Income Tax Increase May Be Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported to be seriously considering asking Congress to give the President authority to increase or reduce income tax rates as a hedge against inflation or recession.

The proposal, sources said Monday, may be presented in one of President Kennedy's major messages to Congress this month. Presumably it would be apart from the White House's tax revision program.

Behind the plan is the knowledge that getting tax legislation through Congress is often a drawn-out business. The informants said that by the time a tax bill has been written, put through hearings, amended, passed and signed, a recession could skid into a depression.

There is strong and traditional resistance to any executive encroachment on Congress' taxing power. But administration aides reportedly have worked out a formula they think might be acceptable.

Although details were withheld, the plan was said to provide for presidential authority to cut the basic 20 per cent tax rate to possibly 15 per cent for a limited period—only, perhaps, for six months—with the cut subject to congressional veto.

Many economists have urged that device on grounds the government needs a more potent anti-slump weapon than now available.

Dutch Ready to Talk

Would Discuss West New Guinea

By NEL SLIS

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch government announced today its willingness to discuss the future of West New Guinea with Indonesia without setting conditions beforehand.

Premier Jan de Quay read the government declaration in the lower house of Parliament at the start of debate on West New Guinea, last remnant of Holland's East Indies colonial empire which Indonesia has threatened to invade.

President Sukarno Monday proclaimed the disputed territory a province of Indonesia and ordered a special military command set up to direct the invasion if he orders it.

De Quay said the Netherlands is willing to enter into negotiations without making self-determination of New Guinea's Papuan population a prerequisite. Previously the Dutch had said they would negotiate only if the Papuans were assured the right of self-determination.

The Labor party opposition had been pressing the government to announce willingness to relinquish the territory and then to negotiate for some autonomy for the Papuans.

Foreign Minister Subandrio of Indonesia recently said Indonesia might consider giving West New Guinea "a great measure of autonomy."

Dutch New Guinea — 159,000 square miles of jungles, mountains and swamps and the scene of some of World War II's hardest fighting — has been claimed by Indonesia ever since it won independence from the Dutch in 1949. The Dutch say the Papuans in the disputed territory have no ethnic relationship to the Indonesians and are only beginning to learn self-government under Dutch tutelage.

Cargo Ship Is Adrift in Gulf

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A 300-foot general cargo ship reported itself adrift in the Gulf of Mexico without power early today, then its radio went dead.

The Coast Guard reported that one of its search planes failed to locate the vessel, the Catalina S., in a position given in earlier distress calls. It added that this did not necessarily mean that the ship was lost since it could have widely miscalculated its position.

The Catalina S. is a Panamanian registry. The destination of the vessel and number of persons aboard were not learned.

Triplets Born to San Francisco Woman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Guenther Bauers of South San Francisco have three new reasons to celebrate the coming of 1962—all of them boys.

Mrs. Bauer gave birth to triplet sons at St. Mary's Hospital Monday.

Three Dead In Minnesota Road Crashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Three persons died in Minnesota traffic accidents: the first day of the new year, two in a head-on collision near Lake Benton.

Mrs. Therese Virginia Swanson, 29, and Steven Melcher, 18, both of Lake Benton, were killed in the crash a half-mile west of the southwestern Minnesota town.

Mrs. Swanson and her husband, Howard, were driving home from a New Year's Eve party early Monday. Melcher, a freshman at Mankato State College, had taken his date home and was driving to his home, a farm west of Lake Benton.

The cars came together about midway up a steep hill on a gravel road. Mrs. Swanson was killed and Melcher died a few hours later. Swanson suffered multiple cuts and bruises.

Another head-on collision Monday claimed Donald Korpi, 61, of rural Tower, Minn. Korpi died when his car and one driven by Edmund Winter, 46, Virginia, Minn., collided at the crest of a hill on icy Highway 53, about a mile north of Virginia. Mrs. Korpi and Winter suffered minor injuries.

Blais B. Paschall, 21, like Melcher a student at Mankato State, was killed in a Wisconsin accident Monday. The college junior had spent Christmas at his Alhambra, N.Y., home and presumably was returning to Mankato when his car veered from a highway near Somerset, Wis., rolled over and struck a utility pole.

Minnesota counted 716 traffic deaths in 1961, compared with a record 724 the year before. In early December of last year, the toll was ahead of the 1960 pace. However, the fatality rate decreased as the month progressed.

Joseph Swenson, 23, rural Wells, Minn., and Mrs. Marjorie Schultz, 23, Albert Lea, were killed Sunday in a collision 14 miles east of Wells.

Farmer Dead After Beating With Ball Bat

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — An inquest will be held today in the death of an elderly farmer who was beaten with a baseball bat.

The body of Frederick Knickrehm, 74, was found Sunday by a son, Raymond, 35. The victim's wife, Cora, 53, was jailed without charge.

Sheriff Russell Broberg said Mrs. Knickrehm told authorities, "I was afraid he was going to kill me." The woman gave no details as to why she was in fear of her husband, the sheriff added.

Knickrehm was attacked as he slept in his farm home 63 miles northeast of Fergus Falls. Broberg said a relative of the couple, Otto Schultz, told of seeing Mrs. Knickrehm enter her husband's bedroom about 7 a.m. Sunday and emerging a short time later. Schultz said he heard no disturbance. He said the woman went to a porch and appeared to be ill and shaking. The sheriff said a bloody baseball bat later was found on the porch.

Oddities of 1962

Hippo Born In N.Y. Zoo

By ANDREW MEISELS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A 25-day-old babe called 1962 already has begun to display some oddities all his own. Here are some of them:

Phoebe, who is Mrs. Peter II gave birth on New Year's Day while under water.

Phoebe is a hippopotamus, and the underwater delivery is peculiar to the species. Her bouncing baby hippo bobbed to the surface of the Bronx Zoo's elephant pool. Since marine hippos are extremely protective, nobody could get close enough to the newborn to establish its sex.

The weight of the Bronx Zoo's first 1962 arrival was estimated at between 50 and 60 pounds.

First Born

The first baby of 1962 born in Isoco County, Mich., is appropriately named. The baby has not yet been given a first name, but his last name is First. He is the son of Airman IC and Mrs. Larry First.

Babib?

Mrs. Dorla Kall gave birth to the first baby of 1962 in Peckskill, N. Y., hospital.

Bitter Cold Follows Snowstorm in East

NO BUS, NO FUSS . . . This youngster would have been able to skip classes during New York's bus strike today if mom hadn't been so ingenious. Stymied when the youngster's usual crosstown bus from Manhattan's west side to the east side was canceled by the walkout, Mrs. Carol Beichman put her nine-year-old son, Charles, on the back seat of the family scooter and got him to his private boys school classes on time. The family lives on Manhattan's West 84th Street — the school is on East 78th Street. The strike against New York's two largest bus lines forced over a million riders to seek other means of transportation. (AP Photofax)

Problem for Wisconsin

Tough Collecting Taxes on Border

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Tax Commissioner John Gronowski said today his department anticipates difficulty in collecting sales taxes on items purchased by Wisconsin residents in bordering states.

Wisconsin has no authority to collect sales taxes on such items, but purchasers are liable for a use tax at the same three per cent rate, Gronowski said.

Gronowski mentioned his remarks to sales in the neighboring state of Minnesota which does not have a sales tax. Wisconsin residents who buy items in Minnesota are expected to pay a three per cent use tax on them.

"It's understandable that we will have some difficulty, at least in the beginning, in collecting this tax," Gronowski said. "But our department is working on ways to see that it is collected."

The tax commissioner said a Wisconsin resident making an out of state purchase will be required to file a consumers' use tax form on the item.

The new tax law already assures Wisconsin sales tax collections on automobiles, a major item that could be purchased out of state.

If an automobile is bought in Minnesota, for example, the purchaser will be required to pay a sales tax on it before he is granted a license.

Since there is no licensing provision on such things as refrigerators, television sets or radios and other major appliances, the Wisconsin Tax Department has no direct way of insuring sales tax collections.

"Actually, I think the problem of people buying in bordering states to avoid the sales tax is somewhat exaggerated," Gronowski said. "Still we will do everything possible to see that the tax money comes to us."

More Soldiers Will Be Flown Into Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 4,000 additional U.S. soldiers in two infantry battle groups will be flown to Germany in mid-January, informed sources report.

Also involved in the move will be Air Force planes and their crews. They will come from several bases around the country.

It was understood that the two battle groups will be drawn from the 4th Infantry Division, a regular Army outfit based at Ft. Lewis, Wash. Maj. Gen. William F. Train, 4th Division commander, declined comment.

Hastings Man's Death Accidental

HASTINGS, Minn. (AP) — The carbon monoxide poisoning of a Hastings man was accidental, the Dakota County coroner ruled today.

A son, 14, found the body of Harold Foster, 38, in the family car in the Foster garage Monday.

The coroner said Mr. and Mrs. Foster had attended a New Year's Eve party and Mrs. Foster drove home. The coroner said the woman turned off the motor and left her husband asleep in the car.

The coroner said Foster apparently awakened, started the motor to keep warm, and then fell asleep again.

Great Way to Kick Off 1962, Governor Says

ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota's triumph in the Rose Bowl was "a great way to kick off 1962," said Gov. Elmer L. Andersen.

The governor was in Pasadena and saw the Gophers score their 21-3 victory over UCLA. He telephoned aides here that the game showed the nation that Minnesota is first in football.

"This is only the beginning of a great year of progress for Minnesota," the governor added.

Famed Criminal Lawyer Jerry Giesler Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Famed criminal lawyer Jerry Giesler died in his sleep Monday of a heart ailment. He was 75.

In a blazing career of nearly 50 years he had been the courtroom champion of such notables as Charlie Chaplin, Errol Flynn, Robert Mitchum and Lana Turner. He handled divorces for Zsa Zsa Gabor, Barbara Hutton, Marilyn Monroe, Bette Davis and Shelley Winters.

Giesler had been hospitalized several times since 1959 for the heart ailment. But he continued to oversee important cases.

He was Marie McDonald's counsel when her story of being kidnapped brought a police inquiry. In another case, Giesler won acquittal for Busby Berkeley, dance director, accused of manslaughter after his car killed three persons.

So successful was he in defending celebrities in legal trouble that the phrase "Get me Giesler" became almost a cliché.

Born in Wilton Junction, Iowa, he came to Los Angeles, as a youth, graduated from the University of Southern California law school and joined the staff of criminal attorney Earl Rogers. At 26 he played a small role in successfully defending his idol, the great criminal attorney Clarence Darrow, against a charge of trying to bribe a juror.

Giesler leaves his widow, the former Ruth Stevens, a son, Michael, and two daughters, Mrs. Jerry Lee Wright and Mrs. Mildred Lee Donnelly. The latter is his daughter by a previous marriage.

New Year Holiday Deaths Near 500

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic	331
Fires	83
Miscellaneous	59
Total	473

The New Year weekend traffic death toll, with a sharp rise Monday, surpassed the pre-holiday estimate of 330 and soared far past the record low mark.

The count at midnight Monday, at the end of the three-day holiday period, showed 331 traffic deaths. Fires claimed the lives of 83 persons, a record for a New Year period since World War II, and 59 others lost their lives in miscellaneous accidents. The over-all toll was 473.

Belated reports were expected to increase the traffic death toll for the 78-hour period which started at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated that 330 persons might be killed in traffic accidents during the extended weekend, earlier had hoped that the toll might be a record low for the three-day New Year period.

The record low of 269 highway fatalities was set in the 1949-1950 New Year period. The record traffic toll for a three-day New Year period is 374, set in 1959-60.

In the three-day 1960-61 New Year celebration, there were 338 traffic deaths, 66 perished in fires and 78 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 482.

Traffic deaths totaled 324 in the recent three-day Christmas weekend, while 84 persons died in fires and 86 others in miscellaneous accidents, an over-all toll of 693.

The previous record of fire deaths for a New Year period since World War II was 74, set during the 1955-56 three-day celebration.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accident deaths in a non-holiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8 to midnight Monday, Dec. 11. The count: 347 in traffic, 42 in fires and 57 in the miscellaneous group, a total of 446.

Foot of Snow In Virginia And Tennessee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A New Year's Day snowstorm which dumped up to a foot of snow in parts of Virginia and Tennessee and heavy falls in other sections of the South and East, headed into New England today.

Bitter cold weather moved into the northeast sector of the nation today after a storm dumped up to a foot of snow in parts of Virginia and Tennessee before it whirled into New England.

A 12-hour snow storm spread a 6-inch carpet on the resort city of Atlantic City, N.J., coating the boardwalk and arpa highways with ice. Only one-half inch of snow was reported 40 miles inland.

Colder weather spread into upstate New York and northern New England. Watertown, N.Y., recorded —14; Massena —8; Oneonta —7 and Albany 1 above. In northern New England readings hovered around zero.

The storm that moved over southern New England ended in the western sections about dawn. Early in the morning, Nantucket, Mass., measured 8 inches of snow, Boston had 2 inches and Providence, R.I., had 4.

Fairbanks, Alaska, warmed up to 2 degrees above zero today from —25 a day earlier. Thermal, Calif., recorded 78 degrees Monday.

Many schools in Virginia, Tennessee and Maryland were ordered closed because of the snow. Traffic was slowed and driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the snow and rain belt.

There was a foot of snow in southwest Virginia and in mountain areas of Tennessee. Six to 8 inches of snow covered the ground in southern Virginia, with 4 in Richmond and 3 to 5 inches in areas east of Richmond. Schools in 24 counties and 3 cities were closed.

In addition to the 12 inches of snow in mountain areas in Tennessee, 1 to 4 inches was on the ground in the extreme eastern sections. Schools were ordered closed in Johnson City and four counties.

Some schools were closed in the eastern half of Maryland, hit by a 5-inch snowfall. Nearly four inches of snow fell in parts of lower Delaware, including Dover, the state capital, Georgetown and Bridgeville.

