Ike Set to Test Russ Sincerity

Wolfgang Foerster, 18, was sworn into the Air Force in Milwaukee today by Maj. Gerald Schiller, as his father, Alfred, a former colonel in the German army, looked on. The father was captured by the Americans in World War II. He did not return to Germany because his home and knitting mill were in the Russian zone. (UP Telephoto)

Russia Offers New World Peace Plan

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (P)—The Soviet Union unveiled a world peace plan today calling for the immediate withdrawal of most foreign troops from both East and West Germany, big power arms cuts and a controlled ban on atomic weapons.

The plan was made public a few hours before top Soviet officials gathered in Warsaw with leaders of their seven East European allies to establish a unified NATO-type alliance under a Russian commander.

The announcement also came shortly after the delivery of Western invitations for Soviet Premier Bulganin to meet with President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure for an informal discussion of world problems. There was no immediate Soviet reaction to the invitation, but it was believed here that Bulganin would accept.

The peace plan was circulated by the Soviet's Tass news agency, which said the proposals were contained in two declarations submitted as a resolution to the U.N. subcommittee on disarmament now holding closed sessions in London. Many of its provisions were similar to previous Soviet proposals.

The bid for the evacuation of foreign troops from Germany was contained in the first declaration, an eight-point general peace plan. It called on the U.N. Assembly to declare that "a weakening of international tension can be achieved by the immediate evacuation of troops of the Big Four powers from German territory, leaving limited contingents and police forces."

The Russians said these remaining contingents should be allowed to stay "pending the conclusion of an agreement on their full withdrawal."

The second declaration, containing specific disarmament proposals, listed the following three points as necessary to "free humanity from the threat of a new destructive war":

1. Full prohibition of the use and production of nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction and the diversion of this potential energy to peaceful uses.
2. Substantial reduction of all armed forces and conventional arms.
3. Setting up of a control organ with right and authority guaranteeing effective observation by all countries of this prohibition and reduction.

2-Stage Plan.
The Soviet plan envisaged a two-stage disarmament plan, to be completed in 1957. Under it, the armed forces of the United States, Russia and Communist China would be limited to from 1 to 1½ million men each. Britain and France would be permitted to keep 650,000 men each under arms with smaller quotas for other nations.

In the first stage, the Soviets said, participating states should:

1. Stop all testing of atomic and hydrogen weapons and take a solemn pledge not to use such arms except in self-defense. An international control commission should be established to see that the ban on tests is carried out.
2. Promise not to increase their armaments in their 1956 military budgets above the level of Dec. 31, 1954. The five great powers should put into effect at once half the cuts necessary to get their armed forces down to the agreed quotas.
3. Begin the "liquidation" of any military bases they might now hold on the territory of any foreign state.

The proposal also called on the U.N. to summon a disarmament conference of all countries during the first half of 1955.

In the second phase—which the Soviets said should be carried out in 1957—the nations should:

1. Immediately stop the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons.

NATO Calls For Formosa Cease-Fire

Chiang Urged to Surrender Two Off-Shore Islands

PARIS (P)—The North Atlantic Alliance today formally called for a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait and mutual pledge to abstain from the use of force.

In a communique ending and summing up their current session the NATO council of foreign ministers declared:

"The council expressed the hope that there would be a cessation of hostilities in the Far East and no further resort to force."

They added that a continuation of hostilities "would clearly endanger the peace of the world."

Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester Pearson hinted to a news conference later that most NATO members felt the best solution for the Chinese dispute is the surrender of Quemoy and Matsu, offshore islands held by the Nationalists, in return for a collective security pledge to Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa regime.

"We have responsibilities to Formosa as a member of the United Nations," said Pearson. He declined to say whether Britain shared this view.

The NATO council formally endorsed the Western Big Three proposals for a top-level meeting with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

In its communique ending the current session, the NATO council said it "welcomed the initiative of France, the United Kingdom and the United States in proposing to the Soviet Union negotiations to find means for resolving outstanding issues."

Kohler Accuses Traffic Group

MADISON, Wis. (P)—Gov. Kohler charged today that the "dictatorial leadership" in the Wisconsin County Traffic Officers Association in opposing a bill to increase the state traffic patrol were trying to "selfishly sabotage the public interest and work against the welfare of their own members."

The governor issued a sharply worded statement after a letter sent out by Capt. Leo T. Flaherty of the Fond du Lac patrol became public. It asked the association members to oppose the bill that would increase the state patrol from its present force of 75 members to 610.

The governor said:

"The dictatorial leadership in the Wisconsin County Traffic Officers Association is engaged in a conspiracy to prevent individual county traffic officers from expressing support for an improved highway safety program in Wisconsin."

"It is disgraceful that a handful of leaders, fearful that they may not win officer rank in the state patrol, should selfishly sabotage the public interest and work against the welfare of their own members."

Boy, 3, Drowns in Lake Near Mankato

MANKATO, Minn. (P)—While playing around the shore of Lake Madison, a 3-year-old boy fell from a dock and drowned late Tuesday.

He was Richard Verne, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Graydon E. Fuller. The family had been spending a 10-day leave at the lake from Fuller's post at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Lake Madison volunteer firemen worked 40 minutes in a vain effort to revive the boy. He was pronounced dead by Dr. George McNear, Blue Earth County coroner. The lake is 12 miles northeast of Mankato.

Bishop Keeler Stricken While Visiting Rome

ROME (P)—The Rt. Rev. Stephen E. Keeler, bishop of the Minnesota Episcopal Diocese, was reported "somewhat improved" today at Rome's Salvatore Mundi International Hospital.

Bishop Keeler, who is in charge of Episcopal churches in Europe, was admitted to the hospital Monday suffering from heart strain caused by overexertion.

Dr. Giorgio Mattoli, heart specialist, said the 68-year-old churchman was extremely ill when he entered the hospital, and must remain at least two weeks to avoid complications. He suffered a collapse soon after midnight Sunday.

The bishop came here last Thursday after a conference with U. S. forces in Germany. He said he did not feel well, but went ahead with a heavy program, including a sermon and confirmation of a class on Sunday at Rome's Episcopal church, St. Paul's Within the Walls.

143 Missing in Collision Of Two Jap Ferry Boats

One Craft Sinks; Many School Children Aboard

TAKAMATSU, Japan (P)—Two big ferry boats crashed together in thick fog today, throwing 779 passengers—half of them schoolchildren—into the cold waters of Japan's inland sea.

With a gaping hole in its side, the Shiun Maru sank in only five minutes. There was panic and chaos in the mad scramble for life.

A total of 143 were listed as dead or unaccounted for.

Little hope was held for the missing. Forty-six bodies have been recovered.

Six hundred thirty-six were saved, including 51 injured.

It was Japan's worst sea disaster since last September's typhoon drowned 1,800 off Hokkaido in five sinkings. The capsizing of the huge ocean ferry Toya Maru cost 1,200 lives.

Today the 1,500-ton Shiun Maru apparently swerved in heavy fog to avoid a small fishing craft—right into the steel bows of the 1,200-ton rail car ferry Uda Maru. The car ferry ripped a great gash in the Shiun Maru's steel plates.

The Shiun Maru's passengers—300 of them schoolchildren—clawed frantically for life jackets on the reeling decks.

"I suspect about 50 of them went down with the ship, or were pulled down with it," said Maj. Robert R. Dobson, Charlotte, N.C., commanding an American Army mercy mission.

Dobson led three Army ambulance helicopters and two liaison planes to help evacuate the injured and search for the missing.

The search found no bodies, Dobson said.

Japanese planes and a swarm of small boats also searched.

The ferries collided between Takamatsu on Shikoku Island and Uno, the port of Okayama on the main island, Honshu. The Shiun Maru was 20 minutes out of Takamatsu and the Uda Maru was coming from Uno across an 11-mile arm of the island-studded inland sea.

Milwaukee Killer Sorry He Didn't Murder 2 More

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (P)—A 22-year-old youth who shot down a tavernkeeper for a thrill Tuesday night—and expressed regret when arrested that he hadn't slain the man's wife and son as well—was charged with first degree murder.

Dist. Atty. William McCauley said that he named Ronald F. Riege, a home-loving youth whose mother said he'd "never been in trouble before"—in the murder warrant and another charging armed assault and robbery.

"In keeping with our policy of speedy justice," McCauley said, "we will take him to court today and there is a chance he will be sentenced this afternoon."

Riege admitted the kill-for-a-thrill slaying and talked freely of the details, the prosecutor said.

Detective Inspector Rudolph Glaser said that Riege, an assistant foreman on the late shift at a local printing firm, was arrested about 1 a.m.—three hours after—the slaying of tavern operator 46-year-old Carl Fischer—on an anonymous tip.

Glaser said that Riege thought Fischer's wife and 19-year-old son, horrified witnesses to the shooting, had identified him as the jacketed gunman and told officers he wished he'd killed them too.

Fischer was shot down as he came toward the gunman to serve him. The gunman then demanded money, and Mrs. Fischer threw $21 on the bar, she said. He grabbed it and started for the door, but stopped and looked at Fischer moaning on the floor, then pumped two more bullets from his .38 automatic into the mortally wounded man.

President Eisenhower helped launch the American Legion Auxiliary poppy drive today as he purchased the first 1955 poppy from auxiliary president Mrs. Percy A. Lanson of Ft. Madison, Iowa, at the White House. After Mrs. Lanson pinned the poppy to his lapel, the President pressed a $5 bill into her hand. (UP Telephoto)

House Turns Back Alaska-Hawaii Bill

WASHINGTON (P)—Alaska and Hawaii—their statehood dream blasted, ironically, by 48 votes—grasped for the bottom rung of the ladder again today.

In the wake of the 218-170 vote tally by which the House yesterday sent the joint Alaska-Hawaii bill back to committee, supporters were uncertain of their future course.

Chairman Eagle (D-Calif.) of the House Insular Affairs Committee said the margin of defeat made problematical consideration of separate legislation for either or both territories.

"I'm not going to fight a windmill," he said.

Both Eagle and Rep. Saylor (R-Pa.), another leading statehood backer, attributed defeat to opposition by the leadership in both parties.

Saylor said he would recommend the committee come back with separate bills for each territory, but he conceded there might be difficulty determining priority.

On this score, Delegate Bartlett (D-Alaska) said Hawaii should be considered first to "put the administration to the test."

Bartlett was referring to President Eisenhower's repeated recommendations that statehood be conferred on Hawaii. Eisenhower has made no such recommendation for Alaska.

Delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii) said she was "encouraged" by the outcome, adding that Hawaii's best chance for statehood rests in eventual passage of a separate bill.

Hopes Big 4 Parley Eases World's Fears

Prefers Meeting Be Held in Some Neutral Country

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said today he agreed to a top-level Big Four conference in the hope of clarifying the international atmosphere and to test Russia's sincerity.

The President emphasized at a news conference there still is nothing definite as to whether there will be a meeting at the summit—that is, of Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Britain, Premier Bulganin of Russia, and Marshal Faure of France.

The Western Big Three yesterday formally invited the Soviets to a top-level conference.

In reply to a question, the President said he did not know where such a conference might be held, but added that he would prefer what he termed one of the so-called neutral countries. There had been reports from Paris that the conference would be held in Switzerland in July.

Change of Mind.
A reporter noted that in the past Eisenhower had indicated that he would prefer a meeting of the foreign ministers in advance of any conference of chiefs of state.

Asked why he had changed his mind on that and agreed to an "at-the-summit" conference first, the President replied that there now appears to be some cogent reasons for a top-level meeting.

He added that at least such a conference might permit some clarification of the air.

A bit later, the President said such a conference also would be a means of finding out whether Russia is sincere about wanting to relieve world tensions.

Eisenhower repeated what he has said before—that he is willing to go anywhere, anytime, if any good would come from the journey so far as world peace is concerned.

The President also dealt with these other topics:

STRIKES.—He expressed gratification over the end of the long Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike, and called the agreement to arbitrate the dispute a great boon to the South. He also expressed hope that there will be a quick end to the strike against the Southern Bell telephone system.

MEAD.—Eisenhower was told that House Speaker Rayburn of Texas had spoken critically of his nomination of William Kern, an Indiana Democrat, to replace former New York Sen. James Mead, also a Democrat, on the Federal Trade Commission. A newsman quoted Rayburn as saying the matter

Lady Astor Led British Women To Parliament

LONDON (AP)—The British House of Commons was all male until 36 years ago, when Lady Nancy Astor took a seat.

Virginia-born Lady Astor showed the way to women with a political bee in their bonnets. There were 21 women among the 625 members in the House of Commons just dissolved.

More than 90 women are running for seats in the May 26 election of a new House. Perhaps 30 of them look like winners.

Among the current members are the Labor party's two leading ladies—"Battling Bessie" Braddock, 55, a 250-pound political foe of Communism and Laborite left-wingers, and Dr. Edith Summerskill, 54.

On the Conservative side, the most vocal are red-haired Patricia Hornsby-Smith, 41, a junior minister with the reputation of being a snappy dresser, and 66-year-old Dame Florence Horsburgh, who would pass for anybody's auntie.

Hardly a week passes without some of the Westminster lassies getting their names in print.

Last month Laborite Jennie Lee, 51, hit front pages with the opinion that Secretary of State Dulles' diplomacy "has all the delicacy of an elephant treading on eggs."

Miss Lee once delighted her constituents by disclosing she had a special pair of woolen bloomers for speaking from drafty platforms. She is the wife of Aneurin Bevan, and as far to the left as he.

Love of Marine Corps Leads to Second Wedding

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A 26-year-old Oklahoma City couple was on a second honeymoon today because of mutual love for the U.S. Marine Corps.

The complicated domestic affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse V. Brashears were smoothed out last night in a second marriage at the Free Will Baptist Church.

They were first married Dec. 9. The following day Brashears, an aircraft mechanic, received notice to report to his draft board.

He had already decided he wanted to join the Marines and his wife was heartily in favor and, in fact, said she'd have him in no other service. The Marines were agreeable—except for one thing. They couldn't accept a married man.

The Brashears decided on a "friendly divorce." It was obtained Dec. 21 and the next day Brashears was off to San Diego for Marine training.

For 17 weeks, the Leathernecks had a model trainee but some 1,500 miles away in Seminole, Okla., wife Jeannie was having a hard time keeping the separation a secret from the home folks.

The Brashears divulged their legal maneuver when they began ceremony last night.

And will a new Marine assignment cause another separation?

Not on a bet, says Jeannie. She's going right along with her husband to El Toro, Calif., after the one-week honeymoon.

Brothers Charged With Theft of Arsenal Ingots

DENVER (AP)—Two brothers were charged with theft of government property yesterday after one admitted taking six magnesium ingots from the top-secret Rocky Mountain Arsenal.

U. S. Commissioner Joseph Neff quoted Clarence Naylor, 35, as saying he gained easy entrance to the heavily guarded installation.

"We just drove along a dusty road until we saw these big mounds and parked the car," Neff said Taylor related. Then, he said, Taylor told of picking up six ingots valued at $25.50 "which were just lying around."

The commissioner said Taylor sold the ingots for scrap.

West Point Man From Waukesha Held for Theft

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Earl Degler, 20, of Waukesha, Wis., and three other enlisted men stationed at the U.S. Military Academy were under civilian arrest today, accused of beating and robbing an Army civilian employee.

The alleged robbery Monday was said by authorities to have netted the quartet $56.

Degler, as the other three, is a private first class.

Charles Horan, 40, was found in a daze Monday morning. The arrests followed an investigation by military and civilian authorities.

The other servicemen arrested were identified by police as Paul P. Searing, 19, Chicago; Richard Egger, 19, Bradford, Pa., and Walter C. Reddington, 18, at Pittston, Pa.

Stump Voices Confidence in Seventh Fleet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Adm. Felix B. Stump left for his headquarters at Pearl Harbor today after telling newsmen he thought of the U.S. 7th Fleet "can take care of itself."

The U.S. commander in chief of the Pacific had been asked whether he considered the 7th Fleet more vulnerable as a result of the buildup of Communist air strength on the mainland opposite Formosa.

Stump had three talks with Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek with whom he had stayed as a house guest.

"We talked," he said, "about the same things as before—mutual problems connected with military aid—and what we might do to make the job out here more effective."

Stump said he did not visualize any change in the military situation affecting the offshore islands, Quemoy and Matsu.

As for military aid to Formosa, "it is continuing as the need arises, and will continue."

Truck Drivers' Strike Halts Madison Building

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A truck drivers' strike has caused general building construction to come to a standstill in Madison.

Work was halted on all major construction jobs picketed by AFL Teamsters Local 422, representing 190 striking fuel oil, coal, lumber, building material and ready-mix drivers, when trade unions refused to cross picket lines.

