REPORTER TELLS OF REVOLT

Civilians Rushed to Defend Peron

(Editor's Note: This graphic eyewitness account of the grim hours that marked the bloodiest revolution in Argentina's recent history was written by Associated Press staffer Sam Summerlin, now assigned to Latin America.)

By SAM SUMMERLIN
BUENOS AIRES 2 — I was strolling through the noonday crowds past Metropolitan Cathedral when it happened.

A plane suddenly zoomed out of the gray overcast and an explosion ripped the air with the suddenness of a thunderclap.

The crowd around me stood bewildered for a moment. Then there were two more explosions. They scattered in panic as they realized bombs were dropping. I ran up the street behind the cathedral toward the quaint-looking pink Government House. At the corner, crowds crouched against the walls as trucks whipped by loaded with men in khaki.

The trucks screeched to a halt behind Government House and troops scampered out, rifles raised. They raced four abreast down the avenue toward us and some of the crowd retreated around the corner to keep out of range.

Guns crackled and a man nearby fell to the pavement. Friends grabbed him shouting for an ambulance.

Troops dashed across the wide open boulevard and into the side entrance of the Government House, as black smoke spiraled up from nearby explosions. For nearly two hours the gun battle raged. Civilians scampering across the streets were caught in the cross fire.

One elderly man waving a white handkerchief walked grinning across the open street beside Government House to the Plaza de Mayo. Bullets splattered on the pavement, but he was untouched.

Two other men scurried out of a bank. Both fell. Medics standing a few yards away, grabbed them. A fat little woman wearing a Peronista pin shouted that she wanted to take part in the fight. A man with a whistle seized her, blurring "you aren't armed."

Scores of other civilians shouting "Peron, Peron," crowded around Government House, many hugging close to the walls and behind the columns.

Shortly after 2 p.m. two tanks rolled up through the plaza, their machine guns chattering.

They were greeted with cheers as crowds of Peronista workers swarmed towards the opposing forces. Some civilians had rifles, but most of them were unarmed. The force converged on the glassfronted navy headquarters three blocks away. Victory seemed in the government's hands. Then, out of the sky roared rebel planes in a second raid on Government House. Bombs splattered death and destruction. Smoke enveloped the scene like a black fog.

This was the terrifying moment when most of the victims died. Panic again seized those who had just been tasting victory.

Police swarmed in, chasing crowds out of the plaza and up the side streets. Bodies were strewn about the square as ambulance sirens wailed.

The panic passed when the planes vanished. Soon afterwards navy headquarters surrendered.

Later the curious came out of their hiding places and stared at the bomb craters and the debris. But the rebels hadn't said good-bye yet. As the crowds milled around Government House the attacking planes swooped in for one last run.

The crowds scurried for cover under army trucks and tall trees. Machinegun bullets cut tracks in the pavement, then the roar of the planes disappeared, and the people got up again. The battle was finally over.

Troops Patrol Buenos Aires

Millions of Argentine Workers Return to Jobs

By FRED L. STROZIER
BUENOS AIRES 2 — Armed troops patrolled downtown Buenos Aires today as stores shuttered by South America's bloodiest revolt in many years cautiously started to open again for business.

President Peron set up his headquarters in the Army Ministry, surrounded by military chiefs whose forces put down the naval uprising Thursday.

Millions of Argentine workers went back to their jobs after a 24-hour general strike called in mourning for the 360 persons killed and nearly 1,000 wounded in the short but violent action.

Appealing to the nation for calm, Peron said in a broadcast last night the revolt had been put down and peace prevailed throughout the country.

(A radio station claiming to be a clandestine rebel transmitter, heard in Montevideo, Uruguay, reported widespread areas of continued resistance, however. It said naval forces at Puerto Belgrano, in southern Buenos Aires Province, had risen against the government and that two warships had put into that base under orders of Rear Adm. Anibal O. Olivieri. This officer was replaced yesterday as Peron's navy minister.)

Vessels at Sea

(The newspaper La Manana in the Uruguayan capital also received "a confirmed report" that most of the warships of the Argentine navy had joined the revolt. It said the vessels were on the high seas but their exact whereabouts was unknown. The Argentine navy includes two old battleships, five cruisers, one coast defense vessel, 11 seagoing destroyers and various smaller ships.)

The Peron government was ruling under a state of siege—a modified form of martial law—which gives authorities the right to make on-the-spot decisions to curb troublemakers. Congress quickly approved the declaration of a state of siege yesterday at the president's request.

In a communique issued early today, the Army Ministry said the "army high command has progressively taken over control of the internal order throughout the country" under orders from Peron.

It said army units have been instructed to forbid "gatherings of more than two persons, especially in the neighborhood of government offices and industrial plants." Special anti-aircraft defenses have been set up around key target areas, it added.

Promises Justice

In his broadcast, Peron promised vigorous justice upon those responsible for the revolt and stern punishment for roaming mobs who sacked and burned some of Buenos Aires' finest churches in the aftermath of the fighting.

Peron blamed the Communists for the vandalism against the churches, which he called "historic relics" of the nation.

(The U.S. Embassy in a report to Washington estimated that seven churches were affected by the mob violence. A Reuters dispatch from the Argentine capital said every Catholic church in the downtown section and the Roman Catholic diocesan headquarters were set afire.)

Here is the scene in front of the Government House, right, and the Ministry of Finance, left, as Argentine government forces battled and gained the upper hand over anti-Peron rebels in Thursday's fighting in the heart of Buenos Aires. Seek Break In Deadlock On Reserves

WASHINGTON 2 — Backstage moves to break a House stalemate over the military reserve bill appeared to be under way today after President Eisenhower had made a fresh appeal for its enactment.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee said he would make a statement Tuesday, but would give no advance hint of what he has in mind.

The Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday postponed efforts to prepare its own bill to await possible further action in the House.

A measure designed to add another two million men to the trained reserve force by 1960 was sidetracked in the House last month after it was amended on the floor to bar the assignment of reservists to racially segregated National Guard units.

The bill is classed as "unfinished business" on the House docket and can be brought back to the floor again. Or a compromise measure could be introduced.

Eisenhower, bringing a three-day government preparedness exercise to a close yesterday, said the program to strengthen the nation's reserves must be enacted promptly "for the security of the United States and its 165 million people."

And referring indirectly to the segregation issue, the President said no "social or political" considerations should be allowed to stand in the way.

Judge Nordbye Ill

MINNEAPOLIS 2 — Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye was in Abbott Hospital today with an illness reported as "acute but not critical."

Hospital attendants reported the 66-year-old jurist as doing "pretty well" today.

Action Asked On Ike's Atom Display Ship

WASHINGTON 2 — The House Merchant Marine Committee says work should begin "at the earliest possible moment" on President Eisenhower's proposed atomic display ship.

The committee said this yesterday in a report approving a bill to authorize construction of both the atom-for-peace vessel and an atomic-powered merchant craft.

Both the House and the Senate would have to act.

Under the legislation, the Maritime Administration would be empowered to build the two ships and, in doing so, to utilize the facilities of the Atomic Energy Commission. Separate legislation would be required to provide funds.

2 Youths Killed In Head-on Crash Near Montevideo

MONTevideo, Minn. 2 — Two young men, including a sailor home on leave from the Navy, were killed early today when their car crashed into another from the rear on a highway a mile west of here.

Killed when they were thrown from the machine were Clayton Moseng, 19, the sailor, and Donald Vinda, 18, both of Appleton, Minn.

Orville Moseng, 21, brother of the man killed was in a hospital here with undetermined injuries while the fourth member of the party, Dennis Olson, 16, Milan, escaped unhurt.

A Waterfront Fire swept three piers and three warehouses in Charleston, S. C., Friday. Two persons were killed and damage was estimated at four million dollars. (UP Telephoto)

Critical Talks By McCarthy, Jenner Flayed

Sen. Thyse Sees Ike's Hand Weakened For Big 4 Parley

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON 2 — Sen. Thyse (R-Minn.) said today recent critical speeches by Sens. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Jenner (R-Ind.) "will certainly weaken the hand of President Eisenhower" at the Big Four conference next month.

Thyse said in an interview "The Russians will use these expressions" to show the United States is "divided and therefore weak."

Eisenhower and the premiers of Britain, France and Russia are scheduled to meet July 18 at Geneva.

Jenner, McCarthy and Sen. Malone (R-Nev.) cast the only negative votes yesterday when the Senate ratified 63-3 the Austrian independence treaty—a move strongly urged by the Eisenhower administration.

Jenner sharply attacked the Austrian treaty as enforced "neutralization" of that mid-European nation.

Thursday McCarthy challenged the whole concept of Big Four talks. He charged that Eisenhower, in agreeing to meet with Russian leaders, was steering the United States to "an impending diplomatic disaster."

Referring to these criticisms, Thyse said:

"Speeches of that kind, just before the President enters a conference of this gravity, are not helpful. They instill fear through the country and the Russians will quote from these speeches as proof that President Eisenhower does not head a unified nation."

"That weakens the hand of the President at a crucial time. The Russians will use these expressions for propaganda purposes."

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a foreign relations committeeman, said fears that Russia would successfully foist an Austrian-type peace arrangement on Germany are foolish "unless President Eisenhower is going to sell us out, which he is not."

"Of course, the Russians will use every trick in the book to try to make Austria a model for Germany," Humphrey said in an interview.

"But Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have flatly ruled out that concept for Germany. And I am convinced they will stick to it."

Molotov Arriving At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO 2 — Russia's U.N. Molotov arrives here today for a week of diplomatic activity which may well overshadow the scheduled program of the U.N.'s 10th anniversary session.

Although the Soviet foreign minister ostensibly was coming to San Francisco primarily to address the June 20-26 session, he brought with him a delegation of 50 aides and advisers, many of them coming all the way from Moscow.

Western diplomats are convinced Molotov is determined to use his visit in every possible way to push the new Soviet "friendship" line. This may include a number of bilateral talks with foreign ministers of small nations.

The big diplomatic event is expected to be the talks between Molotov and the Big Three Western foreign ministers on plans for the top level meeting of the chiefs of government in Geneva July 18. The four-power talks will open here Monday.

Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay will arrive by plane Sunday from their strategy meetings in New York.

If the Soviet foreign minister follows the recent friendly pattern, there should not be too much difficulty in arranging an agenda for the Geneva conference. The controlled Soviet press, however, has indicated strong opposition to U.S. demands that the future of the satellite countries should be discussed. If this question is pushed, it may prove a tough one.

Western diplomats have been watching with interest Molotov's journey across the United States by train. For the first time in their memory, the usually aloof Molotov has been making all sorts of friendly gestures.

Two other bits of evidence support the view that the Russians are ready to push hard to create a good public impression. One is the fact that Molotov brought with him the foreign office press chief, L. F. Ilyichev. The other is his decision to go on a nationwide television show (CBS Face the Nation) on the closing day of the U.N. session, June 26.

Like the New York session the Big Four meeting on the West Coast will be in preparation for the chiefs of state "summit" meeting at Geneva July 18.

The Big Three foreign ministers were joined in their final session by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A German spokesman said Adenauer had informed the United States, Britain and France it will be early fall before he will go to Moscow in response to a Soviet invitation he has accepted in principle.

The spokesman attributed the delay to the time needed to study and explore topics to be discussed in Moscow.

Spooner Man Says Woman Who Died Fell From His Car

SPOONER, Wis. 2 — Washburn County District Atty. Ward Winton said today a Spooner pool room owner has admitted that a 31-year-old woman found dying beside a road near here was injured when she fell from a moving car during a drinking spree.

Winton said that Arthur Kaiser, who earlier reported finding Mrs. Gertrude Hanson beside the road, gave this account of the fatal mishap:

Kaiser had visited several taverns with Mrs. Hanson, after which she wanted to drive his car. Because of her weaving from side to side, Kaiser took over the wheel and Mrs. Hanson climbed into the back seat. Kaiser was driving between 50 and 60 miles an hour when he discovered Mrs. Hanson sitting in a back window with her legs outside. Fearing she was about to jump, he applied the breaks and she fell from the car.

Winton said that no charges have been filed against Kaiser and none will be pending an investigation by Burnett County authorities who have just been called in to the case upon Kaiser's statement that the incident occurred there.

Earlier, Sheriff James Scharbag said that the state crime laboratory had been asked to check Mrs. Hanson's clothing.

Hints Others Who Chose to Stay Can Leave

No More Mention Of 11 American Fliers Still Held

TOKYO 2 — Red China today said it was sending home three Americans and two Belgians who chose to remain in Red China after the Korean War.

A Peiping radio broadcast said 16 others who refused repatriation could come home, too, anytime they choose—and hinted strongly they're homesick.

There was no mention of 11 American fliers held by the Peiping government who were captured late in the war when a B29 bomber was shot down. Four Sabre Jet pilots also captured late in the war were released recently at Hong Kong and have reached home.

Those to be released are:

Cpl. Lewis W. Griggs, of 406 Kickapoo St., Jacksonville, Tex.

Cpl. Otho G. Bell, 494, Rt. 5, Olympia, Wash.

Cpl. William A. Cowart, 503 Benton St., Dalton, Ga.

Roger Devriendt, Westvlaanderen, Belgium.

Louis Verdyck, Antwerp, Belgium.

Completing Formalities

The broadcast did not say when or where the five would be released but said "me are going through the formalities for their exit and making all necessary arrangements."

The five will leave China when these are completed, the broadcast said.

Of the original 22 U.N. soldiers who chose to go to Red China one died. The Red radio hinted strongly the other 16 are restless and anxious to come home too, dissatisfied with life in a strange country with lower living standards. Of the original 22, one was British, 21 were Americans.

The broadcast said the remaining 16 could leave any time they wish and admitted "difficulties" in keeping them happy in China.

Two other American prisoners of war who at first refused repatriation changed their minds and returned to the United States. Both were court-martialed.

Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor, of Kermit, Tex., was convicted of collaborating with the enemy and informing on his fellow prisoners. He was sentenced to life but, this later was reduced to 20 years.

Cpl. Edward S. Dickinson, of Big Stone Gap, Va., was convicted of informing on his comrades and currying favor with his captors. He got 10 years at hard labor.

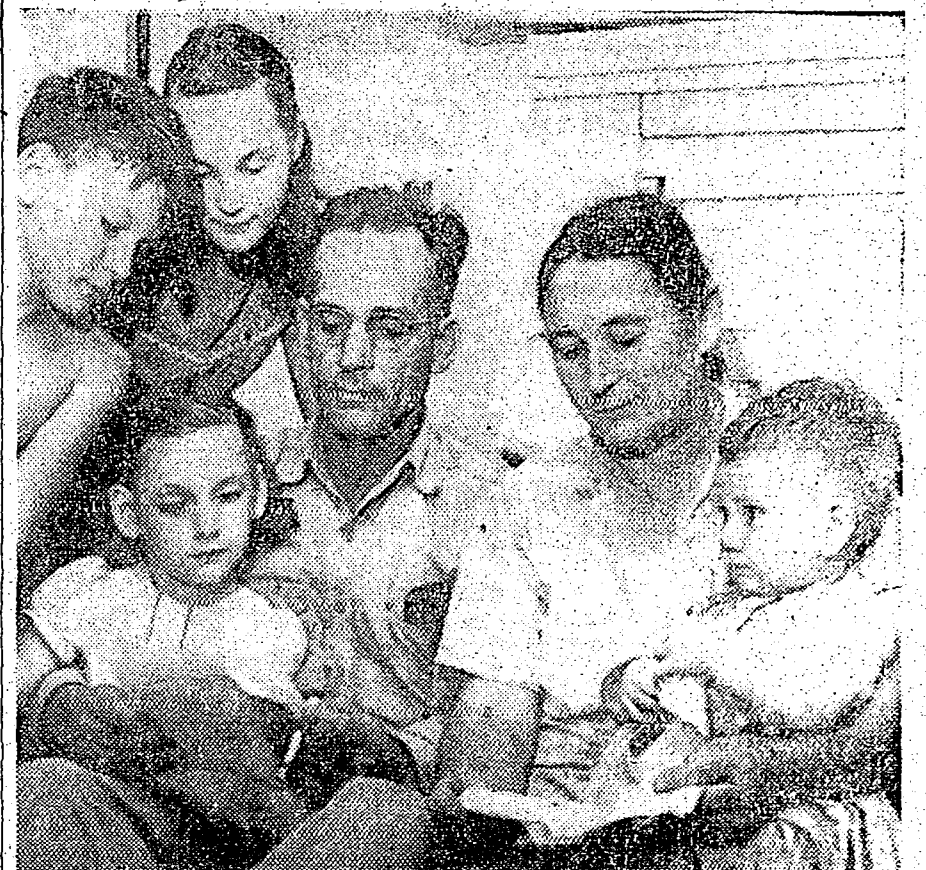

Will Arrange Return

The U.S. government said Thursday it would arrange the return home of any of the 21 Americans who chose to stay in Red China if they have changed their minds.

However the White House, State and Justice Departments warned in a joint statement that any who do come back will be held accountable "for any wrongful act" they may have committed.

(In Washington, officials said today no official notice of release had been received from the Chinese Communist government.)

(The joint statement issued on (Continued on Page 13, Column 4) THREE POWs

Peiping Sure U.S. Fooling

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON — According to report, no decisive business was done between the President, Secretary of State Dulles and V. K. Krishna Menon. But only three months ago, this double emissary of Pandit Nehru and Chou En-lai would have been about as popular in Washington as poison ivy at a picnic. So the amiable and even distinguished reception that has been given Menon can be said to speak volumes.

In particular, it seems to prove what has long been suspected. If Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek can be cajoled or bully-ragged into cooperating, Quemoy and the Matsus Islands are eventually to be given to the Chinese Communists as the Tachen Islands were given — on a silver platter.

On balance, perhaps, this is the best way out of a bad business. But two things about it must be clearly understood in advance. In the first place, the consequences are likely to be appallingly unpleasant. And in the second place, those consequences will be the direct results of the most incredible mismanagement in the entire history of American postwar diplomacy.

The chief consequences of handing over Quemoy and the Matsus are not to be looked for in Japan and South Asia as so many people suppose. But there will be grave repercussions on Formosa, where the Generalissimo's regime will be shaken to its foundations.