Snowfalls in Georgia ranged from nine inches in mountain areas to 4 to 7 inches in northern areas.

More than six inches of snow hit Atlantic City, N.J., during the night but smaller amounts were reported north and south of the Atlantic Ocean resort. Snowfalls measured 4 to 8 inches in western sections of the Carolinas. Rain fell along coastal areas, with some sleet and gusty northerly winds as the storm moved north-eastward.

Fog snarled air transportation in Washington over the New Year holiday period and again blanketed coastal areas of Northern California.

Quake Shakes South Dakota

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — An earthquake shook the area surrounding Pierre with strong vibrations Sunday but did no major damage.

The thing that gave the area the shakes at 10:35 a.m. Sunday was officially confirmed as an earthquake by State Geologist Alan Agnew.

The shock registered on the school of mines and technology merical extension scale. This is a device that measures earth shocks from one to 12 degrees. Twelve is the roughest type.

The central South Dakota shake-up was between 4 and 5 degrees, according to Agnew. Had it been a little more intensive — say 5 degrees — it would have rung church bells instead of just shaking buildings violently.

The tremor rattled dishes, swayed buildings and performed other freakish stunts during its 15 to 20 seconds duration.

Busy New Year's Eve For Police

By DAVID HARRIS
Daily News Staff Writer

Saturday night, the expected unofficial New Year's Eve festival time for Winonans who prefer to celebrate with hard liquor, was relatively quiet, police reported.

But Sunday night police never stopped running. They were so busy they did not have a chance to turn off the Christmas street lights until 10 hours later than usual.

In addition to the Clifford Ives death investigation, and routine items, hurried police were kept busy by the following incidents:

- A fight at a downtown restaurant which resulted in one man being hospitalized and two others expected to be charged with assault.

- An accident on the northern approach of the interstate bridge after which the driver was charged with careless driving.

- One hit-and-run accident.

- Another accident.

- A man scuffling with an officer after being arrested for no driver's license.

- A minor arrested for having beer in his possession.

- And, for the nightcap, a parked car which backed into a police car as the officers pulled up behind it to investigate.

Three persons were involved in a fight about 5:34 a.m. Monday at 3rd and Walnut streets. Police said one member of the trio was taken to Winona General Hospital, where he was treated for a cut on the right hand and facial injuries. Assault charges are expected to be filed against several of the participants.

NO ONE was injured in the five accidents Monday morning. Three drivers were charged with traffic violations. Damage estimates totaled $1,400.

A youth whose car struck the sidewalk railing on the left side of the interstate bridge at 2:55 a.m. Monday was charged with careless driving.

Walter E. Tarras Jr., 23, 511 E. King St., was not injured in the one-car accident, police said.

His car was southbound to Winona on the high bridge approach when it crossed the center line as if to pass another vehicle, police investigation showed. Tarras' car plowed into the low railing protecting the sidewalk on the down-river side of the bridge. Damage to the front of his car was estimated at $800.

THE HIT-AND-RUN accident involved a parked car owned by John L. Anderson, Sparta, Wis. His car was parked on Sanborn Street about 70 feet east of Hamilton Street when someone apparently skidded across the street into it.

The other driver appeared to have been going east on Sanborn, police said. He collided with the front end of Anderson's car, causing an estimated $50 damage.

The accident occurred sometime after 3 a.m. Monday. Anderson reported it to police at 1:18 p.m. Monday.

ANOTHER COLLISION at 2:30 a.m. New Year's day occurred when Casimir J. Kowalewski, 156 Mankato Ave., collided with a parked car owned by Ralph P. Czaplewski, Eau Claire, Wis.

Police said Czaplewski's car was parked on Franklin Street 105 feet south of 4th. Kowalewski was moving south and struck the rear end of Czaplewski's car.

There was $150 damage to the rear of Czaplewski's car and $200 damage to the front of Kowalewski's vehicle.

A YOUTH arrested for having no valid driver's license pleaded guilty to this charge in municipal court today; he pleaded innocent to a charge of resisting arrest.

Roger F. Brown, 20, Harmony Hotel, was sentenced to a fine of $15 or five days in city prison on the license charge.

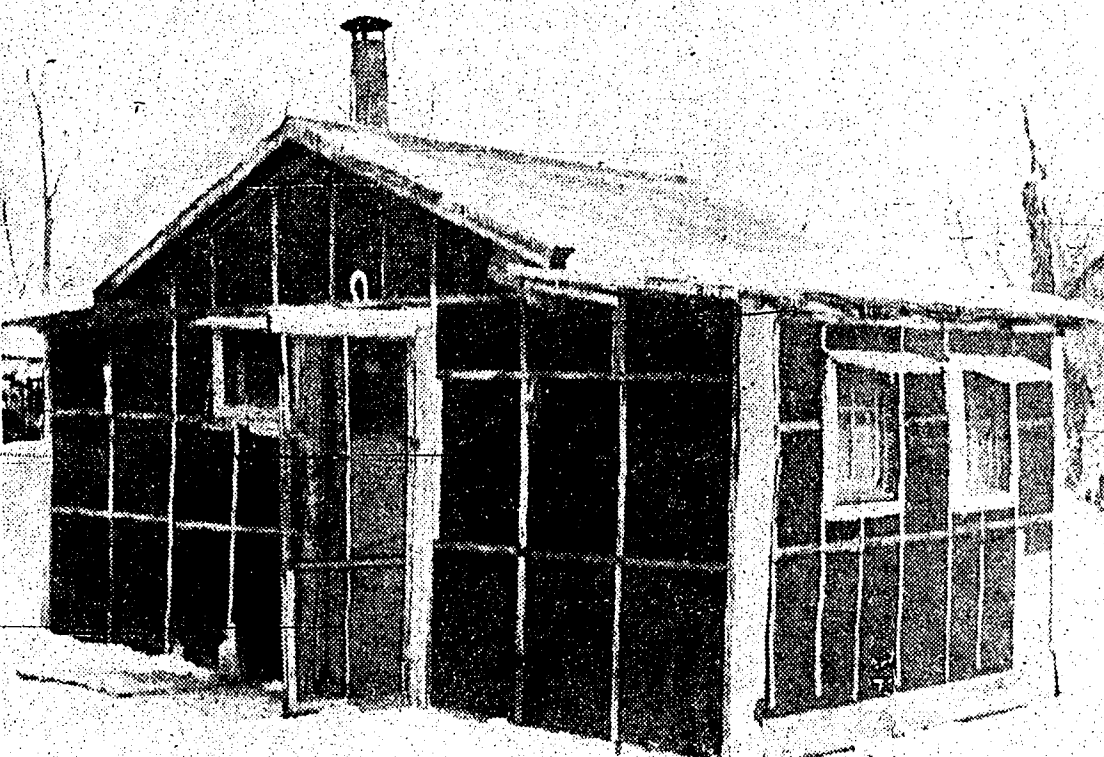

On the charge of resisting arrest, Brown will face trial next Tuesday at 9 a.m. Municipal Judge S. D. J. Brusk set bond at $25. Brown had not paid his fine or filed his bond this morning.

Brown was taken into custody by officers at 12:02 a.m. Monday at Sanborn and Center Streets. To cap the New Year's Eve action at 5:20 a.m. Monday, a woman driver backed into the front of a police patrol car occupied by Officers Bruce W. Stanton, the driver, and Rodney J. Pellowski.

THE DRIVER of the car, Mrs. Edward A. Becker, Winona Rt. 2, was charged with driving in violation of an instructor's permit. She did not have a licensed driver in the front seat, although her husband was sitting in the back.

BODY FOUND THERE . . . Police Chief George Savord points to the spot on the floor of a shanty on Frog Island where the body of Clifford Ives, 43, 483 E. Bellevue St., was found Monday morning by the building's occupant, Ronald Burt. (Daily News photo)

FROG ISLAND SHACK . . . This is the shanty on the ice near Frog Island in which the body of Clifford Ives was found about 4 a.m. Monday. An autopsy ruled Ives died of natural causes after a drinking spree. His bruised body at first led police to believe Ives may have been beaten to death. (Daily News photo) seat. He has a license, police said. She forfeited $10 this morning in municipal court.

Officers said they had pulled up behind the Becker car to check it. The car was parked about 41 feet east of the Park-Recreation department warehouse at Franklin and Lake Drive.

As the police car came to a stop, Mrs. Becker started backing up. The rear of her car and the right front of the patrol car collided.

There was $100 damage to the patrol car and $25 damage to the Becker car.

It was a long night, police sighed.

Spring Grove Store Building Damaged

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special)—A defective motor or wiring may have caused the smoldering fire Friday night that did extensive smoke damage in the Myhre Hardware building. The fire never broke into flames.

The first floor of the building is occupied also by Quinell grocery and drygoods. On the second floor are the offices of Dr. H. S. Lovold, dentist, the Masonic temple, two apartments and a long hall.

The damage was discovered when people came to work Saturday morning. Insurance adjusters were there Saturday, and the smoke damage is being repaired.

Police Probe Frog Island Death Case

The death of a Winona man whose beaten and bruised body was found Monday morning in a shanty erected on Mississippi River slough ice near Frog Island remains a puzzle, police said today.

Police have not yet been able to patch together anything but a confused story of exactly how Clifford Ives, 43, 483 Bellevue St., died.

DEATH, according to Dr. Robert B. Tweedy, county coroner, came to Ives apparently of natural causes as the result of a drunken spree.

At first believed to be a murder because of the battered condition of Ives' body, his death apparently could not be traced directly to any of the injuries on his body. Police Chief George Savord said the autopsy indicated.

At least some of Ives' injuries were apparently sustained in a fight, but there also is evidence to indicate he fell down a 15-foot embankment sometime Saturday while intoxicated. Chief Savord said.

Complete results of the autopsy were not received this morning, pending completion of laboratory work. Initial results showed Ives apparently did not die of his injuries, exposure or acute alcoholism.

Dr. Tweedy said it appears Ives may have died as the result of a bad heart condition.

FROM WHAT police were able to determine by this morning, this is the story as they have it:

Clifford Ives, arrested last Tuesday by Winona police for drunken driving, paid his fine and was released from county jail Friday. Apparently he began drinking rather heavily.

Sometime Saturday Ives apparently tumbled down the Chicago & North Western Railway, dike along the Mississippi near Frog Island, 100 yards or so west of the foot of Olmstead Street. Either from the fall or from what appears to be a beating the small man received, he suffered bruises and other injuries over much of his body.

Somehow Ives got to a shanty, where he stayed until some time Sunday, when, police said, he was "thrown out." He reportedly had continued drinking heavily through much of Sunday.

AS UNKNOWN person wearing a brown parka and a pair of glasses was reported to have carried Ives into another shanty inhabited by Ronald Burt. It is not certain if Ives was still alive at the time or not.

Burt apparently discovered Ives' body lying on the floor of his shack between 3:20 and 4:15 a.m. Monday. It was about 4:30 a.m. when Burt made his way to the railroad station and called police. Some of Ives' clothes had been removed from his body.

Exact placing of the time of death was difficult, police said. Ives is thought to have died Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Police questioned the residents of Frog Island Monday. They planned to continue their interrogation today with the use of a lie detector machine.

WHEN THEY first reached the scene, police believed they had the first murder investigation in Winona since August 1945 on their hands. The coroner's report, however, indicated a natural death. Police plan to continue with their investigation.

Police have asked that the man wearing the parka and the glasses, who apparently placed Ives in Burt's shanty, identify himself. Anyone else having any knowledge of the circumstances also should call police headquarters.

Those people police have questioned felt confused and contradictory stories, police said, making it (Continued on Page 17, Column 5.)

WINONA'S FIRST BABY OF 1962 — Mark Wayne Edwards, West End Trailer Court — and his mother were doing well at Winona General Hospital today as local merchants prepared to commemorate the event with a shower of gifts. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce A. Edwards, ages 19 and 20 respectively, and Mark is their first baby. The infant arrived at 2:42 a.m. weighing 7 pounds 10 ounces and was 21 inches long.

"I was hoping the baby would be born in 1961 for income tax exemption but having him born on New Year's Day is the next best thing," Edwards said. The father, an attendant at Mike's Standard Service, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edwards, 679 W. Bellevue St. The mother, the former Karen Jo Smelser, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Smelser, 1420 W. 4th St. (Daily News photo)

Harmony Native's Husband Works On Research Project

HARMONY, Minn.—Maj. C. E. Fairbank is one of the key figures in the new supersonic transport program being developed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, as a federal project. His wife is the former Goldie Bean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Tollefson Harmony.

Developing a supersonic commercial transport, a 2,000 m.p.h. aircraft, will be the nation's next major step in air transportation, relatives at Harmony learned from a reprint from the Dayton Daily News. Every effort will be made to have the transport operating in the 1970's.

Responsibility for administration of contracts amounting to nearly $11 million and technical support for the new transport research program were assigned to the Aeronautical Systems Division under a joint agreement by the Department of Defense, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Federal Aviation Agency. Maj. Fairbank will be the ASD manager, working in a three-man group.

It is reported that British and French firms will join forces to develop a transport with a top speed on the order of Mach. 2.2, which is about 1,500 m.p.h. They also are reportedly aiming at the 1970 time period.

Lake Citian Held On Assault Charge

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—A 38-caliber pistol which misfired, failing to go off, probably saved the life of a man at Maple Springs Night Club five miles south of Lake City in Pepin Township early Sunday morning, or at least saved him from being wounded.

Norman J. Graham, 21, Lake City, aimed the weapon point blank at Peter Luikart, Lake City, at 1:14 a.m. Sunday, the Wabasha County sheriff's office reported. When it failed to go off, Charles Kreitt Lake City, wrestled the gun from him, and officers were called by Leonard Rustvold, proprietor of the club. Before firing the gun, Graham had asked Luikart to go outside and fight.

