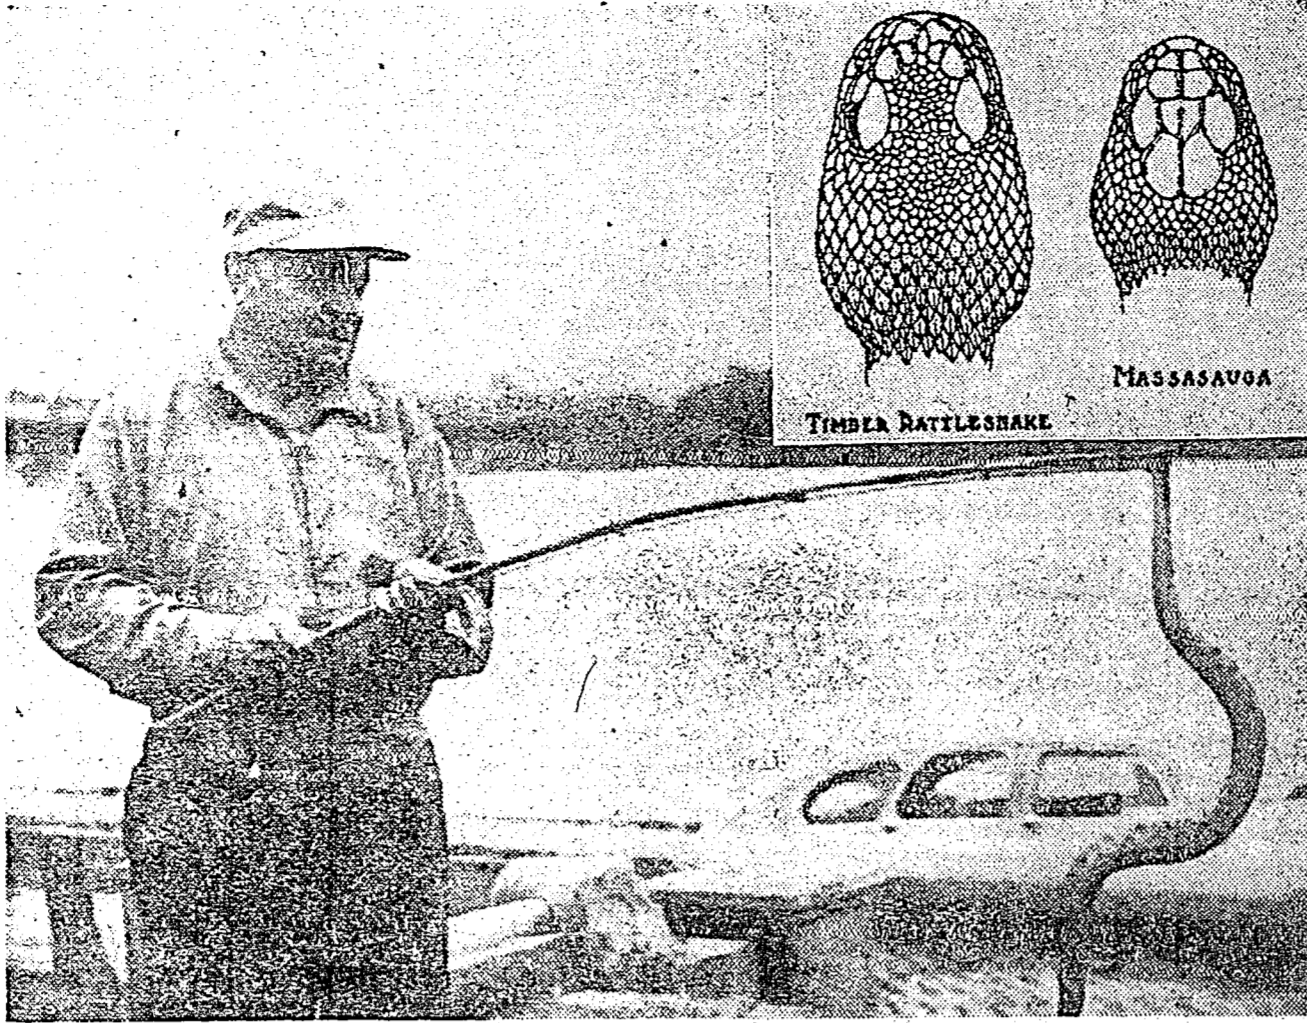

Protagonists in the military and political battle to control South Viet Nam range from a playboy ex-emperor to an American general turned diplomat. Here are thumbnail sketches of the principals:

Bao-Dai—The 42-year-old ex-emperor of Annam is South Viet Nam's chief of state. His future is dim in view of demands in Saigon that he be ousted. At his French Riviera villa he has been trying to ride out the storm. He took off for France April 10, 1954, when the Dien Bien Phu crisis started, and hasn't been back since. A Buddhist married to a Catholic and father of six children. Loves yachting, fishing, gambling and French life on a sumptuous scale.

Ngo Dinh Diem—The embattled Premier of free South Viet Nam is 54, industrious, stubborn and determined to pull his country from the chaos in which the Indochina war left it. A Roman Catholic who refused to become premier under the Japanese or serve with Moscov-trained Vietnamese leader. Ho Chi Minh, he has traveled much abroad. Deferred politely to Bao Dai until chief of state tried to pull rug from under him in present fight to a finish with Binh Xuyen society's private racketeer army. A bachelor, Diem leans heavily on four brothers for assistance.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins—former U.S. Army chief of staff, he has to make as fast decisions in the quicksand of Saigon politics as ever he did in fighting on Guadalcanal, where he won the nickname of "Lightning Joe." Sent by President Eisenhower as special envoy to Viet Nam last summer, after Indochina war ended. The general, just turned 59, is apparently sold

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Rattlesnake Roundup

The annual rattlesnake roundup of the members of Snake Pit No. 1, Milwaukee unit in the national rattlesnake hunters organization, consisting of 135 members, will be held in the Fountain City-Galesville-Trempealeau area on Sunday, according to a notice received from Thomas P. Wilson, president, 2708 West Ryan Road, Milwaukee.

Shown above is a typical rattlesnake hunter with his standard equipment—a pole with a hook on the end. Snakes are usually kept alive and put in sacks when captured. There is a market for live ones, plus a bounty.

Two species of rattlers are common in this area, especially in the bluff areas along the Mississippi River and its tributaries. There is the larger timber rattler found at this time of year along the bluffsides, and the smaller swamp rattler or massasauga found in the swamps of this area. Construction crews found this latter species abundant in the Black River area two years ago when Highway 93 was built. The drawing insert shows differences in the heads of the two snakes—a simple way of identification.