And above all, the consequences in Peiping will be extraordinarily dangerous. If they get the offshore islands as a present, the Chinese Communists will be finally and unshakably convinced that America really is a paper tiger. Thereafter, nothing short of an American bullet through Chou En-lai's head will ever again convince the Peiping leaders that the Eisenhower administration means business.

Four Acts

This is known as a strange drama in four fantastic acts. The first act opened in January, 1953, with President Eisenhower's dramatic announcement that he had just "unleashed" Chiang Kai-shek. At that time, all the offshore islands were very lightly occupied by the Chinese Nationalists, and all were frankly regarded as entirely expendable. But the heaviest American pressure was put on the unfortunate and highly reluctant Chiang, to make him occupy the little islands in heavy force. The purpose was to give some substance to the much-touted "unleashing."

The result was to make Chiang commit his own and his government's prestige to the hit. Act two took place last summer and autumn. The Chinese Communists were now visibly preparing an attack in the Formosa Strait. The question therefore arose, whether we would aid Chiang to defend the islands where we had

Horse Show Sunday At Preston Grounds

CHATHFIELD, Minn. — Competition in a 14-event horse show sponsored by the Chathfield Saddle Club will get under way at 1 p. m. Sunday at the fairgrounds at Preston. The opening event on the schedule will be in the parade class, and the afternoon program will close with a half-mile race. Trophies have been donated.

persuaded him to commit himself. Three of the four Joint Chiefs of Staff said "yes." At the famous Security Council meeting in Denver in late September, the President said "no." The Formosa treaty was therefore negotiated to exclude any American aid in defending any offshore islands. Act three took place in January. For reasons which are still mysterious, the September decision of the National Security Council was suddenly altered. Now, instead of defending no islands at all, we were to help in the defense of Quemoy and Matsus, if the Generalissimo would evacuate the Tachens.

This change of American policy was formally communicated to the Formosa government by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, through Chinese Foreign Minister George Yeh. The Formosa resolution, authorizing the President to use American forces to defend "any area essential" to the security of Formosa, was then before the Congress. Dulles told Yeh that if the Generalissimo would abandon the Tachen Islands, the President would publicly declare that Quemoy and the Matsus were "essential" to Formosa's security as soon as the Formosa resolution had been passed.

Dulles further gave Yeh a written minute of this verbal communication, which amounted to a promise of the presidential guarantee of the offshore islands. On the basis of this minute, when the Formosa resolution was finally approved, the American ambassador in Taipei, Karl Rankin, actually told a press conference that Quemoy and the Matsus would be guaranteed over the weekend. But meanwhile act four was already beginning.

Almost as Rankin spoke to the press, Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson was explaining to the dumb-founded Yeh that there had been a little misunderstanding between the President and his Secretary of State. The President, it seemed, was not going to guarantee Quemoy and the Matsus after all. Meanwhile, however, nothing was done to stop the big, bold talk about defending Quemoy and the Matsus by other leaders of the administration. That bluff went on till the famous Admiral Carney dinner in April.

Consider this history. The abandonment of Quemoy and the Matsus would do little damage on Formosa, if it had not been for acts one and two of the foregoing drama. It would do little damage in Peiping, either, if it had not been for acts three and four. These acts repeated the pattern of big, bold talk followed by slow surrendering that was traced out by the administration's leadership in the Dien Bien Phu-Geneva period. After this double demonstration of phoniness, why on earth should Peiping worry, no matter what America says?

Grandmother Studies To Be Teacher

PEPIN, Wis. — A long-time dream is at last beginning to come true for Mrs. Harold Slaughter of Pepin.

With one semester of school behind her at Buffalo County Normal, Alma, the 42-year-old grandmother has made plans to attend again this fall until she fulfills the requirements of an elementary teacher.

Mrs. Slaughter wanted to attend college and become a teacher since her graduation from high school in 1932. But money was scarce and so she did housework until her marriage the following year at Fairchild.

The couple farmed in rural Pepin for several years, then moved to Pepin about eight years ago. Since that time they have operated a hardware store.

Although she has raised a family of four children — Harold Jr., Robert, Louise and Lynette — and now has a granddaughter, Mrs. Slaughter is still determined to accomplish her dream.

She enrolled last winter at the normal school and her studies seem to be going along well.

The Pepin area has more than its share of teaching grandmothers. Among them is Mrs. Clarence Seifert who has re-entered the teaching field because she was not satisfied being retired. Mrs. Seifert now is attending the Eau Claire State College and will teach at the Barry Corner School in rural Pepin.

She began teaching in 1914 and continued until 1919 when she was married. After farming for several years in Hicks Valley the family moved to Pepin and having time on her hands Mrs. Seifert taught again from 1944 to 1949.

Mrs. Clarence Wisnerchen and Mrs. Glen Brooks or rural Pepin are grandmothers, who have been teaching for a longer period. They both also raised families before re-entering the teaching field. Mrs. Wisnerchen will teach next fall in the Pepin village school. She taught there last year and eight years ago was at the Stockholm school.

North High Band Expresses Thanks

Thanks for the city's hospitality was expressed in a letter received by Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer from the North High Band Association in Minneapolis.

The high school band visited Winona June 3. In the letter the president of the association and the school principal extended thanks to the mayor, Municipal Band Director Harold Edstrom. The Winona Daily News, Dwight Chappell at Hotel Winona, the police department, Winona High School Band Director Robert Andrus, Roger Busdicker, Al Voss and John Blank.

Dr. English Heads Tri-County Dentists

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)— Dr. Leon J. English, Arcadia, has been elected president of the Tri-County Dental Society.

The new vice president is Dr. L. R. Swoma, Strum; Dr. C. H. Allen, Mondovi, is secretary-treasurer. Elected to directorships were Drs. M. J. Senty, Galesville; J. C. Schraib, Pepin, and C. H. Pfanz, Black River Falls.

Dr. William E. English, Arcadia, was named delegate to the state convention with Dr. S. B. Ivers, Whitehall, as alternate. The local group will hold its winter meeting at Independence in December and the next annual session will be at Durand June 9, 1956.

Following a discussion of preventive dentistry, a public health chairman was appointed for four area counties. Named were: Dr. Pfanz (Jackson County), Dr. Swoma (Trempealeau County), Dr. Allen (Buffalo County), and Dr. O'Meara, Durand (Pepin County).

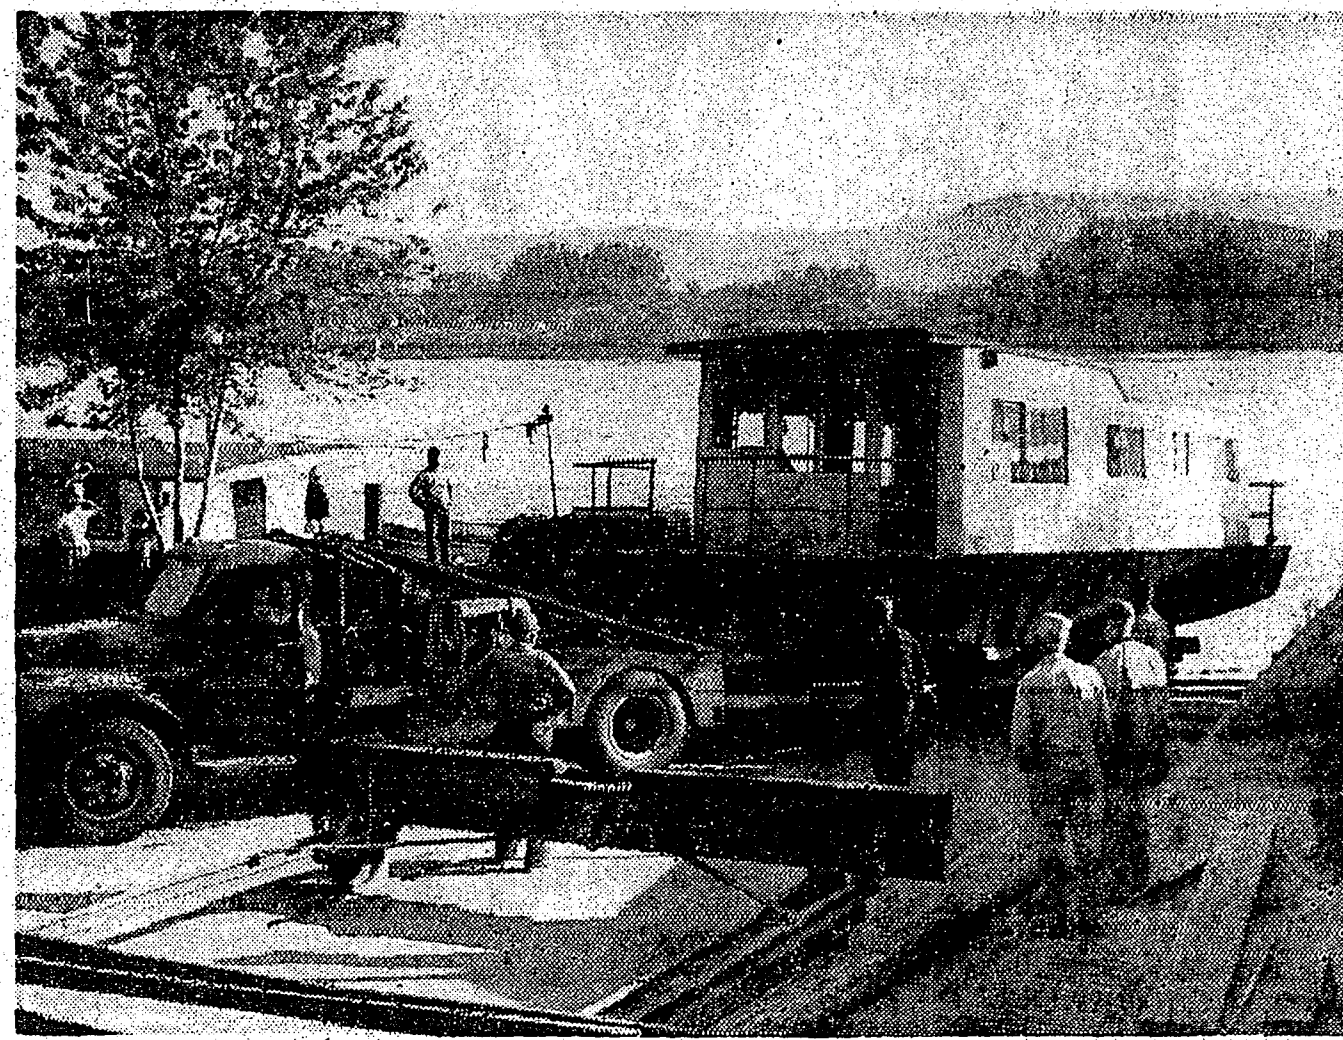

Mabel to Open Bids July 14 on Bond Issue

MABEL, Minn. (Special)— The Mabel school board will ask for bids on the $390,000 bond issue authorized by voters of the district last December.

Bids will be considered July 4. The entire $390,000 will be issued at once in order to obtain better interest terms. The money will then be reinvested and withdrawn as needed to meet construction costs.

AT ELC CONVENTION

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)— Mr. and Mrs. Ole B. Rensho, accompanied by the Rev. and Mrs. N. C. Anso, Sequim, Tex., attended the Southern Minnesota District convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, St. Olaf College, Northfield, this week.

By CATHARINE PLETKE

A LONG awaited event came to pass this week when three of the Winona houseboat builders launched their powered houseboats after working since early last fall on shore at Buffalo City, Wis., and in the former government nursery building on the Minnesota City highway.

Dr. R. B. Tweedy, Dr. D. T. Burt and Dr. G. L. Loomis are the owners whose long hours of work made possible the launchings on Thursday and Friday. First to slide into the water was the Burt houseboat with Tweedy's and Loomis' following. The boats were brought to Joe Hoffman's ways by trailer from the nursery building and launched there. Shown in the picture above is the Burt craft being launched. More work must be done before "finish" can be written in the story of these experimental river homes.

Thursday marked the 180th anniversary of the U. S. Engineers, a branch of the United States armed services that has served in peace and war since Revolutionary War days. In peace it is the U. S. Engineers who construct, maintain and operate the navigational structures on inland waterways.

First chief engineer of the U. S. Engineers was Col. Richard Gridley, appointed by Gen. George Washington on June 16, 1775. In 1802 an act of Congress formally created the Corps of Engineers.

In the roster of peacetime work of the engineers has been the work of locating all the transcontinental railways to the west and the routes for the nation's first highways; the completion of the nation's capitol building in Washington, D. C.; the building of the Panama Canal; raising of the battleship Maine; plus the flood control work which is of the finest in the world.

Col. General Samuel D. Sturgis Jr., present chief of engineers is the 39th to be placed in the engineers long term of service to the nation.

OHIO HAS BIG TOW

On Wednesday the Ohio was downbound past Winona with a heavy tow. Thirteen loaded barges and three empties were in tow to make a full double lockage at each of the locks. Capt. Orville Rhodes, master, and Capt. Walter Karnath, pilot, brought the Ohio upstream last weekend en route to Minneapolis. On the way upstream the Ohio tied off one load of coal at Mississippi Valley Public Service Co. and moved two empties to the Levee where they were picked up this week for their return downriver.

The Petco 20, a familiar vessel in these upper river waters has been renamed by her owners, the Clark Petroleum Co. She is known now as the Clark St. Paul and moves company oil products to this area.

Plans for Winona's eighth annual Steamboat Days are in full swing these final weeks before July 8, 9 and 10 when our distinctive summer affair will be presented.

From Ol' Man River's standpoint the Rivermen's Homecoming Banquet with F. C. Dickerson of Fountain City as toastmaster will be a particular highlight. Invitations to the banquet which will be held at Hotel Winona at 11:30 a. m. July 9 were in the mail this week. Each year these men who have known the Mississippi renew their experiences with full understanding gained only from following the river for many years.

The Winona Boat Club is in charge of the motorboat races scheduled for July 10 from 1:30 to 4 p. m. under the auspices of the Midwest Power Boat Association. Racers from the Midwest area are already entered for this event which draws crowds to both Levee Park and Latsch Island.

Sunday evening the water regatta under the direction of the Winona Coast Guard Auxiliary will sail past the Levee. It is expected that the new Winona-built houseboats will be part of this year's boat parade along with cruisers and speedboats that have participated in past years.

Ray Eggers, boat club president as well as Coast Guard Auxiliary commander, is heading the work of these two groups with Capt. W. J. Thurow and Howard Clark of the latter group assisting in arrangements for the regatta.

CRUISING PARTY STOPS HERE

A several days cruise upriver brought the Chris Craft cruiser TCR to Winona Wednesday when she docked here to take on gasoline and water at Hoffman's dock. Max Laity, owner, of Davenport, Iowa, and his party of seven were en route to Stillwater for the weekend.

The regular meeting of the Winona Coast Guard Auxiliary Wednesday took form as an upriver cruise with Jack Gorman's cruiser, Nancy Ann, and Dr. J. D. Keyes' Magdalen as host boats for the trip to Wally's in Fountain City. Dinner with the meeting followed and an evening cruise completed the program.

Arcadia Engages Firm to Survey Need for Power

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—The Arcadia City Council has engaged the Associated Consultants, Minneapolis, to conduct a survey of the city's electric power needs.

The survey, intended to determine whether the city should purchase another diesel for the municipally-owned plant or purchase outside power, will be completed about July 6.

Aldermen also have taken action on water supply problems. Robert Larson, an engineer of the Davy Construction Co., which is supervising erection of the new sewage disposal plant, studied the city water system and reported to the Council.

Much water is being lost through leaks in the system and sand is being pumped at the city well, indicating that a new well will have to be drilled in the near future. Handling of the city water has been the cause for complaint. Larson said that the present softening plant is doing little more than remove iron from the water, and is not correcting the hardness. Samples of zeolite from the plant, sent in to a laboratory, show a film which prevents effective softening of water which passes through it. He suggested an acid rinse and the Council agreed to have this done by Inflico. Representatives of the firm will be here in the near future to install equipment in the disposal plant. If the rinse does not correct the situation, a new zeolite bed will have to be installed at a cost of at least $3,000.

High water in the river has held up the work at the disposal plant, Larson reported, but if weather permits he hopes to get started on the digester next week. Equipment will be arriving soon and it is hoped to have the plant ready to operate in September.

Earl Stevens Jr., employee of the electric and water plant, pointed out ways in which savings to the city could be made through electrical hookups. Some of his suggestions will be followed in the future by the city. He also acted as spokesman for city employees who want group insurance coverage.

An order made by N. C. Twesme of Woodmen Accident and Life was favored by the 10 employees who signed for the nonoccupational insurance. Under the plan the city pays $28.90 monthly for the 10 employees, who pay $86.50 as their share. Families of employees are covered for hospitalization.

Two appointments to the library board were accepted by the aldermen. Harry Trowbridge was reappointed and Mrs. Paul Tyvand is a new member succeeding Mrs. Clifford Nelson.

A building permit for a residence on the west side was granted Ervin Scharlau.

100th Birthday Events Slated For Mazeppa

Parade Scheduled
Tuesday Afternoon;
90 Units Expected

MAZEPPA, Minn.—One of the most colorful histories owned by any village of Southeastern Minnesota will be re-lived here Monday and Tuesday during the Mazeppa Centennial.

Covering the stage coach days, whisky distilleries, logging operations, flour milling with a Russian touch, the story of Mazeppa's past really reads like a novel of the old West.

Founded by hardy Illinois pioneers in the summer of 1855, Mazeppa was named for the poem of the same name written by Byron. It was the name of a famous Ukrainian Cossack chieftain who fought Peter the Great for Ukrainian independence.

In the early years here, the famous St. Paul-Dubuque stage coach made this a stopping point and the town provided all the boisterous fun which was a part of that era.

Two Distilleries

Whisky was made in two distilleries in the area and at one time pioneers dreamed of making this a center of American alcohol manufacture.

Virgin forests were cut and the logs sawed in mills here for construction of homes and buildings of all sorts for farms and business. Before the grain industry moved permanently onto the large plains, wheat was milled here with a volume of 600 barrels of flour a day.