At least 2,000 building trades workers are expected to be idle by the end of the week unless the walkout ends, an employers' representative estimated.

Lost Money Found, Dream House Safe

DETROIT (AP)—The Pawlaks dreamed of a new home in the suburbs.

They had saved a down payment of $710.

But Mrs. Charles Pawlak lost the money Monday on her way to a bank in downtown Detroit.

Mrs. Evelyn Montie found the money in a small cloth purse on a sidewalk. She read in the newspapers about the Pawlaks' loss and yesterday she phoned Mrs. Pawlak. "You can sleep tonight. I have your money."

"Mrs. Pawlak was so happy she cried," Mrs. Montie said.

Alcatraz Reports 'A Little Disorder'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An outbreak of violence in Alcatraz Prison April 25 was disclosed yesterday by Warden Paul J. Madigan, who said "seven or eight men" had been placed in solitary confinement.

He described the outbreak as "a little disorder" involving only a few men.

Winona County 'Ag' Committee Selects Agent

University Graduate Named to Office Beginning July 1

Miss Beverly Blakeslee, 22, who will graduate from the University of Minnesota in June, was named Winona County home agent by the extension committee in special session at the courthouse Tuesday night.

She will train from July 1-15 under Mrs. Joyce Randall, who resigned recently effective July 1. However, she has offered to serve an additional two weeks to help Miss Blakeslee. Starting salary of the new agent will be $3,800.

After listing her experience and training, Miss Blakeslee answered questions asked by the committee. The group accepted her by unanimous vote.

Native of Wadena
The new agent is a native of Wadena, Minn. Her father, Carroll L. Blakeslee, was a county agent in various places in Minnesota and now is with the American Breeders Federation out of Forest Lake.

She graduated from Duluth East High School and majored in home economics throughout prep years. Her college major is in extension work. At the university, Miss Blakeslee is a member of the Women's Athletic Association which she has served as president and vice president, the Agriculture Intermediary Board, the Honor Case Commission, Home Economics Association, the Gopher 4-H Club and the Congregational-Presbyterian Fellowship. She has served as a 4-H counselor at the state fair and in 1954 was in charge of the demonstration kitchen there.

The agent's 4-H background is extensive: 13 years with projects in food preparation, home assistance, gardening, clothing, dairy and sheep.

Has Visited Office
Recently she visited the Winona County extension office at Lewisville and is well acquainted in this area where she has relatives.

Present last night were: Charles Taylor, Saratoga, chairman; Richard Schaefer, county auditor; Mrs. Arlie Morcomb, Ridge, way; Miss Caroline Frederickson, district home agent supervisor, University of Minnesota; Ray Kohner, Winona County commissioner; Gordon Anderson, county agent; Carroll Lodahl, assistant county agent; Ray Schell, Mount Vernon Township; Herbert Haase, Hillsdale Township, and Elmer Wirt, Lewistown.

Reynolds School Dissolution OK'ed

BLAIR, Wis. — Electors in joint school districts 1 and 7 Monday approved a county school committee's order dissolving the Reynolds Coulee School District and attaching it to Blair.

The rural vote favored the order, which will become effective July 1, by a 144 to 48 margin, while city voters overwhelmingly supported the committee decision, 184-2.

The special referendum was scheduled as the result of a petition from several electors in the Reynolds Coulee district and joint district 1 objecting to the March 15 order.

Voting was light in the city, but fairly heavy in rural areas because of the opposition. The decision is now final, as it carried both rural and city districts.

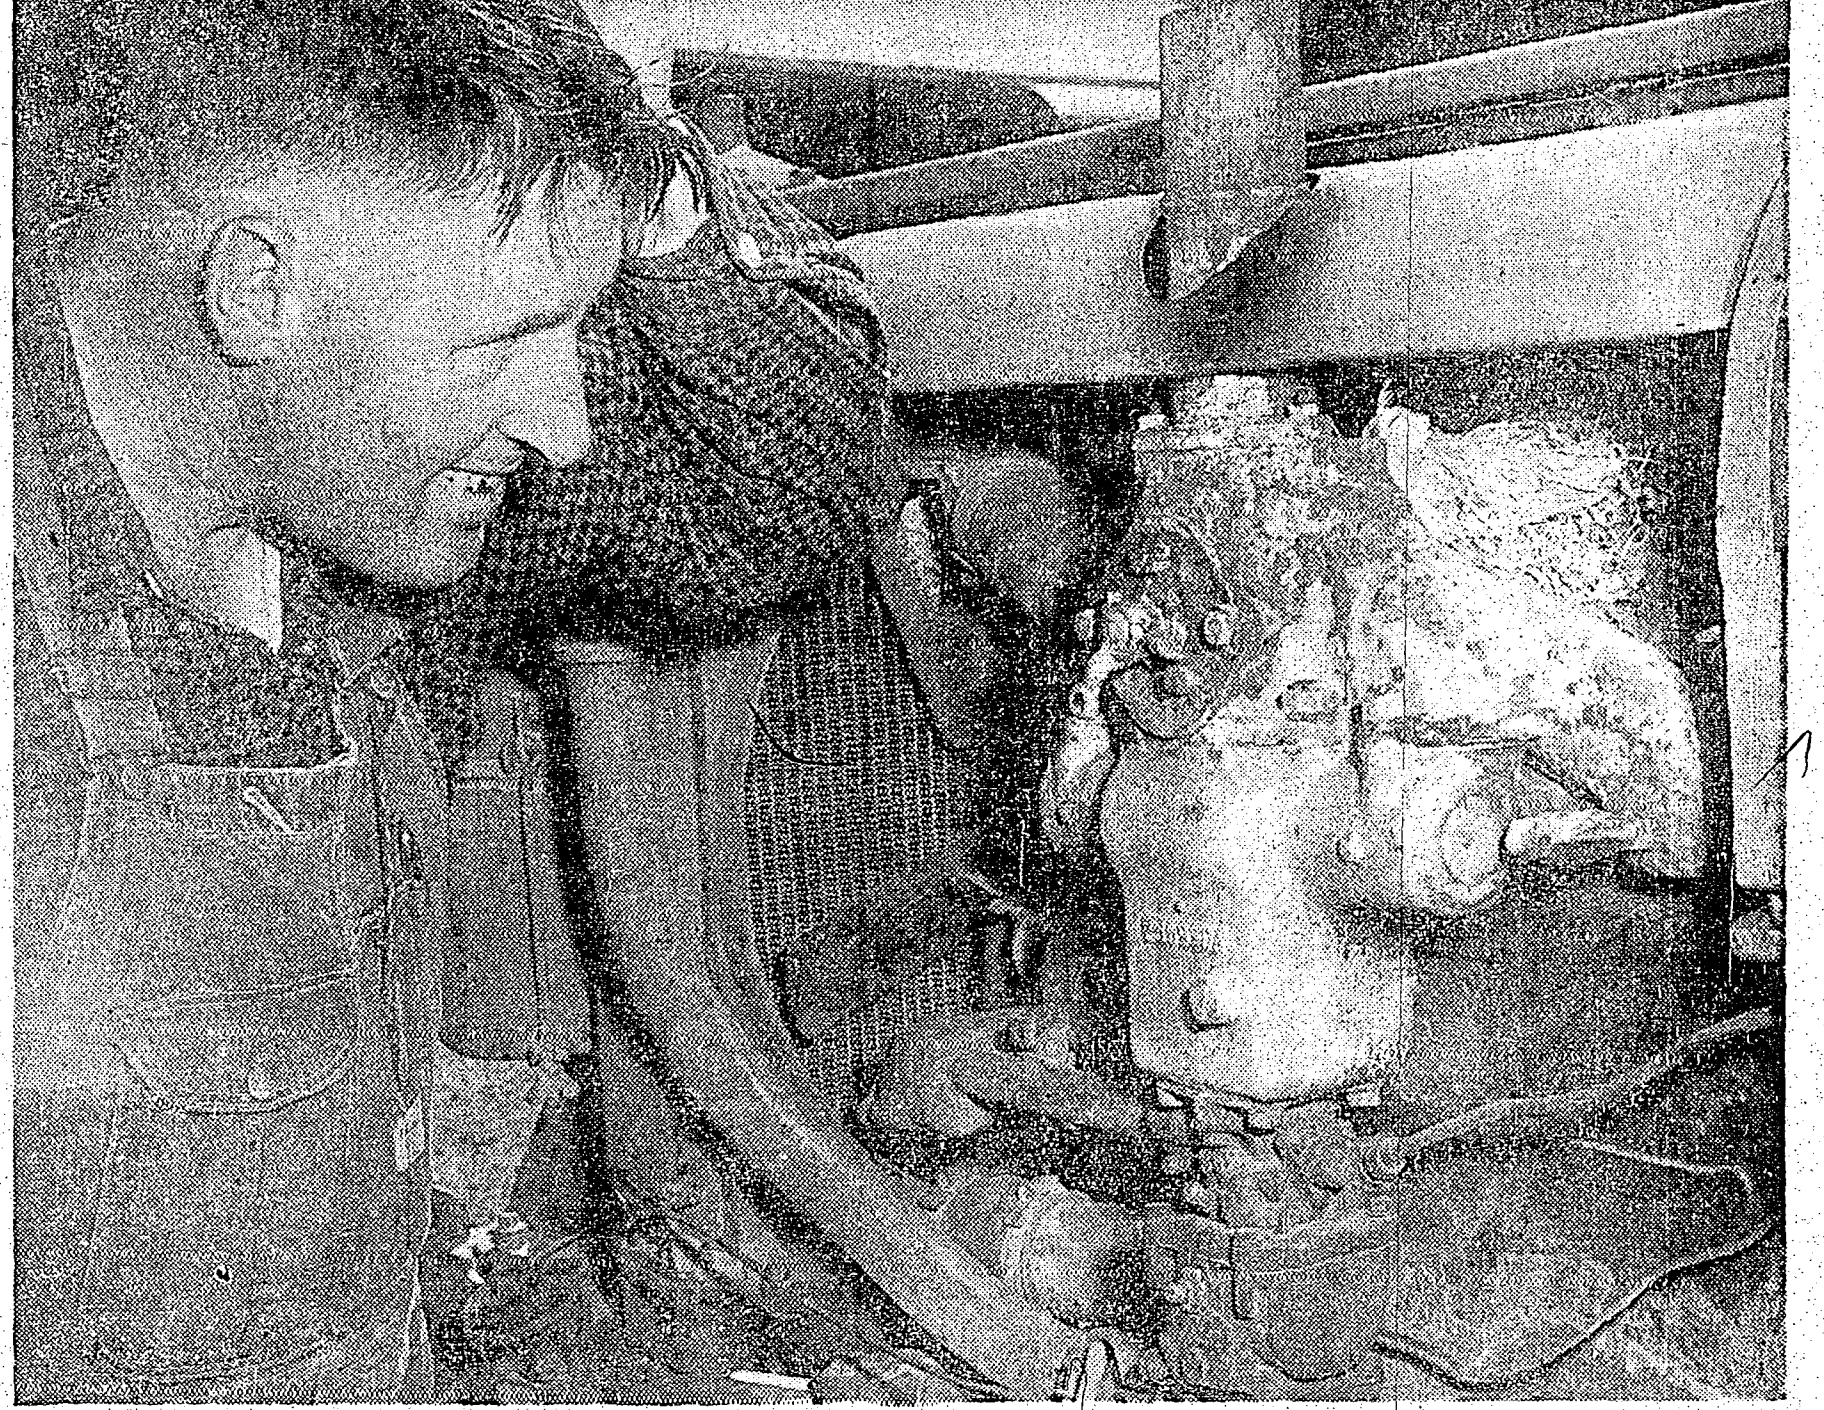

The order dissolves the Reynolds district attaching it to Joint School District 7 of the Towns of Preston and Ettrick, and to Joint District 1 of the City of Blair and Towns of Preston, Ettrick and Arcadia.

Lord Rules on Raise for Duluth City Officials

ST. PAUL (AP)—A petition for a referendum on a Duluth ordinance increasing salaries of the mayor and City Council must be signed by at least 10 per cent of the voters at the last previous general municipal election.

Atty. Gen. Lord so ruled today in an opinion prepared to answer a question from Harry Weinberg, Duluth city attorney.

Weinberg said that under authority of a 1955 law, the City Council on April 28 adopted an ordinance setting the salary of the mayor at $9,000 a year and of council members at $8,000 a year. The present salary for both mayor and council members is $6,000 a year.

Walter Gady Got The Bird the other day and, kind-hearted farmer that he is, can't bring himself to retortiate.

It all happened when he tried to start an auxiliary farm tractor on his place near Nodine, Minn., and was pestered by an excited robin. Investigation revealed this neat nest on top of the engine manifold section. It has four unhatched eggs in it and Gady has decided to forego using the machine, at least until the robin's family is grown. (Daily News photo)

Jaycees Elect A. Winczewski

A. L. Winczewski

Anthony L. "Tony" Winczewski was named the 21st president of the Winona Junior Chamber of Commerce during the organization's annual meeting and election of officers at the Arlington Club Tuesday night.

Winczewski, 30, succeeds Donald W. Blake, who was named to a two-year term on the board of directors.

The new president, coming into office on the eve of a promotional campaign to get the 1956 state Jaycee convention for Winona, joined the chapter in September 1952.

Has Held Offices
Since then he has been treasurer (1953-54), first vice president (1954-55) and served in an executive capacity in more than a dozen major Jaycee promotional projects. He also has been active in church, Boy Scout and Community Chest activities.

Winczewski, who served 29 months overseas in the armored infantry and was a prisoner of war during World War II, is married and has two daughters. The manager of the Winona County Abstract Co., he lives in Gilmore Valley.

Glenn Anderson, vo-agriculture instructor at Winona Senior High School, was named first vice president to succeed Winczewski. Anderson was on the board of directors this last year.

Other officers named Tuesday evening were: James Heinlen, succeeding James Theis as second vice president; James Mohan, succeeding Roger Schneider as secretary; James Theis, succeeding Mohan as assistant secretary, and Philip Feiten, succeeding Robert Simon as treasurer.

Named to Board
Elected to the board were past president Blake, Dr. Max L. DeBolt, Gene Smith and S. A. Sawyer, for 2-year terms, and Edward Glubka for a 1-year term.

Holdover directors are Warren Wunderlich and Ervin Halverson. Officers are automatically members of the board. Officers will be installed May 25 at the Oaks.

Only post yet to be filled is that of state director for the Jaycee chapter here, currently held by Philip Feiten. He will be replaced by appointment of the president and board of directors after the May 24 meeting, when new officers take over.

Two Eyota Incumbents Not Candidates Tuesday

EYOTA, Minn. (Special)—The school election here will be held next Tuesday from 8 to 9 p.m. at the school.

Members whose terms expire are Arthur Grout and Willard Stehley; they have not filed. Arthur Schellhammer and Marvin Wiskow have filed for the offices.

Voters will decide whether the board membership should be increased from six to seven members.

WEAVER CHILD HURT
WEAVER, Minn. (Special)—Carolyn White, 6, fell and cracked her collarbone while playing in the yard at her home Saturday afternoon.

Faulty Offspring Sets Off Alarm

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—Christmas is still more than seven months away, but the lure of tinkling ornaments got the best of 8-year-old Michael Drake Sunday morning and resulted in a hasty trip for the Lanesboro fire department.

Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drake here, tippy-toed to the family attic early Sunday to get just one look at the Christmas decorations he knew were stored there.

He lit a match to get a better view and inadvertently ignited some papers in a box. His mother smelled smoke and summoned firemen, who reported only minor smoke damage after the blaze had been extinguished.

2,000 Scouts Expected to Attend Camp

Nearly 2,000 Gamehaven Council Boy Scouts will attend the annual area camporee this weekend at Whitewater State Park.

Opening at 8 a.m. Friday, the campout will continue through 3 p.m. Sunday, with an agenda in between that includes a "trial run" of camping skills in preparation for summer camp, opportunities for scout advancement, leadership and training for adult leaders, hiking, nature study, campfires, pioneering, woodcraft, church services and a huge general review for presentation of awards Sunday.

An additional feature at this year's affair will be a log-sawing contest sponsored by conservation leaders.

Each of the five districts in the Gamehaven council will determine its champion two-man log-sawing team during the camporee, with winners to compete in a televised contest May 23. Top prize will be a free week in summer camp for the winners.

Camporee chief for Sugar Loaf district Boy Scouts will be Warren Moe, Lewistown, with each Sugar Loaf unit in attendance to have two adult leaders of its own. Catholic and Protestant church services will be held on the park grounds Sunday at 7 a.m. Camporee leaders said this week that unless scouts have a written excuse from their parents they will be expected to attend one of the services.

