Safe and Workable Polio Plan Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government and drug manufacturers sought today to work out differences over what constitutes a safe but workable program for Salk polio vaccine.

Their disagreement yesterday—another in a series of developments which have delayed the nationwide inoculation program—came after Surgeon General Leonard Scheele reported "we are now ready to move ahead."

Scheele announced that a new set of manufacturing and testing standards had been prepared and a working committee of scientists appointed to supervise their operation. He expressed "hope that we can clear (new batches of vaccine) at the earliest possible date."

But when the new standards were outlined to representatives of the drug manufacturers, they raised objections which necessitated further conferences today.

"The tentative specifications as given out were not entirely satisfactory," said Homer C. Fritsch, executive vice president of Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit. "There are a lot of points that need to be cleared up before they become minimum standards."

Parke, Davis and Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, are the only firms whose product has been cleared after inspection of their plants and processes by teams from the Public Health Service.

Results have not yet been announced of similar inspections at Wyeth, Inc., Marietta, Pa., and Pitman-Moore Co., Zionsville, Ind.

The other two vaccine makers are Sharp & Dohme, Inc., Philadelphia, still to be inspected, and Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., whose product was withdrawn last month after a number of vaccinated children developed polio.

Scheele said release of any further vaccine from any of the six manufacturers will await recommendations of the special panel including Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh, developer of the vaccine, and six other medical experts.

Two government officials will head up the new advisory panel on the vaccine. Dr. James Shannon, associate director of the National Institutes of Health, will be chairman and Dr. William Workman, chief of the institutes' laboratory of biological control, will be secretary.

The chief executive said that a revision of revenue estimates on the basis of 1954 regular income tax collections indicated that collections for the next two years would be nearly six million dollars more than originally estimated.

He added that this additional revenue, coupled with a shifting of 11 million dollars from two other state funds to the General Fund, will enable the state to meet a deficiency of $8,446,000 in the present biennium, take care of needs for the next two years and leave a working balance of about three million dollars.

Tito Welcomes Top Reds to Belgrade

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Flags left over from President Tito's birthday festooned Belgrade today for the arrival of Russia's top leaders, coming to heal the seven-year breach between the Kremlin and the outspoken Yugoslav marshal.

The government newspaper Politika announced tersely that the Soviet delegation would arrive late today. The time and details were kept secret.

The Soviet delegation is headed by Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, Premier Nikolai S. Bulganin and Vice Premier A. I. Mikoyan, a trade expert.

It appeared certain Tito, who split with the Cominform in 1948 rather than follow the Kremlin's dictates, would be on hand at Belgrade airport to greet his illustrious guests.

The flags adorning Belgrade were run up for the celebration of Tito's 63rd birthday yesterday. It was believed the Russians would be housed in the old royal palace, now used mainly for state visitors.

Politika said the initial purpose of the talks—which were requested by the Soviets—would be to "improve relations between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union."

Senate Passes Democratic Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The battle over a massive road-building program shifted to the House today after the Senate handed President Eisenhower a sharp setback by passing a Democratic rival to his highway plan.

First casualty reports had at least 77 dead and 700 injured. 3-Car Crash In State Kills 3, Injures 4

ST. VINCENT, Minn. (AP)—Three persons were killed and four hospitalized with injuries suffered in a three-car accident here about 1 a.m. today.

Killed were Virginia Gardner, 15, St. Vincent; Rodney McGovern, St. Vincent; and Roy Stewart Jr., 22, Hallock, Minn.

Hospitalized at Hallock were Gloria Gardner, sister of Virginia; Mrs. Lorraine Hush, St. Vincent; Donald Cederholm, Hallock, and Robert Nordstrom, Joliet, N.D.

Investigating officers said the accident occurred when a car driven by McGovern struck a vehicle driven by Virginia Gardner while trying to pass a car driven by Carmen Waller.

Blackwell, Okla., Udall, Kan., Hit

UDALL, Kan. (AP)—The spring's most devastating tornadoes ripped through 14 Kansas and Oklahoma communities Wednesday night leaving 77 persons dead and property damaged estimated in the millions.

The injury list totaled more than 700. Hardest hit were Udall in south-central Kansas and Blackwell in northern Oklahoma, towns just 80 miles apart.

The death toll included 55 at Udall, 15 at Blackwell, 5 at Oxford, Kan., and 2 at Sweetwater in western Oklahoma.

At Oxford, about 15 miles southwest of Udall, a twister destroyed a farm home killing five children and injuring three other persons in the family.

Aid poured into the stricken communities. The Red Cross, National Guards, police and highway patrolmen joined in helping the injured and searching for dead buried in wrecked buildings.

In Washington, the Small Business Administration declared two counties in Oklahoma and one in Kansas disaster areas. Persons whose homes or businesses were destroyed can apply for rehabilitation loans.

Most of Udall's population of about 750 was left homeless. Approximately 200 persons were injured. At Blackwell, a town of 10,000, some 500 were injured and approximately 36 square blocks devastated.

The weather bureau said the Udall twister was the worst killer in Kansas history. The town was virtually destroyed.

Roy Harris of the nearby Sumner County sheriff's office said the devastation "is the worst I ever want to see."

Rescuers estimated that in addition to the 55 known dead another dozen may be buried in the debris.

In Blackwell a residential area hit by the twister looked like a graveyard of splintered homes, uprooted trees and smashed automobiles.

Area Devastated
A strip 2 1/2 blocks by 8 blocks was so badly devastated bulldozers and cranes had to clear the way for rescuers.

Other towns hit included Geuda Springs in south-central Kansas and Erick, Durant, Shattuck, Mayfield, Camargo, Leedy, Tallaga, Cheyenne, Deer and Strong City in Oklahoma.

Both Udall and Blackwell lost their electric power. Communications were hard hit.

Mud Covers Streets
Debris and mud covering the streets hampered rescue crews.

At Blackwell, the Hazel Atlas Glass Co. plant, a two-block factory in the center of the storm's path, caught fire after being flattened. Thirty-five workers on the night shift escaped before the structure collapsed.

Bread trucks and other commercial vehicles were pressed into service to speed the injured to hospitals.

Even brick and stone buildings in Udall were leveled.

The twister hit with unexpected suddenness.

Johnny Walker, 37, and his wife were in their frame home just north of the main street when the vicious winds hit.

"The lights went out," he said.

"I was lying on the bed. I wasn't undressed, just lying there. My wife called to me. I jumped up and the door blew open. I forced it shut and then my wife put her arms around my waist and we crawled on the floor to the stairway."

"Then it sounded like a freight train coming through the house."

"There was an explosion. It seemed like, and all the windows shattered."

Their house, however, remained standing.

Walker said he and his wife finally got outdoors.

Man Blown Out of House
"The man living just north of us was blown out of his house. He staggered over to my place and we stayed together."

"It was raining during the wind. We finally made our way across the street into a basement."

"Approximately 90 per cent of the community was demolished. Fragments of buildings were left standing here and there."

Debris from brick walls smashed cars parked in the streets. The wind stripped trees of limbs and leaves. Telephone poles, broken at ground level, lay across the streets.

