Governor of Montana Dead in Plane Crash

WOLF CREEK, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Donald G. Nutter of Montana, his executive secretary, the state agriculture commissioner, and three crew members died Thursday in a plane crash.

Death of the Republican governor, who recently refused to proclaim United Nations Day in Montana, shocked this state of about 750,000 inhabitants.

Nutter, 46, a World War II bomber pilot and former state GOP chairman, completed his first year in office Jan. 1. He was elected in November 1960 to a four-year term ending in January 1965.

Taking over as Gov. Nutter's chief executive will be the lieutenant governor, Republican Tim M.

Babcock, 42, a Billings truck firm operator and former state legislator.

"I've lost the best friend I had and Montana has lost the best friend it had," said Babcock from the governor's mansion where he was called by close friends of the governor's attractive, dark-haired widow, Maxine.

Killed with Nutter when the plane apparently went out of control in turbulent weather and crashed in a mountain canyon near Wolf Creek, were his executive secretary, Dennis B. Gordon, 38, former Billings oilman and lawyer; State Agriculture Commissioner Edward C. Wren, 43, a Cascade grain farmer and stock rancher; and crew members, pilot Cliff Hanson, co-pilot Joseph Devine and engineer "Chico" Ballard, all of Great Falls.

The twin-engine C47 National Guard plane was carrying the governor and his party to a speaking engagement at Cut Bank in northern Montana near the Canadian border. The plane crashed about 3:30 p.m., about 30 minutes after the plane left Montana's capital city, 35 miles south of Wolf Creek.

"The plane was demolished," reported rancher Ed Wirth after visiting the crash scene which officers quickly blocked off. "Trees were afire as were pieces of aircraft," he said.

There was no official, public confirmation of any of the deaths, but families of the victims said they were given confirmation by National Guard officials.

The Air Force announced it would investigate the crash which occurred on a pine-studded mountain ridge. Wreckage was spread over a two-mile area. Two loggers found the wreckage.

The Weather Bureau said turbulence in the Wolf Creek area at the time of the governor's flight was strong enough to cause up and down drafts of 2,000 feet per minute over the mountainous area.

The Federal Aviation Agency in Helena said no distress message was received.

Babcock was a Yellowstone County representative in the Montana legislature in the sessions of 1957 and 1959. Previously, he served in the 1953 session of the House from Custer County.

Babcock and his wife, the former Betty Lee of Glendive, Mont., have two daughters, Lorna, 18, a student at Montana State College in Bozeman, and Marla, 13, a Billings junior high school student. Babcock, who flies his own plane, is a past president of the Montana Motor Transport Association. He was born at Littlefork, Minn., Oct. 27, 1919, and came to Montana the next year.

Nutter had returned to Montana Tuesday night from a flight to Oklahoma City for a meeting of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, of which he was a trustee.

During his two-day absence, Babcock had acted as governor. Babcock was at a Helena railroad depot waiting for a train to return him to Billings when he was advised of the tragedy.

Besides the widow, Nutter leaves his mother at Sidney and a 13-year-old son, Johnny, Helena junior high school student.

Nutter's career included two years as a deputy district clerk and two years as a deputy sheriff at Sidney where he also was a farm implement dealer. After the war, in which he flew 62 combat missions, Nutter returned to Montana State University where he got his law degree in 1954.

He served eight years in the Montana Senate before making his successful race for governor in 1960.

Hope Fades For Cuban Quarantine

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States fought today for stern action against Castro communism, but hopes sagged sharply under the pressure of mounting opposition among its hemispheric partners.

Uruguay joined the ranks of the so-called soft seven favoring kid glove treatment of the Havana regime.

The eight nations evidently intended to pull the teeth from U.S. proposals to quarantine Castroism, set up safeguards against infiltration, sever trade links and drum Havana out of deliberations of the Organization of American States.

The sudden adherence of Uruguay, the host nation, to the soft seven bloc imperiled prospects for the necessary two-thirds vote for stern measures.

Some delegates admitted an impasse had been reached, but still expressed confidence some solution will be found this weekend.

Rusk and Venezuelan Foreign Minister Marcos Falcon Briceño met throughout the morning with foreign ministers of three nations of the group—Argentina, Chile and Brazil. But the session broke up without any progress toward budging the opposition, particularly Brazil. The men arranged further meetings this afternoon.

The deadlock tossed the inter-American foreign ministers conference back another 24 hours. The ministers agreed to extend the deadline for presentation of a resolution for inclusion in the final conference act. The deadline is now 7 p.m. Saturday.

Brazil and Mexico—probably with the support of most if not all other members of the so-called soft seven—objected bitterly to the U.S. plans for a watchdog committee against subversion. The United States wants the committee set up by the inter-American defense board. This would tend to give it a military character.

Billy Graham Going Ahead With Crusade

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP)—Billy Graham says he will go through with his plans to preach in Baranquilla, Colombia, this weekend although the mayor there has denied him the use of the municipal stadium. The meetings Saturday and Sunday will be held at the Presbyterian Mission.

The American evangelist said he expects his crusade in predominantly Roman Catholic Colombia will be among the best and most interesting he has ever held.

"This could be a demonstration of Christian tolerance in keeping with the new spirit emanating from Pope John," said Graham, a Baptist clergyman.

The mayor of Barranquilla withdrew permission for Graham to speak in the stadium after the local Roman Catholic hierarchy protested that Protestant preaching outside private church property was illegal in Colombia. Graham said he understood that law applied only to country districts and not to cities the size of Barranquilla.

Graham wound up his crusade in Maracaibo Wednesday night after moments of turmoil that brought him an apology from local officials. They told the American that demonstrators who attacked the state legislative hall during his speaking appearance there Tuesday were motivated by politics and not by personal animosity toward him.

Graham drew crowds totaling 65,000 in his crusade meetings here and in Caracas. An aide said 1,600 persons responded to his plea to sign "decisions for Christ." Venezuela was the evangelist's first stop on a tour of five Latin American countries.

Moon Shot Fired

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States today rocketed a 727-pound Ranger 3 payload towards the moon to take closeup television pictures and land an instrument package to measure moonquakes and meteor hits.

A towering Atlas-Agena B rocket, tall as a 10-story building, blazed aloft from this spaceport at 3:30 p.m. (EST) with the complex spacecraft cradled in its nose.

The powerful rocket had the extremely difficult mission of hurling Ranger 3 towards a Monday morning rendezvous with the moon, some 240,000 miles and 66 hours away at the vehicle's planned speed.

The entire Agena B second stage was to ignite and inject itself into a so-called "parking orbit," 100 miles high, eight minutes after launching at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

About eight minutes later, the Agena B was to fire again to accelerate to escape velocity of 24,500 miles an hour, and spring devices were to kick Ranger 3 on its planned trajectory to the moon.

Agena, after completing its tricky mission as a space launch platform, was to continue circling the earth as a silent satellite.

The space agency explained that this parking orbit technique "is a means by which the geometry imposed on moon shots by location of the Atlantic missile range is corrected by using a second stage rocket as a mobile launching platform in space."

Ranger 3 is the most complex unmanned space experiment ever attempted by the United States. It involves launching the Agena B second stage of the booster into orbit and, at the precise moment, re-starting the engine to boost the spacecraft's speed to 24,500 miles an hour and start it on its 66-hour voyage to the moon.

If successful, Ranger 3 will relay television pictures of the moon from as close as 15 miles away and will produce the first recordings of seismic activity and other information about the composition of the lunar surface.

The data, plus that to be gathered by more sophisticated machines in the next few years, will help stake out the landing site for the first U.S. manned lunar landing, hopefully by 1967.

The intricate mission involves dozens of events which must occur on a split-second timetable. Included is the firing of another engine 16 hours after launching to jockey the spacecraft into a collision course with the moon.

On the odds for success, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the assignment is so complex that it has "assigned three identical spacecraft to the task in the hope that at least one will be successful." Rangers 4 and 5 are to be launched later this year.

Rangers 1 and 2 were launched last fall to test techniques for the moon-landing attempts. Neither was aimed at the moon and each was only partially successful. However, the space agency felt they provided sufficient data to proceed with Ranger 3.

The United States had shot for the moon six times previously and failed each time. These launches were designed to either fly close to the moon or orbit it.

Drug Company Would Plan Expansion Here

The King family is considering selling controlling interest in Watkins Products, Inc., to Chas. Pfizer & Co., New York City, a leading pharmaceutical firm. Mrs. Grace W. King, secretary, announced today.

John E. McKee, president and chairman of the Pfizer board, and other Pfizer officials were in Winona early this week. Pfizer officials are expected here again next week.

THE SALE, if consummated, would involve the oldest and one of the largest direct selling organizations in the world. Watkins has 15,000 dealers in the United States and abroad.

Mrs. King said that family-owned stock would be exchanged for Pfizer stock.

Virtually all of the Watkins stock is held by Mrs. King, Mrs. Mariel King, her daughter, a vice president of the company, and E. L. King Jr., president of the company. He is in Hawaii.

The Watkins stock has never been offered publicly.

IN HER statement Mrs. King said that she was "pleased" to make the announcement.

"There is absolutely no intention on our part or Pfizer's to move operations of the company out of Winona. The sale will merely involve an exchange of stock and have no effect on personnel or employment in the community. Indeed, Pfizer is actually planning an expansion of operations in Winona.

"We feel sure that this action would be in the best interests of the company and the community, and the King family expects to remain closely associated with each."

PFIZER is a rapidly growing company. Its 1961 sales were expected to exceed $280 million against $269 million in 1960. It has made a number of acquisitions. Recently it acquired Thomas Leeming & Co. and Paquin, Inc.,

PFIZER BACKGROUND

which put Pfizer into the toiletries field and expanded its proprietary products line.

Other 1961 acquisitions included Paul Lewis Laboratories (enzymes), New England Lime and Globe Laboratories (veterinary drugs).

Pfizer is particularly strong in antibiotics. Its foreign sales are the largest of any U. S. drug manufacturers. These sales are almost half of Pfizer sales. Subsidiaries are in 47 countries, with plants built on being built in 26. Products are distributed in 60 additional countries.

It has 18,000 employees and 60,000 shareholders.

WATKINS is also an international firm. In addition to the plant and headquarters here, it has plants in Memphis, Tenn.; Montreal and Winnipeg, Canada; Union of South Africa and Australia.

It has marketing organizations in all of the 50 states, all of the provinces of Canada and in southern and central Africa and Australia. World War II closed down its manufacturing operations in Sweden and England. It no longer has sales organizations here.

Because it is a family owned corporation its financial records never have been made public. The company was organized in 1868.

Now, locally, it has in excess of 500 employees and about 1,200 throughout its state and overseas operations.

Watkins acquired the first trademark authorized in Minnesota. That was in 1893.

Police, Burglars Exchange Shots

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—A 26-year-old Racine police officer exchanged shots with two men he caught burglarizing a factory Thursday night. One shot whizzed a scant six inches over his head.

The officer, Eugene Kaydo, found a back door ajar at the Badger Tool Works on Racine's far West Side and entered the building to investigate. Tools littered the floor. Two men emerged from the office and one of them quickly fired a shot that sped just over his head. Kaydo answered with two shots and the men beat a hasty retreat into the office.

The intruders exited from a front door with the police officer in pursuit. They disappeared into the night. Kaydo said one of the men appeared to be about 20 years old, six feet tall, the other dark skinned and about 5-7.

Everything Set For Space Shot

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—In the clipped lingo of rocketry, "everything is go" for America's first try to put an astronaut in orbit Saturday.

Which means that, barring some snag now unforeseen, Marine Corps Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. will fight his duel with the cosmos—an attempt to whirl around the globe three times in 4½ hours.

Expected launch time is somewhere between 7:30 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) and 12:30 p.m. If Glenn departs skyward early in this period, he and the ground controllers will aim at three global circuits. If later, the number of orbits will be cut to two or even one.

This is because the rescue teams must have plenty of daylight to fish him and his data-crammed capsule out of the western Atlantic Ocean.

As for Glenn's Mercury astronaut mission, a big huddle was held at this missile range headquarters Thursday and Walter C. Williams, Mercury operations director, called the roll.

The Air Force reported the Atlas D booster was "go" (ready to go). This Atlas, plus the space shuttle atop it and a 16-foot escape tower on top of that, stands 93 feet tall.

Another officer mentioned that the worldwide tracking system has some minor problems—nothing unusual in view of the tremendous complexities and nothing to pose "any serious threat to the mission."

The Navy said "aye, aye, sir"—all ships and aircraft assigned to tracking Glenn were on station, or nearing station.

Weathermen pronounced climatic conditions favorable.

Then it came Glenn's turn to answer.

"The crew is go," said Glenn. The crew consists of Glenn, unless for some reason this cool, evidently nerveless man has to bow out and his backup pilot, Scott Carpenter, takes his place. The word went out that Glenn, an early-to-bed man when big things are looming, hit the sack in good season Thursday night in the big Hanger S that is his home away from home.

Newsmen were told by Joseph B. Gilleman, a systems engineer for the Air Research Manufacturing Division of the Garrett Corp., that the life support system in Glenn's space capsule was in perfect order.

Twist Won't Be Banned in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—The twist will not be banned in Boston, but promotion of the dance craze as a principal attraction will be banned by the city's three-man liquor licensing board.

Timothy Tobin, a board member, said "We cannot ban the twist, but we do not want places encouraging it, and we will tell them to stop."

11 a.m.—Service.
Today's demand for progress based on a true comprehension of God's nature and its power will be stressed Sunday at Christian Science church services.
Highlights of the sermon on the subject of "Truth" is the golden text from Psalm 119: "Thou art near, O Lord; and all thy commandments are truth." The word is true from its beginning.
One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (Prf. vii): "The time for thinkers has come. Truth, independent of doctrines and time-honored systems, knocks at the portal of humanity. Contentment with the past and the cold conventionalities of materialism are crumbling away. Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping stone to faith."
Wednesday, 8 p.m.—Meeting.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Of course, it was just a dream, Ed admits. (Too much pie at bedtime.)

And, thoughtfully, he adds—it shouldn't take a nightmare to make us realize what we believe—and how to preserve that Faith.

"WE WILL BURY YOU," growled the harsh voice at the other end of the line.

"WHAT!" cried Ed Bryson, hardly believing his ears.

"Your belief in God . . ." the voice went on. "... an out-worn superstition leading to foolish notions about democracy and freedom and human rights. Communism will correct this."

"Who do you think you're talking to?" blustered Ed.

"To you, Mr. Bryson. The Party needs you to liberate your countrymen. Encourage them to forget morality for it is a myth. Conscience, it is cowardice. Worship, it is weakness . . ."

"NO," Ed exploded! "NYET if you understand that better! We aren't going to forget the spiritual principles that make the Free World strong. Our kind of liberty is built on God's Truth—and you'll never bury That. Go sell your party line somewhere else. I'm on my way to Church!"

Citizens Cited By Jaycees At St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — In addition to presenting special awards for outstanding work in St. Charles and area the past year, the Jaycees at a banquet Thursday night cited 11 individuals and companies for contributions to the improvement of the area, with emphasis on new Jensen Park created in 1961.

Dr. S. K. McHutchinson was named outstanding young man of the year in a presentation by Don Campbell.

A. E. Bergh, St. Charles attorney, received the outstanding citizen award, presented by Dr. McHutchinson.

Edward Kramer received the citation as outstanding farmer from Lawrence Schneider.

SPECIAL AWARDS were presented to Ben Pasendin, editor of the St. Charles Press, and Fred Millard of Millard Construction Co. for his support of the park development and machinery donated for its improvement. He received a life membership in the Jaycees.

The Jensen family received a certificate for donating the land for the park. Receiving certificates for helping in the development were Luehman and Schultz Implement companies for loaning machinery; St. Charles First National and Dover State banks for making the gopher machine possible; Patterson Quarries for furnishing trucks for access to the park; Carl Fisher for use of his building for shelter while painting; and Mrs. Noble Robinson and Mayor Don Hankerson for help in various projects concerning the park project.

Harold Wire was cited for his interest in youth projects and Robert Currie for the teenage rodeo project. Dr. McHutchinson presented these awards.

ROBERT WOLTER was master of ceremonies at this community awards night, attended by about 200. Guests were from Winona, Wabasha, Plainview and Rochester Jaycees.

Donald Schwartz, Rochester, national Jaycee director, introduced Bert Jones, St. Louis Park, who spoke on "The Young Man's Challenge." At the age of 28 he is the youngest state president.

The Rev. Luther Peterson, Faith Lutheran Church, gave the invocation.

Fire Damages Two Warehouses At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Wis. (Special) — A fire which burned out the interior of a two-story warehouse belonging to Sprecher Lumber Co. here Thursday afternoon caused several thousand dollars of damage, according to Lester Gurne.

Gurne is operating the yard in the absence of Manager Myron Olson, who is vacationing in Florida.

The fire also spread about six feet into the M. A. Wiemer & Co. furniture store warehouse, to the west, causing about $1,000 in damage, according to Leonard Kern, owner.

The fire started on the second floor of the large warehouse at the rear of the lumber company's Main Street office. Stanley Puchalla, employed at the yard, saw smoke emerging from the building at 2 p.m.

Damage to the building is extensive, says Willie Smietka, fire chief, but no estimate has been made because of the manager's absence.

Cement, ceiling tile, wood flooring, windows and doors were stored in the warehouse and are ruined by fire or water.

In the Wiemer warehouse, smoke and water damaged mattresses and springs.

Cause of the fire is not known, but Gurne says it could not be wiring because the top floor is not wired. Firemen arrived at 2:10, had the fire under control in an hour, but stayed until 6. Two lumber company employees stayed at the yard all night.