Deputies Ed Lager and Marlyn Aitken apprehended Graham and he appeared in Justice Court before Henry Knecht at 10 a.m. today on a charge of first degree assault. By his attorney, James Zeig of Foley & Foley, he asked for a preliminary hearing, which was set for Jan. 20. Bond was fixed at $3,000. Upon failure to furnish it, he was returned to the county jail.

Fuel Oil Damages Chatfield Sewage Disposal Plant

CHATFIELD, Minn.—The fire hazard may be gone now at the Chatfield disposal plant, but the bacteria action isn't back to normal so the plant isn't working properly yet, Mayor Frank Pavlish said this morning.

Serious damage to the plant was done when a large amount of fuel oil began draining into the plant, which might have caused a fire. It took three men three days to clean the plant out to get rid of the oil so the bacteria could start working again and the plant would be doing its job.

How the oil got into the system remains a mystery, but it may have occurred when someone without thinking what the results might be, poured a quantity of oil down the sewer after, having converted to natural gas, the oil wasn't needed any more.

It Happened Last Night How Not to Insult People

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Groucho Marx has unimaginable difficulties convincing people he doesn't like them — due to his insult technique which they all take as a joke even when he means it. When he insults them, they become increasingly adrenergic. A few days ago, attending a party here, he met a nationally known personality whose name I can't mention. They differed politically and Groucho announced, "You know, I've always hated you." The insulted party laughed, took it as a joke, fastened himself to Groucho, and insisted on driving him home — right to his hotel door.

Fire Destroys Light Station At Two Rivers

TWO RIVERS, Wis.—A flash fire swept one of the oldest and most picturesque light stations on the Great Lakes early New Year's Day, injuring one man, forcing the evacuation of seven persons and causing damage of $20,000.

The fire broke out about 6 a.m. in the Big Point Beach Coast Guard light station, built in 1889 on a point of land jutting into Lake Michigan.

Witnesses said the fire apparently broke out in the old light tower, part of the main two-story brick building which had been converted to living quarters. The operating light is in a tower about 600 feet away and was not affected by the blaze.

Taken to the Two Rivers Municipal Hospital was Boatwain's Mate I.C. Robert Young, who was in charge of the station. He was treated for burns on his hands and feet. Hospital spokesmen said he improved considerably after treatment.

Evacuated without injury were Young's wife and two daughters, Lynn, 9, and Suzy, 5. Also escaping unharmed were Engineer Charles Fairley and Tom Schmitt, and Schmitt's wife and son, Timothy, 9 months. Fairley's wife was not at home. All three families live at the station.

U.S. Ambassador To Russia Seeks Basis for Talks

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson began talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today in an effort to find a foundation for Big Four negotiations in Berlin.

The two met at the Soviet Foreign Ministry. President Kennedy has instructed Thompson to probe the Soviet position on the Berlin issue to see if there is a profitable basis for formal talks.

Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had agreed to have the U.S. ambassador handle the preliminary round for both Britain and the United States. There is a possibility that British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts may also take a hand.

If the Thompson-Gromyko talks are successful, the next step is expected to be a foreign ministers' conference to determine the future of Berlin.

Thompson's last round of talks with Gromyko in Moscow took place at the end of October. The subject of those talks was not the general Berlin situation but the problem of identification procedures at the checkpoints along the Berlin border. This problem, involving questions of whether Allied officials should show their papers to East German guards, had brought U.S. and Soviet tanks to the border for a time.

The tanks were withdrawn but the impasse on identification remained. The West refused to yield on the ground that control of the East Berlin border was the responsibility of the Soviet Union as an occupying power and not of the East German Communist regime, which the Western Allies refuse to recognize as a valid government.

Anti-Castro Cubans Trained In Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP)—President Miguel Ydigoras says last April's invasion of Cuba by forces trained in Guatemala so frightened Fidel Castro "that his warlike activities outside Cuba ceased since that date."

The Guatemalan president, disclosed officially in a New Year's message Saturday night for the first time that anti-Castro Cubans were trained in Guatemala.

"President Kennedy still has the responsibility of a sequel," he said.

He did not explain that statement clearly, but went on to say: "The Bay of Pigs (scene of the April invasion) was a victory, not a defeat, and he who begins under such auspices must go on with the great task of decommunizing that part of the American territory. There are signed commitments in South America."

Referring to the April invasion, he said Guatemala "encouraged thousands of exiled Cubans to fight to regain their own homeland instead of lamenting their ill fortune."

He said Guatemala reached an understanding with the exiled Cubans and "they entered into arrangements with a friendly government able to give arms and sustain training and a military campaign."

A secret training base was set up in Guatemala and another operated openly, he added.

Brother Saves 2 From Drowning

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP)—Stephen Lyon, 13, inched out on the ice of Montauket River toward a hole 10 feet from shore where brothers David and Mark Barry struggled in the water.

Carefully Stephen extended a hand, seized Mark, 8, and lifted him to firm ice. A moment later he hauled David, 11, to safety.

The three boys had been coasting on the ninth fairway at the Braintree Municipal Golf Club. Mark's sled coasted onto the ice at the bottom of the hill and dropped into the hole. As the younger brother clung to the edge of the ice, David went to his aid and slipped in, too.

New President Of Dominicans Cautions Army

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Rafael Donnelly, president-to-be of the new Dominican Council of State, promised Dominican freedom of assembly and discussion Monday and warned the armed forces against interference in the affairs of the new anti-Trujillo government.

Donnelly, named to succeed President Joaquin Balaguer as head of the ruling body, declared at the swearing-in of the seven-man council that freedom to meet and discuss all issues would be observed "because truth can be achieved only through conscientious, and dispassionate discussion."

He asserted that the council, which assumed all legislative and executive powers until installation of an elected government early in 1963, wished to emphasize "our decided endeavor to maintain unalterable" the armed forces' non-political status.

The military, he said, must restrict its activities "to the defense of the independence and integrity of the republic, to maintain order and respect for the rights of man."

Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría, chief of the armed forces, who has vowed to support the council, stood behind Donnelly as he spoke. Rodriguez Echavarría led a military move which crushed a coup planned by Trujillo diehards last October and paved the way for the expulsion of the family of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

No Surprises in Kennedy Program

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's plans for 1962 — as outlined to newsmen over the weekend at Palm Beach — call for no surprises and little heat.

His views are authoritatively based on discussions he has had with men close to him.

What he is reported to have said adds up to leadership but of a kind neither sensational nor original. It was that way in 1961. He apparently wants it that way.

In foreign affairs he plans a steady plugging away at policies already established and, on domestic problems, a mild and cautious attitude which some may think too mild and overly cautious.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk once remarked to people around him that he does not want to be judged on the merit of some particular action but, when he is through, on the over-all value of events, past and ahead, seems to follow pretty much the same view.

While Premier Khrushchev at 67 is 22 years Kennedy's senior, it is the older man who sounds like a romantic, the younger, the one without illusions.

While Khrushchev has predicted the triumph of communism like a man taking pep pills, Kennedy has repeatedly regarded the East-West struggle as long, bleak and rugged.

This showed up again in the Palm Beach reports which said he thinks the balance of power is on the side of the West—but perhaps only marginally.

Over the long run, he thinks the West can keep the margin but not so much as to have full freedom of action.

Otherwise, what came out of Palm Beach on his thinking about foreign affairs can be boiled down to this: That this country will follow the Truman-Eisenhower policy of aiding newly emerged nations, neutrals included, to help them stay free of Moscow. It will keep strong militarily and stand with its allies.

In other words: he'll keep on doing in 1962 what he did in 1961.

At home this year, as last, he has to deal with a Congress where, although his own Democrats are in a majority, the prevailing mood is and has been conservative.

His own performance last year, in dealing with Congress, was pretty conservative, too. He did not fight hard enough for his programs to make anyone very mad at home.

His own explanation for this may have been revealed at Palm Beach: that while he considers his administration progressive, his progressive aims are tempered by reality.

This could mean he did not spend time fighting Congress for something he didn't think would be approved or that he did not want to make so many people mad at him on one issue that they would gang up to block him on something else.

This, the Palm Beach stories indicate, will be his policy today also.

Huge Population Increase Seen

THE UNITED STATES now has a population of more than 185,000,000. Once people would have scoffed at the growth being shown, in excess of 3,000,000 a year, heading us toward 200,000,000 in four years.

That kind of growth, it was felt, was peculiar to China and India, which was viewed with amazement.

Those two over-populated countries, of course, despite floods, famine and epidemics, will continue to lead the world in numbers beyond the farthest horizons of time.

Behind them come Russia and then the United States.

RETIRED MINNESOTANS have helped swell California's population which before long is destined to exceed New York's. California has 16 1/2 million, New York 17 million. Los Angeles is crowding toward the top of American cities in population.

New York's history is long. California's comparatively brief. New York gained on gold—that which flowed there by reason of its financial and business preeminence. California also gained on gold—that which was beneath its soil.

California has a "built-in" asset in its climate with which New York cannot compete but New York does not envy California its quakes and forest fires.

CALIFORNIA AND Florida have feuded about their climate but lately both appear to have been too busy with their own affairs to carry on the controversy—or maybe their publicity agents have run out of ammunition.

In any event, Florida is coming down the pike with a population exceeding 5 1/2 million and increasing rapidly.

New Courthouse On Highway 61?

AGAIN WE notice that Winona is making noise about a new courthouse. This time they are objecting to the county building a garage because it may delay the building of a new courthouse. As you know the citizens of the county have twice voted down proposals to erect a new courthouse, but will keep trying.

We have been against building this structure not because we do not need one, nor because we think the present structure should be maintained indefinitely. Our pet gripe is the location.

We see no reason why the county headquarters should be in the heart of the city of Winona. In the first place we know of no place more miserable to drive to or park near than where it now is located. And this is true for all out-county residents.

WHY NOT build a new one out, say by new Highway 61 which would be accessible to the whole county, including the city of Winona? Besides, this, since space in downtown Winona is so precious that a park must be taken from public use to build a post office on, property there should be worth a pretty sum which should buy more property than needed along Highway 61 and even could help some on the structure itself.

IF OUT-COUNTY persons are considered perhaps a new courthouse could be a reality instead of a controversy.—St. Charles Press.

Washington Calling

Administration And Congress

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—How well the administration will fare with its major legislation in the coming session of Congress, and above all with the President's principal goal which is a liberalized trade program, may be determined before the battle has even begun.

As with the first, so with the second session of the 87th Congress the House is the problem. In a striking reversal of what the founding fathers contemplated, the Senate, which was to have been the conservative and reluctant body, promises to go along with most of the administration program, including the liberalized trade proposals. It is in the House, where the framers of the Constitution saw a ready response to every popular wish, that there are massive legislative roadblocks.

Above all, the President's problem is in the generalship of the Democratic majority in the House. Successor to the late Sam Rayburn as speaker will be Representative John McCormack of Massachusetts. This is taken for granted by everyone with the possible exception of McCormack himself, who is said to be suffering from nervous tremors lest in some last-minute upset the prize he has waited for so long should escape his grasp.

NEXT IN importance is the post of majority leader, and this is where the contest comes in that could in its outcome foreshadow the whole course of the coming session. Representative Carl Albert of Oklahoma has the inside track. He and McCormack teamed up to get the No. 1 and the No. 2 posts shortly after Rayburn left Washington for the "last time" in August to learn that he had an incurable cancer.

For three previous Congresses Albert has been No. 3, that is majority whip of the House. Therefore, in the solemn workings of seniority, increasingly dominant as the age level of the membership advances, he should get his reward. Dissatisfaction with the Democratic generalship has, however, steadily grown among newer and younger members. In a recent editorial The New York Times described Albert as "a whipless whip."

He is being challenged by Representative Richard Bolling of Missouri, who was Mr. Sam's strong right arm even though he held no leadership position. The younger man—Bolling is 45—and the venerable Rayburn were a kind of private team accomplishing without official sanction and without public fanfare much that might otherwise have been lost.

BOLLING HAS consistently supported the progressive measures that, as he sees it, distinguishes the Democratic party from the Republican. He has consistently opposed the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition that has blocked, above all through the device of the House Rules Committee, administration measures such as to aid to education bill.

In view of this fact Bolling's supporters put great stress on a letter he received from Representative Howard W. Smith of Virginia, the shrewd and tireless chairman of the Rules Committee. In response to a letter from Bolling sent to all members soliciting their support for him as majority leader, Smith said:

"As you probably already know, I am committed to Carl Albert. I would not be frank with you if I did not, however, state while I have a warm personal regard for you, our policies with respect to federal government differ so far that I could not consistently follow your leadership. I only wish that you were going in my direction and still hope that that may happen in the future."

DOES THIS mean, Bolling's backers are asking, that Albert and Smith see eye to eye and that Albert is ready to move in the Smith direction. The gentleman from Virginia has left no doubt about what that direction is. He has made it clear in speech after speech that virtually every act of government since 1776 has been an error and that these errors compounded have reduced the nation to socialism or worse. And even 1776, in the view of the prosperous gentleman from Virginia with his highly successful drug operation, may have been an error.

If this is true and Albert's likely victory means that the new majority leader will follow the Smith direction, the outlook for the administration is dim indeed. Another factor, and it bears directly on the fight for a liberalized trade program, is Albert's representation of Oklahoma and the powerful oil interests of that state. The independent oil operators work unceasingly to cut back the import quota on oil from countries such as Venezuela, which need desperately to sell their only marketable commodity in this country if they are to survive. Oil joining with cotton textiles and other industries clamoring for protection could sabotage the President's program.