Fillmore County Load Limits Off

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Load restrictions on Fillmore County roads were lifted by the county board of commissioners Tuesday.

Engineer Art Stanger was authorized to purchase two movers from local implement dealers, no price specified. The Harmony Implement Co. was given an order for five loading ramps for a total of $406.85 total.

The Northfield Iron Co. and E. B. Ballou, Rochester, were given contracts for a truckload of metal culverts each, not to exceed 11,000 a truckload.

Fountain Township has agreed to repair a short stretch of road separating it and Carletona Township. This was disputed at the April meeting of the board and a special session was held at the site May 3. No action was taken at that time.

Fillmore County School District 9 petitioned the board to be dissolved and annexed to Mabel District 6. A hearing was set for 10 a.m. June 14. Petitions by Mrs. Harvey House, School District 110, asking for transfer to Spring Valley 112 and by Glen and Hazel Ely, District 112, asking for transfer to 110 were granted.

The fellow at the next desk wonders when they are going to invent a vaccine for spring fever of the kind he has. It usually affects him in April and lasts until the following March.

Zion Lutherans At Galesville Break Ground

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—Impressive ceremonies of ground-breaking for the new Zion Lutheran Church were held Sunday in the presence of some 300 parishioners and guests.

As a part of the service, the pastor, Rev. Norman E. Benson, broke the ground at the site, following a Scriptural blessing of the spot. The pastor used the Biblical reference, "Except the Lord build the house, their labor in vain who build it," and said further, "We are enjoined to build upon a good foundation, both materially and spiritually; the true House of God is in the hearts of the congregation."

Following a period of gale-like winds and unseasonably chilly weather, Sunday found the winds quieted and the day sunny, for members of the congregation to meet in an outdoor service. In a natural amphitheater behind the recently built parish house, an altar was improvised and a piano was placed. Here Sunday's worship was conducted and the site for the church was blessed.

Contracts for the new church have been let, and building is expected to begin soon. Cost will exceed $140,000. The general contract has been awarded to the Bakken Construction Co., Rushford, Minn.; heating, plumbing and ventilating to Frank Kube, Arcadia, and electrical work to Conrad Chambers, La Crosse.

On the building committee are John Schilling, Carlyle, Cory, Joseph Solberg and Alvin Guertler. Mmes. I. B. Scarseth and Leonard Guertler and Miss Emma Larson. Pastor Benson has completed two years of work in the Zion congregation, having come here from Scooby, Mont. The new building will be attached to the parish house, and much of the cost is already paid.

Trouble, Sport Captured in Photo Display

In St. Paul last year a little boy investigated a clothes chute. He investigated too far. The chute trapped him. Firemen had to tear part of his parents' house down, to release him.

Last year, too, a Bolivian school teacher visited Bemidji, home of Paul Bunyan's blue ox "Babe." The teacher made like a matador and taunted the ox.

Those are two of the moments captured by photographers in the Minnesota AP photo contest display now in the lobby of The Winona Daily News building.

The display, set up for public view, will remain there through Saturday. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Legion Stag Dinner Slated for Tuesday

Reservations should be made no later than Monday for the monthly stag dinner of the American Legion post.

The stag, to be served at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday, will precede the monthly business meeting.

It also was announced that James Stoltman is chairman for the annual family Legion picnic June 5 at Latsch Prairie Island Park. On the committee for the appearance of the Gold Bons Carnival Shows June 6-11 are Robert Goss, Dr. E. G. Callahan, Joseph Mayan, Wilfred Snyder, Joseph Hoepfner and Stoltman.

The 1955 membership now is over 1,200.

Cabaret dances are scheduled for Legion members only — at the Legion Memorial Club this Saturday, May 21 and May 28.

Painters Contract Discussed; Other Crafts Scheduled

A meeting of painters local representatives and the Winona, Contracting Construction Employers Association with a representative of the state labor conciliator's office Tuesday failed to produce a new contract agreement.

After the meeting in the Winona County Courthouse, a spokesman for the local said that no further schedule of meetings was determined for the negotiations.

A meeting of plumbers and the Master Plumbers Association Monday also had failed to produce a contract agreement although union representatives said they would take an association proposal for a 2-year contract with provisions for 5-cent raises each year back to the membership for consideration.

The carpenters and laborers locals, both of which have requested state conciliation service, are scheduled to meet with the Employers Association Monday.

Houston Co. Court Convenes Monday; McKenna Sued

CALEDONIA, Minn. — The calendar of the Houston County District Court spring term will be called Monday at 11 a.m. with the jury asked to report the following Monday at 1:30 p.m.

There are five civil cases including a suit for more than $5,000 brought by Samuel P. Halpern, Minneapolis attorney, against his client, Leo McKenna, once mayor of Caledonia, for fees allegedly owed Halpern for defending McKenna in his recent federal income tax trial. Milton Kludt, La Crosse, and Caledonia, represents McKenna.

Only four criminal cases are included on the calendar, most of them connected with a deer shining incident near Brownsville.

District Judge Karl Finkelnburg will preside.

State DFL Chairman Here Friday Night

State DFL Party Chairman Ray Hemenway of Albert Lea will be guest speaker at a Winona County DFL meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in the community room at City Hall.

He will speak on the accomplishments of the recently finished legislative session and on a proposed reorganization plan.

Also on the agenda for Friday's session will be formulation of final plans for a "Governor's Report to the People," here, tentatively set for June 27.

4 in Race for Board Of Lewiston District

LEWISTON, Minn. — Four men have filed for two Lewiston school board posts to be filled at the May 17 election.

John Daley and Ben Meyer have filed to run against incumbents Marvin J. Simon and Elmer J. Wirt. Wirt is treasurer of the board. Terms are for three years.

The election will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. in the school May 17, according to Webster Fischer, clerk.

PRESTON FARMERS UNION
BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—The Preston Farmers Union will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the town hall. Bert Lund from the Central Exchange, St. Paul, will be the speaker and Edward Woychik, Whitehall, will show slides. Lunch will be served.

Class Size Diminishes

Rural Winona Co. School Graduation Discontinued

Public graduation ceremonies for rural Winona County eighth graders will not be held this spring for the first time in 41 years—County Superintendent Jesse B. Justus announced today.

The traditional May ceremonies at Winona State Teachers College have given way to changing times, said Justus.

"Somewhat less than 50 per cent of our rural schools have eighth graders this year," he explained, "because more and more schools are transporting their seventh and eighth graders into high school districts."

The first ceremonies were held in 1914, Justus recalled, and have continued uninterrupted since, with the largest class during the period running to "well over 200."

But times have changed, he continued. "When I first came here 20 years ago we had 113 teachers in about 106 rural schools. This year we have 69 teachers in 60 schools."

The number of children receiving diplomas has gradually diminished too, said Justus. Last year only 58 were graduated.

"Winona County," said Justus, "is one of the last counties in the state to stop having eighth grade graduations — most of them discontinued the practice several years ago."

Justus said if ceremonies were held this spring it would involve only about 50 children. Instead they will receive certificates of promotion to the ninth grade, he said.

Street Project Contracts Let At St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. — The City Council Tuesday night accepted bids by the H. J. Dunn Co., Winona, on about 35,000 gallons of surfacing oil and about 1,000 cubic yards of pea gravel.

The firm was not low bidder on either, but the bid included sweeping of the streets before application and broom dragging and rubber tired rolling after the surfacing is completed. The other bids did not offer these services.

Dunn's bid for surfacing material was 13.5 cents per gallon and $4.25 per cubic yard of pea gravel.

Other oil bids were submitted by the J. W. Craig Co., Minneapolis, 12.7 cents, and the Gust A. Holy Contracting Co., Minneapolis, 16 cents.

Bids on sand at $3 per cubic yard and pea gravel at $5 per cubic yard were submitted by the Holm firm, while the Patterson Quarries, St. Charles, bid $3.85 per cubic yard of pea gravel and sand with an auxiliary bid of $3.65 per cubic yard for ¾-inch screen rock chips and Archie Morrill, St. Charles, bid $2.66 for pea gravel stockpiled.

Tax Commission Secretary Dies

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP)—Nick Nelson, 86, for 20 years secretary of the Minnesota Tax Commission, died Tuesday night after a long illness.

Born in Norway, Nelson had been a Stillwater resident since 1888. He published a weekly newspaper, the Washington County Journal, here until 1906, when he was elected Washington County Auditor.

Nelson served as auditor until 1920, when he resigned to accept the tax commission position which he held until his retirement in 1941. Surviving with his widow are two sons and two daughters. Services will be here at 2 p.m. Thursday.

4 in Race for Board Of Lewiston District

LEWISTON, Minn. — Four men have filed for two Lewiston school board posts to be filled at the May 17 election.

John Daley and Ben Meyer have filed to run against incumbents Marvin J. Simon and Elmer J. Wirt. Wirt is treasurer of the board. Terms are for three years.

St. Felix School Dedication Sunday

WABASHA, Minn. —Dedication rites at St. Felix High School are to be held Sunday at 3 p.m. with the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of the Diocese of Winona, officiating.

He will preach in the church and later formally dedicate the new high school classroom addition; a gymnasium-auditorium and a remodeled heating system in the entire school building.

The Rev. William Anderson, superintendent of schools, has announced that an open house will follow with refreshments served in the gym-auditorium. The Rt. Rev. John N. Bartholome is pastor of St. Felix; Sister Rudolphia is principal of the school.

St. Felix school additions were completed recently at a cost of $309,000.

Government Control Of Gas Criticized

R. E. Jones, district manager of the Shell Oil Co. here, attacked government regulation of independent producers of natural gas during an address before the Commercial Club at St. Mary's College Tuesday night.

He recalled that the government "imposed" controls upon independent natural gas producers last June, following a "new interpretation" of the language in the 18-year-old Natural Gas Act.

Jones claimed it is impossible to understand how regulation can provide incentive to take the risks in gas exploration and development or offer the public better price protection than has been provided by competition among producers.

The speaker also cited problems relative to the current hearings in Washington on the Harris Bill, designed to "correct" the matter of price control on natural gas at the well.

Jones showed a film depicting the drilling of the first oil well in the United States in 1859. About 50 students attended the meeting that ended with a question and answer period.

DODGE STUDENTS TRAVEL

DODGE, Wis. (Special)—Nine eighth grade students from this area were guests of the Arcadia High School Friday on the annual Guidance Day, held to help them make the change from grade to high school.

Actor Finding Satisfaction in Film Direction

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"There comes a time in every actor's life when he has to think about the future." This truism comes from Dennis O'Keefe, who not only has thought about the future. He has done something about it.

"In a few years, I would have to start slipping out of leading parts into character roles," he remarked. "If an actor is of the caliber of Walter Huston or Lee J. Cobb, the transition isn't hard. He can become a character actor and make good money at it. But lesser actors don't face as promising a future."

"And as I grow older, I feel the urge to do the thing I enjoy doing. When you're young, you're more interested in making money and you take whatever parts come along. But as you mature it becomes more important to do the things that satisfy you."

A good many actors aim at directing as their life's ambition, but not many achieve it. O'Keefe now has, and he couldn't be happier. He nurtured the idea for years, but when he broached it to producers, they would bluster. "Shut up and get back to the set!"

O'Keefe got his break in Europe. He starred in, wrote, directed and produced a picture called "Angela" in Italy. Still unreleased, it already appears to be a success for him. The picture was bought outright and will be released by 20th Century-Fox.

Final Session On Austrian Treaty Planned

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Big Four ambassadors planned a final session on the Austrian independence treaty today. If they still cannot agree on the reparations clause officials reported, the deadline will be left for the four powers' foreign ministers to break.

Despite the continuing East-West disagreement, many Austrian officials were still confident that the four ministers—Russia's V. M. Molotov, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay—would come here this weekend to conclude the long-delayed treaty.

The four occupation powers' ambassadors have been meeting here since May 2 to bring up to date the treaty draft worked out in 1949. For the past two days they have been stymied by Soviet Ambassador L. I. Hrychak's refusal to incorporate into the treaty economic concessions Molotov promised Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab in their Moscow conference last month.

Ylchey demanded that the treaty's important Article 35 stand as written—giving the Russians extensive Austrian holdings for 25 to 30 years, assets of the big Danube Steamship Shipping Co. and 150 million dollars in cash for 300 industrial concerns seized after the war.

Devil in New Hit Show Once Linotype Jockey

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—I met the Devil last night—and he turned out to be a linotype operator.

Knowing a few linotype operators, I wasn't surprised. Ray Walston—who plays the Devil in the hit show, "Damn Yankees"—told me he was a linotypist in New Orleans and on the Houston Post while working his way up on the stage.

"I still have my union card," he said. "I've never been sure..." To say he gives a hell of a performance would be vulgar, I suppose. Assisted by wonderful Hollywood-born Gwen Verdon; Russ Brown, the "Johnny Ray of 1912"; and Stephen Douglass of Mount Vernon, Ohio, and Teaneck, N. J., he makes the Devil seem like a fairly nice guy.

The Devil, for example, drinks "Demon Rum," what else? When a disciple misbehaves, he makes her sit in the corner and think up 3 dirty tricks.

Roz Russell's producer-husband, Fred Brisson, has another hit in this one. The story's around that Dan Topping, owner of the N. Y. Yankees, tried to get some extra tickets and was told by a ticket handler that there weren't any.

"Besides," the party supposedly informed Mr. Topping's office, "you wouldn't help me once when I wanted some World's Series tickets!"

"Once there was a girl who had many boy friends," Jack asked her "do you love me?" and she answered, "Yes" to all—but after doing this many years, she died an old maid. Moral: Don't love everybody. Leave that to your minister. Specialize!"—Ohio State Sunland.

Jack Benny entertained at a function to raise money for a school also assisted by the Bennett Cerfs. "Some people," Benny told the audience, "don't come to these shows, but send big cash donations. Somehow, I thought it would be nicer to come myself..."

Joe Cotton calls TV cameras "torture boxes." The ancient gag really came true the other night when Cotton, wearing "Best of Broadway," he looked into a camera and—he didn't learn why—the camera literally broke.

Bonnie, the wonderful young pickpocket at the Copa, boasts that his grandfather was a real "legitimate" pickpocket who spent years in Paris jails. He worked best in churches—using a pair of wax hands which he could fold across his chest, permitting him to use his real hands robbing the collection plate or the praying worshippers nearby.

Just heard of a Kansas preacher whose sermon was so dry a member of the congregation said it should have been condemned as a fire hazard.

By Jimmy Hatlo Advice on Health

Inoculations To Be Well Supervised

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

The mass inoculation of 9,000,000 school children with the Salk vaccine will be carefully supervised and conducted by trained physicians. If your youngster is among those receiving the free shots, he will be in competent hands.

Your local health officer will head the program in your community. I will supervise the program in Chicago.

Teams at Clinic

A physician will be in charge of each clinic. One or more vaccination teams will be organized at each clinic, the number depending upon the number of children to be inoculated. Each team will include a physician, a nurse, a clinic aid and a recorder. The aid and recorder probably will be lay volunteers.

The physician will do the inoculating. The nurse will assist him and supervise the work of the two others. The clinic aid will roll up the children's sleeves in preparation for the inoculation, and swab the injection site with antiseptic.

The recorder, of course, will keep the records of the inoculations.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has sent explicit instructions to local health officers on how to store the polio vaccine under proper refrigeration at all times.

The Foundation has also carefully listed steps to be taken in sterilizing the needles and syringes so that this work may be done by the volunteer workers under supervision of the nurse. Each team is expected to inoculate at least 50 children per hour, or 250 during a five-hour day.

Taking Children to Clinics

Wherever feasible, the clinics will be set up in schools. The Foundation suggests that the school superintendents make arrangements for a teacher or classroom mother to accompany children to their classrooms.

In most cases, an observation room will be established near the clinic. Here the children may sit for a few minutes following the inoculation, before they return to their classrooms.

There probably will be an "emergency" room nearby, too, to handle an occasional child who might become hysterical or feel faint. A nurse or volunteer aid will be in charge of this room, which will probably be equipped with a cot and blankets.

So, you see, your child will receive expert attention.

Badger Assembly Decides Not to Reapportion Itself

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Assembly changed its mind Tuesday and decided not to reapportion itself under an area formula.

By a 53-43 vote, members declined to give preliminary approval to a resolution, known as an area plan, to redistrict the Assembly to provide that area rather than population be considered in the houses makeup.

The state constitution provides representation by population rather than area.

The issue is not dead, however, and it still is possible that a motion may be entered for further consideration of action taken today.

Area reapportionment is a bitter political issue which has divided rural and urban areas in recent years.

On May 5, the Assembly gave the area resolution preliminary approval by a 50-47 vote. A motion was made then to reconsider that action, and it was on the day's calendar.