All of this will be re-enacted and displayed during the 100th birthday celebration Monday and Tuesday. A kiddie parade at 3 p. m. Monday will start festivities and a radio barn dance show will be presented on an outdoor stage at 8 p. m.

Tuesday at 1 p. m., a 90-unit centennial parade will pass in review.

Included in its line of march will be historical floats, bands from Lake City, Elgin, Claremont, Stewartville, Mazeppa, Zumbrota and Pine Island. In addition, the St. Paul Winter Carnival queen, the Minneapolis Aquatennial queen and the Wabasha County Dairy Princess, Miss Joyce Rupkavits will be present. A horse show will be given at 3 p. m.

Evening Program

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, the Elks drum and bugle corps of Rochester will put on a demonstration of marching and drill formations and this will be followed by a 4-H talent show.

Antique displays have been placed in local store windows and the familiar top hat of the 19th century will be worn by nearly every male in these parts.

Serving on the general centennial committee are: V. C. Sand, chairman; Jack Moses, Mayor and Mrs. Ernest Hoefs, William Prill, Reider Tommeras, Ore Oelkers, Fred Eimermann, John Grublike and Clyde Thomas.

Days of Founding

The village was founded by Joseph Ford and his son, Orville D. Ford, in 1855. In the fall of that year, Elijah Lout and his brother-in-law, Lewis Blunt, built a large house on the corner of Chestnut and First streets. Evander Skillman afterward converted a part of this into a general store. J. W. Judd was the first iron worker and the first hotel was a house built by N. B. Smith in the fall of 1855 on the corner later occupied by Charles Colling.

Shortly after the village was organized, a cistern was erected at the junction of Main and Water streets and in 1886 a hand fire engine was purchased. A volunteer fire department was organized with a chief appointed by the village council.

The cistern was filled by carting water from the river or sometimes by pumping it through a hose from the millpond. This was the only fire protection the village had until the great fire in the winter of 1890-91.

After the fire, a waterworks system was established with a drilled well, a wooden tank on a 50-foot tower. A windmill furnished the power for elevating water to the tower.

1900 Businesses

By 1900, Mazeppa boasted the following establishments: Mazeppa Mill Co., making 600 barrels of flour per day; 4 general stores; 3 grocery stores; 2 drug stores; 1 complete hardware store and tinshop; 2 shoe shops; 2 blacksmith shops; 1 wagon shop; 1 tailor; 1 hotel; 1 law office; 1 livery stable; 2 warehouses and grain elevators and 5 saloons.

There have, of course, been a good many changes. Whereas the Mazeppa Roller Mills company was formerly the community's largest business—now the business with the largest volume is the Mazeppa Farmer's Co-operative Dairy Association which turns out large quantities of championship butter.

The most recent addition to the village has been the $90,000 municipal building housing the fire department, community rooms and liquor store.

This project was completed in 1951 under the supervision of Mayor Hoefs and council members Gilbert Schmitt, John Seales, J. B. Gregoire and Wilbur Bright. The millpond, which older residents remember, has disappeared. Gone too are the days when swimming, fishing, sail- and ice-boating provided recreation for young and old alike.

The community had a 1950 population of 370.

Several Hundred Luther Leaguers from this area are en route to San Francisco for the International Luther League convention, and the largest delegation from a single church are the 39 youths from the Harmony Lutheran Church. They left Thursday in a new chartered bus. En route they're preparing their own meals and camping out in tents. They'll arrive Monday.

Accompanying the 39 are the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson, who have worked with the league the past several years. The money for the trip was raised mostly individually, by raking and mowing lawns, changing storm windows, washing cars and the like. But several food sales were held by the group.

2 Hospitalized After Crash On Altura Road

ALTURA, Minn.—Two persons are hospitalized in Winona today for injuries suffered early this morning when their car ran off State Aid Road 14, seven miles north of here, and overturned in a field.

In good condition at Winona General Hospital are Ronald Schultz, 18, St. Charles, the driver, and Orville Hentges, 25, Utica.

Schultz suffered knee injuries and was to be X-rayed today while Hentges is receiving treatment for head and arm lacerations.

The accident occurred at about 1:38 a. m. while Schultz was driving behind a pickup truck driven by Darrel Johnson, St. Charles.

Johnson turned left at an intersection of the county road with another road but the Schultz car failed to turn, went off the road and overturned in a field.

When Johnson noticed that the other car was not following him he went back and found the wrecked car.

He assisted Schultz and Hentges into the truck and drove them to St. Charles where a physician advised that they be taken to the hospital in Winona.

Another motorist drove the pair to Winona and en route met Minnesota Highway Patrolman Oscar Krenzke who furnished the car an escort into Winona.

Sheriff George Fort said that the time of the accident was determined when it was found that a watch worn by one of the occupants of the car had stopped at 1:38.

Augustana OKs Start Toward Lutheran Union

ST. PAUL (U)—Augustana Lutherans, holding their 96th annual synod here, today were on record for inviting a general union of all Lutherans into a single organization.

The move came Friday night when delegates voted to discuss possible merger with the United Lutheran Church in America, largest of 16 denomination churches with a membership of 2,150,000. Augustana, fifth largest, has 516,000 in its congregations.

Synod delegates called upon the merger committee to "keep open channels of communication with any Lutheran church group which might be unable, at present, to engage in such negotiations."

The UCLA union was opposed by only 5 of the about 500 delegates. Augustana recently withdrew from a proposed union with three other Lutheran groups on grounds that all churches had not been asked to merge.

Moorhead was picked as the 1956 convention city, 233-190 over Jamestown, N.Y.

Striking St. Paul Union Votes to Accept Compromise

ST. PAUL (U)—Members of the AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, local 556, on strike since May 10 against three downtown department stores, voted Friday night to accept a compromise settlement.

The proposal called for a general wage increase of five cents an hour, maintenance of union membership, and an optional five-day work week for those who do not wish to work six days. The settlement affects about 200 workers.

Members of three other AFL unions, Building Service Employees, Bakery Workers, and Retail Clerks, still are on strike and the hotel and restaurant workers are not scheduled to return to work until these disputes are settled.

Air Rifle Pellets Break Car Window

Damage to the windshield of a car in the O'Rourke Auto Sales lot in Goodview has been reported to Sheriff George Fort.

The windshield was broken by shots from an air rifle.

Summer Program Under Way at Catholic Center

The summer program opened in full swing this week at the Catholic Recreational Center.

Activity leaders Anita Seiler, in charge of the girls, and Dave Lejk, boys, have large groups of second, third and fourth graders.

This age group meets Mondays and Wednesdays.

This week girls worked on finger painting, crayon coloring, simple games and story telling. They received instruction in glass painting. Monday the group will have a library tour.

Boys in this age group played indoor softball, kick ball, dodge ball and skill ball. Some of these games were played at Lake Park. Winners included George Hoepfner, Dan Foley and Tommy Wunderlich.

The fifth and sixth grade groups meet Tuesdays and Fridays. Glass painting, figurine painting and cookie baking were activities for girls. Boys hiked to Garvin Heights and Devils Cave Wednesday and were taken to Pettibone Park, La Crosse, Friday.

Pictures and color slides taken on a recent visit to the cemetery will be shown by the society. Some vocal selections will be presented by the Misses Darlene and Marlene Kramer, Homer, and refreshments will be served by the social committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Sheehan, Winona. Representatives of the Homer Hill Toppers 4-H Club will aid in parking.

The open swim periods each afternoon have been well attended. Wednesday was the high day. Approximately 80 girls and 15 boys swam during their respective hours.

There is room for more children in all the classes and especially among the older age groups. Anyone can still join these groups by calling at or telephoning the "Rec" office.

2 Camp Ripley Guardsmen Accused

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (U)—Two national guardsmen have been accused of attacking two Albany, Minn., girls and will appear at a preliminary hearing Thursday in St. Cloud Municipal Court.

Held here were Marvin A. Haugen, 19, Fargo, N.D., and James Roden, 19, Moorhead, Minn.

The girls, 19 and 20, said they were walking in Albany Monday evening when two youths offered to give them a ride home. They said the car instead was driven five miles north and parked. There, they related, they were assaulted.

One of the girls said she lost her shoes in the scuffle but she managed to get away.

Haugen and Roden were picked up at Camp Ripley, near Little Falls, by Sheriff Peter A. LaBr of Stearns County and Albany Police Chief Sylvester Scepaniak. Bond was set at $3,500 for each. They indicated they would plead innocent at their arraignment.

Nation's 'Oldest Miner' 102 Today

MATTOON, Ill. (U)—Tom Fisher, who worked in the coal mines of Tennessee and Illinois until he was 80 years old and believes he is the nation's oldest retired miner, was 102 years old today.

Fisher, who lives at the Illinois Odd Fellows' Old Folks Home at Mattoon, says his formula for living is "mind your own business."

He has one daughter, eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Fisher said he was born "back in the woods" near Savannah, Tenn.

Historical Group Plans Meeting at Homer Town Hall

The Winona County Historical Society will hold an open meeting at the Homer Town Hall Thursday at 8 p. m. The meeting will be open to anyone interested in county history.

The society has planned a program based mainly on the history of the Homer Ridge Cemetery. All of the information available is being gathered to tell the story of the pioneers buried there. Pictures, documents, letters, maps and similar information will be on display. Additional material will be welcome.

Harry Reynolds of Winona will be master of ceremonies. Oscar E. Nelson, Homer, who carried mail up the Homer Valley road from 1910 until it was abandoned in 1935, will tell of some of his experiences and memories.

Mrs. Charles Waldo, Winona, will speak on the history of a number of her relatives who are buried in the cemetery. Allyn R. A. m. d. n. Homer, will pass on some of the memories as told to him by his father who was an early settler. The historical data on the cemetery itself will be presented by Mrs. Harry Busdicker, Winona.

Pictures and color slides taken on a recent visit to the cemetery will be shown by the society. Some vocal selections will be presented by the Misses Darlene and Marlene Kramer, Homer, and refreshments will be served by the social committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Sheehan, Winona. Representatives of the Homer Hill Toppers 4-H Club will aid in parking.

Carpenters Local Renames Officers

John O. Reinhard has been re-elected president of Carpenters' Local 307, AFL.

Also re-elected Friday evening were: Vice president, William C. Mueller; recording secretary, Rex A. Johnson; financial secretary, Walter W. Roth; treasurer, Edward Stanek; conductor, Lawrence Koskovich, and warden, William Holtzworth.

Max Gottschalk was named trustee for three years. He is the only new official.

Officers will be installed at the quarterly meeting July 1. According to the recently amended constitution, officers except the trustee, are elected for a two-year term.

Joan Scheevel Named Princess at Preston

PRESTON, Minn. (Special)—Preston's dairy princess, Joan Scheevel, who was crowned here Friday night, is a dairy winner in more ways than one.

She won a cottage cheese salad making contest among the six contestants. Joan, 19, a sophomore at Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wis., works in the county auditor's office in Preston during the summer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Scheevel, Preston.

Named attendants were Janice Sikkink, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sikkink and Rita Gartner, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gartner, both of Preston. Other candidates were Dorothy Ristau, Marian Halverson and Pat Scheevel.

The county contest today will be in conjunction with the Preston Lions Club festival and Fillmore County Dairy Day. Princess candidates rode on floats in a parade this afternoon. Marching organizations from most Fillmore County towns and La Crosse were among the more than 40 units participating.

A winner will be announced at an 8 p. m. platform program in the city park, with Mopsy Anderson, Preston, as master of ceremonies. There are nine competitors. They will be judged at a 5:30 p. m. dinner at the White Gate Cafe.

Chris Tretsven, Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee, gave the principal address Friday night. Milton Hoberg, Fillmore County agent, was master of ceremonies. Music was provided by Hal Foley, Rochester, organist. An open house was held at the Preston Creamery in the afternoon with about 200 attending. A street carnival is set up in the Preston business district.

Judges for the Preston princess contest were Lowell Welke, Spring Valley; Mrs. A. L. Walsh, Wykoff, and Mrs. Hiram Johnson, Fountain.

Youth Denies Connection With Station Holdup

Picture to Be Sent Here for Showing
To Hanson Employee

Questioning of a 17-year-old former Winona youth held in Elgin, Ill., as a result of an armed holdup attempt there earlier this week, has failed to yield an admission of another robbery at the Hanson Direct Gas Station, 700 E. Sarnia St., last Saturday.

Chief of Police A. J. Bingold said today that he has been informed by Elgin police that Harry Edgar Armitage, Duluth, who was shot after holding up the attendant at an all-night station near Elgin Monday morning, has denied any part in the Winona robbery.

Armitage is still hospitalized for treatment of gunshot wounds. Chief Bingold learned, and full questioning will await his further recovery.

When he is released from the hospital, Chief Bingold was told, photographs will be taken of him and forwarded to Winona for possible identification by the Winona station attendant who was forced at gunpoint to give up $122 in station receipts. Another $25 was taken from a customer at the station.

An ongoing Armitage with armed robbery in connection with the Elgin holdup has been issued by Illinois authorities.

Rep. McCarthy Says Republicans Don't Worry Him

BALTIMORE (U)—Rep. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) twitted the Republican administration Friday in a speech to the national convention of the Students for Democratic Action.

Both light and serious in his remarks about the administration, McCarthy told the delegates to the 8th annual meeting at Johns Hopkins University he is not as worried about Republicans in Washington as he once was.

"I was somewhat discouraged until this week when I found it was possible to get 15,000 Republicans out of Washington in three hours," McCarthy said, referring to Tuesday's civil defense exercise and exodus of Washington officials.

McCarthy described the administration's middle of the road policy as a "compromise somewhere between right and wrong" and said of Secretary of State Dulles: "I hesitate to criticize him because he criticizes himself every week or two when he changes his decisions."

The Minnesota Democrat said Agriculture Secretary Benson on a recent tour of drought areas blamed "Democratic farm policy" at one stop and at the next stop asked the farmers to pray for rain.

McCarthy called this inconsistent and suggested Secretary Benson should have combined his viewpoint and asked the farmers to pray to get rid of the Democrats.

In a serious vein, McCarthy called the Eisenhower security program "the blackest mark on the Republican administration."

He said it was true much of the security legislation was passed during the Truman administration but he said protection of human rights depends on administration of the law.

In several cases, Rep. McCarthy said the administration has forced discharged government employees to take their cases all the way to the Supreme Court before getting redress from the government.

Drowns in Lake

CHISAGO CITY, Minn. (U)—Stephen Carlson, 17, drowned late Friday in Little Green Lake, immediately adjoining the Chicago City High school where he had been graduated only a few days before.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlson, Chisago City, called for help when he apparently was stricken with a cramp while swimming to a raft about 100 feet from shore.

Volunteer firemen recovered the body.

Another First For Winona's "first citizen" occurred this week as Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer purchased a 1955 Steamboat Days button from members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Pinned the button on the mayor's lapel is Tom Berghs, while A. Eugene Smith, left, holds a card of buttons for the eighth annual river festival, scheduled for July 8-10. Smith and Berghs are co-chairmen for the sale. The $1 buttons provide admission to all Steamboat Days festivities. (Daily News photo)

First Baptist Installation Sunday Morning

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, executive secretary, Twin City Baptist Union and Minnesota Convention of America Baptist Churches, will preach at installation services for the Rev. Gerard G. Phillips at First Baptist Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The new minister's home church pastor, the Rev. John Barbour, Ford Parkway Baptist Church, St. Paul, also will participate in the service.

The Rev. Mr. Phillips took the pastorate here last Friday and preached his first sermon at First Baptist last Sunday morning. He is a graduate of Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, Berkeley, Calif.

Pastor Beyer Coming
Interim pastor, the Rev. John H. Beyer, St. Paul, who served First Baptist between the time the Rev. Joseph Carlson resigned last fall and the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Phillips, will assist with the installation.

Irwin Bittner, local Baptist layman, will present the pastor after the sermon and the Rev. Mr. Barbour will give Dr. Chapman the charge and dedication.

The Rev. John N. Benedict, First Baptist Church, Charles City, Iowa, will give the charge to the church and preside at the dedication of the congregation. Hands of fellowship will be extended by Earl W. Hagberg, layman; the Rev. Neil Berg, president of the Minnesota Convention of ABC; Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer, for the community, and the Rev. Clare Karsten, McKinley Methodist Church, and vice president of the Winona County Ministerial Association, for the association.

Responses will be given by the new pastor and his wife. Refreshments will be served following the worship.

Hostesses are Norma Grausnick, Darlene Berndt, Judith Cornwell, Mary Lou Sulack, Florence Sulack and Beth Girod. Pouring will be Mrs. Earl Hagberg and Mrs. Bittner. Mrs. T. J. Gile is in charge of refreshments and Mrs. M. C. Lucke of table decorations.

Native of New York
Dr. Chapman, native of Canastota, N. Y., came to Minnesota to serve as director of Christian education for the Twin City Baptist Union. In 1949 he was invited to serve in the same capacity for the board of promotion, as well, and in 1952 he became executive secretary for both the union and the board of promotion.

He is a trustee of Sioux Falls College and a member of the executive committee of the board; a member of the board of the Baptist Hospital Fund; of the Council on Missionary Cooperation of the American Baptist Convention and of the Rural Commission of the ABC.

He was honored in May of 1954 with the honorary degree of doctor of divinity by Sioux Falls College.

Gideon Camp Names Lindstrom President

New officers of the Winona County Gideon Camp, named here last weekend, are: Oscar Lindstrom, Lakeside Congregational, president; Carol Syverson, Central Lutheran, vice president; Floyd Chadbourne, Calvary Bible Church, secretary-treasurer, and Robert Tillman, Lakeside, chaplain.

They were elected at a dinner meeting at the YMCA, Charles Walton, Spring Lake Park, Minn., was the speaker. Fifty-five attended.

An auxiliary was formed with Mrs. Lindstrom elected president; Mrs. Oscar Lindstrom, Lakeside, vice president and Bible secretary; Mrs. Robert Tillman, Lakeside, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Chadbourne, Calvary Bible, chaplain.

Beverly Bryan Named Goodhue Co. Princess

RED WING, Minn.—Beverly Bryan, 19, rural Red Wing girl and sophomore this last year at Winona State Teachers College, has been named Goodhue County dairy princess.