Bolling has the backing of virtually the entire labor movement, with the exception of the teamsters, and with other left-of-center forces in his party. But whether this will carry any weight when the Democrats caucus early in the new session is a question.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Frustrated Americans Urged to Look Again

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Having traveled rather widely around the USA during recent months, I think I can report that the year 1962 opens with a greater number of Americans frustrated and worried about the future than ever before.

This frustration is one reason for the drop-the-bomb-now sentiment which pervades right-wing extremists. This sixth column seems convinced that American democracy and enlightened capitalism can't compete with communism and the only solution is preventive war.

These frustrated Americans who believe in the solution of war should take a look at history—both past and current.

Regarding past history, on the eve of the Spanish-American war, they might note that President McKinley kept on his desk an offer from the Spanish government to give us Cuba in order to prevent war. McKinley suppressed the offer because of the popular clamor for war. Instead, he bowed to that clamor, went to war, and now our troubles with Cuba are back with us all over again. Only this time the clamor is for us, not Spain, to invade Cuba.

If we had accepted the Spanish proposal, war not only would have been prevented but Cuba might now be the 51st state.

Regarding current history, our frustrated fellow citizens who lack confidence in American democracy should objectively call the roll of American achievements and American defeats. Here is part of the roll call:

Western Europe, which 15 years ago teetered on the brink of communism, is now a prosperous, semi-solidified anti-communist area—thanks largely to the man whom the sixth column bitterly attacks, Gen. George Marshall, originator of the Marshall Plan.

Japan and West Germany, once our enemies, have been rebuilt by the United States in one of the most generous gestures ever made by the victor to the vanquished. They are now starting to repay the United States for part of this cost.

Egypt, a nation which five years ago was receiving all sorts of arms and Aswan dam money from the Kremlin, is now so aloof from the Kremlin that the Moscow press excommunicates it.

Israel, a country which President Truman was the first to recognize, and which American citizens have encouraged and helped to build up, is an oasis of democracy in the Middle East.

Iran, which has been troubled by the great chasm between the wealthy few and the many poor, has just witnessed a revolutionary redistribution of land move by the shah. He has redistributed approximately 3,000,000 acres of his land and forced other big landowners to do the same—a social reform to stave off communism.

In Africa, every new independent republic lined up with the USA against the Soviet when it came to opposing Moscow's troika plan for stifling the United Nations. And though we're having trouble in Ghana and Morocco, we have firm friends in most of the other countries. In Guinea, where 1,200 communist advisers have been working, President Sekou Toure has recently turned vigorously toward the West.

In Asia the picture is mixed. We will have trouble in Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam for a long time to come. You cannot undo the effects of French colonialism overnight. But the Philippines have just proved themselves a bastion of democracy by undergoing a national election, and in other areas we are holding our own.

In Latin America, the picture is also mixed. There are pockets of communism and anti-Americanism. But 14 nations have broken relations with Castro, and on the whole things are taking a turn for the better.

In brief, we are by no means losing the cold war. In the competition between capitalism and communism, we are ahead. We are not ahead by a decisive margin, but we are ahead. The competition in the days to come is not going to be easy. But neither was the road followed by those who landed in this country 300 years ago easy. For the road of those who dared pit the future of 13 struggling colonies against the biggest empire in the world; nor those who dared push west to build up the nation.

None of it was easy. There were no easy solutions then and there are none today. Frustrated nonbelievers in the future of America will have to look elsewhere for easy solutions. But to anyone who has traveled through part of Russia, part of Europe, and part of Latin America in the past six months, as I have, I suggest to the sixth column cohorts that they also travel and then come back and be glad they have this country to live in.

President De Gaulle of France got on the transatlantic telephone the other day and told President Kennedy bluntly that he doesn't like American Ambassador James Gavin, a retired general. Prime Minister Macmillan also told Kennedy at Bermuda that he didn't like the militant attitude of Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander of NATO. To please these two important allies, Kennedy will ouster both Gavin and Norstad. Cong. Charlie Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona claim that the colleges and universities are going conservative. But on Feb. 6 more than 3,000 students from all over the USA will invade the nation's capital to protest against the world arms race and against nuclear-bomb testing.

IT IS REASSURING to find that the government of the United States didn't keep aloof from what was about to happen in Goa. American Ambassador Galbraith at New Delhi pleaded with the Indian government to agree to a six-month moratorium rather than permit an invasion.

Prime Minister Nehru, however, said it was almost physically impossible to reverse the process and argued that the invasion had been twice postponed already. The fact is that this conversation with the ambassador took place on the evening of Dec. 17, and yet at midnight of the same day the prime minister himself ordered the invasion of Goa. It hasn't been explained why he couldn't have held up that final order if he had really wished to postpone the whole action.

But the Indian prime minister evidently wanted in advance a complete submission by Portugal as the price even of an informal negotiation with that country. This is reminiscent of what some dictators have usually demanded. Great Britain tried desperately to avert World War II by urging Hitler to wait while parleys over Poland could be held, but the Nazi dictator said he couldn't wait and ordered the attack anyway.

IT SEEMS tragic that with all the machinery of mediation being utilized from time to time—as, for instance, in the Congo by the U.N.—no means was found by other nations to save India from the stigma of aggression, and particularly to save Prime Minister Nehru from the doubtful distinction now being accorded him as the immoral "man of the year."

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Nehru Wouldn't Delay Aggression

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Prime Minister Nehru is puzzled—he still professes not to understand why Premier Khrushchev applauds him for his grab of Goa while the United States and Great Britain denounce what he did. Yet he tells a press conference in New Delhi:

"Nothing in the 14 years of independence has excited and thrilled the people in India as the liberation of Goa. There is no doubt in my mind of the full justification for use of force against Portugal."

But the Indian leader admits that he doesn't like the fact that most of the Afro-Asian nations "rejoice" while many Western nations are critical of the Indian conquest of Goa. He added: "I don't like this division of opinion between white and black."

But the Indian prime minister shouldn't be surprised. He may go on wondering about world reaction, but he doesn't explain why he himself "rejoices" that his policy has had the warm approval of Nikita Khrushchev. For the Indian leader telegraphed the Soviet premier as follows:

"The government of India is glad to note that the Soviet government has understood the motives and ideas determining our actions and is deeply moved by its sympathy and support."

The Soviet premier is the leading exponent of the doctrine that might makes right and has been telling the world that agreements about Allied rights in Berlin are obsolete even though signed only a decade and a half ago. It is precisely this doctrine—that history can be changed at will and past understandings can be arbitrarily erased—which is basic in communist philosophy.

Indeed, the same attitude was characteristic of the Nazi era in Europe as Adolf Hitler cried out that the Sudetenland was German and that Austria was German and that both areas must therefore be included in the Nazi empire.

IT SEEMS strange to be equating a mild-mannered man like Nehru with the fanatical Hitler, but the reasoning each offered in defense of the conquest of neighboring territory happens to be almost identical.

The Indian government argues its right to annex what is next door. This misguided doctrine has brought on many a conflict in world history. The idea that a powerful government may annex neighboring territory by force of arms is old-fashioned and obsolete. Today the free world extols the principle of the right of peoples to determine their own destiny.

It would not, for example, have caused a ripple in the stream of world happenings if the people of Goa had decided, by vote in a plebiscite, to set up their own government or to join India. But for the government of India, which has inveighed against imperialism a long time, suddenly to use the tactics of the imperialists is a shock to the peoples of the world who in recent years have been sympathizing with the efforts of colonies to break away from their rulers.

IT IS REASSURING to find that the government of the United States didn't keep aloof from what was about to happen in Goa. American Ambassador Galbraith at New Delhi pleaded with the Indian government to agree to a six-month moratorium rather than permit an invasion.

Prime Minister Nehru, however, said it was almost physically impossible to reverse the process and argued that the invasion had been twice postponed already. The fact is that this conversation with the ambassador took place on the evening of Dec. 17, and yet at midnight of the same day the prime minister himself ordered the invasion of Goa. ### Check Cured Cancer for Five Years

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Over a year ago I had a single nodule about the size of a pea removed from my vocal cord. Under it, the tissue was cancerous, so I had cobalt treatments."

"Now what? I admit, I am not hoarse any more, but I still have throat discomfort—it just doesn't feel right sometimes."

"Of course, my thoughts are on it a lot, and maybe that is what makes me notice every little thing."

"I go for checkups, but the doctor only says, 'Come again in two months.'"

"The suspense is driving me crazy. I don't experience any difficulty in swallowing, but at night I occasionally wake up and feel as if something is stuck in my throat."

"My husband says I'm just thinking of it too much. Is he right?—Mrs. D. A."

Yes, I guess he's right. But that isn't much of an answer to you, is it? So let me tell you some other things.

First of all, I'm sure you recognize that nothing would please doctors better than to be able to tell a patient such as you, "Yes, you had cancer, but it's cured now. Forget about it."

After all, patients aren't just numbers to us. They are people. People we know and like. And... respect!

We'd like to say that any cancer case is "cured," but if we happened to be wrong, we would be guilty of several things. Perhaps the least consequence might be the loss of respect, or confidence of the patient.

Perhaps the greatest consequence would be to let the patient become over-confident, too soon—and risk letting a curable case become an incurable one because we didn't speak words of caution and watchfulness.

By long and heart-rending experience, we have learned that grave risk attaches to letting ourselves feel too safe too soon.

Indeed, we don't talk of "cure," because there isn't any way to be positive. We do, however, place the greatest reliance on what we call "five-year survival."

For practical purposes, a shorter time usually tells the story. The five-year period is a safe figure.

THE DISTORTED PICTURE

Most of us have a distorted picture of our children's physical fitness. We know that today's youngsters are taller and heavier than yesterday's. But what about their strength, endurance, flexibility and stamina?

The fact is that our youngsters' physical fitness has slipped—slipped alarmingly. Now's the time to call a halt to the sedentary way of life that's sapping their vitality.

What can you do about it? At your next PTA meeting, you can urge your child's school to adopt a vigorous program for physical development.

Such a program of vigorous, daily exercise has been put into effect in many schools—providing youngsters the opportunity to develop their bodies—and to keep them fit.

Find out whether your child's school has an adequate program. And, if not, why not?

400 Prisoners Riot in Jail At Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)—More trouble was feared today from 400 prisoners who rioted and battled police for four hours in Montreal's Bordeaux jail.

The men spent the night in cells of two unheated, water-logged wings where they were herded finally after their outburst Monday in the dining hall.

Lt. Col. Leon Lambert, governor of the jail, said prisoners in a block for persons awaiting trial took part in the rebellion and that "some of them looked drunk—possibly from goof balls (barbiturates)."

"The disturbance is far from over," Lambert told newsmen. "We have to get them back in their own cells yet."

He said three prisoners and a fireman manning a water hose were injured, none seriously. The fireman was believed struck by a piece of metal thrown by a prisoner.

Lambert said the rioting started with some grumbling and shouting about 4:30 p.m. which developed into open rebellion as the men were being served a roast beef-New Year's dinner.

An electric power failure followed two hours later, knocking out the tower which controls the cell gates. "Without electricity, we could do nothing," Lambert said. "We had no lights or water here for two hours."

About 90 city and provincial police rushed to the jail and entered the prison yard with baseball bats and tear gas. Firemen were forced to run in hoses from outside the jail when water pumps failed to work.

Windows, plumbing, walls and bunks were smashed or ripped in both wings and a foot of water covered the floors.

Firemen doused fires the prisoners set in blankets and mattresses but "we didn't have to use the hoses on men," said prison controller J. A. Pilon. "When they saw the hoses, they got scared. They didn't want to get wet."

Lambert said he didn't know yet what had caused the riot, that "you can't talk to these fellows when they are in revolt." The jail for the past decade has been plagued by rioting prisoners and poor conditions. It houses 750 prisoners.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Shaving Breaks Allowed

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Here's an eyebrow-raising fact about the U.S. educational system: One fourth of all grade school teachers never completed college.

Some American firms now have an unusual "fringe benefit" in addition to coffee breaks, they allow their male employees shaving breaks—on company time!

Travel note: Alaskan taxidermists now accept credit cards. How they got started: Film producer Darryl F. Zanuck at the age of eight played the role of an Indian girl in a movie. He was paid $1 a day.

Sobering statistics: In 176 years the nation lost a million men in wartime battle deaths. The automobile killed a million people in only 53 years. In 53 per cent of all car deaths liquor was involved.

Is your wife spending too much money at the beauty parlor? Tell her that Mary Martin and Princess Grace of Monaco both shampoo their own hair. Miss Martin washes her famed tresses every night.

Medical authorities are hopeful that in another decade they can wipe out leprosy in Africa. At present a million tribesmen there—one in every 100—suffer from this ancient scourge.

Our quotable notables: "The Americans, like the English, probably make love worse than any other race."—Walt Whitman.

The Irish don't spoil their actors with cash. The 21 actors of the Abbey Theater in Dublin, considered one of the world's best, get only about $21 a week each, whether they play a star role or a walk-on bit. But they get paid even if they aren't in the cast of the current play on the boards.

Our screwball culture: There is a new greeting card out for those learning to do the twist, the newest dance craze. It contains a packet of motion sickness pills.

Probably everybody who ever made a $2 bet but me knew this already. Horses begin racing at the age of two. But every thoroughbred's birthday is officially the first of January, no matter what month or day he was actually born.

Wise crack of the week: Singer Helen Kardon says it was so cold in Miami Beach the other day that the lifeguards were only saving warm-blooded girls. (Aside to Miami papers: This is a joke. We all know the weather there has been wonderful.)

Careers in capsule: At 12 Eugene O'Neill was described by the nuns who taught him as "a gentlemanly little fellow." Ten years later he had abandoned his wife and child and was (he said so himself) "a bum" on the waterfront of Buenos Aires. Ten more years later, at 32, he won the Pulitzer Prize for "Beyond the Horizon" and was recognized as America's most exciting playwright.

Every child has a burst of pride when he first learns how to spell Mississippi. But it might have been simpler if he had stuck to the original Indian word, Mesipi, which means "The Great River."