The resolution was approved by the 1955 legislative session and it passed this time, would go before the voters in the 1956 election as a referendum.

Smith, Zablocki Discuss
Cease Fire Talk Conditions

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both Wisconsin members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee say definite signs of good faith by Premier Chou En-lai, of Communist China should be a prerequisite to any talks with that government.

Reps. Lawrence H. Smith (R) of Racine and Clement Zablocki (D) of Milwaukee are the two members. Of the two, Smith is more critical of the administration in its recent efforts to arrange for a cease-fire in the Formosa area.

"I am a little unhappy," Smith said in an interview.

Zablocki said in a separate discussion his only criticism of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles is that "they do not have a set or positive policy toward the area and they permit underlings to make statements for our government."

It is Zablocki's idea that Eisenhower and Dulles should make a careful review of the entire situation and then give the American people a full summation of their position.

Zablocki said he has no opposition to this country's exploring with Red China leaders ways to achieve a cease-fire.

"It is always preferable to talk," Zablocki said. "As long as there is talking there is no shooting."

However, both he and Smith say this country should not sit down in any discussion with Red China until that government's leaders show good faith.

The two said this should include release of not only the more than a dozen American flyers but other American soldiers and citizens.

"They must come to such a conference with no fresh blood on their hands," Zablocki declared.

Zablocki said he believes that representatives of Nationalist China should be in on any full scale conference on the future of Formosa, the Pescadores and such islands as Quemoy and Matsu. But he said he saw no reason why this country and Red China alone could not hold preliminary talks without representatives of Chiang Kai-shek.

"Preliminary discussions are necessary if we are going into a full conference," he said.

Zablocki said he does not believe Red China will start any shooting war if this country makes it clear that the United States will hit hard at any show of aggression in the Formosa area.

"I believe Chou will not move if he knows we mean business," he said. "Things are not all rosy for the Reds. The Communists have their difficulties."

Zablocki said the best way for Eisenhower to send such a warning is quietly through diplomatic channels, not through any public statement. He said there are indications that this has been done, although he has no knowledge of any such warning.

Smith said this country "seems to take a licking" in any conference.

St. Mary's Student
Commission Offices
Filled in Election

Remaining vacancies on the St. Mary's College student commission for the 1955-56 school year have been filled.

Wayne Sachl, sophomore from St. Paul, and slated to be editor of the 1956 college annual, was elected publications commissioner. He is president of the German Club, was recently named to Pi Delta Epsilon journalism fraternity, is a member of the American Chemical Society and is an honor student.

Named public performances commissioner was an Oak Park, Ill. junior, Richard Steinbach. He is president of the Burbage Players, is associate editor of the 1955 annual and was elected to both Alpha Psi Omega drama fraternity and Pi Delta Epsilon journalism fraternity.

A Chicago junior, Joseph Bourke, was elected scholastic commissioner. He is a member of the Burbage Players and the Commerce Club.

Bennie Palmentere, Kansas City, Mo., junior, will be athletic commissioner. Palmentere was captain of the varsity football team and named its most valuable player, is a member of the varsity baseball squad and belongs to the commerce, winter sports and monogram clubs.

Religious commissioner will be Edward Gill, junior from Madison, Wis. He is a member of the Mariology and Commerce clubs. Named to serve as National Federation of Catholic College

Minnesota Mining
Has Record Sales
Of $63 Million

ST. PAUL (AP)—Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. had record first quarter sales of $63,382,846, up 17 per cent from the same period of 1954, President H. P. Buetow told stockholders at the annual meeting Tuesday.

His report came as President John M. Budd of the Great Northern Railway added to the rosy business picture with a prediction that 1955 "is going to be another good year."

Budd said he expected the increased demand for steel to stimulate the movement of iron; that continuing high pace of home construction meant greater lumber carrying, and that larger supplies on farms and in elevators meant that grain shipments were bound to be greater this year.

In his 3M summary, Buetow said first quarter earnings amounted to 91 cents per share of stock compared with 64 cents for the first three months of 1954. He credited part of the increased earnings to better plant efficiency which he said had reduced costs.

Buetow said the company had decided to build a new two-million-dollar reflectorized products plant at Guin, Ala., rather than in St. Paul because it would mean a saving of about one million dollars in real estate and personal property taxes over the next 10 years.

What Causes This Reversal of Attitude?

The surprising attitude taken by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson following criticism of the Armed Forces by the Hoover Commission, has been widely discussed, especially in newspaper circles. It was a topic at the recent news executives conference at the University of Minnesota and again at the spring meeting of the Minnesota Associated Press held in Winona last weekend.

C. H. Russell, editor of the Mankato Free Press, was not present at either session but his discussion of the matter in the "Round Our Town" column was an excellent summary of the points brought out at Minneapolis and Winona. This is what he says:

One of the peculiarities of the human family, particularly evident to newspapermen, is the complete change and reversal of attitude that so often comes over a layman—more particularly a businessman—when he assumes the robes of public office. Almost overnight, from an objective and somewhat critical observer of politicians and things they do, he becomes one of them, and a sensitive and plaintive defender of their practices.

Take the case of Defense Sec. Charles Wilson—he came to Washington two years or so ago, a distinguished alumnus of an industry noted for its competitive toughness on matters of price, cost and efficient operation.

Week or so ago a task force of the Hoover Commission brought in a report literally "taking apart" the high brass of the Pentagon for costly, wasteful, unbusinesslike practices. The men who compiled this report were experienced businessmen like Mr. Wilson. Only they were on the outside of government looking in, whereas he is now on the inside looking out.

And what happened? The defense secretary bemoaned their criticisms—which suggested immediate economies of some $340 millions a year. He suggested morosely that what the country needs is "more doers and fewer critics." He accused his former business buddies and efficiency experts of occupying themselves with "tremendous trifles."

One of the things they revealed was that the armed services had purchased a 60-year supply of canned hamburger. This he said was "bottle rats"—and since there was no battle of course some of it had to "go bad." This, his aides explained, is one of the "inescapable risks of military preparedness."

There were other details revealed, of mountains of food supplies in other categories; of uniforms enough to last for scores of years in all climes and under all conditions of service. There was the documented questioning of the Army hauling 807,000 pounds of canned tomatoes from New York to California, while almost simultaneously, on a different rail line, the Navy was hauling 775,000 pounds of tomatoes from California to supply depots in the east.

These are only a few of innumerable similar examples, covering many pages of testimony and reports, brought in by the Hoover task force.

As head of General Motors, Mr. Wilson would probably have sent the commission members a letter of thanks and congratulations for a job well done. As secretary of defense he chides them for occupying their time with "tremendous trifles." Granted that he is grappling with monumental problems and tasks, still to the hardpressed taxpayer $340 millions, spent needlessly, is hardly a trifle.

If this happened to be the response of a typical political hack, occupying the office of secretary of defense, the people would say, "What do you expect? We need more businessmen in high office."

The shocking and discouraging thing is that so very often sound, conservative businessmen, elevated to political office, fall into the same rut as the professional politician has been in all his life. They defend their subordinates; they resent even the most constructive criticism; they assume a persecution complex at the first questioning voice raised against them, or against the operation of their department or governmental province.

And this prevails, whether they are in high office or low—whether they are secretary of defense, governor, congressman, mayor of a city or dog-catcher. Much the same attitude was assumed by Luther Youngdahl when he became governor—and he was a great and a far-sighted governor. But all who criticized, questioned or suggested were motivated by selfish, prejudiced motives. There was no middle ground—and he was, and is, a positive man.

Seemingly it is ever thus—presidents, governors, senators, mayors, councilmen or dog-catchers, as we have said, when they take office most of them don defensive armor immediately and feel that all the world is against them, save those who unquestioningly go along with them.

That is why it so often happens, very shortly after a candidate becomes an office holder, that he complains about "getting a bad press." Reporters ask unfair questions; editors draw unjust conclusions; he is very sure there is a conspiracy to wreck his

CIO Is Trying to Build Labor Party

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — The current discussion over the guaranteed annual wage is really a phase of the effort on the part of those who originally organized the CIO to move another step forward in the building of a labor party in the United States. Each year produces a new issue; each year there must be a victory to keep cadres of laboractivism alive. This year, it is the guaranteed annual wage; next year it will be the 30-hour week; in 1960 it will be the candidacy of Walter Reuther for president.

American labor unions have not been successful as political parties. The Knights of Labor, the American Federation of Labor, the IWW, the CIO, the CIO-PAC, and the American Labor Party each built strength among workers, but they did not succeed, when any of them tried, as a political party. The Americans for Democratic Action have had a measure of success by infiltrating both the Democratic and Republican parties.

A BILL HAS BEEN INTRODUCED in the Michigan Legislature (Senate Bill No. 1401) which provides that if a union has a compulsory membership (closed shop or union shop) it may not be a political party or operate in political causes. If, on the other hand, such a union wishes to operate politically, it must give up compulsory membership. The theory is that compulsory membership in a political party is fascism and is therefore repugnant to our institutions.

Under this bill, a union could not lawfully contribute to a political party or support a candidate for public office by financial contributions out of the union treasury. The provision on this subject in the Michigan bill reads as follows:

"No candidate or political committee shall accept or spend any money or any other thing of service of value obtained from or paid for in whole or in part by any organization which any person is required, as a condition of employment, to join, remain in, or support financially or otherwise."

Obviously this bill is a response to Walter Reuther's political machinations. His power has grown tremendously in recent years and it must be admitted that he has operated with rare skill. While the amalgamation of the AFL and the CIO gives the appearance of a great victory for the American Federation of Labor and for George Meany, its president, the acceptance of Walter Reuther as director of organization gives him the capacity to build a CIO factional group within the AFL. Labor leaders everywhere are conscious of Reuther's plan and purpose and they are setting out to clip his wings. In the forthcoming convention to complete the amalgamation, Reuther's strength will be tested.

HOWEVER, SHOULD REUTHER win the guaranteed annual wage in the automobile and related industries, every labor leader will be forced to follow him, because to the rank and file he will be an undisputed hero. The stakes are high, but Reuther is brash, courageous and a risk-taker. He undoubtedly assumes that as the capitalistic tendency is to cut its losses and move ahead, one or the other of the big automobile companies will cave in rather than face a strike.

Another factor that is behind this move is the pressure of the left wing Ford local to win participation in the management of the company's welfare and pension funds.

Here then is a complex political as well as industrial situation which cannot be considered altogether on the basis of the virtues of the guaranteed annual wage. Involved is control of an industry, control of the new amalgamated AFL-CIO, a prospective candidacy for the presidency and all packaged in the person of the ambitious Walter Reuther.

career, despite the truly arduous and genuinely sincere efforts he may be making to serve well. What happens, is that reporters are still asking the same questions that he asked of his predecessor, when he was running for the office. And editors may be drawing the same conclusions about his actions, or failure to act, that they drew about the preceding incumbent.

It often happens—usually in fact—there are a few exceptions—that after a few months, or possibly a few years in public office, this persecution complex falls away. There are a few public servants also—they are the exceptions to the rule—who are never infected by this virus of self-pity. They continue to be the same objective observers in office that they were on the outside.

GOP Gov. Knight Wows Democrat Labor Leaders

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Gov. Goodwin Knight of California, Republican, once a darling of California big business, did an interesting thing while in the east for the governors' conference last week.

He spent his time not in kowtowing to the White House or to various senators or to other governors. He spent a good part of his time making friends where the Republicans badly need friends—with labor.

He had a breakfast, a dinner, and a lunch with the top labor leaders in the capital, then went to Philadelphia for a meeting with the labor leaders of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware. Furthermore, he vowed "em."

Remarked Dick Grey, head of the Building and Construction Trades Union: "Here's a man that could well run for president."

While Grey has supported Republicans in the past—though dead against Eisenhower—other life-long Democratic labor leaders seemed highly impressed with the Republican governor of California. Among them was Joe McComb of the Retail Clerks Local 1360 of Camden, N. J., also director of the combined AFL-CIO political league for New Jersey.

"Why can't we have some good Republicans like this?" he remarked. And he fingered his rosary while having his picture taken with the governor, hoping, he said, that it was not just a dream.

Earlier in the week, Gov. Knight lunched at the White House with glum, tight-lipped Sherman Adams, the man who really runs things in the Eisenhower administration. Adams looks down his nose at most people who don't come from New England, and Knight was no exception. Adams acted as if the governor, who is a great story teller, were a sort of Republican Al Johnson from California.

"Where did you study law?" Adams asked.

"At Stanford and Cornell."

"Where did you live at Cornell?"

"At the Alpha Delta Phi house."

Gradually the governor of California appeared to be more acceptable to the ex-governor of New Hampshire who now runs the White House.

"How did you get such a big majority when you ran in California?" Adams asked.

"I got the endorsement of labor," and Knight went on to tell how the top labor leaders not only endorsed him but raised money for his campaign. He indicated that other Republicans who wanted to win might well follow his example.

Gov. Knight did not, however, go into detail regarding his highly significant labor conferences in Washington. If he had, Adams' friend, Vice President Richard Nixon, another California, might have had a fit.

Back to Schnitzler

For Knight had dinner with Bill Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, the No. 2 man to President George Meany. He also breakfasted with Jim McDevitt, head of the AFL labor league for political rights. And he drove to Philadelphia in the car of Jim Suffridge, secretary of the retail clerks. Finally he had an hour's conference with Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters' Union, in the latter's shiny new office in the teamsters' gleaming marble Taj Mahal built right under the nose of Congress.

The Washington lunch with Knight was attended by about twenty of the top AFL brass, including Dick Grey, Scott Milne, head of the electrical workers, Bill McFetridge, head of the building services (janitors, elevator operators), Vernon Housewright, head of the retail clerks; Jim Suffridge, also of the retail clerks; Jim Brownlow and Bob Gridda, both of the metal trades; John Sweeney of the West Coast teamsters; Bill

Southern Rail Workers Back On Job Again

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Louisville and Nashville Railroad strike, one of the longest in recent history, ended today when workers reported for duty in 14 states.

The order in which workers will return was settled at a meeting here last night.

N. E. Lane, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declined to discuss settlement terms. He admitted, however, that some operating brotherhoods had recalled their members for picket line duty over this issue.

The L&N had taken the position it was "not feasible" to call all men back since its passenger trains will not resume operations until next Monday.

In Nashville, L. C. Clay, secretary of the local Brotherhood of Engineers, contended the plan to recall workers according to seniority as jobs came up "will make an extra board out of the entire roster of operators."

Clay said last night the unions want all members on the regular jobs they held before the nonoperators' walkout began March 14. The operating unions joined shortly thereafter.

Distribution of Vaccine Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — How is the antipolio vaccine going to be distributed so that those who need it first get it first, whether or not they can pay for it? That's one of the biggest, unsolved problems in the fight against polio.

The government—that is, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, headed by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby—had time to plan for this problem before any vaccine was distributed. Apparently it did nothing.

Low Salary Forces Out Lawmakers

By STANLEY GODFREY

(For Hal Boyle)

LONDON (AP) — Capt. Robert Ryder, story book hero of World War II, is quitting the House of Commons. He cannot afford to be a member.

Ryder is one of many British MPs who, for financial reasons, could not run again for the May 26 general election.

"I just can't live on the salary," he said in announcing he would not try to succeed himself.

Instead, the 47-year-old hero—he commanded naval forces in the 1942 commando raid on St. Nazaire—plans to go into private business, where employers are more generous.

Ryder, who won the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest military award, is a Conservative, but money worries niggled at members from all parties.

Money Rules Him Out

Tom Driberg, a popular Socialist broadcaster and a freelance journalist, also confessed openly that financial considerations kept him from running again.

Britain's MPs earn 1,000 pounds ($2,800) a year, with an expenses allowance of 2 pounds ($5.60) for each full day they attend the House of Commons.

This works out to roughly 24 pounds ($67.20) a week for full time attendance.

Out of that, an MP has to keep himself in London when the House is in session, hire secretarial help, entertain the constituents who "look in" at the House—and generally live up to being a member of Her Majesty's Parliament.

Most look longingly toward the United States, where members of Congress increased their pay to $22,500 a year under a bill passed in the current session.

Taxes Cut Take

After income tax, social security deductions and expenses are paid, legislators here have less to keep a family on than the average bank clerk, or the shorthand writers taking down their speeches in the House of Commons.

Altogether, 40 legislators will not be running again for re-election. Some claim ill health, pressure of business or purely domestic reasons, but underlying the resignations, party leaders from both sides admit, is a lot of financial worry.

Even Cabinet members and junior ministers have to watch the pennies.

A parliamentary undersecretary, who answers run of the mill questions in the House of Commons for his minister, draws a total of 2,000 pounds a year.

A Cabinet minister earns 5,000 pounds and pays back an average of 2,000 in taxes.