Improper Handling Of License Causes Charge Dismissal

Because a state driver's license examiner neglected to stamp a woman's license application showing she had passed the driving test, the charge of driving without a license was dismissed this morning in municipal court.

Municipal Judge S. D. J. Brusk ordered the charge against Mrs. Jon R. Borgen, 22, 108 E. Sanborn St., dismissed.

Mrs. Borgen showed the court a receipt saying she had paid for her license after passing the test. This entitles her to drive, even though the license application was not stamped correctly, Judge Brusk ruled.

She was arrested by police Wednesday at 12:04 a.m. at Broadway and Lafayette street.

Pfizer Leader in Pharmaceuticals

Chas. Pfizer & Co., New York City, originally a producer of bulk chemicals, has become since World War II one of the leading firms in the pharmaceutical industry with a full line of packaged drugs.

Antibiotic sales account for about 50 percent of total sales. The firm is an important producer of fine chemicals and to a lesser extent, industrial chemicals. The firm also produces animal feed supplements and agricultural specialties.

Pfizer's divisions follow: Pfizer Laboratories Division—Manufactures antibiotics including Terramycin (the most important product) Tetracycline, Signemycin, penicillin and streptomycin.

J. B. Roerig Division—Manufactures vitamins, mineral supplements and tranquilizers including Viterba, Bonadonin and Atarax.

Chemical Division—Manufactures vitamins, bulk antibiotics, citric acid and industrial chemicals.

Agricultural Division—Producers a line of antibiotic and vitamin fortified feed supplements.

Morton-Withers Chemical Division—Manufactures additives for the petroleum industry, polyesters for resins and other petrochemical specialties.

Pfizer International Subsidiaries—Manufactures and sells company products abroad, carrying on the largest foreign business of any ethical drug company with distribution in more than 100 foreign countries.

During 1960 company-sponsored research expenditures totaled more than $13.4 million plus an additional $1.9 million received from the federal government for cancer research using Pfizer antibiotic filtrates. Pfizer is now conducting field trials of its newly developed measles vaccine.

FOR THE NINE months ending Oct. 7, 1961, Pfizer net sales increased 5.5 percent over the same period in 1960. Total 1960 sales were $269 million. All product categories except vitamins and citric acid reported gains.

Pfizer has been licensed by the U. S. Public Health Service to produce Types I and II of Sabin oral polio vaccine. The firm already produces Salk vaccine.

John E. McKee is president of Pfizer and chairman of the board. The nearest Pfizer sales office and distribution center is at Chicago. Pfizer products are manufactured in 20 foreign countries.

Conrad-Inspired Youth Aviation Group Organized

Directors of the newly organized Winona Aviation Foundation, Inc., held their first meeting Thursday night at Max Conrad Field administration building.

The nonprofit corporation is seeking contributions to educate youth in aviation, space exploration and allied fields. The project stems from flier Max Conrad's Winona Experiment. Gifts already have been received from persons throughout the nation who have bought phonograph records of Conrad's songs or are otherwise interested in the program.

Directors follow: Edwin O. Eckert, president; Joseph F. Rhoderick, treasurer; William F. White, second vice president; Wayne S. Himrich, first vice president, and William A. Galewski, George M. Robertson Jr., Donald Bauer, Robert Dunn and Ralph H. Rydman, relay.

Initial members of the corporation are Bauer, Mrs. Ward Lucas, George E. Kelley, Eckert, Raymond M. Vollum, Himrich, Dennis W. Dunne, Rhoderick, William P. Theurer, Galewski, Harold E. Briesath, Robertson, Rydman, White, D. B. Robinson and Ted Biesanz.

5 Ettrick Youths Escape Serious Injury in Crash

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Five Ettrick youth-escaped serious injury when their car left Highway D at the south edge of village at 10:30 p. m. Thursday and went down into a field on the Albert Erickson farm.

The car was reported to be proceeding south and it veered to the left just north of a bridge. The vehicle was badly damaged but the boys received only scratches and bruises and those attending school are reported to be back in classes today.

The youths were riding with Harold Olson, student at La Crosse State College. With him were Robert and John Beirne, Patrick Cantlon and Dick Peterson. Robert is a student at Gale-Ettrick High School and Peterson attends vocational school in La Crosse. The youths were believed to be headed for Peterson's home in South Beaver Creek.

The phone in one early phone booth required no money to operate but the caller had to deposit a coin to get out of the self-locking door.

Bishop Warns Right-wingers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, warned Wednesday the United States could end up like Nazi Germany if Americans succumb to increasing right-wing pressure to combat communism.

In an address to the Federal Bar Association Bishop Pike said that attacking our institutions is not a sound way to defeat communism. He said such methods destroyed Germany.

"We've got to set forth a better way. The better way involves freedom, and the better way is not to spread suspicion, dissension and distrust," he said.

He said that the better way is to spread suspicion, dissension and distrust.

500 Singers Set For St. Charles

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — The annual Hiawatha Valley Conference vocal clinic will be held Monday at St. Charles High School. Some 500 students are expected from Stewartville, Plainview, Kenyon, Cannon Falls, Embury, Lake City, and Kasson-Mantorville.

W. B. Bernsten, Northwestern College, Minneapolis, will hear the students and offer suggestions. Music teachers have been asked to keep their students in the school building. Lunch will be served in the cafeteria. Parents, teachers and visitors are invited.

Elementary and high school classes have been excused for the day.

Winona County Firemen Organize

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — Five of 13 volunteer fire departments in the county organized a Winona County Fire Fighters group at the fire hall here Wednesday night.

Del Ruhberg, St. Charles, was elected president; Henry Lawrence, Lewiston, vice president; David Nelson, Altura, secretary; and Harry Ramer, Minnesota City, treasurer.

In addition to these departments, Goodview also was represented among the 30 attending. An executive board will consist of two members from each department, to be named by its home company.

An executive board meeting will be held at Lewiston Village Hall Feb. 8 at 8 p.m. Next county meeting will be Feb. 28 at Gaynor Ballroom, Altura.

Agreement on City Radio Upkeep Ready

Approval of terms under which the city will contract for police and fire department communications equipment maintenance beginning March 1 was expressed Thursday by the Board of Fire & Police Commissioners.

Yesterday's expression paves the way for execution at the board's February 21 meeting of contracts with Motorola Radio Communications & Electronics, Inc., and Fred Picha, who'll resign from the police department as radio engineer to establish Communications Service as a Motorola subcontractor in charge of maintenance.

Picha; Robert J. Mueller, Rochester, area sales manager for Motorola, and City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr. Thursday met with the board to discuss terms of the proposed agreement.

THESE INCLUDE:

- One with Motorola to provide service and parts replacement of police radio equipment at a cost of $134.90 a month and similar service for the fire department's new communications installation for $62.20 a month.

- One with Picha for servicing miscellaneous electrical, electronic and mechanical equipment—such as radar, squad car flashing lights and sirens—and providing personnel with instruction and training in use of the equipment at a fee of $100 a month.

- A contract for the lease to Picha of testing equipment. An appraisal of the equipment inventory indicated that its book price would amount to $2,028. Mueller said its depreciated value would be around $1,400 and the board agreed to the lease for an annual fee to be paid by Picha of $142. This would represent a 10-year depreciation replacement figure.

- A bill of sale of the parts inventory to Picha. The exact amount will be determined on the basis of the inventory on the day the agreement is executed.

PREVIOUSLY, THE Board of County Commissioners had expressed agreement with terms of similar contracts for maintenance of county radio and electronic communications equipment. The total county cost would be $117.40 a month.

Picha has been servicing both city and county equipment with the city and county sharing in the costs.

Robertson said that he'd have final drafts of the agreements ready for presentation to the board for signing at the February meeting.

Contracts with both Picha and Motorola will run for one year and be renewable at the end of that period. They may be terminated by either party without cause on 90 days notice.

That Cold Wave Still Coming, Forecast Says

Winona's pleasant January weather appears to be at an end. A cold wave is predicted for tonight with temperatures in the city dropping to the -5 mark. Light snow and strong northwest winds were to whip across the area this afternoon with diminishing winds tonight.

SATURDAY, the weatherman said, will be fair and quite cold with a high of zero to 5 above. Snow and moderating temperatures is the outlook for Sunday.

The extended forecast predicts cold weather at the beginning of the five-day period with a slight warming up over the weekend and little change thereafter. Precipitation will average one-fourth to one-half of an inch as occasional snow throughout the period.

Balmy temperatures prevailed over the Winona area Thursday with the temperature reaching 43 in the afternoon. This is the highest reading since Jan. 3 when the peak was 48. During the night the mercury slid to 20. By noon the figure was 36.

A year ago today the Winona high was 12 and the low -8. A two-inch snowfall fell. Alltime high for Jan. 26 was 52 in 1944 and the low was -24 in 1959. Mean for the past 24 hours was 31, contrasted with a normal figure of 16.

Although Minot, N. D., reported a morning low of 4, most Minnesota points had readings in the 20s. The low at International Falls was 20. St. Cloud 24, Duluth 24, and Bemidji 26.

Rochester had a morning reading of 25 after a Thursday high of 34 and La Crosse posted figures of 28 and 40 for the same times. It was -3 and clear at Winnipeg, Canada.

A freezing rain turned southern Wisconsin highways into a motorist's nightmare today. Hazardous driving conditions — brought on by light rain and temperatures hovering near the freezing mark — were the worst of the winter.

One person was killed when the car in which he was riding was involved in a collision with another on ice-covered Highway 38 in Racine County. The victim was William Held, 30, of Racine.

Winona's pleasant January weather appears to be at an end. A cold wave is predicted for tonight with temperatures in the city dropping to the -5 mark. Light snow and strong northwest winds were to whip across the area this afternoon with diminishing winds tonight.

SATURDAY, the weatherman said, will be fair and quite cold with a high of zero to 5 above. Snow and moderating temperatures is the outlook for Sunday.

The extended forecast predicts cold weather at the beginning of the five-day period with a slight warming up over the weekend and little change thereafter. Precipitation will average one-fourth to one-half of an inch as occasional snow throughout the period.

Balmy temperatures prevailed over the Winona area Thursday with the temperature reaching 43 in the afternoon. This is the highest reading since Jan. 3 when the peak was 48. During the night the mercury slid to 20. By noon the figure was 36.

A year ago today the Winona high was 12 and the low -8. A two-inch snowfall fell. Alltime high for Jan. 26 was 52 in 1944 and the low was -24 in 1959. Mean for the past 24 hours was 31, contrasted with a normal figure of 16.

Although Minot, N. D., reported a morning low of 4, most Minnesota points had readings in the 20s. The low at International Falls was 20. St. Cloud 24, Duluth 24, and Bemidji 26.

Rochester had a morning reading of 25 after a Thursday high of 34 and La Crosse posted figures of 28 and 40 for the same times. It was -3 and clear at Winnipeg, Canada.

A freezing rain turned southern Wisconsin highways into a motorist's nightmare today. Hazardous driving conditions — brought on by light rain and temperatures hovering near the freezing mark — were the worst of the winter.

One person was killed when the car in which he was riding was involved in a collision with another on ice-covered Highway 38 in Racine County. The victim was William Held, 30, of Racine.

Hundreds of schools in an area south of a line from Dubuque, Iowa, through Beaver Dam and Sheboygan were closed as buses and cars failed to make headway on ice-covered roads.

SANDING efforts were held up in some areas because trucks were caught in traffic jams. In Dane County, it took an ambulance 40 minutes to reach the scene of an auto accident. One ambulance went into a ditch. A second had trouble on the hills but finally made it. Many schools in the Madison area were closed.

THE FREEZING rain started about 5:30 a.m. and spread slowly northward to cover most of the southern area. Stalled cars blocked Highways 16 and 30, two of the main arteries into Milwaukee, were blocked at the rush hours this morning by stalled automobiles.

North of the Dubuque to Sheboygan line roads generally were clear today. The Superior region had some light snow Thursday but no other precipitation was reported.

The coldest spot in the nation early today was Roosevelt, Utah with 17 below. Fort Myers, Fla., set the national high of 81 Thursday.

Oratory Contest Slated at Blair

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Blair High School will be host to the Trempealeau County American Legion oratorical contest Monday.

Entries from Gale-Ettrick, Osseo and Blair will compete. Blair will be represented with an original memorized oration by Richard Anderson, junior.

Anyone interested may attend the contest at 4:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room.

Winner here will be in the 10th District contest at Bay City, Wis., Feb. 12.

Chaffield Woman Remains in Coma

CHAFFIELD, Minn. (Special) — The Chaffield wife of a Rochester dentist and mother of seven children remains in a coma at St. Mary's Hospital after undergoing surgery several times for a massive skull fracture.

Mrs. John Norton felt from the car driven by her husband Jan. 13. They were en route to Chaffield from Rochester when the car apparently hit an icy spot. The impact threw Mrs. Norton toward the door and she fell onto the concrete bridge about three miles north of Chaffield.

Dr. Norton practiced here several years after purchasing the practice of the late Dr. C. H. Healy. He later sold and moved his office to Rochester.

In another accident James Warham escaped injury when a milk truck he was driving for Lester Novotny left a township road off Highway 30 about 15 miles west of here and turned over on its top. The truck was not damaged.

Reportedly, the truck was crowded off the road by a car driven by youths. It was en route to Chaffield with approximately 80 cans of milk. Novotny owns a fleet of trucks and semi, and hauls milk for the Chaffield dairy plant.

Durand Hospital Bars Visitors Because of Flu

DURAND, Wis. (Special) — Durand physicians and hospital officials announced Thursday that St. Benedict's Community Hospital will be closed to visitors during the flu epidemic. Public schools closed Wednesday afternoon for the week.

Jury Trial Set on Post Office Site

A jury trial to determine how much the federal government should pay Winona city for the Central Park site of the new post office will be held in U.S. District Court, St. Paul, in April.

This was announced today by George M. Robertson Jr., Winona city attorney, who received a letter about the trial from John J. Connelly, assistant U.S. attorney, St. Paul. The new term of court will begin at 10 a.m. April 3 and the trial will be held shortly after that date.

ROBERTSON invited persons having evidence to submit to get in touch with him.

U. S. Investment Corp., Milwaukee, which submitted a low annual rental bid of $35,660 for the new post office, has received a contract but has not yet started construction, Robertson said. He said construction could start even before the court determined the value of the land.

The post office department hired appraisers who said the land was worth $33,800. However, the City Council also hired appraisers who said the land was worth more than $100,000. The department holds title to the site which consists of all of the park except an 80-foot-wide strip along Broadway.

U.S. Investment is to construct the building to government specifications and will own both the building and the site. The bid is for an annual rental for a basic 20-year period. The lease can be renewed for a 10-year period plus four five-year periods.

THE $35,660 bid was for the basic 20-year period. The rest of the firm's bid follows: 10 years, $35,300 annually; first two five-year periods, $35,000 annually; third five-year period, $34,500 annually; and fourth five-year period, $34,200 annually.

In its bid for the basic 20-year period, U.S. Investment said it would increase its basic rental by 8 percent or decrease the rental by 4 percent if the federal court respectively raised or lowered the post office's $33,800 appraisal.

Mondovi Planning 48-Bed Hospital

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — The board of directors of Buffalo Memorial Hospital approved preliminary plans for the projected new 48-bed hospital at a meeting Wednesday evening.

Directors also authorized John Magney, Minneapolis, architect, to proceed with complete plans. A representative of Evensen & Associates, bonding firm, Minneapolis, also reported. Myron S. Burton of Burton & Associates was present. Otto Bollinger, hospital manager, submitted the financial report for December.

Man Hospitalized; Police Checking

One man was listed in good condition today at Winona General Hospital after suffering facial bruises and cuts, apparently in a fight with a youth.

Robert E. Jones, 40, 266 1/2 W. 4th St., head wrestling coach at Winona State College, was taken to the hospital early this morning. Police said Spencer V. Maussner, 19, who lives in an apartment in the same building as Jones, called them at 12:04 a.m. today and asked officers to come.

Police found Maussner in his apartment. He took them next door to Jones' apartment. Jones seemed to be in poor condition with facial injuries, police said, so they took him to the hospital. Maussner told police an altercation had taken place between him and Jones. Police are continuing their investigation.

Maussner is a student at Winona State.

It Happened Last Night Like Wrestling Greased Ghost

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I've done many a kookie interview — but guzzling little Yvette Mimieux about her marriage was like wrestling a greased ghost.

"Just tell everybody I'm not married!" the fidgety, talented, intense-type 21-year-old Hollywood blonde said with a wave of her small hand. "As far as they're concerned, I'm not married."

"But —" I said. We were on a divan in her hotel. We were talking — I was talking — about the AP story flatly about the "bachelorette" saying she had been married over two years to a California student recently in the Army, Evan Harland Engber.

"Oh, we don't have to go into that!" Yvette was bouncing around, with one shoe off, looking at me through those blonde tresses. "There are so many more interesting things to talk about."

She reeled off some—her brisk walk up Madison Ave.; her picture "Light in the Piazza"; the possibility she might do "Carnival" in pictures.

"Tell you what I thought would be interesting to write about," I said. "How you kept your marriage secret for two years."

"I just never talk about that," Yvette said.

"I was beginning to notice that," I said.

YVETTE WAS whirling and dandling some heads around in front of me beginning to act pouty.

"Bardot, Monroe and Elizabeth Taylor," she said, suddenly, "are the three biggest stars—the three unhappiest. They might have had happiness if their private lives hadn't been spread before the public for it to gossip and speculate."

"Those girls are selling their personalities and not necessarily their fine acting. They're not the type of actress I hope to be. Most of them are in and out of doctors' and psychiatrists' offices and marriages and God knows what else!"