Residents said a shower was given last night for Miss Eileen Holtz in the Community building. A few guests were still in the structure when the twister hit, but they crowded into a small kitchen. All reportedly escaped injury.

The grade school at nearby Mulvane was turned into a temporary hospital for the injured. Other injured were taken to Mulvane homes.

Some Seriously Injured
Two hospitals at Winfield reported at least 10 of the injured were in critical condition and approximately 30 in serious condition.

Charles Rollins, a photographer for the Wichita Eagle, gave this picture of the wrecked community:

"The downtown section was virtually wiped out. There wasn't a structure that hadn't collapsed, been blown away or severely damaged."

"Many persons were walking around in a dazed condition. Others were moaning as they awaited removal to hospitals. Countless automobiles were smashed and tossed on their sides."

"At one house I saw three persons removed as rescue crews held up the shattered roof of their home."

Rollins said he saw at least 20 or 25 injured persons placed in ambulances and other vehicles for movement to hospitals.

"The town does not have a hospital of its own."

$100,000 Suit Near Jury in Federal Court

Carpenter Claims
Disabling Injuries
In Rail Accident

Attorneys this afternoon were expected to address their final arguments to the jury in the $100,000 personal injury action brought in federal court here by Floyd Robshaw, Stockton, Ill., against the Chicago Great Western Railway.

A greater part of this morning's session was devoted to the hearing of testimony from a St. Paul orthopedic surgeon regarding injuries Robshaw alleges that he suffered while working with a Chicago Great Western bridge crew near Farley, Iowa, last July 1.

Robert King, Minneapolis, is representing Robshaw and Vance Grannis, St. Paul, and C. Stanley McMahon, Winona, the railway firm.

Dr. King testified that on the basis of his examinations he concluded that in his fall Robshaw suffered a neck contusion or sprain and that the arthritis was not aggravated by the mishap. He predicted eventually Robshaw could return to work.

Three other witnesses called this morning were Clarence Struckman, Oelwein, Iowa, a foreman of the bridge gang with which Robshaw was working, and two other members of the crew, Edward Ehrig, Stockton, Ill., and George Gloede, Oelwein.

Robshaw on Stand

Details of the accident in which he was injured were described Wednesday by Robshaw, the first witness called by King.

A member of an eight-man bridge gang that was working on a small bridge on the railroad's mainline tracks between Farley and Dyersville, Robshaw said that he and three other men were carrying discarded beams away from the bridge site to a disposal area, in which they found it necessary to carry the sections of beams through an area of tall clover.

He and another member of the crew were carrying the front end of a beam, Robshaw said, while the two other workers were holding the other end of the timber when he suddenly slipped and stumbled in the tall clover.

Hears 'Crunching'

Robshaw said that when he fell the weight of the timber caused him to "jackknife" and when he hit the ground his head was pushed forward. At that moment, Robshaw said, he heard a "crunching" sound in his neck.

Robshaw said that he continued to work for the remainder of the day but the next day told his foreman of the accident and when he complained of pain in his neck he was instructed to have an examination by a doctor.

The doctor told him to wear a brace on his neck, Robshaw continued, and he wore this for about two weeks but when it became uncomfortable the doctor told him he might take it off for a time.

Robshaw said that his neck became so painful, however, that he was forced to resort to the use of the brace again and wore it until sometime in October when he began to take it off at intervals and finally discarded it in November.

During the summer of 1951, Robshaw testified, he underwent physiotherapy treatments four times a week for a period of four weeks, three times a week for five weeks and since then once every other week.

Arcadia Crown Goes To Nancy Glanzer

By DAILY NEWS STAFF WRITER

ARCADIA, Wis.—Vivacious Nancy Glanzer was crowned Arcadia Broiler-Dairy Festival queen of 1953 Wednesday night marking the second straight year the title has been so honored on her birthday.

Miss Glanzer, an ardent bowler and golfer, was 24 yesterday. Miss Betty Sobotta, 1954 queen who crowned Nancy, won the title on her birthday last spring.

Presentation of the royal toilet came after five judges deliberated more than two hours over the qualities of 11 candidates.

Spring Grove Man Awarded $1,200; McKenna on Stand

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—An award of $1,200 was given a Spring Grove man by a Houston County District Court jury late Wednesday.

Jurors for a collection suit against a former Caledonia mayor, Leo McKenna, were selected yesterday afternoon.

Lloyd Ellington, Spring Grove, received the $1,200 verdict from the jury at 8:36 p.m. yesterday after the jury had deliberated nine hours. He sued Thomas Muetze, La Crosse, for personal injuries he claimed he received in an auto accident on the La Crescent turnpike last spring.

Testifying for Muetze late Tuesday and early Wednesday were Leslie J. Acou, Davy Engineering Co., La Crosse; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Abendroth, Milwaukee, who were passengers in the Muetze car; Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, La Crosse; Arthur Schroeder, Caledonia garageman, and Fred Allen, La Crosse.

Judge Karl Finkelnburg is presiding.

In the afternoon a jury was selected for the $5,000 collection suit brought by Samuel Halpern, Minneapolis attorney, against McKenna. The former mayor took the stand in his own behalf later in the day. Court reconvened at 10 a.m. today.

Jurors are Phillip Bouquet, Caledonia; Lawrence Deufel, Mayville; Mrs. Philip Feldmeier, Hokah Township; John A. Flaten, Sheldon; Elmer Gellow, Money Creek Township; Irvin Ingvalson, Wilmington; Harold Johnrud, Wilmington; Mrs. Oscar Lauritzen, Caledonia Township; Glenn Otterson, Black Hammer; Mrs. George Pottratz, Winnebago; Miss Luella Quilen, Brownsville, and Paul Wilhelm, Union.

Other Candidates

The other eight candidates were Delores Eichman, Donna Jerecek, Ruth Bautech, Teresa Samsalla, Dorothy Bautech, Mary Lou Ziegler, Phyllis Wiesenberger and Arvilla Schlessner.

According to the music of Fred Heyer and his assistant, Master from Winona State Teachers College, started at 9 p.m. and lasted until 1 a.m. Vogel introduced Miss Sobotta, Winona Jack Frost V. (George "Spike" Graham), Frosties Lloyd Ozmun and Roger Schneider, Miss Snowflake (Pat Passel) and Miss Steamboat Days (Sandra Munson). Betty, Pat and Graham spoke briefly before Vogel brought on the judges and 11 queen contestants.

One of the highlights of the evening was the appearance of a 20-car motorcade from Winona, arranged by the Ambassadors of the Chamber of Commerce. It was given a police escort into town about 8 p.m. to a large parking lot reserved for the motorcade.

Arcadia Mayor Omer Schroeder welcomed the group headed by Winona Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer, Jack Frost V., Miss Snowflake, the Frosties and Miss Steamboat Days. Mayor Pfeiffer responded for the Winona delegation. Others who spoke were Vogel, Graham and Miss Passel.

A program followed featuring the Peppermint Trio of Fargo, N. D., two members being natives of Arcadia, and the Winona Twirlers.

It marked the first coronation ball at Arcadia, this being the second annual festival and the first indoor coronation. Betty was named to reign over the 1954 affair at a ceremony in the city hall park.

