Former Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, center, inspected an honor guard of pikemen on his arrival at the Guildhall in London today, for the unveiling of a bronze statue of himself. Sir Winston, in an address, said he is optimistic for the future, but warned the free world not to expect too much of the coming talks at the "summit" with Russia. (UP Telephoto)

$31 Billion Defense Bill Passes Senate

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (P) — Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Symington (D-Mo) said today a $31,882,000,000 defense money bill will help keep America ahead of Russia in long-range aerial striking power.

The Senate passed the bill 80-0 yesterday and sent it back to the House, where a somewhat different version was approved some time ago.

Ike Signing New Tariff-Cutting Measure Today

WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower today arranged to sign into law the bill giving him the new tariff-cutting power he asked—one of the top measures of his 1955 legislative program.

The bill extends the 21-year-old reciprocal trade agreements law for three years, to June 30, 1958, and permits the President to cut tariffs up to 5 per cent in each of those years in negotiating for similar concessions from other countries.

It is the first new grant of power to reduce import duties since 1934, and also is the longest extension of the law in a decade.

In its basic essentials, the bill contains the authority which Eisenhower originally asked last year. However, when his proposals ran into resistance in the Republican-controlled Congress, he sent word he would settle then for a simple one-year extension without new powers to cut tariffs. That is what Congress voted last year.

A lengthy fight preceded passage of the bill this year, with Democrats providing the President more support than did members of his own party on some key votes.

The provisions which the President asked were voted substantially intact, although the Senate wrote in several provisions designed to assure American industry of greater safeguards against cheap imports. Final powers remain in the hands of the chief executive, and the White House accepted the changes.

The State Department is expected to begin at once to plan for an international conference at which 30-odd nations will negotiate new agreements involving tariff reductions or other concessions. The United States must use up the first 5 per cent reduction authority in the year starting July 1, or it will lapse. The same is true in each of the two succeeding years. In addition, the measure permits the President to reduce to 50 per cent of value all tariffs now above that figure.

State GOP Women Set Up Woolson Scholarship Fund

DULUTH, Minn. (P)—The Minnesota Federation of Republican Women's Clubs is developing a Woolson scholarship fund for use at the Duluth Branch of the University of Minnesota.

The scholarship will honor Duluth's 108-year-old Albert Woolson, last survivor of the Civil War's Union Army.

Some 4,000 Republican women's groups across the nation have been asked to contribute $1 each. Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois donated $10 toward the fund and remarked, "I've always admired the old gentleman."

Chicagoans Gifting Churchill With Lion

CHICAGO (P) — A 2½-month-old lion cub is being flown from Chicago to London today to be given to former Prime Minister Churchill. It is a gift of the suburban Park Forest Lions Club and will replace Churchill's pet lion Rota, which was destroyed Saturday because of old age.

Iowans Selling Beer From Barges Arrested

LANCASTER, Wis. (P)—Three Iowans, arrested by Wisconsin Beverage agents for selling beer without a license from Mississippi river barges, have pleaded innocent. Justice Robert Scherer fixed bond at $1,000 each for Ole Hamre and Phillip Langas, Dubuque, and Frank Ray, Buena Vista. Beverage agents said the men were selling beer from barges on the Wisconsin side of the river off the shores of Grant county, in the southwest corner of the state.

No Money for New Pay Plan, Freeman Says

ST. PAUL (P) — Minnesota won't have the cash to put into effect July 1 a new salary plan for state employees, authorized by the Legislature.

Gov. Freeman explained late Monday that, while the lawmakers set up the program, no funds were provided to carry it out. And state department heads say they can't effect enough savings to make it work.

The program was estimated to cost an added $800,000 yearly, of which $375,000 was to have come from the general revenue fund.

"We are regretful that we cannot start it immediately, but you can't get blood out of a turnip," the governor said. "Salaries for state employees in many categories are dangerously out of line with comparable work in private industry. . . . Employee morale has suffered because of this."

Freeman reported that the administration is starting a "self-survey" in efforts to find ways of implementing the salary change, possibly by the first of the year.

Under this plan, work loads and personnel would be studied in efforts to bring about needed savings for the program. The plan would bring new classifications for many workers and provides for raises of from a few dollars to $18 monthly for 85 per cent of them.

Warren Burger Named District of Columbia Judge

WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower today nominated George S. Register, Bismarck, N.D., to be a district judge for North Dakota, a new position. He also sent to the Senate the nominations of Ronald N. Davies, Grand Forks, N.D., to be a district judge for North Dakota in place of Charles J. Vogel, who recently was named to a higher judicial post.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren E. Burger was nominated to be a U.S. circuit judge for the District of Columbia, succeeding the late Harold M. Stephens, Burger, 47, has headed the Justice Department's claims division since January 1953. He formerly practiced law in St. Paul, Minn.

All the nominees are Republicans.

Burger is a former president of the St. Paul Junior Chamber of Commerce, a trustee of Macalester College, a director of the YMCA and vice president of the Children's Hospital. He is married and has two children.

Peron Remains In Background In Argentina

General Directs Drive to Restore Peace in Nation

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (P)—With President Juan Peron keeping to the background, Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero continued today to direct the campaign to restore full peace to this nation left tense by revolt.

The balding, square-jawed army minister, holding the top role in the postrevolutionary period, said again in a communique early today that the situation is "steadily normalizing without any inconvenience."

(News dispatches from Argentina have been subject to censorship since last Thursday's revolt by navy fliers and marines. Argentine refugees in Montevideo, Uruguay, believe negotiations are now under way in Buenos Aires to set up a three-man junta—including Peron—to rule the nation. The other two members reportedly would be Lucero and Rear Adm. Alberto Teissiere, the vice president.)

As head of the nation's armed forces, Lucero spread his control over all activities of the country, which is still under a state of siege. Despite the strict army checks, most of Buenos Aires had the appearance of normalcy.

The first American casualty of last week's brief but bloody fighting in the capital was reported last night. He was Graham E. Tune, a Detroit industrial engineer employed by the Kaiser Motor Corp.'s new Argentine subsidiary. Company officials found and identified his body in a city morgue yesterday. They said a bomb apparently had dropped near him.

Despite Lucero's protestations of returning normalcy, his communique for the second successive day warned the public against rumors of continuing conflict. As he had before, he termed these "completely false" but admitted that they had "increased considerably."

The communique reported that 18 planes used by the rebels in bombing government sites had been flown back from Uruguay, where the insurgent pilots fled for refuge. Fourteen junior officers returned with the planes, declaring that they had not taken any voluntary part in the rebellion.

Lucero and the military reaped a growing publicity harvest in the nation's press as Peron's long-time prominence on front pages slipped. None of Buenos Aires' afternoon newspapers published a picture of the president yesterday, previously a rare occurrence in the Argentine capital.

Peron also was absent from yesterday's observance of Argentine Flag Day in Buenos Aires—an occasion which he almost never missed in the past. Army officers held the center of the stage at the ceremonies honoring Gen. Manuel Belgrano, who created the nation's blue and white banner.

Peron's activities were not chronicled in detail, but the state radio said he resumed work yesterday after spending Sunday at his residence. The broadcast said he performed his usual official tasks with the aid of his principal assistants.

Molotov Accepts Plans for Parley

The Big Four Ministers appear to be in a jovial mood as they pose for pictures outside the exclusive Pacific Union Club atop Nob Hill in San Francisco before meeting to discuss plans for the "summit" meeting of the chiefs of state in Geneva next month. ## No Reason to Object, Western Ministers Told

Arrangements Completed at San Francisco

By MAX HARRELSON

SAN FRANCISCO (P) — Russia and the Western Powers were reported to have reached virtual agreement early today on arrangements for the top-level talks in Geneva next month.

Informed quarters said Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov told the Western diplomats at the end of a four-hour meeting that at first sight he saw no reason to object to a series of proposals they had agreed on in New York last week.

He was understood to have told them he would study the proposals more carefully and give his reply in a day or two. The Western foreign ministers apparently were so certain of his acceptance that no further meeting was arranged.

Plan Meeting
Diplomats at the meeting said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had proposed that:

1. The purpose of the "summit" meeting should be to ease world tension and not to negotiate the settlement of specific problems.

2. The meetings should last from four to six days.

3. President Eisenhower should be the first presiding officer, to be followed by French Premier Edgar Faure, British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

4. The meetings should be held in the Palais des Nations, U.N. headquarters in Geneva, and that the U.N. should be requested to service the sessions.

5. No council of foreign ministers should be held before the chiefs of government meet.

The four foreign ministers will have dinner together tonight with Pinay as host, but no serious discussions were planned.

These developments came as the U.N.'s 10th anniversary meeting got down to its long program of speeches on the world outlook. Macmillan was scheduled to deliver a policy declaration for Britain—the first major foreign policy pronouncement since last month's British elections.

Ike Talk Praised
President Eisenhower's opening address was praised by other delegates as excellent and inspirational.

The President, speaking yesterday afternoon, pledged that he would uphold the principles of the U.N. Charter at the Geneva conference. He declared this is a "season of high hope" for world peace.

Macmillan said the President's speech "gave a very fine start to the conference." Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak called the speech inspirational.

There was no comment from Molotov, who later met the President at a reception and exchanged pleasantries.

Eisenhower left for Washington in his private plane last night, approximately 24 hours after his arrival.

Meanwhile, it appeared almost certain that the 60 nations would conclude their session Sunday by adopting a peace pledge which would be known as the San Francisco Declaration.

2 North Koreans Fly Russ Yaks to Seoul

By BILL SHINN

SEOUL (P)—Two young North Korean fliers buzzed the Seoul Airport today in an old, Russian-built Yak fighter, then landed and gave themselves up to cheering South Korean airmen.

The two were marched to ROK air force headquarters for questioning. It was presumed they sought political asylum.

They were identified as Capt. Lee Un Yong and Lt. Lee Eun Song, each 24. South Korean officers said one was trained in Russia and the other in Red China.

They were the first Korean Communist fliers to flee from the Reds since Lt. Noh Kum Suk landed a MIG jet fighter at near-by Kimpo Airfield Sept. 21, 1953. He received a $100,000 reward for delivering the MIG and asylum in the United States.

ROK air force officers said the two North Koreans left at 11 a.m. Pyongyang, North Korean capital, in their Yak 18. The Yak is a single-engine, propeller driven fighter-bomber.

The Communists used the Yak in early stages of the Korean War. Now it is used as an advanced trainer.

It was not disclosed how the Yak penetrated without interception the 30 miles from the armistice line to Seoul.

The Yak began buzzing Seoul Airport about 1 p.m. South Korea air force officers gave a "come in" signal. A big crowd of American and Koreans gathered at the landing apron.

The North Korean pilots stepped from the Yak, bowed several times and raised their hands. The South Koreans applauded and cheered. The dark green plane was impounded.

Car Sidewipes Truck, Waukesha Man Killed

WAUKESHA, Wis. (P)—Robert H. Humphrey, 29, Waukesha, was killed Monday night when his car sideswiped a truck and rolled over in a ditch on Highway 190, six miles north of here.

The Waukesha County sheriff's department said that Humphrey, married and the father of three children, apparently lost control of the car in trying to avoid a head-on collision with a truck.

Spooner Man Fined In Woman's Death

GRANTSBURG, Wis. (P)—Arthur Kaiser, 45, a Spooner pool room and tavern operator, was given a suspended one-year jail term and fined $550 on a charge of negligent homicide Monday.

Kaiser pleaded guilty to the charge in connection with the death of Mrs. Gertrude Hanson, 31, also of Spooner.

Mrs. Hanson, a divorcee and mother of two children, was found dying on a road near Spooner last Thursday.

Kaiser originally told Washburn County authorities that he found Mrs. Hanson beside the road. Later, he admitted that Mrs. Hanson was riding on the fender and hood of his car. When she fell, he said, she was dragged 70 feet before he could halt the car.

Mankato Finds Street Is 'Privately Owned'

NORTH MANKATO, Minn. (P)—A petition to the City Council to install curb and gutter on a street here ran into a slight snag Monday night.

The city fathers found the city didn't even own the street. Inquiry by City Atty. A. L. Berendt showed that Ernest Schmidt, contractor who owned the area before it was platted, and still owns several lots, had never deeded the street to the city.

"I've got a notion to plow it up and plant soybeans," he remarked facetiously.

Berendt is still wrestling with the problem of what to do next.

An 85-foot chimney is seen toppling to the ground in Chicago Monday after being struck by a "skullcracker," a 3,000-pound. The chimney was part of a laundry powerhouse. A new apartment house will go up in place of the structure being demolished. (UP Telephoto)

France Replaces Her Top Man in Troubled Morocco

PARIS (AP)—France replaced her top man in rebellious Morocco last night, on the eve of a National Assembly session at which the continuing violence in North Africa will get much attention.

The Assembly was scheduled to reconvene this afternoon after a three-week vacation. In the interim the killing of a pro-Moroccan French publisher in Casablanca, apparently by French "counterterrorists," has aroused widespread criticism in Paris of the government's North African policy.

The Cabinet named Gilbert Grandval, former high commissioner to the Saar, to replace Francis Lacoste as resident general in the North African protectorate.

Both men are professional diplomats. The Cabinet said Lacoste would be given an important diplomatic post.

Lacoste was appointed a year ago, after the ousting of nationalist minded Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef sparked widespread terrorism in Morocco. In recent months bombings and assassinations have been daily occurrences.

U.S. Airman Saves 2 Girls From Fire

CLACTON, England (AP)—An American airman broke into a blazing building here last night to rescue two girls trapped in their smoke filled bedroom.

