The Charred Ruins of a large Stillwater, Minn., warehouse building that served World War I duty as a munitions plant, and the painless bodies of 10 new cars were about all that remained after a roaring fire swept the building here Monday. Firemen from

Stillwater and Bayport battled the flames, but were unable to bring them under control before the structure was leveled. Several trucks and used cars also were damaged by the blaze. The building was used by the Anderson Corp. for storing windows. (AP Photo)

$465,000 Fire Levels Building At Stillwater

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP)—A raging fire late Monday left a block-long warehouse building in ruins and destroyed 10 new cars and two trucks before firemen could bring the flames under control. Damage was estimated at $465,000.

The blaze, on the north side of Stillwater near the St. Croix River, leveled a World War I munitions plant recently occupied by two local firms for storage.

The entire structure was consumed in an hour. Besides the new vehicles, some 25 used cars were heavily damaged.

Owned by the Gilbert Manufacturing Co., the building had been leased to the Anderson Co. of Bayport for storing windows.

C. E. Gilbert, former head of a road equipment and farm machinery firm, estimated damage at $200,000 to the building and his company's machinery.

The Anderson firm said damage to the 40 carloads of windows stored in the building also would run about $200,000.

Damage to the new cars and trucks and the used cars was estimated by the Erickson Post Co., a Stillwater Ford agency, at $65,000. The firm had three new Ford cars, seven new Mercury autos and two new Ford trucks parked against the building when the fire broke out. All were destroyed.

Navy Explodes 2nd Underwater Atomic Device

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today the Navy has exploded a small atomic device under water off the West Coast of the United States.

The test, announced today, was the second of a series of tests in the Pacific Ocean the world's second underwater nuclear explosion took place.

But the Pentagon said that from early indications, the test involved no hazard to the American mainland, any island peoples or any consumers of fish.

The announced purpose of the test was to further develop new antisubmarine weapons.

The test was conducted by a small task group under the direction of Rear Adm. Charles B. Momen, commander of Joint Task Force 7, responsible for all nuclear tests in the Pacific area.

Autopsy Planned On Siamese Twins

DETROIT (AP)—Physicians at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital today planned an autopsy on Siamese twin girls who died last night less than a day and a half after they were born.

Dr. Glen E. Hause said indications were the babies died of respiratory and circulatory failure.

Mrs. Richard Herring, 27, mother of the twins, said "I am thankful that I do have two normal children at home." The father is a factory worker.

5 Winonans Plead Guilty to Federal Liquor Violations

Pleas of guilty to charges of federal liquor law violations were entered by five Winonans during this morning's session of U. S. District Court here.

A plea of not guilty, meanwhile, was made by an Austin liquor store owner on another federal count, a Winona manufacturing firm pleaded guilty to a labeling violation and the case of a Winona man charged with unlawfully collecting railroad unemployment benefits was continued.

These were the principal developments during the opening session of the Winona term at which Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye, Minneapolis, is presiding.

The order of trial for eight civil cases on the jury calendar for the Winona term also was determined with the first trial slated to begin Wednesday when the jury panel reports for duty.

Sentencing Deferred

In each of the Winona cases, sentencing of the defendants was deferred pending an investigation by the federal probation officer.

Those who were arraigned this morning and pleaded guilty to charges of carrying on the business of a retail liquor dealer without paying the necessary tax were:

Edwin P. Kohner, 51, operator of the Wagon Wheel, 1000 W. 5th St.

Joseph Lewinski, 41, operator of Blanche's Place, 416 Buchanan St.

Joseph Olszewski, 55, operator of the Reception Bar, 219 W. 2nd St.

Henry C. Yackel, 56, operator of the Henry Yackel Tavern, 920 W. 5th St.

Each of these was arrested by agents of the Federal Bureau of Internal Revenue's alcohol and tobacco tax unit last Dec. 2 and was named in indictments delivered by a grand jury Feb. 2.

At this morning's arraignment, C. Stanley McMahon, Winona, represented each of the defendants, waived the reading of the information in each case and entered a plea of guilty to one count of each indictment.

Alex Dim, assistant U. S. attorney from St. Paul, who represented the federal government in each case, told the court that at the time of the sentencing the government would move for dismissal of the remaining counts in the indictments.

In the cases of Kohner and Lewinski there were second counts of possessing liquor intended to be used in violation of the internal revenue law and third counts of distilled spirits in containers without stamps.

Cited in 2nd Count

Olszewski and Yackel each was cited in a second count of possessing liquor intended to be used in violation of internal revenue laws.

Also heard this morning was a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying on the business of a whole-sale liquor dealer without paying the federal tax by Lawrence F. Jung, operator of Shorty's Bar & Cafe, 54 E. Mark St.

He was named in an indictment delivered last Sept. 9 and on Sept. 27 pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Today his attorney, H. M. Lamberth Jr., said that the defendant wished to reverse his earlier plea.

1 to 7 Inches Of Snow Falls in Western States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spow and cool weather brought a touch of winter to sections of the Rockies and northern border states today.

There was snow ranging from 1 to 7 inches in parts of Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. Temperatures were far below freezing in some areas in the West and also in the north central states.

At Cut Bank, in northwestern Montana, the snowfall measured 6 inches and it was 27 above. Heaviest fall was 7 inches at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

The cool Canadian air moved into the Great Lakes region and New England and temperatures dropped 10 to 20 degrees, reaching near or below freezing in some areas. It was 26 at Grand Marais, Mich. Temperatures were in the 30s and lower over the St. Lawrence River Valley, the northern Great Lakes and the higher elevations in the northern Rockies.

Stormy weather was reported in the southland from Texas to South Carolina, with thunderstorms over wide areas. Six tornadoes skipped across rural areas in the South Plains of Texas yesterday but damage was light and no one was injured. A sudden windstorm with gusts and hail hit Sidney in southwest Nebraska yesterday. Power and telephone lines were toppled.

Nearly 2 inches of rain was reported in Houston, Tex., and more than 1 1/2 inches at Chadron, Neb.

Other wet spots today were in New England which reported light showers. Rain fell in areas from western Washington and Oregon to the western sections of the Dakotas and Nebraska.

Real Draft Like Movement May Be Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some top Republican strategists have come to the conclusion that only a draft movement from the voters will persuade President Eisenhower to seek a second term.

They apparently feel that—unless world conditions worsen—Eisenhower will turn a deaf ear to pleas of GOP office holders and professional politicians for him to run again in 1956.

But they seem to believe that if the President can be convinced a majority of the people don't want him to quit after four years, he might find that a compelling argument.

The party's strategists aren't sure yet how they can register any such grass root sentiment. "Most presidential draft movements are pure hokum," said one who asked not to be named. He added, however, that the GOP high command will try to spur "a real one."

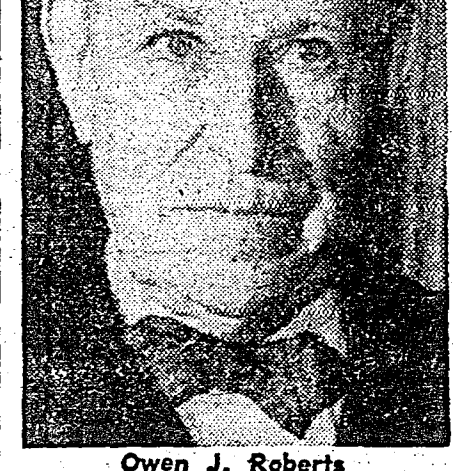

Owen J. Roberts, Ex-Justice, Dead

PHENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts, retired former associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, died today at his home. He was 80 last May 2, and had retired from the bench in 1945.

Roberts suffered a heart attack and died at 10:25 a.m. His widow and an only child, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, were at his bedside.

The justice, named to the nation's highest court in 1930 by former President Herbert Hoover, had been ill for some time. Until last weekend he had been a patient in a Philadelphia hospital.

Friends quoted him as saying that if he was to die he preferred to be at home, at his estate in nearby Chester Springs, 30 miles west of Philadelphia.

Ike Planning 6-Day Trip to New England

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that President Eisenhower plans a six-day visit to Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine starting June 22.

It said the plans are subject to possible change, however, depending on developments in the international situation, such as arrangements for a top-level Big Four conference at that time.

Freeman Starts Highway Safety Point System

12 Demerits in One Year Will Bring Suspension

ST. PAUL (AP)—Gov. Freeman today announced a new policy in highway safety.

A new point system for evaluating drivers' records is being put into effect immediately, Gov. Freeman said.

The new point system provides for entering on the record of any driver who violates traffic laws a certain specified number of demerit points. These demerits are based on the seriousness of the offense.

When 12 demerit points have been accumulated against a driver in any 12 month period, his driver's license will be revoked or suspended.

Freeman said the system was agreed on after conferences with Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman, Safety Director Earl Larimer, Drivers License Director E. P. Lee and officers of the Minnesota Safety Council.

"An important part of the point system is the preventive feature involved in the provision for an official warning to drivers who have accumulated six or more points," Freeman said.

The Highway Department is issuing 250,000 copies of a pamphlet describing the point system. Certain offenses automatically count 12 points each, because revocation is mandatory upon conviction.

The 12 point offenses include: drunk driving, hit and run driving involving personal injury, reckless driving or speeding within a 12 month period, manslaughter or criminal negligence, the commission of any felony in which a motor vehicle was used, and making a false statement to the department under laws relating to ownership or operation of a motor vehicle.

Three types of offenses which also would result in immediate suspension, and carrying 12 points each, include: a showing by department records that an offense has been committed which, upon conviction, will require mandatory revocation; conviction of any offense in which the violation contributed to causing an accident; and driving after revocation, suspension or cancellation of a driver's license.

Here's the way demerit points will be scored against convicted drivers, with an accumulation of 12 points in one year resulting in immediate suspension of driver's licenses:

Reckless driving, six points.
Careless driving, six points.
Spreading or driving too fast for conditions, six points.
Failure to yield right of way to motor vehicle or pedestrians, six points.
Disregarding traffic control signs and signals, four points.
Improper passing, four points.
Following too closely behind another vehicle, three points.
Improper turning, three points.
Driving on wrong side of road, three points.

Leaving the scene of an accident, no personal injury, three points.
All other moving traffic violations, two points.
Suspension or revocation would be for periods ranging from 30 days to one year.

Certain offenses call for 12 demerit points, with mandatory revocation, such as driving a car while drunk or conviction of any felony in which an auto is used.

Austin Lawyer Second Judge in Tenth District

ST. PAUL (AP)—Warren F. Plunkett, 34, Austin, today was appointed by Gov. Freeman as a district judge in the 10th judicial district. The appointment, effective Wednesday, is the result of a new law enacted by the 1955 Legislature creating a second judgeship in the 10th district. Included in the district are Mower, Fillmore and Freeborn Counties.

The new judge was born in St. Paul Aug. 4, 1920, and moved to Austin with his parents in 1927. He has resided there since, attending Columbus Grade School and St. Augustine High School.

He was graduated from the University of Minnesota with a bachelor of arts degree in 1942 and in 1948 received a degree in law at the university. While there, he was an assistant instructor in the law school.

In World War II, Plunkett was a lieutenant junior grade with the Navy and served in the Pacific theater.

He played quarterback on the Minnesota championship football teams of 1940 and 1941.

He practiced law in Austin since graduation. He is a member of the law firm of Plunkett and Plunkett, with offices in Austin and Rochester. Other members of the firm include Hugh V. Plunkett Sr., his father; Hugh V. Plunkett Jr., Austin, and Richard H. Plunkett, Rochester, brothers.

State Salk Shots Begin Monday

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A new shipment of Salk polio vaccine, being flown here from Parke-Davis laboratories in Detroit, may enable the mass inoculation of first and second graders to get under way in Minnesota schools Monday.

The new lot will replace an earlier Parke-Davis batch that has been in "cold storage" in Minnesota, awaiting federal clearance.

Dr. A. J. Chesley, state health officer, was informed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Monday that the replacement lot will arrive this week. He was told the quantity will be sufficient so that vaccinations of the first and second graders can begin.

"We should have the new vaccine by Thursday, maybe earlier," said Dr. Chesley. He thought that if it arrived by Thursday, the school-room vaccinations might start Monday. A two-week interval is recommended before the second shots in the series are given.

Other Points Of Sec. Hobby's Plan Questioned

Congressmen May Insist on Standby Controls

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) said today there is "absolutely no question" but that Congress would quickly approve President Eisenhower's request for 28 million dollars to pay for antipolio vaccine for children whose parents can't afford the shots.

Hill, chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, said in an interview he expects Eisenhower's companion request for two million dollars for more inspectors to police vaccine output to go through as soon as Congress can get around to considering the matter.

Otherwise, Hill voiced reservations about the administration's new 11-point program for voluntary allocations and controls over distribution of the Salk polio vaccine. Secretary of Welfare Hobby outlined that program to the committee yesterday after it had been approved by the President.

Hill said the program "very clearly" was not "detailed or definite."

Committee Democrats indicated by their questions and comments at yesterday's hearing that they are far from sold on the administration's plan to make sure, by voluntary methods, that supplies of the still-scarce vaccine get to the most susceptible age groups in sufficient quantities and that distribution is carried out equitably. There were some new Democratic charges of "bungling."

But Republican members of the committee defended the administration's handling of the problem and congratulated Mrs. Hobby for the job she has done.

Although the administration is opposed to compulsory control over vaccine distribution and price, Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.) indicated he was inclined toward supporting proposals for standby controls.

"I'd rather have federal controls so the power would be there if needed," Ives said.

Ives said he would not quarrel with repeated statements by Mrs. Hobby that there is no necessity now for special federal power to channel the vaccine to the 1-19 age groups which the federal government has decided need it most.

But, Ives said, that's because no real commercial distribution is being made of the vaccine today. All available is going to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which is giving it free to first and second grade children.

It will be August, Ives said, before any major distribution problems might arise. And in August, he added, Congress is likely to adjourn for the year.

Norvin N. Barker of Six Mile, S. C., wept Monday after receiving this Medal of Honor for his son, Pfc. Charles H. Barker. The son lost his life, sacrificing it, so said the citation, so that a patrol of his unit could withdraw from intense enemy fire after its ammunition was almost gone. The action took place in the final weeks of fighting in Korea. At far left is Gen. Matthew Ridgway, retiring Army Chief of Staff. (AP Wirephoto)

Business Keeps Eye on Advance Order Books

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are watching their advance order books today for a clue as to how much of a summer slump to expect.

Some in the steel industry, for example, are looking for a July and August drop in production of about 10 per cent from the present near-capacity rate. If so, this would still leave that basic industry in a very prosperous condition.

Order books of many industries are already well enough filled to assure high production schedules through this month and next. And some manufacturers are so optimistic that they look for little or no slowing down for the rest of the year.

But a seasonal slump during the hot months is so traditional that the Federal Reserve Board makes allowance for it in weighing the factors in its industrial output index.

One reason is the growing trend for factories to close up shop for one to three weeks in the summer for mass vacations. Not only does the output of the factory fall off, but its need for raw materials and supplies also is deferred.

This summer there may be a marked drop in auto production for a while. The companies are expected to change over to their new models a month or two earlier this year than they did last. Work on 1955 models will halt.

This will show up first on the KELLOGG, Minn. (Special)—American Legion poppy day will be held here Saturday. Mrs. Earl Hillelshiem and Mrs. Floyd Kriesel are chairmen. Sale of the poppies, made by disabled veterans, will be conducted through the business district and a house-to-house canvass is also planned by the volunteer workers of the Auxiliary.

order books of the steel mills. Some mills report there are signs already that steel deliveries to the auto industry will drop by 10 to 15 per cent in July and August. The steel mills say that orders have increased lately from such other users as farm machinery makers and the oil companies, which will help offset any slump in Detroit.