Snake hunters assembling for the roundup Sunday will meet at 10 a.m. at the Trempealeau Hotel where the party will be divided into hunting units each in charge of a "roundup foreman." All members are to bring forked sticks or sticks with hook and a sack. Hunters are to wear boots and carry no firearms. All guides and leaders will have a first aid kit. Every one is welcome including photographers.

Snakes are to be taken alive, according to Wilson. The best specimens will go to zoos and to snake farms including the one at Baraboo, Wis. Ted Redding will be roundup foreman.

Fishing Reactions

Most of the trout fishermen with whom we have talked since the opening have been pretty silent about the 10 a.m. opening. They realize, of course, that it was promoted locally by the trout fishermen's groups and they want to be loyal to their organizations.

However, after we open up the subject and express our sentiment violently against it, they become quite agreeable. In fact, we have not been able to start an argument. As Warden Willis Kruger, Wabasha County, puts it, 95 per cent of the fishermen he talked with have been against the late opening and sincerely hope the attorney general finds it unconstitutional—an invasion of the rights of an individual.

A check over the territory, including talks with wardens, fishermen and restaurant and tavern operators, made it rather clear that there was no reduction of trout fishing as a result of the opening. There certainly were as many on the streams as on any other recent opening day. Kruger said there were more than any day since he has been a warden. That's 17 years.

Entries in the various contests over the area may indicate that it saved large trout. This again could be due to the low and clear condition of the creeks. It certainly did not save the fish planted this spring or last fall. They were carried away by the creelfish.

However, this is probably true. It did give more fishermen equal opportunity. The late sleepers had plenty of time to get to Duschek Creek or any other heavy-stocked spot for the opening. Farmers generally Saturday were too busy in the fields to go fishing anyway. And it opened on their day off—Sunday—one hour before sunrise.

HARMONY, Minn.—A former Harmony man is directing the campaign of the newest Youngdahl to enter Minnesota politics. Howard Haugerud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Haugerud, Harmony, has been named to head the campaign of Kent B. Youngdahl, 28, in the Minneapolis council race. Youngdahl is the son of Dean Benjamin Youngdahl, director of public welfare under Floyd B. Olson and nephew of former governor Luther Youngdahl. on Diem as a leader and has been a big factor in keeping U.S. support squarely behind him. Gen. Paul Ely—French high commissioner and commander in chief in Indochina. Born in Salonika, Greece, fought in French infantry in World War I and seriously wounded in World War II. Head of the French mission to NATO standing group in Washington 1949-51, succeeded U.S. Gen. Omar Bradley as group's chairman 1951-53. Ely, 58, was French chief of staff when Dien Bien Phu fell and was sent to Indochina to replace Gen. Henri E. Navarre there. Gen. Le Van Vy—The 39-year-old parachute trooper was named inspector general of Vietnamese army by Diem last December in compromise decision on high command. He had been acting chief of staff and was the original U.S. and French choice for chief. But Diem argued that Vy, as a French citizen, was vulnerable to extreme nationalist and Communist propaganda. Split between him and Diem has widened as crisis grew. Bao Dai relived Diem of military powers last Thursday in midst of current shooting war with Binh Xuyen, conferring them on Vy. Vy proclaimed himself "supreme power" Sunday, but the army put up with him for only a few hours, then switched back to Diem. Vy fled to Delat, the summer capital. Gen. Le Van Ty—Older than Vy, named chief of staff when latter was made inspector general. Went along with Vy in opposing U.S.-backed slash of Vietnamese army from 220,000 to 100,000 in next year or two. But when Bao Dai tried to replace him with Vy as army commander, Ty played big part in keeping army behind Diem. Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh—A French citizen with a French wife, he was chief of staff during part of the Indochina war. Split last fall with Defense Ministry, then with Diem over plans for army. Refused Diem's order to take "leave" in France last September, enabling Bao Dai that Diem's government was weak and needed replacing. Diem-Hinh feud threatened to blow up government, ended finally with Hinh's departure for France. In current battle between government and Binh Xuyen, Bao Dai ordered Hinh to fly back to Viet Nam for "report" on situation. He may have carried secret orders to oust Diem and set up new government. Landed Monday in Cambodia. Gen. Le Van Vien—Commander of Binh Xuyen's private army and Viet Nam's security police chief until recently fired by Diem. High post with Binh Xuyen gave him control of Saigon's lucrative gambling houses. Struggle with Diem over security police and integration of private sect armies into national forces led to present shooting. His forces touched off battle by opening mortar fire on Diem's palace March 30.

5 BASIC REASONS FOR PONTIAC'S RECORD-BREAKING SALES

1. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR
EQUALLING ITS 200 HORSEPOWER

If you delight in flashing performance, here's all the reason you need to join the record-breaking thousands who are swinging to Pontiac. The 200 horsepower delivered by the economical Strato-Streak V-8 with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at extra cost, is the highest power ever delivered by a car at Pontiac's price—higher than that of cars costing considerably more. For thrift and thrills it's Pontiac all the way!

2. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR
EQUALLING ITS LONG WHEELBASE

Model for model, Pontiac has a longer wheelbase than any car at its price, or any car delivering 200 horsepower... 122" or 124", depending on the Pontiac you select. That's size where it really counts—and it's important because a long wheelbase is the reason for Pontiac's smooth, road-leveling ride and the roomy comfort of Pontiac's large, luxurious Body by Fisher—advantages that put Pontiac on a level with far costlier cars for sheer riding pleasure.

3. PONTIAC COSTS LESS THAN ANY CAR
EQUALLING ITS LUXURY-CAR STABILITY

The big, husky Pontiac with rugged X-member frame gives you the safe, solid feel at cruising speeds that motorists have formerly paid high prices to enjoy. And it links this road-holding comfort with ease of control like that of costly sports cars. You travel in superlative comfort in a Pontiac for the lowest price ever placed on such big-car stability.

4. PONTIAC'S DISTINCTIVE BEAUTY IS MATCHED AT ANY PRICE

Tear Gas Ends Man's Holdout To Keep Wife

BETHEL, Vt. (AP)—A barrage of tear gas has ended the holdout of gun-toting Justice of the Peace Manuel Miller, 47, who stood off federal and state authorities for 12 hours yesterday in a futile attempt to keep his wife out of a mental hospital.

Miller and his wife, Lucille, 44, parents of three children, surrendered last night in their gas-filled home—she to face confinement in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D.C.; he to face as yet undetermined federal charges.

The mild-mannered Miller, a school committeeman and former selectman, began the siege at 10 a.m. EST, when he refused admittance to U.S. Marshal Dewey H. Perry bearing a federal order for Mrs. Miller's commitment.

Mrs. Miller, publisher of a mimeographed anti-Communist leaflet called The Green Mountain Rifleman, was adjudged insane in Federal Court at Burlington April 18 as the outgrowth of an indictment charging her with influencing young men to evade the draft.