Airman S.C. James De Witt, 22, of Bangor, Maine, on leave from the air base at Bentwaters, was riding past a staff dormitory at a holiday camp when he saw the flames.

He jumped off his motorcycle and smashed a window to get the girls out. They were unharmed. De Witt cut his hand on the jagged glass.

4 Youths, Girl Die in N.J. Car, Truck Collision

SOMERVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Four youths and a girl were killed last night in a head-on truck-car collision. A sixth youth was critically injured.

The victims, returning from a church league softball game, crossed the center line of Route 206 to pass another car and smashed into the trailer truck loaded with 10-inch cement sewer pipe.

The truck jackknifed. Both car and truck rolled into an embankment, the pipes spilling on the road.

State police identified the dead, all of Bradley Gardens, as Ralph Horton, 19, driver of the car; Francis Trout, 26; Stephen Chonko, 17; Robert Lawryer, 15; and Lavanda Serofino, 17.

Still in critical condition at Somerset Hospital was James Cordick, 17.

The driver of the truck, Herman Walsh, 30, of Rosendale, N.Y., was treated for knee injury and shock and released.

An eyewitness, William Daughday, Martinsville insurance man, told police the youths passed him and several other cars minutes before smashing into the truck. He said he saw the lights of the truck, then heard a scream, saw a cloud of dust and pipes flying everywhere.

Wealthy Recluse Leaves $2,380,000

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP)—Ellen Cubbin was a rich recluse. People called her a miser. She died at 80, leaving an estate worth $2,380,000. And this is how she distributed the money:

40,000 pounds ($112,000), four houses and a small castle to her nurse, Jimima Campbell.

10,000 pounds ($26,000) to John Symonds, skipper of her 800-ton yacht.

The yacht itself to an orphanage along with 70,000 pounds ($196,000) to help train boys for the sea.

Her 15-room mansion to the city of Liverpool along with 80,000 pounds ($224,000) to make it a holiday home for children.

100,000 pounds ($260,000), to buy four lifeboats and a fire engine for the Isle of Man.

The rest will be split among friends and more than a score of charities—churches, museums and societies protecting children and animals.

If all the iron ore, coal and limestone consumed by the U. S. steel industry in one year were placed in railroad cars and attached to one train, the train would be 38,228 miles long.

Churchill Sees World Relaxed

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill said today "we must not count upon complete and immediate success" in the forthcoming Big Four conference at Geneva.

"A period of relaxation of tension may well be all that is now within our grasp," said the retired prime minister.

"Even so, such a phase would not be sterile. On the contrary, it would give time for science to show the magnitude of her blessings rather than all her terrors."

Sir Winston spoke in the ancient Guildhall of the City of London, where a bronze statue of him was unveiled.

Churchill, who has long plumped for a meeting of the Big Four heads of state, said:

"Whatever is the outcome, we must persevere in the maintenance of peace through strength."

Bid Opening In July for U.S. 61 Likely

Title Opinions on Homer-Lamoille Section Asked

The Minnesota Highway Department hopes to open bids in July for construction of the new Highway 61 sector from Minnesota City to Mankato avenue.

That was revealed by Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann in a letter to Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer which was filed with the City Council Monday evening.

But Hoffmann indicated that little progress has been made east of Mankato avenue to Lamoille although "it appears at the present time that right of way will be acquired and buildings removed so this project can be placed under contract in 1956."

Hoffmann wrote that from Winona to Homer "data required for right of way acquisition is being developed and I have been informed by the division of lands and right of way that it will be possible to file condemnation proceedings covering this section within the next 30 days."

Title Opinions Ordered
"On the section between Homer and Lamoille, opinions of title have been ordered from the Winona County Abstract Co. We were advised it will be some time before these titles will be furnished this department which will necessitate a delay in filing the condemnation proceedings on this section of highway."

"The removal of the many buildings located on the proposed right of way between Mankato avenue in Winona and Lamoille, presents a difficult problem. Obviously no information as to the taking of bids for the construction of this section of the highway will be available until building removal data has been secured."

He assured the mayor, however, that acquisition of lands and removal of buildings would be "expedited," and concluded that the contract could be let in 1956.

The mayor, at the suggestion of the City Council, recently had asked Gov. Orville Freeman for a progress report, and the governor referred the inquiry to Hoffmann for a reply.

Mud on Road Bed
Meanwhile, the state asked the city to pay a certain cost of the new highway. City Engineer W. O. Cribbs told the Council that the state contends that when Lake Winona was dredged several years ago, mud was deposited "on the highway right of way across the lake without approval of the state. Involved are the 1,500 to 2,000 feet east of Huff street. Average depth is about 2 feet, Cribbs added."

Rather than delay the Highway 61 construction again by arguing about the mud, aldermen agreed to do what the state asks: "Pay for leveling of this material after it is placed on city property. It was noted that the state is not asking the city to pay removal costs but only leveling costs after it once has been removed."

Cribbs said that the state contends that there are about 100,000 cubic yards involved, but he added that he had checked cross-sections and it appears that about 36,000 cubic yards are involved and leveling costs would be between $3,500 and $5,000.

He explained that there is mud underneath the layer placed there by the city—all of which will have to be removed in the construction—and a careful check will be required to determine how much the city is liable for.

Cribbs said that the mud can be used to advantage on adjacent city property.

Route of new four-lane 61 from Minnesota City to Winona will follow generally the old abandoned right of way of the Chicago Great Western Railroad.

Woods Corner School District Dissolved

DURAND, Wis.—By unanimous vote of both Pepin and Buffalo county school committees here Monday night, the Woods Corner School District Joint 4 was dissolved and annexed to the Durand city school system.

There was no opposition to the move for merger as Woods Corner students have been attending school here for years on a tuition basis. About a dozen students are involved, according to G. A. Hart, Durand superintendent of schools.

In addition to the school committees and the Durand school board, about 10 citizens of the Woods Corner district were present for the hearing which was held in the courthouse.

Rollingstone Man Admits Assault

A young Rollingstone man Monday entered a plea of guilty to a third degree assault charge arising from an incident at Altura Friday night.

John Holland, about 21, entered the plea when arraigned in justice court in Goodview. He was fined $15 plus $3.50 costs.

The complaint against Holland was signed by Lloyd Haxton, who said Holland struck him outside a dance hall Friday night.

Bids for New Lights To Be Opened July 18

The second year's installment on Winona's program to improve its downtown street lighting probably will get under way July 18.

That's the night the City Council will open bids for extending the mercury vapor system to 11 more blocks by running new wires into those blocks and erecting 44 aluminum poles and lights.

Based on last year's contract price, the estimated cost is just over $35,000. If a favorable bid is received, the city and the abutting property owners share the cost equally, with the owners having up to 10 years to pay.

Streets involved with four units slated for each: 2nd from Main to Lafayette; Lafayette, from 2nd to 4th; 4th from Lafayette to Johnson; Johnson from 4th to 3rd, and 3rd from Walnut to Kansas streets.

A hearing will precede the opening of the bids on this assessment project.

That same night aldermen will open bids for furnishing and installing semi-actuated traffic signals at East 3rd and Franklin streets. Semi-actuated means that lights on 3rd will be green unless vehicles on Franklin street depress an actuator to start a stop and go cycle.

Another hearing and bid opening are planned for July 18 at 7:30 p.m. Recently when a sidewalk, curb and gutter assessment project was started, errors were made in describing certain properties involved. With the approval of the contractor for that assessment project, these properties—about 21 of them—were removed from the contract, and now they are scheduled for a new hearing and bid opening. The properties involved will be listed in a legal advertisement to be published in this newspaper the next two Wednesday's. About 11,598 feet of 4-inch sidewalk construction are involved.

Ordinances passed Monday by the Council:

- Correct an ordinance passed for the Standard Oil Co. which listed sizes of tanks at East 3rd and Walnut streets incorrectly.
- Remove the stop signs from 5th street at Winona street. Fifth street is now a through street.

Permission was given the Winona State Teachers College to block off the foot of Johnson street at King street for a street dance June 22.

Rejected was the request of Raymond Anderson, 268 E. Mark St., for payment of abstract work in connection with a lot purchased from the city.

Permission was given the Minnesota Organization of Blind, Inc., St. Paul, to conduct a White Cane drive here July 21-22.

With the approval of Building Inspector George Rogge, Ralph A. Schamer was given permission to violate lot line restrictions in extension of a garage.

Action was deferred on the proposal of the Cities Service Oil Co.—by Frank A. Sheehan—to rebuild its service station at South Baker street and West Broadway.

The present structure faces South Baker and Sheehan indicated to the Council that the rebuilt station might not be any closer to Broadway although it would face that street.

Permission was given the Winona State Teachers College to have a student park his trailer near Holzinger Lodge, Lake boulevard, in order that the lodge may have supervision.

New Tanks Allowed
Subject to the passage of an ordinance Froedtert Malt Corp., 500 W. 3rd St., was authorized to bury three 30,000-gallon propane tanks. The installation has the approval of Fire Chief Frank P. Witt.

Ordered paid was the first estimate of the H. J. Dunn Black Top Surfacing Co.—in the amount of $6,185.15—for surfacing of the courthouse parking lot and Arthur C. Thunley Homes streets.

A $1000 claim from Miss Mathilda Gauks, 535 W. Broadway, for injuries she claims she received in a fall at 515 W. Broadway about 8:30 p.m. May 20, was referred to the city attorney for referral to the insurance firm writing the city's public liability policy.

An invitation was received from the Blair-Preston Centennial parade July 4. Fourth Ward Ald. Joseph Karsina, chairman of the Council band committee, will confer with Band Director Harold Edstrom.

Permission was granted the Fibreite Corp., 516 W. 5th St., to bury four 8,000-gallon tanks for the storage of synthetic resin. Fire Chief Witt had given written approval.

John Fay, 608 Clarks Lane, has reported the theft of a pair of oars from the Minnesota City Boat Club harbor.

He told Sheriff George Fort the olive drab colored oars, about 6½ or 7 feet long, were taken within the past two weeks.

The sheriff is continuing an investigation of a series of thefts at the harbor in recent weeks. The boat club has offered a standing reward of $25 for information leading to the arrest of persons responsible for the recent thefts.

Won't Require Increase in Tax Rate

The Board of Education Monday night took its first look at a proposed general fund budget for the 1956-57 year that is higher than that set a year ago, but would require no increase in the tax rate.

Proposed expenditure for operation of the Winona Public Schools would reach $1,163,340 under the proposal, some $86,316 over the current year's figure.

But newly-enacted state legislation would add to the anticipated receipts, permitting the board to set a budget without increasing the city's tax obligation in supporting the schools.

Preliminary discussion of the proposal, centered on salary matters, which constitute a majority of the increased cost of operation. Several directors indicated they desired changes in the proposal before the board submits the budget to the City Council. The final budget will be established by the board early next month.

Anticipated increase in receipts due to legislation was estimated at about $54,000, but there may be increases, or losses, in other categories. It was estimated that about $50,000 in the budget could be termed as "in and out" matters that result from the instability of receipts. Among these would be athletic receipts, but directors noted that football is the only sport that really "pays its way."

Question of Salaries
Second Ward Director B. A. Miller said he was opposed to instituting a definite salary increase figure because it would set a precedent—"we're telling the teachers how much they should ask when we come to salary considerations."

But Director-at-Large Clarence Hartner countered that he believes Winona schools are a year behind in salary scales. He contended that the schools here are low in comparison with others as far as tax levies are concerned, but did agree that per-pupil costs might not be the lowest.

He said he did not want to face a year in which a large adjustment would have to be made, as the board had to do several years ago. It was pointed out that the salary increases would absorb the increased receipts, but several directors felt that by setting a lower anticipated instructional figure, the increase in other categories could be offset.

Also discussed were possibilities of revisions in other parts of the budget. Several directors felt that some of the anticipated improvements listed in the capital outlay could be delayed until the obligations for construction of the new addition were completed.

Confidence in People
In accepting the appointment, Reynolds said he is confident that the "People of Winona recognize the important services that have been rendered by the Community Chest agencies and that there is no question but what they can and will continue to support these functions through the forthcoming drive."

Reynolds' appointment highlighted the meeting that also included a discussion of the activities of the services of Margaret Simpson Home by Miss Maybelle Berg, caseworker of the home.

She noted that the Home was founded in 1889 and incorporated eight years later. The first request was a home in 1901 as the organization began its first functions in helping the poor.

In the early 1920s, and until about a year ago, the greatest part of the work was devoted to bedside care. Recently, however, the function has become more aligned to the need for counseling services available both to family units and individuals and coordinated with the tax supported and voluntary relief agencies of the city and area.

Harry Reynolds To Direct Fall Drive for Chest

Harry M. Reynolds, 764 W. Broadway, one of the organizers of the Winona Community Chest 12 years ago, Monday night was named chairman for the 1955 fund raising drive.

Active in Chest activities since its inception, Reynolds has recently served as a member of the budget committee.

Mrs. M. L. Spencer, president of the board of directors, presided at the monthly meeting Monday. The board approved her nomination of Reynolds and named two new members of the budget committee.

They are Mrs. William Speich and M. J. Bambenek. They succeed Richard Schoonover and Joseph Bambenek, whose terms expired. Each will serve a three-year term.

Renamed
Renamed to the committee were Luther H. Bailey, Leo C. La France and Dr. Truman W. Potter. Donald W. Blake was named to the budget group to succeed Richard Callender, who is now a member of the board of directors.

George M. Robertson Jr., board vice president, was re-appointed as payroll deduction chairman for the fall campaign.