All concerned, however, are watching closely the sales trends of the auto dealers and the production charts of the construction industry. Any marked change in either could foreshadow a shift in business prospects for the last half of the year.

Russ Leaders Seek to Ease World Tensions

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today Russian leaders appear ready to discuss relaxation of world tensions at a top-level conference without raising annoying "collateral" issues.

George's comment in an interview was similar to a cautious note of optimism voiced by Secretary of State Dulles, who reports to the nation tonight on his talks in Europe with free world and Soviet diplomats.

With President Eisenhower introducing him, Dulles will give a broadcast report which the White House said will be "as informal as we can make it."

The half-hour program will be carried live by the television networks. There will be delayed rebroadcasts by radio (ABC 8 p. m.)

He indicated he was basing part of his optimism on the signing of the Austrian Peace Treaty. Pronouncing the treaty satisfactory, he predicted it would be ratified "as soon as it is submitted to the Senate."

S. Korea Objects To Japan Seat at Asian Conference

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea, which long has sought a conference of Asians opposed to Communism, today was ready to boycott such a conference rather than let Japan become a member.

The government ordered 11 newsmen who had planned to accompany a South Korean delegation to a meeting of the Anti-Communist Peoples Conference on Formosa next Monday to return the dollars they drew from the treasury to pay for passage and expenses.

South Korea is demanding a veto over any new members admitted to the conference, which is made up of private groups of citizens in eight Asian nations.

Y. P. Lee, head of the ROK delegation, quoted Nationalist Chinese officials as saying it would be "undemocratic to require unanimous agreement for invitation to a new member," as South Korea demands.

Lee said it would be "useless" for the ROKs to attend the conference under that proposal.

TO ENGLAND

Miss Viva Tansey, 118 W. Wabasha St., will be one of nearly 50 taking part in the Iowa State Teachers College social science seminar at Ashridge College, Berkhamstead, England. The party will sail next month, arriving in England June 17 for five weeks of study. A five-day tour of southwest England and a two-day tour of the Shakespeare country and other historic spots is planned. After classes close the students will spend three weeks in Holland, Germany, Switzerland, France and other countries, returning home Aug. 17.

Presbyterians Hold Conference On Evangelism

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A conference on evangelism today and tomorrow precedes the 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. The assembly is slated to consider, among other things, ordination of women as ministers and a proposed racial "Operation Desegregation" in the church.

More than 5,000 delegates are expected to attend the assembly's first session here in 52 years. They are in addition to the assembly's 440 lay commissioners and 440 clerical commissioners.

The assembly is the governing body of the church, which lists 2,658,000 members. After the two-day conference on evangelism, the assembly opens Thursday and continues through the following Wednesday.

Next Monday the commissioners will consider the proposal on women ministers. The report was prepared by a committee headed by Dr. C. White, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Neb. Favoring ordination of women, the report says in part:

"It is proper to speak of equality of status for men and women both in terms of their creation and redemption. . . . There is no theological ground for denying ordination to women simply because they are women."

"The ordination of women would enable the church to give status to women now serving the church and would also encourage others to undertake the work of the ministry."

A Message To The People Of Minnesota From The Pfeiffer Brewing Company

You undoubtedly know, the Pfeiffer Brewing Company acquired the Jacob Schmidt Brewing Company plant in St. Paul on January 1 of this year.

As anticipated, we found this plant to be basically one of the really fine brewing plants in America. In the ensuing months Pfeiffer's rigid standards of quality control were put into effect and some vitally important changes in equipment were made. Some time ago, the first brew of Pfeiffer's Famous Beer went to the aging cellars. This beer is now ready!

Next week, nearly five months after the acquisition, we are introducing Pfeiffer's Famous Beer to you folks in Minnesota. It will be available at your favorite taverns and stores.

We're not going to spend countless words trying to describe the matchless flavor of this great beer. We ask you just one favor.

Try it for yourself.

Yes, you try Pfeiffer's Beer and you be the sole judge of taste and flavor. Learn first hand, what a fine beer it really is.

46 Admitted At Court Here To Citizenship

Include Residents From Rochester, Austin, Other Points

Forty-six persons from throughout southern Minnesota were admitted to United States citizenship during this morning's opening session of the Winona term of U.S. District Court.

The group, including residents of Winona, Rochester, Austin and a number of other communities in this part of the state, was the first to be admitted to citizenship in federal court here since the function was transferred recently from the state courts.

Previously naturalization petitioners were heard in the state district court during the spring term and those whose applications were being processed at the time the change in proceedings was effected will continue to be heard in the state courts.

The petitioners this morning were presented to U.S. District Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye, Minneapolis, by Maurice Sher, St. Paul, a United States naturalization examiner.

Because of the large number of petitioners, the group was divided into two units for the administration of the oath of citizenship by Judge Nordbye.

Sher explained that each applicant previously had appeared before an examiner and statements were taken under oath from him and two sponsoring citizens to establish the petitioner's qualifications for citizenship.

After the oath had been administered Judge Nordbye extended the congratulations and best wishes of the court to the new citizens.

Those who received the oath this morning were:

New Firefighting Equipment Bought By Altura Group

ALTURA, Minn.—A $12,500 high pressure fire fighting apparatus has been purchased by the Altura Fire Department.

A contract for the equipment was awarded to Fire & Safety, Inc., Rochester last week, representatives of the John Bean Co., Lansing, Mich. Some of the Altura firemen will attend the Bean fire school when the equipment is ready for delivery, others will go to school in Rochester.

The truck will have a capacity of delivering 500 gallons of water vapor under high pressure per minute and will be used for both rural and village fires.

4 Contracts Let Without Contest, Fifth Laid Over

Four contracts were awarded by the City Council Monday evening at City Hall and not a one was contested.

In the series of bid openings, only the sidewalk, curb and gutter project—the biggest of the lot—was contested.

On the sidewalk contract the city received what one official termed a "favorable" bid—27 cents a square foot for 4-inch sidewalk—but the Council adjourned to next Monday night before awarding the job.

Aldermen, at a hearing preceding a bid opening, also heard from about 20 property owners protesting their inclusion in the contract. Action also was deferred to next Monday night, but it was noted that since the low bidder must accept any reductions in the quantity of the contract, it is unlikely that many deletions can be made.

On the other hand, there are several property owners who now want to be included in the contract, but City Attorney Harold S. Streeter said it might be advisable to accept additions to the contract since they would not have been included in the entire legal assessment procedure.

Bids Called Reasonable

The contractors who won contracts without a contest (City Engineer W. O. Cribbs said that all of the bids appeared reasonable, except that the bid on the overhead door was somewhat over his estimate):

• Standard Oil Co.—50,000 gallons of RC 1, 2, 3 or 4, $4.90, and 20,000 gallons of SC 1, 2, 3 or 4, $1.72, both for the street department.

• American Bitumals & Asphalt Co.—50,000 gallons of RS 2, for the street department, $5.15.

• Keller Construction Co., Winona, installation of an overhead garage door in the street department's recently acquired addition, $2,568.

• H. J. Dunn Black Top Surfacing Co., Winona, $8,244.80—for hot plant mix surfacing of streets in the Arthur C. Thurler Homes and the parking lot at the courthouse.

The bid on the alternate—a road mix job—was $6,684.80. Engineer Cribbs said the square yard prices for the two methods were approximately 73 and 90 cents. He said that the hot mix method would result in a more permanent job. Both parts of the projects will be completed in about a month. Quantities: Road mix—4,580 gallons of bituminous material for prime coat, 6,200 gallons of bituminous material for mixture and tack coat, 254 cubic yards of aggregate and 9,612 square yards of bituminous surface; hot mix—4,580 gallons of bituminous material for prime coat, 458 tons of asphaltic plant mix and 920 gallons of asphaltic material for tack coat.

The sidewalk, curb and gutter bids:

Ready Mixed Concrete Co. (Elmer H. Plantz), Wausau, Wis., $68,644.82; George D. Kathan, La Crosse, $88,520.95; Joseph Patron, Eau Claire, Wis., $78,996.24, and Keller Construction Co., Winona, $89,757.71.

Unit Prices Submitted

The low bidder's unit prices: 113,685 square feet of 4-inch sidewalk, 27 cents; 6,595 square feet of 6-inch sidewalk and driveways, 41 cents; 3,903 linear feet of curb and gutter, $1.74; 73,124 square feet of rebuilt 4-inch sidewalk, 34 cents (involves removal of existing sidewalk); 7,252 square feet of rebuilt 6-inch sidewalk and driveways, 49 cents; 547 linear feet of rebuilt curb and gutter, $1.98, excavation, 50 cents a cubic yard, and replacing material, $1.30 a cubic yard.

If he secures the contract, Plantz plans to complete the work by Oct. 15.

By letter or in person, the following asked to be removed from the contract:

Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, East 2nd between Walnut and Market streets; Edward I. Hittner, lot 6, block 13, Bolcom's Addition; residents of block 3, Dietze & Lee Addition—Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rasmussen, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Whetstone, Mr. and Mrs. William Loeding and Harold Bathin (Jefferson Stadium area).

Residents of blocks bounded by Villa, Gould and Hilbert streets on West Mark street—Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Erdmanczyk, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Friederich, George Meier, Mary Boardman, Edmund Schroeder, Arthur Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. William Samuels, C. E. Whetstone, Fred Elrich, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steffes, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Rossin and Alfred and Edwin Berndt.

Residents on Mankato avenue south of Main street—August Kreuer, Albert Cisewski, Elmer, William and Herbert Benz.

Vince Datta, 705 E. Howard St.; Elmer Fuglie, 1420 W. Broadway; Don Bonham (a renter), 1402 W. Broadway; a Mr. Erickson representing Stella Verdict, 888 E. Sanborn St., lot 17, block 15, Fairfax Addition; Felix Nowicki, 1051 E. Sanborn St., and Frank Wos, 1221 W. 2nd St.

Those who were there in person protested that the sidewalks weren't needed, that they would cause drainage or driveway problems that they would destroy property value (such as by forced removal of trees) or that the expense would be too great. Property owners may take up to 10 years to pay at 10 per cent interest.

All were referred to the city engineer for tabulation.

More Bids for June 6

At the June 6 meeting the Council will be opening other bids for:

• Airport gasoline—5,000 gallons of 80 octane and 30,000 gallons of 90 octane.

• 10,000 gallons of fuel oil for street department garage, lift station and sewage disposal plant.

• 200 tons of stoker coal for the West End fire station and the City Hall.

• 20,000 gallons of premium gasoline and (alternate), same amount of regular gasoline for all city vehicles, including those operated by the various boards.

• One-cubic-yard loader, four-wheel drive with torque converter. This will be a bigger loader than the street department now owns.

• Three-ton truck with a gross weight of 22,000 pounds, power steering and three-cubic-yard dump box, to be used for various jobs, including snowplowing, by the street department. A 1942 Dodge three-ton truck is offered as a trade-in.

The Council passed a resolution asking the St. Paul District, Corps of Engineers, to deposit spoil from dredging on city-owned land east of the Neco Ordnance Corp., and the Pepin Pickling Co., when government dredges are in the vicinity.

Six residents of Grandview Addition, living adjacent to the filled water valley, Creek ditch, filed written approval to permit the city to move equipment over their property for the purpose of removing silt from the ditch and tapering the bank on the south side.

Teachers College Presidents Get Pay Increases

ST. PAUL—Minnesota state teachers college presidents received $900 annual pay boosts Monday from the state board.

Included in the increase, to $12,000, was Dr. Nels Minne of the Winona college. New salaries are effective next Jan. 1.

The board named Dr. Arthur L. Knoblauch of the University of Connecticut as president of Moorhead State Teachers to succeed O. W. Snarr, who is retiring.

Other presidents were re-elected.

Altura Youth Bound Over in Theft of Ring

An Altura farm youth this morning was bound over to District Court on a charge of first degree grand larceny involving the theft of a ring from a Lewiston service station.

He is Ralph Ehlenfeldt, 19, who pleaded guilty to the charge of taking a ring valued at $175 from the James Hruska service station at Lewiston last April 19.

Assistant County Attorney Richard Darby represented the state at this morning's municipal court session and Ehlenfeldt waived his right to a preliminary hearing in the lower court.

He was bound over under $2,500 bond.

Ehlenfeldt was one of two youths arrested by Sheriff George Fort in his investigation of the service station break-in.

A younger boy previously was referred to juvenile authorities, and subsequently sent to the Red Wing Training School, on another charge arising from the break-in.

Mrs. Katherine Kroning, 45, 201 W. Broadway, paid a $100 fine and $2 costs after pleading guilty to a charge of drunken driving.

She was arrested by police at 9:25 p. m. Monday on East Sarnia street.

Arthur Kaehler, 22, 350 Chatfield St., pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving and driving without a license.

He was arrested by police on East 3rd street at 12:04 a. m. today.

In consideration of a previous arrest on a similar charge, Judge E. D. Libera imposed a $25 fine for driving without a license. Another $25 fine was imposed on the second count.

Services Set for Churches in Area

A number of area Catholic and Protestant churches have announced special services for Thursday of this week—the Feast of the Ascension of Our Lord—on May 13 church page.

The Feast of the Ascension is observed as the closing of the 40-day period after the Crucifixion—during which Christ appeared among men, working miracles and instructing His apostles in how to carry on after He had left.

Area churches marking the day with ceremonies include: St. Matthew's Lutheran Church at ST. CHARLES, where services will be at 8 p. m.

Trinity Lutheran Church of STOCKTON will hold ceremonies at 7:15 p. m., with registration for Holy Communion for next Sunday to follow worship services.

At ARCADIA, Wis., Ascension Day Masses will be said at St. Stanislaus Catholic Church at 9 a. m. and 8 p. m.; and at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church at 6, 8 and 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

At ALTURA, Minn., services at Jehovah Lutheran Church will be at 8:15 p. m. and the Hebrew Moravian Missionary Society will hold its services at 8 p. m. in the church parlors.

Services will be held at both the BETHANY Moravian and NORTON Lutheran churches Thursday at 8 p. m.

Blinded Vet Denied Permit Near Gabrych

Right to Set Up Concession Trailer Granted Second Man

The City Council Monday night turned down the bid of a blinded war veteran to operate a concession stand for Gabrych Park patrons.

Aldermen did it on grounds that Walter Banicki would be operating in a residential area.

A few minutes later aldermen said it would be all right if another man set up a concession trailer a few feet away—in the street.

Banicki asked for off-sale beer and cigarette licenses at the rear of 927 E. Broadway, just north of a tavern. This is at the corner of Steuben street and Broadway.

Steuben runs on the west side of Gabrych Park.

Aldermen—with 4th Ward Ald. Joseph Karsting and Daniel Bambenek dissenting—said that 927 E. Broadway is zoned residential and, therefore, Banicki should not have licenses there to operate a business.

Trailers Approved

However, they approved parking of two trailers by James D. Mohan (confined to a wheelchair) of 501 Mankato Ave. on Steuben street and East Wabasha street, adjacent to the ball park. He'll have them on the streets during games and between games, according to 2nd Ward Ald. William S. Christensen.

Mohan is the licensed concessionaire of the Winona Baseball Association.

City Attorney Harold S. Streeter, also a member of the board of control of the baseball association, said that Banicki, who has been the concessionaire for the past several years, declined to make a bid this year.

Only council restriction on the Mohan operation is that he be properly "signaled at night."

Aldermen rejected another license application, this one for a sign. Joseph J. Holm, owner of the Winona Body & Implement Shop, 810 E. King St., asked permission to put a neon sign on the boulevard because trees would obscure a sign on the building.

The Council, noting the prohibition of signs on city property (boulevards), turned down the petition.