Raise Recommended

Last year, an all-party committee recommended a 500 pound raise for MPs. But Prime Minister Churchill said the government "did

It still has produced no answers although this week Mrs. Hobby is expected to make recommendations to President Eisenhower. She is not likely to suggest federal control. She has been against that.

On April 12 she gave permission to drug manufacturers to start distributing the vaccine. This was done a few hours after announcement that last summer's test on several hundred thousand children had been 60 to 90 per cent effective.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has contracted with manufacturers to produce vaccine to give free shots to nine million children in the first and second grades. All other people will have to pay for shots unless somehow they can get them free.

What of those in the susceptible age group (1 to 9) who can't afford to pay for shots by a private physician and have no other way of getting the vaccine? There is no answer on that.

And what assurance is there those in the most susceptible age group will get shots before any of the short-supply vaccine is given to older people? There is no nationwide plan on that either.

It would seem that Mrs. Hobby's department could have done what the polio foundation did: Take a chance the April 12 report would be favorable and prepare for distribution in advance.

Student Tells Story Of Hit-and-Run Deer

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado University student Don Ehrenkrook, of Sugar Loaf, Colo., tells this story of a hit-and-run deer. Ehrenkrook said he was driving up Boulder Canyon at night when a deer, apparently startled while drinking from a creek, attempted to flee by jumping over the car.

He said the deer smashed into the windshield, shattering it, jumped off the hood and disappeared into the hills.

not feel justified" in raising MPs' pay while urging the nation's trade unions not to press for increases. Instead, he handed out the expenses allowance.

Several members combine their Westminster duties with other jobs. Laborite George Strauss inherited a big fortune and still manages to keep a watchful eye on the family metal broking business.

On the Conservative side, Sir Beverley Baxter, drama critic, broadcaster and lecturer, makes a lucrative living by his pen. Foreign Minister Harold Macmillan heads the family publishing business.

But it's only men with nonfixed outside jobs who are able to combine earning and ruling. It's virtually impossible for any MP to carry out an ordinary job and still attend the House.

Because of the acute financial loss entailed, many men prominent in their own communities refuse to run for Parliament.

It is estimated that Americans spend three million dollars a year on research.

Foreign Trade Supports Many U.S. Workers

By STERLING F. GREEN
(Third of a Series)

CLEVELAND, Ohio (U.P.)—In more and more American cities and states, industry and labor appear to have a bigger stake in foreign trade than in tariff protection.

That's the broad conclusion drawn from half a dozen official studies and scores of unofficial surveys which were inspired by the debate over President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill. The bill, which empowers the President to reduce tariffs gradually over a three-year period to spur world commerce, passed the Senate last week.

Though varied in scope and approach and scattered from Atlantic ports to Clatsop County, Ore., the surveys showed that:

More workers draw pay checks by producing directly for export than are employed in firms hurt by low-wage foreign competition. A greater majority are employed by firms which export some of their output or depend on foreign raw materials. Possibly even a greater majority isn't affected either way, except as the general health of their communities is helped or hurt by foreign trade.

Last year the United States exported goods worth 15 billion dollars. Imports totaled 10 billion dollars and most of that was in raw materials which help produce factory jobs here.

The Commerce Department estimates more than four million Americans, including farmers who have been selling about a quarter of their wheat, cotton and tobacco abroad, depend on international trade for their livelihood.

Industrially, the prospect of even greater foreign trade has excited many Midwest cities which, four years hence, will be made seaports by the St. Lawrence seaway. From Oswego, N.Y., through Cleveland and Chicago, to Milwaukee and Duluth, more than a score of cities may pour a total of a billion dollars into harbor and dock improvement in a race for inbound and outbound cargoes.

Most of the industries suffering from low-wage foreign competition are relatively small—glass, pottery, carpets, cutlery, lace and others. Coal and textiles, already suffering from domestic factors, also fear foreign competition could make their situation worse.

But many of the nation's biggest job providers—like steel, autos and farm machinery—lined up solidly in favor of lower tariffs. Their reasoning was simple: Since they sell much abroad they favor reduced tariffs which enable foreign nations to sell more here, increasing their purchasing power.

Wisconsin's Rep. Zablocki, a Democrat, learned that only 3 1/2 per cent of the 193,000 factory workers in his district work for companies which feel import competition. Nearly 53 per cent work for companies which export.

The League of Women Voters also made spot checks in such diverse areas as Baltimore County, Md., Newark, N. J., and sections of Connecticut. They found that only a minority of firms were convinced they would be hurt by reduced tariffs; the rest either expected to benefit or predicted no effect on them either way.

And far across the country in Astoria, Ore., where lumber, fish, dairying and flour are the big industries, the league's survey concluded:

"Clatsop County firms think the United States should expand its trade with other nations and stressed that they preferred competition to government controls."

Smoke Bomb Drops In to Visit Couple

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U.P.)—The Navy is trying to determine how a plane happened to drop a smoke signal bomb through the roof of Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Bristol's home. It landed in a bedroom. The Bristols were in the kitchen and were unhurt.

Japanese Stage Sutdown Protest Of Artillery Firing

FUJII-YOSHIDA, Japan (U.P.)—Scores of Japanese villagers, led by leftist-labor leaders who rushed to the scene, began a sutdown movement today on the slopes of Mt. Fuji in protest against American army artillery firing practice. The villagers said they would stay until the Army cancels plans for further firing, which crosses busy mountain climbing trails. Special squads of police were moved to the area to keep the protestors from the big Army guns. The newspaper Asahi said American soldiers with bayoneted rifles also stood guard.

The Army guns were silent today as Marines maneuvered in the area where the shells land. The guns fired yesterday. The maneuvering, with practice firing, is scheduled until the end of May.

New Ulm Baby Born With 2 Front Teeth

NEW ULM, Minn. (U.P.)—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Berg with two lower front teeth. Birth of the infant Friday at Loretto Hospital was disclosed today. Her physician said that this was rare and happens about one in 15,000 babies. Usually babies have about six to eight teeth at the end of a year.

$745 Given Up for Lost Is Returned

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (U.P.)—When cafe proprietor Melvin Cutler lost a bag containing $745 in business receipts, he didn't even bother to notify police, thinking there wasn't a chance in a million of getting it back. Wesley Moody, a crane operator, found the bag and turned it over yesterday to police, who traced it to Cutler. Cutler said he'd give Moody "a suitable reward."

Gore Predicts Senate Passage Of Highway Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) predicted today the Senate will pass his revised bill calling for a $17,874,000,000 roadbuilding program over a five-year period.

The Senate Public Works Committee late yesterday virtually completed work on Gore's measure as a substitute for President Eisenhower's "disputed highway construction program. Sen. Bridges (R-NH) quoted Eisenhower as saying yesterday he "feels very strongly" his program is sound.

The committee plans to take final action tomorrow afternoon. Floor debate may begin next week.

Sen. Case (R-SD) said he would join with committee Democrats to report the Gore bill to the Senate floor, but would reserve the right to offer new financing amendments.

The Senate group last week rejected 8-4 Eisenhower's plan and stuck by this decision yesterday in the face of Republican moves to insert portions of it into the Gore bill.

The President's plan envisages about 38 billion of spending on federal-state programs over 10 years.

The Gore program of $17,874,000,000 in federal-state outlays over five years would be handled by increasing greatly the present programs out of annual appropriations.

The committee majority also will urge that Congress boost the 2-cent federal gasoline tax by 1 cent to raise an extra 600 million annually.

Jap Bobbysoxers Mob Crown Prince

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito, 21-year-old idol of Japan's bobbysoxers, was mobbed today by hundreds of screaming schoolgirls and amateur photographers. A near-riot took place at downtown Higbya Park when the prince showed up at an auto show.

13 Puerto Ricans' Conviction Upheld

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals has upheld the October conviction of 13 Puerto Rican Nationalist party members, sentenced to six years each for seditious conspiracy.

James Keller, Winona, chief author in the Senate; Rep. Joseph Prifrel Jr., St. Paul, co-author in the House; Rep. John A. Hartle, Owatonna, co-author; Chester O'Toole, Mankato, who represented the highway patrol;

Rep. Ed Chilgren, Littlefork, chief author in the House; Rep. A. F. Oberg, Lindstrom, co-author in the House; Conrad Erickson, Forest Lake, legislative representative for the Highway Patrol association; Rep. D. D. Wozniak, St. Paul, co-author; and Sen. Harold Schultz, St. Paul, co-author.

Tiny Aitkin Baby Gaining

AITKIN, Minn. (AP) — Three-week-old Terry Held gained five ounces in the last week but still weighs only 28 3/4 ounces.

Dr. F. C. Closuit (son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Closuit, 371 Wilson St., Winona) said the tiny boy is "pretty rugged" and is "doing right well."

Terry weighed 28 ounces three days after he was born April 20, dropped down to 24 ounces, but now has made a steady climb. He is in an incubator at the hospital here.

Dry Over Most Of Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There were some wet spots in the East and Southwest but most of the country had dry weather today.

Light rain or drizzle was reported in a belt from around Pennsylvania southwest along the Ohio Valley into parts of Arkansas and Missouri. Showers and scattered thundershowers hit wide areas of Texas.

The only other precipitation was light rain in western Washington. Fog was reported from parts of the Appalachians and southern Great Lakes and southern Midwest regions.

It was a little cool early today in sections of the north central states with some of the cool air extending into the Texas Panhandle. Coolest spots were northern Indiana and Lower Michigan with temperatures around freezing. However, readings generally were in the 40s in most of the Midwest and ranged to the 50s in the Ohio River Valley and to the 60s and some 70s over the Southeast westward across most of Texas.

Top Pupils Named At Wykoff School; Boy and Girl Tie

WYKOFF, Minn. (Special) — Rose Marie Kohlmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kohlmeier and David Meisner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Meisner, are co-vice-presidents of the Wykoff High School senior class. Both have identical 4-year averages of 95.875.

Class salutatorian is Jacqueline Hingevel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hingevel, who compiled a 94.5 average.

All three have been active in extracurricular activities. David has been class president for three years, a member of the spring board team and has participated in mixed chorus for two years.

Rose Marie was class treasurer for three years, editor of the school annual and a member of the newspaper staff and a Girls Athletic Association officer for three years.

She also has been a member of the band, chorus, girls glee club, trio and sextette; she plays the piano and horn, and is a vocal soloist. Rose Marie's activities also included class plays and speech.

Jacqueline was class secretary a year, assistant editor of the annual and a Girls Athletic Association officer. She was Girls State representative as a junior and won a superior rating in the regional speech contest last year. Active in music, she was a member of the band, chorus, girls' glee club, trio and sextette.

Margie Vehrenkamp and Roland Kohlmeier also maintained averages of more than 90 during high school.

Harvey D. Jensen, superintendent of schools at Winona, will be the commencement speaker June 3.

Miss Mary MacNichols, pastor of the Wykoff Methodist Church, will be the baccalaureate speaker May 29.

Members of the graduating class are Wayne DePope, Jasice Eickhoff, Lyndon Grabau, Yvonne Hendrickson, Jacqueline Hingevel, Lynn Kidd, Rose Marie Kohlmeier, Roland Kohlmeier, Julie Lien, LaRae Mackey, David Meisner, Harold Meyer, Melvin Meyer, Omri Moon, Eugene Mulhern, Carl Murray, Kenneth Nash, Charles Sandte, Barry Schroeder, David Schrier, Dorothy Sikkink, Mary Frances Stender, Margie Vehrenkamp, William Vrieze and Edward Zimmer.

Man, 104, Gets Physical Before 'Prayer Flight'

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — When Benjamin A. Trimble was 44 he had a physical checkup and the results were so good he waited 60 years for his next one.

He didn't exactly think it was necessary. He just wanted to be sure he was in condition—at 104—to fly over Seattle's Boeing Airplane Co. plant to "pray down on those men" in the interest of world peace.

The Virginia-born ex-slave got approval from Dr. J. Robert Brooke too. That stout old heart and blood pressure would be the envy of a man half Dad Trimble's age.

The aged Negro took the physical on his 104th birthday yesterday. But before he reported to the doctor, he chopped his day's supply of wood, just as he has done for years. Afterwards, he took a brisk walk and then engaged the neighborhood children in games and footraces.

"That's how I keep young," he said. "That and sassafras tea and putting my faith and trust in the Lord."

The United States imported 17,700,000 tons of iron ore in 1954.

For Full Benefits of High Octane Gasoline you need Shell Premium with TCP

If certain engine deposits did not form inside your combustion chambers as a result of your daily, short-haul driving, any good high octane gasoline would do very well.

But because this kind of driving increases the build-up of these deposits, you need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

The reason is simply this:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time...before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul spark plugs, causing your engine to miss.

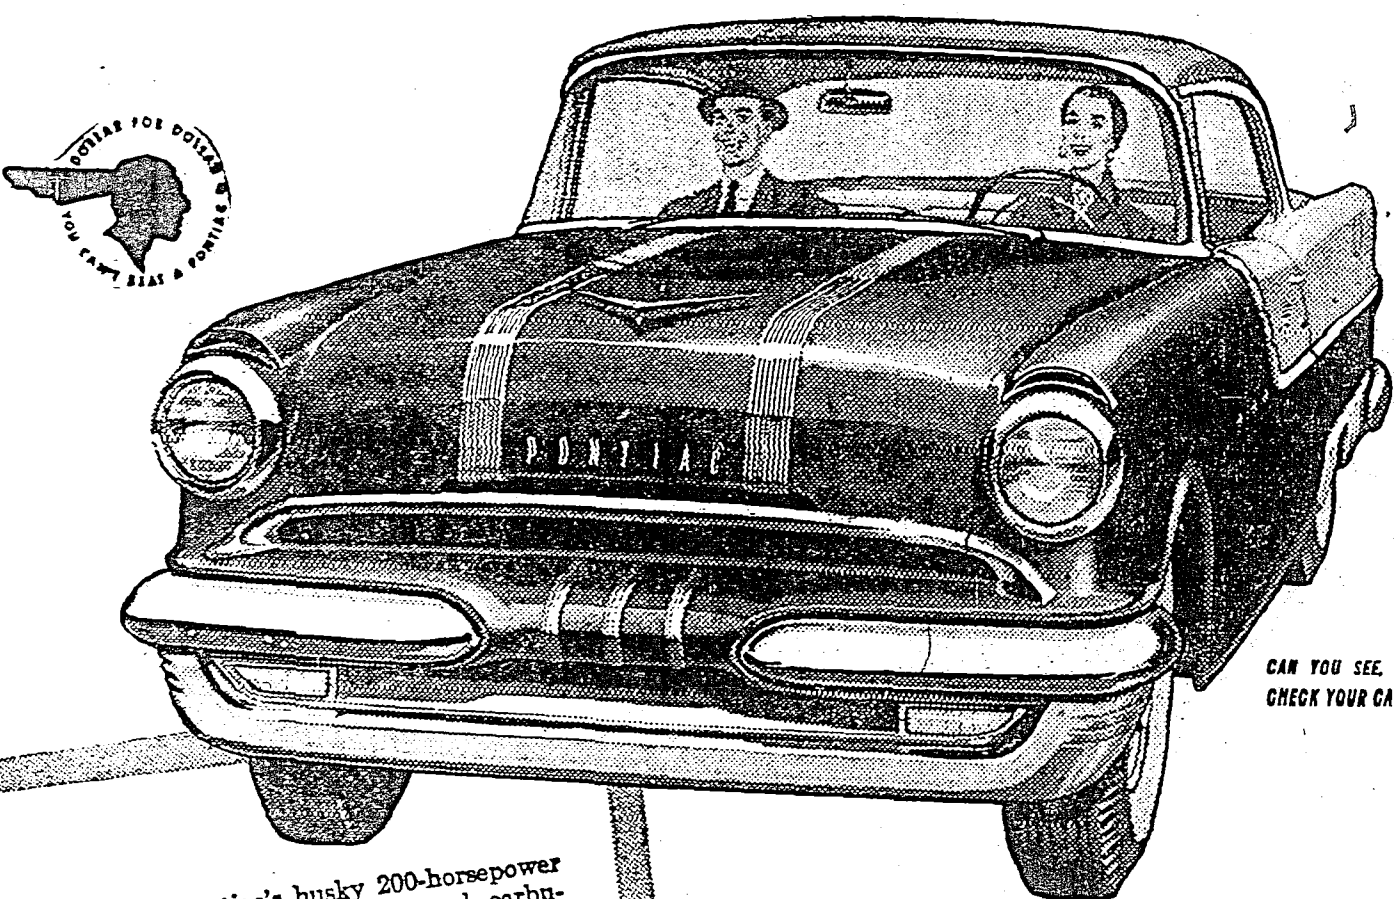

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

TCP, the Shell-developed additive, fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

More Fine-Car Features than any other car priced so low!

CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY? CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS.

POWER—Pontiac's husky 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor, optional at low extra cost, delivers more power than any car within hundreds of dollars of its price. And road records show this power is teamed with the greatest economy in Pontiac history.

STYLE—No car at any price is so beautifully distinctive. Pontiac's future-furnished Strato-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning set it apart from all other cars—point the way to tomorrow.

SIZE—Pontiac is a big car where it counts—with a long, road-hugging 122" or 124" wheelbase. On any road, at any speed, you enjoy the feeling of genuine fine-car size.

COMFORT—Pontiac's extra size means big-car comfort—room to stretch out and relax. Wide-spaced rear springs and Shock-Proof chassis float you along in luxury style.

If you were to guess Pontiac's price on the basis of its style, performance and size, you'd surely guess hundreds of dollars higher than its actual cost. Pontiac measures up with the finest on any point of comparison—except price.

It's a simple matter of fact that you can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes!

After a close inspection of Pontiac's luxury and quality and a few miles commanding its mighty 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8, buyers from both ends of the price scale are switching to Pontiac in record-breaking numbers. Come in soon for the clinching facts and figures. You'll make the very pleasant discovery that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a big, powerful Pontiac—and step directly into the fine-car class!

Chairman Asks Aid for Foreign Student Program

The Winona American Field Services committee chairman, Carl Kiehnbaum, today urged local business firms, service clubs and individuals to send in their pledges in the drive to bring four more foreign exchange students to Winona for the 1955-56 school year.

"We need the money and need it badly," said Kiehnbaum. "It would be a shame," he continued, "to have the program curtailed for lack of funds after the tremendous success it had here during this past year."

In conjunction with the call for additional pledges, Kiehnbaum said that some additional housing is still needed for next year's students.

Any Winona resident who wants to offer their home as housing for an AFS student for next year has been asked to contact Mrs. S. J. Kryzsko, chairman of the housing committee, or members Mrs. Stanley McMahon and Mrs. Henry McMahon.

$1,500 Pledged
About $1,500 already has been pledged in the $4,200 drive, said Kiehnbaum.

Deadline for pledges is June 1, but contributors do not have to make their payment until Sept. 1 if they wish.

Included in donations so far is $50 from the six foreign students themselves who are now studying and living here. The sum represented profits from a dance the six sponsored after a winter basketball game.

Received this week was a check for $200 from the Inner Circle, a group of Winona Senior High School girls who sponsored bake and candy sales and contributed individually to raise the amount. "It's plain to see from these two contributions," said Kiehnbaum, "that the kids themselves are wholeheartedly behind continuation of the foreign student program. They've seen how well it operated in its first year and want more foreign kids here with them," he said.

Plan for Coffer
Kiehnbaum and Warren Wunderlich, another member of the local AFS committee, were given a personal donation of $50 for the fund from the Most. Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of the Diocese of Winona, during a meeting with the bishop.

Bishop Fitzgerald, said Kiehnbaum, has pledged his cooperation in helping to set up arrangements which would bring AFS students to Coffer. Currently, the six students here are at the public school only. "Wabasha, St. Charles and Red Wing have all indicated that they will have AFS students next year," said Kiehnbaum. "We'd hate to see Winona fall behind in the leadership it maintained in the state last year."

Pledges, he added, should be made out to "Winona American Field Service" and sent to the First National Bank.

Lake Citian Officer For Regional Rural Youth Conference

LAKE CITY, Minn. — Mrs. Audrey Benrud, Lake City, will be secretary of the seventh annual western regional conference for Rural Youth Adults at South Dakota State College, Brookings, S.D., June 3-5.

It will be an inter-group conference with representatives from 4-H clubs, Rural Youth groups, FFA, rural church groups and farm organizations attending. States included in the conference are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin and Montana.

Theme of the event will be "We Build the Ladder by Which We Climb." Workshop sessions on courtship and marriage, crafts, program and party planning will be held both Friday and Saturday.

Motorcyclist Dies Of Accident Injuries

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. — Gerald Oistedal, 16, Alexandria, died late Tuesday of head injuries suffered Friday night when his motor bike hit the rear of a parked car. Gerald was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Oistedal.

The youth's death increased Minnesota's 1953 traffic toll to 165, or 50 below the count a year ago.

Sen., Mrs. Wiley At BRF Saturday

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special)— Sen. and Mrs. Alexander Wiley, Chippewa Falls, will be among the special guests attending a dinner in honor of Mrs. Nellie Red Cloud, mother of Cpl. Mitchell Red Cloud Jr., posthumous winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor. The banquet will be held in the dining room of the St. Joseph Church beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Also attending the event, sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans will be State Commander Howard Fairbanks, Milwaukee.

Mrs. Red Cloud has been named "DAV Mother of Wisconsin" and will receive a gold life membership card.

Hixton Students Set 4,500 Trees Under Rainy Skies

HIXTON, Wis. (Special)— Raincoats and boots were the order of the day for 225 elementary grade students of the Hixton school district who ignored the usual bad weather they get each year on the day of planting trees on the Hixton school forest.

Students from the first to eighth grades of the Hixton, Northfield, York and Schermerhorn schools took part in the fourth annual planting at a plot located on Highway 121 west of Northfield.

The senior agriculture students engineered the planting of the 4,500 Norway and white pine seedlings and were in charge of the children to see that the correct spacing, depth and proper coverage were maintained in the planting. Ronald Moen, Fred Gee, Curtis Schroeder, Richard Casper, Joseph Stokes, Dennis Hayes, Raymond Stuve and David Smith were the senior students in charge of the planting.

"The purpose of these smaller sized plantings is to maintain and create interest in our school forest," said Vernon Hanson, vocational agriculture instructor. Hanson explained the plan to plant two or three acres annually so that when the entire area has been planted, the first planting will be ready for marketing and can be replaced with new trees.

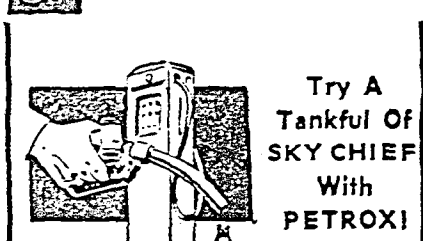

In order to check the growth of the trees, the rows planted by each school have been marked and dated. A total of 12,000 trees have been planted thus far in the forest project.

The Hixton school district forest was dedicated in 1952. The land, which consists of two eighty-acre tracts, is located in two sections: One for planting purposes at Northfield, and one used in forest management located southeast of Hixton on Highway 27. The forest management unit is used by students to study marketing and thinning of timberland. Last year, $150 was realized from this section of the school forest by sale of pulpwood which was harvested as a thinning operation.

$31 Billion Asked for U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to provide a whopping $31,488,206,000 for the nation's defense came before the House today. The administration's military manpower cuts loomed as the main point of controversy.

Indications were the final voting, scheduled for tomorrow, would find the House almost solidly behind the President's position—that of greater reliance on air and atomic power and less on manpower.

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.), an Appropriations Committee member, told newsmen he would ask the House to increase the bill enough to maintain military manpower strength at levels as of this June 30, and to block the planned retirement of 100 naval transports and amphibious vessels.

Recent atomic tests, Flood said, emphasize a necessity for maintaining large, mobile ground forces.

Flood failed in an effort to persuade the Appropriations Committee to block plans for a reduction of about 87,000 Army men and 12,000 in Marine Corps strength during the fiscal year starting July 1.

As approved by the committee, the bill provides for an Army of 1,027,000 men, a Navy of 657,000, plus 193,000 Marines and 975,000 Air Force personnel by June 30, 1955.

Joan Crawford To Honeymoon On Isle of Capri

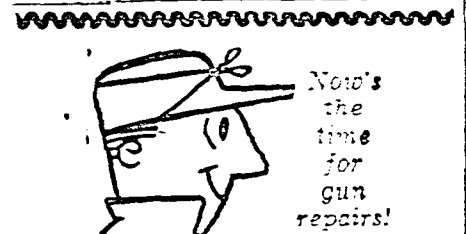

ISLE OF CAPRI (AP)—Only one little thing surprises Capri Islanders about the forthcoming visit of actress Joan Crawford: They didn't know it was to be a honeymoon.

The actress' elopement to Las Vegas yesterday with Pepsi-Cola President Alfred W. Steele may have surprised their friends too, but Miss Crawford arranged for the Capri part of her honeymoon several weeks ago.

She wrote well in advance to Bob Hornstein, wealthy American who has lived on Capri for the past five years, saying she planned to leave New York by boat May 18 and would reach Capri May 26.

Miss Crawford will spend a few days in Hollywood finishing up a picture before beginning her honeymoon.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Birds in Minnesota

Winona and Winona area bird observers are given prominent space in a revised edition of "Where to Find Birds in Minnesota," a field handbook covering 78 birding areas within the state, released this week. The book, consisting of 150 pages, pocket size, has been compiled by Kenneth D. Morrison, editor of Audubon magazine and former Minneapolis newspaperman; Dr. W. J. Breckenridge, director of the Museum of Natural History University of Minnesota; and Josephine Daneman Herz, Minneapolis Bird Club.

Reproduced above in the cover picture, a painting by Dr. Breckenridge of a yellow-headed blackbird which in natural coloring makes the book very attractive. Fifty black and white drawings by Roger Tory Peterson are within the book. There are more than 50 contributors covering the birding areas, each typical of a section of the state. Local and area contributors include Tim Knopp; Brother Theodore, St. Mary's College, St. Paul; Ray C. Steele, Wildlife Refuge; Dr. Charles A. Stewart, New Albion, Iowa; and Dr. F. R. Keatings Jr., Rochester.

Each birding area has a section, telling its location, terrain, vantage points, birds found, and some general data as well as records. For example, Tim Knopp reports on Knopp's Valley in his home area. He tells of where he found the following list of birds:

Pileated, Woodpecker, Orchard Oriole, Wood Thrush, Ovenbird, Redbellied Woodpecker, Rough-winged Swallow, Vesper Sparrow, Short-billed Marsh Wren, Scarlet Tanager, Bald Eagle, Blue-winged Warbler, Ruffed Grouse, Barred Owl, Red-tailed Hawk, Indigo Bunting, Yellowthroat, Cedar Waxwing, Redpoll, and Purple Finch.

Each of the 78 birding areas covered in the book are dealt with in a similar manner. The book is published by the Webb Publishing Co., St. Paul, and sells for $2.

Nice Trout
Some nice trout were taken over the past weekend out of the Whitewater, according to reports from Maurer's at Elba. Ralph Mottish, St. Charles, in a limit catch had one four pounder, a two-pound brown, and the rest over ten inches. Victor Stevens, and Emil Siminovsky, Elba, had in their creel one four pounder, one three-pounder and two two-pound browns, and Fred Brust, Winona policeman, had the limit, all over 12 inches.

Trapping Reports
Bart Foster of the Wildlife Refuge staff asked us to run a notice telling trappers that now that the last beaver season has closed, their reports on their 1954-55 season are due. This applies to trappers operating under refuge permits. No permits will be issued next season if they fail to make a report, according to refuge regulations.

Ike's Meeting

Brule Trout
The thrills of the Brule are still a foremost subject of talk with a group of Winonans who spent a recent weekend getting their limits of real big trout. In the party were Vern Hein, George Winslow, John McGuire, Clarence Olsen and son, and Hugh Orphan and son. It was real exciting fishing and real wild white water.

'Citizen Hurley' Takes Retirement At La Crescent

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special)—Edward Hurley, station agent here 59 years and employed by the Milwaukee Road 52 years, retired Monday.

For the past 20 years Hurley has been "local chairman" of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, with jurisdiction from here to Green Island, Iowa. He has attended conventions throughout the U. S. as a member of the order.

Called "Citizen Hurley" by his friends, he served 20 uninterrupted and unopposed years as clerk of the village board here. During his tenure water and sewer service were established under WPA at a cost of $45,500. In 1940, when he resigned from the board, the debt had been virtually paid.

In 1928, the Pine Creek Telephone Co. was organized with 72 rural subscribers. Today it is the La Crescent Telephone Co. with 500 subscribers and Ed Hurley as president.

When the Boy Scout movement began here in 1927, Hurley assumed the leadership of its 22 youths. His first scouts are now the fathers and leaders of La Crescent Boy Scouts.

In the late 1920s, he opened his newly-built home as a center for all local PTA activities. During World War II it became a "Community Club," with residents meeting in his home to write weekly letters to La Crescent servicemen.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Hurley toured the European continent, stopping in England to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Paul J. Vidani, who were connected with the U. S. embassy in London.

Presently, 4-year-old Mary Vidani is a guest in the Hurley's home here, with daughter Lucille and her other two children due to come for the summer, while Lt. Cmdr. Vidani is on a tour of sea duty.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the difficult jobs of housekeeping is to wax linoleum and asphalt tile floors. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it's no longer necessary to wax and scrub; just apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor.

No Hits for Chinese MIGs, U.S. Reports

TOKYO (U)—In a rare response to a Peiping radio claim, the U.S. Air Force declared today not a single bullet hit eight American Sabre Jets in their dog fight with eight to 12 Red Chinese MIGs yesterday over the Yellow Sea.

Peiping radio last night said the MIGs shot down one Sabre and damaged two. Earlier the U.S. Air Force said two MIGs were shot down and a third probably destroyed, with all Sabres returning safely to their South Korean base.

The Red Chinese charged the Sabres with "grave military provocation"—intrusion over Manchurian islands 40 miles southwest of the Reds' Antung air base on the Yalu River.

The Air Force said it did not plan to make the pilots available for interviews because they are needed for flying duty.

The Peiping broadcast, saving

Policies In Asia Criticized

By JOSEPH ALSOP
TOKYO—The dull old saw, that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, is rapidly becoming a pungent criticism of American policy in Asia.

"On the one hand, the so called 'island chain strategy' has been the real justification of our Asian policy from the moment when President Eisenhower decided to allow the Chinese Communists a concealed victory in Korea.

For two years, our policy makers have gone on the rule that they could safely dodge any issue and abandon any position in Asia, so long as the line from the Aleutians through Japan and Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines was firmly held. And with bland complacency, they have assumed there was no danger to this officially established American defense line in the Pacific.

On the other hand, however, the most vital links in the island chain have been more and more visibly weakened. In both its offensive and defensive aspects, the island chain strategy is in fact ceasing to be a valid strategy.

Process Slow
The process is slow, because it works indirectly. But it is none the less immensely important, because it imperils the whole American position in the Pacific. One of the two reasons for the vast efforts of the second World War was to safeguard and strengthen that Pacific position. The fruits of the great victory of 1945 are now the stakes upon the table.

The strategy of the island chain is most immediately endangered on its offensive side. In theory, as officially explained by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, enemy aggression on the Asian continent is to be met with a two pronged attack based on Formosa and South Korea.

In view of Communist China's complete inability to supply a serious war on two fronts, this is a good theory. But in practice, at least the divisions of Chiang Kai-shek and Syngman Rhee are still costing money, the Chinese Communist leaders are being progressively relieved of any worries about this two front war.

Red Air Buildup
In Korea, the enemy is increasingly protected by American disarmament, by his own fantastic fortifications, and by his own air build up. The existing air balance on the Korean peninsula proper is now on the order of three to one in favor of the Communists, with the air backup outside Korea also balanced in their favor. Anyone who saw the Korean fighting knows that an attack on the deep tunnelled Communist entrenchments can not be considered for an instant while the enemy has air superiority.

In Formosa, meanwhile, the new two China policy leaves the appearance of strength. The Generalissimo's divisions may continue to be counted in the Joint Chiefs of Staff's paper games, even after an American back-down in the Formosa Strait. But after the demoralization such a back-down will inevitably cause, any attempt to use the Chinese Nationalist divisions offensively will be the most hare-brained kind of gamble. This, in brief, is what has been and is now happening to the capability of a two pronged attack that Secretary Dulles boasted about so grandly only a few weeks ago. Yet this loss of offensive capability is not so grave as the progressive loss of defensive value of the famous island chain. This defensive loss is a purely political process, mainly centering here in Japan.

Chain Reaction
Militarily and economically, Japan is the most essential of all the links in the island chain. With this link gone, Okinawa will be virtually untenable. Formosa will be meaningless. We shall be thrown back to the position in the Pacific that we held at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Yet no realistic observer of the on-the-spot facts of the situation in Asia can now take Japan for granted in the way the American policy makers still take for granted. Japan's economic dependence on the United States, the surviving Japanese belief that the United States wins in the end, are the present mainstays of the Japanese-American alliance. But both those mainstays must be expected to snap if present trends in Asia continue.

