EAU CLAIRE, Wis. (AP)—Patty Jo Horne, 18, Ellsworth, and Patricia Turner, 20, River Falls, have been chosen to represent the Eau Claire region in the Alice in Dairyland contest.

Two little girls were fatally injured and eight other persons injured in a collision late Sunday at the intersection of two county roads 2½ miles southeast of Dassel.

Luella Heuer, 3½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Heuer, St. Paul, was killed instantly, and Sharon Hastings, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hastings, Dassel, died in a Litchfield hospital this morning.

Roy Conklin, 56, Faribault, Minn., and his wife, 61, were killed and eight other persons were injured Sunday in a two-car crash on the outskirts of Hampton, about 15 miles south of the Twin Cities.

Minneapolis Motorists All of the occupants of the second car, from the Minneapolis suburb of Richfield, were listed in fair condition at Hastings.

They are Dean Risdall, 28, the driver; his mother, Mrs. Arthur Risdall, 32; Jack McChesney, 78; Stanley Bismark, 6; Ruby Fairbanks, 6 and Linda Hill, 6.

Highway patrolmen who questioned the injured said that Conklin apparently missed a stop sign as he was traveling east on Dakota County Highway 3.

Bodies of 4 Who Drowned Still Hunted

BROWNS VALLEY, Minn. (AP)—

Wary officers and a dwindling band of volunteers resumed dragging big Lake Traverse at dawn today, seeking bodies of four of seven Iowans who drowned in Minnesota's worst water tragedy since the turn of the century.

Nearly 300 persons, many of them volunteers manning their own small boats, searched the Minnesota-South Dakota boundary lake Sunday and recovered the bodies of Leslie Hout, 41, Hawarden, Iowa, and one of his daughters. The boy of Edward Hout, 8, was found Saturday.

Sheriff Herb Mundt of South Dakota's Roberts County directed operations from a large barge that towed a 1,000-foot rope with hooks every 18 inches. He maintained contact with the other searchers by short-wave radio and a speed boat. The sheriff used the small boat to travel around the lake from time to time, checking on progress.

The body of the girl was found about 1,000 feet from the Minnesota shore. Mundt thought it was Beverly Hout, 11, but added that it could have been her sister Karen, 14. He had never seen either of the girls alive and the bodies recovered Sunday were not viewed by Mrs. Hout who stood on the South Dakota shore and vowed she wouldn't leave a resort there until all the bodies were found.

Mundt hoped today to locate the bodies of Leo K. Doty, 40; Doty's two sons, Lewis, 11, and David, 9, and the second Hout girl.

The party of seven, leaving Mrs. Hout at a resort on the South Dakota side, set out in a 16-foot fishing boat late Friday. The 16-foot craft was swamped by a storm and was found overturned Saturday.

Mrs. Doty had not made the vacation trip here, but arrive from Hawarden Saturday.

Sheriff Mundt expected few volunteers would be able to assist today. He said many who participated over the weekend had to return to their jobs today.

Roberts County was furnishing gas and oil for all the boats, and the Red Cross served meals to the armada that dragged the fairly shallow waters from 5 a.m. until 8 p.m. Sunday.

Two airplanes also participated in the large operation.

Near Lakeville, Minn., a St. Paul youth drowned in Lake Marion after shouting Sunday to a companion on a raft, "I can't make it!"

The victim, Robert Hoag, 22, had been swimming to the raft with Larry Burrows, 25, also of St. Paul. Lakeville is in Dakota County, about 20 miles south of the Twin Cities.

Farm Laborer Dies, Autopsy Ordered

HOLLANDALE, Minn. (AP)—An autopsy was being conducted today on the body of Raynaldo Limon, 32, a farm laborer from Texas, who died Saturday night.

Sheriff Carl Lindahl said he apparently died from the effects of a beating which grew out of a dispute over bonus payments.

Held in jail is Cecilio Amador, 34, also from Texas, who was a foreman for the laborers. Sheriff Lindahl said Amador admitted hitting Limon.

Heavy Smoking Warning Issued By Researchers

Poll Challenged By Tobacco Company Spokesman

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A poll of 1,000 cancer researchers, chest surgeons and pathologists finds a majority believe heavy cigarette smoking may lead to lung cancer. Dr. Charles S. Cameron, medical and scientific director of the American Cancer Society, said today.

His poll was challenged by Timothy V. Hartnett, a tobacco spokesman, as being considered by "competent opinion research authorities" to be "biased, non-scientific and filled with shortcomings and defects."

Hartnett is chairman of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, sponsoring research on tobacco and smoking.

Sees Relationship Cameron, speaking to the American Medical Assn., said he put this statement to the medical or research experts:

"There is probably a causal (cause) relationship between heavy cigarette smoking and lung cancer."

He said 92 per cent of those who replied agreed with this.

He said 50 to 63 per cent of the respondents agreed that "heavy smoking of cigarettes may lead to lung cancer."

Hartnett declared "the widely known opinion experts, Elmo Roper and Associates, comment that this statement is so phrased that the only way a person could answer no is to be absolutely certain there is no connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer."

Hartnett said this answer won't be known until further research is completed.

Opinion Survey He said he had expressed concern in a letter May 26 about the poll, and that Cameron had said, "We all agree that opinion surveys will never provide scientific evidence that will prove or disprove the relationship between smoking and lung cancer."

In his prepared talk today, Cameron said that from 10 to 17 per cent of the chest surgeons, cancer researchers and pathologists had changed their smoking habits as a result of recent publicity concerning lung cancer.

Boy to Be Asked About Mysterious Death of Family

CADLOTT, Wis. (AP)—A 5-year-old boy may furnish clues which could unravel the mystery of how his parents and infant brother died.

Dist. Atty. Eugene Jackson said he planned to talk today with Michael Warner, who has been hospitalized at Chippewa Falls, Wis., since Friday night along with his 2-year-old sister, Charis.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Warner and the 5-month-old son, Sidney, were discovered in adjoining beds in their small home near here Friday night by a relative, Mrs. Julia Warner.

Michael and Charis were found unconscious. Their conditions have improved over the weekend. Authorities also are awaiting a report from the state crime laboratory on the vital organs of the three dead. An autopsy performed by Dr. A. J. Venable, of Wausau, Wis., failed to reveal the cause of death.

However, Dr. Earl A. Halliday, the county coroner, said after a preliminary examination that he believed Warner had beaten his wife to death and then turned on gas from a cooking stove.

Sheriff Clifford Dorr said Mrs. Julia Warner had related a lamp was burning inside the one-room house when she entered Friday night. Dorr also said the stove was turned off.

"There's no evidence of violence on the part of anyone outside the family but we haven't ruled that out either. We simply don't know yet," Dorr said.

Dorr said Mrs. Warner had suffered from an epileptic form of seizures and had bruises and abrasions on her face, neck and chest.

Her body was found head down, wedged tightly between a mattress and a bed rail with a magazine rack on top of her. Warner was in his bed and the infant dead in his nearby crib.

An unidentified picket cools his heels at Ford Engine Plant No. 1 in Cleveland, just before Ford officials and union leaders agreed on a contract which will avert a strike throughout the entire Ford Company. The premature walkout at his plant, just a few hours old today, apparently was too much for this picket whose feet must tire easily. Friends congratulate him on his courage. (UP Telephoto)

Russ OK on Geneva Parley Site Awaited

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for a Big Four conference starting July 18 at Geneva, Switzerland, remained subject today to Russian approval of the time and place.

The Russians already have agreed in principle to a meeting this summer of President Eisenhower and the prime ministers of Great Britain, France and Russia.

The United States announced Saturday it had agreed with its Western allies to hold the meeting at Geneva.

This country originally had opposed the choice of Geneva, the site of a conference last year at which France agreed to turn the northern part of Viet Nam over to the Communists.

The U.S. announcement did not specify a closing date, but this country has sought to limit the top-level conference to a general discussion lasting only a few days. The dates July 18-21 have been suggested.

2 Planes Land Near Hastings After Collision

HASTINGS, Minn. (AP)—Two light planes collided at 1,200 feet Saturday but were eased to safe landings in separate farm fields five miles west of here.

The pilots, Donald Lundee, 23, of Columbia Heights, a suburb of Minneapolis, and Gordon Leffert, 36, Bloomington, also a suburb, escaped injury.

They told James McClellan, Dakota County deputy sheriff, they were flying in a close tandem from Anoka to Rochester when the wing of one ship scraped against the wheel of the other.

Neither plane was damaged otherwise. One landed in a plowed field and the other in a bean patch.

Guaranteed Wage Basis Of Settlement

Union Moves to Negotiations With General Motors

By GLENN ENGLE

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. and the CIO United Auto Workers reached agreement today on a historic guaranteed wage plan and other contract terms.

The settlement was expected to halt immediately widespread walkouts that idled 68,000 of Ford's 140,000 workers across the nation in the past 12 hours.

The guaranteed wage plan is the biggest ever negotiated in American industry.

It may set the pattern for the entire automotive industry and perhaps other basic industries.

Back to GM Talks Armed with the Ford agreement, the UAW went back to the bargaining table with General Motors today to press for a contract settlement there. The GM contract expires Tuesday.

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers Union, emerged from a conference grinning and told reporters:

"Well, we've got an agreement, fellows. It's a good agreement."

Reuther called it "the largest economic package we've ever negotiated." He said the "package" was worth in excess of 20 cents per hour per employee.

The average auto worker now earns about $2.10 an hour.

Reuther said the agreement provides for a 10 per cent increase in a maximum of $241 a month, including social security. It also provides better hospital-medical benefits, he added.

"The Ford package," he said, "contains the principles upon which we are going to build a guaranteed annual wage."

Debate Within Company In a joint news conference, Reuther and John S. Bugas, Ford vice president for industrial relations, congratulated each other and shook hands.

Bugas said the Ford Company had agreed to go along with the guaranteed wage plans only after "a considerable internal debate" within the Ford Company.

"We think it is significant," Bugas said. "We think our plan will be particularly useful in the automobile industry."

Reuther was asked when he intended to enter the negotiations with General Motors Corp.

"Well, boys," he said, "I'm going to get a day's rest and then go over to GM."

Bugas said he was particularly "proud" that the Ford agreement had been reached without a strike. He apparently meant a full strike, because some Ford plants had experienced walkouts.

"This has been one of the roughest and most complex bargaining sessions I've ever been in," Bugas said. "But I think it was well worth it."

As the settlement was announced, the UAW sent telegrams to Ford locals around the country asking them to call off any strikes that have begun or not to go through with any walkouts already planned.

The agreement is subject to ratification by the more than 50 Ford locals. Reuther said the union negotiating committee would recommend acceptance and ratification is likely.

The guaranteed wage plan will provide Ford workers during lay-offs with 60 to 65 per cent of regular take-home pay. This will be in addition to state unemployment compensation benefits.

Workers will be covered through a maximum of 26 weeks of idleness. Payments will be made from a jointly administered trust fund. The company will pay in five cents per hour per employee for each of the next three years, the period covered by the contract. This will build up a $55,000,000 fund during the life of the contract.

'Good Trade' "All I can say is, we made a good trade," Reuther said.

The agreement provides that the company will start contributing toward the supplemental jobless payment fund immediately with no payments to be made out of the fund, however, for a year, until June 1, 1956.

Both Reuther and Bugas expressed belief that provisions of state laws and administrative rules barring idle workers from drawing payments from employers while also receiving state unemployment compensation benefits can be altered to permit the Ford plans to become effective on schedule a year from now.

Victim of Blast In La Crosse Motel Succumbs

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Jekabs Renigers, 33, Highland Park, Ill., died Sunday of burns suffered Memorial Day when an explosion tore out an entire wall of a motel cabin where he and his wife were sleeping. Dr. Michael Watunyo, deputy county coroner, said he would hold an inquest but did not set a date.

The Renigers, a husband-wife physician team, were taking a short vacation after completing medical studies in this country before returning to their native Latvia. Medical aids said the condition of Mrs. Renigers is improving.

"This has been one of the roughest and most complex bargaining sessions I've ever been in," Bugas said. "But I think it was well worth it."

As the settlement was announced, the UAW sent telegrams to Ford locals around the country asking them to call off any strikes that have begun or not to go through with any walkouts already planned.

Saint Teresa Seniors Hear Loras President

Cathedral Pastor Speaker Sunday At Baccalaureate

The president of Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, recalled a parable from the Bible to emphasize responsibilities of the graduating class of the College of Saint Teresa during the commencement address at the college this morning.

The Most Rev. Loras T. Lane, auxiliary bishop of Dubuque, cited the parable in which three servants were given talents and told to go into the world and see what return they could make.

"The servant who had been given five talents and returned with 10, and another, who had been given two talents and returned with four, were highly commended by their master. But the third servant, who had been given one talent, returned with just that one talent, explaining that he had been afraid of losing that talent so he dug a hole in the ground and hid it. He received the condemnation of his master."

What Return?

The speaker compared the receipt of the material talents to qualities imbued in the graduates through their college careers by their parents and by the college. "It is now up to you to go into the world to see what return you can make."

Social responsibilities were cited as a great opportunity now before the graduates, particularly in the marriage state. "We are a part of mankind itself, and as others are a part of us, we are part of them in the unity of mankind." Values of an education in a Catholic college also were pointed out by the speaker, who termed the opportunity "a right and a privilege because there and only there can you obtain teaching in the highest truth possible."

He concluded, "Be a good example as a graduate of a great Catholic college."

Preceding the commencement ceremonies was a penitential high Mass at the Chapel of Saint Mary of the Angels with the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of the diocese of Winona, as celebrant. Bishop Fitzgerald conferred degrees upon the graduates following the address at the auditorium.

Baccalaureate Rites
Events of the 42nd annual commencement at the college began Sunday with a high Mass in the chapel, with the Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Hale, pastor of the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, vicar general of the diocese and a former chaplain and instructor at the college, delivering the baccalaureate address.

Selecting as his theme the necessity of being a witness to the light, Msgr. Hale said, "What is a scholar, a writer, a teacher, a speaker or an educated person of any sort if he be not in greater or lesser degree in some way a man sent by God to bear witness to the light?"

Basing his remarks on the gospel of St. John, he cited the need for the graduates to be true witnesses to the light, through application of the knowledge and principles they have learned during the past four years at the college.

He said it is "not only a matter of truth learned at the individual, family, social and international levels," adding that "mere knowledge without action and life is sterile."

"Everything in creation is a mirror of the Creator, reflecting by the acts of mind and will," he said. "They (the graduates) are to especially be mirrors of the light that is Christ—reflecting Him in whatever walk of life they enter."