Reynolds, a native of Grinnell, Iowa, has been a Winona resident for 28 years. Vice president and office manager of the Winona Monument Co., he has been very active in civic affairs.

In addition to serving on the Chest's first board of directors, he has also been chairman of the budget committee. Reynolds has been county Junior Red Cross chairman; a member of the board of the Community Concert Association; Credit Bureau Inc.; board and was advancement chairman of the area Boy Scout organization. He is a past state president of the Minnesota PTA Congress.

Only 3 of 46 Winona Taverns Fail to File for Licenses

Aldermen had expected that as many as five taverns might not be operating after the end of the current license year on June 30, but only 3 of the 46 taverns didn't have applications filed with the City Council Monday night.

Stricter enforcement, particularly by state and federal officials, had prompted aldermen to believe that there might be a substantial decline in the number of off- and on-sale beer combinations, but the Council's decision to trim the annual on-sale beer license from $250 to $200 may have been a factor in keeping some open.

The Council hiked the off-sale beer license fee from $5 to $15, and there were about a dozen present off-sale license holders who hadn't applied for new licenses by Monday night, but some of them may come in later. There were 94 off-sale licenses granted this year.

After all license applications had been acted on last night, there was one change in the 15 on-sale liquor licenses—a voluntary one—but the Council almost changed another one.

Renewed by 5-4 Vote
W. J. Hegg, owner of the Main Tavern, 123 Main St., got his renewal by a narrow 5-4 margin. The vote was by secret ballot.

When on-sale licenses came up for discussion, 4th Ward Ald. Daniel Bambenek asked that each be considered individually. When the Main application was read, a vote was asked.

Had the application been rejected, the Council probably would have chosen from two other applications on file: Joseph Kunda, 450 Mankato Ave., who has had an application with the license fee on file for more than five years, and Joseph Blank, 315 Steuben St.

Hegg is president of the state liquor dealers association and was present at a Senate committee hearing last winter when a Winona bid for more liquor licenses was rejected. A spokesman for the association argued against the proposal.

The Council boosted the on-sale liquor license fee from $945 to $1,200 for the year beginning July 1.

Mayor Loyde E. Pfeiffer repeated his charge that there is "trafficking in licenses."

Council President William P. Theurer commented: "My idea is that whenever there's a transfer of an on-sale liquor license, $10,000 should be paid to a swimming pool fund, and for every renewal, $1,000."

Licenses approved last night at City Hall:

Through With Courts, Haymes Resumes Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This week Dick Haymes begins picking up the pieces of his career.

The past two years he has been largely inactive for reasons well known. Now the Argentine-born crooner has won his battle to avoid deportation.

He opened a three-week singing date at the Dunes in Las Vegas. The salary: $15,000 a week.

"I'm very excited about this engagement," he said between rehearsals. "It's the first time I've felt like singing since the whole trouble began. If I succeed in this, I think other good things will follow. I believe the recording companies and film producers are waiting to see how my voice is. Then we can start making deals."

But he does not intend to return full-time to the crooning business. "I'm not going out to play 39 weeks in night clubs, the way I used to," he emphasized. "I would like to pick three or four top spots and play them every year."

"The rest of the time I'll devote to picture work, both as an actor and a producer. Producing is my great interest. I've been wanting to do it as far back as 1936."

His plans for film production are no idle dream. He and spouse Rita Hayworth have set up their own company to release a series of movies through United Artists. The first one, he said, would feature himself and would be made this summer.

Not Responsible For Salk Vaccine Mixup, Says Hobby

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Hobby said he might not be responsible for the government's actions in the Salk polio vaccine situation. She said the law places that burden on Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele.

In a radio interview, Mrs. Hobby emphasized that she was not dissatisfied with Scheele's actions. But she made repeated distinctions between the responsibilities of her department and those of the Public Health Service, a Welfare Department agency headed by Scheele. "Asked if she had any apologies for the way the vaccine program has been handled, or would with hindsight have acted differently, she said:

"There is nothing I could have done differently. The law on control of biologicals such as the Salk (vaccine) charged the Public Health Service and not the secretary."

At another point, she said she would be legally powerless to overrule Scheele if she thought he had made a mistake.

She said she did not think it would be known "whether or not" the health service had been negligent until a final report is made on vaccine produced by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

Turk Proverbs Dandy; Some Sure Are Confusing

By EARL WILSON

ISTANBUL, Turkey—Had your thinking today? The Turkish patriarchy has composed many nuggets of wisdom, which the Tourism Dept. has handed us in a neat booklet titled "Turkish Proverbs."

"Big head, big headache," is good—and useful—though I don't know about one reading, "One does not burn a blanket to get rid of a flea."

I haven't burned a blanket to get rid of a flea in I don't know how long.

"Kind words will unlock an iron door," is another goodie—but the B.W. and I were a little mystified by one that reads, "It is easy for a bachelor to divorce a wife."

Maybe so in Turkey, but I remember a Hollywood bachelor rebuking me for mentioning him dating a N.Y. girl on a visit.

"But you're not married," I pointed out.

"I've got a girl out there and a girl's harder to handle than a wife about having other dates," he said. "A wife can't do anything about it."

Speaking of girls, we went to a club, the Blue Wagon, where the B-girls—the dancing girls—sat off to one side of a club in a place that looked like a dining car. It's labeled "the Turkish Express." Men wishing companionship walk along outside the dining car, pick their girl, go inside, and buy her a drink, also one for themselves. And on the drink she gets a commission.

"Dig that crazy Diners' Club!" somebody remarked.

"The Bull Pen" is another name for it.

I don't know how anything about B-girls sneaked into this serious piece about proverbs, but I wanted to tell you about another club, the Karavanserai, where the Viennese-type violinists played such romantic old Viennese waltzes as "Oh, Susanna."

And Nicky Hilton and Sonja Henie, among others, felt right at home, especially as one of the violinists looked like comedian Jan Murray and another like Harvey Stone.

Another practice is to drive out to the country, wake up some gypsies, and ask them to do their native dances.

Ann Miller did it—and some others did it—but worrying exactly where the gypsies were, a Turkish girl coined herself a little proverb when she said, "If you just shout 'Dollar,' they'll wake up and come running to you."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y.

Henny Youngman, who's been doing free guest shots on Jackie Gleason's TV'er, found a $1,000 check from JG in his dressing room.

Grace Kelly wouldn't let her pooch, Oliver, "endorse" a dog food. If she has no TV work this summer, 30-year-old Georgianna Carhart (of "Life Begins at 80") may do a night club act.

Ex-Mayor Bill O'Dwyer phones Latin 4 showgirl Rosemary Ridge well three times a week from Mexico. Mickey Rooney's hit at the Riviera in Vegas brought an offer for a B'way show, "Kaleidoscope." Patti Page drove her honey, Charles O'Curran to the airport; she'll join him in L.A. soon.

Kim Novak's work in "Five Against the House" got her the lead in "Picnic."

Noel Coward's contract at the Desert Inn specified no table service during his act. Garbo and George Schlee dined at the Hotel Ambassador. Joan Crawford will do a bathtub scene in "Queen Bee"—her first since "The Women."

French singer Robert Clary is becoming a U.S. citizen. Singer Sunny Gale split with her manager-boyfriend, Aaron Schroeder. TV star Jack Barry and his wife, Marcia Van Dyke, are planning a Mr. and Mrs. cafe act.

Gant Galtner wants Laraine Day for B'way play, "Man With the Golden Arm."

Earl's Pearls... Louis L'Amour spotted an ad in the newspaper: "Lady with trailer wants to meet man with car. Object: To get hitched."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Birthdays are piling up when people call you 'young-looking' instead of 'young.'"—Carolanne Clark.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Morty Gundy suggests the ideal gift for rich kids—airconditioned Davy Crockett hats.

CAR TIPS

By Al Speltz

COOLING SYSTEM THERMOSTATS

About a year ago, I wrote in Car Tips that is not ordinarily necessary to change cooling system thermostats seasonally. I emphasized, however, that an engine should not be operated during any season without a thermostat. Because many of you did not see that article, I'll repeat parts of last year's article.

Unless you plan to cross high mountains with your car this summer, the same thermostat you used last winter should operate satisfactorily. Only at elevations greater than 10,000 feet will the boiling point of water be lowered dangerously near to the opening temperature of a "high" thermostat.

The use of an alcohol mixture as a coolant during a mountain trip is risky unless you are certain that the radiator pressure cap is functioning normally.

It is a mistaken belief that installing a "cooler" thermostat will correct engine overheating. Unless the "hotter" thermostat in the engine is defective, replacing it with the "cooler" one seldom effects any improvement. It is important to remember that the thermostat controls only the MINIMUM temperature. Under ideal conditions, the maximum and minimum operating temperatures are the same.

In short, change thermostats when they fail. Fortunately, they seldom fail in the closed position because many of them are spring-loaded to open completely in case the actuating mechanism fails. If they do fail in the closed position, the results are dramatic; the temperature gauge rises rapidly, and the coolant boils out (in reverse) in a matter of minutes.

If the thermostat fails in the open position, the engine temperature climbs slowly to normal. In effect, there is no thermostatic control. There are wide variations in operating temperatures and clearances. In extreme cases, the clearance between pistons and cylinder walls may vary enough to cause a noticeable increase in oil consumption and noisy engine operation.

Denver's First Runoff Mayoral Election Held

DENVER (AP)—An estimated 90,000 Denver voters will choose between Republican State Sen. Will F. Nicholson and Dist. Atty. Bert Keating today in this city's first runoff mayoral election in history.

The winner will succeed Quigg Newton, who is not seeking a third four-year term. Newton last week was named director of public relations for the Ford Foundation in New York. He will take the position shortly after he leaves office June 30.

The election is billed as non-partisan, but Keating has been lauded by Gov. Ed C. Johnson, a Democrat, and the state Republican organization has spoken favorably of Nicholson.

Keating and Nicholson each received about 46 per cent of votes cast in the regular election May 17. Four other candidates got the rest.

Ford in Favor of Industrywide Pact With CIO

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Ford II says it would be a good idea for the auto makers to get together in the future and seek an industry-wide contract with the CIO United Auto Workers.

The 37-year-old president of Ford Motor Co. said in an interview yesterday that he had had "informal talks" with other industry executives on the idea. He said indications were General Motors Corp. would be against it, while Chrysler Corp. "might" be for it.

Neither the union nor the other companies would comment.

Asked what effect he thought industrywide bargaining might have on smaller auto producers, Ford said he thought that problem "could be worked out."

American Motors Corp., which resumes contract negotiations with the UAW today, has said it is against "pattern settlements" in the industry and that each should be tailored to the firm it covers. Ford said industrywide bargaining had been pretty well established in the steel and glass and some other industries, and added: "After all, industries like steel and glass have a lot of plants, with special problems, and there are big producers and small producers. I think it could work out in the auto industry."

While he has discussed industrywide bargaining informally with other industry executives, Ford said: "We never have sat down for a formal session on the matter. . . . I know some say it won't work in the auto industry. But how can they say that when it's never been tried. I think everything should be tried before we say that it can't work."

Ford and the UAW recently reached agreement on a guaranteed wage plan providing benefits for laid-off workers to supplement unemployment compensation. GM

Compromise Reserve Program Introduced

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backers of a new military reserve bill looked for possible White House reaction today as the House Armed Services Committee was called to consider the compromise plan, shorn of an anti-segregation feature and other controversial elements.

The President, who several times has prodded Congress for action on what he called a "vital" program to strengthen the military reserves, has indicated he regards the anti-segregation amendment as out of place in legislation of this sort.

However, the new bill, introduced yesterday by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) in an effort to break a monthlong House deadlock, would eliminate some of the things Eisenhower asked for, notably authority to recruit a special corps of teen-age trainees.

After the compromise bill was introduced House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts endorsed its "fundamentals" and predicted House passage.

There was some indication of displeasure within the Armed Services Committee over the way Vinson went about offering his bill. Some members complained they were not consulted.

Vinson got around the segregation issue by striking all mention of assignment of reservists to Guard units. Rep. Powell (D-NY), sponsor of the antidiscrimination amendment, hailed that action as a "clearcut victory for me."

The over-all aim of the administration program and the Vinson bill is the same—expansion of the ready reserve force to 2,900,000 men. The legal limit now is 1 1/2 million men.

However, the Vinson bill omits a key administration proposal for a special corps of up to 250,000 youths who would take six months of intensive training and then go into the reserves for 7 1/2 years. This proposed corps has met opposition from some House members who say they fear it could be used to open the way to universal military training.

Under the Vinson measure the reservist ranks would be filled mainly with men who already have finished their active duty hitch.

and the union agreed on a similar one a week later.

Some critics have labeled the new three-year contracts "creeping socialism," which brought this comment from Ford:

"A lot of people call everything we do creeping socialism. They called social security that and they called pensions that. . . . Every time we do something new, people cry that it's either Communism or socialism. We have to keep up with the times."

Dallas Has First '55 Polio Death

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A 42-year-old man became Dallas' first polio death victim of the year yesterday as a second child treated with the Salk polio vaccine was stricken.

George Harold Lemmons, a postal clerk, died about four hours after hospitalization with the disease. He became ill yesterday after laying brick for a patio at his home.

Physicians said the 7-year-old child, a girl, was in good condition with "only a light case" of the disease. The first "Salk case" was an 8-year-old boy. Doctors at Parkland Hospital agreed neither case could be attributed to the vaccine shots.

Actress Denies Husband's Charges In Custody Case

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Maureen O'Hara has flatly denied her former husband's accusation that she has been "openly living and consorting" with a wealthy Mexican City businessman.

And, through her attorney, she added a few charges of her own.

