Course Description: This course structures the completion of a major capstone paper in collaboration with the student's academic advisor, and serves as a transition from the role of student to that of professional.

Note: May be taken concurrently with CE 680 - Counseling Practicum \(150 clock hours\) or CE 690 - Internship \(600 clock hours\), and a grade of B or A must be earned in the course. Grade only.

Required Texts and/or Materials:

American Psychological Association. (2009). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.). Washington, DC: Author.

Course Objectives:

The purpose of this course is to:

- 1) Provide the student who is nearing completion of their graduate studies in the Counselor Education Department (CED) with the opportunity to conduct research and/or a scholarly literature review on a contemporary topic in counseling or related area that is of particular interest to them.
- 2) Provide the student with a learning experience that is individualized and supervised by a CED faculty member who has specific expertise and/or interest in the area of study selected for research by the Capstone Project student and the project supervisor.
- 3) Provide the student with an integrated learning experience in which coursework taken throughout their program of study (e.g. research and writing coursework, theories and techniques of counseling coursework, etc.) is synthesized and culminates in the completion of a final project that demonstrates graduate level research, writing, and scholarship skills.

- 4) Provide the student with a public venue for presenting their final Capstone Project. It is hoped the student will gain a sense of confidence and comfort with presenting their professional work in public.
- 5) Provide the student with an opportunity to demonstrate their professionalism in terms of: 1) their ability to work collaboratively with their project supervisor, 2) their ability to complete their Capstone Project in a timely manner, 3) their ability to complete graduate level research and present their findings in a professional manner, 4) their ability to utilize technology in the research and presentation of their Capstone Project, and 5) their ability to develop, write, and present research findings following current APA guidelines.

Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP)
Related Standards: (include CACREP objectives for CMHC and SC as appropriate)

Mental Health Counseling:

K.1. Understands how to critically evaluate research relevant to the practice of clinical mental health counseling.

3. Knows evidence-based treatments and basic strategies for evaluating counseling outcomes in clinical mental health counseling.

School Counseling:

I.1. Understands how to critically evaluate research relevant to the practice of school counseling.

5. Understands the outcome research data and best practices identified in the school counseling research literature.

Course Expectations and Requirements:

All Counselor Education Department (CED) students are required to complete a synthesis project as part of their program of study. The form this project takes in the CED is in the form of a Capstone Project which generally takes the form of a comprehensive literature review and of current literature in a coursing area of interest to the student. Project planning, development, and completion is a collaborative effort between the student and their Capstone Project Supervisor. Final Capstone Projects are 15 to 35 pages in length and must strictly follow APA writing and reference guidelines.

Grading:

Grading criteria and procedures are found in the Capstone Project Manual, posted on D2L.

University Expectations and Resources:

Academic Integrity: The collegiate policy on plagiarism and cheating is outlined in the Student Handbook. It is your responsibility to be aware of this policy. You can also find it online at: <http://www.winona.edu/sld/academicintegrity.asp>.

Accommodations: According to Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, students with disabilities have the right to receive necessary reasonable accommodations and support services to allow equal access at Winona State University. If you have a disability that requires accommodations, you are eligible for support through access services, found at <http://www.winona.edu/accessservices/gettingstarted.asp>.

Commitment To Inclusive Excellence: WSU recognizes that our individual differences can deepen our understanding of one another and the world around us, rather than divide us. In this class, people of all ethnicities, genders and gender identities, religions, ages, sexual orientations, disabilities, socioeconomic backgrounds, regions, and nationalities are strongly encouraged to share their rich array of perspectives and experiences. If you feel your differences may in some way isolate you from WSU's community or if you have a need of any specific accommodations, please speak with the instructor early in the semester about your concerns and what we can do together to help you become an active and engaged member of our class and community.