Want Signs Removed

In addition, aldermen voted to have the building inspector remove all signs from boulevards. City Engineer W. O. Cribbs offered to prepare a list of such illegal signs for submission to the Council, but Council President William P. Theurer said that scanning of such a list might put the order on a personal basis.

Making the motion for removal of all boulevard signs was 1st Ward Ald. Harold Briesath, a service station owner. Before he made the motion, he asked if it was right that service stations would be allowed to put signs on their buildings.

Ald. Briesath said, "That's all right with me," and made the motion.

There was one "no" vote, by Ald.-at-Large Gordon L. Weishorn.

Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer, owner of the Pfeiffer Nursery, reported that he recently had complied with a building inspector's order to move his sign back about 6 inches on Gilmore avenue.

Licenses the aldermen did approve:

• Off-sale beer—Lawrence Pomeroy, 813 Huff St.

• Sign—E. Walski, 3rd and Market streets.

• Drainlayer's—Elmer Evanson and Jerome Borkowski.

• Cigarette—Emil's Drive-In, 600 E. Sarnia St.

• Dance—American Society, 51 1/2 E. 2nd St.

Ruby Smith withdrew her application, made May 2, for a palmistry license at 173 E. 3rd St. The Council had laid the application over at the May 2 meeting.

Waste Material Burned in Fire At Miller Mills

Several bales of waste material were burned by a fire at the Miller Waste Mills, 515 W. 3rd St., at 7:10 p. m. Monday.

Firemen found that the blaze apparently was started by a spark in a carding machine.

The spark started a fire in the roller and the blaze went into the room where the bales were kept.

Another run was made at 5:28 p. m. to 319 Center street to put out a fire in a car owned by Don Brokaw.

The fire in the cushion was believed to have started from a cigarette.

Red Men Plan Stag Card Party

A stag card party will follow a Red Men tribal council meeting at the wigwam at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Schafskopf, cribbage and five hundred will be played and prizes will be awarded.

A special luncheon will be served.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are O. H. Hultkrantz, William Fratzke, Albert Peterman, Albert Thiele and Frank Thies.

Shedding Cottonwoods On Mayor's Mind Again

Those shedding cottonwood trees are on Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer's mind again.

The annual crop of pistillate flowers now are showering down, and the mayor made note of this fact—and the public response—at the City Council meeting Monday evening.

Owners of the trees have had three years' official notice, said the mayor. He indicated that the city owns some of the trees, too.

According to ordinance, the mayor can cause removal of any such tree "which sheds its seeds in such manner as to annoy the comfort of any considerable number of persons."

The mayor, he let it be known, is uncomfortable from numerous protests about the shower of seeds.

Letter Will Result In Closing 5-A Road

The City Council Monday night filed a letter from the St. Paul District Army engineer that will result in closing of the Winona Dam dike road June 1.

Col. Otto J. Rohde early last winter wrote the Winona County Board of Commissioners that the government has no money available to maintain the road and that unless some local governmental unit assumed the obligation it would be closed.

In February the county board held a meeting to discuss the maintenance, but neither the county nor Winona Township expressed an interest in the maintenance. The city was not represented at the session.

Since then the issue has been discussed, briefly, several times at Council meetings. Aldermen have held that since the road is outside the city limits, they cannot legally

To Work Early

Winona's aldermen came to work early Monday evening.

Preceding their 7:30 o'clock meeting at City Hall, aldermen took a guided tour of one of the sewage lift stations—Mankato avenue and Sarnia street—and the sewage disposal plant at the foot of Wall street.

Guide was City Engineer W. O. Cribbs.

President William P. Theurer said that he believed the Council had enjoyed the trip and asked the engineer to plan another for June 6.

At 7:30 o'clock, aldermen began a 4 1/2-hour session.

accept the maintenance obligation. They would welcome maintenance by the county, adding that the city, through taxes, would pay nearly 60 per cent of the cost.

First general use of the road came in 1951 when the Prairie Island road washed out and Winona Township residents who live on the island used the roundabout route, to Minnesota City, to reach Winona.

No Public Demand

Since then there has been occasional maintenance of the road. Second Ward Ald. Henry V. Parks, chairman of the street committee, said last night, "We've done that a few times," when 4th Ward Ald. Daniel Bambenek suggested that the city "could go out there once in a while and grade a little."

Aldermen expressed concern that there has been no public demand for keeping the road open, but in lieu of it filed the letter from Col. Rohde which announced that the road will be closed June 1.

"There might be public demand if we close it for a month," said President William P. Theurer.

The Minnesota City Boat Club, which has a harbor off the road near the upper end, has a lease to use the road from Minnesota City east to the harbor. It has assumed maintenance for that portion.

At a previous meeting Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer noted that the road completes a circle trip from the city, through Latch Prairie Island Park, to Minnesota City and back to Winona on Highway 61.

In discussing park roads, Ald. Bambenek also called attention to large cracks in the surface of the old highway bridge from Latch Island to park land across Bathhouse Slough. The engineer will check.

Leo Schenach, representing Socony Vacuum Oil Co., explained a proposal discussed at the May 2 meeting of the Council. Socony Vacuum is buying the vacant lot adjacent to its station at East 3rd and Market streets from Norman Roverdy. The oil firm will surface the lot and lease it to the city for a public parking lot for taxes and interest on the investment, estimated at about $65 a month. Schenach said that at least a year's lease would be needed with a mutual cancellation clause. Between 21 and 25 cars could be accommodated. No decision was made. Previously the Council has indicated that it might be willing to lease the lot for a month or two as a trial. Schenach said that the lot might be used for a service station expansion in the near future.

The amounts represent increases based on recommendations of state public examiner's accountants in their examination of Board of Education financial affairs recently.

City Engineer W. O. Cribbs was authorized expenses to attend the Minnesota Mercury vapor clinic in Minneapolis May 23.

Approved was a resolution approving the collateral—various bonds—provided by the three Winona banks—First National Bank, Winona National & Savings Bank and Merchants National Bank—where city monies are deposited. Bank totals: First, $727,500; Winona National, $645,000, and Merchants, $396,500.

Sen. Humphrey Declares Adlai Leading Candidate

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D) says flatly that Adlai Stevenson is the leading candidate at this time for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956.

Minnesota's junior senator said in an interview he is convinced that if Stevenson would declare he is a candidate he would get the nomination. Stevenson is currently on a tour outside the country. He has given no positive statement that he will be in the running.

Humphrey said the former Illinois governor, the Democratic nominee in 1952, "at this stage is my No. 1 choice" for the 1956 party nomination. He emphatically declined to enumerate his second and third choices.

Although Humphrey declined to be quoted on his own role in 1956, it is known that he has no personal ambitions for the top spot on the Democratic ticket next year.

This is due in part to his age. He is 43. However, he probably would not be against accepting a vice presidential nomination if it were offered to him next year.

Things could be different in 1960. He would then be 48 and would have had considerable experience by then. It is expected he would be quite happy at any suggestions that he be the nominee in that year.

Talked With Stevenson
Humphrey said he has talked with Stevenson for hours and is completely convinced Stevenson was sincere in stating in 1952 he did not want the nomination.

Asked if he thought Stevenson would be disciplined to accept the nomination in 1956, Humphrey said:

"I think he feels a responsibility to the party and I believe he feels that developments in the past two or three years are favorable."

At the same time, Humphrey said he believes President Eisenhower will be a candidate to succeed himself next year.

"I believe any man who is president has a desire to continue his policies," he said. "A president may have extreme personal feelings against running again. But I believe that those are always overridden by a sense of public duty and political pressure."

Sen. Edward J. Hyde (R) also believes Eisenhower will run again. Hyde has been a strong backer of much of Eisenhower's policies in the Senate.

Humphrey said he believes Stevenson will announce "in plenty of time" that he would be receptive to the party's nomination next year.

Mentions Like Bloopers
Humphrey said that while Eisenhower "is popular with the people," he must accept responsibility for "bloopers" in his administration in the same way as he accepts credit for good things accomplished.

"We cannot say that it is Secretary Benson's farm policy or Secretary Dulles' foreign policy, but must say that it is the President's policy," Humphrey said.

There has introduced legislation to authorize the coinage of 15,000 half-dollars in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Minnesota's admission as a state.

The 50-cent pieces would be dated 1955 and be issued at the request of the Minnesota Statehood Centennial Commission.

An Agriculture Department official has indicated that cheese makers of Minnesota and other major cheese-producing states could soon face new foreign competition despite an import quota arrangement.

Richard S. Roberts, foreign agricultural service executive, testified at a Tariff Commission hearing that the competition could come unless a loophole in present law is plugged.

He testified at a commission hearing on proposed changes in the wording of a presidential proclamation establishing dairy products and cheese import quotas.

Roberts told the commission that unless the change is made it would be a simple matter for cheese producers such as Argentina, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden and Italy to seek larger shares of the U.S. market.

New Packaging Processes?
New packaging processes and other practices, he said, could completely circumvent present import controls.

He gave this example: The import quota for provoloni, an Italian type cheese made from cow's milk, is 9,200,100 pounds a year. The proclamation sets quotas for such cheeses when shipped in the "original leaves."

Last year some importers brought from Italy a type of cheese called pecolone. It is made chiefly from cow's milk, but had roughly 5 per cent of sheep's milk. Pecolone, which never had been shipped to the United States, has no import quota.

Roberts said the two-provoloni and pecolone—were indistinguishable, yet pecolone had to be admitted because it contained the sheep's milk.

Another tactic, he said, was to cut up the provoloni so it was not in the original leaves. Some importers argue, he said, that it thus does not come under the quota.

Actor Who Once Wanted to Quit Is Newest Star

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A few years ago, Ernest Borgnine, a 10-year Navy man who was trying his hand at acting, told his dramatic teacher he thought he would seek another line of work.

His teacher rapped him across the knuckles with a ruler.

"How dare you talk that way!" she exploded. "You, who could be another star like a Jimmy Cagney or Wallace Beery."

Ernie thought she was off her trolley. But she startled him so that he forgot his ideas of quitting.

It's a good thing he did. Otherwise Hollywood would have been deprived of its newest star.

Yes, star, Ernie is a puny 37-year-old with a face that will give Tony Curtis and John Derek no cause for concern. But he is now being hailed as a starring personality, all because of a little picture called "Marty."

"They showed the picture to people for two months in New York before it opened," said Borgnine (he pronounces it Borg-9). "Everybody said, 'It's a wonderful picture'—too bad it won't make money."

"When it opened, there were lines around the block. The 20-year record at the Sutton Theater was broken." United Artists quickly changed its ideas of aiming the film at the art circuit and booked it for big theaters.

"I figured now, though, I'd get some mail addressed to Bill Hayes," "Nope. It comes addressed to Davy Crockett."

Bill — whose own record of "Davy" has sold a million and a half — was in a store the other day buying a shirt. A salesman who knew him when he was well established on the "Show of Shows" asked him in earnest, "Will there be anything else, Mr. Crockett?"

Mr. Crockett — I mean Mr. Hayes — brought Mrs. Hayes to dinner the other night, and they marveled once more at this miracle.

Hayes, who'll be 30 June 5 — born in Harvey, Ill., educated at De Pauw at Greencastle, Ind., and at Northwestern, where he got an M.A., smiles a little guiltily when admitting that he himself has a coonskin cap outfit which he wears when threatened with a beating if he doesn't.

"When he was singing at the Boulevard," spoke up Mrs. Hayes, whom he married in college, "kids could get in for half if they wore Davy Crockett hats."

"Our four kids didn't have any," Bill doubts if anybody much'll remember him being in Olsen & Johnson's "Funzapoppin'" which toured the U.S. and wound up at Madison Sq. Garden.

"I was singing the prologue to 'Pagliacci' while girls were screaming and rats were being shot. That's when Max Lieberman saw me and put me in 'Show of Shows'."

Bill says his Davy Crockett fan mail includes a few letters from weary parents who say, "I'm sick and tired of hearing it over and over and over and over..."

The parents seem to buy breakable records, but after the records are broken, they have to buy more. One parent bought six.

"Do you thing the parents could deliberate buying breakable records hoping they might accidentally fall and break?" I asked.

"Yes, I think so," smiled Davy Crockett Hayes.

Singer Bill Hayes Gets In a Lot of Nice Trouble

Atom Electricity for Homes Predicted In 3 or 4 Years

TOKYO (AP)—American homes can "conceivably" begin using electricity produced by atomic power plants within three or four years, the United States' former atomic power chief said today.

Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, now atomic research director for the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, told a reporter "four of five U. S. utility companies" are now building commercial atom power plants.

"They will produce 700,000 kilowatts of electricity, enough to supply a city of 700,000 persons," he said.

Dr. Hafstad, who resigned as director of atomic reactor research for the Atomic Energy Commission early this year, made his remarks immediately after a press conference here.

Also attending were Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, Nobel Prize-winning physicist and director of the radiation laboratory at the University of California, and John Jay Hopkins, president of the General Dynamics Corp., builder of the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus.

Moscow Has Troubles With Juveniles Too

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
MOSCOW (AP)—Juvenile gangs who beat up schoolmates, terrorize teachers and disrupt whole neighborhoods worry other cities besides New York. Moscow, for instance.

What used to be called "flaming youth" isn't confined to the Western Hemisphere either. Leningrad has a crowd crazy about cars and allergic to work and study.

Both elements are the subjects of worried newspaper articles. Of course the writers say the fault lies with "survival of the capitalist past" and poisonous American influence.

Komsomol Pravda, the Soviet Young Communist League's newspaper, published a letter from a Col. S. I. Khysalov, who said boys of Moscow Public School 355 had ambushed and beaten his son after his daughter informed on the school's "hooligans."

Komsomol Pravda commented that these hooligans "acted with impunity" and complained this was not the first instance of such gangsterism in Soviet public schools. It observed:

"We are forced to say that cases of beatings up of Komsomol (Communist Youth League) and Pioneer (Child Communist League) members have occurred before. But no decisive measures have been taken."

In an atmosphere of permanent threats, hooligans do whatever they want with impunity."

50,000 Londoners Brave Cold Rain to Hear Billy Graham

LONDON (AP)—Braving a cold blustery rain, 50,000 Londoners half filled huge Wembley Stadium last night to hear Billy Graham preach. The same size crowd had attended the opening in the stadium Saturday night of his one-week London crusade.

"This is the greatest Monday night crowd in the history of my ministry," the American evangelist said in paying tribute to his hardy audience. "If this weather had happened to us in the United States, there wouldn't be a handful of people here."

Graham wore a raincoat and spoke from under a canvas canopy. Most of his listeners soaked in the open or huddled under umbrellas and newspapers since there are few covered sections in the stadium.

Hundreds came forward when Graham asked for "decisions for Christ." One crusade official estimated the total at over 2,000.

Tito Closes 2 Roman Catholic High Schools

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito's Communist government has closed two Roman Catholic high schools in the big north Adriatic port of Rijeka (Fiume) after conviction of five staff members for "hostile activities" against the state.

The action was reported last night by Borba, official newspaper of the Yugoslav Communist party. It said the theological high school was closed for five years and the classical high school for three.

Borba said the order was issued after Josip Kapsh, prefect of the theological school, and four other defendants were sentenced to prison terms ranging from one to six years by the District Court of Rijeka. It said they had "slandered state authorities and propagated fascism."

Translation Starts Fire Alarm Furor

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—The man, born in Germany, studied the letter curiously. It was written in English. Surely, he thought the sisters could translate it.

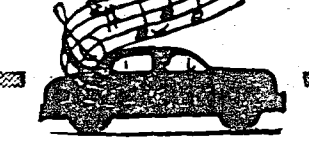

So he headed for St. Joseph's Convent, stopped at the parochial school by mistake and rang the bell in front—just as in the fatherland.