The charges against the red-haired actress were made yesterday when William H. Price, New York TV producer, filed a Superior Court affidavit in which he sought full custody of their 11-year-old daughter Bronwyn Bridget.

In it Price said he "was informed and believes" his former wife went to Mexico City in 1953 and 1954 to see one Enrico Parra, described as a married man with two grown daughters.

Price and Miss O'Hara were divorced in 1953. Price asked that the court hold the Irish-born beauty in contempt for violating the conditions under which she obtained custody of the girl and that she be turned over to him.

He said he had been denied visitation rights granted at the divorce. Through her attorney, Miss O'Hara denied the charges of misconduct and said that Bronwyn had visited with Price within the past year and that Price "proceeded to get drunk and take the child on a wild automobile ride in which he had an accident."

Miss O'Hara's attorney William A. Duce said that Price was informed last week that he could visit the child at the private school she attends. But when he called there the child refused to see him, Duce said.

Duce said that his client is a "good friend" of Parra but that he is not living in her house and never has. Price had charged that Parra has been living with the actress in her home and that he has been "seen there at all hours of the day and night."

I intended to kill him," she said. Judge Havers ruled out the manslaughter plea. The jury of 10 men and 2 women was out only 23 minutes.

Rhonda Fleming, Director Disagree On 'Nude Scene'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rhonda Fleming says a swimming scene she played in an Italian-made movie was in "good taste," even if she wasn't wearing anything.

"I slipped out of my nude bathing suit because it had been dyed darker than my skin and would have contrasted too much," she said.

The red-haired actress wouldn't take back her statements about the nude scene, even after the director, Carlo Ludovico Bragaglia, declared that "there was no such scene in the screenplay, nor was one ever filmed."

She originally described the nude scene in an interview with Associated Press reporter James Bacon in Hollywood. She said the scene was taken for "The Courtship of Babylon," in which she stars.

Her remarks brought an outcry of "absolutely false" from Bragaglia and made headlines in the Italian press. After Bragaglia denied that there was such a scene, Miss Fleming countered:

"Mr. Bragaglia is a fine director, one whose judgment I respect very much. He filmed the scene in good taste."

She said that the "cameras were way back on the shore" and it was "all very proper."

There was a banquet scene of an orgy in the film which Miss Fleming said was played just that way—as an orgy.

The camera moved in on each couple and it was one scene after another of obscene lovemaking. All the girls were bare from the waist up," she said. "I was shocked and told the producers I wouldn't have a part of such goings on."

"Finally they told me that the footage would be burned. That cooled me."

The reply in Rome was "phooey."

Argentine Revolt Beginning of the End

No matter who led the unsuccessful revolution in Argentina the responsibility for the violence and the bloodshed can be placed nowhere else but at the doorstep of the dictator, Juan Peron. When a tyrant closes every avenue that can lead to a fair and peaceful adjustment of grievances he invites violence. His power and cunning may deter active attempts to unseat him for a time but at the first sign of weakness he must expect trouble.

Peron's quarrel with the Roman Catholic Church was but one more piece in the totalitarian pattern. Early in his career he suppressed freedom of speech, of the press, of assembly and of elections. When once he controlled all offices of the state, what people read, said and wrote, it was inevitable that he should come into conflict with a body that teaches faith and morals. In a totalitarian state only faith in the dictator is permitted and the only morals tolerated are those which serve the ends of the dictator.

Peron's assaults on the church will serve to unify every element in Argentina that has suffered from his power lust. Except for his hirelings and the few he still manages to delude with the idea that he is dedicated to the welfare of the poor, he will have no friends. He will continue to rule as long as he can command military strength but he will never be sure that his forces will remain loyal.

This revolution may have failed but the motives that moved those who instigated it still exist in Argentina. Peron has struck at the things which are most deeply seated in his people, has challenged their religious faith. This could be the beginning of the end, the start of his undoing.

Not One Life Can Be Saved by a Fatalist

The balance between activities designed to prepare for war and those planned for Civil Defense are so disproportionate as to be frightening. Huge sums of money have been appropriated for armaments. The Army is bolstered by the draft, legislators spend long hours drawing up bills to cover all possible war demands while Civil Defense is relegated to a sort of up-to-you, take it or leave it status.

With the release of information of the H-bomb fall-out, civilian danger fanned out to include towns and farmlands as well as large cities. This is a national problem. No state, nor city, nor county lines would be respected by bombs or fall-out.

Many people in the face of the reports have resigned themselves to an attitude of fatalism. They have simply given up the idea of survival.

The practice raid last week with the fine cooperation of government and state officials indicates that strong leadership in Civil Defense might soon be forthcoming. This leadership is sorely needed.

Innumerable lives can be saved should a bombing occur. But not one life can be saved by a fatalist who has already given up his life chances.

The red-faced motorcycle cop glared at the young lady in the fancy, low-slung convertible and demanded, "Why did you keep going after I whistled?" "You'll have to forgive me, officer," said the young lady airily. "My friends tell me I'm pretty deaf." "Hmph," snorted the cop, obviously unconvinced. "Don't let that worry you, miss. You'll get your hearing in the morning!"

These Days

We Must Dare To Work Again

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — The London Times, as everybody knows, publishes really top news on its front page. It is a melange of want ads and agony ads, all mixed up, but always read. For years, I have looked for the advertisements of Kirkland Bridge Church Restorations Ltd. I must confess that often I have thought up a column from its inspiration. The writing is masterly.

On the verge of the recent election, Kirkland Bridge produced an advertisement which contains this unbelievable paragraph:

"We must learn to work again — if I dare whisper that robust word 'work' in these days of full employment. Yes, you heard George, I said work — plan, hard, eight-hours-a-day honest work; we have forgotten how to sweat; why, last week when 194 miners were threatened with dismissal, they increased their output from ten to eighty tons of coal per day, and in one week produced as much coal as they had done in the previous two months. Try and find me a shorthand-typist whose best friends are not her eraser, powder-compact, and wrist-watch. 'What about holiday? Time off for the hairdresser? Do you work Saturday?' Juniors, clerks, drivers, domestic helps, waiters, chefs, painters, skilled and unskilled workers — it is the same tale everywhere. The blunt fact is that with full employment and the millions-to-one chance of winning the treble chance too many of us are clock-watchers, tea-makers, and waiters-for-pay-day. Working at the rate of thirty minutes an hour we are being paid at the rate of sixty minutes work an hour — and then grumble at the cost of living."

THE WORLD IS MUCH the same, operating on the law of supply and demand. In England, they have a tea break and we have a coffee break when all the boys and girls quit for conversation and refreshments. Maybe it breaks the monotony but it is not pushing the job.

The 40-hour week will soon be reduced to 30 and perhaps that is why there are so many accidents on the road. What do people do with all the hours they have to do nothing? Perhaps they go in for "do it yourself" or they play hi-fi recordings or they just sit around and yap until their talk gets them into a fight and they end up in a separation.

Of course, the vogue of the soft-shelled book, which is bought in the drug-store and on the news stands, developed as the hours of leisure increased, but so did juvenile delinquency take on its present sinister forms. If parents are not bogged down with long hours of labor, why cannot they take better care of their children? Have they lost the art or do they no longer know what to say? It is not enough to talk of the birds and the bees; is might be of some avail to speak of God's moral law if one can think of that.

OVER IN ENGLAND, they wondered about leisure and what would become of the morale of a people with so few hours of work for their daily bread. I can still recall when there was leisure because there were no jobs and what did we do with leisure then? Nobody really worried about the evils of leisure when a worker had all day off because he had no work to do. Why are we so frightened by it now?

And is it really necessary to sweat? Let the machine sweat. Robert A. Taft used to say that it was the particular mark of capitalistic progress if men produced more by less work at higher pay. For that, he was called a reactionary although it seemed to me that the history of liberalism is the advance of all mankind from the clod who labored from sunrise to sunset for a bare living to the leisure classes which are served by mechanical slaves while all men and women become philosophers and poets.

But they do not want to be philosophers and poets. They want to be what they would have been if they worked 12 hours a day. They want to watch somebody else be a philosopher and poet and songwriter and singer and dancer and all the things that come on television. Who can really say what is the correct use of the leisure for another man?

Senators Study Bank Deals Of Government Appointee

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the White House is getting a bit lax in securing FBI reports on certain vitally important appointments to high office before making them.

In recent weeks it's been revealed that John Brown of Houston, Texas, appointed to the U. S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit, had been severely rebuffed by the court on which he was supposed to sit; also that ex-Cong. John S. Wood of Georgia, appointed to the subversive activities control board, had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan and had let his congressional office receive a $1,000 fee for introducing a private bill.

On top of this, it has just been revealed that the FBI began only last week to check on Ike's new appointee to the Atomic Energy Commission. Allen Whitfield, the appointee in question, was designated by the President on March 17, yet the FBI began checking his record only during the first week in June.

Meanwhile here is part of the record of the man appointed to the Atomic Energy Commission, one of the most important posts in the nation.

Bank Stock Zoomed

Whitfield, a go-getting, likable Des Moines attorney, active politically in the Eisenhower campaign, had been appointed trustee in 1937 for the will of the late R. A. Crawford, chief owner of the Valley Bank and Trust Company of Des Moines. With him as trustees were the late Frederick M. Morrison and the late James A. Howe.

Crawford willed his stock in the Valley Bank and Trust, after his wife died, to Drake University, the Methodist Hospital, the Des Moines Children's Home and the Piney Woods School in Mississippi. But it ended up not in the hands of these institutions but being purchased by the trustees.

It was a very profitable buy. For the Valley Bank and Trust today has a capitalization of $1,000,000, $27,000,000 in deposits, a surplus of $500,000 and profits of about $600,000.

Today also, Whitfield controls the bank as the largest single stockholder — 869 shares. Yet he and the other trustees were supposed to pass this stock along to Drake University, the Methodist Hospital and the other institutions.

While it is true that the trustees of these institutions agreed to sale of the stock at what now appears to be a low price, and while Whitfield was in the armed services during part of this time, nevertheless he signed the final trustees' report and OK'd the acts of his co-trustees. Senate investigators have also run across evidence that he knew exactly what was going on even though away.

As a result, Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, chairman of the Joint Atomic Committee which must pass on Whitfield's confirmation, has written Whitfield a letter asking about certain chapters in his career. One question the senators want answered is whether his purchase of the stock was not a breach of fiduciary relationship.

They also want to know whether any effort was made to get an appraisal on the Valley Bank stock before it was sold. Investigation so far indicates there was none. The senators also want to know how much Whitfield profited personally from a deal in which he was a trustee.

The Senate committee already has information that he received real estate fees from the sale of the Valley Bank building, plus a retainer from the bank. His own shares of bank stock also increased from 150 to 869, partly through purchase, partly through split stock.

Another question asked by Sen.

Which Sex Is Guilty of Most Stares?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — What really does the most to lower efficiency in the average business office—girl watching or man watching?

Would you get more work done if every white collar man were forced to wear overalls and a Hall-lown mask on the job?

I raise these questions only because my earlier campaign to put the American working girl in bloomers has fallen flat.

Why the campaign? Well, a survey showed that on an average day American men were wasting 20 million hours of company time doing nothing but daydreaming over the charms of their pretty girl coworkers.

My theory was that if all working girls were compelled to wear the same drab uniform they would become so repulsive nobody would waste time looking at 'em. The suggested uniform: Black cotton stockings, old-fashioned black bloomers, and a blue middie or high-necked blouse.

But it looks as if I got off on the wrong blooming foot.

It's Men Who Help

You'd think it would be the office girls who'd raise a howl against being compelled to wear bloomers. Not at all. Many of them were quite attracted to the thought. It was the men who yelped.

Typical complaint from a boss: "Why don't you shut your big mouth, Boyle? It has taken me 20 years to work up to a place where I can have an office of my own and a good-looking secretary. Quit talking like a wife, will you? Let well enough alone."

An office supervisor remarked: "You're putting the cart before the horse, son. There are more women than men in the average office today, and believe me most of them are man-crazy."

"If men are wasting 20 million hours a day girl watching, then the girls themselves must be wasting 30 million working hours staring at the men in their offices. The real problem is how to make the white collar man less attractive."

They're Irresistible?

I checked into this and—by golly—the supervisor was right. America's white collar men are getting downright irresistible. Every stenographer and secretary I talked to admitted—of the record, of course—that there was at least one man in her office she couldn't keep her mind and eyes from.

"There is a junior executive in our place who has been promoted to a desk with two telephones," said one. "And he's as happy as a baby with a new rattle. Every time I pass his desk it's all I can do to keep from reaching over and pinching his little fat merry cheeks."

What about a standard uniform for men office workers then—overalls or Bermuda shorts, plus blinders or Halloween masks?

"In my opinion it wouldn't work," said a middle-aged secretary acidly. "To me most men look like they are wearing Halloween masks anyway, but in this civilization there is nothing you can do to make men repulsive—heels that they are—simply because there aren't enough of them to go around."

The case against putting office girls in bloomers was expressed most forcibly by Don Sauer, president of something called the American Society of Girl Watchers Inc. Sauer says girl watching may reduce office efficiency but boosts office morale.

"I recommend that each American working girl be given a special income tax deduction of $100

How Bangkok Cleaned Up for SEATO Meet

By PAUL HARVEY

NEW YORK—"Thieves, pickpockets and naked children are asked to remain indoors for the next four days. Repeating, thieves, pickpockets and naked children will remain indoors or face imprisonment. Attention all thieves and pickpockets... and naked children."

The sound truck was cruising the hot, foul-smelling streets of Bangkok, Thailand earlier this year warning the residents of the city to hide. The SEATO conferees were coming.