Attendants are Bonnie Syverson, Wanamingo, and Kitty Ryan, Goodhue.

Strum Burglary Loss Set at About $2,700

Five Businesses
Entered in Town;
'Experts' Blamed

STRUM, Wis. (Special)—"Expert" burglars broke into five business establishments here, sometimes Thursday night, carrying off cash, watches and narcotics. Losses and damage to the stores was estimated at $2,700.

Trempealeau County Sheriff Ernest Axness said the methods of entry and the way doors were "peeled" off safes at several establishments indicated the burglaries were the work of experts.

The sheriff called in Eau Claire County Sheriff Lloyd Thompson and Investigator Roger Hahn of Thompson's office. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been notified of the theft of narcotics from the Fred C. Halverson Drug Store. The burglars took only selected narcotics, including morphine, codeine and cocaine, valued at about $250.

Also taken from the store were 16 watches ranging in retail value from $35 to $175. Halverson said they were valued at $1,000.

Burglars also broke into the store last September, entering through a rear door. The door had since been strengthened, but Thursday night, the burglars forced the front door.

First of the burglaries was discovered about 5:30 a. m. Friday by Louie Anstenson, who is employed at Jerry's Bar. Anstenson said that when he arrived to clean the bar, he found the safe had been rolled to the center of the floor and the doors peeled off.

From $600 to $700 in cash was taken. Anstenson notified Sheriff Axness, who found they had forced a side door to enter the bar. All other breakins were via front doors.

Curtis Peterson, owner of the Ford garage, said nothing was lost in the break-in there, but papers were scattered about the floor. Peterson said he had had trouble with break-ins before and doesn't leave anything of value at the building.

Cash was taken from two other establishments. The O & N Lumber Co. lost between $200 and $300 and $345 was taken from the Farmers Union Oil & Supply Co. Safes were peeled open in both offices.

Strum, with a population of about 542, had a series of break-ins July 2, 1953, but at that time only merchandise was taken. Later, two St. Paul men were linked with the burglaries, and investigation revealed they also had been involved in about 15 others. They were convicted in Minnesota and sentenced to 10 years at Stillwater.

The community has a night policeman on duty two nights a week. Thursday apparently was a night off.

Findings Ordered In Divorce Case

Findings for the plaintiff were ordered Friday in a divorce action brought by Mrs. Katherine P. Lindley, 110½ W. Wabasha St., against Carl L. Lindley.

Mrs. Lindley, who was represented by H. M. Lamberton Jr., in the hearing for District Judge Karl Pinkelburg, sued for divorce on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

She and Mrs. Mary Porter, 508 Main St., were called as witnesses. The Lindleys were married at Omaha, Neb., Dec. 10, 1931.

Minneapolis Driver Fined on License Count

Willard Johnson, Minneapolis, paid a $25 fine and $3.50 costs in justice court at Homer this morning on a charge of driving without a license.

Sheriff George Fort said that Johnson was arrested by Deputy Helmer Weinmann on County Aid Road 137 near Homer at 9:30 a. m.

Reluctant Star Happy to Be Leaving TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—TV's reluctant star is now through with the medium and he couldn't be more pleased.

"I'm the happiest man in the world," says Ray Milland.

Some TV performers would be singing the blues if their show got canceled. Not Milland. When General Electric dropped sponsorship after two years of the Ray Milland Show (originally Meet Mr. McNulty), he was tossing his hat in the air.

"I never wanted to do the show in the first place," he explained. "My agent talked me into it."

In December 1952, he was heading for a three-month Swiss vacation after a heavy film schedule. His agents invited him to a luncheon in New York.

"I thought surely they would present me with a platinum cigarette case or something like that, after all the money they had made from me," he remarked.

But he was in for another kind of surprise. Reluctantly, he had made a sample program for a TV comedy series. At the luncheon, he was told that the series had been sold to a big sponsor, General Electric.

Milland said he was against the series from the start, but agreed to do it after the three-month rest brought him home eager for work. At least that's his story. He has virtually backed himself into a fortune.

Whitewater Pool
Completely rehabilitated after the storm of two years ago, the swimming pool at Whitewater State Park again this season has become one of the top recreation points in the area. During the recent school picnic period, as many as 18 busloads of students were in the park at one time.

Situated in the center of the large park on the middle branch of the Whitewater, the water of the large artificial pool is clear and cool — most attractive to bathers on a warm day. In the background of the picture is the stone bathhouse which has been repaired and cleaned. Rosemary Nintemann is in charge of the locker rooms.

Lifeguards are on duty at the pool throughout swimming hours. The guard this season is Keith Todd. An area is roped off for small children. There is a diving spring board on the float shown in the foreground of the picture. The trees damaged by the storm have been removed from the area directly back of the buildings.

In addition to the swimming pool, Whitewater has a fine nine-hole golf course, good camping facilities, six cottages that may be rented and elaborate picnic areas. Despite the dollar car sticker required, the park so far this season has regained part of its popularity enjoyed before the tornado of May 1953. Waino Kontola is superintendent. George Loeffler is in charge of the golf course.

Fishing Reports
Wisconsin wardens report that fishing throughout the state and along the Mississippi River is improving after a recent rainy spell. Here is the summary from nearby counties received this morning:

Pepin County—Warden Carl Frick: Fishing slowed because of high water and bad weather. Water dropping back now. Fishing expected to pick up. Should be a good opening on smallmouths on the Chippewa River.

La Crosse County—Warden Elmer Lange: Fishing has been poor. Few catches of panfish are being taken in river bottoms. Pike have not been biting. River is a little high.

Crawford County—Warden Bill Hiebing: Mississippi and Wisconsin rivers still high and muddy. Pike fishing poor. Panfish and bass fishing good in clear backwaters. Bullhead fishing good in local areas. Trout still slow. Creeks are clearing.

Buffalo County—Warden Stanley Apel: Fishing in Mississippi River generally fair with some nice catches of walleyes being taken from floats below dams. Water dropping should be good this coming weekend. Panfish hitting fair on flies and poppers.

Pierce County—Warden J. W. Jonas: Fishing about normal. Pike biting at head of Lake Pepin and back channel. Trout somewhat slow.

Trempealeau County—Warden Fred Gardner: Walleye, northern and bass fishing slow on the Mississippi River. Panfishing on the Trempealeau Lakes good. Trout fishing has been good the past few days and with water getting back to normal fishing should continue good.

Big Trout
Trout fishermen are still catching big trout throughout this area. Several four and five pounders were taken out of the Whitewater during the last two or three days on bait. The water was still too cloudy on Friday for fly fishing.

Gus Seeling, veteran Winona fisherman, got a 7½ pounder early in the week out of a creek somewhere in Fillmore County. We heard that the total catch of the Seelings that day was 28 pounds of trout.

Similar reports of big trout being caught have come to our desk from Trempealeau and Jackson counties. Apparently trout fishermen are getting wiser or big trout dumber.

There's garden freshness in vegetables when you cook them in a small amount of butter or margarine in a tightly covered skillet. Slice carrots, for instance, in thin rounds and cook by this method; just before serving sprinkle with chopped scallions, using both the root end and the green tops.

Saving Millionaire's Household Goods To Be Auctioned

WEST POINT, Miss. (AP)—The accumulation of personal effects and household goods left by an eccentric millionaire come up for public auction July 5-7.

It was gathered by wealthy reclusive Clifton Rose, who died four months ago. He couldn't bear to throw anything away.

The collection ranges from a 1928 Cadillac to silver hip flasks, from old paintings to barrels of books, crystal, linen and old lace, from ornate bronze clocks to antique furniture.

Before an evaluation could be made, dump trucks and wagons hauled away tons of yellowing papers, letters and photographs.

Rose, while struggling with an irritating plumbing job, was felled by a stroke at the age of 62. He died a week later, Feb. 21. He left no will and about $1,500,000.

The decision to sell Rose's accumulation was made by the five heirs, the youngest 65.

Released POW To See Child For First Time

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Mrs. Jewel Bell, wife of one of the three American prisoners of war whom Peiping radio indicated might be released from Red China expressed delight early today when informed by The Associated Press that Peiping radio had said her husband, Otho G. Bell, was one of them.

Bell, one of the 21 American prisoners of war who chose to remain in Red China at the end of the Korean conflict, has awaiting him a four year old daughter, Paula, whom he has never seen. "I am glad he is going to return," Mrs. Bell said, "but I'm afraid to say anything until he gets home, lest something might happen."

Queen of the Jungle Former Phone Operator

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—I think it's only fair to tell you that "Sheena, the Queen of the Jungle" used to be a phone operator in Marysville, Kan. Miss Irish McCalla, who later became a Hollywood cheesecake model, has also lived around such famous jungles as Des Moines, Omaha and Marshalltown, Iowa.

Her Jungle Queenship, visiting New York recently, had a book of "Swahili" (that's the language of the Bantu people of Zanzibar) which she seemed to be studying, although as she said, "Suppose I learn it? Who'm I gonna talk it to?"

"How about some pictures?" the interviewer said, inasmuch as Sheena, or Irish, was in a sort of jungle mood. "I made," she said, of fireproof material.

"Sure, but no cheesecake," replied Irish.

"But you've posed for as much cheesecake as Marilyn Monroe!" protested the disappointed photographer. "No more, though," flung back the 5 ft.-9 blond beauty, mother of two. "Sheena's supposed to appeal to the children."

"But it's all right if their dad-dies look too," spoke up a representative of producer Don Sharpe, who took Sheena, the comic book jungle queen, and put her on television.

"Let me make sure I've got everything on," Irish requested. "Oh, oh, I forgot my jungle bracelet."

Irish's sudden reformation from a cheesecake model to a jungle queen with an appeal for children was difficult for her. When she arrived in New York, the photographers, who'd been seeing her comparatively undraped figure in magazines for several years didn't even ask — they started yanking her skirts up for pictures.

"They'd pull my skirts up and I'd pull 'em down!" she said. "I finally won."

For a jungle queen, Sheena had a normal American girlhood. Born in Pawnee, Neb., she later went to Central High in Omaha, which she remembers they called "The Prison."

"My first year of high school, I went through on a broken leg. You see, my brother had a party. I had a crush on my older sister's boy friend. You know the cowgirl could jump over the back of the horse. I tried that with the party and landed stiff-legged."

While a telephone operator in Marysville, Kan., she decided to go to Hollywood, become a model, married Patrick McIntyre, and never suspected she'd one day be jungle-queening it down around

Winona Sailor

On Scene for Toko-ri Filming

A Winona sailor was present when the aircraft carrier scenes were shot for "The Bridges at Toko-Ri," which opens a 4-day run at the State Theater Sunday.

He's S. N. Robert Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Armstrong, 475 W. Mark St., who's still aboard the Oriskany, on which Paramount movie crews shot scenes for the picture version of James A. Michener's novel.

It's a story of Navy jet fliers in the Korean conflict. Starring are William Holden, Grace Kelly, Fredrick March, and Mickey Rooney.

S. N. Armstrong told his parents and sister, Ruth, that Rooney was aboard the Oriskany at Thanksgiving time 1953 for the filming. Armstrong has been in the service almost three years, and presently he's making his third trip to Japan on the Oriskany.

Midcontinent Has Some Thunderstorms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More rain fell in sections of the Midcontinent and in a few spots in the Southeast and Far West today but it was fairly pleasant weather in most other parts of the country.

Thunderstorms and showers continued during the night from Minnesota southward across the lower Missouri Valley to Oklahoma and northern Texas.

Some severe thunderstorms struck areas in the Oklahoma-Texas Panhandle. A tornado hit Wellington, Tex., last night while four twisters skipped over the area of Fowler, in southwest Kansas yesterday afternoon. No injuries were reported.

Rainfall was heavy in some parts of Oklahoma and Texas, with nearly two inches at Enid, Okla., and more than one inch at Wichita Falls, Tex.

Average U. S. production for each person in the country per year is 175 pounds of sulphuric acid, 40 pounds of caustic soda and 35 pounds of chloride.

Mondovi Centennial to Begin Wednesday

Mondovi, Wis., Brothers of The Brush are ready for the centennial celebration June 22-28. Last night they conducted the fourth and final kangaroo court at the main intersection of town. Left to right they are: Allen Lee, Spencer Christenson, Ebert Alme, Emil Lorenz, Roy Tanner, Merlin Hoch, Dr. R. H. Kreher, Arleigh Wright, Mayor George Britton, Carl Serum, Arthur Serum, Leslie Langert, Roy Nelson, Freeman Brownell, Garfield Odegard, Elsmore Indger, Bill Aase and Finley Franzwa. In front are Bryan Sweeney and Sidney Williams.

Gov. Kohler, Sen. Wiley Set for Events

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — A celebration appropriate for a birthday which comes once in 100 years has been planned for Mondovi's centennial which starts next Wednesday.

Five days of festivities—June 22-26—will usher in the city's second century and bid goodby to the last 100 years which witnessed the birth and early development of this picturesque Western Wisconsin community.

Gov. Walter Kohler Jr. and Sen. Alexander Wiley are scheduled to be present for the premiere performance of "Mondovi's Turn of the Century" Thursday night at the Buffalo County Fairgrounds. This spectacle, with a cast of 300, will be presented nightly at 8:15 o'clock Thursday through Sunday.

A centennial queen will be crowned by the governor at the premiere. The theatrical production is professionally written and produced by the John B. Rogers Co., under the direction of Sam Grogg. In costume, scenery, and song, the story of Buffalo County's history will be presented on a 250-foot stage on the fairground infield. There are 27 scenes with a prologue featuring arrival of the queen and her court and a simulated atomic bomb explosion as part of the finale. Fireworks will conclude each performance.

Sen. Wiley will speak at 4 p.m. Thursday at a time capsule ceremony. Centennial mementos and historical documents will be buried and permanently marked for opening in 2055.

Centennial headquarters have been moved into a building at 131 W. Vine St. across from the Lincoln School. It will be open from 10 a.m. daily for registration of visitors, pioneers and old-timers. Historical exhibits have been placed in downtown store windows and a 100-year panorama of farm implements is on display at the fairgrounds.

Dobson's Carnival and Midway Shows will be set up at the fairgrounds and will be in operation from noon until midnight starting Wednesday. Chicken barbecue pits and beverage stands also will be open for business daily at the fairground midway.

Wednesday will be known as "Centennial Dedication Day" and will feature a centennial queen's ball at the high school gym from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of Johnny Roberts and His Orchestra. The queen and her attendants will lead a grand march. The public is invited to come dressed in costumes worn during the last 100 years.

Thursday is "Buffalo County Youth and Veteran Day." Highlights will be a 2 p.m. youth parade with prizes to be awarded, the time capsule ceremony, and a band and barbershop quartet concert at the fairgrounds at 7:30 p.m. Friday will be "Centennial Belle and Brother of the Brush Day" as women of the community model historic American clothing at 2 p.m. at the high school gym. Win-

The square dancers will perform at the stops along the way. A large crowd will make the trip, all dressed in centennial clothing.

Kohler Reviews Guard at McCoy

CAMP MC COY, Wis. (P)—Wisconsin's 32nd National Guard Division stood tall today as it passed in review for Gov. Walter Kohler. The Red Arrow division turned out Friday night for the traditional "GI Party."

The division's honor guard, made up of first-year men, marched in the Governor's Day review. The honor guard is commanded by Capt. Gerald F. Thielke, 29-year-old Algoma High School teacher.

Fire Kills Mental Patients 'Locked Up'

TOKYO (P)—Eighteen mental patients, locked in wards, died today in a fire that swept four wings of a private psychiatric hospital at Ichikawa City, 30 miles east of Tokyo.

Police said that of the survivors eight were missing and may have escaped.

Police estimated the damage at about $250,000. They said they suspected arson.

Nuclear-Powered Sub Beginning New Operations

GROTON, Conn. (P)—The nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus today prepared to enter a new phase of operations, her long shakedown cruise behind her.

The Navy said local training operations now are in store for the huge craft with brief periods in port and no visits to other ports scheduled. She is moored at the dock where she was built.

The Nautilus, in its shakedown cruise to the Caribbean in May, traveled 1,400 miles while submerged and did not surface after leaving here until she reached San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Her log since she first moved under nuclear power last January shows more than 10,000 miles traveled and 180 dives.

Albert Pratt, assistant secretary of the Navy for personnel and reserve forces, Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, and Adm. Jeraud Wright, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet, observed the recent operations of the Nautilus.

Awards of Merit Given 3 Railway Employees

Three Winona employees of the Chicago & North Western Railway have received awards of merit. O. C. Rhoades, supervisor of the railway's bridge and building department here, announced today.

None of the three had a lost-time accident during 1954. They are: E. F. Walchak, 161 E. Howard St.; J. C. Fend, 614 W. Wabasha St.; and R. B. McCarl, 1014 Gilmore Ave.

Revenue Agent Being Sued For Billions

ARTESIA, N. M. (P)—An agent of the Internal Revenue Bureau says it will be up to his superiors to decide what to do about a 4 1/2 billion dollar damage suit filed against him.

C. Buck Caviness, revenue agent at Carlsbad, who was sued for the astronomical figure yesterday by Lester C. Plummer, 47, of Artesia, said:

"The Plummer matter was handled in a routine manner just like all others. We went through regular procedure under federal revenue laws."

Plummer filed his suit declaring Caviness filed a levy on Plummer's bank account May 3, taking $83.70. The insurance adjuster said he presumed the levy was for failing to pay social security taxes for self-employment in 1953. But he objected, saying the levy also charged that he had not paid his income tax. He called the action "illegal and unconstitutional confiscation of private property and money."

"I figured I might as well get up into figures the government can understand," Plummer said of his suit.

He said he would ask 1 1/2 billion in actual damages and three billion in exemplary and punitive damages.

Youth Drowns in 'Sink or Swim' Joke

LIBERTY, Tex. (P)—Charles Jenkins, 16, drowned in the Trinity River yesterday in what witnesses said was the aftermath of a deadly joke.

Deputy Sheriff Benny Williams said witnesses gave him this story:

Two companions dragged Jenkins, a nonswimmer, into deep water and released him, saying, "All right, you can learn to swim or else."

A search failed to locate the body.