"YOU DON'T find happiness blindly. You have to plan for it. You have to keep your private life private!"

"Your idea is," I said, "if you were to marry Eddie Fisher or Joe DiMaggio, you'd just keep it a secret?"

"Oh, you're hopeless," said the little Californian. With a cheery "Well, here's to the family," I departed. More than anybody I've interviewed, Yvette has that Greta Garbo passion for privacy and, so I'm told, even Garbo's acting talent.

Please, Yvette, I haven't gotten over that Garbo interview I did 19 years ago YET. I remember it so well. She didn't tell me anything.

Toots Shor, absent from his restaurant with virus, got a wire from Jackie Gleason: "Something you ate there, no doubt!" That's earl, brother.

Weekend Prospects

Two big fishing contests are on this weekend's fishing calendar. Lake City's Chamber of Commerce holds the annual Lake Pepin event and the Badger State Sportsmen's Club at La Crosse invites ice fishing contestants to come to Goose Island Lake.

Abundance of prizes prevail at each of these contests. Lake City's top prize is a runaway boat. La Crosse has prizes throughout the contest.

Lake Pepin ice between the pier and harbor at Lake City is nearly 20 inches. This is the site of the contest. Holes will be drilled and the fishing area clearly marked. It opens at 1:30 p.m. and runs to 4 p.m. Lake Pepin, of course, is a body of water in which residents of Minnesota or Wisconsin may fish with their home state resident license.

We have not received any report on whether they are catching fish in this area. There has been a colony of fishing snakes located there for the past month. In the summer this is a panfish and white bass area. Last winter during the contest in the same location some sandpike were caught.

Outside of contest fishing, conditions look a bit more favorable for the weekend. Groups like the one pictured above from Chaffield are becoming common to the Big River and going home with crappies. Sunfish and perch have been hitting in some areas.

"Fish don't seem to be where they have been other years," Stanley Apel, Buffalo County warden, said, summing up the fishing situation. "But when fishermen locate where they are, they bite just the same as other years. They are wintering in new locations. Why, I don't know."

Looking out the office window now for the first time in two or three weeks a group of cars are out on Lake Winona ice from Walnut Street.

We don't know whether they are getting crappies or not. Where they are fishing was a hot spot last year.

Regardless of whether the fish are hitting or not, the present mild weather is going to help oxygen conditions. There is melting snow and some runoff. But the mild weather is going to attract the crowd of the winter if the present weather prevails Saturday and Sunday. This mob will find a lot of new "hot" spots.

Dumb Fishermen Most river fishermen will agree with the following release from the Wisconsin Conservation Department that trout fishermen can't tell one trout from another.

Some 17 percent of Wisconsin's trout fishermen can't tell one species from another according to results of a conservation department survey conducted on three streams.

The study took place on Black Earth and Mt. Vernon creeks in Dane County and Big Roche a Cr in Adams County. A total of 404 anglers were asked by Biologist Ray White to identify fish in their creel as either brook, brown or rainbow trout. About 83 percent gave the right answer.

The remainder either didn't know or failed to guess right.

While urged anglers to brush up on trout identification in order to avoid complications under the new 1962 regulation which allows the taking of only five rainbows.

Get a Permit The Wisconsin Conservation Department is cracking down on the serving of game out of season in restaurants and other establishments or clubs.

In fact, it's against the law at any time. Here is the result: chisled out to one tavern operator who provided a moose feed for his friends. The moose came legally from Canada.

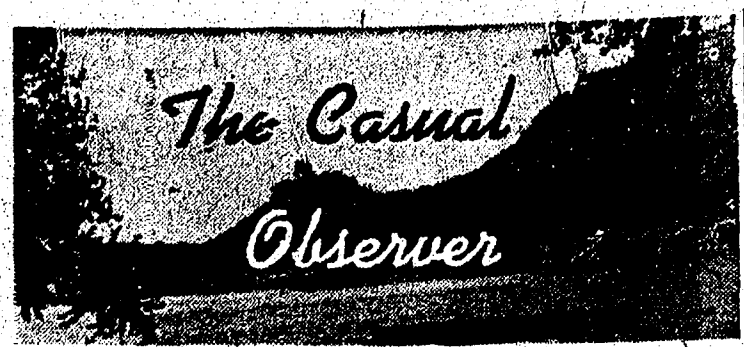

Wisconsin Statutes prohibit the serving of wild game even though animals involved have been legally acquired during open seasons with proper licenses, the conservation department reminded restaurants and other food serving businesses today.

The law applies to animals taken either inside or outside the state, whether native to Wisconsin or not. It also applies to most animals acquired through legal commercial channels.

The need for the reminder was pointed up recently when a Wisconsin tavern operator was fined $100 plus court costs of $46.10 after being found guilty by a jury of serving moose meat to his customers.

Some exceptions to the prohibition may be made at the discretion of the Conservation Commission. Permits authorizing the serving of game are usually issued upon application to church, civic, sportsmen and other nonprofit organizations.

FIRES NEAR ARCADIA ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — The Arcadia volunteer fire department answered a call to the Melvin H. Halseth home, Holcomb Conlee, Tuesday at 7:30 a.m. Fire was in the walls and ceiling around the chimney of the house but was under control when the firemen arrived. They also recently extinguished a chimney fire in the John Phillip's residence on the William Eckel farm southwest of Arcadia.

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

WELL, the mystery of the frozen man standing erect on the peak of Sugar Loaf has been solved. It's the Charles D. Stephens Memorial, and it was erected around New Year's day, by Mike Thern and Nick Steffes, two Winona High School seniors.

According to Nick, Charles D. Stephens is an English teacher at high school who not only is an excellent teacher but who is lots of fun. The last straggler into his classes is required to pay a penny, and this goes into what he terms "the Charles D. Stephens Memorial fund." When pressed for details of this fund he said it was for a memorial to him to be erected atop Sugar Loaf some day. He added that if the fund didn't reach $75,000 he'd just turn it over to the American Field Service fund.

So one bitter cold day during the Christmas vacation as Mike and Nick were climbing Sugar Loaf they noted a pile of rocks that had been assembled by some former climbers and they had the sudden inspiration to erect the much-talked-of memorial to Mr. Stephens. So they built a pyramid about 5 feet tall and 2 or 3 feet wide at the base.

Said Nick, "It was hard work fitting them together so they wouldn't topple over but we finally got the memorial looking pretty good. When school opened Mike and I presented Mr. Stephens with a good big bill for getting his memorial erected for him, but he said 'No dice. We didn't have a contract.' So that's that."

You will be relieved to hear that the boys used ropes in climbing to the peak of Sugar Loaf. The climb is icy and treacherous and not recommended for winter.

This past week the telephoning committee of our Hiawatha Valley Bird Club has been alerting members about the great number of rare (for Winona) Bohemian waxwings that have been haunting hackberry trees in the vicinity of the Lincoln School, McVey's store and the foot of Winona Street. In past winters flocks of Cedar Waxwings have come to these trees, but this is the first time, as far as is known, that flocks of the much larger and brighter Bohemian waxwings have camped here. The birds have flocked on rooftops, telephone wires and trees in the neighborhoods mentioned, and it's quite a sight to see.

The official Christmas Bird Count of our Winona bird club has been turned in to the National Audubon Society, which will publish results from all over the country. Here is the grand total of birds seen on Sunday, December 31 by our club: 2 great blue herons, 19 mallard, 3 American widgeons, 1 hooded merganser, 3 ring-neck ducks, 2 Cooper's hawks, 4 redtail hawks, 1 red shouldered hawk, 1 rough legged hawk, 2 bald eagles, 2 pheasants, 4 coots, 6 jacksnipe, 45 mourning doves, 2 kingfishers, 2 pileated woodpeckers, 18 red bellied woodpeckers, 1 sapsucker, 23 hairy woodpeckers, 17 downy woodpeckers, 19 horned larks, 189 bluejays, 30 crows, 12 chickadees, 15 titmice, 27 white-breasted nuthatches, 1 red-breasted nuthatch, 6 ruby-crowned kinglets, 1 northern shrike, 14 starlings, 1,150 house sparrows, 176 red winged blackbirds, 1 grackle, 148 cardinals, 31 evening grosbeaks, 8 goldfinch, 45 tree sparrows, 31 juncos, 1 white throated sparrow and 2 Oregon juncos. This makes an astonishing total of 2,281 birds recorded in the space of one winter day within a 15 mile circle around Winona. Congratulations to our club for a nifty job!

Help-help-help! department: has anyone in the Winona area a record (Capitol records) of the Broadway musical production of "Plain and Fancy"? St. Mary's College is going to put on "Plain and Fancy" in March, and dramatic coach Brother Raymond is most anxious to borrow this record. It seems to be "out of print" and no longer available, so if anyone who owns the record "Plain and Fancy" is willing to lend it to St. Mary's College will he please contact Brother Raymond at the college?

A movie note: last month in Minneapolis when I missed my train and had a couple of hours to wait for a bus I dropped in at the new Elvis Presley movie "Blue Hawaii," not expecting much. It turned out to be extremely pleasant and as good as a trip to Hawaii. As a rich-boy tourist guide Elvis, together with his singing beach boy cronies take you on a marvelous tour of the islands. You see a night hukilau (net-fishing) with its torches and ceremonial fire-sand dance, a luau, the lovely Haena coast on the island of Kauai, the fabulous new Coco-Palms hotel on Kauai, surf-board riding, a Hawaiian wedding to the chant of "Ke-Kali-Nei-Au" which is the world's tear-jerkingest wedding song. The story is a bit schmaltzy, but it doesn't get in the way of the gorgeously colorful scenery and the pleasant people.

Retreats Slated For Laywomen

The Sisters of St. Francis have announced a series of five retreats for laywomen to be held at Assisi Heights, the Rochester motherhouse, during the 1962 Lenten season.

The retreat schedule follows: March 9-11, older mothers and homemakers, the Rev. Mark Hegener, O.F.M., Chicago, retreat master; March 16-18, young mothers and homemakers, the Rev. William J. Doran, S. J., Prairie du Chien, Wis.; March 23-25, girls 16-20, the Rev. Albert T. Perzito, Winona, Minn.; March 30-April 1, unmarried employed women, the Rev. Robert Boucher, C.S.S.R., Oconomowoc, Wis.; and April 6-8, general women's retreat, Father Boucher.

All retreats open Friday evenings and close Sunday at 3 p.m. Silence is observed from the opening exercises until the close of the retreat. Religious exercises will be held daily. During each retreat nine group conferences on religious subjects will be given by the retreat master.

The first retreat for laywomen was held at the new motherhouse in Rochester in November 1956. Prior to the 1962 Lenten season 50 retreats for laywomen, attended by 4,314 retreatants, will have been held.

Applications will be accepted beginning Monday and reservations will be made in the order of application. Early application is advised. Ninety private rooms at Assisi Heights are set aside for retreatants and attendance is limited to this number.

Further information may be obtained and reservations may be made by writing or phoning: Retreat Reservations Office, Assisi Heights, Rochester.

Other officers are: Robert M. Engelen, secretary; Hugh Kohlmeier, financial secretary; and Meyer Nelson, treasurer.

New trustees are Leonard Wood and Marilyn Winters, to serve with Richard Anderson, Jack Misena, Robert Wheeler and Julian Wener. New deacons are Lawrence Park and Lloyd Anderson. Remaining for another term are Kaye Jacobson, John F. Williamson, Sam Hagerman and Alvin Schubert. New assistant deacons are Ludolph Twesme, Harold Lowmeyer and the Mmes. Albert Gilmeister, Nat Cartwright, Earl Trim and Robert Wheeler, all with one-year terms.

The Rev. Vernon E. Hiltner, pastor, has completed his first year. He reported he had performed 24 baptisms, an equal number of confirmations, married 7 couples and conducted 11 funerals. Membership in Zion Church has reached 930, of whom 635 are confirmed members of the church. A gain of 22 members was announced for the year, when 57 became members but 35 were lost by death or transfer.

Young Singers Here on Sunday

"The Singing Bunches," a youth trio from Sandstone, Minn., will perform both at morning and evening services Sunday at Church of the Nazarene, Orrin Street and Highway 41.

Ruth, Faith and Sam Burch, have appeared on television and radio at other religious activities.

They will be featured on a special radio program, "An Evening of Sacred Music," to be broadcast directly from the church at 8 p.m. over KWNW. The service begins at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Zion Family Night

BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—The Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Olson will show slides of their trip to the Southeastern United States and the Luther League convention at Miami, Fla., last fall, at a family night gathering at Zion Lutheran Church here Sunday evening.

A social hour will follow in the church dining room. The event is sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women. St. Olaf's Crusaders will meet Saturday at 2 p.m. in the parish hall.

Ettrick Church Changes Name To Living Hope

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special)—Ettrick Lutheran congregation adopted the name Living Hope Lutheran Church Monday at the annual meeting.

The name was selected from 1 Peter 1:3, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus, by his great mercy we have been born anew to a living hope, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead."

A new constitution, prepared by Clayton Olson, E. O. Runnestrand and N. C. Twesme, also was adopted.

A BUDGET totaling $17,650 was approved. The sum of $300 was voted for the Bethany Home for the Aged, La Crosse; $250, Lutheran Welfare; $250 for Luther Park Bible Camp, Chetek, Wis.; $200, audio-visual aid library; $2,700, American Lutheran Church; $169, northern Wisconsin district Lutheran student work; and $125, Home Home for Boys, Wittenberg, Wis., making a total for world missions of $3,543.

The sum of $4,000 will go into the parish building fund and $2,836 for the church home. The pastoral ministry, including the pension plan, parsonage and other expenses, will receive $6,121.

Gordon Bahr was elected a trustee to serve with Newman Westlie and Walter Nelstuen. Mrs. Ingrid Jorgensen was elected secretary and Cletus Casey, treasurer.

Other officers are: Wayne Erickson, president; Mrs. Robert Olsdahl, financial secretary; Myron Johnson, Alvin Tranberg and Oscar Strand, deacons; and members of a newly organized board of finance will be Jennings Johnson, to serve three years; Robert Olsdahl, two; and Victor Folkedahl, one.

AUDITORS WILL be Clayton Casey, Kenneth Truax and James Thompson; nominating committee, Arnold Olson, Henry Knutsen and Ernest Twesme; head usher, E. O. Runnestrand, and Mrs. Gordon Bahr, Sunday school superintendent. Ben Erickson will serve on the Bethany Home commission. Kenneth Truax and Oscar Strand will be delegate and alternate to Lutheran Welfare. Harvey Olson is custodian. Mrs. Sara Myrland, organist; Mrs. Vivien Pederson, choir accompanist; and Clayton Olson, choir director. The Rev. Mark M. Roming directs the junior choir.

Church building committee is comprised of Victor Folkedahl, Mrs. Hiram Mahlum, Mrs. Jennings Johnson, Alvin Hogden, Kenneth Truax, N. C. Twesme, E. O. Runnestrand, John Terpening, Clayton Olson and Arthur Runnestrand. Arnold Olson presided at the meeting.

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—The congregation of Bethlehem Lutheran Church approved a budget of $277,500 for 1962 at the annual meeting.

New officers: Darryl Northouse, chairman; Mrs. Stanley Benson, secretary; Keith Burmeister, treasurer; Howard Ruen, deacon; and Gordon Peterson and Edward Reiden, S. J., trustees. The congregation has 900 members.

Improvements made the past year were tarring the parking lot and building a retaining wall in front of the church.

Alvin Peterson was elected deacon at Union Prairie Lutheran Church at the annual meeting.

Leland Hall and Arthur Kulsturd were named trustees; H. O. Storee, secretary; and Bennett Rukke, treasurer. Membership totals about 250. The Rev. Leon Holman serves both churches.

Hart Lutherans Plan Centennial

TUSHSFORD, Minn.—The centennial celebration of the organization of St. John's Lutheran Church, Hart, will be observed in conjunction with Mission Sunday June 17, the congregation decided at the annual meeting recently.

A booklet will be prepared.

Officers elected: Elder, Joseph Wolfraet; trustee, Norman Eggen; vice chairman, Melvin Brand; secretary, Roger Trester; financial secretary, Elmer Erdmann; finance committee member, Leo Heiden; board of education, Marlin Bublitz, and subscription secretary, Walter Lohmann.

To provide perpetual care for the lots in the cemetery a committee of three was chosen to contact persons who are concerned. The committee consists of Hugo Egger, Willard Feine and Martin Boehmke.

A committee is to set up a stewardship program. The services of the district stewardship counselor will be sought.

Matthews to Sing Here February 4

"A Sermon in Song" will be presented by George Matthews, baritone, at Central Lutheran Church Feb. 4 at 7:30 p.m.

After having sung professionally for several years, Matthews now devotes his talent to presenting the Christian faith through songs, incidents and stories. He has crossed the United States several times, averaging more than 200 appearances a year and he is expected to repeat more than 80 percent of his engagements.

Houston Weed Meeting Slated

CALEDONIA, Minn.—Andrew T. Olen and Edward J. Starch, district weed and seed inspectors, and Robert Flasher, state entomologist, will discuss various farm problems at the annual Houston County plant industry meeting at the State Bank here Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Town board members, mayors and appointed inspectors are required by law to attend. Duties of local officials will be given as well as the latest information on the control of weeds, insects and other pests.

St. Matthew's Budget $103,480; Council Elected

A budget of $103,480 was approved for 1962 at the recessed annual meeting of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church Monday evening.

Of the total, $3,601 will be spent on interest and repayment of debts. The treasurer's report indicated $23,915 was paid off on the church school debt during 1961.

A SPECIAL Lenten self-denial offering will be divided equally between the general fund of the congregations and missions, it was decided.

The congregation will apply again for a vicar, the Rev. A. L. Mennicke said. David Witte is presently serving as vicar.