Delegates from eight nations to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization were convening in Bangkok to confer on matters of mutual concern. So the sound trucks ordered "thieves, pickpockets and naked children... indoors."

Shortly the Big Four leaders will convene in Geneva, Switzerland. In the immaculate environment of a castle in the Alps they can plan for Asia... while a comfortable distance from the sights and the sounds and the smells of it.

In Geneva the East and the West will meet and each will be acting and thinking as generations of tradition in his own homeland have taught him to act and to think.

Not just our President, but the several echelons of our diplomatic corps and their advisors will earnestly seek avenues of mutual understanding.

But they will be Americans, familiar with the regions they discuss but removed from them by a lifetime of intellectual evolution.

And the Russians will come to the conference table with their shirttails out.

That is the characteristic dress of the East. It is used here as a figure of speech to identify the two cultures.

As surely as we cannot comprehend the complaint of that sound truck in Bangkok, we will stumble clumsily through stupid conferences with stubborn men and get no place.

We assume that, though languages differ, all laughter and pain sound the same. And that this should make all men seek honorable peace.

But the world is threatened by heathens who sincerely don't want peace. And that makes it so futile.

Makes our best efforts appear so inadequate and naive. Western minds cannot conceive of anybody wanting war.

We always start out speeches at these affairs, "We all want peace..."

And that's not so.

Russia does not want peace. These godless dictators actually don't want peace and the Westerner who puts such a premium price on human life can't understand that.

The Soviet world would, without conscience, obliterate the rest of us by ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

If it were not for our bombers ready to strike at nine.

And yet... How shall we answer to our Maker if we fail to try?

So that is the struggle in which we will be engaged at Geneva...

Represented by a blue-eyed President and a bumbling, stumbling, gallant handful of men who wear their shirttails tucked in...

And who somehow can't understand anybody who wears his any other way.

per year for cosmetics," he wrote. "And I suggest the hiring of one beautiful girl—for every 10 male employees—who has no talent for shorthand and who doesn't know a typewriter key from a piano key. Her sole assignment would be to stroll around the office adjusting venetian blinds and tidying up desk tops."

"Is anybody against this whole idea?"

Not me. Who am I to fight progress—in any form?

Advice on Health

Give Baby Something To Watch

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

With nice weather upon us, it's important that your baby spends a lot of time in the fresh air. But if he's like a great many tots, his discontented wails may prove embarrassing to you and irritating to your neighbors.

You don't have to push your baby's carriage constantly to keep him contented and quiet. The fresh air is as good for you as it is for your child, so it might be well just to sit beside him for a while. Then, too, your companionship might be enough to keep him quiet.

Several Hours

Busy mothers can't devote several hours a day to keeping baby from raising a ruckus. However, common sense should tell you that any baby old enough to be interested in his surroundings won't be satisfied to lie and look at the lining of his carriage. This isn't any more exciting or entertaining than it is to lie in bed looking at the ceiling and walls day after day.

As a rule, the solution is fairly simple. Give him something to watch. Place his buggy so that he can see branches of a tree waving in the breeze or maybe clothes flapping on a line. Some kind of a whirling toy may be attached to the side of his carriage. Or perhaps you can place him so he can see passing cars or children playing nearby.

Vitamin D

Again let me remind you that outdoor daylight is good for your baby even if he is not in the direct sunlight. He will get the benefit of the sun, even in the shade, because the sunshine, reflected from the sky, helps form Vitamin D when it falls on bare skin. And sunshine helps prevent rickets.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L. D.: Due to illness over a period of years, I have taken a considerable quantity of antibiotics. Could this be harmful to the nervous system?

Answer: It is not likely that antibiotics, if properly taken under the direction of a physician, would have a harmful effect on the nervous system.

Whippoorwills are seldom seen because they are active at night and in the daytime their plumage blends with their background.

Pierce-Pepin Electric Co-op Elects Johnson

ELLSWORTH, Wis. — Roland Johnson, Pepin, was re-elected president of the Pierce-Pepin Electric Cooperative here Friday.

The annual report revealed a net profit of $34,387 in 1952, the biggest year in the organization's history.

Named in addition to Johnson were: Sidney Peterson, Hager City, vice president; Forrest E. McCue, River Falls, secretary-treasurer, and Dorance Andrews, Bay City; Herman Johnson, Ellsworth; Juel Julson, Beldenville; Freeman Fisher, Ellsworth; Eli Ness, River Falls, and Vance Berg, Almond, directors.

17 Years Reviewed
Seventeen years of financial success were outlined by Manager A. M. Anderson and McCue. The only year that the cooperative lost money was in 1938, Anderson said.

Both also reported that the number of farm consumers of electricity during the past year reached a record breaking 2,800. In addition, the cooperative has served several commercial plants and public utilities and the city of River Falls.

McCue told the group that the total income of the organization was $415,500 during the past year compared with $383,299 in 1952 and that expenses last year were $381,383 compared with $354,178 in 1952.

Assets of the organization were listed at $1,145,079 while liabilities were set at $772,307.

Originally borrowed by the cooperative from the REA was a total of $1,032,963, according to McCue's report. Paid back, however, was a total of $310,228, leaving a balance still due the REA of $742,735.

Speaker at Friday's meeting was Vernon W. Thomson, Wisconsin attorney general, who several years ago served as mayor of Richland Center, Wis., and was instrumental in organizing cooperatives in several areas of Wisconsin.

Thomson lauded the Pierce-Pepin organization as the "best in Wisconsin" insofar as operation is concerned and complimented both the staff and the cooperatives for giving Wisconsin such a progressive organization.

Also speaking briefly were Jack Kyle, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Cooperatives, and R. Van Sickle, attorney for the Pierce-Pepin group.

The International Police Organization (Interpol), in a message to police headquarters throughout Italy, said the quintet may have crossed into Italy from Switzerland trying to reach a small south Italian port.

The message identified the five as John Timothy O'Connell, 35; Daniel William MacGuire, 28; and John Michael di Tacco, 37, all believed to be from New York City; Peter Jerome Kidam, 34, of Manchester, England; and Jeanette Forest, 27, of Montreal.

One officer said if the five were in Italy, they probably were trying to get aboard a ship bound for Africa.

Best Peace Hope Lies Outside U. N.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (P)—It is accidental irony that the best hope for peace in the past 10 years—the Big Four meeting next month—lies outside the United Nations which, created to keep peace, is celebrating its 10th birthday.

The U.N. had nothing to do with arranging the Big Four meeting starting in Geneva July 18 among President Eisenhower and the Prime Ministers of Britain, France and Russia.

It is hardly a tribute to the U.N. that the Big Four decided there might be a chance, by talking privately a month themselves, of achieving what the U.N. in a decade had been unable to do.

The U.N. has failed in the two biggest problems confronting it since the foreign ministers of its original 51 members signed the charter June 26, 1945, in San Francisco: World disarmament and the elimination of atomic weapons.

What happened in those 10 years? The West and East split into opposing, armed camps in a cold war which they used to test determination.

And in that cold war the big powers' representatives in the U.N., although there for the solution, the cooperative has served several commercial plants and public utilities and the city of River Falls.

Why then, since the governments could speak to one another through the U.N. where all could hear and judge, do the Big Four attempt to get results in a closed-door meeting outside the U.N.?

Perhaps because the big powers, so accustomed in the past to doing business head to head, have not yet advanced to that point in civilization where they can work in an open, parliamentary way through the world's biggest parliament.

Murder Makes Boy Sole Heir To $8 Million

NEW YORK (P)—Young William Anthony Burton's fortune, which he inherits through a family tragedy, has been figured at nearly eight million dollars.

William, now 12, used to be known as Wayne William Loneragan. His name was changed after his father Wayne Loneragan killed the boy's mother in her fashionable Beekman Place apartment in 1943.

The father was convicted of second-degree murder of his estranged wife Patricia. He is serving 35 years to life.

Through the death of his mother, the boy became the only living heir of her grandfather, wealthy brewer Max E. Bernheimer, who died in 1913 and whose widow died last year.

An accounting of the estate filed yesterday in Surrogate's Court showed the boy will inherit $7,809,918 as soon as the accounts are approved. He has already received $3,059,198 of this sum, the record showed.

William now lives with his maternal grandmother Mrs. Lucille Wolfe Burton, who has been his guardian since shortly after his father was imprisoned.

Station Operator Wins $240,000 Suit Against Oil Firms

SEATTLE (P)—A federal court jury last night awarded a former service station operator $240,000 in damages against seven of the nation's largest oil companies.

George F. Moore had charged in the civil action that the companies ruined his business in 1952 by agreeing to refuse to sell him gasoline because he cut his prices.

The suit, filed under federal antitrust laws which provide for treble damages, had asked damages totaling $275,000. The jury found Moore had suffered actual damages of $80,000 and gave him three times that amount.

Named in the suit were Standard Oil of California, Tidewater-Associated, Union, General Petroleum, Richfield, Texaco and Shell.

The companies contended throughout the three-month trial that there had never been an illegal agreement among them as Lucille Wolfe Burton, who has Moore charged. An oil company attorney said there will be an appeal.

Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. children at the Lincoln playground will hike to the lake for a wiener roast. There will be crafts on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons.

A bike hike is scheduled for Wednesday at 5 p.m. at Fourth Ward playground. Those planning to go should bring a lunch for a picnic supper across the lake.

Game contests will be featured at the Thurlay playground Friday afternoon.

At Jefferson, contests were held last week and ribbons were awarded to Duane Murray, running event; Robert Michaels, batting contest, and Michael McCoy, softball throw. A sack lunch and hike is scheduled for this Wednesday afternoon.

Famed Barbershop Quartet to Appear With 'Show Boat'

The Northmen, a barbershop quartet from Northfield, Minn., and a member of the Minneapolis Chapter of SPEBSQSA, Inc., will sing in Winona Saturday on the "Show Boat" presentation, sponsored by the Winona Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Winona Senior High School auditorium at 8 p. m.

The foursome is often referred to as "the most traveling quartet in show business," as they must drive some 80 miles each week to attend the rehearsals of the Minneapolis chapter.

Distance means nothing to the Northmen, for they recently returned from a trip to Louisville, Ky., where they took part in a three-day session of barbershop quartet craft, work shops and general singing at the mid-winter convention of the international society.

Every quartet has a different style, and the Northmen are distinctive for their sweet-singing arrangements.

Besides the Northmen, four other barbershop quartets will be featured on the "Show Boat" presentation. They are the Atomic Bums, Four Errors, Ewald Golden Guernseys and the Lake-Aires.

The Minneapolis chapter chorus under the direction of Judge Luther Sletten, will round out the show. Dr. Edward H. Hamlet, author of "Show Boat," will be master of ceremonies.

Tickets may be obtained at St. Clair & Gunderson or from any Jaycee.

Mjosen-Oplands Laget Chooses Whitehall for '56

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Clarence Haugen and Clarence Kaas, Whitehall, were elected president and vice president, respectively, of the Mjosen-Oplands Laget in convention at the city hall here Saturday. Mr. Haugen succeeds G. M. Steig who as president the past year, presided at the sessions.

Alfred Kallerud, Eau Claire, and Ole Gilbertson, Orfordville, were re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Kristoffer Johnson, Markville, Minn., and Olaf Hagen, Whitehall, were chosen auditors. William Berg, Chicago, and Ole Gilbertson, were on the nominating committee.

Superior, Decorah, Iowa, and Whitehall were suggested for the 1956 convention, but Whitehall was elected. The group voted to send $25 to a children's home at Biri, Norway, following the reading of a report from there by Ingvald Anderson, St. Paul.

One of the guest speakers Saturday afternoon was the Rev. Olav A. Kvisgaard, retired pastor, Calumet, Mich., who discussed his 11-month visit in Norway last year. He was president for three years of the original Mjosen Laget organized in 1911 in Minneapolis.

Currently he is corresponding secretary for this organization which, though still intact, has not held any meetings since one several years ago at Alexandria, Minn.

The original organization included people from counties directly bordering Lake Mjosen in Norway, or their descendants. The Mjosen-Oplands Laget, organized at Osseo, Wis., in 1937, is a branch of the original and includes a wider area, or other counties near this largest of Norway's inland lakes.

Other afternoon speakers were Even Marking, Onalaska, and William Berg, Chicago. Mrs. Anna Erickson, Stoughton, furnished accordion music, and Ingvald Alstad, Madison, formerly of this area, sang a Norwegian song, accompanied on the accordion by his son Raymond.

Guest speaker at the Saturday evening program was the Rev. C. K. Malm, Colfax, who gave a talk, during part of which Sverre Aasen sang and the Legion Auxiliary trio, Whitehall, Miss Stella Windjue and the Misses J. V. Maldonado and Willie A. Johnson, sang.

Earlier in the program, Mr. Aasen, a native of Norway now farming near Whitehall, sang and the trio sang the United States National Anthem.

There were solos by Mrs. E. A. Sletteland, Pigeon Falls, and Odell Schansberg, Whitehall. Mrs. Haaken Schansberg, Blair, gave a dialect reading and Clarence Kaas spoke briefly at the opening of the program.

The meetings adjourned Sunday to Pigeon Falls where the group attended services conducted by the Rev. E. B. Christopherson at the Synod Lutheran Church. Following dinner served by the women of the church there was an informal program at which Mrs. Oscar Fremstad and her mother, Mrs. Janna Nelson, 88, Pigeon Falls, sang a Norwegian song; Mrs. Jacob Engvald and Mrs. Carl Finstad, Whitehall, contributed a vocal duet, a St. Olaf College student sang, Mr. Alstad and son again furnished music, and Mr. Aasen closed with a song.