The danger, to be sure, is not for today or for tomorrow. If there is another appeasement of the Communists in the Formosa Strait, there will be increasing doubts in Tokyo and Japanese-American relations will grow increasingly more difficult. But the Japanese-American alliance may be expected to survive. It will probably even survive next year's already foreseeable Communist triumph in Indo-China.

However, the Japanese-American alliance cannot be expected to survive a chain reaction of further Communist triumphs in Southeast Asia, such as seems likely to begin in South Viet Nam in 1956. That is too much to hope for, as the American embassy here has already bluntly warned Washington.

What is to be feared is not a complete reversal of alliances, but adoption by the Japanese of a sternly neutralist policy. But it will be a small consolation that the Japanese are not overly on the enemy's side, when Japan's industrial potential is fully available to the Communists, and when the island chain has been broken for good and all by Japanese neutralism.

Such are the developments that now loom ahead in the short and long run in the Far East. Maybe retreat and appeasement are still the best cure. But those who advocate retreat and appeasement have a duty to propose an alternative Pacific strategy for the United States, plus a free-world strategy of survival after most of the rest of Asia has been lost.

Judge Conducting Divorce Marathon

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—A divorce marathon is being conducted in Long Beach Superior Court this week.

Judge George Francis started hearing divorce trials Monday and his goal is to complete 120 cases by Friday night. He is attempting to hear 24 cases a day, allowing about 13 minutes per case. The assembly line method is being used for divorce cases which are not contested and thus can be handled speedily.

Judge Fred Mille, acting presiding judge, explained yesterday the court is trying to clear up a heavy backlog of divorces which has led to a waiting period of two months.

SOCIETY CLUBS

Miss Mary Elizabeth Kieffer, Minneapolis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Kieffer, Alhura, Minn., has chosen June 25 as the day of her marriage to William Paul Theis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Theis, 423 E. Wabasha St. The couple will be married at 9:30 a.m. at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Alhura.

ASIDES - By the Society Editor

Have you had your roast burn at the last minute before the guests arrived or your gelatine decide not to thicken? Ah, but you only faced six, eight or a dozen guests. How would you like to face several thousand, put a lovely mixture designed to eventually become a shining tempting glaze, on a baked ham, tuck it in the oven, explain to your audience all that glaze would be when it came out of the oven—only to have it come out just as it went in—cold ham with a sticky topping—no glaze. Our Martha Logan, that is the Martha Logan who is visiting Winona, Miss. Louise Frazier found herself facing just such a cold ham and just such an audience at one of the cooking schools she has been conducting for Swift & Co. The electric range had not been connected, and the ham was the first dish to be demonstrated at the school.

Her Magic Meal school in the Winona Senior High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday is one of four in the state, the others in Duluth and the Twin Cities—in fact she was brought here instead of to Rochester as once planned. She recalls that at the recent show in St. Joseph's, Mo., excitement ran so high when prizes were awarded, that the winner of the electric range sprained her ankle when she jumped with joy.

Asked if she ever hated facing a ham, Martha who decorates hams at every cooking school—on the average three cooking schools every two weeks or about 78 a year—laughed and emphatically said no. Food supplies for that number of cooking schools really total some large figures—approximately 234 hams, 78 rib roasts, 78 legs of lamb, 780 pounds of cold meat, 78 turkeys, 468 pounds of chicken, about 700 pounds of frankfurters and sausages, 78 pounds of bacon, 78 pounds of butter, about 150 pounds of margarine, more than 450 pounds of shortening, about 225 pounds of corn, and the same number of packages of sliced cheese, plus 78 dozen lemons, the same number of bunches of carrots and cans of apple sauce, jars of cranberry, jars of currant jelly, jars of marmalade, chili sauce and bottles of lemon juice, double that number of bunches of parsley and of heads of lettuce and of cans of sauerkraut, plus nearly 400 pounds of flour, some crackers, spices, pickles and other odds and ends—quite a grocery and meat bill.

Martha started her present cooking school tour in Baton Rouge, La., has gone up the Mississippi to Duluth, now in Winona and next in the Twin Cities before starting downriver to New Orleans. Miss Frazier is the Martha Logan for the Middle West. Another of the Martha Logan staff conducts schools in the East, another in the Far West, and another, an actress, is the television Martha Logan.

Audiences are of various sizes, 10,000 being expected in St. Paul. A week or so ago, 560 were turned away in Watervliet, S. D., where even a dust storm that day did not keep the women away from the show. Incidentally, following their custom, if anyone is turned away at the Winona school because of lack of room, Swift & Co. will give each a "turn-away" letter and each will be sent a special gift and a Martha Logan Meat Cookbook for lack of space, also is eligible for the prizes awarded at the show. Ordinarily only those at the show are eligible. Each one attending the show also receives the cook book which comes now in a pocket edition of 422 pages. Martha's schedule is so full that she is not able to squeeze in an extra school at any town where groups have to be turned away.

Minnesota gave her a tense few hours last week when she appeared in Duluth. The plane on which she arrived could not land in Duluth where the mayor and photographers waited, even after circling for two hours above the port, because of the weather, and was forced to land at Hibbing. Then began a frantic 95-mile car trip to reach Duluth in time for a television demonstration show at 1:30 p.m.—She made it.

Transportation is a problem or rather shipping for 948 pounds of equipment is sent from each cooking school to the next including a viewgraph, eight by ten feet, and its screen on which are shown colored slides of the foods prepared, three special tables of just the correct height and size for the demonstration work, three trunks of utensils and cutlery, and equipment for the prize setup. A surprise is planned for the middle of each show—a surprise involving a "baby" and baby foods.

Prizes not only include equipment such as a General Electric stove, a refrigerator, clock-radio and coffee maker; Swift hams and turkeys and large bags of groceries from local dealers, but the hams, turkey and rib roast prepared during the school session. Some other foods are given away where it is thought they may be needed but a greater portion is not given away because of the fear that it may have become contaminated standing in the open and beneath hot lights.

One of the embarrassing but amusing moments of the present tour recalled by Miss Frazier occurred at Fargo, N. D., where the mayor welcomed the group in advance and then his mother won one of the food prizes to make the set-up look like a deal of some sort or other. To clarify the innocence of all concerned, the mayor's mother turned her prize over to charity. Foods cooked are put on exhibit immediately following the show for the benefit of the audience. Tickets for the Winona show may be secured from local food and appliances stores co-operating with Swift & Co. in sponsoring the show.—May Murray.

Quackenbush, Wife Celebrate 50th Anniversary

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Quackenbush, Whitehall, reached their golden wedding anniversary May 9. The event was celebrated at a gathering of close relatives at their home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Quackenbush, now 81, retired about 20 years ago from the barbering trade which he followed in Whitehall for 40 years. Both he and his wife and their forebears are closely connected with the development of this community.

According to a family tree which Mr. Quackenbush has in his possession, tracing his ancestry back to 1737, he was born Jan. 5, 1874, in Bruce Valley, Town of Hale, son of George Quackenbush and his wife, Josephine Boice. He was named Martin Luther. He apparently chose to be known as Luther, shortened to Lute.

Mrs. Quackenbush, 69, is the former Rena Knudsen, and was born March 24, 1886, in Fly Creek, daughter of Knud A. Knudsen and his wife, Julia Stensrud Knudsen. The couple was married May 9, 1905, at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Keach, Alma Center. The bridegroom's uncle, the Rev. C. M. Keach, pastor of the Adventist Church, South Alma, performed the ceremony. The pastor's son, Clarence, still living at Alma Center, and his daughter, the late Effie Keach, were attendants.

The couple settled in Whitehall where Mr. Quackenbush who had learned the barber trade in Minneapolis, was established in his own shop. Twenty years ago they moved to their present farm about a mile northeast of Whitehall which his father had settled but Mr. Quackenbush still owns his shop in Whitehall which is now occupied by Mervin Engen.

The couple has one son, LeRoy (Roy) and one grandson, George. Mr. Quackenbush has one sister, Mrs. Emma Keith, Calgary, Can., 86. His brother, Charles Quackenbush, Green Bay, died several years ago. Mrs. Quackenbush has four living sisters, Mrs. Theodore Stenlund Sr., of Whitehall; Mrs. Hannah Deane, and Mrs. Edward Holt, Duluth, and Mrs. Malcolm Robertson, San Francisco. One brother, Adolph Knudsen, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Murphy, Waterbury, Vt., and Mrs. Ira Thompson, Whitehall, are dead.

The anniversary cake Sunday was provided by Miss Laura Thompson and Mrs. Theodore Stenlund Jr., Whitehall, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Roy Quackenbush.

Both parents of Mr. Quackenbush were born in New York State. Records show that Josephine Boice came to Milwaukee with her parents in 1846, when she was a year old. When Wisconsin celebrated its centennial in 1948, Mr. Quackenbush was one of those to receive a 100-year certificate for continuous residence of members of his family in this state for more than a century.

Mr. Quackenbush has in his possession letters which were sent from Milwaukee back to relatives in New York State by his grandfather Boice, bearing the imprint of a rubber stamp on the folded sheets but no postage stamp. The figure, 10 cents, was written in to indicate the amount of postage paid.

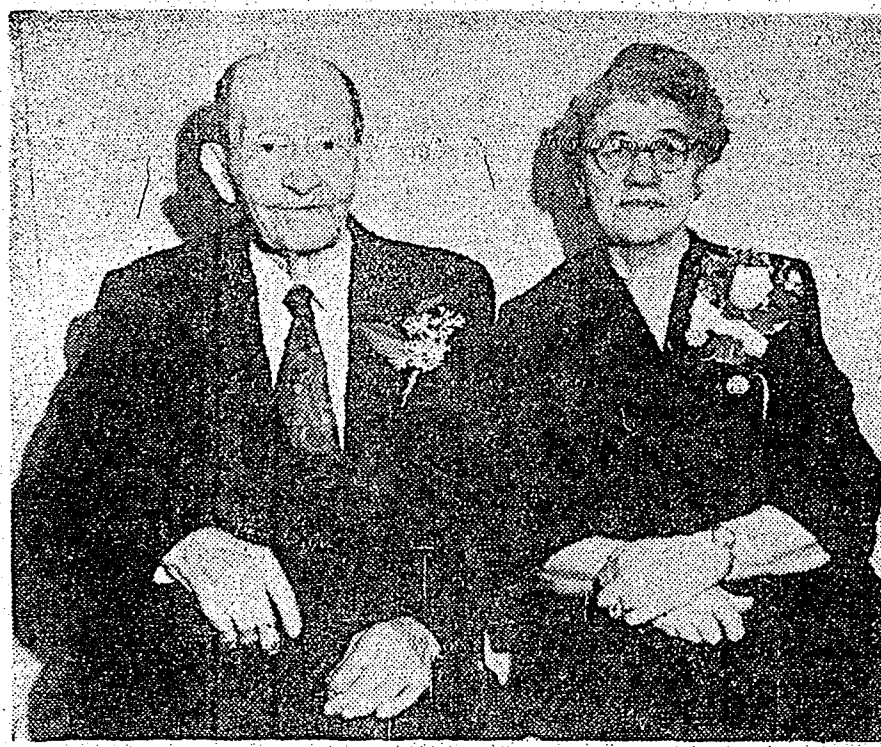

The Boice family came by ox team from the east, he says. They circled the tip of Lake Michigan, the small city of Chicago, and then reached the small settlement which is now Milwaukee. In his recollection, his grandfather helped build the railroad from Milwaukee to Waukesha, and furnished the wood that was burned in the locomotives of that time. Then his grandfather settled on some land in the vicinity, and was killed by the first tree that he was felling as he began to clear it.

There were two daughters in the family. One of them the widow permitted relatives to take back to New York, and the other, Josephine, she kept with her when she remarried and came to Pine Hill, Jackson County.

The family tree carries an account of a haunted house owned by Henry Boice in Dutchess County near Bulls Head, N. Y. At the time that this farm house was passed to George Boice, uncle of Josephine, the stone residence was said to be 120 years old. A portion of it was used as a shelter for slaves. At the time the house was built, it was said that "witches abounded in the country around." The proprietor, being somewhat nervous, had a "witch rafter" put in.

The "witch rafter" represented a quarter circle with a large spike in the center. Mr. Boice stated that "it had the desired effect, and there were no more 'witch she-nagans' around the place thereafter."

The Josephine Boice of this family met and married George Quackenbush in Jackson County and they went to Bruce Valley to live, but when their son Luther was only a few months old, they came to this area, purchasing what is now the Speerstra farm on the south end of Whitehall.

After seven years here they moved into the village. George Quackenbush was president of the village for some time. It was during his term of office that Abrams Street was opened up as a regular thoroughfare.

In his younger days, Mr. Quackenbush was a horse jockey, riding the racers at county fairs in the area for ten or 12 years. He also owned a racer, Pat Murphy.

Quackenbush has many memories in his home which he treasures, among them a picture of President Lincoln bidding goodby to his generals, Grant, Sherman, Porter, Thomas and others, at the close of the Civil War. This picture was passed on to Lute by his father who fought in the Civil War.

Mrs. Quackenbush's maternal grandparents, Aslak Knudsen and his wife, immigrants from Norway, were the first settlers in Fly Creek, opening up the place now owned by Grote Brothers. They were also one of the three Norwegian families to settle in what afterward became the Town of Pigeon.

They were among the people instrumental in starting the first Norwegian Lutheran Church in this area at Old Whitehall where the cemetery by that name is now located.

Mrs. Quackenbush served the Old Whitehall Cemetery Association as treasurer for 14 years. She has also been employed as cook and substitute at the Community Hospital over a considerable number of years.

Keep in Trim

Good Figure Necessary to Wear Suits Well

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It seems to be the highest praise for a woman to be told, "You have a perfect suit figure." What it takes to wear a suit well is a properly proportioned figure with a fairly slim waist, smooth hips and a distinctive posture.

For models, let's take those selected as the ten best, tailored women in America: Grace Kelly, Oveta Culp Hobby, Roberta Peters, Marlene Dietrich, Marguerite Piazza, Dorothy Kilgallen, Loretta Young, Jane Pickens, Gloria Stokowski, and Mrs. Arthur Murray. Each one was chosen to represent a particular field—motion pictures, government, opera, etc. The winners all pass the figure test with honors. In fact, there isn't a thick waist or indifferent posture in the lot.

"The intangible ability to wear a suit well" was one important criterion in the selection. Other assets included the ability to select suits which bring out figure highlights and skill in "accessorizing" and choosing interesting color combinations.

But back to the figure—basically, it's the proportion that counts. To do justice to a suit, the waist should measure at least eight inches less than the bust circumference, and hips should not exceed the bust measurement by more than one to two inches. Such ideal proportions necessitate normal weight.

Posture heads the list of the so-called intangible qualities that help a woman wear a suit with authority. In fact, so important is posture that the girl with superb bearing can make an inexpensive suit appear custom tailored. Conversely, slumping can ruin the effect of the most costly outfit. On the size score, 12 and 14 are the most popular. But with a 20 can look most impressive in a well tailored suit.

The key to good posture is "balance," which means proper alignment of body segments. The head is balanced perfectly over chest, chest balanced over the hip and pelvic girdle, and this area balanced over the feet. That's self-supporting posture. "Squaring" the shoulders gives a tailored suit a smooth fit from rib cage to shoulder.

The following exercise straightens shoulders and gets your posture on the beam:

Lie on back on floor with feet elevated to low bench, arms down at sides, backs of wrists on floor, palms up. Slowly flex right knee to chest as both arms are circled

Mrs. Van Alstine To Be WSTC Concert Artist

Guest soloist when the Winona State Teachers College chorus presents its 55th concert May 18 in Somsen Hall at the college, will be Mrs. Frank L. Van Alstine, a fairly recent newcomer to Winona.

Mrs. Van Alstine, a native of Manitowoc, Wis., is well known in musical circles there and in Milwaukee, Chicago and St. Louis, and has made many appearances on radio and television and in the concert field.

In the Hour of Charm search for the "undiscovered voice of America," Mrs. Van Alstine was one of the three finalists who were selected from among 300 aspirants.

While studying at the Chicago Conservatory of Music, she was auditioned by Edwin McArthur who offered her a contract with the St. Louis Municipal Opera Co., and while in St. Louis, she appeared weekly with the St. Louis Symphony as soloist over a national network.

Before entering the musical field, Mrs. Van Alstine taught school in Manitowoc and Milwaukee where she met and was married to Dr. Van Alstine who is now curriculum coordinator of the graduate program at WSTC.

They have a family of four children, Frank, junior at Winona Senior High School; Jimmy in the kindergarten at Lincoln School, and Jane and Jill, the 3½-year-old twins, who do not always approve of mama's practicing at home.

Recently, Mrs. Van Alstine has organized a youth's choir at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and has been active in the senior choir under the direction of H. G. Seaton.