Five Injured in Brownsville Crash

LA CRESCENT, Minn. — A La Crescent man was one of five persons injured in a car crash near Brownsville Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

He is Roy Munkel, 44, who was taken to a La Crosse hospital by La Crosse police ambulance late Saturday with Emery Lynch, 63, La Crosse; Clifford C. Wieman, 31, and Otto Bay, 35, La Crosse, were brought to the hospital by La Crosse police squad car and Ira Danielson, 45, Long Beach, Calif., driver of the car, was unconscious when brought to La Crosse by Caledonia ambulance.

The crash occurred off Highway 26 at the Ed Balzer farm, four miles south of the Highway 44 cut-off. Danielson apparently lost control and the car went off the road, rolling over and crashing in the ditch. It narrowly missed a telephone pole.

Balzer, who was picking berries at the time, said he first heard noise and looked up to see a cloud of dust enveloping the car. He didn't know how many times it rolled. The speedometer, La Crosse police said, was stuck between 65 and 70 miles an hour.

Munkel and Lynch were reported to have internal injuries and Bay and Wieman suffered cuts and abrasions. Danielson, who was visiting a sister here, Mrs. Walter Stahr, still is hospitalized at St. Francis Hospital together with Munkel and Lynch.

Aiding with the investigation were Houston County sheriff deputies Byron Whitehouse and William Lovett. The wreck blocked traffic on the road for about an hour and a half.

Individual Worth Emphasized for Graduates at TC

The continuing significance, dignity and worth of the individual as he sets and guides the course of his life was stressed in the baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. Harold Rekstad, First Congregational Church, at Winona State Teachers College, Sunday evening.

He told the graduating classes that life had been defined in many different terms by many people in the light of their own experiences and that despite many cynical appraisals of the meaning of life, the sum of what each person harvests from it is affected always by the courage and purpose with which he approaches it in his youth.

Life can be a wonderful and high adventure to the person who lives it with understanding and love, the speaker said in his Somsen Hall address.

He said that while youth expects to do great things, to change and to reform, and to leave his mark in the world, most people come to lead, as they mature, average, and in worldly sense, undistinguished lives. But, he added, this does not mean that within the individual's orbit, he cannot be a great and good and influential person affecting the lives of those he teaches or those with whom he works and lives. It is in this way that every individual's life becomes significant and important, he explained. Not every youth may become an Einstein or a Salk, but some may become teachers of such men.

They may become the ones who furnish the spark or incentive to fire the imagination of other genius in high endeavor or creative task.

The Rev. Mr. Rekstad closed by stating that he believes with President Eisenhower that the influence of teachers is so important and far reaching that American democracy could stand only so long as the teachers in American schools remain spiritually strong—the bulwark of training of American citizens.

He was introduced by Dr. Nels Minne, president of the college. Miss Agnes Bard was at the organ and Walter Grimm directed singing.

Bank Robbery Suspect Caught In North Dakota

BISMARCK, N.D. — A freespending young suspect in an $86,000 bank robbery at Jacksonville, Ala., surrendered to law enforcement officers here Sunday.

The prisoner identified himself as Thomas Navarro Pendley, 22, of Clearwater, Fla. He told officers the more than $6,500 they found in a room he had rented represented gambling winnings.

Pendley was booked on vagrancy charges pending the arrival here of a federal warrant charging participation in the robbery of the First National Bank at Jacksonville on May 20.

A warrant charging him with a part in the Alabama holdup had been issued at Birmingham, Ala. Two other men already had been arrested in connection with the robbery. A fourth still is sought.

Pendley was taken into custody by 15 law enforcement officers who had surrounded the apartment of a night club waitress where he had taken refuge earlier Sunday after telling an acquaintance he was "wanted" and wished to get out of this vicinity.

Don E. Schoeneman, Bismarck police chief, said Pendley was unarmed but that a search of a room he had rented elsewhere in Bismarck disclosed a .32 caliber pistol, a rifle and a suitcase containing ammunition.

Schoeneman said a suitcase Pendley had taken with him to the apartment of the waitress, Dorothy Marsden, contained $6,015 and that $500 was found in a dresser drawer in Pendley's room.

Schoeneman said Pendley had been in Bismarck five or six days and had attracted notice because of his free spending in bars and night clubs, in one instance reportedly giving a waitress $300 and telling her to "bet it on anything you want to bet on."

Owner Watches Car Plunge Into Pond Near Dam

Car First Believed To Be Occupied; Vehicle Retrieved

Alvin Hermanson, 377 E. 2nd St., went fishing north of the Whitman Dam Sunday morning and parked his car in a roadside area near his fishing spot.

During the next few minutes the unoccupied car:

- Began to roll forward down the slight incline of the parking area.
- Struck the lip of the pavement and turned onto Highway 61.
- Gained momentum as it rolled free down the highway for nearly 200 feet, suddenly turned to the right, dropped down a seven-foot embankment, and plunged into nearly 20 feet of water in a pond between the railroad tracks and the highway.

Mishap Observed

Word of the freak accident was received by Sheriff George Fort after a motorist driving along Highway 61 about a mile north of the dam saw the car suddenly veer off the road and drop into the pond.

Believing that there might have been occupants in the car, the sheriff brought his water rescue equipment with him when he answered the call and obtained the use of an outboard motor and boat to search for the submerged car.

When the car was located Floyd Olson, operator of a Winona wrecker service, managed to attach a hook to the front bumper of the automobile and it was dragged out of the water.

Even after the sheriff arrived at the pond and learned from Hermanson that the car was unoccupied when he left it the sheriff considered the possibility that someone might have entered the car and was attempting to drive off with it when it ran out of control and went into the pond.

It was not until the automobile was dragged from the water that it was known definitely that there were no persons in it.

Set Brake, He Said

Hermanson told the sheriff that he had put the car in reverse gear and had set the emergency brake when he left it in the parking area at the top of the hill.

The Winona man said that he was sitting on the bank of the pond fishing at about 8:30 a.m. when he looked up and saw car plunge into the pond a short distance away.

"It floated there for a short time," Hermanson related, "and I thought, 'It looks like my car.'"

Hermanson said that he then looked back toward the parking area and saw that his car was gone.

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special)—Three La Crosse boys, ranging in age from 17 to 19, are being held on disorderly conduct charges in the Trempealeau County Jail today following a gigantic teen-age gathering at Perrot State Park late Sunday.

Sheriff Ernest Axness said today that 55 carloads of La Crosse youths, mainly seniors from the three high schools there, were driven out of the park by his officers. But only three were held for a hearing this afternoon before Justice P. M. Paulson.

Axness said that the youths were unsupervised and were committing acts of delinquency, primarily that of drinking. There was no vandalism of any consequence, the sheriff stated.

Those being held are not now attending La Crosse schools.

NWA to Set Up Overhaul Base At Twin Cities

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Northwest Airlines said today it has decided to establish its 15 million dollar overhaul and operation headquarters at the Minneapolis-St. Paul airport as part of a 24 million dollar airport development program.

The NWA project is subject only to negotiation of mutually satisfactory terms of a lease agreement with the Minneapolis-St. Paul Airports Commission and commission acquisition of federal government land adjacent to the airport, Donald W. Nyrop, NWA president, said.

The much discussed site location was announced in connection with the commission's development program at Wold-Chamberlain Field, the Minneapolis-St. Paul airport. The 24 million over-all project includes a 4 million dollar terminal; a 2 million dollar administration area; development of a high speed taxiways and construction of a Western Air Lines maintenance hangar.

NWA's decision to move its overhaul base from St. Paul's Holman Municipal Airport came after disastrous Mississippi River floods in 1952. There was talk of moving the overhaul base to the west coast, possibly Seattle.

The airline employs about 1,000 persons in its overhaul base with an annual payroll of more than $5,500,000.

5A Dike Road Will Remain Open Tentatively

Cong. Andresen Gets Word From Engineers On Park Area Outlet

The Winona Dam dike road probably will remain open the remainder of this summer, Cong. August H. Andresen announced today.

He said that Col. Otto H. Rohde, St. Paul District, Corps of Engineers, had informed him by letter that closing of the road from Latsch Prairie Island to near Minnesota Road has been deferred temporarily.

Closing had been scheduled for June 1, but on May 27 the 1st District congressman asked that the road remain open at least until Nov. 1.

In the letter Col. Rohde wrote that the "matter will be given further consideration. In the meantime, closing of the road has been deferred pending further clarification of policy as it pertains to projects of this nature."

This was an apparent reference to the overall recreational plan of the Engineers which has not been implemented by Congress.

Cong. Andresen informed The Daily News that he will confer with Col. Rohde after Congress adjourns.

The Engineers had informed both officials that the road would be closed because no local interests would assume the responsibility for maintenance. Last week the City Council appealed to senators and representatives for help in keeping the road open.

Storms Over Central U.S.

Central United States had another day of violent thunderstorms and tornadoes. Some of the squalls prevalent between the Rockies and the Mississippi River spilled over into the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions.

The weather was mostly fair in the Southeast and west of the Continental Divide. Temperatures were generally seasonable, although it was 40 at Laramie, Wyo., Butte and Lewistown, Mont.

There were a few light showers along the Atlantic Seaboard from Delaware to Maine.

Locally severe storms produced tornadoes in the vicinity of West Union, Iowa, and Valley City, N. D., the Weather Bureau said. There were no immediate reports on damage.

A tornado destroyed farm buildings in a small area near Decorah, Iowa, yesterday. A dozen turbines caused like damage in Kansas and Nebraska. There were no reports of human casualties.

Several homes and other buildings were demolished and a school building unroofed by a tornado at Encinal, Tex., north of Laredo.

'Lost' Member Of Our Gang Acting Again

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Found: Spanky MacFarland, 27, the "missing" member of Our Gang. He's back in Hollywood to resume his acting career.

Ever since the old Our Gang was revived on TV as The Little Rascals, folks have been tracking down the whereabouts of the former child performers.

All were located except Spanky. He was reported as doing everything from driving a bakery truck in Fairbanks, Alaska, to operating a gas station in Barstow, Calif.

The amateur sleuths can relax. Spanky, as chubby and jolly as when he led the mischief makers in the Hal Roach comedies, has returned here from his Dallas home. After 11 years away from it, he wants to be an actor again. "I just want a chance to show producers what I can do," he says. "I may be overconfident, but I feel I can handle anything they give me. I know that 13 years of acting in movies must mean something."

Spanky grew up in the picture business. Born in Dallas, he was modeling for department store and soft drink ads when he was 3. He doesn't know exactly how he came to film, but his best guess is this: An aunt sent his picture to producer Roach, who said to bring the boy to Hollywood.

He was born George, but Our Gang writer Bob McGowan dubbed him Spanky and he's been that ever since.

He doesn't remember much of his film days. "To me, it seemed a normal way of life. I thought everybody made movies."

Spanky was in the Gang from 1931 to 1944, when the series started to fade. One day he told his parents: "I'm tired of acting. I want to go back to Texas and just hunt and fish."

And so the MacFarland family returned to Dallas and resumed a normal life. "I know now it was a mistake," said Spanky. "But you couldn't tell me that then. I was a headstrong kid."

He finished high school and went into the Air Force in 1947, serving as special service private first class for Texas bases. In 1949, he went to work for Chance-Vought Aircraft in Dallas and served in material there and at the guided missile project at Point Mugu, Calif.

He gave up the job after the marriage to his high school sweetheart broke up. They had one son, Greg, now 4 and the spittin' image of Spanky as a lad.

"I came back to Hollywood in September 1953," Spanky said, "but I couldn't find any acting jobs. Not even a half day's work. So I went back to Texas and goofed around. I helped out a friend who had a fencing business, and I did some work in oil."

The great success of The Little Rascals on TV prompted Spanky to try Hollywood again. This time he had better luck. Through a mutual friend, he contacted George Gobel and was signed for the latter's show June 25. He hopes to land a job in George Stevens' "Giant." Stevens directed Spanky in the Our Gang years ago.

8,500 Parisians Hear Graham

PARIS (U.P.)—Some 8,500 Parisians flocked to sports arena last night to hear Billy Graham launch his five-day back-to-the-Bible crusade in the French capital.

The 37-year-old North Carolina minister said the opening session in the great Velodrome d'Hiver went "beyond all expectation." A total of 623 persons walked down the aisles to make "decisions for Christ."

The Velodrome, Paris' Madison Square Garden, can seat between 15,000 and 20,000, but the huge stage and podium set up for Graham, plus a curtained-off area, cut sharply into the seating space. Preaching from a podium draped in red and gold cloth, Graham spoke for half an hour. He passed at the end of each phrase while the Rev. Jacques Blocher relayed his message in French through a battery of microphones.

Behind the blond American were a grand piano, an electric organ and a 400-voice French choir.

The Casual Observer

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

THE number of songs the songwriters compose about "June moon" is quite understandable, for there's a magic about the moon in June found at no other time of year. Last night the moon was full, and the past weekend it's been particularly fascinating to watch the almost-full moon. Night storms were predicted and the sky was full of inky clouds seudding fitfully across the surface of the moon.

Then suddenly the clouds would dissipate and the moon would shine serene in all its glory. The valleys and meadows were veiled in an ethereal mist that made them like a dream landscape. In the meadow below, fireflies winked off and on in the deep grass as though the stars were reflected. Whippoorwills cried in the distance. A breeze ruffled the waves of clover foaming along the roadsides and clouds of fragrance drifted up the hill.

Truly a lovely dreamlike time, and I usually lie out in a deck chair on the balcony until far too late, then have trouble getting up in the morning. In summer I like to get up quite early and putter in the garden and yard in the cool of the morning or get my writing chores organized before the phone starts ringing and the heat closes down. For any semblance of a brain that I have seems to switch off completely in the heat.

The other morning at quarter of six the alarm ripped me out of a comfortable dream. Half asleep I got into bluejeans and swallowed a glass of milk, plugged in the coffee pot and walked around the back of the house to hoe the weeds out of my little vegetable garden. Last year I had a large, ambitious vegetable garden down in the meadow but it was completely devastated by the rabbits. So this year I have just a little back yard garden fenced in against the army of rabbits.

The dogs show their delight with these early morning sessions. Old Squire canters around the dewy grass in sedate rings like a circus horse while young Kim careens up and down the hill in delirious crazy circles.

Then Squire lies down just outside the wire fence from where I am weeding. As I move along he too moves along and lies down watching interestedly—perhaps pondering the mystery of why it's okay for me to dig in the garden but wrong for him. Kim takes up his position on the steep bank overlooking the little garden. He sits there grinning and panting, swishing his plummy tail through the wet grass and waiting for me to toss out a stone or big weed. Then he leaps high to catch it in his jaws, sometimes rolling down the bank in a shower of dirt.

I go in turn on my favorite radio commentator and have my bacon and eggs and coffee on the little back porch and watch the birds have their breakfast at the "bird tree." The bluejays, cardinals, woodpeckers, wrens, and of course, thousands of sparrows pay no attention to the two dogs but hop all around them picking up crumbs and seeds. Several catbirds, brown thrashers and orioles, an orchard oriole and a rose breasted grosbeak are more cautious and wait to eat and bathe until the dogs aren't around. The cute little chickadees never come anymore—probably stuffed too full of juicy bugs to bother with my food.