Mrs. Steig finished lunch at the end of the Saturday afternoon session.

Those registered Saturday indicated that they or their forebears had originated from Vardal, Biri, Sneringdal, Gjovik, Redalen, Hamar, Toten and Loten, Norway.

Drivers in Two Accidents Admit Traffic Faults

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Drivers of two cars involved in accidents near Centerville, Wis., Saturday night pleaded guilty to traffic charges before Justice P. M. Paulson here Monday and were fined.

Miss Esther O. Overing, 21, 503 E. Mark St., Winona, pleaded guilty to charges of driving without a drivers license and careless driving. She was fined $10 on each count with court costs of $6.95 added for a total of $26.95.

She and Miss Betty Henderson, 27, 729½ E. 4th St., escaped serious injury when their vehicle crashed in a ditch off Highway 35, one and a half miles west of Centerville, about 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

According to reports of Trempealeau County Traffic Officer Maurice Scott, Arcadia, Miss Overing was driving toward Centerville in a car owned by James Moga, Dodge, and while passing another vehicle at high speed had to drive into the ditch to avoid a head-on collision. Miss Henderson was treated for cuts and bruises at St. Joseph's Hospital, Arcadia. The car was damaged an estimated $75.

Vilas Gibbons, 21, Dodge, who was the driver of a car which crashed into the creamery bridge at Centerville early Sunday morning injuring three persons, pleaded guilty before Paulson to careless driving charges and paid $20 in fines and $6.95 costs.

In another Trempealeau County traffic mishap early this week, a truckload of chickens headed for La Crosse capsized on Highway 53 south of Galesville Monday morning, killing about two-thirds of the birds, according to Scott. The truck is owned by Enterschultz, Chetek, Wis. Charges are not being pressed.

Mrs. Jacobson and Mrs. Ausderau and children were also in the party.

Irwin Hogden, Orville Mahlum, Alex Nelsestuen, Kenneth Engdalen and Carl Engdalen, directors of the French Creek Watershed, which was organized last spring, were also among the approximately 30 people who took the tour, members of their families accompanying them. Nehru made the announcement at a news conference in the Spiridonovka Palace immediately after talking with Bulganin in the Kremlin.

He went from the news conference to talk at a mass rally in the Dynamo Stadium, where more than 100,000 Soviet citizens heard the first public address made in Moscow by a non-Communist statesman since the 1917 revolution.

Badger Minority Party in House Brings Out Bills

MADISON (P) — Much of the assembly's time was taken up Monday on consideration of several Democratic-sponsored bills. By agreement the minority party was able to bring the bills out of committee for floor consideration. Republican leaders approved their measures would make little progress but they wanted the opportunity to have votes recorded.

The Legislature aims to recess Thursday until fall.

The proposals and what happened to them:

A resolution directing the Legislative Council to make an interim study of the feasibility of extending, improving and reconfiguring an arterial lakeshore highway from the Wisconsin-Illinois state line north through Milwaukee County on State Trunk 32, Adoption refused, 49-41.

A bill to repeal the 1953 law that prevents public inspection of state income tax returns. Killed, 53-33.

A bill to require that the minority party be given more representation on the Legislative Council. Killed, 59-43.

A bill to require all meetings of bodies of state and local governments be open to the public and newsmen. Killed, 57-35.

A bill to provide penalties when racial discrimination is involved in admittance to hospitals, eating places, beauty shops and cemeteries. Killed 53-40.

A bill to provide for construction of school buildings throughout the state through taxes on railroads and banks and imposition of a privilege dividend tax. Killed 59-34.

Another measure, authored by Assemblyman Eugene Toepel (R-La Crosse) to change the coroner system in the state lost by a voice vote.

The measure proposed a state department of mortality investigations and would have made medical examiners take over virtually all of the duties now assigned to coroners.

Passed were bills to:

Reduce the registration fees for farm trucks to cut state revenues by $40,000 a year. The vote was 76-13.

Appropriate $2,500 a year for work of cooperative poultry improvement associations. The vote was 76 to 14.

Appropriate $235,000 annually for state aid to county agricultural societies in connection with county fairs. The vote was 84-4.

Each of these money bills had been recommended for killing by the Joint Finance Committee, but they breezed through without debate or comment.

The Assembly refused to kill, but still declined to give preliminary approval to a bill to cut the appropriation to the State Radio Council for educational television research.

Victory Dinner For Scout Camp Fund Planned

The victory dinner of the 1955 Camp Building Fund for the Gamehaven Area Foundation of the Boy Scouts of America will be held Thursday, June 30, at the Terrace Cafe in Lake City, Minn. The dinner is slated to get under way at 6 p. m. and will be a Dutch treat affair to enable the foundation to preserve every dollar that has been taken in.

The goal for the building fund is $250,000, and $180,000 has already been collected. The fund is a capital improvement plan to be spread over 10 years. Scout officials emphasize that the money contributed will all go toward the molding and building of the young men to take their places in our community by improving the health, safety and sanitation of the two camps operated by the Gamehaven Area Foundation. This appeal for money will be the last made for at least ten years because of the spread plan. The basic share is $120 and may be spread over a three tax year period.

The result, engineered by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, could encourage other assaults on the Eisenhower program.

It might signal a shift in strategy, supplanting what has become the general Democratic theme that the President is a man of stature but can't lead a divided Republican party.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) wrote the amendment to give the Marines 46 million dollars more than the President asked and thus nullify the cut of 22,000 men ordered by Eisenhower within the coming year. The Senate action is still subject to a conference with the House.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) took Symington to task for what she called an attempt to "discredit the President's military judgment." Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said no one could have foreseen the attack in Korea.

Trempealeau Co. Cancer Society Meets at Ettrick

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — A meeting of the executive board of the Trempealeau County unit of the American Cancer Society was held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Beulah Wiley, volunteer chairman. Presiding was Woodrow W. Wilson, field representative for the Wisconsin Cancer Society.

Plans have been completed to organize a speakers bureau, comprised chiefly of retired nurses and teachers, with Dr. C. B. Moen, Galesville, in charge of procuring materials. Educational displays for store windows are to be under the direction of Robert Longwell, Galesville.

Mrs. Arthur Runnestrand, Ettrick, reported that cancer control programs are to be promoted for women's and men's organizations during the coming winter. She will head an educational booth at the Trempealeau County fair this summer, when cancer films will be shown and live mice which have developed cancer in laboratories will be displayed.

The county unit has purchased a film, "From One Cell," for showings to pupils in the upper grades of county schools under the direction of Supervising Principal Archie Buckmiller.

A budget for county needs for the year beginning Sept. 1 has been set at about $800, to be used for exhibits, literature, education, films, telephone listings of information centers, volunteer expenses, dressings, supplies and campaigning.

A delegate will be sent to the conference and training school to be held in Madison in November. Mrs. Wiley reported that funds raised in a recent campaign at Galesville and Town of Gale totaled more than $800, while the sale of honey donated by Glenn Hall, Madison, netted $134.

Next meeting of the county unit has been set for Sept. 14 at the Whitehall courthouse, with committees to be named for public education, service, volunteer recruitment and training, finance and fund raising, public relations and publicity.

Senate Votes To Cancel Cut In Marines

WASHINGTON (P) — Democrats took a step yesterday toward open attack on President Eisenhower with the 40-39 Senate vote aimed at canceling his cut in Marine Corps strength.

It was the first successful major challenge in Congress of Eisenhower as a military man and demonstrated to some Democrats that on this score the President is not invulnerable.

The result, engineered by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, could encourage other assaults on the Eisenhower program.

It might signal a shift in strategy, supplanting what has become the general Democratic theme that the President is a man of stature but can't lead a divided Republican party.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) wrote the amendment to give the Marines 46 million dollars more than the President asked and thus nullify the cut of 22,000 men ordered by Eisenhower within the coming year. The Senate action is still subject to a conference with the House.

Sen. Humphrey Urges U.S. Protest Of Peron's Actions

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) urged Secretary of State Dulles to protest Monday "President Peron's persecution of the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina."

In a telegram to Dulles, Humphrey called for official American action registering "disapproval of this totalitarian regime."

The Minnesota senator, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, wired Dulles: "By first destroying the free trade union movement, then destroying the free press, and by now attempting to subjugate the church the Peron regime stands as a threat to freedom and democracy in this hemisphere."

"Our government should act without delay to express its disapproval of this totalitarian regime."

Swiss Tighten Security for Big Four Meet

By LYNN HEINERLING
GENEVA (AP)—Any celebrity-loving Swiss who succeeds in getting a long look at one of the Big Four leaders here next month will become a celebrity himself.

President Eisenhower, Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Prime Minister Eden and Premier Edgar Faure are going to get security rarely accorded any visiting dignitary in Switzerland.

Swiss police have never forgotten that someone threw a tomato at the late Eva Peron, the Argentine President's wife, when she toured Switzerland in 1947. She missed hitting Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petiennet, seated beside her in an automobile.

Four companies of Swiss troops will help police guard the hotels and villas where the delegates will live. They will patrol every foot of road along which the Big Four ride and guard their airplanes at Geneva Airport on a 24-hour schedule. Detectives from all other Swiss cantons will augment Geneva police.

In their calculations, Swiss security officials went into the recent political history of the United States, the Soviet Union, France and Britain.

They studied the police reports of the shooting in the U.S. House of Representatives last year. They looked into the earlier attack on President Truman's residence.

Blair House
Because of French difficulties in Morocco, police have been told to keep out a close watch for Moroccan extremists in the protection of Faure. Acid anti-Communists will be watched in Bulganin's interest.

Eden will live in the Villa Repose on the edge of Geneva, where he stayed during the Asian conference last year.

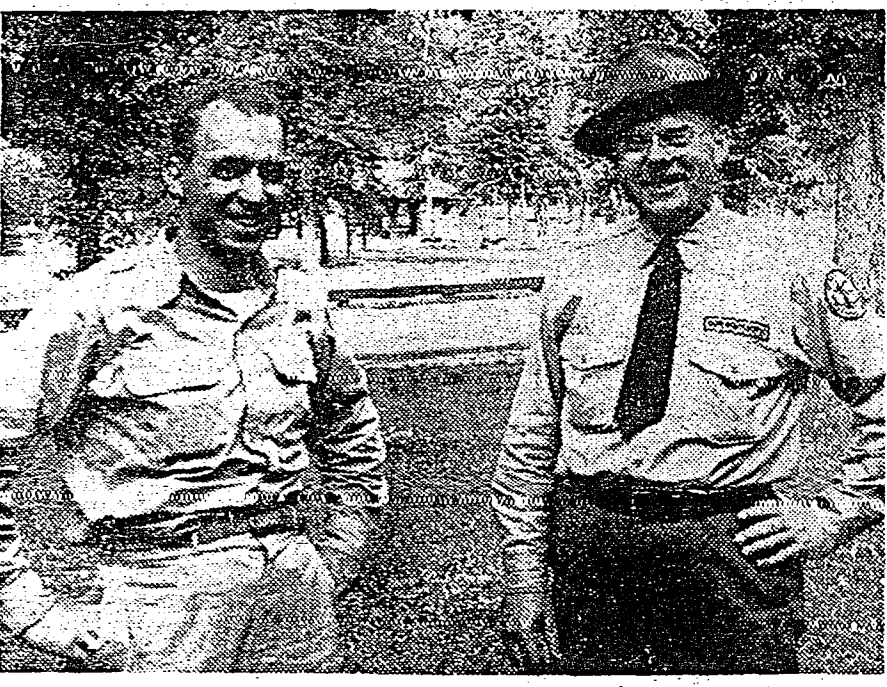

Bulganin is expected to stay at the villa occupied by the permanent Russian delegation in Geneva. The rest of the Russians will live in the Hotel Metropole.

Faure is expected to live in a villa, still not chosen. As far as is known, President Eisenhower will stay at the Rhone Hotel overlooking the Rhone River. Secretary of State Dulles lived there during last year's conference.

Hotels used by delegations and delegation heads will be inspected by Swiss detectives every morning. All hotel employees will be investigated. Swiss detectives will be on duty at the hotels 24 hours a day to assist the security forces of the delegation.

The conference likely will be held in the council chamber of

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

Whitewater Naturalist

Taking a page out of national parks operations, the Minnesota park system has assigned naturalists to four of its largest parks for the tourist season. It is a cooperative effort between the Department of Parks and University of Minnesota and should prove popular with park visitors.

Pictured above is Hubbard Harper (hatless), assigned to Whitewater State Park, with Waino Kontola, park superintendent. Harper, a biology teacher at Forest Lake High School, has made a hobby of the outdoors since a youngster. The other day when the picture was taken we found him high among the cliffs remarking and making passable old park hiking trails.

Other parks getting naturalists are Gooseberry near Duluth, Camden and Itasca. The plan calls for lectures in a park pavilion with slides or movies in the evening, and study hikes during the day. Trees and other plants will be marked and named along hiking trails.

Fish of Week

Two fish, the big trout caught by Ed Radalen, Lanesboro, which was pictured in this column, and the nine-pound nine-ounce walleye caught by Maynard Green, Grand Meadow, Minn., stand out as the fish of the week for this area. Each is a large fish anyway.

Mrs. Leon Bronk Jr., 3677 6th St., Goodview, got the big northern of the week. It tipped the scales at the Hurry Back and Sportsmen's Tap at 12 pounds and 11 ounces. Leroy Backus, one of Winona's top fishermen, entered a four-pound 12-ounce northern, Thor Romstad, 252 E. King St., got a four-pound four-ounce largemouth at Whitman.