Five council members will be installed Sunday during the 10:45 a.m. worship service. They are Donald Skeels, Harlan Hatfield, Orval Hike, Kenneth Spittler and Ronald Gernes. They replace Joseph Murlinger, Oscar Swenson, Eugene Czaplewski and Lorenz Russert. Hatfield was re-elected.

St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church in Weston, Conn., is an open structure of vertical and horizontal beams with the bells exposed to view.

Christ Lutheran Church of Carey, Ohio, has a 66-foot needle like spire visible for miles across the flat countryside. And the Church of the Brethren in Huntington, Ind., has a simple five and a half foot spire topped by a 5 foot 10 inch cross.

Lightweight, versatile metals many of them developed or perfected since World War II, have made heavy and expensive supporting structures no longer necessary.

Before these new materials appeared, however, congregations often had to sacrifice aesthetic considerations to expanding budgets.

Except for duplications of original steeples, contemporary churches (some call them modern) have spires bearing little resemblance to the old-fashioned square structures of colonial days.

Church Steeple Making Comeback

By JULES LOH
AP Staff Writer

The church steeple, immortalized by pen and brush as a symbol of that old time religion, is making a comeback in America.

According to a leading steeple maker, use of spires on the nation's churches has increased 40 per cent in the past five years, and they are being used more widely today than at any time since the days of Currier and Ives.

One reason is because many churches have had renovation experiences like that of the First Presbyterian Church of Milton, Pa.

For years the tower of this venerable church, built during the 1850's, stood truncated. Its 57-foot wood and slate spire had been damaged by a storm years ago, removed as a hazard, and for a variety of reasons never replaced.

Recently a crew of engineers, working from a yellowed photograph of the old church, duplicated the original spire in aluminum, prefabricated it in a modern plant, trucked it to the church and hoisted it atop the tower.

Grace Methodist Church of Williamsport, Pa., similarly replaced its original twin spires, built in 1866, with aluminum structures towering 20 stories above the ground.

Lightweight, versatile metals many of them developed or perfected since World War II, have made heavy and expensive supporting structures no longer necessary.

Before these new materials appeared, however, congregations often had to sacrifice aesthetic considerations to expanding budgets.

Except for duplications of original steeples, contemporary churches (some call them modern) have spires bearing little resemblance to the old-fashioned square structures of colonial days.

WSC Religion Week

National Newman Chaplain to Speak

"Catholics-Protestants: Points of Unity-Points of Difference" will be the subject of the keynote speech by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Alexander Sigur Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Somsen auditorium on the Winona State College campus.

The speech will be the keynote address for Religious Emphasis Week Monday through Thursday at WSC.

Msgr. Sigur, who is from Louisiana State University, is the national Newman Club chaplain.

Greater understanding among the denominations represented on the WSC campus and increased knowledge of what is being done on national and international levels toward cooperation among different denominations are the aims of Religious Emphasis Week. It's theme is "Religion 1962."

Tuesday afternoon Msgr. Sigur will meet with the faculty and ministerial advisers of the religious clubs to discuss religion on the state college campus.

Dr. Mario Colacci, Augsburg College and Theological Seminary, Minneapolis, will speak Tuesday at 7 p.m. to the Protestant group on the hope of religious unity. The Newman Club will have a Day of Reflection with Msgr. Sigur.

Wednesday's program will be an interdenominational panel discussion on religious unity in 1962. "A Light Along the Way," a film on World University Service projects will be shown Thursday night. An auction of faculty, student and merchant donations will be held for the benefit of this fund-raising organization dedicated to aiding students and professors around the world.

Anita Peterson, Trimont, is general chairman of this event. Other members on the committee are: Rose Atkin, Faribault; Marlene Miller, Elkton; Scott Baudhuin, Winona; Peter Tabor, Spring Valley; Bruce Blumentritt, Winona; James Blahnik, Austin; Marilyn Balzum, Stewartville; Ramona Childs, Welch; Jo Rheingans, Elgin; and James Vinar, Minneapolis. Joseph Emanuel is adviser.

All the evening events are open to the public. There will be no admission charge.

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—The Rev. Thaddeus Derezinski was installed as pastor of St. John's Baptist Catholic Church last Friday by the Very Rev. A. E. Frisch, pastor of St. Peter's parish here.

Father Derezinski was transferred from St. Ignatius Church, Spring Valley, to be pastor here.

The former pastor, the Rev. S. P. Weir, was transferred to St. Ignatius.

Pepin Homemakers Topic Property; Meet Wednesday

DURAND, Wis.—Topics of property and ways of owning it will be discussed at the Pepin County homemakers leader training meeting at the courthouse here Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Louise Young, extension economist in home management from the University of Wisconsin, will present the project training on property ownership and transfer.

The meeting has been set to answer many of the questions concerning transfer of property and the ways of doing it.

At Tuesday's meeting, June 12 was set as the day for the county homemakers' achievement program. Mrs. Alfred Weiss Jr. is chairman.

Flowers that are most inspirational in the early spring are the universal love of all. They root deeply in the rich soil, as well as in the garden of the heart, cultured by the devotion and care of loving hands and speak to the soul in a language of their own.

Employe Retiring At Swift Plant

250 at 3-Council Knights Meeting

INDEPENDENCE, Wis. (Special)—Lawrence Garitty, state advocate of Knights of Columbus, defined Columbianism at a rally of K. C. councils from Arcadia, Whitehall and Independence Sunday. About 250 attended.

Garitty also spoke on the significance of the third degree and its emblem and pin.

The Very Rev. Joseph Andrzejewski, dean of St. Stanislaus Catholic Church, Arcadia, spoke on "The Mother Church and True Columbianism."

The rally began with a solemn high Mass at 11 a.m. with the Rev. Herbert Zoromski, Independence, as celebrant; Father Andrzejewski as deacon and the Rev. Edmund Klimek, Independence as sub-deacon. The Rev. Leon Tice, Wisconsin Rapids, delivered the sermon.

Following a dinner at the high school at noon, Father Tice, master of ceremonies, introduced District Deputy Ed Quillan and Mrs. Quillan, La Crosse; the Rev. Anthony Wagner, chaplain at St. Joseph's hospital, Arcadia; the Rev. Donald Theisen, pastor of St. John's church, Whitehall; Father Zoromski, chancellor of the local council; Father Andrzejewski; Father Klimek; St. Peter and Paul church, Independence; Garitty; LaVerne Sonalla, grand knight, Arcadia Council; Quinn Risberg, grand knight, Whitehall Council; and Ernest Bruckner, grand knight, local council.

Wrong to Force Views On Private Club

THIS NEWSPAPER goes along with many of the Kennedy administration civil rights proposals, as we did with many of those of the Eisenhower administration.

We agree that every American citizen should have all the basic American rights—the right to equal and integrated education—the right to vote without restraint—the right to have equal protection of the law—the right to have the same treatment by the courts when accused—the right not to be discriminated against in seeking housing—the right to have equal treatment and equal opportunity for promotion in the Armed Forces—the right to equal treatment in public transportation facilities, public restaurants and public hotels.

THE KENNEDY administration recently stepped out of line on the matter of civil rights, however, when it pressured the admission of Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Carl T. Rowan, a Negro, to the exclusive Cosmos Club. Ambassador to India J. Kenneth Galbraith resigned from the club when Rowan was refused membership. This automatically tossed out President Kennedy's application for membership which had been proposed by Galbraith. Other similar pressures are being made on other Washington clubs.

The very nature of a private organization is discriminatory, and we hold that it is correct and proper that it should be so. We submit, too, that it is an improper function of government either by legislation, rules or pressure to attempt to break down the right of private organizations to discriminate.

THE AMERICAN Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, for example, insist that members be veterans of the Armed Services. In doing this they are discriminating, properly, we feel, against persons who might like to join but who are not veterans.

The Masons, the Knights of Columbus, the Elks, the Eagles, the D.A.R., the Chautauqua Club, the Soroptimists, the Athletic Club, the Red Men and practically any clubs you can think of all have provisions for black-balling persons proposed for membership that members for one reason or another might deem undesirable.

The University of Minnesota is out-of-bounds in its insistence that constitutions of fraternities and sororities, if allowed to participate on campus, must not include discriminatory provisions.

AS LONG AS groups of Americans with common interests and purposes wish to form private organizations to pursue them, they should have the unfettered right to do so. This should be so whether the organization is a women's sewing club or the exclusive Cosmos Club.

The role of government in civil rights should be limited entirely to the protection of basic human rights.—W. F. W.

What Goes On Behind Kremlin Walls

WHILE IN A close election the American electorate may go to bed at night not knowing for sure who will be the new president, a totalitarian system may provide its people with a new dictator almost any morning. Though nothing this drastic has happened lately in the Soviet Union, one gets the feeling that something big may be going on behind the Kremlin walls. The split between the Stalinists and Khrushchevites may have reached the point where men are tilting over the very seat of Red power.

Since Chou En-Lai of China walked out of the party congress in Moscow, the challenge to Khrushchev has taken on an international flavoring. Peiping is scarcely speaking to Moscow, and now the East Germans feel bold enough to openly criticize Khrushchev's Germany policy.

IN THE MIDST of all this stalks the figure of the old Communist warhorse and former Soviet foreign minister, V. M. Molotov. Leaving a subordinate post in Vienna, this hard-nosed revolutionary, around whom opposition could conceivably rally, has returned to Moscow. As far as the rest of the world knows he is still there. One correspondent speculates that only very substantial anti-party sentiment would be strong enough to keep this old cohort of Stalin in Moscow.

Nothing or something may be brewing in the land Churchilized characterized as a "riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma." The West can only wait and see.

If trouble were in season only parts of the year some people would be hunting for it out of season.

Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee. Psalm 55:22.

How Do You Stand, Sir?

Democrats Rap Right-Wingers

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

The Washington Post has attempted to document in a recent series of articles the Democrat claim that violently right-wing organizations under various labels constitute the most serious real and present danger to the Republic.

This charge has been made by the President, the vice president, the chairman of the National Democratic Party and by dozens of other lesser fry.

At the opposite end of the political spectrum we have the Americans for Democratic Action, a dedicated left-wing organization which is committed to the establishment of a welfare state and the centralization of all power in the federal government.

I am indebted to the Washington correspondent of the Los Angeles Times, Robert T. Hartmann, for a list of ADA members who now hold positions of great influence in the Kennedy administration.

Theodore C. Sorensen, speech writer and confidential adviser to the President; Arthur Schlesinger Jr., administrative assistant to the President; Harrison L. Woolford, special assistant to the President on civil rights; Chester Bowles, Undersecretary of State; Mrs. Katie Louchheim, assistant to Bowles; G. Mennen Williams, Assistant Secretary of State; Philip H. Coombs, Assistant Secretary of State; John B. Bingham, U. S. representative on the U. N. Trusteeship Council; J. Kenneth Galbraith, ambassador to India; James Leach Jr., ambassador to Peru; Adlai Stevenson, ambassador to U. N.; also Arthur Goldberg, Frank McCulloch, George L. P. Weaver, Esther Peterson, Charles Donahue, Abraham Ribicoff, Willard J. Cohen, Mrs. John G. Aiken, Orville Freeman, Charles Murphy, Robert G. Lewis, John A. Baker and 12 others, ranging from the Undersecretary of the Treasury to the director of the Export-Import Bank.

THE RIGHT-WINGERS, who, according to the chorus of New Frontiersmen, are such a menace to the future of this nation, have no political instrument to express their viewpoint, occupy no positions of power, possess no strength comparable to the influence and power now enjoyed through the Kennedy administration by the members of the ADA.

Like most Americans, I deplore violent and unreasoning extremes, but if we are talking about a threat to the Republic, I suggest the members of the violent left, not the ADA, now occupy a position far more threatening. The right-wingers may make speeches and write letters to the editor, but the ADAers in government can make decisions, institute policy and enforce their desires with the full power of the federal machinery.

IN 1952, the Saturday Evening Post editorially stated: "At the May meeting of ADA, a resolution affirming belief in free and competitive enterprise was soundly beaten by a voice vote." To my mind, these voices shouting their opposition to free and competitive private enterprise constitute the true real and present danger to the Republic.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Both the Warrens and the Smithers were vulnerable in a hotly contested bridge game, when Mrs. Warren felt a hand grasping her leg.

She calmly put her cards face down on the table and announced: "If—that's my husband, I bid four spades. If it's you, George Smithers, I'm going to punch you in the nose."

A beatnik wandered into church, and on the way out, told the Reverend, "You were swinging, Daddy-O. You were way out."

"What was that again?" inquired the Reverend, knitting his brow.

"I mean," amplified the cat, "I dug your jive. I read you so good I put ten big fish in your collection plate."

"Ah," beamed the Reverend, grasping the beatnik's hand. "Cool, man. Cool!"

Next month is the time when Wall Street publicists and analysts rush into print with predictions for the coming year's economy. The fact that they may have proved spectacularly wrong on numerous previous occasions doesn't stop them from pontificating with equal certainty again. THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

When President Sees Show It's Big Production

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—When the President of the United States goes to a New York theater it's a production—especially when he wants to see "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," which is sold out several months in advance.

Despite this, the White House asked for 10 seats. This was like asking for hen's teeth. However, Sol Hurok, the producer, finally found them, though Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, JFK's personal secretary, had to sit in the balcony, and secret service men were scattered all over the theater.

At 3 p.m., the White House asked for a briefing on the show to see whether it contained any rough lines that might be embarrassing to the administration. Apparently there were none. But one skit shows two good-looking women cleaning up the office of a big executive. One remarks: "OK, that'll do, Jackie."

The crowd roared, and those sitting near the President looked to see how he would take it. He grinned.

One hundred extra secret service men and New York cops were in the theater. Next morning the management got a summons from the New York fire department for violation of fire regulations.

A respected, gray-haired lady bowed out of the State Department the other day—almost unnoticed—though her influence on foreign policy was great. She was Eleanor Dulles, last of the Dulles family to put its impact on the foreign affairs of the United States.

Pearson

FEW PEOPLE outside of Washington had heard of Miss Dulles since she won notoriety during the Roosevelt era as being pro-Nazi. But her quiet, square-jawed personality, much like her two elder brothers, had a lot to do with building up a strong, remilitarized Germany.

The notoriety occurred when the diary of William E. Dodd, Roosevelt's ambassador to Germany during the rise of Hitler, was published. It contained this item for Jan. 24, 1936:

"John Foster Dulles, who writes for the 'American Magazine' on foreign affairs but who is connected with a large banking business in New York, reported . . . 'My sister lives here. She is an enthusiastic Hitlerite, and anxious to show me the German attitude for peace. So we went this afternoon to the movie Unter Wehrmacht, which she said was proof of the German desire for peace. I sat through the show, but the war planes, big guns, pictures of violent attacks on citizens and the enthusiastic attitude of Hitler, Goering and Goebbels, as they stood looking at the devastating work, took from my mind all thought of peace as an object of the show.'"

"DULLES SAID he could not understand his sister's attitude, and added that such a display in the U. S. would have been hissed off the screen."

That year, 1936, was when Hitler marched his new army into the Ruhr and the Rhineland.

In 1934, a year after Hitler came into power, Miss Dulles' husband, Prof. David Blondheim, committed suicide. He was Jewish.

Mrs. Blondheim resumed her maiden name after that, taught in various women's colleges, and in the late fall of 1952, just after Eisenhower was elected, turned up at the State Department in the office of Jimmy Riddleberger, then in charge of the German desk, to ask for a job.

"My brother says that if I get a job while the Democrats are in, he can keep me on when he becomes secretary of state," she explained. "Otherwise he can't hire me."

Riddleberger gave her a job as an adviser on German affairs. Shortly thereafter, he shot up the promotion ladder to become an ambassador. Miss Dulles remained the key German adviser to her brother during his career as secretary of state. She was strong, persistent, and persuasive in her views.

THE IMPACT of the Dulles family will long be felt on the world, especially Germany and the United States.

John Foster Dulles had represented the New York Banks which were pouring money into Germany after World War I, later defaulted. His brother Allen, later head of Central Intelligence, represented the J. Henry Schroeder Banking Corporation, whose head in Germany was Baron Kurt von Schroeder. It was at Schroeder's home in Cologne that Hitler had his secret meeting with Franz von Papen in January, 1933, which led to the advent of the Nazi regime.

It was Allen Dulles who sent the U-2 over Russia just before the Paris summit conference, an incident which further postponed a Berlin settlement and knocked the Khrushchev-Eisenhower Camp David spirit into a cocked hat.

With the resignation of Allen Dulles from Central Intelligence last summer and the quiet departure of Eleanor Dulles this month, the Dulles family is now out of government. But, for better or for worse, their policies live after them.

Kennedy Urging Drastic Change

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — With all the advisers, experts, economists and politicians, as well as veteran officials supposed to be familiar with tax problems available around the White House, it is surprising to find President Kennedy quite casually recommending that Congress give up its constitutional power to fix tax rates and let the chief executive do it.

Before any proposal as far-reaching as this could find its way into the State-of-the-Union message of the President, it would seem that such a drastic change in tax policies and procedures would be thought through and given to the public only after a most thorough study of all its ramifications.

But the idea here seems to be to toss into the hopper as many ideas as possible to give the impression that the administration isn't standing still. The comment heard from administration circles is: "At least, we're moving." But nobody unfortunately can foretell in what direction the movement is headed.

TO PERMIT a President overnight to reduce or raise taxes would be something of an innovation to Americans, though the idea of a flexible tax was proposed long ago by Lord Keynes, the British economist whose theories since have been severely criticized.