Miss Glanzer works with her mother, Mrs. Anna Glanzer, running a soft drink and ice cream manufacturing business here. Her hobbies are bowling, swimming and golf and she announced to intimates that the $100 probably will be spent for new golf clubs.

She will represent Arcadia Saturday in the seven-county regional Alice in Dairyland queen contest which this year is a part of the Arcadia Broiler-Dairy Festival.

About 70 contestants will ride in a parade through town Saturday afternoon. Two finalists will be named for the region at an evening banquet.

Haslerud Fund Over $1,500 In Fourth Day

Caledonia Family
Offers to Care for Motherless Child

The fund to help the Robert Haslerud family of Whalan passed the $1,500 mark this morning and at noon contributions were still being received in answer to an appeal of The Daily News.

Contributors during the last 24 hours totaled 192 and the amount sent totaled $473.80. This, with the $1,022 raised up to yesterday, brought the grand total to $1,505.80.

Many offers of aid in addition to cash have been received and one Caledonia family told the father they would care for one of his four motherless children. Said the letter: "Would it help if we'd take care of one of your children till you get back on your feet again? We have three of our own, the youngest 7 years old. We'd be happy to do this for you if we have the privilege. Or if there is anything else we can do, please don't hesitate to call on us."

Daughters of Norway Sewing Club of Lanesboro sent $25, another contribution was made "in memory of the late John Ronnenberg" and little Sharon Ann Stalka of Winona sent her dollar bill stuck to a piece of paper with adhesive tape. A "Chief Fan" said "I've got this $1 on the Chiefs' game" last Sunday, so I can't think of a better place for it."

Rochester television station KROC-TV gave added publicity to the appeal in a telecast from Chatfield Wednesday night, praised The Daily News for launching the appeal, and urged further contributions.

Haslerud's 26-year-old wife and mother of the four small children died at Rochester last week of explosion burns suffered at a Whalan farm home May 14.

Contributions may be sent "The Robert Haslerud Fund," care of The Daily News.

ST. PAUL (P)—The Episcopal Diocese of Minnesota will hold its 1956 convention in Winona if the site is approved by Bishop Stephen E. Keeler, now ill in Rome.

It Was A Happy Moment for these two women when the 6:15 bus pulled into Winona last night. It marked the first time in 26 years that Mrs. Lawrence Pflughoeft, right, 750 Mankato Ave., had seen her mother, who's now Mrs. Lillian Loew, 46, Ashland, Wis. The two were separated through adoption action when Mrs. Pflughoeft, now 28, was 2. (Daily News photo)

Winona Woman Happy— Finds Mother After 26 Years

By TOM BERGHS
Daily News Staff Writer

An attractive 46-year-old woman stepped off the 6:15 o'clock bus last night, looked searchingly for a moment at an equally attractive 28-year-old woman standing on the sidewalk and began to weep very softly.

It took her only a moment to enfold the younger woman in her arms and murmur something incoherent, thereby ending—or perhaps just beginning—a tale that was 26 years in the telling.

Mrs. Lawrence Pflughoeft, 750 Mankato Ave., met her own real mother for the first time in her adult life last night.

The meeting Wednesday night wrote the finish to a series of events that involved a pair of foster children and persons variously named Carpenter, Boettcher, Loew, Pflughoeft and three different Andersens.

At Sauk Centre, Minn., on March 1, 1927, Lillian Carpenter gave birth to a daughter—the first of her six children. That little daughter now is Mrs. Pflughoeft.

It was also in 1927 that 5-year-old Edward Andersen watched his father and an older sister drown in a Minneapolis lake.

That lad now is Edward Boettcher, 1067 W. 5th St.

In the 28 intervening years between 1927 and today these two persons—who became foster brother and sister along the way—have become entwined in the search for their individual blood relatives.

Placed in Home

The history of the first two years of her life is a little hazy for Mrs. Pflughoeft; but she knows that somewhere in that period she was placed in the Lutheran Children's Friends Society at Minneapolis.

Just before her third birthday she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. William Boettcher, Dakota, Minn., and raised as Shirley Boettcher, for some good reason — was the fact that she had two aunts in Minnesota and an uncle in Milwaukee.

Ed was 5 when, during a family picnic with his three sisters and two brothers, he watched his father and one of his sisters drown.

It wasn't long after, when his mother remarried—to another Andersen.

"That guy was a madman," says Ed today. "He hated all of us kids." Ed tells of the time the second Andersen locked him, a sister (another had died in a fire at home) and his two brothers in an unused icebox while their mother was away from the house, and wouldn't let them out. They all had practically suffocated by the time the mother arrived home and released them, Ed says.

Following the icebox incident, Ed's mother in desperation for their own safety placed him and his brothers in the Lutheran children's home in Minneapolis.

That was in 1929 and shortly after, Ed too was adopted by the Dakota couple and raised as Edward Boettcher.

The two children—now Shirley and Edward Boettcher—both grew up knowing what their real family names were, but in the manner of rambunctious kids never thought much about it.

Both married rather young and began raising their own families here in Winona County.

Ed knew his right name was Andersen and knew vaguely that his family was located somewhere in or near the Twin Cities.

City Health Officer Backs Polio Vaccine

Participation Under
50 Per Cent at One
School in Winona

"If I had children in the first and second grade they would be given the Salk polio vaccine," Dr. R. H. Wilson, city health officer, commented today in noting the many withdrawals from the program in Winona.

Today, the second day of the program in the city — the participation was less than 50 per cent at one school. The record:

Phelps School — 34 out of 46 received the vaccine.

St. Martin's School — 27 out of 64 participated.

Washington-Kosciusko School — 52 out of 102 participated.

And in the county outside the city, the percentage of participation is about the same, said Dr. Wilson. The high number of non-participants is affected somewhat by an outbreak of mumps and whooping cough, causing children to remain at home, he added.

Dr. Wilson, just elected president of the Minnesota State Medical Association, said he was speaking for the city and state health departments in stating that the vaccine is "perfectly safe." He noted that the state board has been "very conservative in the past; last year it did not participate in the vaccinations."

"It is true," Dr. Wilson continued, "that we are getting into the polio season and some who receive the vaccine may get polio, but that can be attributed to seasonal incidence."

He said that neither he nor the state is urging parents to put their children in the program but he is personally convinced that the vaccine is safe. The state board — and he joined in this — "deplors the way this has been handled to create to resolve the confusion in the minds of people."

Can Still Participate

Parents who have withdrawn from the program may still participate if they wish, Dr. Wilson said. Such children may receive their first inoculation either next Tuesday at 9 a.m. at the Madison School or next Wednesday at 9 a.m. at St. Stanislaus School. However, these children must bring statements from their parents that they are to receive the vaccine.

In the city, vaccinations will be given Friday at Madison, St. Casimir's and Lincoln schools; in the county, Pekewick and Dresbach schools.

of herself, her husband, the service station they own on Mankato avenue dike and the couple's five children. That was on a Wednesday.

The following Sunday—May 15—the phone rang and a voice from Ashland, Wis., said, "Shirley, this is your mother."