Lawmakers' Creed

Every once in a while there comes out of a meeting where men a statement of policy worthy of retaining and keeping because it is an unselfish expression of their desires. A message prepared by the Wisconsin Conservation Congress to the Wisconsin Legislature is a splendid example of what we mean. It follows:

"Conservation groups do not have the funds, nor the members with time on their hands, to appear frequently to counsel with you; therefore we must, in the main, place dependence on your good judgment and your love for Wisconsin to appraise correctly those bills which are good, and those that are bad, and you have both."

"We ask that you steer a course in voting on bills that will make our outdoors more wholesome and lasting; that no section, or group, be given privileges over any other; that our resources—be they timber, land, rivers or game—be administered in behalf of public interest rather than private exploitation; that recreational needs be planned on a long term basis; that the outdoors be considered too for its moral aspects and that a dollar sign need not be hung on everything in it; that it is a place too in which to live and to play. Let's treat it with reverence."

Bass Hitting

Al Radsavage, Jack Tripplett, Winona Chief players, have demonstrated their ability to catch fish. In the past week they have caught two strings of the finest largemouth we have seen in years.

Radsavage just started spin fishing a year ago and has become one of Winona's ardent fishermen. Jack, of course, being a Rebel from south of the Mason-Dixon line has caught bigmouth since he was able to creep. In fact, he qualified recently for the "Two-on-One" club by landing two bigmouths with his casting outfit on one cast.

Amount of Wage Boost Question In Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Already assured of a wage boost by U.S. Steel Corp., the CIO United Steelworkers hoped today to find out how two other big basic steel producers feel about a pay increase.

U.S. Steel says it will offer an increase but the big question is how much. That question may be answered when Big Steel and the union resume negotiations, probably Thursday or Friday.

Basic steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour.

Top union officials have predicted U.S. Steel will offer a 7 1/2-cent hourly wage hike. They have also said that would not be acceptable.

Most observers believe the union will get an increase of between 12 and 15 cents.

A reopening clause in USW contracts permits negotiations only on wages this year. The contracts expire June 30, 1956.

The deadline for successfully completing the wage talks is June 30. After that, the union would be free to strike.

The union, which has 600,000 members, is negotiating with 96 basic steel producing firms and iron ore mining companies.

Alabama Church Conference Broken Up by Hoodlums

WADLEY, Ala. (AP)—A conference on international relations attended by Negro and white members of the Congregational Christian Church was broken up by hoodlums last night, President Clyde C. Flannery of Southern Union College reported.

Flannery said delegates had just completed a discussion of U.S. foreign policy and were attending a brief worship service in Elder Hall chapel when four white men rushed in.

The president of the white co-educational junior college said the leader of the group shouted: "We'll give you 30 minutes to get those niggers out of here." Then the men left.

Flannery said he called the state patrol and that a sheriff's deputy arrived just as the 25 Negro delegates were leaving and saw them safely out.

Then, Flannery said, the hoodlums returned in a pickup truck followed by three or four motor cars. The caravan drove around the campus, but did not take any further action, he said.

The Congregational Christian Church's Convention of the South sent 25 Negro delegates to the conference and the Southeast Convention sent 25 white delegates.

Segregation was not discussed at the conference, said Flannery, 35, a native of Letcher County, Ky.

Hugh Riley, fire chief, said cause of the blast was not determined immediately. The explosion tore out two sides of the eight-room structure.

Such a large crowd gathered in wake of the blast police had to detour traffic from the scene.

Earl Bunke and Herbert Thompson were named alderman candidates and Roy Stephens was re-nominated for justice of the peace. The city election will be held July 12.

A small crowd attended the meeting held in the City Hall last night. Karrol Jantstad and Foster Green were nominated for the office of mayor and Vitse was selected by ballot. Nels Danielson and Thompson were both suggested for one of the alderman posts with Thompson winning on a ballot.

Today's Prisons Will Be Obsolete, Law Officers Told

ST. PAUL (AP)—Prisons as the public knows them today are due to disappear, says Russell G. Oswald, director of the Wisconsin division of correction.

Oswald told the National Probation and Parole Officers Assn. Monday night that public conscience "will pass the death sentence" on the present prison system.

He predicted it would be succeeded by small, maximum security prisons for hardened criminals with the rest of the program built around individual rather than institutional treatment of inmates.

He said the custodial staff would become "professionalized" in accounting clinical help for prisoners. Bearing out this thought, Dr. Garrett Heyns, warden of Michigan State Reformatory, estimated that one-third of the 250,000 inmates in federal and state prisons should not be behind bars.

Heyns said that these 80,000-odd cases should have been handled at community levels by probation or other treatment. He blamed "public hostility" as a main obstacle to early freedom for prisoners who cannot be helped by lengthy confinement.

Heyns, former president of the American Prison Assn., reminded delegates that prisons were not designed to prevent crime but rather to prevent recurrence of crime.

Judge Gustavus Loevinger, St. Paul, president of the Minnesota District Judges Assn., paid tribute to parole and probation officers for taking the lead in showing new concern for youths and adults "who have fallen overboard."

He said he was happy to see that "rehabilitation penalties" for specified offenses were giving way to "individualized and socialized" treatment.

9 Philadelphia Reds Sentenced

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Ganey yesterday sentenced nine Philadelphia area Communists to two to three years in jail for violation of the Smith Act. This law makes it a crime to teach or advocate the overthrow of the government.

Judge Ganey, after listening to impassioned pleas by three of the defendants, ordered them jailed immediately, rejecting defense attorneys' pleas that they be freed in bail pending an appeal to a higher court.

Sentenced to three years were Joseph Kuzma, 31; David Dubensky, 46 (also known as Dave Davis); Thomas Nabried, 51, all of Philadelphia, and Sam Gobeloff, 44 (also known as Joseph Roberts) Camden, N.J.

Sherman H. Labovitz, 29; Walter Lowenfels, 56; Irving Katz, 35; Robert Klonsky, 35, and Benjamin Weiss, 39, all of Philadelphia, were given two year sentences.

Davis, Nabried and Lowenfels made separate statements to the court before sentencing. But Judge Ganey, who had refused the defendants a new trial last week, dismissed the pleas as a "torrent of words," adding:

"That these defendants, being convicted of an extremely serious offense such as this, have the opportunity to be heard as they are here, to deny it forthrightly and earnestly and enthusiastically as they do, is a tribute to the democratic system and the concept of liberty which emerged from it."

Harrimans Plan Trip to Europe

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and his wife plan to make a three-week trip abroad next month, including visits to London, Paris, Rome and Israel.

The governor's office announced today that the Harrimans would fly from New York City to London July 7 and return to the United States, also by air, July 30.

Malayan Reds Cause Trouble In Singapore

By LARRY ALLEN
SINGAPORE (AP)—Malaya's Communists are driving hard to upset law and order in this rich British crown colony.

Strikes are spreading. Rioting is being fomented. Communist-inspired Chinese high school students are openly defying the police. Businessmen in the great Far Eastern port city—one of the world's busiest—face the future with undisguised fear and skepticism.

The 17,000 whites on Singapore Island are beginning to fear for their lives.

A storm of protest is rising swiftly against the new Labor Front government headed by David Marshall, a Singapore attorney. Civic organizations and individuals are demanding that industrial unrest and lawbreaking be curbed lest this rubber and tin metropolis become "a lawless city."

Of the city's 1,107,000 people, 910,000 are Chinese. Marshall, with an eye to elections four years hence, is reluctant to hit trouble-makers hard—and most of them are Chinese. He says now is the time for "nursing" rather than whipping the students who, siding with strikers, have spearheaded rioting the hostile demonstrations against the government.

Sparking Violence
Sparking the threatened violence is the most intensive subversive campaign the Red Chinese underground has waged on the island since it unleashed guerrilla warfare in the jungles up country in the spring of 1948. The Communists apparently feel that Marshall's "go easy" policy leaves the door wide open to a determined effort against law and order.

On the Malayan mainland, the Communists have slackened direct attacks on highway convoys and communications. But in Singapore they appear set upon getting the upper hand by vile and subversive tactics. They are infiltrating labor unions and student groups.

About 7,000 of the 80,000 students in private Chinese high schools form the hard core of resistance to the government. They lead the open defiance of police orders, march in picket lines, urge strikers to fight on until their demands are met. When the government threatened to expel ringleaders and close three of their schools, the students threatened "serious trouble" and the authorities backed down.

Police Arrest 127
Police finally did arrest 127 pickets for obstructing them. But big gatherings of students and strikers still go on.

The students say they want no interference with the Red Chinese doctrines they are being taught in many of their classes. They have forced teachers to quit when they tried to teach courses prescribed by the government. They have staged "sit-in" strikes or refused to attend classes.

The government, which pays for part of the instruction, feels English and principles of democracy must be taught. But Marshall and his ministers haven't found a way to see that it is.

Marshall's young regime also is being plagued by spreading industrial unrest which at times threatens to paralyze the city's transport and commercial life. As fast as one walkout appears settled, another is started. A general strike last week brought out less than a seventh of the colony's labor force. But the unions made clear they would try again.

Oilman McCarthy Tracks 3rd Fortune

HOUSTON (AP)—Oilman Glenn McCarthy, still trying after losing most of two fortunes, believes the third is just about in the bag. Speaking of his Bolivian oil explorations yesterday, he said, "In two years we will have enough production to make up for anything I ever had in the States."

His U.S. production, he said, at one time amounted to 15,000 barrels daily but at present he owns "only several Oklahoma wells."

The old wildcatter made his optimistic predictions yesterday in announcing that a New York and Denver syndicate had invested $4,160,000 in the Bolivian venture. The money, for which the syndicate gets a 50 per cent operating interest in the Bolivian concession, will be used to buy drilling and production equipment.

English Antarctic Explorer Dead

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Frederick John Hooper, antarctic explorer who found the body of Capt. Robert Scott near the South Pole, died yesterday at his home here. He was 64.

Hooper sailed around the world three times before joining Scott's last expedition in 1912, at the age of 18. When Scott failed to return from an advance exploratory trip, Hooper went out with a search party. Spotting a small bamboo pole sticking out of the snow, he unearthed Scott's last camp.

'Trusted' Racine Bank Employee Gets 2 1/2-Year Sentence

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Racine bank teller who was regarded as the bank's "most trusted employee" will begin a 2 1/2 year federal prison term next week on three embezzlement charges.

Anton C. Urbush, 49, a teller at the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Racine, was sentenced to the terms Monday by Judge Robert E. Tehan in Federal Court at Milwaukee.

Urbush admitted to authorities that he had taken $58,700 during the past 15 or 20 years. He had worked at the bank for 28 years.

Married and the father of two teen-agers, Urbush said he took the money because he had been living beyond his $8,000 annual income. Judge Tehan gave him a week's stay of sentence to get his affairs in order.

Wisconsin Guard Given Taste of Psychological War

CAMP MC COY, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin's 32nd National Guard Division got a taste of psychological warfare Monday in its war games against an aggressor force.

Four "bombs" were dropped on the division's command post. Later, helicopters released a flood of safe conduct passes claiming "We treat prisoners right."

The leaflets from the "enemy" promised good, hot tasty food, lots of drinks and pretty girls to those surrendering.

In the war room, the big situation map showed gains of up to half a mile by division forces counter attacking the aggressor in protecting the theoretical atomic weapons supply point at the camp.

The opposition came from elements of infantry and armored forces of the aggressor made up of regular Army troops trained for the job.

Umpire teams, covering each section of the division engaged in the command post exercise, introduced new combat problem situations where the command decisions will be made.

When the exercise got under way, the division and service elements moved from the camp area and administration buildings and set up a complete tent command post in the field in two hours time, both in forward and rear areas.

Regimental troops who are not involved in the exercise went out to the field in attack and defensive problems, and artillery units continued firing missions.

Transit Strike Adds More Cars To L.A. 'Logjam'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A transit strike forced additional thousands of Los Angeles workers into cars today for a hectic trip into the logjam of downtown traffic.

Extra police were again assigned to try to ease the mass of cars off jammed-up freeways and into city streets. Police estimated 100,000 additional cars surged into the downtown area yesterday, the first day of the strike of 2,600 workers.

Both union and management predicted that the tieup would continue until at least Saturday.

Some motorists began organizing car pools and others hitchhiked when Los Angeles Transit Line buses and streetcars stopped running yesterday morning. They normally carry 900,000 riders a day.

Union leaders had gone to an early morning mass meeting of workers armed with a 12-cent hourly pay increase plan which they sought to explain to the workers.

Nearly 2,000 workers shouted down their leaders' suggestion that the strike be postponed until the offer could be studied. They voted to strike immediately.

The amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees said the members will be asked to accept the management offer at a meeting Friday. If the members accept it, buses and streetcars would roll again Saturday.

The union has been seeking a 20-cent hourly pay hike and a one-year contract. Current top operators' scale is $1.91 an hour.

Shotgun Slayer Sentenced to Die

DENVER (AP)—Francesco (Frank) Archina, 22, was sentenced yesterday to die in the Colorado State Prison gas chamber during the week of Oct. 2 for the shotgun slaying of his mother-in-law Mrs. Elizabeth Macri, 60.

Dist. Judge Edward J. Keating imposed the penalty after denying him a new trial.

Archina, an Italian immigrant, was convicted March 17. Dist. Atty. Bert M. Keating also accused Archina of killing three other in-laws at a north Denver home Jan. 24, 1954.