Throughout the day, Miller, armed with a rifle, defied all efforts by authorities to remove his wife from their two-story frame home. He ordered out Vermont Public Safety Commissioner William H. Baumann at gunpoint.

After 12 hours siege authorities fired tear gas shells through downstairs windows of the Miller home. Ten minutes later, the couple appeared at an upstairs window.

Miller crawled through the window onto a porch roof.

"All right, fellows," he called. He threw his rifle to the ground.

State troopers swarmed on the roof and handcuffed him.

Mrs. Miller collapsed across the window sill, overcome by gas, and was taken unconscious from the roof.

After doctors revived her on the lawn she smiled at her husband. He smiled back.

Mrs. Miller was taken to Rutland Hospital where Dr. L. Crawford Russell said she had suffered no ill effects from the gas barrage.

Miller was taken to Windsor County Jail. U.S. Marshal Perry said charges probably would be lodged against him.

Two hours after the siege began, the Miller children, David, 11, and the twins, Helen and Josephine, 10, came home from school, ate lunch and went back.

When school was through for the day, however, authorities sent the youngsters to nearby private homes, where they remained for the night.

Big Three Attacked For Diplomatic Slight

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Minister of State Anwar el Sadat attacked the Western Big Three today for not sending their ambassadors to greet Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser on his return from the Asian-African conference.

Writing in the semi-official morning paper Gumburriya, El Sadat said the United States, Britain and France had violated "rules of diplomatic courtesy" because their envoys had not been at the airport Monday.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said the lack of American representation had "no political significance."

"I would also like to point out we were not invited," he added.

National Hospital Week Proclaimed

Observance of National Hospital Week May 8-14 by Winona citizens has been called for by Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer in a proclamation.

The mayor, noting the week's theme of "Your Hospital—A Tradition of Service," asked residents to note the "humanitarian service of hospitals throughout the world" and the birthday of Florence Nightingale, famous nurse, May 12.

Winona General Hospital, said Administrator Earl W. Hagberg, will hold open house from 1:30 to 5 p.m. May 15. Tours will be available during those hours.

The day also will mark the grand opening of the refreshment bar on the first floor and the Winona Rehabilitation Center on the sixth floor, Hagberg said.

Principal sponsor of the open house is the Winona General Hospital Women's Auxiliary, composed of representatives of 48 women's organizations.

Members of the medical staff, the hospital board of directors and the auxiliary board and their husbands or wives will hold a joint dinner Monday at the Winona Country Club.

Federal Check On Salk Polio Vaccine Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said today he favors "some federal supervision" over distribution of the Salk polio vaccine.

Martin thus joined a growing number of House members and senators in both political parties advocating temporary controls. Their goal is to assure that while supplies are still scarce, the vaccine goes first to children in the 5 to 9 age group, which is most susceptible to polio.

Most of the plans call for younger children to get the next priority. Several bills also would control prices of the vaccine.

The Eisenhower administration has favored trying voluntary methods first.

Martin said he had no recommendations, but thought a House committee "should look into" the matter of controls.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House Banking Committee, which handles controls legislation, said he hoped to be able to starting hearings by Friday.

Chairman Priest (D-Tenn) of the House Commerce Committee, which handles general health matters, cautioned against too hasty action. He said his committee is watching the situation very closely but we haven't yet reached the point where we think legislative action is required or desirable at the present time.

Governors agreed at an administration-sponsored meeting yesterday to name a committee to work with the government on distribution problems. Some of them said they got no clear picture from Secretary of Welfare Hobby as to what is planned.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name Infrarub. The price of Infrarub is only 98¢ for a large tube. Infrarub is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

House May Go Along With Ike On Army Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Appropriations subcommittee has rejected a move aimed at avoiding a planned cut of 75,000 in Army strength during the coming fiscal year.

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) disclosed today he had failed in an effort to get the subcommittee to add about 750 million dollars to funds for the Army during the year starting July 1. He told newsmen he would try again tomorrow when the full Appropriations Committee meets to consider a multibillion-dollar bill to finance the armed services.

If necessary, he said, he will carry his fight to the House floor. The administration's defense policy—based on greater reliance on air power and new weapons—contemplates scaling down all of the armed services except the Air Force. Plans call for the Army to be down to 1,102,000 men by June 30, 1956.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, has opposed the Army cut, contending atomic

Mill City Plasterers End Two-Day Strike

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Some 300 Minneapolis plasterers were back on the job today, ending a two-day strike by accepting a contract that will expire April 30, 1957.

The settlement provides a 10-cent an hour employer-paid contribution to a health and welfare fund, effective immediately; a 5-cent raise to the present scale of $3 an hour, effective Oct. 1; a 10-cent employer-paid contribution to a vacation fund effective May 1, 1956, and a second 5-cent raise on the hourly scale Oct. 1, 1956.

DFL to Pick New National Committeeman

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A successor to Byron Allen as Democratic national committeeman will be selected when the DFL central committee meets here Saturday. Allen, Detroit Lakes, Monday became state agriculture commissioner.

Among possible successors mentioned were Gerald Heaney, Duluth, and William Carlson, St. Paul.

Age warfare calls for more, rather than fewer, fighting men.

Flood paralleled Ridgway's argument in saying "I cannot agree that atomic warfare presupposes the need for fewer ground troops."

Power Line Wiring Contract Goes to Firm at Crosby

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior McKay announced today that Hallett Construction Co., Crosby, Minn., will be awarded a $1,127,942 contract for wiring the first section of a Reclamation Bureau power line in South Dakota and Minnesota.

The contract covers about 130 miles of the Big Bend-Huron-Watertown portion of a 230 kilovolt double circuit transmission line to run from Big Bend, S.D., to Granite Falls, Minn.

Hallett will install the first circuit of electric conductors and overhead ground wires.

Bureau engineers had estimated the cost at $1,088,250. McKay said a contract would be let next spring for completion of conductor stringing from Watertown to Granite Falls as an erection of steel towers on that segment is not to be completed until the summer of 1956.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily did not quite know what to make of what Mr. Tom Cat had mewed at him when the rabbit gentleman's raft reached the island.

"You said, I think," spoke Mr. Longears politely, "that Queen Florabell, of Pussycat Island, is having a lot of trouble blowing up balloons. Did you say that, Mr. Tom?"

"Yes, I did, Uncle Wiggily," mewed the big cat in reply. "And I said that you and your friends aboard your raft have come to our island just in time. Perhaps you can help Queen Florabell blow up the balloons."

"But why does Queen Florabell want to blow up balloons?" asked the rabbit gentleman. He and Mr. Tom Cat were talking off by themselves, while Bosun was busy making the raft fast to the island.