Her mother told her that in addition to the two brothers she also has three sisters — Florence, 21, and Virginia, 23, both at Waukegan, Wis., and Arabelle, 22, of Chicago.

It took 28 years for the story to unfold, but Mrs. Pflughoeft finally has her family—two brothers, three sisters, two aunts, an uncle and most important of all—a mother.

Heart Attack By Witness Delays Hearing

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today a heart attack suffered by a key witness may force a postponement after today of an inquiry into alleged graft in buying of uniforms for the armed forces.

McClellan heads the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has heard New York manufacturer Leon M. Levy give sworn testimony that he furnished nearly $7,000 which he understood an associate would use to pay off government employees having supervision over clothing contracts.

Levy suffered a heart attack at his hotel last night shortly after conceding that Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) may have been right in calling him "a crook." Subcommittee aides quoted Levy's physician, Dr. Emmett Markwood, as saying the attack was serious.

Levy was admitted to the George Washington University Hospital, which declined to comment on his condition.

He also backed two subcommittee aides against a shapely brunette's charge that "they browbeat me" nearly to hysteria.

Mrs. Mella Hort, a former government contract administrator, yesterday flung the accusation at Robert F. Kennedy, the subcommittee's chief counsel and brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and at Carmine Bellino, a staff accountant. She said they tried to get her to give false testimony.

McClellan told newsmen: "It is perfectly apparent she wasn't browbeaten. The way she was cussing around, she wasn't browbeaten."

'Family Fight' To Be Patched Up in Belgrade

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
(Third of a Series)

A family squabble is about to be patched up in Belgrade. The old tyrant of the family is dead. The survivors are saying, in effect, it was all the old man's fault.

Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, now Soviet premier, once likened President Tito of Yugoslavia to Judas Iscariot. That was the thing to do while the old tyrant, Stalin, glowered over the scene.

But today President Tito says Bulganin, Soviet Communist boss N. S. Khrushchev, Soviet trade expert A. I. Mikoyan and the rest of the Moscow party are "courageous." They go to Belgrade in humility, admitting the genius Stalin was wrong after all. Seeking only friendship, said Khrushchev, the Russians journey to Yugoslavia "with open souls and pure hearts."

In both the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, there are strong indications that anxiety to ease international tensions is in direct ratio to internal distress. In both countries the distress is fairly apparent.

The Soviet economy, with its vast emphasis on heavy industry, is topheavy. The internal Soviet political struggle has not been settled.

The Yugoslav economy remains in poor shape. Like the Soviet Union, it suffers from a lopsided bureaucracy, from failure of agriculture, from inability to provide consumer goods, from growing disaffection among the rising, conservative middle classes as the old Bolsheviks die out.

Either regime would be in grave danger in a new war. Both are passionately interested in neutralism, for slightly different reasons. The Yugoslavs want it because they fear an arms race will lead to war and the end of their regime. The Soviet Union wants it because the growing strength of the Western ring around the U.S.S.R. dampens Red enthusiasm for aggressive expansion, political or otherwise.

Atom Promises Aid to Industry, Scientist Says

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Turning of nuclear energy into peacetime channels brings this age to the threshold of the greatest industrial development the world has ever seen within the next 10 to 100 years, Dr. John J. Dunning said Wednesday.

While emphasis in atomic developments so far has been placed on their war and defense potential, the huge stocks of fissionable material the nation is building also holds vast possibilities for bettering life everywhere, said Dr. Dunning, engineering dean at Columbia University.

"Unfortunately, every advance in knowledge is a two-edged sword," he told a regional forum sponsored by the National Assn.

of Manufacturers. "In the first development when man first learned to pick up a sharp rock and tie it to a stick with strips of hide to create an ax, he achieved a great invention. But immediately he could use that ax either to chop down trees and build houses with one hand or, with the other hand, bash out his neighbor's brains. Every advance in knowledge since then has, unfortunately, been used for both purposes."

Memorial Day More Than a Spring Holiday

Holidays are always joyful occasions. This is especially true of the holiday which comes at that lovely time of year when spring is merging into summer. But a holiday is likely to have its origins in some idea more serious than new clothes and picnic baskets. It's good to take a moment for thought about that idea before the fun is really under way.

Memorial Day has its origin in memory and honor. It is the time to remember our soldier dead, to give them what honor we can, to send a thought winging to them, wherever they are, of gratitude for their sacrifice. They loved America. They wanted it to stay free. They wanted its people free to do their work, worship their God, live secure in their homes. They wanted their fellow Americans to be free for jollity when the red letter days came around. Because they loved America and wanted the best for it and its people, they laid down their lives.

Let us, then, give them a moment for loving memory. Let us thank them for giving life, that greatest of all gifts, that we might be strong, good, happy. Then let us enjoy this lovely day, this beauty of America that they have given us.

Up to Congress to Produce Practical Postal Pay Bill

Pres. Eisenhower wanted men in the postal service to have more pay. But he didn't want the government to promise more than it could honestly pay, and he wanted a well-written bill which would iron out inequalities and unfairnesses. He wanted a good bill, one that would work.

Congress laid before him a bill promising too much and not eliminating as much unfairness as he wanted. So the President refused to sign the bill. He vetoed it.

The whole United States wants its postal workers to get a raise. It is up to Congress to produce a good bill, practical and fair. It is up to Congress to produce that bill in time to get it through this session.

Americans will be watching their senators and representatives to see that they do this important piece of work properly and in time.

Drama at State Associated Press Meeting

The "Sky Room" at Hotel Winona was filled early Sunday morning with members of the Minnesota Associated Press. Routine business was taken care of in routine manner. Reports, problems and charts were studied and discussed. Good natured banter, ranging from salty quips to some bordering on the ribald were exchanged. The air was filled with smoke.

Then came time for another ordinary routine matter. But this time it was different.

As a part of the duty of the committee on resolutions, it was incumbent to pay tribute to those in the profession who had died within the past year.

This time there was no "resolution," no "wherefore," no "therefore be it resolved." Instead, Chairman Burt D. Pearson of the Mesabi Daily News, Virginia, read a statement he had prepared during the night which instantly cleansed the smoke-filled room and settled as a benediction over the membership. He must have had Divine inspiration and guidance in its preparation, for never has there been another like it.

In his statement, which was a model in purity, simplicity and beauty of diction, he paid affectionate tribute to the memory of the massive Marion "Jumbo" Sheen, departed AP executive from the Chicago office. He pronounced an encomium on the great and heroic contribution of the late Tom Barnhart of the University of Minnesota School of Journalism, to the Minnesota press. He paid loving, respectful tribute to the many outstanding qualities and services of the late Gideon Seymour, executive editor of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune. He pronounced an encomium upon the memory of Mrs. Myrtle Mackay, wife of Jack Mackay a humble though brilliant member of the Minneapolis AP regional office.

Heads were bowed as the membership stood in silent tribute while the statement was read, closing with a prayer for those still living; expressing the hope they would have the courage and the will to carry on.

Couched in language of unmatched simplicity, tempered with deep tinges of affection, respect and admiration for the dead, it left a lump in every throat; tears of mingled sorrow and sympathy flowing unashamed from every eye.