In Britain sudden tax changes can be made by the government in power, but this is because they have the parliamentary system. The people, however, can't make a sudden change in the tax system. Kennedy's plan to throw out the cabinet ministry that taxed them unwisely. No such remedy is today available to the American people.

Apart from the wisdom or unwisdom of sudden tax changes from a political viewpoint—for certainly there would be little protest when taxes went down and a big howl if they went up—there are some practical barriers. Supposedly the tax changes are to be made when business conditions would seem to the theorists to require such a shift. Where is the expert to be found who is wise enough, upon waking up some morning, to decide that taxes should be reduced to stimulate consumer spending or raised to stop inflation as he rushes to the White House to persuade the President to sign the appropriate executive order?

Nobody seems to have thought about the problem of how to change suddenly all the tax forms and how to provide a procedure for taxpayers to revise in the middle of a tax year the estimates they have already submitted and on which they may have made payments. The mere task of checking returns in a year when an abrupt change in tax rates has taken place would be a colossal job.

BUT, EVEN though the administrative difficulties could be surmounted by paying out a few millions of dollars for extra clerks and revised forms, the remedy could prove worse than the disease. There is no certainty, for instance, that a sudden stimulus to consumer spending would come at the right time. Who knows when a recession has run its course or when one is about to begin? The formula could easily result in amounts of change in tax receipts that would be either too small or too large to fit the conditions prevailing.

Congress would be in a hot spot no matter what happened. First, there is the criticism that Congress would be surrendering its constitutional powers. It has been argued that Congress could always nullify a tax change it didn't like because it would have 30 or 60 days in which one house could exercise a veto of the President's action. This might occur just before an election, and the uncertainty produced between the time the President made his proposal and the time it was rejected or took effect could bring on such chaotic conditions as to defeat the ends sought.

It would not cause so much of a fuss if taxes were always being reduced, as everybody likes a tax reduction. But if the President asked for a change in the basic rate, what about the clamor of the people in the other tax brackets for additional reductions? And what would happen if a President asked for a rise in taxes, especially in an election year? The experts might argue that theoretically all this would improve economic conditions, but the average voter would certainly take it out on his congressman if it turned out that the recession was actual.

How to Get Rid Of Callus

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any particular way of removing a callus from the ball of the foot? We have tried all sorts of remedies. My husband is on his feet all day on hard cement.—MRS. J. T.

A callus is a thickening of the skin due to unusual pressure.

Remove the pressure and in time the callus will go away of its own accord. The proof is in what happens to someone doing work that puts heavy and continued pressure on the hands—hammering, chopping wood, digging in the garden, rowing a boat. Anything that causes substantial pressure.

Stop doing, and one day you realize that the hands have softened. The calluses have disappeared so gradually that you didn't notice.

It's similar with calluses on the feet, except that conditions aren't quite the same.

A callus on the hand isn't so painful because it isn't jammed into the flesh. Or if it is a bit painful, you change your grip so the callus doesn't hurt. That is, it doesn't press too hard into the flesh underneath.

On the foot, however, you can't "change your grip." Your foot stays in essentially the same position inside the shoe, within limits of a small fraction of an inch. The pressure comes repeatedly on exactly the same point. If you walk five miles in a day you step on each foot nearly 5,000 times with the pressure always in the same place!

OR EVEN if you mostly stand still, the pressure is there.

ly deepened.

A QUICK TAX cut could result in a bigger deficit than expected. Also, there are some paradoxes to complicate the whole problem. Today, for example, the country is supposed to be in the midst of a business boom, but the budget is unbalanced and unemployment is 6.1 percent of the labor force. Should taxes be cut, raised, or left unchanged?

It certainly is strange that the President should have fallen for this weird gimmick of the theorists without telling the American people at least the exact circumstances under which he would use the power to reduce or raise taxes if such authority were given him. That's why half-baked proposals and recommendations that are not thought through can hardly be considered to be characteristics of a sound administration charged with the task of coping with the challenges of economic change which constantly face the world today.

St. Martin's Women's Guild Holds Annual Meet

The Women's Guild, St. Martin's Lutheran Church, held its annual meeting Thursday evening. Circles D and L under captains Mrs. James Harders and Mrs. Fred Fakler were hostesses at the potluck supper which preceded the meeting.

The Rev. Emil Geistfeld opened the meeting with devotions. A film "A Mighty Host" describing the 50th Anniversary Celebrated by Sewing Circle

One hundred members and friends attended the 50th anniversary banquet of the Sewing Circle of St. Martin's Lutheran Church Wednesday evening in the school auditorium. The Sewing Circle was organized on Jan. 24, 1912, under the leadership of Mrs. A. W. Sauer who became its first president and has been active during the years in working for the church and missions.

THE TABLES were decorated to carry out the Golden Anniversary theme. The speakers' table had a centerpiece of jonquils and gold and white chrysanthemums with gold candles. The other tables had a gold glass sequined candle surrounded with greens on gold doilies.

The Rev. Armin Deye gave the invocation after which dinner was served by Circle E.

Miss Mabel Baumann, president, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. Emil Geistfeld who was toastmistress. The first number on the program was a trumpet duet by Charles Koeth and David Broker who were accompanied by Floyd Broker. The president read a history of the Sewing Circle from the beginning to the present. Pastor Deye spoke on the example of Peter and the disciples obeying the Lord and working together to accomplish great things in the Lord's Kingdom, stating that as then it now requires operation and work such as the circle has shown in the years past and will need in the future years to achieve success.

MISS MARILYN Theis sang two songs, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Deye. Community singing was conducted with Miss Dolores Schumann as accompanist. After reminiscences by past officers and members a candlelight service was conducted. Pastor Deye concluded the program with the song "God be with you Till We Meet Again" and "The Lord's Prayer."

CIRCLE 8 Circle 8 of St. Matthew's Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Herman Cordes, 553 W. Howard St., Monday at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. John Hagen is chairman.

STITCH AND CHATTER BLAIR, Wis. (Special)—Mrs. James Frederixson will be hostess to members of the Stitch and Chatter Club Monday evening.

work of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League was shown. A description of the work done by the Missionary League since its beginning in 1942 was given.

THE organization gives women of the church an opportunity to serve through education, inspiration and missionary service. Money collected through the use of mite boxes is used for foreign and domestic missionary projects.

Mrs. Edwin Friederich, St. John's Lutheran Church, Hart, spoke to the Guild about the organization of the Missionary League on the local, zone, district and national levels. Guild members, along with the Ladies Aid of St. Martin's, will begin to use the mite boxes this month and will take part in the Missionary League program. Mrs. Floyd Broker and Mrs. David Sauer are delegates from the congregation.

Mrs. Sauer, Guild president, presided at the business meeting. She thanked all those who had served as Guild chairmen during the past year and congratulated members on the success of the projects. It was noted that gifts toward debt retirement and remodeling of one of the church parsonages had been given during the past year. It was decided to earmark money now in the treasury for redecorating the interior of the church.

THE GUILD will again sponsor Lenten teas and coffee hours. They will also be responsible for the weekly dusting of church.

Mrs. John Somers presented the following list of officers: Mrs. Donald Schaefer, president; Mrs. Alyn Abraham, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Nystrom, secretary; and Mrs. Lloyd Luke, treasurer. Mrs. Schaefer closed the meeting with prayer.

Cedar Valley ALCW Plans Dinner

CEDAR VALLEY, Minn. (Special)—Cedar Valley Lutheran Church ALCW will hold its fellowship dinner, in the church parlors following the 11 a. m. services Feb. 4.

Dinner committee members are Mrs. A. W. Anderson, Mrs. Francis Quinn and Miss Marie Pflughoef. At the close of the dinner hour, a program, "American Missions," a study of the Third Chapter of John, and a short business meeting, will be held. Joshua Bible study group (Moabi) will meet at the Kenneth Rice home Feb. 1 at 8 p. m.

St. Martin's PTA Sponsors Fun-Fest

The PTA of St. Martin's Lutheran School will sponsor a Fun Fest Saturday from 6 to 8:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. There will be a bake booth, fish pond, spook house, dart game, rifle range, make-up booth, golf game, and basketball shoot. Ninth grade is in charge of the Spook House. Hot dogs, pop, coffee and bars will be served. Committee chairmen include David Sauer, general chairman, Norman Schellhas and Gerald Froesch, prizes; Mrs. Donald Bender, lunch, and Kenneth Nystrom, games.

etc. Members of the family, left to right, are Patty Kenney, Ann Kratch, John Haun and Robert Gilliam. The play was presented by the Colterama Club at a student assembly at the Catholic Recreational Center Friday morning. (Daily News photo)

Hospital Auxiliary Board Votes Nurses Training Scholarship

Winona General Hospital Women's Auxiliary again voted to meet a need when they adopted a resolution presented Thursday morning at the board meeting at the Nurse's Home by Mrs. L. W. Wilson, Rushford, scholarship chairman, to "create and establish a Nurse's Training Scholarship."

This scholarship, an expanded interest of the auxiliary, was established to better serve the community. It provides an annual award of $800, almost full term tuition, to a worthy candidate from this area who is accepted by the scholarship committee. The fund is to be used to aid in her education toward a three or four year course in nursing at the college of her choice.

APPLICATION blanks are being sent to area high schools and the first award of the scholarship will be made this spring. Members of this committee who will make the first selection of a scholarship recipient are Mrs. Wilson, chairman, Mrs. R. W. Miller, Mrs. Roger Hartwich, Mrs. Emil Geistfeld and Dr. A. W. Penske.

Members of the medical groups are aiding in establishing and contributing to the scholarship fund.

FINAL PLANS for the annual meeting and election of officers to be held Jan. 30 were presented. All representatives and members of the auxiliary are urged to attend the meeting which is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. at the YMCA. In addition to the meeting and election a special program relative to the interest and work of the hospital has been arranged by Mrs. R. R. Fisher and her program committee.

Of particular interest to all will be slides showing the progress in building at the Community Memorial Hospital which will be shown by Earl Hagberg, administrator. Talks by E. J. Sievers, Winona General Hospital board president, and Leo C. La France, public relations board member, and a film strip, "Many Hands and Many Skills" are also part of the program.

Katie Conrad Gives Scouts Beauty Tips

Miss Katie Conrad, former model and now a ballet teacher in Winona, shared her charm and beauty ideas with seventh grade Girl Scouts at the annual "Coke Party" Wednesday afternoon at Central Lutheran Church.

More than 60 scouts and their leaders heard Miss Conrad discuss the physical, emotional, and intellectual requirements of beauty as it relates to the Junior High girl. She advised the girls to set up good habits of eating, exercise and rest, so that in adult years they would not be forced to struggle with dieting measures to keep slender and active. Posture and the impression created by it were mentioned. Miss Conrad asked several of her ballet students who were among the scouts present to demonstrate ballet positions which could be used in an exercise program.

MAKE-UP, "not really necessary for girls your age," was another topic which Miss Conrad discussed. She suggested that the lighter the make-up a teenager uses, the less she will require as she grows older. Perfumes and colognes should be chosen "for you, and not because it smells good on your best friend," Miss Conrad said.

Letting the family know her inner feelings creates a happier climate for the teenager and her parents. This, along with a "giving attitude," was Miss Conrad's advice in the "Inner Self" portion of her talk.

Wide reading, conversational development, and the ability to be a good listener are all important facets of personality, concluded Miss Conrad. Following her talk the girls gathered around her to ask questions and discuss their own problems.

Refreshments were served by the program committee of the Girl Scout Council; Mrs. Leo Murphy Jr., Mrs. Luther Mc Cown and Mrs. Art Anderson.

The Winona Girl Scout Council is an agency of the Winona Community Chest.

Government's Role In Norway Large, Professor Says

The Norwegian government owns all electric utilities, railroads and mines, provides socialized medicine and even pays for burials, Dr. P. M. Juul, Oslo, exchange professor of education at Winona State College, told the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday at Hotel Winona.

Cooperatives do 10 percent of all business in Norway and pay 1/13th as much taxes as private industry, he said. The state withholds 35 percent of the salary of a teacher whose wife is working. The teacher is pensioned at two-thirds of his salary. The speaker said individual initiative has not been curbed by this system. Unions and management set wage scales as is done in America.

James C. Ulum will introduce a speaker—identified only as Mr. Quaker Oaks—at next Thursday's luncheon, Stanley A. Hammer is the club's publicity chairman.

Deep Fat Frying Topic for County Homemaker Leaders

LEWISTON, Minn.—Winona County homemakers leader training meetings on the subject of deep fat frying have been arranged for the coming week, announces Mrs. Virginia Hohmann, county home agent.

Meetings: Monday at Lewiston City Hall; Tuesday at St. Charles City Hall and Wednesday at Winona Lake Park Lodge.

Short cuts in the methods of preparing food for deep fat frying will be discussed and the following questions will be answered: What is deep fat frying? Is deep fat frying an extravagant use of fat and are deep fat fried food digestible?

Cathedral Sisters Take Spanish Course; Students Watching TV

Nine sisters on the faculty of Cathedral Grade School this semester are enrolled at the College of Saint Teresa for in-service training in Spanish language instruction.

Televised instruction in Spanish this year has been made available to students in the third through sixth grades at Cathedral.

Sister M. Conna, Cathedral principal, said that approximately 330 students are taking the instruction. During the first semester Cathedral sisters took in-service training at Saint Teresa in mathematics.

Policewoman Resigns Post; To Be Married

The resignation of Winona's first policewoman was accepted Thursday by the Board of Fire & Police Commissioners.

Miss Ruth M. Jordan, 420 1/2 S. Baker St., who was appointed to the post when it was created in December 1950, informed commissioners that she'll be married this spring and asked that her resignation become effective April 1.

MISS JORDAN has been working out of the juvenile division, has been assigned to various investigative and enforcement duties and serves as jail matron.

Chief of Police George H. Savord said that he would advertise for applications from candidates for the position.

Each of the applicants will be given examinations and prospective appointees screened in interviews and investigations as to their backgrounds and qualifications. Chief Savord announced that Patrolman Richard Braithwaite has been designated as the most improved marksman in Southeastern Minnesota Police & Peace Officers Association pistol competition during the past year and will receive an award at Monday's regional meeting in Mantorville.

A discussion of comparative costs of replacing existing electric fire alarm circuits in the business district with a telephone alarm network is scheduled for the board's February meeting.

A REPRESENTATIVE of Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., will meet with commissioners Feb. 21 to present cost data on the telephone system to assist commissioners in making a decision on the type of alarm installation to be made.

Present underground cables are in need of replacement. Attending the meeting were Board President B. H. Haebeck, Kenneth McQueen, L. Robert Prondzinski and Harold Streeter.

Support Prices Of Feed Grains Same as 1961

Prices for the 1962 crops of feed grain, according to Raymond L. Schell, chairman, Winona County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, will be supported at the following national average support levels:

Corn, $1.20 per bushel average for all grades; barley, 93 cents per bushel for grade No. 2 or better; grain sorghum, $1.93 per hundredweight for grade No. 2 or better; oats, 62 cents per bushel for grade No. 3, and rye, $1.02 per bushel for grade No. 2 or better, or grading No. 3 on test weight only.

He pointed out that these support prices are the same as the 1961 crop supports. The 1962 support prices reflect approximately 74 percent of the January parity for corn, barley and oats; 69 percent for rye, and about 78 percent for grain sorghum.

Feed grain legislation provides that the secretary of agriculture may set the support level for corn at not less than 65 percent of parity for the 1962 crop. The $1.20-per-bushel support price, Schell said, was determined as the price that would effectively meet the objectives of the feed grain program.

Support for the other feed grains requires consideration of several factors, including supply in relation to demand, the ability of the Commodity Credit Corporation to dispose of stocks acquired under price support, the ability and willingness of producers to keep supplies in line with demand, feed value of grains in relation to corn, and support levels for other commodities.

After considering these factors, the support prices for barley, oats and rye were set directly at their feeding value relationship to corn, and the support price for grain sorghum was set at 90 percent of the feed value of corn—the same as for 1961.

Frauds in Food To Be Discussed In Buffalo Co.

ALMA, Wis. (Special)—The project, "Fact, Fad and Fraud About Food," which the Buffalo County Homemakers will be studying during February is important because the Food and Drug Commission reports the American public is spending an estimated $1 billion yearly on falsely represented drugs, foods and cosmetics, according to Miss Pauline Poehler, county home agent.

Meetings to better inform the public of wise procedures in buying these products have been scheduled for the following days: Monday, Gilman High School; Wednesday, Alma, Buffalo Electric Cooperative; Friday, Cochrane Grade School Annex; Feb. 5, Mondovi City Building; Feb. 6, Wauwande, William Alleman residence, and Feb. 12, Fountain City Auditorium.

All meetings will begin at 1:30 p.m. One or two project leaders from each of the 36 homemaker clubs are invited to attend.

There are tricks to every trade and furnishing a home beautifully with a feeling of harmony is no exception, county homemakers learned during January, said Miss Poehler.

The project was "Color and Design in the Home."

Disasters Topic In Pepin County

DURAND, Wis.—The second Pepin County farm management school at the courthouse here Friday at 1 p.m. will be devoted entirely to emergency planning for disasters.

Don Jensen, civil defense specialist, and Randall Swanson, farm safety specialist from the University of Wisconsin, will present the discussion, which will include practical methods of preparing for emergencies, and a plan of action in the event of an emergency.

The third meeting Feb. 6 will deal with improved yields and quality from forage crops. Vic Burcalow, agronomy specialist, and Jim Crowley, dairy specialist from the university, will discuss top-level production from economical feeding of dairy cows.

Houston Co. Council To Hold 3 Training Meetings on Aprons

CALEDONIA, Minn.—The Houston County Home Council will have a series of three training meetings on aprons.