"Why does your queen want to blow up balloons, Mr. Tom. What sort of balloons are they?"

"Oh, just toy balloons, such as you see at a fair or a circus, tied to strings," answered Mr. Tom. "Just toy balloons. But Queen Florabell is having a lot of trouble with them."

"Why does she want to blow up balloons?" asked the puzzled rabbit uncle.

"Queen Florabell is giving a party tomorrow for the little kitties on our island," explained Mr. Tom. "She wants to present each little pussy boy or girl at her party with a blown up balloon. Children love balloons, you know, Uncle Wiggily."

"Yes, I know, Mr. Tom. But why is Queen Florabell having trouble blowing up her party balloons? Is it because she had no wind—I mean no breath with which to blow up the balloons?"

"Oh, bless your pink, twinkling nose, Uncle Wiggily. It isn't that," explained Mr. Tom. "Queen Florabell has plenty of breath. It's her teeth that make the trouble."

"Do you mean that Queen Florabell has a toothache, Mr. Tom?"

"Oh, bless your ears, Uncle Wiggily! No, it isn't that."

"Well, then, Mr. Tom, what is it?"

"You see, Uncle Wiggily, we cats have very sharp teeth," explained Mr. Tom. "And when Queen Florabell puts a balloon to her mouth to blow it up, full of air, her sharp teeth make holes in the balloon and it cannot be blown up! That's why our queen is in such trouble. And there is not much time left to blow up a thousand or more balloons for the party tomorrow."

"But why does Queen Florabell try to blow up the balloons herself?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "Why can't she let some of her palace cats help her?"

"Oh, bless your pink nose again, Uncle Wiggily!" mewed Mr. Tom. "That would never do. The queen prides herself on blowing up every balloon herself, in person or perhaps I should say in cat-some. That's the trouble. Besides, if she let the other cats try to blow up the balloons, there would be the same sort of trouble. All the cats have sharp teeth and they would puncture the balloons as fast as they blew them up, just as Queen Florabell does. But perhaps you can find a way, Mr. Longears."

"What did the queen do last year when she gave the balloon party?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, bless your left hind leg!" mewed Mr. Tom. "Queen Florabell didn't give the children balloons at her party last year. She gave each boy or girl pussy a double lollipop. And lollipops don't need blowing up, so there was no trouble. Now can you help Queen Florabell, Uncle Wiggily?"

The balloons must all be blown up by dark tonight."

"I will try to think of something to help Queen Florabell," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Yes, Bosun, what is it?" asked the rabbit uncle for the jolly old sea dog was standing at attention, waiting until Mr. Longears had finished talking to Mr. Tom Cat. "What is it, Bosun?"

"Avast and belay, Cap'n Wiggily, sir!" barked the old sea dog. "I just want to report that your raft is made fast to Pussycat Island and you and the others may go ashore when you please."

"Good, Bosun! But here is Mr. Tom Cat. He says Queen Florabell is having trouble blowing up the party balloons!" Uncle Wiggily told about the cat queen's trouble.

"Shiver my jet plane, Cap'n Wiggily, sir!" barked Bosun. "This should be easy! I can blow up those balloons for the queen, or she can do it herself if she insists."

"How, Bosun! Tell Mr. Tom and me how it can be done?"

"Avast and belay, Cap'n Wiggily, sir, with the air in the spare!" barked Bosun. What he meant was he told in tomorrow's story if the clock doesn't fall off the mantle and bend its face backward so it can't look at its hands.

10 U.S. Veterans Still Seek Funds For Moscow Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten American veterans today still were seeking funds for a trip to Moscow for a reunion with the Soviet soldiers they met at the Elbe River during World War II.

The 10 were stranded here yesterday after it turned out they hadn't sufficient funds to reach Paris. Transportation from Paris to Moscow was assured them by the Soviet government.

The Moscow reunion, part of the Soviet celebration of the 10th anniversary of victory over Nazi Germany, is set for May 9. The Americans were invited by the Soviet government.

Joseph Polowsky, of Chicago, head of the group, appealed for funds. He said he is determined to make the trip, even if the others cannot.

The group canceled reservations on a Trans-World Airlines flight last night after it became apparent they hadn't enough money.

"We thought we had a commitment for the money but it didn't materialize," Polowsky said.

Chemicals Trap Man Trying to Extort $10,000

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Glenn Colgan, 26, who said he needed the money because he was sick and out of work, admitted yesterday trying to extort $10,000, police reported.

He was trapped by chemicals which had been placed on a dummy package, Chief of Police James Purcell said. These chemicals glow under a special light. Colgan admitted the extortion attempt when his hands glowed in the test, Purcell said.

Purcell quoted him as saying he telephoned the offices of Fred Meyer, Inc., a grocery and variety chain, Monday threatening that one of the stores would be bombed unless $10,000 was left in a package at a suburban street intersection.

A package filled with cut paper was left as directed. Somehow Colgan managed to pick it up and get through a line of police who had surrounded the area, Purcell reported. Colgan, fearing one of the police had seen him at the scene, walked into the police station yesterday, hoping he could explain away his presence in the area, Purcell said. He quoted Colgan as saying his car had run out of gas.

But after six hours of questioning, Colgan broke down and admitted he had telephoned the extortion demand, picked up the package and burned the contents when he found it was only paper, Purcell said.

Minneapolis Man Hit by Car Dies

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — George Chase, 63, Minneapolis, died Tuesday night of injuries suffered when hit by a car at a city intersection. His death increased the 1953 Minnesota traffic toll to 155, compared with 202 at this time last year.

The disabilities of old age not complicated by the consequences of disease or infection are rare in human beings.

Senate Begins Voting Today on New Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (U) — The Senate begins voting today on President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill with its sponsors confident they can beat any crippling amendments. Final passage was expected by tonight.

Eisenhower has called the bill one of the most vital in his 1953 program and has said enlightened trade policies among free world nations can be the key to peace. Nevertheless, it met considerable opposition in Congress because of fears that any new tariff concessions would seriously harm certain American industries.

The bill would extend the 21-year-old reciprocal trade law three more years, and give the chief executive new authority to cut tariffs another 15 per cent in exchange for trade concessions from other nations.

It passed the House after several narrow escapes on roll calls. In the Senate, the Finance Committee worked eight weeks and finally came up with a version which appears to have averted an expected close floor fight.

The committee's version preserves the key features of the President's bill. It also gives the President some added authority to curb imports of specific products if he decides they might affect national security.

Careful creel counts show that less than 10 per cent of all anglers catch practically all trout taken.

Army Cracks Down On Naughty Corner

TOKYO (U) — The Army has cracked down on the naughty, noted street corner known as 4th and Y.