These early morning breakfasts on the back porch in June are so pleasant that I almost forget the agony of being wrenched out of sleep by the alarm.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily hopped out of his hollow stump bungalow one day. It was the same day that Frisky went back to the circus, taking with him a big bunch of roses as a present for the circus manager. Shuffling along with Frisky, was Mumbo, another baby elephant who worked at doing tricks in the circus.

Mumbo had been sent to bring back Frisky, who had run away from the circus. Both elephants had some adventures with Uncle Wiggily. Now, the rabbit gentleman, with the pink, twinkling nose, was going to hop away to have some adventures all by himself.

Before I tell you about those adventures, I think you will be glad to know that Frisky and Mumbo soon safely reached the circus. On their way back Frisky asked:

"Do you think, Mumbo, that the manager will punish me for running away from his circus?"

"No, I think he will not punish you," answered Mumbo. "He will be so surprised at the roses you are going to give him that he will forget all about punishing you."

"Oh, I hope that really happens!" trumpeted Frisky. "I am glad to tell you that it happened just that way. The circus manager was surprised when Frisky gave him the roses. And the manager said:

"Oh, thank you, Frisky! I am glad you have come back to our circus. Now, please hurry, with Mumbo, into the middle one of the three rings to do your circus tricks. I will put those roses in water. Thank you again!"

Now let us see what is happening to Uncle Wiggily. He hopped quickly out of his bungalow. "Where are you going?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"I am going to take a hop," answered the rabbit gentleman. "Oh, dear me hum sus dud and a bottle of orange juice with ice cream in it," squeaked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I hope nothing happens to him when he is hopping," she said. But Uncle Wiggily was now far away.

"Daddy is always lucky," said Buster, a Rabbit Scout. "Nothing will happen to him!" "What about the bad chaps?" asked Nurse Jane. "Frisky threw the Fox, the Wolf and the Bobcat over the tree tops," answered Buster.

"But they may come back," suggested the musty lady. "Don't worry, Daddy will be all right," said Buster, calm and confident like. "He will have a jolly adventure!"

"I wish he had taken my walking, talking doll, Priscilla, with him," said Buntie, the orphan rabbit. "If Uncle Wiggily gets into trouble on his hop, Priscilla could help him."

"Don't be silly!" exclaimed Buster. "And don't let me hear any of this baby talk between you and Priscilla. Your doll couldn't help daddy."

"I didn't have any idea of using baby talk, smarty!" exclaimed Buntie. "As for Priscilla helping Uncle Wiggily, I know she could, for my doll is magical."

"Don't be silly!" was all Buster said. Buntie sniffed, sort of fluffy like, to show that she didn't care what Buster said. Then she hopped away to give her doll a bath. Buster hopped out to play with other animal boys and Uncle Wiggily.

Steel Workers Ready for Talks On Wage Hikes

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—With U.S. Steel Corp. as the initial target, the CIO/United Steelworkers will begin negotiations tomorrow with the basic steel industry for a "substantial wage increase."

David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000-member union, and other top officials of the Steelworkers organization will meet with a U.S. Steel committee headed by Vice President John A. Stephens.

McDonald said he plans to open negotiations with five other major producers immediately after talks get under way with Big Steel. He will head negotiations with all six steel firms.

The union's Wage Policy Committee instructed McDonald and other officials to seek a "substantial wage hike." Neither McDonald nor any other union official has defined "substantial."

However, many observers believe the union will demand as much as 25 cents an hour. That figure is expected to be cut down to between 10 and 12 cents by agreement time.

The big union will be free to call its 600,000 members in basic steel out on strike June 30 if a settlement is not reached. Wages are the only issue up for discussion.

Southern School Boards Warned

ATLANTA (U.P.)—The South's local school boards have been put on notice they will face court action if they fail to move for the end of public school segregation in time for the next school term.

In a strategy conference in Atlanta Saturday, delegates of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People from 16 states and the District of Columbia set September as the goal for beginning a program to compel classroom integration.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, an outspoken foe of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision banning school segregation, said the NAACP plan is "very unwise."

"If they try to force integration during the summer, getting ready for the fall term, I have no other alternative under the laws of Georgia... but to withhold all public funds," Griffin said.

Psychologists say that many people become more immature emotionally as their age increases.

TC Alumni Hope to Build Student Center

Plans to lay a cornerstone for a student center during the centennial year — 1960 — were announced by Lewis Schoening, Winona, president of the Winona State Teachers College Alumni Society Saturday night.

Schoening, who was renamed president at the Morey Hall dinner, discussed ways to accomplish the building objective.

Special guests Saturday night were members of the 50th year class (the class of 1905), returning members of the class of 1930 (the 25th year class) and the president of the current graduating class who represented the class of 1955.

Directors and officers elected in addition to Schoening were: Roger Busdicker, Winona, vice president, succeeding John Riesch, Arcadia, Wis., and Mrs. Frank Webb and Leland Johnson, both of Winona, directors.

Miss Angelyn deGroot, Winona, continues as secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Miss Mildred Barisch, Miss Fern Ellison, Miss Beverly Coe and Marvin Anding.

Dr. Minne Reports
Dr. Nels Minne, TC president, gave a progress report of the college — a "stockholders' report," he termed it, "since all alumni are in a sense stockholders in a corporation, having a time investment in the college."

He reviewed for the group the year's activities and reported on state legislature action. Revenue bonds to help finance building expansion and modernization, dormitory and student union facilities were authorized, he said. Winona will be making plans along these lines and "the Centennial year for the college — 1960 — will no doubt see many changes," he added.

Schoening reported an up-to-date alumni directory is now in process of preparation and he asked all alumni to keep the college informed of changes of address. He pointed out that the alumni society has an important part to play in the present and future of the college.

Members present from the 25th year class and the 50th year were asked by Schoening to introduce themselves. The six returning members of the class of 1905 were: Berton Chapman, Rock Island, Ill.; Mrs. F. H. Freitag, Owatonna; Mrs. Alma Fowler, Preston; Mrs. L. M. Woodbury, Zumbrota and Miss Leona Biesanz and Miss Grace Kissling, Winona.

Faculty Introduced
Members of the faculty and the senior class president, David Mahke, Winona, were introduced. A cornet solo was played by Curtis Peterson, Winona, accompanied by Miss Marlene Majerus, Winona, Miss Marie Miller, Cannon Falls, sang Grieg's "Solveig's Song" and "My Lover is a Fisherman" by Strickman, Miss Eleanor Seim, Grand Meadow, accompanied her.

The evening closed with the group singing of the school's "Alma Mater." The banquet climaxed a day of activities for the two honored classes. Returning alumni met during the morning in the social room of Somsen Hall of the college to renew old acquaintances and visit the college buildings. Following a luncheon at Morey Hall, guests were taken on drives around the city.

Hint Faulty Vaccine Factor in Idaho Polio

BOISE, Idaho (A) — Some evidence focused on faulty vaccine today as a possible cause of a polio outbreak in Idaho, which reported its sixth death of the year from the disease.

Dr. Louis P. Gebhardt, a University of Utah physician and bacteriologist who led the tests in Utah, Colorado and Wyoming during the field trials of the vaccine last year, reported on tests "which as far as we can interpret" showed "probably a very, very small amount of live virus" present in samples of the vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories and used in Idaho.

In Washington, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele said that with proper techniques live virus should not get into the vaccine, but he was unable to give any report on Dr. Gebhardt's findings until the full report is received by the National Institutes of Health.

Dr. Gebhardt said he also has tested other Cutter vaccine used in Utah and Idaho and found it safe.

In Berkeley, Calif., Cutter issued a statement saying all of its lots had passed government safety tests before shipment.

The statement from Cutter said also that if the findings of Dr. Gebhardt are confirmed, "it will be evidence of the need for the new more stringent safety tests established last week by the service."

Idaho's sixth death from polio was Mrs. Annabelle Nelson, 33-year-old mother of two from Montpelier, who died of bulbar polio yesterday. She had not been vaccinated but her two children had been.

Her case brought the Idaho total polio cases to 78 for the year — more than five times the number of cases at this time last year.

Although life expectancy at birth has increased from 47 to 68 years since 1901, life expectancy for Americans over 64 has increased only by 2 years.

Eden Warns Strike Will Hurt Britain

LONDON (A) — Government officials waited anxiously today for labor reaction to Prime Minister Eden's warning that the nine-day-old rail strike is pushing Britain toward an economic smashup.

There was no immediate sign of weakening by leaders of the 67,000 striking locomotive engineers and firemen.

Meanwhile, leaders of the striking stevedores union called a conference in London today to consider their next step in the costly walkout by 20,000 men which has partly tied up seven seaports for two weeks.

A third strike by stewards on four liners prevented the sailing of 2,000 passengers for the United States and Canada. Many of them are Americans. Tied up by this strike are the 35,674-ton Mauretania, the 27,666-ton Britannic, the 19,339-ton Empress of Australia and the 14,440-ton Ascania.

In his fireside chat yesterday, Eden appealed to the striking railwaymen to go back to their jobs and end their "disastrous" walkout.

"If we go on like this," he said, "we shall smash up our hard earned prosperity."

"There is little unemployment as yet, but you cannot stop most of the trains in a land like ours without soon bringing some factories to a halt," he warned.

"As the output of one factory drops or stops, others are affected in turn. The longer the strike lasts, the more unemployment there must be in spite of all we can do."

Eden warned that the walkout was also endangering Britain's vital export trade.

Winona Is Far Ahead of the Pack

Often car owners are careless, leaving car keys in the ignition and a door unlocked. Such an invitation to drive off is too much for some people. The thief, when arrested, might argue that the owner was an accessory to his crime.

A Midwestern city, determined to reduce car thefts, is acting on this accessory theory. A theft victim has just been arrested, charged with leaving his keys in the car and making the theft easy. He helped create the crime, helped create a criminal according to the charge. His trial has not yet taken place, but he could be subjected to a year in prison and $1,000 fine.

A newspaper man in that city argues that if the victim of the theft is regarded as an accessory, the same treatment should be awarded housewives who leave their doors unlocked and department stores which invite shoplifting by displaying goods on the counters.

However involved the point of law may prove to be, the record on stolen cars shows there are fewer thefts of locked cars. Which is a strong indication that carelessness and neglect are often rewarded with harm.

Winona is far ahead of the pack in this respect. For many years we have had a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor to leave keys in an unattended vehicle.

It Is the Spirit, Not Habit of Commemoration

Connecticut's Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff has just announced his intention of vetoing a bill providing that Memorial Day henceforth be observed on Mondays. The governor said that many patriotic societies had protested against the change and he hesitated to break a tradition of long standing.

The idea behind this change is to make a longer recreation period. When a holiday falls on Monday, it is generally applauded because there is a chance for a prolonged outing. Connecticut's proposal was to have all holidays except Christmas and the Fourth of July observed on Monday, but the bill was cut down till it contained only the Memorial Day provision.

This Monday-holiday plan might be widely acclaimed if put to a popular vote. Travel organizations have long been behind it. The protest against such an idea is based more on tradition than patriotic ideals. No day is in itself important. It is always the spirit and the value given that day by the people that makes it meaningful. The habit and tradition of commemoration are good, but what is important is not the tradition, not the habit, but the spirit of commemoration. Both habit and tradition however are not to be handled carelessly nor abandoned without good reason for they were not established without reason.

Will Surplus Wheat Swamp Moth Ball Fleet?

Many have wondered what is done with the surplus wheat owned by the government. Currently it is being stored in ships that are part of the "moth ball" fleet of the U.S. Maritime Administration. When the government has acquired all of its 1954 wheat surplus, 452 "moth ball" ships will be filled.

The storage space afforded by these ships is free. To store its farm surpluses on land, the government pays almost a million dollars a year.

In the hope of cutting the cost of surpluses and storage Congress last year gave permission to barter some government-owned surpluses abroad in return for strategic materials needed by the United States. Since then, more than $82,000,000 worth of surplus commodities of all sorts have been exported. In addition, wheat is being siphoned off to famine-stricken nations, to Yugoslavia under a special commercial agreement, and to the International Wheat Agreement agencies.

Extravagant as this program seems, it is far more sensible than trying to sell the wheat at home. Legal restrictions prevent the government from selling surplus wheat at less than 105 per cent of parity, plus carrying charge, which is far higher than the farmer's price. Under these conditions, it is no wonder the government's surplus wheat stocks in 1955 will reach nearly one billion bushels.

The question to be asked is where this will end. Certainly the situation cannot be continued indefinitely. A new policy will be needed before the surplus wheat supply swamps the "moth ball" fleet.

We've done a fair job in putting the Golden Rule to memory; now why not try to put it to work?

Pravda has criticized Russian television as lacking quality and variety. There they go again—now they are claiming they invented TV television.

Curbs Needed on Election Spending

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK —When an election costs too much, it gives the appearance, if not the substance, of being bought. The British are aware of this and have laid down ground rules that are rightly adhered to but which cannot be employed in this country because of the variety of offices which Americans are called upon to vote for. All British candidates run for the same office, member of Parliament. There are no nation-wide or state-wide candidates.

The costs of elections are higher here, but they need not be so high as to invalidate the principle of freedom of choice. No one can even estimate the cost of an American general election. The figures that are reported are a small fraction of the expenditures. Not only is cash passed "under the table," as the expression goes, but numerous non-reporting committees, foundations and educational divisions of labor unions expend money for political purposes.

THE FUND FOR THE REPUBLIC, for instance, to which the Ford Foundation gave $15,000,000 and is now denying its offspring, has become engaged in political operations. But it is not the only sinner, in the sense that tax-free money is used for purposes that are termed educational while actually they are all designed to affect votes and influence political action.

Philip L. Graham, publisher of the Washington Post and Times Herald, in a speech in Chicago recently called attention to conditions which deprive politicians of self-respect. He said:

"We maintain an official lie about political expenditures. We do this by having a Federal law which limits expenditures by a candidate for Congress to a maximum of $5,000, by a candidate for the Senate to $25,000, and by a national political committee to $3,000,000. Now a senator, even in a small state, cannot run for $25,000 and in a state like Illinois he cannot run for $250,000. But the law remains on the books, the myth is maintained by a series of long-practiced manipulations and evasions, and so we force the able man entering politics to launch his career with an initial act of blatant hypocrisy. And to endure this indignity every time he runs again."

It is estimated that the 1952 presidential campaign cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. The exact figure will never be known. The official reports showed $17,500,000. The high cost of television is going to raise the true 1956 figure above that of 1952.