Much of the worthwhile was accomplished at the meeting, but Mr. Pearson's sincere and touching tribute to the departed has left an enduring imprint on Minnesota journalism which time will not erase. None who heard it could help but have a deeper consciousness of their great responsibility to those they serve and the opportunity they have to be an influence for good.—Fairmont Sentinel.

These Days

British Bad Boy Is Aneurin Bevan

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

LONDON — Britain's bad boy is Aneurin Bevan, an evangelical, primitive socialist who goes his own way, shattering before him whatever does not fit his concept of life. He is now engaged in splitting his own Labour party which, if it is defeated in this election, could fall apart in three sections. Bevan leading one of them. It is possible both to underestimate and overestimate this man; the significance of his political activity is that he cannot be ignored. The Labour party stands for managerial socialism which is more like the New Deal in the United States. They would have the government controls over the life of the people and government ownership of those phases of the British economy which are monopolistic or tend to become monopolistic. But they are not ideological Marxists, coming closer to a Norman Thomas Socialist than to a Communist.

The most important economic problem in this country is raising the standard of living of the people. Wages are comparatively low. The average annual income of a typical male clerk or a female stenographer would be about 400 pounds which is about $1,150; the average female industrial worker about 300 pounds or $750; the average male industrial worker under 21 about 250 pounds or about $600. This provides a picture of income and purchasing power. Installment buying is not highly developed and is not encouraged because the fear of inflation is very great.

THE LABOUR PARTY wants wages increased and the standard of living raised by government controls and by what they regard as scientific methods; the Conservatives believe in competition and creating demands for more products by prosperity which depends to a great degree upon an export trade. The Conservatives are impressed by American methods of creating mass consumers and mass production industries. The Labourites, who are Socialists, have many reservations about American methods. Both parties wonder what mass production and particularly automation can do to social conditions in a comparatively small country. Aneurin Bevan runs across this discussion with early Twentieth Century arguments of the Keir Hardie type which no longer fit the conditions of these times. But what makes little difference because of his emotionalism, his oratory, his stimulation of discontent give him an important following despite full employment and a rising wage scale.

It is to be noted that no improvements affect those who live on old age pensions, who have become the poor poor. As long as full employment exists, Bevan's arguments arouse interest but do not give him prime leadership. As a matter of fact, the opposition to him is strongest in the trade unions. But it is admitted on all sides that if the economy suffered a setback, if conditions inside or outside affected Great Britain, so that unemployment returned, there is no telling what Bevan could accomplish politically. He might reach leadership in the Labour party and even become prime minister. Bevan is anti-American although it is not clear whether that is a political maneuver like a mayor of Chicago threatening to punch King George's nose to get votes, or is a support of Soviet Russia which Bevan does not openly support.

EVEN HIS ENEMIES deny that Bevan is a Communist, although they are not able to describe exactly what he is because his ideas do not fit a pattern. They only know that he makes trouble for everybody and revels in it. When the Labour party tried to expel him, they came up against sufficient resistance to take him back, and he is now out campaigning under Labour party auspices, although he says the things that they do not want him to say in this campaign. He seems to be Henry Wallace, Wayne Morris and Harold Ickes all rolled in one and nobody can handle him. It is not only a matter of ego: It is political maneuvering to become prime minister some day. Here any man who has reached the political level that he is considered as a possible prime minister, takes on a greater political significance than a possible presidential candidate does in the United States. That is due to the Parliamentary system which gives past, present and future potential prime ministers a forum. Lloyd George killed the Liberal party on the anvil of his ambitions: It is feared by Labourites that Aneurin Bevan may do the same to the Labour party.

Dinner Guests Say Ike Definite on No 2nd Term

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The President recently held another of his famous stag dinners for which the guest list is no longer available, but at which he made his views clearer than ever that he did not intend to run for a second term.

Those who attended the dinner came away convinced he meant what he said.

"I've had it," was what one dinner guest quoted him as saying. He went on to say that no political party should be dependent on one man. He explained that he had never had a vacation in his entire life and was tired. The only let-up he ever had from the stress and strain of military duties was when he was president of Columbia University, and that, he said, was no vacation.

The President also complained about his bursitis, said it was the result of tension and nerves. So he said he felt he deserved a chance to go up to his Gettysburg farm and relax.

The dinner meeting lasted from about 7:30 to 11:45 with a lot of politics discussed. But the policies that directly affected the President seemed quite definite.

Hoover's Leaks

Herbert Hoover has been sore at blazes at this writer for publishing advance copies of some of his government reorganization reports.

Mr. Hoover has squawked about it vocally and vigorously though privately. In fact, he's been so irked that he's given orders that all task-force reports on government reorganization be "classified" and he's threatened to prosecute anyone leaking information to Pearson.

It would appear that Mr. Hoover is not too familiar with the law. Because his reports pertain not to military or defense secrets but only to problems of bureaucracy and red tape. And never in the entire history of the United States has it been against the law to publish information pertaining to efficiency in government.

Apparently Mr. Hoover hasn't changed much. When in the White House he also used to be riled over news-leaks, asked publishers to fire newsmen who published embarrassing stories.

So I hope he won't get too upset.

Advice on Health

It's No Joke When Your Feet Hurt

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

My feet hurt!

How often have you heard someone voice this complaint? You've probably done it yourself; for aching feet is a very common ailment.

We all know that shoes that don't fit can cause aching feet. But, did you know that infection in your teeth, nasal sinuses and digestive tract can give you foot trouble, too? Poor circulation may be responsible for your discomfort or you may have arthritis; but, whatever the cause, there's much you can do to alleviate that pain.

If your shoes are at fault, proper padding to ease pressure will probably prove comforting.

Posture also plays an important part in foot comfort. Always stand with your feet pointing forward in their natural position. If your feet point outward instead, they put undue strain on the ligaments connecting the foot bones—especially on the inner side of the long arch. This might only cause a slight ache at first, but before long it will develop into severe pain.

In one painful condition which we call "spurs," small callous-like formations develop on the bone of the heel. If this is your trouble, you can probably relieve the pain by alternately wearing shoes with different heel heights each day.

The best cure for aching feet, of course, is complete rest. However, bed-rest over a long period just isn't practical for those of us who have to earn a living. Nevertheless, you can give them a certain amount of rest every day. For example, while you are sitting down, place your feet straight out in front of you on another chair.

To aid circulation, try the contrast baths. Get two pails large enough to accommodate both feet. Fill one with hot water, the other with cold water.

Place both feet in the warm water for one minute. Then

Ike Gets Letter From Davy Crockett

By PAUL HARVEY

Dear Mister President:

I just saw by the papers that Jack Dulles is all primed to get back into that international poker game with them Russians again, and with them deolins!

No religious, medical or personal controversies or articles supporting candidates for office are acceptable. The Winona Daily News does not publish original verse.

The writer's name and address must accompany each article and if publication of the name is not desired a pen name should be given. Unsigned letters receive no consideration. Where fairness to the public demands, publication of the writer's name will be required, but he will be given opportunity to decide whether he wishes the article published over his signature or withheld.