Worth remembering: "Telling all you know is as bad as believing all you hear."

The mysterious East: Indonesian police have banned hula hoops, claiming they "stir sex passions and lead to crime."

Nature news: Many people still believe that ostriches stick their head in the sand in the face of danger, and that the phrase "blind as a bat" has meaning. The truth: An ostrich will kick with killing power when wounded or cornered. And a bat can see very well in bright light.

It was James Stephens who observed that "women are wiser than men because they know less and understand more."

22 Charged in Wild New Year's

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Twenty-two persons were ordered to appear in municipal court today, charged with taking part in a wild New Year's riot that began with stolen kisses and ended in a fog of tear gas and water from fire hoses.

Police Capt. Robert Peel said the 22 were booked on assorted charges from inciting riot to creating a disturbance. In addition he said, 16 servicemen arrested were turned over to military authorities for disciplinary action. At least 30 persons were injured, none seriously.

The riot began when officers arrested several youths who were stopping cars and kissing the women occupants. Jeering crowds attacked a police car and hurled liquor bottles and glasses for two

712 Fugitives Flee From China

MACAO (AP)—A total of 712 fugitives from Communist China reached this tiny Portuguese colony on the China coast in December, the Mainland Refugees Relief Association announced today.

It was the largest monthly total since the formation of the association a few years ago. The actual total is much higher because many refugees don't register with the association.

The announcement said 4,840 refugees from the mainland had registered in 1961.

MEDICINO PRO BONO PUBLICO

COOL ME, MADAM

Old women once held curative powers—or so folks believed. Their wrinkled hands laid on feverish brows were thought to cool the fever. Now, in this golden era of modern medicine, we have more reliable methods of reducing temperatures. But, remember, a temperature is only a symptom... not an illness in itself. Fevers have many causes... some minor... some serious. So, be sensible. When you or a member of your family is ill, let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then, if medication is necessary, let us fill his prescription promptly and accurately.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Don't Worry, Students Told

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

If you've been looking for a New Year's resolution, stop worrying! And that's the resolution: Stop worrying! Here you are, having a wonderful vacation. But, in the back of your mind are those little anxieties that keep pestering you about school work: Anxiety about unfinished work soon to be due. Anxiously about the final reviews and examinations — and the grades!

ANXIETY ABOUT all the material the teachers will throw at you in the last weeks of the semester. They seem to have a way of "piling it on" at the end. Well, the end catches them suddenly, just as it does you.

So how do you get rid of those worries?

By starting a plan right now to eliminate the causes. Let's take them one at a time.

The first cause is unfinished work. Here is a scheme that will start your mind working instead of worrying.

Make a list of things you must complete for each course. Set the due date beside each one. Every time you complete an item, draw a line through it. Work on the list every chance you get. If you go to the library, you may be able to pick up several books you will need for various items on your list and save trips later. Set up a time schedule and stick to it. Get ahead of it, if you can.

YOU MAY "know" what you must do in each case, but putting it down on paper will clarify your thinking about it. Let the list do the remembering and relieve your mind so that it can function properly.

Make a short "master" outline for each course. Each outline need be only one or two pages long, but it should cover all of the important points in the course. You should do this either before returning to school or immediately afterward. You may have to work over each outline two or three times to reduce it to the desired length. The better you understand the course, the shorter the outline probably will become.

Now you are ready for the rush of information that comes in the last weeks. You are ready to listen in class during the teacher's review and "think" the new information into its proper place in the master outline. With "pegs" to hang things on, it won't seem like so much information after all.

SUCH AN outline also relieves

you of the worry that you may omit parts of the course in your final review. It's hard to know when you have reviewed everything of importance without a check list. The outline will help you find your strengths and correct your weaknesses. You can remedy the weak spots without retracing the whole course. This saves time when you need it most. So resolve to make plans and follow them with action. I have worked with many students who have followed such plans successfully. They'll reward you with better grades, too!

Flavor whipped cream with light brown sugar and dark rum; serve with steamed pudding.

Young Mondale Aides Winning Recognition

By JACK MACKAY
Associated Press Correspondent
ST. PAUL (AP) — Atty. Gen. Walter F. Mondale's search for talented young men in the nation's leading law schools has paid off.

The new year saw a change in Mondale's staff. Today, Chief Deputy Sydney W. Berde turned over his duties to a successor to enter private practice of law in St. Paul and Washington, D.C.

Berde is the man who directed the investigation of irregularities in the Sister Kenny Foundation. He also assisted in the successful prosecution of the foundation's former director, Marvin Kline, on a charge of grand larceny.

To replace Berde, Mondale has induced Wayne Olson, 37, White Bear Lake, to return to state service. Olson formerly was a deputy attorney general in the public welfare and conservation departments.

A good example of how Mondale's hiring policies bore fruit is the decision last week in the state's successful suit at Albert Lea to oust the Holland Furnace Co. from doing business in Minnesota.

Thomas Gallagher, 27, Minneapolis, newly appointed head of the Consumer Protection Unit in the attorney general's office, prepared and tried the case. The state claimed that Holland pursued fraudulent sales practices and the court barred it from doing business here.

Gallagher presented testimony for 31 days and was aided by William R. Kennedy, 27, a top honor student at Notre Dame law school. Kennedy was a law clerk for Mondale at the time of the trial.

Other recent additions to the legal staff include William Mullin Jr., Edina, who heads the anti-trust division, and Robert A. Albrecht, St. Paul. Albrecht was an honor student at Harvard law school.

Mullin already has brought action against six bleachers manufacturers to recover nearly 14 million dollars for allegedly rigging prices to school districts and other Minnesota governmental departments.

Ralph Schneider, 33, who resigned in 1961 to practice law in Minneapolis, handled the accounting analysis in the Sister Kenny probe and also instituted proceedings that led to revocation of the accounting license of an accountant for the Kenny Foundation. Schneider, who is now practicing law in Minneapolis, was top man in his law class at the University of Minnesota and president of the Minnesota Law Review as well as a certified public accountant.

William Brooks, 35, a former Minneapolis newspaperman who was graduated with honors from Minnesota law school last June, and Lloyd Graven, Minneapolis, another honor graduate from Minnesota, also were appointed in recent months. Both men were

Jobs Automation Move Complicated

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The labor-management battle over the effects of automation of jobs is being complicated today by another struggle.

That is the growing competition between American goods and jobs and foreign goods and jobs. The two problems are becoming hard to separate.

A number of U.S. firms say they are able to hold their own or conquer new markets only because of mechanical advances in their factories.

But others are sighting a new threat: What they call the even faster move of late toward automation abroad than in America, long thought of as its home.

During the early postwar years technical advances and superior skills let many U.S. firms offset the advantages that Western European and Japanese manufacturers had through lower wage rates. But these countries have been mechanizing fast, and the United States is losing that advantage. Productivity—the amount of goods turned out per man hour of labor—has increased much faster in Europe and Japan than here.

In recent months Europeans have been reported stepping up the automation drive—and for one of the reasons that inspired its growth here. Wage rates, although starting from a much lower base, have been rising faster in several of these countries than here.

In addition, European management has been spurred on by a general labor shortage, felt here only in certain skilled trades.

Executives of Reliance Electric and Engineering Co., Cleveland, report European factories are installing automated machinery much faster now than five years ago. As a result, they joined a European firm in setting up a company in Switzerland to meet the demand for electronic controls and variable speed drives.

The same increasing demand, here and abroad, is reported by Warner Electric Brake & Clutch Co. of Beloit, Wis.

Bell & Howell says its precision photographic lenses can be produced by automated equipment economically enough to be sold abroad under the noses of foreign competitors.

Lincoln Electric Company also says automation enables it to compete in foreign markets.

Roger Bolz, member of Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg's Committee on Automation and Manpower and publisher of Automation Magazine, says that engineers in Europe are hard at work on automation and mass production methods needed to compete in an unrestricted market. They are using American techniques but generating new ones of their own.

Bolz holds that American manufacturing engineers will have to develop even more sophisticated automation systems to meet a twofold challenge: Modern technological advances of competitors, domestic or foreign, and the still lower, if rising, wage rates abroad.

The Soviet Union, too, is getting into the act. The Institute of Automation in Kiev is reported to have been authorized to expand its staff from 2,000 to 10,000 persons.

Dairy Barn at Portage Burns

PORTAGE, Wis. (AP) — A large dairy barn and a long metal building on the Francis Hohl farm were destroyed by fire Monday, with the loss estimated at $30,000.

Hohl was able to save about 100 head of cattle, most of them led from the buildings as flames ate through the roofs. Two calves and a bull died in the flames which fed on a winter's supply of hay.

The blaze was discovered by an unidentified passerby who shouted a warning to Thomas Johnson, a neighbor of Hohl's. Johnson and his sons helped save the animals.

Mrs. Cuddy gave birth to the infants in 38 minutes at Chestnut Hill Hospital where her husband, Dr. Vincent D. Cuddy, 28, a native of Wheeling, W.Va., was completing a term of duty as a resident. The Cuddys have three other children.

8 Go Swimming Through Ice on New Year's Day

MILWAUKEE (AP) — About 500 spectators shivered as eight bare-chested members of the Milwaukee Polar Bear Club took their annual New Year's Day dip in Lake Michigan, filled with ice and frosty 34-degree water.

The eight Polar Bears were led by Joe Sutter, a 52-year-old city police detective. It was his sad duty to report that five of the members failed to show up.

He sought new blood from the spectators. There weren't any volunteers.

John Kantak, 61, the oldest member of the club, said his preparations for the annual dip consisted of a "few snorts to get something

Mrs. E. T. Fairchild Dead at Madison, Wis.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Edward T. Fairchild, 69, wife of a former chief justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court and mother of a current member of the court, died unexpectedly Monday at her home.

A native of Danville, N. Y., Mrs. Fairchild lived in Milwaukee after her marriage until 1931 when her husband won a place on the high court and the family moved to Madison.

Survivors include her son, Thomas E., now a member of the court, and a daughter, Mrs. Anna F. Carter of Ridge Crest, Calif.

Henry Witte, a 28-year-old member, said the plunge wasn't so bad. "Once you hit the water," he said, "you're so numb it doesn't make any difference."

Revolution Crushed in Portugal

BEJA, Portugal (AP) — The hunt was on today for political associates of a rebel leader who tried unsuccessfully to seize a military barracks and touch off a revolution against Premier Antonio Salazar's government.

Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, 37, an army officer turned politician, lay near death in the Beja hospital. All his confederates, numbering about 40 and most of them workers, were either killed or captured Monday after a three-hour gun battle with Salazar's troops at the barracks of the 3rd Infantry regiment.

The army reported two rebels were killed and five wounded, but the insurgents' casualties are believed to have been much higher.

Most notable casualty on the government side was Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, under-secretary for war who rushed to the southern city of Beja from Lisbon. He ordered the government forces to hold their fire and then walked into the barracks to demand that the rebels surrender. They shot him down. He died later in the hospital.

The government tightened security precautions by placing all police and military units in a "state of prevention." There was no general alert, but a huge Lisbon rally scheduled for Wednesday night was canceled, officially in mourning for Da Fonseca.

Salazar was to have addressed the rally to outline Portuguese policy for 1962 following a year of painful and embarrassing setbacks ranging from the seizure of the liner Santa Maria on the high seas to the Indian seizure of Goa.

The ill-fated uprising began in the sleepy New Year's morning. Witnesses said the rebels burst past the guardpost at the barracks, smashed into the officers' quarters and overcame the drowsy men. Two junior officers managed to escape to another strong point in the barracks and sounded the alarm.

The rebels were pinned down in the officers' quarters by machine-gun fire but could not be dislodged. Then Da Fonseca arrived and tried to arrange a surrender, at the cost of his own life.

The shooting of the under-secretary for war aroused the loyal troops and panicked the rebels. A number attempted to escape by seizing army vehicles and driving from the barracks. All were captured, and resistance crumbled.

Authorities said Gomes shared leadership of the uprising with Manuel Serra, a former Roman Catholic youth leader who until recently had taken political asylum in the Brazilian Embassy in Lisbon.

Gomes was an opposition candidate in last November's parliamentary elections and an outspoken critic of Salazar's 30-year dictatorship.

All opposition candidates withdrew from the race before the balloting, charging that the Salazar regime had not permitted them to campaign freely.

Farmers Reminded Of Tax Declarations

ST. PAUL (AP) — Rolland F. Hatfield, state tax commissioner, reminded farmers today that they must file declarations of estimated tax by Jan. 15.

However, he added, if a farmer files his income tax return for the year 1961 on or before Feb. 15 and pays the tax due in full, the return will take the place of the declaration.

Hatfield added that the filing requirements for farmers are very similar to those for federal returns. A person is regarded as a farmer for income tax purposes if at least two-thirds of his gross income is from farming.

The commissioner said he did not intend to grant any extensions beyond the Jan. 15 and Feb. 15 filing dates because they are substantially the same as those for federal tax purposes.

senior editors of the Minnesota Law Review.

Mondale, continuing his search for top talent, has just announced appointment of Joseph Summers, 23, St. Paul, who will join the staff next summer. Summers is the No. 1 student in the senior class at Notre Dame law school and was president of the student council of St. Thomas College in St. Paul, where he was an undergraduate.

Mondale said that not all of his appointees are young, and added: "We have many attorneys, and the hard work and enthusiasm of the talented young men, need balance. Linus J. Hammond, a former assistant U.S. district attorney, is a good example of the men we have appointed in an effort to balance the picture."

Mondale feels his efforts to achieve a closer working relationship with Minnesota's two accredited law schools are producing good results. He said Profs. Maynard Pirsig, James Hoag, Yale Kamisar and others at the University of Minnesota and Marshall Watson and his colleagues at the William B. Mitchell Law School, St. Paul, are cooperating on a number of special research projects.