These meetings are scheduled for: Tuesday, Caledonia State Bank basement; Wednesday, Spring Grove Lutheran Church parlors, and Thursday, Houston Community Kitchen. All meetings will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Athlene Scheld, extension specialist in clothing, will give the lesson. Each home council leader is asked to wear her favorite apron to the meeting.

Farmer Tells How He Uses Eight Silos

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. — Joe Greshik, Fountain City farmer, discussed making and using low-moisture silage Tuesday at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, during a Farm and Home Week meeting.

Excerpts from his talk follow: "IF ALFALFA can be cut and cured at the ideal time there is very little additional feed or mineral that must be fed to balance the ration. It can be fed to almost any animal on the farm."

"I like haylage, because I can put up close to twice as much in a day with the same amount of labor, which is very important. As you may know the quality goes down very fast as the plant gets older. Secondly, I can almost eliminate loss from the weather. "I believe there is no better way that one can automatically feed legumes or grasses other than putting it up as haylage or silage."

"I have eight silos. I fill one 22 by 70 feet with corn silage and the other 22 by 70 feet with haylage, which I use for beef cattle. The silos are placed so that I can blend the silage as we feed it. This year I put just plain corn silage in the corn silo but next year I am going to cut two rows of corn and pick two rows of corn to fill this silo. This will make a real high quality feed. As I can blend this corn silage with my haylage I can make most any ration I want."

Testing and Lime Whitehall Topic

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Soil testing and the application of lime will be the topics of discussion at the silos meeting at the courthouse here Feb. 2 at 10 a.m., Peter Bieri, Trempealeau County Agent, announced.

R. A. Wiese, extension specialist in soil fertility of the University of Wisconsin, will be speaker.

At the morning session Wiese will discuss the new soil testing program for Wisconsin. The program will initiate instrument soil test analysis. Lime recommendations and application will be discussed at the afternoon meeting.

Records Reported For 3 Holsteins

STOCKTON, Minn. — Wacholz Bros., Stockton, Minnesota, are the owners of three registered Guernseys that have completed official HIR production records, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

Hildale Chiefs Dancer, a 5-year-old produced 11,709 pounds of milk and 554 pounds of fat in 305 days on two times daily milkings.

Hildale Marjorie Model, a junior 3-year-old produced 10,616 pounds of milk and 502 pounds of fat in 305 days. She was milked twice daily.

Hildale Bel Koris, a junior 3-year-old produced 10,259 pounds of milk and 488 pounds of fat in 305 days. She was milked twice daily.

Around the Pitchfork

The need for an egg producers' organization, the trend toward feeding more concentrates to cows, a new electronic machine that measures the fat and solids content of milk, and mechanization in dairy agriculture were among topics discussed this week at the University of Wisconsin's Farm and Home Week at Madison.

"We egg producers need a commodity organization to represent us as egg producers," said Herman Brandt, Oshkosh, Wis. "This should be a fighting organization representing egg producers only. Lawyers, plumbers and others have these organizations fighting for their interests. We can learn a lot from these people."

"We will need a commodity organization to help us to make use of the new Wisconsin agricultural legislation passed by the present legislature. This act will enable producers of various agricultural commodities to set up standards for that commodity and set up regulations to implement said standards."

There will be new federal regulations attempted and probably enacted. When such regulations are proposed, we believe that we will fare better if we have an organization which will help us fight unfair legislation and fight for beneficial legislation."

George M. Werner, dairy husbandman at the university, said cows are being fed more concentrates in Wisconsin and in the nation. In 1945, 1,580 pounds of concentrates were consumed per milk cow annually. This jumped to 2,129 pounds in 1959.

"What are the limits?" Werner said. "This depends upon the cow and the feeder. Some good dairymen feed about all the grain cows will eat after they have had their fill of good roughage. Some feeders limit grain per day to 10-12-15 pounds. One can waste feed by over-feeding poor cows."

"Feed additives for milking cows are being promoted to supplement a possible low carotene intake and to provide for low level antibiotic feeding. Dairymen require more and more basic knowledge of nutrition to make wise decisions."

"Liquid protein supplements are being used in dairy cattle feeding. These provide a combination of urea and molasses with phosphoric acid, alcohol and/or Vitamin A supplement. Whether or not these will capture a larger part of the market will depend upon how they compete price-wise with other protein supplements."

The Darisonometer, which measures the fat and solids content of milk by means of electronics and ultrasonics, was described by W. C. Winder, dairy industry researcher at the university.

Sound waves of extremely high frequency are used. Dairy plant operators don't have to worry about getting a ringing noise in the ears because the sound waves are of such high frequency the waves can't be heard. Here's how Winder explained the device:

"Basically, it works on the principle that sound waves move at different speeds through material of differing composition—for instance, faster through solids than through liquids. The Darisonometer measures the speed or velocity at which the sound waves move through the milk to be tested. The velocity is converted to percentage of solids-not-fat and percentage of butterfat and is recorded on dials in these two figures."

"THE MILK sample to be tested is warmed to exactly 122 degrees Fahrenheit. Then part of the sample of warm milk is placed in a test cell which is kept at 122 degrees temperature. Another part of the same sample is placed in a second test cell held at a lower temperature—around 57 degrees. Both these containers are connected by electric cables to the Darisonometer."

"Solids-not-fat content is tested first. The machine sends an electric pulse through one cable connected to the sample held at the cooler temperature. This electric pulse is converted to an ultra-high frequency sound wave which then passes through the milk and is bounced back to the other cable."

"This reflected sound is changed back into a pulse of electric current which goes back to the instrument. When this returning electric pulse gets back to the Darisonometer, it releases another electric pulse which then goes through the same process."

"A counter in the machine measures how often the machine is sending out these pulses, and this moves a dial to register the amount of solids-not-fat in the milk."

"For butterfat measurement a flip of a switch transfers action of the machine to the sample which is held at the higher temperature. Within the instrument the butterfat testing process is the same for measurement of solids-not-fat."

F. W. Duffee, agricultural engineer at the university, discussed mechanization in dairy agriculture. He said a farmer near Madison has a one-story dairy barn housing 156 cows in four rows.

"It requires only 20 minutes of one man's time to clean the barn," Duffee said. "It would take 2 1/2 hours to do the same job or seven times as long, if he used the manure spreader-hand shoveling method."

"A SILO UNLOADER will save practically all of the time required to throw down silage by hand. It ordinarily takes less than a minute to start a silo unloader and set it for the required amount of silage needed, whether it be 500 pounds or 10,000 pounds. They shut off automatically."

"The conventional milking machine is one where the milk is drawn into a pail and carried by hand to the milkroom. A Cleaned-In-Place (C.I.P.) milk pipeline milker conveys the milk from the cow to the cooler in the milkroom. This eliminates hand carrying of milk. Incidentally, the C.I.P. pipeline milker represents the best method yet developed to aid in the production of high quality milk. A milking parlor is a separate room designed for milking only. A big advantage of the milking parlor is that the operator stands on a level about 30 inches lower than the cow. This eliminates stooping."

"With a conventional milking machine one man can milk 20 cows per hour. With a C.I.P. pipeline in a stall barn one man can milk 30 cows per hour. With a C.I.P. pipeline in a herringbone milking parlor one man can milk 40 cows per hour. Stepping up the milking rate from 20 to 40 cows per hour is real progress, and more progress seems likely. A milking parlor complete with all equipment costs $10,000 to $15,000 and is not economically feasible for small herds. Much of the equipment is needed in any case. Therefore this is not a net increase in the cost of the farm dairy plant."

IFYE Names Lake City Girl

LAKE CITY, Minn.—Miss Jane Gohl, 21, Lake City, has been chosen an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to live and work with a farm family abroad this year.

Miss Gohl has not yet been assigned to a country. She is a senior at the College of St. Benedict, St. Joseph, where she is majoring in home economics.

The exchange program seeks to increase international understanding and is conducted by the National 4-H Foundation and the Agricultural Extension Service. Foreign rural youth come to the United States under the program to live with American farm families.

Eleva Graduate Assistant Head Of Ag Service

ELEVA, Wis.—An Eleva High School graduate, Charles M. Elkinton, 32, has been named assistant administrator for international affairs of the U. S. foreign agricultural service.

Elkinton, who earned his doctorate at the University of Wisconsin in 1947, has been agricultural attaché in the U. S. embassy in Tokyo since 1959.

He will administer and coordinate the Agriculture Department's activities relating to international organizations, foreign trade and import control policies and training in this country of foreign nationals in agriculture.

Ridgeway Farms Change Hands

RIDGEWAY, Minn. (Special)—Changes in ownership in area farms include:

Gary Kosen has purchased the Howard and Vernon Lee farm, near the Whitlock School, east of Ridgeway.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mades Sr., who have farmed here many years, have sold their farm about a mile southeast of Bush Cemetery, to Ben Steve. They moved to La Crescent.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Villmow, two miles southeast of Ridgeway, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McNam-er.

Arcadia Farming Winner Named

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Richard Krackow, an Arcadia High School senior, was the winner of the first annual Future Farmers of America farming program contest conducted locally.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krackow, Town of Glencoe. Richard's program includes 8 head of dairy animals, 10 head of purebred spotted Poland China hogs, 8 ewes and several crop projects.

Since beginning high school, Richard has tested his father's dairy, swine and sheep improvement projects.

Richard has been active in junior dairymen, student service club, 4-H and church activities.

Leon Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Wolfe, Waumandee, was runnerup. Daniel Bremer, son of Mrs. Marie Bremer, was in third place.

Full Feeding After Calving Investigated; No Mastitis Results

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—What do you get by waiting until 60 days after calving to put a cow on full feed?

Trials have shown that full feed after freshening doesn't increase mastitis or cause any other complications, says George Schwartz, assistant Wabasha County agent. The most important thing that happens is that the cow gives more milk.

This is one of the things 4-H leaders learned at the adult leader meeting here last week.

Project records for each club member were given to leaders at the meeting. Schwartz said, "It is well worth the time to look the record over now and become familiar with the requirements of each project in order that every part can be properly completed."

Two Young Arcadians In Holstein Association

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Two Arcadia High School students have been accepted as junior members of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

They are Robert J. Wener, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wener, Rt. 2, and Jerome Grossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grossman, Rt. 3.

Trempealeau Co. Furniture Talks Slated for Homes

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Future Trempealeau County homemaker training meetings on furniture arrangement will be held in homes.

Miss Eileen Layton, home agent, asked that hostesses have furniture in their living rooms out of place before delegates arrive.

The schedule: Wednesday, Jan. 31, Elrick Center, at home of Mrs. Everett Malderson, Galesville; Feb. 5, Arcadia, Blair and Whitehall centers, Mrs. Harrison Immel home, Blair; Feb. 6, Osseo and Strum centers, Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Osseo, and Feb. 7, Arcadia and Centerville centers, Mrs. William Junghans Jr., Trempealeau. All meetings will begin at 1:15 p.m.

Each group will select a member to take charge and lead the discussions, which will center on finding out about the family, ages, activities and habits; determining traffic lanes; finding the best possible places for largest pieces of furniture based upon how the family uses the room; special considerations; arranging smaller pieces, and making recommendations for pictures, other furniture that might solve specific problems, better lamp shades, if needed etc.

Bear Valley Shed Managers Adopt Overall Program

ZUMBRO FALLS, Minn.—The board of managers of the Bear Valley Watershed District adopted the overall plan of water management in the Bear Valley Watershed at a meeting here Tuesday night.

Board members are Arthur Dammann, Fred Huneke and Alfred Starz.

Explaining the program were W. Marion Roberts, area supervisor for the Soil Conservation Service, and James Geotli, Goodhue County conservationist for the Soil Conservation District.

The overall plan now will be submitted to the Water Resources Board for final hearings and approval.

Three on Program For Weed Session At Lewiston Hall

LEWISTON, Minn.—The latest information regarding seeding and weed control will be discussed at the Winona County annual plant industry conference at the city hall here Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Hollis E. Jacobsen, district weed and seed inspector, Roy B. Anderson, inspector of weed and seed sections, and William Bugler, state entomologist, will instruct the town board members, mayors and appointed inspectors on their duties and regulations governing them.

One of the latest changes this year is that every acre of cropland may be planted to a crop in 1962 provided the proper method of weed control is carried out in connection with the cropping program. Anyone interested may attend.

Young Dairy Herd Feeding Topic in Trempealeau Co.

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—Trempealeau County Agent Peter Bieri has announced that the feeding and management of the young dairy herd will be discussed Wednesday.

James Crowley, extension dairyman, College of Agriculture, will speak at Eleva-Strum Central High School at 1:30 p.m. and at Arcadia High School at 8 p.m.

This is the third in a series of dairy meetings for Trempealeau County which stresses the importance of developing top dairy heifers. All dairymen are invited.

These meetings are sponsored in cooperation with agriculture instructors Leon Mitchell, Strum, and Melvin Nelson, Arcadia.

Corn Production To Be Discussed At Alma Meeting

ALMA, Wis. — A program covering all phases of corn production will be held at the courthouse here Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Problems of corn production from soil fertility recommendations to the proper storage will be discussed by extension specialists from the soils, engineering, agronomy and entomology departments of the University of Wisconsin.

Latest information on weed and insect control will be included.

Doctor and Wife To Report to Houston Co. FB

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special)—Dr. and Mrs. Gunnar Gunderson of La Crosse will be the guests for Houston County's fourth annual Farm Bureau banquet at St. Mary's Auditorium here Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. and Mrs. Gunderson will give illustrated talks on rural life in Peru.

Tussell Roth will be master of ceremonies and local people will provide the entertainment. P. D. Hempstead, president of the County Farm Bureau also will speak.

More Wisconsin Products Subject To Sales Levy

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin Department of Taxation enumerated Thursday another list of products that will be subject to the state's three percent sales tax which becomes effective Feb. 1.

The new list covers beer, liquor and tobacco products. Taxable will be ale, beer, stout and other malt beverages.

Also subject to the levy will be alcohol, brandy, cordials and liqueurs, gin, grain neutral spirits, rum, vodka, whiskey, wine, and other specialties subject to the Wisconsin tax on alcoholic beverages such as claretine, maraschino, okoleha or oke, plique, rock and rye, tequila and vellele.

The tax will hit these items in the tobacco category: Tobacco, tobacco products, and smokers supplies such as ash trays, chewing tobacco, cigars, cigar holders, cigarettes, cigarette cases, cigarette holders, cigarette filter, cigarette tubes, cigarette tins, cigarette urns, humidors, lighters, lighter flints, lighter fluids, pipes, pipe cleaners, pipe filters, pipe knives, pipe racks, pipe rests, pipe reamers, pipe tobacco, snuff, butlers, smoking stands, snuff, tobacco humidifiers and tobacco pouches.

Among other things, the rules authorize the presidents of the colleges to establish speed limits, location of stop signs and location of prohibited, restricted, or unrestricted parking areas. The rules become effective Feb. 1.

Also approved by the board was a code of ethics. One provision requires faculty members to make a report to the board about outside employment.

General Motors Profits Down

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. Thursday reported an indicated net profit of $93 million, or $3.11 a share, for 1961. This compared with $99 million, or $3.35 a share, in 1960.

The net came on estimated sales of $11.4 billion, down from $12.7 billion last year.

GM said today's announcement was a preliminary statement with final figures due late next month.

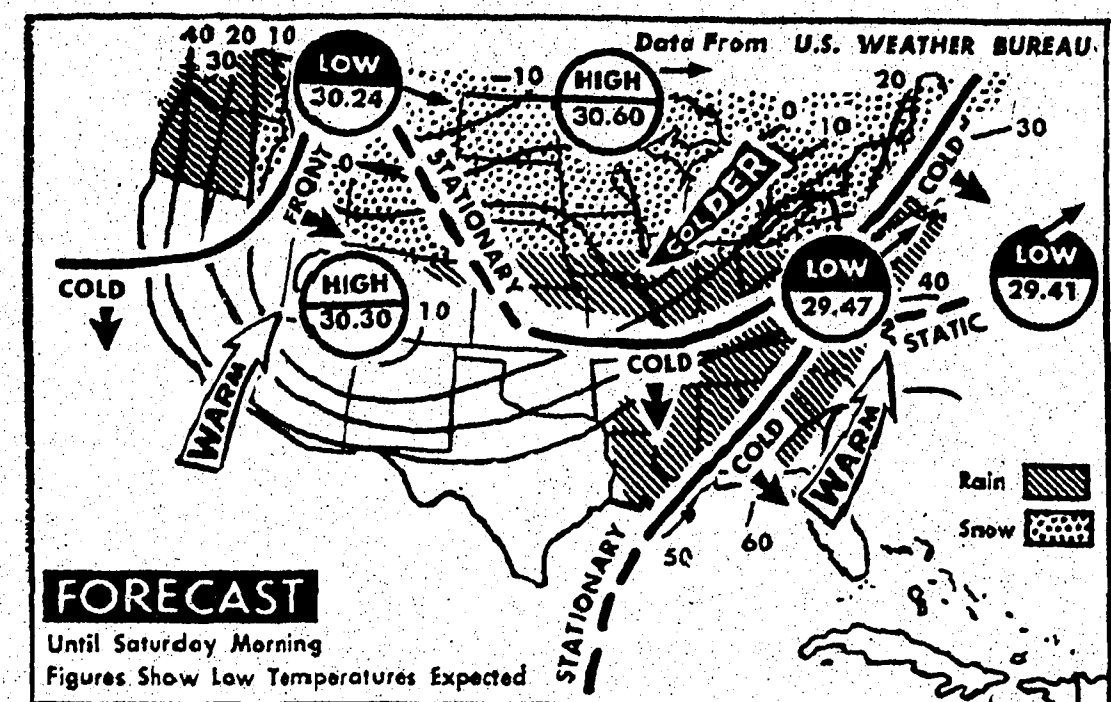

John C. Przbylski, 38, of Stevens Point, was killed Thursday night when struck by a truck as he stood beside his own truck on Highway 41 just south of Oshkosh.