Ad Alley Pickups

A brief mention of interesting items about people, business places and campaigns as compiled by The Winona Daily News ad department.

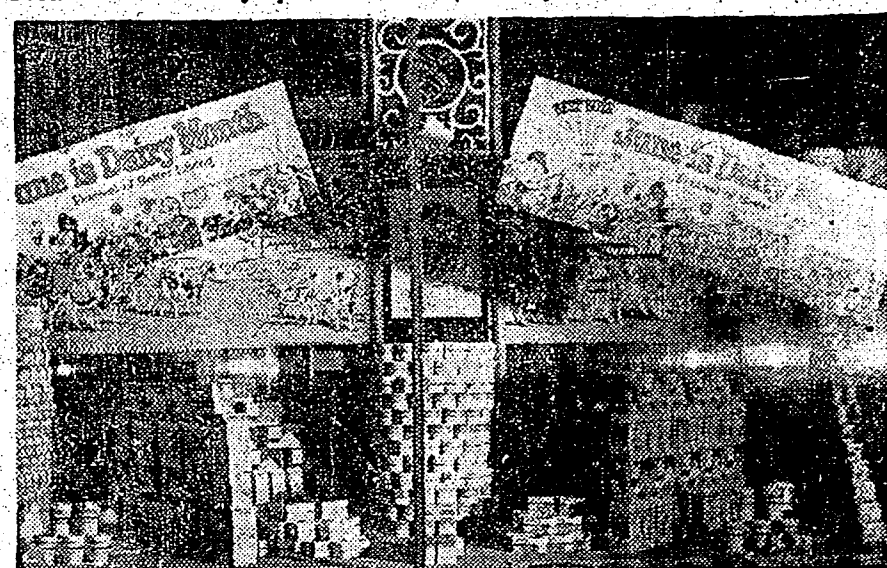

Mrs. Stanley Stolps dishes up a jumbo ice cream cone at the new Jefferson Ice Cream Shop which she operates at 1054 W. Broadway. Formerly the "Jeff," this shop is becoming quite a gathering place for ice cream lovers. Winona Milk Co. products are featured, including milk, cream and so forth to carry out. The shop is open every day, including Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Gamble-Skogmo, Inc., has been selected by the Minnesota Development Committee of the Minneapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce as an outstanding representative of Minnesota corporations. The success story of Gamble-Skogmo will appear on a TV program sponsored by the Jaycees called "Minnesota U.S.A." tomorrow at 10:15 a.m. on Channel 4. The Gamble Store located here, opened in 1925, is one of almost 2,200 stores in the Gamble organization which are located in 21 states and in Canada. Manager of the local store is Bob Macne.

Sunbeam Bakeries have a full page color ad in today's Daily News featuring a "Let's Have a Picnic" theme. If you didn't notice it already, be sure to read it when you do. It talks about Sunbeam Bread which is quality guaranteed and locally baked. Sunbeam successfully uses quite a few color ads to carry its message to the people in this area.

Monsanto's Plastic Division is out with an interesting research study on color change. Color consultant Faber Birren notes that color trends repeat themselves . . . generally over a period of 5 to 10 years. Green and brown are fading now . . . with red (rose, pink) and blue (turquoise) on the rise. Birren also notes high fashion consumers are fussy, demand wide range of color choice . . . while masses (who spend most dollars) are loyal to a few colors.

June is Dairy Month, and many people strolling down Third street were reminded of this by the Marigold Dairies display in the window at Stevenson's, Inc. Milk, butter, cream and ice cream are all displayed neatly to remind us that these products are essential to both our health and the prosperity of this area.

SALUTE to the DAIRY FARMER

The citizens of the surrounding Dairy Counties are very fortunate in living in a territory where there is a plentiful supply of milk and cream at a reasonable price.

The large production of milk and cream brings thousands of dollars into the community every two weeks, besides taking care of the wants of its citizens.

It helps the economy of Winona by increasing sales of our merchants and giving gainful employment to many people.

The cash income helps the farmer to have a regularity of income, a payday every two weeks, instead of once or twice a year as with grain, hogs or cattle.

In order that the farmer will continue to have a good return from his milk and cream, every person should drink an extra glass of milk each day, and not forget the use of butter and cream.

YES, THE "MILK AND CREAM CHECK" HAS BECOME A VALUABLE ITEM IN THE ECONOMIC AND BUSINESS LIFE OF THE COMMUNITY, AND AS A BANKING INSTITUTION WE ARE GLAD TO REVIEW ITS MANIFOLD BENEFITS FOR YOU IN THIS MANNER. THE DAIRY FARMER WITH HIS REGULAR "CHECK" IS ONE OF OUR MOST IMPORTANT ASSETS, AND WHILE BETTERING HIS OWN STANDARD OF LIVING, HE CONTRIBUTES GREATLY TO THE WELFARE OF ALL THE SURROUNDING COUNTIES.

Results of Survey Alarming, Appalling

This is the season of the youthful graduates. They have been given just a lot of advice during the past couple of weeks and the admonitions will continue to flow from commencement platforms for at least ten days more.

Maybe it would interest these youngsters to know that they are cause for considerable concern as well. John Knight of the Chicago Daily News wrote this week in his personal column: "Earlier this spring two independent surveys, covering more than 5,000 high school seniors, revealed that today's young people have some curious and alarming ideas about our economic system."

Once we worried about what youngsters thought about our governmental system — now it's about our economic system, which only serves to emphasize anew how closely the two have become entwined during the past score years and more.

"For one thing," Mr. Knight continues, "that horrid word 'profit' took quite a beating. About 60 per cent of the seniors think the owners of a company get too much, and employees too little. More than 80 per cent think the average business or industrial concern makes above 10 per cent profit; 20 per cent said that these profits reach 50 per cent."

"Most disturbing was the belief held by 56 per cent of high school seniors that we can best improve our standards of living—not by producing more—but merely by giving workers more of the profits of business."

"And only 40 per cent thought our economic system would curl up and die if the profit motive were removed."

The editor of this Chicago newspaper was not the only one to read and express concern about these surveys. The New York News studied them also and concluded as follows: "To anyone with a working knowledge of economics the results of the two surveys can conservatively be called appalling."

Returning to Mr. Knight's discussion, he asks the obvious question, where did they get such ideas, and places the blame principally on the schools. He says: "Where do our youngsters get these notions? Obviously they must pick them up at home or at school, and I suspect, mostly at school."

"You don't learn much about basic economics in high school these days, and not a great deal in college. In high school the kids are oversold on the United Nations, foreign aid, Point Four and UNESCO."

"But no one ever explains what part of the old man's paycheck, or of the taxes paid by the company for which he works, goes to support these activities, desirable as they may be."

"After studying the results of a survey which interviewed some 3,000 high school seniors in Michigan, the faculty of Hillsdale College concluded that students know practically nothing about what makes the free competitive system tick. The president of Hillsdale College decided to do something about it. Henceforth all freshmen at Hillsdale must study and acquire a good understanding of the theory and practice of our profit and loss economy."

The Hillsdale requirement should be adopted by other colleges and universities which, in the past, have neglected to explain the system that supports us and much of the world. But the teaching, or indoctrination if you prefer, should begin in the elementary schools, which evidently are failing to give the student a very clear understanding of how free enterprise works.

"If our young people are as poorly informed about business profits and competition as the surveys indicate, on what basis can they decide whether our system, or some other system—either existing or proposed—is best?"

There is certainly meat in that suggestion. Some parents and some educators will counter with the argument, "We shouldn't influence or direct their thinking—let them reach such decisions on their own." That's all good and well, but the advocates of other systems of government—the Communists particularly—are using every possible means to "sell" their ideal of government. The least we can do is to give our youngsters a working knowledge of the economic and the governmental system under which they are living.

Movie premieres are jam-packed with synthetic excitement, whipped up by the press agents, plus hundreds of young goons who do all but tear the stars' gowns off their backs as they fight their way into the theater. The klieg lights turn, the bands play, the TV announcer uses the word "wonderful" two hundred times a minute and the invited guests rave about the picture more on the way in than they do after it's been shown. These Days

Red Line Spread By Otto Nathan

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — Dr. Otto Nathan took refuge in the United States from the Nazis, became a professor of economics at New York University, was named by Albert Einstein as his executor, and has been fighting the State Department in the courts because it has refused to grant him a passport to travel in Europe. Thus far, he has not disclosed what he has done with Einstein's ashes and there is a suspicion among some that his current compulsion to go to Europe has something to do with the disposition of the final remains of the philosopher.

In the Charleston (West Virginia) Daily Mail of Feb. 10, I find a report of a speech Dr. Nathan delivered in that city. One paragraph followed almost word for word the statements of a Communist I listened to in Lewisham, outside of London, during the recent elections in England. Dr. Nathan said in Charleston:

"The United States is the leader of western countries establishing military bases all around the U.S.S.R., and that is why the Russians consider us the chief offenders in the cold war."

DR. NATHAN, in his speech, went right down the line. He favored co-existence:

"We must face the cold facts of reality that there are two rival camps—Capitalism and Communism, and I am convinced that they can co-exist."

"I say again, again and again that we must learn to co-exist in the two worlds — Capitalism and Communism — it is a historical destiny that they exist."

He placed the United States in the category of imperialistic nations:

"The imperialism and colonialism practiced in underdeveloped countries are equally responsible for the existence of the cold war. The United States is guilty of interference in the governments of some Latin American nations."

"We (the United States) had no business interfering in the struggle of the shoeless and economically distressed people of Guatemala — it was a popular uprising of the native people — some of whom may be Communists."

DR. OTTO NATHAN, as a person, is not of tremendous significance. His influence in this country has been scant. His name emerged when Einstein died. One can pass over such statements as the private opinion of an individual, an opinion to which he is entitled in a free country. Let him speak. Let him join all sorts of organizations. The United States survives all this and more.

But I am often puzzled by the phenomenon that so many of those to whom we gave sanctuary in the days when Hitler was murdering his opposition, show so little gratitude for what was done for them. It must be true that thousands of refugees are grateful, but few of them ever give expression to their emotions while such cases as these are glaring examples of ingratitude.

Oscar Lange, who became a professor at Chicago University, turned on this land of freedom, denounced it, renounced his American citizenship, became the Communist Polish representative here, was sent by Poland to the United Nations, and now has disappeared from public view. Perhaps Lange is a minor official in Poland or maybe he is dead. But to me he is to be remembered as an ingrate.

The brothers, Hanns and Gerhardt Eisler, were admitted into this country as refugees. Hanns is a musician and he did very well, indeed, in Hollywood. Gerhardt was a spy and for a time was the top Communist agent in this country, representing the Comintern. He escaped from the United States and was set up in East Germany to conduct a violent and untruthful propaganda in Europe against the country that gave him a home when he was in physical peril.

Thomas Mann is one of the most distinguished writers in all the world. We gave him and his family sanctuary. As soon as it was safe for him, he moved to Red German territory as a respite from dwelling in America. He has not spoken well of us since.

There are but five examples of ingratitude. Many more can be cited, but they are mostly among the so-called great minds that seek a special status as superior to other men in a land where an employee of the department of sanitation is equal in the eyes of the law, and, in a manner, socially, to a professor in a university. Is that wrong?

Mrs. Hobby, Congressmen Skirt 'Socialized Medicine'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The naughty words have finally been uttered in the Salk vaccine controversy. They were said by health secretary Oveta Culp Hobby when she testified this week before the Senate labor and welfare committee.

Criticizing the Democratic bill to supply Salk vaccine free to all children under 20 years of age, Mrs. Hobby charged that such a plan smacked of "socialized medicine." For weeks Mrs. Hobby and some congressmen have been skirting all around these words. They have been trying to avoid the fact that the Canadian government has administered the Salk vaccine itself. It pooled vaccine production in one laboratory under direct government supervision. It was pure socialized medicine. They have had no deaths.

Mrs. Hobby and congressional friends have also skirted around the fact that Dr. Salk nine months ago tried to get the drug companies to start making his vaccine, but under the current system of "non-socialized medicine," only one firm would do it. The National Polio Foundation had to place $9,000,000 in advance orders to get the vaccine started.

Some senators have gone so far in avoiding the forbidden words "socialized medicine" that for a time only one Republican would attend the meetings called by Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama. Some of them wanted to delay his bill providing free vaccine to all children under 20.

Finally when this column called attention to the consistent absences of Alexander Smith, N. J.; Goldwater, Ariz.; Bender, Ohio; and Allott, Colo., attendance picked up and chairman Hill was able to get a quorum.

Inner committee debate since then has revolved around the question of whether vaccine shall be provided for all children under 20, as urged by the Democrats, or merely needy children under 20 as urged by the Republicans. The latter is the Eisenhower plan and would provide for 22 per cent of the children.

The difference in this appropriation to save lives is only about $95,000,000, which is pin money compared to the way military billions for taking lives are thrown around the capital. But the difference is not the money but those two words "socialized medicine" uttered by Mrs. Hobby when she opposed vaccine for all children under 20.

Washington Pipeline There's at least one friend of Dean Acheson whom the Eisenhower administration hasn't fired from a key job in his son-in-law, William P. Bundy. Bundy is an expert on the National Security Council which holds super secret meetings on the highest level and recommends foreign-military policy to Ike. Acheson's son-in-law, however, continues to sit in his secret councils. Reason: He's not only an able man, but his father, a Republican, was assistant secretary of state under Stimson . . . The U. S. Court of Appeals has affirmed the $175,000 libel judgement against Westbrook Pegler. The money now goes to Quentin Reynolds, one of the few who have stood up to Pegler . . . Ex-Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, now ambassador to India, urged Ike to have a long and cordial session with Krishna Menon, the Indian diplomat who has not always been friendly to the U.S.A. Ike sandwiched him in between a meeting of GOP congressional leaders and a courtesy-curiosity call by winners of AMVET scholarships, but promised to talk with him again later.

McCarthy Committee Revamped Arkansas' stern Sen. McClellan, who took over the Senate investigating committee from Sen. McCarthy, has been doing some of the things that McCarthy was supposed to do but didn't — probe graft in government.

This was why the committee was originally organized by Harry Truman, though McCarthy used it largely for Communist headline-hunting. The internal security committee, incidentally, is the body supposed to track down Communists.

McClellan, therefore, has got the committee back on the track of digging into graft, and has come up with the amazing Army-Navy hat deals which might not have occurred had McCarthy been more alert.

Sen. McClellan has leaned over backward to be fair, has hurled no political charges at Sec. of Defense Wilson or the White House for not detecting this graft. His impartiality, however, has been met with gibes from the McCarthyites.

McClellan took the gibes in angry silence until McCarthy's pal, South Dakota's Sen. Karl Mundt, came out in the open with a taunting remark. It happened while McClellan was admonishing Chicago cap-maker Harry Lev on the witness stand. "You be patient now and listen to my questions so you know just what is being asked of you," McClellan warned the reluctant witness. "And understand I'm trying to be fair to you. We're not having any badgering of the witnesses here."

"Mr. Lev," Mundt interrupted in a sarcastic voice, "you've been kidding the chairman but I want you to understand you're not kidding me. I'm tired of having a circus made out of this hearing."

The anger surged up McClellan's neck. He turned to Mundt and told him fiercely:

"Let me say to you he has not been kidding the chair. The chair has been trying to conduct this hearing with fairness to all. You withdraw that remark that he has been kidding the chair!"

Under McClellan's withering blast, roly-poly Mundt hastily retreated.

"All right," he said meekly, then revised his remark. "You are not going to kid me or kid the chairman."

Fathers More Easily Scared Than Mothers

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK — A father is a thing that is forced to endure childbirth without an anesthetic. A father is a thing that growls when it feels good . . . and laughs very loud when it's scared half to death. A father is sometimes accused of giving too much time to his business when the little ones are growing up.

Advice on Health

Baby Goes Exploring To Learn

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A creeping baby usually is a trying problem for mama. But maybe a more thorough understanding of why your adventuresome tot seems to get into everything and what you can do about it might help matters.

Your creeping youngster can't satisfy his natural curiosity merely by looking. He's had to be content with watching and listening and occasionally trying out a few things in his mouth for some time. By creeping time, usually about 10 months of age, he must touch things to learn that some are rough, some are smooth, some are hard, others are soft; some r.p. and tear, while others do not. Only by actually feeling things can he learn.

Don't expect a baby of creeping age to understand readily that he can touch some things and not others. Keep your prized possessions well beyond his reach.

Slapping his hands and repeatedly telling him not to touch certain things won't solve the problem. It may keep him away from these objects when you are with him, but once he's alone he'll probably be unable to resist the desire to touch what is forbidden.

Then again, punishing him might curb his natural tendency to explore and to learn. You don't want to destroy this desire. Just remember, it's your job as parents to see that your baby doesn't get into trouble, not to punish him after he does get into it.

Teach your baby which things he can have and which he can't. For instance, he'll probably grab magazines off a low shelf or table and promptly rip them apart. Place some old newspapers on this low shelf for him to play with or tear as he pleases. Little by little he will learn that this shelf and the things on it are his. He will know the other shelves belong to mama and daddy. And he will leave them alone.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

H. T.: What precautions could be taken to prolong the life of a 68-year-old woman who has an enlarged heart?

Answer: The main thing in prolonging the life of a person afflicted with heart disease is the avoidance of mental and physical strain at all times. It is important for the patient to get plenty of rest and sleep and to avoid over-eating and, of course, to be under the care of a physician.

Knowland Asks 'Freedom Board' To Fight Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says a nine-member "National Freedom Board" should be established to combat Communist propaganda and emphasize this country's desire for peace.

He proposed in a Senate speech yesterday that the board be composed of the vice president, the secretaries of state and defense, the director of the U. S. Information Agency and five civilians. Each of the civilian members, appointed by the President, would receive $20,000 a year.

Knowland said the proposed freedom board is backed by President David Sarnoff of the Radio Corp. of America, Publisher William Randolph Hearst Jr., and the 17th California District of the American Legion.

That's partly fear, too. Fathers are much more easily frightened than mothers.

A father never feels entirely worthy of the worship in a child's eyes.

He's never quite the hero his daughter thinks . . . never quite the man his son believes him to be . . . and this worries him, sometimes.

So he works too hard to try and smooth the rough places in the road for those of his own who will follow him.