Lumber Firms Merge, Take New Name

The name of Botsford Lumber Co., local lumber and building material retailer, was changed Monday to United Building Center.

On the same date, Botsford united with two other retail lumber dealers operating stores in the Middle West—Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co. and Weyerhaeuser Co. Lumber & Building Material Stores.

Botsford, established in 1912, is managed in Winona by E. H. Pearson who will continue in the same capacity.

In announcing the new firm name, Pearson reported a trend of marked expansion in services among lumber dealers.

"Today, a progressive dealer must perform full services in every area of building, from interior decorating to the latest developments in farm building," Pearson said.

Pearson cited numerous examples such as his own company's time payment plan for financing various kinds of building, plus a design and planning service he provides.

"United Building Center is simply a more accurate description of our business," Pearson said. In the future this move will enable us to continue expanding our services as new developments pour out of the laboratories and testing grounds."

Wisconsin Has Seven Deaths During Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven deaths Monday raised Wisconsin's holiday toll for the New Year holiday weekend to 11, a sharp decrease from the total of 24 deaths recorded during the same holiday period last year. And in addition a Milwaukee man died of injuries suffered in a pedestrian mishap Dec. 24.

Six of the Monday victims died of injuries suffered in the new year. The death toll on the first day of 1961 was nine. The year 1961 closed with an unofficial count of 895 traffic deaths in the state. The total in all of 1960 was 930.

The holiday period began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

One of Monday's victims was the father of four small children. He was struck by a car in the early hours of the morning as he was returning, authorities said, from an all-night laundry where he had done the family wash.

He was Carl Shinnick, 32, of rural Prairie du Sac, who was killed in front of his home on Sauk County Highway PF at about 4:15 a.m.

Joseph Troka, 90, of Milwaukee, was killed early Monday when he was struck by a car while crossing an intersection near his home.

A 47-year-old Sturtevant man, William H. Christofersen, also was killed when struck by a car. The accident happened on Racine County Highway H near his home early Monday.

Another victim struck and killed by a car was Henry J. Wergin, 82, of Milwaukee. He suffered fatal head injuries when struck while crossing a street near his home Saturday night.

Jack Stahl, 10, of the Milwaukee County community of Oak Creek, was killed Monday in a two-car collision on a south side Milwaukee street. He was riding in a hard-top, a special conveyance for his invalid grandmother, Mrs. Mary Milo, 77, who suffered minor injuries.

Joseph Mallek, 70, of Junction City, died in a Stevens Point hospital Monday of injuries suffered in the collision of his car and a Zoo Line diesel locomotive switching at a crossing in Junction City.

A two-car collision on Highway 26 south of Watertown took two lives Sunday. Killed were Mrs. Zella Brandt, 29, of Beaver Dam, and Roy Fielden, 44, of Jefferson. Mrs. Brandt was riding in a car driven by her husband. Fielden was driving the other car.

John Uttech, 13, the son of Mrs. Alice Uttech of Watertown, was killed Saturday afternoon when a car driven by his brother and another auto collided on a Watertown street.

A Kenosha youth, Douglas W. Russell, 19, was injured fatally about 1 a.m. Monday in a three-car collision at a south side intersection of Highway 100 in Milwaukee County.

The first reported victim of the new year was Blais E. Paschall, 21, of Ithaca, N. Y., who died at 12:25 a.m. Monday when his car left Highway 35-64 and struck a utility pole just west of Somerset in St. Croix County. He was a student at Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn.

Sixty-five-year-old Paul Boyer, Milwaukee, died at County General Hospital today; the second victim of a pedestrian mishap Dec. 24 in which his 78-year-old wife, Emma, was killed. The Boyers were struck by an automobile on Milwaukee's South Side as they walked across the street.

Strike Called By Studebaker

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union called its members out on strike at Studebaker-Packard Corp. early today after extended weekend sessions set up by mediators had failed to bring company and union together.

The executive committee of Local 5 had set the strike deadline after the company terminated the contract, which had been extended from its Dec. 1 expiration date. The committee had had strike authorization from the membership since November.

Only a few volunteer pickets without signs were on hand at midnight, when second shift workers left the plants. Studebaker-Packard has not been operating a production force on the third shift. Regular picketing started at 6 a.m.

The strike involves 6,500 production workers. Issues in dispute included wash-up time, shift premium, vacation computation, representation and management rights, a union spokesman said.

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, predicts victory for the cause of racial equality.

"I think we're going to win," Wilkins said Monday night. "Because of the help we have, because the American people are essentially fair, and because the Negro has faith in himself."

Some 1,000 persons attended a dinner honoring Wilkins for his 30 years' service with the association.

Kennedy Goes Over Defenses With Advisers

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy holds policy-framing conferences today with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and top defense officials.

The vice president was scheduled to arrive in early afternoon from Johnson City, Tex. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatric and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Kennedy's personal military adviser, were also due here for a later afternoon meeting on the nation's security status.

From all appearances, they intend to go over the preparedness situation which Kennedy has depicted as giving the West an overall edge on the Communists.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the meeting would not directly concern the defense budget, which is likely to absorb more than half the President's anticipated $92-billion spending proposals for 1962-63.

Neither, Salinger said, was it intended to make a decision on whether the United States needs to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

The discussions will continue Wednesday after the arrival of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The entire Kennedy family was heartened by word that the head of the clan, Joseph P. Kennedy, 73, is making such improvement from his stroke that he was able to leave his hospital bed for a short period in a wheel chair. The President and other members of the family visited the elder Kennedy Monday at St. Mary's Hospital in neighboring West Palm Beach.

The chief executive spent a quiet New Year's Day, cheered by foul weather from his usual cruise on Lake Worth.

He made public a report from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy claiming significant advances in the government's war on the underworld. The attorney general, summarizing 1961 activities by federal crimebusters, said laws passed during the year could be thanked for much of the progress.

Without being specific, he said the Justice Department could use additional legislation to fight racketeers, gamblers and hoodlums. The attorney general cited the indictment of officials at Newport, Ky., in declaring his department is conducting a major effort to nail racketeers who try to corrupt public officials. He said a majority of race wire services have shut down and contended betting on football games slumped during the 1961 season.

An exchange of greetings between the President and Soviet leaders was made public on New Year's Eve. Both the Washington and Moscow messages expressed hopes for peace and better relations in 1962.

Kennedy plans to remain here until Saturday, when he will fly to Columbus, Ohio, to speak at a fund-raising birthday dinner for Ohio Gov. Michael D'Salle.

Will Labor Factor Hit Housing Boom?

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

All sorts of guesses have been made on how many new houses will be built or started in 1962. These estimates range from 1 to 1 1/2 million.

But there is fairly general agreement that the annual demand for new houses will reach the two million mark within a few years. The coming population growth makes this forecast appear conservative.

THERE IS considerable concern that, when the demand reaches its height, there may not be sufficient skilled building workers to meet construction schedules. There is some apprehension, even now, that a labor shortage may be developing in the construction trades.

In the forefront of those who hold this view is Leonard Frank, first vice president of the National Association of Home Builders. He contends that something must be done soon to alleviate this shortage in order to prevent a drastic rise in labor costs, an inevitable result when supply can not match demand.

Some unions in the construction trades have started apprentice training programs in an effort to turn out more skilled workers in the future. But this may not be as successful as hoped, simply because so many building workers are already fearful of what the future holds in store for them.

PREFABRICATED housing is gaining ground, literally and figuratively. The greater the number of factory-built units used, the fewer the workmen needed at the site of the house. In some areas, unions have instituted regulations preventing certain types of prefabricated materials from being used.

And so we have a peculiar situation. Those who fear a labor shortage contend the unions should relax their rules so that builders can use more factory-built components in their construction operations. The unions feel that this is an unfair attitude.

THEY SAY this would only push more building workers out of their jobs and into other lines of work, thus intensifying any existing labor shortage.

Regardless of the merits of either argument, there can be no doubt that smart builders are searching for new, better and quicker ways to construct houses. There is a realization that overall costs must be cut somehow if there is to be another boom in private housing.

Greenhouse Adds Freshness to Economical Ranch

By JULES LOH

Enjoying June in January—plus several other equally remarkable accomplishments—is possible in this attractive, medium-size house for a three-bedroom family.

"Here in the Midwest we go in for relaxed living," said its designer, architect Elmer Gylke of Elgin, Ill. "This house is ideal for the homeowner who likes to enjoy himself informally without sacrificing elegance or style."

ESPECIALLY interesting on these bleak winter days is a small greenhouse in the family room. Other noteworthy features include an indoor charcoal grill, a handy snack bar, a place especially designed for a home movie screen, and an impressive stone fireplace.

The house, B-99 in the House of the Week series, contains 1,668 square feet of living area not counting the 462 square foot attached garage. Its overall dimensions are 33 feet deep by 74 feet wide.

A neat design feature is the incorporation of the garage into the house itself, rather than the more customary ranch-house technique of appending it onto the side.

The informal area is located behind the garage, which makes it well isolated from the formal living room but still convenient to the kitchen-dining area.

EQUALLY intriguing is the fireplace-grill-over-snack bar complex which separates three rooms, the kitchen, living room and dining room. It's an example of efficiency at its best, providing maximum use of every square foot.

Gylke continued this kind of economical planning in the sleeping wing, where a minimum of hall space serves the three bedrooms and main bathroom.

The house has two full baths, the second well-placed in the informal area and close to the rear entry. It also permits the family room to be converted into a guest room, with its own private bath.

THE HOUSE has a full basement, which Gylke has left completely without partitions so the owner can divide it as he sees fit. Should the owner prefer no basement at all, the basement stair area could be used for utilities or a small heating plant.

Another option Gylke provides is for a kitchen entrance to the main bath. The toilet is located close to the tub partition partly for this purpose.

Mainly, though, the architect wanted to provide space in the bathroom for other furniture—a chair, for example. Incidentally, note the extra large vanity and double lavatories.

A bonus amount of counter space is an important characteristic of the well designed kitchen, but its most interesting feature probably is the snack bar.

It not only is handy for breakfasts and quick snacks, it is well placed as a serving counter for guests.

ALTHOUGH the dining room is a modest 10 feet by 11 feet 2 inches it is large enough for family use, and can be enlarged if necessary by opening the folding partition to the family room. The whole area stretches more than 20 feet—a perfect place, Gylke felt, for showing home movies. So he suggests a built-in movie screen on the bathroom wall directly in the center of the family room.

Equally convenient is Gylke's suggested TV arrangement. A turntable on the stone fireplace shelf would permit TV viewing from the living room, dining room, family room and even the kitchen.

THE EYE-catching rustic stone fireplace in the living room is complemented by deft use of ashlar stone on the exterior of the house at the front terrace. The rest of the exterior is brick veneer with some wood siding.

The architect suggests a red, rustic type brick, light-green wood trim, siding and gable ends of natural redwood, a bright coral front entrance, and a dark roof, either green or brown.

B-99 Statistics

FASTENING PANELS

Waterproof tile board cement, waterproof linoleum cement or a contact band adhesive can be used to fasten pressed wood-type hard-board panels to walls. Acoustical-type cements, however, will not form an adequate bond.

QUESTION: Can we paint the stucco on our house, which is 15 years old? It has taken on a dusty look, but a friend says it can't be cleaned without damaging the stucco.

ANSWER: Yes, stucco can be painted successfully. As for cleaning the stucco, that also can be done. Use a mild soap and water. With a wire or fiber brush. Repeated scrubbing of this sort might damage the stucco finish, but a single cleaning will not do so.

QUESTION: I want to put a new plastic top on our kitchen table. It has a metal molding, but there are no nails or screws in it such as I have seen on other similar moldings. How is this type of molding held in place by a clamp-like action. If you are replacing the molding with the same type, ask your dealer to show you how it is applied. Otherwise, buy one of the metal moldings which have predrilled holes for nails or screws.

QUESTION: A wooden table top I finished recently now has a number of cloudy spots on it. I used shellac, thinned with denatured alcohol. What caused this and how can I correct it?

ANSWER: It appears likely that the shellac was applied to a surface with some moisture on it. Perhaps you did the job on a rainy day or one in which there was very high humidity. You can try to remove the cloudiness by brushing over the spots with a brush dipped in denatured alcohol. If this doesn't work, you have no choice but to resand the wood, wash with denatured alcohol and do the job again.

2 Big Bus Lines Idled By N.Y. Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike against the two largest bus lines in the city forced 1.3 million regular riders to seek other means of transportation today. Police reported little confusion.

Subway traffic was heavier than usual. Automobile traffic from Queens and Brooklyn to Manhattan also was heavier, as bus riders switched to their own cars or car pools. Lines of cars outside midtown parking places were longer than usual.

An early morning snowfall in Queens and Brooklyn hampered automobile traffic somewhat.

Drivers for the Yonkers Bus Corp. reported they carried more passengers than usual from the suburban Westchester County area to city subway lines.

No negotiations were scheduled for today in the dispute that halted service on the struck private bus lines at the start of the New Year.

Passengers affected by the strike found alternate transportation for the most part on subways and city-owned bus lines and five private bus lines that were not struck. Taxicabs also did a heavy business.

Public schools were ordered opened an hour later today to take the pupils out of the early morning crush. Catholic schools reopened Wednesday except in Queens and Brooklyn where they were to open today.

The strike by 6,400 members of the Transport Workers Union was born with the new year after last-minute conferences failed to resolve the cause of contention.

city concessions to ease the lines' financial plight.

It closed down Fifth Avenue Coach Lines, and its subsidiary, Surface Transit, Inc. Another subsidiary, Westchester Street Transportation, Inc., also was hit.

The city offered concessions on transfers and other issues that would bring the lines about $4.5 million a year for the next two years, but management held off for more.