Her accompanist at the college chorus concert will be Miss Agnes Bard of the college music department.

Advice on Wills, Investments Given BPW Club by W. P. Theurer

"In making a will you can divide your accumulated assets as you wish, but be sure to make disposition of your personal property and effects. Very careful planning should go into a will and you should seek competent assistance," was the advice given to members of the Winona Business and Professional Women's Club at their dinner meeting Tuesday evening, by William P. Theurer, assistant cashier and trust officer of the Winona National & Savings Bank.

His topic was "Investments and Estate Planning." The speaker continued with a description of the types of investments and the various benefits, hazards and risks of different types of stocks, investments, he explained, are divided into two classes. One class, fixed income securities include such items as mortgages and bonds, especially United States government bonds, which "are the safest of all"; municipal bonds, which are tax exempt and therefore of interest to the persons in the higher income classification; and corporate bonds, issued by various corporations.

He stated that interest rates on bonds are dictated by the interest the government pays on its bonds. Savings accounts and accounts in building and loan associations are also included in the fixed income securities, he added.

Equities, he continued, are the other type of investment which include common stocks where there may be a more liberal income but also a little more risk involved, as their value fluctuates with the cost of living.

Mr. Theurer gave a brief description of how the stock market works, and discussed types of stock available including the growth stocks which are low yielding but are in a growing industry, investment type stocks, liberal income; speculative stocks such as some of the Canadian mining stocks, and preferred stocks.

In talking about the stock market, he stated that "the market is affected by business conditions, and when people are buying they cause a rising market and express confidence in their government and the world situation, but when they are selling, they are expressing feelings of insecurity and uncertainty in world affairs."

"At present there is a boom in steel stocks because of the great quantity of work being done in heavy industry and it is believed that the earnings of the steel companies will be very high this year. Interest rates also affect the stock market, and when the government changes its rate of interest, the effect is immediately shown in the stock market."

"Protections are set up also in that margin requirements are varied, and at present anyone investing must have at least 70 per cent cash to cover his buying."

Other types of investments mentioned were mutual funds "in which you buy in a company which in turn invests in bonds or other assets." Life insurance is also an investment.

Mr. Theurer gave some graphic descriptions of some of the problems met in setting up an estate, and some of the dangers which can deplete an estate so that the heirs will not get what the person making the will wants them to have when he is gone.

He urged the members to make wills and to have competent advice in making them, and if they left bequests to organizations, clubs or favorite charities to do so on a percentage basis rather than fixed amounts, for it is possible that the estate could dwindle in value so that by the time it is probated, there wouldn't be enough value to cover the bequests, let alone anything for family or other relatives.

The program was under the direction of the finance committee, composed of Mrs. J. I. Van Vranken, Miss Rose Schettler, and Mrs. Eva Ferguson. Its theme, "Adventure in Achievement through Sound Finance," carried out the club's theme for the year. Devotions preceding the dinner were given by Miss Effie L. Bean.

Music on the program was provided by Stephen Saxton, pianist, a pupil of Miss Esther Bach, Alma, one of the members of the club. Stephen, 15, won several awards in the recent music festivals held in Wisconsin. He played "Polish Dance" by Schwarke, "Valse Chromatique" by Godard, and for an encore, Chopin's Waltz in C Sharp Minor.

The budget for the club year 1935-1936, presented by the finance committee, was approved, and annual reports were given by the treasurer and auditor.

Mrs. W. M. Markie, legislative chairman, reported on the proposed changes in the state federation by laws, which will be discussed at the state convention at Moorhead, Minn., May 19 to 22. Mrs. D. B. McLaughlin, state health and safety chairman, will serve as the president's representative at Miss Verlie Sather, president, will be unable to attend. Other delegates will be Miss Leona McGill, vice president of the local club, and Miss Selma Braem. Mrs. Markie is planning to attend.

The club voted to give a tuition scholarship to a student at Winona State Teachers College the coming year, and the scholarship committee of the club, composed of Miss Edna Nelson, chairman, and Miss Louise Bloom and Miss Helen Hillyer, will confer with the scholarship committee of the college of which Mr. Mariner is head.

Miss Mildred Bartsch, chairman of the education committee, will present the Business and Professional Women's Award to the "All-Around" girl at the Class Day exercises at Winona Senior High School.

Miss Louisa Farnar, chairman of the Friendship Club, reported that the Friendship dinner meeting would be held May 31 at the Hotel Winona. Each member belonging to this group in the club is to bring a gift for the person who has been remembering her through the year with "secret pal" cards and messages.

Reports were given on the Small Business Clinic held recently in Rochester at which the local club served as registration committee. The nominating committee composed of Miss Margaret Weimer, Miss Doris Skow, Miss Myrtle Moore, Miss Florence Siewert and Mrs. S. F. Reid presented the slate of officers and the following officers were elected: Miss Sather, re-elected president; Miss Leona McGill, re-elected vice president; Miss Florence Siewert, treasurer, succeeding Miss Alma Kemp; Mrs. Arthur Bowman, secretary, succeeding Miss Janet Paten, and Miss Ruth Engler, auditor succeeding Mrs. Mary Myhre.

Offers were installed by Mrs. Markie. A social hour followed.

Rochester Building Unions Agree to Take 10-Cent Raise

ROCHESTER, Minn. (U.P.)—Three Rochester building trades unions voted to accept new contracts Tuesday night while drivers of city buses decided to reject a new contract offer.

Carpenters, laborers and construction truck drivers accepted 10-cent hourly pay increases for one-year contracts.

The action, said Howard Smith, business agent of the Rochester Building Trades Council, virtually assures the big construction program in the city and area will move ahead without labor troubles.

Bricklayers, who have never had a written contract with contractors and who have rarely had disagreements, were to meet with contractors later today to consider terms of an initial contract.

Union cement finishers were to meet tonight to accept or reject a contract offer incorporating a 10-cent increase for one year or a two-year contract with 10 cents this year and five cents in 1956.

The offer turned down by the 25 drivers of the Rochester Bus Line by a wide margin was a two-year contract calling for reduction of three hours a week immediately and a further reduction of three hours on April 28, 1956.

The bus drivers, now on a 54 hour work week, want a 48-hour work week with no reduction in take home pay. The drivers are now paid for 54 hours weekly regardless if they work that long.

3. Complete the dismantling of foreign bases.

8-Point Plan
In addition to proposing the evacuation of troops from Germany, the eight-point general peace plan called on the U.N. Assembly to:

1. Recommend that all states take strict measures prohibiting any form of war propaganda, refuse to permit the violation of any state's territorial integrity and preserve the political independence of all other nations.

2. Note with satisfaction the success of negotiations in settling the Indo-Chinese, Korean and Austrian questions. The Russians said these three examples showed that all means had not been used for settling other international problems by negotiation.

3. Demand that all states holding bases on foreign territory dismantle them and report to the Security Council and the Assembly that this has been done.

4. Ask all member countries to share their atomic knowledge with other nations.

5. Urge all interested states to settle outstanding Far Eastern questions.

6. Ask all states to do away with every form of economic discrimination hampering the development of broad economic cooperation.

7. Receive a report at its following regular session on how the preceding points had been fulfilled.

Disabled Advised On Social Security

Disabled persons who used to work in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law should get in touch with the social security office by June 30, Philip A. Beardsley, social security district manager, announced today.

Beardsley pointed out that people who have been totally disabled for six months or longer, and who worked in employment or self-employment covered by the social security law for as many as five years out of the 10 years before they were disabled, should get further information about this law. Active military service and employment in the railroad industry may count toward the needed amount of work. By applying to have their social security earnings records frozen, disabled people may prevent loss or reduction of future benefits.

Some people now receiving old-age insurance payments or who will become eligible for old-age payments in July were disabled for long periods before they reached age 65 and are still disabled. They may start getting larger payments as of July and will get them more promptly if they file an application for a "disability freeze" by June 30. If the disabled person dies after June 30, the disability freeze can protect his family's rights to survivors payments but only if he had applied for it before death. For this reason, it is important for every person who meets the requirements for the "freeze" to apply for it by June 30.

Beardsley emphasized that the law protects the social security rights of a worker who is suffering from prolonged total disability but does not pay cash benefits to him before he is 65.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly, however, that people under age 65 or over are concerned, the disability must have begun before they reached 65," Beardsley said. "The law does not provide for any 'disability freeze' and possible higher payments where the disability began at age 65 or older."

The address of the Winona social security office is 233 Post Office Building, Winona. If a disabled person is unable to call at the office, he may telephone or someone else may call for him, Beardsley said.

An octopus can get through a very small crack by distorting its body.

Arcadia 'Ag' Students Landscape Grounds at New School Addition

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Boys of the Arcadia High School taking agriculture have done much of the landscaping around the new school addition.

The three-day job included removing clods, rocks and debris, raking, leveling, fertilizing and seeding. Several local businessmen donated use of tractors and other machinery. Protective fence has been built. Shrubby will be planted later near the new entrance. Bernard Hart is vocational agriculture instructor.

Patrol Retires Neil L. Gordon

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Retirement last week of a former Winonan, Neil L. Gordon, as a member of the Minnesota Highway Patrol has been announced today by Patrol Chief Paul R. Martz here.

Gordon, who had been a member of the patrol since 1930, was inspector for the southern half of the state from 1947 until last month, when he was named to head the northern district.

In addition to his regular duties, said Martz, he has served as a member of the state school safety patrol camp committee for Legionville since 1929 and was its chairman from 1941 through 1953.

A veteran of World War I, Gordon is a past commander of the Brainerd, Minn., American Legion post and has served as national safety chairman for the VFW.

Kolve was chosen from among eight finalist candidates by the Herfurth award committee.

The men's award was established by the late Theodore Herfurth, Madison insurance man, in 1926, to be given each year to the senior man displaying the greatest initiative and efficiency during his university career.

Kolve son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Kolve, will enter Oxford University in England this fall as a Rhodes scholar.

Trempealeau Man Commits Suicide

TREMPEALEAU, Wis.—A 22-year-old Trempealeau area farm man, who suffered an emotional upset during the winter but appeared to be improving in recent months, took his own life Monday morning.

Trempealeau County Coroner Martin Wiemer ruled the death of Earl J. Krause a suicide. He said Krause attached a rubber hose to the exhaust pipe of a car parked in a garage, extending the hose into the car. He then closed the windows and started the motor.

Krause's body was found behind the wheel of the car about 10 a.m. by his mother.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Mount Calvary Lutheran Church, La Crosse, the Rev. Lloyd Lambert officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery. The Stetten-McKee Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Surviving are his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Selke; two sisters, Mrs. Bradley E. Sutton, Ft. Dodge, Iowa, and Esther Selke, Trempealeau, and a brother, Eugene Krause, Tomah.

Chiefs Lose 5-2 To Fairmont Nine

"I haven't seen a team that should beat us too much," Winona Chiefs Manager Emil Scheid said today following a 5-2 loss to Fairmont in a Southern Minny exhibition game Tuesday night at Fairmont.

Although his team has lost exhibitions to Fairmont and Faribault, Scheid appeared convinced that by the time the season rolls around, the Chiefs will be formidable opposition for any club.

Aside from the first inning at Fairmont Tuesday night, when Wes Rinker was touched for five singles and a walk, it was a tight game.

Fairmont grabbed a four-run lead in the first, Winona scored in the third and sixth frames and Fairmont added one in the fourth.

Rinker pitched the first three innings. The big left-hander was touched for seven hits and three bases on balls. Carl DeRose, who pitched the next three, gave up four hits while walking one and Joe Lawler, who twirled the seventh and eighth innings, allowed no hits while walking one.

Clyde DeWitt, new Fairmont pitcher who had a good record last year in the Western League, allowed only three hits, walked three and struck out 14 batters.

Winona's walk in the third resulted from a walk to Miller, a hit-batsman, an out, and Sid Langston's single. In the sixth Stan Sharkey hit a two-out double and scored on Billy Leach's single.

The Chiefs were without third baseman Joe Sturdivant and shortstop Emil Naszak for the game. Outfielder Ernie Sites played third, Whitey Felker and Lawler played leftfield and Stan Sharkey filled in at shortstop.

Meanwhile, Scheid announced that he received a letter from Michigan State second baseman George Smith, Smith, who was spiked and sidelined in a recent Big Ten Conference game, told Scheid he'll be returning to action shortly.

Smith and third baseman Tom Petroff plan to come in about June 15.

Next action for the Chiefs is Thursday night at Winnebago. Scheid's men play Winnebago of the Faribault County League. The Winona mentor will loan Winnebago pitchers Joe Jensen, Wes Rinker and Norm Reinhardt, while Felker, DeRose and Lawler will pitch for Winona.

In another Southern Minny exhibition Tuesday night, Albert Lea socked Waseca-Owatonna 9-5. Albert Lea hitters had six home runs, two by Manager Bill Ankoviak.

Strike on at 3 St. Paul Stores

ST. PAUL (U) — Three major department stores continued operating here today despite a strike of workers which halted deliveries and incoming shipments.

Members of the Hotel and Restaurant, Bakers and Building Service Employees Unions, all AFL, left their jobs Tuesday in a dispute over a new contract. AFL drivers refused to cross their picket lines.

The union said the old contract expired May 1 and that management representatives had refused to attend a negotiation session. Stores affected included Golden Rule, the Emporium and Schuneman's.

R. K. Humphrey, speaking for the stores, said the strike was a "quack" which had been called after only one collective bargaining meeting.

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

1. LOSS OF LOVE IS THE CHIEF CAUSE OF SUICIDE. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐ 5-11

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Dr. Don D. Jackson says in "Scientific American" (paraphrased): "Suicide is apparently an attempt to escape an unbearable situation—usually loss of love." The highest suicide rate is among elderly divorced persons, especially among elderly divorced professional persons who were unloved in childhood. The lowest rate is among the married. Love your children and strengthen them to accept whatever comes.
2. Ensure your married happiness! "Your Success in Marriage." Happiness Chart helps you predict marital happiness and adjustment. Send 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope (name city and state) to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, c/o this newspaper.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Yes. It gives them help in understanding themselves and at least a little knowledge of their heredity—something everyone should know more about. The Life History Study Center in Philadelphia has studied the lives of forty men and women, age 23 to 68, who had been adopted. The center urges parents to talk fully to adopted children about their true parents. They invite adults who were adopted children to write them about their problems.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Egg. Every new thing that appears in plants or animals is due to something that has come into the egg or germ cell. Whether this is caused by the environment or some "inner force"—a teleological pull or cosmic push—is unknown. But we do know it is due to the eternal urge of that mysterious thing called "Life." So, the egg came first, and the hen, like Jill, "came tumbling after."

THE GRAB BAG

THE ANSWER, QUICK!
1. Which is the largest of the Central or Middle American states?
2. What is the origin of the name of the state of Illinois?
3. For whom was the Holland tunnel, New York, named?

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?
1. Nicaragua.
2. From the French name for Illinois, an Indian tribe exterminated by the Iroquois at Starved Rock. Illinois means men.
3. For Clifford M. Holland, first chief engineer.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

Does the boss keep you over-time?
Working late has been a bugaboo to secretaries ever since some thoughtless fellow invented the typewriter. The boss just can't seem to understand that "five o'clock" means something quite special to Miss Jones. He may waste time all day—with a pal from out of town, chatting on the phone, long lunch hour and doing the crossword puzzle in the afternoon paper.

But at a quarter before quitting time—voltage! "Bring your notebook," he shouts, enthusiastically. The wheels of the gods have begun to turn. Late afternoon stimulates his brain. He's ready to dictate a batch of letters. One letter reminds him of four more—and are they important! "We'd better get these right out tonight," he says with solemnity. (This is a fine use of the editorial "we"—as Miss Jones knows so well.)

A secretary asks this question: Is there any way she can break her boss of the habit of working overtime without making an issue of it? Necessary work is one thing, but in her case there is no pressure of work or any "justifiable excuse" for detaining her.

There is one suggestion which might work. Tell him that beginning Monday next you have enrolled in a course designed to make you the best secretary in town. The group meets promptly at 5:10 every day—"right after work." Ask him, smiling sweet, if he would please help you arrange his work more efficiently, so the two of you would be finished right on the dot of 5 p.m. The "course" can be strung out for months—even if you have to conduct it yourself.

But that is only Part One of the Ground Swell Washes 7 Off Fishing Boat

BODEGA BAY, Calif. (AP)—A huge ground swell washed seven men off a chartered fishing boat yesterday. Pete Mancuso, Alvarado; Curt Rich, Boyes Springs; and Chelso Pedrechille, Sonoma, were drowned. Another fishing boat rescued the four others, including Capt. Roy K. Faught, owner of the chartered craft.