A father is a thing that gets very angry when the first school grades aren't as good as he thinks they should be.

He scolds his son . . . though he knows it's the teacher's fault. A father is a thing that goes away to war, sometimes.

Grow Old Faster And learns to swear and shoot and spit through his teeth and would run the other way except that his war is part of his only important job in life . . . which is making the world better for his child than it was for him. Fathers grow old faster than people.

Because they in other wars, have to stand at the train station and wave goodbye to the uniform that climbs aboard. And while mothers can cry where it shows . . .

Fathers have to stand there and beam outside . . . and die inside. Fathers have very stout hearts, so they have to be broken sometimes or no one would know what's inside.

Fathers are what give daughters away to other men who aren't nearly good enough . . . so they can have grandchildren that are smarter than anybody's.

Fathers fight dragons . . . almost daily.

They hurry away from the breakfast table . . .

Off to the arena which is sometimes called an office or a workshop . . .

There, with calloused, practiced hands they tackle the dragon with three heads . . .

Weariness, work, and monotony. Never Quite Win

And they never quite win the fight; but they never give up. Knights in shining armor . . . Fathers in shiny trousers . . . there's little difference . . .

As they march away to work each workday. Fathers make bets with insurance companies about who'll live the longest.

Though they know the odds they keep right on betting . . . more and more.

And one day they lose.

But fathers enjoy an earthly immortality . . . and the bet's paid off to the part of him he leaves behind.

I don't know . . . where fathers go . . . when they die. But I've an idea that after a good rest . . . wherever it is . . . he won't be happy unless there's work to do.

He won't just sit on a cloud and wait for the girl he's loved and the children she bore . . . He'll be busy there, too . . . repairing the stairs . . . oiling the gates . . . improving the streets . . . smoothing the way.

English kings formerly washed the feet of a number of poor people on Maundy Thursday as a religious rite, but the practice was abandoned after the time of James II.

How many life insurance policies make a life insurance program?

Correct answer: A life insurance program is something more than a number of policies. It is a group of individual policies (it may be 3 or it may be 20) which fit together in a balanced over-all plan for family security. Northwestern Mutual agents are specially trained to review your existing policies, study them carefully and recommend a course of action. At no obligation of course.

Daisy Immell Named Blair Queen of Past

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Miss Daisy Immell will reign as queen of the past at the Blair-Preston Centennial celebration July 2-4.

Chosen by ballot, Miss Immell will take part in a pageant finale in a street scene which presents every day happenings over the years in Blair.

The show, "This Our Beloved Valley," will be presented at the Blair Memorial Park each night of the celebration at 8 p.m.

300 in Cast
A cast of 300 local men, women and children will take part in the production. It is an original production based on the history and founding of Blair and the surrounding area. Its prologue, seven episodes and epilogue will be enacted in 30 scenes.

The finale, "Street Scene," presents everyday happenings on Main street, Blair, as seen through the eyes of the centennial queen of the past, Miss Immell.

The script in free verse was written by a local boy, Verde Kolve, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin this year and a winner of a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford University, England.

Dahl Pageant Master
Pageant master is William Dahl, also a local man, and presently a teacher of vocal music at Whitehall High School.

A graduate of Lawrence College, Appleton, he taught public music and English in Iowa before returning to Wisconsin. This group have won top honors in local, state and national competition.

A production crew of 40 is at work.

The first kangaroo court conducted by Bewhiskered Beaux will be held in the city parking lot Saturday at 8 p.m. A dance with music by Ove Bergerson and His Scandinavians will be held in the city hall after the court session.

Mrs. Julius Erickson, chairman of the flower show, said this week that two women from the West Salem Flower Club would discuss and arrange flowers at the flower show July 2.

Parade July 4
An outstanding feature of the celebration will be a gigantic parade scheduled for July 4 at 1:30 p.m. It will feature floats, high school bands, drum and bugle corps and organizational units with a song theme.

The queen of the future will be crowned the evening of July 2, followed by a coronation ball, the Vikings of Albert Lea, Minn., furnishing music.

A homecoming picnic is scheduled for July 3 at 12:30 p.m. in Memorial Park. The program will pay tribute to those over 70 and beards will be judged.

Every store window in Blair will be dressed with curios of the past. A centennial publication will review in story and picture the history of this area and milestones of progress.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

The three Bad Chaps — Wolfie, Fokie and Bobbie the Bob Cat — were sneaking through the woods. They were very angry.

"Where are we going?" mewed the Bob Cat.

"We are going to catch Uncle Wiggly! This time for sure!" snarled the Wolf.

"You said you were going to tell us why we were so angry because of a bell ringing ding dong," went on Bobbie.

"Yes, I can now tell you why we were so angry because of the ding dong bell," snarled the Wolf.

"We all thought it was a school bell ringing. And we all ran so we wouldn't be late for school. And because we ran, for fear we would be late for school, we didn't catch Uncle Wiggly."

"Yes, I know that," mewed Bobbie the Bob Cat, hoping the other two Bad Chaps were not making fun of his silly little tale.

"But what was wrong with us running away from Uncle Wiggly so we wouldn't be late for school?"

"Oh, how stupid you are!" snarled the Wolf. "Since what have we gone to school?"

"I haven't been to school in a long, long while!" said Fokie.

"Neither have I," growled Wolfie.

"Nor have I," said Bobbie.

"Maybe that's why I am so stupid that I can't guess why we ran away and didn't catch Uncle Wiggly as we heard the bell ring."

Iowa Salesman Convicted of Boy's Kidnap-Slaying

LE MARS, Iowa (AP)—A jury of six men and six women Friday night convicted Ernest J. Triplett, 54, Sioux City music lesson salesman of second degree murder in the abduction-slaying last August of 8-year-old Jimmy Bremmer of Sioux City.

The jury deliberated 4 hours and 23 minutes before reaching a verdict. Second degree murder in Iowa carries a penalty of 10 years to life in prison. No date was set immediately for sentencing. The defense was granted 10 days to file an appeal.

The Bremmer boy disappeared last Aug. 31 and was the object of a mass search covering parts of Nebraska and South Dakota as well as northwest Iowa before his body was found Sept. 29 in a field north of Sioux City.

Triplett had admitted having having Jimmy in his automobile the night he disappeared but steadfastly denied during the trial that he killed the boy.

The state introduced into evidence a tape-recorded statement obtained from Triplett while he was a patient at the state Mental Health Institute at Cherokee, Iowa.

In the statement, which was played back to the jury, Triplett told of striking Jimmy on the back of the head with his fist after the boy had resisted his advances.

University of Minnesota and has just completed two years in the armed forces. He has taught at LeRoy, Minn., one year. He and his family will move here in August.

Swimming Classes To Start at Arcadia

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Miss Mary Harycki, Throp, who has been rehired by the city as swimming instructor for the summer months, has announced that swimming classes will begin Monday.

There will be no regular swimming classes on Fridays — the time for a class in synchronized swimming. It is open to girls of at least intermediate swimming ability.

Adult classes may be organized later. Free swimming instructions for youngsters will be given on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 10 and 10:45 a.m.

Theodore Grassl, senior lifeguard at the pool, will assist Miss Harycki with the classes if they become too large.

William Cashen, pool supervisor, said attendance at the pool is off to a slow start, mainly because of the cool, rainy weather. Baseball instructions being carried on every morning under the tutelage of Cashen.

Rain Interferes With Highway 95 Rebuilding Job

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—In spite of three weeks of rainy weather in which the crews lost about 10 days, work is going forward rapidly on the rebuilding of Highway 95 between Blair in Trempealeau County and Hixton in Jackson County, a distance of about 12 miles.

L. G. Arnold, Inc., Eau Claire, grading, draining and sand lift contractor, has 28 pieces of equipment on the job. Two crews are working west from Taylor toward Blair. They started five weeks ago and work five-day weeks, except in rainy weather. Contract completion schedule is 190 days.

Two major relocations have been made, one south of the Sylvest farm in the Town of Preston and the other about a quarter of a mile north of present Highway 95 in Jackson County near Taylor. There also will be four small bridges on the stretch in addition to drainage culverts.

Sand is being taken from a "borrow" pit north of the highway about three miles east of Blair for part of the deep fill for the 54-foot subgrade top.

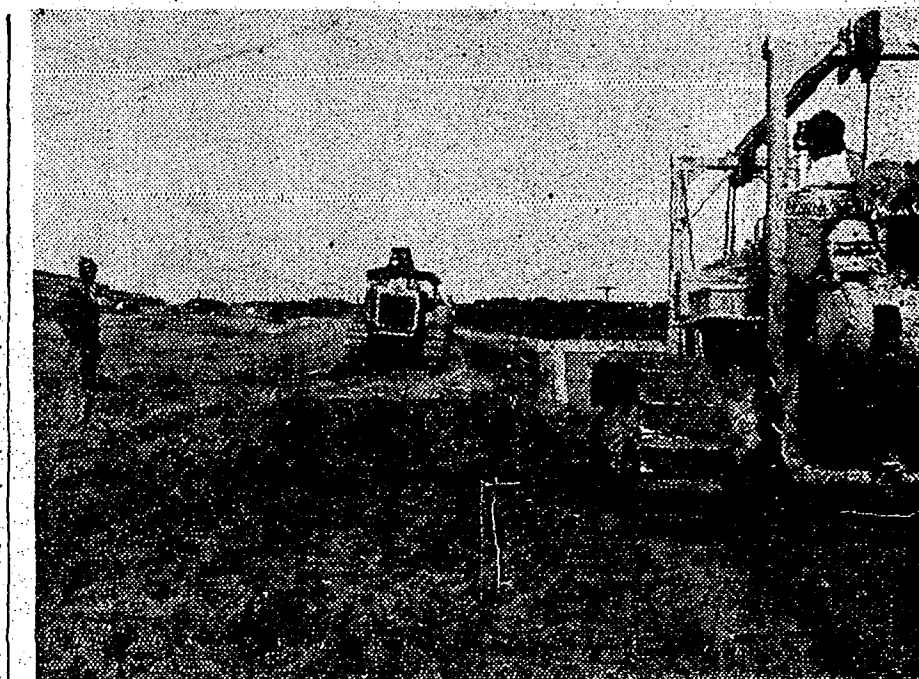

The contract has been let to Plautz Brothers of Willard, Wis., for the base course of gravel or crushed rock. Its low bid was $242,143.74.

"Doc" Whiting of the La Crosse division, State Highway Commission, is the engineer on the job.

The rebuilding of 95 between Blair and Hixton is designed to improve a stretch of road that has been difficult to maintain, particularly during spring breakups and seasons of heavy rainfall.

Place fish in a tightly covered dish when you refrigerate them before cooking; this way the fish odor will not get into any other foods.

Inquest to Be Held in Death of Boy at McGregor

MCGREGOR, Minn. (AP)—An inquest will be held some time next week into the death of Bobby Lawrence, 5, whose body was recovered Friday from nearby Big Sandy flowage.

William Hudson, deputy Aitkin County coroner, said date of the inquest would depend upon completion of a report on a post mortem examination being made by Dr. William V. Knoll, pathologist at Duluth, where the body was taken Friday night.

Funeral services also were held in abeyance until the autopsy is completed. Parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lawrence, Scanlon, were reported still in a state of semi-shock as result of the tragedy.

Finally, Mrs. Starr put her foot down. The fish had to go. Linda tearfully complied. But the potent aroma lingered on . . . and on. Mrs. Starr found out why when she apologized for the cruel separation.

"Oh, that's all right," said Linda, digging into the pocket of her jeans. "I still have two more."

It's So Nice to Have Those Fish Around the House

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The odor of fish has almost quit the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Starr, despite the efforts of Linda, aged 3.

Linda caught five small bream a few days ago and won a prize in the junior fishing rodeo sponsored by the Commercial Appeal. She didn't want to give her fish up.

Finally, Mrs. Starr put her foot down. The fish had to go. Linda tearfully complied. But the potent aroma lingered on . . . and on. Mrs. Starr found out why when she apologized for the cruel separation.

"Oh, that's all right," said Linda, digging into the pocket of her jeans. "I still have two more."

Commissioning Slated July 3 At Calvary Bible

The Rev. Donald Lee Chadbourne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Chadbourne, Winona R. 3, will be commissioned for the Angola African mission at a July 3 service at Calvary Bible Church.

He has enrolled at the inter-session summer school at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. After his commissioning here he will leave for Lisbon, Portugal, and a year of language training.

Pastor Chadbourne, a 1954 graduate of Midwest Bible and Missionary Institute, St. Louis, Mo., has spent the last several months touring the country enlisting support for his mission career.

He will be commissioned by the Rev. Henry Hawkins, Ypsilanti, Mich., central states director of the South Africa General Mission, a faith work under which the Rev. Mr. Chadbourne will serve. The mission director will head a mission conference at Calvary Bible, June 30-July 3. The Rev. N. E. Hamilton is pastor.

Courses at Wheaton which the Rev. Mr. Chadbourne is taking include missionary methods of the Bible.

16 Witnesses Plan To Attend Conclave

Sixteen delegates from the Winona congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend an assembly at Comiskey Park, Chicago, June 22-26.

Henry Hosting, presiding minister here, who will head the delegation, announced today that a total of 40,000 are expected to attend from the Midwest.

Hosting described this assembly as one of a world-sweeping series of 11 Christian conventions. "In 1953," Hosting pointed out, "we had one international gathering of ministers at Yankee Stadium in New York that drew a peak attendance of 165,829 from 87 lands. This year we hope our combined attendance will double that."

Cities in the United States and Canada named as convention sites are Chicago, Vancouver, B. C., Los Angeles, Dallas and New York. Those in Europe are London, Paris, Rome, Nuremberg, Stockholm and The Hague.

Arrangements are already under way to send over 4,500 delegates from the United States and Canada.

IT'S IN THE BIBLE!

Man Accused of Posing as Priest, Robbing Poor Boxes

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A man released from prison less than a month ago has been accused of posing as a priest and robbing collection and poor boxes in Roman Catholic churches and parochial schools of more than $5,000.

Police yesterday arrested Robert L. Markman, 45, in a mid-Manhattan hotel. Detectives said they found in Markman's room some clerical garb and a brief case containing a screw driver, hacksaw and skeleton keys.

Markman, who has a record of 28 arrests, was quoted as saying he spent the money on women and good food which he liked "equally well."

World's Largest Revolving Globe Is Dedicated

WELLESLEY, Mass. (U.P.)—A revolving globe of the world 28 feet in diameter and taller than a two-story house was dedicated today at Babson Institute of Business Administration.

The 25-ton steel globe, believed to be the world's largest, cost nearly a quarter million dollars and was donated to the college by financier Roger W. Babson.

The globe was designed on a scale of 24 miles to the inch by George C. Izenor of New Haven, Conn. It will be used as a visual aid in the teaching of such courses as history, geography, global transportation and communications, military strategy, world literature, export and import trade, government and law, and international and regional economics.

Little Brown Church Noting 100th Birthday

NASHUA, Iowa — The Little Brown Church in the Vale is observing its centennial celebration this year.

The church, which has been a popular wedding spot for many couples from southern Minnesota, will mark the event with 10 consecutive special services beginning with a homecoming and pioneer day Sunday.

Worship services will be held at 8:15 and 11 a.m. The Rev. Glenn Utterback, pastor for 27 years at the church, will welcome the visitors, and Dr. Walter S. Wood, pastor of First Baptist Church, Austin, Ill., will be guest minister. The early service will be broadcast over a Chicago radio station.

Featured at the event will be the Weatherwax brothers, formerly of Charles City, Iowa, well-known singers of the song, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale." They will attend both services.

Visitors at the centennial will find an exhibit of letters, photographs and articles regarding the church and the old Bradford community on display in the church basement. Sunday afternoon, the Nashua centennial committee will have a program at the fairgrounds as Nashua also is celebrating its 100th anniversary this year.

Pope Reaffirms Good Will for 2 Exiled Prelates

VATICAN CITY (U.P.) — Pope Pius XII has reaffirmed his good will for two Argentine prelates expelled by the Peron government and for the entire Roman Catholic clergy and people of Argentina.

The 79-year-old head of the church expressed his sentiments in a private audience yesterday with the two churchmen — Msgr. Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires, and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Pablo Novoa.

Msgr. Tato told a news conference last night that they knew nothing about the revolt which broke out in Argentina on Thursday, one day after police put them aboard a Rome-bound airplane. Their expulsion led the Vatican to excommunicate all persons, including Argentine President Peron, who had a hand in the action against them.

The two prelates arrived here Thursday night and were received by the Pope yesterday morning. In the hour and 25 minute audience, the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore said, the pontiff "vividly interested himself in their dolorous trials."

Msgr. Tato held a news conference at the Latin American Pontifical College, where he and Msgr. Novoa have been staying. "I know nothing of what has happened these past three days," he said. "I am an Argentine. I was born in Buenos Aires, my family lives there—my brothers. But I know nothing of all these events since I was called to the Buenos Aires police headquarters on Tuesday with my assistant, Msgr. Novoa."

AT BAPTIST CONFERENCE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Miss Jean Gardner, Minnesota City, is attending the National Older Youth Conference at the American Baptist Assembly here. The conference will continue through Friday.

Minister to Show Second Coming

The Rev. O. E. Carter

The second coming of Christ, as portrayed on a 7-by-11-foot oil painting, will be presented at the Assemblies of God here next Wednesday and Thursday at 7:45 p.m.

The Rev. O. E. Carter, Rochester, who painted the picture, will speak and with his wife will present special music. The public is invited.

He has presented his talk and picture in churches of many denominations and in public meetings.

Winonan Delegate To Seventh-Day Adventist Congress

Among the nearly 2,000 delegates attending a Seventh-Day Adventist laymen's congress at Kansas City, Mo. Tuesday through Saturday will be Melvin Edelbach of the Winona church.

This will be one of three congresses attended by laymen from all parts of the U. S. and Canada. Others are scheduled for Portland, Ore., Aug. 2-6, and Grand Lodge, Mich., near Lansing, Aug. 30 to Sept. 3.

Purpose of these meetings will be to instruct laymen "How to teach and preach salvation through Jesus Christ," Elder Percy Lamb, pastor of the local church, said.