New Russian Ambassador Coming to U.S.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

AP Foreign Staff Writer

The Soviet Union is sending a younger smiling Russian to replace an older smiling Russian as its ambassador to Washington.

Mikhail Aleksevich Menshikov, who sails for home Thursday after almost four years on the job, is known throughout the United States as Smiling Mike.

Anatoly Fedorovich Dobrynin, who will arrive in about a month to succeed him, may well become known as Affable Anatoly.

Dobrynin won his reputation for affability in almost three years at the United Nations, from 1957 to 1960, as the top-ranking Soviet citizen in the U.N. secretariat. He was an undersecretary, just below the then secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjöld.

He is a big, hearty, energetic, outgoing man well over six feet tall, with a booming voice, a bone-crushing handshake and a quick sense of humor. He is a partly bald, graying blond with a high, round forehead, silver-rimmed glasses and ice blue eyes. He speaks good French and good English.

He is widely known as one of the friendliest Russians ever to hit U.N. headquarters. All acquaintances agree that he was an extremely capable U.N. official. They also agree that he should make his government an excellent Washington ambassador—for reasons like these:

1. Since leaving the secretariat, he has been chief of the Department of American Countries in the Soviet Foreign Ministry, having to do with the United States, Canada and Latin America. He knows U.S.-Soviet relations inside out.

2. He is not publicly identified with any particular Soviet line. He can easily become the channel for any change of policy directed by the Kremlin.

Thinking About Buying Lot? Some Angles

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

When a woman puts every spare penny into a coffee can so that some day savings will add up to the down payment on a house, she can get very discouraged when time stretches on and nothing happens, as a recent letter tells.

A woman writes that she has saved for years, but houses keep going up, and everything she needs is out of her price range. Her children grow and her expenses increase.

Should she invest the money in land "before all the pretty land is gone?" she asks. She has seen some land in a lovely area but she expects that it will all be bought soon and it will be years before she can afford to build.

EVERY WOMAN who has yearned for a house will understand how she feels.

If it will be years before a house can materialize is it wise to use her house money this way?

A purchase of a lot or acreage should be carefully thought out, especially when it is surrounded by undeveloped land. It may look like a scene from a painting now, but how will it look in the future?

One must first investigate the adjacent land. Who owns it? Is it zoned for business and industry? A fertilizer plant planned for the vicinity might not be what you desire in your back yard.

HOW FAR is the land from a railroad station? Main highway? Shops?

What does it cost to dig a well in the area, and what is the average depth for hitting water in the vicinity?

How much would it cost to clear the land, put in topsoil and landscape? How available are gas, electricity, telephone service?

If a car breaks down, how does one arrange to have it repaired? Towed?

Are there people who can assist with odd jobs—plumbing, ploughing, roof repairs?

Are there schools nearby? School bus? Church?

HOW FAR is it to the nearest doctor? Hospital?

Is there a place where friendships may be maintained and a social life developed—community houses, clubs?

Are there playmates for children?

Is the land in an area that attracts people of your approximate age?

If the area is growing, how much have the taxes risen in recent years? Is the town taking on lots of debt—new schools, big road projects, community recreation plans, other plants that would increase your taxes in the immediate future?

THE FINE PRINT on the deed must be read. It might restrict you from building the kind of home you want or from putting it where you want it on your property.

We are at times overwhelmed by a picturesque area, and often one feels the desire to own such a spot at any cost. But it is wise to review the drawbacks that might exist in the garden of enchantment.

Many people feel that it is wiser to save money for a down payment on a house so that one can judge the community before pouring money into a house.

If a wise real estate investment has been made in land, however, it could prove on resale to afford the profit that may make a house possible in some other area. And that is worth thinking about also when you are sizing up the value of the land you anticipate buying.

DEAR ABBY:

Extremist Wants To Go to Jail

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who tells you he wants to go to jail? He says he is thinking up a way to get in. He isn't a violent man, but he is planning to throw a brick through a window, or talk back to an officer, or do something that he can get arrested for. He tells me he can't stand the noise around here. We do have six little ones. I can't tape their mouths shut but, if I can stand it, so can he. He says he is fed up with me, married life and the children, and the only place for him is jail where nobody can bother him. WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: I've heard of men trying to break OUT of jail, but never INTO one. If your husband is joking — laugh. If he is serious, call a doctor. He should have his head examined.

DEAR ABBY: Every year my husband's favorite aunt comes to visit us for about two weeks. She is very jolly and pleasant but she has one fault that bothers me. She keeps her suitcase locked and sews the key to her girdle. I don't know what she has that is so valuable, but certainly no one in this house would take anything. I think this is an insult to a hostess. How would you feel about a guest who locks everything up while visiting in your home? HURT

DEAR HURT: We all have our little peculiarities. Security is hers. Overlook it.

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I have a difference of opinion on something, and want your advice. My boy friend is going to give me an engagement ring, very soon. My mother thinks he should give it to me in front of everybody at the engagement party she is going to give. I think he should give it to me in private. What is your opinion? IN THE CLOUDS

DEAR IN: Have him give it to you in private and announce it at the party.

DEAR ABBY: I burst into tears as my lover of ten years (a lawyer) told me he had decided to go back to his wife. He said, "I have no contract with you." Please warn other stupid women about this phrase. Respectfully, "TEN YEARS SHOT"

Tshombe Admits Loss of Katanga Stronghold
By PETER GROSE
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has conceded the loss of the north Katanga stronghold of Kongo to troops of the central Congolese government but claims his forces have beaten off Congolese attacks at Kapona, south of Bandundu.

Tshombe charged at a news conference Monday in Elisabethville that 13,000 Congolese troops advancing on Kongo had murdered hundreds of civilians and burned villages.

He claimed that the Congolese abandoned heavy equipment and fled in the face of strong Katanga resistance at Kapona. The secessionist leader said both sides suffered heavy casualties there, asserting that most Katanga casualties involved civilians.

A. G. Grobe New Wabasha County Board Chairman

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—The Wabasha County Board of Commissioners in annual session at 9:30 a.m. today at the courthouse here elected A. G. Grobe, Millville, chairman, succeeding Conrad Schad, Lake City. Nick Jacoby, Wabasha, was elected vice chairman.

An official at the Cuban Embassy confirmed the appointment of Blanco y Fernandez, but said he had not yet arrived in Rome.

The previous Cuban envoy, Dr. Jose Ruiz Velasco, presented his credentials in March 1960. He was recalled by Castro less than nine months later.

Castro's ouster of several Roman Catholic priests from Cuba led to further strain between the Vatican and Havana, and by last summer relations between the two appeared near the breaking point.

HAVANA (AP)—A New Year's message from Pope John XXIII expressing "sincere hopes for Christian prosperity for the beloved Cuban people" was published in Havana newspapers today.

Farm Income Higher, Says Sec. Freeman
By OVID A. MARTIN.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in a year-end report, said today 1961 had enlarged opportunities for American agriculture by reversing a buildup of crop surpluses and by enlarging farm income.

Claiming major successes for the Kennedy administration on the farm front, the secretary said net farm income—amount left after costs—increased 9 per cent over 1960 to the highest level since 1953.

This upturn contributed, he said, to renewed prosperity in many farming communities previously depressed.

Freeman said these developments were brought about largely by the administration's farm policies designed to manage agriculture's abundance—that is, to bring production into line with all available demands and outlets.

He said U.S. agriculture continued to provide consumers with abundant food and fiber at lowest costs in the world measured in terms of hours of labor required to buy them.

Freeman listed what he called major accomplishments of his department as follows:

Donation of 1.7 billion pounds of surplus foods to 23 million Americans in need, participating in a school lunch program, living in public institutions and suffering from natural disasters.

To shore up farm income, increased price support for most grains, milk, oilseed crops, dry beans and honey.

It halted a long buildup in feed grain surpluses.

It loaned and insured private loans to low-income and distressed farmers totaling $400 million, a 46 per cent increase over 1960.

It loaned $22.6 million to expand rural power systems and $110 million to expand rural telephone service.

It helped move a record—breaking $3.1 billion of farm products into export markets.

Freeman also outlined a number of other new programs and actions taken in the farm and food field. They included the setting up of an experimental program for the food stamp plan for helping the needy and the establishment of a field organization for advance planning to offset effects of a nuclear attack on agriculture and on food supplies.

Freeman said the department had encouraged farmers to participate more fully through advisory committees—in development of farm commodity stabilization programs.

Commissioner of Education Takes Over New Office

ST. PAUL (AP)—Ernest O. Johnson, Mankato, took over his new duties today as state commissioner of education.

Johnson had been superintendent of schools at Mankato.

Castro Sends New Envoy To Vatican
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has appointed a new ambassador to the Vatican in an apparent move to ease strained relations between his pro-Communist regime in Cuba and the Roman Catholic Church.

Castro's appointment of Luis Amado Blanco y Fernandez became known today with the routine publication of the 1962 directory of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican.

An official at the Cuban Embassy confirmed the appointment of Blanco y Fernandez, but said he had not yet arrived in Rome.

The previous Cuban envoy, Dr. Jose Ruiz Velasco, presented his credentials in March 1960. He was recalled by Castro less than nine months later.

Castro's ouster of several Roman Catholic priests from Cuba led to further strain between the Vatican and Havana, and by last summer relations between the two appeared near the breaking point.

HAVANA (AP)—A New Year's message from Pope John XXIII expressing "sincere hopes for Christian prosperity for the beloved Cuban people" was published in Havana newspapers today.

The brief message replied to a New Year's greeting from President Oswaldo Dorticos. It acknowledged Dorticos' message of best wishes.

Farm Income Higher, Says Sec. Freeman
By OVID A. MARTIN.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in a year-end report, said today 1961 had enlarged opportunities for American agriculture by reversing a buildup of crop surpluses and by enlarging farm income.

Claiming major successes for the Kennedy administration on the farm front, the secretary said net farm income—amount left after costs—increased 9 per cent over 1960 to the highest level since 1953.

This upturn contributed, he said, to renewed prosperity in many farming communities previously depressed.

Freeman said these developments were brought about largely by the administration's farm policies designed to manage agriculture's abundance—that is, to bring production into line with all available

Packers Receive $5,195 Each for Winning Title

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The long, cold winter by the glory of success—their resounding 37-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

DOWN, BUT NOT OUT... This may look like a boxing bout but instead the referee calls a foul on Jerry Armstrong of the University of Louisville as he lies on the floor after colliding with an LSU player in the second half of the Sugar Bowl basketball tournament in New Orleans recently. LSU won 84-70. (AP Photofax)

The Packers also were snug in the high temperatures of prosperity, their individual shares of $5,195.44 from the receipts of Sunday's game. They agreed it was great to do business with the Giants.

So did the players' wives, wrapped in the warmth of mink stoles presented by the Green Bay management when the club won the Western Division title a month ago, also by beating the Giants.

The new crown is the seventh championship for the Packers and the first won at home since the club entered the league as a charter member in 1921.

The title was the first for Green Bay since beating the Giants in New York in 1944, and it was the climax of a complete rebuilding begun three years ago when Vince Lombardi quit as a Giant assistant coach to become coach and general manager of the Packers.

The conquest came on a combination of a battering Packers defense that created opportunities and a sparkling offense that cashed in on them.

"It was a personal thing with most of us," said defensive end Willie Davis. "We felt that we hadn't been getting the credit and recognition we deserved."

The Packers defensive unit held the New York Giants to 31 yards rushing, 119 in the air and six first downs. The defensive corps grabbed four Giant passes and recovered one New York fumble.

The Packers offense, directed by quarterback Bart Starr and sparked by halfback Paul Hornung, did the rest.

Starr's play calling produced 19 first downs, gained 181 yards on the ground and 164 in the air. Starr passed for three touchdowns, and when his passes were not wrecking the Giants, Hornung was running through big holes in the New York line.

Hornung, on leave from his jeep-driving chores with the Army at Ft. Riley, Kan., carried the burden of the ground attack. His running mate, fullback Jim Taylor, was slowed by a back injury.

Hornung, the league's most valuable player in the past season and its scoring leader for the past three years, carried 20 times for 89 yards. He scored 19 points, setting an individual title game record. He scored one touchdown, booted four extra points and broke the mark of 18 set by Cleveland's Otto Graham in the 1954 game with Detroit.

Hornung said "it was our day. We could do nothing wrong and they could do nothing right."

Each Giant received $3,339.99 as his share of the gate.

ated Press poll. They again made Ohio State the unanimous choice for No. 1 in this week's balloting.

The Buckeyes, deep in talent and experience and with a magnificent leader in Jerry Lucas, swept to three victories and the title in the premier event of the hectic holiday tournament program.

Davis Pays Off Family Mortgage With 1st Check

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The first $5,000 of Ernie Davis' bonus will pay off the mortgage on the home of Ernie's mother, Mrs. Marie Radford of Elmhurst, N.Y.

Davis, Syracuse star and the first Negro winner of the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding football player, accepted a $15,000 bonus check Thursday on signing a $65,000 three-year contract with the Cleveland Browns. It was the highest contract ever announced for a National Football League rookie.

At the signing ceremony, Arthur B. Modell, the Cleveland club's board chairman, declared, "We know Ernie is going to make it, and make it real big."

Davis is equally confident that he would succeed in NFL competition. "As a Heisman Trophy winner I believe I am one of the best, and I want to play with the best," Davis said. "A football player has pride."

Chargers Get Ace Arkansas Halfback

By BEN THOMAS

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The test of the American Football League may not be faring well in its fight with the NFL.

Charger and Coach Al Davis handed Arkansas halfback Lance Alworth a contract under a goal post at the end of the Sugar Bowl game between Arkansas and Alabama Monday.

Alworth immediately signed it.

A few yards away, Coach Red Hickey of the NFL's San Francisco 49ers, looked dejected. He had reached Alworth first at the 17th field. The 49ers picked Alworth in the first round of the NFL draft.