Authorities said Przbylski, making his first trip for a Stevens Point firm, was holding a flashlight while another driver for the same company was adjusting the lighting system. Przbylski was struck by a third truck in the team, proceeding in the same direction.

$8 Million Damages Asked In Beer Suit

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two legal actions carrying overtones of the now defunct Kidd Cann liquor syndicate operations in Minneapolis were filed Thursday in Hennepin County District Court.

The Minneapolis Brewing Co. is defendant in one action, brought by 18 retail beer dealers and asking $8 million damages for alleged price favoritism shown syndicate members in purchase of its Grain Belt Beer.

In the other, five Minneapolis business men are asking the court to order the Minnesota liquor control commissioner to issue them a license for reopening the Loring liquor store in Minneapolis, once operated by syndicate members but now closed.

The beer dealers in their complaint charged that Grain Belt had made special price rebates to the Kidd Cann group between the summer of 1955 and last March.

The complaint alleged that the price cuts of 20 and 30 cents per case of beer were made for only a "favored few" and that this was discrimination under Minnesota laws.

The papers cite that information concerning this alleged favoritism came from the testimony of brewery officials at the federal court trial at which several syndicate members were convicted of conspiracy.

Grain Belt was not named in the federal trial, but it was one of the companies that were convicted of conspiracy.

WSC Asks for $43,500 Job

Winona State College submitted a plan for rehabilitation and repair projects at the college for $43,500 today at the meeting of the State College Board at St. Paul, Dr. Nels Minne, president, announced.

Also submitted were similar projects at the other four state colleges. Bemidji asked $19,500; St. Cloud, $27,500; Mankato, $9,500; and Moorhead, $4,000. The five colleges' requests total $104,000.

The projects, described as essential, were culled from requests totaling more than $400,000.

A SET OF RULES governing parking and traffic on the five campuses was adopted by the Board today.

Among other things, the rules authorize the presidents of the colleges to establish speed limits, location of stop signs and location of prohibited, restricted, or unrestricted parking areas. The rules become effective Feb. 1.

Ground Hog Supper Set At Lewiston

LEWISTON, Minn. — A "Ground Hog" supper will be served Thursday from 5:30 to 8 p.m. by the Men's Club of United Church of Christ here at the church.

The supper is patterned after the famed Inman, Kan., ground hog supper which served 1,600 last year. The local pastor, the Rev. Walter Meyer, formerly served in Kansas. He brought the idea to Lewiston, where it was used last year for the first time.

Members of the arrangements committee are Earl Papenfuss, Herbert Zander, Frederick Crossfield and Pastor Meyer.

The menu consists of potatoes and gravy, peas and corn, pie, milk or coffee — and ground hog, disguised as pork.

Police Check Hit-Run Crash

Police are investigating a hit-and-run accident involving a parked car struck on Sarnia Street west of Dakota at 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

The parked car, owned by Ray Burmeister, 627 Dakota St., received $30 damage to the left rear. The other driver did not identify himself.

Graves discovered at 10:10 a.m. Thursday that someone, apparently another truck driver, had snapped off the rear view mirrors on the right side of his truck. There was about $15 damage to the right door of the Swift truck.

The other driver had not reported to police this morning.

A Swift & Co. meat truck, of which Ronald Graves, Homer, was the driver, was parked in an alley between the Piggy Wiggy Store and the City Hall, next to the police station.

The other driver had not reported to police this morning.

A Swift & Co. meat truck, of which Ronald Graves, Homer, was the driver, was parked in an alley between the Piggy Wiggy Store and the City Hall, next to the police station.

Graves discovered at 10:10 a.m. Thursday that someone, apparently another truck driver, had snapped off the rear view mirrors on the right side of his truck. There was about $15 damage to the right door of the Swift truck.

The other driver had not reported to police this morning.

2 Killed, 8 Hurt in State Auto Mishaps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two men were killed and eight persons injured late Thursday in highway crashes near Breckenridge and Duluth, Minn.

In addition, a suburban Minneapolis airman was killed when his foreign-made car was in collision with a truck-trailer at Fort Worth, Texas.

Minnesota's highway death toll for the year is 28 compared with 49 on this date one year ago.

The dead:
Donald L. Budish, 20, Park River, N. D.
Elmo Sunvieri, 58, Floodwood, Minn.
Arman 2.C. Gerald Osier, 24, Richfield, Minn.

The Highway Patrol said Budish was a passenger in a car that was in a smashup on an icy stretch of U.S. Highway 75, about 7 miles north of Breckenridge, at 11:30 p.m.

The driver, Charles Palmer Jr., Erie, Pa., suffered head injuries and was taken to St. Francis Hospital, Breckenridge.

Donald Rittenhouse, 27, Kent, Minn., driver of the second auto, was listed in good condition with lacerations. His passenger, Mildred Wieklein, was reported in serious condition with a skull fracture and multiple bruises.

Sunvieri was killed and five other persons injured, none seriously, in the collision of two cars on a highway six miles west of Duluth late Thursday.

The Highway Patrol identified those hurt as Mrs. Sunvieri, Betty and Gladys Bailey and John W. Jeffery, all of Floodwood, and John T. Moss, 50, Richland, Mich., driver of the second auto.

Osier, who was stationed at Carswell Air Force Base, was killed Thursday night when his car and a truck-trailer collided.

ST. PAUL (AP) — Gov. Elmer L. Andersen said today he had enclosed with state income tax forms an explanation of how the tax money is spent because he feels taxpayers are entitled to it.

He made the statement in reply to a request from state Rep. D.D. Wozniak, St. Paul liberal, who heads the House Tax Committee. Wozniak wrote the Tax Department for information on the mailing.

"I have received a great many letters and telephone calls indicating approval of the letter and suggesting that it be repeated each year when income tax statements are mailed out," the governor wrote Wozniak.

"I am sure you would agree that the Minnesota income taxpayer is entitled to know where his income tax money goes and that it is desirable to give him this information at the time he is making out a return."

The governor added that he had instructed the Tax Department to include the enclosure in the mailing only where it would involve no other expense than the cost of printing and paper.

He said the printing cost was $4,500 for 1,200,000 copies and that the amount was charged to the tax account.

Marron Spencer and Linda Griffin remained linked together until nearly midnight when Principal Carl Gaertner "invaded" the school shop, using a hacksaw to sever the chain that linked the cuffs.

When he couldn't remove the individual metal handcuffs from the girls' legs, they were driven to the police station by Lewis Eisenberg. Eisenberg it was who had retrieved the rusty handcuffs from his basement and brought them to the dance as a prank.

When policemen couldn't solve the combination, the fire department came up with equipment to rid the girls of their ankle rings.

Marron agreed that "Linda and I sure twisted up a storm." Everybody else concerned agreed.

John C. Przbylski, 38, of Stevens Point, was killed Thursday night when struck by a truck as he stood beside his own truck on Highway 41 just south of Oshkosh.

Authorities said Przbylski, making his first trip for a Stevens Point firm, was holding a flashlight while another driver for the same company was adjusting the lighting system. Przbylski was struck by a third truck in the team, proceeding in the same direction.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Authorities are looking for a thief who entered an unlocked car and stole a policeman's uniform.

DEAR ABBY:

Youth Must Earn Trust of Parents

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager who is not trusted by my parents. I don't know why they don't trust me but I know they don't. Will you please tell me how I can prove to my parents that I am dependable and can be trusted? I know lots of other teen-agers with the same problem. NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT TRUSTED: Trust must be EARNED. Your parents should give you a few added privileges and then let your actions determine whether you are able to handle them. If you prove to be unreliable, then those privileges should be withheld for a while. Most parents would be pleasantly surprised to know how dependable their teen-agers could be if given the chance.

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from the wife who wanted to leave her husband because he had an affair with another woman. Perhaps my story will help her and others like her.

My husband had an affair with a married woman for about 6 years. They enjoyed their "secret love" for one year. And he spent the next 5 years trying to get rid of her. Legally she could do nothing, but she made life miserable for him, threatening to tell me if he quit seeing her.

Finally, in desperation, he came to me with our minister and told me. He had been such a wonderful husband and father that I thought he was joking. Oh, how he suffered inside for his mistake! That was 18 years ago, Abby. We since have reared 4 wonderful children in the happiest home you could imagine. My pride was wounded, too, but only for a day, for I knew he really loved me. He has made up for that hurt in a thousand ways. I am glad I forgave him. WISE DECISION

DEAR WISE: How very wise you are. No one should be punished a lifetime for one mistake.

DEAR ABBY: I wish there were a magic mirror for grandparents who brag about their grandchildren. I can excuse grandparents who are still thrilled with their first grandchild, but I cannot for the life of me understand people who have had four or five grandchildren and continue to bore friends with their pictures and cute sayings. Don't think I am jealous because I have six grandchildren of my own and, believe me, I could brag plenty, but I have too much consideration for others. Please print this. I want to buy twenty newspapers and clip this item and send it to some of my friends. BORED STIFF

Hawks at Northfield; Cotter at Benilde (13-0)

By AUGIE KARCHER
Daily News Sports Editor

Winona High at Northfield and Cotter High at Benilde in St. Louis Park.

That's the basketball fare tonight for Winona's two prep teams who between them have totaled 12 wins and 12 losses for the season.

The Winhawks are 6-5 and Cotter 6-7 and it has been an uphill battle all year for Coaches John Kenney and John Nett.

WINHAWKS

Between the flu and injuries, the Winhawks won't be exactly 100 percent at Northfield where they seek to even their Big Nine record at 3-3 against the 1-4 Raiders.

Both Bob Grausnick and Leo Strand missed drills Wednesday and Morrie Miller was out part of Thursday with a thigh bruise suffered at La Crosse. Logan, Coach Kenney reported this morning.

"I'll start the same five and see how they hold up," he said. "Leo, however, is still pretty weak. We may not know until this afternoon how well he'll hold up and won't have."

Kenney had only eight able men on hand for a scrimmage Wednesday against Trempealeau, and yesterday he dismissed his squad early after light drills.

Wulf Krause, Steve Keller and Jerry Foster all got a good workout in the Wednesday scrimmage.

Kenney is not too pleased with the recovery of his regular forward, Dave Hazelton. He worked out for about 20 minutes Wednesday but is badly hampered by his ankle injury. "It doesn't look good at all," said Kenney. Hazelton will not suit up tonight, but will make the trip.

Northfield carries impressive height which Kenney can battle best if Strand and John Prigge go at forwards with Miller at center. His guards, Grausnick and Marty Farrell, aren't too rangy.

Tallest Raider is 6-5 letterman center Dennis Albers who has not been used too much. Jeff Nelson, Coach Tor Forvov's best performer, is 6-3 and grid great John Schumm at guard runs only 5-10.

COTTER

The Ramblers will face the stiffest competition of their season tonight against Benilde which carries a 13-0 record, best among the state's Catholic teams.

But it doesn't awe Coach Nett.

"If you don't play 'em, you can't beat 'em," he says.

"Naturally, we have everything to gain and nothing to lose. We haven't tried to get the boys 'up' for the game, but there is some natural extra enthusiasm," he added.

This is the first year the St. Louis Park school has appeared on the Cotter card. The Ramblers two years ago played Benilde in a holiday tournament and lost by two points.

Benilde is not especially tall, but is quick and fast with good balance, according to Nett's scouting reports.

Benilde will, however, probably be minus regular forward Bob Finke who injured a knee last week.

Cotter is healthy with no flu on its varsity roster.

Nett tabbed Larry Modjeski, Sam Czaplowski, Bob Judge, Gene Schultz and Rich Starzcki to start. They comprised his starting lineup since December. He will take a 10-man squad for the two games.

Stellpflug Will Play Saturday

— STATE —

State Meets Mankato in NSCC Test

"We're as ready as we'll ever be after one of our best weeks of practice," said Winona State Coach Bob Campbell Friday.

The Warriors journey to Mankato State Saturday night for an all-important NSCC conference test with the Indians.

In the first meeting of the two teams the Warriors walked off with an 81-77 victory in a contest that could have gone either way right down to the final gun.

It was a knock 'em down and drag 'em out fight in the first game and this test promises to be no different. In the first meeting Ken Stellpflug suffered a fractured nose and Saturday's game will be the first action he has seen since.

"Ken should give us the added spark we need," Campbell said. "He's been a demon for work this past week and as a result the entire team has gotten new life."

With the return of Stellpflug, State now has only one man on the injury list. Gerry Goetz, who sprained his ankle in the Superior game Monday, has been working out the past two days but still cannot make any sharp stops or turns and most likely will not see any action against the Indians.

Bob Lietzau will take Goetz's place and team with Arlen Kinder in the backcourt although Denny Landers, a freshman from Red Wing, has been showing well in practice this week and will see considerable action.

The rest of the starting lineup will have Stellpflug and Dick Pappenfuss at forwards with Lyle Pappenfuss at center.

Mankato will counter with Les Sonnabend and Norb Walter at forwards, Warren Schmidt at center and Joel Hagen and Jim Christianson at guards.

Christianson almost wrecked the Statesmen's hopes in the first game as he tossed in nine long jump shots to keep Mankato in contention until the last minute.

If Winona's man-to-man defense can handle Christianson and Walter the Warriors could be well on their way to victory No. 3 in five loop tests.

With Stellpflug moving back in at the forward spot, Bob James will move back to the bench and add much needed strength to the second five. Bruce Zellner also has looked good and will play Saturday.

Next action for State after Saturday will come at the hands of Duluth Tuesday night at Memorial Hall.

City Hockey Finals Set

Finals of the Winona City Park Rec hockey tournament will be played at 7 p.m. Saturday.

In the Midget division, West Demons will oppose West Comets at East Center rink and in the Junior finals, East Eagles and West Bombers clash at Athletic Park.

The winners will be judged city champions, said Vern Smeiser of the Park Rec staff. Regular league play, however, will continue as long as ice is available.

3-YEAR, NO-CUT CONTRACT

Montreal Gets Stephens For Reported $20,000

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sandy Stephens wants to be a pro football quarterback and the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League have promised him a solid shot at attaining that goal.

Stephens, underscoring that pledge from the Alouettes as he signed what was understood to be a three-year no-cut package contract with the Canadian team Thursday night.

"I'm very happy about the terms of the Montreal contract," the Minnesota All-American quarterback said. "I think I got all the particulars I needed — the things I needed to insure my position in football."

Terms of the contract Stephens signed in the presence of Montreal Coach Perry Moss and player personnel Director J. I. Albrecht were not disclosed. But it reportedly calls for $20,000 a season plus a bonus. Stephens confirmed he got a bonus and the guaranteed to play quarterback, but would go no further.

Montreal won out over the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League and the New York Titans of the American Football League in bidding for the Gopher star.

Stephens, a 215-pound native of Uniontown, Pa., said the Titans actually offered him the best deal, but he favored the other two leagues.

He plans to complete the current term at the University of Minnesota and said he will return to Minnesota during the winter term next year to finish work on his degree.

With the signing of Stephens, Moss said he hopes the Alouettes have solved their biggest problem. "We've got a great ball club except at quarterback," he said.

Both owner Harry Wismer of the Titans and board chairman Arthur B. Modell of the Browns expressed regrets at not being able to land the star of the 1960 national champion Gophers and the 1961 Rose Bowl champions, Modell said.

The Browns balked over a no-trade clause Stephens insisted upon.

Stephens said he expects to continue to be a triple-threat back with the Canadians. "I'll have a lot more room to run," he said. He added that he has viewed some films of Montreal and believes he will fit into the Alouette offense.

Moss made no bones about his elation over gaining the Minnesota star. "I think we've signed one of the greatest athletes in the last eight or 10 years," he said.

Stephens was noncommittal about his off-season plans. It was understood he would be offered a job with a Montreal public relations firm.

BADGER MILER HIT BY GRADES

MADISON (AP) — A sophomore miler on the track team, Joseph Pruski, who was captain of the 1961 freshman squad, has been dropped from the University of Wisconsin because of failing grades, the athletic office said Thursday.

Pruski, Chicago, was one of several athletes running into trouble with his grades.

Another is Jim Nettles, a sophomore halfback and leading ground gainer on the football team last fall. He has been ruled ineligible for the coming semester.

Redmen Open Rugged Card: 3 in 4 Days

As the St. Mary's basketball Redmen get set for their toughest weekend on the schedule, according to Coach Ken Wiltgen, there is little being done in the way of getting the team "up."

Tonight St. Mary's is at Christian Brothers College at Memphis, Tenn., and Saturday takes on rugged Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, Ark.

There's no sense trying to get a big effort out of the team down south when we have to come back and play the big conference game of the season," Wiltgen said.

Wiltgen was referring to the fact that his team will play tonight and Saturday and then must come home to play host to powerful Duluth Monday.

This type of a schedule supposedly could have a coach tearing his hair trying to figure out some way to win three games in four days, but it doesn't seem to bother Wiltgen.

"What the heck, winning down there isn't a matter of life or death there is a good relationship between the two southern colleges and St. Mary's and so we go down every year," he said. "The kids are awed by the fact that they will fly (the team is making the trip via the Watkins Inc. DC-3) that they are in playing basketball."

Christian Brothers is sporting an 11-7 record. Three of the losses have come at the hands of Detroit, DePaul and Dayton, all top-ranked squads. The latest Buccaneer win came over Saturday's foe Arkansas State.

On the bright side of the picture are two major facts. Wiltgen has restored the early season starting lineup to its old spot and also St. Mary's won't be at a height disadvantage.