A candidate may with the best of intentions enter upon a campaign, hoping to avoid expenditures which amount to many times his salary for his entire term. He may have a messianic emotion about himself, believing that once he is in office, he can change the world. His first great compromise is that to win he has to spend money and his managers will get the money where they can and in whatever form the donor is willing to give it.

A CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE, headed by Senator Thomas C. Hennings Jr., of Missouri, is at work on this problem. It would seem that there has always been such a committee. Graham suggests that one solution could be if large numbers of citizens made small contributions. This is a moral solution designed to make the election honest by removing the necessity for going to racketeers or special interests for money.

In addition, campaigns should be of short duration. With the advantage of radio and television, three weeks ought to be ample. Maybe the candidates would be more serious about their speeches if they made fewer of them. All collateral organizations, committees, etc., should be required to report every detail of expenditure, and the punishment for failure to report ought to be very severe. It ought to be law that every dollar spent for whatever purpose by any one or any group during the campaign be reported, with a felony penalty for failure to report, with no mitigating circumstances accepted.

Unless something is done about our elections, they will cease altogether to represent the choice of the people. They will be bought elections, the office going to him who can spend the most money on radio and television. Already candidates go to instructors who teach them how to act on television which is a silly thing to do. We do not elect television actors; we elect men whom we expect to be competent administrators and legislators.

End of Blockade Price For Formosa Cease-Fire

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Prime Minister Nehru of India has given the State Department some unwelcome news regarding the proposed cease-fire around Formosa. As a result of Krishna Menon's many talks in Peking, Nehru has told the State Department that Red China will insist on the end of the economic blockade of China as its price for a cease-fire.

The blockade was imposed toward the beginning of the Korean War and has been maintained ever since. Though violated to some extent by Western nations, nevertheless it has been effective enough to hamper the entire economy of China seriously, and Premier Chou En-lai demands that it be lifted.

In fact, Nehru made it clear that this was one of the strongest conditions Chou had laid down in his latest secret talk with Krishna Menon.

Chou bitterly denounced the Western ban on strategic shipments and said Red China would never agree to any truce unless the West formally pledged that every country would resume its trade.

Howard Chernoff, radio-TV adviser to Sen. Kilgore of West Virginia, was waiting to see Pat Weaver, president of the National Broadcasting Company, whose New York office advises that of David Sarnoff, chairman of the Radio Corporation of America and top mogul for NBC.

Sarnoff, who seemed to have less to do than Weaver, and perhaps more curiosity, called Chernoff in. "Why don't you get Sen. Kilgore to have lunch with the radio-TV industry?" he suggested.

"Would you come?" inquired Chernoff.

"That would depend on what Paley would do," replied the head of the giant radio corporation, referring to William S. Paley, chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System. "If Paley sent Stanton (president of CBS) I'd send Weaver. If Paley came himself, I'd come too."

"Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota, jumped up to agree. "I think," suggested Langer, "we ought to start with the Capehart music boxes." . . . Virginia's rosy-faced Sen. Willis Robertson, trying to explain a hopelessly complicated amendment to the Senate, finally blurted: "Don't listen to the language of my amendment. Just listen to what I tell you it means."

Colleagues are ribbing Sen. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina Dixiecrat, for taking up a full page of the Congressional directory for his biography. Wise-cracked Kentucky's Sen. Alben Barkley: "We should have invoked cloture (the anti-filibuster rule)."

Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany has demanded he be included in the Western Big Three foreign ministers conference being arranged for New York June 16.

This is the meeting which is to fix the strategy the Western heads of government will follow at the Big Four meeting with Soviet Premier Bulganin in July. And because the future of Germany will be the main problem, Adenauer will probably have his way and be invited to join the New York conference.

However, it isn't likely Adenauer will be invited to sit in "at the summit" later.

Sunlight Drying Good For Diapers

By H. N. BUNDÉSEN, M.D.

Now that warmer weather is upon us, you can begin drying your infant's diapers outside in the sunlight. Sunshine not only helps kill off bacteria, but it also is more likely to remove any stains on the diapers. Outdoor drying usually makes them feel softer, too.

You can generally do a pretty good job with a washing machine. If the diapers are washed and rinsed thoroughly, you probably won't have to boil them.

To wash them, use any mild soap, soap powder or detergent mixed in lots of hot water. That part is fairly simple. It is the rinsing that you must watch. Soap left in the diapers might irritate your tot's tender skin.

Hard Water
I think you will find that warm water will rinse them better than cold water. If the water in your area is hard, you'll probably have to rinse them three or four times. Soft water usually requires only two or three rinsings.

If your baby's skin becomes red and irritated, it may be due to ammonia which forms by germs acting on the urea in the urine. Then you'll have to wash the diapers and boil them for fifteen minutes in clear water. Don't put any soap or powders into the boiling water.

Antiseptic Tablet
The soak them for about ten minutes in warm water. Add to this one tablet of quaternary ammonium compound for each two quarts of water. This will make enough solution to soak six diapers at a time.

The compound is made of antiseptic substances which remain in the diapers and kill the germs which form ammonia. You can buy these compounds at any drug store.

Wring out the diapers and dry them in the usual way. This prevents the compound to remain effective.

State CAP Plans Practice Search

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP)—Fifty aircraft and 150 pilots and observers will participate July 30-31 in a practice search and rescue mission planned by the Minnesota Civil Air Patrol. The exercise will be judged by an Air Force rescue squadron from Lowry Field, Denver.

Plans for the exercise were made at a meeting here Saturday of Minnesota CAP officers and B. J. Vandres, St. Cloud airport manager and a CAP member. Vandres' son was the object of an air search last spring after he died in a crash in Illinois.

Ike Not Expecting Too Much of Parley

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's view of the Big Four meeting has moved from negative (not wanting it) to one of not expecting too much of it.

Secretary of State Dulles cannot be said to have played up the importance of this meeting—perhaps in Geneva July 18—among President Eisenhower and his opposite numbers in Britain, France and Russia.

Even a mild and perhaps true statement by Vice President Nixon, pointing out how important the conference may be, did not draw endorsement from the State Department, whose views are Dulles' views.

Last week Nixon said the meeting may be man's last chance to avoid war. When Dulles' press officer Henry Suydam was asked for comment, he said: "I'll make no comment."

The administration's attitude seems to be getting under the skin of Sen. George, the Georgia Democrat who urged the meeting before Eisenhower agreed to it. Yesterday George said: "We ought to approach this with a positive attitude."

Dulles has taken pains to say: Don't get your hopes too high about this conference. Then if it fails, you won't be disillusioned. Eisenhower describes his role at the conference this way: He and the other top men won't make decisions. They'll just discuss problems in general. When it comes to tackling specific problems, the foreign ministers will do that.

There is also some political usefulness in the administration's approach to the conference. If the Republicans got the people steamed up about the meeting and it failed, the Democrats could try to blame them for it and the voters in the 1956 elections might show their disappointment.

By promising he would not fall into the trap of appeasement, at the meeting, Eisenhower seems to have pleased those among his Republicans who sounded afraid to see him meet the Russians. At least they've been fairly quiet since.

Georgia 'Convict Author' Dead at 65

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Robert Elliott Burns, 65, author of the book "I was a Fugitive from a Georgia Chain Gang," died Sunday night at the Veterans Hospital after a long illness.

Burns, of Union, N.J., was sentenced to prison for a five-dollar holdup in Atlanta, Ga., in 1922 and put in the Georgia State Prison. He was a hungry and jobless veteran of World War I when he accompanied a flophouse acquaintance to the grocery store robbery.

He served only a fraction of his 6 to 10-year sentence. After two months on the chain gang, he escaped. He went North and seven years later was a $20,000-a-year magazine editor in Chicago.

In 1929 he was returned to Georgia after his first wife informed authorities. Many prominent persons and organizations backed his plea for a pardon, but the Georgia Prison Commission turned him down and he was returned to prison.

The following year he walked off from a chain gang chore and went to New York, where he wrote his famous book. It later was made into a motion picture.

He later found refuge in New Jersey where three successive governors refused to grant him extradition. He became prominent in union civic affairs and head of a tax investigating agency.

Later the Georgia Pardon and Parole Board wiped away the prison sentence and restored Burns' civil rights but declined to grant him a full pardon because he had admitted participating in the holdup.

Vaccine Still Tricky Business

By STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON — In all fairness, it is time somebody spoke up for Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, beleaguered secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

It is fashionable nowadays to beat Mrs. Hobby over the head, editorially and oratorically. It is solely responsible for the confusions and delays in the polio vaccine program. Adlai Stevenson, who knows a good issue when he sees one, took up the cudgels the other day when he said that he "didn't think it required any special clairvoyance to estimate the demand for the vaccine, the supply, and the hazards of production."

Yet the truth is that the blame really rests far less on Mrs. Hobby than on a mysterious polio virus, which for reasons yet unexplained refused to die when it should have died. Stevenson to the contrary, it would have required clairvoyance of a remarkably high order to foresee this particular hazard.

Facts Simple

The facts are simple enough. On April 12th, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced the success of the field tests of the Salk vaccine. On the same day, Mrs. Hobby licensed six manufacturers to distribute the vaccine, and the polio foundation went ahead with its free vaccination program for all first and second grade children.

Mrs. Hobby has been much criticized by hindsight for "not having a distribution plan ready." In fact, a distribution plan was ready — the polio foundation's program for vaccinating first and second graders, which is still incomplete, and which will use all available vaccine until it is complete. It never occurred to anyone in Mrs. Hobby's department to move in and take over the foundation's program, simply because there was no visible need whatsoever for doing so.

What, then, really went wrong? What went wrong was that virus that refused to die. On April 27, the surgeon general, Dr. Scheele, received reports of six cases of polio among children who had received vaccine from the Cutter Laboratories in California. The polio had apparently resulted from live virus in the vaccine. Dr. Scheele immediately asked Cutter to withdraw all its vaccine.

Don't Know Answer

The scientists of the Public Health Service then descended on the Cutter Laboratories to try to determine why the virus had not died. And even now, they do not really know for certain.

Making the Salk vaccine is a tricky business. To put it in the simplest and most unscientific terms, the vaccine has to be strong but not too strong. It must be treated with formaldehyde for a certain length of time in order to make sure that no killing polio virus remains. But it cannot be immersed too long, or the immunizing effect is lost.

A standard operating procedure — the best the scientists of the Public Health Service could formulate at the time — for achieving this life-and-death balance, has been laid down for all six laboratories, including the Cutter Laboratories. And even now, the scientists have been unable to determine why the polio virus survived in the Cutter vaccine. It should have died.

It was the tragic incident of the Cutter vaccine that threw the whole polio program into turmoil. The stubborn virus has also come rather close to destroying the reputation of the able Mrs. Hobby.

Maximum of Ballyhoo

The stubborn virus is not the whole story, of course. The polio foundation is dependent on public contributions, and it has the usual

U.S. Soldier Who Stayed With Reds Wants to Return

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — A 24-year-old American soldier who, as a prisoner of war, chose to remain behind the Iron Curtain rather than return to his young wife and daughter in Olympia, Wash., has had a change of heart.

Now he wants to come home. Mrs. Otho G. Bell says she is encouraging her husband to return. "And if he's sent to prison, I'll get a job near the prison so I can see him from time to time," she says.

The status of Otho G. Bell is beclouded, legally. He was one of 21 American prisoners of war who refused repatriation, but stayed with Red China.

Mrs. Bell said his letters indicated that he apparently had been told that two American POWs who at first declined to return to the United States, then did, had been executed. Actually, the pair was sentenced to prison.

Egyptians Demand Demilitarized Zone

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — New shooting between forces of Egypt and Israel along the troubled Gaza Strip has brought fresh Egyptian demands for a demilitarized zone along the Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

Egypt's War Office said six Israeli armed cars and trucks opened fire early yesterday on two Egyptian outposts near the demarcation line.

An Israeli army spokesman in Jerusalem accused the Egyptians of shooting first.

Neither side reported any casualties in the three-hour exchange.

public relations setup of such foundations. Thus the success of the Salk vaccine was announced with the maximum of ballyhoo (something Mrs. Hobby had no control over) and the impression got abroad that the scourge of polio had been conquered completely overnight. In fact, of course, the vaccine is only partially effective, and supplies were unavoidably limited.

The press relations of Mrs. Hobby's department are also even more stupidly handled than most, and Mrs. Hobby's famous statement that "no one could have foreseen" the demand for the vaccine was no help. Perhaps the worst fault of all was the failure to explain, simply and understandably, that using the vaccine could in rare cases be dangerous — which is still true — but that on balance its use vastly increases a child's chance of avoiding the terrible disease.

Any such admission it was thought, would scare the living daylights out of the American people, and thus destroy the value of the life-saving Salk vaccine. Lack of confidence in the American people's common sense is a besetting sin of this administration. Yet in fairness it is hard to understand how Mrs. Hobby, clairvoyant or not, could have foreseen what some of the best scientists in the country did not foresee — and cannot wholly understand, even now that it has happened.

12 Subjects for Stamps Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve subjects for the stamps still to be issued in the new ordinary postage stamp series were announced today by Postmaster General Summerfield.

The selections complete preliminary work on a change-over which will limit regular stamp issues to 18 denominations and cut out 14 others. The change is the first since 1938, when 32 denominations were issued.

Six of the new stamps already have been issued — the 1 through 5-cent ones, 1½-cent and the 8-cent two-colored Statue of Liberty stamp, the first of the new series to be put out. Descriptions and dates of issuance for the remaining 12 will be announced later.

The 12 new additions will show Theodore Roosevelt on the 6-cent stamp; Woodrow Wilson, 7-cent; Mount Vernon, 1½-cent; the Alamo, 9-cent; Independence Hall, 10-cent; Monticello, 20-cent; Benjamin Franklin, ½-cent; Robert E. Lee, 30-cent; John Marshall, 40-cent; Susan B. Anthony, 50-cent; Patrick Henry, 1¢; and Alexander Hamilton, 5¢.

Stamps already issued show George Washington on the 1-cent; Thomas Jefferson, 2-cent; Abraham Lincoln, 4-cent; James Monroe, 5-cent; the Statue of Liberty, 3-cent; and the Statue of Liberty in two colors, 8-cent.

Repentant Bandit Gives Up His Loot To Parish Priest

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A repentant bandit who "couldn't sleep all night" gave his loot — including $1,200 cash — to a priest, asked him to return it, then fled.

The Rev. Henry J. Taske, 68, pastor of Our Lady of the Rosary Church, said the man came to his parish house door yesterday morning, asked if he could talk to him and then blurted out:

"I robbed a market last night and I couldn't sleep all night. Here it is. I haven't spent a nickel of it. All I ask is that you see that it gets back to the rightful owner. That's why I'm giving it to you."

The clergyman said the man shoved a bundle into his hands and then left the parish house. The bundle contained $1,200 in cash and $1,600 in checks which police said had been taken from Dusey's Market. Dice cooked beets and mix with cream style cottage cheese; mound on salad greens and serve with crisp crackers.