The downtown Tokyo corner is a respected business street by day, a lighted entertainment area by night, and in the wee hours a hangout for hundreds of prostitutes.

The Army this week posted white signs saying, "U.S. personnel not permitted to loiter in this area."

Each guest will receive a printed booklet, written by Adamo, on "What America and Freedom Has Meant to Me."

It tells the story of an Italian boy who grew up on a farm in the province of Catanzaro, where beauty abounded but where opportunity was strictly limited.

At 17, when he was working as a bricklayer's assistant at 4 cents a day, Adamo persuaded a cousin in Pittsburgh to advance him the boat fare to the United States. He landed in this country May 4, 1905, and obtained his first job in Pittsburgh, working on the city streets at $1 a day.

During the next 10 years he worked as a foundry worker and dishwasher in Pittsburgh, a miner in West Virginia, a day laborer, railroad section hand and janitor in Denver. He became a U. S. citizen in 1913.

Detroit Worker Giving Party for The United States

DETROIT (U)—Alfred P. Adamo is giving a party today in honor of his friend of 50 years standing—the United States of America.

Adamo, 67, has invited 300 friends to join him in celebrating the 50th anniversary of the day he arrived in this country as a penniless Italian immigrant.

Each guest will receive a printed booklet, written by Adamo, on "What America and Freedom Has Meant to Me."

Truant's Bullet Kills Boy Walking Home From School

DALLAS (U) — Tommy Rendon Jr., 9, was walking home from school in an area of west Dallas where outlaws Sam Bass and Clyde Barrow roamed in other generations.

A rifle bullet kicked up dust in front of little Tommy.

A second shot sent him pitching backward. Doctors said he died instantly, a .22 slug through his heart.

Officers who investigated yesterday spied a second-story window screen ajar about two inches. In the apartment they found a 12-year-old truant with a rifle. At the police station he said he played hooky from school and watched a television show. Firing of the TV, he searched out a rifle he had been forbidden to touch and loaded it.

He fired out the window at a utility pole, he told police, and later saw Tommy, whom he didn't know, walking across a nearby field. He said he decided to frighten the younger boy by firing as close to him as possible. He said he didn't intend to hit him.

Police turned him over to juvenile authorities. Tommy's funeral was to be planned today.

Woman Files Suit For 'Atomic Injuries'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (U)—A $75,000 suit on file today charges that the Atomic Energy Commission's 1953 atomic tests subjected Mrs. Martha Sheahan to radioactivity which caused a cancer to grow on her face.

Mrs. Sheahan and her husband Daniel previously filed a suit seeking $450,000 from the government and charging that their home at the Groom mine, 25 miles from Yucca Flat, had been made uninhabitable by radiation and Air Force bombs.

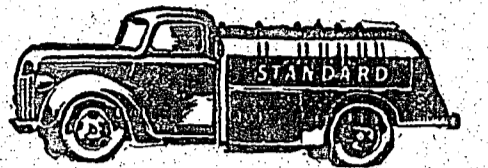

The Groom mine is located at the borders of the Nevada Air Force gunnery range. Since the 1953 AEC tests the Sheahans have moved to Las Vegas.

Well it's hot here but it hasn't reached the 90-degree heat of last December. Don't get excited. I'm not referring to 90 degrees above in Winona but in South Australia where a peak of about 18 years of Mrs. Helen Lindsay, former Winonan, resides. Mrs. Lindsay who is now with her daughter Barbara and the latter's family at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, New York state, writes, "and is it good to see a river again. (She has been just outside Washington, D. C., until recently.) The Hudson and Palisades are no more beautiful than Winona bluffs and the Mississippi."

It was 18 years ago when Mrs. Lindsay started collecting Minnesota pre-cancels, and through an effort made to acquire a Bird Island cancellation, became acquainted with Mrs. Almyra Veronica Edith Smith. Some interesting letters have come to Mrs. Lindsay who relates that once she called her by her first name, but receiving no response on this, went back to plain Mrs. Smith. The letter she received telling of the December hot spell, however, has finally reached the first-name stage.

Mrs. Smith writes, "Just now the garden is looking very pretty with a bright show of flowers (February). Along the borders, petunias are mixed with asters and phlox. In the side beds, with dahlias at the back are perennials, asters, phlox and petunias. In a corner is a hibiscus. And all through the hottest weather, it has been one mass of vivid flowers. And mentioning hot weather—from Christmas week until two weeks back, we have been having the hottest weather and most uncomfortable weather I can ever remember, with the temperature ranging all the time between 90 degrees and the century. The humidity was the highest ever recorded."

"Our houses here are not air conditioned so we have found it best to keep the house closed tightly—all windows and screens and doors, and the blinds right down. Then we had the fan on to keep the air moving. I think I drank more liquid in one day than I drink normally in a week, and the main items of diet were salads and fruits right off the ice. The folks who had to go to business, wore as little as permissible, but at home I went around wearing socks and undergarments."

"Over in the eastern states the rivers have been flooding and there is a sad aftermath with thousands of homes destroyed and about 80 people drowned. The loss of crops and stock is terrific too. It is just a year since we had a very terrifying earthquake here, the first in 50 years. It happened at half past three in the morning, and I was home alone, and awake at the time. There was a gentle rumble which I thought was from some heavy traffic coming on the road. Then the grinding, rolling and shrieking grew louder and louder and my bed began sliding, and the plaster from the ceiling dropped in fine pieces. I switched my bed lamp on and it went out soon after. So I just lay and shivered—thought I'd better die in bed if I was going to. When it subsided, I went outside, and all the population of the street was there too. We were all too alarmed to go back to bed so talked until the sun came up at 4. Now we can joke about it and luckily no lives were lost, only eight properties and mainly building damages."

"I am sitting in the garden. —It is too nice to be indoors today. I have noticed high in the sky the birds flying north which means their migration has begun and so is the end of our summer. In a week or two, we will see the glorious colors of autumn forming, and after three months, it will be winter again."

Mrs. Smith writes that she has taken over the juvenile section of the International Friendship League (pen friends). She continues, "I went into with many ideas. After having special forms printed I circulated them all over the world, to schools, colleges—Results were amazing—From U.S.A. I have had hundreds of requests, from Canada, too. From Finland in the far north to Falkland Islands in the far South. Since I began, more than 5,000 children have received pen friends."

She concludes, "It is now nearly 18 years since we first began corresponding, and I have never called you by your Christian name. Now I have ventured, and I do wish and hope you will call me by mine. If Almyra is too awful, call me Jane as many of my friends do. Across the ocean I send kindest thoughts and many good wishes from your friend 'down under.'"