Seventeen firemen rolled up in six trucks. The trembling man told Deputy Chief Thomas Meaney how he made the "terrible mistake" of sending the alarm. Meaney briefed him on how fire alarm boxes looked.

The letter was forgotten in the furor.

CAR TIPS

By Al Speltz

(Editor's note: This is another in the series of articles to be published every Tuesday as a service to readers of The Winona Daily News who are interested in automotive maintenance. The author is a certified engine mechanic and contributor to technical magazines.)

Car Not An Exercise Machine
Last week's article was directed at fresh air enthusiasts. Even worse, however, than the driver who is ignorant of the simplest principles of fluid dynamics is the one who lacks a decent respect for Newton's Laws of Motion.

Hj is the driver-masseur. A short ride with him is a treatment; a long one, a complete physical therapy course. Unlike the professional masseur, however, such a driver is usually puny—physically and psychologically.

The treatment he gives the passenger is incidental, and usually unintentional. He is treating his car the way he imagines the boss, his wife, or his teacher are treating him.

When he drives, HE is master. The car is the obedient slave. You, the passenger, are the audience. You've had such a ride. Before you get braced, he "floors" the accelerator pedal. The seat slaps your back, and catapults your trunk, legs, and arms forward. Your head starts a little later.

His foot is just as heavy on the brake as it was on the throttle. You brace your feet, and your head continues as far as the neck will let it go. By keeping the brakes fully applied, he brings the car to a "bucking" stop, which gives your neck a final snap. So much for the neck treatment!

He provides hip exercise by "burning rubber" on all turns. "Screaming" tires, he probably feels, give him a bigger audience.

He never slows down for bumps. Hitting them hard seems to do something for his ego. In some strange way, he identifies both the bumps and the car with the people he thinks have been abusing him. For you, the bumps provide a general massage, to improve muscle tone.

Communists Shell South Korean Fishing Boat

MUNSAN, South Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command today labeled as "cold-blooded murder" the Communist shelling of South Korean fishermen May 10 off the coast of the Communist-held Haeju Peninsula.

The shelling killed six fishermen and wounded nine others. Fifteen are missing. Five boats were sunk and three are missing.

The UNC, in a sharp protest delivered to the Reds at Panmunjom, demanded punishment of "the personnel responsible for this wanton attack."

The UNC did not say the shelling took place in international waters but observed: "It is contrary to the accepted practice of civilized nations to murder personnel aboard nonmilitary vessels, even though such vessels may have, either inadvertently or otherwise, committed a breach of territorial waters."

Senator Hits Failure To Aid Guatemala

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) calls a "glaring failure" what he says is the United States' refusal to aid the anti-Communist government of Guatemala.

He said Guatemala is "in grave danger of being overthrown by Communist fifth columnists to whom arms are reportedly being smuggled by their friends beyond the 'Iron Curtain.'"

Smathers, who spoke last night at Texas A&M College, predicted "unparalleled growth and prosperity" for Texas and Florida because of proximity to Latin America.

Outgrown your water heater?

they need a new water heater...big enough for everybody's bath!

Poor teakettle family on Saturday night. The family's grown bigger... but not the water heater. It heats enough water for one bath, maybe two. That's all. What a pity, when an automatic water heater—the right size—would solve their problem for good.

Turn the tap and there's your hot water! Lots of it—automatically! Piping hot, for bath after bath, even on days when mother did the laundry. All without waiting, without watching, without work... without running up and down stairs to turn the heater off and on.

Isn't today a good time to decide on your new water heater... an automatic? Isn't tomorrow a good time to go shopping?

There Seems to Be No Other Choice

Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that our program of foreign economic aid is indispensable to our military security. The committee was holding hearings on Pres. Eisenhower's request for $3,530,000,000 in foreign aid, more than half of which would be used to strengthen our allies economically.

Admiral Radford made several important points. He said that our defense burden would be a great deal heavier than it is were it not for the "strength generated in the last five years by our allies." He said that the growth of this strength has allowed the United States to reduce the number of troops needed in the Western Pacific.

Spending billions of dollars abroad is not a pleasant prospect. It means our taxes will remain high and no one wants high taxes. But there seems to be no other choice. The crisis in the world is not of our choosing. The fate of the free world is tied to our own. We cannot survive if our allies fall either through economic weaknesses or from military assault.

Admiral Radford, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs, is our number one military authority. He says the foreign aid appropriations are necessary, not from a standpoint of altruism but from absolute military necessity. We may as well resign ourselves to the fact that we will have to afford it.

Big Business Vital In Supporting Colleges

A certain private college loses $2,000 on every bachelor of arts it graduates. The arithmetic is simple: It costs the college $6,000 to do the job; the student pays $4,000 in tuition.

The difference between what the college spends and what it takes in is tuition is made up by gifts from those interested in education. If it were not for such gifts many of the private colleges would have to close their doors.

In the past many colleges benefited from the generosity of the very wealthy. Although there are still gifts and endowments from such people they are not so frequent as they once were and the costs of education continue to mount. Much of the slack has been picked up by business and industry. Industrialists and corporation heads know how necessary it is that private colleges continue to function.

Big business has often been the butt of criticism and has been accused of being soulless. In the matter of its contribution to education, however, business has demonstrated how enlightened it can be and what a force for good it wields.

Ted Williams Returning to Red Sox

Baseball fans, whatever their favorite teams, are pleased that Ted Williams is returning to the Boston Red Sox.

Williams announced his retirement at the close of last season and for a time it seemed that he would not revoke that decision. Marital difficulties and pressure exerted by the Red Sox management have apparently changed his mind.

This marks the third time that he has returned to baseball after having his career interrupted. During World War II he served in the armed forces and he was recalled to active duty during the fighting in Korea.

The return of Williams will help his team, but it will do more than that. He is an exciting player, one of the most dangerous batters in recent years. Such players attract fans to the ball parks and thus the entire American League will benefit. It is always good for a player to quit before he starts to go downhill. Most baseball experts agree, however, that for Ted Williams that point may still be in the future.

A most interesting figure in early Jewish-American circles was Rebecca Gratz. A contemporary described "her fine white skin and firmly chiseled nose, her easy pose suggestive of perfect health, her delicately turned head." News of her charm spread. Lowly Bagel Roll In High Society

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
NEW YORK — A bagel is a hard roll with a hole in the middle. The advantage of the hole has never been discovered. The bagel is manufactured by kneading bread dough, making rings of it, boiling the rings, putting a glaze on and baking the whole thing until indigestion is guaranteed unless one is a bagel fan.

A specialty of many restaurants in these parts is bagel and lox. Lox is smoked salmon of a salty variety. If you don't want the salt, you order Nova Scotia salmon which costs more. In such polite society as Lindy's, it is just called Novi.

FOR SOME UNEXPLAINABLE reason of taste, it is good to put cream cheese on the inside of the bagel, and then the salmon on top of the cream cheese. Eaten that way, the bagel and lox has become a business.

Now along comes our government which has been investigating the bagel industry since April 1951, and finds that the bagel-makers have gyped the government.

So the lowly bagel has now got into high society along with the newspapers which are being charged with anti-trust violations. Maybe Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., who comes latterly from New York, got indigestion from a bagel or broke a tooth or something trying to adjust his Nebraska stomach to a Broadway diet, discovered that bagel-makers talk to each other which is guilt by association and can lead to conspiracy to charge the customer the same price in all stores. Also they are accused of paying the artists who make the bagels more than they put on their income tax reports. Maybe that is the only way they can get these temperamental sculptors to work for them.

A bagel costs five cents retail. With lox and cream cheese it costs what the traffic will bear for the particular kind of store, depending upon the location and decorations and who is seen in the place.

The sudden rash of antitrust suits and other kinds of suits must have a purpose. Now it is the newspapers which the government is after. They too are in a pickle with the attorney general because they allow recognized advertising agencies 15 per cent for placing the ads. This is an old custom and has worked well for both the advertiser and the newspapers and in a way has aided freedom of the press because American newspapers earn their way and do not have to take subsidies, but there are always some fellows who set themselves up as advertising agencies who fail to get recognized, for one reason or another, and who kick up a row. Usually, they fail to get recognized because they have been unable to arrange for credit.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS whether you sell a bagel or place an ad in a newspaper. The fellow who eats a bagel and does not pay—it should lie on his chest for a week and even doses of soda should not take away the heartburn! The same thing with the advertising agency that eats up white space and is slow paying its bill. So, the newspapers do not recognize this advertising agency in advance. They want to know if it can pay for taking a page to advertise the hole in the middle or something equally significant. So, the prospective dead beat runs down to the Department of Justice and files a complaint that restraint of trade is being practiced on him in favor of Madison Avenue where the advertising agencies congregate which can pay their bills and are recognized.

The Department of Justice has many cases of national importance left over from the Truman administration and it could keep busy for several years on those, but it wants to show it is doing as much at least as Harold Stassen and so it goes after the newspapers and the advertising agencies and the whiskey-makers and other businesses. And before long, it will have everybody tied up in antitrust suits which may keep young lawyers in practice but does not make either sense or votes.

And that raises the question: Is bi-partisan politics in restraint of trade? For instance, if the bi-partisan arrangement should go far enough, who will pay for television time in the next election? Is that not in restraint of trade at least for the television companies? And does anybody really care?

Vaccine Handling Brings Tiff Between Mrs. Hobby, Ike

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—The President has been irked, and irked plenty over the handling of the Salk vaccine inoculations. He hasn't shown his displeasure publicly, but he has shown it privately to the lady in charge—Sec. of Health, Education, and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby. White House intimates tell how Mrs. Hobby was called over to see the President last week to brief him on what was happening in the Salk polio imbroglio and how she gave him a rather superficial briefing. It was the kind of briefing that a Cabinet officer gives to the press when he or she doesn't want to say too much, and it failed to satisfy the President. He told Mrs. Hobby so.

Mrs. Hobby then did what no sergeant does to a general. She argued back. This got the President really sore. The incident took place just prior to the photos taken by cameramen of Mrs. Hobby and the President, following which the newsmen were barred from future picture-taking shots.

The President and his Secretary of Health had cooled down and showed no irritation when cameramen entered. But when he made a remark about being glad his grandchildren had received the shots, it was quoted by newsmen. Press secretary Hagerty then barred them from future photographing sessions—though later reversed.

Cong. N. C. Clayton Powell of Harlem, N. Y., one of the three Negroes in the House of Representatives, got the runaround when he first tried to see Eisenhower following his return from the Bandung conference. But when the President learned about the runaround from a news item in the Washington Post, he sent a messenger to Powell's office and invited him to the White House.

The conference that followed was scheduled to last 15 minutes but continued for 35. "I am in somewhat of a dilemma about the problem of colonialism," the President remarked. "Of course, I am against it, whether it is practiced by the Communists or by our friends. On the other hand, it is difficult to turn against an old ally like France, which has fought and died with our own soldiers from revolutionary days, especially when France is fighting another type of colonialism, the Communist brand, in Indochina."

At Eisenhower's request Powell promised to prepare a memorandum on the "colonialism" question, setting forth his views for the White House and State Department. Powell, a Democrat, is now at work on this, with GOP Cong. Walter Judd of Minnesota, a former missionary in China.

"I followed the Bandung conference very closely in the newspapers and am very proud of the way you spoke out for minorities," said the President. "It is a subject close to my own heart."

"I know it is, Mr. President," replied Powell. "I wouldn't have been able to speak out the way I did if it wasn't for the Supreme Court and your own efforts for racial integration in the United States in the last two years." As the meeting broke up, the President complained about his burritus.

"It comes and goes and, let me tell you, it is mighty painful at times," he said. "My doctor is trying everything. Right now I am on a diet of soybeans. I am taking soybeans in every way, shape, and form, from breakfast food in the morning until salads in the evening."

"Personally, I don't like the taste of soybeans," admitted Ike, "but I'm willing to go along with the experiment if it cures my burritus."

'Carnie' Gal Finds Money In 'Barking'

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — "I love to sleep in a tent when it's raining," said the lady carnival barker. "I feel secure then even if I don't have a dime."

"I couldn't live in a house. I never really had a home—and I don't want one now. You have to make your own way in this world. I've been doing it since I was 6 years old, when I started tap dancing on the back of an elephant."

"I'm a carnie at heart. I may die poor but I'll die a carnie." There are no present signs of poverty about Evelyn Currie, a blue-eyed strawberry blonde with a bonfire figure and a mind like a bear trap. She is one of the few boss-lady barkers in the picturesque carnival industry, a rough life dominated by some pretty rugged men.

Evelyn, who at 13 became the nation's youngest carnival barker some 20 years ago, now has 25 male barkers on her staff. She lives in a $10,000 trailer, has a nice collection of diamonds and owns enough milk furs to suffocate a buffalo.

Depends on Weather
"What I've got depends on how many shows were rained out the year before," she said. "Some years I've had to go out and peddle dropcups and screwdrivers to try to build up a bankroll."

Depending on the breaks she gets, Evelyn maintains a staff ranging from 6 to 60 men. Right now she operates 10 concessions—"games of skill and chance"—during summer months at Rockaways Playland, an amusement park. The rest of the year she and her husband, Harry, a former professional hockey player, spend on the road with her carnival crew.

The barkers and "roughies"—the workmen who pitch the tents and set up the concessions—call her "mother," although some are nearly twice her age. Evelyn was born in the circus, a small tent show, as it passed through Decatur, Tenn. Her mother was an aerialist. Her father, a Cherokee Indian, was a circus workman.

"I never went to school in my life. Circus kids do now, but many didn't at that time. I haven't any book education, but the circus and carnival people taught me a lot. They were good about that, particularly the freaks. They are very kind."

"The big thing they taught me was how to count money."

At 13 Evelyn was an acrobatic dancer getting $16 to $18 a week. "I decided nobody could get ahead in life on a salary," she recalled. "So I went into business on my own."

Her first venture, in which she acted as her own barker, was a small "slum joint"—a carnival term for a rigged game of chance in which suckers could win only the cheapest kind of small merchandise.

New Charges Loom For TV Viewers

By PAUL HARVEY
NEW YORK—Some of us have harbored a hope that it might be discovered television causes cancer. We could then do away with both these evils and all go back to smoking cigarettes again. Apparently not. I can affirm, however, it does cause ulcers. Now a sales campaign is afoot to peddle subscription TV. The idea being that you pay as you see.

They pipe the programs into your house on phone lines and you drop a quarter in a slot, or pay a bill once a month, and you watch championship fights, World Series, Broadway plays.

Wait a minute! We're already seeing these things! Only now, the razor blade people or somebody pays for the privilege of bringing these things, along with a mention of their product, into your home.

So the subscription TV people aren't really proposing anything new. All they're asking is to boost the price and hand the bill to you.

It's really astonishing, when you analyze it thus, that the government is even listening to them. But the FCC, charged with keeping an eye on the public facilities, is actually seriously considering this plot to force the public to pay for the use of its own facilities.

Instead of a few pennies a night, they'd make it a few quarters. Incidentally, going through a list of the plays on Broadway right now, this pipeline into your home would have to be sort of a reverse action sewer. The ones fit for your living room you could count on one finger. 'Is this thing planned as a dodge for piping in to our homes the lurid garbage we have tried so hard to keep off the air?'

You check the list of current Broadway plays and there is a juicy tidbit about sex perversion, a profane thing concerning prostitution, sadism, and just about every other unsavory aspect of human frailty figures in these plots where the rule is "the more sordid the more likely the backers make money."

So it is no great sacrifice to my home that this Manhattan-bred intellectual masochism is kept out of my child's nursery.

We're closer to paying for TV than you think. One member of the FCC, Mrs. Frieda Henock, godmother of educational TV, wants the networks to give free time to political candidates.