"The task facing Christianity is a tremendous one and it cannot be accomplished by ministers alone. Laymen must work shoulder to shoulder with their pastors," he said.

"The scriptural prophecy for earth's last days stating that man's hearts will fail them for fear is being literally fulfilled," the elder said.

"Stress, strain and worry are bringing premature death to many. The basic doctrine that there is real hope for all who accept Christ as their Saviour must be told to millions whose lives are now ruled by fear," he stated.

At the coming training conventions there will be lectures by church leaders but most of the sessions will be devoted to workshops, discussion groups, problems clinics and demonstrations. Delegates will study all phases of lay evangelism. Each congress will conclude with a dedication service.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

(West Sanborn and Main)
"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be read at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Scriptural selections from the King James version of the Bible and the supremacy of spiritual power and include the account of Christ Jesus tending the multitude as recorded by Matt. 14:13-20 and John 6:1-13 of Jesus walking on the sea.

Among the other passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: "23-24:35—never obtained a material law to annul the spiritual law. If there were such a material law, it would oppose the supremacy of Spirit, God and impugn the wisdom of the creator. Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material law."

Lake-Aires, One Of Four Quartets In Jaycee Show

The Lake-Aires quartet, one of the barbershop quartets appearing on the Winona Junior Association of Commerce presentation, "Show Boat," at the Winona Senior High School Saturday at 8 p. m., is one of the most popular quartets in the Land O'Lakes district.

They are members of the Minneapolis Chapter of SFEBSQA, Inc., and was second place in the district competition at Green Bay, Wis., in 1954.

Organized in 1951, the Lake-Aires are considered an outstanding quartet with their own distinctive style of singing, and have appeared on television, radio and show in North Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The Lake-Aires will appear in the Winona "Show Boat" presentation along with four other barbershop quartets, the Four Errors, the Ewald Golden Guernseys, the Atomic Bums and the Northmen.

The Minneapolis chorus of 80 voices under the direction of Judge Luther Sletten, will round out the two-hour show. Tickets are on sale at St. Clair & Gunderson, or may be obtained from any Jaycee member.

RICHARDSON FAMILY

ARKANSAW, Wis. (Special)—The annual Richardson reunion was held Sunday at the Durand Rod and Gun Club. Five members of the original Charles Richardson Sr., family were present for the reunion. Mrs. Albert (Etta) Schrueth, and Mrs. Edward (Lillian) Schrueth, Pepin, and William, Walter and Roy Richardson all of this area. The oldest member of the present family present was W. C. Richardson, 78, former county judge. The youngest was 10-day-old Elwood Richardson, son of Everett Richardson. The 11 children in the family of Walter Richardson represented the largest single group present. A family tree has been prepared by Mrs. Merrill Skoglund of Pepin. Officers elected for the new year were Jerald Richardson, president; Roy Richardson, vice president; Rosemary Murray, secretary and Arthur Richardson, treasurer.

The Marriage Of Mr. and Mrs. Arden Stein, above, took place May 28 in the Little Brown Church, Nashua, Iowa. Mrs. Stein is the former Charlotte Wibel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wibel, Nelson, Wis., and Mr. Stein is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stein, Pepin, Wis.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white lace and net over satin, and a veil, and carried red carnations. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Alva Schwartz, Wabasha, matron of honor, who wore a pink floor-length gown of lace and net over satin, and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Bernard Martin, Pepin, attended the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Alma High School and the bridegroom of Pepin High School. They are making their home in Pepin. (Wehrenberg photo)

Alice L. Jahnke Wed in Ceremony At Pepin Church

PEPIN, Wis. (Special)— In a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Frederick Smith at the Pepin Methodist Church, Miss Alice Louise Jahnke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Jahnke, Pepin, became the bride of Lloyd Henry Bergman, Minneapolis, son of Mrs. Clara Bergman, Hampton, Iowa, June 11 at 2 p.m.

Yellow and white gladioli decorated the church. The bride's brother, Dennis Jahnke, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." White embroidered organza fashioned the floor-length gown of the bride who was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Virgil Jahnke, Tomah, Wis., as matron of honor, and by the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Leon Bergman, Madison, Wis., as bridesmaid. The bride carried yellow roses.

The matron of honor was in yellow embroidered organza and the bridesmaid in blue embroidered organza, both dresses made like the bride's. The former carried blue carnations and the latter, yellow carnations.

Leon F. Bergman, Madison was his brother's best man and Merlyn Jahnke and Harold Bergman ushered.

The bride's mother wore a printed sheer frock and the bridegroom's mother, a navy dress. They wore corsages of yellow carnations.

A reception for 100 was held at 3 p.m. in the church annex where red and white peonies were decorations. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a flowered navy linen frock with white accessories. They will make their home in Minneapolis.

Peonies And Lighted Candles made the setting at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Suchla at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Arcadia, Wis. The bride is the former Mary Lou Pronschniske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Pronschniske, Arcadia Rt. 2, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Suchla, Arcadia Rt. 2.

Paul Suchla, Bride Return From Minneapolis

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — In a setting of peonies and lighted candles in candelabra on the altar of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, Arcadia, Miss Mary Lou Pronschniske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Pronschniske, Arcadia Rt. 2, became the bride of Paul Suchla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Suchla, Arcadia Rt. 1, at a nuptial high Mass June 6 at 8:30 a.m.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Cyril J. Smyrna. Traditional nuptial music was played by the church organist, Sr. Mary Leora. Hymns were sung by the high school choir, accompanied by Sr. Mary Leora.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white floor-length gown of lace and nylon tulle. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace had a nylon tulle yoke with applied lace flowers, pointed collar and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt of nylon tulle over taffeta had four scalloped tiers of Chantilly lace, and was worn over a crinoline.

Her circular illusion net veil was held in place by a headdress of Chantilly lace trimmed with sequins. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white feathered carnations encircling red rosebuds, and a sterling silver rosary, gift of the bridegroom.

The bride chose her sister, Miss Lois Pronschniske, Arcadia, as her maid of honor. The attendant wore an orchid crystalline floor-length gown fashioned with shirred bodice, an embroidered matching jacket and gloves, a headdress of two shirred bands of nylon tulle. She carried a colonial bouquet of Nile green feathered carnations encircling yellow roses, and wore earrings the color of her gown, gift of the bride.

Attending the bride as bridesmaids were Mrs. Rudolph Suchla, Arcadia, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Romona Thomas, Arcadia, niece of the bridegroom. The attendants wore Nile green gowns and headdresses identical in style to that of the maid of honor. Their flowers were colonial bouquets of orchid-feathered carnations encircling yellow roses. They also wore earrings to match their gowns, gifts from the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Rudolph Suchla, Arcadia, as best man and Francis Pronschniske, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. Ushers were John Klimek and Donald Suchla, both of Arcadia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pronschniske wore a beige mesh suit dress with red accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a dotted sheer dress with navy accessories. They wore corsages of red roses.

Shirley Senrick Becomes Bride At St. Martin's

A white orchid showered with stephanotis was carried on a white Bible by Miss Shirley Ann Senrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Senrick, 561 E. Sanborn St., when she became the bride of William Christopherson, 204 W. Sanborn St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Christopherson, Wykoff, Minn., at St. Martin's Lutheran Church June 4.

White and pink peonies in gold altar baskets and palms made a background for the ceremony performed at 3 p.m. by the Rev. H. F. Backer. Emanuel Arndt, organist, played traditional wedding marches and Duayne Malewicki sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A gown of Chantilly type lace and pleated nylon tulle over bride's suit was worn by the bride who was given in marriage by her father.

The dress was designed with scoop neckline trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, long sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt with pointed lace panels extending into finely pleated nylon tulle. The skirt was worn over a hoop.

The bride's veil of imported silk illusion edged with lace fell from a shell hat of lace, paneled with pleated nylon tulle, seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her pearl necklace and earrings were gifts of the bridegroom.

Blush pink lace and nylon net over taffeta was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Theodore Keller, St. Charles, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Harry Thompson, Austin, sister of the bridegroom, in yellow and Miss Selby Buck in mist blue.

The gowns were made alike with lace extending into nylon net on the full floor-length skirts, and matching lace boleros. They wore headpieces of matching nylon with tiny flowers.

Mrs. Keller carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations centered with white carnations, Mrs. Thompson's bouquet was edged with orchid carnations and Miss Buck's with light blue carnations. Rhinestone bracelets and earrings were their gifts from the bride.

The flower girl, Nancy Rupprecht, niece of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rupprecht, Lewiston, Minn., was dressed in a floor-length frock of white lace and nylon tulle made like the bride's gown. She wore a white headdress like the matron of honor's, and carried a colonial bouquet of pastel carnations. She was given a bracelet by the bride.

Steven Christopherson, nephew of the bridegroom, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Christopherson, Wykoff, was ringbearer.

Paul Erdman, Wykoff, served as best man and Alton Senrick, Lewiston, brother of the bride, and Arnold Boese, Goodview, as groomsmen. Ushers were Stanley Christopherson, Wykoff, brother of the bridegroom, and Victor Grabau, Elgin.

A wedding reception was held at the Winona Athletic Club from 4 to 8 p.m. for 200 guests. Decorations were white and pink peonies. Mrs. Edgar Rupprecht, Lewiston, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Alton Senrick, a sister-in-law, poured. Mrs. Victor Erdman, Rushford, another sister, served the wedding cake, and Miss Sandra Senrick and

William Christopherson And His Bride, the former Shirley Ann Senrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Senrick, 561 E. Sanborn St., are at home here until September when they will teach in Grand Meadow, Minn. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Christopherson, Wykoff, Minn. (Durfee Studios)

Miss Doris Erdman were in charge of the guest book.
The bride's mother wore navy with white accessories and the bridegroom's mother, pearl gray with white. Their flowers were red roses.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Forest Lake and the Twin Cities, the bride wore an aqua suit trimmed in white, white accessories and a white orchid corsage. She attended Winona Senior High School, and will be graduated from WSTC in July.

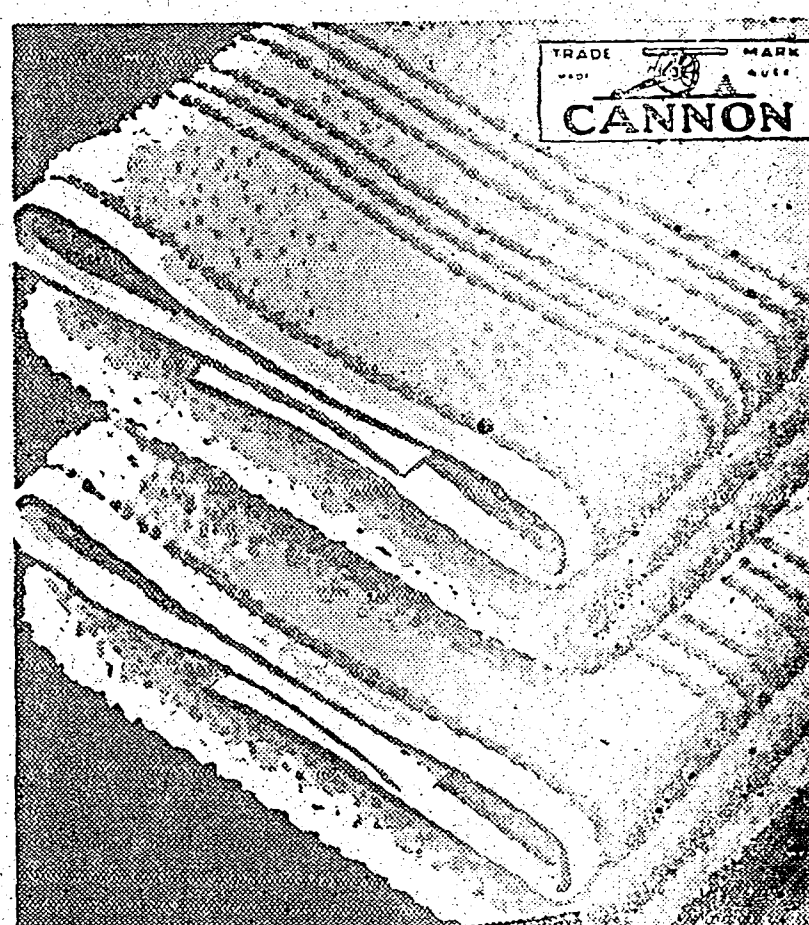

The bridegroom attended Wykoff High School, was graduated from Rochester Junior College, and will be graduated from WSTC in July. They will make their home at 561½ E. Sanborn St., until September, when they will teach at Grand Meadow, Minn., Mrs. Christopherson the first grade, and Mr. Christopherson, social studies and general science in addition to coaching basketball.

President Works On U.N. Speech

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower turned to work today on a major address which he will make at U.N. 10th anniversary ceremonies in San Francisco Monday.

The President planned to study a preliminary draft of the speech at his country home here.

In a message of thanks yesterday to Dag Hammarskjold, the U.N. secretary general, the President said he considered his U.N. address "both a responsibility and a great opportunity to present to the world the abiding hope of our people that this international organization in its second decade will be an increasingly more potent force for peace among the nations."

The President arrived at his farm yesterday after concluding "Operation Alert" with the prayerful hope the United States never will be hit by an atomic attack.

Eisenhower motored to his country home from the secret mountain base from which he directed the government three days after "fleeing" a mock nuclear assault on Washington.

The President plans to return to Washington tomorrow morning in time to leave by plane for San Francisco about 3 p.m. EDT. He will return to the capital from the West Coast Tuesday.

Argentine Police Arrest 2 More Catholic Priests

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Federal police announced today the arrest of two more Roman Catholic priests, bringing to 85 the total seized in the past seven months.

They were identified as the Fathers Jose Dardi, an Italian, Juan Grillo, a Yugoslav, taken into custody in Bragado in Buenos Aires province.

Most of the 85 taken into custody have been released after brief periods of detention.

A Montevideo dispatch said a broadcast heard there reported the Argentine Ministry of Interior had ordered release of all priests now held under arrest. This was not borne out in the dispatch from Buenos Aires.

Norman Thomas Doubts Socialists Will Run Candidate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Norman Thomas, six times candidate for president on the Socialist ticket, doubts if the Socialists will nominate anybody for president in 1956.

He said that Socialist party strength is "low." He told a press conference that if an election were held now Eisenhower would win.

"But there would be a Democratic Congress," he said. "And this he (Eisenhower) would be thankful for, as so far it has been the Democrats in Congress who have saved most of his measures that had merit. He should pray that this will continue."

Vatican Proclaims Day of Prayer for Argentine Church

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican has proclaimed a day of prayer Sunday for the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina.

The Vatican in announcing this today showed its grave concern over Argentine developments by giving a leading role in ceremonies tomorrow to Msgr. Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires, whose expulsion by the Peron government led to the excommunication of all those involved.

Pope Pius XII has reaffirmed his good will for two Argentine prelates expelled by the Peron government and for the entire Roman Catholic clergy and people of Argentina.

The 79-year-old head of the church expressed his sentiments in a private audience Friday with the two churchmen — Msgr. Manuel Tato and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Pablo Novoa.

Msgr. Tato told a news conference Friday night that they knew nothing about the revolt which broke out in Argentina on Thursday, one day after police put them aboard a Rome-bound airliner.

Plan Proposed to Cut Drug Peddling

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Academy of Medicine says providing drugs at low cost to narcotics addicts, while attempting to rehabilitate them, would take the profit motive out of drug peddling and thus reduce the traffic.

The academy, in a report yesterday to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said addicts should be treated as sick persons and given medical supervision, adding:

"Since about 85 per cent of the 'pushers' on the streets are said to be addicts, they would be glad to forego this dangerous occupation if they were furnished with their needed drugs. Thus the bulk for the traffic would substantially disappear."

Former Wife Of Bandleader Asking $214,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The ex-wife of bandleader Archie Bleyer says he has failed to live up to their financial settlement and is suing him for $214,000.

In 1952 Bleyer agreed to give her $925 a week plus a 15 per cent cut of any earnings over $120,000, said Kitty Bleyer in papers on file in State Supreme Court yesterday.

Not only is he behind in his payments on a gross income of $900,614 from 1952 through 1954, she said, but he has taken steps to hide his true income from her.

Bleyer married Kitty in 1939. After their divorce he married Jane Ertel, a former singing chordeite on the Arthur Godfrey show.

Once musical director of Godfrey's television shows, Bleyer was fired in 1953 at about the time of Julius La Rosa's highly publicized on-the-air dismissal.

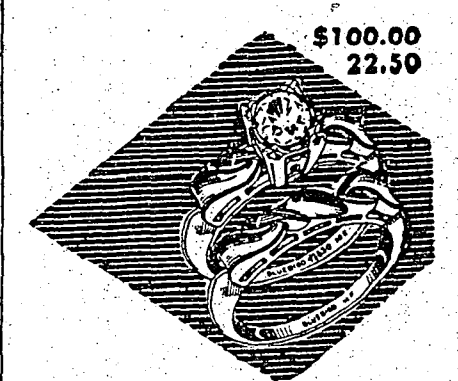

Contaminated Water Blamed for Death of Boy

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Outagamie County Coroner Bernard Kemps reported that an inquest has found the death May 13 of 7-year-old Jerry Wallace was caused by an "overwhelming infection apparently due to drinking contaminated water."

Mrs. Doris Wallace of Appleton and Lloyd Wallace of Milwaukee, parents of the little boy, have filed a claim for $25,000 with the city, contending he died "by reason of consuming raw sewage" discharged into a ravine within the city.

Witnesses at the inquest testified that Jerry drank three cups of water from a quantity in the ravine on May 11, and that another little boy drank part of one and became violently ill.

Lone Gunman Takes $12,000 From Iowa Bank

VINTON, Iowa (AP)—A lone gunman held up the Mount Auburn Savings Bank at 9:30 a.m. today and the Benton County Sheriff's office said he fled with $12,000 currency.

Mount Auburn is seven miles northwest of Vinton.

A report from Sheriff Ed Thompson said the gunman flashed a blue steel automatic on Robert W. Hadley, bank cashier, and forced him to turn over bank currency.

The loot was in 100-dollar, 50-dollar, 20-dollar and 5 and 10-dollar bills.