New Coupon Promotions Increasing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—Groceries "for free"—between 75 and 100 million dollars worth—will be handed out this year to housewives clutching coupons.

Retailers handle about one billion coupons annually—and their squawks about the trouble and the cost seem to be mounting as rapidly as the number and variety of manufacturers' coupon promotions.

To see what can be done about the objections, the Grocery Manufacturers of America, Inc., has surveyed coupon-handling methods and now offers a system it says should cut costs and handling time in half. It involves uniformity of coupon size, short cuts in counting, and gadgets like special sorting tables.

Consumers like coupons apparently. And Paul S. Willis, GMA president, insists that most food distributors do too, because coupons pull more customers into their stores and sell food that otherwise would remain on the shelves.

His view isn't shared by at least one nationwide grocery chain (Safeway). It calls coupons an increasing headache for the stores and labels them a price-cutting dodge by brand promoters to fool the buyer.

Another distributor, on the other hand, makes an all-out bid for you to bring in your coupons by using full-page, four-color newspaper ads on the couponed products. Thinking of coupons as money, it holds that they provide the housewife with additional money for purchasing more groceries.

Galesville Boasting Street Signs 1st Time

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special)—For the first time in Galesville's 101-year history, street signs identify city thoroughfares.

Plans for the signs were made last year shortly before the centennial observance, but were not completed until approval was given at a special election in April. Streets running north and south have been numbered, while those running east and west have been named avenues. Ridge street, main thoroughfare to the west, is now Ridge avenue, and the next street south of it is Gale avenue. In a few instances, new names were adopted.

Sicily Election Expected to Show Italian Trend

PALERMO, Sicily (U)—Sicilians counted a record flood of ballots today. Other NATO nations awaited the outcome as an indication of which way Italy's political currents are running.

The turnout of nearly 2,400,000 voters in yesterday's election was expected to favor the democratic center parties, which man Italy's national government also. Of those eligible, 88.89 per cent voted. This was 5 per cent higher than in the last regional election, four years ago.

Most observers expected the final results to show a drift away from the Communist left.

American voices played a big part in the election.

On the island where almost everybody has a relative in the United States, thousands of letters from the immigrant folk urged the defeat of Communism. American dollars were another factor. During the campaign Italy received more than 120 million dollars in aid or loans to be spent in Sicily or other regions of Italy's poverty-stricken South.

Mother Selected As Color Girl

LOS ANGELES (U)—The color girl at the dress parade is usually the company commander's fiancée or girl friend. But Jack Durrett threw tradition to the wind. He chose his mother, Mrs. E. H. Durrett, of suburban Whittier. Jack, 21, is the commander of Company A of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps at the University of Southern California. He said he thought it would be a nice recognition for mother since she had been "an inspiration and a lot of help in a lot of ways" during his university studies.

Value of Christian Education Noted At St. Martin's

The value of Christian education was stressed by the Rev. Norman Lindloff, Trinity Lutheran Church, Wilson, Minn., in a commencement address to the ninth grade graduating class at St. Martin's Lutheran School Friday night. A banquet preceded the graduation.

He told the 19 graduates they should be thankful for a Lutheran Christian background and education. Emmanuel Arndt, school principal, spoke briefly at the banquet.

A highlight of the graduation was the first presentation of an "Outstanding Christian" award. It was given to Janet Graus, class salutatorian, for meritorious scholarship, leadership and Christian living.

Certificates and monographs for school activity were presented by Arndt after the Rev. Harold Becker, St. Martin's, gave diplomas.

Graduates Listed

Graduates are: Bruce Blumentritt, Ruth Brand, Richard Brommerich, Robert English, Donald Fellows, Janet Graus, Gale Haase, Kenneth Krause, Robert Livingston, Marilyn Matzke, Robert Meyer, Jeannette Oldendorf, Elizabeth Prudoehl, Arlene Roach, David Salisbury, Raymond Schewe, James Stevens, Judith Stevens and Roger Volkman.

Vicar Harold Essman, St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, was toastmaster at the banquet. Pastor Becker offered the invocation and the Rev. The class motto is, "The Lord Is My Shepherd"; the flower is the red rose and the colors are red and white. Officers are: Kenneth Krause, president; Judy Stevens, secretary; and Roger Volkman, treasurer.

Elmer Becker played the commencement procession after which a hymn was sung by the assembly and the associate St. Martin's pastor, the Rev. W. G. Hoffmann, read Scripture. The Rev. A. L. Mennicke, St. Matthew's Lutheran, offered a prayer and the kindergarten and first grade pupils, led by teachers Miss Lorraine Kassulke and Miss Marjorie Fairchild, respectively, sang.

Salutatory Talk Jaent then gave the salutatory which was followed by songs from the seventh and eighth grades under the direction of Becker and the fifth and sixth grades directed by Gordon Synhorst.

Following the Rev. Mr. Lindloff's address, the second grade, directed by Miss Phyllis Prudoehl, and the fourth grade, led by Miss Shirley Kracht, sang.

Bruce Blumentritt, class valedictorian, spoke and the class sang, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," was sung by the graduates. Presentation of diplomas and special awards and a song by the third grade under the direction of Miss Jane Schlavensky preceded the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Beyers.

School patrol certificates were given to: Chief, Robert Livingston; captain, David Livingston, and Jerry Nelson, and patrolmen—Ronald Trok, Fred Prudoehl, Ross Benz, Everett Holz and Franklin Brandt.

Fishermen's Wives Picket Imported Tuna

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (U)—The Japanese freighter Banzu Maru, object of a picket line by angry wives of California fishermen, has finally unloaded its 600 tons of tuna.

The ship arrived last week with the frozen tuna. The wives of local tuna fishermen paraded twice along the wharf with placards criticizing the importing of tuna while California ships still had unsold tuna in their holds.

While the women picketed, longshoremen refused to unload the freighter. But yesterday the unloading was completed. Imported tuna sold for $350 a ton. Tuna caught by U.S. fishermen sells for $420 per ton.

American Sergeant Arrested by Czechs

WAIIDHAUS, Germany (U)—West German border police today reported the arrest at this border point of an American sergeant by Czech frontier guards.

They said the sergeant and two soldier companions, apparently on a sightseeing trip to the border, stepped near the frontier yesterday. Then the sergeant moved forward to take a picture of the Czech border hut.

German police said he strayed a few yards into Czech territory and was immediately arrested by Czech guards. They said a few minutes later he was seen in an army truck headed toward the interior of the country.

Keep in Trim

Short, Buxom Type Gets More Miles to Calorie

By IDA JEAN KAIN

If you are just a whiff over or under five feet tall, and bordering on buxom; then everything you eat seems to go to fat and crowd the waist. You get more miles to the calories, so to speak.

This is true for a number of reasons. It's a combination of even temperament; a short, efficient digestive tract, and a fondness for food. You love to cook, love to eat and oh, how well food agrees with you!

The way to go happily along is not to try to be streamlined—that would be against your nature. Your healthy normal weight is within 110 to 115 pounds for 5 feet with 5 extra pounds for each added inch. Subtract 5 pounds for each inch you are under 5 feet. At that figure you'll be pleasantly plump, but certainly not overweight. And you'll feel your peppy, energetic best. Here's encouragement from a slimmer shortie:

"I am 4 ft. 11 in. tall and did weigh 141 pounds when I started your 'Scientific Wonder Diet.' I now weigh 114 pounds, and I am full of energy and pep and my friends can't get over how wonderful I look. I made a game of deleting fats, since they count highest, and of taking a slimming serving of dessert."

What do you like about food? The taste of course, and the aroma, the texture and that feeling of well being a good meal imparts. Plan meals that fill the bill and give satiety for fewer calories. If you are inclined to eat too fast, start the meal with a cup of hot bouillon, or hot soup made with skim milk. Also have something chewy, such as celery and radishes, or a mixed green salad with special low calorie dressing.

At the main course, trim the fat from the meat. Once alert to the fact that a serving of lean meat can be twice the size for the same number of calories if the fat is trimmed off, then cutting fats is a positive pleasure. You can enjoy a half baked potato, cut lengthwise, a level teaspoon of butter added. Vegetables, cooked quickly, retain their flavor. If you will eat

Michael Knapiks Honored on 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Knapiks, 729 E. Broadway, were surprised by relatives and friends Sunday afternoon at their home in celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary. They were married June 9, 1915, at St. John's Catholic Church here. Both were born in Winona, and have lived here all their lives. Mrs. Knapik is the former Lydia Brom. Mr. Knapik is a sheet metal worker for the Bay State Milling Co. They have one son, Donald, Winona; two daughters, Mrs. George (Helen) Cada and Mrs. Daniel (Bernice) Eichman, both of Winona, and seven grandchildren.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Ole Hove, St. Charles, Minn., of the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Judith Iola, above, to Eugene E. Kruempel, St. Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Kruempel, Wabasha, Minn. The date of June 18 has been chosen for the wedding. (Durfey Studios) the main course slowly and savor for flavor, you will feel satisfied with less quantity.

There is a neat way to deal with dessert calories too. Decide what you want to do about desserts—to have a favorite once or twice a week, or to have a slimming serving, or low calorie desserts more often. There is something very stimulating about making a firm decision. After that it doesn't take will power!

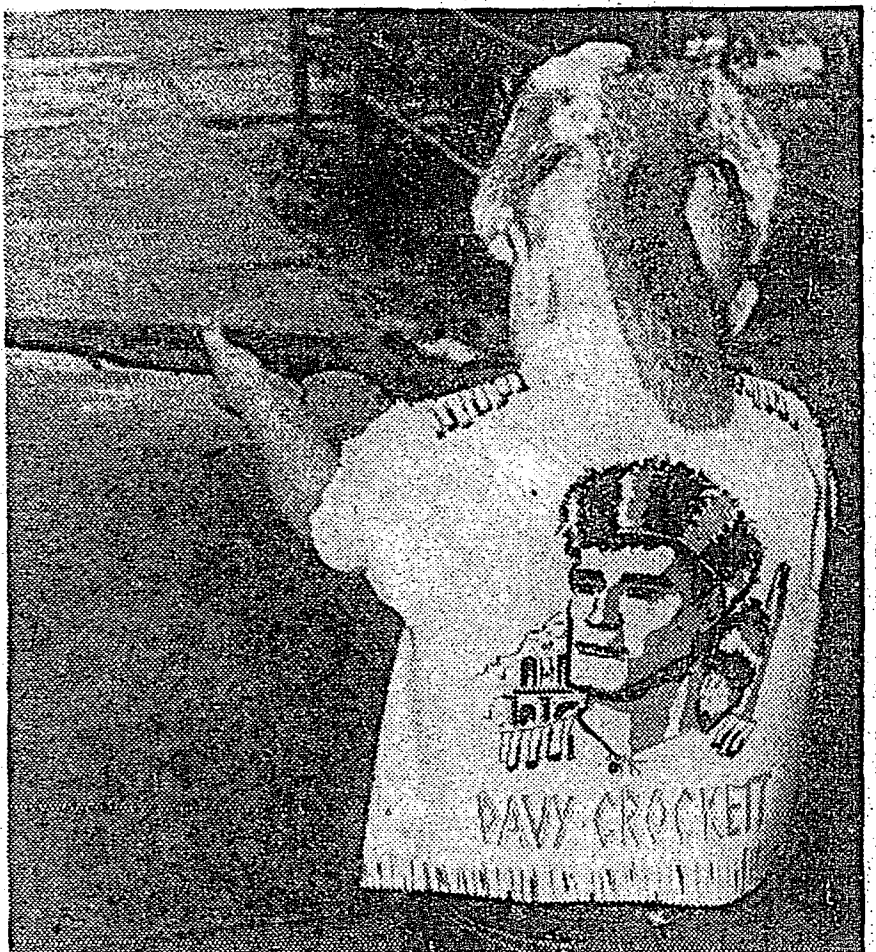

Slimming isn't so tough, even for shorties. It's actually a satisfaction, once you get the knack of dodging the trouble-makers. Then, with a trio of stretch-sidebends, you can keep that would-be-chubby waistline snugly trim.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Scientific Wonder Diet," also "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address request to Ida Jean Kain care of The Winona Daily News. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Life's Purposes Cited to Seniors At High School

Directions toward realizing the purposes of life as defined in the age-old commandments of God were reviewed for members of the graduating class of the Winona Senior High School Sunday by the Rev. Harold Gavin, principal of Coffey High School.

Father Gavin, the principal speaker at annual baccalaureate services in the Senior High School auditorium, reminded graduates that "despite the fact that the law of God is centuries old it is also always new. It binds just as much now as it did in the days of Moses; whether he thinks so or not, man can be happy only by following these laws."

"Occasionally, man thinks that he will not follow the law because he does not like it or because he thinks modern conditions have changed it," he continued. "Well, someone may say that he does not like the law of gravity, either. It's old fashioned. But let him try walking off the edge of Sugar Loaf rock and he will find that he is bound by the law whether he likes it or not. God made the law of gravity and the same God made the moral law. Both bind now and forever; there is no freedom from the law; there is freedom only within the law."

Created for Purpose

Father Gavin pointed out that "when something is created it is obviously created for a purpose. Suppose you buy an automobile; obviously it was intended to carry people but imagine that someone decided that it would be useful for knocking down cement walls. You know what would happen?"

"Man also was made by a creator," Father Gavin continued. "He was made for a purpose and there are certain directions the maker has given. The Creator has made it abundantly clear in His divine revelation that He has made us, not for this world, but that we might someday be with Him in heaven. That is the purpose of life; you could try to use your life for some other purpose but you would get just about as far as the man who used the car to knock down cement walls. You must use your years on earth to get to heaven; there is no other real purpose."

Commandments Cited

Commandments cited by Father Gavin included:

"I am the Lord Thy God . . . thou shalt not have strange gods before Me." America has a god of its own for Americans more than any other people on earth worship money. You probably even know people who won't go to church on Sunday because they want to 'make time and a half.' America has been blessed with so many automobiles, telephones and televisions that the people have turned to the materials and forgotten the God who gave them.

"Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." Imagine that you were to insult a friend 20 or 30 times every day of the month as some men insult God. Then think of what would happen if you asked a favor of the friend.

"Honor thy father and thy mother that thou may be long lived upon the land which the Lord thy God will give thee." Graduation often brings a sense of being grown up, a sense of independence. You have to assume more responsibility now and I suppose you need some independence but bear in mind that you are still young and your pants have experienced many things that you have not yet seen.

"Fifth Commandment" "Thou shalt not kill." Bear in mind that the fifth commandment applies to a car as well as a gun.

CC Women's Golf Scheduled For Wednesdays

The first Wednesday morning tournament of the season is planned by the Women's Golf Association of the Winona Country Club for this week with play at 9:30 a.m. followed by a business session and luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Luncheon reservations are to be made in advance.