This would cost the networks upwards of 50 million dollars. But Mrs. Henock thinks the networks should be willing to go into the red because they are using the "public facilities."

I guess she means the "sky." She does not propose that candidates be permitted to make free telephone calls while campaigning, or be permitted to fly around the campaign trail on airlines without paying their way.

The sky is the public's domain. But are the men who pioneered it and risked private capital to conquer it and populate it now to be asked to step aside . . . for the carpetbaggers who are always looking out only for themselves?

Television is a new public facility. And if we don't stand armed watch at the ramparts, we're soon going to be paying through the nose for this public facility.

LOS ANGELES — The president of a national organization of scientists says generations of the future will suffer from adverse genetic changes because of the radiation released in atomic tests. Yet, says Dr. George W. Beadle, president of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, the free world's security "does justify" continuing the experiments. "Let us pray and work that no more than tests will ever be necessary," he told the Medical Research Assn. of California yesterday. He said an atomic war would "risk the evolutionary future of mankind."

The California Institute of Technology geneticist said that hereditary changes can result from very small exposures to radiation fallout, while it takes a substantial dosage to cause sickness. He said that radiation is known to produce changes in the heredity of experimental plants and animals, and that probably 99 per cent of the changes are for the worse.

won. I still made nine cents on my dime," Evelyn said. "The big prize was a teddy bear. But those teddy bears cost money. The only time I ever lost a teddy bear in those early days was when one fell out of my truck."

She has reformed now, she says, and operates what is known as "hanky panky with plush." These are games in which the patrons (they no longer call them suckers) have a real chance to win a fairly valuable prize. "It's better business in the long run to work on a percentage basis, and let the customer get something for his money, instead of wrapping it all up for yourself," said Evelyn. "That's what I keep telling my old carnies friends. You have to run a cleaner operation today," especially in amusement parks."

Evelyn, wearing a mink coat may have nothing under it but a bathing suit, still likes to go out to her booths and bark up some business with her chanting cry: "Hey, hey, it's over here! This is it! Hi! Hi! Diddly! Hey you with the kaddie (hat)! Come in, Willie, and win your lady a great big doll!"

Military Reserve Program Ready For House OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today appeared ready to approve President Eisenhower's program designed to bring a fourfold increase in the nation's trained military reserve in 1960.

It scheduled debate starting today on a bill to carry out the program, which the President has described as a key part of his over-all plan to cut back the active military forces while placing increased reliance on air striking power and a ready pool of trained reservists.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee has predicted passage without concerted opposition, although some attempts to revise the bill were anticipated. The Senate has not acted.

One feature of the bill would authorize a new six months' training program for a limited number of youths willing to accept long-term reserve duty. Some House members have denounced this plan as an entering wedge for universal military training, at which Congress has balked in the past, but Vinson contends "this is not a UMT plan and does not open the way for it."

The over-all aim of the program is to create a trained reserve force of 2,500,000 men in five years—a goal which would add an estimated billion dollars a year to the present 700-million-dollar annual budget for reserve activities.

The measure would provide authority for:

1. Recall to 45 days active duty of any reservists who failed to keep up required weekly drills and summer encampments or equivalent duty. This provision covers draftees and volunteers for the regular services who are obliged to maintain training status for a total of five years on active and reserve duty.

2. Acceptance each year of between 100,000 and 250,000 volunteers between 17 and 19 years of age for six months' special training followed by 7 1/2 years in the active reserves. These volunteers would cut 18 months from the time a draftee serves on active duty while adding this period to the at-home reserve obligation.

3. The recall to active duty by the President of up to a million reservists without consulting Congress if he declares a national emergency. This authority, traditionally held by the President, was withdrawn in 1952.

Million Dollars Now Buys U.S. Atomic Reactor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — For about a million dollars and a stiff worded contract other countries can now buy an atomic research reactor stamped "Made in U.S.A."

A value of $350,000 was put on the 10-kilowatt reactor the United States will sell to Switzerland.

Dr. I. I. Rabi, a senior adviser of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and one of the top world scientists helping plan the U. N. atoms-for-peace conference, was asked if the Swiss figure plus a reasonable profit was what any country could now buy a reactor for.

He looked doubtful. Well, how about one million dollars?

"That puts you in the ball park," answered the Columbia professor. Rabi said that in addition any buyer would have to sign a bilateral agreement, under U. S. law with the United States. This would strictly limit the uses to which the reactor would be put, so that no country would get an idea it could manufacture a few small A-bombs on the side.

Extensive Shortage In Polio Vaccine

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby lacked foresight on the public desire for antipolio vaccine. And her Department of Health, Education and Welfare guessed wrong on the supply of it. Mrs. Hobby, explaining why her department made no plans far ahead, says, "I believe no one could have foreseen the public demand" for it. She says now the shortage is "tremendous."

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, a private organization, planned months ahead for getting vaccine to nine million first and second-grade children, considered most susceptible to polio, once a nationwide test proved it effective. It contracted with six manufacturers to make enough vaccine for that number. The manufacturers began work last November. It takes 90 days to turn out a batch of vaccine.

But there are 5 million children age 3 through 19, who are more susceptible to polio than adults. This meant the 46 million not in the first and second grades would have to wait. In other words: There would be a shortage for many months.

Mrs. Hobby's department could have started planning distribution last fall when the foundation placed its orders for vaccine or any time between last fall and April 12, when test results were announced.

Advice on Health

Worry Will Make Your Ulcer Worse

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Don't worry about your ulcer! Worry is likely to make it worse.

Emotional stress of any kind is bad for an ulcer patient. If you have an ulcer, you've got to calm down, take it easy; don't overwork and don't become unduly disturbed or excited.

Excessive secretion of hydrochloric acid in your stomach invariably accompanies a case of peptic ulcers.

Increased secretion of acid, of course, naturally occurs when you eat. The secretion of this corrosive gastric juice stops after the food has left the stomach and there is nothing left for the pepsin-acid to work on.

However, the gastric function is not stepped up by eating alone. The mere smell or taste of food, or even a discussion about goodies, will accelerate the process.

Troublesome situations in life can also boost gastric function.

Dr. Stewart Wolf, head of the department of medicine at the University of Oklahoma School of Medicine, reports that worry and anxiety can produce a continuous increase in the gastric function. In such cases, the stomach will pour out corrosive gastric juices even when empty of food. Furthermore, he points out, the stomach of an ulcer patient may pour out ten times as much corrosive gastric juice as the stomach of a normal person.

After studying ulcer patients over a period of several years, he found, "No stimulus is as potent in accelerating gastric function as discussing with a patient some troublesome, meaningful threatening life-situation."

He cites several instances to prove his point and makes a suggestion that I am passing on to you.

Confide in your doctor. If you're worried about something, tell him. Don't expect him to cure your ulcer permanently if you are hiding some emotional disturbance which might be a contributing factor.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

B.M.H.: Could a kidney disorder cause my face to swell while lying down, or could nerves do it? Answer: Swelling of the face might be due to a kidney disturbance. It may also come from nervous disorders. An examination by your physician is necessary to determine the exact cause.

Less Friction with Trop-Artic Motor Oil!

In the experiment below, the slide on the left is coated with ordinary motor oil, while the one on the right is coated with TROP-ARTIC All-Weather Oil. When two steel blocks are dropped on the two slides at exactly the same time, the one on the right slips down nearly twice as fast as the one on the left. The reason is: less friction with Trop-Artic oil.

IT'S PERFORMANCE THAT COUNTS!

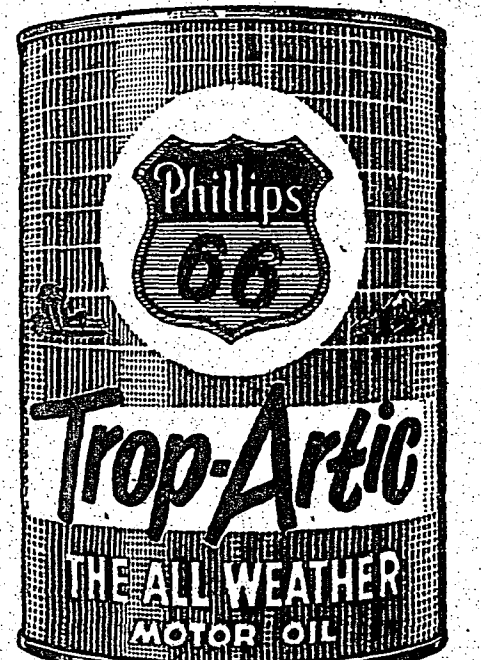

New Phillips 66 Trop-Artic reduces friction far more effectively than any ordinary oil. By reducing friction, it extends gasoline mileage. And it can reduce wear, even to the extent of doubling the life of an engine. It can cut oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons cleaner. New Trop-Artic is the first all-weather type motor oil to meet the highest standard ever established for automobile motor oils, the Mil-O-2104 Supplement 1 Test. Permission Granted Fish, Jersek to Build Lake Homes

Two Winona businessmen won City Council approval Monday night to build homes on Market street between Lake drive and East Sarnia street against the recommendation of the city building inspector.

City Engineer W. O. Cribbs supported Inspector George Rogge in recommending that permission be denied Wendell Fish and Sig J. Jersek to construct houses in violation of lot line restrictions.

In explaining their opposition to the construction as planned by the architect, Cribbs said, "We feel that homes should be designed to fit the lot, or a lot should be purchased to fit the design."

Fish and Jersek have purchased a strip of land 80 feet wide and 300 feet long from William J. Miller, residing on Lake Park drive and Sarnia street, just west of Franklin street. Fish owns the south 200 feet and Jersek the north 100 feet of this strip between the drive and Sarnia street. The west side of these two lots fronts on Market street, which, at present, does not continue its entire platted distance south from Sarnia street to Lake Park drive, but stops at the beginning of Lake Park property.

Jersek got Council permission to violate the lot line restrictions in two ways: 1. On the north he'll be within 10 feet of the street line (that line is 1 foot inside the sidewalk), when it should be back considerably more. Adjoining homes are set back at least 50 feet. 2. On the south he'll be within 5 feet of the Fish property line; he should be back 10 feet. His house, including garage, will measure about 87 by 34 feet.

Fish got Council permission to violate the lot line restrictions in one way: His setback from Market street should be 15 feet; actually it'll be 8 feet, exclusive of eaves, which will be about the maximum 4 feet allowed under the zoning ordinance. The Fish home, to be in a round, L, will measure about 82 north and south and 64 east and west, maximum dimensions.

Approval Urged
In urging approval of the violations, 2nd Ward Ald. William S. L. Christensen said that he has been looking at the Fish plans and said he appreciated the need for the design as drawn.

One other property owner in the block and vicinity had approved the violations. That was Miller, who made the sale.

In other zoning matters, Sydney Johnstone withdrew his request for zoning from residential to commercial and transient dwelling district-motel for outlot 1 in Johnstone's Addition.

Johnstone told the aldermen that "100 per cent" of the residents of the addition are in opposition to the plan for rezoning. (Later in a committee of the whole, 1st Ward Ald. William F. Holden, a resident of the addition, said he was not opposed).

Now, Johnstone said he plans to plat the outlot into lots for homes and to place the same restrictions on the outlot as are on the other 33 lots in the addition. Johnstone added that he is in the process of selling nine lots to a Winona realtor, who plans to begin building homes on some of the lots immediately. Johnstone asked that plans and specifications be drawn for extension of sanitary sewers into this area and that land in the outlot be accepted as a dedicated street, extending Parkview avenue to the new highway 61 service drive.

The Council asked the engineer to prepare the sewer plans and specifications (also for Joseph R. Bambenek who wants to build on Olmstead between Lake and Mill streets) and also voted to accept the dedication of the street whenever Johnstone brings it up to grade.

Supporting Johnstone in his offer for a street dedication was Irving Gerner, another resident of Johnstone's Addition.

Other Violations Approved
The Council approved these other violations of the lot line restrictions in the zoning ordinance, all with the approval of the building inspector and neighbors:

• Albert Linken, 204 Harvester Ave., violation of 1 foot at the ommended that sentencing be deferred pending an investigation by the probation officer and the request was granted by the court.

Each defendant was released under continuing bond.

Set for trial next Monday morning was the case of Eugene E. Hanf, operator of the Bell Liquor Store, Albert Lea.

Hanf pleaded not guilty last Sept. 27 to a charge of making false statements to the Internal Revenue Bureau (on two counts) and one count of purchasing liquor for resale at wholesale without a basic permit.

Hanf was represented this morning by Floyd W. Nickels, Albert Lea.

The case will be tried before a jury beginning at 10 a.m. Monday.

In another criminal action McConnon & Co., pleaded guilty to a charge of shipment of adulterated and misbranded food in interstate commerce.

McMahon appeared for the company, entered a plea of guilty and suggested that rather than deferring sentencing for a pre-sentence investigation the court hear the matter this afternoon.

Henry G. McConnon, a vice president of the firm, also appeared at today's arraignment.

The company was charged with mislabeling poultry feed in regard to the content of the vitamin B12.

Compensation Involved
The last criminal case involved a charge of unlawfully obtaining $234.50 in railroad unemployment compensation benefits against Donald M. Tust, 40, 259 W. 2nd St.

Judge Nordbye asked the defendant whether he wished to consult an attorney before entering a plea and Tust said that he would, adding, however, that he was financially unable to pay for the services.

The court then appointed McMahon to consult with the defendant and the case was continued until this afternoon.

Thomas Flynn, a Houston, Minn., attorney was admitted to practice in the U. S. District court.

He was presented to the court by McMahon and was administered the oath by Clerk Chell Smith, St. Paul.

The first cases to be heard by the jury when it reports for duty Wednesday are three personal injury cases.

The plaintiffs in the three cases are Mr. and Mrs. James Harney, Wabasha, and a daughter, Geraldine.

The defendants are Arthur and Willis Slawson.

The Harneys are represented by Daniel F. Foley, Wabasha, and the defendants by Francis G. Thompson, Winona.

The cases were consolidated for trial which is expected to continue through Friday.

The Hanf case will be called Monday morning and when that is completed the trial of the remaining civil cases will be resumed.

side in construction of a garage.

• Roy V. Miller, 1134 W. 4th St., 3-foot setback violation in construction of a porch to the front of his house.

• Raymond H. Thorn, 460 Zumbro St., in construction of a house and garage.

Held over to the May 23 meeting was the request of Vincent A. Wicka, 275 Chatfield St., to violate lot line restrictions in construction of a garage. Eugene Edell, a neighbor, has given written approval.

Held over, too, was the request of Hanson's Direct Gas Station, 700 E. Sarnia St., to install a portable ice house for one year. Aldermen decided to ask the building inspector to order removal of trailers at the station which are there in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Standard Oil Co. petitioned the Council for permission to increase its gasoline storage capacity at three service stations.

Will Replace Tanks
The requests are related to Standard's decision to start servicing most of its station from transports rather than local smaller tank trucks.

At the Broadway and Mankato station, it wants to replace three 1,000-gallon tanks with two 4,000-gallon tanks; at 3rd and Walnut streets, it wants to install one 4,000-gallon tank. (There are two 2,000-gallon and one 1,000-gallon tanks there now), and at 4th and Johnson streets, it wants to replace the present four 1,000-gallon tanks with two 4,000-gallon tanks.

All changes were approved, subject to the approval of the fire chief and the passage of ordinances.

Also subject to the passage of an ordinance, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pozanc were given permission to install an underground 525-gallon gasoline tank at 1077 E. Sanborn St. And in accordance with previous agreement, the Council passed an ordinance changing the classification of the property from class B residential to light industrial.