Alworth, a Brookhaven, Miss., product, said he picked San Diego because "The AFL is a new league. I'll have a chance to grow with it."

He became the second No. 1 choice of the NFL to be signed by the Chargers, who two weeks ago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks held down sole possession of fourth place in the National Hockey League today, thanks to goalie Glenn Hall.

The Hawks blanked the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 2-0 Monday night with Hall kicking out 32 blasts at his net. It marked the fourth shutout of the year for the 30-year-old goalie and was by far his most impressive.

The victory snapped a string of four straight ties for the Hawks, and enabled them to edge ahead of the idle Detroit Red Wings in their battle for fourth.

In the other game, the New York Rangers turned back the last place Boston Bruins 4-2.

State Matmen Prepare for NSCC Opener

Coach Bob Jones today started drilling his Winona State wrestling team for their NSCC opener at St. Cloud State Tuesday, Jan. 9.

Most of the team has been idle over the holiday break but four of the grapplers saw action in the Wilkes Open Tournament at Wilkes-Barre, Pa. "The Rose Bowl of College Wrestling." None progressed further than the third round, however.

STAN GRIDLEY was the most effective of the quartet as he defeated Holodney of Harvard 4-1 in the opening round and pinned Haas of Ohio State University in 4:30 before losing to Kopinsky of Maryland 5-1 in the third round. Kopinsky went on to become tournament runner-up in the 157 pound division.

Gridley was eligible for consolation honors but fell ill with the flu the day of the finals and couldn't compete.

Larry Marchionda, 115, lost to Ottinger of Lehigh 9-4 in the first round.

Jim Mahoney decided Gault of Buffalo University 2-1 in the first round but lost to Denev of Cornell 10-4 in his second match.

LEO SIMON decided Nydori of Shippensburg State 5-0 before losing to Pittsburgh's Wilson 1-0.

Jones served as one of the tournament's referees and worked the final round.

Pittsburgh won the team title with 85 points. Some 65 colleges and athletic clubs were represented by 355 wrestlers to make the meet the largest in the United States.

Baylor to Army; Lakers Lead Western by 9½

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers, Western Division leaders of the National Basketball Association, are slated to lose All-Star Elgin Baylor to the U.S. Army today.

Baylor, the league's second leading scorer with a 38 point average, is due to report for Army duty at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Baylor's final game as a civilian was a Los Angeles victory. The Lakers turned back the Philadelphia Warriors 114-111 at Los Angeles Monday night.

The former Seattle star, in his fourth season in the NBA, collected 32 points but yielded scoring honors to teammate Jerry West who hit for 36.

In other games Monday night, the Syracuse Nats defeated the Cincinnati Royals 110-106 and the St. Louis Hawks whipped the Detroit Pistons 145-139.

The Lakers opened up a 9½ game lead over Cincinnati in the Western Division in beating Philadelphia for the fifth time in eight meetings.

Ten Game Saint Streak Snapped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Steers have snapped the most impressive winning streak compiled during the first part of the American Basketball League's inaugural season and ballooned their lead to 3½ games in the Western Division.

Playing a sub-par San Francisco team that had three players hampered by injuries, the Steers rolled to a 107-93 victory Monday night, ended the Saints' 10-game victory string at home and padded their first-place edge over the Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, Cleveland and Pittsburgh remained in a tie for the top spot in the East. The Pipers whipped Chicago's Majors 117-90 and the Kents defeated the Hawaii Chiefs 106-87 in the other games scheduled.

The Steers, led by Bill Bridges and Nick Manis who split 40 points, built a 24-point lead against the Saints at one point and breezed to their 24th win in 34 games—the best record in the ABL.

C-F had little trouble with Fall Creek in the nightcap. The Pirates led 15-10, 30-23 and 49-32 at the quarter breaks in romping to their third win of the season.

The only real excitement of the contest came in the final period when Cricket Coach Allen Klink was banned from the gym for protesting a decision.

Larry Abts poured in 25 points for the Pirates, 17 in the first half, and Jim Tack, 13, Virgil Green hit 15 for Fall Creek.

J.J. Fenrick's 4-year-old son of 7, Market captured the $28,500 San Gabriel Handicap before a crowd of 42,500. He won in a blanket finish, beating Grey Eagle by a nose and The Axe 2nd by a head. The mile and one-eighth was run in 1:48 2-5.

Last Thursday Art Market beat Micarlo by a half length in the Seattle World's Fair purse. But the stewards disqualified him for lugging in near the wire and placed him second. ## After Game

Irish Kick Named Oddity Of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rarity to rank with Cornell's famous "fifth down" against Dartmouth and Roy Riegels' wrong way run in the Rose Bowl was voted the college football oddity of 1961 today in the Annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Notre Dame's game-winning field goal against Syracuse on Nov. 18 at South Bend after time had run out was acclaimed—the outstanding oddity in a landslide—by 125 of the 151 sports experts who participated in the balloting.

The decisive Notre Dame kick was set up when Syracuse was charged with rushing on a missed field goal by Joe Perkowski as the final seconds ticked off. Syracuse was handed a 15-yard penalty and Perkowski tried again, hitting this time from 41 yards out for a 17-15 Notre Dame victory.

After the wild finish, the dispute started. Several days after the game—Gen. Robert Neyland of Tennessee, chairman of the NCAA rules committee, said that Notre Dame's victory came on an illegal field goal in an opinion shared by several other members of football's ruling brass. The interpretation, in effect, was that a game cannot be extended because of a foul called on a place kick.

Notre Dame rejected Neyland's decision and called for the affair to be settled by the entire rules committee. All parties concerned agree that the outcome of the game cannot be changed unless done so voluntarily by Notre Dame, and since Notre Dame has shown no such inclination it is likely to stand—Notre Dame 17, Syracuse 15 in one of football's all-time hassles.

In the final week that month the nation's mills melted 1.85 million net tons of steel, operating at about 65 per cent.

Production saw-sawed the remainder of the year, largely in the 70-75 per cent range. Output hit 2.13 million tons—about a 75 per cent rate—in the last week of September. This was the most for any week since May 1960.

With final statistics yet to be reckoned, it appeared total 1961 production would fall just shy of the 1960 mark of 99.28 million tons—sixth best year in steel's history.

During 1961, industry leaders repeatedly stated a need for higher prices to offset increased employment costs. But they held the line—for the third straight year—under government and competitive pressures.

Early in September, President Kennedy appealed for steel price stability as a hedge against inflation.

Later, prices of aluminum—a major competitor—dropped one to two cents a pound.

Competition from other materials—plastics, concrete, glass—and foreign steelmakers also played a part in the decision to stand pat on prices.

The industry last raised prices in an average of $4.50 a ton in 1958. Since then members of the United Steelworkers have received two contract wage hikes totaling 14 to 23 cents an hour.

If prices remain steady, company negotiators will have a strong talking point in bargaining with the USW for new contracts to replace the ones expiring June 30.

Just what the union will seek hasn't been spelled out. One important issue will be job security.

David J. McDonald, USW president, feels the best remedy for technological displacement of Steelworkers is a shorter work week—with no reduction in pay.

Bob Burn's Daughter Dead of Overdose Of Sleeping Pills

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barbara Ann Burns, unable to break free from the narcotics that enslaved her, is dead at 23. Her last wish had been to die rather than go to jail for an addiction she has had since her teens.

The daughter of the late millionaire, comedian Bud (Bazooka) Burns died Monday of an overdose of barbiturates, her third in six months. She never regained consciousness after being found Saturday lying in a Hollywood alley.

"I wish I had never seen heroin or any other narcotic," she said, the first time she was arrested for a narcotics offense, at 19. "For anyone who's thinking of trying it, just tell them it's not worth it."

Once an aspiring singer and actress, she had been in and out of trouble with the law because of her drug addiction since her father died in 1950.

COMMON MARKET EXPLAINED

Great Upheavals In World Trade

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like a football game without a scorecard, the current welter of news about foreign trade, tariffs and the European Common Market can be a little confusing.

Great upheavals are taking place in world trade, and new forces are changing the map. They may affect millions of Americans, from the cotton farmer in southwest Arkansas to the man who puts spokes in the wheels of a New England bicycle factory.

The major factor that is changing old patterns of trade in the free world is the European Economic Community, or Common Market.

Q. What is the Common Market?

A. It is an agreement between six European nations—France, West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—to lower tariff barriers between each other over a period of years to the vanishing point. At the same time they are setting up a common external tariff to deal with the rest of the world as a unit.

Q. What does this mean?

A. It means that these six nations will become a vast free market for members with no internal restrictions. By acting together they can deal with the superpowers—the United States or the Soviet Union—on equal footing. Together, the United States and the Common Market eventually will account for half of the world's total trade.

Q. How did the Common Market start?

A. After World War II, when European nations were getting back on their feet, it was soon realized that even the largest of them, France and West Germany, were too small to achieve the full industrial development possible under modern technology. A larger unit was needed to give Europe its proper place in the competition for world trade. So in 1958 the Common Market was founded by the Treaty of Rome.

Q. How is it doing?

A. It is doing rather well. The six nations are ahead of schedule in lowering their internal tariffs, and business is booming under the stimulus. So much so that Great Britain, which stood aloof from the Treaty of Rome, now wants in even though it would disrupt the British Commonwealth and cause other changes in the British way of life, such as converting its ancient currency system to a decimal system. Denmark, Ireland and Norway are likely to join too. Sweden, Austria and Switzerland would probably like to join, but must tread carefully to preserve their East-West neutrality.

Q. What does this mean to us in the United States?

A. It means that if we want to continue trading in the rich Common Market, we must negotiate a low external tariff for the Common Market's liberalized foreign trade, with the Kennedy administration as a chief drumbeater, say we must be able to offer the Common Market reduced United States tariffs in return. This, in simplified terms, is what the bloody fight shaping up in Congress next year is about. Protectionist, or high tariff sentiment is strongly represented in Congress. Almost every congressman or senator has plants in his district that might be hurt by freer entry of foreign goods.

Q. What about the rest of the world, like Latin America or Japan?

A. This question is of vital concern to U.S. policy makers. They don't want anybody frozen out of the good things in life. They have enunciated the principle that whatever agreements the United States makes with the Common Market must be available on the same terms to anyone else.

Q. Aren't we making a deal with the Common Market right now?

A. Yes, negotiations have been going on at Geneva and at Brussels. Reportedly the deal involves cutting the Common Market external tariff 20 per cent on practically all goods, with the United States cutting duties on automobiles and some other goods in return under the President's present limited power to lower U.S. tariffs. But there is a roadblock.

Q. What is the roadblock?

A. Agricultural products. America sells a third of its agricultural exports to Europe, and it wants to be sure that this trade is not harmed. The Common Market countries also are having problems in agricultural trade among themselves. In essence, this is because much of their farm production is produced in ancient peasant ways on small uneconomic farm units. Lowering all internal barriers may sweep away this old way of life and cause painful readjustments. The U.S.-Common Market Negotiators will meet again in January to try to solve the agricultural impasse.

Q. If we can already deal with the Common Market under the present law, why does the President need new tariff-cutting powers?

A. The administration experts say that when this deal is concluded, virtually all of the present tariff reduction powers will be used up, and besides the law expires in June. They contend the President needs new and broader powers, with fewer loopholes and restrictions, to get the United States into the new sweep of world trade that is developing.

Q. Who started all this anyway?

A. A French statesman named Jean Monnet is considered the father of the Common Market. His crusading led first to the establishment in 1952 of the European Coal and Steel Community, still a going concern. A third supranational agreement among these six nations is Euronat, to control joint development of peaceful atomic power. Some disciples of Monnet believe that some day all this will lead to a United States of Europe, with a common government. But this is a long way off.

Unbeaten Buckeyes Convince Pollsters They Belong No. 1

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

If there is any dissension about it, it isn't apparent. Ohio State seems to have convinced everyone it is the undisputed leader in college basketball.

The ten teams the mighty Buckeyes have rolled over so far are convinced. So are the 42 panel members voting in The Associated Press poll. They again made Ohio State the unanimous choice for No. 1 in this week's balloting.

The Buckeyes, deep in talent and experience and with a magnificent leader in Jerry Lucas, swept to three victories and the title in the premier event of the hectic holiday tournament program.

Gene Garrison counted 33 points and Ted Czaplewski 21 for Schaffer's. For Peterson, brothers Allen and Paul Skalet each dunked 30 and Bernie Benson 26.

Pepin topped Lima Sacred Heart 55-50 in the night's finale.

Dick Peters turned in a spectacular scoring effort for St. Felix when he fired in 13 of the Yellow Jackets' 17 field goals for 26 points. But it wasn't enough.

Gilman led 12-5, 25-17 and 43-29 at the quarter turns in posting its sixth straight victory after an early season loss to Independence.

Merlin Hanson netted 26 points for the Panthers, Jerry Gates 15 and Tom Marum 12.

Pepin overcame a determined bid by Lima Sacred Heart to hang up its fifth win of the campaign.

The Lakers trailed 27-24 at half-time but rallied to lead 42-39 heading into the final quarter.

Eugene Bock flipped in 21 points for Pepin and Jim Westberg 11. Jim Bildersbach got 16 and Joe Brunner 15 for Sacred Heart.

Dischinger topped Big Ten Scorers

CHICAGO (AP)—Terry Dischinger of Purdue maintained his all games Big Ten basketball scoring lead with Indiana's Jim Ray moving into second place.

Dischinger had 232 points in nine games for a 25.7 average. Ray moved up among the leaders with 189 points in eight games and a 23.6 average.

Ron Jackson of Wisconsin was third with a 22.7 average on 205 points in nine games and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State took fourth place with 225 points in ten games and a 22.5 average.

The leaders:

Dischinger, Purdue 232 25.7
Ray, Ind. 189 23.6