Addiction to Food Is Like Alcoholism

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The sudden recognition that overeating can be as much of an addiction as overdrinking has jolted overweights into doing an about-face in their attitude toward food. Letters from honest and courageous reducers cited this recognition as their reason for taking action. An alerted reducer writes:

"I read that obesity is like alcoholism. I always thought I was the type of person to do things moderately — I boasted about not going too far in any way. The thought that food to an obese person is like liquor to an alcoholic really scared me. Then and there that article convinced me of the need to diet. Two months ago I wore size 16, and that was straining the seams. Today I wear size 14 with ease."

Again the same reason is given in this letter from Ohio: "Reading the current 'I'll Cry Tomorrow,' by Lillian Roth, brought me to the realization that I crave and am as addicted to food as an alcoholic is to alcohol. I am no longer pampering myself since reading this very stirring book. With new insight and less food, the excess pounds dissolve away."

The following poignant letter is from a reader who recognizes the problem, but desperately needs moral support:

"I eat like some people drink. There seems to be a compulsion to do what I know I shouldn't do. I hate myself when I'm gorging, and I know exactly what I am doing when I overeat — but can't seem to stop myself. My heart is enlarged and it is imperative that I re-educate my appetite and learn new food habits. That is easier said than done. I really don't know why I'm boring a stranger with all this — but I think what I want is a little moral support and perhaps a good swift kick in the corn science!"

Let's analyze these three letters... With the first two overweights, an awareness was sufficient to alert them into prompt action. To activate, an awareness must provide insight into the cause back of the compulsion.

The writer of the third letter should seek someone with whom she can talk her problem through, so as to free her from the anxiety which keeps her from taking action. Truly wanting to lose the burden of fat, our overweight may come upon the clue to the cause. If professional counsel is not to be had, she can seek help by joining a reducing club — or starting one herself, if necessary.

The results obtained in reducing clubs are heartening. When all club members talk out their problems, each gains new insight. And the collective moral support of club members can turn the feeling of defeat into confidence and success.

Send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet Slimming Clubs. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Winona Daily News. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Brash Pirates Provide Surprises

By WILL GRIMSLEY
The Associated Press

Branch Rickey's Pittsburgh "Pirates" are now the "Nuts Kids" of the National League.

While the haughty New York Giants and Milwaukee Braves are trying to maintain complete calm in the face of continuing reverses, the bearded Pirates are kicking up sand all over the place. They have won three games in a row, and four of the last five. They're playing as if they really believe in Rickey's "five-year plan," which had 1955 fixed as the date for the pennant.

Of course, nobody seriously expects a pennant from Pittsburgh this soon. But they can expect surprises. The Pirates are young and brash—and winning.

Last night, a 29-year-old Baltimore castoff, Dick Littlefield, shut out the Milwaukee Braves on seven hits, 4-0, stretching the Braves' string of scoreless innings to 22. The Braves dropped seven full games back of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers and their only comfort was that the champion New York Giants were still another full game farther back.

The Giants were whitewashed by the Chicago Cubs' Bob Rush, who fashioned a tidy four-hitter. Bob Speake and Dee Fondy, with three triples between them, battered the Giants' ace Jim Hearn. The score was 6-0.

In the only other National League game, big Ted Kuszewski hit two of Cincinnati's home runs to down the Philadelphia Phil-ladelphia 7-5. In the American League, the Cleveland Indians whipped the New York Yankees 7-4 in their first head-to-head clash of the season. The Indians thus managed to hold their slender half-game league lead over the pressing Detroit Tigers, who topped the Boston Red Sox 4-2 on a two-run homer by the 20-year-old rookie sensation Al Kaline.

Billy Hoelt won his third straight for the Tigers. The Kansas City Athletics beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 on a three-run homer by Bill Wilson in the eighth inning. The Chicago White Sox trimmed the Washington Senators 5-1.

Littlefield gave the Pirates their third straight top-flight pitching performance in beating the Braves. Ronnie Kline and young Bob Purkey did a similar workmanlike job on the St. Louis Cardinals earlier this week. There's not a player in the regular Pittsburgh lineup who has reached 30 years old.

Bob Rush kept the Cubs on Brooklyn's neck, but 5½ games back in second place, with a masterful pitching performance. Don Mueller, with a double and a single, and Monte Irvin, with two singles, were the only Giants to hit him and Mueller was the only one to get as far as second—with his double in the ninth.

Catcher Yogi Berra proved the "goat" of the Yankees loss to Cleveland. With the score tied 4-4 as the result of homers by Cleveland's Al Smith and Ralph Kiner and the Yanks' Mickey Mantle, Yogi muffed a throw-in which led to three unearned runs. Mike Garcia was the winning pitcher, Ed Lopat the loser.

At Kansas City, Wilson's three-run homer in the eighth saddled Irv Palica, Baltimore right-hander, with his third defeat.

Winhawks Blast Owatonna, 13-5

OWATONNA, Minn. —The Winona High Winhawks had to go an extra inning to beat Owatonna here Tuesday in their Big Nine Conference opener, but once the Hawks found the range in the eighth inning, they poured across eight runs for a 13-5 victory.

Winona High's win set the stage for Thursday afternoon's game at Jefferson Field against Austin and ace pitcher Gary Underhill. Chuck Wally, who pitched four innings Tuesday and was credited with the win, will start for the Hawks against Austin.

A combination of four hits, an error and two walks helped the Hawks to their eighth-inning feat in the eighth inning. Bill Heise had two hits, a sacrifice bunt that went for a single and a bases-loaded double, during the uprising. Wally and Bob Prudohel also collected singles.

Prudohel tied the game up in the seventh and sent it into an extra inning when he drilled a homer to deep left field with two out. Winona scored twice in the first when Jim Ives and Prudohel gained base on an error and walk, respectively, stole second and third and came in on Bill Hostetler's single.

Winona got two more runs in the third for a 4-0 lead. Owatonna countered with one in the fourth and four in the fifth for a 5-4 lead. Three of the runs were charged to Naas. Wally relieved him with men on second and third and none out in the fifth.

Winona pilfered seven bases in the game, running its string of steals to 19 in the last two games. Naas and Wally limited Owatonna to four hits, but five Winona errors were costly. The Hawks, meanwhile, got nine hits. Heise went three-for-four, Prudohel two-for-four and Earl Buswell two-for-four.

Elgin and Kellogg continued undefeated Tuesday in Little Five Conference baseball and set the stage for Friday's game at Elgin to determine the league lead.

Elgin, held to one hit in a game at Peterson, won 2-0 by scoring both runs on three Peterson errors in the fourth inning.

Behrens and Thompson both struck out 17 batters.

Kellogg nipped Eyota 4-3 as Don Peters struck out 14 and walked two although being touched for seven hits, three by Eyota pitcher Tom Smith who had a triple. Vern Burke had a single and double for Eyota.