Hadley was tied up by the bandit before he departed, early reports said, but no injuries were reported.

The bandit was described as 50 to 55, wearing horn-rimmed glasses and a dark business suit and hat. His height was estimated at 5-5 inches and weight at 160.

State highway patrolmen in northeast Iowa, including off-duty patrolmen, were promptly alerted and road blocks were set up.

The bandit car was believed to have headed south out of Mount Auburn, a town of about 225.

"This may be a rough one," the Benton County Sheriff's office said. "There are so many roads in the area it will be difficult to make a road block effective."

A blue-green 1955 Ford coach which was stolen at Walford early Thursday was being sought as the probable bandit car.

It was Iowa's fifth bank holdup this year. Three of the four previous holdups were quickly solved and the bandits in each case have been sentenced. Still unsolved is the early February $3,000 holdup of the Lamont office of the Farmers State Savings Bank of Independence. Lamont is about 60 miles northeast of Mount Auburn.

2 Found Dead in Wreckage of Plane

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—The bodies of two men were found Friday in the wreckage of an American light plane in the bush country 20 miles west of Sioux Lookout in northwestern Ontario.

Canadian air force officials said they had received word through a series of relays from an 11-man search party that the fuselage of the Beech Bonanza craft had been found along with the bodies of pilot Charles Day of Short Hills, N.J., and passenger Douglas M. Hains, general tourist agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal.

The two men had been reported missing since June 8 while on a 110-mile flight from Kapuskasing, Ont., to Kenora.

the air attacks were the U.S. and British embassies. Falling bombs broke windows and caused other slight damage in the American embassy, located in the building of the First National Bank of Boston, a block from the Plaza de Mayo.

A bomb that missed Peron's residence in suburban Palermo shattered all the glass in the British embassy.

Across the Rio de la Plata, in Montevideo, Uruguayan authorities reported that 122 Argentine naval officers and men sought sanctuary there after fleeing from Argentina in 39 planes.

The Air Ministry banned air traffic to and from Buenos Aires and its vicinity but it was believed that this order would be lifted soon.

Peron, who was excommunicated by the Vatican a few hours before the revolt broke out, insisted in his broadcast that "We are not fighting religion."

At issue, he said, was the question of whether the Roman Catholic Church should remain the official state church as it is now, or whether the legal ties between church and state should be severed.

He urged again and again that Argentines remain calm and let this issue be settled at the polls, probably late this year, when an assembly is scheduled to be elected to consider amending the constitution to cut these ties.

Thursday referring to a study by "federal authority" to determine whether action would be taken against returning prisoners left open the question of procedure.

Will Investigate Causes (A Defense Department spokesman said the case of each individual would be investigated closely if the men actually return to American control.)

(Preliminary inquiries presumably would be made by Army boards in the six Army areas of the United States. Recommendations of those boards would be passed along to Army headquarters in Washington, then to the Defense Department and then to the Justice Department, a civilian agency.)

If the Justice Department decided the men were liable to prosecution, the spokesman said, it might refer the cases back to the Army for trial on whatever charges the Army drew up on the basis of its investigations.

(The cases would be referred to the Justice Department, it was explained, because the prisoners now are civilians. They went into that status under the terms of the Korean armistice and because Defense Secretary Wilson issued "administrative" dishonorable discharges for the men who refused to come home in the prisoner exchange. The explanation of the "administrative" discharge was that it was impossible to try the men by court martial and issue regular dishonorable discharges

Operation Alert Over, No New Powers Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government alerted today from "Operation Alert 1955" with a clear decision to rely on the "inherent powers" of the presidency to mobilize the country under any anticipated real knockout attack.

This decision appeared to rule out any possibility that the administration would seek standby powers from Congress to invoke a swift "freeze" of wages and prices and to assume control of materials and production.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming said the decision to rely instead on the President's inherent powers, as part of which Eisenhower invoked a pretended state of martial law, was the "most important" of the three-day test.

The President rested at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm today and the remainder of the government had returned to Washington from the 31 hideouts to which 15,000 key officials and workers fled Wednesday in advance of the simulated atom and hydrogen bomb attack. From the hideouts they went through the motions of putting a theoretically stricken nation back on its feet.

Speaking from one of the command posts, Flemming discussed the test with newsmen as the operation ended.

Instead of setting up a reservoir of powers in advance, he said, the President at the moment of attack would invoke his "full and inherent powers." Flemming said Eisenhower made the decision only after he was advised of "the full facts of the devastating attack" which was simulated in the test exercise.

Presumably the federally proclaimed martial law would remain in effect only until Congress—whether in recess, blasted out of existence, or scattered in evacuation of the capital—could be reconstituted or reassembled to declare war formally and enact war powers legislation.

Garner Aiding Democrat Drive To Reclaim Texas

By DAVE CHEAVENS
LUALDE, Tex. (AP)—Former Vice President John Nance Garner emerges from his self-imposed political exile for the second time since 1941 tomorrow to boost the Democratic party's drive to reclaim Texas.

National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler will be the luncheon guest of crusty "Cactus Jack." Then Garner has invited "everybody" to gather on the shady lawn of his home here to meet the chairman of the National Democratic Committee.

Butler is touring Texas in an effort to reunite feuding party factions and to make sure this state's presidential electors return to the Democratic fold in 1956 after the 1952 defection to the GOP.

The party factions split three years ago when a large segment led by Gov. Allan Shivers supported Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower. Shivers and his closest allies have snubbed the Butler pep meetings. Butler said his own refusal of a Shivers' luncheon invitation was no snub, but he couldn't go because he was running on a tight schedule.

Garner came out of his political shell in 1952 to give Adlai Stevenson a lift when the state organization under Shivers' guidance campaigned for the GOP.

The former vice president ate breakfast with Stevenson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, who spearheaded the national party's campaign in Texas. Then they all appeared on the front porch of Garner's home where a crowd of more than 1,000 heard the nominee and the former vice president.

Italian Princess, 14, Weds Millionaire, 75

LUCCA, Italy (AP)—A 14-year-old Italian princess was honeymooning in a Swiss hideout today with a 75-year-old millionaire count she married in a bush ceremony in the dead of night.

The couple was married in a little church near this picturesque walled city late Thursday night. They slipped away to Switzerland immediately afterward. News of the marriage leaked out only today and caused a sensation in Italy.

The bride, Princess Lidia Maria Antonia Caracciolo di Torella, will not be 15 until July 25.

Papal dispensation for the marriage was granted to the young girl both because of her age and because the groom, Count Aubrey William Tealdi, is a Protestant.

Girl Killed in Fall After Family Argument

NEW YORK (AP)—After quarreling noisily with her father about the hours she had been keeping, a 15-year-old girl plunged to her death from her apartment window, police reported.

Daisy Homs and her father had argued so loudly last night that police were summoned. They left when the dispute appeared to have quieted.

Called back two hours later, they found the girl had jumped or fallen from the fourth-floor East Harlem apartment.

Alabama Jury Refuses to Indict Hypnotist Attacker
MOBILE Ala. (AP)—A Mobilian charged with hypnotizing the young wife of a friend, telling her he was her husband and raping her, was not indicted by the county grand jury which reported yesterday.

State Solicitor Carl M. Booth said the jury declined to indict Jesse Overton Jr., 25, a television repairman. He had been arrested May 28 on the complaint of the woman and her husband.

The 17-year-old woman, mother of a 4-month-old child, said that Overton raped her after putting her in a trance.

Bear Sits on Horn, Cancels Ride to City
GRAND MARAIS, Minn. (AP)—M. J. Humphrey, local photographer just "beardy" got his car back Friday afternoon after going in the woods along the Gunflint Trail to take some bear pictures.

After trekking about two miles into a beaver dam, Humphrey returned to find the interior of his car a veritable shambles. A bear had got into the machine to tear up seat cushions and upholstery.

What's more, bruin had walked over the hood to leave numerous dents. Humphrey said the animal apparently was scared away when it inadvertently sat on the horn button.

Army Trapping Rebel Forces In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A national army spokesman said today 15 members of the encircled Hoa Hao religious sect army have been killed, 50 wounded and 16 captured in hand to hand fighting the past 24 hours.

Authorities said the rebel forces are trapped in a four-mile square between Rachgia on the west coast and Thot Not, 35 miles northeast. They are threatened by 15 government battalions.

Action to Block New State Tax On Tobacco Filed
ST. PAUL (AP)—An action to block imposition of the new tobacco tax enacted by the 1955 Legislature on the ground that it is unconstitutional was filed in Ramsey County District Court Friday.

The 1955 tax law calls for a tax of 15 per cent on tobacco other than cigarettes, which now pay a four-cents-a-package tax.

The tax is imposed on wholesale distributors of cigars, smoking tobacco, snuff and chewing tobacco. Estimates at the time it was enacted were that it would raise $750,000 a year. The tax is to go into effect July 1.

The action was filed by the E. B. Crabtree Co., Minneapolis tobacco distributor, against G. Howard Spaeth, state tax commissioner.

The Crabtree action alleges the tax is unconstitutional because it would not affect purchases made outside the state and mailed or brought into Minnesota, and that it taxes only those floor stocks on hand July 1 which were purchased outside the state.

Senate Extends Pollution Control
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Friday passed a bill to extend indefinitely the water pollution control act now scheduled to expire June 30, 1956.

As recommended by the Senate Public Works Committee the bill would authorize continuation of federal-state cooperation in the development of comprehensive water pollution control programs; increase technical assistance to states; intensify and broaden research on pollution problems; and increase grants for pollution studies.

The bill authorizes the appropriation of two million dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and annually thereafter for grants to states and interstate agencies to assist in the establishment and maintenance of adequate prevention and control measures.

Israel Patrol, Jordanians Clash
JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP)—An Israel military spokesman said an Israel patrol clashed today with a group of armed Jordanians who had penetrated into Israel territory near Kfar Saba in the coastal plain.

He said one Jordanian was killed in an exchange of fire and the others retreated across the border. In the incident Friday night, Israeli troops fired on the Jordanians, injuring an 18-year-old Jewish girl on guard duty outside Kfar Menachem village.

A dispatch from the Jordan sector of Jerusalem said an Israeli patrol penetrated into Jordan territory, exchanged fire with Jordan guards, kidnapped one and shot him to death on Israeli soil. Jordan lodged a complaint with the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission on the incident, the first in six weeks along the Jordan-Israeli frontier.

Florida Couple Still Missing

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Rewards reached $15,250 and an intermediary waited beside his telephone today but there was still no word in the mysterious disappearance of Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth and his wife.

Investigators admitted they were without a motive or a single clue 72 hours after the tall, lean, 57-year-old jurist and his wife, Marjorie, 57, vanished from their oceanfront home.

Authorities apparently clung to the theory that the widely known and respected couple had been forcibly abducted for ransom or revenge.

Reports that the FBI had entered the investigation were denied.

Two divers combed the ocean floor opposite the home at Manalapan, 10 miles south of West Palm Beach, which the missing couple left sometime Tuesday night. The divers found nothing.

Authorities said they have not ruled out the possibility that the judge and his wife were seized for ransom, but are giving equal consideration to the possibility that they were abducted for revenge.

By one of the hundreds who had faced him in capital crimes during his many years on the bench.

The beds had been slept in. There were no signs of violence in the house and money and other items usually carried were found in the judge's trouser pockets and his wife's purse. Only the judge's eyeglasses were missing. A floodlight overlooking the beach had been smashed.

There were bloodstains on the steps and around a small shelter at the beach, indicating the couple may have been taken out to sea.

The disappearance of the Chillingworths was strikingly similar to that of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferri, who vanished from their Miami home last May 1. There were some bloodstains in the Ferri home. Not a single clue has been uncovered in the Ferri case.

2 Marks Broken In NCAA Track Preliminaries

Nash Expected
To Push Golliday
In 100 Finals Today

By GRAHAM BERRY

LOS ANGELES — With two marks smashed—one by three men—in the preliminaries, the nation's top collegiate track and field athletes assault the record book anew today in finals of the 34th NCAA championships.

Jerry Church of Oregon State and two other qualifiers bested the existing collegiate javelin record of 228-8 3/8. Northwestern's Jim Golliday sprinted the 220 around one turn in 20.9, a fifth of a second better than the existing NCAA mark.

These efforts and the lack of it by Arnie Sowell, Pittsburgh, favored to retain his 880 title, highlighted yesterday's card. Sowell finished fourth in a heat in which only the first three qualified.

Church got off a javelin throw of 222-6, an inch better than Charley Higgins of Brigham Young, who placed second ahead of Phil Conley, Cal-Tech. Conley tossed one 231-7.

Golliday won his semifinal 220 heat in 21.1 and tied the Coliseum record of 9.5 in a 100-yard dash preliminary.

Minnesota's Harry Nash and Dean Smith of Texas are expected to push Golliday in the century. Art Pollard of Penn State won his semifinal 220 and 212.

Sowell's failure to qualify was a major upset.

The winning time was 1:32.5. USC's hopes to win its seventh successive NCAA team title received a slight setback when Mike Lairabee was ordered off the track by starter Willard Greim of Denver for jumping the gun twice.

Three teams, Kansas, UCLA and Penn State, qualified more men in the preliminaries, but the Trojans are counting heavily on points in the high jump and pole vault, two events in which no preliminaries were held. Kansas qualified seven men, UCLA six, Penn State five, and Missouri, USC and Texas four each.

2 Bandits Employ Sharp Technique

INGLEWOOD, Calif. — Two bandits used a sharp technique to make sure they wouldn't be followed.

After robbing three employees of the Inglewood Finance Co. yesterday of $319, the gunmen took off their victims' shoes—and then scattered carpet tacks on the floor. Manager Don Knox, 47, didn't try to pursue the bandits. He phoned police instead.

Seifer-Baldwin 7, Graham-McGuire 0
UCT 9, Police 1

Kim Chappell put his Seifert-Baldwin Pee Wee League team into the victory column the first time this season by hurling a no-hit, no-run victory over Graham-McGuire Friday.

Chappell struck out 13 batters and walked only two in the five-inning game. He struck out the side in the first, fourth and fifth innings.

Seifert-Baldwin got only three hits, including a pair of singles by Bob Grosenick.

Veterans of Foreign Wars lost to Mississippi Valley Public Service in a tight, 3-2 game. Lyle Braun buried a four-hitter for MVPS and teammate Cliff Warnken got two hits.

St. Stan's parlayed some extra-base hitting into an 8-1 triumph over St. Clair-Gundersen. Joe Ciesewski had a single and homer, Bob Paskiewicz a double and triple. Jim Gunn got two singles for the losers.

Unbeaten United Commercial Travelers throttled the Police Department 9-7 as Pete Peterson got a home run and Don Valentine added a pair of doubles while limiting the losers to three hits, striking out 11.

Badger Assembly Speeds Up to Meet Adjournment Date

MADISON — Wisconsin's Assembly, hoping for adjournment in a week, held its first Saturday session today, and plowed into the stack of work before it.

The Legislature is due to adjourn for the summer June 23 with a finishing up session slated for the fall.

The assemblymen Friday killed a bill to tax domestic mutual casualty insurance companies. The bill followed a long line of similar proposals which have failed to get past the lawmakers.

The bill, introduced by the Assembly Committee on Insurance and Banking, would have raised about one million dollars a year.

Mutual firms, which write all types of casualty coverage, are owned by Wisconsin residents. They date back to 1907 and operate on a cooperative basis and do not pay taxes. The tax exemption was established to encourage the operations, and efforts since then to tax them have failed.

Assembly Speaker Mark Catlin led the unsuccessful drive to get the tax approved.

The Republican lawmaker declared: "It's rank discrimination that these mutuals should go tax free."

He referred to the fact that stock companies pay a two per cent tax on their premiums.

The assemblymen tabled a bill that would triple the tax on wines. Wine distributors fought the measure while tavern interests were reportedly divided on their stand.

The steering committee of the Legislature, set up to determine action to be accorded bills and resolutions in the closing days.

Some of the measures remaining for consideration would:

Require all meetings of state and local government agencies to be open to the public and newsmen; open income tax returns for public inspection; require more Democratic membership on the Legislative Council; the interim study group; extend the time limitations for making unemployment compensation claims; create a people's council within the Public Service Commission, and set up a system to license plumbers.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1
1. What each one wants. It's not what people need, but what they want that makes them happy. For instance: A wife wants pretty things around the house. Husband says, "What do you want with such silly gee-gaws?" To her, they are spiritual inspiration. A man wants good food and comforts. Some wives never learn this simple fact. Satisfying people's wants—needs—is almost the whole art of selling and leadership, as shown in our new booklet, "How To Persuade People."

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Partly because they are just foolish. They fear what the kids might say in company. Johnny might say, "Pop says we're awful poor." "Mom hates to have Pop go around all day Sunday in his suspenders," or, "Mom needs a permanent, but we can't afford it." They don't realize how important it is to develop a child's personality, to teach him to converse, and to develop his ability to get along with people.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. No. At least, the extensive 10-year research by psychologist W. H. Sheldon on the relationship between body-build and temperament strongly indicated that people with little or no girl control enjoy far more "belly laughs" than thin people, though the laugh is at their own expense. So, better play your jokes on a fat man or—uh—a woman of charmingly generous proportions, if you don't want your head cracked.

Striking Locals At 2 GM Plants Urged to Arbitrate

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers today urged their striking locals at two Fisher body plants in the Detroit area to settle their differences at once to pave the way for a meeting of the union's General Motors Council here Tuesday.

The council will consider and vote on the new General Motors contract. The various GM locals will vote sometime between June 21 and June 29, the union said.

Local walkouts, which at one time idled 134,000 of GM's 350,000 workers, have dwindled until only the Fleetwood plant in Detroit and the Fisher plant at suburban Livonia remain. These two plants employ about 8,000.

Local negotiations were called off early last night until today.

At one point yesterday 72,000 GM workers were idle, mostly because of parts shortages resulting from the walkouts. The figure was cut to around 55,000 late in the day, GM said it lost almost 70,000 production units during the week. Meanwhile, American Motors Corp. and the UAW shifted contract talks back to Detroit after two days of bargaining on non-economic matters in Milwaukee. American Motors produces Nash and Hudson automobiles and Kelvinator home appliances.