The luncheon and cards following are open to both golf and social members.

In the tournament Saturday morning, Mrs. J. R. Chappell won in Class A, Mrs. L. William Bailey and Mrs. Robert Brotherton tied in Class B, the prize going to the latter, and Mrs. Carl Breitlow and Mrs. J. L. Jeremiassen tied in Class C, the former receiving the prize.

St. Mary's Junior High Graduates

Second annual commencement exercises of St. Mary's Junior High School were held Sunday morning at St. Mary's Church at the 8:30 o'clock Mass.

The Rt. Rev. Robert E. Jennings addressed the students and presented diplomas to the following: Mary Lou Bergaus, Carol Breza, James Bronk, Gerald Butenhoff, Gerald Frie, Kathryn Lester, Myron Lowther, David Madland, Michael Neeck, James Rolbiecki, Joan Rolbiecki, Sheila Sherman, Franklin Springer and Nancy Thrune.

Parents and guests occupied a reserved section in the church behind the ninth grade class.

After Mass a group picture was taken before the high altar. Breakfast was served to Msgr. Jennings, the students and their instructors in St. Mary's School by the mothers of the eighth and ninth grade pupils.

Toastmaster was Myron Lowther. On the program were: Welcome, David Madland; "To Our Priests," Gerald Frie; "To Our Teachers," Nancy Thrune; class will, Sheila Sherman; class prophecy, Joan Rolbiecki, and address, Msgr. Jennings.

If you speed through Goodview at 60 and hit a helpless child don't you think you have broken the law of God as well as the law of the village?

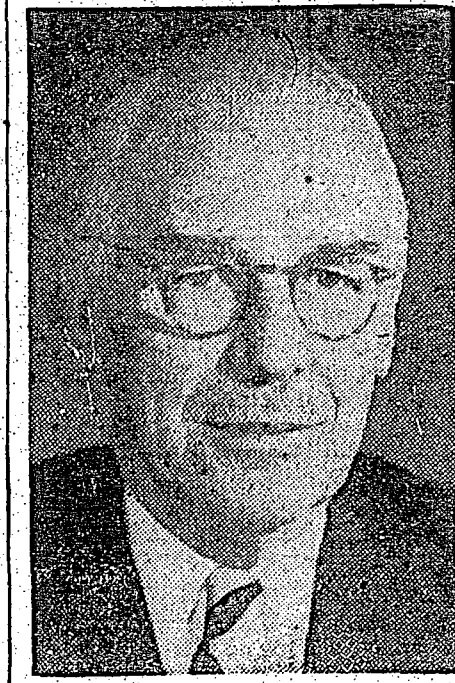

"One commandment God found important enough to state twice. He said, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery' and 'Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife.' Perhaps this is not surprising because these commandments deal with God's own work, the work of creation. . . . Think of the privilege that a man and wife share. They cooperate with God; they furnish the body and God furnishes the soul, a new person is born—another person with an immortal soul that will glorify God forever."

The invocation and benediction were pronounced by the Rev. Clare W. Karsten, pastor of McKinley Methodist Church, and the Scripture was read by the Rev. George H. Goodred, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The procession and recessional were played by Solveig Lokensgard and Patricia Bradfield and the Senior High School choir, under the direction of Robert Prosser, was heard in two numbers with Patricia Bradfield as accompanist.

Handy facts to remember about sugar measures when you are baking: A pound of granulated sugar yields 2 1/4 cups, a pound of firmly-packed brown sugar 2 1/2 cups, and a pound of sifted confectioners' sugar 4 cups. In some parts of the country confectioners' sugar is called powdered sugar.

Laird Bell Gets Honorary Degree From Carleton

Laird Bell

Carleton College awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws to Laird Bell, formerly of Winona, chairman of the board of trustees of the college and senior partner in the law firm of Bell, Boyd, Marshall & Lloyd, Chicago, at the school's 51st commencement exercises today at Northfield, Minn.

The occasion marked Bell's retirement from the Carleton board of trustees. He will become a trustee emeritus after 19 years of active service with the board.

The degree was conferred by Dr. Laurence M. Gould, president of Carleton, and the citation presenting the candidate for the degree was given by Dr. Charles E. Shain, associate professor of English, and acting head of the department.

A member of the board of trustees since 1938 and chairman since 1944, Bell is the third member of his family in as many generations to serve as a Carleton trustee. His maternal grandfather, William H. Laird of Winona, became a member of the board in 1883 and chairman in 1900. His father, the late Frederic S. Bell of Winona, was elected chairman of the board in 1926. There have been only three years since 1883 when one of the three men has not been a policy maker of the college. Their total service as trustees of Carleton College is over 70 years, and a Laird or a Bell has been chairman of the board for 33 of those years.

This long Winona family connection with Carleton has been recognized further by the college in the form of portraits of the three men, which were on display commencement day in Severance Great Hall. Carleton has a Laird Hall of Science, Laird Stadium, a Bell Athletic Field for Men and a Bell Athletic Field for Women. Foundations at Carleton include the Frances Laird Bell Foundation in Religion, endowed with $200,000, the income of which is used to further the religious life of the college. In addition gifts from the Bell and Laird families total more than $1,500,000 over the years.

New chairman of the board at Carleton is Louis S. Headley, member since 1922, of St. Paul.

State Marine Killed In Fall From Window

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police today were investigating the death of a young Marine whose crumpled body, clad only in shorts, was found on the concrete patio of a downtown hotel.

Police said Louis Bolinski, 21, of Sauk Rapids, Minn., apparently fell from the fourth floor room he was sharing with three other Marines from the base at Twentynine Palms, Calif.

None of the Marines could explain how Bolinski fell. Police said fingerprints on the window sill and marks on the wall below indicated Bolinski had struggled to keep from falling.

Grow Spiritually, Cotter Senior Class Advised

Graduating seniors of Cotter High School Sunday were urged to "grow up spiritually" as they attain maturity in their physical and material lives.

Noting that "we consider it very abnormal when we see a dwarfed tree or a physically stunted person," the Rev. Harold J. Dittman, superintendent of schools of the Catholic Diocese of Winona, said, "Arrested or warped growth, in us, is the feeling that something in God's plan has gone awry. However, in the supernatural order, examples of arrested development and stunted growth are almost universal; we somehow take it for granted that a weak supernatural life is the normal thing."

In his sermon delivered at the Cotter baccalaureate Mass at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart Sunday morning, Father Dittman declared, "We are made children of God at baptism and remain children through most of our earthly lives. We live and die as infants, supernaturally speaking."

Father Dittman recalled the Biblical account of David arming himself with the sword of Goliath as he set out to become leader of the Jews.

Three Edges of Sword

"Today the graduates here before us," Father Dittman commented, "are just about the age that David was in the story just related. They have received during their school years the sword of the spirit, sharpened keenly and polished to an effective weapon in their fight toward the Kingdom of God. Through 12 years it has been forged and sharpened in the depths of their souls and on this day it is ready for the fray. The three edges of the sword of the spirit about which I speak are these: Prayer... action... sacrifice."

He added that the group has found "that prayer must be the oxygen of the soul without which the supernatural life of the spirit gasps for breath and finally expires. Through life they will develop and nourish that habit of prayer until it becomes as natural as conversation. They will find more and more that prayer is a necessary and comforting activity of adult Catholic life."

The seniors also were urged to action in their spiritual lives.

"The church on earth," he reminded, "is not called the praying church but the church militant. It is not the church dormant but the church fighting. All of these years of school have been designed to effect real fighters for the church—those who will spread by word and example the gospel of Jesus Christ."

"These young people who have grasped the sword of the spirit just as David took Goliath's sword are already well on their way toward spiritual maturity. As their bodies and minds have developed over these school years so also have their supernatural lives. In these years of good education in Catholic schools they have developed spiritually to the point where they can be put on their own and use the sword of the spirit effectively to conquer the world and thereby attain the Kingdom of God."

"During these years of preparation for life in the world," he said, "they have in school learned the skills and acquired the knowledge which is necessary for them to fight the good fight. They will continue to sharpen these skills and develop that knowledge."

The solemn high Mass was celebrated by the Most Rev. Edward A. Fitzgerald, bishop of Winona. Assisting the bishop was the Rt. Rev. R. E. Jennings, pastor of St. Mary's Church; deacons of honor were the Very Rev. N. F. Grulowski, the Very Rev. Daniel D. Tierney and the Rev. Paul Haloran; sub-deacon, the Rev. Harold Gavin, and the master of ceremonies, the Very Rev. F. W. Kline.

Libyan King, Seeking Heir, Weds 2nd Wife

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Libya's 66-year-old King Idriss made preparations today for a honeymoon he hopes will give him a crown prince. The monarch's other spouse, Queen Fatima, was reported sulking in a village 115 miles northwest of the Egyptian capital.

The King was married yesterday to Alia Abdel Kader Lamoum, daughter of a wealthy Egyptian cotton planter of Libyan origin. Before the ceremony Idriss paid a dowry of 10,000 pounds ($28,700) to the bride's family.

The honeymoon starts Thursday. Until then Queen Alia is staying with her brother, who represented her at the all-male portion of the Moslem rites yesterday.

"This union is a realization of the people's wishes to get an heir to the throne," the Libyan Embassy in Cairo said in announcing the marriage.

Fatima is 40 and has been married to the King 22 years. All five of their children have died and relations between the couple have been strained for several years.

Trend in Wisconsin's Farm Income Downward

By RICHARD P. POWERS
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON—Wisconsin cash farm income continues downward compared to last year's figures.

Latest reports from the Agriculture Department show that Wisconsin farmers received $233,960,000 in cash receipts in the first three months of 1953.

This is $19,818,000 under their receipts in the first three months of 1952.

The Wisconsin totals by months: January, 1953, $77,778,000; February, 1953, $75,889,000 and February, 1952, $83,188,000; March, 1953, $80,293,000 and March, 1952, $85,630,000.

Rep. Lester Johnson (D) of Black River Falls would have Congress take steps to provide more land for waterfowl refuges and sanctuaries.

He testified before a House subcommittee on fisheries in support of his bill to amend the Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp Act to earmark not less than 40 per cent of the Duck Stamp receipts for the acquisition of waterfowl refuges and sanctuaries.

Johnson said much of the Duck Stamp money—collected from the duck hunters—is being channeled into other uses.

Johnson said total holdings of the Wildlife Service are 3,200,000 acres, of which 237,978 acres were with Duck Stamp money. Since the early 1940's, he said, there has been little expansion of the program.

Johnson said the Wildlife Service had realized $19,054,000 from the sale of Duck Stamps until 1949. Of this, he said, $3,403,000 was used for the purchase of lands suitable for migratory waterfowl refuges.

No one objected, he said, since the service had received so much land at no cost from other governmental agencies.

However, in 1949 sportsmen themselves came to Congress with the request that the price of the Duck Stamp be increased from $1 to $2, with the understanding that the additional revenue would be used for the acquisition of waterfowl refuges.

Since that time, the funds used have gone far afield from the intent of the legislation, Johnson said. He urged approval of an amendment to set aside not less than 40 per cent of the Duck Stamp money for acquisition of such refuges.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R) of Mercer sees nothing good coming out of the proposed Big Four meeting of President Eisenhower with the heads of Britain, France and Russia.

"Nothing will come of it," he said, "and I think that President Eisenhower knows it, too, although Britain and France probably do not know it."

"This is something that Russia wants to use as propaganda stating that it will serve to break the will to resist behind the Iron Curtain."

O'Konski said he believes Eisenhower accepted "just to keep peace in the family" with Britain and France.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R) of Marshfield has compiled replies in some 15,000 questionnaires returned to him from his 7th Congressional District. He had sent questionnaires to all persons in the district with mailing addresses.

The 15,000 plus replies, by occupation, included 1,573 housewives; 2,475 hourly wage employees; 2,166 salaried employees; 996 professional persons; 4,092 farmers; 2,452 businessmen; 996 retired persons, and 692 miscellaneous.

Some of the questions and replies:

Do you favor increasing the personal exemption on the federal income tax from $600 to $700, even if such an increase would mean increasing the national debt by 2½ billion dollars? 32.9 per cent, yes; 62.7 per cent, no, and 4.4, no opinion.

Do you favor maintaining fed-

3 Freed Fliers Leaving Hawaii For U.S. Today

HONOLULU (AP)—Three of the four U.S. jet fighter pilots freed by the Chinese Communists at Hong Kong last Tuesday leave for home today with their families aboard a special Air Force plane.

They are Capt. Harold Fischer, Swea City, Iowa; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; and Lt. Roland Parks, Omaha.

The fourth, Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, of Wynnewood, Pa., and his wife will stay here 10 or 12 days. He is to take physiotherapy treatment for a leg injury incurred when he bailed out of his plane over North Korea.

The four Korean War veterans, held by the Reds more than two years, were reunited with their families here Thursday.

Fischer, a double jet ace of the Korean War, said in an interview yesterday he tried to pass himself off as a Russian pilot when he was captured.

"It was just a bluff, but it darn near worked," he said.

"When they grabbed me, I made out like I was outraged. I told them, in what I thought was a thick Russian accent—'You can't do this to me.'"

"Some of the Chinese swallowed it and looked like they wanted to let me go. Then they found my plane."

He parachuted when fragments of a MIG fighter he shot up disabled his plane south of the Yalu River boundary between Manchuria and North Korea April 7, 1953.

MIYAZAKI CITY, Japan (AP)—Doctors at the Nishinan Hospital removed more than 300 chowed up matches from the stomach and intestines of Mitsuru Nagao, a 31-year-old woman barber. She said she had craved — and eaten — matches ever since she was a small girl and they had never made her sick until three days ago.

WYKOFF SCHOOLS CLOSE

WYKOFF, Minn. (Special)—The public schools and St. John's Lutheran School closed Friday for the summer. St. John's had a picnic at Sylvan Park, Lanesboro. The first three public grades and their teachers had a picnic in the village hall because of rain. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades went to Mystery Caves with their teachers. The seventh and eighth grades with Mrs. Blakeslee, Mrs. Harris Sheff and Mr. Chambers, motored to St. Paul.

Japan's railroad system sold 3½ billion tickets in 1952, 17 million more than ever before.

Cancer Program Mapped at Blair

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—Members of the educational committee of the Trempealeau County unit of the American Cancer Society met at the Blair High School Friday evening to outline projects for the remainder of the year.

At the meeting were Mrs. Arthur Runnestrand, Ettrick, chairman; Mrs. Beulah Wiley and Dr. C. B. Moen, Galesville; Miss Tillie Sylvest, Blair, Trempealeau County school superintendent, and Mrs. C. A. Brye, Ettrick, public relations chairman.