Says Sidewalk Location Shows Partiality

To the Editor:
In regard to sidewalks in The Winona Daily News May 24, I see that they will put one on the east side of Lee street. I think that shows a lot of partiality.

Jury Convicts 7 U.S. Communists

DENVER, (AP)—Seven persons named in federal indictments as Communist party leaders were convicted last night on charges of conspiring to teach violent overthrow of the government.

Defense lawyers immediately asked time to file motions for dismissal and retrial. U. S. Dist. Judge Jean S. Breitenstein granted them until June 9 to prepare motions and set June 15 as a date for their hearing.

They face possible maximum sentences of five years' imprisonment and $10,000 fines each under terms of the Smith Act, under which all were charged in federal indictments returned Aug. 9, 1954.

The accused are Arthur Bary, 43, and his wife Anna, 30, and Harold Zepelin, 29, all of Denver; Joseph Scherrer, 35, and his wife Maia, 36, of Pueblo, Colo.; Mrs. Patricia Blau, 43, of Los Angeles, and Lewis M. Johnson, 34, of Salt Lake City.

Boat Chase Stops Illegal Fishing

WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—For more than an hour yesterday two boats equipped with outboard motors raced at high speed around Narragansett Bay.

After 25 miles one boat ran out of gas and the other caught up with it.

The second boat was manned by state conservation officers; the first by William D. Caswell Jr., 25, of Bristol, who was arrested for fishing illegally. He pleaded guilty later and was fined $50.

switch them to the cold water for one minute. Follow this procedure for about ten minutes. This should help quite a bit.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

J. N.: Are vegetable fats as digestible as animal fats?

Answer: Yes, they are.

Seems every time we haul the rifle down from the mantle and declare an open season on savages, we win, but we never end up with what we fought for. Our diplomats keep givin' the world back to our enemies, one peace at a time.

Mister President, you and I ain't hankerin' to get us into another scalpin' match. I've seen enough fightin' and I allow as how you have, too.

But, Sir, if Americans had always been figurin' this new way. If Americans had always been willin' to give the enemy half of anything he wanted just to keep him quiet, then I'd a had to pacify old Santa Anna away back there and we'd a compromised away half of Texas.

Maybe my advice ain't welcome. Mister President. Besides, I never was much good at speechifyin' or letter writin'.

I been restin' and sorta waitin' to see Texas again, or someplace like it, when suddenly Mister Disney dug me up and I had a look around.

And I seen television and your Jack Dulles ain't so much at speechifyin' hisself. Leastways, he's still playin' poker in front of a mirror when he says right out in public that we're gonna try to outbluff them Rooskies.

With a straight face and bad cards them Rooskies keep cleanin' us by halves every hand. But suppose we win one. They've signed and busted 50 written agreements in 22 years. Their IOU's worth no more than their signature.

I remember an old Indian fighter named Andy Jackson and how he allus said, "A corrupt bargain."

He kinda spit on the words as they came out.

Mister President, if Jack can figure out who is top man on that totem pole and fixes it for you to meet him, they'll do is try to get you drunk first off.

Because they won't give in on anything and as long as you're forked-end down you can't. So what's there to talk about?

No, the most peaceable arrangement is where the hunter and the squirrel don't end up on the same side of the tree.

Just remember all the time them Reds is shakin' hands they're trying to get a toehold in the other fellow's moccasins.

Also, Mister President, if this information is any use to you, I didn't really kill no bear when I was only three. But I learned something about 'em. I learned a bear can whip his weight in any livin' critter, but a swarm of bumble bees can make him drown hisself.

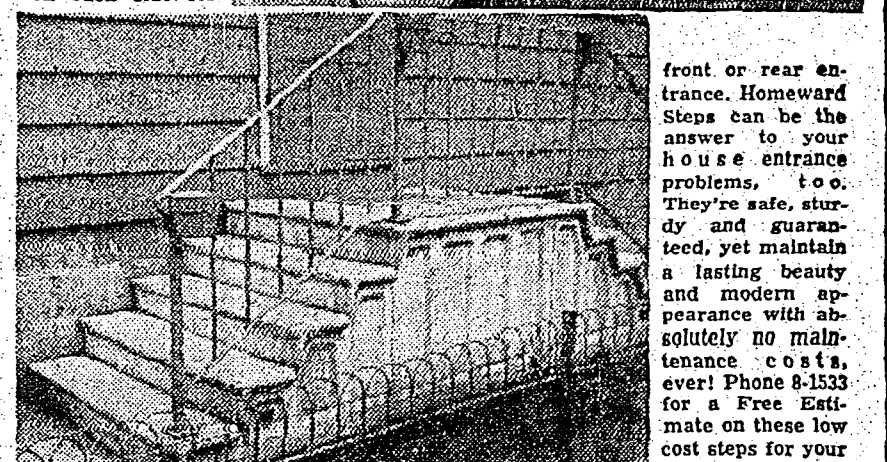

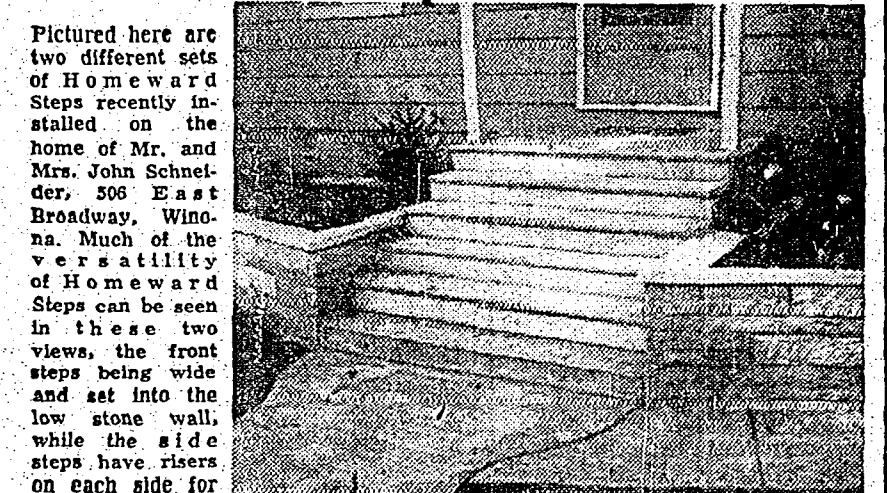

Respectfully yours,
Davy Crockett

Your Job Doesn't End With Raising the Flag

Let's remember that each day—year in and year out—the need of a helping hand grows greater. As the numbers of present and past service people grows, so grows the need for aid from the American Legion Auxiliary. Yes, the Auxiliary's helping hand extends in many directions to all races, creeds and colors—to servicemen's families and to servicemen themselves. Your purchase of American Legion

Auxiliary Poppies helps finance these worthy causes . . . a small contribution on your part grows into a sizable sum which the Auxiliary invests wisely in America's future—her people. Don't end your patriotic duty with raising the flag—go that step further and buy a POPPY . . . you'll be contributing materially to one of America's great humanitarian causes.