Charleston Nips Miller Win String

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Omaha slapped Indianapolis, 9-2, behind the five-hit pitching of Willard Schmidt and forged into the American Association lead as all other first division clubs suffered one-run setbacks Tuesday night.

The Cardinals took first by 17 percentage points over Minneapolis whose nine-game win streak died in the 10th inning at Charleston, 7-6.

St. Paul used Bert Hamric's two-run homer in the eighth to dump Toledo, 4-3, and Denver won its first game in eight meetings with Louisville, 4-3.

Schmidt struck out nine Indianapolis batters in notching his second straight mound decision over the defending champions. The Omaha ace now has 42 strikeouts in as many innings, tops in the league. He checked the Indians on only two hits until the ninth. They tallied their lone runs then on doubles by Rudy Regalado, Rocky Colavito and Joe Caffie.

Charleston's winning run was scored without a hit in the 10th as the Senators cut short a Minneapolis win string that began April 25 with the Millers in seventh place.

The Senators' Bobby Winkles walked to open the inning and advanced on a sacrifice. After pinch hitter Ron Nix was intentionally allowed, shortstop Ed Broussard dropped an easy pop fly by Fred Richards and Winkles scampered home.

Minneapolis drew into a 6-all tie in the eighth on Gail Harris' second homer of the game and his eighth of the campaign. Gipper Dickson added another four-master for the Millers, and Charleston collected on Bill Antonnelli's two-run blast in the fourth.

The Carlisle Laurie Sloum was tapped for nine hits in the six frames he worked while giving up no walks and striking out 10.

Five Minnesota hurlers gave up a collective four safeties as the Gophers trounced Carleton in a non-conference night game at the Minneapolis Larue Stadium.

Derby Saturday To Be Richest In 81 Years

8 Sure Starters, 2 Probables Set To Run for Roses

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —The field for Saturday's running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby today stood at eight definite and two probable starters after Flying Fury's thrilling but unimpressive victory in the Derby Trial.

On the definite list, as they have been all week, are Nashua, Summer Tan, Swamps, Racing Fool, Flying Fury, Jean's Joe, Blue Lem and Honey Alibi. The two probables are Nabesna and Trim Destiny.

Should all 10 start, the race will gross $152,500 with the winner taking down a net of $108,400. Thanks to an increase of $25,000 in added money by Churchill Downs, the race is the richest in its 81 years.

Post time is 4:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. From 4:15 to 4:45 the race will be carried on 212 radio and 163 television stations.

There was no telling in the result of the Trial yesterday to jar any of the followers of Nashua and Summer Tan.

Pari-mutuel officials predicted the big boy from William Woodward's Belair stud will open at 4 to 5 and possibly go off at even shorter odds. Nashua picked up additional supporters, both among horsemen and laymen, yesterday when he stepped a mile in 1 minute 37.6 seconds and worked out the full Derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2 minutes 5.6 seconds. The Derby record of 2:01.4 is held by Whirlaway. It was set in 1931.

Summer Tan, carrying the hopes of Mrs. John W. Galbreath, of Galway, Ohio, was quoted at 2 to 1 with Rex Ellsworth's Swaps, choice of the West, third in line at 6 to 1.

One needs only to look at Flying Fury's time in the trial to see that neither he nor any of those in back of him figure to menace the favorites. Flying Fury was clocked in 1:38 as he beat the Mureain Stable's Jean's Joe by a nose. That time was two fifths of a second slower than Nashua worked.

DENNIS THE MENACE

LAFF-A-DAY

"WHO'S been rearranging the desks in this office?"

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

1. SHOULD PARENTS EVER TELL A CHILD THEY WON'T LOVE HIM IF HE MISBEHAVES? YES ☐ NO ☐ 5-4

2. SHOULD EVERY COMMUNITY FIND AND PUBLISH WHAT ITS HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ARE DOING? YES ☐ NO ☐ 5-4

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Never, says Dr. Blaine Porter, child specialist, in "Bookhouse for Children." It makes the child feel they won't feed or clothe him or even keep him with them. If they say they will spank him, he can fight back; but if he feels they won't love him, he is helpless and frightened. It destroys his feelings of security. Never bargain with a child for good behavior, says Dr. Blaine. Applause here!

What most important talent inures success?

GETTING ALONG WITH PEOPLE. Dr. Wiggum's non-profit booklet shows how your personality type and seven basic emotions affect this vital faculty. Send 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggum in care of this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Yes. As related in Rotary Magazine, Prosser, a town in Washington State, located all the graduates of their high school. On a large map of the U.S., they drew lines to each graduate, labeled the map "The Reach of Prosser," and placed it in a store window. Citizens were proud to find their school had graduates in every state and several in Canada. Prosser is a tiny place, but its graduates influence communities all over the nation. So with your community. Reach out to your boys and girls.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Doubtful. A New York research organization gave a word association test to a hundred people. In this test the psychologist speaks a word, and you answer instantly with the first word that pops into your head. They found that when they used meaningless, made-up words—loppla, elpe, gleef, etc.—people were reminded of some sensible word. Maybe people got some sense from my lectures after all.

THE GRAB BAG

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. What country is thought to have been first to domesticate the cat?
2. What was the maiden name of President William Howard Taft's wife?
3. What is the highest mountain peak in New York state?
4. Can you name our first secretary of the Navy?
5. Where is the United States Coast Guard academy situated?

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. Egypt or the East.
2. Helen Herron.
3. Mount Marcy in Essex County, elevation 5,344 feet.
4. Benjamin Stoddert of Maryland, appointed by John Adams.
5. New London, Conn.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