Plans were made to organize a speakers bureau, comprised chiefly of retired nurses. Training will be provided. Miss Sylvest offered to use cancer control educational film strips and slides suitable for pupils in the upper grades of county schools.

Mrs. Runnestrand reported on material available for professional people, as doctors and nurses, to be used at county medical meetings. A discussion was held regarding educational displays for store windows. Druggists throughout the county will be asked to use such displays.

The committee planned to promote cancer control programs for women's clubs and men's organizations next winter. Mrs. Runnestrand will be in charge of an educational booth at the Trempealeau County fair in Galesville, at which cancer films will be shown.

Through the cooperation of the tri-county physicians, periodic checkups for early cancer symptoms are made available to all at a moderate cost. Mrs. Runnestrand said. The health examinations comprise a complete visual and manual examination. In each town or village in the three counties—Trempealeau, Jackson, Buffalo—a lay person, working in cooperation with the doctor, will take names of persons wishing to be examined and will telephone appointments to be made at the doctor's convenience. Patient and doctor will have a record of each visit.

Mrs. Runnestrand reported that she has shown educational cancer films 26 times and to 13 different organizations since Jan. 1. She will show the films, "Warning Shadow" and "Man Alive," to the Hardies Creek Lutheran Men's Club Thursday at 8:30 p.m.

Next meeting of the county unit will be a meeting of the executive board members and their families June 19 at the home of Mrs. Wiley at Eastside, Galesville. A social and business meeting will be combined, with members coming at 3 p.m., each to bring a covered dish for a potluck supper. Business session will be at 8 p.m.

Woodrow W. Wilson, field representative for the Wisconsin Cancer Society, will be present. Results of the recent fund campaign will be evaluated and a budget for county needs will be set up. Public education, service, volunteer recruitment and training, finance and fund raising and public relations and publicity committees will be named.

Mrs. Runnestrand represented the county at a regional meet of the American Cancer Society at Minneapolis Tuesday and Wednesday.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Motorboat Victim

Perhaps weakened by a dozen lamprays that were attached to its body, this giant paddlefish became the victim of a motorboat propeller in the Winona Boat Club harbor off Bathhouse Slough last weekend. The picture of the more than 50-pound monster was made by Harriet Kelley as the relic of prehistoric times bled to death on the boat club's dock. As the boards show it was nearly five feet long.

A cry of "shark" from a very frightened youngster who had been swimming off the dock, attracted attention to this very rare and fully protected fish plunging about in the harbor waters. It was hauled to shore and thrown up on the dock. It was gashed about the head near the eyes and gills. Its snout (paddle) was broken in several places. Marks where the lamprays clung can be seen along its back. Most of them dropped off when it was exposed to the air. However, two of them were collected and have been turned over to the Winona State Teachers College.

The paddle fish (polyodon spathula) is probably one of the most remarkable fish surviving from the past in the Mississippi River system. It is found in the world only in this river system and in the rivers of China. The bizarre, sharklike creature has a head entirely different from any other type of fish. Projecting out from the front is a long flattened snout with a wide mouth underneath. This paddle is used to find food, which it picks up by swimming into it.

How plentiful they are in the river is difficult to ascertain, as they spend most of their life, which is probably a long one in the case of a fish like that pictured above, on the bottom of the river where they find their food.

Mrs. Runnestrand represented the county at a regional meet of the American Cancer Society at Minneapolis Tuesday and Wednesday.

Motorboat Accident
Ivan Odegaard, Goodview, suffered on injured leg when he fell out of a circling motorboat on the river last Sunday. Ivan was run over by another speeding motor, lost control behind. He dived in time to avoid being hit on the head.

State laws do not give game wardens who patrol the river power to make arrests for reckless operation of motorboats. On navigable waters like the Mississippi it rests in the hands of the U. S. Coast Guard which patrols the river, and issues warning notices.

We have yet to hear of a case where this organization brought a violator into court and a fine was imposed for recklessly operating a motorboat. In fact, the patrol is quite ineffective, in our opinion, making only a few trips up and down the river each season.

Perhaps the city police have power to make arrests for careless motorboat operation on the river or lake — but again we have not heard of any cases in court on such a charge. Maybe we need a new law enforcement agency.

Dollar Building Volume Doubles Pace for 1954

Although the total valuation of permits dipped last week in comparison with the previous week, the dollar volume for the year to date virtually is double a year ago.

At the end of last week, 233 permits with a total estimated construction cost of $844,171 had been issued during 1955. During the same 1954 period, 203 permits had a value of $422,367.

One of the reasons behind the increase is the upward trend in new home construction. Two more permits were issued last week, bringing the year's total to 33 with an estimated construction cost of $263,300. For all of 1954 new home permits totaled 49.

Dwelling Permits

The new home permits issued last week at the city engineer's office went to: Andy Janikowski, Winona Rt. 2, to construct a 1-story 40- by 27-foot 4-inch home at 1728 Gilmore Ave. for $7,000, including provision for a garage, and to Edwin Eckert, 61 E. Sanborn St., who will build a 24- by 44-foot house with attached garage at 374 Collegeview (Grandview Addition) for $8,000.

Kenneth Chick, 426 Wilson St., received a permit to remodel and repair the building at 70 E. 4th St., where he will open a modern china, glassware and gift shop this fall. Cost was estimated at $2,000. Chick has announced plans to make the second story of the building available for office space.

Eugene Strong, Chicago, drew a $1,800 permit to construct a 16- by 24-foot foundation at 930 W. 2nd St. He plans to move a house onto the property later. Hans Haef is the contractor.

Allyn S. Morgan, Lake Boulevard, received a permit for $500 to construct a screen porch and tool shed with Harry Patrick as contractor.

Additional Permits

Other permits were issued to: Stanley Coe, 628 W. Howard St., $250, to construct a wash room in his house.

Dominic Galewski, 534 W. 5th St., $150, to build a 15- by 24-foot garage.

Kenneth Richardson, 253 W. Howard St., $15, to close in a porch and make an outside entrance to the basement.

Furnace installation permits were drawn by: Palmer Erickson, 623 Winona St.; Ernest Barz, 721 E. Mark St.; J. E. Jerecek, 169 Zumbro St.; and Robert Ritter, 470 Franklin St. for a furnace at 1465 Gilmore Ave.

For The House With Few Bedrooms and many guests, this "keeping" room by day becomes a bedroom by night with the aid of a panel-concealing sliding curtain.

This Shows how dowel plugs and wood keys dress up rustic floor.

For Summer Home?

Antique Pegged Planks Are Easy to Duplicate

By AP NEWSFEATURES

Antique pegged and keyed plank style floors are easy to simulate with random-width boards, screwed to a subfloor for solid construction. The effect is especially attractive for a large room in a summer home or other rustic structures.

The modern way to achieve this, says the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, is to use wood dowel plugs over countersunk screws. Dowels are available in various sizes at any lumber yard. A hole, the size of the dowel selected, is drilled to a depth of 1/2-inch in the face of the flooring. Then a smaller hole for the screw is drilled in the center of the plug hole.

After screws are driven securely, plugs cut from the dowels are glued into place over the screws and sanded smooth.

Wood keys, placed at random along the edges of the longer boards not only add a decorative touch, but also help to lock the boards together.

In making keys, allow the grain of the wood to run the long axis of the key. The key holes are cut by using a key as a template for marking. The key slots are then carefully shaped with a saw and chisel.

Paneling Helps Convertible Room

You can transform the corner of your family room into a guest room with the flick of a finger by careful advance planning.

The small open-area contemporary home has many advantages, not the least of which is its adaptability for multiple use. It cuts down housework and because of its amazing versatility, need not restrict the varied activities of family living.

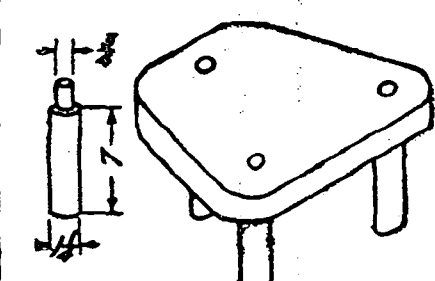

One of the cleverest and most practical uses that has been found for the lounge corner of the family room is the way it may be made into a guest sleeping room without moving a single piece of furniture and without vacating the rest of the room.

It's easiest to do if the walls are wood-paneled. One of the wall panels is mounted on hidden hinges and closes flush to the wall, fastening with a catch lock. This panel, undetected as to purpose when closed, opens to reveal a draw curtain which pulls across the room by means of a small track attached to the ceiling. Curtain may be of heavy fabric or an opaque plastic-fiberglass corrugated panel. The sofa becomes a bed.

You will probably plan this lounge-sleeping room so it is in the end of the room most accessible to the bath.

By day the lounge corner is a cozy place to curl up with a volume from one of the built-in bookcases that lines the wall. These may double as display or gun cases, and another section of the wall will lend itself beautifully to concealed hi-fi equipment, television set, radio and record storage.

Milk Stool Handy For Kitchen Work

MILK-MAID utility stool.
By AP NEWSFEATURES
A utility stool is handy in every kitchen for reaching higher shelves and cabinets. It can be moved around more conveniently than a small step ladder. A child will like it for watching television or listening to radio.

The home workshop fan finds the making of such a stool an easy project. One of the simplest has been designed by the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn. to resemble a milk-maid stool.

The top is cut from a scrap of 2- by 12-inch lumber, 9 inches long, tapered as shown in the detail drawing here, with all four corners rounded on a 2-inch radius.

The legs are made of 1 1/4-inch dowel or flag pole stock, each 8 1/2 inches long. The upper 1 1/2 inches of each leg is reduced by turning on a lathe, or by use of a wood rasp, to 3/4 inch in diameter. Holes 3/4 inch in diameter are bored through the seat to fit the legs, which are glued in place. Round all sharp edges with a rasp.

Kitchen May Be on Way Out; Job Dispersed

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

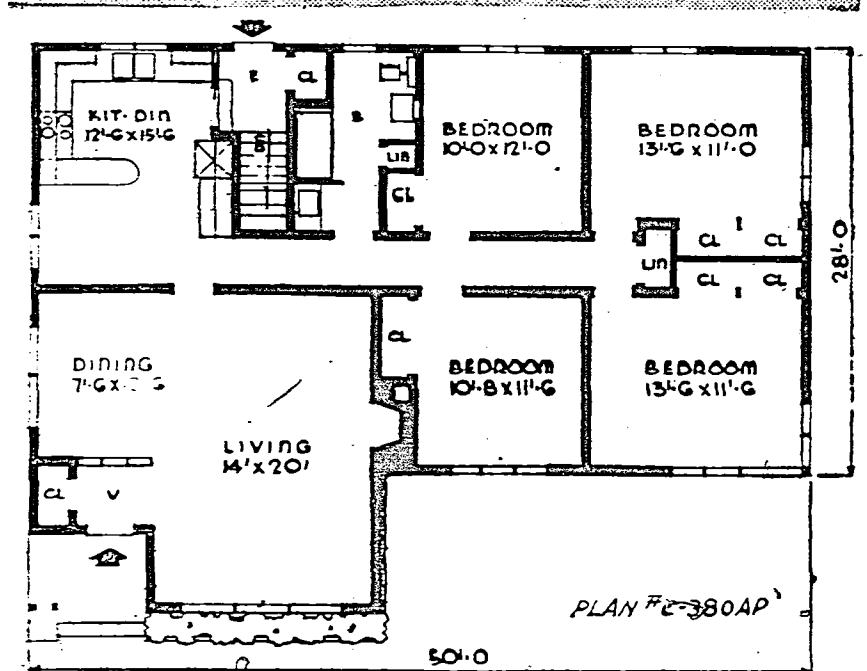

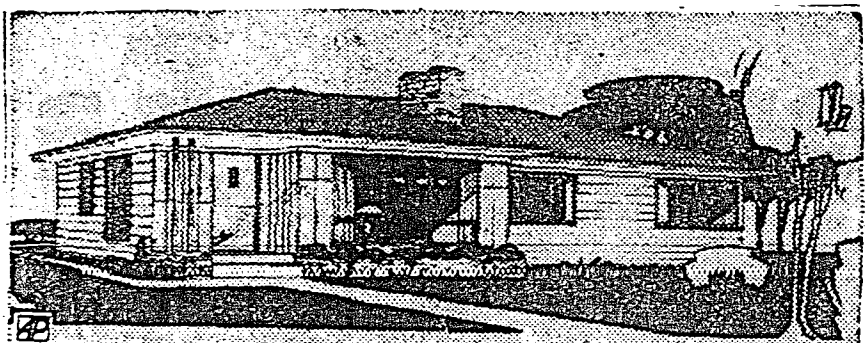

The house of tomorrow always is a subject of so much speculation on the part of architects and designers as well as the public that we seldom realize how near it is. Many of its dream features are in existence now, waiting to be fitted into the puzzle of how people want to live.

Trends in household equipment indicate that the kitchen, as we know it today, may be on its way out. It may disappear as completely and logically as did the quaint butler's pantry and the old time scullery.

This should be no shock to the manufacturers of kitchen equipment. They have already produced all the types of equipment needed to make it practicable for us to eat sociably in various parts of the house far removed from the kitchen—in the game room, the living room, the television den, on the porch or terrace and out on the lawn. It's no longer necessary to trapse all the way to the kitchen for every whistle-wetter and snack.

Compact refrigerators, suitably finished as furniture, can be placed anywhere. Imagine the convenience of dropping your book in your lap, opening a mahogany cabinet used as an end table, reaching for your favorite beverage, ice cubes and water without leaving your chair. Cold cuts in the library would save the effort of a raid on the kitchen.

Modern ventilating fans and separate top burners make it entirely feasible to prepare coffee and fry bacon and eggs on a modern version of the old-fashioned sideboard within reach of the dining room table. None of the smoke and fumes from table appliances would be necessary with a hooded vent over the burners. Another little refrigerator here would eliminate trips to the kitchen for milk, cream, butter, fruit and ice. Barbecue fireplaces have been working out fine in family rooms and on porches. Since we can serve charcoal broiled steaks with these conveniences, why run to the kitchen for chilled foods? Refrigerators of almost any popular size can be built into a wall, or hung up cabinet style.

Architects and Builders report a growing demand for four-bedroom houses. This compact plan features four bedrooms, an extra lavatory in a divided bathroom, a large combination living-dining room and a full basement. This is Plan C-380AP by the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. The house covers 1,365 square feet and contains 29,735 cubic feet.

About the only kitchen features that may stay in one place might be the dishwashing machine, sink and refuse disposal unit. Even now these comprise only a small electric group requiring only a corner, so it seems unlikely they'll rate a separate room.

Kitchens Opened Up
Open planning—the elimination of many interior partitions—has been a big factor in the development of this trend. Kitchens have been opened to view, sometimes separated from living rooms merely by a snack bar. The idea has made the housewife a member of her own family again—a guest at her own parties.