Y-Teen Delegates Named to YWCA Conference

Mrs. R. H. Herbert, chairman of the Y-Teen committee of the YWCA, today announced the names of the delegates chosen to attend the YWCA Conference to be held at Gustavus Adolphus College in June.

The following girls were named: Linda Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Olson; Dee Trainor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Trainor Sr.; and Germaine Volkman, daughter of Mrs. Corinne Volkman. These girls will represent the seventh grade club group.

Eighth graders include Mary Proker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Proker; Joan Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lake; and Carol Gaustad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Gaustad.

Thundershowers Forecast Tonight

There's apparently no stopping the rain that today pushed the month's total over the normal for May.

Showers this morning added .18 of an inch to the month's total that now stands at 2.45 or .14 of an inch above normal.

And more rain is in the Weather Bureau's forecast for tonight and Friday morning. Showers or thundershowers are expected to night, ending by noon Friday. Tonight's showers may be severe, the weatherman warned.

After a skid to 50 Wednesday night the temperature is expected to level off at about 58 degrees to-night and reach a high of 70 Friday.

A line of thundershowers running from Iowa to as far north as the Twin Cities and Eau Claire, Wis., dumped up to a half-inch of rain on some areas overnight and this morning.

Rain in similar quantities covered most of northwestern Minnesota and showers were expected to be general throughout the state by afternoon.

The rain that fell in the Twin Cities was the first recorded there since a trace fell May 11.

Rochester and La Crosse, in the line of the thunderstorm belt, were hit by heavy showers.

It's always satisfying. Nothing can match the full, rich flavor and aroma of real coffee — Hills Bros. Coffee — fresh-brewed!

It's always delicious — the matchless flavor and aroma of Hills Bros. Coffee... a skillful blend of the world's choicest coffees.

It's always the same. "Controlled Roasting"—a few perfect pounds at a time — roasts each bean to the same rich brown color, gives you the same mellow flavor every time!

It's always fresh — vacuum-packed minutes after grinding to bring all the fresh-roasted strength and freshness to your cup.

It's always right for your family — whether you're a large group or a cozy twosome — half-pound, full-pound, and the big two-pound "coffee-lovers" size.

Hills Bros is always your best coffee buy!

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and overwork, or infection or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the millions of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

$460,200 Low For Dairyland Project at Alma

LA CROSSE, Wis.—Five bids on superstructure work at the Alma, Wis., station of the Dairyland Electric Cooperative were opened here Wednesday with an award to be made in about a week, co-op officials said today.

Proposals were: L. G. Arnold, Eau Claire, $460,200; Regles Construction Co., Minneapolis, $482,700; La Crosse Dredging Corp., Chicago, $528,380; Hoepfner & Bartlett, Eau Claire, $535,970, and Fuel Economy Engineering Co., St. Paul, $568,785.

Sub-structure work done by Fegles will be completed in about six weeks including dock expansion and yard cleanup. Six hundred tons of steel for the super-structure work is due at Alma June 15.

Completion of the super-structure will take 10 months. A $64-million generator will be installed in the building with a final completion date sometime in late 1956.

Checkout Finds Car Without Steering Wheel

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP)—A safety checkout revealed Harry Bacon's car had no steering wheel, only a horn ring. "The wheel came off so I use this," Bacon explained. He was ordered not to drive until he gets a new wheel.

Cleanup Days Set at Homer Ridge Cemetery

Interested persons today were invited by the Winona County Historical Society to join in cleanup days at the Homer Ridge Cemetery Friday and Saturday.

Cars will leave the Lumber Exchange building at 12:30 p. m. Friday, returning at 6 p. m., and at 9 a. m. Saturday, returning in the afternoon.

Some refreshments will be served, according to Edward Curtis, chairman, who asked that workers bring garden tools. Other committee members are Mrs. Harry Busdicker, H. O. Berger, Harry M. Reynolds and Peter F. Loughrey.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

DO YOU KNOW YOUR EGGS?
HERE'S A REALLY NEW DISH
Karl H. Frederick, Trenton (N. J.) Times Chapter, sent us in John Raleigh's Fried Eggs deal. Mr. Raleigh is the renowned radio and news analyst. He got the idea, so the story goes, while being held by the Gestapo in a German pokey. He must have been hungry—but this is a fine dish.

Melt 1/2 pound of fresh butter in a skillet over a very low heat. Just as the butter starts to sizzle, break the egg into the skillet. Be sure the yolk is in dead center. "This," says Mr. Frederick, "requires the best of eggs!"

Salt well, and dust liberally with paprika. Place a small pat of butter atop the yolk, and then slowly drip 1/2 teaspoon of Worcestershire over the butter as the egg cooks. Have ready two slices of fresh white bread for each egg. Raise heat to medium for about 5 or 8 seconds, then turn off. Lift egg from skillet with a spatula, and while holding it aloft, pour the pan residue over the bread slices, then deposit the egg "sunny-side down" on one slice, cover with the other, and eat the sandwich with knife and fork. But good!

Frank Craft of San Francisco joined the Vancouver (B. C.) Province Chapter with this different dessert "extremely easy to prepare."

Dip individual macaroons in sherry wine and cover bottom of saucepan with them. Dip marshmallows in sherry and add a layer of them—then a layer of macaroons and a layer of marshmallows again, all dipped in sherry. The top layer should be one of marshmallows. Pour on additional sherry if desired.

Place saucepan in a warm oven—he says no heat is needed if you have cooked the dinner in the oven prior to this final step. Just before serving, and when mixture is warmed through, beat thoroughly, and serve warm with whipped cream, a dash of nutmeg, and perhaps a maraschino cherry.

There are those among our membership who enjoy candy making, and for them, Mrs. R. A. Cushing of New Orleans has sent her recipe for fudge.

2 cups sugar.
8 heaping teaspoons cocoa.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 pinch salt.
1 cup milk or diluted cream.
2 tablespoons marshmallow cream.
Butter size of a walnut.
1 cup nut meats.

Blend sugar and cocoa and salt thoroughly. Add cream or milk and stir well. Boil gently until mixture forms a firm, soft ball in cold water. Add butter, and gradually the marshmallow cream, and beat until mixture thickens, then add vanilla, and lastly, the nut meats. Pour into greased pan and cut in squares when cool. We might add that we like black walnut meats in this one.

Lowes E. DeWeese, of Dayton, Ohio, sent us a fine quickie for a party. Learned this, he says, at the Mayfair Hotel in St. Louis. They call it "Brochette Suisse." Just cut small cubes of cooked ham and Swiss cheese, making them approximately of the same size. Arrange them alternately on round toothpicks.

Dip them in well-beaten egg, then in bread crumbs—then again in egg and again in crumbs, and deep fry them, and serve piping hot to your guests.

Send your favorite recipe and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Winona Daily News and become a life member of The Skillet Club. We'll send you a membership card to prove it.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

New Fishing Craft
Winona fishermen along Ol' Man River have for the past couple of weeks been looking with amazement at the Weeres pontoon boat, pictured above, as it has moved about in the backwaters and in the main channel in the Winona area. It is the newest thing in fishing equipment on the river.