A temporary one-year permit again, was given John Wilsek, 463 W. 4th St., to sell strawberries on upper Gilmore avenue, at a roadside stand.

Cars Damaged In Collision

Cars driven by George J. Ambrose, 515 Huff St., and Roger Orlikowski, 855 E. 5th St., were damaged in a collision at the junction of Highways 14 and 61 at 11:40 p.m. Monday.

Ambrose was driving west on Highway 61 when Orlikowski drove out from a driveway, collided with the other car and then continued on.

Orlikowski, 17, was arrested by police on charges of failing to stop and identify himself at the scene of an accident and driving without a license.

In municipal court this morning Orlikowski said that he had a learner's permit and was accompanied by a licensed driver.

Because of the age of the defendant both cases were referred to the juvenile court.

growing demands upon the Salvation Army and said that if necessary he would have to rely upon other means of raising the money. This matter came up at the end of the meeting in the form of an amendment to the motion approving the $500 re-appropriation at this time. It specified that the Salvation Army will not come to the Chest at the end of the year if it finds itself unable to operate within the budgeted amount. Rather, it will request permission to make up any deficit through other fund raising means.

This apparently satisfied both agency and Chest representatives and there were no oral votes opposing the allotment voiced.

On the increasing demands placed upon the Salvation Army, it was mentioned that the problem dates back several years, and that the matter of additional fund requirements is not new.

In response to the budget committee's desire that they be given some assurance that requests for amounts over those budgeted do not become a regular occurrence, Mrs. Hall said, "The Salvation Army is a moving organization and even if the Chest tells us to stand still, we're not going to do it."

Capt. Hall at this point asked for a vote by the board of directors, which precipitated a further discussion of what effect such action could have if it were extended to other organizations.

After Murphy reiterated that the desire of the committee is that the Salvation Army have no unpaid bills, directors asked what functions could be curtailed to keep the agency within its budget.

Several questions were raised concerning the Christmas program, and it was suggested that some other civic organization could assume responsibility for distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families. Capt. Hall said that it had always been a Salvation Army function and that a problem had been created with the withdrawal of an assisting civic group just before Christmas last year. He said the Army had no way to turn except to go through with the program.

In reply to a suggestion that some curtailment would be possible in other activities, possibly the Boy Scout troop, Mrs. Hall said that the boys couldn't afford to belong to any other troop in the city. Character building activities such as the Scouts and other youth and adult groups, in addition to the religious aspects of the Salvation Army were also brought into the discussion and the question was raised as to what percentage of the funds of the Chest go to strict welfare work.

Too Much for Recreation
Hall agreed with the contention that too much of the Chest's money is directed to recreational organizations, stating that based on national averages, the amount in excess of what apparently should be given to recreational work is about $15,000 here. Murphy pointed out, however, that it would be the duty of the board of directors, not the budget committee, to determine any revision in the budgetary arrangements among the various agencies.

Another matter that was discussed at some length, but that during the welfare discussion, was the situation of welfare work in Winona County.

In response to questions, William Werner, executive director of the Winona County Welfare Department, explained that 24 of Minnesota's 87 counties have adopted a system of operating on a township basis under which each city, town and village cares for its own residents on poor relief.

Werner said attempts have been made for about 20 years to get statewide uniformity on the matter, but that there has been opposition. Winona County, at times, has opposed the move, he said.

Some of the reason for opposition was the fear of centralization under which the townships thought they would lose power.

It was also mentioned that local problems have caused difficulty under the present system. Among these are the existence of two "half-townships" within Winona County that are financially unable to carry out relief programs due to the small number of residents.

Werner pointed out that the township system has worked well in the East and was then asked what was required to change the system here. He said that the Board of Commissioners can put it up for referendum or that county residents, by obtaining a petition carrying signatures of a fourth of the voters, can ask for such a ballot.

Werner summarized the activities of his department that includes old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind and aid to the totally and permanently disabled in addition to a wide variety of other functions.

He said that the county is not authorized to give any direct poor relief and that its program is coordinated with federal, state and county monies.

Werner said that although the 1955 Legislature did not view too favorably the welfare requests, they did accomplish an important task in establishing a single residence requirement on about 15 of the 17 services handled through the office. He said the standard requirement is now a year.

His summary also included statistics on expenditures and case loads and a similar report was presented by Mrs. Katherine Lambert of the city poor department.

Capt. Hall distributed annual reports of the Salvation Army and explained how increases have been effected in almost every category over the past several years.

Included in the summaries were mention by Werner that the child welfare program on May 1 included 216 cases; 548 were receiving old age assistance and 78 cases involving 231 children were receiving aid to dependent children.

He pointed out that one of the major problems was the increasing number of inquiries and referrals handled through his office, in addition to the average of 210 to 250 cases handled by each case worker employed. He added, in response to questioning, that this number was not too high.

Mrs. Lambert and Werner agreed that their duties fluctuate much in response to employment figures, and added that they are perhaps the last to feel the effect of increased employment. This, they explained, is because many of the dependent persons are in the lower employment categories.

Mrs. Lambert said that approximately 50 to 100 cases are processed through her office monthly but that only about 17 per cent of the cases are on relief a full 12-month period. She said that this rapid turnover is their chief function.

Mrs. Lambert said that last year, the department spent $61,000, which included expenditure of $27,000 in hospital and medical care; $30,000 for board and room of dependent persons and $23,000 for food.

Mrs. Lambert and Werner agreed that many of their problems arise from the migration of families from Wisconsin, and this led to an inquiry as to the cost of the county's program. Werner said that it requires $183,000 from county levies and that an additional $550,000 comes from state and federal sources. Payments to the city from county funds for relief purposes are not included in those tabulations, he added.

Capt. Hall's report showed that transient night lodgings had jumped from 289 in 1952 to 552 last year; that meals were up in the same periods from 656 to 1,332 and that other family, individual service requirements were also multiplying.

Figures for the first months of this year indicated the Salvation Army will be called upon for more services than ever before, he pointed out.

Total attendance at adult activities last year was 6,985 while the Salvation Army's youth programs had an attendance of 7,508. He said that the Christmas food basket program reached distribution of 159 baskets last year, an increase of 100 over the previous year when the expense had been shared by a civic group.

Keep in Trim If Hips Bustle Out Rearward Better Exercise

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Hips that bustle out in back create a vexing silhouette problem. Let milady catch a sideways view of her figure, hips trailing, and on the spot she decides to diet to reduce and exercise to slim the hips.

But such measures wouldn't necessarily improve her figure. If the problem is awayback, hips are merely the effect. The cure is through posture correction. Of course exercise will help if the big hip muscles need toning, and diet is in order when general reducing is needed—but basically, it's swayback that needs straightening out.

To get the picture... wearing a skirt and blouse, preferably a tight-fitting skirt, stand sideways to a full length mirror and take a critical view of your silhouette, fore and aft. An exaggerated in curve at the small of the back throws all the body curves out of kilter. The midsection, instead of being nice and flat, is thrust forward, and hips bustle out rearward.

Now watch closely as you improve the body lineup. Contract with the hip muscles, pulling down and slightly under, and at the same time pull up strongly with the lower abdominal muscles. Keep the knees slightly relaxed, and stand stretched tall. If this simple movement lessens the curve in front and "slims" the hips, then at least part of your silhouette worries stem from poor posture.

The well-known wall bicycle exercise is an excellent posture straightener-out, for it tones the muscles of the abdomen as the small of the back is straightened out against the floor. An arm work squares the shoulders.

The only difficult part of the exercise is getting into position. It will be easy if you sit against the wall sideways, then with a neat turn swing legs up the wall... and there you are, on your back, legs up the wall. Arms are at the floor with elbows bent and fingers resting on shoulders.

The movement is to pedal legs up and down the wall, bringing alternate knees vigorously to chest, and at the same time, pulling snugly up and in with lower abdominal muscles, pressing small of back against the floor. Once you get the hang of this exercise, bring arms into the movement—as alternate knees are flexed to chest, both arms are stretched back on floor overhead, and returned to shoulders. It's as fine a straightener-out as you'll come across. Continue the action for 10 counts, later more.

That exercise may sound complicated and hard to do, reading it. But it's one of those safety position exercises and actually easy to do. It will straighten out swayback and get your posture on the beam. Follow this exercise by relaxing for 5 minutes on your back, knees bent over chest, arms hugging knees to chest. This "rest" position is also a corrective.

new safe All-in-One capsule discovery for

EASY REDUCING

Science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose

Do you like sweets, candy, cake, butter, gravy potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but now, right now, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you're automatically eating less and here's why...

counteracts hunger

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL the most proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water thereby helping give the feeling of a full, contented stomach. In fact these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.

fat goes fast

You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no tired dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.

We certify that ALL-IN-ONE CAPSULES are entirely safe for human consumption.

Ten Guided Tours were a highlight of the open house and tea held at the Winona General Hospital Sunday in observance of National Hospital Day. Large groups of visitors to the hospital that day such as the above were taken on guided tours, shown the new coffee shop, the gift shop, the visitors lounge, the physical therapy center and other points of interest in the hospital, and learned of the nursing education program and facilities available at the hospital for the care and comfort of the patient. The above group, guided by Mrs. Horace Giddings at the far right, is on a visit to the recently remodeled and newly-equipped hospital kitchen. (All hospital photos by Harriett Kelley.)

Newest Addition to hospital facilities arranged by the Winona General Hospital Women's Auxiliary is the coffee shop above. Openings in a formerly closed wall, provide a service counter revealing the gaily-papered interior of the shop with its candy, cigarette, wafer, soft drink and coffee machines, the latter providing hot coffee with cream, sugar or black as the purchaser desires. Left to right above are Mrs. Carl Breitlow, house committee chairman for the auxiliary; Mrs. Frank Subjeck and Mrs. J. T. Robb Sr., who are coffee shop chairmen, and Mrs. C. D. Tearse of the house committee.

The Winona County Historical Society is following the sentiment of this metal monument in Homer Ridge Cemetery. It says, "Gone But Not Forgotten."

On a recent inspection of the cemetery the association found it generally overgrown. At some points the grounds are almost impassable. Many stones need to be reset.

But members of the tour also found many beautiful old trees and shrubs. They've scheduled cleanup days for this Friday and Saturday.

All known descendants in this area of those buried there are being notified. The society will serve refreshments to the workers. The Town of Homer will be asked to participate in the cleanup since this is a township cemetery.

Rows Of Books available for patients who are convalescing or feel in the mood to read, line the shelves in the Catharine Allison Hospital Library, above, where Mrs. S. J. Kryzsko told visitors Sunday of the reading material available and the volunteer service by auxiliary members which takes books and magazines to the patients. Left to right above are Mrs. O. S. Glover, Mrs. Kryzsko and Mrs. Thomas Reed.

Clever, Attractive and useable articles are found in the gift shop, another of the facilities which have been provided by the hospital women's auxiliary. Service volunteers not only act as staff during the open hours at the shop but make many of the gifts on sale. Left to right above are Mrs. S. F. Frankel, gift shop chairman; Mrs. Floyd Simon, co-chairman, and Mrs. S. A. Boyd, one of the volunteers in charge of the shop during part of the open house.

Research Work Started on Atomic Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said today "we're well on our way toward getting something started" on research for an atomic-powered cargo ship for the U.S. merchant marine.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, told a reporter, "The Atomic Energy Commission has conferred with the maritime administration" concerning feasibility of the project.

The senator said the proposed research would be distinct from the atomic merchant ship proposal made by President Eisenhower. The President's plan for construction of a special vessel to cruise around the world in a demonstration of the peaceful uses of atomic energy has met criticism from some Senate and House members, including Magnuson.

Rep. Bonner (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Commerce Committee, announced yesterday he is introducing a bill to authorize construction of a second atomic ship, distinct from the one Eisenhower proposed. Bonner said it should be an economically feasible vessel for service as a cargo carrier.

Guilty Plea Brings Topsy Driving Fine

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Alfred Nelson, Trempealeau, appeared in justice court before E. M. Paulsen here Monday morning and pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge.

He was sentenced to pay a $100 fine and $9.45 costs or serve 60 days in the county jail. He was arrested May 15 in the village of Trempealeau by Maurice Scow, Arcadia, county traffic officer.

Norman Johnson, Blair, forfeited a deposit of $50 made when arrested May 15 in the Town of Lincoln by Sheriff Ernest Axness for driving in excess of the night speed of 55 miles an hour. He was found guilty, and the fine was fixed at $40 and costs at $10.

Russell McDougall, Blair, was arrested May 11 in the Town of Lincoln by James Myren, Osseo, county traffic officer, for exceeding the night speed limit. He forfeited a deposit of $10.95 made May 13 by failing to appear in court Monday, where he was found guilty. Fine was fixed at $10 and costs at $9.95.

Arcadia Automobile Agency Reopened

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Announcement of the reopening of the Wisconsin Motor Sales, a DeSoto-Plymouth agency here, was made this week by Robert Young, new owner.

Young will offer sales and service at the former location of the firm in the Ed Berzinski building on Main street with John Vogel retained as salesman and Louis Olson hired as mechanic.

The new owner was formerly associated with the Credit Bureau here, serving Trempealeau and Buffalo counties. Wisconsin Motor Sales was formerly operated by Elmer Boller and Warren Uberg, who are now operating a Winona motor firm.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Alma Closed Areas
As in the other pool areas, the new closed area in the Alma pool will be shifted, under the proposed changes, to directly above the Alma or No. 4 dam. The above map, another of the series showing the proposed changes in the Upper Mississippi River Fish and Wildlife Refuge closed areas, pictures the change in the location and new boundaries.

One large area in the pool above the Nelson-Wabasha dike road to the south bank of the Chippewa River and extending from the river to Burlington Railroad tracks, is not affected by the plan. This area is a permanent wilderness area. It is being preserved as an example of the river bottomlands as they were before the nine-foot channel was constructed. No development of any kind has been allowed in this 3,740-acre tract.

Directly below it, and opposite Wabasha in Wisconsin, is the present closed area of 1,335 acres, which under the proposed plan will be opened to hunting. This is one of the areas which has been closed since the establishment of the refuge. It should be a good hunting area next fall.

At the bottom of the map, directly above the Alma dam, is the new proposed closed area of 3,100 acres, extending completely across the wide river bottomlands. This tract includes the Riecke Lake area on the Wisconsin side consisting of 500 acres which are closed at present, and become part of the new proposed closed area.

On the Minnesota side, the new closed area includes Peterson Lake and areas on the river side of the Alma dam like northward to Grand Encampment Island. This area totals 2,600 acres, over half of which is open water.

New Duck Laws
Speaking of waterfowl, several new laws pertaining to duck hunting were passed by the last session of the Minnesota Legislature. The most important governs the use of decoys. Under the new law, it is unlawful to place decoys in public waters more than one hour before sunrise. This means that decoys cannot be left out overnight.

A new law, rather difficult to understand, gives the power to ten licensed hunters to petition the conservation commissioner to designate any game refuge or portion of such as a migratory waterfowl refuge, and close it to hunting. This probably applies only to state refuges such as the Whitewater Wildlife Refuge.

Another new law of local interest is that which permits the training of retrieving dogs under the restrictions prescribed by the conservation commissioner. This law applies to retriever trials and training of all types of upland and water dogs. Basically, it gives the Conservation Department greater control over this type of activity, especially during the nesting months.

Fish of the Week
Although a lot of nice walleye were taken over the weekend off windmills and below the dams, the six- and twelve-ounce prize caught by Dick Schwab, 121 E. Samia St., during the midweek period stood up as the walleye of the week. Lyle Haney's nine-ounce northern, which was pictured in this column, held the limelight as the northern of the week.