This openness has had a big influence on the design of kitchen equipment, spurring the use of color and finished woodwork for cabinets and other equipment.

Even ovens have been glamorized, separated from top burners and built into walls with only a chromium or copper clad door visible. With all the tricks now being done with insulation, a walnut or blond mahogany oven door seems within the realm of possibility.

So the kitchen stove is vanishing and the kitchen may be next to go.
Who will object? Probably the housewife when she has to wander all over the house to make out her shopping list for the refrigerators of every member of the family. But most likely she won't find this until the kitchen is gone. Then we'll all have to be our own shoppers.

How to Build A Stone Wall

By EDWARD S. KITCH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHICAGO—Homeowners often get the urge to build something outdoors—something rugged and permanent like a patio backed by a stone wall or a flower box fronting a picture window.

Your local cut stone contractor can help you estimate your needs. You'll need a mason's hammer, mason's chisel, trowel, shovel, ruler and level.

For permanence, a "below frost-line" foundation should be installed as a base for the stone work to rest upon, although it can be placed on merely 8-inch slab. But in the long run it is best to have a foundation go three to four feet deep.

Planning the Pattern
After you have laid out the project and have the foundation set, you then decide on the pattern you are going to get the stone.

You can get cut stone in short and long lengths. If you are adept with the mason's hammer you can cut them further to fit. Patience works best here. Even pros boo boo occasionally, breaking the stone where they hadn't ought to. With a little experimenting you can do it, and—who says do-it-yourselfer can't? But limestone is a soft material and is easily worked. To be on the safe side figure on a little waste.

You can save various patterns by using stone heights of these standard-cut proportions: Fifteen per cent of 2 1/4-inch, 45 per cent of 5-inch and 40 per cent of 7 1/2-inch.

Mixing the Mortar
The recommended mortar mixture is one part portland cement, one part lime and five parts sand.

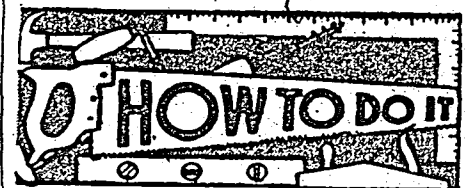

With level and trowel, you can begin the job of laying the stone. Slap the mortar on heavily and make a ditch in it the length of the section of stone to be set.

Be sure each of the stone sections is set true vertically and horizontally. The level is the tool for this. Then scrape off excess mortar with trowel.

The joints should be 1/4-inch wide to give an effective shadow line which will be obtained by raking out the joints to a depth of 3/4 to 1/2 inch after mortar has set but not hardened.

The stone can be cleaned with a stiff bristle brush which will take off most mortar deposits if used before the mortar completely dries.

A later scrubbing with pure soap suds and rinsing with clear water is recommended. But don't make the mistake of cleaning limestone with acid. It won't take it.

SAGGING GARAGE DOOR

Do... repair a sagging garage door at once. Constant dragging of the door will make the condition progressively worse.

Do... hold the door in an open position and place a wooden wedge under it so that it hangs exactly the way it should.

Do... check all the hinge screws to see whether they are loose; if they are, you've probably hit the cause of the trouble.

Do... in such event, fill the screw holes with plastic wood or wood putty, allow to harden and redrive the screws, using new ones if the others are rusted or bent.

Do... if loose screws are not at fault, screw a wooden brace to the inside of the door, running it from the top of the door (near the hinge) diagonally across to the bottom—or buy and use a rod and turnbuckle for the brace.

Don't... be satisfied merely to tighten loose hinge screws, as the same trouble will occur again in a short time.

Don't... forget that, if a wooden brace is used, it should be painted or given other protective finish before it is attached.

Don't... buy a rod and turnbuckle brace that is too small for the purpose... an error you can avoid by giving your dealer the dimensions of the door.

Don't... neglect to install a third hinge midway between the other two if there isn't one there all ready.

Let's get Growing

by
A. F. SHIRA

SUMMER PRUNING
THE pruning of trees, shrubs or other plants is a term which means the cutting or trimming to keep them in bounds, to shape them, or for any other reason desired.

Generally, the average gardener buys his fruit trees from a nursery and the preliminary pruning to establish the form of the trees has already been done. As they grow some future pruning is done to keep them shapely and make them fruitful. Once they have started to fruit, little pruning is necessary.

Large fruit growers generally prune the trees in the early spring, but for the owner of only a few trees, summer pruning is usually satisfactory.

Raspberries make complete new growth each year and the berries are borne on the canes made the previous season. The canes that bear fruit can be cut off at the ground level as soon as the fruiting season is over. This gives the new shoots a better opportunity to strengthen their growth for their crop of berries the next season.

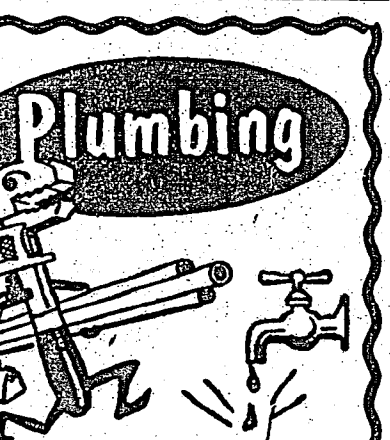

Currents and gooseberries generally bear fruit on the old wood and rarely on the growth made the previous season. Therefore, all new shoots growing from the base of each bush should be cut away entirely, unless it is desired to replace some of the old stems with newer growth.

Ornamental trees, the same as fruit trees, usually have had the first pruning at the nursery. However, for tall growing forms the lower branches should be cut off close to the main stem as the tree grows. In other words, the tree should be headed high. Small flowering trees as the crab need only a minimum amount of pruning; just enough to keep them shapely and within bounds.

Flowering shrubs, in regard to pruning, may be grouped under two classes; those that flower in the yearly spring and the ones that flower after June.

The spring flowering ones generally bear the flowers on the wood made during the previous season. They should be pruned just as soon as they have finished blooming; when they will have the balance of the growing season in which to develop blossom buds for the next year. To keep them within bounds the flowering stems should be cut off at the ground level instead of shearing the tops. The white, Spirea vanhouttei, commonly called the bridal wreath, is a sample of the early spring bloomers.

Flowering shrubs that bloom after June should be pruned only during winter or early spring while dormant. The hydrangea, "Hills of snow," is a type that should be severely pruned while dormant.

A new type of house construction has been introduced in the Winona area by the Botsford Lumber Co.

AFTER all this rain we've had I suppose you've discovered that a new roof wouldn't hurt one single bit. I know! I was talking to one fella last week and he said he didn't think he needed a roof just yet. Although he knew it wouldn't be too long. But this rain just clinched it for him so he and his wife came in and looked over our samples. She picked the color and now he'll be all set again for a good many years.

Of course most people shop a little more than that and some, when shopping, make the biggest mistake of their lives. They pick a cheap shingle and a lightweight one. Sure, it covers, and stops the leaks, too, but this roofing a house isn't something we want to do every five or ten years. Rather, pick a shingle for quality rather than by the dollar. And that goes for our town applicators too. Buy your roofing from a local lumber dealer and have a local contractor put it on and you can be sure that both of them will be standing by should the roof prove faulty in some way, shape or manner. Now, if you are going to go shopping for roofing we want you to stop in and see the USG Thick Butt shingle. Here is a shingle that not only has top quality, but combines style and color with a 210 lb. weight. A good shingle, precision manufactured to be easy. This shingle has gone on a good many roofs in this area in the last few years.

If you'd like to see some colors that are on, here is a partial list of some of them. Over at 970 East 9th, Rudy Kurth's home, you'll see a Briar Green application. Fred Jerezek's house at 1018 East 8th Street is covered with a Pastel Green; 409 West 9th St., that's Harry Johnson's house, there's a Pompeian Red job, and up at 164 West 8th, Rudy Sparrow's, is a Tu-Tone Red. Now this is just a partial list. We can show you some others, too, it just depends on what color you'd like to see. But it just goes to show you that the U.S. Gypsum Co. make a number of colors, to suit just about anybody, and all in the same type, a quality shingle. So don't forget to come down and see our USG shingle before you buy. I think you'll be glad you did.

This is the fireplace season I guess. We've had several inquiries for plans and ideas and I just want to pass on to you that we do have 3 pretty nice fireplace plans down here. This is the outside one I'm talking about now. These plans are made so that you can adjust it to the thing you want and can modify it a little. It's a funny thing but the nicest one is free and the other two will cost you a quarter apiece. So, if you've been looking over your back yard wondering if you could put one up, come on down, we'll show you what we have.

That goes for fences too. We have some booklets on fences. Just fences, and it's loaded with ideas and pictures—instructions, the works. If you can't find the fence you'd like in there, well, I guess it just hasn't been discovered yet. Pick yours up someday and put a fence around your yard.

DENNIS THE MENACE

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. True. Stanford psychologist Ferguson made a survey in a town of 4,000. He interviewed a large group of men and women subscribers to the daily paper, questioning them on what they remembered of the previous day's advertisements. Interviews for Monday were made on Tuesday; for Tuesday, on Wednesday; etc. Ferguson found that the women read the ads more thoroughly and remembered them better. Little doubt that this is due to woman's search for bargains.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Psychologist Robert Plutchik, after comparing numerous experiments on the muscular tension of neurotics and healthy persons, proposes this definition: "Normality is freedom from chronic muscular tension." Persons with severe conflicts and worries always have tense muscles. The best remedy is the method explained in a famous course in relaxation and set forth in our booklet, "How To Relax," 15c (coin only), and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send to Dr. A. E. Wiggam, in care of The Winona Daily News.

New French Jet Speedy

PARIS, (AP)—A new French jet interceptor was reported today to have reached a speed of between 750 and 1,000 miles an hour in horizontal flight over the Melun-Villaroche Airfield, 30 miles south of Paris.

A spokesman at the French Air Ministry said the reports, published in all Paris papers today, were "basically true."
The prototype plane, called the Trident SO9000, is powered by two jets—one at the tip of each wing—and with three rockets at the tail. The performance Saturday was made with the use of only two of the three rockets, it was reported. French test pilot Charles Guion was at the controls.
With its three rockets the Trident is expected to reach a speed of about 1,125 miles per hour.

FAIRLY SPOKEN

By MARGARET LATROBE

Good news is in the air these days, particularly in the romance department. This can mean nothing except that there appears to be a surplus of eligible bachelors. Which in turn can mean only that they won't remain bachelors for very long.

This surplus exists worldwide, although U. S. figures fall short of willing victims by one or two per hundred. Australia, for instance, has a roster of eligible bachelors which is astronomical. Ten thousand according to last winter's count. A friend recently returned from Down Under said he hadn't noticed activity in bridal veil sections of Melbourne department stores, and his guess was that the 10,000 young men seeking wedlock were living out in "the bush" on sheep stations. Not an easy life for a young bride. But this prospect didn't deter British girls from asking the embassy for free transportation to the far off Commonwealth.

Ireland reverses the situation completely. Lovely though its marriageable colleens are, many Irish bachelors eschew matrimony until they reach the late 30s. Won't even walk past a display of wedding rings in the jewelry window until they are 35. Which is pretty old for a bachelor!

Lubeck, Germany, has an answer for lonely hearts of both sexes. Slot machines are in operation from which pertinent information can be extracted. Insert coin, and out pops a photograph of a would-be-wed, plus the name of the marriage broker in possession of facts and phone numbers.

Most eligible gentleman in some eyes might by youthful and handsome Prince Rainier of Monaco, European principality famous for low taxes, small population and

Jap War Widows Give Dolls to U.S. Church

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese war widows today presented 500 dolls to the Mennonite Church of the United States as tokens of gratitude for 2,000 food parcels sent by the church last winter.

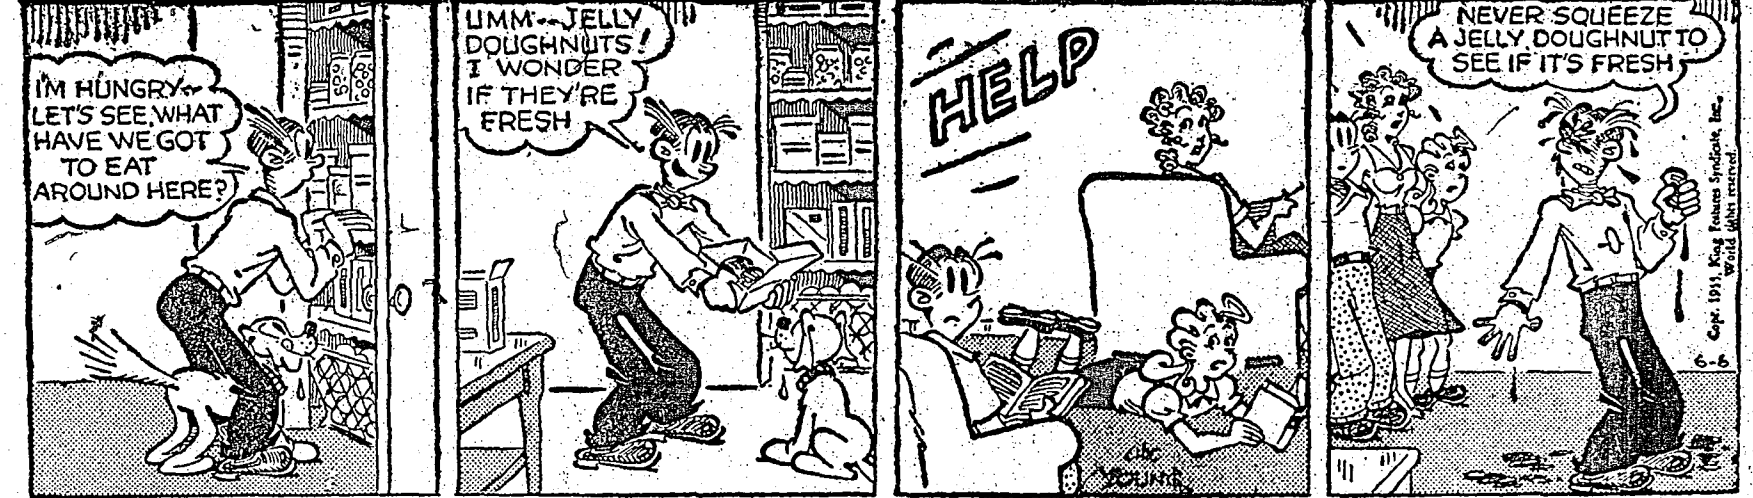

They were handed to Mrs. Norman A. Wingert, wife of the director of the Mennonite Central Committee in Tokyo.

The small dolls, dressed in the garb of various Japanese localities and occupations, will be displayed at the World Mennonite Assembly at Upland, Calif., this summer. Then they will be distributed to churches which participated in the food parcel program, Wingert said.