Purchased last winter at the Northwest Sportsman's Show at Minneapolis where this newest thing in fishing equipment was featured, the boat arrived here last week. The owner, H. C. Aakre, 870 W. Howard St., is shown navigating it out of the Winona Boat Club harbor. His passenger is B. W. Aare, 309 W. Howard St. The boat sells for $350.

It consists of two 18-foot pontoons on which an 8 by 12 platform has been constructed. In the stern, equally spaced between these pontoons, is mounted, in this case, a 10 h.p. outboard capable of pushing the craft at about the speed attained by the average flat bottom fishing boat. It is rigged to be operated from the forward center of the platform where Aakre is seated. It can be turned as rapidly as a common fishing boat. It draws very little water even when loaded to its capacity of eight persons.

A rail for safety has been constructed around the edge of the platform at a height that does not interfere with fishing when the fishermen are seated in the easy folding chairs. A top to protect those on the craft from the sun can be attached when the boat is used for family picnics or swimming parties. Aakre carries two anchors which hold the craft steady when they are fishing just below the 300-foot line out in the channel where the walleyes are hitting. It also can be anchored over old wind-dams or taken along the shoreline for casting for bass.

Tarpon Fishing

A Winona party headed by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. King Jr., are fishing this week out of Boca Raton during the early summer tarpon run. Top tarpon fishing off the Florida coast comes during the present full moon period. The fighting tarpon move in to spawn at this time and give battle royal to the fisherman. "Bud" King has been fishing out of Boca Raton during this period for the last 20 seasons.

In the party in addition to the Kings from Winona are Mrs. Mariel Low and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Callender. Top tarpon fishermen from throughout the nation gather annually for this event. Most of the fish caught, unless they are top specimens, are released to fight again by these fishing parties.

Birth of Cyclone

According to a tale going the rounds at the Arlington Club, Frank J. Kreutz, veteran West Newton summer resident, saw a cyclone born the other afternoon, and has a wrecked boat as evidence that he was not just dreaming.

Enjoying the beauties of the outdoors from a chair in front of his cottage while the family cleaned house, Frank observed a little whirlwind up the beach a distance. It grew as it came toward him, picked up a camp chair and took it skyward, whirling it out into the river.

But Frank didn't worry until the baby tornado descended on his boat with motor attached, which was beached 50 feet away. It lifted the boat upside down on shore and his "pet" eggbeater disappeared beneath the waters of the slough. It is now being repaired here in town.

DENNIS THE MENACE

"ANOTHER SWELL GAME WE HAVEN'T PLAYED IN A LONG TIME IS LOCKING OURSELVES IN THE CAR AND BLOWING THE HORN."

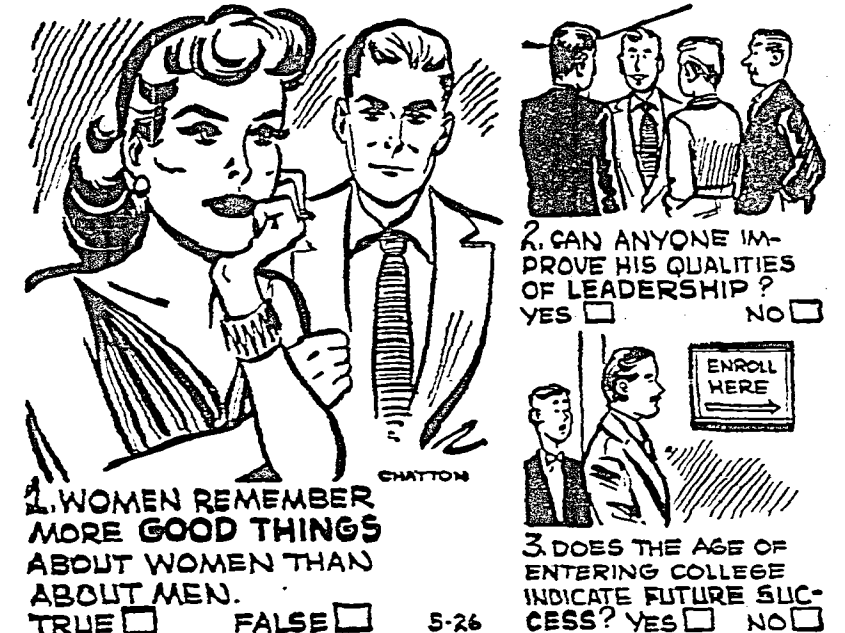

LAFF-A-DAY

"Room clerk!"

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. True, and men can remember more good things about men. Psychologist M. Zelig asked women and men to listen to paragraphs containing many words favorable and unfavorable to both sexes. The women remembered more favorable ones about women than they did about men, while with men it was just the opposite. Not only do men stick together, but, it seems, women do, too.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Certainly, Leadership qualities are not mysterious. Studies show leaders are somewhat above average in intelligence, vitality, self-confidence, and sociability. They are above average in athletic ability, good appearance, speed of decision, finality of judgment, dependability, initiative, persistence, self-control, good humor, and wide interests. Anybody can do much to acquire these qualities. Our booklet, "How You, Too, Can Be Popular," will help you become a leader. Nonprofit, 15c (coin only) and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggum in care of The Winona Daily News.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Yes—in scholarship and degree of success in life. Psychologist Pressey finds that students who enter college at 15, 16 and 17 not only average higher marks, but 10 years later are making decidedly more money or professional progress and holding bigger jobs than those entering later. The reason, apparently, is that a great creative urge comes at 18 and 20, and persons already beginning their life work get a better start and accomplish more.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggly was eating breakfast in his hollow stump bungalow in the morning when he heard a loud shout from the woods near where he lived. A voice called: "I have come to have a game of checkers with you!"

"Who is that?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzey. She was serving the rabbit gentleman's breakfast.

"That is Frisky, the baby elephant from the circus," answered Uncle Wiggly. "I know his trumpetting voice. I can see him now, shambling his way through the trees. Come on, Frisky!" called Mr. Longears, through the open dining room window. "I'll be with you in just a moment or two—as soon as I finish breakfast."

"My goodness me sakes alive and a cup of coffee in the teapot!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "Why does Frisky come around to play a game of checkers before you have finished your breakfast?"

"I suppose," answered Uncle Wiggly, twinkling his pink nose; "I suppose Frisky wants to play the checker game before the manager from the circus comes to take him back. I promised Frisky last night that I would play a game of checkers with him. He has been sleeping out in the woods all night, but he hasn't forgotten."

"How is even a baby elephant going to get inside this small bungalow to play checkers?" asked Nurse Jane.

"I will sit with the checker board near an open window inside the bungalow," explained Uncle Wiggly. "Frisky will stand outside. He will stick his trunk in through the open window and move the checkers. Frisky's trunk is like a hand to him, you know. I told you about this checker game last night, Nurse Jane."

"So you did. Excuse me, but I had forgotten," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "But couldn't Frisky wait until after your breakfast before he plays checkers?"

"I guess he is in a hurry to play the game before the men from the circus, from which he ran away, come after him," said Uncle Wiggly. "Anyhow, I have almost finished my breakfast. I will keep on eating while you set the checker board and the checkers on a table near the west window of the dining room. Frisky can easily reach it.