Other good fish entered in the Hurry Back and Sportsman's Tap contests included a four-pound 12-ounce largemouth caught by Rod Buxrud, 164 Huff St.; a five-pound six-ounce walleye taken by Norman Sobek, 800 Gilmore below the Winona dam, and a four-pound, eight-ounce trout caught by Warren Curtis, Minnesota City. Bill Rampe, 462 High Forest, got a three-pound brown on the south branch of the Whitewater Sunday.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

"Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight! Make me a child again, Just for tonight!"

Oh, yes, it would be wonderful to go back—but just for tonight. Childhood may be happy and care-free, a time when we are dependent on kindly grown-ups whose only thoughts are for our happiness, our comfort and well-being. It's true that memories of early years are dear. Would you go back, live it all over if you could?

It seems to me there is a vast difference in remembering a childhood with fondness and nostalgia, and in wishing to be a child again. I'll take mine as of right now, thanks. Age 10 was a pain in the neck, so far as I was concerned, and age 12 no improvement. If there is any clock-stopping to be done, let's stop it now. Who wants to get older? But as for returning to the state of childhood—not for me!

Thinking back over the "badlands of growing up" I recall that summertime was filled with mosquito bites, sprained ankles and sunburn. And in doing something dull which had been widely advertised as "good for you." No bells ring in my head for a return engagement.

Happy school days? Uh-huh, they were happy. Especially playing bassoon in the fifth grade orchestra. But not worth enduring the whole fifth grade again. Schools all looked alike and smelled alike. Murky tan walls, oiled floors, and the aroma of vegetable soup in the corridors. Chalk-filled erasers beaten clean again by those lucky ones finishing their fractions ahead of the stragglers.

Spring always came again, and the maypole dance meant more than keeping your head with the crepe paper streamers. It meant short sleeves, long patent leather slippers again. Gone were the black ribbed stockings and "longies." Gone were the steel-filled snowballs. Summer sun and mosquitoes and reading "Anne of Green Gables" for the tenth time were at hand.

Happy and carefree? Childhood was that. It was awkward and hesitant and sometimes painful, too. Let's go back just for tonight, no longer. Today is better, problems and all!

Jet Interceptor Base Approved For Racine County

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee Monday included a jet interceptor base for Racine County, Wis., as it approved, almost in its entirety, the Air Force's 700 million dollar domestic construction program for the next fiscal year.

Officially the Wisconsin project, to cost an estimated $16,564,000, is listed as for "the greater Milwaukee area." However, the office of Rep. Smith (R-Wis.) has said the installation would cover about 4,000 acres near Kansasville. Of the appropriation sought, $1,620,000 would be used for housing base personnel, indicated earlier as about 1,500 men.

Also getting committee approval Monday was a $1,263,000 improvement plan for Truxair Air Force Base at Madison, Wis., where a jet interceptor unit is based.

Missing Oregon Boy Believed Kidnap Victim

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—Police said today a 7-year-old boy, missing in the Coast Range forest east of here since Sunday, may have been kidnapped by a tall, blond young man.

The only clues were a trail of men's clothing, which had been hidden or discarded in the woods at the nearby community of Elsie, a mutilated doll, and other clothing found in a Portland hotel room.

Army papers found with the clothing in the woods referred to a Pvt. William E. Kent, of Ft. Campbell, Ky.

A pair of shoes, with the name "William Kent" written inside, was found in a Portland hotel along with some Army equipment and a new 24-inch doll, which had been mutilated.

The room was registered to a William E. Kent, of Las Vegas, Nev. Portland detectives said a man, who fitted Kent's description as well as that of the man who last was seen with the missing boy, had been taken to the Elsie area in a taxi last Sunday.

That was when Tommy Woodard, the son of Joseph Woodard, an Elsie logger, disappeared. Tommy's 12-year-old brother said Tommy had been chasing arrows at the Elsie archery range for a tall, blond man who was wearing Army clothing.

When the boy did not return home Sunday night a search was organized.

Stubs of two railroad tickets for a trip from Chicago to St. Paul, Minn., and from Pasco, Wash., to Portland were found in the Elsie area in addition to the discarded clothing.

Son of Harvard Faculty Members Held for Murder

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—The 21-year-old son of a husband, wife team on the Harvard University faculty has been ordered held without bond on a murder charge in a shooting which he contends was an accident.

Richard Kluckhohn was bound over yesterday for trial in Wake Superior Court. The next term starts June 6. His parents and fiancée attended a preliminary hearing, at which Raleigh City Court Judge Albert Doub ruled there was probable cause to carry the case to Superior Court.

Kluckhohn, described by police as a brilliant student who graduated at the University of Chicago when he was 18, is accused in the bizarre Friday-the-13th shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, a government worker of Arlington, Va.

Miss Seawell and a sister were standing at a downtown parking lot when a bullet struck and killed Miss Seawell. Police said the shot, fired from a German Luger pistol, came from the window of a nearby hotel.

Kluckhohn, a traveling representative of the Row Peterson Publishing Co., Evanston, Ill., was arrested 3½ hours later in Chapel Hill, some 30 miles distant, by Chapel Hill, Patrolman G. R. Creel.

Creel quoted Kluckhohn as saying he was "dry firing" the pistol in his hotel room when it discharged.

Red Ambassador Agrees to Parley On Truck Taxes

BERLIN (AP)—A U. S. spokesman announced today that Soviet Ambassador Georgi M. Pushkin has agreed to meet with the Big Three Western envoys Friday to discuss East Germany's new high taxes on trucks supplying West Berlin.

The ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France will meet with Pushkin in his office in East Berlin. The three Westerners had proposed the meeting in a letter April 15.

The Allies denounced the taxes as "exorbitant" and "blackmail." They charged the taxes were designed to obtain diplomatic recognition for the East German Communist regime.

Sentries Watch Red Ship in Panama Canal

BALBOA, C. Z. (AP)—Eyewitnesses revealed today that officials of the Panama Canal Zone took special care with the first Soviet ship to pass through the waterway since 1949. They put armed U. S. Army sentries aboard for the eight-hour trip.

The Russian ship was the freighter Tanager, which sailed into the Pacific Sunday with a cargo of Cuban sugar destined for Russia. The vessel had been anchored off Cristobal since Tuesday while her captain waited for the Soviets to wire him the $5,000 canal toll.

Chou Renews Offer To Talk With U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China has renewed his offer to negotiate with the United States on the Formosa issue, preferably through a 10-nation conference as suggested three months ago by the Soviet Union.

Chou, who first made his offer April 23 at the Asian-African conference in Bandung, said Red China would be willing, however, to consider alternate proposals.

WSTC Appoints Grid-Cage Coach

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

Russell M. Owen, a one-time Mondovi, Wis., prep sports star, has been named head coach in football and basketball at Winona State Teachers College and teacher of physical education, it was announced today by Dr. Nels Minne, president of the college.

Owen is currently completing work toward a doctor's degree in physical education and administration at the University of Wisconsin.

Sources close to the athletic situation at Winona State said the appointment of Owen to the staff was a natural step in development of expanding physical education facilities. Adding a fourth man to the department has been considered for some time.

Owen succeeds Gene Brodhagen as head coach in football and Lyle Arns as head coach in basketball.

It was announced that both Brodhagen and Arns will assist in football this fall. Arns will be in charge of the winter intramural program at Winona State, while Brodhagen will continue to coach wrestling.

No announcement of spring sports coaching assignments for 1956 was made. Luther McCown, athletic director of Winona State, is presently coaching baseball.

Brodhagen had been head coach since 1946 in football at Winona State. He guided the Warriors to the Minnesota State Teachers College Conference crown in 1947 and to a 5-2-1 record last fall.

Arns, a graduate of Winona State, has been head basketball coach since the 1949-50 season. The 1954-55 cage Warriors had a 6-14 record after compiling a 14-10 record the season before.

Owen, the new coach, competed in both football and basketball at Mondovi and was a member of freshman squads in the two sports at the University of Wisconsin in 1940-41.

He then transferred to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., where he participated in both sports.

Following his graduation from the Naval Academy he played service football and was assigned to sea duty with the U.S. Pacific Fleet for two years.

RUSSELL M. OWEN
Hired at Winona State

In 1948 he went into coaching at St. Croix Falls, Wis., high school, followed by coaching stints at Shawano and Waukesha, Wis., high schools.

His over-all coaching record in Wisconsin prep football shows 25 victories in 38 games. He has played both T-formation and single wing football and has been associated with John Wadell and Keith Moe-worth, now on the staff of the Baltimore Colts.

A backfield man during his playing days, Owen stands 5-10 1/2 and weighs 185 pounds.

In high school basketball coaching, he accumulated a 75-20 record including three conference and three regional championships.

Following the completion of his graduate work this summer, he plans to move to Winona with his wife and young son.

The appointment of Owen as coach at Winona State is the second shift in college football in Winona since last season. St. Mary's College dropped football from its intercollegiate sports program and released Coach Chet Bulger.

Chisox Invade Yankee Stadium With Win Skein

Cards Beat Bucs 6-0 in Lone Major Loop Game Monday

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press
Manager Al Lopez still tags the New York Yankees as the team his Cleveland Indians have to whip over the long haul for another American League flag, but the guys who want to rattle for first place here and now are the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox pull into Yankee Stadium tonight for a two-game set that wraps up their first Eastern tour of the season. It's nothing like that fabulous swing of 1951, when Chicago became the first team ever to sweep an Eastern jaunt in five tries it's not bad.

That leaves the White Sox — a length behind Cleveland and 1 1/2 ahead of the third-place Yankees — with a three-game winning streak. After Sunday's double-headers, no other American League team has even a two-game string working.

In fact, a three-game winning combination tops the National league too. It belongs to the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Pittsburgh 6-0 last night in the only major league game scheduled.

The White Sox, who in 1951 vaulted into first place with a 14-game winning streak that got fat in the East, have managed to chop a game off Cleveland's lead on the current outing while putting some daylight between themselves and New York. Cleveland opened the Eastern invasion a week ago by sweeping two at New York while the Sox were splitting their series at Boston.

Since then, Cleveland has lost two of five while New York has managed only a 3-3 mark against the West.

Cleveland is at Boston in an afternoon game today, with Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington in night contests.

In the National, Brooklyn's Dodgers, while losing three games in seven and getting knocked off an 11-game winning streak, still have a nine-game bulge. The New York Giants are second, three percentage points ahead of Milwaukee's Braves, who have won four of seven at home.

The Giants, who open at Milwaukee tonight, have won four of six in the West while the fourth-place Chicago Cubs have the same record against the Eastern teams.

St. Louis has the best mark, dropping just one game against the East for a five-for-six record at home after a slumping road trip. The Cards take on the Dodgers tonight, with Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.

In the lone day game, Sam Jones goes against Philadelphia for the Cubs at Chicago in his first start since no-hitting Pittsburgh Thursday.

By taking their three-game series with the Pirates, the Cards managed to pull within half a game of the Cubs. Luis Arroyo arranged last night's victory, pitching a six-hit shutout without walking a man.

Bill Sarni was 4-for-4 in the Cards' 11-hit attack, which also included homers by Wally Moon and Bill Virdon. Ronnie Kline was the loser as the Bucs continued their scoring slump. Pittsburgh has crossed the plate just once in the last 36 innings.

A 2-1 edge in the teams' season series. Slocum's wayward pitch sent Dick Werdahl home from third base and climaxed a weird final inning.

Werdahl started the inning by reaching second base on an infield overthrow. Phil Plisch's intended sacrifice blooped over Slocum's head for a hit and Werdahl reached third. Slocum then got Erv Mikelson on strikes, his 13th strikeout of the game, but threw wildly with Kaye Reishus at bat.

Carleton scored single runs in the second on Reishus' two-run double.

St. Mary's Wins 7-6 in 12

The St. Mary's College Redmen took a 1-0 lead in the 1955 city college baseball series by handing the Winona State Teachers College Warriors a 7-6 defeat in 12 thrilling innings of baseball Monday afternoon at Gabrych Park.

The game was marked by strategy and counter-strategy by the two coaches, Luther McCown of Winona State and Max Moleck of St. Mary's. The marathon, which lasted 3 1/2 hours, 35 minutes, marked the first time the newly-sodded infield at Gabrych Park was used for a regulation contest.

Six pitchers saw action in the game. Pitchers for the winning Redmen were freshman John Sanders, who twirled the first four innings; Dick Lawrence, a thrower from the right side of the mound whose main claim to fame before Monday was that he once won a Golden Gloves boxing title at Rochester, and freshman Tony Spallito, who retired the Warriors in the 12th after Lawrence weakened and walked the first two batters.

Lee Paul, who before a stint in the service once struck out 21 Redmen in a city college game, started for Winona and went the first three in the sixth. Jerry Grebin went the rest of the way, except for a brief stretch in the 10th inning when Jack McGrath came in and pitched to two batters with Grebin changing places with McGrath in left field.

The Warriors scored single tallies in the second, third and fourth innings. Singles by Jim Beberg and Jim Minger, a walk and an error contributed to the marker in the third after doubles by Pete Polus and Evan Davies and a single by Bill Wiczorek rang up one in the second. Davies smashed a pitch over the right field fence for a home run and Winona State's 3-0 lead in the third.

The Redmen countered for two in the fifth when Len Sparacino singled home the doubling Duane Kuehl. Two walks and a sacrifice fly by Ken Monaco plated Sparacino.

The Redmen went ahead 5-3 in the sixth on a walk, an outfield error and singles by Dick Kuehl, Ep Holten and Duane Kuehl.

There was no more scoring until the Winona State eighth when a walk and singles by Frank Jaszewski, Davis and pinch-hitter Jack McGrath tied the score at 5-apiece.

Both teams scored in the 10th. St. Mary's talked on Monaco's single, a sacrifice and single by Dick Kuehl, while the Warriors got one on singles by Jaszewski and McGrath and two consecutive hits.

St. Mary's got the winning run in the 12th when Lawrence walked, was sacrificed to second, Tom Hibbs walked, Joe Shraake singled and Dick Kuehl's sacrifice fly brought Lawrence across.

Gallant Cockell Lasts Until Ninth Round Against Rocky

By BOB MYERS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It took a lot of chopping to cut down Don Cockell, the sturdy oak of England, but whack him down he did, and today America's Rocky Marciano remains the boss of the world heavyweight fighters.

Fifty-four seconds after the ninth round began, the power-punching Marciano disposed of the gallant but battered and beaten challenger.

Referee Frankie Brown stopped the scheduled 15-rounder, awarding Marciano a technical knockout. It was the Rock's fifth victory in defense of his championship.

The end was sighted in the sixth, and drew nearer when the game Britisher was sent through the ropes head first at the bell ending the eighth. The climax came when Cockell was smashed to the canvas twice almost as soon as the ninth round began.

It took eight counts for the hog farmer from Horam to lift himself up from the seat of his trunks in this bloody ninth, and back down he went. He managed to gain his feet after five and was even trying to punch back.

Then the referee called it quits. Cockell, weighing 205 pounds to Marciano's 189, was bleeding from

Facts, Figures On Title Fight

SAN FRANCISCO — Gross receipts for last night's world heavyweight title fight between champion Rocky Marciano and England's Don Cockell totaled $187,720. A crowd of 16,200 saw the bout.

Other figures, all estimated except radio: Federal tax—$171,000. Marciano's share of gate—$64,960. Cockell's share of gate—$32,490.

American radio receipts—$35,000. British radio receipts—$2,860. Theater television receipts—$125,000. Marciano's share of radio-theater-TV—$65,144.

Cockell's share of radio-theater-TV—$32,572. Marciano's total share—$130,124. Cockell's total share—$65,062.

the nose and a cut on the forehead at the hairline. His left eyebrow had a tiny slit.