The lineup will have Mike Stallings and Denny Burman at forwards, Tom Ruddy at center and Bob Jansen and Marty Lillig at guards. The two top reserves will be Al Williams and Tom Hall.

"I'm a firm believer in one set lineup for an entire season," Wiltgen commented. "The way we've been jumping around lately the kids just haven't gotten familiar enough with each other. Most likely we'll go this way for the rest of the season barring injuries."

The coach said there is one bad thing to look forward to in the south: "The kids never get fired up enough so we'll try some experimenting along with trying to win."

Wiltgen doesn't know what to expect from either opponent but said that in a talk with Buccaneer Coach Frank Horton he learned that Arkansas State would probably be the toughest of the two squads.

Although Christian Brothers beat them, State had been idle for two weeks.

St. Mary's left at 9 o'clock this morning and will return Sunday. The Redmen records now is 5-8 overall and 3-5 in the MIAC.

Faulkner Named Broncos' Coach

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos, next to last both seasons in the two-year life of the American Football League, have a new head coach today in Jack Faulkner, 35, a key assistant coach for San Diego's Western Division champions.

Faulkner lists 13 years' service with Sid Gillman, San Diego head coach who served also as head coach of the Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League and at the University of Cincinnati.

Faulkner, given a two-year contract Thursday at a salary not announced, succeeds Frank Filchock, former NFL and Canadian League player, who compiled a 7-20, 20-loss and 1-tie record in two seasons at the helm of the Broncos.

Filchock, fired earlier this month, was the sixth of the AFL's original eight coaches to be discharged.

Cuban Olympians vs. State In Dual Meet Here Tonight

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Writer

A North Central College swim team which has great desire to win and several strokes of international importance will go against the Winona State College mermen tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Memorial Hall.

"These boys love to be in the water," Cardinal Coach John Molitor said during a workout at State Thursday.

"I don't tell them when to get in or out of the water; they tell me. It's great to be able to coach a group of kids with so much pride in what they're doing."

Molitor was right. His team had just driven in from Naperville, Ill., and although they were tired from traveling most of the day the boys still wanted to work out for at least two to three hours after 7 p.m. Thursday.

North Central's roster includes

Raul Martin and Ruben Roca who were members of the 1960 Cuban Olympic swimming team. Did they have a difficulty getting out of Cuba in order to come to the United States?

"If I had not been a member of the Olympic team, I never would have made it out of Cuba," Martin stated. "We were supposed to go from Rome to Russia after the 1960 games, but I decided I would rather be in the United States and here I am."

Molitor confirmed what Martin said with these words, "Raul never really had any trouble getting out of Cuba as he came here in 1958. Roca was a member of the Cuban team in 1958 and came back to this country with the United States team. The same thing goes for the boys in 1960; both Roca and Martin came back with the United States team."

Dick Blick is the biggest name of North Central's Big Three. He was a gold medalist for the U. S. in 1960 and holds the American AAU record in the 200-meter freestyle with a time of 2:01.5.

Who do Olympic team members look like and think. Are they over-confident?

Blick is a fine example of the young men and women that represent our country in these games of international importance both in the athletic and political categories.

He is confident, but not over-confident. At Thursday's workout he was all over the pool, kidding teammates and offering helpful bits of advice.

"He works hard," Molitor said. "People don't realize how much work it is to stay in shape for tough meets besides going to school."

Thus far this season North Central is undefeated in three dual meets against the University of Illinois, Northwestern University as well as Chicago Loyola, in addition to taking the Loyola Relays.

Hatch Slams 663, Eighth High of Year

Gary Hatch, rolling for Dale's Standard in Westgate's Classic League, crashed a 663 series Thursday night, eighth highest Winona series this season.

Dick Neimeyer tipped 228-610 for Ruppert's Grocery to tie Ron Galewski for individual game. Hatch and Tom Duff with 610 led Dale's to 1,098-3,110.

WESTGATE BOWL: Keglerettes—Palma Stanislawski and Leona Lubinski, both of Lawrence Furniture, took individual honors with 201 and 524, respectively. League-leading Williams Annex rolled 899-2,549.

Pin Drops: Polly Jung hit 195-514 for Budweiser with KWNW registering 888 and Randall's league leaders 2,538.

WINONA ATHLETIC CLUB: Ladies—Shirley Squires with 194-523 led Lantern Cafe to 877. Wally's Sweethearts remained on top with 2,589.

Majorities: Square Deal got 175-476 from Ruth Kukowski to stay one game ahead of the field. Super Saver forced a second place tie on the strength of 854 while Jens hits 2,523.

HAL-ROD: Eagles—Jack Olson helped keep Watkins Products in first place with his 220 game. Dick Howard, W&S, topped 578. Owl Motor and Eagles Club took team honors with 973 and 2,709, respectively.

Powder Puff: Ruth Buerck and Watkins Products swept all honors to remain in a first place tie. Buerck tumbled 197-498 and the team 883-2,581.

Winona State College: Hill Billies registered an 883 game to stay two games ahead of the field. Sig Tau Gamma tipped 2,177 led by Larry Joy with 577. Duane Larson, Sandbaggers, hit 238.

KEGLERS CLUB: Knights of Columbus—Carl Fisher topped 232 for Winona National and Bill Bernick tagged a 585 series for Steinbauer's. Winona National hit the game high of 1,015 with Wonder Bar knocking down 2,832.

Friendly Mixers: Carol Fenske tipped 195 for Gutter Dusters which crashed 787. John Pozanc, Pozies, tumbled 218. Lanny Donahue hit 532 and Vern Mahaffey, M&M's, 531. In-Laws took team series with 2,170.

RED MEN CLUB: Ladies—Alice Ford topped 202-486 to lead Paffratts to 891 and second place. Merchants Bank forced a tie for the second spot on the strength of a 2,556 series.

ST. MARTIN'S: Thursday—Donald Werner led Sinclair to 2,705 with his 202-557. Mahlike Bakery topped 936.

Whitewater, LaCrosse Seek Tighter Grips

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Whitewater and La Crosse attempt to better their first place records against second division teams in Wisconsin State College weekend.

Whitewater and La Crosse each Conference basketball features this will risk 5-1 records at home Saturday. The Warhawks will meet lowly University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, winner of only one of six starts.

La Crosse's Indians, may have trouble against Stout, despite the latter's 1-4 record. In their first meet, Stout defeated La Crosse but later found it had used an ineligible player and had to forfeit the game.

In other SCC games Saturday, Stevens Point, holder of a 4-2 record, meets the Titans at Oshkosh, while Eau Claire 3-2 is at home against Superior. Oshkosh has a 2-4 mark, while Superior is 3-3.

River Falls and Platteville sit out conference action this weekend. However, in non-league Thursday night River Falls dropped an 80-71 decision to Augsburg of Minneapolis, while Platteville rolled over Dubuque 81-66.

State College Conference statistics show J. P. Fisher of Whitewater still the scoring leader with 137 points on 53 field goals and 31 free throws in six games. Right behind is Bob Blizard of Eau Claire with 129 points in five games.

Carleton Downs

St. Olaf 75-68

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Both Minnesota teams in the Midwest Conference moved into 5-5 records Thursday night as Carleton defeated St. Olaf 75-68.

The Carls took the victory despite the 31-point output of Karl Groh for St. Olaf. Dave Current, sparked the winners' effort with 23 points.

Minneapolis' Augsburg, traveled out into Wisconsin for an 80-71 decision against River Falls in the night's only other contest involving state teams.

Lloyd Raymond led the Augies with 25 while the losers' Gary Scharenberg was hoping 21.

HAWK GRAPPLERS HOST NORTHFIELD

Winona High's wrestling team will be in action in a twin-bill this week-end.

The Winhawks entertain Northfield in a Big Nine dual meet tonight and Saturday night hosts Decorah, Iowa.

Both matches begin with "B" team competition at 6:30 p.m., said Coach Ron White.

Winona bowed to Faribault in its last outing 28-20.

Pat Woodworth, Jim Barnabek and Mike Gerlach all will be seeking to extend undefeated strings.

Omaha Heavy Wins by KO In Mill City

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Heavyweight Bill Nielsen of Omaha knocked out Joe Luvert of Chicago in 2:44 of the seventh round in the feature attraction of a five-bout fight card here Thursday night. Nielsen weighed 195, Luvert 198.

Nielsen, former Golden Gloves champion, stunned Luvert with a crisp left hook to the head midway of the seventh, then drove him to a corner and applied the clincher with a short right. Luvert had gotten to one knee when the count ended.

In the semi-windup, Minneapolis' Brian O'Shea, 134, gained a unanimous decision over Omaha's Boots Washington, 138, in a battle of lightweights. O'Shea won handily on all three cards, repeatedly rocking Washington with left jabs and right crosses.

The closest bout of the evening was the opener, which ended in a draw between welterweights Ferd Hernandez, 157, Omaha, and Rudy Rodriguez, 160, Minneapolis. Hernandez' speed and poise couldn't overcome Rodriguez' strength.

The other two fights saw Lou Bailey, 164, of Chicago gain a split decision over Hastings Earl, 165, St. Paul, at heavyweight and Laslo Bagli, 133, Minneapolis, 532 and Vern Mahaffey, M&M's, 531. In-Laws took team series with 2,170.

Jackson Bows Out Saturday Against Purdue

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin basketball team begins a string of 12 Big Ten conference games Saturday against Purdue. But for Ron Jackson, the Badgers' best scorer in a half dozen years, it is the end of the season.

The slender, 6-4 scoring ace is ineligible for second semester competition because of scholastic deficiencies. The Badgers' lose a scorer averaging better than 22 points per game and the key figure in Wisconsin's basketball resurgence this year.

Jackson has accounted for nearly 25 per cent of Wisconsin's points as the Badgers hit the halfway mark in the season with a 9-3 record.

Coach John Erickson calls Purdue the "second best team in the conference" and says "we'll use Ron to the hilt Saturday and manage the best we can going down the stretch."

For Purdue, the Wisconsin game is sandwiched between two meetings with mighty Ohio State. The Boilermakers lost to Ohio State last Monday 91-65 to put their season's record at 10-4 and must play the Buckeyes again Monday. Purdue is 3-2 in conference play, and Wisconsin is 2-0.

The Boilermakers' big gun is 6-7 All-American Terry Dischinger who has a 25.2 scoring average in five conference games and is seeking his third successive Big Ten scoring title.

Although Jackson's loss is a bitter blow for the Badgers, Erickson was pleased about Wisconsin's 102-50 victory over North Dakota State Tuesday. Though the squad laid off for nearly two weeks for semester examinations, Erickson said "we seemed to have retained our timing and our running was wonderful."

Betty Wall Top Bowling Winner

GALESVILLE, Wis.—(Special)—Betty Wall was the top winner in the Scotch mixed doubles bowling tournament which drew 120 bowlers at Galesville Lanes.

Miss Wall placed three times in the final prize list, according to Dan Dailey, bowling proprietor. She teamed with Ernest Kornpud for 539 and first place money of $20. With Maynard Lebakken, she tied for second with 532 worth $15 and added 13th place money of $3 with Dick Abel on 455.

Sharing second place were Mrs. Kenneth McLeod and Harold Truerg who also won $15.

Women bowlers drew for partners for the two-weekend tournament.

Other winners were:
Mrs. Carlyle Cary and Dick Foster 518, Miss Erna Olsen and Carl Johnson 515, Mrs. John Salsman and LaVerne Olson 513, Mrs. Connie Wright and Bob Jenks 498, Mrs. Dick Ilyer and Bob Ilyer 486, Mrs. Henry Lovig and Bob Leisgang 484, Mrs. Warren Peterson and Harvey Twesme 474, Mrs. Maynard Lebakken and Warren Peterson 464, Mrs. Ray Quall and Carl Engelen 460, Mrs. Lovig and Roy Kindesly 457 and Mrs. Ted Dusseau and Emil Helsdadt 456.

A blind boy award of two canned hams went to Miss Erna Olsen and Ron Sveen for their 596.

A museum was established in 1931 on the first floor of the reconstructed Ford Theater building in Washington, D. C.

Warriors will be gunning for their third upset in as many weeks.

Iowa State is the Big Eight champion and currently is ranked No. 3 in the NCAA standings. For the past three years the Cyclones have been one of the top three teams in the nation and have compiled an 81-15-5 record under Coach Harold Nichols over the past eight campaigns.

"We are not going out on the mat with the intention of playing dead, Warrior Coach Jones commented. "Being at home should make a difference. Our kids definitely have an upset in mind."

Last year Iowa State took the Warriors' 26-0 after squeezing through 16-15 the year previous. State is still smarting from last year's shutout.

Iowa State has seven returning lettermen and will have strength in every weight class according to Jones.

State's lineup will have Gordy Marchionda, 123; Larry Williams, 137; Jerry Wilhelm, 137; Leo Simons, 147; Stan Gridley, 157; Pat Flaherty, 167; Al Mautsner, 177; and stalwart Jerry Wedemeier at heavyweight.

For the Cyclones it will be Lowell Stewart, 123; Joe Frank, 130; Bob Buzzard, 137; Mickey Stewart, 147; Virgil Carr, 157; Larry Hockhaus, 167; Keith Johnstone, 177; and Steve Caldwell at heavyweight.

In its past two outings Winona has beaten undefeated opponents. Last Saturday it was Northern Illinois 16-14 and the week previous Superior State.

A preliminary contest Saturday will send high school teams from Spring Valley and Chatfield against each other at 6:30.

Wrestling Clinic For Boys at 'Y'

Annual YMCA wrestling clinics for boys in grades 3 through 8 will begin Saturday at the YMCA.

The clinics will be held from 9 a. m. to noon each Saturday for six weeks, followed by a grade school tournament March 3.

Ron White, Winona High mat coach, will instruct the classes and will be assisted by various members of his varsity squad.

Age groups are Preps 3 to 4 years of age; Cadets 5 to 6, and Juniors 7 to 8.

In addition to creating interest in wrestling, the clinics will emphasize conditioning, proper diet and rest, among other phases.

WHS Tankers In Saturday Time Trials

Winona High School's swimming team, ranked ninth in the state by the Minnesota Swimming Coaches Association, will participate in time trials Saturday at the University of Minnesota.

The prep swimmers in the state will compete, but no placings will be awarded.

Lloyd Luke, Winhawk coach, said he will take a squad including Frank Braun, John Van Winkle, Mike Thern, Larry Olson, Rick Rydman, Greg Genach, George Twesdy and John Sanders, plus a diver yet to be selected.

Wilton Berger, former Winhawk and captain of the University of Minnesota swim team who is assisting Luke here, also will make the trip.

Luke Thursday also announced the addition of Minneapolis Southwest to the Hawk schedule for a duel meet here at 4 p. m. Feb. 3.

Rochester and Hopkins retained their No. 1-2 rating in the state and Hibbing moved into third place. St. Louis Park, which the Hawks face Feb. 10, is ranked fourth and Austin, here Feb. 2, is fifth.

Littler Leads By 2 Strokes In Frisco Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sharp-shooting Gene Littler slipped six birdie putts into the cup while most of the other pros were bewailing lumpy greens and took a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the $50,000 San Francisco International open golf tournament.

The U.S. Open champion, noted for his easy going temperament and accurate putting, caught with the Harding Park Municipal Course record with his 65. He left the bulk of the field hunched a respectable but challenging distance behind him.

The record dates back to 1948 when hometown Ken Venturi blazed around the tricky Harding Park course in 63. Then the 6,672-yard layout played to a par 72—one stroke over the par for this event. Tommy Jacobs matched the 63 two years ago in the Golden Gate Open, forerunner of the current event.

Littler, of San Diego, Calif., went into the second round two strokes in front of the veteran Marty Furgo, who also had a fine putting record.

Bunched at 68 behind Littler's 65 and Furgo's 67 were 10 top pros, including Doug Ford, winner of the frosty Crosby tournament at Pebble Beach last Monday.

Tony Lama, Bob Gasbly, Harold Kneese, Tommy Aaron, Paul Harner, Stan Leonard, Ken Venturi, Eric Monti and Don Fairfield were grouped with Ford in the 3-under-par position.

Some Aerospace Issues Get Market Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of the aerospace issues got a play in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was slow.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 at 253.50 with industrials off .10, rails up .10 and utilities off .10.

Changes of most key stocks were narrow, some going to a point or so. Dealings in the morning were at the slowest pace of the week.

Rails were fairly steady on balance while steels, motors, oils and nonferrous metals were mixed. The trend was mostly lower among chemicals, tobaccos and airlines. Drugs edged higher.

A 2-point drop by Du Pont dampened the averages. Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak and Air Reduction dropped fractions while American Cyanamid posted a small gain.

Colotex spurted about 3 points, then cut its gain about in half. Lockheed rose about a point. A similar gain was made by Douglas Aircraft.

Ford picked up about a point while General Motors eased. Bethlehem was up a fraction. U.S. Steel was a bit lower.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.54 at 694.98. Stocks were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were irregular. U.S. government bonds were unchanged to slightly higher.

CREAMED COTTAGE CHEESE

You'll be intrigued with these unique Thermo-Mugs with their double wall-insulated action that keeps hot drinks piping hot or cold drinks refreshingly cold longer. Genuine hand woven rattan from the south seas is actually inlaid between the two walls of these gracious, colorful mugs. Wonderful all year 'round in town and country . . . for lunch, dinner, picnics, or back yard barbecues.

Crafted of a new stain resistant, high impact material. Durable, easy to clean. Ideal for hot coffee . . . hot tea . . . hot chocolate . . . and all cold drinks! Thermo-Mugs are a wonderful premium buy. Available in these decorator colors: yellow, chocolate, coral, blue, holly, beige, green, peach. Order your sets today!