Shrake Fans 14 Royals in 9-3 Four-Hitter

Home Run Support Helps Lefty Win First Game

By RALPH REEVE
Daily News Sports Editor

The Winona Chiefs had a two-game winning streak going today and a 9-3 victory over the arch-rival Rochester Royals after a lively exhibition of the national pastime and a few other things Monday night at Gabrych Park.

The "few other things" involved Manager Emil Scheid's debut as a fisticuffer, but more about that elsewhere. Suffice to say for the present, that Rocky Marciano needn't worry about the Winona Chiefs' manager as a pretender for the heavyweight throne.

All the Brockton Blockbuster has to concern himself with is the winner of the Bobo Olson-Archie Moore embroglio.

Monday night's victory over Rochester was the best of the season for the entertainment viewpoint.

Joe Shrake, the diminutive portender, a product of Cotter, St. Mary's and American Legion ball, twirled a brilliant four-hitter and struck out 14 Rochester batters in the process.

Little Joe had a two-hitter going into the ninth inning and a row of Rochester goose-eggs on the scoreboard for seven innings. Joe mixed an assortment of various-speed curves, changeups and a sneaky fast ball with pinpoint control that kept the Rochester batters off balance most of the game.

Of the first two hits he allowed, one was an infield single to second base in the second by Bill Pinckard and the other was a bad-hop single past shortstop Jerry Kindall by Tom Neill in the fourth inning.

Shrake weakened in the last two frames but saved enough stuff to retire Rochester and go the route. That Shrake was actually able to go the nine innings was a little surprising as it was his first starting assignment since the St. Mary's College season ended nearly a month ago. Shrake's Winona teammates backed him up with plenty of home run support.

The Chiefs stranded four men the first two innings but got to starter Ted Edmunds in the third. Jack Triplett led off with a single into left field.

Triplett was forced at second on Burt Tracy's attempted sacrifice, but Al Radsavage came through with a towering homer over the 325-foot mark in right field.

After Bill Leach bounced out, Sid Langston touched all four with a circuit blast over the 330-foot mark in left field.

Winona got three more runs, sent Edmunds to the showers and made the score 6-0 in the fourth.

Don Miller opened the inning with a walk, stole second and took third on Shrake's sacrifice bunt. Jerry Kindall struck out and Triplett was intentionally walked to get at righthanded hitting Tracy.

But Burt fouled up the Rochester strategy by parking an Edmunds pitch over the fence on a line drive 340 feet from home plate in left field.

After Edmunds knocked down Al Radsavage, the next batter, twice, he was replaced by Andy Anderson who got Radsavage on a fly to first base to end the inning.

There was no further Winona scoring until the seventh when Leach singled and scored on Langston's second homer of the night, a poke over the 300-foot mark in left field.

Len Swartz followed with a single but was erased when Miller popped into a double play. Rochester broke through with a tally in the eighth when Shrake walked the first three Royals. Shrake struck out Fred Hancock but Sam Hill's sacrifice fly plated one run. Shrake got Tom Neill to fly to shortstop.

In the ninth, a walk to Bill Pinckard and a homer over the left field wall by Walt Linden gave Rochester its final two runs.

CHALK ONE UP FOR JOEY... A 14-strikeout four-hitter was Joe Shrake's accomplishment Monday night before 1,501 fans at Gabrych Park against the league-leading Rochester Royals. The 5-8, 140-pound left-hander had a shutout going for seven innings and a two-hitter on the books for eight innings. Shrake's 14 strikeout performance is the most by a Winona Chiefs pitcher since Paul Giel twirled for the Winona team in 1952. (Daily News Sports photo)

Minneapolis Wins, Stretches Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Slumping Minneapolis found a "cousin" in the league's most consistent loser Monday night and gained a game while the two leading American Association challengers lost.

The Millers, who watched a 6-5 game lead in early June fade to a thin half game Sunday, downed Charleston 8-3 in 12 innings while Indianapolis beat Omaha 3-1 and St. Paul rapped Toledo 7-2.

In other action, Louisville handed Denver its third straight shut-out, 7-0.

Minneapolis had to overcome a three run lead in the ninth to force the game into extra innings. But they unloaded for five runs and the victory in the top of the 12th. The loss was Charleston's 50th.

Four Miller runs came on a solo round-tripper by Billy Gardner and a homer with two on by Ed Bresoud.

Indianapolis used a three run inning and a triple play to beat Omaha. The Indians scored all their runs in the third, with Jim Dyck's triple leading the way. Then they choked off Omaha rallies in the third and sixth innings with fine defensive work. The triple play came in the sixth.

At Toledo, hard hitting St. Paul pitcher Bob Darnell put down the Sox with four hits and hit three himself to pace the Saint victory. The Sox got four runs in the fifth on five singles, and Darnell weakened only for single runs in the fifth and seventh.

The pitcher blasted a triple in the eighth to score two singling mates.

Denver's string of scoreless innings was stretched to 25 at Louisville as the Colonels continued their season-long domination of the Bears. Jerry Casale's four hit victory was the Kentuckians 9th in 11 games between the two clubs.

Joe Tanner hit an inside-the-park homer for the winners and Casale contributed three safeties.

Al Kaline Leads All-Star Voting

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Kaline, Detroit's sensational 20-year-old outfielder, held his lead today as the All Star poll's top vote getter.

Kaline grabbed the lead Monday from Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella after Campy had been top man since the beginning of the vote June 10.

Kaline's total soared to 112,848. Campanella leads National League catchers with 111,412.

The voting will determine the starting lineups for the game to be played at Milwaukee July 12.

Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees was in third place in the individual race with 110,704 and Duke Snider of Brooklyn followed with 109,643.

Scheid Charges Anderson With Deliberate 'Beating' Attempt

"I've never seen a guy throw at someone as sincerely as he (Rochester pitcher Andy Anderson) did at Swartz last night," said Emil (Rocky) Scheid, manager of the Winona Chiefs, this morning.

Scheid charged Anderson with deliberately attempting to beat Len Swartz, Winona catcher who was knocked down in the seventh inning by an Anderson pitch after Sid Langston had homered off Anderson.

The incident touched off a scuffle between Scheid and Anderson when Scheid charged the mound like an enraged bull. The disturbance was broken up by Umpire Mike Karbo and players from both teams. Scheid was tossed out of the game.

Scheid, reviewing the situation, said, "I knew Swartz didn't get beamed, but it's a cardinal sin to throw at a guy like he (Anderson) threw at that kid."

"It's okay to brush a batter back but not to throw deliberately at a kid's head. After all, the object isn't to hit the batter, I didn't mind Radsavage getting knocked down because he (Ted Edmunds) was the first Rochester pitcher who was throwing high with nothing on the ball."

Edmunds, the Rochester starter, lasted three and two-thirds innings. In the fourth with two out and a Winona runner on third base, Jack Triplett was intentionally walked.

Triplett followed by homering over the left field fence. Edmunds then knocked Radsavage down twice and was lifted at that point in favor of Anderson who moved to the mound from third base.

The game sailed smoothly along until the seventh when a single by Bill Leach and Sid Langston's homer broke the ice against Anderson.

Then the Rochester hurler uncorked a fast ball that ticked Len Swartz's bat behind his head. The pitch knocked the bat right out of Swartz's hands and sent him sprawling in the dirt.

Scheid Charges Mound

Scheid, coaching in the third base box, ran a few steps down the base line toward the plate, then changed direction and charged Anderson.

He dove into Anderson's midsection, but Andy got in a couple of uppercuts that knocked Scheid's cap off and put him down for a short count.

The melee ended there as cooler heads prevailed. Scheid left the park and returned to the stands dressed in street clothes, sporting a red welt on his forehead.

Scheid concluded his thoughts on the matter by saying, "I've never seen a guy throw at someone more sincerely than he did at Swartz last night. That was uncalled for."

Scheid is in no danger of suspension since league rules only pertain to incidents where players or managers are involved in fights with umpires.

CHIEFS CHATTER: Ed Hobaugh, the Michigan State pitching star, will start for the Chiefs tonight at Gabrych Park against Austin at 8 p.m.

Hobaugh, a righthander, won a game in relief Saturday night against Mankato in his only previous league appearance.

He'll be opposed by Jerry Speck, a lanky 24-year-old Austin righthander who was brought in from Waterloo of the Three-I League where he had a 5-5 record.

Leading hitters for Austin are Frank Brown who is batting .415, and third baseman Bob Riggenbach who is hitting .400 in four games with the Packers. Only other Austin batter over .300 is Manager Bill Campau, a part-time player with a .308 average.

Miller Releases

Scheid announced that second baseman Don Miller has been released and that newcomer Tom McDevitt will man the keystone spot tonight. "I think he'll give us more fielding and more hustle," Scheid said of McDevitt.

Winona's victory over Rochester marked the fourth-straight defeat for the Royals and knocked them out of first place on a percentage-point basis. The Royals now have a 10-5 record, compared to Fairbault's 9-4 mark.

Joe Shrake's four-hitter caused a lot of Rochester averages to slip. Going into the game, only two of the eight Royal regulars were batting below .300.

Players and their averages before Tuesday night:

Fred Hancock, .321; Sam Hill, .397; Tom Neill, .361; Bill Pinckard, .391; Andy Anderson, .364; Walt Linden, .216; Jerry McCarthy, .310; and Johnny Berdella, .232. — RALPH REEVE.

Willie Might Be Confused, But So Is National League

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Manager Leo Durocher may have diagnosed the whole National League pennant race when he explained why he benched Willie Mays, the darling of the New York Giants a year ago.

"Confused" is the way Leo pegged Willie's trouble. And if that doesn't describe the way the National League is behaving, it'll do until something better comes along.

This was supposed to be one of those "dream" races, with every body getting into the act. Trouble is, the Brooklyn Dodgers rocketed away out front and have shown no signs of faltering while the other seven clubs grope around looking for a way out.

It is a pretty dandy race at that, if you exclude the Dodgers—who are 11 games out front with a 46-16 record. The second-place Cubs are just 2½ games up on Milwaukee. The Giants are another two games back and two games ahead of fifth place Cincinnati, Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Moore-Olson Winner Slated For Marciano

Bobo May Also Put Middleweight Crown on Line

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Anybody want a slightly used light heavyweight crown? Archie Moore owns it and middleweight champion Bobo Olson is challenging for it tomorrow night. But nobody really wants it.

Ancient Archie, spry at 38, wants to fight Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight title in September. Olson talks of (1) Marciano. (2) middleweights.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, tossed a little wood on the fire yesterday when he spoke of Marciano's September plans.

"I will talk with Al Weill (Marciano's manager) after the fight," he said. "A Moore match would be very desirable if he wins. But it all depends on how he wins it."

"If Olson should win and look real good, I'd like to match him with Marciano. I never talked to Weill about that match but I have talked to Sid Flaherty (Olson's manager)."

Moore eats, drinks and sleeps Marciano as he goes through his final training for his 15-round defense against Olson at the Polo Grounds. He carried on a winter long campaign to convince fans and sports writers that he deserved the shot. When Don Cockell was given the chance, Archie picked up a little change beating Nino Valdes, the No. 1 heavy contender, and signed for Olson. But Rocky is what he wants.

Flaherty has told the press at the Asbury Park, N.J., training camp that Balding Bobo will risk his middleweight title against the winner of the July 15 San Francisco match between Ray Robinson and Rocky Castellani. He ignores the possibility that his 160-pound title will be declared vacated if he beats Moore under New York and National Boxing Assn. rules.

The odds favoring Moore lengthened to 2-1 yesterday when it was generally accepted that he was down to weight at about 175 pounds.

Moore boxed two rounds yesterday at his Summit, N.J., camp with Clint Bacon and may box a couple more today. Olson shadowboxed and worked on the light bag yesterday. He will do nothing more strenuous than taking a walk tomorrow.

DENNIS THE MENACE

LAFF-A-DAY

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGUM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. One psychologist says (paraphrased): "Standardized tests show abilities of girls as differing from those of boys, but, on the whole equal. Girls are better in English, spelling, writing, and art. Boys are better in arithmetic, history, geography, and science." This indicates that they grow at different rates in their special attitudes and interests, as well as attitudes and personality traits.

Do you wish you were like someone else?

Why? Make the most of your own attractive qualities! You will live and work more happily.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. False. I believe, I have found along life's journey a vast amount of the ointment of happiness without a fly within a million miles. I believe I've met as many trials and anxieties as the average. And, as is true of everyone, my troubles seemed a little larger than those of others. The ointment without flies would make a fair-sized mountain compared to the molehill that is man spoiled by any of the millions of flies of irritation and disappointment.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Mildred Hark and Noel McQueen say in a life adjustment booklet (paraphrased): "Every boy and girl should have one. If they have a definite amount of money each week, they can plan how to spend it, make their own decisions about what to buy, and learn to save for something that costs more than the amount they have." All counselors agree that children should be given full information about the family money.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

First I must tell you about Etisco. He was old enough to be called Chamund he was still called "Etisco," by Uncle Wiggly.

The reason the little rabbit's name was Chamund, was because Uncle Wiggly, when the bunny was still a wee baby, wanted to call him "Charles." But Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy wanted to call him "Edmund." So she and Uncle Wiggly put together the two names and made "Chamund." But nearly everyone calls him "Etisco."

Oh, I almost forgot about Etisco's engine; didn't I? Well, as I told you in yesterday's story, when Uncle Wiggly and Bosun reached the hollow stump bungalow with the little canyon, the first sounds they heard were those made by Etisco calling:

"My toy engine! My toy engine! Some one has taken my toy engine."

"I don't believe any one would take your toy engine, Etisco," said Uncle Wiggly, kindly.

"Yes they did! I'm sure they did!" exclaimed the little rabbit