Marciano was unblemished. Even his vulnerable nose, sliced open by Ezzard Charles last September, was intact.

The crowd of 18,000 in the big football stadium, cold as it was, gave Don a tremendous ovation as he left the ring.

Just before the bell ending the sixth, a right to the jaw sent Cockell walking unsteadily to his handlers.

Don's manager John Simpson admitted later that the referee came over and asked if the fight should go on, and that he himself suggested to Don that he give up. Cockell refused, and made it plain he did not want his manager to stop the fight under any circumstances.

It came as a surprise later, particularly to the American writers who had admired Cockell's fine stand, to hear him say he thought he got a "raw deal."

Sitting glumly in his dressing room, he let it go only as a "raw deal," leaving up to Simpson to elaborate.

Simpson, wise in managerial post-mortems, and doubtless hoping for a rematch, charged that Referee Brown let Rocky get away with butting, and low blows and punching after the bell.

Rocky did land several blows on the borderline. In a flurry he threw the last punch after the going once or twice. And the two banged heads a time or two.

Cockell said he would like a return match anywhere, including San Francisco.

Saints, Millers Both Defeated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The American Assn.'s second division got a thorough shuffling Monday as Denver took the lower half lead with an 8-2 victory over league leading Minneapolis.

Denver moved a half game ahead of St. Paul when the Saints were shut out 7-0 by third place Omaha. The second place Louisville Colonels gained a full game on Minneapolis by pounding out an 11-9 triumph over the Toledo Sox.

Charleston completed league action by beating Indianapolis 4-1 as they climbed out of the cellar and shoved the Indians down to eighth place.

Action Tuesday pits the same teams against each other.

Minneapolis, facing Denver for the first time since the Bears joined the league, ran into Wally Burnette's 8-hit pitching and 40-degree weather when they invaded the mile high city.

The Millers got their two runs

St. Paul also ran into rugged home pitching at Omaha, where Willard Schmidt allowed only four hits. He went six innings before he gave up the first hit.

The outstanding indoor athletic team at Notre Dame for the past four years was the fencing team. The fencers compiled a record of 12 wins against three losses.

Conley, Gomez Launch Series At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves and the New York Giants battle it out here tonight (8 CST) for second place in the National League with Milwaukee's big Gene Conley (4-1) facing Ruben Gomez (1-3).

The teams meet again Wednesday night and Thursday afternoon. Each team currently is nine games behind Brooklyn, although the Giants have a percentage of .536 to the Braves' .533.

Conley was the winner over Gomez at the Polo Grounds a few weeks ago, 9-6, after his mates had piled up a nine-run margin.

"I relaxed too much after getting that big lead," Conley explained. "The Giants have been tough for the touting Conley, who had a 1-4 record against them last year."

"They're a tricky ball club who hit and run on you," he said. "The Dodgers are strictly straightaway hitters and go for your fast ball so you can make suckers of them with a curve. But those Giants, like Don Mueller and Al Dark, don't try to murder the ball."

"They're just out to meet it and punch it through the infield. What's more, they're looking for the curve ball."

The Giants, led by veteran Leo Durocher, are pretty much the same club that won the World Series last fall. Willie Mays still is the most spectacular but the key man is Dark, shortstop and field leader.

Mueller has the longest current hitting string in the majors, connecting in 24 games. He got two singles off Conley earlier this season. Eddie Mathews has an eight-game string going for Milwaukee. He belted three homers for a total of six against the Philadelphia Phils in the three game series here during the weekend. That puts his homer record even with his pace last year and one behind 1953 when he had 47 to lead the majors.

The Braves' pitching staff should be refreshed after Monday's rest, especially the relief staff. Manager Charlie Grimm has used 16 pitchers in the last four games.

Earlier in the season the Braves were dishing up home runs on pitch. Lately the trouble has been lack of control. In the Philly doubleheader Sunday the Braves gave up seven walks in the first game and a dozen in the second.

Arcadia's Davis Hurls No-Hitter In Tournament

ARCADIA, Wis.—Finalists in the district baseball tournament here tonight at 7:30 p.m. are Arcadia and Fountain City, winners in action here Monday.

Arcadia beat Mondovi 9-0 on a no-hitter by Jerry Davis, and advanced past Galesville in the second game 15-1. Fountain City tipped Trempealeau 3-2 Monday night after Trempealeau had defeated Black River Falls 5-0 Monday afternoon.

Davis, no-hit hurler for Arcadia, walked only two men and struck out 14 in the game that eliminated Mondovi. Bill Brown led Arcadia's hitting attack with two safeties.

Trempealeau's pitcher, Dick Anderson, hurled a two-hitter against Black River Falls in the other afternoon game. He got errorless support from his teammates and hitting punch from mates Fernholz, with two triples, and Jessesky and Van Vleet, also with two hits.

James McCormick and Bud Scow of Arcadia both got four hits and James Killian, winning pitcher Tom Mettlich added two apiece in the Galesville game.

The Trempealeau-Fountain City game was a pitchers' duel all the way as Jessesky, Trempealeau pitcher, struck out 13 batters and his Fountain City opponent, Heitman, fanned 18.

Sen. Humphrey Predicts Repeal Of Farm Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) predicted today the Senate will pass a bill to repeal a penalty provision of last year's bitterly fought farm price support law.

He made this forecast in an interview in advance of renewed debate on the bill. The Senate has agreed to time limitation expected to bring a final vote today. That would send it to the White House, since the House has passed it.

The bill would eliminate a provision of the 1954 act under which a farmer is denied soil conservation payments unless he complies with acreage allotment on basic crops—corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

Humphrey, who strenuously opposed the administration request for flexible price supports in 1954, said, "on this (repealer) bill, I'm leading the fight for the administration." The Agriculture Department is going along with the repeal move.

Sen. Anderson (D-Minn.) conceded the repeal bill probably would pass. Under it, large farmers still would be unable to get soil conservation money without following strictly their acreage allotments, but farmers growing small amounts of the basic crops chiefly for feeding purposes could do so.

Meanwhile, Humphrey announced plans to introduce this afternoon a bill to restore rigid farm price supports with eligibility limited to "basic farm production."

Prices of the crops designated as basic are now supported at between 85¢ and 90 per cent of parity, a legal standard declared by Congress to give farmers a fair return in relation to their costs. This administration program was substituted last year for rigid props at 90 per cent of parity.

Under his bill, Humphrey explained, the 90 per cent floor would be available for up to $25,000 worth of farm products produced by each grower, and 75 per cent supports for an additional $25,000. Above $50,000, there would be no supports.

Stillwater Gets First Full Time Protestant Chaplain

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP)—The Minnesota State Prison will get its first full time Protestant chaplain July 1.

Rev. A. G. Rotenberry, Stillwater, Monday was appointed to the post by Warden Douglas Rigg. Mr. Rotenberry who has been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Stillwater for about 11 years will continue to live in Stillwater. He has been a part time Protestant chaplain at the prison for six years.

Rev. Francis Miller, present Catholic chaplain, will continue on a part time basis. He is pastor of St. Charles Catholic Church, Bayport.

Tavernkeeper Jailed for Selling Beer to Minors

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Nordin, 46, who operated a tavern at Avon, Minn., from 1938 to this year without taking out a beer license, Monday was sentenced to 60 days in jail for selling beer to minors.

Mrs. Nordin pleaded guilty to two counts but asked District Judge R. E. Barron for clemency. Judge Barron upheld verdicts delivered earlier in the case by Municipal Judge Wendell Henning.

Two other charges involving sale of beer without a license have been set for the fall term of district court.

Mrs. Nordin has paid a series of fines for liquor law violations dating back to 1938 but until now has not served any jail sentence. She sold the tavern recently.

Little Falls Woman Reported Missing
LITTLE FALLS, Minn. (AP)—Authorities today sought to learn the whereabouts of a missing woman, whose jacket and purse were found outside the V Tavern at Sartell.

Alice Mae Kollodge, 30, who worked last winter as a waitress at the tavern, was last seen there at 1:15 a.m. Friday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kollodge, said she went to Sartell by bus but failed to return home.

Notified by the parents, the Morrison County sheriff's office Monday referred the matter to the Benton County sheriff.

Miss Kollodge was described as blonde, 5 feet tall, and weighing 130 pounds. When last seen, she was wearing a black dress.

DENNIS THE MENACE

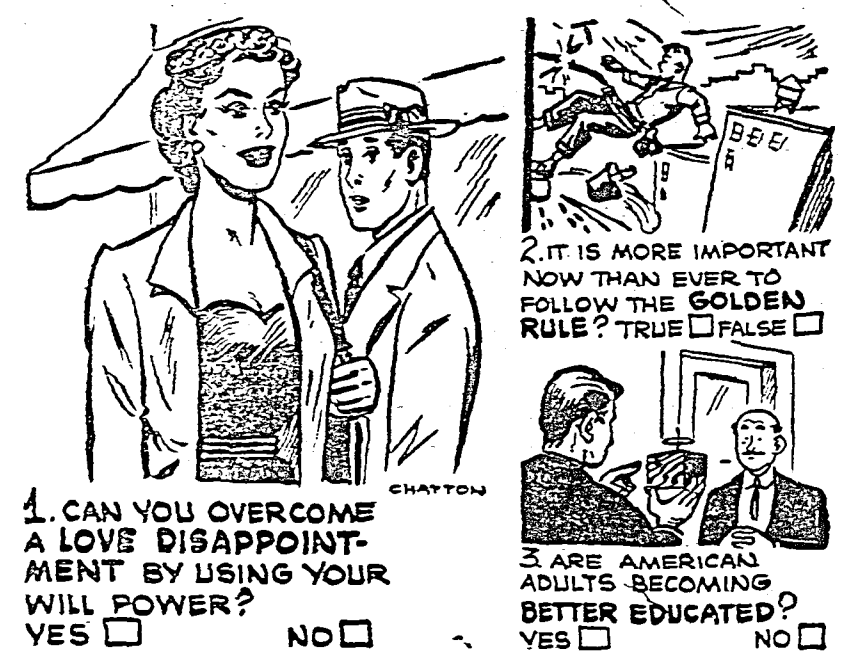

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. No. Suppose you're about to lose a fine antique chair. You sit in front of it, clutch your fists, and say, "I'm not going to worry about losing that chair." This fastens your attention on it and makes your disappointment worse. The same with losing love or money. But, learning to practice your disappointment often overcomes it in three days. Our booklet, "Master Your Bad Habits," tells how. Non-profit, 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggum in care of The Winona Daily News.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. True. An inspector passes a machine bearing with nine-thousandths of an inch tolerance instead of ten. He may kill hundreds. A window-washer falls because a defective bolt gives way. He is simply murdered by a careless workman. The old commandment, "Give a cup of cold water," was perfect in spirit, but modern science asks, "Are there any harmful bacteria in it?" One cup may start an epidemic. The Golden Rule applied scientifically is the only hope of mankind.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Yes. The U. S. Adult Education Association states that 35,000,000 persons are taking some form of adult education. In 1953 in New York State, fifteen times as many grownups were going to public schools as had been in 1945. Last year 3,000,000 persons signed up for night- or day- classes in 6,000 public schools throughout the country. Education is at last becoming contagious. Look out, or it will even get you!

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

As if Uncle Wiggily did not have trouble enough with the three bad chaps in his bungalow, Buster had to add something to the worries of the jolly old rabbit gentleman.

When Uncle Wiggily and his friends, coming home from a week-end voyage on the Amusement Raft, saw three bad chaps inside the hollow stump bungalow, that seemed trouble enough. When the rabbit gentleman was trying to think of a safe way to get the fox, the wolf and the bobcat out of his bungalow, Buster suddenly whispered:

"Someone is coming!"

There was no question about it. Uncle Wiggily and his friends, out side the bungalow, looking in the darkness through the lighted window at the three bad chaps, heard heavy footsteps approaching in the woods. They also heard the sound of swishing, swooshing bushes and breaking tree branches.

"Who could be coming?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy. "If there are any more bad chaps, you ought to stop them before they get into your bungalow, Mr. Longears."

"Whoever is coming," said the

FBI Joins Hunt For Missing Wife Of Murdered Chef

JAY, Okla. (AP)—The FBI today joined in the widening search for 44-year-old Mrs. Leola Werner, charged with the murder of her third husband, a 310-pound chef.

The badly decomposed body of Joseph Werner, also 44, was found Sunday on a 30-acre tract near Oklahoma's northeast border, buried in unslaked lime to speed its decay. The vacant farm was owned by Mrs. Werner's brother.

N. R. Johnson, FBI agent in charge of the Oklahoma area, filed a federal charge of unlawful flight of a fugitive against the murder suspect.

Mrs. Werner was last heard from in St. Louis after she sold the couple's Fort Worth, Tex., home. She wrote letters to her brothers Ralph and Thomas A. DeGarmo, both of Oklahoma City, stating she intended to kill herself. The letters were dated May 9.

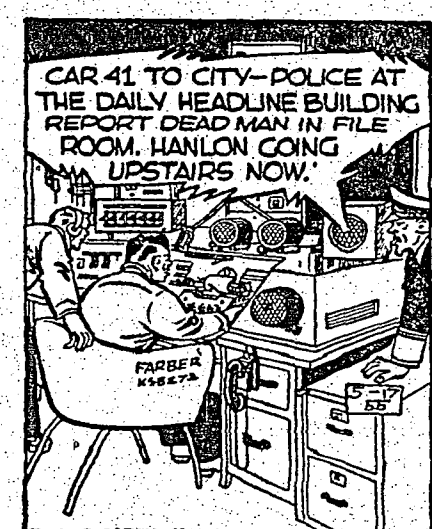

Crazed Farmer Who Killed Sheriff Dies

GROESBECK, Tex. (AP)—N. J. Tynes, a crazed farmer who killed a sheriff, wounded a youth and held off 100 officers for five hours Sunday, died last night of wounds suffered before his capture.

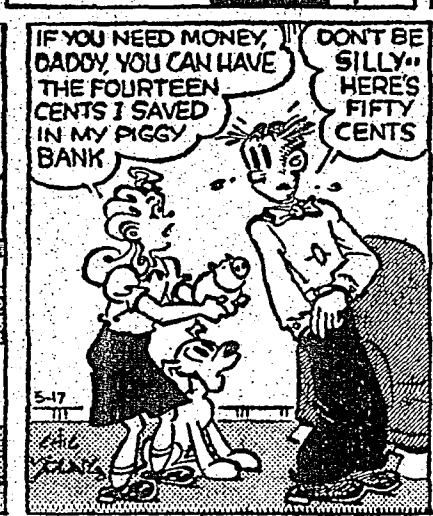

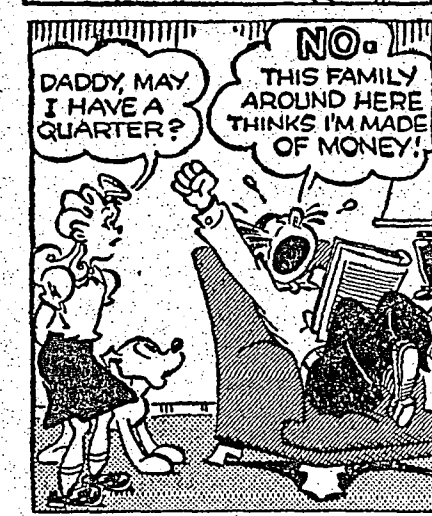

Funeral services for Sheriff J. Harry Dunlap, 47, were held yesterday. He was killed when he stepped from cover to attempt to reason with Tynes, 44, a bachelor farmer who was about to be committed again to a state mental hospital.

Tynes shot Johnny Ray Bentley, 17, Saturday night as Bentley plowed a field near Tynes' home. Dunlap had attempted to question Tynes about the shooting.