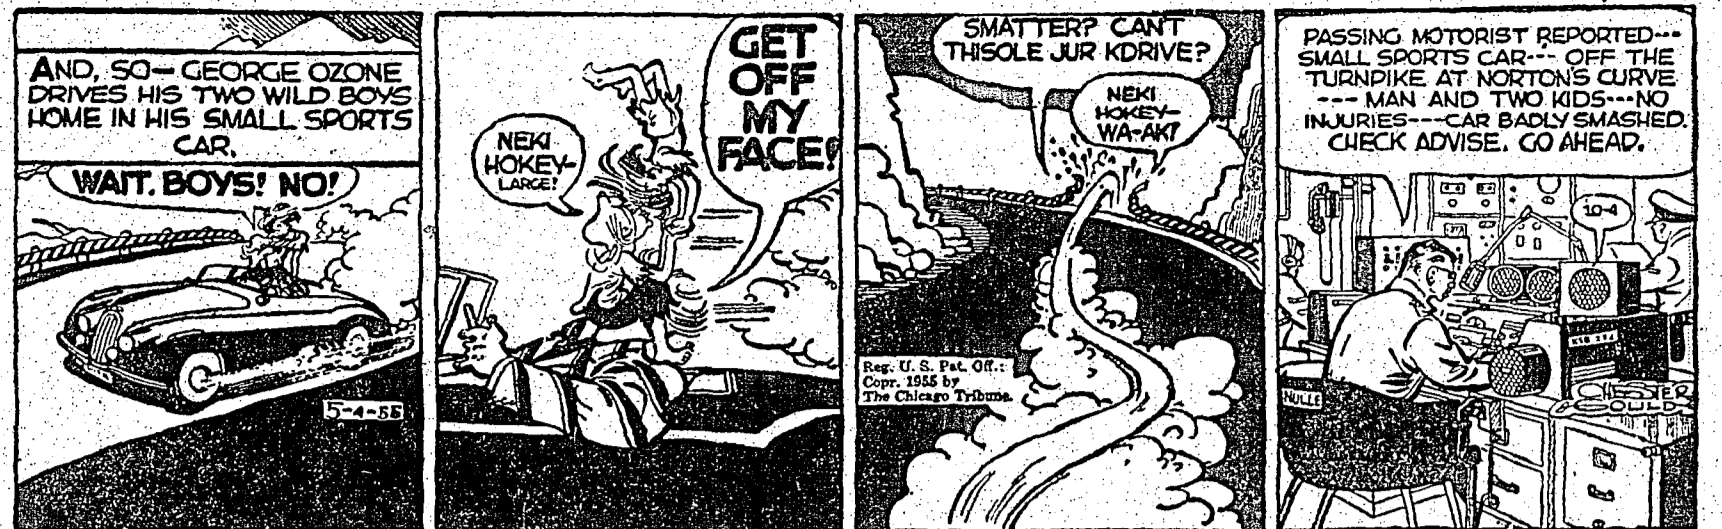

Tax payments are over, but the melody lingers on. And it might be a good thing that May flowers follow the April tax showers, otherwise household tempers would still be hostile.
"Well—if you donated five bucks to the cub scouts, where's the receipt?"
"Listen, dear—the Commissioner of Internal Revenue doesn't give doodly-darn whether you made an okra casserole or baked beans for the church dinner. Show me the receipt!"
This kind of question does nothing to promote peace on the hearthstone, and might even have repercussions abroad. It is a sensitive area, and somehow I think the bureau should rule on whether or not okra is deductible.

During the year, mamma is usually the exchequer of the household monies, such as they be. Some little fund-raiser aged 10 nunging the bell takes a dollar or two for his cause, next week it's another few cents or maybe dollars for another benefit, charity or something—and if there is a pot boiling over on the stove, the phone ringing and the baby howling, does mother dash first to a well-organized filing system and carefully enter disbursements for tax purposes?
She does, like fun!
"All right," says she, around 10 p.m. of the tax deadline. "I distinctly remember that little Johnny next door came by and collected $4.36 for needy children and the reason I remember it so well is that he was wearing one of those trench coats like I wanted to get our Tim, and not only that it was the day you forgot to leave the grocery money and I only had $4.36 to my name and—"
But father is adamant. Deductions for charity gotta be backed up in bold print, signed "received for such and such"—that's what the tax instructions say in plain

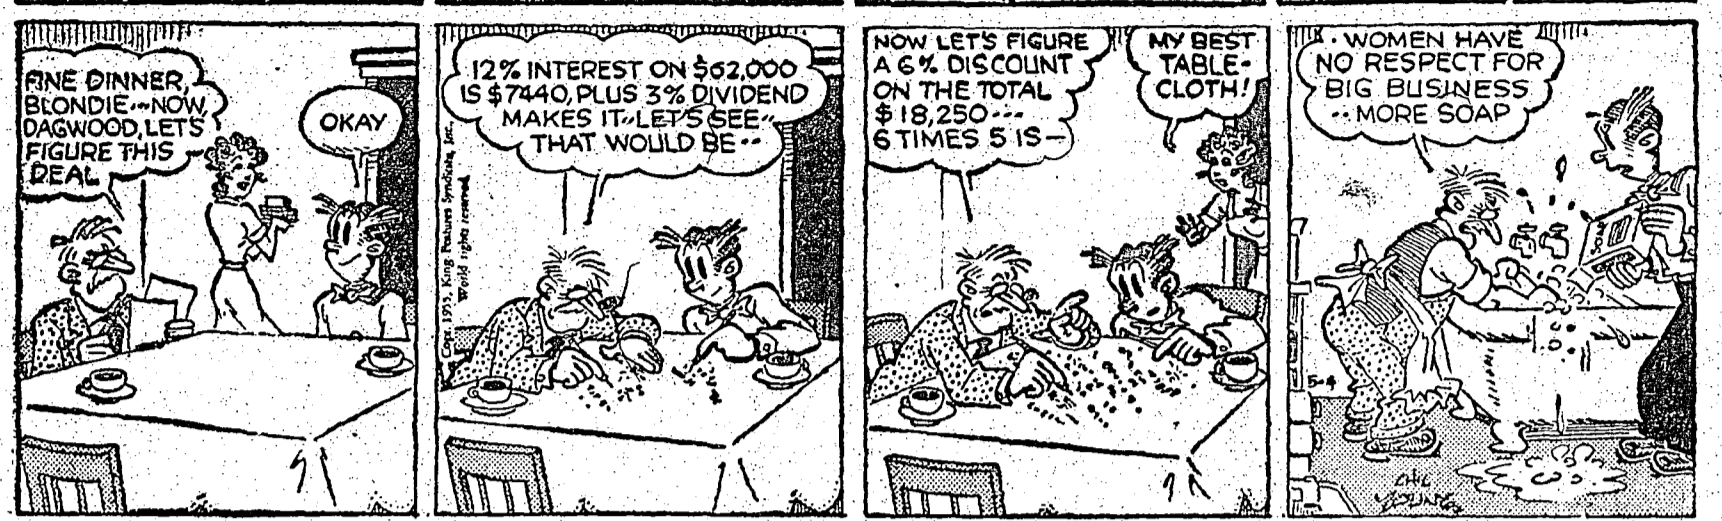

Mountain Lion Seen Near Iowa Highway

LE MARS, Iowa (AP)—A mountain lion was reported sighted along Highway 75 about 3 miles north of here Tuesday.
Sioux County Sheriff Harry Dykstra said a newspaper delivery route driver for the Sioux City Journal reported seeing the lion about 2:45 a.m. Le Mars police checked the area but were unable to spot any lion.
It was the first report of a lion in this area, though lions have been reported sighted in the Cherokee area, about 35 miles east of here, and in the Correctionville area, about 35 miles southeast.
One study indicates that a cow will eat 125 pounds of grass a day in pasture where the grass is five inches high but only 45 pounds where it is three inches high.
